INQUIRY INTO COMBINE OF BRIDGE CONTRACTORS IS TO START THIS WEEK

Aim Is to Improve the Situation for the Future.

Woman Suffrage Bill to Be Voted on in the House.

Protests Against Referendum Clause of Minnette Telephone Bill.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The C. H. Warner committee to investigate the charge that the bridge contractors of the state have a combination to divide territory and prevent real competition in bidding will get to work this week, and important developments are expected from its inquiry.

While it is hard to prove the existence of a combination, at least to secure legal proof that would justify prosecution under the very rigid law of this state forbidding combinations in restraint of trade, at the same time the committee expects to be able to show up a situation that will interest the state.

The aim of the inquiry is not so much to punish previous acts, as it is to improve the situation for the future. Mr. Warner, chairman of the committee, whose resolution led to its creation, hopes that the work of the committee will help to improve the system of letting bridge contracts in vogue in the state, at least to the extent of providing wider publicity for calls for bids, and so bringing about a broader competition in the bidding.

What County Auditors Say.

Before introducing his resolution, Mr. Warner wrote to a number of county auditors. Samples of the replies he has received follow:

The following is from an auditor in Southwestern Minnesota: "You ask if I think that the bridge men of this state have apportioned the counties to the various bridge companies. I will answer the same by saying, yes, I don't think there is any question about it whatever. There is every earmark possible excepting absolute proof of it. They have not been as coarse with us as you mention in your county, but our understanding is that a certain Minneapolis company is supposed to have the northern half of the county.

MAKES REPORT ON RELIGIOUS BIGOTRY

Attacks on Religion Come From Three Classes, Says Commission.

Chicago, March 8.—The commission on religious prejudice appointed by the Knights of Columbus at their supreme convention in St. Paul in August, 1914, ended a two days' executive meeting here yesterday. Col. P. H. Callahan of Louisville, chairman, gave out the following statement:

"The commission has been investigating the philosophy underlying the waves of religious bigotry with which the country is visited from time to time. We are gratified with the magnificent support being shown by the general press throughout the country in condemning bigoted publications and their supporters.

"As a result of its investigation, the commission has reached the opinion that these attacks made upon religion come largely from three classes:

"First, those who fail to appreciate the constitutional provision regarding freedom of religious worship or to understand the belief of those professing a religion other than their own.

"Second, those whose purpose is to destroy not only the Catholic religion, but all religion and all duly constituted government.

"Third, perhaps the worst class comprising those who, despite their expressed motives of high purpose, are actuated solely by sordid mercenary considerations."

TURK SULTAN STILL IN CONSTANTINOPLE

London, March 8.—"According to the latest advices received here," says a Reuter dispatch from Sofia, "the sultan and the government are still in Constantinople. The government is prepared to cross to Asia Minor at any moment, but the sultan is in favor of remaining in the capital.

"It is understood that it has been decided to intrust the defense of Constantinople exclusively to the Germans under command of Gen. Liman Von Sanders, the instructor of the Turkish army, while Bedri Bey, the prefect of police, will be invested with the general control of the city, with powers equal to those of a viceroy."

FIRE ON LA TOURAINE NEARLY EXTINGUISHED

London, March 8.—The fire on board the French steamer La Touraine has been almost extinguished and the vessel is steaming to her destination, the French port of Havre, at a speed of 14 knots an hour.

The information here given is the latest report received in Paris; it was sent at 10 o'clock last night by wireless telegraphy from a cruiser which is escorting La Touraine.

CHEAPER TO CROSS THE ATLANTIC NOW

London, March 8.—Official announcement was made today by the Cunard line that second class passage across the Atlantic has been reduced to £10 ($50) on all vessels of that line, including the Lusitania. It is believed here that the lower rate is the result of the diversion of traffic from British steamers to vessels flying the American flag.

THAW COMES UP SMILING

Five Men Charged With Assisting in Conspiracy Also Appear.

New York, March 8.—Harry Kendall Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, smilingly came into the criminal branch of the supreme court here today to stand trial for conspiracy to escape from the state hospital for the criminal insane at Matteawan. Five men charged with assisting in the conspiracy were placed on trial with him.

In the examination of talesmen, Justice Page said he would allow all the defendants five peremptory challenges.

Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, the chief defendant's mother, accompanied by Mrs. George Carnegie, Thaw's sister, appeared in court early. Thaw appeared to be in excellent health. His face was ruddy and he was stouter than when he was brought from New Hampshire.

Co-defendants Late.

When the names of Thaw's co-defendants were called, none of them answered. Deputy sheriffs were sent into the corridors of the courthouse and finally came back with Roger Thompson and Eugene Duffy.

Five minutes elapsed and Thomas Flood was brought in. Butler and O'Keefe hurried into court ten minutes later.

When they were all seated, Justice Page warned them that if they were tardy again he would discharge them from bail and have them confined in the Tombs during the trial.

YOUNG ANARCHISTS PLEAD NOT GUILTY

Abarno and Carbone Held for Trial Under Bonds of $25,000 Each.

New York, March 8.—Frank Abarno, the young anarchist arrested in St. Patrick's cathedral last Tuesday morning after detectives had stamped out the fuse of a lighted bomb which imperiled the lives of 800 worshipers, pleaded not guilty today to the charge of attempting to explode the bomb, a felony upon conviction of which he could be sent to prison for twenty-five years.

Carmine Carbone, the 18-year-old boy arrested as the maker of the missile, entered a similar plea.

Both were held in $25,000 bail for trial.

Justice Swann allowed the men until next Thursday to withdraw or change their pleas. A motion to have their bail reduced was denied. The court took under advisement a motion to allow their counsel to inspect the minutes of the grand jury which indicted them.

CONDITION OF NELSON SHOWS LITTLE CHANGE

Kansas City, Mo., March 8.—There was little change today in the condition of William Rockhill Nelson, editor of the Kansas City Star, his physicians announced. Mr. Nelson has been confined to his home for several months and except for brief intervals has been unconscious since last Friday when his condition suddenly became worse. Members of his family are at his bedside.

Call for Bank Statements.

Washington, March 8.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks at the close of business Thursday, March 4.

GREAT BATTLE IS FAST DEVELOPING ON VISTULA BANK

Not Yet Certain Which Side Will Take the Offensive.

Inspired Sources Hint at Vital Operations Soon.

Attacks and Counter-Attacks Feature of West.

London, March 8.—The center of interest on the eastern front again has shifted with the announcement from Petrograd that a great battle is developing on the left bank of the river Vistula, at a point to the west and also southwest of Warsaw.

It is not yet clear, judging from messages reaching London, which side has taken the offensive, but inspired sources, both in Berlin and Petrograd have been hinting lately that vital operations might well be expected in this region. Messages from the Russian capital have declared that the old field of action in the direction of Posen and Silesia alone could serve as the decisive battleground, while Berlin has been predicting another brilliant action in the direction of Warsaw by Field Marshal von Hindenburg.

No great activity has been reported elsewhere on the eastern front except at Rawa, to the southwest of Warsaw, where German army headquarters claim the capture of 3,400 Russians. It is possible that this action may be a part of the great battle which Petrograd says is now under way.

Attacks and Counter-Attacks.

Attacks and counter-attacks form the text of both the Paris and Berlin official communications covering events on the western battle front, but there is no indication of a decisive gain by either side.

Attempt by the allied fleet to force passage of the Dardanelles has caused a ferment in the Near East which has reached the proportions of a cabinet crisis in Greece.

No new cabinet has as yet been announced and King Constantine may have great difficulty forming a government with the popular Former Premier Venizelos leading the opposition.

There is no late news of the situa-

PLEADS GUILTY TO PASSPORT FRAUDS

Charles Ruroede, One of Six Indicted, Will Not Fight.

New York, March 8.—Charles Ruroede, one of the six persons indicted in an alleged conspiracy to defraud the United States in obtaining false American passports for German reservists, pleaded guilty today to one of three indictments against him and to the second count of another.

District Attorney Marshall, in recommending a light sentence for Ruroede, announced that Hans Adam von Weddell, who was also indicted and fled the country, had been captured and would be returned here. He said von Weddell was the chief conspirator in the case.

SITUATION IS COMPLICATED

Inauguration of Republic of "Northern Portugal" Brings Trouble.

Lisbon, March 8, via Paris.—The political situation in Portugal, which last week entered upon a serious epoch with the inauguration of the "republic of Northern Portugal," under the presidency of Gen. Antonio Barreto, has in no sense been improved by the resignation of Minister of Finance Galhardis, which became known yesterday. As a matter of fact a further cabinet crisis now would force developments, the outcome of which would be fraught with much danger.

The assumption of the duties of finance minister by the minister of foreign affairs, may help the situation, but nevertheless there is a general demand for the formation of a national coalition ministry, to be supported by all parties or else a distinct policy of maintenance of the present ministry provided it will agree to act in close collaboration with congress.

Should this latter course be adopted, congress would have to meet in extraordinary session at once.

In the meantime fears of rioting grow and the government is taking the customary measures to preserve order.

THREE MEN KILLED IN AN INDIANA MINE

Oakland City, Ind., March 8.—Three men entombed in the Ayshire coal mine near here yesterday were found dead today when the debris was cleared away. The dead:

William Smith, 60; Alexander Wiggs, 50, and Hutchinson Sharp, 25.

The men were placing props when they were crushed by a fall of slate.

GREEK KING UNYIELDING

Constantine Insists Hellenic Kingdom Shall Remain Neutral.

Premier Is for War, and, With His Cabinet, Has Resigned.

London, March 8.—Whether Greece is to throw in her lot with the allies of the triple entente or remain neutral, is the absorbing question of the war. The Hellenic kingdom is in the throes of a mighty crisis with King Constantine said to be in favor of neutrality and the retiring Premier Eleutherios Venizelos, one of the strongest men in Greece, declared to be uncompromisingly opposed to such a step.

The resignation of the premier and his cabinet Saturday is reputed to have been due to the unyielding attitude of the monarch. The belief prevailed that, with the appointment of a new ministry the storm cloud would dissipate. This feeling was heightened by reports from Athens that Venizelos had stated in a speech in the chamber of deputies that he and his followers would support any government the king might appoint.

Later information, however, brought the true utterance of Venizelos to the world.

"Our party," he said, "will refuse to support any government which may be formed." Added significance was added by some of his hearers to his further statement, "besides M. Zaimes, if he forms a cabinet, will not come before the chamber."

M. Zaimes, who has been tendered the portfolio of premier, has not yet accepted the task of forming a ministry. Instead he has requested time to consult his followers. Meanwhile, the situation is tense.

DYNAMITER NOW IN HANDS OF THE U. S.

Werner Horn Will Be Arraigned for Violation of Federal Laws.

Machias, Me., March 8.—Werner Horn, the German who attempted to blow up the international bridge at Vanceboro, was taken to Bangor today for arraignment before a United States commissioner on a Federal indictment charging violation of the laws regulating interstate transportation of explosives. He was arrested yesterday on the expiration of a sentence of thirty days in the county jail for damaging property at Vanceboro.

United States Marshal John S. P. H. Wilson deemed it visable to handcuff Horn to a deputy. The prisoner protested and wept when the shackles were fastened.

Horn and his custodians were due to reach Bangor at noon. Counsel for the prisoner was prepared to request a continuance of the proceedings.

POLITICIANS ARRAIGNED

Twenty-eight Democrats and Progressives Face Judge.

Charged With Conspiring to Corrupt Election at Terre Haute.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 8.—Twenty-eight Democratic and Progressive politicians of Terre Haute were placed on trial before Judge A. B. Anderson in the United States district court here today charged with conspiring to corrupt the elections of Terre Haute last November. The defendants and the positions they held at the time of their indictment are:

Donn M. Roberts, mayor of Terre Haute and an avowed candidate for governor in 1916; Eli H. Redman, judge of the Vigo county circuit court; Dennis Shea, sheriff Vigo county; E. S. Talbott, city comptroller of Terre Haute; Maurice Walsh, county sealer of weights and measures and treasurer Democratic campaign committee; Harry S. Montgomery, president board of works; Edward R. Driscoll, secretary Democratic county committee; Hilton Redman, attorney and son of Judge Redman; Charles Houghton, assistant custodian city hall; Louis Nunley, assistant city engineer; Joseph O'Mara, street commissioner; Fred Morris, employe city engineer's office; William S. Crockett, city cemetery employe; Richard Knuckey, cemetery clerk; Alexander Aczel, alias Steel, inspector street paving; Arthur Gillis, election board clerk; John E. Green, store proprietor; George Sovern, saloon keeper; Timothy Conway, former pugilist; Joseph Strauss, liquor salesman; George Woodall, saloon keeper; William P. O'Donnell, saloon keeper; William Doyle, Pearl McKay, Andrew O'Brien.

Some difficulty was expected in obtaining a jury and it was said that the taking of evidence probably would not be begun until Tuesday or Wednesday.

The case against the politicians, resulted from a Federal grand jury investigation which was started Nov. 18, the indictment being returned Dec. 24, naming 128 men. Of these 116 were arrested, 88 pleading guilty and 28 not guilty. One of the men not arrested, Clem Logan, was killed by another defendant, William Bunkley, during a fight over a dog. Bunkley was acquitted of the charge of murder and has since pleaded guilty to the Federal indictment.

Turks Are Tolerant.

Washington, March 8.—Count Bernstorff, German ambassador here, issued a statement today declaring tolerance toward all religious beliefs has been shown by the Turkish government, and that the disturbances to the Jews in Palestine were caused by over-zealousness of local Turkish authorities.

IMPROVEMENT OF CONDITIONS IS DEMANDED

Note Said to Contain the Strongest Representations Yet Made.

Contents Guarded Pending Some Word From Mexican Leader.

Washington, March 8.—New and urgent representations amounting practically to a warning have been sent by the United States to Gen. Carranza demanding an improvement of conditions in Mexico City.

Diplomatists familiar with the contents of the note which American Consul Silliman has been instructed to present to Gen. Carranza interpret it as an entire change of policy on the part of the Washington government toward the Mexican situation.

The communication to Carranza, which was drafted after conferences between President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Counsellor Lansing, was guarded with secrecy pending some word from Carranza as to his attitude.

Strongest Ever Made.

It was said by some officials that the note contained the strongest representations that ever have been made to Carranza and indicates that the American government is rapidly losing patience with his indifference to the objectionable acts of Gen. Obregon at Mexico City.

Those who know the contents of the communication said it did not threaten force and was not in the nature of an ultimatum, but pointed out in explicit language the serious consequences that might follow if the welfare of foreigners continued to be disregarded.

Early in the day, Secretary Daniels had said no additions were contemplated to the fleet in Mexican waters, but later it was learned that the cruiser Tacoma had been ordered from Port au Prince, Haiti, to Vera Cruz. Secretary Daniels was in consultation later with Secretary Bryan concerning the situation. Further movements of vessels may be decided upon.

Much Concern Manifested.

In diplomatic quarters there were more manifestations of concern over the Mexican situation than at any time since the American forces were landed at Vera Cruz.

The foreign diplomatists conferred among themselves and communicated to one another the latest developments as they heard them.

Some of the diplomatists declared themselves satisfied that the course of the American government would produce results. One of the ministers, who had received a telegram, saying the diplomatic corps in Mexico City had decided to leave, cabled his legation there, saying that after learning what serious steps the American government had taken, he advised the corps to remain in the capital and await developments.

Known Only to President.

Just what move now is contemplated is known only to President Wilson and a few of his closest advisers, but it was apparent from the attitude of officials that it was realized that a new crisis was at hand which might have to be met with strong measures.

The general impression in official quarters was that even though the use of force had not been threatened in the note to Carranza, the American government was prepared to meet eventualities and would hereafter pursue an insistent course to compel protection for foreigners and their interests.

Secretary Bryan said only that there was no change in the serious conditions at Mexico City. He said no word had come directly from Carranza in the last two or three days. When asked whether Carranza and Obregon were at odds and whether the former could control his Mexico City commander, Secretary Bryan replied that the state department had evidence that Obregon recognized Carranza as his superior officer but could not say definitely whether any friction had developed.

Bishop Fox No Better.

Chicago, March 8.—Bishop Joseph Fox of the Catholic diocese of Green Bay, Wis., showed no improvement in condition today at the Alexian Bros.' hospital, where he underwent an operation last week. His condition was regarded as serious by attending physicians.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Dispatches from Greece report the situation as grave as a result of the political deadlock over the question whether that country shall intervene in the war on the side of the allies. M. Zaimis, governor of the National Bank of Greece, has not yet shown any indication of being able to get together a new cabinet to succeed that of Premier Venizelos, which resigned Saturday because King Constantine did not approve the premier's aggressive policy for participation in the war. Athens dispatches say popular feeling is with M. Venizelos.

The bombardment of the Dardanelles by the allies, which is primarily responsible for the present situation in Greece, has had its effect also on other nations. London dispatches say the Bulgarian premier has promised a statement concerning his government's position. Public opinion in Italy also is aroused.

A Paris newspaper, in a description of the recent battle at Notre Dame de Lorette, says that the Germans lost 3,000 men. The fighting in the Carpathians, which for prolonged and desperate encounters rivals any phase of the war, continues without a decisive victory for either side. Austrian forces are still on the offensive, an official statement from Petrograd says. In Northern Poland the Russians are still pressing forward in an effort to expel the invaders, but apparently the resistance of the Germans has stiffened.

Today's official statements indicate there was no fighting of great importance yesterday. The French claim slight gains in Champagne and Lorraine. The German statement asserts French attacks in Champagne were repulsed.

In the eastern campaign the Russians apparently are maintaining the offensive in Northern Poland. The German statement tells of Russian attacks at several points, but asserts that all were repulsed.

FIRST DAY OF REGISTRATION

Tuesday Offers Opportunity to Get Ready for April 6 Vote.

Absent Residents May File Qualification Certificates; Another Chance Saturday.

Tomorrow will be the first registration day in preparation for the regular spring election on April 6.

Those failing to register tomorrow will have an opportunity to have their names placed on the rolls next Saturday, the second registration day set aside by the city commissioners at their regular meeting last week.

City Clerk Palmer announced last week that voters who expect to be out of the city either tomorrow or Saturday can file certificates of qualification at any time during this week entitling them to a vote on election day just as if they had registered. Any voter failing to register on either day, or to file a certificate of qualification will be compelled to bring two property holders with him to the polls on election day to make affidavit as to his required residence in Duluth and the election district.

On election day voters will select two commissioners and a municipal judge, and they will also ballot on the two charter amendments recently submitted by the old charter commission. These provide for an increase in the non-advertised purchase limit from $100 to $500 and reducing the minimum required for paving assessments paid in installments and permitting the payment of sidewalk assessments in installments.

Following are the polling places, where voters can register all day tomorrow:

Where to Register.

Positive Relief For Constipation

The progress of modern medical science is, perhaps, no more forcefully evident than in the simplifying of many of the old time remedies of past generations. For instance, the harsh cathartics and violent purgatives used by our forefathers to relieve constipation are now known to be not only unnecessary but really harmful. Constipation can be more effectively relieved without the discomfort and pain these old-time remedies occasion.

A combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is most effective, yet mild and pleasant. It is absolutely free from opiates and narcotics and equally as desirable a remedy for the tiniest babe as for rugged manhood. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

CRACK WHIP ON THE LAKE

Automobiles Make New Sport Possible on the Ice.

A new game, which might be called crack-the-whip on the ice, was given its first tryout yesterday along the lake front by outdoor-sport enthusiasts, who were not to be dismayed by the failure of the automobile racers to pull off their contests.

The new game proved to be a remarkably entertaining diversion. When about thirty to forty young people on sleds or skates had got in motion, holding hands, an accommodating auto would "hook on," and all would "whoop it up" at a lively gait; then the auto would make a sharp turn, swinging the line around at a terrific rate. The sport proved exciting and exhilarating, and those who participated are enthusiastic over the new game.

The auto ice races, which had been looked forward to with a great deal of interest, had to be called off because snow covered the course. So deep was the snow that it was impossible to clear the track and get it into passable form.

The auto races held during the auto show, which proved to be remarkably popular, had aroused considerable enthusiasm, and a large number had arranged to attend the contests yesterday.

"The automobile ice races last week have aroused Duluth to the fact that Lake Superior, as an outlet for winter sport, is being overlooked," said E. J. Filiatreault last night. "The Rotary club is now planning an organization to be called, in all probability, the Duluth Winter Athletic club. The question was brought up at a regular meeting of the club last Thursday night, and will come up again for final discussion at the meeting this Thursday.

"If the club carries out its plans, a four-mile ice course will be made extending from the Duluth Boat club boathouse to Superior.

"There are at least fifteen different winter sports which can be enjoyed on the ice. These, with the automobile ice races, would be enough to fill an eventful week. Some of the sports are tandem horse ski races, ski runners, tobogganing, push-sled races, dog-sled races and ice polo."

TWO ARE SAVED FROM DROWNING

Leonard Halstead Rescues Victims When Ice Caves in.

Miss Della Dory, 319 South Fifty-ninth avenue west, Arthur Baker, 8 Munger Row, and the former's niece, 1-year-old, narrowly escaped drowning by falling through the ice in St. Louis river just off the Zenith coal dock at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. But for heroic work on the part of Leonard Halstead, 505 South Sixty-first avenue west, who was in an ice boat, the couple would have drowned.

Miss Dory, Mr. Baker and the child, with Miss Dory's parents, her sister and brother-in-law, were returning from Superior. They had crossed the main channel of the river, the latter four going to the Carnegie coal dock while the accident victims intended leaving the ice at the foot of Fifty-eighth avenue. They had just reached a point opposite the Zenith dock when the ice gave away.

Baker was pushing the sled in which the baby was riding. When the ice gave away he gave the sled a violent push which carried the child to safety. Both Baker and the young woman went into forty feet of water. Attempts to save themselves proved unavailing. From a distance of about a quarter of a mile the accident had been witnessed by Halstead who immediately steered for the scene. He arrived just as the couple reappeared for the third time and by great effort managed to grab hold of them and pull them to safety.

Both were unconscious when taken to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dory. Dr. R. S. Forbes was called and worked over them for more than an hour. This morning Dr. Forbes said that both were out of danger but that the condition of the young woman was more serious than that of the man. Both are expected to recover fully. The party had been spending the day with friends at Billings Park.

HORSES DROWN; DRIVER ESCAPES

A team of horses belonging to Charles P. Johnson, 419 North Fifty-eighth avenue west, was drowned in the St. Louis bay yesterday morning while crossing the ice from Superior. The driver, A. Richards, employed by the Rice's Point Alger-Smith mill narrowly escaped a similar fate.

The team had been hired by the Alger-Smith mill and had been sent with the driver to Superior to get a pile driver. It was while bringing this to the Duluth side of the bay that the accident occurred.

The team reached a point off the main draw of the Northern Pacific railroad bridge. The ice at this point had been rating rapidly under the heat of the sun and when the weight of the two horses together with the added weight of the pile driver struck this point the ice gave way.

A crew of men went to the rescue and with the aid of timbers they were able to prevent the pile driver from going through into the channel. Mr. Johnson placed the value of the team at about $700.

CURLERS WILL PLAY FOUR GAMES

Four games are scheduled for this evening at the Western Curling club Donald's rink will either play Kriedler for the club buttons or else Wade in the Burns event. The other three games scheduled are all in the Burns event. They are Mallory vs. Judson, Zauft vs. Evered and Olson vs. Simpson.

In a game Saturday evening between F. T. Olsen of the local rink against Dr. O. S. Olson of Morgan Park, the former won by a close score. Yesterday afternoon two rinks of the local club played New Duluthians at New Duluth. Wade and Donald both won their games with the suburbanites.

BURGLAR GETS CLOTHES

Enters Tailor Shop By Cutting Out Rear Window.

The tailor shop of Peter Chopik, 130 North Central avenue, was entered by burglars last night and a considerable quantity of clothing taken. A suit of clothes, two coats and vests and a spring overcoat were missed this morning.

The burglar entered a rear window by cutting out a pane of glass. He also took a heavy winter overcoat belonging to Mr. Chopik but threw this in the back yard. The value of the stolen articles was placed at about $45.

The police were notified of the robbery early this morning. They have no clew to the thief except a good description of the clothes taken.

WET OR DRY?

Final Meeting in Spirited Campaign at Proctor Is Announced.

The final windup of the campaign to vote the saloons out of Proctor will take place this evening with a rally to be held at the Odd Fellows hall. The "drys" are confident that victory is theirs while the other side is saying nothing but feeling just as confident.

This evening speeches in favor of a "dry" town will be made by Rev. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church, and Alex G. McKnight. The program will also include a song by J. R. Batchelor and the Epworth league of the Forbes M. E. church of Proctor.

The polls will be open from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

The campaign as far as the village election is concerned is very quiet, there being only one contest on. Both the citizens and taxpayers parties have indorsed practically the same men for office this spring.

DON'T USE SOAP ON YOUR HAIR

When you wash your hair, don't use soap. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali, which is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats soaps or anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months.

Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advertisement.

Surprised By Friends.

John Winnberg, 218 North Sixty-first avenue west, was pleasantly surprised by a number of his friends at his home Saturday evening in honor of his fifty-fourth birthday anniversary. A short program followed by games featured the evening's entertainment. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Eklund, Mr. and Mrs. M. Chilgren, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olin, Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. Swan Johnson, Miss Signe Winnberg, Miss Alice Winnberg, Miss Hildur Becks, John Winnberg and C. F. Widen.

PROTEST AGAINST PAVING FILED

But Two Favor Third Street Work, as Outlined by Council.

Petitions signed by 146 of a total of 183 property owners on Third street between Vernon street and Fifty-fourth avenue west, remonstrating against the paving of the thoroughfare as ordered some time ago by the city commission, will be filed with the city clerk this afternoon. The signatures to this protest have been secured by five men.

Petitions for and against the paving were presented to the property owners, but those in favor of the paving were largely in the minority, according to the canvassers. Only two were willing to have the work done as outlined by the commission.

J. P. Daly, 3901 West Third street, said this morning that the petitions would be placed on file with the city clerk this afternoon. He said that every local property owner who could be found, was given an opportunity of signing one or the other of the petitions. While the property owners are opposed to paying for a paving of a full width street, he said that practically all were willing to pay for a paving on a basis of $175 per 50-foot front lot.

SPEAKS TO MEN.

Judge W. L. Windom at Meeting Under Y. M. C. A. Auspices.

Judge W. L. Windom of the municipal court gave an interesting address yesterday afternoon at the men's meeting held under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. at the Star theater, 2107 West Superior street. The playhouse was well filled with men from all walks of life. The judge took for his text "Come unto Me, all ye that are heavy laden, and I will give you rest, for My yoke is easy and my burden is light."

The Sunday afternoon meetings at the theater have proved popular and attracted good crowds. They will be continued throughout this month.

Dr. J. G. Annand sang two solos.

Naval Militia Will Have Two Heavier-Than-Air Machines.

Urged on by developments in the European war, which have shown the value of the aeroplane in military or naval work, United States naval authorities are vigorously pushing a plan to establish aeronautical stations at the headquarters of each division of the naval militia.

Commander Guy A. Eaton stated this morning that a station would be established at Duluth, with two aeroplanes and perhaps a dirigible, as soon as enough men showed interest in the project to warrant it.

A letter received by Captain Eaton from Commander F. E. Bassett of the militia division, department of naval affairs, at Washington, urges the immediate adoption of the plan in what Captain Eaton characterizes as "the strongest terms he ever had seen used in an official communication."

"We would establish the station at the government boat house on Park Point," said Captain Eaton. "At the start we would have two aeroplanes, calling for a troop of two officers and six mechanicians. Men interested in the work will be given the opportunity of taking a course in aeronautics at the government school at Pensacola, Fla.

"If enough interest is shown, I am confident that we could secure additional equipment as it is needed. A dirigible will be given us as soon as the two aeroplanes are manned properly. It would be very similar to the types being used for observation purposes abroad."

At the present time the American navy has only twelve aeroplanes in its service, while many naval authorities believe that they should have at least 500. The army equipment is not much better than that of the navy, say military experts.

This step on the part of the militia commandant is believed to perface a move for largely increasing the number of aeroplanes in military and naval service.

Attended Salesmanship Meeting.

William Laughlin, one of the best known advertising men in the country and director of publicity for Armour & Co., was in Duluth Saturday from his home in Chicago, the guest of James C. Fisher. This was Mr. Laughlin's first visit to Duluth and he was much impressed with the magnitudes of the Zenith City and its metropolitan appearance. In the afternoon he addressed the Armour organization of Duluth on advertising and salesmanship and his talk was a very instructive and inspiring one.

HEAR HEAVY FIRING IN THE NORTH SEA

Amsterdam, March 8, via London, 5:15 p. m.—For the first time since Admiral Sir David Beatty engaged a German squadron in the North sea the latter part of January, heavy gunfire, according to a dispatch from the Hook of Holland to the Telegraaf, was heard in the North sea today.

WOULD SETTLE TERRELL ESTATE

Frederick W. Terrell, who died March 8, last, at Virginia, aged 63, left an estate of $5,400, which according to his will, is to be divided between his widow, Frances Terrell, aged 58, and Paul Van Kuren, a son of Terrel's niece, James H. Cudlip of Virginia, named as executor in the will, today petitioned the probate court for an order admitting the will and for appointment as executor in accordance with the terms of the instrument. Mrs. Terrell, the widow, is now in the state hospital for the insane at Fergus Falls. The other heir is a child who has been living with the family for a number of years, and whom Terrel had intended to adopt as his son.

Anna Marie Longmor, Sheldon, Iowa, also petitioned the probate court this morning for appointment as executor in the estate of her husband, Newell M. Longmore, who died at his home in Iowa, Nov. 19, 1914. The Minnesota portion of his estate consists of real estate located in section 30, 66-14, St. Louis county and is valued at $800. The widow is the sole beneficiary under the will although Longmore was survived by two children.

Fire in Residence.

Starting in the attic while all the members of the family were away, a fire of unknown origin caused between $600 and $700 damage at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Altman, 531 West Third street, shortly before midnight Saturday.

Assistant Chief Wilson was unable to discover the probable manner in which the blaze had started. Damage was confined to the attic and second story of the house, which is a two-story frame dwelling.

RATE ADVANCE IS SUSPENDED

Duluth and Chicago Traffic Commissions Block Lake and Rail Move.

The lake-and-rail lines have carried out their threat to file a freight rate tariff in advance of the old schedule, but have been checked in mid-career by an order of the interstate commerce commission, suspending the new rate schedule until July 31. In the meantime a hearing date will be set.

The suspension was caused by the telegraphed protest of G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner for the Duluth Commercial club, and the traffic commissioner of the Chicago Association of Commerce. That wire was sent on Feb. 13 to the interstate commerce commission, and it was stated therein that, it having been learned that the advance would be made in the rates, the Duluth and Chicago traffic commissioners desired to enter protest, and that after the filing of the tariff, would make formal written protest; and asked that such rates be suspended.

Today Mr. Hall received a copy of an order made by the interstate commerce commission on Feb. 25, suspending until July 31 the rates, which had been filed since the telegram was sent. Under the schedule the rates would have become effective April 2.

The advance in the lake-and-rail rates was cents per hundred to equal the advance of 5 per cent allowed the Eastern roads under a recent decision, and amounted, in some instances, to as much as 16½ per cent increase. This the Duluth and Chicago traffic commissions declared to be discriminatory and unfair.

The new rates were made to bring the differentials up to what they were before the 5 per cent advance was allowed.

TO SETTLE NORTH PART OF STATE

Farm Lands Association Gets Important Agreement From Soo Road.

A plan that may result in placing thousands of settlers upon the sure-crop lands of Minnesota, has been announced by the Soo line. To promote it more than $50,000 a year will be spent by the road in an advertising campaign.

The above intimation was given out after a conference held last Saturday between Soo line officials and representatives of the Minnesota Farm Lands association. A committee of the association showed that there is fertile land along the Soo line branches in Minnesota sufficient to give 100-acre farms to 110,000 families and the cooperation of the railroad was asked in settling it.

F. F. Murphy, Soo line immigration agent, told the association delegates that the road was enthusiastic over the plan and would give all the help possible if the organizations along the lines would do their share.

A booklet describing the lands will be printed at once, an advertising campaign mapped out and every land association and commercial agent will be asked to join the campaign, which is to begin at once.

W. R. Mackenzie, secretary of the Minnesota Farm Lands association said that all the railroads are going to be asked to make special arrangements to boost this state.

The following committee appointed at the general meeting of the land men attended the Soo line conference: J. H. McGilvra, Milaca, Minn.; E. F. Farmer, Minneapolis; R. J. Bolen, Pallsade, Aitkin county; R. C. Mathwig, Warren, Marshall county; Joseph H. Grell, Pierz, Morrison county; C. F. Serline, Mora, Kanabec county; Fred Sanders, Detroit, Becker county; D. M. Cole, Duluth, and W. R. Mackenzie, Bemidji.

SIX JURORS FOR HARRY THAW TRIAL

Frank Bailey, Salesman, Is First Man Accepted and Becomes Foreman.

New York, March 8.—The contentions of the state were partly outlined in the Thaw trial by Assistant District Attorney O'Malley in questioning the first talesman, S. D. Fitch, a public accountant. These questions indicated that the prosecution would request the court to instruct the jury that, notwithstanding Thaw's insanity, he might have a capacity to conspire. The talesman was excused because he admitted that he had formed an opinion about the case.

Frank F. Bailey, a salesman, the second talesman examined, was accepted by both sides and became foreman of the jury. Two other jurors were then accepted within a few moments.

William J. Raphael, another talesman, was challenged peremptorily by the defense. Fred Emmerick, a contractor, was accepted. Shortly afterward Christopher Schultz, a elderly produce merchant, was selected as the fifth juror.

Frank E. Mainhart, a real estate dealer, was accepted. Six of the twelve jurors were selected within less than three hours today.

EACH HELD ROYAL FLUSH

With $3,378 in the Pot, Two Winners Split But $5 Between Them.

In one of the St. Paul hotels Saturday evening, occurred a poker game that will be remembered for many years.

Duluth senators and representatives, who are home today for a brief vacation are telling of the game. None of them participated in it, as it was a little out of their class even if any of them had been inclined to take a hand occasionally, but they had all heard of it.

The feature of the game was a jackpot that contained $3,378, and yet the two men who won it on equal hands, split up $5 between them.

The game was being played with the blue sky limit. There were six in the game, each "anteing" a dollar on his deal. The deuces were "wild," counting for anything wanted.

Play had been rather uninteresting, with not much "action." But finally came "the" hand. The pot was opened "under the guns" for a dollar. Everybody stayed around to the dealer, who promptly raised it $10. The opener stood the raise, and came back with $25 more. The others promptly dropped out, and then began a series of bets that left the others breathless. One raise was for $900, and it was promptly met with another raise back. Finally the pot contained $3,378, and the two players stopped betting only because they had pledged all their available funds, and not because either seemed inclined to quit.

The show down came.

The dealer had an ace, king, queen, jack and deuce of spades. The opener held an ace and king of diamonds, and the other three deuces. Each man had a royal flush. They split the pot. After each man had taken back his bets, the pot contained $5, the ante" money and the four dollars the other four players had put up on the original opening.

COMMISSIONERS ARE "STUCK" FOR $5 EACH

Twelve chorus girls, members of the Manhattan Musical Comedy company, who were selling tickets to the benefit dance being given for them at the Auditorium tonight, had good luck with business men this morning.

Even Commissioner W. A. Hicken, and Commissioner Merritt "fell" before a blonde-haired girl who sold them each $5 worth of tickets. Mayor Prince, Commissioner Murchison and Commissioner Voss fared no better.

Since the show at the Empress theater was closed Monday of last week by Manager W. M. Abrahamson, the chorus girls, from the "ponies" to the show girls, have been "broke." Several chorus men have been in a similar fix.

They have been cared for at the Y. W. C. A. and the Y. M. C. A., as well as at several hotels in the city, and have not suffered, despite their ill fortune, because of the kindness shown by Duluth's citizens.

PRISONERS ARRAIGNED

Seven Enter Pleas of Not Guilty in District Court.

Seven prisoners indicted by the March grand jury were arraigned before Judge Cant in district court at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon to answer to the charges preferred against them. All entered pleas of not guilty.

Anthony Henricksen, who was indicted on two counts charging the crime of issuing checks on a bank without having sufficient funds to cover the amount for which the check was drawn, pleaded not guilty to both counts. He has retained John Swinland to defend him.

Henricksen was indicted by the January, 1911, grand jury on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, but on Feb. 18 of the same year was permitted by the county attorney to plead guilty to a charge of petit larceny. He was fined $100 by Judge Cant at that time.

The other prisoners who were arraigned today and who denied their guilt were: Bert McCall, charged with receiving stolen property; Henry Malone for grand larceny in the second degree; John Koski for grand larceny in the second degree, and Mary Olson for keeping a disorderly house. Leonard McHugh appeared as counsel for McCall and J. H. Harris represented Malone.

EFFECT OF TARIFF NOT INJURIOUS

First Report on Investigation Into Industrial Conditions.

Washington, March 8.—Results of the first investigation ordered by the department of commerce to determine the effect of the new tariff upon industry were made public last night by Secretary Redfield in the form of a report by D. M. Barclay, commercial agent at the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, on industrial conditions in Montgomery county, Pa. The report showed, the secretary said in a letter of transmittal to President Wilson, that the effect of tariff on establishments in Montgomery county, was negligible and that conditions complained of were due to "injurious trade customs" and "unintelligent competition in some lines."

In December the Montgomery County Manufacturers' association wrote to President Wilson complaining that conditions in its section were deplorable, as a result of the depressing effect of the new tariff on industry. Mr. Barclay was sent into the county soon afterward to make a thorough investigation. He inspected and reported on thirty plants, including the textile factories, lumber mills and iron and steel works.

The managements of half of the establishments visited, the report said, admitted that the tariff could not affect them.

Compared with 5,390 employes in the thirty plants a year ago, at the time of the investigation, 4,692 were employed.

William L. Bernard, member of the state legislature from the Fifty-ninth district, former alderman and candidate for the commission two years ago, said this morning that in all probability he will not make the race again this spring. Petitions nominating him for commissioner were filed by a number of his friends late Saturday afternoon without his knowledge, he said. Friends of Chris E. Evens, former alderman, filed his nomination Saturday afternoon, although Mr. Evens is now in California.

"I knew nothing at all about these petitions," said Representative Bernard this morning, "until after my nomination had been filed with City Clerk Palmer, when one of my friends called me up and told me about it. It was a complete surprise, as I had not planned to make the campaign.

"I am very busy with the state legislature at present, and will be unable to make the race. I don't think I will accept the nomination. I appreciate the spirit of my friends, but do not feel it would be fair to neglect the work in St. Paul in order to campaign in Duluth."

It is not known whether Mr. Evens will make the race, as he is now in California and will not return to Duluth for at least ten days. However, his friends have entered his name, and they expect to have his acceptance by wire, after which they propose to conduct the campaign in his behalf.

There are now eight men nominated for the two offices of commissioner to be filed at the spring election on April 6, while four have been nominated for municipal judge to succeed Judge W. L. Windom, who is a candidate for re-election. Commissioners Hicken and Murchison are both out to succeed themselves for the four-year term.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets.

These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids.

It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

DIED PENNILESS.

Son of Inventor of Adding Machine Took His Own Life.

Detroit, Mich., March 8.—Horace Burroughs, 29, son of the late William S. Burroughs, inventor of an adding machine, died late yesterday in a local hospital from a self-inflicted wound. He was penniless and in frail health. Several years ago, according to former assistants, he was worth more than $250,000.

DARNELL DECLINES TO ADDRESS PRISONERS

Milwaukee, Wis., March 8.—Rev. James M. Darnell, "the marrying parson of Kenosha," who is in the Milwaukee county jail with a charge of white slavery against him, declined an invitation by Sheriff Meims to address the prisoners at the regular Sunday services yesterday on the ground that he would consider it "inappropriate." He said: "I am not a hypocrite and should I preach I am sure that people would misconstrue my statements."

J. L. WASHBURN IS NAMED A DELEGATE

Governor Hammond has appointed as delegates to the nineteenth annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Science in Philadelphia, April 9 and 10, Judge Oscar Hallam of the supreme court; J. E. Jenks, St. Cloud; E. H. Canfield, Luverne; J. L. Washburn, Duluth, and W. A. Schaper, Minneapolis.

ALL-HOME TALENT IS DETRIMENTAL

Denfeld's Views on Teaching Staff Confirmed at N. E. A. Convention.

R. E. Denfeld, superintendent of the public schools of Duluth, who returned yesterday from the annual meeting of the department of superintendents of the National Educational association at Cincinnati, Ohio, was more firmly convinced than ever that the too close adherence to the employment of local teachers in the public schools is a mistake. Mr. Denfeld has long been an advocate of the infusion of outside blood in the school teaching system for the benefit of the schools, and declares that the exchange of ideas at the convention that he has just attended confirms his belief. The superintendents there, almost without exception, he says, have found that at least one-third of the teaching force of the schools should be of talent from outside of the city.

"Teachers or others who stay too long in one city," said Mr. Denfeld this morning, 'get into a rut. The caliber of people is revealed by rubbing up against strange conditions, and their characters are better developed. It is always helpful to get the viewpoint of people from other places and this applies to school teaching as well as to anything else."

Mr. Denfeld said that vocation and industrial training and Better training in English were other subjects which received extensive attention from the superintendents who had gathered at Cincinnati, and many excellent ideas as to methods and plans were brought out in the papers and discussions. As to vocational training, Mr. Denfeld said, the prevailing sentiment was that instead of the education ending with graduation or the pupil's leaving school, the school should extend its help to the student after he has gone into the world to make a living and carve out a career.

Former President Taft was a speaker at the meeting. The next convention will be held in Detroit, Mich., in February, 1916.

APPEAL FOR PEACE.

Anniversary of Frisco Earthquake Selected as Day By Advocates.

San Francisco, Cal., March 8.—Sunday, April 18—the ninth anniversary of the destruction of San Francisco by fire and earthquake—has been chosen as the opening date for a world-wide appeal for peace, it was announced here last night. The campaign is receiving the support of leading clergymen, educators and other peace advocates.

April 18 falls on Sunday, and leaders of the movement have suggested that ministers throughout the world preach that day upon the subject, "The victory of the pursuits of peace."

SEVEN DEAD AS RESULT OF SHOOTING AFFRAY

Brunswick, Ga., March 8.—The death here yesterday of Ernest McDonald, shot Saturday, when Monroe Phillips, a real estate dealer, killed five persons and wounded thirty-two with an automatic shotgun before he himself was killed, increased the death list to seven. The others wounded, except Gunner Tolnas, a bank clerk, were reported as doing well. Physicians fear Tolnas will die.

It is believed financial worries drove Phillips insane.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

FIVE BEING TRIED.

Seven Other Cases Resulting From Raids Are Postponed.

FOUR women and one man, arrested in the first of a series of raids by police Friday night, in a campaign to clean up downtown rooming houses, will be given a hearing in municipal court this afternoon. Seven others, arrested in four other raids the same night, will be tried later in the week.

Corrine Hackley, age 37, proprietress of a rooming house at 1119 West Michigan street, faces a charge of keeping a house of ill-fame and of conducting an unlicensed drinking place.

Three women and a man, arrested in the Hackley place, will be tried on charges of visiting a house of ill-fame, or living there. They are: Gertrude Clark, age 40; Edward Clark, age 35, her husband; Ethel Chapman, age 23; and Rose Godsey, age 25.

Ida Usher, age 21, who was arrested Friday night, with three others, in rooms at 30 North First avenue west, will not be tried, the case having been dismissed for lack of evidence.

Chief C. H. Troyer stated this morning that in each of these cases the defendants would be tried under the city ordinance, and that the nuisance abatement law, permitting authorities to close the questionable place for a period of one year, may be used afterwards.

The ordinance provides a fine of not less than $50 or more than $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than ninety days. It is necessary for the police to establish proof of the general reputation of any of the places alleged to be houses of ill-fame in order to secure a conviction in cases of this kind.

HAD BEEN WORKING

But Prisoner Admitted His Job Was at Work Farm.

"Yes, your honor, I've been working steadily for two months," declared Peter Murphy, alias James Morrison, age 58, in municipal court this morning.

"Where have you been working?" asked Judge F. H. Cutting.

"At the work farm," replied Murphy.

He was given a sixty-day sentence about two months ago, and was "in again" after a few days' freedom.

After being quizzed, he made an urgent request that he be committed to the county jail, instead of the work farm, as his "game" leg prevented him from doing the hard work expected of him by work farm authorities. He was found guilty of being intoxicated, and his case was referred to Probation Officer Hicks.

ACCUSED OF ARSON.

Adolph Settler Detained By Farmers Until Warrant Is Secured.

Accused of setting fire to the house in which his wife was living, Nels Nelson, a farmer who makes his home near Adolph, Minn., was arrested Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Burdash and taken to police headquarters, where a charge of arson was placed against him. He will be given a hearing before Municipal Judge F. H. Cutting this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Nelson was suspected of the act by farmers living nearby, and he was held by them until a warrant was secured. Emil Bjorlin, 2710 West Second street, is the owner of the house, which is located in section 25, 50-16.

Held for Shoplifting.

Unable to resist the lure of a $2.98 waist, which she hurriedly stuffed into her muff when the saleslgirl's back was turned for a moment, Anna Heikkinen, aged 31, a domestic, was arrested Saturday night at the Glass Block department store. She lives at 601 West Third street.

Store employes saw her put the waist in her muff and she was detained by J. A. Sicard, advertising manager, until Gustav Lahti, superintendent of the police bureau of identification, arrived and took her in charge.

In municipal court this morning the case was continued and she will be given an examination at 10 a. m. tomorrow. This is the first case of shoplifting in which an arrest has been made for several months, according to the police.

DECLARE LAND CONTRACT BROKEN

Mrs. F. E. Owens Seeks to Recover $2,500 Paid for "Orchard."

A dispute growing out of the sale of a 10-acre fruit orchard in Texas is being aired before a jury, which was drawn this morning in Judge Fesler's division of the district court, where Mrs. Frances E. Owens is suing Mrs. A. E. Gilmore and her divorced husband, W. A. Hall, to recover $2,500, the purchase price of the land. All of the litigants reside in Virginia.

On June 28, 1909, a contract was entered into for the sale of the land at the agreed price of $2,500. Mrs. Owens was the purchaser and Hall and his wife were the sellers. The contract provided that the land should be planted with orange and fig trees, and that when the money was paid over, the Halls would turn over a young fruit farm.

Frost subsequently destroyed the orchard and a new situation arose. The trees were not replaced and according to Mrs. Owens the contract was broken. She brought suit to recover the price paid for the land. The defendants admit that the frost killed the trees, but allege that a settlement was made and that the contract was not broken.

The plaintiff is represented by Attorney H. F. Greene. Mrs. Gilmore's attorneys are E. L. Boyle and M. H. McMahon and Hall is represented by N. B. Arnold.

ASKS $5,180 FOR DEATH OF SON

Jury Drawn in Case of B. Nasey Against Independent Bakery.

Barney Nasey, 1801 West Superior street, is asking a jury, which was drawn in district court before Judge Ensign this morning, to award him $5,180 damages against August Merikanto and Gust Ilelno, proprietors of the Independent bakery at the West end, on account of the death of his 5-year-old son, Bernard Nasey, who was killed by being trampled under the hoofs of a horse driven by an employe of the bakery concern. Nasey is suing in the capacity of administrator of his son's estate.

The boy was riding east on the West Superior street sidewalk on a tricycle. Just as the lad was crossing the intersection of Twenty-third avenue west and Superior street, he was run down by a horse attached to a bakery wagon driving north along the avenue. The child was mortally injured and died a short time later. The accident occurred Aug. 10, 1914.

The boy's father charges the bakers with responsibility for the alleged carelessness of their driver. A. E. Parker appears for the plaintiff and O. J. Larson and Neil E. Beaton represent the defendants.

WILL CONTINUE HIS INVESTIGATION

Deputy State Fire Marshal Will Return From St. Paul.

Deputy State Fire Marshal Robert Martin of St. Paul is expected to return to Duluth this afternoon and resume his work of investigating the blaze which destroyed the Seekins' Floral shop, Third avenue east and Superior street, Thursday, as well as the two adjoining stores.

The loss has been estimated at about $20,000, a large part of which was sustained by Louis Visias, proprietor of the floral shop. Before leaving the city Saturday, to spend the week-end in the Twin Cities, Deputy Martin stated that he was not entirely satisfied as to the origin of the Seekins blaze. The loss was fully covered by insurance.

After a two-day investigation of the Empress theater fire, which occurred several hours before the one at Third avenue east and Superior street, Deputy Martin declared that it was entirely accidental and gave bad wiring as the probable cause.

LIKES NEW ORE LOADER

Corrigan-McKinney Official Believes It Will Work All Right.

Crystal Falls, Mich., March 8.—The new ore loader which M. E. Richards of this city is interested in with Nels Flodin of Marquette and others, was put to work underground at the Judson mine last week. The machine is being built by the Lake Shore engine works and changes are being made in it as the necessity develops.

A number witnessed the work of the machine, among them Supt. W. J. Richards of the Corrigan-McKinney company. Mr. Richards stated that he was very well pleased and that it is his opinion that with a few minor changes the machine will be a success and of great advantage in the mining operations underground.

LAW CONFISCATORY.

North Dakota Coal Rate Act Annulled By U. S. Supreme Court.

Washington, March 8.—The North Dakota lignite coal rate law was today annulled as confiscatory and unconstitutional by the supreme court, when applied to the Northern Pacific and the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie railways.

TWO SALOONS SLATED TO GO

Hicken Takes Action as Result of Investigation and Raid.

Places of Andrew Miller and Charles Carlson May Be Eliminated.

Two more saloons are slated for the discard.

This will make a total of eighteen saloons, licenses for which were either revoked or refused since Commissioner Hicken, head of the public safety division, took charge of that department two years ago.

At the regular meeting of the city council this afternoon Commissioner Hicken will ask the council to reconsider the resolution passed last Monday granting Andrew Miller, 1119 West Michigan street, a renewal of his license, and will recommend that a renewal of the Stockholm saloon license be refused its owner, Charles R. Carlson, 513 West Superior street.

Commissioner Hicken announced this morning that he is taking this action as a result of the investigation conducted during the last two weeks that resulted in the raid on five houses last Friday night and the arrest of eleven women and one man on charge of keeping, living in or visiting houses of illfame. He declared that irregularities were found in the operation of the Miller and Carlson saloons and that he feels perfectly justified in asking for a cancellation of the licenses.

Last Monday afternoon the council passed a resolution introduced by Commissioner Hicken granting Miller a renewal of his license to operate the saloon at 1119 West Michigan street, but since that time the commissioner claims he has learned of these irregularities and as a result will ask for a reconsideration of the resolution. Mr. Carlson's application was filed last week and is scheduled to come up for a final vote on March 22, when Commissioner Hicken declares he will recommend that a renewal of the license be refused.

When Commissioner Hicken took charge of the department of public safety two years ago there were 186 saloons in operation. Shortly after, he started a campaign against those operating illegally and today there are but 170 saloons operating in the city.

CLUB TO GIVE SMOKER.

Commercial Men of City Will Meet Tuesday Night.

The Duluth Commercial club will give a "smoker" at the club rooms tomorrow evening, beginning at 8 o'clock, and has provided some better-than-usual entertainment for those who attend. I. F. Halton, a professional pres-digitator, who is visiting friends in the city, will be the chief attraction. It is claimed for him, that he is acknowledged to be the best slight-of-hand performer in the country, and since his arrival here has been puzzling the men whom he has met in a social way with his tricks. His specialty consists of card tricks, at which he is said to be truly "wonderful," but he has a line of other feats at which he excels.

Mr. Halton does not perform on a stage, but right in the midst of his audience, so that they may "see how he does it." The puzzling part of his card tricks is that he apparently lets some of the audience do most of it and scarcely touches the cards.

ELECTION FIGHT IS ON

Duluth's election fight is on.

With the completion of filings last Saturday night and the announcement by City Clerk Palmer this noon that no other men will enter the race for commissioner, candidates already in the field are beginning to organize their committees and within a day or two, Duluth voters will be invited to attend campaign meetings up to the day of election, April 6. A hot fight is promised by those backing several of the candidates, who declare that the vote will be the closest in years.

J. A. Farrell announced yesterday that M. J. Murray will be his campaign manager and that his campaign headquarters will be opened tomorrow in the Manhattan building.

Bernard Silberstein will announce his manager tomorrow, the personnel of his campaign committee and the location of his headquarters for the campaign.

Both Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, who are out for re-election, expect to handle their own campaigns.

L. U. Young, one of the men who filed the petitions nominating C. E. Evens, said this morning that nothing will be done until Mr. Evens returns from California, where he has been visiting during the winter. He is expected back during the latter part of this week or early next week.

R. E. McFarlane said this morning that he will announce his committee within a day or two, while James L. Norman expects to handle his own campaign.

As William L. Bernard has announced that he will not make the race because of his work at the state legislature, his friends who filed his nomination last Saturday are not expected to organize and start a campaign in his behalf.

Candidates for the municipal judgeship, Judge W. L. Windom, John H. Norton, M. E. Louisell and Capt. W. H. Smallwood will all handle their own campaigns.

CITY EMPLOYES WILL PLAY BASEBALL

The water and light department and the city hall indoor baseball teams will clash for the civic honors of Duluth at the Armory next Saturday night.

Last Saturday morning C. R. Pattinson of the water and light department challenged the employes of the city hall to an indoor baseball game. The challenge was immediately accepted by J. Harris Trux, secretary to the mayor, and this morning the final arrangements for the game were made.

Mr. Pattinson announced his lineup as follows: Christ Brian, Edward Gallagher, George Murphy, Albert Bowers, B. Olson, A. Beck, Carl Nelson and Lincoln Brown. Mr. Trux is keeping his lineup a secret and will not make any announcement until a day or two before the game, he said.

ASKS $50,000 FOR SERVICES

Attorneys Secured Verdict for $103,300 Against Same Company.

Figuring that services which he rendered to the Higgins Land company in obtaining data which was advantageously used by his employers in securing a cancellation of a certain lease given to the United States Steel corporation on one of its mines, were worth $50,000, William J. Wallace is asking judgment against the company for that amount in a lawsuit which was brought to trial before Judge Cant and a district court jury this morning. The case was the first one to be called for jury trial at the March term.

Mr. Wallace, plaintiff in the action, claims that between May 1, 1908 and Feb. 1, 1912, he performed services for the Higgins company as an expert explorer of mineral lands that were reasonable worth $50,000 to the company. He also claims that he acted as a confidential agent for his employers and brought to their attention many valuable matters which were of assistance in securing a cancellation of a lease which the company desired to have canceled.

The Higgins company had given a lease to the United States Steel corporation which it desired to have canceled. Mr. Wallace was then in the employ of the company and it is his claim that during the period mentioned he assisted materially in pointing out to his employers what should be done and that he placed information in their hands concerning the property involved in the dispute over the lease that brought about a successful culmination of the suit to cancel the lease.

The Higgins company is controlled by New York capitalists and owns extensive mineral holdings in St. Louis county. Frank W. Higgins, late governor of New York, organized the company several years ago and for a number of years prior to his death was the leading spirit behind the corporation.

The present litigation recalls the suit brought by Spencer & Marshall, Duluth attorneys, against the Higgins company to recover $100,000 on a contract for legal services performed in connection with the same lease cancelation suit. The local firm of attorneys recovered a verdict for $103,300, which included interest, which was one of the largest verdicts ever returned by a jury in any Minnesota court.

Crassweller, Crassweller & Blu appear as attorneys for the plaintiff in the case now on trial. Jaques & Hudson and Fryberger, Fryberger & Fulton represent the Higgins interest.

SUPERIOR

MURDER OR SUICIDE.

Members of the Superior police force and Dr. D. R. Searle, police surgeon, disagree as to the theory of the death of Charles Roberts, who was found shot through the head in the Great Northern railway yards Saturday evening. The police are of the opinion that the man committed suicide. A murder theory is held by the physician.

The man was found propped against a box car early Saturday evening by Verne Benjamin, a switchman. In his pocket was found a .22 caliber revolver. Dr. Searle is of the opinion that a robber shot the man and that the shot must have been fired from a distance of more than a foot from the man's head. No powder marks were found near the wound. This and the fact that no valuables were found on his person lead the physician to believe in the murder theory.

No relatives of the man have been located. A card bearing the name of Charles Roberts, and other papers with the name of Mrs. Alfred Mills, Negaunee, Mich., were the only ones found on him. An inquiry of Mrs. Mills revealed no information except that he belonged to the lodge known as the Sons of St. George.

"Go to Church" Sunday.

Church leaders will strive to have 25,000 Superior people attend church Sunday. Arrangements have been made to run slides in all of the motion picture houses as well as special newspaper advertisements. Leaders of the movement expect half of the population to turn out to services on that day.

Electric Line to Bayfield.

Plans to link Superior and Bayfield with an interurban electric line will be taken up at a meeting to be held at Bayfield on Friday. Several Superior men will attend the meeting. Finances for the proposed line will be discussed. It is planned to make the line a scenic highway and will be built, if the plans carry, along the lake shore.

OBITUARY

Imre Boos, for forty years a newspaper man and musical critic in Milwaukee and one of the organizers of the panorama, "Christ's Entry Into Jerusalem," died March 8 from apoplexy.

Brig. Gen. George Smith Anderson, U. S. A., retired, died March 7, aged 66, at the University club, New York city, where he had made his home since his retirement from service in October, 1912. Gen. Anderson was graduated from the United States military academy in 1871 and entered the cavalry. He served in the Philippines and was for two years, from 1899 to 1901, colonel of volunteers.

George Henry Cadogan, fifth earl of Cadogan, died in London March 6, at the age of 75 years. He was one of the wealthiest London ground landlords and a great entertainer of royalty. Three heirs to the title died during his lifetime.

Pierre Fortune Jaume, the famous detective, died in Paris March 7. He was 69 years old. M. Jaume gained an international reputation through his solving of crimes. Among these was the slaying of five persons at Pot A. Mousson. The authorities were on the point of abandoning the case for lack of evidence when M. Jaume took charge. Within forty-eight hours he had arrested the murderer through the finding of a trouser button.

SOUL LIVES AFTER DEATH

Many Views Regarding "Paradise" Unimportant, Says Dr. Hovis.

Vital Point Is That Soul Is Conscious Immediately After Death.

"Paradise" was the subject upon which Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church, preached yesterday morning. His sermon in part follows:

"A complete consideration of all that Jesus meant when he said to the penitent thief about to die upon the cross, 'Today shalt thou be with me in paradise' would involve the entire subject of eschatology and raise the question of death, soul-slumber, second-probation, purgatory, resurrection, Christ's second coming, judgment, hell and heaven. It is manifestly not within the province of this discussion to more than outline the probable interpretation of His words. The best way to understand the meaning is to find out the history of the term.

Paradise Was a Park.

"The word 'paradise' is probably of Median or Persian origin. Among the Persians, it signified a royal park, or, a well-watered woodland, stocked with game for the pleasure purpose of a noble or a king.

"It was carried over into the Old Testament in its original and literal sense where it appears in the song of Solomon, where the king characterizes his bride as an 'orchard' of pomegranites, and in Ecclesiastes where he says, 'I built me gardens and 'parks.' Again the word is used by Nehemiah in the palace at Shushan when he asks for a letter to Asaph, 'The keeper of the king's forest,' where the reference is explicitly to the royal Persian park. In the Septuagint version of the Scriptures, a translation into the Greek made by seventy scholars nearly 300 years before Christ, the word was exalted and made synonymous with the Garden of Eden. This same translation uses the word 'paradise' wherever the Hebrew has 'garden,' especially in figurative passages or when the idea of the glory of man's first abode was in any way in view. Thus in Genesis the plain of Jordan is said to be 'as the paradise of God.'

A Primeval Eden.

"In the New Testament the word is raised to still higher uses. The primeval Eden gives place to the thought of a 'garden of God' that is not of earth. The paradise of the past is lost in the hope of the paradise of the future and the term becomes a name for the scene of rest and recompense for the righteous after death.

"The reason for this remarkable abstention from the use of the word in New Testament writings lies in the course which Hebrew thought took on the subject of 'Sheol' and a future existence after the close of Old Testament prophecy, and in the condition of popular Jewish belief in the time of Christ and the apostles. On the one hand there was a tendency to idealize and to make 'Paradise' and such words symbols of states of spiritual excellence, while on the other hand there was a tendency to the extremes of literalism which led into extravagant and incongruous speculation. Rabbinical theology as it has come down to us exhibits a medley of ideas on these questions.

"There have been scholars not a few from Josephus to our own day who believe in an intermediate state indicated in the Old Testament by the Hebrew word 'Sheol' and in the New Testament by its Greek equivalent 'Hades' into which both saints and sinners go at death and where they abide until the 'final judgment.' These hold that this intermediate state between death and the resurrection is comprised of two sections, separated by an impassible 'gulf'—the section called paradise or 'Abrahham's Bosom,' which is the abode of the righteous dead eventuates at the resurrection into the eternal state of heaven; the section called Tartarus or 'lower sheol' leads at the resurrection and the judgment to an eternity called 'hell.'

"The above doctrine of an intermediate state rests primarily upon the testimony of the Hebrew word 'Sheol,' which is found sixty-five times in the Old Testament. It is commonly understood to mean the place to which all peonle go at death. Opinions, however, diverge on the matter of whether 'Sheol' means the place where the body goes at death—the grave—or, the place where the soul goes at death—the spirit world. It would seem that the majority of translators and interpreters all through the ages incline to the belief that it does not mean the grave, but rather a state of conscious existence after death. This faith was held by Justin Martyr of the second century, Tertullian of the third, and Ambrose and Augustine of the fourth. The parable of "The Rich Man and Lazarus" seems to teach the probability of an intermediate state.

"Those who hold to the belief taht all souls both good and bad enter an intermediate state of conscious existence when they die where they await the Resurrection and the Judgment day are driven to the conclusion that heaven is now empty and will remain so until the judgment day. They contend that heaven is the final and eternal dwelling-place of the saved, but they hold that the Scriptures teach that as yet, 'No man hath seen God at any time' and that they clearly state 'No man hath ascended up to heaven.' Both of these statements they aver were made by the Son of Man, Himself.

Views of Christ.

"It is only natural that we should be curious to know just what view of 'Paradise' the Savior intended to express in His words from the cross when He said to the penitent thief who had pleaded for mercy, 'Thou shalt thou be with me in paradise'. Some have argued strongly that He promised the robber entrance with Himself into the happy side of 'Sheol'; others that He meant that the thief would be taken with Himself, as it was believed had been the case with Enoch, Elijah, and Moses, immediately into heaven. There is no doubt that a belief in a 'lower' paradise, prevailed among the Jews, but it is not clear that the lower paradise was ever conceived to be in the underworld, or, that the happy side of 'Hades' was called by that name.

Conscious State of the Lord.

"What shall we say of Christ's meaning in His address to the thief? I do not know. I do not care. I have no great concern about the many subtle inferences as to the state of the dead and the condition of our Lord's human spirit before His resurrection, which have been taken from these words. It is enough for me to have the broad assurance that the spirits of the saved do enter at death into a state of conscious presence with their Savior. Beyond this there is naught but fancy and conjecture. It is enough to know that the penitent's prayer was even more than answered.

"What is the message of 'the dying thief?' Not a useless quibble over terms and states. It is the consciousness of the immediate blessedness of the departed—be he what he may, be his life whatsoever it may have been—who at last dark, sinful, standing with one foot on the verge of eternity, and poising himself for the final flight, flings himself into the arms of Christ—the everlasting blessedness, the Christ-presence, and the Christ-gladness, that is the message of the robber on the cross. It is enough great Savior, if when we awake we are 'still with Thee.'"

MORE GOOD THAN EVIL

Man Is Facing Toward Higher Destiny, Says Pastor.

Every Man Has "Two Natures Struggling Within Him."

"The Divinity of Man" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. George R. Gebauer at the First Unitarian church yesterday.

"In spite of all crime and sin, we are certain that mankind is more good than evil, just as there is more good than evil in life itself," he said. "We are certain that man is the child of God and is facing toward a high destiny, which needs no artful salvation.

"If there be radical evil in man, there too is radical good in him, and if we have faith in goodness we must believe in its ultimate victory. Indeed as Goethe has said, 'Whoe'er aspires unwearedly is not beyond redeeming.' Yet where this aspiration persists man's very sins and errors become to him stepping stones to a higher better self. No man indeed is ever entirely depraved, morally depraved, none is beyond redemption. If you find one who cannot be reclaimed, it is a man whose mind is unbalanced.

"The average criminal is not without visions of something higher and better; he may be selfish, yet he is capable of altruistic emotions. Indeed in order to know how evil and good is in every man, we have but to go into our own heart and there we may see how saint and sinner are sitting side by side.

"And as it is in you, so it is in the world of men at large. There is good and evil mixed in all, and if some sin more than others, it is often on account of outward conditions and circumstances. But in all and each there is a high ideal of life; there is the longing after perfection and there are times when even the lowest realizes his highest in some noble, unselfish deed. Thus we are truly divine in our deepest self.

"But we may claim divinity also in an other sense. Humanity is one, and in a very true sense we are partakers in each others' vices and virtues; the sin another does is a possibility in me, the noble deed of my neighbor is also a possibility in me. And there have been a few men in the course of the ages who have risen beyond themselves; they are the supermen, the sons of God, the Christs. And in the virtue the strength of the whole world shares by its aspiration, its possibility for goodness. Yes, we may well say that entire humanity finds itself in the divine humanity of a Jesus. He is its representative in the truest sense. For if we would truly estimate mankind we must estimate by its highest types. This is true in other spheres of life. If we consider man as a thinker, we have in mind a Plato, an Aristotle, a Kant or a Bergson or Darwin. If we have in mind the representative physical man, we do not think of some miserable fellow in the infirmary, but we see before us some great athlete. And so when we think of man in the truest sense, it is not the little grasping soul that comes before us, but the self-forgetting, all-embracing soul of a Jesus. In Him we see humanity of Him we say, 'This is, not only "a" man, but this is "the" man, the son of man.' And for us it is to foster unwearriedly the aspiration for the higher self and prove our discipleship not in word, but in deed. The Savior is the divine spirit in us and if we live in harmony with Him, we shall attain to salvation from sin and salvation in virtue and truth and love."

BRINGS OUT THE LATENT BEAUTIES

Christ's Influence Awakens the Best in Man, Says Dr. Sayles.

Taking for his text the sentiment that Christ's love brings out the hidden and latent beauty of the character of the inner man, Rev. Edward R. Sayles, in his Sunday morning sermon at the First Baptist church declared that one of the mightiest ministers of Jesus Christ in human life was to awaken the best within man.

Dr. Sayles declared that the great Messiah called the higher side of life into expression and that His followers might do the same if they would place their lives within the sphere of Jesus Christ. Among other things, Dr. Sayles said:

"As Jesus passed through Jericho he encountered a man known as Zacchaeus. This man being small of stature, ran ahead of the crowd about Jesus, and climbed into a tree, and when the company arrived where he was, Jesus called him by name and said that He wished to abide at his house. The crowd about Jesus was surprised and angered at His action.

"Zacchaeus was touched by the action of Jesus in inviting Himself to his home. Such consideration, such kindness, such condescension, such plain violation of public custom—all this touched Zacchaeus. He said: 'Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have wrongfully exacted aught of any man, I restore fourfold.' These words express the nobler side of the man's nature which Jesus called forth. The best in him, the higher side of his life, was approached by Jesus."

MAN SHOULD TAKE DECIDED STAND

Attitude Determines Good and Evil of One's Life, Says Rector.

In a sermon Sunday morning on "Confession and Denial," Rev. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, preached that people, as a rule, want to do what is agreeable and that they find it much easier to drift than to take sides.

"This determines the good and evil of our lives," said he, "and while a negative attitude toward life is apparently easy, it carries with it no satisfaction. However, the growth of a sense of individual responsibility and personality is leading people to take definite sides in issues of the day, both personal and polleical.

"Indifference is not dignified. One should either align himself with the church in its positive battle against wrong, or fight on the opposite side. There is no situation quite so unsatisfactory as that of the person who drifts, who does not become a positive favor in the great questions and problems which face the people of the present day."

BIBLE STUDY, THE CRYING NEED

Church Services Are But Empty Forms, Says Pastor White.

Pastor Stemple White spoke last night at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of Sixth street and Tenth avenue east, on the subject, "How to Be Delivered From the Babylon and Bondage of Modern Religion." Taking for his text, "Whosoever transgresseth and abideth not in the doctrines of Christ hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son," he said.

"Christianity is the religion and doctrine of Jesus Christ, who was the very word itself made flesh. Following in the steps of the Master, the apostolic church, with holy ghost power, went forth everywhere preaching the word of God. The evil powers of earth combined were utterly impotent to arrest the onward progress of gospel, and in the daily lives of all who really accepted the Christian religion, immediate transformation of life was seen.

"Through popularity, the church drifted from her primitive purity and simplicity; accepted the word and power of man for the word and power of God and she courted the world to the extent, that worldliness flooded the church; her warning voice was silenced in exchange for social power and influence; and she became weakest spiritually when she became strongest politically and materially. Then came Protestantism and a host of sects, each of which, instead of really and fully returning to the purity and simplicity of the doctrine of primitive Christianity, have stopped short in selfsufficiency, established human creeds, refused to walk in the full light of God's word, all the while toning down the truth, substituting, excusing, and making the word of God of none effect by human tradition.

Real Religion Needed.

"It is one thing to read a prayer; but another thing to pray. Simply going through some form, is not necessarily feeding the sheep with God's word. Adding numbers to church records does not necessarily strengthen either the converts or the church, unless souls are really converted from sin to obedience. Paul admonishes all to 'turn away' from a form of 'godliness,' that denies the power of God. In clarion tones Jesus sounds the call in Revelation, 18, 'Babylon is fallen, come out of her, my people,' and the only hope of deliverance from the modern bondage of religion is in a speedy return and a willing intelligent practise of all the commandments of God. This is the very purpose of the gospel of Christ, and only by the power of God can we really abide in the doctrine of Christ. Serious, earnest, individual Bible study is the crying need of these times. Have you even read God's Book through once? If not, how do you know what it teaches? Begin at once and read it through."

EASTER FLOWERS.

Duluth Grower Reports Good Advance Buying for Holiday.

Good advance buying of flowers for the Easter trade is advised by J. J. Le Borious.

California violets are now said to be blooming at their best and purchases at this time, when the plant is so healthy and its prices are low, is suggested.

This bright weather is said by Mr. Le Borious to be bringing out spring flowers in profusion and Easter plants are beginning to show color. There will be a plentiful supply of plants and cut flowers for the Easter season and good advance orders for plants are being placed in his nursery department, he averred.

Large advance orders for trees and shrubs are being received, as prospects are regarded as bright for an early opening of the spring planting season. Mr. Le Borious is impressing upon Duluth horticulturists the desirability of deciding upon trees and shrubbery they wish to plant and placing orders for them at as early a date as possible in order to secure the best choice.

PROF. HIATT MAKES ADDRESS HERE

Prof. H. M. Hiatt of Anoka, educational secretary of the Minnesota conference of Seventh Day Adventists was in the city over Friday and Saturday. He spoke Friday night and Saturday morning at the English church, corner of Sixth street and Tenth avenue east.

INQUIRY INTO COMBINE ON BRIDGE CONTRACTS

From a county auditor in the Red River Valley: "In reply to your letter of the 17th would say that the same conditions have prevailed in this county as those mentioned in your letter. It has been our experience that in nearly all cases the bidding on bridge work has not shown the competition that it should have shown. It has not happened in many cases that there was no competition at all, but when a number of bidders were present almost invariably the same company was the lowest bidder. As we understand it, in other counties some other member of the same list of bidders would get nearly all of the bridges there. It appears that the work is divided into districts in this state so that there would be but very little competition."

One Company Gets All.

From a county auditor in the First congressional district: "I find conditions here which lead me to believe that the conditions in this county have been the same as you relate in Aitkin county. While I am a recently elected auditor and rather new at the business, this being my first term, after looking up past contracts for bridge construction and past bids on same, I note that one bridge company has done about all the work. When I questioned a former auditor, he told me the more bids you advertised for the more the bridge would cost you, and it seemed that that one company, regardless of the number of bids or attempts to secure new bids, would have each time the lowest bid and eventually secure the contract."

From an auditor in the Second congressional district: "I feel sure that a few years ago there was a combine of the bridge contractors. No one but the Hennepin Bridge company ever happened to be the low bidder in this county. I do not know how that we could prove that it was anything but mere coincidence."

Understanding Between Bidders.

From an auditor in the Ninth congressional district: "This matter has been discussed in my presence at various times and I am satisfied that to a certain extent the same conditions prevail in this county as in Aitkin county, although I do not believe the conditions are as bad. • • • I understand there is a good deal of friction between the highway commission and the representatives of the bridge companies. Some of these representatives lay the increased cost of bridges to the unnecessarily elaborate plans called for by the highway commission. I feel safe in saying, however, that several of our commissioners are convinced that this is only part of the truth. I understand that on various occasions it has been very evident to the committee who has let the contract that there was a perfect understanding between the few bidders who happen to be present."

From an auditor in the Seventh congressional district: "While positive proof is probably lacking, we have always understood that there was a tacit agreement between the different bridge companies, and that the state was divided into territories in which the particular companies should get the jobs, although the rest usually met and submitted bids. This was especially true of the old system when we had no competent supervisors and the different companies used to submit their own plans."

"Elimination Convention."

The Gordon-Rustad bill legalizing the so-called "elimination convention" will be brought before the house for rejection or approval without a recommendation from the committee on ways and means, it was decided upon this course in a session devoted to consideration of several important measures.

When the women's suffrage bill was taken up, a request by the author that it be laid over until a later meeting was granted. The bill will be placed before the house for action later, however, in order to put the members on record.

A sub-committee consisting of Representatives Bjornson, J. T. Johnson and Moeller was appointed to recommend amendments to the presidential primary law which was enacted at the last session of the legislature. The action was in lieu of the bill by Representative Knute Knutson repealing the law.

While there was some sentiment in favor of the bill by Representative L. A. Lydiard of Minneapolis, making it a gross misdemeanor for failure to vote at an election, except in case of illness or absence from the state, the committee decided to recommend the bill for indefinite postponement.

That some action should be taken to compel legalized voters to cast their ballots was the belief of the committee. A sub-committee composed of Representatives Sawyer, Dwyer and Gerlich was appointed to draft a bill imposing some sort of penalty for failure to vote. This action was suggested by Representative Sawyer, who had in mind something in the line of a general poll tax to be remitted after voting.

A religious discussion developed when the bill by Representative Steen of Winona, prohibiting the asking of religious and political questions of applicants for positions as school teachers, was taken up. There was sentiment both for and against the measure. Representative Dwyer, who is a Catholic, said that his daughter had been refused positions because of her religion, but to avoid a religious dispute, he moved to indefinitely postpone the bill and his motion prevailed.

The Telephone Bill.

Owners of country telephone lines and of exchanges in various villages and towns of the state appeared before the senate committee on public service corporations to protest against the referendum clause of the Minnette telephone bill. The bill was passed a week ago by the house.

Owners of exchanges located in small towns declared that the referendum clause allowing a 6 per cent vote of the electorate to determine whether a second company should be allowed a franchise to operate was a bad feature of the bill.

"It will allow agitators to wreck present companies and will play havoc with the telephone business," James Kane of Pine Island told the committee. "Trouble makers without legitimate cause will stir up strife and cause elections to be held if this clause is retained in the bill."

Others who spoke against the referendum clause were T. C. Harnigan of West Concord, A. E. Wilcox of Briceland, Harry Kurs of Annandale, F. H. Jurgens of Jordan, E. P. Wright of Alexandria and S. Wirt of Lewiston.

G. A. Gesell of the bureau of research of the University of Minnesota spoke against some features of the bill as did W. O. Clure, secretary of the Home Rule league. C. B. Randall, secretary of the Tri-State company, spoke against the referendum clause but asked the committee not to change the physical connection or extension of toll line clauses in the bill.

"They are indispensable to the bill," he said. "The majority of independent telephone men in the state wish those two clauses left exactly as they stand. The telephone trust will fight this bill to the last court and have so stated. But leave the clauses directing the railroad and warehouse commission to compel physical connection with the burden of proof on the company that is ordered to give it."

Mary D. McFadden, formerly of Duluth, managed the fight for woman suffrage in behalf of the woman suffrage organizations of the state, and the fact that the bill came within one vote of becoming a law is generally conceded to be due to her efforts. She is not discouraged by the failure of the bill, but is preparing for the renewal of the battle at the next session of the legislature.

Prohibition Bill.

Discussion of that provision of the bill regulating the hours of female employes, touching on the hours of telephone girls, continued for three hours at a public hearing before the house labor committee. Representatives of telephone companies contended that it would be difficult to make any changes in the present system. Representatives of the girls stated that a decrease in hours as proposed in the bill would be a just step, greatly appreciated by the telephone operators of this state.

The bill prohibiting the manufacture or sale of certain brands of snuff and chewing tobacco was recommended to pass by the house committee on public health and pure food. A fight on the bill is expected when it comes up on the floor of the house.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 8, via London, 3. p. m.—The German war office today gave out a report on the progress of the war as follows:

"In the western arena: Aviators of the enemy have dropped bombs on Ostend.

"The fighting in the Champagne district continued last night. At Souain the enemy was repulsed, after a hand to hand engagement. Hostilities were again resumed during the night.

"In the district to the east of Le Mesnil the enemy attacked in the afternoon but this movement failed completely. Our night counter attack was successful and forty Frenchmen were captured.

"We repulsed attacks in the forest of Le Pretre, to the northeast of Pont-a-Mouson.

"In the Vosges, the district west of Munster and north of Sennheim, the fighting is still going on.

"In the eastern arena: To the south of Augustowo, Russian attacks failed with heavy losses to the enemy. The fighting has been resumed in the vicinity of Lomza. To the west of Przasnysz and east of Plock the Russians have made several unsuccessful assaults upon our lines.

"In Courland, German troops have repulsed two Russian night attacks at Rawa. Russian advances from the vicinity of Nowomiesto have not been successful. Of the consequent fighting we took 1,500 prisoners."

French Statement.

Paris, March 8, via London, 4 p. m.—The war office gave out the following statement this afternoon:

"There is nothing of importance in the Champagne section to add to yesterday's communication, progress reported at different points is enhanced. At the end of the day we captured trenches to the northwest of Souain. The captured trenches between Perthes and Beausejour represent 400 to 500 meters. We captured a number of prisoners, including officers.

"In the region of the heights of the Meuse our heavy artillery, according to prisoners, seriously damaged a 42-centimeter gun recently placed in position by the Germans. This gun had to be dismantled and sent to the rear for repairs. Four of the gun crew were killed and seven wounded.

"In Lorraine we progressed northwest of Badonville.

"In the Vosges, at Reich Ackerkopf, the Germans made a violent counter-attack late Sunday afternoon. For the moment they were able to gain a footing on the ridge, but after a furious hand-to-hand fight our riflemen drove them back and finally remained masters of Reich Ackerkopf. The losses sustained by the enemy were extremely heavy.

"In upper Alsace, southward of the railway station at Burnhaupt, an attack attempted against our advanced positions was dispersed by the fire of our artillery."

SELL TICKETS FOR STRANDED PLAYERS

Have you bought a ticket for the chorus girls' benefit at the Auditorium tonight?

Few Duluthians on the downtown streets today failed to come in contact with some of the girls' ticket selling brigade, which is making an effort to secure funds enough to transport the members of the Manhattan Opera company from Duluth to old Broadway.

The company has arranged to give an entertainment and dance at the Auditorium tonight for the benefit of the stranded players. Vaudeville stunts will add to the attractiveness of the dance program, and the players will try to earn their fare to their home town.

Some of the restaurants also have enlisted in the cause, and are selling tickets for the benefit entertainment. The members of the opera company declare that they must "put it over" this time or be stranded here indefinitely. Being stranded with an empty purse and stomach and no work in sight is a position that has no appeal for the players, and the ticket brigade today worked with zest to glean the shekels that would eventually take them back to little ol' New Yawk.

EXPENSES INCREASE; REVENUES DECLINE

Chicago, March 8.—Lee Wettling, statistician for the forty-one western railroads seeking an increase in freight rates, was to resume the stand today at the interstate commerce commission's hearing on the roads' application.

Mr. Wettling was prepared to argue that traffic maintenance expenses, labor costs and other details of railroad expense have steadily increased, while revenues have declined. It was expected that he would be on the witness stand all day.

UNHAMPERED SUN IS BANISHING ICE

Sunday's Perfect Weather Starts Thaw, Which Continues.

Spring may not be here but there is a first-class imitation on hand in the way of weather just now.

Following the March rampage on Friday the weather moderated decidedly on Saturday. Sunday was ideal and today is better. Although the thermometer yesterday did not register above 26 degs., the sun, unhampered by clouds, got in its work on the snow and ice, and the avenues in particular became streaked with rivulets bearing the water, caused by the thaw, down to lower sewer openings, and the streets, in some places becoming almost impassable because of the melting that was general.

Weather Forecaster Richardson said this morning that the temperature today would not be much different from that of yesterday, although it might get a trifle higher, but still below the freezing point. With an uncloaded sky again, it is expected that the sun today will again work havoc with the ice and snow, and Mr. Richardson says that a continuation of this condition is likely to prevail for several days, in which case, he predicts, that there will not be much snow and ice left. A similar brand of weather was served a year ago, there being a stretch of five days of balmy weather.

SOUL LIVES AFTER DEATH

Vital Point Is That Soul Is Conscious Immediately After Death.

"Paradise" was the subject upon which Dr. William Forney Hovis, pastor of the Endion M. E. church, preached yesterday morning. His sermon in part follows:

"A complete consideration of all that Jesus meant when he said to the penitent thief about to die upon the cross, 'Today shalt thou be with me in paradise' would involve the entire subject of eschatology and raise the question of death, soul-slumber, second-probation, purgatory, resurrection, Christ's second coming, judgment, hell and heaven. It is manifestly not within the province of this discussion to more than outline the probable interpretation of His words. The best way to understand the meaning is to find out the history of the term.

Paradise Was a Park.

"The word 'paradise' is probably of Median or Persian origin. Among the Persians, it signified a royal park, or, a well-watered woodland, stocked with game for the pleasure purpose of a noble or a king.

"It was carried over into the Old Testament in its original and literal sense where it appears in the song of Solomon, where the king characterizes his bride as an 'orchard' of pomegranites, and in Ecclesiastes where he says, 'I built me gardens and 'parks.' Again the word is used by Nehemiah in the palace at Shushan when he asks for a letter to Asoph, 'The keeper of the king's forest,' where the reference is explicitly to the royal Persian park. In the Septuagint version of the Scriptures, a translation into the Greek made by seventy scholars nearly 300 years before Christ, the word was exalted and made synonymous with the Garden of Eden. This same translation uses the word 'paradise' wherever the Hebrew has 'garden,' especially in figurative passages or when the idea of the glory of man's first abode was in any way in view. Thus in Genesis the plain of Jordan is said to be 'as the paradise of God.'

A Primeval Eden.

"In the New Testament the word is raised to still higher uses. The primeval Eden gives place to the thought of a 'garden of God' that is not of earth. The paradise of the past is lost in the hope of the paradise of the future and the term becomes a name for the scene of rest and recompense for the righteous after death.

"The reason for this remarkable abstention from the use of the word in New Testament writings lies in the course which Hebrew thought took on the subject of 'Sheol' and a future existence after the close of Old Testament prophecy, and in the condition of popular Jewish belief in the times of Christ and the apostles. On the one hand there was a tendency to idealize and to make 'Paradise' and such words symbols of states of spiritual excellence, while on the other hand there was a tendency to extremes of literalism which led into extravagant and incongruous speculation. Rabbinical theology as it has come down to us exhibits a medley of ideas on these questions.

"There have been scholars not a few from Josephus to our own day who believe in an intermediate state indicated in the Old Testament by the Hebrew word 'Sheol' and in the New Testament by its Greek equivalent 'Hades' into which both saints and sinners go at death and where they abide until the 'final judgment.' Those hold that this intermediate state between death and the resurrection is comprised of two sections, separated by an impassible 'gulf'—the section called paradise or 'Abraham's Bosom,' which is the abode of the righteous dead eventuates at the resurrection into the eternal state of heaven, the section called 'Tartarus or 'lower sheol' leads at the resurrection and the judgment to an eternity called 'hell.'

"The above doctrine of an intermediate state rests primarily upon the testimony of the Hebrew word 'Sheol,' which is found sixty-five times in the Old Testament. It is commonly understood to mean the place to which all people go at death. Opinions, however, diverge on the matter of whether 'Sheol' means the place where the body goes at death—the grave—or, the place where the soul goes at death—the spirit world. It would seem that the majority of translators and interpreters all through the ages incline to the belief that it does not mean the grave, but rather a state of conscious existence after death. This faith was held by Justin Martyr of the second century, Tertullian of the third, and Ambrose and Augustine of the fourth. The parable of "The Rich Man and Lazarus" seems to teach the probability of an intermediate state.

"Those who hold to the belief tabt all souls both good and bad enter an intermediate state of conscious existence when they die where they await the Resurrection and the Judgment day are driven to the conclusion that heaven is now empty and will remain so until the judgment day. They contend that heaven is the final and eternal dwelling-place of the saved, but they hold that the Scriptures teach that as yet, 'No man hath seen God at any time' and that they clearly state 'No man hath ascended up to heaven.' Both of these statements they aver were made by the Son of Man, Himself.

Views of Christ.

"It is only natural that we should be curious to know just what view of 'Paradise' the Savior intended to express in His words from the cross when He said to the penitent thief who had pleaded for mercy, 'Thou shalt thou be with me in paradise'. Some have argued strongly that He promised the robber entrance with Himself into the happy side of 'Sheol'; others that He meant that the thief would be taken with Himself, as it was believed had been the case with Enoch, Elijah, and Moses, immediately into heaven. There is no doubt that a belief in a 'lower' paradise, prevailed among the Jews, but it is not clear that the lower paradise was ever conceived to be in the underworld, or, that the happy side of 'Hades' was called by that name.

Conscious State of the Lord.

"What shall we say of Christ's meaning in His address to the thief? I do not know. I do not care. I have no great concern about the many subtle inferences as to the state of the dead and the condition of our Lord's human spirit before His resurrection, which have been taken from these words. It is enough for me to have the broad assurance that the spirits of the saved do enter at death into a state of conscious presence with their Savior. Beyond this there is naught but fancy and conjecture. It is enough to know that the penitent's prayer was even more than answered.

"What is the message of 'the dying thief?' Not a useless quibble over terms and states. It is the consciousness of the immediate blessedness of the departed—be he what he may, be his life whatsoever it may have been—who at last dark, sinful, standing with one foot on the verge of eternity, and poising himself for the final flight, flings himself into the arms of Christ—the everlasting blessedness, the Christ-presence, and the Christ-gladness, that is the message of the robber on the cross. It is enough great Savior, if when we awake we are 'still with Thee.'"

MORE GOOD THAN EVIL

Man Is Facing Toward Higher Destiny, Says Pastor.

Every Man Has "Two Natures Struggling Within Him."

"The Divinity of Man" was the subject of the sermon by Rev. George R. Gebauer at the First Unitarian church yesterday.

"In spite of all crime and sin, we are certain that mankind is more good than evil, just as there is more good than evil in life itself," he said. "We are certain that man is the child of God and is facing toward a high destiny, which needs no artful salvation.

"If there be radical evil in man, there too is radical good in him, and if we have faith in goodness we must believe in its ultimate victory. Indeed as Goethe has said, 'Whoe'er aspires unwearedly is not beyond redeeming.' Yet where this aspiration persists man's very sins and errors become to him stepping stones to a higher better self. No man indeed is ever entirely depraved, morally depraved, none is beyond redemption. If you find one who cannot be reclaimed, it is a man whose mind is unbalanced.

"The average criminal is not without visions of something higher and better; he may be selfish, yet he is capable of altruistic emotions. Indeed in order to know how evil and good is in every man, we have but to go into our own heart and there we may see how saint and sinner are sitting side by side.

"And as it is in you, so it is in the world of men at large. There is good and evil mixed in all, and if some sin more than others, it is often on account of outward conditions and circumstances. But in it and each there is a high ideal of life; there is the longing after perfection and there are times when even the lowest realizes his highest in some noble, unselfish deed. Thus we are truly divine in our deepest self.

"But we may claim divinity also in an other sense. Humanity is one, and in a very true sense we are partakers in each others' vices and virtues; the sin another does is a possibility in me, the noble deed of my neighbor is also a possibility in me. And there have been a few men in the course of the ages who have risen beyond themselves; they are the supermen, the sons of God, the Christs. And in the virtue the strength of these the whole world shares by its aspiration, its possibility for goodness. Yes, we may well say that entire humanity finds itself in the divine humanity of a Jesus. He is its representative in the truest sense. For if we would truly estimate mankind we must estimate by its highest types. This is true in other spheres of life. If we consider man as a thinker, we have in mind a Plato, an Aristotle, a Kant or a Bergson or Darwin. If we have in mind the representative physical man, we do not think of some miserable fellow in the infirmary, but we see before us some great athlete. And so when we think of man in the truest sense, it is not the little grasping soul that comes before us, but the self-forgetting, all-embracing soul of a Jesus. In Him we see humanity of Him we say, 'This is, not only "a" man, but this is "the" man, the son of man.' And for us it is to foster unwearicdly the aspiation for the higher self and prove our discipleship not in word, but in deed. The Savior is the divine spirit in us and if we live in harmony with Him, we shall attain to salvation from sin and salvation in virtue and truth and love."

BRINGS OUT THE LATENT BEAUTIES

Taking for his text the sentiment that Christ's love brings out the hidden and latent beauty of the character of the inner man, Rev. Edward R. Sayles, in his Sunday morning sermon at the First Baptist church declared that one of the mightiest ministers of Jesus Christ in human life was to awaken the best within man.

Dr. Sayles declared that the great Messiah called the higher side of life into expression and that His followers might do the same if they would place their lives within the sphere of Jesus Christ. Among other things, Dr. Sayles said:

"As Jesus passed through Jericho he encountered a man known as Zaccheaus. This man being small of stature, ran ahead of the crowd about Jesus, and climbed into a tree, and when the company arrived where he was, Jesus called him by name and said that He wished to abide at his house. The crowd about Jesus was surprised and angered at His action.

"Zaccheaus was touched by the action of Jesus in inviting Himself to his home. Such consideration, such kindness, such condescension, such plain violation of public custom—all this touched Zaccheaus. He said: 'Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have wrongfully exacted aught of any man, I restore fourfold.' These words express the nobler side of the man's nature which Jesus called forth. The best in him, the higher side of his life, was approached by Jesus."

MAN SHOULD TAKE DECIDED STAND

In a sermon Sunday morning on "Confession and Denial," Rev. A. W. Ryan, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, preached that people, as a rule, want to do what is agreeable and that they find it much easier to drift than to take sides.

"This determines the good and evil of our lives," said he, "and while a negative attitude toward life is apparently easy, it carries with it no satisfaction. However, the growth of a sense of individual responsibility and personality is leading people to take definite sides in issues of the day, both personal and political.

"Indifference is not dignified. One should either align himself with the church in its positive battle against wrong, or fight on the opposite side. There is no situation quite so unsatisfactory as that of the person who drifts, who does not become a positive favor in the great questions and problems which face the people of the present day."

BIBLE STUDY, THE CRYING NEED

Church Services Are But Empty Forms, Says Pastor White.

Pastor Stemple White spoke last night at the Seventh Day Adventist church, corner of Sixth street and Tenth avenue east, on the subject, "How to Be Delivered From the Babylon and Bondage of Modern Religion." Taking for his text, "Whosoever transgresseth and abideth not in the doctrines of Christ hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son," he said.

"Christianity is the religion and doctrine of Jesus Christ, who was the very word itself made flesh. Following in the steps of the Master, the apostolic church, with holy ghost power, went forth everywhere preaching the word of God. Then powers of earth combined were utterly impotent to arrest the onward progress of gospel, and in the daily lives of all who really accepted the Christian religion, immediate transformation of life was seen.

"Through history, however, the church drifted from her primitive purity and simplicity; accepted the word and power of man for the word and power of God and she courted the world to the extent, that worldliness flooded the church; her warning voice was silenced in exchange for social power and influence; and she became weakest spiritually when she became strongest politically and materially. Then came Protestantism and a host of sects, each of which, really and fully returning to the purity and simplicity of the doctrine of primitive Christianity, have stopped short in selfsufficiency, established human creeds, refused to walk in the full light of God's word, all the while toning down the truth, substituting, excusing, and making the word of God of none effect by human tradition.

Real Religion Needed.

"It is one thing to read a prayer; but another thing to pray. Simply going through some form, is not necessarily feeding the sheep with God's word. Adding numbers to church records does not necessarily strengthen either the converts or the church, unless souls are really converted from sin to obedience. Paul admonishes all to 'turn away' from a form of 'godliness,' that denies the power of God. In clarion tones Jesus sounds the call in Revelation, 18, 'Babylon is fallen, come out of her, my people,' and the only hope of deliverance from the modern bondage of religion is in a speedy return and a willing intelligent practise of all the commandments of God. This is the very purpose of the gospel of Christ, and only by the power of God can we really abide in the doctrine of Christ. Serious, earnest, individual Bible study is the crying need of these times. Have you even read God's Book through once? If not, how do you know what it teaches? Begin at once and read it through."

EASTER FLOWERS.

Good advance buying of flowers for the Easter trade is advised by J. J. Le Borious.

California violets are now said to be blooming at their best and purchases at this time, when the plant is so healthy and its prices are low, is suggested.

This bright weather is said by Mr. Le Borious to be bringing out spring flowers in profusion and Easter plants are beginning to show color. There will be a plentiful supply of plants and cut flowers for the Easter season and good advance orders for plants are being placed in his nursery department, he averred.

Large advance orders for trees and shrubs are being received, as prospects are regarded as bright for an early opening of the spring planting season. Mr. Le Borious is impressing upon Duluth horticulturists the desirability of deciding upon trees and shrubbery they wish to plant and placing orders for them at as early a date as possible in order to secure the best choice.

PROF. HIALT MAKES ADDRESS HERE

Prof. H. M. Hialt of Anoka, educational secretary of the Minnesota conference of Seventh Day Adventists was in the city over Friday and Saturday. He spoke Friday night and Saturday morning at the English church, corner of Sixth street and Tenth avenue east.

INQUIRY INTO COMBINE ON BRIDGE CONTRACTS

From a county auditor in the Red River Valley: "In reply to your letter of the 17th would say that the same conditions have prevailed in this county as those mentioned in your letter. It has been our experience that in nearly all cases the bidding on bridge work has not shown the competition that it should have shown. It has not happened in many cases that there was no competition at all, but when a number of bidders were present almost invariably the same company was the lowest bidder. As we understand it, in other counties some other member of the same list of bidders would get nearly all of the bridges there. It appears that the work is divided into districts in this state so that there would be but very little competition."

One Company Gets All.

From a county auditor in the First congressional district: "I find conditions here which lead me to believe that the conditions in this county have been the same as you relate in Aitkin county. While I am a recently elected auditor and rather new at the business, this being my first term, after looking up past contracts for bridge construction and past bids on same, I note that one bridge company has done about all the work. When I questioned a former auditor, he told me the more bids you advertised for the more the bridge would cost you, and it seemed that that one company, regardless of the number of bids or attempts to secure new bids, would have each time the lowest bid and eventually secure the contract."

From an auditor in the Second congressional district: "I feel sure that a few years ago there was a combine of the bridge contractors. No one but the Hennepin Bridge company ever happened to be the low bidder in this county. I do not know how that we could prove that it was anything but mere coincidence."

Understanding Between Bidders.

From an auditor in the Ninth congressional district: "This matter has been discussed in my presence at various times and I am satisfied that to a certain extent the same conditions prevail in this county as in Aitkin county, although I do not believe the conditions are as bad. * * * I understand there is a good deal of friction between the highway commission and the representatives of the bridge companies. Some of these representatives lay the increased cost of bridges to the unnecessarily elaborate plans called for by the highway commission. I feel safe in saying, however, that several of our commissioners are convinced that this is only part of the truth. I understand that on various occasions it has been very evident to the committee who has let the contract that there was a perfect understanding between the few bidders who happen to be present."

From an auditor in the Seventh congressional district: "While positive proof is probably lacking, we have always understood that there was a tacit agreement between the different bridge companies, and that the state was divided into territories in which the particular companies should get the jobs, although the rest usually met and submitted bids. This was especially true of the old system when we had no competent supervisors and the different companies used to submit their own plans."

"Elimination Convention."

The Gordon-Rustad bill legalizing the so-called "elimination convention" will be brought before the house for rejection or approval without a recommendation from the elections committee, which decided upon this course in a session devoted to consideration of several important measures.

When the women's suffrage bill was taken up, a request by the author that it be laid over until a later meeting was granted. The bill will be placed before the house for action later, however, in order to put the members on record.

A sub-committee consisting of Representatives Bjornson, J. T. Johnson and Moeller was appointed to recommend amendments to the presidential primary law which was enacted at the last session of the legislature. The action was in lieu of the bill by Representative Knute Knutson repealing the law.

While there was some sentiment in favor of the bill by Representative L. A. Lydiard of Minneapolis, making it a gross misdemeanor for failure to vote at an election, except in case of illness or absence from the state, the committee decided to recommend the bill for indefinite postponement.

That some action should be taken to compel legalized voters to cast their ballots was the belief of the committee. A sub-committee composed of Representatives Sawyer, Dwyer and Gerlich was appointed to draft a bill imposing some sort of penalty for failure to vote. This action was suggested by Representative Sawyer, who had in mind something in the line of a general poll tax to be remitted after voting.

A religious discussion developed when the bill by Representative Steen of Winona, prohibiting the asking of religious and political questions of applicants for positions as school teachers, was taken up. There was sentiment both for and against the measure. Representative Dwyer, who is a Catholic, said that his daughter had been refused positions because of her religion, but to avoid a religious dispute, he moved to indefinitely postpone the bill and his motion prevailed.

The Telephone Bill.

Owners of country telephone lines and of exchanges in various villages and towns of the state appeared before the senate committee on public service corporations to protest against the referendum clause of the Minnette telephone bill. The bill was passed a week ago by the house.

Owners of exchanges located in small towns declared that the referendum clause allowing a 6 per cent vote of the electorate to determine whether a second company should be allowed a franchise to operate was a bad feature of the bill.

"It will allow agitators to wreck present companies and will play havoc with the telephone business," James Kane of Pine Island told the committee. "Trouble makers without legitimate cause will stir up strife and cause elections to be held if this clause is retained in the bill."

Others who spoke against the referendum clause were T. C. Harnigan of West Concord, A. E. Wilcox of Bricelland, Harry Kurz of Annandale, F. H. Jurgens of Jordan, E. P. Wright of Alexandria and S. Wirt of Lewiston.

G. A. Gesell of the bureau of research of the University of Minnesota spoke against some features of the bill as did W. O. Clure, secretary of the Home Rule league. C. B. Randall, secretary of the Tri-State company, spoke against the referendum clause but asked the committee not to change the physical connection or extension of toll line clauses in the bill.

"They are indispensable to the bill," he said. "The majority of independent telephone men in the state wish those two clauses left exactly as they stand. The telephone trust will fight this bill to the last court and have so stated. But leave the clauses directing the railroad and warehouse commission to compel physical connection with the burden of proof on the company that is ordered to give it."

Mary D. McFadden, formerly of Duluth, managed the fight for woman suffrage in behalf of the woman suffrage organizations of the state, and the fact that the bill came within one vote of becoming a law is generally conceded to be due to her efforts. She is not discouraged by the failure of the bill, but is preparing for the renewal of the battle at the next session of the legislature.

Prohibition Bill.

Discussion of that provision of the bill regulating the hours of female employes, touching on the hours of telephone girls, continued for three hours at a public hearing before the house labor committee. Representatives of telephone companies contended that it would be difficult to make any changes in the present system. Representatives of the girls stated that a decrease in hours as proposed in the bill would be a just step, greatly appreciated by the telephone operators of this state.

The committee took no action on the bill.

The bill prohibiting the manufacture or sale of certain brands of snuff and chewing tobacco was recommended to pass by the house committee on public health and pure food. A fight on the bill is expected when it comes up on the floor of the house.

Cotton Ship Released.

The release of the American cotton ship Pacific after several days' detention at Deal indicates that Premier Asquith's blockade policy has not yet been ratified by an order in council.

One of the unexpected results of the submarine war operations has been the announcement of a reduction in trans-Atlantic passenger rates. This may even precipitate a rate war, unless passengers are willing to pay higher prices for the safety of the American flag.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 8, via London, 3. p. m.—The German war office today gave out a report on the progress of the war as follows:

"In the western arena: Aviators of the enemy have dropped bombs on Ostend.

"The fighting in the Champagne district continued last night. At Souain the enemy was repulsed, after a hand to hand engagement. Hostilities were again resumed during the night.

"In the district to the east of Le Mesnil the enemy attacked in the afternoon but this movement failed completely. Our night counter attack was successful and forty Frenchmen were captured.

"We repulsed attacks in the forest of Le Pretre, to the northeast of Pont-a-Mouson.

"In the Vosges, the district west of Munster and north of Sennheim, the fighting is still going on.

"In the eastern arena: To the south of Augustowo, Russian attacks failed with heavy losses to the enemy. The fighting has been resumed in the vicinity of Lomza. To the west of Przasnysz and east of Plock the Russians have made several unsuccessful assaults upon our lines. Further to the north, German troops have repulsed two Russian night attacks at Rawa. Russian advances from the vicinity of Nowomiesto have not been successful. In the consequent fighting we took 1,500 prisoners."

French Statement.

Paris, March 8, via London, 4 p. m.—The war office gave out the following statement this afternoon:

"There is nothing of importance in the Champagne section to add to yesterday's communication, progress reported at different points is enhanced. At the end of the day we captured trenches to the northwest of Souain. The captured trenches between Perthes and Reausejour represent 400 to 500 meters. We captured a number of prisoners, including officers.

"In the region of the heights of the Meuse our heavy artillery, according to prisoners, seriously damaged a 42-centimeter gun recently placed in position by the Germans. This gun had to be dismantled and sent to the rear for repairs. Four of the gun crew were killed and seven wounded.

"In Lorraine we progressed northwest of Badonviller.

"In the Vosges, at Reich Ackerkopf, the Germans made a violent counter-attack late Sunday afternoon. For the moment they were able to gain a footing on the ridge, but after a furious hand-to-hand fight our riflemen drove them back and finally remained masters of Reich Ackerkopf. The losses sustained by the enemy were extremely heavy.

"In upper Alsace, southward of the railway station at Burnhaupt, an attack attempted against our advanced positions was dispersed by the fire of our artillery."

SELL TICKETS FOR STRANDED PLAYERS

Have you bought a ticket for the chorus girls' benefit at the Auditorium tonight?

Few Duluthians on the downtown streets today failed to come in contact with some of the girls' ticket selling brigade, which is making an effort to secure funds enough to transport the members of the Manhattan Opera company from Duluth to old Broadway.

The company has arranged to give an entertainment and dance at the Auditorium tonight for the benefit of the stranded players. Vaudeville stunts will add to the attractiveness of the dance program, and the players will try to earn their fare to their home town.

Some of the restaurants also have enlisted in the cause, and are selling tickets for the benefit entertainment. The members of the opera company declare that they must "put it over" this time or be stranded here indefinitely. Being stranded with an empty purse and stomach and no work in sight is a position that has no appeal for the players, and the ticket brigade today worked with zest to glean the shekels that would eventually take them back to little ol' New Yawk.

EXPENSES INCREASE; REVENUES DECLINE

Chicago, March 8.—Lee Wettling, statistician for the forty-one western railroads seeking an increase in freight rates, was to resume the stand today at the interstate commerce commission's hearing on the roads' application.

Mr. Wettling was prepared to argue that traffic maintenance expenses, labor costs and other details of railroad expense have steadily increased, while revenues have declined. It was expected that he would be on the witness stand all day.

UNHAMPERED SUN IS BANISHING ICE

Sunday's Perfect Weather Starts Thaw, Which Continues.

Spring may not be here but there is a first-class imitation on hand in the way of weather just now.

Following the March rampage on Friday the weather moderated decidedly on Saturday. Sunday was ideal and today is better. Although the thermometer yesterday did not register above 26 degs., the sun, unhampered by clouds, got in its work on the snow and ice, and the avenues in particular became streaked with rivulets bearing the water, caused by the thaw, down to lower sewer openings, and the streets, in some places becoming almost impassable because of the melting that was general.

Weather Forecaster Richardson said this morning that the temperature today would not be much different from that of yesterday, although it might get a tride higher, but still below the freezing point. With an unclouded sky again, it is expected that the sun today will again work havoc with the ice and snow, and Mr. Richardson says that a continuation of this condition is likely to prevail for several days, in which case, he predicts, that there will not be much snow and ice left. A similar brand of weather was served a year ago, there being a stretch of five days of balmy weather.

CANNOT VISIT FRISCO EXPO THIS MONTH

Washington, March 8.—Formal announcement that President Wilson will be unable to attend the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco this month was made today at the White House. The president gave as his reason the necessity that he keep in close touch with "the various matters which the government has to deal with."

War Cannot Destroy Fashion

Half of France may be in arms but wonderful, fascinating Paris is still creating styles.

Her artists have already determined the modes for spring and the stores are spreading the message to American women.

The new gowns, the new millinery, the new lingeries, is on show.

The advertising in The Herald is telling the story day by day.

It is an education in "what's what" to read the newspaper advertising in this before-Easter season.

CONCERT ORCHESTRA.

Request Program Will Be Given March 21

Violin numbers by Vilborg Gunderson-Finkelson, soprano solos by Donna Riblette Flaaten and the presentation of "Yankee Honor," a march written by Charles Fremling, a member of the orchestra, were important features of the program given yesterday afternoon by the Duluth Concert orchestra in the auditorium of Central high school.

As an encore to Ole Bull's "Saetertenten's Sonding" Mrs. Finkelson gave Delibes' "Serenade." Mr. Flaaten, who sang "Caro Nome" by Verdi, responded with a Bohemian folk song. Mr. Fremling's march with its fine swing and rhythm delighted the audience.

The chief number given by the orchestra was Grieg's "Per Gynt," suite No. 1, that deals with the hero of an old Norwegian folk tale, the hero of Ibsen's drama. One Wagner number was given, the vorspiel to "Lohengrin," describing the revelation of the Holy Grail. Other orchestral numbers were "Einzugsmarsch der Bjaren" by Halversen, "Chanson Mai" by Elgar, "Swedish Wedding March" by Sodermann and von Suppe's "Light Cavalry" with marimbaphone solo by Roy Knapp.

A request program will be given by the orchestra March 21. Requests for numbers that have been given at the five concerts of the series were received yesterday afternoon and today by Fred G. Bradbury, director of the orchestra.

DISCUSS FEMINISM.

Tentative A. C. A. Program for Next Year Is Presented.

A statement of some of the tendencies in the feminist movement were given by Mrs. Eugene W. Bohannon at the meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae this afternoon, for which Mrs. Guy Dill and Mrs. Earl Hunner were the hostesses at the home of Mrs. Dill, 1575 Vermilion road. Mrs. Bohannon reviewed W. L. George's book, "Woman of Tomorrow," and outlined some of the ideas of Ellen Key and other prominent leaders of the movement.

April 10—Business meeting, annual reports and election of officers.
May—Reception.

At the social hour that followed the meeting the hostesses were assisted by Mrs. C. C. Colton and Miss Grace Wright who poured tea and by Mrs. S. J. Colter, Mrs. F. B. Cronk, Miss Juanita Wiams and Mrs. W. B. Dunlop.

BOOK CONTEST.

Members of Twentieth Century Club Hold Social Meeting.

The regular monthly social meeting of the Twentieth Century club that was held this afternoon in the library clubroom was in the nature of a book social.

Each member wore something that suggested the title of a book that was guessed by the others. This was entirely different from the other social meetings of the club as a program of talks and readings is generally arranged. Mrs. F. H. Crowley was in charge of the meeting.

The hostesses of the afternoon were: Mrs. A. H. Bricklehurst, Mrs. H. L. Gage, Mrs. M. F. Jamar, Sr., Mrs. M. Cook, Mrs. J. T. Culbertson, Mrs. William Carlson, Mrs. H. E. Herwig, Mrs. I. N. Sodahl, Mrs. K. W. Little and Mrs. Margaret Lawitzky.

Mrs. O. A. Ordson, Mrs. W. S. Donat, Mrs. L. K. Daugherty and Mrs. T. A. Armstrong presided at the tea table. Among those who assisted were: Mrs. C. R. Keyes, Mrs. J. E. Samuelson, Mrs. John Carson, Mrs. R. Spiegel, Mrs. D. H. Williams, Mrs. H. E. Harter, Mrs. E. J. TEACHING METHODS TO S. S. WORKERS

School for Instruction Will Open at Presbyterian Church.

A school of methods for Sunday school teachers will begin tomorrow afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, Third avenue east and Second street, and will be held each afternoon and evening of the week, ending on Sunday night when graduating exercises will be held and certificates issued. The courses, which will be for Sunday school workers of the Duluth presbytery, will be open to all who are interested, and attendance on them will count as credits to those who are taking teacher-training work.

The instruction and lectures will be given by Prof. George C. Fracker, Ph. D., of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Rev. Gerrit Verkuyl, Ph. D., of Appleton, Wis. They will be assisted at various times during the week by local pastors and Sunday school superintendents. The sessions will be held from 3 to 4:45 each afternoon and from 7:30 to 9:10 each evening, the first fifteen minutes being given over at each session to devotional service. The subjects of the sessions will be as follows:

Tuesday: Afternoon—"Concept of Christian Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Agencies of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker. Evening — "The First Aim," Dr. Verkuyl, and "Organization of Educational Work in the Local Chruch," Dr. Fracker.

Wednesday: Afternoon — "Three Phases of Christian Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Aim, Content and Method of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker. Evening—"The Culture of Reverence," Dr. Verkuyl, and "Administration of Educational Work in the Local Church," Dr. Fracker.

Thursday: Afternoon—"The Sunday School at Home," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Religious Life of the Child," Dr. Fracker. Evening—"The Development of the Boy Life," J. D. Batchelor of the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., and "Science of Conversion," Dr. Fracker.

Friday: Afternoon—"Devotions at Sunday School," Dr. Verkuyl; "The Age of Doubt," Dr. Fracker, and "Drawbridges in Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Meaning and Place of Religious Education in America," Dr. Fracker, and "The Boy," Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church.

Saturday: Afternoon — "Individual, Sex and Other Differences and Social Unity," Dr. Fracker, and "Drawbridges in Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Psychological Basis of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker, and "Building the Program," Dr. Verkuyl.

Sunday: Afternoon — "Principles of Early Training of the Child," Dr. Fracker, and "Teaching to Pray," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Boy and His Father," Dr. Fracker, and "The Man Four-Square," Dr. Verkuyl.

MAINE TROUT FRY FOR UPPER MICHIGAN

Channing, Mich., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.) — Upper Michigan streams are to be stocked this spring with an exceptionally fine lot of brook trout fry. The eggs from which the fish were hatched were gathered in Maine from wild trout taken near Mau Chunk and Bar Mills, hauled over a wood road for ten miles or more and sent to the Michigan hatchery at the Soo, where 2,000,000 of the fish are now somewhat beyond the eye stage. The fish will not be ready for planting until May, the very best time to stock upper peninsula streams. The fry from the eggs of the native trout are ready now and the Michigan state commission's car is distributing them in the lower peninsula.

Toasts Women; Kills Self.

Butte, Mont., March 8.—With a toast in which he wished his wife and her three lady guests "good luck" and the best of lives, Daniel Creighton, aged 42, drank a solution of poison, his death occurring almost before the women were aware of what was happening.

SOME TEMPTING SANDWICHES

St. Louis Republic:

Salmon.

Remove the bones and skin from the contents of one can of salmon and mince the fish with the juice of half a lemon, salt and pepper to taste, six tablespoonfuls of minced celery and a tablespoonful of melted butter. Spread this mixture between thin slices of white bread.

Sardine.

Remove the bones and skin from the sardines and pound the fish to a paste. Season it with salt and paprika and to each six sardines add the crumbled yolk of one hard-boiled egg and a tablespoonful of olive oil. Spread between slices of bread and butter or on slices of thin, hot buttered toast and serve immediately.

Egg and Cucumber.

Spread a thin slice of bread and butter with thin slices of crisp, cool cucumber. Spread another slice with chopped hard-boiled eggs mixed to a paste with mayonnaise dressing and put the two pieces of bread together.

Tomato.

Cut firm cold tomatoes in thin slices and place each slice on a round of bread and butter. On each tomato spread a teaspoonful of minced celery and minced sweet pepper mixed with mayonnaise dressing. Top with a slice of buttered white bread.

Chicken Giblets.

Mince chicken giblets and mix them to a paste with mayonnaise dressing. Spread between butter slices of white bread.

Minced Chicken.

Mince cold cooked chicken, moisten with mayonnaise, and spread on slices of buttered bread. Top each with a hearty piece of crisp lettuce and then with a piece of plain buttered bread.

Cocoanut Sandwiches.

Mix half a cupful of English walnuts, three times that amount of grated fresh cocoanut, moisten with cream and add two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Spread between fresh buttered bread.

Green Pepper and Cheese.

Remove the seeds and stems from a green sweet pepper and put it through a vegetable chopper. Add it to a cake of cream cheese which has been softened with a few tablespoonfuls of cream. Mix thoroughly, season with salt and pepper to taste. Spread between slices of buttered bread.

Anchovy and Eggs.

Mash the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs and add a tablespoonful of anchovy paste or two anchovies mashed fine with a fork. Add a tablespoonful of olive oil, a quarter of a teaspoonful of sale with a little paprika.

Cream Sandwich.

Beat cream until it is solid, then beat in several tablespoonfuls of any desired jelly—quince, crabapple or grape. Spread the mixture between split lady fingers.

Dried Beef.

Put some chipped beef through a meat chopper and mix it with an equal amount of minced celery hearts. Flavor with a little grated onion and moisten with a little olive oil and vinegar.

Chicken and Almond.

Mix half a cupful of blanched chopped almonds with half a cupful of diced cold chicken and moisten with four tablespoonfuls of cream. Season with salt and pepper and spread between buttered slices of bread.

Tongue Sandwiches.

Mince cold boiled tongue and mix it with half as much finely diced celery. Moisten with mayonnaise and to a cupful add a tablespoonful of good tomato catsup. Spread between white bread and butter.

Marmalade Sandwiches.

Make these just before eating them. Butter white and brown bread and spread with orange marmalade, rather thinly. On each slice of brown bread put a slice of white buttered bread, and on the white put brown slices.

Minced Ham.

Mince lean ham, season with dry mustard and cayenne pepper and moisten to the consistency of a paste with melted butter and sugar. Spread between slices of buttered bread.

Walnut and Date.

Mince pitted dates and walnut meats and mix in equal amounts. Moisten with a little cream and spread between slices of whole wheat bread and butter.

Keep Things in Repairs.

The habit of keeping things in repair is one that this generation of Americans seem not inclined to make theirs. It is not now a question of how much wear you can get out of an article so much as how quickly you can scrub it out and get another to take its place. No one seems to take any great pride in keeping their belongings in first-class condition or of making them give the service they should with proper care.

The fault is not with what we have, but with the way we treat things. Many seem imbued with the spirit that "there is plenty more where that came from," and that the money to purchase it is also plentiful. Nowadays when a chair breaks down in any one spot it is, as a rule, at once delegated to the storeroom, or sold or given away as old junk. Sometimes a very good piece of furniture is given away to get it out of the house.

In recent years there has been quite a fad for old-fashioned furniture. The acquisition of old-fashioned furniture has been the ambition of those desiring to furnish their homes beautifully. If the various pieces of furniture which have had such a popularity were family heirlooms, so much the better. They gave their owner a sort of prestige very desirable in the eyes of the less fortunate.

Occasionally in a family one is unexplainably impressed with the good care the furnishings receive. The oak and mahogany of the older pieces is without a scratch, and polished so that the grains of the wood show to advantage. The carpets, rugs and hangings are kept free from dust and soil and one necessary stitch is taken to save the nine. Everything that will contribute to the order and preservation of the home beautiful is carefully attended to. No matter how costly and artistic the contents of a room may be, they are soon lost unless effort to keep them bright and fresh is a part of the daily round.

The treasure boxes containing old party gowns, bonnets, fine linens and all the nice things of the maids and the matrons of the past will not, I fear, exist for the next generation unless there is a radical change. We wear our clothes out very quickly. My grandmother says we do not half take care of what he have and that we refuse to learn how to take care of them. I think she is more than half right. There may be some who take all the pains possible with their belongings but they are in the minority. Most of us wear out garments and enjoy our furniture while it is fresh and new but never make an effort to keep it in that condition.

Woman's Realm

The wedding of Miss Marie Merrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Merrill of 2626 Greyscion road, and Francis P. Sears of Boston will take place Saturday, March 27, at Trinity cathedral. The ceremony will be performed by Bishop John D. Morrison, assisted by Dr. T. W. MacLean.

Miss Betty Merrill will be her sister's maid of honor and the ushers will be six Harvard classmates of the bridegroom.

CONCERT ORCHESTRA.

Request Program Will Be Given March 21

Violin numbers by Valborg Gunderson-Finkelson, soprano solos by Donna Riblette Flaaten and the presentation of "Yankee Honor," a march written by Charles Fremling, a member of the orchestra, were important features of the program given yesterday afternoon by the Duluth Concert orchestra in the auditorium of Central high school.

As an encore to Ole Bull's "Saeterjenten's Sondag" Mrs. Finkelson gave Delibes' "Serenade." Mr. Flaaten, who sang "Caro Nome" by Verdi, responded with a Bohemian folk song. Mr. Fremling's march with its fine swing and rhythm delighted the audience.

The chief number given by the orchestra was Grieg's "Per Gynt," suite No. 1, that deals with the hero of an old Norwegian folk tale, the hero of Ibsen's drama. One Wagner number was given, the vorspiel to "Lohengrin," describing the revelation of the Holy Grail. Other orchestra numbers were "Einzugsmarsch der Bojaren" by Halversen, "Chanson Medin" by Elgar, "Swedish Wedding March" by Sodermann and von Suppe's "Light Cavalry" with marimbaphone solo by Roy Knapp.

A request program will be given by the orchestra March 21. Requests for numbers that have been given at the five concerts of the series were received yesterday afternoon and today by Fred G. Bradbury, director of the orchestra.

DISCUSS FEMINISM.

Tentative A. C. A. Program for Next Year Is Presented.

A statement of some of the tendencies in the feminist movement were given by Mrs. Eugene W. Bohannon at the meeting of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae this afternoon for which Mrs. Guy Diehl and Mrs. Earl Hunner were the hostesses at the home of Mrs. Diehl, 1575 Vermilion road. Mrs. Bohannon reviewed W. L. George's book, "Woman of Tomorrow," and outlined some of the ideas of Ellen Key and other prominent leaders of the movement.

The following tentative program for next year's work to be voted on at the April meeting, was presented:

TEACHING METHODS TO S. S. WORKERS

School for Instruction Will Open at Presbyterian Church.

A school of methods for Sunday school teachers will begin tomorrow afternoon at the First Presbyterian church, Third avenue east and Second street, and will be held each afternoon and evening of the week, ending on Sunday night when graduating exercises will be held and certificates issued. The courses, which will be for Sunday school workers of the Duluth presbytery, will be open to all who are interested, and attendance on them will count as credits to those who are taking teacher-training work.

The instruction and lectures will be given by Prof. George C. Fracker, Ph. D., of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Rev. Gerrit Verkuyl, Ph. D., of Appleton, Wis. They will be assisted at various times during the week by local pastors and Sunday school superintendents. The sessions will be held from 3 to 4:45 each afternoon and from 7:30 to 9:10 each evening, the first fifteen minutes being given over at each session to devotional service. The subjects of the sessions will be as follows:

Tuesday: Afternoon—"Concept of Christian Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Agencies of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker. Evening—"The First Aim," Dr. Verkuyl, and "Organization of Educational Work in the Local Church," Dr. Fracker.

Wednesday: Afternoon — "Three Phases of Christian Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Aim, Content and Method of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker. Evening—"The Culture of Reverence," Dr. Verkuyl, and "Administration of Educational Work in the Local Church," Dr. Fracker.

Thursday: Afternoon—"The Sunday School at Home," Dr. Verkuyl, and "The Religious Life of the Child," Dr. Fracker. Evening—"The Development of the Boy Life," J. D. Batchelor of the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., and "Science of Conversion," Dr. Fracker.

Friday: Afternoon—"Devotions at Sunday School," Dr. Verkuyl; "The Age of Doubt," Dr. Fracker, and "Drawbridges in Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Meaning and Place of Religious Education in America," Dr. Fracker, and "The Boy," Rev. J. A. McGaughey, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church.

Saturday: Afternoon — "Individual, Sex and Other Differences and Social Unity," Dr. Fracker, and "Drawbridges in Teaching," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Psychological Basis of Religious Education," Dr. Fracker, and "Building the Program," Dr. Verkuyl.

Sunday: Afternoon — "Principles of Early Training of the Child," Dr. Fracker, and "Teaching to Pray," Dr. Verkuyl. Evening—"The Boy and His Father," Dr. Fracker, and "The Man Four-Square," Dr. Verkuyl.

MAINE TROUT FRY FOR UPPER MICHIGAN

Channing, Mich., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.) — Upper Michigan streams are to be stocked this spring with an exceptionally fine lot of brook trout fry. The eggs from which the fish were hatched were gathered in Maine from wild trout taken near Mau Chunk and Bar Mills, hauled over a wood road for ten miles or more and sent to the Michigan hatchery at the Soo, where 2,000,000 of the fish are now somewhat beyond the eye stage. The fish will not be ready for planting until May, the very best time to stock upper peninsula streams. The fry from the eggs of the native trout are ready now and the Michigan state commission's car is distributing them in the lower peninsula.

Toasts Women; Kills Self.

Butte, Mont., March 8.—With a toast in which he wished his wife and her three lady guests "good luck" and the best of lives, Daniel Creighton, aged 42, drank a solution of poison, his death occurring almost before the women were aware of what was happening.

SOME TEMPTING SANDWICHES

St. Louis Republic:

Salmon.

Remove the bones and skin from the contents of one can of salmon and mince the fish with the juice of half a lemon, salt and pepper to taste, six tablespoonfuls of minced celery and a tablespoonful of melted butter. Spread this mixture between thin slices of white bread.

Sardine.

Remove the bones and skin from the sardines and pound the fish to a paste. Season it with salt and paprika and to each six sardines add the crumbled yolk of one hard-boiled egg and a tablespoonful of olive oil. Spread between slices of bread and butter or on slices of thin, hot buttered toast and serve immediately.

Egg and Cucumber.

Spread a thin slice of bread and butter with thin slices of crisp, cool cucumber. Spread another slice with chopped hard-boiled eggs mixed to a paste with mayonnaise dressing and put the two pieces of bread together.

Tomato.

Cut firm cold tomatoes in thin slices and place each slice on a round of bread and butter. On each tomato spread a teaspoonful of minced celery and minced sweet pepper mixed with mayonnaise dressing. Top with a slice of buttered white bread.

Chicken Giblets.

Mince chicken giblets and mix them to a paste with mayonnaise dressing. Spread between butter slices of white bread.

Minced Chicken.

Mince cold cooked chicken, moisten with mayonnaise, and spread on slices of buttered bread. Top each with a hearty piece of crisp lettuce and then with a piece of plain buttered bread.

Cocoanut Sandwiches.

Mix half a cupful of English walnuts, three times that amount of grated fresh cocoanut, moisten with cream and add two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Spread between fresh buttered bread.

Green Pepper and Cheese.

Remove the seeds and stems from a green sweet pepper and put it through a vegetable chopper. Add it to a cake of cream cheese which has been softened with a few tablespoonfuls of cream. Mix thoroughly, season with salt and pepper to taste. Spread between slices of buttered bread.

Anchovy and Eggs.

Mash the yolks of two hard-boiled eggs and add a tablespoonful of anchovy paste or two anchovies mashed fine with a fork. Add a tablespoonful of olive oil, a quarter of a teaspoonful of sale with a little paprika.

Cream Sandwich.

Beat cream until it is solid, then beat in several tablespoonfuls of any desired jelly—quince, crabapple or grape. Spread the mixture between split lady fingers.

Dried Beef.

Put some chipped beef through a meat chopper and mix it with an equal amount of minced celery hearts. Flavor with a little grated onion and moisten with a little olive oil and vinegar.

Chicken and Almond.

Mix half a cupful of blanched chopped almonds with half a cupful of diced cold chicken and moisten with four tablespoonfuls of cream. Season with salt and pepper and spread between buttered slices of bread.

Tongue Sandwiches.

Mince cold boiled tongue and mix it with half as much finely diced celery. Moisten with mayonnaise and to a cupful add a tablespoonful of good tomato catsup. Spread between white bread and butter.

Marmalade Sandwiches.

Make these just before eating them. Butter white and brown bread and spread with orange marmalade, rather thinly. On each slice of brown bread put a slice of white buttered bread, and on the white put brown slices.

Minced Ham.

Mince lean ham, season with dry mustard and cayenne pepper and moisten to the consistency of a paste with melted butter and sugar. Spread between slices of buttered bread.

Walnut and Date.

Mince pitted dates and walnut meats and mix in equal amounts. Moisten with a little cream and spread between slices of whole wheat bread and butter.

DO IT TOMORROW.

At last here is the chance of a lifetime to do what we are told all men like best to do—put something off till tomorrow. In fact you can't help yourself, because this time it is something that you can't do today. So you simply have to put it off till tomorrow.

But tomorrow—don't fail to do it. That is, don't fail to register. It will be the first day of registration for the city election to be held on April 6, and if anything should happen to keep you busy or in the house or take you out of town on the second day, then tomorrow will be your only chance to register. So don't miss it.

If you aren't registered you can't vote, you know, and if you can't vote you can't say anything about who are to be the new city commissioners, or about the proposed charter amendments. If you aren't registered, and so can't vote, you will lose your chance to put into practical operation your opinion of the present commissioners and the other men who are running.

What you like or dislike won't amount to anything—unless you go and vote. And you can't vote if you don't register. So do it—tomorrow.

Helen Keller says she can't always distinguish her own thoughts from those she reads. The chief difference between Miss Keller and some other people is that she admits it.

WHO SUPPORTS BIG ARMIES?

The country is being flooded with literature advocating a bigger army and navy for this country. The "unpreparedness" for war of the U. S. A. is being emphasized, and a whole lot of stir is being made in the hope of getting public opinion "het up" to the point where it will authorize, or perhaps even demand, increases in our military and naval outfits.

But there's one point that isn't being emphasized in all this propaganda, and that is that for every added soldier and ship and sailor and piece of ordnance, the American people—not just the militarists, but the whole American people, rich and poor—have got to pay.

Our army is contrasted unfavorably with those of Europe, but there is nothing said about how those European armies are supported, or about how our army is supported. The people are not urged in so many words to order their own personal expenses raised in order to support more warships and troops. And yet that is what these appeals amount to.

In some countries the burden of militarism is not directly felt, because it is imposed indirectly. In others the people have a chance to realize that they are being made to support a vast body of non-producing men. Some striking examples of the way it works when you can "see the wheels go 'round," that is, when the taxation is direct, are given by the Sioux City Tribune in a review of some of the European taxes.

The Tribune points to the riots recently caused in Austria by the addition of a half-cent tax to the price of every glass of beer, and shows that the people object to this, not as a tax by itself, but because it is the last straw in their burden of expense for military purposes. The Tribune says:

> When an Austrian sells a chicken—and it doesn't make any difference how often it is sold—he must pay a tax of 1 cent. If the chicken happens to be a full grown rooster it is 2 cents. If a young cow or steer is sold, the tax rate is $2; if it is a full grown animal, it is $5. If a small window is put in a house, that costs $2 in taxes; if a large window, $5. Out of every bushel of potatoes a small measure is taken for the support of the government, and the same is true as regards all other farm produce.

There is seen something of the cost of this "preparedness" they are telling so much about these days. Is it worth it? If you have ten windows in your house, would it be worth $20 to you to have a bigger army and navy than we have now?

Think about these things the next time you feel yourself being carried away by some jingo talk or writing.

Two Years of Wilson

Editorial in the New York World.

On the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's second inaugural, Woodrow Wilson completed half his presidential term.

These two years of the Wilson administration have helped to make more history than any other two years since Lincoln. The coming two years of the Wilson administration must inevitably be the most momentous period that this country has known since the Civil war.

It is a fact of enormous importance that this crisis finds in the White House a president who is completely master of himself. Being master of himself, he is master of his party and of his administration.

There is no kitchen cabinet. There are no back-stairs advisers. There are no secret influences that pull and sway the policies of the executive. No underground wires run from the White House into Wall Street or into the headquarters of any political committee. Men may agree with Mr. Wilson or disagree with him; they may like him or they may dislike him; but everybody knows that he and he alone is president. Everybody knows that during the remaining two years of his term he and he alone will be president.

A very unusual man, meet to cope with a very unusual situation in the affairs of mankind—a president who in all his official relations displays neither vanity nor resentment, nor anger nor personal ambition. If he has friends, their friendship counts for nothing in the affairs of state. If he has enemies, their enmity weighs nothing in the balance of government. He seeks neither to reward the one nor to punish the other.

So evenly does he hold the scales that the members of the diplomatic corps, with all their highly developed facilities for obtaining information, have never been able to learn where the president's personal sympathies lie in the great conflict that is now devastating Europe. Whatever his individual opinions may be, he has smothered them in the responsibilities of his office.

At this period in their first term most presidents have been carefully calculating their chances of renomination and re-election. Nobody knows whether Mr. Wilson intends to be a candidate for re-election or not. Not a member of the cabinet, not a member of congress, can say of his own knowledge that the president desires a re-election or that he would not refuse a renomination. What all of them know is that the president would not stoop from principle to win either a renomination or a re-election.

That is where his great strength lies. That is where his great usefulness lies in this crisis. It is easy to rattle the sabre. It is easy to make the welkin ring. It is easy to be spectacular and sensational and theatrical. It is easy to be a demagogue. It is easy to juggle with the fate of a nation when no man can foresee what the next day will bring forth. But it is not easy to be calm and restrained and judicial. It is not easy to face every responsibility without prejudice and without passion. It is not easy to hew straight to the line of first principles, regardless of applause or censure or praise or denunciation. It is not easy to be sane when the world has given itself over to madness.

The enormous good fortune of the people of the United States in the storm and stress of these coming years is that their chief magistrate is sane—the sanest mind today that is intrusted with the responsibilities of government anywhere in civilization.

NEXT WEEK AT NOON.

Remember the noon meetings next week at the Lyceum theater.

In other years Dr. Rice, then pastor of the First M. E. church, conducted brief, non-sectarian religious services in the Lyceum for a week at this season of the year. Since Dr. Rice left and Dr. John W. Hoffman came to take his place, Dr. Hoffman has taken up the practice. And the result has shown that he is a worthy successor to Dr. Rice in this kind of work.

You won't be harangued with any sensational or doctrinal propositions when you go to these noon meetings. They won't take a great deal of your time. What you will find is just what others have found—that the words spoken there will give your thoughts for the remainder of the day perhaps a little different trend than they usually have; that you may see the things of life in a little clearer perspective, and that the few minutes spent in the quiet and spiritual atmosphere will give you a feeling of rest and refreshment when you go away.

You won't be asked to go to the mourners' bench. You won't be asked to take any active part in the service. You won't even be asked to put anything into a collection plate. All that is asked is that you go. And if you go Monday the chances are that you will want to go the rest of the week.

Prepare for it this week. Make up your mind to go, and then it will be all the easier when the time comes. And as we said before—go to the first meeting and you'll not willingly miss any of the rest.

"I and my four sons," says THE Colonel, will be ready for war duty. You can just see them lined up, like this:

I
I I

THE WIRELESS AGAIN.

How long will it before people grow indifferent to the use and marvels of wireless telegraphy? Remember the thrill when the Republic affair became known, with Jack Binns as the central figure? And then there were a couple of instances on the Alaskan or British Columbian coast, and there was the Titanic disaster, and there have been several minor ones since.

And yet when it became known last Saturday that the steamer La Touraine was afire some twelve hundred miles from any port, and that she carried several thousand cartridges as part of her cargo, there was a new thrill at the knowledge that the wireless had once more been found effective, and had brought not one, but half a dozen vessels to La Touraine's aid.

There are people living today to whom the telephone is a source of endless wonder, though to the younger generation, the arrival of many of whom was itself announced by telephone to relatives and friends, that means of communication is accepted as an everyday thing. Probably it will be much the same with wireless. What to us is a marvel and almost a miracle will be but ordinary to our children's children.

Meanwhile those of us who lived in the days when the wireless was in the experimental stage will continue to get more or less of a thrill out of every case like that of La Touraine.

It might be said that the man who takes no interest in local politics carries the neutrality idea to an extreme.

FROM DULUTH TO THE TWINS.

Better and better grow the prospects for a good highway between Duluth and the Twin Cities. This holding out of state aid is going to help, and the increasing interest shown by the counties to be crossed by the road is another good sign.

Not so many years ago it would have been unthinkable to have such a stretch of territory without a first-class highway crossing it. Then came the railroad, and for a good many years the old fashioned, common highway was despised and forsaken.

Now another era has opened, in which we are once more doing honor to good roads as an important factor in our daily affairs, and people are beginning to realize even more than before that much of the commerce of the state and nation, and much of the welfare and development of the people, are closely related to the position and condition of the available highways.

It is in keeping with this realization that the work on the Duluth-Twin City highway was begun, and with the completion of that work will come the demonstration of the value of such a roadway.

The counties it will cross are taking up their share of the work well, and the prospects now are that the highway will be ready for use much sooner than had even been hoped by many who approved the project at the outset.

We sometimes wonder if Woodrow Wilson, when he was writing his history of the United States, ever had any notion that some day he would help to make one of the most important sections of the country's history.

How to Develop the Magic of the Voice

From the London Chronicle.

We speak glibly of the "magic of a voice," and we talk of "the gift of speech," but really the voice is the gift, and the speech is but an acquisition.

The charm of a beautiful voice appeals to all, and that so strongly that it will not only make the hearers indifferent to personal plainness in the speaker, but will also cause them to take but secondary notice of any personal beauty which the possessor may have.

There can be no doubt that, like all other gifts, beauty of voice is born with a fortunate few, and is in a very great measure independent of education, but it is by no means independent of health, disposition and general attitude towards life. The voice is produced by muscular action and nervous control, so a woman must first train her muscles and nerves. Relaxing exercises will lower the pitch and decrease the rate of speech. Deep breathing exercises will give flexibility and resonance to the voice.

Relaxing exercises should include every muscle under one's control, and soon all movements become more rhythmical. Such simple exercises may be taken as raising and dropping the arm to relax the shoulder; swinging the leg back and forth to relax the hip; bending forward and sideways from the hip; sitting to relax the hip and back muscles (all movements very slow, and accompanied by counting aloud one, two, three, four and repeat) to accustom the vocal cords to move in harmony with the other muscles.

Deep breathing requires also that the body be well poised, so that the channel of voice production may be free. The weight should be on the balls of the feet, the chest forward and high; deep breathing then becomes a mere matter of controlling the diaphragm, that strong muscle which has been called the engine of the voice. The easiest exercise to give control of the diaphragm is to take a deep breath, and while still holding the diaphragm strong, repeat a sentence, then consciously relax and take in another breath. A simple exercise to control the outgoing breath—the breath with which we speak—is taking a deep breath and letting it out as slowly as possible on the syllable "oo."

The resonance in a voice which gives it a musical quality may be increased by prolonging the sounds of "m," "n," "ing," until they seem to vibrate like the notes of a tuning fork.

Once a person has learned to control the organs of a voice production (especially the diaphragm), we find not only a better voice but more dignity of speech.

The last physical requisite for a good speaking voice is health, which is materially helped by the simple training for deep breathing and relaxing exercises. Illness shows in the voice at once; weakness and fatigue are quickly reflected; and we all know the voice of the chronic invalid. We recognize such differences and many more. Who can tell how great an influence voices have upon us?

A Church's Experiment

Kansas City Star: Leading church members in Kansas City have often deplored the fact that the churches were not more effective in politics or in city problems generally. The same ineffectiveness has been recognized in other cities. An important New York church, the St. Thomas Episcopal church, is undertaking an interesting experiment in taking a hand in civic matters.

The Rev. Ernest M. Stires, pastor of this church, is organizing the men of his congregation into ten different committees. One is to look after public health and will have charge of milk inspection and sanitary housing of the poor. Other committees are to look after city missions, poverty and so on.

The four most important committees of the ten are to give their time to police, crime, moral welfare and clean politics.

The report states that the men of the church, although they are among the busiest professional and business men in this country, have volunteered with hearty earnestness to go into this work of civic service and have promised to give much time to it.

Within ten years this congregation has built without debt a church which cost, together with the ground, $3,000,000. The church spends $54,000 a year in maintenance and gives $200,000 a year to other causes, thus spending nearly five times as much on others as it does upon itself.

Other cities will watch with interest the progress of the New York experiment. A single church might not be able to accomplish much. But suppose there were an effective union of all the church brotherhoods of Kansas City to make this a better place to live in! Suppose they became a force behind every progressive movement!

New York Tribune: As the translators would have interlined it, if Horace had written it:

O thou Torquatus, the space to Tipperarium is (many) thousand of paces, a wide distance in the traveling. The space to Tipperarium is (many) thousand of paces toward the propinquity to the most sweet virgin of whom knowledge is to me. Farewell, O (thou) Picadillium! Farewell, O rectangle of (the consul) Lestertius! The space to Tipperarium is (many) thousand of paces, yet, moreover, my heart at that location is present.

Unity.

(From "The Enchanted Island.")

Heart of my heart, the world is young;
Love lies hidden in every rose!
Every song that the skylark sung
Once, we thought, must come to a close:
Now we know the spirit of song,
Song that is merged in the chant of the whole,
Hand in hand as we wander along,
What should we doubt of the years that roll?

Heart of my heart, we cannot die!
Love triumphant in flower and tree,
Every life that laughs at the sky
Tells us nothing can cease to be:
One, we are one with a song today,
One with the clover that scents the world,
One with the Unknown, far away,
One with the stars, when earth grows old.

Heart of my heart, we are one with the wind,
One with the clouds that are whirled o'er the lea,
One in many, O broken and blind,
One as the waves are at one with the sea!
Ay! when life seems scattered apart,
Darkens, ends as a tale that is told,
One, we are one, O heart of my heart,
One, still one, while the world grows old.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the exception of James R. Mann, the minority floor leader, scarcely a member of congress has the remotest idea how long it will take him to make a speech. A member will ask for five minutes or twenty minutes in which to say what is on his mind, and when his time is up he is only getting started. Instead of putting the gist of what he has to say in the opening paragraph, he saves it for the last paragraph, and unless his time were extended, would not get it said at all. What the average congressman thinks he can say in five minutes will ordinarily take him half an hour. James R. Mann, though, is the chap who knows just how long it will take him to have his say. When Mann sets out to talk five minutes, he sits down at the end of five minutes—right to the second. It is not unusual for him to reach the period at the end of his final sentence just as the speaker's gavel falls to mark the expiration of his time. Not once a year—not once in two years—does Mann ask to have his speaking time extended. He knows in advance exactly how much he will need.

Speaker Clark's official timer, by the way, is a lifelong Democrat by the name of Warren G. Hatch. He stands close at hand with a dotted line running constantly from his eye to a stop watch, and whispers to Clark when the time is ripe to wallop the desk with the gavel. Now, being a lifelong and highly enthusiastic Democrat, it is with a sore twinge that Hatch calls time on a man speaking from the Democratic side of the house, particularly if the man is in the midst of a lovely flight of oratory.

"Isn't that fellow's time up?" asked Clark of his timer one day.

"Yes," admitted the timer, "but he was just rounding out such a fine period that it seemed like a shame to interrupt him."

And here's a funny thing: No matter how experienced the speaker may be, he never seems to grow calloused to the fall of the gavel. Take, for example, Julius Kahn of California, for many years an actor before he entered congress. Kahn has doubtless done as much public speaking as almost any man in the house, but the other day the gavel cut one of his best sentences right in two in the middle. Experienced speaker that he is, Kahn stammered as he asked for more time, and for a moment did not know whether he was going up or down, this way or that.

Alfalfa Bill Murray of Oklahoma divides all congressional work into two parts—that which you do toward your defeat and that which you do toward re-election.

"Nearly everything a man does on the floor of the house," declares Murray, "tends to defeat him. He makes a speech or casts his vote on a question, and no matter how good the speech or how right the vote, there will be many people who will disagree with him. But over in his office—there is where a congressman overcomes the harm he does himself on the floor. He writes pleasant letters and sends out seeds, and ingratiates himself on his constituents. If it were not for the work a man does in his office to offset the things he does on the floor nobody could be re-elected to congress."

Whenever he starts toward his office, Murray remarks:

"One thing that makes me quite reconciled to retiring from congress," remarks Frank T. O'Hair of Illinois, "is the fun of being back in the great Middle West, where one sees the good old-fashioned silver dollar. In the East if you happen to have $5, it is in a bill that crumples up and hides in one corner of your pocket and you feel as if you had no money at all. But if you have five big round silver dollars to click together in your pocket you feel as strutty and as big as anybody."

Carnegie Library a Jail?

Pittsburg, Pa., Dispatch: The city of Amsterdam, N. Y., is not unlikely to go down in history as the first town to abandon its Carnegie library. Some others have narrowly managed to avoid that questionable distinction, but Amsterdam has already broken its agreement with the donor to appropriate $3,000 a year for maintenance, and is actually talking of turning the library into a jail!

The building was erected in 1902 by Mr. Carnegie after the usual solicitation by citizens and agreement upon a stipulation for municipal support. No doubt there will be the customary congratulations upon the addition to the town's public institutions, just as there is no doubt that a goodly proportion of the 30,000 residents of Amsterdam have enjoyed the educational and entertaining facilities offered by the institution during all these years. But Amsterdam appears to have suffered from the common experience at some time or other of most cities, great and small, an increase of taxation that finally became intolerable and which at last provoked a popular protest that compelled the city council to realize that "something must be done." The minimum of reform seems to have been set at a maximum city budget of $200,000. The $3,000 for the library was one of the first "soft spots" that appeared to the political mind. Patrons of a public library do not, as a rule, appeal to politicians as likely to be valuable workers in a campaign. So, of course, they were dismissed as unworthy of consideration compared to the influential citizens who waste no time on rendings.

This decision was hastened by the fact that the state had condemned the city jail, and the suggestion of Alderman Hayflinger that the abandoned library could be remodeled easily into a modern and sanitary jail was welcomed warmly as a double saving. Just what the council proposes to do about getting over the stipulation to maintain the structure as a library is not explained. There will be more or less agreement, however, that a town which prefers a jail to a library ought to know which it needs most.

'Senough!

Buffalo Enquirer: The head of one of Buffalo's leading industries some days ago received an anonymous communication and being unable to reply directly to the scurrilous attack because the man who prepared it was afraid to sign his name, he has asked the Enquirer its opinion of such an individual.

We are pleased to give that opinion, adding it to many others of a similar nature that have gone before.

A man who writes a letter to another and purposely neglects to sign his name is unworthy of the respect he might be inclined to give a thief. The latter may have some excuse to offer for his offense against society, but not even that much can be said of the feculent polemic who writes but dares not sign his name.

If this opinion in any way falls short of the mark desired, we ask for another trial.

First Non-Partisan State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

As It Is With Many.

Madison Independent-Press: There is no mistaking the fact that quantity rather than quality is the aim of the Minnesota legislature.

Certainly—When It Comes.

Park Rapids Enterprise: A free and full confession by the legislature of the influences and measures that had to do with deciding the fate of the county option bill would make interesting reading. When the time comes that a measure can be considered by the legislature on its merits, rather than on the idea that if it is of importance it must be used as a lever, Minnesota will get better laws than it is possible to pass at present.

Legislature Unwieldly.

St. Peter Herald: Although it has been in session two months, the state legislature has passed but one bill of general interest. Prior to the opening of the session, senate and house leaders announced that important legislation would be reported early, and that an effort would be made to shorten the length of the law-making season. Despite that program and those promises the present legislature has been one of the most slothful in years. The only satisfactory explanation of this failure to act upon pending legislation is that both branches are too large and unwieldy for practical purposes. The membership should be reduced 50 per cent with profit to the state.

Fishermen Hit Hard.

Tower News: That does certainly hit us fishermen hard, that legislative bill to cut out the frog bait, and also this here durned county option. Can't that legislature be reasonable once in a while?

Batting Average Low.

Warroad Pioneer: The batting average of the Minnesota legislature is pretty low. Hundreds of bills have been introduced, but to date only ten have passed. However, we expect the legislators to do better work with the stick as they round to midseason form.

Price Doesn't Matter.

Red Lake Falls Gazette: It is being widely circulated that the laws passed by the present legislature to date have cost $8,000 each, but let us not start any agitation like that. A few good laws at $8,000 each are a better investment for the public than several volumes of damphool laws at 30 or 40 cents each.

Absurd Bills Proposed.

Cokato Enterprise: When one reads some of the bills proposed by various members of the legislature there arises a feeling of contempt for such absurdities from the minds of men selected to represent the voice of the people. Among the latest crazy inventions of some irrational minds is the bullfrog measure, maintaining bathing facilities in the lumber camps, prohibiting the use or sale of face powder or the like, and a lot of similar junk. Also a bill requiring newspapers to publish any amount of gush from a disgruntled politician has been fathered by some member who cannot distinguish between law-making for the good of the government and law-making to kill time. Such bills are either fostered for notoriety or some other unseen motive. Surely it cannot be from ignorance.

Put Smoker Off Train.

Mechanics' Magazine: Smokers met with scant quarter from the early railway managers. A foreigner in September, 1842, was smoking a cigar in a train coming from Brighton to London. The guard warned him that the practice was not allowed. Nevertheless the man continued to smoke and finished his cigar. At the next station he was met by a demand for his ticket, ordered out of the coupe and the guard, addressing one of the offtcers on the platform, warned him that person was not to be allowed to proceed to London by any train that night; and there the man was left.

Even this can hardly match an occurence that happened some years later on the Edinburgh & Glasgow line. A man widely known at the time in the west of Scotland was in a train going to Edinburgh. He smelt tobacco, and, calling the guard, complained that someone was smoking in the train. The guard failed, or said he failed, to find the offender, and the offensive smell continued to annoy the old man. He therefore brought an action against the company for the inconvenience to which he had been subjected, and recovered £8, 6s, 8d as damages.

Some Wedding.

Joliet, Ill., News: Quite in keeping with the old-fashioned idea of the wedding spirit and yet managed with a delicacy and refinement that lent especial charm to the homely symbols and their significance, everything was carried out with taste and elegance that could make it prenuptial in feeling.

The First Touch of War.

Alfred Bullard in the Outlook: We did not encounter any battleships on the way over, but I caught a rather poignant glance of the war as we drew up to the Prince's landing stage in Liverpool. Long before any regular conversation was possible we saw a well dressed woman on the dock. An Englishman with a voice worthy of the bull of Bashan began to shout questions to her.

"Have you news of Fred?"
The woman nodded.
"Good?"
The woman shook her head.
"Is he captured?"
She shook her head.
"Wounded?"
Again she shook her head.

And a woman aboard who stood beside the strong-voiced man fainted. I do not know whether she was Fred's wife or mother.

The Lemmon Saloon.

Springfield Republican: Lemmon, S. D., is a town with the distinction of having a communal saloon. There is just one saloon in the town, and the citizens control that. The profits, which are said to have been $1,000 a month, have been used for the support of the schools. Technically, the saloon is owned by the Lemmon Civic association, which consists of most of the men of the town, and pays no dividends. This method of operating a saloon was devised after a large number of competing saloons had forced one another into bankruptcy and had generally proved that they could accomplish nothing but set the laws at naught.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

J. ADAM BEDE DENIES "KNOCKING" DULUTH

To the Editor of The Herald:

I have just received a clipping from The Herald commenting on a purported interview with me in New York, of recent date. I was in New York a week or two ago and as the newspaper boys are always eager for a story, I answered some questions as to business conditions in Minnesota. I do not know what was published, but do know what I said. Newspaper interviewers are remarkably faithful in reproducing the spirit if not the letter of a conversation, but no one is protected from the fool editor on the inside who didn't hear the conversation and often blue-penčils a plain statement of fact into a distortion.

In answer to my interviewer, I told him conditions in Minnesota were better than anywhere else in the country. That agricultural conditions were sound and our tributary territory constantly expanding. That the wholesale trade of the Twin Cities and Duluth was growing with the development of the country to the coast. That St. Paul had waked up and was doing more building than ever before in its history. That a dozen blocks in Minneapolis look like a section out of the heart of New York City, and with its new regional bank it was feeling pretty gay. That the European war had helped rather than hurt us. That lumber had been quiet since 1907. That iron ore shipments had fallen off from the high water mark of 1913, and that there was less work being done in the lumber woods this year than usual. That lumber and iron more immediately affected Duluth, and that the business barometer might be a little lower there temporarily than in the Twin Cities, but that the Steel company had practically completed a great plant there which would soon quicken all activities at the Head of the Lakes. In short that there was no gloom in the North Star state.

I also referred to political conditions, but that is of no consequence in this connection. The suggestion that I entertain any ill-feeling toward Duluth could come only from a very small soul, and the charge that I would willfully knock a city that I was proud to call my home for so many years, was surely born of ignorance or malice. Don't believe everything that you see in the papers. Very truly,

J. ADAM BEDE.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 1.

GAME LAWS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you kindly allow me the privilege of using a little space in the Open Court to express my apprehension of the meaning of an article which appeared in the Duluth papers, March 5, which is supposedly the report of the annual meeting of the Northeastern Game & Fish Protective Association of Duluth.

With all due respect to all good Duluth sports who really are interested in the protection of game and fish, I certainly cannot refrain from questioning the action of the association in their proposed changes in the game laws. To protect the trout by raising the catch limit from twenty-five per day to fifty in one person's possession at one time is no protection at all but appeals to me as being an unsportsmanlike way of raising the limit, since it must be remembered that the majority of fishers go out for one day only.

To change the game bird season to Sept. 15 would be entirely wrong for this section of the country, at least, where the partridge is the principal bird hunted. It is a recognized fact that partridge are becoming more nearly extinct each year, and if the recommendations of the association be adopted it simply means more time to hunt since I do not see where they recommend closing the season earlier. Personally I would like to see a closed season put on them for several years, or at least the number of birds allowed per day reduced considerably.

To change the age limit for granting hunting licenses from 21 to 18, as recommended by the association, seems to me to be a poor way to keep irresponsible persons out of the woods, and the proposed change allowing hunters to shoot antlered deer only would not, in my opinion, bring the desired results. At present responsible hunters know what they shoot at and the irresponsible hunter, I fear, wouldn't worry over whether the deer had antlers or not.

While I am writing I want to call the attention of the Duluth sports to the fact that when they wish to fish they find the streams of Lake county very enticing, but when they have any fish fry to plant their memory fails and they have never been able to find any streams outside of St. Louis county. Very truly yours,

O. G. ELBEN,

Two Harbors, Minn., March 5.

JUDGES OF ELECTION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Wish you would kindly let me know the names of the parties that were appointed judges of election in the twenty-sixth and twenty-seventh districts in Duluth for the coming election.

SUBSCRIBER.

Duluth, March 5.

Twenty-sixth election district—Judges of election: G. J. Sherman, Al. Nordstrom, J. C. Christopher. Place of holding election, 2004 West Fifth street.

Twenty-seventh election district—Judges of election: C. H. Glover, P. R. Haley, Joseph Miller. Place of holding election, 1814 West Superior street.—The Editor.

MILITARY SERVICE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you kindly give me space to answer R. R. R.'s question which appeared in your issue of March 2. Acting on the report of Elihu Root, secretary of war in 1902-3, there was passed what is commonly known as the Dick militia law, an act to promote the efficiency of the militia and for other purposes. In Section 1 it says: "The militia shall consist of every ablebodied male citizen of the respective states, territories, and the District of Columbia, who is more than 18 and less than 45 years of age." Section 4 says: "It shall be lawful for the president to call forth for a period not exceeding nine months such number of the militia as he may deem necessary . . . and to issue his orders . . . as he may think proper." Section 9 says: "The militia, when called into actual service of the United States, shall be subject to the same rules and articles of war as the regular troops." The law as amended by congress in May, 1908, provides "that every officer and enlisted man of the militia who shall be called forth in the manner hereinbefore prescribed shall be mustered for service without further enlistment." Thanking you for the space, I am, sir, yours respectfully, O. W. MITTIE.

VARIED INFORMATION.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Please answer the following questions in the Open Court:

1. Is the story of Sherlock Holmes true?
2. How, when and where did Sherlock Holmes die?
3. What was the result of Fremont's court-martial at the Stockton-Kearney trouble during the Mexican war?
4. Is the sting of the common green grass snake poisonous?
5. Will furs such as weasel spoil throughout the summer if they are not tanned?
6. What railroads enter Hibbing?
7. "A." says Brazil is as big as the United States. "B." says that Brazil is not. Who is right?
8. What is the price of a ticket from Hibbing to Ironwood?

Here's hoping to see this in the "Old Reliable." I remain,

A SUBSCRIBER.

Ironwood, Mich., March 4.

1 and 2. No. Sherlock Holmes was a creation of Conan Doyle's, a mythical detective. He was allowed to die once by the author, but revived later.

3. Fremont was court-martialed and found guilty of mutiny. He was sentenced to be dismissed from the service, but was later allowed to resign by President Polk.

4. No.

5. Yes.

6. The Great Northern and Duluth, Missabe & Northern.

7. Brazil has 3,218,130 square miles. The United States exclusive of Alaska and its island possessions has 3,026,789 square miles. With these possessions it has 3,743,306 square miles.

8. Ask the Ironwood station agent. —The Editor.

PATENTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Is there any way that a person can have an idea for an invention protected, so that party making model cannot steal it, and how do you get patent on an invention?

Would you kindly publish answer in Open Court column? Yours truly,

P. R.

Duluth, March 5.

Write to Congressman Miller at Washington for a copy of the patent office regulations.—The Editor.

SOLDIERS AND CITIZENS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Please answer in your Open Court if a citizen of England comes over to this country before he serves his time in the army can he be compelled to return if they want him, whether he has announced his intention of becoming a citizen of this country or not?

Also, if a married couple goes over to a foreign country and has a child born on foreign land, say England, what citizen does he become, and how? Your truly, A READER.

Taconite, Minn., March 4.

1. No. In neither case can he be compelled to return.

2. The child will be an American citizen when it comes of age if the father retains his citizenship.—The Editor.

SOCIALISM AND ANARCHY.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you please give in the columns of the Open Court a brief outline of the Socialist platform, stating particularly if they advocate "free love."

Do the anarchists advocate "free love" or marriage along with their no-government policy?

Also were the letters "u" and "v" ever used interchangeably as Roman numerals so that both letters had the same numerical value. If so, when?

Thanking you in advance, I am respectfully yours, "IGNORANCE."

Proctor, Minn., March 4.

Under what is called the capitalist system the tools and machinery are owned by the capitalists, and the Socialists claim the laborers do not get their full share of the profits of their labor. They would have all the tools of industry owned in common, and have each worker receive the full returns from his labor. This is a very brief outline and The Editor would advise "Ignorance" to go to the nearest library and get one of the many books on Socialism, as there are many branches of it. The Duluth library has many good ones, and the librarian will be glad to assist him in choosing one. The Socialists do not advocate free love.

The anarchists advocate the complete freedom of the individual from all restraint, and this involves so-called "free love."

The Editor can find no record of the letter "u" having ever been used as a Roman numerical in place of "v." The latter is believed to have been originally the half of the letter "X," standing for ten.—The Editor.

THE WRECK OF THE HESPERUS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Will you please tell me by whom and when "The Wreck of the Hesperus" was written, and oblige,

ALVIN PETERSON.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

"Oh Captain, My Captain" from Inez Root of Kelsey.

"You Taught Me How to Love You," etc, from an Ironwood subscriber.

Requests have been received for the following:

"Golden Deer," "Johnnie and His Camera" and "Sing Me the Rosary" from Margaret Molitor of Brinsdale, N. D.

"A Mother's Love."

And drape your form in silk and lace,
When others call you "dear" and "fair,"
And hold your hands and kiss your face,
You'll not forget that far above
All others is a mother's love.
Some day, 'mong strangers in far distant lands,
In your new home beyond the seas,
When at your lips are baby hands,
And children playing at your knees,
Oh, then as at your side they grow,
How I have loved, you then will know.
When you must feel love's heavy loss,
You will remember other years,
When I, too, bent beneath the cross,
Mix my memory with your tears,
In such dark hours, be not afraid,
Within their shadows I have prayed.
Some day, your daughter's voice, or smile,
Or eyes, my face will suddenly recall;
Then you will pause in sweet surprise,
And your soul unto mine will call,
In that dear forgotten prayer,
Which we at evening used to share.
Some day, a flower, a song, a word
May link between us strong and sweet;
Ah, then dear child remember me,
And let your heart to "mother" beat,
My love is with you everywhere,
You cannot get beyond my prayer.
Some day at longest, it cannot be long,
I shall with glad impatience wait,
Amid the glory and the song
For you before the golden gate,
After earth's parting and earth's pain,
Never to part and never again.

O Captain! My Captain!

O captain! my captain!
Our fearful trip is done;
The ship has weathered every wrack,
The prize we sought is won;
The port is near, the bells I hear,
The people all exulting,
While follow eyes the steady keel,
The vessel grim and daring.
But O heart! heart! heart!
O the bleeding drops of red,
Where on the deck my captain lies,
Fallen cold and dead.

O captain! my captain!
Rise up and hear the bells;
Rise up—for you the flag is flung,
For you the bugle trills;
For you bouquet and ribboned wreaths,
For you the shores a crowding;
For you they call the swaying mass,
Their eager faces turning;
Here captain! dear father!
This arm beneath your head;
It is some dream that on the deck
You've fallen cold and dead.

My captain does not answer,
His lips are pale and still;
My father does not feel my arm,
He has no pulse nor will;
The ship is anchored safe and sound,
Its voyage closed and done;
From fearful trip the Victor ship,
Comes in with object won;
Exult O shores! and ring O bells!
But I with mournful tread,
Walk the deck, my captain lies,
Fallen, cold and dead.

Go to Church Sunday.

Remember the date, March 14.

FARMERS HAVE FINE MEETING

Soil Tillers Around Bemidji Entertained at Beltrami County Seat.

Bemidji, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—With more than 800 in attendance, the most successful meeting ever seen here was held at the high school building which was packed with farmers and Bemidji business men who had a great get-together meeting. W. A. McKerrow, in charge of the animal husbandry extension department of the University of Minnesota, predicted a great future for Beltrami county and said that it would soon be considered as one of the nation's leading dairy sections. The town of Northern which had the largest delegation of farmers present, won a cash prize of $5 given by the members of the Bemidji Merchants' association.

Served Free Dinner.

At noon a free dinner was served to 600 persons. This dinner was prepared by the domestic science girls of the Bemidji high school under the supervision of Miss Agnes Halland, instructor of domestic science and the dinner was paid for by the Bemidji business men. Talks were given both by the business men of Bemidji and the farmers. Dan Gray, a farmer living three miles south, predicted a 25,000 population for this city by 1925, and this has been adopted by Bemidji as a slogan. H. E. Reynolds, the Bemidji land man, also gave the farmers a slogan, which will be 20,000 farmers in the vicinity of Bemidji by 1925. At this same meeting plans were formulated for the organization of a dairy breeders' association, which will have as its purpose, the introduction of pure bred cattle into Beltrami county.

Convict Robber-Murderer.

Island Creek Company Plans 1,000-Foot Extension of Pier.

Estimates for Improvement Being Made; Heavy Traffic Expected.

One of the first indications of the heavy business predicted for the Head of the Lakes after navigation opens was shown late Saturday in the report that the Island Creek Coal company, operating docks on the Duluth and Superior water front, would build a 1,000-foot extension to their West Duluth pier.

A. W. Fluegel, superintendent of the company's interests in Duluth and Superior, refused to state that the addition was a certainty, but admitted that he had been asked to prepare estimates on a 1,000-foot extension, to be presented at the next directors' meeting, in New York about March 15.

President Davis of the Island Creek company, with other officials, visited Duluth recently, and the determination to double the capacity of the Duluth dock came, it is believed, as a result of his inspection.

The West Duluth dock, which is situated on the river front at the foot of Lesure street, now is 1,000 feet long. It is rated as having a capacity of 350,000 tons. The extension will give it storage room for more than 700,000 tons.

The company's site at West Duluth is 450 feet wide and 3,000 feet long, and eventually the dock will include all of this land, it is planned.

Two Heyl & Patterson coal carrying bridges, operating six-ton clam shell buckets, form the equipment of the present dock, and another bridge of this type probably will be added when the dock is extended. The two bridges have hourly handling capacity of 6,000 tons.

Coal men state that other docks may be improved or enlarged as a result of the peculiar situation now facing fuel operators at the Head of the Lakes. Although the season so far has been unusually quiet, the prospect of a heavy business during the navigation season and next fall makes it necessary to provide room for the tonnage to be shipped up-lake during the summer.

Stocks now are heavy, and several docks will be added to, so that additional storage room will be provided, it is reported.

Milwaukee Peace Meeting.

Milwaukee Wis., March 8.—"Peace Sunday" was observed in Milwaukee at a neutral gathering in Immanuel Presbyterian church last night, the principal addresses being delivered by John Hays Hammond and Dr. John Wesley Hill, New York.

The meeting was under the auspices of the International Peace forum, the speakers discussing "Peace and Arbitration."

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

The Significance of Hunger Pain

DATING the beginning of trouble back five, ten or fifteen years, the patient complains of a burning, boring or gnawing pain "in the stomach," coming on, as a rule, when the stomach is empty, but characteristically about 2 o'clock in the morning. The pain is often preceded by a sense of fullness or weight or distension.

The patient learns, perhaps, that the taking of food—a cracker and milk or other simple food—tends to relieve the pain. He may also notice that belching gas or eructating sour fluid or regurgitating some incompletely digested food gives relief for a time. These observations may lead him to imagine he has "gastritis" or "indigestion" or "nervous dyspepsia," because the pain and other symptoms certainly do make one nervous.

Duodenal Ulcer.

Hunger pain may, of course, be experienced by neurotic individuals with no organic trouble whatever. But it is extremely significant of a very common condition, not of the stomach, but of the bowel a few inches farther along, a condition called duodenal ulcer.

This is very chronic in course, years in duration, and in the average case there are periods of weeks or months in which the patient has little or no trouble. Then comes a siege of pain as described above, and for a few days the patient is quite as uncomfortable or dis-eased as he could wish to be.

More or less anemia, from frequent occult bleeding into the bowel; a rather delicate constitution and a "finicky" appetite; periodic attacks of "acute indigestion;" and hunger pain. There you have an association of signs pointing to the need of analysis of the stomach contents after a test meal, and a laboratory test for occult blood in the intestinal excretions. It is true, however, that hunger pain and "indigestion" or "stomach trouble" frequently indicate chronic appendicitis or gallstones. Here is good advice for the victim of "indigestion": When your stomach hurts worry about your other organs.

Questions and Answers.

Skins and Seeds: Do the skins and seeds of fruits do harm? Should one eat the skins of peas and beans? Should one eat the seeds of grapes?

REPLY.

Unless you have some definite ailment of the bowel, skins and seeds are good to eat with such food. Grape seeds act as a natural stimulant to digestion and peristalsis, and never cause appendicitis.

Purifying the Blood: What is a good home remedy for purifying the blood? asks R. W. How long after taking a dose of a blood purifier will it show any effects?

REPLY.

1. Fresh air. 2. Some of the so-called blood-purifiers on the market show an effect in fifteen minutes—give you a gentle jag. Others—most of them—require about a thousand years to produce any apparent effect. R. W., forget it. Pure blood is to be had in but one way, and you'll never purify it by taking any such medicine.

Work, Rest and TBC: C. D. G., 20 years, old, has incipient tuberculosis. He states that one doctor advises rest in bed, while another advises daily exercise. His temperature does not go above 99 4-5 at 5 p. m., his appetite is first rate. He wishes our advice.

REPLY.

Have one doctor and do what he says. In general, light exercise may be helpful, provided the temperature is not sent skyward. Rest in bed is the thing when the temperature is doing ground and lofty tumbling. Outdoor air is your one indispensable medicine, and other medicines which your doctor will select add much to the promptness of cure.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald.

EATON WILL AGAIN HEAD NAVAL MILITIA

Line officers of Minnesota's state naval militia, at a meeting at the Spalding hotel Saturday night, honored Capt. Guy Eaton of this city by unanimously re-electing him to the post of commander, which he has held for ten years. Commander Eaton was the first officer to head the state naval militia, being appointed by Governor John A. Johnson on March 10, 1905, for a ten-year term.

Brig.-Gen. Fred B. Wood, adjutant general of the state militia, presided at the meeting, which was attended by eleven of the sixteen line officers in the three divisions of the naval corps. He returned to St. Paul Saturday night.

Present at the election were: Lieut. Gerald Howze, U. S. N., who has been assigned as inspector-general of the Minnesota and Wisconsin naval militia; Capt. Eaton, Clyde W. Kelley, Capt. Albert Swenson, R. T. Hugo, T. H. Jones, Robert Miller, E. J. Blanchard, and A. W. Anderson, Duluth; Robert Wilcox and W. G. Hodge of Pine City, Minn.

Two Duluth divisions of the naval militia were organized Dec. 15, 1903, Capt. Eaton assuming command, although he was not vested with the title of commander until March, 1905. The third state division, with headquarters at Pine City, was added in February, 1913.

Easy Way to Remove Freckles and Eruptions

Some women have skin of such texture they occasionally are annoyed by the sudden appearance of freckles, slight eruptions or fine lines. March winds usually play havoc with skins of that kind. In such cases if one will procure an ounce of common mercolized wax at any drug store, apply a little of it before retiring, like cold cream, she can easily overcome the trouble. When the wax is washed off next morning flaky skin particles come with it. The entire outer cuticle is removed in this way in a week or so, with all its defects. No bleach could so effectually remove freckles or blemishes. The new surface is smooth, clear, fresh looking. No pain or inconvenience accompanies this simple treatment.

In case of wrinkles which sink beneath the outer skin, a solution of saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in ½ pt. witch hazel, makes a face bath which is wonderfully effective. —Advertisement.

Nopeming Superintendent Points Out Necessity of Work.

The duty of the state in caring for its tuberculosis patients is pointed out by Dr. A. T. Laird, secretary and superintendent of the St. Louis County Sanatorium commission, who declares that there is grave danger that the state legislature may not make the appropriation of $375,000 for county sanatorium work, as many of the counties have expected. If the legislature fails to make this appropriation the counties will have to change their plans. The need of the state for sanatoriums is strongly urged by Dr. Laird.

"We understand that there is grave danger that the appropriation of $375,000 per year for the next two years for the work of county sanatoria in Minnesota will not be made," says Dr. Laird.

"That those institutions are badly needed is indicated by the fact that where they are not provided, a very ill consumptive has no place to go unless he is very well-to-do. Since the opening of Nopeming sanatorium in 1912, there have always been more patients needing and desiring admission than could possibly be accommodated, and frequently two or three months elapse before places can be provided for them. In the meantime, the patient does not receive proper care at home and exposes the other members of the family, especially the children, to disease. Some of the appeals for admission are very pitiful. Following is a copy of one:

Applicants Can't Get In.

"'Superintendent, Nopeming Sanatorium—Your letter and application blanks received. I am greatly discouraged. I have filled both applications as near as possible. I cannot get the proper meals and I feel I am getting worse. Can't I get in before three weeks? I am worried to death trying to get things as near right as possible. If I am not taken in soon—well, I won't vouch for my actions. As I said, I cannot get the right treatment and it is a constant worry trying to do things for myself when I have nothing to do it with. Even medical advice is hard to get. Please try and do something for me soon, as I am very much discouraged. Hoping you can be able to place me soon and you will answer soon as possible, I am

"'P. S.—There is absolutely no relative to whom I can look for assistance, and brother here is unable to do any more for me. The state urges consumptives to go to sanatoriums. I am begging for admittance. Will I be taken care of?'"

Danger of Contagion.

"While waiting for admittance to a hospital such a patient must be cared for at home and frequently the mother or sister who takes care of him breaks down and develops the disease herself, making one more to be cared for. If the patient is the wage earner, the family becomes dependent upon charity and often must be broken up, the children being placed in orphanages at public expense, whereas if the family is relieved of the care of the invalid, it may be able to support itself. For instance, one of our boys at Nopeming was a patient in the sanatorium for nearly a year. During almost all of this time he was a bed patient, and during the last few months needed careful nursing attention day and night. Otherwise he would have suffered more from cough, fever, and pain than he did, and would have probably developed bed sores, as he was unable to care for himself properly. He died at the sanatorium. His mother, employed as a scrub woman at a hotel in Duluth, did not have to give up her position and her responsibilities to seven other children in order to care for this one. She visited him at the sanatorium and was with him there shortly before he died. She was satisfied that everything possible was done for him.

Appropriation Is Small.

"The sum asked for, $375,000, seems very small in comparison to the actual money loss each year to the state from tuberculosis. Prof. Glover of the University of Michigan, Prof. Fisher of Yale, and Mr. Hoffman of Newark, N. J., a life insurance statistician, have studied the economic losses caused by tuberculosis. While their estimates vary somewhat, it is fair to assume, as a result of them, that with the death of each consumptive the state loses at least $4,000. Factors in the loss are the loss in wages, cost of care, earning power cut off by death, etc. If there were no more than 2,000 deaths a year in Minnesota from tuberculosis, the cost to the state would be nearly $10,000,000. The sum of $375,000 does not look very large beside this.

"Other states are realizing the importance of attending to these matters.

"In 1913, New York state expended about $5,000,000.

"In 1913, Pennsylvania expended about $2,000,000.

"In 1913, Illinois expended about $2,000,000.

"In 1913, Massachusetts expended about $1,500,000.

"In all of these states plans for forward movements are being worked out. Nearly all of the money used has been public money. A sanatorium costing nearly $4,000,000 has been built by New York City, one costing about $2,500,000 by Chicago, one costing $400,000 by Detroit, and a $300,000 one by Cincinnati.

"This state does not hesitate to provide for its insane; why should it neglect the consumptive?

Would Only Delay Work.

"If the appropriation is not made at this time, it will simply be delayed, as it is inevitable that the state will eventually realize its duty in the matter. It should be remembered also that the 1913 law was passed, not at the request of a tuberculosis association or for a few doctors, but as the result of many petitions and resolutions from the leading business men of the state.

"The work done by the sanatorium is in no sense a duplication of the work of the board of health any more than the work done in the state insane hospitals or industrial schools is a duplication of board of health work. The expenditures, which are made under the approval of the state advisory commission, are for the benefit of the county sanatorium for the care of tuberculosis patients. St. Louis county was the first one to undertake the work under the new law, and, as already shown, there are more patients in need of such care than can be accommodated. The situation is similar throughout the state, and the counties planning to begin the work, having been assured of state aid, should not be driven to abandon their plans."

Bury Ishpeming Man.

Ishpeming, Mich., March 8.—The funeral of Richard Cain, an old resident, was held Saturday afternoon. Mr. Cain was a pioneer resident of the Lake Angeline district and worked at the Salisbury mine for a number of years. For several years past, however, he had conducted a confectionery store at the terminal of the street car line on South Pine street. He was about 60 years old and is survived by his widow and four children, Louis, James and Miss Edith of Ishpeming and Irwin Cain of Iron River.

WILL BUILD RAILROAD

Definite Announcement Is Made By Management of Keating Mine.

Work Will Begin June 15; New Era for Radersburg District.

Definite announcement was made yesterday that construction of a railroad line to connect the Keating gold mines with the Northern Pacific road will begin June 15. There have been so many similar announcements of a railroad line into the Radersburg district and they have all fallen through that the general public has been inclined to look upon them with distrust.

The present announcement, however, comes directly from those in control of the Keating Gold Mining company. They have made all the necessary financial arrangements to build the road and have the money provided. They also have decided on the details of construction.

The railroad will be built by a subsidiary company of the Keating Gold. It will be a 42-inch gauge road and will run a distance of fourteen miles north of Toston.

The road will be operated with nineton locomotives, the motive power of which will be gasoline. The cost of construction of the railroad and the needed equipment will be $150,000. The equipment will consist of two of the Baldwin gasoline industrial locomotives of the latest approved pattern and twenty-five steel hopper cars of a capacity of thirty tons each. As conditions warrant the equipment will be increased.

At the junction with the Northern Pacific large ore bins will be constructed, although the present plan is to dump direct from the company's hopper cars into the ore cars of the Northern Pacific.

New Era for District.

It is expected that the road will be completed and in operation before the cold weather sets in. The completion of it will mark a new era for the entire Radersburg district and while the line will be built primarily for carrying ores from the Keating gold mines to the nearest rail point on the Northern Pacific, it will be possible to afford rail transportation for the ores of the Ohio Keating and other mining properties near by.

During the month of January 3,346 tons of ore were taken from the Keating gold mine and forwarded to the Washoe smelter. In spite of the fact that the ore had to be hauled by teams a long distance and that the cost of getting supplies to the mine is large, there was a splendid profit shown on the operations. All told 133 men were employed at the mine and in the hauling work. Of these 118 were at the mine and fifteen worked on hauling.

As soon as the railroad is completed the output of the mine will be increased to 250 tons per day or about 7,500 tons per month.

The company has recently begun to stope on one big ore body which it has blocked out. This ore body is 900 feet long, 200 feet deep and 7 feet wide.

It lies between the 800-foot level and the 1,000-foot level and runs from the shaft a distance of 900 feet to the north at which point a winze was sunk between the two levels that shows the ore on that side.

The engineers estimate that in this one ore body, which is but a part of the entire ore reserves of the company, there are 140,000 tons of ore, which at the present rate of mining would keep the company busy for three years.

A large number of additional ore bodies have been blocked out, indicating that the life of the mine will run many years.

The ore runs high in gold with good copper values also. The Keating gold mine has not stopped a day in the last six years and has one of the best records for continuous operation of any property in Montana.

The company is capitalized at $2,000,000 with 400,000 shares of a par value of $5. There are 375,000 shares of the capital stock issued and the majority of the stock is held by the three principal stockholders.

INSURES WEATHER FOR A PAGEANT

Lloyds Will Pay $5,000 to College If It Rains.

Meadville, Pa., March 8.—Allegheny college has insured the weather for $5,000 during a part of the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the college, which will be celebrated here during the week of June 19 by a pageant of 400 students, a gathering of noted educators from all over the world, and distinguished statesmen, clergymen and alumni. For eight years the pageant has been planned. This is the first time in America, it is believed, this kind of insurance has been taken out. It was placed with Lloyds of London, Eng., and if it rains on the three days set apart for the brilliant historical pageant, Lloyds will pay over $5,000 to the college authorities. The premium on this unique policy is paid out of a special guarantee fund subscribed by fifty of the alumni.

The pageant is to be given under the auspices of the alumni of the college, and is being arranged by Prof. George P. Baker, professor of dramatic literature of Harvard university, who will personally superintend its presentation. More than 400 students in historical costumes of the periods in American history since 1815 will appear in the spectacle.

By a curious coincidence, on this centennial occasion there will be graduated just 100 students, the largest class ever turned out in any of the 100 years of the college's history.

A feature of the week will be the laying of the cornerstone for the new Carnegie hall of chemistry. Andrew Carnegie will preside and lay the stone.

TWIN PORTS ELECTRIC LINES

LAST LEGAL EXECUTION IN COUNTY TWELVE YEARS AGO

The last legal execution of a human being in St. Louis county, and, perhaps, the last that will ever be held in the county, took place twelve years ago March 6, last Saturday, the victim being Charles E. Henderson, colored, a waiter by trade. He was hanged shortly before sunrise on that day in the central courtroom of the old courthouse, then standing at Sixth avenue east, between Second and Third streets, the same courtroom in which his trial had been held and in which he had received his sentence.

Henderson was hanged for the murder of Ida McCormack, with whom he was infatuated, and over whom he was insanely jealous. The murder took place on the second floor of 119 West First street, where the woman had a small flat. The building is still standing. The McCormack woman was a beauty of the dusky type. While she was part negress, the duskiness of her skin would pass her for a member of one of the Latin race. Henderson, who had been paying her ardent attention became convinced that she was trifling with him, the object of her affections being another colored waiter, who is a prominent member of his race and still resides in the city. Violent quarrels marked their meetings and on the morning of June 21, 1902, Henderson threatened the woman. She became alarmed and tried to get out a warrant for his arrest, but, for some reason or other, failed. That evening, just after 6 o'clock she and a friend, a Mrs. Rivers, went up to the flat and the McCormack woman, thinking that they were alone, told Mrs. Rivers of the attempt to get a warrant.

Without warning, Henderson jumped from a closet in the room in which he had been hiding for some time, and, brandishing a long knife and shouting imprecations, rushed at Miss McCormack. Both women were stunned by his sudden appearance, and to Mrs. Rivers he shouted as he made the first lunge at the other:

"I'll get you next."

Companion Escapes.

Mrs. Rivers, during the melee that followed, finding her exit by the door shut off, climbed through a window, and walked between the buildings on a thin scantling, the full length of the structure and jumped off at the alley end, injuring herself slightly.

In the meantime, Henderson was chasing his victim around the room and slashing her fearfully. She got out of the room finally, Henderson still after her, cutting, stabbing and slashing like a madman, and the dreadful rush was made through an adjoining flat, the inhabitants, including a 4-months-old baby, being drenched with the blood of the rapidly failing woman. Spectators were powerless to stop the affair, and finally when Miss McCormack sank to the floor in the hallway, apparently bleeding from every part of her body, Henderson rushed down stairs, pursued by a man who lived on the same floor where the murder occurred, and who was repeatedly menaced by the murderer.

Miss McCormack, dying, clung to the skirts of a white woman, who lived across the hall, and who had come out as soon as Henderson started to escape, then fell to the floor and within five minutes had expired.

Henderson rushed around the corner where a four-story building now stands but was then occupied by the old Colson house, but as a crowd was rapidly collecting and he evidently feared rough handling, the sight of "Bob" Gillon, then sergeant of police and now retired, proved welcome and Henderson surrendered.

Henderson's trial did not last long for his defense was meager. He claimed that he was insanely jealous and did not know what he was doing, but the fact that he had had his knife especially sharpened and had hidden for a long time in a closet in the woman's room with the knife ready, wiped out anything that might combat the charge of premeditation. He was hanged early on the morning of March 6, 1903, and was the coolest man in the room. He made a speech of fifteen or twenty minutes' length from the scaffold and pleasantly addressed those whom he knew among the spectators present. He declared from the scaffold that he felt justified in what he had done. Henderson went unflinchingly to his death but many who saw the hanging were in a state of almost nervous collapse.

Go to Church Sunday.

Remember the date, March 14.

SEEK APPROPRIATION FOR STATE HUMANE WORK

Rev. A. W. Ryan, president of the Minnesota State Humane society, and R. D. McKercher, Duluth humane agent and a director of the state organization, left today for St. Paul to appear before the appropriation committee of the legislature to ask for a definite appropriation for carrying on the work of the society. A bill which is now in the state legislature creates the office of state humane agent and provides for an appropriation to cover his salary as well as other running expenses of the state organization.

SANDSTONE ELECTION.

License Question Will Come Before Voters on Tuesday.

Sandstone, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the village caucus Saturday night the following ticket was nominated for village officers to be voted on Tuesday: For mayor, H. P. Webb; trustees, James Mulholland, O. S. Fredrickson and Charles Edstrom; recorder, Chris Rudisuhle; treasurer, Oscar Asklund; assessor, Walter Scott; constable, Gus Gjertson. The license question is also an issue. An anti-saloon meeting was held in the opera house Sunday night, at which a number of local leading business men expressed their views. The sentiment appears to be in favor of the "drys" as a list of signatures plainly shows the majority of the citizens favor keeping the saloon out, as has been the case during the past year.

LION'S SHARE TO THE RANGE

"Rotten, Raw Deal," Says Penttila; Little Also Objects.

HOW COUNTY ROAD MELON WAS SPLIT.
District No. 1 (Fraser)	$ 14,000
District No. 2 (Little)	30,000
District No. 3 (Swanstrom)	14,000
District No. 4 (McMahon)	65,000
District No. 5 (Kauppi)	92,000
District No. 6 (Penttila)	50,000
District No. 7 (O'Neil)	110,000
	$375,000

When Charles Penttila, Eveleth, county commissioner from the Sixth district, demurred to the apportionment of St. Louis county's half million dollar road relief fund, as fixed by a majority vote of the board Saturday afternoon, he expressed his dissatisfaction by characterizing the distribution among the various commissioners' districts as a "rotten, raw deal" and refused to vote either for or against a motion approving the division.

Commissioner Penttila was not the only malcontent. Commissioner T. H. Little of the Second district, one of the four Duluth members on the board, also objected and told his fellow board members that he refused to become a party to "such a deal" when the clerk called his name for a vote. He also refused to vote either "aye" or "no" on the motion approving the distribution of the funds. Both commissioners are serving their first terms on the board.

Walter A. Swanstrom, commissioner from the Third district, Duluth, was perched on the fence. When the roll call was taken, he indicated that he stood with the Penttila-Little faction and refused to vote on the motion. However, after it had been carried, he asked to have his affirmative vote recorded. Before a vote was taken, Commissioner Swanstrom wanted the board to defer action until there had been more deliberation, but a roll call was demanded on a majority vote.

The dissenting commissioners claimed that the distribution was unfair, unequal and ill-balanced. The board allotted $30,000 to be expended in Commissioner Little's district; $50,000 in Commissioner Penttila's district; and $14,000 in Commissioner Swanstrom's district.

Range Treated Fairly.

Despite the protestations of Commissioner Penttila of Eveleth, who declared that the transaction was a "rotten, raw deal" and that his portion of the county was being discriminated against, the two other commissioners on the board assert that a fair distribution was made, and that the range as a whole was treated most fairly in the matter.

In excepting to the statement made by the Eveleth commissioner, R. S. O'Neil, Chisholm, commissioner from the Seventh district, had the following to say: "The range got one of the squarest deals it ever had in the apportionment of the road moneys, and when I say this, I am not referring to my own district, but to the iron range portion of the county as a whole. I can see no reason why there should be any dissatisfaction whatever."

"The apportionment was a fair and a just one," declared Commissioner Grant McMahon of Ely, member of the board from the Fourth district. "The iron range was treated fairly in the matter and it seems to me that it does not behoove any member of the range delegation on the county board to make a protest."

The road fund for 1915 amounts to $500,000. Of the total amount to be expended, $125,000 was set aside by the board for the improvement of state and judicial highways, and for engineering and other expenses. The balance, $375,000, was apportioned to the various commissioner districts.

Gets Lion's Share.

In slicing the melon the iron range gets the lion's share. The board set aside for use in the three range districts, the sum of $275,000 as compared with $150,000 to spend during the year in the four Duluth districts. In addition to what the range districts received from the apportionment, they will also share liberally in a distribution of the money spent for the improvement of the state highways.

The Miller trunk road, otherwise designated as State Rural Highway No. 1, which serves the three range districts, will have $56,000 spent on it this year in addition to what will be received directly from the state for its improvement. The half million dollars which is available for road improvement work this year does not include or take into consideration the amount which St. Louis county will receive from the state. Under the Dunn road law, St. Louis county will pay into the state road fund 1 mill on its valuation. This will amount to $323,964. In return, under the provisions of the same law, the county will get back a sum not to exceed $30,000.

In the resolution passed Saturday afternoon, the board provided that the $125,000 set aside for the improvement of state highways and for other expenses should be distributed as follows:

Miscellaneous, general	$ 10,000
Engineering department	14,000
Traveling expenses	2,000
Duluth-Twin City highway	10,000
State highway, No. 1, Miller trunk road	56,000
State highway, No. 4, Vermilion road	5,000
Judicial highway between St. Louis and Itasca counties	5,000
City of Duluth and New Duluth road	5,000
Mission creek	6,000
State highway, No. 2 (Pine Hill and Thomson road	5,000
State highway, No. 3 (North Shore road)	4,000
Judicial highway (between St. Louis and Carlton counties)	3,000
	$125,000

The board at its afternoon session Saturday also directed the county auditor to advertise for bids on two wooden bridges for the Arkola road on the south line of section 9, 54-18. The auditor will also ask for bids on tools, road machinery and metal culverts. All bids will be opened at the April meeting.

The $90 bill which was incurred by Sheriff Meining for disinfectants to be used at the county jail, which was disallowed on recommendation of the claims and accounts committee at the January meeting of the board, was reconsidered Saturday afternoon by the commissioners and allowed. The committee had refused to pay it because it had not been ordered through the proper committee. The sheriff had ordered it personally.

No more new liquor licenses will be granted in St. Louis county during the year 1915. The board put itself on record Saturday afternoon after having granted Max Neupert a permit to engage in the liquor business at Skibo. Neupert is the proprietor of the Skibo hotel. Opposition to the granting of this license developed and three of the commissioners, Little, Swanstrom and Kauppi voted against it.

FIREMEN FOR FOND DU LAC

Prominent Men of City Will Be Among the Volunteers.

After an automobile trip to Fond du Lac this morning, Commissioner Hicken announced that one of the two hose reels recently taken out of the New Duluth station will be placed shortly in the old fire hall at the former suburb, where a volunteer fire department is to be organized by the residents.

A number of repairs will be required in the old fire hall before the hose reel can be installed, said Commissioner Hicken this noon, but this will not take very long, and he expects to have the equipment in place by the first of April.

Recently a number of Fond du Lac citizens requested the commissioner to place a hose reel in that suburb, as there is no fire protection there at all at the present time. When the two hose reels were taken out of the New Duluth station, where a horse-drawn vehicle was installed, Commissioner Hicken decided to transfer one of the former to the old Fond du Lac station.

Just who will join the volunteer department is a question that has been asked by many Duluthians, as a number of the most prominent citizens of the city are residents of this little suburb. Among these are Judges Cant, Windom and Cutting, Postmaster McEwen, J. H. Brigham, Dr. C. R. Keyes and A. G. Macauley.

"THE THIRD DEGREE."

Baldwin Players Appear in Stirring Drama By Charles Klein.

"The Third Degree," a melodrama of big power, a combination of police injustice and injustice righted, of love, loyalty, and of suffering rewarded, appeared at the Lyceum Sunday matinee in the hands of the Baldwin Players. It will run throughout the week, with Wednesday and Saturday matinees.

The play gets its name from the alleged pernicious methods of some police departments, when they seek to fasten upon an innocent man the burden of his own signed confession to a crime he never committed.

Howard Jeffries, Jr., a college boy, marries the waitress daughter of a convict—her father befriended a criminal, and suffered for it. Howard Jeffries, Sr., thereupon disowns his son. The elder Jeffries marries. His young wife has had a previous "experience," wholly innocent, with one Robert Underwood. Underwood sells antiques, and wants the patronage of Mrs. Jeffries and her rich friends. Underwood writes Mrs. Jeffries, begging for help, declaring his love, and stating that if she will not befriend him in his extremity, he will kill himself.

Young Jeffries, broke, calls upon Underwood, his old college chum, to borrow a couple of thousand dollars. Young Jeffries is drinking, and at the Underwood apartment partakes freely of liquor, and goes to sleep. Then enter Mrs. Jeffries, wife of the senior. She begs Underwood to say that he will not commit suicide, but he refuses. She denounces him, leaves, and Underwood, true to his threat, enters another room, and kills himself.

Then come the police. Young Jeffries is subjected to the "third degree." Gradually he admits a murder that had never occurred.

From then until the final curtain a woman, determined, with faith in her husband, unshaken by his alleged "confession," fights valiantly, fearlessly, against money, politics, police methods and poverty for the life of her husband, while the wife of the senior Jeffries, unable to face the disgrace of public comment upon her action in visiting Underwood's apartment, keeps silent, really, however, believing her stepson, young Jeffries, had killed Underwood.

Not until the last act does young Jeffries become aware that his wife has saved the family name, although he had expressed implicit confidence in his wife throughout; and the elder Jeffries' scheme to take his son away and permit divorce proceedings during his son's absence comes to naught.

De Stephani seldom has gone better than this week as the elder Mr. Jeffries. Walter Baldwin, Jr., shows to fine advantage and does excellent work while being subjected to the "third degree" as young Jeffries. Walter Baldwin, Sr., back on the Duluth stage after several months' absence, makes a good Police Capt. Clinton.

Homer Barton, as Richard Breswster, the attorney, had to make three bows to an enthusiastic reception when he first was seen in act two.

Miss Doris Olsson, leading woman, this week is Mrs. Jeffries, Jr. Miss Margaret Lotus is Mrs. Jeffries, Sr. Both appear to good advantage, as the women's parts stand out in this week's play. Helen Keers is cast in a small part this week, as are several male members of the company.

Next week the Baldwins will put on "Life's Shop Window." The West Duluth council, Royal League, has taken over the performance for next Monday night.

War Pictures at Orpheum.

Real war pictures are scheduled to be shown at the Orpheum theater for four days beginning at 2:30 o'clock next Thursday afternoon. The pictures have been taken by the Chicago Herald and the New York Sun, and are declared to be "photography's greatest achievement."

The pictures were taken on the battlefield of Europe, showing the most thrilling scenes of the actual operations of the armies of the warring nations, and many of the rulers and other noted personages who are figuring prominently in the conflict. The camera men are said to have defied death at many places in taking these pictures.

The blowing up of bridges, the action of the great siege guns, the armored trains, the armies of the leading warring nations, the ruins of Belgian cities, and many other interesting scenes are represented.

The films will be presented in five reels and will show sixty-five distinct series of action pictures.

New Bill at Grand.

The Seven Castelluccis, who will be seen at the New Grand for three days commencing matinee today, headlining an exceptional vaudeville bill, will make their initial bow to Duluth theatergoers. The company includes six men and a woman who offer a musical divertisement which has won for themselves an enviable reputation as musical entertainers. They have a most cheerful repertoire which is rendered in sparkling musical style and is expected to appeal to all.

Pope and Uno have a novelty that is sure to be appreciated. Uno is the only "good night" dog in the world and is a marvel for his intelligence and the remarkable tricks he performs. J. Louis Mintz, the famous comedian, and his dashing partner, Miss Jeanne Palmer, offers a new comedy skit, "Never Tell a Lie," which is said to be a splendid vehicle for these finished singing artists. The Juennets offer an European novelty that promises to be a sensational closing act for an exceptional array of vaudeville talent.

"Mother's Roses" will be the feature photoplay in three reels. It is a beautiful story of the wonderful influence for good of a mother's love. An all-star cast of the Vitagraph company makes it an exceptional photoplay. A comedy, "When Mother Visited Rosie"; "The Light That Failed," a drama, and a comedy, "Love and Soda" complete the bill.

Welcome Miss Nansen.

As a result of her fame, Miss Nansen's landing in the port of New York on the steamship United States of the Scandinavia-American line was made a gala occasion by her countrymen and admirers. Besides the official representatives of the Danish government, ordered by wireless the Danish minister of foreign affairs to meet the actress (for the Copenhagen Royal theater is a government-owned and endowed playhouse), there were present notable American actors and actresses, writers, college professors and literary artistic folk all drawn by the compelling magnet of Miss Nansen's genius.

The fact that Miss Nansen has in her possession several original manuscripts by the Scandinavian dramatist, Ibsen, lent added interest to her arrival. These "scripts" are marked with stage directions in Ibsen's own peculiar handwriting. Miss Nansen naturally regards them as priceless and has so far refused several offers of large sums from magazine editors for the publication rights to them. Her admirers gave Miss Nansen, who was compelled to spend Christmas at sea, owing to rough weather delaying the liner, a welcome surprise in the shape of a great "Tree of Light" erected upon the dock. The New York papers characterized her advent as "the most notable greeting ever tendered to a foreign star."

WILL WELCOME POTENTATE

Imperial Chief and Divan Will Visit Aad Temple April 20.

Frederick R. Smith of Rochester, N. Y., imperial potentate of the Ancient and Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, will make an official visit to Duluth, accompanied by the imperial divan, on Tuesday, April 20, when he will be the guest of Aad temple at the annual spring ceremonial to be held that evening at the Masonic temple.

Lyonel Ayres, potentate of Aad temple, received word Saturday that the imperial potentate and his divan will include Duluth in their itinerary, which will include al lthe cities in the East and Central West. The party will arrive here on the morning of April 20 and the officials of Shrinedom will be feted and banqueted throughout the day.

The Temple band, which was organized last fall by Charles Helmer, and the patrol, will escort Imperial Potentate Smith and his divan from the railroad station to the Masonic temple, where a reception will be held in honor of the visiting officials. There will be a luncheon at one of the hotels, to be followed by an automobile trip about the city, a dinner in the evening and the spring ceremonial as the closing event.

Arrangements for the imperial potentate's visit are now being made by officers of Aad temple and Arab patrol.

Potentate Ayres announced this morning that a large class of novitiates will be taken over the hot sands this spring and that the ceremonial this year promises to exceed anything of its kind in the history of Aad temple.

ON THE IRON RANGES

CHISHOLM IS KEYED UP OVER ELECTION

Various Rumors Current as to Parties Seeking Control of Affairs.

Chisholm, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village is worked up today on the eve of the election. The cause of the excitement is the reported attempt of the mining companies to gain control of village affairs by running three of their employes as candidates for the three trusteeships. It is said the mining interests have placed Henry Fugere, a town man at the head of the ticket and B. E. Culver, another town man in the field for recorder, hoping thereby to split the town votes. Hundreds of pictures of the different candidates are stuck up in every available space all over town.

The following are the two tickets:

Mining company ticket—President, Henry Fugere; recorder, B. E. Culver; trustees, William Ulrich, Steve Musolf, William Runquist.

J. J. Stukel and C. E. French are running independently for treasurer and are the only two candidates.

CHIHSOLM MAN IS NEAR-FIRE VICTIM

H. O'Brien's Home Burns and He Barely Escapes By Jumping.

Chisholm, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire completely destroyed early yesterday the five-room home of Harry W. O'Brien, and almost caused the death of the owner.

The blaze was caused by an overheated stove.

Mrs. O'Brien and daughter were absent, Mr. O'Brien was asleep in the upper story. The flames had reached the upper story when Mr. O'Brien awakened. He broke a window and jumped to the ground, not before he had sustained severe burns on the neck, face and right side of the body.

In addition to the house, the furniture, clothing and $175 in bills were destroyed.

There was no insurance on house or contents.

SALOON KEEPER SUED.

Gilbert Man Alleged to Have Contributed to Patron's Death.

Virginia, Minn., March 8.—Mike Giaconi and William Olson of Gilbert and their bonding company, the Illinois Surety company, are named as defendants in a suit for $9,000 brought in district court here by Mrs. Martha Fest and her minor son, Walter Fest. Mrs. Fest alleges that they were responsible for the drowning of her husband in Ely lake on Sunday, May 21 last.

Fest and Hugo Forsman, according to the complaint had been drinking in the Giaconi and Olson saloons during Sunday, having rowed across Ely lake from their homs on the opposite side of the village. Mrs. Fest alleges that Giaconi and Olson sold them liquor after they became intoxicated and that as a result they were in such a condition of irresponsibility as to be unable to take care of themselves. Fest was drowned when Hugo Forsman stood up in the boat near the middle of the lake and overturned it. Fest was a carpenter, boatmaker and woodworker.

EXHUME LOGGING RELICS

Virginia Sewer Excavators Come Across Old Logging Chains.

Virginia, Minn., March 8.—Tunneling under Lake boulevard is the most difficult work of the extension of the sewer from the foot of Chestnut street to the alley to the north of Chestnut street. The work is being done at a depth of eight feet from the surface. The workmen have in several places encountered a number of old boomsticks and chains, used in the early days of the logging industry on Virginia lakes, which were buried when the ground on Lake boulevard was filled in. A tunnel under the lake boulevard paving is nearing completion. Workmen are working from both sides of the street. A heavy traffic passes above them uninterrupted. The frost is in the ground to a distance of more than four feet and the tunnel method of construction obviates the necessity of blocking the street and tearing up the paving.

ON CLUB COMMITTEE.

Those Who Will Guide Destiny of Virginia Organization.

Virginia, Minn., March 8.—President M. A. Murphy of the Commercial club has appointed the following standing committees:

Finance—W. H. Eaton, N. J. Smith, Carl Shapiro, Henry Schipper and Otto Poirier.

Membership—R. A. Peers, A. Savolainen, D. Smith, D. C. Reed, M. H. McMahon and Thomas H. Moodie.

Legislative—George Shea, E. J. Larson, W. T. Irwin, R. C. Pickering and Max Lewis.

New enterprises — Lawrence Barrett, J. E. Howe, D. Smith, J. H. Fleming and D. W. Stebbins.

Roads and county deevlopment—A. Kellar, W. T. Bliss, Conrad Mattson, J. R. Krogdahl and W. E. Davis.

Transportation—Alex Reid, H. S. Gillespie, Guy Moore, William Rooney and Jospeh Karl.

The market committee appointments were not made.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When Constipated or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

HIBBING GREEK GIVEN MEDALS FOR WAR BRAVERY

STEPHEN KATSURENIS.

Hibbing, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Medals for bravery in the Balkan war have been received by Stephen Katsurenis, proprietor of a candy kitchen here, from King Constantine of Greece. Katsurenis, when 19 years of age, left Minneapolis, where he then lived, in September, 1912, to fight for his fatherland and for more than two years, experienced some of the worst horrors and hardships of war. He returned Feb. 10, 1914. Peter Callan, also of Minneapolis, who was a gunner in the Greek army, brother to J. A. Callan of this village, also received medals for bravery.

Stephen was corporal in Company A, Eighth division of the Greek army. In October, 1912, he began the march to Bjini. In this march they met a regiment of Turks and for seven days without food or water they fought. Of the 3,000 Greeks who began the march to Bjini, Stephen was one of the ninety that survived.

EVELETH NEWS NOTES.

Eveleth, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Evelethians who were in Minneapolis last week state that D. F. McIntyre, formerly city clerk here, has taken a position as an accountant with H. J. Bishop, public accountant.

To Seek Brother's Body.

Virginia, Minn., March 8.—Adolph Cornell of Virginia has gone to Klamath Falls, Oregon, to assist in the search for the body of his brother, who was drowned near there Thursday. He will bring the body to this city for burial if it is recovered.

New Duluth Fraternal Paper.

Chisholm, Minn., March 8.—While here P. H. Harouff, district organizer of American Yeomen, announced that there will shortly be started in Duluth a paper devoted to the interests of the Yeomen homesteads in St. Louis, Lake, Cook, Itasca and Koochiching counties.

GILBERT STUDENTS ARE GIVEN PRIZES

Gilbert, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A declamatory contest under the direction of the expression department was given at the high school auditorium Saturday evening. Prizes were warded to Sanford Bordeau for oratorical, Viola Kieren for dramatic and Lillian Havilla for humorous.

The program was enjoyed by a large number, including several from the neighboring towns. The judges were Prof. M. A. Morse of Buhl, Supt. J. F. Muench of Mountain Iron and Miss Grace Greaves of Eveleth.

The following program was rendered: Music, high school orchestra. Oratorical—"Defeat and Triumph" (F. W. Gunsaulus), Hilma Anderson; "Toussaint L'Ouverture" (Wendell Phillips), Louis Rubenstein; "Lincoln, a Man Called of God" (J. M. Thurston), Sanford Bordeau; "War" (Charles Sumner), Gertrude Rubenstein. Piano solo, selected, Mrs. W. J. Dowling. Dramatic—"The Victory of Marengo" (J. T. Headley), Florence Wiggins; "A Soldier of France" (Ouida), Helmi Aberhamson; "Sleep" (Elizabeth Barrett Browning), Viola Kieren; "The Lost Word" (Henry Van Dyke), Alma Hill; "The Growing of the White Swan" (Gilbert Parker), Nellie Johnston. Vocal solo, "Il Bacio" (Arditi, Luigi), Angela Schumacher. Humorous—"Billy Brad and the Big Lie" (Ellis Parker Butler), Lillian Havila; "The Village Dressmaker" (May Isabelle Fisk), Ophelia Johnston; "Marketing" (Anonymous), William Binney; "A Case of Fits" (Parker H. Fillmore), Isabelle La Londe. Bridal chorus from "The Rose Maiden" (Cowen), ladies' double quartet; music, high school orchestra.

HOLMAN CLOSING "ORDERS" PROBED

Government Officials Deny Ever Ordering Saloons to Close Up.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Jokers who thought they would start something or perhaps enemies of Mrs. Johnson, who runs a saloon at Holman, the mining town near Taconite, on the range, are believed to have mailed her the "orders" she is purported to have received from government agents to close her saloon because it was located in the Indian treaty district.

Special Agent Brandt of the Indian department has been delegated to look into the matter and was here today getting information before left for Holman. He says no such order was issued by Special Agent Larsen. The government man says the "order" is a forgery, and if Uncle Sam can catch the perpetrator there will be a case for the Federal grand jury. This statement is taken to mean the government will not close saloons on the Western Mesaba, at least not for the present.

BUY PARK SHRUBBERY.

Virginia Park Board Preparing to Beautify City.

Virginia, Minn., March 3.—Supt. E. Philbrick and Park Commissioners Nathanson and Schulze have completed purchasing trees and shrubbery for the parks and boulevards of the city.

At Lake City, Minn., over 1,000 trees, elms, basswood, poplar and soft maple, were purchased. These will be set out on the lawns and boulevards of the city and in the parks.

A large amount of shrubbery was also purchased which will be set out in the parks, mostly in Olcott, where the bareness will be covered up to a great extent and will greatly beautify the park.

CASES CONTINUED TILL JUNE TERM

Hibbing, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The cases in district court of B. F. Sturtevant company vs. A. C. Schirmer and W. A. Crandall, local plumbers, for $94 for supplies, and that of Gust Anderson, who demands $666 from J. B. Messner and John Munter each for contract work, were continued today until the June term. The jurors were dismissed until tomorrow morning.

J. B. Messner and John Munter executed a bond for an insolvent contracting company for which Anderson worked. The Range Motor Service company's suit against W. E. Lyman for $497.37 for auto supplies, garage rent and repairs will be the first tried tomorrow.

BARN PLEASES FARMERS

Horse-Hitching Place Provided By Virginia Makes Hit.

Virginia, Minn., March 8.—That Mayor Boylan and the city council made a hit with the farmers in this vicinity when they built the barn for the farmers at the market site is shown by the report of N. Johnson, who is in charge of the barn.

Beginning with March 1 he kept a record of the number of horses kept there by the farmers and during five days to Friday night 119 stalls had been used. Up to noon Saturday over thirty horses had been driven there and there was not room for all of them.

It is probable that the city will enlarge the barn, as the trade of the farmers here is considered one of the best assets of the city.

IN FIVE MINUTES NO SICK STOMACH, INDIGESTION, GAS

"Pape's Diapepsin" Is the quickest and surest Stomach relief.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can surely get relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspeptic troubles of all kinds must go, and why it relieves, sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach misery and indigestion in five minutes.

FAIR

With a perfect Sunday, despite the sloppy conditions occasioned by the heavy thaw that set in after the sun got in its work, hundreds of people enjoyed the open air and pedestrians were numerous. Today is a duplicate of yesterday, with the sun shining and the snow and ice receiving an assault, which, if conditions continue as at present, will make them things of memory only in a short time.

A year ago today was balmy. The sun rose this morning at 6:35 and will set this evening at 6:03, giving eleven hours and twenty-eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The weather has turned somewhat colder in the Lake region, the Central valleys and Southwestern states. Zero temperatures prevail in the Dakotas and Nebraska. Killing frost occurred last night at Shreveport, La. During the last 24 to 48 hours light to heavy snow or rain fell over the Lake region, Ohio valley and North Atlantic states."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 8.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Tuesday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer in west portion tonight.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Tuesday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Tuesday, probably becoming unsettled in west portion by Tuesday night; warmer in northwest portion tonight.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and probably Tuesday; warmer tonight.

Montana—Fair tonight and Tuesday; warmer in east portion tonight.

Upper and Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Tuesday.

PLAY CLEAN-CUT GAME.

Duluth Rotarians Defeated By Hibbing in Classy Contest.

Hibbing, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—In one of the best games seen at the local gymnasium the Hibbing alumni quint Saturday night defeated the Duluth Rotary club five, 27 to 23. The Duluth club was ahead until the last two minutes of play and at no time did either side have a comfortable lead.

The team work was the best exhibition ever seen here while the basket shooting was accurate. So well did each member of both teams work that there was little if any stellar work noticeable. The game was marked by clean playing.

The lineup:

Hibbing—		Duluth Rotary.
Barker	c	Johnson
Cobb	rf	Harris
Schirmer	lf	Connelly
Adams	rg	Sothern
Burkman	lg	Zimann

Field goals—Barker, 5; Schirmer, 2; Cobb, 2; Burkman, 3; Connelly, 4; Johnson, 3; Harris, 2. Free throws—Schirmer, 2; Cobb, 1; Harris, 1; Johnson, 4. Friday played guard for Hibbing during the last half.

KINNEY WILL LET LARGE CONTRACT

Kinney, Minn., March 8.—At the meeting of the village council tonight, bids will be opened for the erection and construction of a fire-proof pump house and a 100,000 gallon concrete reservoir for the village water system.

This contract is probably the largest to be let in the village this year.

Inspect Hibbing Sprinkler.

Eveleth, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three members of the Eveleth council, George Meaberg, Mike Langdon and Joseph Wilson, accompanied by City Engineer C. M. Dorway, went to Hibbing and inspected the street sprinkler and flusher in use in that village. The Eveleth council has received bids for a similar machine. The bids will be considered at the next meeting.

IS ARRESTED FOR FOR WIELDING AX

Virginian Nearly Scalps His Companion With Woodsman's Tool.

Virginia, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two cases in which double-bitted axes, the tools of woodsmen, figured prominently, were before Judge Carey in municipal court today. Gus Saari and Loori Mattson were arrested Saturday night on the charge of having cut Oscar Holstrom with a double-bitted ax during a drunken row on the North side. The ax clipped off a chunk of skin from the side of Holstrom's head and several stiches had to be taken. The accused will have a hearing Wednesday afternoon.

Threatened Camp Clerk.

Mike Lastofich, a pulp-wood contractor, was haled into court on complaint of E. J. Thomas, clerk at Saari's camp at Wallace, who alleged that the accused threatened him during a dispute over timber allowance with a double-bitted ax. The accused's hearing will be held Wednesday.

DULUTH MASONS AT VIRGINIA AFFAIR

Virginia, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many Duluth Masons as well as craftsmen from other points were here Saturday night to attend a smoker given by the local blue lodge following the lodge work. J. H. Hearding of Duluth brought many Scottish Rite and blue lodge Masons from the Zenith City in a private car, including the Scottish Rite quartet, which furnished some excellent music. The affair was one of the most notable ever given by local Masons.

HIBBING WILL HEAR PRESIDENT VINCENT

Hibbing, Minn., March 8.—President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota will speak at the Lincoln high school Friday night, March 26, under the auspices of the Saturday club.

The lecture will be free. The Saturday club will play all expenses. The subject of the lecture is not yet known.

Baking Helps

Valuable Suggestions

By Mrs. Nevada Briggs, Exponent of the Art of Baking, as taught by Mrs. Janet McKenzie Hill

Helpful Cake Making Hints

Always sift flour and K C Baking Powder at least three times. The more sifting, the lighter the cake. Remember that! To cream butter and sugar quickly, warm the sugar slightly. Beat yolks of eggs with rotary beater. Whip whites of eggs with flat spoon whip. Water makes lighter cakes; milk makes richer cakes.

To mix a cake, first cream butter and sugar thoroughly, then add yolks, if used. Then alternately add moisture and flour that has been sifted with baking powder and stir until smooth and glossy, adding egg whites after thoroughly mixing.

Always use K C Baking Powder.

Biscuit Helps

Always sift flour and K C Baking Powder at least three times.

Have shortening cold and firm. Mix dough as soft as it can be handled. The softer dough goes into the oven, the lighter the biscuit when it comes out. It is easier for K C Baking Powder to do its work in soft than in stiff dough. Mix biscuits very little. Do not knead. Stir up with spoon or knife and press in shape to roll on floured board.

With K C Baking Powder results are sure and certain. Ask your grocer for K C. 30

SUPERIOR YOUTH TO COUNTY WORK FARM

Admits Stealing Watch and Says He Wants to Be Sentenced.

Virginia, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Herbert Tetrosky, aged 19, who hails from Superior, admitted in municipal court today that he stole a watch belonging to August Olson from the latter's room over a Chestnut street saloon, telling the judge he was out of work and wanted to go to jail. He was given three months at the county work farm. He is suspected of being the intruder seen trying to burglarize the Hughes hotel early Sunday, but who managed to escape before succeeding in breaking into a guest's room. It is said he fits the description of the alleged burglar. Only a few weeks ago a similar burglarious attempt was made in the hotel, but the proprietor was aroused and scared away the intruder.

REHEARSE CLASS PLAY.

Eveleth Seniors Prepared to Present "For Old Eli" This Week.

Eveleth, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senior class play, "For Old Eli," will be presented by the seniors at the city auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30. The seniors have been practicing for five weeks and have their parts letter perfect. The rehearsals have been held under the direction of Miss Greaves.

Hibbing Incinerator.

Hibbing, Minn., March 8.—Delays incident to the village election and failure to select a site for the proposed village incinerator, for which the council practically let the contract to a Chicago concern, have resulted in the matter going by the board this year despite urgent pleas of Village Health Officer Butchart, who time and again has pointed out the necessity for destruction of city sewage. The matter may be taken up again next fall.

Gilbert "Ballot" Dinner.

Gilbert, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The men of the Methodist church will give a "ballot" dinner and supper at Carlson's hall Tuesday, election day. Interest is being taken in the affair, as it will be the first of its kind that the men of this village have ever given.

HEROIC CAREER CLOSED

Herbert Nelson, Well-Known Lake Captain, Dies at West Allis.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 8.—Capt. Herbert John Nelson, one of the best-known captains on the Great Lakes, who for the last thirty-six years has been a navigator, is dead at his home in West Allis, following a lingering illness from tuberculosis. He was 59 years old.

Capt. Nelson was born in Norway and when but 14 years old went to sea as a cabin boy. He sailed the Atlantic until 1879 making numerous trips around the world before coming to Milwaukee in that year. Since coming to Milwaukee Capt. Nelson has been in command of the schooners Dan Mabe, Ellen B. Cook and the Austin and the steamers Normandie, Minnie E. Kelton and Marion.

It was during an experience while in command of the Marion, about five years ago, that Capt. Nelson's fatal illness is attributed. On a trip across the lake a terrific storm arose and the vessel was given up for lost by the company officials. During the storm Capt. Nelson refused to leave the wheel and for three days and nights before bringing the boat safely into Chicago he remained at his post without sleep.

He is survived by a widow and ten children.

NOT INTERESTED IN JAP COLONIZATION

Munising, Mich., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The frequent press reports from lower Michigan relative to a Japanese colony coming to Alger county are discredited by J. H. Jasberg, of Hancock, colonization agent for the South Shore railroad. Practically all of the dispatches refer to the South Shore's connection with the purported project, but Mr. Jasberg insists his company has nothing to do with it. The South Shore owns no lands in Alger county. Mr. Jasberg looks upon the reports as the dreams of publicity agents who are endeavoring to create sentiment in favor of anti-alien legislation.

TAKES OVER CANNERY.

Norwalk, Ohio Concern, to Run Cumberland, Wis., Firm.

Cumberland, Wis., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The W. C. Pressing Canning company of Norwalk, Ohio, has leased the Cumberland Canning factory from Grafton Johnson for 1915 with an option to purchase it and W. G. Pressing has arrived here to assume management of the factory. In addition to canning peas, the new concern will install the necessary machinery to can corn and beans. They are arranging already to secure sufficient acreage of these commodities, together with peas, to insure a heavy output of these products.

IS BOOMING GRASSTON.

Commercial Club Holds Very Successful Banquet at Opera-House.

Grasston, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The annual banquet of the Commercial club given at the Runquist opera house Friday evening proved the most notable event in Grasston's history.

The development idea has gripped Grasston, and the enthusiasm manifested at the meeting showed that Grasston is confronted by a new and promising future.

The Commercial club has been doing things with lightning rapidity, and the era of growth into which the village is plunging is the product of their labors.

DICKINSON COUNTY'S NEW COUNTY INFIRMARY

Norway, Mich., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Built for the accommodation of contagious disease cases, a hospital erected by Dickinson county at its infirmary will be ready shortly for the reception of patients. The structure is 30x50 feet and two stories high. A feature is a large sleeping porch for tubercular patients. Dickinson county operates a farm in connection with its infirmary, and this year 110 acres will be under cultivation. The farm is a profitable enterprise. There are forty head in the herd of cattle.

Has Fine Action in the Blood

Does Real Work in Cleaning Body of Impurities.

It is to the skin that blood impurities are driven by Nature. And it is in the skin that S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, has its most pronounced influence. For it is here that you see the results. S. S. S. is none the less effective in the joints, glands and mucous surfaces in driving out rheumatism, overcoming boils and ridding the system of catarrh.

The purely vegetable ingredients in S. S. S. are naturally assimilated but they enter the blood as an active medicine and are not destroyed or converted while at work. It is this peculiar feature of S. S. S. that makes it so effective. It stirs into action all the forces of the body, arouses digestive secretions, stimulates the blood circulation to destroy disease breeding germs.

Upon entering the blood S. S. S. is carried throughout your body in about three minutes. And in a brief time it has any blood trouble so under control that it no longer can multiply. Gradually new flesh is formed in all broken-down tissues and the skin takes on the ruddy glow of health. Be sure and get a bottle of S. S. S. today of any druggist, but avoid all substitutes.

Around the bottle is an illustrated circular that tells you how to obtain special free advice in quickly overcoming serious blood disorders. S. S. S. is prepared only by The Swift Specific Co., 59 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

FINDS WOMAN KILLED SELF

Grand Forks County Coroner Holds No Inquest in Emerado Tragedy.

Former Grand Forks Resident Cuts Thoats in Her Home, Soon Dying.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The curtain was rung down on the tragic death of Mrs. George Walker of Emerado Saturday when her funeral was held, in that place all business houses closing out of respect for the woman, who, in a fit of mental abberration, had killed herself. The coroner found on investigating that death was suicidal and an inquest was not deemed necessary.

Mrs. Walker was found Friday morning in a room of the apartments occupied by the family over what is known as the hotel building at Emerado in a dying condition, her throat slashed in a horrible manner. Although Dr. E. A. McKay was promptly called and every attention given her, Mrs. Walker was beyond medical aid and must have died within a few moments after committing the act.

The family formerly resided in this city, Mr. Walker conducting a meat market on Third street and they moved to Emerado last spring. Mrs. Walker had shown signs of mental trouble for several months and a close watch had been kept on her by members of the family, fearing that she might do herself violence while suffering from one of these spells of mental depression.

Razor Is Deadly Weapon.

On Friday morning at about 6 o'clock she eluded members of the family and going to the place where a razor had been secreted from her, took it and slashed her throat from ear to ear, falling to the floor unconscious.

Members of the family heard the fall and rushed to her side, but the nature of the wound was such as to preclude any possibility for recovery, the jugular vein being completely severed.

The family is well known and highly respected.

Besides the husband there survive the daughter, Miss Elsie, and son, Reginald, well and favorably known young people of Emeraldo and formerly of Grand Forks.

OLD MINING CAPTAIN RETIRES FROM WORK

W. H. Johnston, Long in Service in Lake Superior District, Pensioned.

Ishpeming, Mich., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. H. Johnston, aged 68, superintendent of the properties of the Oliver Iron Mining company has retired on a pension after holding the position since the Lake Superior Iron company was taken over by the Oliver Iron Mining company, some fifteen years ago. Previous to that time he was connected with the Lake Superior Iron company for many years, having come to Ishpeming from his birthplace in Herkimer county, New York, in 1876 as assistant bookkeeper. He was later promoted to the superintendency of the company under C. H. Hall, agent. He held that position until he was made successor to Mr. Hall, who resigned in 1897. After the steel corporation subsidiary took possession of the Lake Superior Iron company, Mr. Johnston was made superintendent of all the properties located on the Marquette range.

RICE LAKE BANKS INCREASE CAPITAL

Rice Lake, Wis., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the meeting of the stockholders of the First National bank here, it was decided to increase the capital stock from $50,000 to $100,000 and also enlarge the bank building. All three local banks have increased their capital stock within the last few months. The Barron County bank increasing from $10,000 to $25,000, Citizens from $10,000 to $50,000 and the First National from $50,000 to $100,000.

NEW BISMARCK HOSPITAL.

St. Alexius Hospital, Now Open, One of Finest in State.

Bismarck, N. D., March 8.—St. Alexius hospital, just completed here and considered one of the finest institutions of the kind in the state, is now being used for the first time. All of the patients of the old institution, with the exception of two, whose removal was not thought advisable, are now in the new quarters, which represent one of the finest hospitals in the country. Fourteen new patients have been entered at the institution in addition to the many taken from the old building, and two floors of the big hospital are already well filled with a total of about fifty registered there for care and treatment.

REGRET BECAUSE DEPOT IS SAVED

Kindred, N. D., Hoped That Fourth Fire Would Wipe Out Eyesore.

Kindred, N. D., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the fourth time the Great Northern depot at this place has caught on fire, and the residents were disappointed that the structure was saved. Sparks from a locomotive started a blaze on the roof. The activity of a bucket brigade, with the prompt response of those having chemicals extinguished the blaze.

Depot in Street.

The depot sits directly across the main business street, and for years efforts have been unsuccessfully made to induce the road to move the depot a few feet one way or the other. Every time it catches fire the business men hope the blaze will gain headway so rapidly, the building will be removed from the center of the street.

HE LIKES BEMIDJI.

Bob Stevenson, Who Played on Basket Ball Team, Has Left.

Bemidji, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Bob Stevenson, who played guard for the big Bemidji team during the series with Fond du Lac, has left for his home at Owatonna, where he is coach of athletics at Pillsbury academy. While here Mr. Stevenson said that he liked Bemidji and that he hoped to come back again.

Mrs. J. Myers of East Spooner was the hostess at a dinner party on Tuesday at 6 o'clock for the teachers of the Spooner schools. Mrs. Joseph Meloney was the guest of honor.

Squatters Cannot Remove Hay.

St. Cloud, Minn., March 8.—Squatters settled on land opened by the recession of Lake Onamia must not remove hay cut on land, according to order issued by Judge Roeser. Nearly 500 acres of choice meadow land was exposed when the lake went down and the title is disputed. Adjoining land owners claim the property, while six squatters dispute the right. The case will be tried at Princeton at the next term.

SEEKING OIL WELL HE DREAMED ABOUT

North Dakotan Is Guided to Spot By Fantasy of Brain.

Pettibone, N. D., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is a mixture of oil and dreams in this locality that has caused excitement and aroused interest. Should oil be located, there will be hundreds of converts to the theory of subconscious psychological phenomena.

Recently Christ Robertson, living three miles southeast of here, announced that the spirit of his departed father had appeared to him three nights in succession and told him he could locate an oil well in the pasture at a certain spot.

Orders Drilling Outfit.

After the third night Robertson secured a stake and a sledge hammer and went to the spot in the pasture where the spirit was directing the spirit and marked the place, then ordering a well boring outfit. When it comes, after boring a few water wells for friends, he will start to find the oil at the spot in the pasture which he marked. He not only is certain he will find the oil, but in each night's dream it was impressed upon him that the oil would be located at a depth not to exceed 175 feet.

AGGIES IN DEBATE.

North Dakota Agricultural Teams Have Contest Mapped Out.

Fargo, N. D., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—There will be three debates in which representatives of the Agricultural college will participate during the next five weeks. The first will be the return contest with the representatives of the University of Southern California of Los Angeles, now en route to Fargo to meet the local crowd March 12. The subject is the initiative and referendum.

On March 20 a team representing the college will go to Brookings, S. D., to meet the representatives of the agricultural college of that state to discuss the minimum wage question.

The chief local interest at the college centers in the contest to be held April 15, when representatives of the Philomathian and the Athenian Literary societies will decide the collegiate championship. Boys will represent the former society and girls the latter, and, as each organization has formerly received a decision, there is widespread interest in the result of the third contest.

PLAYING WITH PISTOL FATAL FOR YOUNG BOY.

Dickinson, N. D., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—While temporarily alone in his father's store in Libby Butte, Dunn county, John Regeth, 8 years old, handled a revolver, which was accidentally discharged and the bullet went through one lung, one kidney and lodged in the groin. The child was hurried here to a hospital, but died a few hours after his arrival.

ABSARAKA, N. D., TO HAVE NEW FACTORY

Absaraka, N. D., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local business men have organized a company, leased a building and ordered the machinery for the manufacture of overalls and jumpers. If the plan results satisfactorily the company will manufacture other garments of that nature.

INTERNATIONAL FALLS STREETS ARE LIGHTED

International Falls, Minn., March 8.—After years of waiting, the streets of the residence section of the city have been lighted, the electricity being turned on Wednesday night for the first time. The lamps are located two blocks apart and light up the town surprisingly well.

Against Sparrow Bounty.

Marquette, Mich., March 8. — (Special to The Herald.) — Upper Michigan chapters of the Daughters of the American Revolution have adopted and sent to the state legislature resolutions asking the repeal of the law providing for a bounty of 2 cents a head on English sparrows.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Grand Forks, N. D.—The branch postoffices lately established are now open for public use. All are located in stores and observe the usual postoffice hours. They are: Frank Anderson, 701 Walnut street; E. O. Huesby, 631 North Fourth street; J. D. Henry, 1323 University avenue.

Hebron, N. D.—Because there were alleged irregularities in swearing in election officials, by mutual consent leaders of two factions agreed to call off the election on incorporation of Hebron as a city. The vote was 61 to 61.

Minot, N. D.—J. J. Thompson committed suicide in his room at the Waverly hotel Friday evening. He had been in Minot since Jan. 11 representing a nursery company and was a fine appearing man, about 50 years of age. His failure to make a patent on an invention a year ago is believed to have been directly responsible for his act.

Bismarck, N. D.—William O'Hara was chosen exalted ruler at the annual election of officers of Bismarck lodge, B. P. O. Elks. The other officers are: A. A. Jones, esteemed leading knight; C. M. Crockard, esteemed loyal knight; H. T. Murphy, esteemed lecturing knight; P. R. Fields, secretary; E. L. Hughes, tyler; F. L. Hill, member of grand lodge; J. P. Feld, treasurer; Thomas Hall, secretary to state convention, and Dr. C. E. Stackhouse, trustee.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Harry F. Ward, A. M., professor of social service in the Boston university school of theology, has been selected by Wesley college to deliver the Hazlett lectures for this year. The dates will be between May 16 and June 1.

Jamestown, N. D.—The flour mills are shut down temporarily while repairs and improvements are being made. A double elevator system is being installed to relieve the old system and other changes and repairs made to facilitate operations. The mill will probably be closed for two weeks.

Grand Forks, N. D.—John Dellick was sentenced by Justice McLoughlin to thirty days in the county jail. Dellick was arrested a few days ago by the sheriff's force, charged with disorderly conduct, the warrant being sworn out by members of the family.

Langdon, N. D.—Anton Clodt and wife have moved into their house in town this week. The active work on the Clodt farm this season, it is understood, will be done under the management of Mr. Clodt's son-in-law.

Jamestown, N. D.—The work of laying telephone conduits and placing the wires underground is now continuing, having been begun last year but not finished. All the wires on Fifth avenue in the business district will be placed underground and the unsightly poles and wires along the street will be removed.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Newberry—The men at the North Shore Cedar company's logging camp No. 3 have a deer mascot. The animal was caught when it was a fawn and was raised on a bottle. It has became tame and refuses to leave the camp, following its master into the woods wherever he goes.

Ishpeming—The excavating for the foundation and basement for the new postoffice building will be finished soon A government inspector is expected to arrive at any time. The workmen are now digging the trenches.

Iron Mountain—A "jitney" bus service, the first in Upper Michigan, is to be established here. Andrew Bjorkman, a wealthy lumberman, has placed orders and will put motor cars in commission April 1. The autos will have a combined capacity of fifty passengers. Both city and suburban service will be stablished. The fare within the municipal limits will be 5 cents.

Marquette—Isaac Newmark, clothing merchant of Newberry, Mich., has filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy with Deputy Clerk F. J. Schultheis of the United States district court. The schedule of liabilities totals $14,701.32, of which $14,673.02 is unsecured. The total assets are said to be $7,627.55, which includes a $5,742.000 stock of merchandise.

Hancock—The coroner's jury empaneled by Justice Funkey to inquire into the facts of the death of Capt. Jacob Wilson, found that he came to his death from apoplexy of the brain according to the testimony offered.

Marquette—John Schultz, who was arrested several days ago in Victoria, Mich., by Deputy United States Marshall W. A. Ross for sending obscene literature through the United States mails, was taken by Mr. Ross to Superior, Wis. The offense with which he is charged is alleged to have been committed in Wisconsin.

Calumet—Dr. Albert Beekman Mills, a member of the staff of the Calumet & Hecla hospital up to four years ago, when ill health caused his retirement, died March 5. Dr. Mills was 42 years of age. He was born in Port Huron and educated in the schools of that city. A wife and three children survive.

Lake Linden—The funeral of Charles Butt of Lake Linden was held at the home Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the remains were laid to rest in Maple Hill cemetery.

Houghton—Prof. Leo M. Geismar, Houghton county agricultural expert, will conduct farmers' institutes at Lake Linden and Chassell.

Marquette—City Health Officer Main has received notice from the state health department in Lansing that the samples of blood from Marquette patients which he sent to the state capital for analysis did not show the presence of typhoid germs when put to test. The blood samples sent were from patients whose cases had been puzzling local physicians for some time.

Ishpeming—John T. Rowe, deputy dairy and food inspector, on his recent visit here, said that Ishpeming's dairies were in much improved condition and could now be classed with dairies in cities of this size anywhere in the peninsula as far as cleanliness is concerned.

Negaunee—Morgan Quinn won first prize in the oratorical contest and William Doney won first honors in the declamation contest. These two boys will represent the Negaunee high school in the sub-district contest in Marquette.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Hallock—Dr. A. W. Shalcen, who was elected county coroner at the general election last fall, tendered his resignation of that office to the board of county commissioners and Dr. J. R. Wood was appointed to fill the vacancy.

Mahnomen—At the regular meeting of the county board, C. C. Cooper was appointed county attorney. Mr. Cooper has been acting for the board since the first of the year, and they made his appointment permanent.

Stillwater—The city of Stillwater has issued $760,653.50 in bonds since the first issue in 1859. The bonded debt has been reduced to $307,000.

Hinckley—For the first time in years the tax rate in the village of Hinckley has been lowered. The rate this year is 4 mills lower than one year ago.

Mora—The license question will be voted upon at Mora next Tuesday.

Crookston—Pickpockets have been busy here and several timepieces have been stolen during the past week. W. F. Peterson lost his ticker just recently. Another watch was stolen from the Germania hotel. Another burglary was reported to the police when A. B. Cram, a Great Northern railroad man, found his watch had been taken from his coat while he was playing a game of pool.

East Grand Forks—The Commercial club has elected officers as follows: President, Hugh Thompson; vice president, O. S. Iverson; secretary, W. A. Ross; treasurer, J. R. Johnson; directors, C. A. Newhouse, J. O. Sherlock, C. J. Kelleher, Frank Drosky and T. A. Bydal.

Detroit—Mayor Hamilton has made the following appointments: Marshal, Bert Clement; street commissioner, George Kohler; city attorney, A. O. Sletvold; board of health, L. C. Weeks, health officer, Severt Johnson and George Wheeler.

Roseau—The Roseau Stock Shippers' association elected officers as follows: President, H. F. Hamlin; vice president, Fred Nordin; secretary-treasurer and manager, Benjamin Franklin.

Bemidji—In the case of Martha Maleh vs. George Newton, in which damages for $2,000 were asked for injuries alleged to have been received by her husband in a row which took place in Newton's saloon at Funkley last October, the jury found for the defendant.

Red Lake Falls—The district court will convene for the March, 1915, general term on Monday, March 22. The calendar will be a rather light one. There are no criminal cases and no citizens will be summoned for grand jury service.

Roseau—The Hotel Elliott is likely to change ownership about April 1. L. Alley, land agent, acting for Andrew Elliott, closed a deal with Henry Hagnah of Minneapolis by the terms of which Mr. Hagnah secured an option of thirty days for the purchase of the hotel.

St. Cloud—When the board of county commissioners meet on March 16, plans will be considered for road work in Stearns county and an effort made to ascertain just what can be done in the way of new work. Owing to the extensive work done in 1914 the funds for 1915 have been largely drawn upon.

Moorhead—A. J. O'Laughlin, the retiring chief of police, was called before Court Commissioner J. M. Withcraw and presented with a handsome Elk's ring with a diamond set in the center of the emblem as a token of the friendship of the members of the police force, the city justices, attorney and former city attorney.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Green Bay—Bishop J. J. Fox, who underwent an operation in a Chicago hospital early last week, is improving and his temperature is normal, according to a message received here.

Madison—Gustave D. Wright, Fond du Lac, took first prize in the final oratorical contests at the university Friday night with an oration on "Infant Mortality" and will represent the University of Wisconsin in the northern oratorical contest at the University of Iowa May 7.

Janesville—The city commissioners are considering some means of ridding the race-ways of Rock river of thousands of dead carp which have died of some epidemic during the winter and whose bodies are piling up in the waterways causing a dangerous menace to health and sanitation.

Madison—The Federation of Catholic societies, through one of its officials, Max J. Leutermann, is opposing the bill to extend a free lunch system to the country schools.

Marinette—Mrs. Axel Peterson, a widow, and her six children are all dying of tuberculosis at Dunbar, according to the health authorities there, and on account of her creed, they will not submit to medical treatment. Mrs. Peterson is a "Holy Jumper" and believes that the disease can be cured by prayers.

Milwaukee—Some improvement in labor conditions in Milwaukee was shown in February, according to the monthly report of the free employment office. About 1,000 persons secured work, while 1,404 calls for aid were received.

Kenosha — Mrs. Amelia Neatrour, aged 54, was found dead in a well at the rear of her home on the outskirts of the city Saturday, under circumstances that will be rigidly examined by the coroner and police department.

Grantsburg—Because of an epidemic of scarlet fever in this vicinity the local schools were closed for a short time. The disease is in a light form.

Marinette—Governor E. L. Philipp will be a guest of honor at a banquet to be given at the Hotel Marinette on April 10 by the Marinette Development club.

Soldiers' Grove—In the death of Christopher Frache, Crawford county loses its oldest resident. Mr. Frache was born in France in 1821. Before the Civil war he came to Crawford county.

Marinette—Frank Sucawapi, aged 77, a patient at the Marinette county insane asylum at Peshtigo, committed suicide March 6, by hanging himself from a steam pipe over his bed, using a bed sheet as a noose.

A Great Responsibility.

THE responsibility attached to the preparing of a remedy for infants and children is undoubtedly greater than that imposed upon the manufacturer of remedies for adults whose system is sufficiently strong to counteract, for a time at least, any injurious drug. It is well to observe that Castoria is prepared today, as it has been for the past 40 years, under the personal supervision of Mr. Chas. H. Fletcher.

What have makers of imitations and substitutes at stake? What are their responsibilities? To whom are they answerable? They spring up today, scatter their nefarious wares broadcast, and disappear tomorrow.

Could each mother see the painstaking care with which the prescription for Fletcher's Castoria is prepared: could they read the innumerable testimonials from grateful mothers, they would never listen to the subtle pleadings and false arguments of those who would offer an imitation of, or substitute for, the tried and true Fletcher's Castoria.

Children Cry For Fletcher's CASTORIA

Extracts from Letters by Grateful Parents to Chas. H. Fletcher.

G. J. English, of Springfield, Mass., says: "It was your Castoria that cured my child."

Mrs. Mary McGinnis, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "We have given our baby your Castoria ever since she was born, and we reccommend it to all mothers."

N. E. Calmes, of Marion, Ky., says: "You have the best medicine in the world, as I have given your Castoria to my babies from first to last."

Mrs. Albert Ugusky, of Lawrenceburg, Ind., says: "As I have had your Castoria in use for nearly three years, I am pleased to say it is just as represented. My children are both well and happy—thanks to Castoria."

R. P. Stockton, of New Orleans, La., says: "We began giving your Castoria to our baby when he was eight days old and have kept it up ever since, never having had to give any other medicine."

Mrs. Dolph Hornbuckle, of Colorado Springs, Colo., says: "We commenced giving your Castoria to our baby when she was four weeks old. She is now seven months and weighs 19½ pounds. Everyone remarks: 'What a healthy looking baby.' We give Castoria credit for it."

THE DAILY ROLL CALL; A COLUMN OF SPORTS

BY BRUCE.

PESSIMISTIC ink slingers have been wont to lament the lack of gratitude in baseball, while the sob squad of the fourth estate have in orthodox manner drawn mental anguish pictures of diamond stars turned adrift in a cold and unfeeling world after years of devoted service to some club.

The case of old Honus Wagner is one bright lexicon of hope in this drear and cold baseball world. The Dutchman is 42 years of age. His hair is gray around the temples and his broad countenance is seamed with wrinkles and marked with the toil of years. (The word toil is used in a purely tentative sense.)

Barney Dreyfuss has but recently stated that the great fisherman can have a job with the Pittsburg club just as long as he wants it. Here is the golden, highly glittered, and rare opportunity for some of the sobsters of this delightful profession to get busy and spin a sentimental yarn.

One can almost behold through the faint mist of the approaching years the bent and decrepit figure of Wagner approaching the plate. The bases are crowded and the score is 2 to 0 in favor of the visitors in the first of the ninth. The park is packed, of course. There should be two strikes to give the story the proper setting. The aged parents of the aged Wagner could be in the stand. The crowd is moved to sentimental showers and ebullient outbursts. Strong men weep and beautiful women are visibly overcome. Then old man Wagner, gray and bent, leans against the ball for one of those justly famous triples—and, kismet, the deed is did.

How long will Honus play? As long as he desires, is the plaint of Dreyfuss. The wonderful Dutchman has rendered a long and honorable service on the diamond. Wagner's case is one of the few where sentiment has entered into the calculation. Sentiment in so far as the owner of the club is concerned. But at Cleveland last summer Napoleon Lajoie was booed upon a certain occasion. It will be interesting to note whether the ill-fated day will arrive when the fans of Pittsburg will turn their thumbs down for old Hans Wagner.

Fred Clarke, a player who has accomplished valiant service for the Pirates, was hissed in his own ball yard. Sentiment in baseball rides high in the bright days of starhood and evaporates like dew before the advance of old Sol when the years begin to take toll.

It was this same Mr. Wagner who upon a certain occasion succinctly remarked: "You're a bum when you boot 'em." When Honus begins to boot 'em, what then?

Bill Quick at Figures.

IT is reported in baseball circles that Peggy Rhoades of the Superior baseball team, but recently a member of the White Sox, was tendered a contract calling for $105 a month. It is stated that this was a comedown from the amount of last season. It is further reported that Peggy the pegger wrote back to Bill and asked him whether he did not have the ought in the wrong place, suggesting that the figure be made to read $150 per month. Whereupon, the story further relates, William Sommer wrote back and stated that the figures were incorrect and that the contract would call for $95 a month.

Our Senior Four.

JAMES TEN EYCK is of the firm and unshaken opinion that the Duluth senior four, made up of Messrs. Horak, Rheinberger and the two Moores, is the fastest four in the world.

Once upon a time Brother Ned Ten Eyck, the greatest amateur sculler who perhaps ever lowered himself into a single; Con Dailey, a famous Yale sweep man; Davis, who double sculled with Ten Eyck, and one other great sweep man made up a four. This was quite some four, as one would gather from the glamour of the individual names.

"But," said James the other day, "I think our boat club four is faster. I have taken the records and find that in time trials the Duluth kids have beaten them repeatedly. In a contest the boat has never been pushed.

"Up at Kenora, as you know, we captured the Riley crew's angora before the race. Our boys were walking by the cots where the Rileyites were reposing, yawning, swinging their arms and saying that they wished the race would be called so that they could get out there and beat the Winnipegs.

"I have it straight that three of the Riley crew talked and kidded one of the members of the crew, to cheer him on.

"The Pennsylvania barge club has four four-year oarsmen in its boat, and we defeated it. As I say, in a race the boys have never been pushed. If there is a faster four in the world, I don't know where it is."

There are a lot of persons kicking in with an aye aye to the deep basso of James.

How Peculiar It Is.

THOSE interested in baseball are waiting with palpitating hopes and ashen lips, if we are to believe some of the scribes, the decision of Judge Landis in regard to whether baseball is one of those pernicious trusts which with diabolical cunning and Titan strength restrains trade and the competition that like bread is commonly alluded to as the staff of life.

And in the merry meantime all of the teams have trekked to the Southland, players have jumped blithely hither and yon, and the game goes on with never a pause of the wheels of trade.

One wonders how much the melee would melee should Judge Landis hold that the dear old game was all that the pernicious Feds charged. It is a glum thought to even contemplate. And in the meantime the verdant busher is just as verdant as ever.

CURLING

Ralph Bradley was ill Saturday and the finals of the Bagley were postponed until this evening. Dinham and Bradley will meet in the finals and a close game is expected. In curling the two skips have been curiously mixed up this season. They have met several times. Each holds a victory. The game of this evening will be in the nature of a rubber event. Dinham is skipping the Ditzel rink, which is the one opposed to Bradley.

The draw for this evening:

Manley-McLennan Event.
R. J. McLeod vs. Ray Bishoff.

"Blaze of Glory" Event.
D. B. McDonald vs. Bob Dunlop.
Alex MacRae vs. Ray Newell.
Jack Foreman vs. Bert Magle.
Ed Furni vs. Ron Smith.
F. Hargraves vs. M. Buchanan.
Captain McLennan vs. C. West.
P. F. Helmick vs. H. C. Matzke.
Dr. Catterson vs. A. Michaud.
C. Dreisbach vs. C. Naughton.
F. Hoene vs. E. Falk.

FEDS REFUSE JAMES; GOES BACK TO BRAVES

Chicago, March 8.—"Bill" James, pitcher of the Boston Nationals, left here last night for Macon, Ga., with the intention of working out his two-year contract with Manager Stallings.

James spent much of Saturday with Charles Weeghman, president of the Chicago Federals, and sought to sign a contract with the Federals, according to Weeghman, but was not held eligible to the Federals because of their rule not to touch players under contract with organized baseball.

Cuban Ball Team Arrives.

Tampa, Fla., March 8.—The Havana baseball team, champions of the Cuban National league, arrived here yesterday to begin a tour of the United States. Their first game will be played with the Philadelphia Nationals at St. Petersburgh, Fla., tomorrow.

LONG LIST OF OARSMEN

Jimmy Ten Eyck Has the Most Candidates in Years.

Duluth Is Going After the National Sculling Title.

TRUE CANDIDATES.

Seniors—C. C. Beschenbossel, M. Forrestal, F. G. Forsel, A. G. Grant, D. S. Horak, H. P. Hargraves, G. Hagberg, F. Hall, W. M. Hoover, G. R. Kent, D. C. Moore, P. R. Moore, E. Morrison, W. L. Quimby, M. C. Rheinberger, William Sutherland, William Snyder, W. Troyer.

New candidates—R. Anderson, A. Arneson, A. D. Arsenealt, I. Auld, L. Arons, R. Baker, E. H. Bendixen, A. Beschenbossel, M. P. Binane, W. S. Blystone, A. Brende, C. Burgess, W. J. Cameron, M. Crasswelier, R. Crossman, C. Egner, Ole Elstad, S. C. Ellis, E. Emmerson, T. Emmons, C. A. Erickson, R. Farah, A. Fayling, D. Fleischman, A. H. Forsan, F. G. Franrosky, A. Grimard, E. Guyer, E. N. Gates, W. Grant, R. Goering, E. Haire, A. Hafner, J. W. Hagberg, H. Haley, J. Harney, A. Hedenberg, W. Hermansson, H. A. Hillman, G. J. Huber, C. I. Irving, R. Jenson, E. Johnson, T. Johnson, H. Kiley, R. Kemp, E. King, F. E. Knight, F. J. Klein, A. Levy, A. Lee, S. W. Lonegren, R. Mapp, T. Meacher, C. C. Moore, Elias Morcson, J. D. McDermott, R. F. McKone, A. R. Melander, D. McNutt, T. McQuade, W. Nelson, A. Olson, R. Ossman, W. F. Paleen, H. A. Paul, C. Peterson, J. A. Peters, A. Perry, J. A. Petersen, J. A. Porter, F. Patsleperger, J. R. Robinson, P. H. Rossman, W. J. Ryan, J. Rowland, E. E. Sperry, S. Sanders, E. B. Scriven, W. Shearer, J. A. Shepherdson, F. Shepherdson, J. E. Skinner, E. Smith, S. Skreve, G. Spencer, H. Stephenson, P. H. Stevens, J. Sullivan, G. Swanson, W. Swanson, F. Sjogrem, L. Taylor, V. J. Vincent, J. Wagner, A. Wanrich, W. Weiss, B. Whiteside, W. Whitley, E. J. Wilkinson, O. B. Worcester, J. T. Williams, D. Wisted, R. Zuger.

The foregoing is the complete list of candidates out for the boat club crews. Ten Eyck has the largest number of candidates that have ever answered the call to arms. The senior material is tried and true; out of the large number of sweep men James will develop some scullers and also a quadruple four. With the four an effort will be made to annex the national quadruple title.

Also this season will witness the first serious intent upon the part of Coach Ten Eyck to go after the national and intermediate sculling events.

Last summer at Kenora, Hoover surprised most everyone but Ten Eyck by winning the junior and senior events. Snapper Culver was considered invincible by the Winnipeg men; and yet Hoover won without turning a hair.

With Hoover to fall back upon and great things are looked for from this boy, and Kent, Osman, Horak and others, it is really expected that Duluth will make a great showing this season in the scull events of both the Northwestern and National regatta programs.

Hoover a Real Star.

Julius H. Barnes was walking up from the course, on the final day of the Kenora regatta. "Hoover is going to be the national champion sculler," said he. "He is one of those rare things, a natural sculler."

This is a great tribute and coming from a man who knows rowing as Mr. Barnes does, means something.

Hoover, it is believed, stands an excellent chance of winning the intermediate sculls at the national. This would make the Duluthian eligible for the senior national championships.

From now on work on the rowing machine of the Y. M. C. A. will be continued every day. With the moderating of the weather the men will be sent on the road. Rowing and road work will constitute the work until the boats are taken out on the frigid waters of the bay.

CLOSE RACE IN D. A. H. L.

Big Duluths, Northerns and Universals Running Nearly Even.

With a game scheduled for this evening between the Northern Hardware team and the Two Harbors outfit, the Bagleys and Centrals will also clash. Tomorrow evening one of the big games of the season is scheduled, that between the Big Duluths and Universals.

The race for two weeks has been a dandy. As was the case last year, there promises to be a thrilling finish that will have the bugs up on their toes.

As to the winner of the league gallop, there is a decided difference of opinion. The Big Duluths hold a slight lead, with the Northerns and Universals right on the heels of the clothiers. A defeat for the league leaders and a win for the two runners-up would cause a shift in the percentage perches.

Many of the followers of the league are rating the Northerns as the ultimate winners, while the remarkable spurt of the Universals during the last few games has won the Ed Harris aggregation a host of followers.

Should the flour men come out and stake the Big Duluths to a beating in the game of tomorrow evening, and should the Northerns win this evening, there will be a material change in the race.

The meeting between the Big Duluths and Universals is one of the big contests of the season and is attracting a lot of attention among the followers of the amateur organization. Manager Ed Harris of the Universals is confident that his team will complete the remainder of the schedule without bumping into a defeat. It might also be jotted down that the members of the Big Duluths are also predicting a win.

Post-Season Games.

It is stated that Manager Jacobi of the curling club hockey team has asked several of the teams of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league about playing a game or series of games on the curling rink ice.

Several of the amateur league managers have, it is said, balked at playing unless a share of the receipts are turned over to the management of the teams.

Whether any arrangements mutually satisfactory to all the parties concerned will be made, later developments will determine.

PARSONS,
Captain of the Team.

CATHEDRAL HIGH BEATS SUPERIOR

Saturday evening, on the Cathedral high school floor, the Cathedral high school basket ball team administered a crushing defeat to the Superior high school quint, winning by the score of 29 to 9. At the end of the first half the score was 8 to 5 in favor of Duluth. There was nothing to the game in the second half.

To make the evening complete, the second team of the Cathedral high defeated the Superior second quint by the count of 29 to 12.

Boxing Bill Recommended.

St. Paul, Minn., March 8.—The bill legalizing ten-round, no-decision boxing contests in Minnesota was recommended for passage to the state house of representatives Saturday by the committee on general legislation. The measure, which is patterned after the Wisconsin boxing law, is expected to meet with much opposition when it comes up for consideration in the house.

SOME PLAYER, THIS—A REAL HOCKEY DUKE

A. R. WELLINGTON.

AMERICA LOSES VANDERBILT RACE AND TROPHY TO EUROPE

HOW THEY FINISHED.

First—Resta, Peugeot. Time 4:27:37; average 67½ miles an hour
Second—Wilcox, Stutz. Time 4:34:36.
Third—Pullen, Mercer. Time 4:35:37.
Fourth—De Palma, Mercedes. Time 4:39:07.
Fifth—Carlson, Maxwell. Time 4:44:12.
Sixth—Newhouse, Delage. Time 4:45:38.
Seventh—Oldfield, Maxwell. Time 4:52:47.
Eighth—Disbrow, Simplex. Time 4:53:37.

San Francisco, Cal., March 8.—The Vanderbilt cup held in America since the Long Island days of the classic Saturday followed the Grand Prix trophy to Europe.

The stories of these two speed classics are remarkably similar. Darius Resta and his Peugeot, that combination from England and France, again successfully beat off one by one the pick of America's drivers and America's cars.

Sixty-seven Miles an Hour.

Leading practically all the way Resta finished the 296¼ miles, or seventy-seven times around the 3.864 mile exposition course, in four hours, 27 minutes and 37 seconds. His average was 67¼ miles an hour.

Howard Wilcox, in the same Stutz that he drove to second place in the Grand Prix, again finished second. He had been driving hard and consistently and was within striking distance of a good position throughout the latter half of the contest. He moved into second place when Pullen had to stop at the pit on the second to the last lap, and then made a whirlwind finish.

A fight to inspire every American present was made by the Yankee road race champion, Eddie Pullen, in the Mercer, which set the 87-mile average at Corona. But a stop to tie on a gas tank which had been torn loose by the terrific jolting and bumping, cut deeply into his time and his wonderfully game drive availed him only third honors.

Brumau's Car Over.

His teammate, G. E. Ruckstell, racing along with him in equally brilliant effort to overhaul the English leader, drove so desperately as the race drew to an end that he turned over on the sixty-first lap. His was the third car of the race to capsize under the terrific driving. Bob Burman's Case and Eddie O'Donnell's Duesenberg also were wrecked, but the only serious injury reported was that to Mechanician Joe Early, who suffered a broken leg and three crushed ribs in the Burman accident.

It is estimated that 125,000 persons witnessed the race. Mrs. Vanderbilt entered her specially reserved box while Resta and Pullen were having a hot brush for the leading during the thirty-eighth lap. Thousands of eyes left the course and focused on the former wife of the donor of the cup for which the drivers were racing.

DULUTH WINS FINAL GAME

Western University Hockey Team Defeated 7 to 4.

Linderites Speed Up in the Second Half and Pull Away.

Duluth won the second and final game of the hockey series with the Western University team of London, Ont., at the curling rink Saturday evening by the count of 7 to 4.

At the end of the initial period of play the score was knotted at three goals. Around the period when neither team was showing a decided advantage, some of the fastest play of the present season was exhibited.

McAvoy, ranked as one of the greatest stars in Eastern Canadian collegiate circles, was in the game for part of the time. McAvoy is suffering from an injured ankle and failed to play at his best stride. He was relieved by the 16-year old Phillips, who, as in the game of the previous evening, gave a remarkable exhibition.

Visitors Show Brace.

Dr. Stevens, manager of the Western University septet, predicted that his boys would show much better form in the second game of the series. The doctor was right. The most appreciable improvement was in the team work and combination work. The checking of the Londonites was also better. The defense line of the visitors met and checked many of the rushes of the Duluth forwards.

The duke of Wellington started the scoring early, receiving a pass from Linder and caging the puck in just seven minutes of play. Edwards of the University team shot a neat goal eleven minutes later on a neat pass from Arthurs. Old Gil Bogan came

Long Cut Tobacco

PEERLESS is a natural, honest tobacco for men who like their chewing or smoking to have a solid satisfaction to it. You get tobacco-hungry lots of times, and no insipid "hash" will come anywhere near suiting you.

You must have your PEERLESS. It's as satisfying as a square meal. Been on the market for 50 years and still is the old standby of the he-boys with vigor and vim in them.

A week's trial will prove that PEERLESS can keep right on satisfying you, day after day. Then you will keep right on using PEERLESS.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

clear up the ice on the next goal and receiving a pass from "Kiliff" Mahan, shot the rubber by Chapman for Duluth's second goal.

It was just three minutes after this that Olson intercepted a pass part way down the ice and starting a rush with Mahan rushing down on center ice, passed the rubber to "Kiliff," and Handsome Mack shot a pretty goal.

Right Wing Edwards gave a climatic dash of excitement to the finish of the first half by tying up the count. Edwards scored at the end of twenty-five minutes and then came back a minute later and shot another net. Ritchie collaborated in the twenty-five minute register and Arthurs made the pass to Edwards for the final goal of the opening period.

Duluth Speeds Up.

Whether the excruciating efforts of Edwards took some of the pep out of the visitors, or whether it was that the fast pace set by the Linderites was having its effect, the fact remains that Duluth went in during the second half and played the visitors off their feet.

Wellington started the scoring, as he did in the initial half, by scoring a goal in just twenty seconds of play, registering off a rebound from a hard heave from old "Kiliff." Ritchie made a beautiful rush and unassisted shot for the next goal. Then Olson shot one from scrimmage and another from a pass from Gil Bogan, Gil making another rush up from his defense position, while Mahan got the final cage on a pass from Bogan, in seven minutes before the call of time.

The game was a darb and finally convinced even the members of the opposing team that Duluth held the whip hand. The play in the final contest did much to redeem the reputation of the visitors—and went a long ways in explaining how it was that the Western university team could have accomplish the defeat of the speedy Cleveland septet.

Despite the one-sided defeat administered to the visitors on Friday evening, a large crowd witnessed the final contest.

The line-up and summary:

JACOBI IS AFTER HOCKEY GAMES

Curling Club Seven Without Opponents; Toronto Is Uncertain.

Manager Jacobi of the curling club hockey team has as yet received no reply to his wire asking that the Victorias of Toronto come here for a series of two games this week. On Saturday night the Vics played a tie game, 8 to 8, with the Mellville, Sask., team. Whether this tie will result in another game is not known as yet.

Cleveland will not be here this season. A definite wire to that effect has been received. There are right now no other teams on the prospective schedule of the curling club. Manager Jacobi desires some more games, but his busy session on the wires has failed to yield any tangible results as yet.

Followers of the puck game hereabouts are somewhat disappointed at the refusal of Cleveland to accept terms for a series of games here.

Whether renewed negotiations will be attempted with an effort to bring the Soo seven here is uncertain as yet.

FIGHT IN HAVANA EARLY IN APRIL

Johnson-Willard Bout Will Be Shifted From Juarez to Cuba.

El Paso, Tex., March 8.—The Johnson-Willard fight for the heavyweight championship of the world will be staged at Havana, Cuba, during the first week of April, according to announcement made here yesterday by Willard's manager. Willard, who is now in Los Angeles, is expected to leave soon for Havana.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 8.—Jess Willard, who arrived here Saturday, said yesterday he expected to remain here about a week before starting for Havana to box Jack Johnson for the world's heavyweight championship.

BEMIDJI MUST NOW PLAY LITTLE FALLS

Bemidji, Minn., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a score of 62 to 2 the Bemidji high school defeated the Aitkin high school here Saturday night. Only one team now stands between Bemidji and the championship of the Sixth congressional district, Little Falls. The Little Falls team has consented to play a game on the Aitkin floor Friday, March 13, and this game will decide the team that will represent the Sixth district at the Carleton tournament, which will be held on March 18, 19 and 20.

Chiefeds at Shreveport.

Shreveport, La., March 8.—Twenty-three members of the Chicago Federals arrived here last night to begin spring training. Ad Brennan and Claude Hendrix, pitchers will join the club later in the week, it was announced. The Newark club of the league, which accompanied the Chicago squad, will leave here today for Marshall, Tex., where they will train.

GREAT BOUT LOOKED FOR

Yokel and Ketonen to Battle Out Middleweight Mat Issue.

Little Finn Confident He Can Defeat the Mormon.

BY BRUCE.

Old Mike Yokel rolled into town last evening in tow of Emil Klank. The Rocky Mountain Lion is in grand shape. He was out early this morning and took a run. The Salt Lake City man is taking no chances and declares that he is going to be right for the battle of tomorrow evening with Ketonen.

Waino Ketonen is ready to wrestle the match of his career against Yokel.

Yesterday the little Finn went on the road and spun off ten miles as a tapering off process. Waino looks better right now than when he completed his training for Miller. The Finn is heavier by several pounds than when he tapered off for the little Pole, and has shown remarkable form in all of his training work.

While Yokel will enter the ring a favorite, there are many of the followers of the game who concede little Waino more than an even chance to take the mighty Rocky Mountain Lion into camp.

Comparisons in any line of athletic endeavor are generally odious. Ketonen defeated Chris Jordon, the tough Greek who held the middleweight championship of the world for several months, with infinitely more ease than Yokel accomplished the same result. It required a trifle more than an hour for the little Finn to pin the shoulders of the Greek securely to the mat, while Yokel consumed 3 hours and 36 minutes in getting the first fall.

Granting that Yokel defeated Miller with more ease than the Finn turned the trick, it will also be generally admitted that Walter was about twice as right for Ketonen as he was the evening he lowered his colors to the imperial Mike of Salt Lake City.

Finn a Real Mat Star.

In Ketonen, Yokel is going against one of the greatest grapplers he has ever met. The little Finn is versed in every trick of the game, is a past master on defense and is as tricky as a fox in watching for and clamping on deadly holds.

Yokel is a boring-in, aggressive wrestler, ready and anxious to make a fight of it every second of the journey. This is just the kind of an opponent Ketonen likes. Miller is one of the greatest defensive wrestlers in the world and it required some time for Ketonen to put on an effective hold. It is generally believed that Yokel will force matters from the start and that there will be some furious mixups before the battle has progressed very far.

Chris Person Again.

Chris Person and Karensaari, the Finnish grappler who defeated Sailor Jack, are expected to furnish the thriller to the big contest. Person has been wrestling in various towns of the Northwest and is in fine condition for the go. The stout Finn has been anxiously awaiting another chance on the local mat and his followers believe that he will make a great showing against Chris.

The appearance of Mike Yokel against Ketonen will mark the fourth start of the Salt Lake City wonder in these parts.

Mike met and defeated Walter Miller in the Auditorium ring. He later also met and vanquished Walter Willoughby of Mellen, Wis. At the curling club Mike lowered his colors to Freed Beelt, the Marshfield grappler carrying too many guns for the Mormon.

Ketonen has for some time possessed the firm conviction that he can defeat Yokel. If confidence is part of the battle, the Waino will enter the ring ready to make one of the greatest battles of his career.

Yokel has been wrestling in grand form of late and should be at his best for the big match of tomorrow evening.

NEW PITCHER IS SIGNED BY DOOKS

Bryant, a hurler with Green Bay last season, has affixed his signature to a Duluth contract. The twirler is expected to add strength to the pitching staff of the local team.

Owner Blume is still on the trail of a catcher he has been after for some weeks. It is expected that all of the details of the deal will be fixed up within a day or two and that the much sought after player corraled.

CUMBERLAND QUINT BASKET BALL GAMES

Barron, Wis., March 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two basket ball games between Cumberland and Rice Lake and Cameron and Ladysmith high school teams, played here Saturday night, resulted 12 to 7 in favor of Cumberland.

McHale Won't Jump.

New York, March 8.—Marty McHale, pitcher of the New York Americans, last night denied that he is contemplating a jump to the Federal league. McHale added that he would leave for Savannah, the Yankees' training camp, today.

Makes High Run.

Philadelphia, March 8. — Joseph Mayer, Philadelphia, defeated E. L. Milburn, Memphis, 400 to 275 in the tenth game here Saturday in the Class A amateur billiard players' tournament for the national championship. Mayer made a new high run for the present tournament of 113. His average was 16 16-24. Milburn's high run was 63 and his average 11 11-24.

WILL START WORK ON MARQUETTE BREAKWATER.

Marquette, Mich., March 8.—Thomas L. and Walter W. Durocher of Sault Ste. Marie, of the firm of Durocher & Son, who have the contract for the Marquette breakwater extension, are in the city, preparing to start the work. The camps at Middle Island, where the rock is to be procured, are being made ready. A force of men has been recruited the last few days. The breakwater construction will require about two years' work.

Plan Yiddish Program.

A literary program and concert will be the feature of the meeting of the Jewish Socialist local of Duluth at Foresters hall on Sunday afternoon, March 14.

Messrs. Singer, Meyers, Lichten and Lippman will render songs, declamations and musical selections.

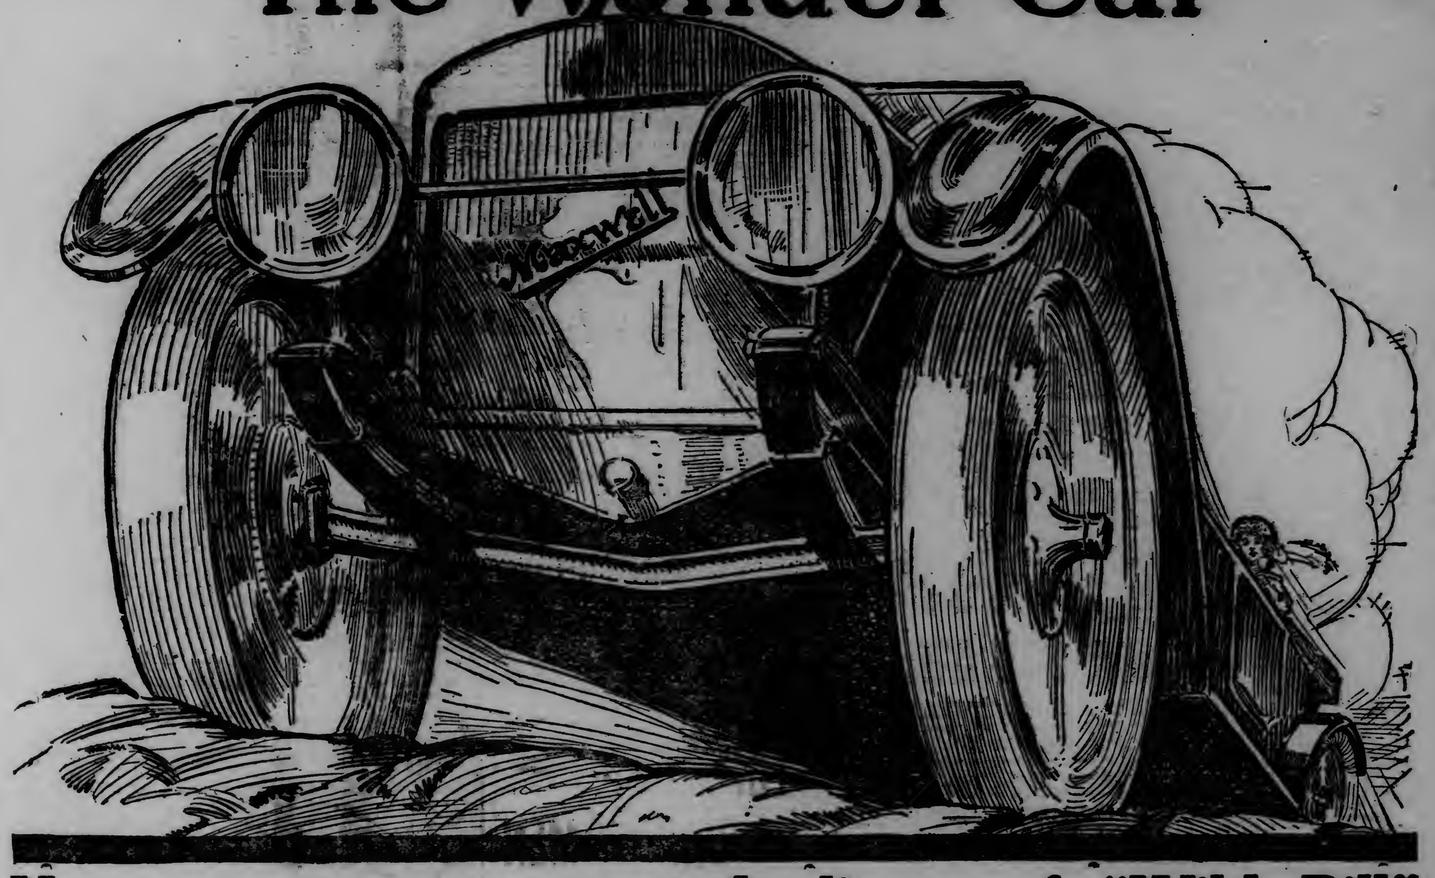
A lecture in the Yiddish language followed by the English translation will be a feature of the gathering.

Four Killed in Collision.

Albion, N. Y., March 8.—Four persons were killed and two injured in a collision late yesterday between an automobile and an interurban car at Knowlsville near here. The dead: Mildred Skinner, 18; Helen Skinner, 12; Herschell Harding, 10; Marion Harding, 14. Dorothy Skinner, 14, and A. J. Skinner, 40, were injured.

Maxwell

"The Wonder Car"



You can own an exact duplicate of "Wild Bill" Turner's or Billy Carlson's record-breaking Maxwells

Think of owning one of these same Maxwells—think of driving it wherever you want to—over any kind of roads—up any kind of hills, wherever four wheels can go, the same car for $695.

Remember, every 1915 Maxwell is an exact duplicate of the regular stock Maxwell Touring Cars in which "Wild Bill" Turner broke the world's record up Mt. Hamilton, 21 7/10 miles in 48½ minutes, beating the world's record by 16⅙ minutes, and "Billy" Carlson broke the world's record up Mt. Wilson, California, making nine miles (up an elevation of 6,000 feet) in 29 minutes and 1 second, beating the previous world's record by 13 minutes.

Barney Oldfield in a Maxwell Racing Car broke the world's non-stop record at Corona, California, for 300 miles, averaging 86.3 miles per hour. Think of it—not a stop made!

Then, right on top of this marvelous motor record, along came "Billy" Carlson in his Maxwell Racer and made still another 300 miles non-stop record in the San Diego race. Again a Maxwell Racer ran 300 miles without a stop!

These Maxwell Racing Cars are built by the same Designers, the same Chief Engineer, that build the regular Maxwell Cars; and the same Maxwell Laboratory Tested Steel is used in them that is used in the regular stock Maxwell Touring Cars.

But, aside from hill-climbing and speed power and endurance records, here are some of the facts about Maxwell comfort,—Maxwell special features,—Maxwell beauty and Maxwell service.

Read This List of Expensive Features. The 1915 Maxwell Has These Features And Many Others.

Attractive Streamline Body

Pure streamline body; graceful crown fenders, with all rivets concealed. All the grace, style and "snap" that you will find in any of the highest priced cars.

A High-Tension Magneto

Nearly all the high priced cars have high tension magnetos. A high tension magneto gives positive ignition. The Simms magneto, with which the Maxwell is equipped, is recognized as one of the best magnetos made.

Left Side Drive—Central Control

Left side steer with gear shifting levers in center of driving compartment—center control—has been accepted by leading makers of expensive automobiles as the safest and most comfortable for the driver; that is why the Maxwell has it. The Maxwell is so easy to drive and control that a child can handle it.

Three-Speed Sliding Gear Transmission

All high priced cars have a sliding gear transmission. It is costly to make, but it is the best. If the motor has the power, sliding gears will pull the car out of any mud or sand. The Maxwell has a three-speed selective sliding gear transmission because Maxwell engineers do not consider any other type to be worthy of the Maxwell car.

Double-Shell Radiator with Shock Absorbing Device

The Maxwell radiator is of handsome design, gracefully curved, and it is built to be trouble proof. It is the expensive double shell type and has ample cooling capacity. The radiator is mounted to the frame by means of a shock absorbing device on each side, which relieves the radiator of all twists and distortions of the frame, caused by roughness of the road. The shock absorbing device also minimizes the possibility of radiator leaks.

The Roomy Full 5-Passenger Body Adjustable Front Seat

The 1915 Maxwell has a full grown 5-passenger body. The front seat is adjustable, you can move it three inches forward or backward. This makes the car really comfortable for the driver. No cramped legs for tall people or uncomfortable reaching for short people. Most drivers' seats are made to fit anyone—so fit no one.

Low "Up-keep" Carburetor

The carburetor used on the Maxwell was especially designed for it after long and severe tests under every conceivable condition. Economy tours conducted by hundreds of dealers and owners in different sections of the country have proved its efficiency, its quick response to throttle and its extremely low consumption of gasoline. It has been termed the "low up-keep" carburetor.

Irreversible Steering Gear

The greatest margin of safety has been provided in the steering gear of the 1915 Maxwell. The Maxwell irreversible steering mechanism is of the expensive worm-and-gear type and its superiority over every other type lies in its many adjustments. At no time is more than a fourth of the bearing surface of the gear which operates the worm in use. When needed, a new bearing surface may be had by adjusting the gear a quarter of a turn. In short, the Maxwell steering gear has four times the adjustment of any other kind.

Heavy Car Comfort

What surprises most people is the smooth, buoyant riding qualities of the Maxwell. The spring suspension of the 1915 Maxwell is the same costly combination of long semi-elliptical front springs and the three-quarter elliptic rear springs that is used on most heavy weight, high priced cars. The Maxwell offers you every essential of the highest priced machines at a fifth of their cost.

One Size of Tire—Anti-Skids on Rear

The Maxwell car is one of the easiest cars in the world on tires. Maxwell owners carry but one spare tire and but one size of spare tubes. Economical 30 inch x 3½ inch tires are used all around. A famous make of anti-skid tires are supplied on rear wheels.

A Dependable Electric Starter

For $55 extra, you can have your Maxwell delivered equipped with the famous Simms-Huff electric starter. This starter is efficient, trouble proof and easily operated.

And the Maxwell is completely equipped from the clear vision, ventilating windshield at the front to the spare tire carrier at the rear. When you buy a Maxwell you have nothing extra to buy.

The Maxwell Company's Guarantee of Service to Maxwell Owners

No other automobile is backed by a more reliable service than that guaranteed every Maxwell owner. More than 2,000 Maxwell dealers—in every part of this country—are always ready to give expert advice, to make adjustments, and to supply new parts at reasonable prices.

This splendid Maxwell dealer service organization is perfected and completed by the chain of Maxwell owned and Maxwell operated Service Branches. Sixteen great Maxwell Service Stations are so located throughout the country that a Maxwell dealer can supply any part for an owner within a few hours if not in his stock. Maxwell Service is one of the great advantages enjoyed by Maxwell owners.

Order a Maxwell from us now, and when you want it delivered, we will give you your car—not an excuse on delivery day

MARKET ADVANCES AGAIN ON HEAVY EXPORT TRADE

Urgent Buying By Exporters Leads to Sharp Upturn in Wheat.

Cash No. 1 Northern Sells Here at Highest Premium on Crop.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 8.—The market was strong at the close, a further upturn coming on sharp export inquiry.

May wheat closed 6c up and July 5¾c up. May durum closed 5½c up and July 5c up.

Oats closed ½c up at 54½c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.06@1.07, and barley 1c up at from 62c to 73c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed 1⅜c up at 63¾c asked, and July 1⅝c up at 63¾c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.36 and calls at $1.46.

Bulls had it all their own way in the wheat market today, advances extending up to 4¾c in spring wheat and 5c in durum being recorded during the first three hours trading.

The strength was brought about through urgent inquiry from exporters, higher Liverpool cables and light primary receipts. At Duluth the highest premium on the crop was paid by an exporting house for cash No. 1 northern, 3c over May, and only a small lot was picked up at that. Some durum was also sold for export. The buying was said to be on account of the Greek government, which was reported active in all the markets. Agents representing it were reported to have bought 40,000 barrels of flour at Winnipeg.

Cash wheat sold at Chicago at 4c over May for No. 2 hard. At St. Louis the cash market was 4@5c up and at Kansas City 5c up. Less favorable news regarding the probability of an early opening for the Dardanelles by the allies' fleet, short supplies at Liverpool, and bullish reports from Argentina were all factors leading to the day's upturn. Buenos Aires was also strong on sharp export inquiry, and expectations that steamers would shortly be available to make shipments of grain sold during the last few weeks.

A decrease of 2,025,000 bu of wheat shown in the American visible supply was given some attention, as it followed similar liberal decreases during the last few weeks.

With the existing strong demand from exporters, a larger proportion of the grain moving is being routed to the Duluth market. Inspections here today were 142 cars, against 74 last year, and there were 220 cars of all grains on the track.

May wheat opened ¾c up at $1.40 and advanced steadily 3¼c more. July opened ⅞c up at $1.35½, and gained 3¼c more. May durum opened 1½c up at $1.43, and gained 3¼c more. July opened 1½c up at $1.41, and gained 3¼c more.

Flaxseed Is Steady.

Flaxseed trading was again light and it came within a narrow range. Prices were firm on steady inquiry from crushers. May flax opened unchanged at $1.85¼, and closed ½c up at $1.85½ asked. July closed ¼c up at $1.57 nominal. September opened unchanged at $1.86 and closed ¼c off at $1.85⅞ asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ¾c up at $1.66¾ asked, and July ¼c up at $1.69 asked.

Supplies of wheat in Duluth and Minneapolis elevators as on March 6, were reported at 23,589,000 bu, compared with 34,440,000 bu last year. Supplies at Duluth were 10,502,000 bu against 14,553,000 bu last year, and at Minneapolis, 13,089,000 bu against 19,887,000 bu a year ago.

Flaxseed stocks at Minneapolis and Duluth as on March 6, were 802,000 bu, compared with 1,902,000 bu last year. At Duluth there was 655,000 bu against 1,721,000 bu a year ago and at Minneapolis, 147,000 bu against 181,000 bu a year ago.

Minneapolis cash market was strong with good demand for all grades. Lower grades are narrowing up. One northern blue stem sold at 5@5½c over May and velvet chaff at 1½@2½c over May. Flour sales were still reported moderate. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.39½ to $1.43½, and No. 2 northern at from $1.35½ to $1.41.

A Chicago wire received by C. E. Lewis & Co. said: "I think old wheat is bound to be a very scarce article here during the balance of the May future and it might sell anywhere from 50c to $1 a bu over our September."

On passage—Wheat, 50,776,000 bu, last year, 46,192,000 bu; increased, 4,259,000 bu; corn, 20,446,000 bu, last year, 7,726,000 bu, decrease, 863,000 bu.

Paine Commission company had the following from Logan & Bryan: "An important decline in all grain values the past thirty days, with a decided break in all markets the past week, leads many conservative leaders in this trade to feel that in a speculative way the adverse shipping conditions and the progress to date in the Dardanelles have been largely discounted. Cash wheat demand is acute and competing countries are not able to relieve Europe without further supplies from this side. Any definite news either way from the Dardanelles will turn wheat prices quickly, but feeling at the moment is rather friendly to the buying side of the grain list."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Strength in America on Saturday and fewer Plate offers caused firmness and millers absorbed freely. Stocks continue to decrease and although American shipments were surprisingly large, still the United Kingdom's quota was comparatively small and barely enough to fill urgent consumption. Plate offers are firm, with winters 6d higher and Plates 9d higher, and there was better buying at the advance. Spot market was firm and generally 1d higher.

"Corn was firm with American offers held at 6d advance and no pressure of Plates. Liverpool stocks of wheat were 2,272,000 bu, decrease, 192,000 bu; corn, 1,394,000 bu, increase, 194,000 bu."

Indian—A second official report places the acreage to wheat as 32,028,000 acres and the outlook as excellent except in Bihir, Orissa and Bengal, where is officially reported that the import duty has been freely suspended.

Foreign crop summary: Italy—Weather continues wet over a wide area and crop conditions are deteriorating. There is no scarcity of supplies and millers are well stocked, but purchases continue on a liberal scale.

Hungary—Weather is bad with heavy freezing and scarcity of snow. Area planted to wheat will be light.

New Zealand—Wheather and crop conditions are unfavorable.

Argentina—Weather is very unfavorable for the movement, stacked grain being wet with general rain. Corn is receiving too much rain, as harvesting will commence in early districts this week.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Big Cash Sales and Firm Cables Advance Price of Wheat.

Chicago, March 8.—Big cash sales since Saturday, firm cable quotations and unfavorable weather in Argentina led to a decided advance here today in the price of wheat.

Bullish sentiment was further increased by estimates that domestic stocks were nearly 4,000,000 less than at the corresponding time a year ago. Note was also taken of the complete suspension of the import udty in Spain. The opening, which ranged from 1 to 3¾c higher, was followed by material further upturns.

Large purchasing of flour by Greece helped bring about a further jump in the market. Besides, primary receipts and the visible supply showed an unusual falling off and these were bullish predictions regarding the government's report as to farm reserves. The close was nervous at 4⅝@4¾c above Saturday night.

Corn rose with wheat and as a result of the lightness of rural offerings. Commission house buying was especially active. After opening ¼@⅝c higher, the market continued to harden.

Heavy stocks prevented any radical advance in corn. The close was unsettled at ⅛c to ⅜@⅝c net gain.

Sympathy for other grain strengthened oats. Demand, however, was only of a scattered sort.

Higher prices on hogs made provisions climb.

AMOUNT OF GRAIN STILL ON FARMS

March Report of Department of Agriculture Made Public.

Washington, March 8.—Owing to the heavy export and high prices of wheat, extraordinary interest centered in today's department of agriculture monthly report announcing the amount of wheat of last year's record crop remaining on farms March 1. The department's crop reporting board, from reports of its correspondents and agents throughout the country, estimates the amount of wheat, corn, oats and barley on farms, with comparisons of preceding years, the proportion of each crop which will be shipped out of the counties where grown, and the percentage of the 1914 corn crop which was of merchantable quality, as follows:

Wheat—About 152,903,000 bushels, or 17.2 per cent of the 1914 crop remained on farms March 1, 1915, compared with 151,600,000 bushels, or 19.9 per cent of the 1913 crop remaining in 1914; 156,-483,000 bushels, or 21.4 per cent of the 1912 crop remaining in 1913, and 122,-025,000 bushels, or 19.6 per cent of the 1911 crop in 1912.

About 60.7 per cent of the 1914 crop will be shipped out of the counties where grown, against 53.9 per cent of the 1913 crop so shipped, and 61.6 per cent of the 1912 crop so shipped.

Corn—About 910,894,000 bushels, or 34.1 per cent of the 1914 crop remained on farms March 1, 1915, compared with 866,392,000 bushels, or 35.4 per cent of the 1913 crop in 1914, and 1,289,655,-000 bushels, or 41.3 per cent, of the 1912 crop in 1913.

About 15.6 per cent of the 1914 crop will be shipped out of the counties where grown, against 17.2 per cent of the 1913 crop so shipped and 21.8 per cent of the 1912 crop so shipped.

The proportion of the 1914 crop of merchantable quality is about 84.5 per cent, compared with 80.1 per cent of the 1913 crop and 85.0 per cent of the 1912 crop.

Oats—About 379,369,000 bushels, or 33.2 per cent of the 1914 crop remained on farms March 1, 1915, compared with 419,476,000 bushels, or 37.4 per cent of the 1913 crop in 1914, and 604,216,000 bushels, or 42.6 per cent of the 1912 crop in 1913.

About 29.4 per cent of the 1914 crop will be shipped out of the counties where grown, against 26.5 per cent of the 1913 crop so shipped, and 30.9 per cent of the 1912 crop so shipped.

Barley—About 42,889,000 bushels, or 22 per cent of the 1914 crop remained on farms March 1, 1915, compared with 44,126,000 bushels, or 24.8 per cent of the 1912 crop in 1914, and 62,283,000 bushels, or 27.6 per cent of the 1912 crop in 1913.

About 46.1 per cent of the 1914 crop will be shipped out of the counties where grown, against 48.4 per cent of the 1913 crop so shipped, and 53.7 per cent of the 1912 crop so shipped.

CAMPS ARE BREAKING UP

Army of Woodsmen Is Now Heading Into Duluth.

Money Plentiful for Time; Problem May Be Serious Later.

The logging season is likely to come to a sudden end if warm weather continues. Woodsmen are already breaking camp and the vanguard of the lumberjack army is already beginning to invade Duluth. During the next two weeks hundreds are expected to desert the camps and start for the Head of the Lakes.

Snow and ice roads are badly cut up and honeycombed by spring weather and a few days more like today will do untold damage to the loggers. However, a good supply of logs has already been hauled out and the lumber companies usually expect a heavy thaw about the middle of March.

Woodsmen "Pouring" In.

From now on a steady stream of woodsmen is expected to arrive in Duluth and the problem of caring for the unemployed until spring work opens is one of the serious matters before the city and institutions that attempt the job. The Bethel is now caring for about 175 men daily. Free beds for the penniless and coffee, bread and "hot dog" keep "soul and body together" during this period.

Many of the lumberjacks, who have worked in the woods all winter or for any length of time, are well supplied with money and stores and other business establishments on Lower Michigan streets are beginning to reap their spring harvest. There's nothing too good for a lumberjack with a fat purse.

The barber shops reap the first golden harvest. The woodsman usually heads for the "tonsorial artist" about as soon as he gets off the train. There he gets a hair cut, a shave, a shampoo, hair tonic and other luxuries if the barber is a good talker. The woodsman then goes to a clothing store, buys a new suit, shirts, collars, ties, shoes, etc., and proceeds to take in the sights. The big rolls diminish rapidly during the first few days that the lumberjack spends in the city.

Not So Many Big "Rolls."

This spring the lumberjacks do not have the big "rolls" that they used to have in former years. The big reduction in wages and the decline of the logging operations have reduced their incomes considerably. For that reason the social workers of the city expect to have a bigger proposition on their hands this spring than ever before. The critical period, however, will not be reached until after the lumberjacks have spent the most of their earnings. Then large numbers of them will be asking for meals and lodging at the Bethel and other places.

WAR TO INCREASE INLAND TOURISTS

Prospects Good for Coming Summer, Says Henry Ribenack.

Henry Ribenack, one of the owners of the Lenox hotel, is of the belief that the war in Europe is going to result in one of the greatest tourist seasons that Duluth has ever known. Some persons at first thought may not associate the European conflict in any way with tourist travel. But Mr. Ribenack says that with European tourist travel out of the question, there will be increased tourist travel at home and that the Great Lakes should be especially favored.

"Generally speaking, the approaching summer should be a great tourist season for Duluth," said Mr. Ribenack. "If a first-class highway between Duluth and the Twin Cities was completed it would mean a vast amount of business for the hotels and business houses of the city. Work is being done on the road up the north shore. I understand the road has been repaired and graded to a point north of Lutsen. If a highway is made between Port Arthur and the Head of the American lakes, and a highway is completed between here and the Twin Cities, there would be no highway in the United States that could surpass it.

"There is hardly one single item that in my opinion would mean more to Duluth than a first-class highway between here and the Twin Cities."

JUDGE W. H. SEAMAN DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Member of Appeals Since 1893; Home in Sheboygan, Wis.

Chicago, March 8.—Judge W. H. Seaman of the United States circuit court of appeals for this district, died today in Coronado Beach, Cal., according to a message received from his daughter, who accompanied him west some time ago.

Judge Seaman had been a Federal judge since 1893. His home was in Sheboygan, Wis.

Born in New Berlin, Wis.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 8.—Judge William H. Seaman was born in New Berlin, Wis., Nov. 15, 1842. He received a common school education in Sheboygan. He was admitted to the bar in 1868 and at once located in Sheboygan. In 1893 he was appointed to the United States judgeship at Milwaukee to succeed Judge James G. Jenkins, retired. Later Judge Seaman was elevated to the United States court of appeals with headquarters at Chicago.

His first business was that of a printer for two years in the office of the old Sheboygan Times, during which time he studied law. On September 16, 1861, he enlisted in Company H, First Wisconsin volunteer infantry and was in active service with his company for one year and was then on detached duty at the headquarters of Gen. Thomas for two years. From October, 1864 to Sept. 1, 1866, he was chief clerk in the quartermaster's department stationed at New Orleans, Mobile and Nashville.

During his residence in Wisconsin he was mayor of Sheboygan, president of the Sheboygan school board, member of the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin, and president of the state bar association. On Dec. 17, 1868, he married Miss Mary A. Peat at Glens Falls, N. Y. They had two children.

LONGER TRACK WRENCHES

Discussed By Northern Pacific Roadmasters at Brainerd Meeting.

Brainerd, Minn., March 8.—Roadmasters of the Northern Pacific railway eastern divisions held their monthly meeting here. W. H. Gemmel, general manager of the Minnesota & International railway, presiding.

The length of track wrenches was brought up by one roadmaster. The present track wrench is thirty-one and one-half inches long. This appears to be too short for the ordinary man to use and make a good job of tightening bolts, and the result is said the speaker, that a piece of pipe is put on the end and the handle lengthened from six inches to two feet. In consequence bolts are stretched. It would seem desirable to make a handle just as long as it should be made and then absolutely insist that no lengthening of it should be done. The speaker asked if this was necessary except in short wrenches used in track laying, or should a change be made for the general purpose wrench used on sections.

On the subject of track jack handles a speaker said that roadmasters were now instructed to use a wooden handle in track jacks on account of injuries that have resulted from men using lining bars for this purpose. Section men objected to this on account of carrying one more tool.

GERMANS SLOWLY WITHDRAW FROM BANKS OF NIEMEN AFTER MOST OBSTINATE FIGHTING

TOWARD THE FRONTIER OF EAST PRUSSIA

New Offensive Movement Against Warsaw Yet Undeveloped.

Air Attack on Ostend Only New Feature in the West.

Snow Storm in Champagne Region Gives Troops a Rest.

London, March 9, 11:54 a. m.—Obstinate fighting marks the battles along the eastern front on the continent, with the Germans slowly withdrawing from the River Niemen in the direction of their own East Prussian frontier. At the same time the new offensive movement against Warsaw and on the Pilica evidently has not as yet developed into the great engagement which has been expected in this locality.

In the western arena of hostilities the only new feature has been the allied air attack on Ostend. In the Champagne region, where the French have been assuming the offensive lately, a snow storm has given a forced rest to the troops. It is not unwelcome, for they have been almost constantly engaged for the last fortnight.

Judging from the official statement made yesterday by the British admiralty, it is apparent that only one merchantman, the collier Bengrove, has fallen a victim to the submarine blockade of the Germans since Feb. 25. The first hint of British retaliation against the personnel of German submarine raiders has been conveyed in an official statement that the officers and crew of the German under-sea boat, U-8, which fell a prey to the flotilla of torpedo boat destroyers, detailed to hunt for submarines, will be denied the usual privileges of prisoners at war.

Press comment appearing in Berlin indicates a feeling of optimism over the Near Eastern situation. The Turkish opinion that the Dardanelles are impregnable is being indorsed and pa-

TURKS SAY BRITISH LOST OVER 400 MEN

Report From Constantinople on Battle in Persian Gulf.

Amsterdam, March 9, via London.—An official statement from the Turkish war ministry, as received here today from Constantinople, says that the British lost 400 men in the recent battle at the head of the Persian gulf. The statement follows:

"Three battalions of British infantry, with two quick-firing field guns, two mountain guns, one machine gun section and one squadron of cavalry attempted, on March 3, to attack our positions in the region of Ahwaz (in Khuzistan). After a counter-attack by our troops the British fled in disorder to their ships, leaving 400 dead or wounded. Among the dead were one British major and four other officers.

"We captured three guns, 500 rifles, 200 horses and a great quantity of Red Cross material. Our losses were insignificant."

SAYS ROBERTS RULED AS CZAR

Severe Arraignment of Terre Haute Mayor By Attorney.

Twenty-eight Politicians on Trial, Charged With Conspiracy.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 9.—United States District Attorney Frank C. Dailey in his opening statement today at the trial of Mayor Donn M. Roberts of Terre Haute, and the twenty-seven other defendants who are charged with conspiracy to corrupt the election of Nov. 3, 1914, in Terre Haute, outlined the facts the government expects to prove and declared that Roberts was the head of the conspiracy and that he "ruled as a czar." He told how the government contends the false registrations were made, of the alleged slugging and rough work at the polls, of the manner of collecting and the amount of the so-called "sluch fund."

Orders Obeyed.

"Roberts gave orders and his henchmen obeyed without question," asserted the district attorney. "He had

DEFENDER OF PRZEMYSL HERO OF THE AUSTRIANS

GEN. HERMANN KUSMANEK.

The hero of the Austrian people today is Gen. Hermann Kusmanek, who is the defender of Przemysl. This fortified town has been under siege for several months. The Russians having no such siege artillery as the Germans, have been unable to capture it and their only hope is to starve out the garrison.

WILL FORM NEW CABINET

M. Gounaris to Act at Request of the King of Greece.

New Premier Expected to Favor Continued Neutrality of Kingdom.

Athens, via Paris, March 9.—M. Gounaris, deputy for Patras, has consented at the request of King Constantine to undertake the task of forming a new cabinet. It is reported that M. Baltadjis, who was foreign minister in the Theotokis cabinet, has consented to take that portfolio under the leadership of M. Gounaris.

M. Gournaris will submit his list of ministers to the king tomorrow, it is understood, and obtain an agreement that the chamber shall be dissolved if the supporters of the ministry are in the minority, which is considered highly probable. The new premier is expected to favor the continued neutrality of Greece.

Greece has been facing a cabinet crisis since the end of last week when M. Venizelos, the premier, who favors Greek participation in the war on the side of the allies, resigned because his policy did not meet with the approval of King Constantine, who desired that the country remain neutral. M. Zaimis was requested yesterday to form a cabinet, but he declined.

On Advice of Staff.

Paris, March 9.—M. Rhallys, a former prime minister of Greece, has given an interview to the correspondent at Athens of the Matin in which he says that King Constantine acted on the advice of his general staff in opposing the policy of intervention proposed by M. Venizelos. The staff was of the opinion that an expedition against Constantinople would weaken the military situation on the Bulgarian frontier, which in Athens is regarded as dangerous in view of Bulgaria's doubtful attitude.

GERMANS NEEDED TROOPS ELSEWHERE

Russians Say That Retreat Was Forced By the Czar's Army.

Petrograd, March 9.—"The Germans explain their retreat from Grodno (Northern Russian Poland) by the necessity of employing their armies there for other operations," says a statement issued last night by the official press bureau. "As a matter of fact the Germans retreated under our continuous pressure in conformity with the orders of Feb. 28, which were occasioned by the events of Feb. 27. Then the complete defeat of two German corps was a well-established fact.

"When our troops after several days of fighting with the aid of our heavy artillery had captured Height No. 103, commanding the entire Grodno section, we were able to capture there 1,000 prisoners, six cannon and some mitrailleuses. This height was defended by the Twenty-first German army corps, the best of them all. This corps lost during the fight from 12,000 to 15,000 men, judging from the dead and abandoned by the enemy.

"The Germans, in view of the failure of their counter attacks against Height No. 103, fell back to a completely passive attitude. We continued capturing one village after another, taking prisoners everywhere. Our offensive encountered only the enemy's fire, there being no counter attacks.

"The German 12-inch mortars were still shelling Ossowetz March 5. Since then the enemy has used only guns of a smaller caliber."

INQUIRY INTO FIRE ON SHIP

Rigid Investigation Begun on La Touraine Now at Havre.

Flames Discovered in Two Places at Same Time.

Havre, March 9.—A rigid inquiry already has been begun into all phases of the fire at sea aboard the French line steamer La Touraine which docked here yesterday and landed safely all her passengers.

The steamer Rotterdam, one of the vessels which answered La Touraine's call, and stood by until the fire was extinguished, left the French liner at Prawle Point, Eng. The French cruisers Guichen and Dupetit Thouars which also went to La Touraine's assistance, escorted her, however, as far as Cherbourg and then continued on their way. Other vessels which answered Capt. Caussin's call were informed there was no need for their services and continued their trips after receiving the thanks of the liner's commander.

Discovered Saturday.

"The fire was discovered at 2 a. m. Saturday, March 6, when we were in north latitude 48.14 and west longitude 21.06," he said. "It was in the base of one of the ventilators in the boiler room. Heavy smoke found its way to the bridge. While the men in the boiler room sought to extinguish the blaze, which was not serious in itself, I turned my attention to other parts of the ship.

"At this moment one of the night watchmen reported hearing the crackle

CRISIS IN BULGARIA ON WAR QUESTION

Desire to Enter Hostilities Causing Much Friction at Capital.

Paris, March 9.—A ministerial crisis similar to that in Greece has occurred in Bulgaria, according to information reaching Paris in special dispatches. Premier Radoslavoff is reported to have been overthrown by the influence of King Ferdinand and the followers of Dr. Ghenadieff, former foreign minister, because he desired to take immediate action against Turkey by occupying Adrianople.

Radoslavoff's opponents are said to have declared this policy, which would have placed Bulgaria in opposition to Germany and Austria, was too adventurous. The principal argument they are reported to have used was that the resignation of Premier Venizelos at Athens left Greece more isolated than before and that if Bulgaria remained neutral she might hope for advantages other than those she would find in Thrace.

YOUNG LEADER OF I. W. W. RELEASED FROM ISLAND

FRANK TANNENBAUM.

New York, March 9.—Frank Tannenbaum, the young leader of the Industrial workers of the World, who served a year at Blackwell's Island for leading 191 men into St. Alphonsus church in order, he claimed, to show the condition of unemployment, was released today.

Tannenbaum was warmly greeted by about 100 friends and supporters who carried him on their shoulders from the East Fifty-third street pier, where he landed, to the Third Avenue elevated railroad station. The police did not interfere.

Tannenbaum said he was going to the home of friends to rest.

CHINA WILL ACT QUICKLY

To Expedite Action on Jap Demands Possible to Accept.

Japan Implies That Force Will Be Used After March 12.

Pekin, China, March 9.—M. Hioki, the Japanese minister at Pekin, in charge of the Japanese negotiations with China concerning the Tokio demands, has handed to Lu Cheng-Hsiang, Chinese minister of foreign affairs, a communication which China interprets as implying that, unless the demands are accepted by March 12, force would be employed by Japan.

This notice is not considered an ultimatum by the Chinese government; nevertheless Lu Cheng-Hsiang, after a series of conferences with President Yuan Shi Kai, has decided to expedite the discussions with the Japanese legation and to agree quickly to those of the demands which China considers it possible to accept.

Will Observe Treaty.

London, March 9.—Speaking in the house of commons this afternoon in reply to a question, Foreign Secretary Grey said he had no doubt but that Japan would observe the treaty of 1905 under the terms of which Japan and Great Britain guaranteed the integrity and the independence of China, together with equal commercial opportunities to all nations.

UNITED STATES BATTLESHIPS ORDERED TO MEXICO TO CARRY OUT POLICY OF GOVERNMENT

THINKS THAW IS PERSECUTED

Evelyn Nesbit Thaw Willing to Appear in His Behalf.

Heretofore She Has Been Opposed in Trials for Liberty.

New York, March 9.—The prosecution's case against Harry K. Thaw and five co-defendants on trial for conspiracy in his escape from the Matteawan state hospital for the criminal insane, will be outlined by Deputy Attorney General Franklin Kennedy in the supreme court today and the taking of evidence will begin.

The selection of the jury in the first day of the trial was a surprise to most of those concerned in the case as was also Thaw's self-effacement which was considered remarkable in view of the active part he has insisted upon taking in his previous legal battles for freedom.

It was announced today by an official of the district attorney's office that in all probability Evelyn Nesbit Thaw would appear as a witness in Thaw's behalf.

In previous proceedings affecting Thaw's liberty, Evelyn Nesbit Thaw has appeared against him. A week ago a process server from the district attorney's office called on Mrs. Thaw with a subpoena, bidding her to appear at the trial for the prosecution. She was quoted as having said:

"I am tired of this case. I think Harry is being persecuted and if I take any interest whatever in it, it will be to do what I can for him. I think he has been confined long enough and if his lawyers want me, I will do anything I can for him."

May Be Called By Defense.

For this reason, it was said, no subpoena was left with Thaw's wife. It was understood, however, that the prosecution would not be surprised if

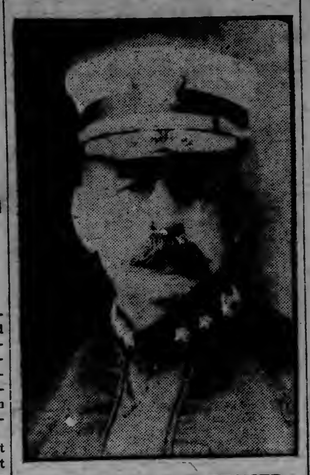
TO RETIRE GOULDS FROM RAILROADS

Will Be Dropped From Directorate of Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain.

St. Louis, March 9.—The passing of the Goulds from official connection with the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain system was expected to take place at the annual meetings of the two roads here today.

Enough proxies to control the elections were in the hands of Otto H. Kahn, representing Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of New York, and of A. H. Hemphill of the Guarantee Trust Company of New York and just before the balloting began it was predicted that none of the three Goulds—George J., Kingdon and Frank J.—would be re-elected to the directorate of either the Missouri Pacific or the Iron Mountain.

DIRECTED TO DISPATCH SHIPS TO VERA CRUZ



REAR ADMIRAL FLETCHER.

GEN. CARRANZA MAKES DENIAL

Says Conditions at Mexico City Do Not Exist, as Reported.

Gives Oral Answer to U. S. Note to Consul Sullivan.

Washington, March 9.—Gen. Carranza has made a preliminary reply to the American representations, denying, generally, the existence of conditions in Mexico City which the United States has called upon him to improve.

In a statement made orally to American Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz, which was laid before President Wilson and the cabinet today, the Mexican chief denied that Gen. Obregon, his commander in Mexico City, had prevented food from reaching the Mexican capital or that he had sent supplies away.

Carranza's oral statement was taken in official quarters to forecast the tenor of his formal answer now being drafted. Generally it was regarded in administration quarters as favorable, and as an indication that

FIFTEEN BRITISH STEAMSHIPS SUNK

Toll of Submarines Out of 8,734 Vessels From Jan. 21 to March 3.

London, March 9.—Fifteen British steamers sunk out of a total of 8,734 vessels of more than 300 tons which arrived at British ports or departed from them from Jan. 21 to March 3 was the record achievement of German submarines, according to figures issued by the admiralty. Vessels of all nationalities are taken into account excluding, however, those used by the admiralty for naval and military purposes. Twenty-nine members of the crews of the steamers torpedoed lost their lives.

STRENGTHEN FLEET NOW AT VERA CRUZ

Rear Admiral Fletcher Will Carry Out Orders of President.

Will Pick Out Ships and Send Flag Officer to Command.

Fear of Outrages at Capital One Cause of Action Taken.

Washington, March 9.—While awaiting a reply to the presentations to Gen. Carranza to take steps to improve conditions in Mexico City, the administration today began taking steps to carry out what most of the foreign diplomatic corps here interprets as an entire change of attitude toward the whole Mexican situation.

Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo, was ordered to send two battleships to Vera Cruz to strengthen the fleet of small craft already there, or gathering from nearby ports. The admiral himself, who commanded the force which took the town from Huerta last April, will not go, but he was instructed to send a flag officer to take command. Admiral Fletcher will select the ships he will send and report later to the navy department.

President Wilson, describing the latest American representations today, said Carranza had been called upon by the United States to take the necessary steps to protect foreigners in Mexico City and had been informed of what the Washington government had heard of conditions there and how serious they seemed to be.

Has Presented Views.

When asked whether the United States had any new intentions in Mexico, the president reiterated that the government had presented its views on what appeared to be the situation in Mexico City. He added that in all such situations, it was necessary to discount reports a great deal, because, he said, certain persons would like to have the United States intervene in Mexico, even if they had to manufacture the facts on which to base the intervention.

When the president was asked if the latest note to Carranza was an ultimatum, he replied the administration did not issue ultimata, but expressed its views and acted accordingly.

MAY HAVE VETOED THE BILL TOO LATE

Question as to Time Arkansas Governor Acted on Measure.

Little Rock, Ark., March 9.—Governor Hayes last night sent a message to the house announcing that he had vetoed the racing bill passed by both houses of the legislature last week. The point of order was raised that the time in which the governor might veto the bill expired at 4:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Speaker Sawyer sustained the point of order and declared the bill a law. The state constitution provides that if the governor has not taken action on a bill within five days from the date of its passage, excluding Sunday, it automatically becomes a law. The bill passed the house at 4:10 Tuesday afternoon. At 5:11 o'clock yesterday afternoon, Harry Stewart, the governor's private secretary, announced that the governor had signed the racing bill. A few minutes later, a denial was issued from the governor's office.

WAKING UP!

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Both the right and left flanks of the German forces in Northern Poland have been dislodged, Petrograd dispatches state, from the positions they took up on the advance from East Prussia. The German right wing is said to have beaten a hasty retreat to within eight miles of the border. Today's official report from Berlin, however, states that the Russian offensive is being met successfully. Several Russian assaults in this region are said to have been repulsed.

The battle in Champagne has become less violent. Snow has interrupted the fighting in the Vosges and elsewhere along the western front there is no great activity.

A further advance by the Russian army, which is striking into Turkish Armenia along the shore of the Black sea, is announced at Petrograd.

Although there is no direct evidence that Italy will depart from her policy of neutrality, Rome dispatches express the belief that the nation is on the eve of "great and decisive events."

Bulgaria, considered the least likely of any of the Balkan nations now at peace to join the allies, is confronting an international crisis over the question of peace or war. Reports reaching Paris state that Premier Radoslavoff has been overthrown by the influence of King Ferdinand because the premier desired immediate action against Turkey. The plan of the premier and his followers, as thus outlined, was to occupy Adrianople, provided Greece threw in her lot with the triple entente.

The course to be followed by Greece is still to be determined, although King Constantine, in his opposition to war is said to have the support of the general staff. The main argument advanced against joining with the allies is that an attack on Constantinople would weaken the military strength of Greece along the border of Bulgaria, which would be regarded as dangerous in view of the relations of the two countries. M. Zaimis, requested by King Constantine to form a cabinet, has declined and a member of the chamber of deputies, M. Gounaris has undertaken the task.

Paris dispatches mention several warships not named before as members of the allied fleet which is attacking the Dardanelles. As the strength of the British North sea fleet apparently has not been weakened the inference is drawn that Great Britain and France are bringing in for this service vessels from the far corners of the world, the tieing up of German shipping and the destruction of German warships in the high seas having made this possible.

The British admiralty places at fifteen the number of merchantmen sunk by German submarines from Jan. 21 to March 3, out of a total of 8,734 sailings and arrivals at ports of the United Kingdom. This does not include the collier Bengrove, sunk on Sunday which may have been torpedoed.

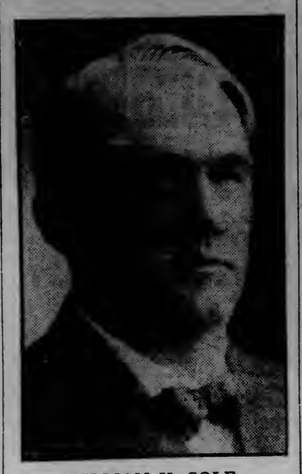
WILLIAM H. COLE, PIONEER IRON EXPLORER, DIES IN WEST

Discovered Many of Biggest Mines on Minnesota Ranges.

Had Retired From Active Business; End Comes in Pasadena.



WILLIAM H. COLE.

William H. Cole, prominently connected with Minnesota's iron mining industry since its inception, died at Pasadena, Cal., at 9:10 o'clock last night, according to a message received by Mrs. Frank H. Fregeau, 1009 East First street, his daughter. Mr. Cole was 58 years of age.

With him at the time of his death was his wife, his brother, George H. Cole, and Miss Alice Cole, his daughter. The party will leave Pasadena tonight for Duluth.

As president of the Cole & McDonald company and later the Cole & McDonald Exploration company, Mr. Cole was an authority on mining exploration work and was directly responsible for the opening of many of the mines which have made Northern Minnesota famous as the greatest iron mining center in the world.

At the time of his death he had retired from business to a large extent, and was in the habit of spending a large part of the year, from September until summer, in Florida. This year was the first time he had gone to California.

He was president of the American Exchange National bank of Virginia, Minn., and until last September, when he resigned, he was president of the Northern Cold Storage & Warehouse company of Duluth. Cole & McDonald were the best known diamond drill and exploration firm on any of the Minnesota ranges.

Started Kinney Mine.

With O. D. Kinney, Mr. Cole started the Kinney mine, now operated by the Republic Iron & Steel company. He and his partner, D. B. McDonald, were associated with M. H. Alworth, J. L. Washburn, W. C. Agnew, R. B. Whiteside and other financiers who have made history on the Mesaba, as well as the Vermilion and Cuyuna ranges.

Mr. Cole was interested in the Whiteside, Agnew, Buffalo and Susquehanna iron mines, on the Mesaba range, and started the Utica mine with John T. Jones. The company of which he was the president has been credited with the opening of most of the largest iron producers on the Mesaba range.

William H. Cole was born near Ontonagon, Mich., and received his education in the Michigan schools. When a young man he became interested in diamond drill work and did considerable exploration in Marquette county, Mich.

In 1885 he came to Tower, Minn., on the Vermilion range, to accept a position as superintendent of drilling activities for the old Minnesota Iron company. He continued in this capacity for seven years, resigning in the fall of 1892 to go into business as an independent diamond drill operator.

In the spring of 1893 the Cole & McDonald company was organized and in 1903 the firm name was changed to the Cole & McDonald Exploration company.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Phoebe Cole of Iron Mountain, Mich.; his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Frank H. Fregeau and Miss Alice Cole; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Cowan and Mrs. John Hutchings, both of Iron Mountain; and four brothers, George H. Cole, 1901 East Third street, Thomas F. Cole of Duluth and Deerwood, John J. Cole of Menominee, Mich., and Oscar Cole of Wakefield, Mich.

Mr. Cole was prominently identified with various civic, educational and social organizations of Duluth. He was a member of the Kitchi Gammi club, the Northland club, the Commercial club, and the Washington Harbor club at Isle Royale.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

"LADIES' CHOICE."

Mrs. Johnson Didn't Choose Her Husband and Trouble Began.

WHEN it was "ladies' choice," Mrs. William Johnson didn't ask her husband for the dance, but tripped around the hall with John Myohanen, and there the trouble started.

The head of the Johnson family hit Myohanen two or three times, spoiling a perfectly good tooth and breaking a pair of glasses, according to Myohanen's story in municipal court this morning, where Johnson is being tried for assault.

The trouble happened at a Finnish dance, held at a Lake avenue hall on the evening of Feb. 24. Since that time Johnson has been out of the city, and he was not arrested until yesterday.

"Can't you dance enough with single girls, without going around and picking out married women?" Johnson is alleged to have asked Myohanen.

"How can I tell whether a woman is married or not, when she asks me to dance, and I have never seen her before?" replied the dapper little barber, and the "stuff was off."

The hearing will not be finished until this afternoon. Attorney Victor Gran is appearing for the defendant, who is a bartender and lives at 264 South First avenue east.

FOR STEALING ROCK CRUSHER.

Prisoner Accused of Trying to Take 500-Pound Machine.

Five hundred-pound rock crushers aren't the easiest things in the world to steal, according to John W. Kelley, who was arrested by Sergeant Hunter yesterday as he was lifting one-half of the crusher to a dray with a hand derrick.

Alex Sang, 31 North Eighteenth avenue west, is the complainant in the case, which will be heard in municipal court this afternoon. Kelley is charged with petty larceny.

Although Kelley isn't a very big man, Sang says he caught him in the act of trying to steal his rock crusher, and he wants him punished.

ASKS CHIEF FOR A WIFE.

"Napoleon" Prefers One of Five Arrested in Recent Raid.

"I need a wife," says a postcard received by Chief of Police C. H. Troyer this morning from a man who signs himself "Napoleon," and gives his address as Bain, Minn. He signs what he says is his real name, but the police think it may be the work of a practical joker.

"Napoleon" evidently has a mind of his own, for he has picked out the woman he wants, or rather, one of several women who will be acceptable.

Five women who recently appeared in police court, three of them married, are named by this postcard Romeo, who asks the chief of police to act as his John Alden.

He is 37 years of age, five feet six inches tall, blue-eyed, brown-haired, and a Norwegian-American.

WAS MAN OF CAPITAL.

Dan Boardman Lived By "Flashing" $17.50 Time Slip.

Dan Boardman, aged 58, has been lodged at the Bethel and at police headquarters many times, but for five years he has carried in his pocket a time slip worth $17.50.

Flat broke, except for the much thumbed and badly tattered slip, he appeared at police headquarters this morning and asked for assistance. Probation Officer Hicks will attempt to straighten out the matter of the time slip.

"It's a big asset to him," declared the officer, speaking of the check. "All he has to do is to show the slip, and almost any lodging house keeper will give him a room, pending the time when the check is cashed."

Boardman received the slip April 5, 1910, for work he did for logging contractors at Floodwood.

PAY $350 IN FINES.

Four Women Caught in Raid Change Pleas to Guilty.

Four women, arrested in a rooming house raid Friday night, paid fines aggregating $350 in municipal court this morning, after changing their pleas from not guilty to guilty. Attorney James A. Wharton appeared for them.

These cases were the result of the police clean-up in the rooming house district Friday night. The next case will come up this afternoon.

Corine Hackley, aged 37, proprietress of a rooming house at 1119 West Michigan street, paid a $200 fine. She was charged with keeping a house of ill-fame and of conducting an unlicensed drinking place, being fined $100 on each count.

Gertrude Clark, aged 40; Ethel Chapman, aged 35, and Rose Godsey, aged 25, each were fined $50. They were charged with visiting a house of ill-fame.

MASONS TO VISIT SUPERIOR LODGE

Local Temple Band Will Take Part in Program.

Tomorrow evening Duluth Masons will accompany the Temple band to the special entertainment to be given by the Superior Masons in their large Masonic temple.

The band has been rehearsing especially for this entertainment and the local players promise to take an important part in the program. This is the first time that the local players have been invited by lodges outside of the city.

It is expected that a large number of Masons will visit the Superior lodge, as the invitation has been extended to all the Masonic bodies in Duluth.

AUTOMOBILE OVERTURNS

Five Injured, One Seriously, in Accident on Proctor Hill.

Six Passengers Have Miraculous Escape at Dangerous Spot.

Mrs. Louis Claussen, wife of the proprietor of the Proctor Dairy farm, had her arm crushed and sustained other serious injuries about the body, and four other passengers and the driver narrowly escaped with their lives when a large automobile turned turtle at the foot of Earl street in coming down the Proctor hill shortly before 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The machine is said to have turned over two or three times before being brought to a stop against boulders and stumps on the banks of Keene's creek, thirty feet below the level of the street.

In the car besides Mrs. Claussen were her daughter, Miss Mamie Claussen; Mrs. William R. Ives, wife of the engineer of the Bay View Heights incline station; Mrs. William Gadney of Lewiston, Mont., an aunt of Mrs. Ives, and Virgil Aydelotte, an employe of the dairy. The car was being demonstrated by Philip Gogne.

Shortly after leaving the top of the hill the driver is said to have told Aydelotte that he had lost control of the car on the slippery hill. The car was then going at an approximate rate of about twenty-five miles an hour and rapidly gaining in velocity. The driver attempted to make the turn at the foot of Earl street but was unsuccessful and the car went over the embankment.

The speed of the car caused it to turn completely over. The first turn dumped all of the occupants out, but Mrs. Claussen received her injury, it is believed, by being jammed between the car and the ground. The car continued its way, turning over into the gully.

People living two blocks up the hill saw the accident and immediately notified the authorities and called an ambulance. The victims were taken to the Duluth hospital. None of the occupants of the car, with the exception of Mrs. Claussen, sustained serious injuries. Mrs. Ives and Mrs. Gadney were bruised and will probably remain at the hospital for a few days. The driver was rendered unconscious, but recovered. Aydelotte sustained a cut on the forehead, but was able to go home last night, and Miss Claussen was also able to go home, having escaped without a scratch.

This hill is considered to be one of the most dangerous in the city, principally owing to the sharp turn at the foot of it. There is now under consideration a shifting of the bridge spanning Keene's creek to a position farther up the stream so that on coming down the hill the bridge would be just in front of the foot of the street. The turn on the roadway will then be on the east side of the creek instead of on the west bank.

REGISTRATION LIGHT.

Few Voters Visit Polling Stations Up to 12 o'Clock.

Registration in West Duluth was very light this forenoon. It appears that only a few of the residents are aware that they have to register today or Saturday in order to vote without the formality of filing an affidavit on election day.

At the West Duluth police station, which is the polling place for the thirty-sixth precinct, only fifty-four had registered at noon. The number was considerably less in the thirty-fifth precinct. Each of these precincts has nearly 400 voters.

The polls will be open until 9 o'clock this evening and again all day Saturday.

With the Curlers.

The state champions were taken into camp with little resistance by the F. H. Wade aggregation of curlers at the Western Curling rink last night. The Donald rink managed to lay only four stones while the Wade rink scored eleven. The other three scheduled games were not played.

This evening the finals in the Grand Avenue pharmacy event will be played between Evered and Donald rinks. Zauft will play F. H. Wade in the Bagley event and Charles Ilitis will play R. F. Wade in the Burns event.

Fire at Carbolite Plant.

Fire starting from the cupola at the American Carbolite plant gave the local department a run this morning. The damage to the place was slight. Sparks started the fire in the roof of the building but had not gained much headway when the fire department arrived.

Moose Election.

The West Duluth lodge, Loyal Order of Moose will hold its annual election of officers at the Moose hall, Central avenue and Ramsey street, tomorrow evening. There is said to be no contest for any of the offices.

A Smooth, Hairless Skin for Every Woman

(The Modern Beauty)

With the aid of a plain delatone paste it is an easy matter to rid the skin of unsightly hairy growth. The paste is made by mixing some water with powdered delatone. This is applied to the hairs not wanted and after 2 or 3 minutes rubbed off and the skin washed, when every trace of hair will have vanished. When you go to your druggist for delatone, be sure you get the genuine article.—Advertisement.

you will have many things to think of, things of which you have heretofore thought vaguely, but of which you must now think definitely and closely. You will be forced to rely upon specialists in the various building trades for advice in selection and arrangement. The mason, the carpenter, the heating contractor, etc., will all be glad to help you and you will need their help, for each is a specialist in his own line and knows things about it which the average man does not know.

Above all, you will need the help of the architect, for he is the Master Specialist of home building. Years of study and years of practice have made him a specialist not only in design and construction, but in the multitude of practical details that enter into every building. He sees them as a complete whole as no other person connected with the building can. Each of the tradesmen can advise you in the problems of his own trade, but the architect can advise you in the intricate correlation of all of these—to the end you so ardently desire, the creation of an artistic home—beautiful because practical and harmonious.

The trained architect sees the home as a whole, complete and occupied. He places the furniture in his mind's eye on the plans. He foresees the effects of decoration and furnishings, and plans for those effects. He foresees the necessities of housekeeping and provides for them. He can with the most modest priced materials obtain for his clients' needs a building most appropriate and with enduring charm. He knows not only what heating is best to use for your building construction and exposure—where the piping can and must go—what kind, size and shape of radiator for each room, hall, etc.,—but where it can best be placed to exert greatest heating efficiency with the most artistic and unobtrusive effect.

The leading feature of any home is comfort

There is one feature of a building which more than any other, all architects now, unitedly and strenuously, strive to have adopted. Every architect knows that no matter how clever the plan, no matter how harmonious or in good taste are the completed structure, trim and decorations, when the days arrive of cutting winds and sudden temperature drops there will be trouble for his client and for him if the heating outfit fails to respond. The finer the furnishings, the greater will be the contrast and emphasis on any lack of heating comfort. Every one of the million outfits of IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators now in use in both Americas, Europe, Australia and Japan is giving topmost satisfaction and the fuel savings have already repaid or are fast repaying the original cost—everyone is a paying-investment, not an expense. Further, each outfit will give ideal results as long as the building endures in which it is placed!

Always consult an architect—even before you buy a lot

When you build your home, your first step—even before you buy your lot—should be to employ the trained architect, for he can help you choose the correct setting for the kind of building you want to erect, as well as to assist you in putting heart into your home by selecting and placing your radiator heating outfit to do best work with the least amount of fuel and care-taking. Ask your architect—ask any architect what heating he would use if he were building his own home. His answer will be: "IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators are the best that money can buy, yet cost no more. They are fully guaranteed." Whether your building is a store, office, school, church, flat, farm or city house, etc., ask to-day for free book: "Ideal Heating," full of big facts you ought to know. Puts you under no obligation to buy.

Ask also for catalog of the stationary, genuine, unfailing ARCO WAND Vacuum Cleaners—at $150 up.

Kansas City Federal League Team's Former President Witness in Court.

Chicago, March 9.—C. C. Madison, former president of the Kansas City Federal league club, testified before Judge Baldwin in the circuit court here today, where owners of this club are seeking to enjoin the transfer of its franchise to Newark, N. J. He was cross-examined by Edward E. Gates, attorney for the league, which is defendant in the suit. Mr. Madison was present at a meeting of the league in Chicago Feb. 28, 1914.

"The franchise agreement in which the clubs agreed to assign their stock to the league was not read during the meeting, at least while I was there," said the witness. "It was handed around after the meeting, but there was no discussion of it."

The stock of the Kansas City club was assigned with the others, Mr. Madison said, and Mr. Gates asked him why he didn't.

"I understood the other clubs had done the same thing, the idea being that the league would be protected against the loyalty of any club," replied Mr. Madison. "I was so little impressed with the terms of the agreement, feeling that our rights were not affected by it, that I made no protest against its acceptance."

SAFER TO FOLLOW ORDINANCE RULES

City Attorney's Opinion on Water Department Mix-up Forecasted.

City Attorney Clapp is of the opinion that the various city departments would be safer in introducing resolutions authorizing promotions or increases in salaries for the various employes, instead of making the changes, as was done by the water and light department during February. However, he will not make his final report on the question for a few days.

Last Thursday afternoon increases in salaries of two employes were canceled by the council, because Commissioner Merritt had failed to introduce a resolution authorizing the changes. C. W. Cate had been promoted from assistant cashier to cashier with an increase from $110 to $120 a month, and W. F. Haig was promoted from assistant clerk to clerk at a salary of $70 a month.

When the payrolls were audited by City Auditor Campbell, he discovered the two changes, and because no authority had been given the department to make the promotions, refused to allow the increases. On Thursday morning Manager Reed placed Mr. Cate back to assistant cashier at a salary of $110 month. However, at the special meeting in the afternoon, the council reduced Mr. Haig's salary back to $60 and the payroll was passed.

It was then that the matter was placed in the hands of City Attorney Clapp for a decision. He said this morning that he will have an opinion ready for the meeting next Monday.

RETIRING OFFICIAL MADE GOOD RECORD

Chamberlain, S. D., March 9.—Major W. C. Kohlenberg has resigned as agent for the Crow Creek Indians and withdrawn from the service. He has had a remarkable record in his eighteen years of service. He has never had a complaint made against him, and consequently never been visited by an inspector. Major Haywood has been appointed to succeed him. Kohlenberg will engage in business with J. Q. Anderson at the Crow Creek agency.

WANT SLAVIC REPUBLIC

Slovenians, Serbians and Croatians Will Convene at Chicago.

Will Ask Independence From Austria—Duluthians Will Attend.

Slovenians, Serbians and Croatians of Duluth and the iron ranges will be represented at a convention of South Slavic nationals from all parts of the United States which will be held tomorrow at Chicago. Ljubo Bogecivich and Louis Vukasav of this city and George L. Brozich of Ely will attend from this part of the state. Mr. Bogecivich will represent the recently organized South Slavic Naturalization Club of Duluth; Mr. Vukasav will be a delegate from three Serbian societies which had headquarters at West Duluth, and Brozich will represent his countrymen in the range towns.

The purpose of the convention will be to formulate plans for making a world-wide demand upon the warring powers for a South Slavic republic and greater independence from Austria and her ally, Germany. According to Mr. Bogecivich similar conventions have been held in Rome and in London and both conventions will have delegates in attendance at the Chicago meeting. The Slovenians, Croatians and Serbians who are behind the movement are not in sympathy with the war although some of their own countrymen are fighting under Austrian colors.

The convention will be held at the La Salle hotel ad will last for two days. Prominent Slavs from all parts of the country will attend.

Go to Church Sunday.

BUSINESS DULL IN PORT ARTHUR

Resident Paints Dark Picture of the Conditions There.

Mark Ross, a theatrical man of Port Arthur, who is in Duluth today looking over the local field with an inclination to invest here, gives a doleful description of conditions on the other side of the international line.

"There are today 550 vacant houses in Port Arthur," said Mr. Ross at the St. Louis hotel. "It is estimated that 5,000 persons have left Port Arthur during the last six months. With the opening of navigation on the Great Lakes there will be more residents of both Port Arthur and Fort William leaving for the states.

"A business block in Port Arthur, valued at something more than $300,000 was lost the other day because the owner, a prosperous citizen of Port Arthur, was unable to carry the loan of $80,000 on the property.

"One of the reasons why the banks of Canada are refusing to loan money, is that the government is keeping money in reserve for its own use. I venture to say that with collateral valued at several thousands of dollars you would find it impossible to realize a loan of a few dollars."

Mr. Ross declared that many persons in Canada were inclined to the belief that the war would end before the lapse of another six months. He also ventured the prediction that another six months of war would result in demoralized industrial conditions.

ROUTS HIS FAMILY; THEN FIRES HOME

Farmer of Adolph Is Arrested on Charge of Arson.

After his wife and child, frightened at his threats, had fled to the neighbors for protection, Nels Nelson, a farmer living near Adolph, Minn., started two fires in his home, one upstairs and one down, and then sat down on the kitchen table to wait for developments. At least that is the story told in municipal court yesterday afternoon when Nelson was examined on a charge of arson.

A school teacher living with the Nelsons came home in time to put out the blaze, Nelson being asleep on the table while the fire burned. He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Burdash, who brought him to Duluth for trial. He was bound over to the grand jury.

The house belongs to Emil Bjorlin, 2710 West Second street.

INJURY ACTION GOES TO JURY

Barney Nasey Seeks to Recover Damages for Son's Death.

A district court jury is deliberating this afternoon on the question of what damages, if any, Barney Nasey is entitled to receive from August Meriranto and Gust Heino, owners of the Independent bakery at the West end, on account of the death of his 5-year-old son. Bernard Nasey, on Aug. 10, 1914, was riding his tricycle on Superior street and Twenty-third avenue west when he was run over and fatally injured by a horse attached to a bakery delivery wagon, according to the claims of the father, who is suing in the capacity of administrator. Closing arguments were made this morning by A. E. Parker, attorney for the plaintiff, and O. J. Larson representing the defendant. The case went to the jury at 11:35 o'clock this morning.

The jury engaged at the trial of the suit brought by Mrs. Frances Owens against Mrs. A. E. Gilmore and W. A. Hall, her divorced husband, to recover $2,500 claimed to have been paid on a contract for a deed to a 10-acre tract of Texas fruit land, may take the case this afternoon. The taking of testimony was concluded this morning in Judge Fesler's division of the court.

In Judge Cant's room, trial of the suit brought by William J. Wallace against the Higgins Land company to recover $50,000 for services as a cruiser and explorer performed between May 1, 1908 and Feb. 1, 1912, was resumed this morning. The plaintiff was on the stand testifying in this own behalf during the entire morning session of court.

JANNETT FAILS TO GET NEW TRIAL

Sued Traction Company for $1,030; Said He was Assaulted.

Carl Jannett is not entitled to a new trial of his personal injury action against the Duluth Street Railway company, according to a decision handed down in district court by Judge Ensign today. The court denied a motion for a retrial of the suit recently decided adversely to him.

Jannett demanded $1,030 damages. He claimed that while a passenger on a Duluth-Superior car Nov. 16, 1914, he was assaulted by Bert Moorer, a conductor, and struck over the head several times with a steel ticket punch. Jannett claimed that he was cut about the head and face. The trouble arose when Moorer accused Jannett of expectorating on the floor.

The case was tried at the January term of court, G. A. E. Finlayson appearing as attorney for Jannett and Thomas S. Wood as counsel for the traction company. On Feb. 5, last, a jury returned a verdict in favor of the street railway company.

SHARTEL QUITS WESTERN CANADA

Labor Leader Returns to Duluth; Dominion in Bad Business Shape.

Joseph Shartel, for years one of the labor leaders of Duluth and a former member of the city council, is back in Duluth and is likely to remain here.

For several years he has been in the Canadian Northwest and has been conducting a hotel at a town between Edmonton and Saskatoon, but has just sold out. He arrived in Duluth yesterday and is not going back.

"Canada is in bad shape," said Mr. Shartel to The Herald. "It seems that every able-bodied man—the men who make and conduct business and who operate the farms and raise the crops—seems overly eager to go to the front. Canada is doing wonders for the empire, but it sometimes seems to me that if the subjects of a nation or empire did not show such eagerness to serve her in war there would be less likelihood of war.

"Canadians and Americans who have gone over there are enlisting or looking for a chance to, and the result is that, aside from the natural dullness caused by the war itself, the depression is enhanced by the scarcity of men producing things, and by their turning their attention to matters military instead of to business.

"Canada, right now," continued Mr. Shartel, "is a good place to stay out of if you are figuring on moving and a good place to get out of if you are in. I may stay in Duluth or go further west. I do not know yet, but I will not return to Canada."

BOCK BEER FLOWS; SPRING HAS COME

Dark Amber Beverage Now Being Served Over the Mahogany.

Spring has come.

"How do I know?" says the Duluthian; "because bock beer is on the market."

This sign, declares the admirer of the dark amber liquid, is a "sure" sign; more sure than the bursting of pussy willow buds, the babbling of the brooks, and the laying aside of the winter overcoat.

Bock or "buck" beer, as it is sometimes called, always makes its appearance in March and then disappears again. This custom is said to prevail all over the United States wherever beer is drunk. It seldom appears in bottles, but is handed out over the mahogany.

Bock beer, according to authorities, is a heavier and darker beer than other more common brands, and resembles lager beer and ale to a certain extent. Some say there is more food value in bock beer than other brands. Others say it is more "filling" but not more nourishing. One Duluthian, however, is responsible for the statement that "three glasses of bock beer are as good as a meal."

GOOD ADVICE IN KIDNEY TROUBLE

I have been troubled with my Kidneys for many years. One day I could hardly move, and someone told me to get a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, which I did, and in a few days I was all right. About seven years ago I was in such a condition that my children had to lift me out of bed. I wanted Swamp-Root, but they got a doctor. I sent for Swamp-Root and didn't take the doctor's medicine; Swamp-Root did the work. Swamp-Root is the remedy, if the Kidneys are ever out of order again.

Yours very truly,
A. KIRCHHOFF,
132 Wyekoff Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Personally appeared before me, this 4th day of February, 1914, A. Kirchhoff, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

DECREASE IS BUT SMALL

Considering that this is the off-season in business and financial circles, Duluth's national and state banks made creditable showings in their statements of conditions as on March 4, made yesterday at the call of the comptroller of the treasury.

Compared with preceding statement of Dec. 31 last, deposits showed a falling off of $374,743.21, in an aggregate amounting to $22,707,623.28. Deposits of the four national banks footed up to $21,734,270.77, a decrease of $366,671.19, and the five state banks to $973,352.51, showing a modest drop of $8,072.02. It is the invariable rule for deposits to decrease at this season, and the decline shown in the statements is nothing more than normal. In the opinion of local bankers, deposits stand at about their low points of the year, and an improvement is predicted from now on.

Loans also show a material reduction, and in that connection too a change for the better is expected as the inquiry for funds to finance spring operations is beginning to appear in some volume. Discounts of the national banks were reported at $20,253,176.95, a decrease of $1,398,512.66 from the Dec. 31 statement, and the state banks had $866,811.95 outstanding in loans, a falling off of $58,158.88.

The national banks were shown to be in a strong position in the way of cash reserves, that item footing up to $6,080,084.07, an increase of $905,737.45 over the preceding return.

BRAINERD'S MAYOR AND COUNCIL IN ROW

Disagreement Over Police Appointments Affords Acute Situation.

Brainerd, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Friction exists between the city council and Mayor R. A. Henning regarding police affairs. The council discharged Officer Albert Scott. The mayor appointed A. E. Evans patrolman until Officer Scott was restored to duty with pay. The council refused to confirm Evans' appointment. The mayor discharged Chief S. W. Quinn, claiming the police showed a lack of confidence in him and that he is unable to maintain harmony. The mayor appointed Charles Varner to succeed Chief Quinn and the appointment was referred to the police committee.

Officer Scott, found guilty in municipal court of disorderly conduct, on his own plea of guilty, the complainant being Alderman George Hess, chairman of the police committee, has served notice on the council that he denies their power to discharge him in the manner in which they have attempted and that he asserts his right to continue to serve and to receive pay as a member of the force until removed from office in accordance with the provisions of the city charter.

Quinn's Friends Active.

Friends of Quinn are circulating petitions asking for his reinstatement as chief. Mayor Henning submitted charges against two saloons alleging they sold liquor out of hours and the council set the hearing for March 19.

On July 1, twenty-one liquor licenses at $1,000 each expire and the city charter drawn up with no contemplation of any Sahara experience in sight, makes little provision for extra taxation in such an emergency. A new city charter, the business manager plan, is to be voted on April 6 and if carried may bridge the difficulty.

STANDARDIZED POTATOES.

One Grade Urged Among Crow Wing County Youthful Growers.

Brainerd, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Boys and girls of Crow Wing county are to be encouraged to plant one variety of potatoes. The chamber of commerce appropriated $50 to the agricultural committee for the purchase of No. 1 Carmen seed potatoes, to be distributed among the boys and girls of the county between the ages of 10 and 16 years, in an effort to standardize the potatoes grown throughout the county. Through the co-operation of County Agricultural Agent A. J. Gafke, every boy and girl in the county will be encouraged to enter the contest and will be given enough seed potatoes to plant a required area. The Northern Minnesota Development association has expressed a willingness to co-operate by offering suitable prizes to be awarded according to a schedule now being prepared. Already sufficient funds have been guaranteed to carry out the plans of the committee and county agent.

ITALY ON EVE OF DECISIVE EVENTS

Trip of Premier and Meeting of Ministers Arouse Comment.

Rome, Monday, March 8, 8:10 p. m., (via Paris, March 9, 11:40 a. m.)—Premier Salandro after his visit Sunday to Gaeta to inaugurate a new military harbor, a journey during which a very considerable degree of national feeling was manifested, had a long interview with Foreign Minister Sonnino today. Tonight the council of ministers was in session. These facts, together with other indications, lead to the widespread belief that Italy today is upon the eve of great decisive events.

One of the premier's remarks at Gaeta, is attracting considerable attention. Referring to the kind of brown bread allowed in Italy after March 22, Signor Salandra said:

"This is a noble bread. Our soldiers will be the first to be sacrificed and Italians will see the destiny of their country accomplished."

CITY LEADS IN HEALTH

Typhoid Record Shows Decrease—State Shows Opposite Condition.

Most Cases in Duluth Come From Outside Points.

That Duluth occupies a rather enviable position when it comes to the typhoid fever record, as compared with the state at large, is shown in cold figures, emanating from the local health department and from the state board of health. In Duluth the typhoid fever record shows what may be termed a minimum standing, and shows also a decrease from former years, while the state, as a whole, shows an increase. Figures for 1912, 1913 and 1914 are given as an indication.

In Duluth for these years the number of cases reported to the health department, together with the deaths recorded, are as follows:

	Cases.	Deaths.
1912	100	19
1913	140	21

The available state figures do not give the number of deaths, but the cases reported show the following totals for the respective three years: 1912, 721; 1913, 1,304, and 1914, 1,399.

It is declared that in years previous to 1912, the number of cases reported was larger, but the figures have shown a steady decrease ever since the famous epidemic of years ago, which caused the memorable water fight.

Most Cases Not Local.

It is also declared by the local health authorities that the number of cases reported and deaths recorded in Duluth must not be charged up against the city, for, it is asserted, fully 75 per cent—and that, it is claimed, is a conservative figure—are cases brought in from neighboring towns and from lumber camps for treatment at hospitals here; so that Duluth itself shows scarcely anything in the way of typhoid. The superior quality of drinking water with which the city is blessed is given chief credit for the lack of the disease here, and in addition to that, the strict health regulations and their enforcement and the constant watchfulness to prevent insanitary conditions cut a very large figure.

Danger Ages.

A recent statement issued by the state health department as to the "danger ages" in which typhoid is most likely to develop is in accordance with the observation of the Duluth health department. It is declared that typhoid is most common in persons between the ages of 20 and 24 and rarely occurs in persons over 60 years of age. This conclusion is confirmed by records for 1913 of Michigan and Pennsylvania health departments. In this connection the statement of the state health department says:

"It is to be borne in mind that the figures are based upon reported cases and that the distribution of such cases may vary to some extent from the distribution of the disease itself. It may be that typhoid fever is more generally recognized, possibly more readily so, between the ages of 5 and 25.

"It is within the bounds of possibility that the disease may exist to a greater extent than is indicated by the figures given in other age groups, but not be so frequently recognized. If the disease is overlooked in this way, however, the probabilities are that it is in the age group under 5 years."

Duluth and State Statistics.

As to sex, the Duluth health department records show the following cases for the three years:

	Male.	Female.
1912	67	33
1913	120	20
1914	70	33

The city's tabulation for the three years, according to age, embracing five-year periods, follows:

	1912.	1913.	1914.
1 to 4	5	1	3
5 to 9	8	4	7
10 to 14	10	5	13

BUTTER MAKERS ARE IN SESSION

Eighteenth Annual Convention of National Association at Mason City.

Mason City, Iowa, March 9.—The eighteenth annual convention of the National Creamery Butter Makers' association opened here today with delegates from all parts of the country in attendance. The sessions will continue until Thursday night. J. J. Farrell of Carver, Minn., is president of the association. His annual address was a feature of today's session.

M. E. Brunner of Fort Atkinson, Wis., declared that in return for the money spent for instruction and inspection the farmers of Wisconsin were getting from 1 to 4 cents per pound more for their butter than those of neighboring states having equal market advantages. "Any difficulty encountered in the marketing of butter nowadays," said Mr. Brunner, "lies with the more finely cultivated taste of the consuming public, with which we must keep pace."

Mr. Brunner reviewed the history of butter making from the crude methods of fifty and seventy-five years ago to the present time.

Other speakers on today's program were Allen Carswell of Clear Lake, Wis. H. D. Wendt of Lansing, Mich., H. O. Horneman of Watseka, Ill., and E. J. Holmers of Braham, Minn.

Martin E. Meyer of Madison, Wis., secretary of the association, read his annual report, showing the organization to be in a prosperous condition.

UNITED STATES SHIPS ORDERED TO MEXICO

ican capital. President Wilson referred to the fear of outrages there as being more pressing at present than anything that had already occurred. The fear was, he said, that the city would be evacuated and left without protection.

No request had come from any foreign government, the president said, for action by the United States in Mexico, although diplomatic representatives of two foreign countries had expressed their anxiety over affairs in the southern republic. The president referred only briefly to the new naval movements, saying two battleships were going to Vera Cruz from Guantanamo, preparatory to sending others home for repairs. At the navy department it has been said earlier that none of the ships at Vera Cruz would be relieved until conditions in Mexico had improved.

Under the order dispatched to Rear Admiral Fletcher the ships going to Vera Cruz may be under command of Rear Admiral Mayo of the first division, whose flagship is the Arkansas; Rear Admiral Boush of the second division, whose flag is on the Utah; Rear Admiral Coffman of the third division, whose flagship is the Virginia or Rear Admiral McLean, commanding the fourth division, whose flag is on the Connecticut.

No complaints have come as to conditions in the territory under control of Villa, the president said, although he had been informed that for seventy-five miles south of the American border there was some distress and fear of famine.

Duval West, personal representative of the president, who has been conferring with Gen. Villa and his subordinate generals, is now on his way to Mexico City where he will make an investigation of conditions there.

While Mr. West has reported his movements to the president, he has not sent any reports and probably will make them in person when he returns.

The following statement was issued by the department:

"The department is in receipt of advices, dated March 8, from Eagle Pass, stating that on the evening of March 7, the Villistas captured Allende after a fight lasting two hours. The Carranzistas are reported to be in full retreat towards Nuevo Laredo. Piedras Negras was being evacuated on the eighth. All documents and custom house books have been moved to the American side. It is stated that the railroad is being torn up from Piedras Negras to Nava. It is said that aside from the destruction of the railroad, it is not anticipated there will be any destruction of property. Piedras Negras is reported quiet and there is no exodus as yet to the American side."

IF YOUR HAIR IS NOT AS THICK AS THIS GIRL'S IS, YOU SURELY DO NEED CRYSTOLIS.

People who are bald or whose hair is thinning rapidly, and who have tried various hair tonics and treatments without success, usually come at last to the conclusion that hair once lost can never be restored and that they must either wear false hair, wigs, toupees, etc., or parade their bald head in public to the grave. Yet the fact remains that the well known Creslo Laboratories of Binghamton, N. Y., who over two years ago purchased the exclusive American rights to the wonderful English Hair Remedy, "Crystolis," and who have since offered it to the public on numerous occasions through these columns, are continually receiving voluntary letters from people all over the country, similar to the following:

P. C. Schilling writes: "I am simply astonished at the beneficial results obtained. My hair has stopped falling and a healthy growth of hair has been produced on the part of my head that was bald. On the rest of my head where there was hair the growth is much thicker than it was when I began the use of Crystolis. I had been bald for years."

Viola Yeo writes: "Since using your treatment my scalp is in perfect condition. My hair has grown about two inches and has thickened considerably."

Mrs. G. Lentz writes: "I have been using Crystolis for six weeks. My hair has grown fully one inch longer, and I can see new hair coming in all over my head."

No one has ever been asked to buy Crystolis on faith, nor has a single claim or promise ever been made for it in any individual case. Every treatment, however, has been sold on the absolute guarantee, backed by a $1,000 deposit in a local bank, that Crystolis must grow hair on the user's head or the money paid for it will be refunded on demand. In two years more than 60,000 treatments were sent out subject to this guarantee and less than 5 per cent of the people asked for their money back.

You don't have to believe in Crystolis to grow hair from its use. You just use it as directed night and morning for six weeks. At the end of two weeks look in your mirror to see the bald, bare thin spots on your scalp covered with a multitude of tiny new hairs that, once started, grow with marvelous rapidity.

The formula of Crystolis is secret, and has been disclosed to only a limited few who are actively engaged in its production, but it is known to contain a number of ingredients well recognized as tending to stimulate hair growth, and these are so skillfully and judiciously blended in their proportions that as an invigorator and revitalizer of the hair follicles and a destroyer of dandruff it seems to have no equal in modern medical annals.

We ask every reader—man or woman who is losing his or her hair—who is bald or whose hair is thinning to send the Free Coupon below. Send no money. We don't care how bald you may be, or how long you have been bald. We make no claims, no promises, but merely ask you to try Crystolis six weeks at our risk. Either Crystolis will grow hair on your head or it won't, and the only way you can ever know is to try it.

We give you a binding guarantee, without any "strings" or red tape, that it won't cost you a cent if we do not prove to you that "Crystolis" will grow hair on your head, and what's important we have plenty of money to back our guarantee. $1,000 has been deposited in our local bank as a Special Fund to be forfeited if we fail to comply with this contract. Cut out the coupon below and mail it today to Creslo Laboratories, 382 R street, Binghamton, N. Y.

BIG BLIZZARD IS RECALLED

Anniversary of Storm That Completely Buried Zenith City.

City's Business Halted for Three Days; Many Went Hungry.

Although twenty-three years intervene, the famous blizzard of March 9, 1892, which swept Duluth and caused a complete stoppage of business for three days is still fresh in the memory of scores of residents of the city, and will not be forgotten as long as any of them survive.

That blizzard—for it was a real one—was the only storm that was entitled to the name in the history of the city—at least since the weather bureau was established here and that was forty-five years ago. Weather Forecaster Richardson says that the records show that the storm possessed all of the necessary characteristics to entitle it to the designation.

The storm began on the morning of March 9, 1892 and did not subside until the evening of the following day. At its beginning the thermometer registered 5 deg. above zero, and at the finish the mercury had gone down to 5 deg. below. The start was with a fine snow and a wind blowing from the northeast. The wind continued to increase in velocity and at 3 o'clock in the afternoon had reached proportions of a heavy gale, snow falling all of the time. At the hour named the wind was blowing at a rate of fifty miles an hour with occasional gusts reaching to sixty miles an hour.

One Man Killed.

During the storm, aside from the fact that the business of the city was completely halted, a great deal of damage was done by the storm. The casualty toll of the gale was one man killed and several others severely injured, they being caught when a large smokestack at West Duluth was blown down. Smashing of windows and store fronts, and the blowing down of signs, wires and poles were too common to recount. The total damage amounted to thousands of dollars.

Street cars became blocked early in the morning, so fast did the snow fall and drift, and the service was not resumed until well into March 11. All trains were held and did not get out for several days, nor did any arrive.

Thirteen inches of snow fell during the blizzard and the high wind drifted it, in places, to the depth of six to ten feet, and so hard that, after the storm, people walked over the tops of the drifts.

Deliveries of groceries and other goods were impossible during March 9 and 10 and part of March 11, and, as a consequence, the residents of the city who did not happen to have a supply of edibles on hand had to go on short rations. These cases were common, and in many instances during the 10th, many families did not have anything at all to eat. They had ample company, for the storm caught a lot of people in their stores and offices.

Imprisoned in Offices.

Those who were downtown on their usual business and delayed too long in going home were, for the most part, unable to get home until the storm had subsided. This was necessitated not only because of the danger attending the venturing out in the storm because of its blinding quality and because of the danger from live wires and falling signs and poles, but the snow in many instances drifted to such an extent as to prevent egress from buildings, completely blocking the entrances and holding the occupants prisoners until they were literally dug out. In many cases, after the storm had begun to let up on March 11, people escaped from second-story windows of buildings, walking over the packed drifts to clear spaces.

The worst part of the gale was over late in the afternoon of the 11th, but the city did not begin to resume a normal aspect until well into the 12th. Large crews of men had to be set to work to shovel passages through the drifts, for at the time it was impossible to clear the drifts away, and the best that could be done to facilitate matters was to simply clear passages where necessary.

In all the history of Duluth there never has been before or since such a storm nor such a complete tieup of business from that or any other cause, and it is believed that it will stand in the records for many years, at least, as the high water mark for storms in this vicinity.

GEN. CARRANZE MAKES DENIAL

Carranza would no longer approve any inconvenience to foreigners.

Meanwhile, however, orders went forward to Rear Admiral Fletcher, commanding the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo, to send two more battleships to Vera Cruz.

Promises Early Reply.

Carranza promised an early reply, Mr. Silliman reported. Eliseo Arredondo, hitherto Washington representative of Carranza, and other advisers were present during the conference.

Consul Silliman's dispatches from Vera Cruz saying the American note was formally presented to Gen. Carranza in person yesterday afternoon arrived just before the cabinet meeting today and were laid before President Wilson as the cabinet officers assembled. Some of the cabinet members, because of Carranza's denials, felt encouraged in the belief that Carranza would give assurances of protection to foreigners and permit supplies to reach the Mexican capital, and prevent a crisis.

The Carranza agency issued a statement claiming that Monterey has been captured by Carranza forces with many prisoners and a large amount of war supplies.

The state department was advised that Piedras Negras had been evacuated by Carranza troops who went toward Nueve Laredo.

she was called to the witness stand by the defense.

Mr. Kennedy, for the benefit of the jury, sketched the case of Thaw from the night he shot Stanford White and explained how he came to be confined in Matteawan until August, 1913.

"There were only two methods by which Thaw could have been released legally from the asylum, Mr. Kennedy continued. The first was by suing out a writ of habeas corpus and the second was upon the recommendation of the hospital superintendent.

"Thaw did avail himself of these methods," said Mr. Kennedy. "He sued out various writs of habeas corpus, the first within a month and a half after his commitment. Had any of the numerous hospital superintendents held the belief that he had recovered his sanity and was no longer a danger to the public peace and safety they could have made a recommendation to a justice of the supreme court, which would have caused his release."

Describes Escape.

The assistant attorney general then described the escape of Thaw. He told how Thompson hired the big automobile in which Thaw fled and how the alleged conspirators gathered at the town of Beacon, adjoining Matteawan, the day before the escape. Then he told how Thaw leaped into the machine and fled, when a milkman opened a gate leading to the main gate of the hospital. He said that Thaw transferred to another auto, a six-cylinder machine, and dashed away.

Thaw next appeared at Lenox, Mass., where he registered under an assumed name, said Mr. Kennedy. He sketched completely the subsequent events leading to Thaw's arrest in Canada and the legal steps since then.

Mr. Kennedy said the state would offer evidence to prove that Thaw not only was insane at the time of his escape but that he was insane now. That, however, the assistant attorney general said, did not excuse him for conspiring to commit a crime; for, according to the law, an insane person is responsible for a criminal act unless it can be proved that he did not know his act of escape was a crime.

After Mr. Kennedy concluded, John B. Stanchfield, for the defense, made motions to dismiss the indictment on the ground that the alleged facts were not sufficient to constitute a crime and there was nothing to show that Thaw knew there was anything wrong in escaping. The motions were denied.

William Penny, clerk of the court, the first witness, identified the record of Thaw's second trial and the papers upon which Thaw was committed to Matteawan.

ernment received not long ago a friendly inquiry from the United States calling attention to the difference between the Japanese and Chinese versions of the series of demands made by Japan upon China, shortly after Japan ousted the Germans from their Kiao-Chow concession and which for two months past have been a subject of negotiation at Peking.

In reply Japan has communicated a supplementary note to the great powers in which she summarizes the articles not included in her first statement on this subject. She explains that these articles being in the nature of requests concerning old and long pending questions between herself and China she had not felt previously any obligation to impart them to the powers.

It is generally understood in Tokio that neither the United States nor any European powers has registered objection to the Japanese demands and the impression prevails here that Japan is determined to bring about an acceptance of most if not all of them.

of flames forward. I ordered all the crew to their stations and as the ship was in a mist I gave direction to stop the vessel in order that I might leave the bridge for the scene of the blaze. We discovered flames eating their way toward the postoffice and beginning to attack neighboring cabins.

Flames Spreading.

"We discovered that the flames were spreading to the partitions and floor of Compartment No. 2 so as to involve a large amount of freight. Believing that so large a part of the cargo might take fire and finding we were not able to deal with it easily I decided to send out a call for aid. Meanwhile through holes made in the partitions we obtained a view of the fire which then was attacked with jets of water and steam. Sunday morning the 7th, we had mastered the blaze and the danger was past."

Owing to the early arrival of La Touraine at Havre nearly all the passengers were able to proceed to Paris on the train leaving at 6 p. m.

The ship shows no external sign of the fire. It was admitted that military supplies were included in the cargo which was threatened.

had long experience in the larceny of elections and he knew not only how it could be done but upon whom he could rely to do it. He made his appointments of city employes largely upon their qualifications as election manipulators.

About 2,000 false registrations were prepared at Terre Haute police headquarters by Chief of Police Edward Holler, who pleaded guilty, at the direction of Roberts, Mr. Dailly told the jury. He said Roberts and Holler decided on the number of false registrations to make in each precinct and then set about manufacturing names for the fictitious voters. About 3,000 false registrations were made in Terre Haute, Mr. Dailey declared.

Slush Fund.

In dealing with the "slush fund," Mr. Dailey produced a table to show how much money Roberts assessed from saloon men and resort keepers for registration and election purposes. Assistant Chief of Police John Nugent, who has pleaded guilty, was Roberts' collector, Mr. Dailey told the jurors. Chief Holler and Eli H. Redman, a defendant, who was declared elected circuit court judge in the November election, also collected part of the fund which, the district attorney said, totaled about $6,000.

Mayor Roberts, the government's counsel asserted, "called a meeting of his hand-picked election inspectors and told them that no one had a right to touch the voting machines except the inspectors and that when a man entered for voting, the inspectors should do the work."

Manipulated Machines.

Roberts also demonstrated on a voting machine the manner in which a vote would not be registered, he declared. Oftentimes, Mr. Dailey said, the inspectors would pull down the Democratic lever, forcing the voter to vote that ticket; if the voter protested vigorously, the inspector would permit him to vote again, thus pairing the votes and leaving both uncounted.

"The Roberts inspectors," Mr. Dailey asserted, "always stood in a position to see how a person voted and, if the voter voted 'right' communicated with the man on the outside who handled the money."

As an example of the methods used by repeaters, Mr. Dailey gave the following: "One of the fellows who was busy repeating in precinct A, Sixth ward, was a one-legged colored man, who voted eight times in the precinct; one time he came with a peg-leg; another time he wore a cork leg; the third time without anything strapped on; the fourth time, an iron extension leg; another time with one crutch; one time for the purpose of deception, he wore glasses."

GERMANS WITHDRAW FROM BANKS OF NIEMAN

pers express the belief that King Constantine will hold Greece to a course of neutrality.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 9, via London, 3 p. m.—The general staff of the German army today gave out a report on the progress of the war reading as follows:

"In the western arena of the war: In the hills of Loretta our troops have captured two more trenches from the French. They took prisoners six officers and 250 men and captured two machine guns and two small cannon.

"In the Champagne district the fighting at Souain has not yet come to an end. To the northeast of Le Mesnil, the enemy, who had prepared to make an advance was impeded by our artillery.

"In the Vosges the mist and snow render fighting difficult. The engagements to the west of Munster and to the north of Sennheim continue.

"In the eastern arena: East and south of Augustowo, Russian attacks have failed with heavy losses to the enemy. At a point to the northeast of Lomza the enemy left 800 prisoners in our hands after an unsuccessful attack. To the northwest of Ostrolenko, a battle has developed which is still going on. In engagements to the west and northwest of Przasnysz, which ended favorably to us, we took 3,000 prisoners. Russian attacks to the north of Rawa and to the northwest of Nowemiasto have proved ineffective. Seventeen hundred and fifty Russians were taken prisoners in these engagements."

French Statement.

Paris, March 9.—3:30 p. m.—The war office this afternoon announced:

"The only events reported to this office since the issuance of the last communication was a violent bombardment by the enemy last night from the region to the east of Steenstraete, which is south of Dixmude, followed by an unsuccessful attempt at attack, and several attacks made by the enemy at Reihackerkopf, all of which were easily repulsed."

From Russia.

Petrograd, March 9.—An official communication from the general staff of the Russian Caucasian army says:

"Our troops on March 7 occupied an important position in the region beyond the River Tchoruk (Turkish Armenia), throwing back the Turks to the southwest and inflicting upon them serious losses.

"On the other front there were no engagements."

Operations of Fleet.

London, March 9.—The British admiralty last night made public the following statement concerning the operations of the allied fleet against the Dardanelles.

"The operations against the Dardanelles are progressing in fine weather. Vice Admiral Sackville H. Carden reports that on the 6th of March the battleship Queen Elizabeth, supported by the battleships Agamemnon and Ocean, began an attack on Forts Hamidieh I, Tabia and Hamidieh III, which were marked on the admiralty map as forts U and V, by indirect fire across the Gallipoli peninsula, firing at 21,000 yards.

"These forts are armed as follows: Fort U, two 14-inch guns and seven 9.4-inch guns; Fort V, two 14-inch, one 9.4, one 8.2 and four 4.9-inch guns.

"The Queen Elizabeth was replied to by howitzers and field guns and three shells from the field guns struck her without, however, causing any damage.

"Meanwhile, inside the straits, the Vengeance, Albion, Majestic and Prince George, and the French battleship Sufferin fired on Souain Dere and Mount Dardanus batteries marked F and E on the admiralty map and were fired on by a number of concealed guns.

"Fort Rumeli Medjidieh Tabia, marked J on the admiralty map, which had been attacked on the previous day, opened fire and was engaged and hit by 12-inch shells.

Ships Struck By Shells.

"A majority of the ships in the straits were struck by shells, but there was no serious damage done and no casualties resulted.

"On March 7, the weather continuing calm and fine, four French battleships —the Gaulois, Charlemagne, Bouvet and Sufferin—entered the straits to cover the direct bombardment of the defenses of the narrows by the Agamemnon and Lord Nelson. The French ships engaged the Mount Dardanus battery and various concealed guns, silencing the former. The Agamemnon and Lord Nelson then advanced and engaged the forts at the narrows, at from 14,000 down to 12,000 yards, by direct fire.

"Forts Rumill Medjidieh Tabia, marked J., and Hamidieh I, Tabia, marked U, both were silenced after a heavy bombardment. Explosions occurred in both forts. Fort L has not fired since the explosion on the fifth.

"The Gaulois, Agamemnon and Lord Nelson were each struck three times, but the damage done was not serious. The Lord Nelson had three men slightly wounded.

Attack Isthmus.

"While these operations were in progress, the British light cruiser Dublin continued to watch the Bulair isthmus. She was fired at by 4-inch guns and struck three or four times.

"Owing to the importance of locating concealed guns, the seaplanes had to fly very low at times.

"On March 4, a seaplane manned by Pilot Lieutenant Garnet and Observer Lieutenant Commander Williamson, became unstable and fell into the sea. Both officers were injured. Flight Lieutenant Douglas, reconnitering at close quarters in another seaplane was wounded, but returned safely.

"On the fifth, seaplane No. 172, pilot Flight Lieutenant Bromet, with Lieut. Brown, was hit twenty-eight times, and Seaplane No. 7, pilot Flight Lieutenant Hershcaw, with Petty Officer Merchant, was struck eight times, in locating concealed positions.

"The Ark Royal (the mother ship for seaplanes) is equipped with every appliance necessary for the repair and maintenance of the numerous air craft which she carries."

Berlin Version.

Berlin via London, March 9.—In a wireless dispatch from Dardanelles timed 10 o'clock Monday morning, the Lokal Anzeiger's correspondent in describing the bombardment of the forts in the straits says there is no excitement in the town of Dardanelles.

"Only a few shots have been fired from the shore batteries," the correspondent adds. "Not one-tenth of the batteries have yet replied to the allied fleet's fire as the artillery commanders have forbidden them to do so. Yet the few shots fired, have had remarkable result. British ships have been hit twice.

"The British fire about sixty shells every hour and scarcely a shot finds its mark. The heaviest guns on both sides of the straits have not once replied to this waste of powder by the British who have had still less luck in their attempts to land troops. Wherever they appear they are driven back with important losses.

"Although at least 8,000 shells of the heaviest caliber already have been fired by the enemy the result obtained is only the destruction of two ancient works defended by old guns at the entrance of the strait. The forts proper of the Dardanelles are still intact."

Zunguldiak Bombarded.

Petrograd, March 9, via London.—The bombardment by the Russians of Zunguldiak, on the south shore of the Black Sea and the destruction of the docks there as announced by the Russian naval authorities yesterday, constitutes a serious blow to the Turkish fleet, since it is from this point that the Turks hitherto have drawn their chief supplies of coal for the navy.

Benderegli, 40 miles to the west, which is another coaling port, also was damaged.

THOUSANDS SEE STEAMER GO DOWN

Ilfracombe, England, Sunday, (delayed) via London, March 9.—The British steamer Bengrove was seen in distress and sounding her siren five miles off shore 5:10 Sunday afternoon. Forty minutes later the ship's bow rose from the water and she sank by the stern. Thousands of people stood on the shore and watched her go down.

Two steamers were in the vicinity, one of which rescued the crew of thirty-three. Local lifeboats brought them ashore. The captain of the Bengrove made this statement:

"We had no warning. There was a loud explosion forward which threw everybody on board off their feet, and covered them with debris and coal, but nobody was seriously hurt. We took to the boats as quickly and in orderly manner."

May Proclaim Martial Law.

Bucharest, Roumania, Saturday, March 6, via Paris, March 9.—The Roumanian senate today adopted a bill empowering the government to proclaim martial law throughout the country whenever it deems such a measure necessary.

PASSENGER OFFICIALS MEETING IN ASHLAND

Ashland, Wis., March 9.—Passenger officials of the Northern Pacific, Soo and Chicago & Northwestern railways arrived here today and this afternoon are discussing with local business men the question of the proposed increase in passenger rates from 2 to 2½ cents per mile. From here the party will go to Superior, where a meeting will be held tonight. The United Commercial Travelers of this city have gone on record as opposed to the increase of railroad rates in the state of Wisconsin.

A petition has been circulated in Ashland during the last several weeks and bears quite a number of signatures. The petition asks for a fair and impartial hearing on the question of increased rates.

MANY CITIES VOTE ON LICENSE QUESTION

St. Paul, Minn., March 9.—Special to Herald.)—The question of licensing saloons is the principal issue before the voters today in 200 Minnesota municipalities, where annual elections are being held. At present 140 of these towns are "wet" and sixty "dry." Six cities of the fourth class—five of them "wet"—are among the towns voting on the license question.

RESCIND OLD RESOLUTION

Cars Will Not Stop at Sutphin and Buchanan Streets.

New Ordinance to Regulate Disorderly Houses Introduced.

The resolution passed by the old city council on Sept. 26, 1904, ordering the street cars to stop at Sutphin and Buchanan streets at all times, was rescinded by the commissioners yesterday afternoon. The action was taken at the request of Herbert Warren, vice president of the Duluth Street Railway company. In addition other minor matters were handled at the regular meeting of the commission.

The resolution was passed at the time because of an accident that occurred on the Lake avenue tracks, resulting in the death of a wagon driver. The street car company was ordered to stop at Sutphin and Buchanan streets, whether there were passengers or not.

Conditions Now Different.

In a letter to Mayor Prince, Mr. Warren stated that the company is willing to stop at these points, if there are passengers, but that conditions are now different and that the resolutions compelling stops at all times is unnecessary. Mr. Warren suggested that if the resolution would be rescinded, the company would be willing to make an additional stop on the viaduct, going both ways.

Mayor Prince made a motion that the resolution be rescinded and it carried unanimously.

The commissioners ordered a refund of $12,076 to W. M. Prindle & Co. in a resolution introduced by Commissioner Merritt. This money was placed with the water and light department in 1910 as a guarantee that the cost of gas and water extensions in Crescent View park would be paid. The company has agreed a return of 8 per cent on the extensions, which is all the department requires.

Commissioner Hicken's ordinance, copied after the state law regulating disorderly houses, was given its first reading. The ordinance provides for a fine of $100 or imprisonment not exceeding eighty-five days for violation of the ordinance.

Wider Competition in Bids.

Wider competitive bidding on city purchases is made possible in an ordinance introduced by Commissioner Voss amending the ordinance passed April 25, 1913. The original ordinance provided that bids must be accompanied by a certified check covering 10 per cent of the offer and made payable on only banks authorized to do business in Minnesota, while the amendment allows certified checks on any national bank doing business pursuant to the laws of this state. Under the old law outside manufacturers were very often placed at a disadvantage.

Appeals from assessments on the improvement of Vermilion road made by the Duluth Home company and Joseph Reed were referred to City Attorney Clapp. The claim of Victoria Golcz for $500 damages as the result of an alleged fall on a sidewalk at Fourth avenue west and First street on Feb. 5 was also referred to the city attorney.

The Duluth-Edison company was instructed to install incandescent lights at Thirty-first avenue east and Superior and First streets.

The contract for gas and water mains ordered constructed in Peabody street was awarded to Simon Johnson on his low bid of $4,025.45.

The city attorney was instructed to pay Mrs. P. Chester of Munger terrace $60 in settlement for her damage claim, resulting from injuries which she sustained in a fall at Fourth avenue west and Third street on Feb. 20 last.

Requisitions and bills of the various departments were ordered paid out of the respective funds. In one of the bills presented was an item of $10 for special investigation by private detectives. It was this investigation that led to the several raids last week.

Saloon licenses were granted to Mike Rinne, 320 Lake avenue south; Richard Sheasby, 220 East Superior street; Edward Olson, 502 West Superior street; Frank Kohnen, 601 Garfield avenue; M. J. Cook, 527 West Michigan street, and Norman Smith, 102 East Superior street. A cigaret license was granted to T. McMann, 202 East Fifth street, and a license to operate a pool and billiard hall was granted to Tom George, 531 Garfield avenue.

WISCONSIN PLAN TO END THE WAR

Dr. Jordan Tells About It at Dedication Exercises in Frisco.

San Francisco, Cal., March 9.—A plan, devised in Wisconsin to put a stop to the European war, was unfolded in an address on "Peace" by Dr. David Starr Jordan, chancellor of Leland-Stanford university, at the dedication yesterday of Wisconsin's building at the Panama-Pacific exposition.

"One thing that will make Wisconsin famous is its proposed plan to stop this war," Dr. Jordan said. "An anonymous person, reported to have been an American, has sent out to the world privately a plan to have the president of the United States appoint a commission to be permanent during the war. Similar commissions appointed by the neutral countries would meet with it with the object to exert pressure for peace.

"This war will not come to an end through a military victory, and we do not want the terrible slaughter to continue. We do not want either to bring the war to an end through starvation. This plan, if carried out, will bring the world to its senses."

Dr. Jordan is a former resident of Wisconsin.

DIES FROM EXHAUSTION.

Attempt to Resuscitate Brother-in-Law Too Much for Woman.

Rockford, Ill., March 9.—Exhaustion resulting from her efforts to resuscitate her brother-in-law, Gustave Johnson, who died suddenly last night, resulted in the death of Mrs. Ida L. Johnson an hour later. Johnson was vice president of the Swedish-American Republican League of Illinois.

OWNS THE SMALLEST HOMESTEAD IN U. S.

Washington, March 9.—Serena Helen Blue has the distinction of owning the smallest homestead in the United States. Moreover, it only cost 10 cents. It is eight hundredths of an acre in area, and is a little triangular bit of land 189 feet long and 38 feet wide at its broadest point, jutting into Turtle lake, Minn. The 10 cents, commutes her entry to cash in land office parlance, and she does not have to live on the land three years as otherwise required by law. Nonetheless, Miss Blue has a house there and grows tomatoes, cabbages and clover. The interior department liked Miss Blue's homestead so well that today it issued a description and a picture of it.

Only Seven Torpedoed.

Montana Elevator Burns.

Great Falls, Mont., March 9.—The estimated loss caused by the destruction by fire Sunday of the Montana Central elevator at Conrad, sixty-five miles northwest of here, is $42,000. The building contained 28,000 bushels of wheat. It was owned by the Cargill interests of Minneapolis, the Montana Central company being a subsidiary.

BRITISH AEROPLANES MAKE ATTACK ON OSTEND

London, March 9.—The admiralty last night issued the following statement

"Wing Comomander Longmore reports that an air attack on Ostend was carried out yesterday by six aeroplanes of the naval wing. Of these, two had to return owing to their petrol freezing. The remainder reached Ostend and dropped eleven bombs on the submarine repair base and four bombs on the Kursaal, the headquarters of the military.

"All the machines and pilots returned. It is probable that considerable damage was done. No submarines were seen in the basin. The attack was carried out in a fresh northwest wind."

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR NO DANDRUFF---25c DANDERINE

Hair Coming Out? If Dry, Thin, Faded, Bring Back Its Color and Luster.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and down at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

For the first time in more than three years, Duluth is likely to hear the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra.

Since the death of Horace W. Reyner, and the disorganization of the old "musical triumvirate" of Mr. Reyner, Stephen H. Jones and T. W. Hugo, Duluth has not had a visit from the Symphony orchestra, and few big musical events outside of those of the Matinee Musicale, have been offered Duluthians.

Plans are now under way, however, for a musical festival to be held at the curling rink in June. These plans are not fully matured, but they include three or four concerts by the Minneapolis orchestra, and possibly some other features.

The concerts of the Duluth Concert orchestra have done much to increase the number of lovers of orchestra music in Duluth, and the visit of the Minneapolis orchestra will be eagerly looked forward to.

LESTER PARK CLUB.

Parks, Forestry and Irrigation Are Discussed at Meeting.

At the meeting of the Lester Park Literary club held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Bartlett, 18 Fifty-seventh avenue east, Mrs. F. W. Palmer spoke on "Our National Parks," and Mrs. Arthur Inman on "Forestry and Irrigation."

Mrs. Palmer described the location and size of the fourteen national parks and laid special emphasis on the four largest, Yellowstone, Glacier, Mount Rainier and Yosemite, telling of the special features for which each one is specially noted. Mrs. Inman described the condition of American forests and the irrigated sections of the country.

Club Women Study Norway and Sweden

"Norway and Sweden" was the subject at the regular monthly meeting of the West Duluth study class of the Twentieth Century club held this afternoon in the West Duluth library. Mrs. Robert Y. TORONTO IS SURPRISED THAT "LADA" IS NOT A RUSSIAN

Residents of Toronto thought they had found out a great secret in identifying "Lada," the exponent of Russian dancing, as Miss Emily Schupp, daughter of William Schupp, vice president of the Toronto Insurance and Vessel agency of that city. Miss Schupp is well known in Duluth as she spent her childhood here and visits her aunt, Mrs. Henry Nesbitt of 210 Thirteenth avenue east. The stage name, "Lada" was taken from a dance called "lada."

After Miss Schupp, who has a studio in New York, appeared in an aid given for the Red Cross society at the Royal Alexandra Mr. Schupp was told by a representative of one of the Toronto papers that it was thought "Lada" was not a Russian but was his daughter.

"Why certainly she is," he replied, and added that she did not pose as a native of Russia but had spent some time in that country with her mother. "I told Noel Marshall that she would like to do something for the Red Cross fund," he said. "He readily accepted the offer and Lady Mackenzie took the matter up."

The Toronto World said of Miss Schupp's dancing:

"'Lada' is a revelation of the melody of motion. Her performance at the Royal Alexandra last night is one to mark an epoch in the art she consummates. Her appearances were short swallow flights, all too brief, but they were so revolutionary as well as revelational that a pause was necessary to assimilate the effect."

In the account mention was made of several of the dances Miss Schupp gave in Duluth last summer when she appeared in the benefit performance given for the Wellesley college building fund, among them being a Hungarian dance, mushroom dance, shadow dance, Hungarian Rhapsodie No. 2, and "Valse Triste."

The account of her appearance in Toronto was sent to Mrs. Stephen H. Jones of Duluth by Col. S. W. Ray of Port Arthur and Toronto.

MISS EMILY SCHUPP, (Lada).

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Quarrels Leave "Scratches."

How easily some people take offense and how differently the same remark addressed to us one day sounds the next. It all depends upon the way we happen to feel. The least sensitive, most good-natured person living has a day now and then when he feels all out of sorts, when to his way of thinking everybody and everything is conspiring against him.

Those least susceptible to querulousness and fits of temper are subject to just such unexplainable conditions of mind at times, so it cannot be accounted for on the ground of a cross-grained, disagreeable temperament alone. Supersensitiveness and nerves are equally responsible.

The most innocent tongued person imaginable has been surprised on occasions to learn what strife and illfeelings his remarks have stirred up. Anyone who will give the matter a bit of thoughful consideration cannot but be impressed by the guard that a person should place upon the tongue and that the habit of thinking once, if not twice, before voicing one's opinions or expressing oneself in any way whatever, is a very good one to form.

Countless friendships have been broken in twain, never to be renewed again, all because of a few thoughless words that had no special significance, and yet happened to strike someone in a vulnerable spot. I suppose the best example of the case with which people take offense over absolutely nothing is the newly married couple.

Young husbands and wives seem to have a penchant for argument on little or no provocation. They take offense at the tones of one another's voices, the twitch of an eyelid, or some nonsensical reference to some faraway outsider, which might by some remote possibility fit some member of their own family.

I have heard people say that they enjoyed a quarrel both for the sake of the quarrel and the great pleasure of making up. Perhaps the monotony of perfect understanding and perfect peace would prove unbearable. I have never had an opportunity of proving or disproving the truth of this but I am firmly of the opinion that quarrels of any sort, however slight, between people, no matter what their relation, leave scratches at least that never thoroughly heal.

Where a husband and wife do not bridle their tongues the final outcome is often disastrous, and the scars that quickly spoken, thoughtless words leave on their hearts are the kind that disfigure for life and make it horrible.

NEWS FROM BIRDLAND

Movement of Feathered Tourists From the South Will Begin Soon—Time to Prepare the Wren Houses.

"Tap, Tap, Tap-tap-tap."

The downy woodpecker never gets very far away from Duluth. He is one of the few winter visitors. When it gets too cold or stormy, he flits a little way to the south, but back he comes when the weather moderates a little, and resumes his task of collecting insects from the dead trees. The bright sun seemed to give him energy and a good appetite this morning.

Duluth has but few winter residents in the bird colony. The English sparrow, of course, is always here. In the class with the downy woodpecker are the grosbeaks including both the pine and the evening, the snow birds and the bluepays, and a few crossbills. The snow birds have been scarce this past winter. Bluejays are beginning to show a little more energy and venture farther from their evergreen forests. Their screeches are also more frequent and louder as spring approaches.

All of these birds flit back and forth during the winter, coming south in severe weather, and returning north as it moderates.

The real movement from the south has not yet begun. It will be two or three weeks yet before the advance guard of the bird colony arrives, but a month from now should see the movement at its height. Then will come the robins, the martens, the wrens, the juncos, the warblers, and scores of other feathered tourists. Now is the time to prepare for the visitors. Wren houses can be prepared and made ready for tenants. A box with a hole the size of a quarter, placed any place near the house, will attract the attention of the busy, energetic little wrens, and they will noisily take possession as soon as they arrive. It should be placed beyond the reach of cats.

Some stale bread crumbs scattered near the house will be welcomed by the birds at this time, and will go far toward inducing them to make the district where they are found their headquarters for the summer.

Mrs. R. G. Henderson will be the assisting hostess.

WESTERNER IS CANDIDATE FOR D. A. R. PRESIDENCY

Mrs. George Thacher, Guernsey of Independence, Kan., is the first candidate from west of the Mississippi who has come forward for the office of president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The other prominent candidate is Mrs. William Cumming Story of New York who now holds that office.

Mrs. Guernsey has spent most of her life in Kansas but she is of Southern and Eastern ancestry and Virginia, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ohio may claim her.

When she was 16 years old she taught school in Kansas and later was appointed principal of the high school at Independence. She has received a business training from her husband who is a prominent banker in Kansas and has traveled extensively in this country and abroad. When the Ladies' Literary Society of Independence was formed Mrs. Guernsey was its president. Through the efforts of this society the public library of Independence was founded. It is now a Carnegie institution but Mrs. Guernsey still selects books for it. She was a leader in the State Federation of Woman's clubs, formerly the Social Science Club of Kansas and has been prominent in civic affairs of the state. For some time she was president of the Chautauqua circle of the D. A. R., and for six years has been state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution of Kansas.

MRS. GEORGE THACHER GUERNSEY..

Mrs. Guernsey's platform is:

1. Elimination of all party lines.
2. One term of three years with no re-election for all national officers, in order to prevent the distractions consequent upon a campaign for a second term.
3. All elected officers shall have complete and unhampered control of their own offices and shall be held responsible by congress for the proper conduct of said offices.
4. No mileage for officers or committee chairmen.
5. Regular board meetings to be held four times a year.
6. A committee of appeals, to be elected by congress, for the adjustment of otherwise unsettled differences in state or chapters, whose decisions shall be final.
7. Magazine to be restored to publication by a responsible firm.
8. A "fair and square" deal for every Daughter.

DAISIES FASHIONABLE IN NEW YORK

New York has gone daisy mad and daisies are used there for hat trimmings and are sold in boxes that resemble the fancy hat boxes seen in old-fashioned pictures. Some of the daisies are the regulation white garden variety, but others do not follow the laws of nature and are seen in all colors. A hat shown in one of the Duluth shops is of split barnyard straw in a dull shade of green and is trimmed with silk foliage and green daisies.

The chin chin sailor is one of the newest ideas in millinery with its wide rolling brim. One of these hats has the under side of the brim of blue straw and the upper part of the brim and the crown covered with chin chin silk that has a white ground almost covered with designs as Chinese as its name.

Another hat shown by this store has the top of the crown of chin chin silk in a small pattern and the rise of the crown and brim of green straw. The only trimming is a plaited cord of sections of barnyard straw resembling beads ending in tassels made of the straw.

NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
REX—Betty Nansen in "The Celebrated Scandal," photoplay.

STAR ACTS AT GRAND.

Seven Castelluccis and Prize Feature Film Presented.

The Seven Castelluccis, six men and a girl, were the star attraction of the new bill at the Grand that opened to large audiences yesterday. This company of musicians is one of the best seen in Duluth for a long time, and they received a hearty reception. They play a great number of wind and stringed instruments, and their repertoire includes classic, patriotic and ragtime selections.

Pope and Uno, the latter being the only "Good night" dog in existence, presented an interesting bit of entertainment. The dog shows unusual intelligence and helps his master play musical instruments and does many other clever turns.

J. Louis Mintz and Miss Jeanne Palmer present a lively bit of song and dance. Mintz is best at singing, but spends most of his time in doing comedy stunts. He has an unusually sweet tenor voice. On the other hand his partner who has not a particularly pleasing voice, does most of the singing.

"Mother's Roses," the prize New York Sun feature film, presented by an all-star Vitagraph cast, in an excellent picture, depicting the influence of a mother's love. A number of good comedy films complete the bill.

On Being a Villain.

Miss Margaret Lotus of the Baldwin Players doesn't admire the character she is called upon to portray this week.

"It's a dandy part," she says, "but Mrs. Howard Jeffries, Sr., of 'The Third Degree' would be called a first class cad if she were a man. I hardly know what to call her since she is a woman, but that's the way the dramatist made her. The character of her daughter-in-law is a splendid one in contrast, but this is my turn to be the villainess. I have to keep saying to myself 'you can play her without being her.'"

Likewise Walter Baldwin, Jr., is not in love with the character he portrays.

"Howard Jeffries is a good deal of a cad," he said. "After his wife has sacrificed everything to save his life and his reputation, he considers the plan of going abroad and leaving her alone to face the disgrace. I am glad the dramatist made him come to his senses at last. Of course, it was necessary to the plot to make him a rather weak youth, who had been pampered by a rich father, and who was helpless when cast adrift, but you haven't much sympathy for him at the finish. It is right you shouldn't for he is not an admirable character, and his wife deserved a better husband. But I shouldn't complain. Look at what a dyed-in-the-wool old villain father is this week. He ought to be ashamed of himself."

Miss Nansen at Rex.

Miss Nansen's stage costumes, valued at more than $50,000, were not admitted to the country until William Fox had posted with the collector of the port, Dudley Field Malone, a bond for that amount. Her dresses comprise the latest creations of Paquin, Worth, Redfern and Poiret. Among those designed by the latter is the famous "Golden Gown," an effulgent creation of glittering cloth-of-gold, and gold embroidered brocade, strewn with seed pearls and golden beads. The "tunic" part of this marvelous creation alone weighs thirty-two pounds. The dress cost $10,000 and was the last effort of Paul Poiret before he left for the battle front. Thus the great actress' appearances upon the screen have a particular interest for the women of America, aside from the consummate skill of her artistry. They will afford her feminine spectators at the Rex, an opportunity to see for themselves the last words in Parisian dress design on a living model of surpassing grace and in the full bloom of her striking beauty.

Spring Will Be Here Shortly and Baby Will Need a New Carriage

Our 1915 line of children's vehicles is by far the most attractive and complete that we have ever offered. All the up-to-date styles are shown, including medium and large size carriages with reed or wood bodies, "Pullman" sleepers, English cabs, collapsible go-carts and sulkies made by Heywood Bros., and Wakefield Co., recognized leaders in the manufacture of reed furniture and children's vehicles.

The new Hey-collapsible reed sulky is the cleverest and most practical children's vehicle put on the market in recent years. It is roomy, has an adjustable back, is light weight, and can be folded flat. Made in a number of attractive styles, with or without hood. Come in and let us demonstrate it, we know you will be pleased.

WAR FILMS AT ORPHEUM

Pictures Will Show Many Sides of Great Conflict.

The many sides of modern warfare are shown to excellent advantage in the New York Sun and Chicago Herald war films, which will be given at the Orpheum theater for four days beginning Thursday. The pictures are said to be the best and most complete of any shown since the great European war was begun. The films were taken by camera men on the firing line who momentarily risked their lives in their hazardous enterprise.

The pictures show the gunners aiming, with the aid of mechanical devices, at objects they cannot see. After the huge gun has hurled the shell a man several miles away uses the telephone to inform the marksmen how close it came to the target.

After the gunner's craft has accomplished its results, the science of medicine and surgery is brought into play.

The feeding of soldiers is based upon rules resulting from scientific investigation. The men are fed according to the energy needed in their particular endeavors.

The work of civil engineers is playing an important part in the war. The activity of these men is shown in the pictures, particularly in connection with bridge building and camp planning.

The humanitarian work being conducted in Holland is one of the interesting features of the exhibit. The pictures also show a Belgian officer, who has been placed in a position where he is forced to direct his men against his own home.

The impartiality of the photographers who took the pictures continues to cause favorable comment from those who attend the show. The pictures were taken with a view of presenting facts, and the approval the pictures have won from all nationalities, has proved that this has been realized.

RICH SEIZURE OF BIG GAME

Game Warden Makes Record Capture in Baudette District.

Charges made by Baudette, Minn., business men that moose and caribou meat were being sold openly on the range were investigated by Game Warden George Wood yesterday and resulted in the largest seizure of its kind ever made in this section, and probably in the state.

J. T. Hackett, a Baudette business man, was fined $50 and costs after pleading guilty before Judge F. W. Schmidt, while John Pine, a trapper, was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail.

Hackett operates two stores, one at Baudette and one twelve miles down Rainy River from Baudette, where he is alleged to have been selling deer, moose and caribou meat.

The trapper was arrested by Warden Wood at the down-river store, just as he arrived with a toboggan load of meat. The warden seized six heads of moos and two cadibou and two hindquarters of deer, which he had brought in for trade.

Range business men declare that the law has been violated openly for years, according to Warden Wood, and they want the state warden to visit the territory more often, and protect the game.

CONDITION OF EDITOR NELSON IS IMPROVED

Kansas City, Mo., March 9.—A change for the better in the condition of W. R. Nelson, editor of the Kansas City Star, who is critically ill at his home here, was announced by his physicians today. He recovered consciousness, talked with Mrs. Nelson and his daughter, Mrs. Irwin R. Kirkwood, and gave directions for work on his farm at Grain Valley. One of the physicians said: "Mr. Nelson is still in quite a critical state."

YOU HAVE UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK.

You have until 9 o'clock tonight to register, but it isn't necessary to put it off that long. You can do it now, you know, and have it over with. Then you won't have to think of it again until April 6, when you go to vote for the men you want to see members of the city commission.

If you intended to register this morning and didn't, then register tonight.

If you hadn't thought of it before, register tonight anyway.

Whether you'd thought of it or not, whether you had forgotten it or not, go and register, and be sure of being able to vote April 6 on the membership of the city government and on the proposals to amend the city charter.

And by the way, if you aren't familiar with what those proposals are, ask somebody. And if they don't know, ask somebody else, and when you find out, go and tell the man who couldn't tell you.

But in the meantime, don't forget that today is registration day.

Go and register.

A Bemidji paper is offering as a subscription premium a copy of that well-known book, the Bible. Which only goes to show that the lid in that territory is already beginning to have results.

THE CITY COMMISSIONERS.

Eight candidates have been entered in the race for the two offices of city commissioner to be filled at the election next month, but one of those nominated has stated that he will not accept and there is some doubt as to another accepting, in which case the number of candidates would be reduced to six. Those who are definitely in the field are Commissioner W. A. Hicken, Commissioner Roderick Murchison, Bernard Silberstein, J. A. Farrell, R. E. McFarlane and James L. Norman.

Mr. Hicken, as the head of the department of public safety, has been much in the limelight during the past two years and in carrying out the policy which he announced when chosen to preside over the police department has certainly shown that he has the courage of his convictions. The Herald has not agreed with Mr. Hicken on all the details of his policy and opposed his police code because of certain features which it regarded as obnoxious and unnecessary for enforcing the laws, but it was adopted by the people by a close vote. Mr. Hicken has made many friends as well as aroused much opposition by his vigorous administration of the department, and the April election will give the people an opportunity to say whether they approve the policy he has pursued.

Mr. Murchison has had charge of the department of public works, and it is claimed that his administration has resulted in effecting a considerable saving in the operating expenses of the department. It is up to the people to say whether he shall be continued in office.

Mr. Silberstein is one of Duluth's oldest and most respected citizens. He has been for years one of the leading business men, he is a large taxpayer, and he has always taken a deep interest in everything pertaining to Duluth's welfare. As a member of the park board he performed conspicuous service in establishing and improving the splendid park system of which all Duluth is justly proud. His vote-getting qualities, showing the public esteem in which he is held, were demonstrated at the municipal election two years ago, when he ran for mayor and was but a few votes behind the successful candidate. His friends claim he is stronger now than in 1913.

J. A. Farrell, better known as "Bert" Farrell, was one of the strong candidates for commissioner two years ago. If elected, he would naturally be assigned to the department of public works, because of his recognized ability as a civil engineer and the experience which he gained while connected with the street department in former years. He has a host of friends who believe that he would make an excellent commissioner of public works.

Mr. McFarlane, who was formerly in the employ of the Northern Pacific railroad, and Mr. Norman, who is engaged in the real estate business, are also seeking the office of commissioner. Chris E. Evens, president of the Duluth Cut Stone company and manager of the Municipal Ownership league's campaign at the recent special election, has been entered in the race by his friends, but he is now in California and there is said to be considerable doubt whether he will accept. William L. Bernard, now representing the Fifty-ninth district in the legislature, was made a candidate by a petition circulated without his knowledge and he says his work in the legislature will not permit him to accept.

The election is still some distance in the future, and when the campaign becomes active the voters will learn more about the views and qualifications of the candidates and thus will be enabled to choose those whom they deem best suited to manage the city's business.

SUPPORT HIM.

There is sure to be more or less fuss over the sending of American warships to Vera Cruz again. There is an element in this country that will try to make out that the act is an act of war, and that nothing now can prevent an invasion of Mexico by United States troops. And there is another element that will cry out against the action and try to make trouble for the administration right here at home on account of it.

On all such, and on all others who may be inclined to try to "start something" in the face of the crisis, it would be well to impress the reply sent by Col. W. R. Nelson of the Kansas City Star and Times to one who telegraphed him regarding some phases of the European war, asking what position he intended to take in his papers on the actions of the government at Washington. Col. Nelson replied:

"WE ARE NOT ADVISING THE PRESIDENT AT THIS TIME. WE ARE SUPPORTING HIM."

There are phases in this Mexican matter that are known to none in this country outside of governmental offices. There are things that put one light or another on the situation there and our relation to it that are known only to the president and his advisers. And the safe thing and the only sane thing for the rest of the country to do at such a juncture as this is to follow the example of Col. Nelson, and not try to advise or criticize the president, but support him.

If a street can be so all-fired sloppy in this kind of weather, what must it be like in a trench?

A RECESS APPOINTMENT.

George Rublee has been given a recess appointment to the Federal trade commission, and it is now the cue for the G. O. P. elephant to hunt out a nice, hard, rough tree and rub his tusks on it and trumpet with rage.

According to some of the Eastern Republican papers, Rublee's appointment to that commission was one of the best acts of the Wilson administration. He has been praised by them as an exceptionally able and an exceptionally well fitted man, one who could not be objected to by anybody on the ground of capability.

But there was objection, so serious that the senate refused to confirm him. Why? According to these Republican papers, the reason was that Senator Gallinger doesn't like Rublee. And they claim there was no other reason. Gallinger didn't like him—that was all. Something personal between the two men, it is said—not anything that enters into qualifications or anything like that.

Of course the question immediately arises, "Why didn't the senate confirm him anyway, since it had a Democratic majority and Gallinger is a Republican?"

Well, in the first place, that isn't the way the senate does business. If the senate had a nose and wanted to sneeze, it would have to wait to see whether there was anything in the action that would interfere with senatorial courtesy. And if there was, then it would have to hold back that sneeze, even if it "busted" in the attempt.

In the second place, you may remember that Tammany has been trying to put across a few favorites since the Wilson administration went in, and also that Tammany hasn't been able to do any such thing. Also, there was the president's insistence on the ship purchase bill, which was a direct slap at the subsidy hunters, both Republican and Democratic. Also, there was the memory of Baltimore, and the way some people sent down there by Tammany didn't get what they wanted.

That all enters into the reason why Rublee's appointment wasn't confirmed by the senate. It's politics—of course it's politics. What's more, it is a more or less undesirable class of politics, not to call it by any other name. It is the kind of politics that forces executives to put incapable men where they and the public would like to see capable ones.

Now a recess appointment has been made, and Mr. Rublee can go to work with the other commissioners and have a free hand to get started at least, and the country will get that much of his valuable services. In the meantime it will do no harm to let the senate know what the people think of the kind of action that makes a recess appointment necessary to give the country the services of such a man as Mr. Rublee.

Maybe the appearance of snow in San Antonio explains where so much Duluth snow has gone in the last few days.

Only the rasher ones have taken 'em off as yet.

Jewish Rural Credits

Omaha World-Herald: The Jewish rural credit society which was organized without waiting for state or national laws to be enacted, has made its report for 1914. Jewish farmers are now receiving loans in thirty-four different states, although the main portion of them are located in New York and Connecticut. These farmers, who are all succeeding and some of them becoming comparatively wealthy, were taken from the sweat shop districts in the large cities and put upon farms by means of these rural credit loans. They have also co-operative insurance and a large number of co-operative creameries which are returning large profits.

During the year they found places for 937 farm laborers at a cost of $1.13 for the placing of each laborer. The loans made to these farmers are on the same principle that has been advocated for rural loans and which has been in operation in some parts of Europe for many years. The loan is for a long time and a small per cent is paid on the principle each year. The payment, which is made each year and which liquidates the whole amount in ten or twenty years, is slightly above what is usually paid for interest, but at the end of the time the man owns the farm.

In the tabulation of the purposes of the loans granted, the major portion of them is shown to be for the purchase of farms, stock and implements, but some loans were also made to pay off mortgages and for working capital. The farmers all receive scientific instruction in every department of farming, whether it be raising hogs, making butter, producing eggs and chickens or anything else, that being also provided by co-operation, and while of the highest character, it costs each farmer very little. While the rest of the people are waiting for "law to be enacted" these men are going ahead and accomplishing things with the laws as they are.

When the Sun "Draws Water."

The Pathfinder: When the sun is to the east or west of us on a cloudy or hazy day, beams are often seen radiating from it toward the horizon; then many people say the sun is "drawing water." They actually believe that the lines of light and shadow appearing to converge in the sun are great shafts of water and vapor that the sun is drawing up into the air to be precipitated later on the earth as rain or snow. These shafts as a matter of fact are generally indicative of coming rainy weather, but they cannot be counted on as infallible signs.

The idea that the sun is "drawing water," however, is entirely erroneous, for the lines seen are the result of the passage of light through openings in clouds already formed. The lines that appear dark are shadows of clouds while the light lines are rays from the sun made visible in the air by the presence therein of dust or watery vapor, just as the dust in the air of a room makes visible the light that enters it through small apertures. Although as an effect of perspective the shadows and bars of light appear to converge in the sun, they are really parallel. Usually the condition of the atmosphere which makes it possible for the beams and shadows to be seen is indicative of the active condensation of moisture so that when the sun "draws water" rain may be expected with some degree of certainty, although like all local signs it is far from infallible.

Sometimes when the sun is below the horizon a phenomenon, almost the same, is observed—a group of beams spreading fan-like upward from the sun, in lines of blue alternating with lines of pink—in the western sky in the evening and in the eastern sky in the morning.

Casablanca.

The boy stood on the burning deck,
Whence all but him had fled;
The flame that lit the battle's wreck
Shone round him o'er the dead.

Yet beautiful and bright he stood,
As born to rule the storm;
A creature of heroic blood,
A proud though childlike form.

The flames rolled on; he would not go
Without his father's word;
That father, faint in death below,
His voice no longer heard.

He called aloud, "Say, father, say,
If yet my task be done!"
He knew not that the chieftain lay
Unconscious of his son.

"Speak, father!" once again he cried,
"If I may yet be gone!"
And but the booming shots replied,
And fast the flames rolled on.

Upon his brow he felt their breath,
And in his waving hair,
And looked from that lone post of death,
In still yet brave despair;

And shouted but once more aloud,
"My father! must I stay?"
While o'er him fast, through sail and shroud,
The wreathing fires made way.

They wrapt the ship in splendor wild,
They caught the flag on high,
And streamed above the gallant child
Like banners in the sky.

There came a burst of thunder sound;
The boy—O! where was he?
Ask of the winds, that far around
With fragments strewed the sea—

With shroud and mast and pennon fair,
That well had borne their part—
But the noblest thing that perished there,
Was that young, faithful heart.

Wilson, The "Dictator."

By Satoyard.

Washington, March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The opposition rails at President Wilson and calls him a despot who has invaded the halls of congress and usurped the legislative power. That is a mistake. It is not quite that bad. Woodrow Wilson is the leader of his party as well as the chief magistrate of the republic. He is a man of strong will and decided views. He is convinced that certain policies, if enacted into law, will promote the commonwealth. A masterful mind, a firm character, a marvelous individuality, this man has great influence with his party, which is in the majority in both houses of congress.

Democratic senators and representatives naturally look to him as the party leader. They consult him, and when they conclude that his advice is sound, they accept it and follow it. Little folk, who know not what else to say, cry that the rights of the legislature are encroached upon and that liberty has gone up the spout, where the woodbine twineth, as the late Jim Fisk expressed it.

It is not from the president of the United States that has come a threat to liberty, and by liberty I mean the will of the electorate. Our government has never yet been responsive to public opinion in the sense that the English government is so accountable to it in that country. And for the very good reason that the United States senate is the only legislative body in the world that can legislate only by unanimous consent.

Senators in congress have certain prerogatives, and they have usurped certain others. If the president shall nominate for office a man "personally offensive" to a senator that settles the hash of the nominee. "Senatorial courtesy" will not allow his confirmation. Thus, instead of the president usurping the legislative function, the senate has usurped the appointing power. The president of the United States is powerless for good and impotent for evil unless public opinion sustains him. The Constitution confers certain duties and authorities upon him, but his real authority comes from the people. One thing is certain and it is this—the president cannot bully or control congress unless the people are behind him, and when the Republicans say Wilson is intimidating congress they confess that the people believe in Wilson. Congress is no fool. Congress knows which way the popular wind blows.

The Republicans and their allies on the Democratic side have made a new issue that is going to be a "cardinal," though scarcely a "paramount," in 1916, and it is "cloture" for the senate. Shall a senatorial minority defeat legislation favored by the house of representatives, a majority of the senate, and the president? Is the senate to be a body that can act by the will of a majority of its members, or shall it confess itself imbecile as long as a few of its members forbid it to legislate?

There is no doubt that debate in the house of representatives has been too much restricted. Thomas B. Reed rendered a great public service when he smote the filibuster at that end of the capitol, but at the same time he throttled legitimate debate and that is the excuse the senate has for its absurd rule of legislation in that body by unanimous consent only. If cloture were provided for in the senate after the plan suggested by the late George F. Hoar of Massachusetts and debate given greater scope in the house, the difficulty would be nearly solved.

A crying evil is the Congressional Record. That is a very costly publication and altogether useless. It is the child of vanity and breeds verbosity. Not one citizen of 100,000 reads it. Though it contains a mountain of chaff, some good things now and then appear in it. But in England there is no such publication and since debate was first made public in the English house of commons not a single speech made in the British parliament has been lost to letters or to statecraft that was worth preservation. The same would be true of our congress if the Record were discontinued. Then debate would be to convince the legislature, not for "Buncombe."

Those other Democratic presidents—Jackson and Cleveland—were charged with invading the prerogatives of the legislature, and they did so precisely as Wilson has done. I shall never forget the occasion in the Fifty-fourth congress when the house of representatives took hysterics over a speech Thomas F. Bayard, then our representative at the court of St. James, made somewhere in England in which he said that it was necessary to have "a strong man to rule the American people." The eagle screamed. Bob Cousins made the greatest speech any deliberative body ever heard, when we consider the damphoolery of the matter of it and the provocation that elicited it. But it was magnificently eloquent. No doubt of that.

The burden of it was that the world was to come to an end because our minister to England had advocated on a foreign soil free trade and told the folks over in England that the American people loved to be ruled by a strong man and would suffer none else to rule them.

Of course, it was poppycock, but it threw the American congress into fits for a while.

And Woodrow Wilson is another "ruler" that this country loves for the wisdom he has displayed and the antagonisms he has provoked.

Fighting Diphtheria.

Saturday Evening Post: A striking instance of the sure and exact way in which modern science proceeds to stop a diphtheria epidemic was recently shown to Germany. The disease appeared in a kindergarten, several cases being discovered. Instead of simply closing down the school and watching the children for the first symptoms of the disease, it was decided to find out by the latest methods just what children were infected and then to isolate those children. A bit of mucus was taken from the throat of each child and examined for diphtheria germs. This test showed several suspicious cases. Each of these suspected children was then tested by means of a diphtheria reaction method, which consisted of injecting under the skin a few drops of a specially prepared fluid to discover whether any little disturbance followed. The children who showed by reaction that they really had diphtheria were then given the ordinary serum treatment, with excellent results, because it was applied at such an early stage. One week later the tests were all repeated again on the children who did not show the disease on the first trials. In all, eight children were found who had been infected, and all were promptly cured, with the result that no child in that kindergarten was acting as an innocent distributer of diphtheria.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Congressman Patrick H. Kelley, who has a speaking acquaintance with more men, women and children than any other person in the state of Michigan, is a highly successful campaign orator. And his success in that direction is due chiefly to his knack at making large figures entertaining.

Kelley has a passion for figures. When he makes a speech he devotes at least half of it to hurling figures and statistics, and mathematics against the rival party. Now, when the average man begins to quote figures the average member of his audience wishes to get up in a quiet, orderly manner and withdraw from the hall. But Kelley's system of offering his statistics fascinates his listeners, one and all.

Here is the way he does it: The moment he strikes a town where he is to speak he begins to inquire about the cost of the biggest buildings there—the opera house, the best hotel, and so on.

Then when he starts to talk he'll bring in something like this:

"My friends, the party of my opponent squandered last year on needless waterway improvements alone $20,000,000. Think of that! A thousand times as much as it cost to build your handsome new hotel up the street. Twenty million dollars! If all the sirloin steaks that you could buy with $20,000,000 were spread out flat on the ground they would cover this entire township and leave enough steaks over to feed all the adults between the ages of 26 and 38 in the state of Nevada, besides furnishing hash for all the restaurants in a town the size of Peoria, Ill.

Then he goes on to tell how many automobiles are made in Michigan and how, if they were placed in a solid row, they would reach around the world except for a small strip out in the middle of the Pacific ocean—which gap could easily be filled in with some other equally useful article made in Michigan.

Thus he goes on and every time he speaks of the wanton extravagance of his opponents he visualizes the figures.

Is it any wonder that the people go out of the hall at the close of Kelley's speech sadly shaking their heads and with no other idea than to vote for Kelley?

Senator Burleigh of Maine applied to a recruiting office one morning back in Civil war days and expressed a desire to be a soldier. The examining physician rejected him on the ground that he had a trick heart.

"I wish you'd let me in," coaxed Burleigh. "My heart may act funny, but I'll bet you I live a great many years yet."

Nearly half a century later, Burleigh, true to his word, was still living, and as a member of congress got a pension of $50 a month for that same doctor.

Secretary Bryan was called on by two of his associates at the state department to settle a dispute about the place where a certain great man is buried.

"Oh, gentlemen," admonished Bryan, "why waste time disputing over a thing so inconsequential as where a man is buried. Now, I've been buried several times, but what of that?"

Sometimes Senators Hollis of New Hampshire and Dillingham of Vermont will sit and fuss good-naturedly for half an hour at a time over the question whether Vermont or New Hampshire is entitled to be known as the Granite state. For an entry in the nothing-to-fuss-about competition, this proposition commends itself about as well as anything we can think of unless it would be the question of who is the world's greatest trombone player.

Kohler of the Karlsruhe

Norman Draper in Collier's Weekly: It happened this way: Kohler of the Karlsruhe learned that the British had sent the battle cruiser Princess Royal to augment the cruiser squadron that had been trying to find him, various units of which he had at different times engaged or, by skillful maneuvering, evaded. Now the Princess Royal is probably the most powerful ship of her class in the world. She has the armament of a battleship and the speed of a torpedo boat destroyer. Under forced draft she can make a speed of thirty-three knots. The Karlsruhe could make a maximum of twenty-seven. So the commander of the Karlsruhe lined up his crew.

"Men," he said, "you know and I know that sooner or later we will meet an overwhelming force of the enemy. We have just so much ammunition. When that is gone we have done our duty. When that time comes I intend to blow up the ship rather than strike our colors. If there is a man here who cares more for his life than he does for the fatherland, let him step out." Not a man moved! The following day wires connected charges of dynamite and the switch on the bridge.

Before the German cruiser Emden, raiding commerce in the eastern seas, was hunted down and driven ashore on the Keeling islands in the Indian ocean, an order for an iron cross three feet high and three feet wide, had been given. It was intended for the bow of the Emden. After the Emden was no more the kaiser was quoted as saying that after the close of the war a new Emden should be built and that an iron cross should be constructed in her bow.

The iron cross which was ordered for the Emden has now been completed. It is in the yards at Kiel. If the Karlsruhe ever reaches there, it will be hers.

And then, too, the officers and men of the commerce raider will have the crosses they have won pinned to their breasts. For, although the decorations have been awarded them, they have never actually been received. The Iron Cross men on the Karlsruhe are wearing, instead, little strips of red, white and black ribbons. And the ribbons, mind you, were taken from the cargo of a captured British merchantman!

Losing Latin-American Trade.

From a United States Consular Report: That Latin-Americans insist on having just the kind of article that suits their taste is illustrated by an incident in Guatemala. An old gentleman in the interior, a large ranch owner had always been used to a certain kind of necktie, and asked a local house to buy a number of them for him. The house ordered several from an American concern, but the latter wrote back that that kind of necktie had been out of date for twenty years, and sent several of the latest design. These were refused, however, the old kind was obtained from Europe, and the American house lost what might have been an opening wedge to a good trade.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

A Welcome Passing.

Fergus Falls Journal: One of the few good effects of the European war is the sobering effect it has had in this country. The Fourth of July type of orator, who sought to make himself popular by telling of our ability to whip all creation has gone out of business—let us hope permanently.

Keeping Proper Balance.

Slayton Herald: The terrible conditions prevailing in Europe at the present time ought to make every American thankful that his country is not involved in the strife. Doubtless there are a few who from selfish reasons would like to see this nation plunged into war, and doubtless also, there are some extreme partisans who would welcome this country interfering on the one side or the other. But fortunately such folks are but few in number, although they may make a great deal of noise. This nation has a duty to itself and the world to hold the balance even as between the contending powers. In so doing it will in the long run prove its friendship for each of the warring nations, and all the time will by such a policy best serve the interests of humanity. Very likely there are some people who think that they could do wonders if they were in the executive chair. Very likely they could, but not the wonders this nation wants. The policy of Washington—that of abstaining from entangling foreign alliances—is best for this nation and the world, and it is the duty of every American to bear in mind and act accordingly.

Coming Into Their Own.

Waseca Herald: This is a great year for bachelors in Minnesota. Last month W. S. Hammond was inaugurated as the first bachelor governor of this state, and last week Jim Morrison, the good-looking bachelor editor of the Morris Tribune, was elected president of the Minnesota Editorial association.

Fight Afterwards.

Gonvick Banner: Now is the time for all good Americans to stand by the president. They can go to the aid of the party when the international difficulties are out of the way.

Backing the President.

Alexandria Post News: Withholding criticism of the president and his administration in a situation like the present is rather a fine expression of loyalty. As president of our country, Mr. Wilson has had grave responsibilities as to our foreign relationships thrust upon him, and we, as American citizens, should give him our moral support. Expressions from the press of the country indicate that he has that support in a marked degree. Americans wish to remain neutral, not only to avoid the horrors of warfare but to hold the respect of the warring nations so that eventually this country may act as peacemaker in restoring normal conditions and securing a cessation of strife. The president is working with but one purpose in view, the avoidance of all entanglements, and in that he commands the confidence of the nation.

State Can Aid Itself.

Long Prairie Argus: Northern Minnesota will pay more money into the state treasury when its taxable valuation is double the amount of the present values. There is much land that is being assessed too low.

Libel on Sheol.

East Grand Forks Record: Modern civilization is beginning to recognize that Sherman slandered hell when he designated war.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

He was weary, but not ill. His mind, fagged by the day's hard routine, seemed to soar above it, clear and supreme. Later, when almost sinking into slumber, a strain of simple melody swept through his mind. He reached for pencil and paper and wrote hastily:

"WHEN HE COMETH."

"I shall know Him when He cometh by the nail-print in His hands,
I shall know Him by the wounds
upon His feet,
By a thousand blissful tokens that my spirit understands,
I shall know Him and the meeting will be sweet.

"I shall hear Him in the shadows at the blessed close of day,
When the weary work is over, and I sit to wait for Him;
He will whisper to my spirit, 'My beloved, come away,'
I shall rise and follow through the valley cold and dim.

"For I know that in the morning that shall rise behind the hills,
Where the kingdoms and dominions
all are His,
I shall see Him in the glory that the angel chorus fills;
I shall see Him and adore Him as He is."

—From "Victory of Paul Le Grand."

Do you ask me in general what will be the end of the conflict? I answer, victory.—Savonarola.

No $2 Baseball.

New York Press: Joseph J. Lannin, the owner of one of the Boston baseball clubs, is reported as prophesying that before the end of the summer the baseball war will have raised the price of the amusement up to $2 each consumer per day.

Mr. Lannin is probably wrong. Not much baseball will be consumed at that price this coming summer or any other summer. Baseball is our popular outdoor amusement and it will never be popular at $2 a seat.

The first baseball magnate who has the vision to reduce his prices to the "ten-twent-thirt" will make so much money it will astonish him. Where he sells one grandstand seat at 75 cents he will sell five at 30 cents. This is the system which will put baseball on its feet again, not the idea that you can win the money and good will of the public by more than doubling the price.

Three National Songs.

Arthur Whiting in the Outlook: If many of the accredited hymns of nations are characterless, there are at least three popular songs which are, in a real sense, national. The "Rakoczy March" of Hungary, the "Marseillaise" of France and "Dixie" of America are intoxicants which stimulate the nerves of their respective races, so that the first two have often been forbidden by the police in times of special excitement. But there is nothing warlike or vengeful in our own song; it has good-natured energy, a certain confident strength; its saucy gait has humor; it is not theatrical, self-conscious or sentimental—it is American character.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

The state capitol bill, which provides for a new competition for plans and allows greater compensation to the successful architect, was passed by the Minnesota senate yesterday, after Senator Morgan had failed to secure a delay of one week to give Minneapolis a chance to formulate its offer of Loring park for a site. The bill had passed the house previously and will receive Governor Clough's signature.

J. J. Finley of Duluth has been appointed a member of the state board of veterinary medical examiners.

Henry Nieustadt, who returned yesterday from the East, says the outlook for the lumber trade for this summer seems to be excellent.

The Iron Exchange bank has filed amended articles of incorporation, reducing its capital stock from $100,000 to $50,000.

H. K. Gillon, city marshal of Two Harbors, was in Duluth yesterday on official business.

E. Z. Williams will sail on March 20 from Honolulu for San Francisco and is expected to arrive in Duluth about April 15.

J. J. Frey of West Duluth, who returned recently from Georgia, thinks of moving there as soon as he can dispose of his business interests in Duluth.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 28 deg. above zero; maximum yesterday, 9 deg. above zero; minimum yesterday, 2 deg. above zero.

This is the third anniversary of the greatest blizzard in Duluth's history. With such beautiful weather as we are enjoying today, it is difficult to realize that March ever produced such a day in Duluth.

The following seniors of the Central high school have been selected to participate in the class day exercises: Laura White, historian; Alfred Thwing, prophet; Jennie Crowley, Anna Oppel, William Coventry, Clara Bull, Ray Ober, Henry Meining and Maude Clarke. Those chosen to perform at the graduating exercises are Rose Wickey, Robbins Anderson, Phoebe Zimmerman, Nellie Cant and Georgia Everest. Rev. Dr. Thoburn has been selected to deliver the commencement sermon.

Miss Agnes Woods of Yerka, Colo., who has been visiting with relatives in this city for the past two months, has returned home.

The Laziest Man.

Boston Record: George W. Coleman, president of the city council and head of the Ford Hall Forum, told the following story at a recent dinner of the Pilgrim Publicity association:

"A farmer had twenty employes on his farm, and as none of them was as energetic as the farmer thought he should be, he hit upon a plan which he believed would cure them of their lazy habits.

"'Men,' he said one morning, 'I have a nice, easy job for the laziest man on the farm. Will the laziest man step forward?'

"Instantly nineteen of the men stepped forward.

"'Why don't you step to the front with the rest?' inquired the farmer of the remaining one.

"'Too much trouble,' came the reply."

Only One.

Louisville Courier-Journal: "Now, remember you are only allowed one deer," said the license clerk.

"That's queer talk for a man about to be married."

"Oh! Did you wish a marriage license? I was issuing you a license to hunt."

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

DAIRY CATTLE.

To the Editor of The Herald:

I would like to get some good points on the Holstein cattle, as I am going to debate on that subject very soon. Would like to know what cow ranks first and second, etc. Am to debate against the Jersey cow.

"A READER."

Bruce, Wis., March 6.

"A Reader" blithely asks The Editor to settle a question that has cattle raisers throughout the country divided. The most popular breeds of cattle in Northern Minnesota at least, are the Guernseys, Holsteins, Jerseys and Red Polls. Each breed has its admirers and The Editor wouldn't presume to decide which breed is preferable. Some points of difference might be mentioned. The Jerseys are small, slender animals that give very rich milk, with high fat content. The supply of milk is frequently not large, but its richness compensates for this feature. The Holsteins are a much larger breed of cattle. They mature early and are vigorous. They are also heavy eaters. They give great quantities of milk with a comparatively low fat content. They are especially popular for furnishing city milk supplies and for cheese making.—The Editor.

PEDDLERS' ORDINANCE.

To the Editor of the Open Court:

Will you kindly inform me if I would be allowed to sell some crocheted work without having to obtain a license? A DULUTH WOMAN.

Duluth, March 6.

The city ordinance covering the issuance of licenses would permit you to sell the work without a permit, under certain conditions. A full explanation of the law's requirements will be furnished gladly by the chief of police, if you will arrange to see him, or telephone him. He has so notified The Herald.—The Editor.

WANTS TO KNOW WHY APPROPRIATION WAS CUT.

To the Editor of The Herald:

Protests against the action of the senate finance committee in reducing the appropriation to the forest service have occupied a great deal of space in the newspapers recently, but so far, I have not read the reasons given by the senators for their action.

Is it because the forest service has proved inefficient?

Is it because the state requires no protection from forest fires?

Is it because more men have been employed than is necessary?

Is it because the people do not want a forest service?

Is it because the state cannot afford this form of insurance against forest fires?

Is it because the advertising given the attractions of the northern part of the state will prove to be a menace to the prosperity of the state as a whole, or is it because the lumbermen resent the stringent regulations which the forest service imposes upon them in the matter of slash disposal?

Perhaps it is because there is no patronage in this department and no vacancies to be filled by political henchmen.

There are a great many people who would like to have the above questions answered by a member of the senate finance committee.

A. B. GIBBS.

Tower, Minn., March 8.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:

"The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and "My Wife's Gone to the Country" from a Minnesota reader, who offers the opinion that they are both too trashy to publish. She's right.

"As I Was Going to Linden Fair" and "Go Feel What I Have Felt" from Mrs. Tillie Anderson of Boy River.

Requests have been received for the following: "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" and "Cole Younger and Jessie James" from Miss Adele Johnson of Osseo, Mich.

As I Was Going to Linden.

As I was going to Linden, fair city,
To Linden, fair city, 'twas early one morn,
'Twas there I saw a cowboy, all dress'd in fine linen,
All dress'd in fine linen, just ready to die.

Chorus.

Play the fife slowly and beat the drums lowly,
Play the dead march as they carry me on,
Take me to the prairie and lay the sods o'er me,
For I'm the wild cowboy, I know I've done wrong.

When I was in the saddle I used to be happy,
I used to be happy, I used to be gay;
I first took to drinking, and then to card playing;
Got shot through the breast, and now I must die.

Go fetch around me a crowd of wild cowboys,
A crowd of wild cowboys, to hear of my fate;
And go tell the others before they go further,
To quit their wild roving, before it's too late.

Go fetch me some water, a cup of cold water,
A cup of cold water, the poor fellow said,
But ere they returned his spirit had flown,
His spirit had flown, the cowboy was dead.

Go, Feel What I Have Felt.

Go, feel what I have felt,
Go, bear what I have borne;
Sink 'neath a blow a father dealt,
And the cold, proud world's scorn;
Thus struggle on from year to year,
Thy sole relief the scalding tear.

Go, weep as I have wept
O'er a loved father's fall;
See every cherished promise swept,
Youth's sweetness turned to gall;
Hope's faded flowers strewed all the way
That led me up to woman's day.

Go, kneel as I have knelt;
Implore, beseech, and pray,
Strive the besotted heart to melt,
The downward course to stay;
Be cast with bitter curse aside—
Thy prayers burlesqued, thy tears defied.

Go, stand where I have stood,
And see the strong man bow;
With gnashing teeth, lips bathed in blood
And cold and livid brow;
Go, catch his wandering glance, and see
There mirrored his soul's misery.

Go, hear what I have heard—
The sobs of sad despair,
As memory's feeling-fount have stirred,
And its revealings there
Have told him what he might have been,
Had he the drunkard's fate foreseen.

Go to a mother's side,
And her crushed spirit cheer;
Thine own deep anguish hide,
Wipe from the cheek the tear;
Mark her dimmed eye, her furrowed brow,
The gray that streaks her dark hair now,
The toil-worn frame, the trembling limb,
And trace the ruin back to him
Whose plighted faith in early youth,
Promised eternal love and truth,
But who, forsworn, hath yielded up
This promise to the deadly cup,
And led her down from love and light,
And all that made her pathway bright,
And chained her there mid want and strife,
That lowly thing—a drunkard's wife!
And stamped on childhood's brow, so mild,
That withering blight—a drunkard's child!

Go, hear, and see, and feel know
All that my soul has felt and know,
Then look within the wine-cup's glow;
See if its brightness can atone;
Think of its flavor you would try,
If all proclaimed—'tis drink and die.

Tell me I hate the bowl—
Hate is a feeble word;
I loathe, abhor—my very soul
By strong disgust is stirred
Whene'er I see, or hear, or tell
Of the dark beverage of hell!

TO CURE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can usually be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected a complete cure after other treatments have failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick tell how they have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know of someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand it to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (double strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

Parmint is used in this way not only to reduce by tonic action the inflammation and swelling in the eustachian tubes, and thus to equalize the air pressure on the drum, but to correct any excess of secretions in the middle ear, and the results it gives are nearly always quick and effective.

Every person who has catarrh in any form should give this recipe a trial and free themselves from this destructive disease.—Advertisement.

"SOME DANCE" THE VERDICT

Stranded Chorus Girls Are Belles of Their Benefit Ball.

Get Tickets Home and Hope They Strand in Duluth Again.

"Talk about war times," said Miss Mercedes Lee, "and the Belgians! They haven't anything on us. We feel as grateful as the Belgians, and we were about as hard up against it."

"Us" meant the twenty odd members of the Manhattan Musical Comedy company, and Miss Mercedes was dancing a fox trot from Duluth to Oklahoma City.

She danced 200 miles farther than any other member of the company last night at the Auditorium benefit, for she is going home to Oklahoma City, which is 200 miles further from Duluth than New York.

Two girls danced only 520 miles, or thereabouts, because Chicago is their destination, but most of the members of the company danced the full distance to New York, 1,382 miles.

Three-fourths of Duluth's young men are stage-struck, if the popularity of the members of the Manhattan company was any criterion, and no chorus girl could have been a wall flower if she had wanted to be.

Dancing to send a group of stranded show girls back to the white lights of "deah old Broadway" evidently appealed to the citizens of Duluth, for the Auditorium was crowded to doors, and everyone paid, even the newspaper men.

"Will I dance?" replied Miss Maude Manley. "Surest thing you know. I'm dead tired but I couldn't refuse to dance with such a charming young man."

The "charming young man" thereupon blushed and gingerly stepped out on the floor, resolving to show his partner that he was a good dancer, even if he didn't live in New York, or Brooklyn, or Chicago. He did step on her toes once or twice, but that was "because the floor was so crowded," as Miss Maude explained. Miss Maude was happy, grateful and friendly to everybody.

Sold Most Tickets.

"You see," she said, as she smiled sweetly and tried to forget her toes, "Miss Wilder and I sold more tickets than anyone ele, and so, of course, we know a good many people here tonight, and I want to dance with every one of the 110 who bought from me."

Here she stopped short and made a dive through the crowd to Harris Trux, secretary to Mayor Prince. Mr. Trux didn't really want to dance. He was "awfully glad that the dance was such a success," and he hoped the girls would get home safely, but Miss Maude wouldn't take "no" for an answer, and presently Mr. Trux was threading the mazes of the new fox trot. Everybody felt friendly to everybody last night.

"Billy" Groves was the proud possessor of "the best dancer on the floor," as he explained sotto voce:

"If you want a regular dance, I'll fix it for you."

Fix it he did, and a "regular" dancer Miss Valleaux Elliott was. Miss Elliott was tired, but happy, grateful and friendly.

When Mr. Groves, who "goes without words," as far as the company is concerned, and Miss Elliott danced, the visitors felt rather provincial and became all tangled up in their one step. It was a "war time" dance, as Miss Lee had said, but most of the girls expressed a desire to come back and get "stranded" in Duluth every summer as a vacation, because it is "some" town.

Nearly 1,000 people attended the big "hop," and Dr. William H. Salter, who was in charge of the financial end of things, will turn over about $530 to be used in railroad fares.

"Forty years in the show business," declared Manager M. J. Knill, as "Good Night, Everybody" was being played by the orchestra, "forty years—and I've never seen anything or heard of anything to match this.

"The company certainly is thankful, and if we ever play Duluth again we may have an opportunity of thanking all those who have been so good to us.

Announced from Pulpit.

"Why," he continued, "the rector of the Episcopal church announced from his pulpit that the dance was to be given, and asked his parishioners to attend. I would like to meet him. He's what I consider a real Christian.

"There are many others, too—Col. Henry of your paper, the man who made the dance possible; Dr. Salter, who was one of the principal reasons for its great success; Manager Goldberg of the Holland; Miss Nellie Bright, Mrs. Nellie Teare, Mrs. Lardner (Mrs. W. P. Lardner), and scores of others. There are more regular people in this town than any place on the map.

"Bless you." And Mr. Knill looked suspiciously moist around the eyes.

Members of the musicians' union furnished the music for the dance, and the vaudeville stunts were presented by various members of the company, including Miss Mabel Day, James McElhern and Miss Hazel Kingdon. Members of the Holland hotel cabaret troupe also presented several features, while Babe and La Tour, professional dancers, interpreted new steps for the edification of the worshippers at the shrine of Terpsichore.

It was a big night in Duluth.

"Doc" Salter said this morning that every member of the company would be on the train before night.

Go to Church Sunday.

MAY TRY GERMAN CREW FOR MURDER

Men of Submarine U-8 Will Be Held Under Restrictions.

London, March 9.—The admiralty announces that it is not justified in extending honors to the captured crews of German submarine boats owing to their method and that it is intended to segregate them under special restrictions, pending their possible conviction at the conclusion of peace. The admiralty states that this ruling applies to the twenty-nine officers and men of the German submarine U-8, which was sunk recently off Dover.

The policy to be adopted toward the crews of German submarines in answer to the demand of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, retired, and others, that such men be tried for murder, and the admiralty statement indicates that the government has this in mind. The statement refers to the generous treatment accorded German officers and men saved, numbering upward of 1,000, and then says with reference to the U-8:

"This vessel had been operating in the straits of Dover and in the English channel and there is a strong probability that she had been guilty of attacking and sinking unarmed merchantmen and firing torpedoes at ships carrying non-combatants, neutrals and women. In particular the steamer Oriole is missing and there is grave reason to fear that she was sunk with all hands—twenty.

"There is, of course, great difficulty in bringing home particular crimes to any individual German submarine, and it may be that the evidence necessary to establish conviction will not be obtained until after the conclusion of peace. Meantime persons against whom such charges are pending must be subject to a special restriction and cannot be accorded the distinction of their rank or be allowed to mingle with other prisoners of war."

A report received from Rear Admiral Hon. Horace Hood on the sinking of the U-8, as made public by the admiralty, shows that the submarine finally was destroyed by the torpedo boat destroyers Guerkha and Maori. The other destroyers which took part in the hunt were the Viking, Nubian, Mohawk, Falcon, Kangaroo, Cossack, Leven, Fawn and Ure. The operations were directed by the officer commanding the flotilla, Capt. C. D. Johnson, and were marked by skill and promptitude, according to the report.

HOW GREAT BRITAIN WILL TREAT COTTON

Formal Notice Given By the British Embassy at Washington.

Washington, March 9.—Formal notice of treatment to be accorded American cotton by Great Britain and her allies in the execution of their declared intention to stop all commerce to and from enemy countries was given yesterday in a statement issued by the British embassy. All cargoes consigned directly to ports of an enemy will be stopped, but as to shipments to neutral European countries, the statement said, the following arrangements had been agreed to in London:

1—All cotton for which contracts of sale and freight engagements had already been made before March 2 to be allowed free (or bought at contract price if stopped), provided ships sail not later than March 31.

2—Similar treatment to be accorded to all cotton insured before March 2, provided it is put on board not later than March 16.

3—All shipments of cotton claiming above protection to be declared before sailing and documents produced to and certificates obtained from consular officers or other authority fixed by governments. Ships or cargoes consigned to enemy ports will not be allowed to proceed."

At the embassy it was explained that this arrangement announced in response to appeals of American shippers anxious over the status of their cotton already on dock awaiting shipment or actually at sea was merely temporary and would be superseded by the British order in council putting into effect the general policy to be instituted in retaliation against Germany's submarine war zone proclamation. Embassy officials construed the arrangement as a concession to neutral shippers as Premier Asquith in announcing the new policy on March 1 merely said:

"The treatment of vessels and cargoes which have sailed before this date will not be affected."

Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia and Charleston merchants, who as representatives of the cotton shippers consulted with the British ambassador and Mr. Rose, the state department's trade expert, were somewhat in doubt as to just what concession they had secured in answer to their appeal, but went away satisfied that the cotton they had afloat, or under contract to ship this month, at least would be safe. Furthermore, they gathered the opinion that satisfactory arrangements would be made for a continuance indefinitely without undue interference of the cotton trade with the neutral countries of Europe.

State department officials believed the arrangement made today was made directly between the cotton interests and the British government and that the department was not a party to it.

6088 SAVES Rheumatism Sufferers

Costly Trips to Hot Springs or to Sanatoriums

THOUSANDS have learned that 6088 (Sixty-Eighty-Eight) eliminates the causes of Rheumatism in much the same manner as do the waters of Hot Springs and similar resorts.

They have tried 6088 just because we have said to them—as we say to you now—"6088 must relieve your Rheumatism—must prove beneficial in cases of Chronic Skin Eruptions, Biliousness or Indigestion—or your money will be instantly returned to you by your own druggist."

Now that you can get 6088 of your druggist, you need no longer suffer the pangs of Rheumatism. You need no longer endure the torments of chronic skin eruptions.

Your Druggist Is Authorized to Guarantee Beneficial Results

6088 (Sixty-Eighty-Eight) is an absolutely harmless remedy if taken according to our plain directions. It contains no habit forming drugs.

We have sold it under a positive money-back-if-not-benefited Guarantee for years, and of all the thousands who have used 6088 (Sixty-Eighty-Eight) less than 1 per cent have asked for the return of their money.

6088 was not put on the market until it had been given years of trial by a successful physician who gained the reputation of a Rheumatism Specialist through the almost unfailing benefit the formula of 6088 achieved.

6088 is earnestly recommended for the treatment of Chronic Rheumatism, Mercurial Rheumatism, Lumbago and Rheumatic Neuralgia, following attacks of Inflammatory Rheumatism and Sciatica. It also proves beneficial in cases of Chronic Skin Eruptions, Biliousness or Indigestion.

6088 (Sixty-Eighty-Eight) not only relieves Rheumatism, but it tends to build up the entire system, renovating the organs of the body and reviving their normal strength and health.

THIRTY TAKING "AGGIE" COURSE

Lectures Begin at Experiment Station; Will Conclude March 20.

About thirty agriculturalists enrolled for the second annual short course and continuation school of agriculture which opened yesterday at the Northeast Experiment station of the University of Minnesota near Woodland. Yesterday's session was given over to registration and preliminary work. The lecture course began today.

This morning Prof. Francis Jager gave two talks, one on "Bee Keeping in the Cutover Region" and the other on "Apiary Practicums." This afternoon J. S. Montgomery will discuss horses, taking up the subjects of "Feeding of Management of Horses," "Diseases of Horses" and "Scoring and Judging of Horses." George P. Grout will give an illustrated lecture on "Types and Breeds of Dairy Cattle" this evening.

9:30 a. m.—Hog cholera, anutoria, contagious abortion, tuberculosis; instruction and demonstration of treatment and prevention, M. H. Reynolds.

7:30 p. m.—Debate and parliamentary drill.

The course will continue until March 20. Representatives from St. Louis, Lake and Koochiching counties are in attendance.

DEMURRER SUSTAINED.

Court Takes Requested Action in Replevin Case Over Tools.

In district court yesterday, Judge Fesler signed an order sustaining a demurrer interposed by John J. Pukropp to ten separate counter-claims pleaded in the answer of John Korby, against whom Pukropp has an action in replevin pending. He is suing to recover certain tools and supplies alleged to have been forcibly taken from his possession.

In his suit, Pukropp demands the return of the tools, which are now at Central Lakes, or, if recovery cannot be had, judgment for $3,100. As a defense, the answer of Korby sets forth that possession of the property remained with him by virtue of a chattel mortgage.

The counter-claims to which Pukropp demurred, set forth that the plaintiff Pukropp was indebted to Korby on notes, cash advanced and other evidences of debt, in a sum amounting to $3,586.97.

IS CAUGHT IN BELT AND FATALLY HURT

Egeland, N. D., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—While putting a belt on a gas engine William Frederick was caught by the belt and thrown into the fly wheel. His leg was crushed and much of the flesh stripped from the bones. He died a few hours later. The accident occurred at the home of M. Lehnon, his father-in-law.

BY BRUCE.

RIGHT at this time of the approaching vernal season there is high pitched expectancy and gleeful anticipation in many of the bucolic bergs that dot the fair face of Uncle Sam's broad domain. The reason, friends, is not because of any poetical rejoicing over the twitter of the winged harbingers of spring, the outbudding of fragrant flowers, or the awakening of the tender passion of love in the breast of man and maid; rather, let us haste to state, it is the belief in many rustic bergs that Cy and Ed and Bill are going to break into the big league.

Now is the period of the year when the hopes of the rookey bloom like the poetic flowers that have an excessively productive couple of weeks, and which give many young poets reams of inspiration and many editors many bad half hours.

Many of the young ball players of this land of ours are trying for teams. Many of them expect to break head foremost into the big show. Many of them indite letters home ebullient with hope, effervescent with gurgling glee; and lo and behold, there came upon the land famine and sickness—bingo! the young men come trudging home, woebegone, crestfallen, the picture of fallen hopes—thus doth life turn and taunt one.

The sticks were industriously combed all of last season. Many youths were garnered and ticketed for trial this spring. Down in the Southern training camps the youths of promise, the promissary notes of the baseball, one might say, are being given the opportunity of ninety days; and some of them will be cast aside as worthless.

Yes, there will be joyless nights and high hopes dashed to the ground these days, for some of the lads that have trekked bravely to the Southland, with hope chanting a boastful air, will be a coming home, filled with clumsy alibis as to the reasons why and whereof.

Concerning Joe Stecher.

EMIL KLANK is the man who handled Frank A. Gotch in many of his big contests. Therefore it is of interest that Emil Klank states that Joe Stecher, the young Minnesota farmer who is now making his home at Dodge, Neb., is the greatest heavyweight wrestler in the world today—and that the farmer kid is immeasurably greater at 21 years of age than Frank A. Gotch was at a similar age.

"This youngster is a wonder," said Klank yesterday. "Joe is in my opinion the greatest wrestler in the world today. The best proof that he is good, is that Frank Gotch has taken a decided interest in the youngster and has decided to take a hand in his training and handling.

"When Stecher was 17 years of age they sent Roller out West to beat him. The match was for a half an hour. Roller never came anywhere near getting a fall. The Doc was to come back for a finish match, but evidently decided to remain away, for he never came back.

"Yussiff Hussane is considered one of the greatest of the present heavyweights. The Turk was sent out to beat the kid. Stecher fastened one of his terrible leg scissors on the Turk's head and he retaliated by biting the youngster, thereby being disqualified.

"Adolph Ernst, one of the greatest light heavyweight wrestlers in the country, was rung in on the young Nebraska farmer. The followers of Ernst hoped to win a lot of money by liberally backing their man. Stecher administered a severe beating to Ernst.

"Great wrestlers are born and come to the front once in a decade, perhaps. Gotch was the greatest of his time and I confidently believe that this young Stecher will be a better man than Gotch was in his prime.

"Just think that this boy is barely 21 years of age, has never been trained, and yet already he has beaten some of the best wrestlers in the game. Stecher will grow larger. He weighs 205 pounds and is just a big kid. The Nebraska farmer has the most wonderful pair of wrestling legs I have ever beheld—and remember, that I was the manager of Yusiff Mahmout during the big year of his career."

Klank added that Stecher would decisively defeat Charley Cutler in another year. Of course this is what Klank says—Cutler may hold materially different views.

Welcome to the Bowlers.

ON Friday of the present merry sport week the invading bowlers will descend upon our fair city. In passing let it be stated that the greatest number of pin spillers that have ever assembled here will begin arriving tomorrow.

When the Head of the Lakes bowling tournament was first started—as it was called then—a few straggling teams were lured from the various surrounding towns and perhaps one or two teams came up from the classic environs of the Twin Cities. Now the case is quite different. The pin men are coming in groups—in crowds, if you will.

Much credit is due those faithful few who have worked each year for larger bowling meets for Duluth. Advance indications lead one to believe that the tourney that will begin on Friday will compare favorably with some of the earlier efforts of the I. B. A. As a matter of pure prose it is stated that there are more entries in for the approaching pin meet than were received for some of the early efforts of the I. B. A. Just look what the I. B. A. is today. Like Jonah's gourd, it has blossomed exceedingly.

MAY PLAY IN CURLING CLUB

Request Made That Amateur Hockey Games Be Allowed There.

In an effort to finish the hockey schedule of the Duluth Amateur league, A. D. Goodman, R. D. Annis, Cassius Bagley and Edward Mendenhall, four of the team backers of the league, will today hold a consultation with President Stephen H. Jones of the curling club, to the end that the remainder of the games may be played on the curling club ice.

Games scheduled for last evening at the French rink in the West end were postponed because of the ankle-deep water on the skating surface. The big game of the season, that between the Universals and Big Duluths, is scheduled for tonight, but there is no chance that it can be played at the French rink.

With the Big Duluths, Northerns and Universals in the running for first honors in the league, the race is intensely exciting. It is desired that good ice be secured for the completion of the schedule, even if the three leaders alone fight it out. Centrals and Bagleys are out of the running and there appears a slim chance for Two Harbors. But there is an equal chance between the three leaders.

It is believed that some arrangement will be made with the officials of the curling club whereby the final games of the season can be played in the big rink.

Wide Margins and Close Games in Play for Championship.

Philadelphia, March 9.—Corwin Huston of Detroit won his first game yesterday of the Class A amateur billiard tournament for the national championship, defeating E. L. Milburn of Memphis 400 to 206. Huston gathered a high run of 71 and averaged 7 43-51. Milburn's high run was 22 and his average 4 6-50.

Huston's victory gives him a tie with Milburn for sixth place in the tournament, each having lost four games and won one.

Charles Heddon last night defeated J. F. Poggenburg, New York, former international champion, 400 to 385 in the Class A amateur billiard tournament for the championship of America. Heddon's highest run was 64 and his average 10 30-37. Poggenburg had a high run of 74 and averaged 10 25-36.

BAGLEY WON BY BRADLEY

Ditzel's Rink Is Defeated in Final Game By Score of 12 to 10.

Season's Trophy Play Is Rapidly Drawing to an End.

Ralph Bradley last evening won the final game of the Bagley event, defeating the Ditzel rink, skipped by Billy Dinham, by the score of 12 to 10. The contest was a thrilling one and one that brought out some great playing.

Ralph skipped a great game. Dinham's rock lay on the button in the last head. If Bradley had missed his last shot the score would have been tied. Bradley made a perfect shot, raised Dinham's rock and lay.

It is expected that nearly all of the trophy events will be wound up the present week. Ron McLeod and Ed Deetz are to meet tomorrow evening in the semi-finals of the Manley-McLennan, while Billy Dinham and Walter Hall will also meet in the semi-finals of the same event.

The events of last evening and the draw of this evening, as well as the standing to date in the "Blaze of Glory" event, are given below:

BASKET BALL RACE NARROWING DOWN

Pending Game of Northerns vs. Fenton-Dubys May Have Bearing.

Standing of Commercial League Teams.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Northerns	5	1	.830
Kelleys	5	2	.715
Fenton-Dubys	3	3	.500
Lakes	2	5	.286
Big Duluths	1	5	.166

The pennant race in the Commercial Basket Ball league has settled down to a grind between the Northerns and Kelleys. To date the former team has a slight shade in the struggle, with only one game in the lost column. Tonight the Northerns will tackle the Fenton-Dubys. The latter team has not much show left of coming out on top, but is a good third and will battle hard to pull down the proud Northerns to a tie with the Kelleys. The Kelleys are idle this evening, but should the Northerns lose tonight it will be up to the Kelley-Northern game of a week from tonight to settle the league dispute. The race will close on that date.

In Boerner and Smith the league leaders have about the classiest pair of forwards in the circuit. They played together last year also, as members of the Universals who won the championship that season. Old "Doc" Boerner is a recognized star of long standing at the Head of the Lakes and has played on the best of the representative quintets turned out in "these parts." He was a member of the crack Y. M. C. A. team many years ago and later served on the fast boat club team. Smith is much younger in experience but is believed to have a promising future. He is a high school pupil, but did not try for the school team preferring rather to play commercial basket ball. The remainder of the Northern team is not far behind when it comes to stars. Big A. Nelson at center, "Bill" Nelson and "Gus" Grant at guard and Busselman, the sub forward, round out a team that has proved to be mighty hard to beat.

The other teams of the league have all played exceptional ball and the remaining two sets of games should result in some great playing.

READY FOR THE WORD

MANDOT HAS NOT SIGNED

There Is a Possibility that Dundee May Replace French Boxer.

Tommy Walsh, manager of Joe Mandot, has not sent in the signed articles for the contest with Pal Brown. It is stated that unless Walsh shoulders a musket and marches to the front with the signed articles within a week, that Johnny Dundee will be taken on in place of the boy from the French Market district of New Orleans.

Scotty Montieth, manager of Dundee, has been heard from. A set of articles similar to the ones now in the hands of Walsh will be forwarded to the Scotchman, and in the event that Walsh proves unduly tardy, the same terms that have been submitted to Mandot on several occasions, will be forwarded to the pugilistic mentor of Dundee.

Dundee is a fast and rugged little battler. In some quarters he is accredited with a win over Mandot in the recent 20-round bout in New Orleans. Dundee has met all of the cracks of the lightweight division.

HIRSH AND IZZO, FIGHTERS, IN BAD

Indefinitely Suspended By Wisconsin Boxing Commission for Violations.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 9.—Ruby Hirsh and Frankie Izzo, both of Chicago, were indefinitely suspended by the state boxing commission at its monthly meeting here Monday afternoon for failure to appear when ordered to do so.

Hirsh was to answer to a charge of delaying a Kenosha show because he did not think the house big enough to fight for, and the commission wanted to question Izzo about his foul tactics in his bout with Johnny Ertle.

Several sanctions were granted and the Wolgast-South Side A. C. case was laid over to permit the two parties to get together and settle their differences.

SUIT HEARING OVER FEDERAL FRANCHISE.

Chicago, March 9.—Financial operations of the Federal league were expected to be revealed today at the resumption of the hearing on the temporary injunction recently granted by Judge Baldwin in the circuit court restraining the league from transferring the Kansas City franchise to Newark, N. J.

Counsel for the Kansas City club asserted that officials of the league received the gate receipts of the club after advancing it a $5,000 loan, but had failed to give an accounting of the receipts.

The club lost heavily last season, and as officials of the league contended that it had not lived up to its financial obligations the franchise was transferred to Newark. The Kansas City stockholders assert this action was illegal as they had been given assurance that the franchise would remain in Kansas City.

COLLINS TO LEAVE DOOKS

Owner Blume Says Jimmy Will Not Be Present at Roll Call.

Owner Blume of the White Sox stated today that there was no definite progress in the deal that is pending which is expected to send a crack catcher to the Dooks.

There is a trade on also for another player which involves the departure of Jimmy Collins. It was stated today that Collins would not be seen in a White Sox uniform the coming season. It looks now as if the threatened deal that would cause Lucey Sours to wear a Duluth uniform this season and cause James Abbington Collins to don the raiment of Muscatine, is also off. At the local baseball office it is reported that Muscatine is amply satisfied with Sours and hankers not for the trade.

Herbert Hamlin, a pitcher who has worked in several Minnesota and Dakota leagues, has written in for a trial. The youth says he has the goods and is eager for a trial.

In regard to the impending deal for a catcher, it is stated that the money is up, all details have been arranged, and all that remains to complete the deal is the consent of the player to play here.

JOHNSON-WILLARD FIGHT IN HAVANA

Heavyweight Championship Battle Arranged By Curley for April 3.

Havana, Cuba, March 9.—A fight for the world's heavyweight pugilistic championship will take place at Havana on Saturday, April 3, between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard.

The last obstacle was removed yesterday when Jack Curley, who endeavored to have the men meet at Juarez, Mex., March 6, received a cable from Willard saying he would start immediately for Havana, arriving here March 15.

The terms for the fight are identical with those which would have prevailed had the encounter taken place at Juarez. The site for the battle has not yet been selected.

YOKEL AND KETONEN ARE CONFIDENT OF OUTCOME

Rocky Mountain Lion Declares He Will Take Measure of Little Finn, While Waino Says There Will Be a Surprise for the Salt Lake City Star.

WHAT EMIL KLANK SAYS.
"Yokel is the greatest of all the middleweights. Farmer Burns, one of the greatest of all wrestlers and the oldest in the game, has repeatedly declared the Salt Lake City man a marvel. Mike expects to win after a hard struggle. The Finn is a tough mat customer and an awfully hard man to beat. But we think Mike has the class."

WHAT OSTBERG SAYS.
"Waino believes he can beat Yokel. We don't see what Yokel has that Ketonen does not possess. The little Finn has always been ready to mix it with any of them and rough it, too; if Yokel carries the going to Waino, there may be something sensational happen."

Both wrestlers are ready for the word of Referee Harry McCollom. Ketonen is confident of his ability to beat the Rocky Mountain Lion, while Yokel, saying little, declares he is prepared to go in and make a fight of it all the way.

Ketonen relies largely on his remarkable ability to counter hold to beat Yokel. The Salt Lake City wrestler is a rushing, tearing sort of chap, mixing it at every opportunity, and with a free exchange of holds Ketonen figures that there will be opportunities in plenty to fasten on a deadly hold and lots of chances for exercising leverage, in which the Finn is an artist.

On the day of the contest Yokel is the favorite with the general public. Those who have seen the Mormon marvel wrestle in the past are loath to believe that he can be beaten by a man of something less than his poundage. The wonderful contest Mike wrestled against Beall in the curling club rink has not escaped the memory of the followers of the mat game.

Ketonen Always Dangerous.

In Waino Ketonen Old Mike Yokel is going against one of the most dangerous middleweights of the entire brigade. The Finn is always dangerous. His ability to sideroll and his intuitive wrestling sense, his judgment of time and his ability to gain an effective hold in a rousing mixup are qualities that stamp the little Finn as a real wrestler and an opponent that can never be held cheaply.

When an opponent is on top of Ketonen he must ever be on the alert for some unexpected move, for it is when the Finn is underneath that he often execute some of his most effective holds. Whether these holds can be clamped on a wrestler of the time-tried ability of Mike Yokel, only the wrestling of the contest can decide.

In Ketonen the Rocky Mountain Lion is going against one of the greatest of the middleweights. The Finn has a long and brilliant career on the mat. In Yokel, Ketonen has the opportunity to show just how good he is.

Should the contest of tonight come down to a test of endurance, the followers of Ketonen declare he will win. Endurance is declared to be the Finn's long suit. Yokel has declared that he is prepared to go in and wrestle all night.

Summing the advance dope of the battle up, it looks on the eve of the contest as if it is going to prove a real fight in every sense of the word. Yokel will carry the largest following, but some shrewd judges of the game are optimistically predicting that Ketonen is going to spring one of the greatest surprises of the wrestling year.

Good Card Promised.

Promoter Tilton Lewis has framed up a good card for the fans of the Northwest. Chris Person, if he arrives here in time, will go on against Karensaari, the Finn. John Bruce, a rising young wrestler from West Duluth, is to go on against Billy Harvey, and there will be a curtain raiser.

Walter Miller arrived in Duluth this morning and will be an interested spectator at the doings of this evening. Harley Davidson, the new manager of Pal Brown, is also here. Mike Collins, the well-known Hudson, Wis., promoter, is also expected in during the day in tow of a number of fans from the Twin Cities.

Promoter Lewis announced today that the doors would be thrown open at 7:30 and that the first preliminary of the evening would be called at 8:30. It is expected that the big match of the evening will be called at 9:30.

A number of fans from outside points are in the city. The ranges have sent a delegation down, while some of the nearby towns have contributed enthusiasts to the crowd that is today discussing the impending contest.

Welcomed and Defeated.

San Diego, Cal., March 9.—The first squad of the Chicago American league club, which arrived here yesterday, was met at the station by a representative of the Panama-California exposition, a delegation of fans and a band. In the opening game, in the afternoon, of a series with the Venice Coast league team, the White Sox were defeated, 4 to 2.

BIG MINORS SPLIT ON GAME SCHEDULE

American Association Likely to Row Over Cantillon's Offering.

Chicago, March 9.—The American association is still without a schedule for the coming season. George Tebeau, president of the Kansas City club and also chairman of the schedule committee, who passed through Chicago yesterday on his way west, said:

"A schedule for the American association season of 1915 will not be adopted for several days.

"A schedule committee was appointed, of which I am chairman. It was the sense of the meeting that a 168-game schedule, opening the season in the East on or about April 8, be drawn, but such a schedule has not as yet been presented. Mike Cantillon and A. F. Timme, the other members of the committee, drew up a 154-game schedule, opening April 22.

"The schedule sugested by them will not be acceptable to the American as-

THE only ground for dispute about the Real Tobacco Chew is when a man doesn't get it.

He depends on it for himself, he boosts it to others and nothing will take its place for daily comfort.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

TITLE PLAY AT CALUMET

National Hockey Championship Games on This Week.

Calumet, Mich., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The national hockey championship will be decided on Calumet ice on Thursday and Friday of this week, when the Sault seven, champions of the western division, and the Cleveland team, champions of the central and eastern divisions of the American Amateur Hockey association, will play for the title. President C. E. Webb of the national association officially notified both teams last night.

The Sault desired to play at Houghton, but Cleveland refused because of the larger size and better lighting of the Calumet rink and because Calumet first opened negotiations to secure the games after the Sault offered to meet Cleveland on neutral ice.

The entire proceeds after payment of expenses are to be turned over to the contesting teams. The winning team will claim the MacNaughton trophy donated by James MacNaughton of Calumet, as the championship cup. It is now held by Cleveland.

Total goals made in the two games will probably decide the championship.

DAVIDSON AFTER BOUTS

Manager of Pal Brown Is After New Orleans Date.

Harley Davidson, manager of Pal Brown, arrived in Duluth last evening and will join the Chisholm boxer on the range tomorrow. Davidson has been busy in the endeavor to line up a number of bouts since he and Brown left for Windsor for the Welling bout, which failed to materialize.

"Tom Andrews offered us a place on the card with Gunboat Smith and Dillon," said Harley. "He wanted Brown to meet Ritchie Mitchell of Milwaukee. However, we couldn't see the bout and the proposition has been discarded.

"There is a chance that several long bouts will be lined up. I want to wait until I can go over the matter with Brown. New Orleans is possibly where we will go."

It is stated that Davidson is figuring with Montreal promoters for a 15-round bout between Brown and Sammy Robideau. The distance wanted is fifteen rounds. As Robideau is French and a large proportion of the population of Montreal is of that nationality, it is figured from a promoter's standpoint that the contest would prove a good one.

EQUIPMENT BEST IN STATE

Hicken Makes Sweeping Claim for Motorization of Fire Department.

Aerial Motor Truck Is the Only One in Minnesota.

Duluth now has the best motor equipped fire department in Minnesota.

This is the claim made yesterday by Commissioner Hicken, after his resolution authorizing the purchase of a motor truck and an automobile for the chief was passed by the council at its regular weekly meeting. These two units will entail an expense of $5,750 and $2,000, respectively.

According to Commissioner Hicken, the aerial motor truck purchased last December is the only one in the state and is attracting considerable attention, especially in the Twin Cities, where officials are now making plans to purchase trucks similar to the Duluth machine.

In comparison to the Twin Cities, the commissioner claims that Duluth has a more nearly motorized fire department while the equipment is the best of three principal municipalities in the state.

At the meeting yesterday the council passed a resolution authorizing the purchase of a service truck from the American La France Fire Engine company for $5,750 and a Kissel Kar from the Interstate Auto company for $2,000. There are now thirteen motor units in the Duluth fire department, with the purchase of these two yesterday.

DEATH CHEATS SCIENCE.

Washburn Young Man, Kept Alive By Artificial Respiration, Dies.

Washburn, Wis., March 9.—Lafayette Reuter, 23, this city, whose every breath during more than seven weeks has depended on friends and relatives who have kept him alive by means of artificial respiration, died Monday.

This was one of the most peculiar cases that ever came to the attention of physicians in this vicinity. Last fall Mr. Reuter was stricken with nerve paralysis, which affected the muscles of his arms and legs and later the muscles of the pulmonary region. Relatives and friends have forced air into the young man's lungs by pumping the chest with their hands.

During the entire illness the young man remained conscious and gave instructions as how to best pump his chest. The food he was able to take became less and less until his vitality gave out.

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Fresh Air and Old Fogyism

A DOCTOR—a plain family doctor who happened to be health commissioner of his own home town—happened also to visit the schoolroom one lovely winter afternoon about 3 o'clock. No sooner was he inside with the door shut on him, the school children and the teacher, who smiled bravely, though not at all well, than he felt a terrible sinking sensation in his epigastrium, with symptoms of asphyxia indooratorium. Gasping and panting for breath, the doctor hurried outdoors again, leaving the poor children and the not-at-all-well teacher there in the literally deadly atmosphere all alone and at the mercy of the school board—the members of which were excited over a political anomaly at the time.

Understand, this schoolroom was in one of our public schools with all the hygienic wrinkles—in print. Also the building was fitted with a patent ventilating system, the idea being to let in fresh air from the cellar or somewhere and carry it out by means of fans, flues, dustbins and all that sort of complicated, and hence scientific apparatus. The doctor, however, was a practical man—haven't we already said he was health commissioner? He hied himself to the board.

The Patent Ventilator.

"Board," said he, striking a pose intended to be impressive, "fellow citizens, I protest as a physician, a citizen, a plain family man and a health officer, against the rotten atmosphere of the schoolroom. I respectfully petition your honorable board to order the windows opened at least three minutes, morning and afternoon, during the regular calisthenic drill."

The board went into executive session. Deliberated. Resolved. Sent for a reporter. Appointed a committee. Fussed round for a month or two. Then reported.

"The board finds that petition of appellant cannot be granted. The ventilating system was installed in the school building at considerable expense, and if the windows are opened we fear the ventilating system will be interfered with."

In other words, the honorable board preferred stagnant air with a patent attachment to fresh air as nature supplies it. So the school children had to take their fresh air canned.

Questions and Answers.

A Poor Food: Is strychnin the only nerve food? Is osteopathy better than medicine for the nerves? What causes dead or paralyzed nerves? Would removal of turbinate bones relieve catarrh?

REPLY.

1. No, it is merely an excitant of the spinal nerve centers—a whip for emergency use only. 2. You're joking with us. 3. Poison like alcohol, lead, arsenic; self-made poisons and disease poisons; injury; overuse or abuse; pressure from tumors; hemorrhage or inflammation in the nerve center. 4. Yes, if the diseased turbinate cannot be otherwise reduced.

A Flat-Footed Guess: Why do my feet burn, and then after the burning stops my knees ache like rheumatiz, though no rheumatism medicine relieves me?

REPLY.

We guess you have got pronated feet, flat feet or other deformity which you have failed to recognize. By the way, any remedy purporting to be a "rheumatism remedy" is a joke, especially if it is supposed to eliminate "uric acid"—which has nothing to do with rheumatism.

ASSESSMENT STARTS CLASH

Murchison Opposes Advance Levy for Improvement of Sixth Street.

Voss Fathers Resolution; Action of Mayor Heads Off Trouble.

Disagreeing as to the advisability of making an advance assessment for the improvement of Sixth street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-fifth avenues west, Commissioners Voss and Murchison engaged in a sharp exchange of questions and opinions at the meeting of the council yesterday afternoon.

The expected clash was averted when Mayor Prince asked the commissioners to act on the resolution introduced by Commissioner Voss, authorizing an advance assessment of 80 per cent. No one seconded the motion made by the head of the finance division, and as a result it failed of passage and was tabled.

The resolution was prepared by City Clerk Palmer at the request of J. Allyn Scott, city assessor, who claimed that there was no provision made in the resolution ordering the improvement of Sixth street for an advance assessment. As the original resolution was introduced by Commissioner Murchison, the city clerk had the former's name placed at the top, but when it was read yesterday afternoon, the head of the public works division refused to father it, declaring that he was opposed to the plan.

It was then that Commissioner Voss agreed to father the resolution, and this action started the argument between the two commissioners. Mr. Murchison claimed that the work may not begin for two years and that it would not be fair to the proneryty owners to make an advance assessment of 80 per cent against them. It was for this reason, he explained, that he omitted this feature in the original resolution ordering the improvement, which was passed on Aug. 24 last.

Commissioner Voss raised the contention that it would be establishing a precedent for these property owners and that it would be dangerous, as other owners would claim the council was discriminating against them. The commissioners kept up their argument for some time, and a clash was finally averted when the mayor asked for a motion in favor of the resolution. This was made by Commissioner Voss, but there being no second, the bill was tabled.

As a result, the resolution passed on Aug. 24 last, providing for the improvement with no advance assessment, will remain in force.

DIVORCE IS GRANTED.

Conrad Johnson Charges Infidelity, and Wife Makes No Defense.

On testimony that his wife, Mrs. Mary Johnson, had been untrue to him and that she had had wrongful relations with Anton Weckman, a neighboring homesteader, Conrad Johnson secured a divorce in Judge Bert Fesler's division of the district court yesterday. Mrs. Johnson made no defense. The plaintiff claimed that Weckman is the father of a child born to Mrs. Johnson several months ago.

Other witnesses substantiated his testimony with reference to acts of infidelity alleged to have taken place between Mrs. Johnson and Weckman. Johnson's homestead is located at Petroll.

EFFECT ON GRAIN TRADE

Russia Raises Close to 1,000,000,000 Bushels of Wheat Yearly.

Much is being said these days about the opening of the Dardanelles and its effect upon the grain markets of the world; but most of the discussion is conducted in technical terms, which, to the layman, is about as clear as Sanskrit.

As a matter of fact the opening of the Dardanelles will have no other effect than the application of the old and time-honored law of supply and demand. In brief, the situation, according to local grain dealers, is this:

With the Dardanelles closed, the crop of Russian grain, raised during 1914, is choked up on Black sea shores or in the interior, with no outlet, and therefore American grain—both North and South continents—is the chief available supply for the world; consequently the market price is higher because the demand is great and the supply small.

With the Dardanelles open, the transportation of Russian wheat on the Black sea shores, being unrestricted except as to the availability of bottoms to carry it, the supply of grain to the world at large is going to be greater, and will more nearly—or, possibly completely—meet the demand; therefore the price of grain will drop.

War Bottles Wheat.

Ever since Germany declared war on Russia last August, and especially ever since Turkey got into the fight on the side of the kaiser, the straits connecting the Black sea with the Sea of Marmora, and the latter with the Aegean sea, an arm of the Mediterranean, have been closed. Consequently Russian grain, which always seeks an outlet through the Dardanelles has been bottled up, and the resources of the American market were all that could be called upon for supplies. Hence the recent immense bulge in prices.

However, since the British and French warships have been endeavoring to open the Dardanelles, the American market, particularly in wheat, since that is the greatest product of Russia, has weakened under the assaults of the warships as much or more than have the forts in the straits. As the success of the fleet developed the American market prices fell more and more; but yesterday, when news came that the inner forts are stubbornly resisting the fleet's advance, and that there had been a check, the American market has advanced the price again, solely on the prospect that the fleet will not get through as easily as was at first expected.

So long as that check is sustained and the demand keeps up for American wheat for export, it is predicted, so long will the price on this side of the Atlantic go up and the market remain strong. Should the fleet get through, however, and the millions of bushels of Russian wheat be released—become a part of the world's "available supply"—it is likely that there will be a break in the American wheat price that will be staggering.

Russia's Immense Crop.

No accurate figures are obtainable as to the amount of wheat Russia has in store, but it is estimated that it is not far short of 750,000,000 bushels. Not all of this is on the shores of the Black sea, however. The greater part of it is believed to be in the interior, but that can be quickly brought to the Black sea—or at least a large part of it. Estimates given out figure that at Black sea points or tributary thereto there are from 100,000,000 bushels up ready for shipment. However, that is entirely a matter of conjecture. All that is definitely known is that Russia raises close to 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat a year.

In 1913 Russia raised 962,587,060 bushels of wheat—these figures include ten governments of Asiatic Russia. In the same year the United States raised but 763,380,000 bushels.

The year before that the United Kingdom imported 203,322,000 bushels of wheat and France 26,131,000 bushels; Russia that year exported 96,868,000 bushels of wheat.

The black mold belt, which extends across Southern Russia, is one of the most fertile as well as one of the most extensive arable plains on the globe. It owes its name to a layer of blackish humus varying in thickness on the average from one foot and a half to five feet.

This black mold belt stretches in one long band across the whole of European Russia. Notwithstanding its faulty cultivation, this region, like the Mississippi valley, is one of the world's immense storehouses of grain.

To the south of the black mold belt and bordering the southern seas are the steppes. The steppes with productive soil resemble the black mold fields and are full of rich promise; in other places they are made up of sand, stone and salt, and apparently will ever be unfit for producing good crops.

Other Obstacles.

In connection with this, and with the opening of the Dardanelles, the "bull" faction of the market points out that even with the opening, the problem of getting the wheat to the world at large will not be solved. They claim that the movement will be hindered because of the scarcity of bottoms to carry it, and also there is the risk of capture at sea by hostile vessels, the danger of mines and of submarines; and that there is a host of things which will militate against giving the Russian crop untrammeled passage to the awaiting markets.

DEATH TOLL FROM EXPLOSION NOW 108

Hinton, W. Va., March 9.—The death toll of the explosion last Tuesday in the Layland mines of the New River & Pocahontas Coal company is now 108, following the recovery of thirteen bodies during yesterday. For the first time in six nights no one entered the mines last night to search for bodies and survivors. Removal of slate and debris is expected to bring the number to 120.

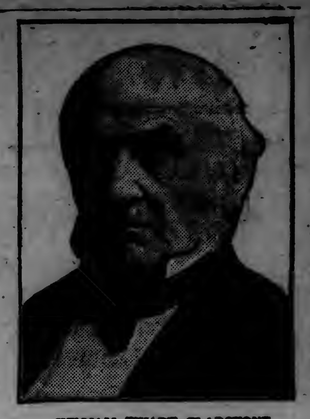
WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and fullness, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisurated magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acidity of the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it does more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of dosing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisurated magnesia from your druggist, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisurated magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."—Advertisement.

Gladstone: Great Example of Temperance

ENGLAND'S "GRAND OLD MAN" CHAMPIONS PERSONAL LIBERTY



WILLIAM EWART GLADSTONE

England's "Grand Old Man." Held many government and cabinet positions, including the prime ministry. Lived in vigorous health to the age of 89.

No one will question the sincerity of the late Mr. Gladstone in the cause of temperance when in 1864 he wrote:

"How can I, who drink good wine and bitter beer all my life in a comfortable room among friends, coolly stand up and advice hard-working fellow creatures to take the pledge?"

Charles Dickens, the most popular writer of the English language, says: "There is no intrinsic harm in beer, far from it."

T. C. Flanagan, the famous Canadian athlete and trainer, says: "I have always maintained that beer is the best upbuilder and sustainer next to beefsteak that a man under a steady grind for long periods can take. There must be moderation, of course, in this as in other foods."

KIESELGUHR FILTER LATEST TRIUMPH IN BREWING

Why is Fitger Natural Beer filtered instead of pasteurized?

Because pasteurization, the old method for "keeping" bottled beer, spoils the taste. Kieselguhr filtration, the new method used to "keep" Fitger Natural Beer, preserves the taste.

Heretofore people have always preferred draught beer to the pasteurized bottled article. Now they prefer Fitger Natural Beer in bottles to the finest draught.

They prefer it because Fitger Natural Beer has the full, delicious taste and aroma of the finest draught, because it is filtered brilliantly clear of the yeast cells which draught beer contains, because it comes in convenient, scientifically clean bottles sealed at the brewery and opened by themselves.

NO MORE GAS FOR STREETS

Electric Lights Will Now Be Used Throughout the City.

Council Decides to Discontinue Business With Gas Company.

No longer will Duluth streets be lighted by gas.

Because electricity is cheaper, the commissioners yesterday afternoon ordered that electric arc lamps and incandescent lights be installed in place of gas lamps and that the business with the gas company be discontinued.

The resolution passed yesterday was introduced last week by Commissioner Merritt, head of the department of public utilities, providing for the installation of eighty-four incandescent lights and twenty arc lights. The Duluth-Edison company is directed to install these lights and to turn the electricity on at the order of the city council.

Shortly after the voters of Duluth accepted the 6-cent lighting rate from the Duluth-Edison company last January, Commissioner Merritt began negotiations with the Welsbach company for a reduction in the rates of gas lighting. He claimed that the city could purchase electricity much cheaper under the new rate and that unless the gas rate was reduced he would discontinue the use of gas and replace it with electricity. The company refused to make a reduction and Commissioner Merritt immediately ordered a survey of the lighting system in Duluth.

Last Monday the commissioner presented this survey to the council, showing that the city will save $636 a year by using electricity in place of gas. He was requested to prepare a resolution, which he introduced yesterday afternoon.

The change will affect the entire city, as gas lamps are now in use on many streets, and the resolution orders the installation of electric lights wherever they are located.

HICKEN CLOSES MILLER SALOON

Will Refuse a Renewal of License to Charles R. Carlson.

Andrew Miller of 1119 West Michigan street was yesterday afternoon denied a renewal of his saloon license and last evening his building was closed by the police at the order of Commissioner Hicken.

In addition, Charles R. Carlson, proprietor of the Stockholm saloon, 513 West Superior street, will be refused a renewal of his license when it comes up for consideration on March 22, Commissioner Hicken said yesterday. This will make a total of eighteen saloons closed by the head of the safety division since he took office two years ago.

A week ago the council passed a resolution introduced by Commissioner Hicken granting renewals to several saloon licenses, among which was the one of Miller. At the meeting yesterday afternoon, Commissioner Hicken moved that the resolution be reconsidered and then that it be amended, so that Miller's name will be stricken from the list. The resolution was then adopted as amended. As a result Miller has no license to operate a saloon and following this action the police closed his place in the West end.

Commissioner Hicken claims that Miller sold liquor to women and that he had knowledge of an unlawful house being in operation above his saloon. Similar charges have been made by the commissioner against Carlson, whose license will come up for renewal on March 22.

ON THE IRON RANGES

HIBBING HAS HOT ELECTION

Range Village Voters Reported Much Worked Up Over Ballot Contest.

Indications Are That Record Vote Will Be Polled Before Polls Close.

Hibbing, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village election being held today is the warmest ever seen here, a tenser feeling pervading than ever before in such a contest. The indications are that a record vote will be polled. Both supporters of the present administration and opponents are making frequent demonstrations and personal clashes may result before the polls are closed tonight. Although the saloons are closed more or less bad blood seems to crop to the surface during the heated discussions held about the polling places on corners and elsewhere.

Publicity measures for political aspirants culminated yesterday afternoon in the entire membership of the Croatian society here, headed by a brass band, parading from Pine street down Third avenue, for John Povsha, candidate for village trustee. The parade extended for nearly a block. All participating wore the red caps of the order.

Power Is Opposed.

Victor Power, president of the council known as mayor, is up for re-election. He is opposed by A. E. Templeton, and while Mayor Power seems confident he will win, it is noted that his friends are sparing no effort to gather in every vote.

There are twelve candidates for village treasurer and everyone has a lot of supporters with the outcome in doubt. The candidates for treasurer are: James Albertini, H. G. Burnham, W. A. Cox, R. L. Geiselman, S. O. Geiser, Mike Gleason, Richard Kohrt, Fred McCrombey, Matt Nelmark, J. H. Nelson, Axel Sandberg, G. L. Thohn.

Seek Council Jobs.

There are eleven candidates for three councilmen's jobs, as follows: B. J. Burrows, J. E. Cassidy, John Curran, Frank Dimarco, Arthur Haglund, Jacob Keranen, D. D. McEachin, M. E. Osherman, John Povsha, Don Rogers, R. Swinnerton, E. S. Woolfan, J. B. Zant.

The candidates for recorder are: D. D. Haley, E. C. Junker, Al Newman, Edward Tatro.

The Town Election.

The three-cornered fight for town clerk is a lively affair. Town Clerk Victor J. Benoe is running on his record for efficiency. George Healy conducted a clean, vigorous campaign and the same may be said of the third candidate, John C. Eastman.

The clerk's fight has overshadowed the others in the town in public interest, but J. B. Messner, Lance E. Nicholson, L. L. Kugler and Andrew Roberts conducted an aggressive campaign for supervisor and W. G. Brown, C. N. Stevens, H. E. Schneider and Vern C. Wellems for town treasurer.

Chisholm's Election Lively.

Chisholm, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—With two tickets in the field—the town and the mining company ticket—the election here today is a very lively affair and the candidates are leaving nothing undone.

The candidates for the more important offices are:

Mining company ticket—President, Henry Fugere; recorder, B. E. Culver; trustees, William Ulrich, Steve Musolf, William Runquist.

T. Stukel and C. E. French are running independently for treasurer and are the only candidates.

In Fayal and Nichols.

Eveleth, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Elections are being held today in the towns of Fayal and Nichols. The voting place in the former is at the Fayal township hall at the Fayal location abutting on the city of Eveleth and Nichols town is voting at the Leonidas location, also adjoining Eveleth.

An opposition ticket entered the field yesterday against present office holders in Fayal town and a fight is on. The present office holders seeking re-election are:

Supervisor, W. T. Johns; assessor, R. C. Knight; treasurer, G. H. Dormer; clerk, R. J. Trezona; justice of the peace, George Bloomfield; constable, Fred Aslin.

The Fayal opposition ticket is as follows:

Supervisor, J. Rozenka; clerk, L. Suhodalc; treasurer, A. Magnuson; assessor, E. A. Trenholm; constable, Frank Strukel.

Supervisor, W. Holder; clerk, H. E. Mitchell; treasurer, C. C. Harwood; assessor, O. Castren; justice of the peace, L. H. Boerger.

ELY'S FIRE CHIEF IS OUT FOR MAYOR

I. G. COX.

Ely, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—While candidates for city offices are slow about coming out, it is expected there will be plenty before election day. Municipal Judge John Schaefer has filed to succeed himself. I. G. Cox, present chief of the fire department, has filed for mayor.

PLAN SHORT COURSE FOR GRAND RAPIDS

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The agricultural department of the schools of this district is preparing to hold a farmers' short course here on March 24, 25, 26 and 27. It will be in the form of a school, and regular class work in the different subjects will be given. The work will be in charge of W. J. Corwin, supervisor of the agricultural department of the schools, and Supt. Otto I. Bergh of the state farm. They will be assisted by Sherman Dickinson and Miss Norton of the agricultural and domestic science departments respectively of the schools, and other local talent, including the boys of the farm crops classes of the high school.

The work for the men will be held in the vacant store room in the Hughes block, and for the women in the domestic science rooms of the high school. There will also be a poultry show at the village hall on the last two days.

For Men and Boys.

The work for the men and boys will be along the lines of class work and instructions in corn and potatoes, and will include judging of corn and potatoes, and the testing of corn. There will be ten-ear samples of corn for testing, and the boys of the advanced classes of the high school have prepared ten-ear sample judging boards for use in this work.

The women attending will receive instructions in sewing, cooking, etc., under Miss Norton. Their classes will be held at the high school. Each day of the short course the women, under the direction of Miss Norton, will serve a dinner at the high school free to all members of the short course classes enrolled.

The poultry show will be for all-comers.

In connection with the class work at the Hughes block, there will also be a corn and potato show. Prizes will be offered.

SAND PIT MEASURE.

Bill Before Legislature of Much Interest to Range Communities.

Hibbing, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sand pit bill now before the legislature providing for the leasing of state lands to individuals has a direct bearing on range conditions.

The state owns nearly all the mine pits in this vicinity, and there is no way by which sand can be legally taken from these pits to be used on streets and for individual use. This, it is complained, works hardship upon many who would be willing to pay a reasonable price for the sand could they obtain it.

South of Hibbing there is considerable loam and black dirt which would be invaluable for Hibbing to improve parks and Gardens. This soil will be wasted unless some means of legally letting the village or individuals have it are adopted. If any one should take any of this loam now for personal or civic uses, they would be guilty of trespassing. Those committing this offense have been accorded quite liberal treatment by the state, to which neither the sand nor loam has any value except as it is in demand for utility. The proposed bill would have the lease or title to the sand pits or other not too valuable state properties subject to auction or public bids.

IS CALLED AT ELY.

Mike Cusachuk, Lumber Company Employe, Dies in Hospital.

Ely, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mike Cusachuk died at the Shipman hospital last evening. Cusachuk has no relatives, as far as known, in this country and a friend has been notified of his death. Cusachuk worked for the St. Croix Lumber company. No funeral arrangements have been made.

SETTLERS ARE TOLD OF SHEEP PROFITS

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Blackberry Farmers' club recently enjoyed a pleasant and profitable meeting. The main talk was by C. K. Mundy of Harris township on "Sheep." He asserted that sheep are not only profitable and easily kept, but they are the cheapest labor a man can hire at land clearing, while an investment in sheep will bring greater profit than cows, and with so little work that a good farmer will still have time to care for a good herd of cows, the only additional requirement being a sufficiency of the proper rough feed.

Sherman Dickinson outlined the plans for the short course which will be held on March 30 and 31.

INDIGNANT OVER ACTION OF BOARD

Eveleth Commercial Club Passes Resolutions on Road Money Cut.

Eveleth, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth is aroused over the action of the board of county commissioners in cutting the Sixth district to $50,000 in apportioning the road money. The commissioners are being condemned and the Commercial club last night passed a resolution requesting the board to reconsider the apportionment and a committee was appointed to attend the next meeting of the board. Other towns in the Sixth district are expected to take similar action and the farming sections will also be heard from.

Text of Resolutions.

Charles Jesmore, Solomon Sax and George Perham will present the following resolution to the board at the meeting April 3 and other Eveleth-ians will be present:

"Whereas, The Sixth commissioner district is greatly in need of more roads to further the agricultural development and to encourage the struggling farmers and

"Whereas, The Sixth commissioner district pays 22¼ per cent of the total road fund (aside from the unorganized territory) and

Whereas, This 22¼ per cent amounts to $112,000; Now therefore be it

"Resolved by the Eveleth Commercial club that we deem it a gross injustice on the part of the county commissioners to apportion to the Sixth district only $50,000 out of the $112,000 we will be compelled to pay and we urgently request the county board to reapportion the road monies so as to give us a larger and more equitable division of this road fund so that we may have expended in our district more nearly the amount we pay into the road fund."

The county board proposes to take the Sixth district's $112,000 and use the largest portion of it in other districts, returning to the district only $50,000.

Edward H. Hatch proposed another method for the club to pursue in order to offset the action of the commissioners. He proposed that the club get busy at the voting places at the town meetings today and endeavor to influence the towns to increase their levies for roads. This plan was given up as being impractical in most of the towns.

West Distrtict Divided.

One result of the county board's action has been to start a movement by which it is proposed that the Sixth and Seventh commissioner districts be divided by taking from if divisions in county fails. The Eveleth club started the movement last night by instructing the secretary to communicate with all clubs on the range so the plan can quickly be beaten into shape.

In order to reduce the fare on the electric line between Eveleth and Virginia it is proposed that either Eveleth or Virginia annex the quarter of a mile of land which lies between the limits of the two cities. Only 10 cents fare could then be charged in place of the 15-cent fare now effective. The land between the two cities is not settled and has little valuation. The plan was proposed by Edward Hatch and a committee will work on it. Another committee will ask aid from the city council in getting out a booklet advertising the city.

The club forgot its enmity for the county commissioners before adjourning and passed a resolution indorsing the bill now in the state senate which would double their salaries.

COHASSET IS WARNED.

Government Agent Catches People Drinking and Liquor Is Spilled.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Special J. F. Brandt, who arrived in Grand Rapids Monday morning for the ostensible purpose of investigating how certain Holman saloon keepers got a fake notice to close their saloons, fooled the people of Grand Rapids yesterday afternoon. After circulating around town, interviewing different people and giving the impression that he was bound for Holman, he hired an automobile and started north on the road to Holman, then he turned west, and made for Cohasset. At that place he had three "spotters" who had been "working" the town all forenoon, and who had discovered some liquor in what was formerly the Bass Brook hotel bar. When he came in the men had their whisky poured out and on the bar. Brandt then learned where the supply was kept, and J. W. Williams, the proprietor who was at the bar, was notified and warned not to let the thing happen again, and the liquor was poured out. Liquor in small quantities was found in other places, and it was poured out.

Mr. Brandt and his three men came down on the afternoon train, and were in Grand Rapids the balance of the afternoon and last evening, but nothing was done in the way of ordering the local saloon keepers to close their saloons.

GREAT NORTHERN TO SHIP ORE HEAVILY

Hibbing, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the ore is available, the Great Northern railroad will ship 6,000,000 tons ore from its properties on the range this season, according to officials of the company. Last year, when the properties were leased to the Oliver Mining company, nearly 6,500,000 tons of ore were removed from its mines.

With the opening of the Grace and Laura mines, mining activities have shown considerable impetus, and indications are that early in April or maybe the latter part of March ore shipments will begin.

Operations have already been started on the Grace and Laura mines, and it is expected that before the end of the month most of the other mines here will be running in full blast. Several mines at Buhl are ready to start at any time.

Until the price of ore is fixed, the relative amount of that commodity to be shipped east this season will be indefinite, operators say.

HOW TO GAIN WEIGHT A POUND A DAY

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol—one tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first, fourteen days by following this simple direction. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat-producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—prepares it in an easily assimilated form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Boyce Drug store and other leading druggists in Duluth and vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

FAIR

The perfect days continue and the stuff on the sidewalks that make one execute Mike Gibbons footwork to keep a balance is fast disappearing. There is much discussion as to whether or not the present stretch of weather is the beginning of the real break-up of winter. The lion of March has had his inning, but as it was just for one day, some think that he is still due for another rampage before the month ends. However, with the official day of spring's advent only twelve days away, most people are in hopes that the worst features are past. Today is about as ideal as can be expected at this time of year.

By the way, this is the twenty-third anniversary of the only blizzard ever known in Duluth since the weather bureau has been keeping records here. It was some blizzard, and tied the city up tight for three days.

A year ago today was balmy. The sun rose this morning at 6:33 and will set this evening at 6:05, giving eleven hours and thirty-two minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures about zero or slightly below continued in the Dakotas and Nebraska. The 24-hour temperature changes were generally unimportant as regards all districts, but the tendency is towards warmer in the Northwest. Light rain or snow fell during Monday or last night over Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. Light frost occurred last night at Charleston, S. C., and Jacksonville, Fla.

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 9.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Wednesday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Wednesday; warmer in west portion tonight.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Fair in east, partly cloudy in west portions tonight and Wednesday; slightly warmer tonight in north and central portions.

North and South Dakota—Fair tonight and Wednesday; warmer tonight.

Montana—Fair tonight and Wednesday; warmer in east portion tonight.

Upper and Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Wednesday.

DISTRICT COURT TAKING RECESS

Hibbing, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because of this being election day Judge Hughes today adjourned court until tomorrow morning. Then the case will be taken up of Bob Miskulin vs. M. E. Wilson and E. Swanson, co-partners in a real estate agency, from whom Miskulin purchased land before he became of age. Suit is for $200.

Miskulin declares that he was a minor when he gave the company $200 on a land contract. Failing to pay the remainder of the money for the land, he alleges that the company kept both. When he became of age he declared he disaffirmed the contract. Although, he said, the company were given notice of this disaffirment, it did not return the money. He declares that being a minor at the time of the agreement, the original contract is void.

Other cases scheduled for trial are two suits, preferred by the Range Motor Service company of Hibbing and Mike Rodorich, a miner.

The Range Motor Service company demands $497.40 from W. E. Lyman for automobile repairs, supplies and garage rent. It alleges that last summer it made several repairs to the Lyman Velie car and has furnished its owner with gasoline and other accessories, none of which has been paid for. A complete bill for the amount of suit with interest from Sept. 21, 1914, is presented.

Miner Wants Damages.

While working in the Laura mine near here some time ago, Mike Rodorich, sustained severe and serious injuries about the face and eyes from a blasting. The injuries are alleged to have resulted from negligence on the part of the Inland Steel company to provide an experienced foreman. In a suit to be tried this week, Rodorich demands $2,990. He declares he is an expert blaster, but that he was under direction of Dan Smolcich, who called him prematurely from shelter from an explosion to lay another charge, with the result that he received the detonation in his face and eyes. He may loose his eyesight, he says.

CHISHOLM LIBRARY'S REPORT FOR FEBRUARY

Chisholm, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—During February the library issued 2,526 books and magazines to adults and 2,894 to children, a total of 5,420. Eight hundred and thirty-two volumes in foreign languages are included in this total. Eighty-one new cards were issued to adults and twenty-three to children.

This week about eighty-five volumes in the Croatian language will be put on the shelves.

In the past month there weer twenty-eight different groups of people accommodated in the various clubrooms and in the auditorium.

Eveleth Motor Coasters.

Eveleth, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eveleth's motor coasters gave their new sport a thorough tryout Sunday when a 20-foot bob with fifteen passengers was towed to Hibbing by a machine. Like the first trip, "around the horn" to Virginia and Gilbert, the ride was completed without accident and the coasters believe they have hit upon the best winter sport to be found.

NEW PERHAM ROAD ROUTE WILL BE FINE

Eveleth, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—W. H. Tischer, an assistant county engineer, has completed a survey of the Perham road, which is to lead south from Eveleth a distance of seven miles into a territory which, as yet, has few settlers. Mr. Tischer stated after finishing the work that the road will have a fine route, although it was not possible to follow the section lines.

There will be no steep grades and few swampy stretches. A small lake was encountered a quarter of a mile south of Spruce and a curve was necessary. The road is to begin at the Leonidas and lead almost directly south. It has already been authorized by the county board and Commissioner Penttila hopes to begin work on it the coming summer.

BUHL COUPLE WANT TO ADOPT CHILD

Virginia, Minn., March 9.—Papers have been filed in the office of the clerk of the district court here by Edward Johnson and wife of Buhl, in which Mr. Johnson is asking for the right to adopt Ester Holma, daughter of Victor Holma and his divorced wife, the present Mrs. Johnson.

The couple reside at Buhl, and the little girl, 14 years of age, has lived with them for the past two years. The stepfather is now seeking to adopt the girl.

Logging Conditions Favorable.

Virginia, Minn., March 9.—Frank Gilmor, superintendent of logging for the Virginia & Rainy Lake company at Cusmons, while here said that conditions are still good for logging in the woods and that operators are making the most of them. Continued soft weather will put many of the small operators out of business, but will not affect the Virginia & Rainy Lake company to any extent, as it has only two sleigh-haul camps in the country about Ash lake.

WHOLE FAMILY TORTURED BY ITCHING RASH

Kansas City, Mo.—"My husband had a rash all over his body, and soon the WHOLE FAMILY was in the same condition. It looked scaly and raised up on the arms and body in big bumps. This trouble burned and itched so that it would nearly drive one crazy. It was always worse at night, so we could not sleep.

"We all had this trouble for about two or three years, and during that time tried many remedies and prescriptions with no results. We tried Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap and it RELIEVED AT ONCE, and before the third jar of ointment had been used, we were all completely cured. It has been four months since we were cured, and there are no traces of the trouble."—(Signed) Mrs. S. A. Clarkson, 1520 Lawn Ave., Oct. 24, 1914. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. For trial free, write to Dept. 13R, Resinol, Baltimore.

DYNAMITE IS FOUND NEAR MONROE MINE.

Chisholm, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—More or less excitement resulted here today when a man gathering wood at the Monroe mine came across two sticks of dynamite, so he placed, it is claimed, as though an effort was made to blow up something. There appears to be no clew.

AURORA TRAGEDY NOT YET SOLVED

Aurora, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Up to 1 p. m. today no good solution had been arrived at concerning the death of Louis Brugge, who was found shot to death in Frank Schuster's boarding house here yesterday morning, after breakfast. Attorney Green has been notified, but so far as known no action has been taken along that line. People in the house say they heard only one shot, yet the man's body bore two wounds. Brugge had worked in the mines.

It was claimed that after eating breakfast he went to his room and shortly afterward those downstairs heard one shot, and only one.

An autopsy was held last evening by Deputy County Coroner Dr. Ed Darrow, assisted by Dr. R. P. Pearsall of this place, and Dr. McCuen of Eveleth, but no verdict has so far been rendered, owing to the fact that two separate wounds were discovered, one in the chin, where the charge entered from below and came out of the face, and the other which entered above the heart and entered from a slightly elevated position. A single barrel small bore shotgun was placed in evidence as the only weapon in the house. The heart wound was filled with small shot, but no shot nor bullet was found in the face wound.

Heard One Shot.

It is considered unlikely that Brugge could have loaded the gun after firing either wound and fired again, and the people in the boarding house at the time claim that only one shot was fired. There is indication of foul play, but no evidence whatever to work on. It is not at all likely that one charge could have inflicted both wounds. Had there been two empty shells, or had there been two reports heard the case might be solved more readily, but as it is there seems to be something mysterious in connection. The body was taken to Eveleth last night to be prepared for burial.

Hit Over the Head.

Some time ago Brugge and two others were arrested for being disorderly. The trio attempted to break away from the officer making the arrest and attacked the officer. During the mix up Brugge was hit over the head. He was later bound over to the grand jury on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, but a few days ago he was released under bail. His friends claimed that he had been deranged since his arrest and wanted the officer arrested, claiming that Brugge had become mentally unbalanced and committed suicide.

PIONEER WOMAN IS BORNE TO GRAVE

Virginia, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Gheen, mother of Stephen and William Gheen of the village of that name, north of here, one of the pioneers of St. Louis county, was held here today following services at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Mr. Gado officiating. Mrs. Gheen was 87.

Mrs. Gheen was certainly a woman of the frontier. She was born at the old Indian town of Shingwatonio on Snake river, near Pine City, Minn., eighty-seven years ago. She was educated at Oberlin college, Ohio, and was married to Louis Jarvis, an early-day Indian trader. During the fights between the Chippewas and the Sioux near what is now Pine City Mrs. Jarvis and another were once concealed in a basement when the Indians killed a man upstairs in the house. Later she moved to Bayfield, Wis., where, Mr. Jarvis dying, she married Thomas Gheen at Taylors Falls, Minn., where she also lived. In the early days of the Vermilion range she came to Tower and was a missionary among the Pelican Indians.

Mr. Gheen died a few years ago.

ALPENA MINER IS HURT WHILE WORKING

Virginia, Minn., March 9.—John Nickitch, age 25, single, a Croatian miner, employed at Alpena No. 3 mine, was injured while bending over and preparing a blast, when a mass of dirt slipped from the bank above and came down upon his back, the result being that he suffered an abrasion and contusion of the back and in addition his left ankle was sprained. The first aid corps responded at once and rendered valuable aid in giving the injured man necessary assistance pending the arrival of a physician. Nickitch was taken to his home at 205 Walnut street, where he is now resting easily.

HAVE YOU HAD THE GRIP?

The debility and depression following an attack of the grip is not a fancied disorder. "Post-grippal neurasthenia" is the medical name for this condition and its seriousness is recognized by all medical writers.

One authority says: "Broadly speaking, every victim of the grip will suffer from post-grippal neurasthenia also. Lowering of nervous tone, with increased irritability is the most striking effect of the disease, with languor of mind and body, disturbed sleep and vague pains in the head and elsewhere."

Every sufferer will recognize the symptoms. What is the remedy?

After the fever has passed and the influenza has subsided the diet should be more liberal but be limited to articles easily digested; rest and sufficient sleep are essential and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the only medicine required in most cases. This treatment should be continued until the patient is completely restored to normal health and spirits. It is a specific treatment and rarely if ever fails.

Send today for the booklet "Building Up the Blood." It is free if you mention this paper. Address the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

STICK CLOSE TO TRENCHES

Men on Both Sides Constantly Watching for Human Targets.

(From Frederick Palmer, Associated Press correspondent at the front.)

British Headquarters in France, via London, March 9.—"There you are and keep your head down! It is a fair target at that distance," said the officer who had come out of the shelter to meet the newspaper correspondents who were being permitted to visit the trenches.

The correspondents were in the defenses at the edge of a grove called the Ploegsteert woods. The British had fought fiercely in order to get possession of this grove, for it meant cover for them. Occasionally bullets whistled overhead, and the swish of German shells which were being fired at something in the rear, passed higher up, while a hidden British battery was sending its shells in the opposite direction.

Waiting With Rifles.

At intervals in the defenses, men were waiting with rifles laid, to plug any moving thing that looked like a "Gerboy."

"If a Gerboy helmet appears, can you put a hole through it?" was asked of one of the riflemen.

"It looks so. They don't put them up very often, sir," was the answer.

Two hundred and fifty yards away was a wall of sandbags. The bare field between the two lines was as lifeless as a desert, and for all one could see, the German breastwork was not occupied by a single human being. But there, as on the British side, sniper-shooters were waiting and officers were watching through the refracting mirrors of the periscopes.

Men Take Shelter.

Except for the thresh of shells and the bang of the guns, the scene is most peaceful. When the Germans cut loose with some thrills of the rapid-fire guns, or begin shelling, the men take to their shelters until the storm is over. They are always in danger from snipers and are likely to be called at any minute to suffer heavy losses in repelling an attack.

"If you are killed, why you are killed," says Tommy Atkins, "and what's the use in worrying about it? The more you worry, the better it pleases the Germans."

From Mons to Ypres the British regular has gained familiarity with death. Very proud are the men who have stuck it through from the time of the British landing until now. When one of them was asked about it, he said: "Just luck, that's all. Maybe I'l get it from a sniper when this winter is over."

With darkness falling over the flat country and the buildings becoming shadowy, the correspondents walked away from the cover of a village with the commanding officer of that section of the front, with the rattle of a machine gun growing louder toward the trench. Whenever anyone goes near the front, he is bound to hear the machine gun even in this quiet spot of the British front.

Go to Church Sunday.

PERHAM'S BREWERY SOON MUST CLOSE

Bemidji, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—In less than a month the last brewery in the "dry" zone, covered by the Indian treaty of 1855, will be forced to close by the government officers. This brewery is at Perham, where the saloons have been ordered to close not later than March 15. The brewery will be closed on March 31.

Other towns given orders to close by the Indian officers March 15 are New York Mills, Richville and Dent.

"TIZ" FOR ACHING, SORE, TIRED FEET

"TIZ" for Tender, Puffed-Up Burning, Calloused Feet and Corns.

People who are forced to stand on their feet all day know what sore, tender, sweaty, burning feet mean. They use "TIZ," and "TIZ" cures their feet right up. It keeps feet in perfect condition. "TIZ" is the only remedy in the world that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet and cause tender, sore, tired, aching feet. It instantly stops the pain in corns, callouses and bunions. It's simply glorious. Ah! How comfortable your feet feel after using "TIZ." You'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't tighten and hurt your feet.

Get a 25 cent box of "TIZ" now from any druggist, department or general store. Just think! a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.—Advertisement.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

INDIAN LANDS WILL BE SOLD

Allotted Lands on Standing Rock Reservation to Be Offered May 5.

Chance to Acquire Farm Reasonably Without Having to Live on It.

Fort Yates, N. D., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Indian allotment lands on the Standing Rock reservation are to be sold May 5, according to an order received here from the Indian department. The Indian lands are to be sold on easy terms for those who wish to acquire realty without having to reside on it: one-fourth down, a fourth each in two, four and six years, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. None of the lands will be sold at a less than the appraised valuation. The purchasers will not be compelled to reside on the lands and have six years to make final payments.

Better Than Unallotted Lands.

These Indian lands are generally regarded as better than the remaining unallotted lands on the reservation, which are to be thrown open for settlement soon afterward. Settlers must pay $5 per acre for these lands and then reside upon them under the terms of the general homestead act.

There are 325 descriptions to be sold May 5. It is expected there will be a strong demand both for these lands and for the lands to be opened for entry later, as it is about the last opportunity to secure arable public lands in North Dakota.

BLAME RELATIVES FOR ACCUSATION

Aged North Dakota Couple Held on White Slave Charges.

Mott, N. D., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—An alleged white slave case involving a man named Gilson, over 70 years old, and a Mrs. Ross between 60 and 70, was heard before a U. S. commissioner and the couple held for trial in the Federal court. There is local indignation over the case and the efforts of relatives to get property belonging to the defendants is alleged to be the real basis of the action.

DENIES BRIBERY CHARGE

North Dakota Judicial Candidate Explains His Pre-election Promises.

Bowman, N. D., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Hanley, who heard the Delhi-Totten county judge contest, is expected soon to announce his decision. Totten got more votes than Delhi, but the latter declined to give up the office on the ground that Totten had violated the corrupt practices act and had endeavored to bribe the voters by agreeing to serve, if elected, at a salary of $1,500 per year, or less than the amount legally allowed based on the assessed valuation. In the hearing Totten admitted making such statements in the press and in his addresses but contended that the proper amount of salary for the county had been in dispute and he merely fixed that sum as the maximum he would accept without intending to bribe the voters but with the idea that he would be satisfied with that amount. No matter what Judge Hanley decides, the defeated side will undoubtedly carry the case to the state supreme court.

EARS ARE IN STYLE AGAIN— LIFT UP YOUR HAIR

The new style of lifting the hair from the ears looks much nicer if the hair is soft so it drapes around the ears rather than being pulled up in straight, hard lines. To get the best effect in any style of hairdressing every strand must be fluffy, lustrous and, of course, clean. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift, but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its luster and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

WILL SOON INSTALL BISHOP OF ST. CLOUD

RT. REV. JOSEPH BUSCH.

St. Cloud, Minn., March 9.—Rt. Rev. Bishop John Busch, recently elected bishop of St. Cloud diocese, has received official letters from Rome and will be installed March 18, when he will arrive here from St. Paul with Archbishop Ireland. Bishop Busch is now at Lead, S. D.

BIG MOUNTAIN LION SCARES HOMESTEADERS.

Marmath, N. D., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A mountain lion, said to be about five feet long, has been seen by four people at different times near here. It is the first of the species seen here for many years and a big hunt may be organized in an effort to capture it. Homesteaders and ranchmen are somewhat excited over its presence in this vicinity. Two of the persons who saw the lion had a rather close inspection of the animal and insist it is enormous in size.

BODY BLOWN THIRTY FEET BY EXPLOSION

One Instantly Killed, Two Badly Hurt, in Badger Quarry Blowup.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 9.—One man was blown a distance of thirty feet and instantly killed and two others probably fatally injured by a premature explosion of dynamite in the quarry operated by the Mace Lime company at Rockfield, Wis., yesterday afternoon.

The dead:

MICHAEL JANICH, age 23, living in Rockfield.

The injured:

Were Setting Dynamite.

Janich and the two injured men were setting a charge of dynamite, preparatory to blasting rock for one of the kilns when Janich received the full force of the explosion. The other two men were standing alongside preparing to set the fuse and cover the charge with heavy materials.

NEW ENGLAND, N. D., OPENS MODERN SCHOOL

New England, N. D., March 9.—What is asserted to be the most modern and best school in the state for a city with population under 5,000 has just been opened here. It is two stories high, with full basement, constructed of pressed brick, at a cost of $37,000. It is 105 by 62½ feet, with an addition at the rear for a boiler, fuel and fan room. A feature of the building is a 55 by 44 gymnasium, with 15-foot ceiling. In addition, shower baths, locker rooms, etc., make it complete in every way.

NORTH DAKOTA TOWN GETS BACK OLD NAME

Wolford, N. D., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wolford is Wolford again, after being Orkney a few days. Because of the similarity of the name of Wolford and that of Watford in McKenzie county resulting in confusion in freight shipments, there had been some talk of a change of the name of one town or the other. Without notice it was announced that the Great Northern changed the station name here from Wolford to Orkney. There was such a protest that it is now announced Orkney has been dropped and the old name restored. It is presumed the name of the McKenzie county town will now be changed as it is a recent place as compared to Wolford.

SOCIALISTS ARE TO APPEAL TO GOVERNOR

Michigan State Organization to Protest Against Copper Country Action.

Calumet, Mich., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—As a result of the mass meeting of Finnish miners here a week ago, when it was decided to drive the alleged Socialist agitators out of the Copper country because of activity in stirring up class and labor discontent, the Socialist organization of Michigan has announced its intention to appeal to Governor Woodbridge N. Ferris.

Efforts of the local Socialists to secure an injunction against the committee appointed to warn agitators to leave failed, it is claimed, because no lawyer would take the case.

DEMURRERS OVERRULED

Judge Morris Rules Against Accused in White Earth Land Cases.

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 9.—Judge Morris has overruled the demurrers in fifteen criminal cases in the United States court here. The cases are against prominent citizens of the neighborhood of the White Earth reservations, who are accused of having wrongfully obtained deeds from Indian minors.

Indictments were returned against the parties about a year ago, but the cases were continued and demurrers were filed, the defendants claiming that the alleged offenses were not crimes within the meaning of the law. The demurrers were argued at the recent special term of court here, and Judge Morris now overrules them, which means that the cases will come to trial at the spring term of the United States court in this city.

NEW COUNCIL OF K. C.

Will Be Instituted at Devils Lake on Next Sunday.

Devils Lake, N. D., March 9.—Next Sunday, March 14, a council of the Knights of Columbus will be instituted here, to be known as Devils Lake Council No. 1779.

Grand Forks has secured a special train to bring their delegates here for the occasion. The special will arrive at 10 o'clock and the knights will march in a body to St. Joseph's church to attend a solemn high mass. The ceremonies will commence at 1:15. The second degree work will be put on at 2:30 and the third degree work at 4:30. Immediately after the ceremonies a banquet will be served at the Great Northern hotel. Among the clergymen who will be present will be Rt. Rev. James O'Reilly, bishop of Fargo, and Father Favreau, St. John's; Father Correy, Cando, and Father Rufstad, Leeds.

MARINETTE TO WELCOME "UNCLE IKE'S" RETURN.

Marinette, Wis., March 9.—United States Senator Isaac Stephenson and Marinette's foremost citizen, who returns to private life will be accorded a public reception upon his home coming this week.

Several hundred school children including those of the public and graded schools will be at the Chicago & Northwestern railroad station on Thursday to greet him as he steps from the special car, which will be loaded with Marinette people, and which will be attached to the train at Green Bay.

A reception will be held at the Marinette hotel, which was erected by the senator, after which there will be a real celebration.

NORTHWEST AIDING FUND FOR GERMANS.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 9.—Already $78,000 has been sent from the Twin Cities for the relief of the widows and orphans of the injured of the German and Austrian soldiers. Also 2,500 Minneapolitans are wearing the German iron ring as evidence that they gave from $1 to $10 for the relief. This number of the iron rings have been sold here. In the Northwest 6,500 have been sold, according to Otto E. Naegeli, treasurer of the German-Austro-Hungarian Red Cross Society of the Northwest.

FARGO COUNCIL OF U. C. T. HAS ELECTION.

Fargo, N. D., March 9.—Fargo council, U. C. T., has elected these officers: Past councillors, J. F. McGrann and F. O. Rockwell; senior councillor, J. A. Fortin; junior councillor, J. H. Lang; conductor, A. H. Hammerud; page, George Byer; sentinel, F. Sculley; member of executive committee, W. D. Powell to succeed F. O. Rockwell, who retires after serving six years on the committee.

J. P. Gleason was unanimously elected as secretary-treasurer. Delegates to grand council meeting at Winona; H. J. Christiansen, G. W. Wilkinson, R. E. Cole; alternates, George Richardson, F. O. Rockwell and C. H. Baker.

NEEDED IN FLOODWOOD.

Duluthians to Establish Lumber Yard in That Village.

Floodwood, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Robert Blackwood of Garfield Blackwood & Co. has interested several Duluth men in establishing here a coal, wood and lumber yard. Later on a potato warehouse may be added. Floodwood needed a lumber yard. During the last year many new settlers located here and most of them built substantial frame buildings. The lumber had to be shipped in from Cloquet, and other points which meant great inconvenience as well as loss of time, to those in need of lumber. Articles of incorporation are to be filed in a few days. The yards will be located near the Great Northern railway tracks, where the potato warehouse is to be also erected.

HOME BURNED; ONE CHILD PERISHES

Hettinger, N. D., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Starting a fire with kerosene during the absence of their parents resulted in the destruction of the Warner home near here and the burning of the youngest of three little girls so severely that she died a few hours afterward. The child's clothing caught on fire when she kicked the oil can over and the oil ignited the furniture in the room at the same time.

MONTANA COPPER IS SHIPPED TO RUSSIA

Garrison, Mont., March 9.—Ten carloads of copper en route to Seattle for shipment by boat to Russia via Vladivostok from Butte on the local freight passed through here, leaving on time freight for Seattle, where it will be loaded on a steamer bound for the Russian port.

LA CROSSE LUMBER BUYER DIES SUDDENLY

Couderay, Wis., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ernest Lang of La Crosse was found dead in bed here this morning, having expired during the night from heart trouble. He had been with the Segelke Kohlhouse Manufacturing company of La Crosse, for forty-nine years, lately as a lumber buyer. He was 66 years old and leaves a large family of grown up children.

La Crosse Shoeworkers' Strike.

La Crosse, Wis., March 9.—One hundred shoeworkers in the plant of the La Crosse Rubber Mills company refused to go to work yesterday when the corporation declined to reemploy four men who were discharged last Tuesday. The employes say they were discharged Saturday afternoon, but given a chance to return to work Monday if they would come as open-shop men. Fifty men returned to work yesterday.

Don't Merely "Stop" a Cough

Stop the Thing that Causes It and the Cough will Stop Itself

A cough is really one of our best friends. It warns us that there is inflammation or obstruction in a dangerous place. Therefore, when you get a bad cough don't proceed to dose yourself with a lot of drugs that merely "stop" the cough temporarily by deadening the throat nerves. Treat the cause—heal the inflamed membranes. Here is a home-made remedy that gets right at the cause and will make an obstinate cough vanish more quickly than you ever thought possible.

Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth) in a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. This gives you a full pint of the most pleasant and effective cough remedy you ever used, at a cost of only 54 cents. No bother to prepare. Full directions with Pinex.

It heals the inflamed membranes so gently and promptly that you wonder how it does it. Also loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough and stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, and is famous the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

EXPECT 11,000 TO REGISTER

City Clerk Forecasts Heavy Vote on Election Day.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 Estimated in Reports for First Day.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 voters are expected to register today for the election on Tuesday, April 6.

City Clerk Palmer is of the opinion that at least that many will register today, while a total of 11,000 voters will be registered for the election and that there is a possibility of passing the 12,000 mark set at the election two years ago.

A fair registration was reported at the larger polling places shortly before noon today and indications are that the estimate of City Clerk Palmer will be reached before 9 o'clock tonight when the polls will be closed. There will be a second registration day Saturday.

Voters who fail to register today and who expect to be out of the city next Saturday can have their names placed on the rolls by certificates of identification with City Clerk Palmer at any time between now and Saturday. Voters who registered last fall or who voted on the electric lighting questions in January must register over again to be granted a vote on April 6.

FOUR CANDIDATES FILE ACCEPTANCE

But four candidates in the present campaign have filed their official acceptance of the nominations.

These are Commissioner Hicken and J. A. Farrell, who have formally filed blanks with City Clerk Palmer, accepting the nominations and officially entering the campaign, and John H. Norton and M. E. Louisell, who are out to succeed Judge W. A. Windom, candidate for re-election. Candidates have until a week from tomorrow in which to file their acceptances.

Questions arising as to when the successful candidates will take office were answered this morning by City Clerk Palmer after a thorough examination of the charter. The new commissioners will assume their new duties on the second Monday after election, or on April 13. The municipal judge will not take office until Jan. 1.

Last evening Bernard Silberstein selected F. C. Elston, attorney, as his campaign manager and some time today headquarters will be opened in room 4, Phoenix building. Mr. Farrell opened offices today in the Manhattan building, with M. J. Murray in charge.

The other candidates are not ready yet to make further announcements regarding their campaigns, although it is understood that Commissioners Hicken and Murchison, J. L. Norman and R. E. McFarlane will handle their own campaigns. The plans of C. E. Evens will not be known until his return from California during the next week.

CITY AIDS SALOON MAN WHO "FORGOT"

Council Renews License of Thomas Holman at Special Meeting.

In order that Thomas Holman may be able to open his saloon at 521 West Michigan street before next Tuesday, the city commission held a special meeting this morning and granted his application for the renewal of the license. He can now open his saloon at any time.

About a week ago Mr. Holman came to the city clerk and declared that he had forgotten to apply for a renewal at the proper time and asked if special action could not be taken. His application was filed in due form, but he was compelled to close his saloon last Friday, when his time limit expired.

However, Commissioner Hicken called the commissioners together this morning, when the application was read for a third time and the renewal was granted.

In addition, the ordinance regulating disorderly houses and the filing of bids were given their second reading.

Adolph Tifer of 101 Lake avenue south was granted a transfer of the saloon license from 350 Lake avenue south.

WILL GET CONTRACT TO EXTEND MAINS

Next Monday Norquist & Berg will be granted the contracts to construct the water and gas mains in Dodge street and Leicester avenue.

Norquist & Berg were the low bidders for the contract and Commissioner Merritt will ask the council to pass the resolutions granting them the contracts for the two jobs at the regular meeting next Monday.

Make Your Windows Say "Come In"

A retailer's show windows are his invitation.

They often give the "reason why" customers desire to enter his store.

Their pulling possibilities are limited only to conditions of locations and the dealer's skill.

It pays the dealer to dress these windows with goods that are being advertised in the daily newspapers.

It pays because the public mind is on these goods. People will want to see them.

They will go into the store that invites them to enter.

SELF-RELIANT HOME DOCTORS

is what women are called who all over this broad land make their annual collections of roots and herbs, and rely upon recipes which our pioneer mothers found dependable for different family ailments. In one of these recipes, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had its origin and so successful has it proved that there is hardly a city, town or hamlet in America where some woman who has been restored to health by its use does not reside.

TEARS FLOOD TATE'S EYES

Superintendent of State School for Deaf Makes Statement.

Says Nation-Wide Fight Is Being Made Against Him.

St. Paul, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A nation-wide fight against progressive methods of teaching deaf mutes forms one side of the triangle of opposition which resulted in the investigation of the state school for deaf at Faribault, according to a statement by Supt. J. N. Tate to the Associated Press today.

"For many years I have met the onslaughts of agitators who are opposed to my speech and lip methods of teaching," Dr. Tate said. "But I am convinced that it is the proper method. No matter what action this committee takes, I shall continue the work long so close to my heart. I fear not for my personal loss by an adverse finding, but I pray the work I have undertaken at the school may continue."

Outlines Methods.

He then outlined the method at some length, and tears flooded his eyes as he concluded:

"I have taken a child of 8 who had never uttered a word, and when his parents visited him two months later, he rushed into their arms saying, 'I love you.'"

Dr. Tate intends to remain in St. Paul until the work of the committee has been completed. Just when the committee will resume its investigation today was problematical.

North Bolts Hearing.

Representative W. J. North of Duluth, who bolted the committee during last night's hearing because Chairman Konzen failed to support him in charges that the stenographer taking the testimony had omitted certain portions, stated that he would recommend the discharge of the stenographer, but if his motion did not prevail he would return to the committee despite the cloak.

The belligerent attitude of the stenographer certainly deserved criticism," said Representative North. "However, I am reluctant to criticize and am willing to return to the work before us."

WEEK'S PROGRAM AT BOYS' Y. M. C. A.

The High School Bible Study club will meet at the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., tonight. Dinner will be served at 6:15.

The chorus will practice tonight for the minstrel show that is to take place next Thursday and Friday evenings.

The Camera club will meet for organization tomorrow evening at 7:30 and all members of the club owning cameras are invited to join. The club will meet every other week and will study the taking of pictures and developing and printing. A dark room has been fitted up.

The monthly meeting for all committees will be held Thursday evening and on that evening, dinner will be served at 6:15, following which each committee will meet and plan the work for the month. There will be only one meeting after that of Thursday and every committeeman is urged to attend the latter.

The Electrical club will meet for organization Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The First Aid and Knot club will meet Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

The program for the popular Friday night this week will be "Checker and Wa" championship.

The outing next Saturday will consist of a cabin party, those taking part leaving the boys' building at 2 o'clock.

On Sunday afternoon the Sunday club will have its regular meeting at the boys' department building. Commissioner W. A. Hicken will be the speaker.

The Knights of Sir Galahad will meet at 3 o'clock Sunday.

FUNDS FOR THE SUPERIOR NORMAL

Bill for $81,500 Recommended in Wisconsin Legislature.

Madison, Wis., March 9.—The senate today received several additional petitions relating to the increase of passenger fares on Wisconsin steam railroads.

The joint finance committee reported for passage the sub-amendment to the Baxter bill which gives $81,500 for the completion and equipment of the Superior normal school, replacing that destroyed by fire.

The assembly passed the Hambrecht bill making Lincoln's birthday a legal holiday, and refused reconsideration to the Mc'owan bill which sought to change the present law fixing qualifications for rural school teachers.

The assembly killed the Pieper resolution to have an assemblyman and a senator in each senatorial district to act as a committee on non-employment to work for the unemployed.

The bill to detach certain territory from the town of Casey in Washburn county, and attach the same to Crego county, and which was one by Assemblyman F. S. Hansen permitting hunting of rabbits with ferrets in Door county.

The bill providing for an eight-hour day on printing contracts was killed, 50 to 32.

TWO NEW COMPANIES.

One Investment Corporation and One to Manufacture Patent Wrench.

The Royal Investment company is organized to engage in a general real estate and investment business with headquarters in Duluth. Its capital stock of $50,000 is divided into 500 shares at $100 a share. The incorporators are Victoria Anderson, F. D. Knight and Emma H. Knight.

Alton B. Heimbach, Austin H. Davenport and Jerome S. Kriz are incorporators of the Quick Grip Wrench company, which is organized to engage in business in this city with a capital stock of $100,000.

NO EFFECT ON THE GARNISHMENT LAW

Twice-a-month pay days for persons employed by public service corporations, as provided for in the semi-monthly pay bill which was signed by the governor yesterday at St. Paul and became law, will not affect the right of a creditor to collect his bill through garnishment proceedings, according to Senator Charles E. Adams, who is in the city today from St. Paul.

"The fact that employes are paid twice a month instead of once makes no difference with respect to the rights of a creditor to garnishee the wages of a debtor," declared Senator Adams. "Debtors may claim a $35 exemption out of wages due for services rendered during a thirty-day period preceding any attachment, garnishment or the levy of any execution against him, with the provisions named in the statute covering garnishment matters."

Incorporates Village.

County Auditor Halden yesterday afternoon received official notice of the election Saturday in Missabe Mountain township favoring the incorporation of the village of Franklin. Within the territory proposed to be incorporated sixty-five votes were cast for and five against incorporation. The territory includes 1,320 acres in the vicinity of the Franklin mine. It has an assessed valuation of $13,000,000. Franklin will hold an election in the near future at which a president and other village officials will be chosen.

Ward Asks Aid in Search.

Supt. Fred Ward of the county and city work farm has asked the police to help in a search for James B. Lynch, age 57, and John M. Branch, age 32, who escaped from the institution late Sunday night. They had served ten and eight days of a sixty-day sentence, respectively. Both were committed for drunkenness.

Smoker at Commercial Club.

The "smoker" that the Commercial club will furnish this evening for its members at the club rooms, together with the entertainment arranged for, promises to bring out a large crowd, as there has been much inquiry about it today. The legerdemain of L. F. Halton, a visiting professional who is visiting friends in the city, is said to be remarkable, and those whom he has mystified in social affairs are eager to see some more of his work this evening. Music and refreshments will be furnished.

EQUALIZATION OF GRAIN RATES ASKED

Chairman Says Western Roads Get Less Than Those in East.

Chicago, March 9.—E. B. Boyd, chairman of the Western Trunk lines committee, testified as a grain traffic expert at the interstate commerce commission hearing today, that the forty-one Western roads which are asking for freight rate increases are now required to carry grain and grain products between certain Western points at rates much lower than the rate prevailing in Eastern territory.

To equalize the rates, Mr. Boyd urged increases asked for by the railroads as follows:

One cent a hundred pounds for grain and grain products carried from points in the territory between the Missouri and Mississippi rivers to Chicago, excepting transcontinental traffic and excepting also points between Kansas and Nebraska and the Missouri river.

Two cents a hundred on grain and grain products shipped from Chicago to gulf ports for export.

A minimum of 40,000 pounds for a carload instead of 36,000 pounds is asked.

Mr. Boyd presented figures purporting to show that the increase asked were in equalization with the rates on the same commodities in other parts of the country.

Orrine for Drink Habit

TRY IT AT OUR EXPENSE

We are in earnest when we ask you to give ORRINE a trial. You have nothing to risk and everything to gain, for your money will be returned if after a trial you fail to get results from ORRINE. This offer gives the wives and mothers of those who drink to excess an opportunity to try the ORRINE treatment. It is a very simple treatment, can be given in the home without publicity or loss of time from business, and at a small price.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment, a powder; ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Come in and talk over the matter with us. Ask for booklet.

MUST MODIFY ITS REQUEST

Property Owners Oppose Proposition of Iron Range Road.

Unless the officials of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad modify their request for the closing of thirteen street intersections in return for a 15-foot strip of land from the right-of-way, the program as now outlined will never go through, property owners at Lakeside declare.

Recently the company sent a communication to the city council, to the effect that the company will be willing to donate fifteen feet from the right-of-way, extending from Forty-third to Fifty-sixth avenues east, if the city will close thirteen street intersections.

The matter was referred to Commissioner Hicken, who had it under consideration while a member of the old council three years ago, and at a meeting of the Lester Park Improvement club recently the vote taken was unanimous against the proposal. Property owners also made a formal objection by filing a petition with the city clerk shortly after the letter was received by the council.

The property owners say that several of the thirteen intersections are very important, and that land values would be greatly reduced if the streets were closed to traffic. They suggest several other intersections, while many owners are opposed to the entire program.

The city commissioners are eager to reach some agreement, as East Superior street is very narrow at this point, and it is their aim to first widen the street and later pave it, so that Duluthians will have a straight stretch of pavement from the center of the city to Lakeside.

ONE YEAR IN PRISON FOR STEALING CORN

Eugene Merizza, 24, was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary after conviction on a charge of stealing corn from a Great Northern box car. Judge Smith passed sentence on the man after he admitted the theft.

Will Add to School.

Plans for the building of an addition to the Franklin school of Allouez to cost $50,000 were made at the meeting of the school board last night. Plans for the building will be drawn. The addition will be a wing to the present structure and will be two stories high containing eight school rooms. The building will probably not be erected until next year.

Arrested for Selling Bread.

Emil J. Anderson and Carl Lindquist, both of Duluth, were arrested yesterday afternoon for the second time on charges of selling bread within the city without licenses. The men are arrested on state and city complaints. Both entered pleas of not guilty and were released on bonds amounting to $100 for the city and $500 on the state charge.

The men are employed by the Zinsmaster-Smith company of Duluth. The charges against the men are that they have been peddling of bread, and this, claim the authorities, makes necessary a city and state license. The men will be given a hearing in the police court on March 11. They claim that they have been delivering the bread on standing orders from the grocery stores.

FLETCHER PICKS OUT WARSHIPS

Will Send Washington and Georgia to Port of Vera Cruz.

Washington, March 9.—Admiral Fletcher selected the armored cruiser Washington, now in Haitien waters with Rear Admiral Caperton and the battleship Georgia, commanded by Capt. Robert R. Coontz, now at Guantanamo, to proceed to Vera Cruz.

The selection of ships was left to Admiral Fletcher and shortly after noon today he reported what orders he had given. The Washington is the flagship of the cruiser squadron of the Atlantic fleet. She carries 41 officers and 902 men and is commanded by Commander Edward L. Peeck. The Georgia is one of the first line battleships of the third division. She carries 49 officers and 864 men. The Washington is a little faster than the Georgia and both ships starting today should be at Vera Cruz by Thursday night.

Go to Church Sunday.

FORMER MAYOR OF HANCOCK IS DEAD

Calumet, Mich., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—Archibald J. Scott, age 75, one of the leading Republicans of Northern Michigan for fifty years and formerly mayor of Hancock, Houghton county, is dead. He was a veteran of the Civil war and a leading public figure in Upper Peninsula.

MANY SPECTATORS AT THE ANGLE TRIAL

Bridgeport, Conn., March 9.—Expectation that the state would offer evidence bearing directly upon the death of Waldo R. Ballou, in Stamford, last June, drew many spectators to the superior court today when the trial of Mrs. Helen M. Angle on a charge of manslaughter, growing out of Ballou's death, was resumed.

Detective Sergeant Thomas Foley of Stamford, a witness for the state, told of the part he took in examination of the Rippowam building, where Mrs. Angle lived and the tragedy occurred. He also identified photographs of the building and of Mrs. Angle's apartments.

Counsel for the defense objected to the two views, but the court admitted them subject to corroborative proof.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous, or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and overindulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble, while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

SEALING STEAMERS ARE CAUGHT IN ICE PACK.

St. John's, Nfd., March 9.—Four sealing steamers, the Terra Nova, Viking, Erik and Diana, which sailed for the gulf of St. Lawrence, were caught in an ice pack not far from port today and were reported in danger of being driven ashore in a threatening blizzard.

The four steamers have a total of 676 men on board. It is believed that if conditions grow worse, the steamers will be abandoned and the crews will endeavor to come across the ice to the shore.

A year ago more than 200 sealers perished in an ice pack off the east coast.

Medora Bridge Discussed.

Bismarck, N. D., March 9.—Executive officers of the National Parks Highway association and meeting here, F. W. Turner of Dickinson, president; P. J. Hardy, Fargo, vice president, and John Orchard, Dickinson, secretary, with a number of county representatives from Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana, gathered at the Commercial club. The object of the meeting is to discuss the proposition of the bridge across the Little Missouri at Medora and organize the company for its promotion.

LITTLE WILLIE'S FRANKNESS.

Philadelphia Telegraph: They were speaking of the frankness of the rising generation at a social affair the other afternoon when this story was told by Edna Ferber, the authoress:

Some time ago Percy Claude called at the home of his beautiful beloved, and while waiting patiently for her to appear, little brother Willie bulged into the parlor.

"Come here a minute, Willie," happily remarked the young man. "I am going to tell you a very great secret."

"All right, Mr. Smith," responded the youngster, going over to the caller. "Let her slide!"

"At the garden party last night," softly confided Percy Claude, "I proposed to your sister, and she has consented to marry me. Doesn't that amaze you?"

"Well, I should say not!" was the startling rejoinder of Willie. "That's what mamma gave the party for."

A SURPRISE FOR PAT.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The talk topic in the lobby of a Washington hotel turned to surprises the other night, when Congressman Charles H. Burke of South Dakota, told of the experience of a party named Pat.

Pat hurriedly jumped out of bed one night in response to an alarm of fire, and with both arms extended he cautiously felt around in the darkness for an open door. Of course it so happened that an arm went on either side of the aforesaid door, with the result that Pat violently bumped his nose on the edge of it.

"Howly smoke!" was the protechnical exclamation of Pat, to which he eloquently added, "Jumpin Jayrusalem!"

"Why, Pat!" queried Mrs. Patrick from the depths of the comfortable bed. "What in the world is the matter wid yez?"

"Shure, an' it's some surprised thot ol am!" answered Pat. "It's the furrest toime ol iver knowed thot me nose was longer than me arrums."

EXPECT 11,000 TO REGISTER

City Clerk Forecasts Heavy Vote on Election Day.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 Estimated in Reports for First Day.

Between 5,000 and 6,000 voters are expected to register today for the election on Tuesday, April 6.

City Clerk Palmer is of the opinion that at least that many will register today, while a total of 11,000 voters will be registered for the election and the possibility of passing the mark set at the election two years ago is considered.

A total registration was reported at the various registering places shortly before 5 o'clock and indications are that the registration of City Clerk Palmer's office before 9 o'clock tonight will be closed, as all who register will be qualified to vote on second registration day.

Voters who fail to register today and who expect to be out of the city next Tuesday can have their names placed on the rolls by certificates of registration with City Clerk Palmer at any time between now and Saturday. Voters who registered last fall or have voted on the electric lighting question in January must register once again to be granted a vote on April 6.

FOUR CANDIDATES FILE ACCEPTANCE

Just four candidates in the present campaign have filed their affidavits of acceptance of nominations.

Councilmen Chester Hicken and Fred Carlson, who have formally filed their affidavits with City Clerk Palmer, and the municipal judges, the notaries and officials in charge of the campaign, and John H. Nolan and A. W. Whelan, who are on hand at 12 o'clock, who are expected to file their affidavits before that hour.

Councilmen Whelan, candidate for re-election, Candidates have a week from tomorrow in which to file acceptances.

Questions arising as to when the successful candidates will take office and when the new City Council will assume its duties will be settled after a thorough examination of the charter. The new councilmen will assume their new duties on the second Monday after the election. The municipal judges will not take office until Jan. 1.

Corporation Counsel Bernard Silberstein says that Assistant City Attorney Elstor, attorney, as did Chief Examiner and some time to the two judgeships will be created in the new building. Mr. Farrell will have offices today in the Manhattan building with M. J. Murray in charge.

The two candidates are not ready to make further announcements regarding their campaigns, although Councilmen Hicken and Carlson, two Commissioners Hicken and Carlson, J. L. Norman and R. E. McCraine will handle their campaigns. The plans of C. E. Lewis will not be known until his return from California during the next week.

CITY AIDS SALOON MAN WHO "FORGOT"

In order that Thomas Holman may be allowed to open his saloon at 524 West Michigan street before next Tuesday, the city commission held a special meeting this morning and granted his application for the renewal of the license. Holman now opens his saloon at 7 o'clock.

About a week ago Mr. Holman came to the city clerk and declared that he had forgotten to apply for a renewal at the proper time and asked if special action could be taken. His application was filed in due form, but he was compelled to close his saloon last Friday when his time limit expired.

Mayor Prince, Commissioner Hicken and the commissioners together this morning when the application was presented and granted.

In addition, the commission passed an ordinance increasing the filing of bail bonds for saloons and soft drink places from $500 to $1,000.

Adolph Tiffe of 10 Lake avenue south was granted a transfer of the saloon license from 530 Lake avenue south.

WILL GET CONTRACT TO EXTEND MAINS

At Monday Norquist & Berg will be awarded the contract to construct water and gas mains in Dodge's and Lester's addition.

Norquist & Berg were the low bidders for the contract and Commissioner Mattson will ask the council to pass a resolution awarding them the contract for the two jobs at the meeting next Monday.

Make Your Windows Say "Come In"

A retailer's show windows are his invitation.

They come to the "reason why" customers desire to enter the store.

Their public possibilities are limited only to conditions of locations and the dealer's ideals.

It pays the dealer to dress his show windows with goods that are being advertised in the daily newspapers.

It pays because the public relies on those goods. People will want to see them.

They will go into the store that invites them to enter.

SELF-RELIANT HOME DOCTORS

Many men are called who all over the broad land make their annual gathering of roots and herbs, and put down recipes which our pioneer mothers found dependable for different family ailments. In one of these recipes, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had its origin and so successful has it proved that there is hardly a city, town or hamlet in America where some woman who has been restored to health by its use does not reside.

TEARS FLOOD TATE'S EYES

Superintendent of State School for Deaf Makes Statement.

Says Nation-Wide Fight Is Being Made Against Him.

St. Paul, Minn., March 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A nation-wide fight against progressive methods of teaching deaf mutes forms one side of the triangle of opposition which resulted in the investigation of the state school for deaf at Faribault, according to a statement by Supt. J. N. Tate to the Associated Press today.

"For many years I have met the onslaughts of agitators who are opposed to my speech and lip methods of teaching," Dr. Tate said. "But I am convinced that it is the proper method and no matter what action this committee takes, I shall continue the work being so close to my heart. I fear not for my personal loss by an adverse finding, but I pray the work I have undertaken at the school may continue."

Outlines Methods.

He then outlined the method at some length, and tears flooded his eyes as he concluded:

"I have taken a child of 8 who had never uttered a word, and when his parents visited him two months later he rushed into their arms saying, 'I love you.'"

Dr. Tate intends to remain in St. Paul until the work of the committee has been completed. Just when the committee will resume its investigation today was problematical.

North Bolts Hearing.

Representative W. I. North of Duluth, who bolted the committee during last night's hearing because Chairman Kozen failed to support him in charges that the stenographer taking the testimony had omitted certain portions, stated that he would recommend the discharge of the stenographer, but that his motion, did not prevail he would return to the committee despite the bolt.

"The belligerent attitude of the stenographer certainly deserved criticism," said Representative North. However, I am reluctant to criticize and am willing to return to the work before us."

WEEK'S PROGRAM AT BOYS' Y. M. C. A.

The High School Bible Study club will meet at the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., tonight. Dinner will be served at 6:15.

The chorus will practice tonight for the minstrel show that is to take place next Thursday and Friday evenings.

The Camera club will meet for organization tomorrow evening at 7:30 and all members of the club owning cameras are invited to join. The club will meet every other week and will study the taking of pictures and developing and printing. A dark room has been fitted up.

The monthly meeting for all committees will be held Thursday evening and on that evening, dinner will be served at 6:15, following which each committee will meet and plan the work for the month. There will be only one meeting after that of Thursday and every committeeman is urged to attend the latter.

The Electrical club will meet for organization Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The First Aid and Knot club will close Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

The program for the popular Friday night this week will be "Checker and Wall" championship.

The outing next Saturday will consist of a cabin party, those taking part leaving the boys' building at 2 o'clock.

On Sunday afternoon the Sunday club will have its regular meeting at the boys' department building. Commissioner W. A. Hicken will be the speaker.

The Knights of Sir Galahad will meet at 3 o'clock Sunday.

FUNDS FOR THE SUPERIOR NORMAL

Bill for $81,500 Recommended in Wisconsin Legislature.

Madison, Wis., March 9.—The senate today received several additional petitions relating to the increase of passenger fares on Wisconsin steam railroads.

The joint finance committee reported for passage the sub-amendment to the Baxter bill which gives $81,500 for the completion and equipment of the Superior normal school, replacing that destroyed by fire.

The assembly passed the Hambrecht bill making Lincoln's birthday a legal holiday, and refused reconsideration to the Mortenson bill which sought to change the present law fixing qualifications for rural school teachers.

The assembly killed the Pieper resolution to have an assemblyman and a senator in each senatorial district to act as a committee on non-employment and to work for the unemployed.

The bill to detach certain territory from the town of Casey in Washburn county and attach the same to Crego was engrossed, as was one by Assemblyman E. S. Hansen permitting hunting of rabbits with ferrets in Door county.

The bill providing for an eight-hour day on printing contracts was killed on the 22.

TWO NEW COMPANIES.

One Investment Corporation and One to Manufacture Patent Wrench.

The Royal Investment company is organized to engage in a general real estate and investment business with headquarters in Duluth. Its capital stock of $50,000 is divided into 500 shares at $100 a share. The incorporators are Victoria Anderson, F. D. Knight and Emma H. Knight.

Alton B. Heimbach, Austin H. Davenport and Jerome S. Kriz are incorporators of the Quick Grip Wrench company, which is organized to engage in business in this city with a capital stock of $100,000.

NO EFFECT ON THE GARNISHMENT LAW

Twice-a-month pay days for persons employed by public service corporations, as provided for in the semi-monthly pay bill which was signed by the governor yesterday at St. Paul and became law, will not affect the right of a creditor to collect his bill through garnishment proceedings, according to Senator Charles E. Adams, who is in the city today from St. Paul.

"The fact that employes are paid twice a month instead of once makes no difference with respect to the rights of a creditor to garnishee the wages of a debtor," declared Senator Adams. "Debtors may claim a $35 exemption out of wages due for services rendered during a thirty-day period preceding any attachment, garnishment or the levy of any execution against him, with the provisions named in the statute covering garnishment matters."

Incorporates Village.

County Auditor Hudden yesterday afternoon received official notice of the election Saturday in Missabe Mountain township favoring the incorporation of the village of Franklin. Within the territory proposed to be incorporated sixty-five votes were cast for and five against incorporation. The territory includes 1,329 acres in the vicinity of the Franklin mine. It has an assessed valuation of $13,000,000. Franklin will hold an election in the near future at which a president and other village officials will be chosen.

Ward Asks Aid in Search.

Supt. Fred Ward of the county and city work farm has asked the police to help in a search for James B. Lynch, age 27, and John M. Branch, age 32, who escaped from the institution late Sunday night. They had served ten and eight days of a sixty-day sentence, respectively. Both were committed for drunkenness.

Smoker at Commercial Club.

The "smoker" that the Commercial club will furnish this evening for its members at the club rooms, together with the entertainment arranged for, promises to bring out a large crowd, as there has been much inquiry about it today. The legerdemain of L. F. Halton, a visiting professional who is visiting friends in the city, is said to be remarkable, and those whom he has mystified in social affairs are eager to see some more of his work this evening. Music and refreshments will be furnished.

EQUALIZATION OF GRAIN RATES ASKED

Chairman Says Western Roads Get Less Than Those in East.

Chicago, March 9.—E. B. Boyd, chairman of the Western Trunk lines committee, testified as a grain traffic expert at the interstate commerce commission hearing today, that the forty-one Western roads which are asking for freight rate increases are now required to carry grain and grain products between certain Western points at rates much lower than the rate prevailing in Eastern territory.

To equalize the rates, Mr. Boyd urged increases asked for by the railroads as follows:

One cent a hundred pounds for grain and grain products carried from points in the territory between the Missouri and Mississippi rivers to Chicago, excepting transcontinental traffic and excepting also points between Kansas and Nebraska and the Missouri river.

Two cents a hundred on grain and grain products shipped from Chicago to gulf ports for export.

A minimum of 10,000 pounds for a carload instead of 36,000 pounds is asked.

Mr. Boyd presented figures purporting to show that the increase asked were in equalization with the rates on the same commodities in other parts of the country.

Orrine for Drink Habit

TRY IT AT OUR EXPENSE

We are in earnest when we ask you to give ORRINE a trial. You have nothing to risk and everything to gain, for your money will be returned if after a trial you fail to get results from ORRINE. This offer gives the wives and mothers of those who drink to excess an opportunity to try the ORRINE treatment. It is a very simple treatment, can be given in the home without publicity or loss of time from business, and at a small price.

ORRINE is prepared in two forms; No. 1, secret treatment, a powder; ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Come in and talk over the matter with us. Ask for booklet.

MUST MODIFY ITS REQUEST

Property Owners Oppose Proposition of Iron Range Road.

Unless the officials of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad modify their request for the closing of thirteen street intersections in return for a 15-foot strip of land from the right-of-way, the program as now outlined will never go through, property owners at Lakeside declare.

Recently the company sent a communication to the city council, to the effect that the company will be willing to donate fifteen feet from the right-of-way, extending from Forty-third to Fifty-sixth avenues east, if the city will close thirteen street intersections.

The matter was referred to Commissioner Hicken, who had it under consideration while a member of the old council three years ago, and at a meeting of the Lester Park Improvement club recently the vote taken was unanimous against the proposal. Property owners also made a formal objection by filing a petition with the city clerk shortly after the letter was received by the council.

The property owners say that several of the thirteen intersections are very important, and that land values would be greatly reduced if the streets were closed to traffic. They suggest several other intersections, while many owners are opposed to the entire program.

The city commissioners are eager to reach some agreement, as East Superior street is very narrow at this point, and it is their aim to first widen the street and later pave it, so that Duluthians will have a straight stretch of pavement from the center of the city to Lakeside.

Will Add to School.

Plans for the building of an addition to the Franklin school of Allouez to cost $50,000 were made at the meeting of the school board last night. Plans for the building will be drawn. The addition will be a wing to the present structure and will be two stories high containing eight school rooms. The addition will probably not be erected until next year.

Arrested for Selling Bread.

Emil J. Anderson and Carl Lindquist, both of Duluth, were arrested yesterday afternoon for the second time on charges of selling bread within the city without licenses. The men are arrested on state and city complaints. Both entered pleas of not guilty and were released on bonds amounting to $100 for the city and $500 on the state charge.

The men are employed by the Zinsmaster-Smith company of Duluth. The charges against the men are that they have been peddling the bread, and this, claim the authorities, makes necessary a city and state license. The men will be given a hearing in the police court on March 11. They claim that they have been delivering the bread on standing orders from the grocery stores.

FLETCHER PICKS OUT WARSHIPS

Will Send Washington and Georgia to Port of Vera Cruz.

Washington, March 9.—Admiral Fletcher selected the armored cruiser Washington, now in Haitien waters with Rear Admiral Caperton and the battleship Georgia, commanded by Capt. Robert R. Coontz, now at Guantanamo, to proceed to Vera Cruz.

The selection of ships was left to Admiral Fletcher and shortly after noon today he reported what orders he had given. The Washington is the flagship of the cruiser squadron of the Atlantic fleet. She carries 41 officers and 902 men and is commanded by Commander Edward L. Beach. The Georgia is one of the first line battleships of the third division. She carries 49 officers and 864 men. The Washington is a little faster than the Georgia and both ships starting today should be at Vera Cruz by Thursday night.

MANY SPECTATORS AT THE ANGLE TRIAL

Bridgeport, Conn., March 9.—Expectation that the state would offer evidence bearing directly upon the death of Waldo R. Ballou, in Stamford, last June, drew many spectators to the superior court today when the trial of Mrs. Helen M. Angle on a charge of manslaughter, growing out of Ballou's death, was resumed.

Detective Sergeant Thomas Foley of Stamford, a witness for the state, told of the part he took in examination of the Rippowam building, where Mrs. Angle lived and the tragedy occurred. He also identified photographs of the building and of Mrs. Angle's apartments.

Counsel for the defense objected to the two views, but the court admitted them subject to corroborative proof.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous, or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and overindulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble, while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

SEALING STEAMERS ARE CAUGHT IN ICE PACK.

St. John's, Nfd., March 9.—Four sealing steamers, the Terra Nova, Viking, Erik and Diana, which sailed for the gulf of St. Lawrence, were caught in an ice pack not far from port today and were reported in danger of being driven ashore in a threatening blizzard.

The four steamers have a total of 676 men on board. It is believed that if conditions grow worse, the steamers will be abandoned and the crews will endeavor to come across the ice to the shore.

A year ago more than 200 sealers perished in an ice pack off the east coast.

Medora Bridge Discussed.

Bismarck, N. D., March 9.—Executive officers of the National Parks Highway association and meeting here, F. W. Turner of Dickinson, president; P. J. Hardy, Fargo, vice president, and John Orchard, Dickinson, secretary, with a number of county representatives from Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana, gathered at the Commercial club. The object of the meeting is to discuss the proposition of the bridge across the Little Missouri at Medora and organize the company for its promotion.

LITTLE WILLIE'S FRANKNESS.

Philadelphia Telegraph: They were speaking of the frankness of the rising generation at a social affair the other afternoon when this story was told by Edna Ferber, the authoress:

Some time ago Percy Claude called at the home of his beautiful beloved, and while waiting patiently for her to appear, little brother Willie bulged into the parlor.

"Come here a minute, Willie," happily remarked the young man. "I am going to tell you a very great secret."

"All right, Mr. Smith," responded the youngster, going over to the caller. "Let her slide!"

"At the garden party last night," softly confided Percy Claude, "I proposed to your sister, and she has consented to marry me. Doesn't that amaze you?"

"Well, I should say not!" was the startling rejoinder of Willie. "That's what mamma gave the party for."

A SURPRISE FOR PAT.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The talk topic in the lobby of a Washington hotel turned to surprises the other night, when Congressman Charles H. Burke of South Dakota, told of the experience of a party named Pat.

Pat hurriedly jumped out of bed one night in response to an alarm of fire, and with both arms extended he cautiously felt around in the darkness for an open door. Of course it so happened that an arm went on either side of the aforesaid door, with the result that Pat violently bumped his nose on the edge of it.

"Howly smoke!" was the protechnical exclamation of Pat, to which he eloquently added, "Jumpin Jayrusalem!"

"Why, Pat!" queried Mrs. Patrick from the depths of the comfortable bed, "What in the world is the matter wid yez?"

"Shure, an' it's some surprised that ol am!" answered Pat. "It's the furrest toime ol iver knowed that me nose was longer than me arrums."

A conservative estimate of the cornstalk production of this country is 150,000,000 tons.

GRAIN MARKETS HIGHER ON EXPORTERS' BIDDING

Foreigners Good Buyers of American Grain; Quotations Bulge Sharply.

Flaxseed Up on Liberal Call From Crushers, With Small Offerings.

May wheat closed 4½c up and July 4⅝c up. May durum closed 5c up and July 5c up.

Oats closed ⅛c up at 54⅝c for on the track. Rye closed 3c up at $1.09@1.10, and barley 3c up at 65c to 76c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅛c up at 64c, and July ⅞c up at 64⅛c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.41 bid, and calls at $1.51½.

A combination of factors led to a strong market in wheat again today. Yesterday's government crop report on farm reserves was bullishly interpreted, and with a note from Petrograd that the Russian government would not allow wheat or other foodstuffs to be exported without a special permit, led to a sharp bulge at the opening. Further export business was reported to have been worked at the seaboard, and the Chicago and other markets were strong on foreign inquiry.

There were several export offers on the local board during the morning, but they were mostly below a working basis. The sale of a round lot of spring wheat for all-rail shipment for export was advised by the Globe Elevator company, and good inquiry for durum led to a substantial boost in its quotations. The trades, however, were in small lots, and were reported to be on account of Minneapolis grain men to hedge sales put through down there. Durum is a scarce commodity, and it is now being given a wide berth in a speculative way.

The fact was emphasized today by Duluth operators that there is practically no free No. 1 northern wheat remaining in the local elevators, and the quantity of No. 2 northern available is also said to have been materially worked down of late.

The cash market was strong, No. 1 northern selling at a premium of 3c over the May option, and cash durum sold at the May price to 1c over.

Bradstreet's world's visible supply statement, appearing around the noon hour, had a somewhat dampening influence. It showed an increase of 7,622,000 bu in stocks in the week. Clearances were not as heavy as they had been running, amounting to 756,000 bu of wheat and flour in the day.

May wheat opened 1¼c up at $1.46⅛, and it gained ⅜c more up to the noon hour, after having sold at $1.47⅜. July opened 1⅜c up at $1.41¼, and eased off ⅜c.

May durum opened 1½c up at $1.48½, and gained 1½c more. July opened and gained 1½c more, and advanced 2½c up at $1.45 and advanced 2½c more.

Upturn in Flaxseed.

Flaxseed continued strong on quiet buying by crushers and moderate gains were recorded. Offerings were reported light.

May flax opened unchanged at $1.85½, and closed 1¼c up at $1.86¾. July opened unchanged at $1.87 and closed ½c up at $1.87¼ nominal. September opened ⅝c up at $1.86½ and closed 1¾c up at $1.87.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ½c up at $1.66⅞ bid and July ⅞c up at $1.69⅞ bid.

Minneapolis—Cash market was firm with good demand. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5@6½c over May and velvet chaff at 1½@2½c over May. Flour sales, domestic account, were fair. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.46⅛ to $1.48½ and No. 2 northern at from $1.40½ to $1.46.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Firmness characterized the market as influenced by the strong American cables and firmness in Plate offers. Winters are held 9d higher and Plates a shilling dearer, with spot market advancing and millers absorbing. News from the Dardanelles is quieter, but the advance is checking business and the general market is dull. Outside countries are buying more liberally and this is especially true in Argentina.

"Corn is steady, but dull. There is less pressure of Plates and arrivals here are smaller, but weather is mild and consumption limited."

Italy—The government has ordered all bread to contain 20 per cent admixture. Supplies are being furnished by the officials sparingly.

* * *

Argentina—Weather is clearing. Wheat has suffered much deterioration from the prolonged spell of wet weather and some estimates of the amount for export are being further lowered.

* * *

At Buenos Aires wheat closed strong with speculative buying, urgent demand and lowered crop estimates with poor grading of arrivals.

European visible wheat is 89,592,000 bu against 79,100,000 bu last week; increase, 10,424,000 bu, as revised March 1.

Broomhall's crop summary:

United Kingdom—Weather is unfavorable and seeding of wheat is progressing slowly. The condition of winter wheat is fair. The farmers are preparing to plant a large area of spring.

France—The outlook for the new crop is not good. Weather is unfavorable, and scarcity of labor is against cultivation.

Germany—Weather is generally seasonable and reports received, although meager, speak highly of crop conditions. Potatoes are scarce.

Russia—Snow disappearing and the outlook for the crops is satisfactory.

Balkan States—Some freezing and thawing is reported, but on the whole the outlook is favorable.

Argentina—Weather has been very unfavorable for movement and quality of wheat. Corn has suffered from too much rain.

Australia—Fair rains have come. Importations have commenced.

Italy—All reports agree that wheat has suffered damage from excessive rain. Crop outlook mostly unfavorable, especially in central districts where it is poor.

Africa—An official report says crop prospects are good.

C. E. Lewis wired from Minneapolis: "In a comparative way, the government report on oats seems more bullish than anything else. It shows the percentage of 33.2 left in farmers' hands to be the smallest since 1904, with one exception, and that was the year 1912. We do not believe this report will have any material effect on the wheat market, however, but think, while it is moderately bullish, developments around the Dardanelles will be a greater factor in price making."

Le Count wired from Chicago: "Old wheat is pretty well cleaned up in the northwest; the high prices brought it out. Elevators are not carrying much wheat, and wheat will be tight until another crop. Oats are also pretty well cleaned up. Some localities are having difficulty in obtaining seed, as last year's crop was of such poor quality as not to be fit for seed."

Russell's News, New York, says: "It is estimated that close to half million bu of wheat have been sold for export since late yesterday and that oats sales were approximately 650,000 bu. There is some evidence of further inquiry for wheat. On the other hand at least two exporters report their bids decidedly out of line."

Bradstreets' world's supply report: Wheat, increase, 7,662,000 bu., last year, decrease, 2,872,000 bu.; corn, decrease, 1,930,000 bu., last year, increase, 732,000 bu.; oats, decrease, 3,506,000 bu.; last year, increase, 432,000 bu.

Totals—Wheat, 174,769,000 bu., last year, 193,071,000 bu.; corn, 43,716,000 bu., last year, 22,432,000 bu.; oats, 49,698,000 bu., last year, 41,943,000 bu.

CHICAGO MARKET.

Bullish Views in Government Report Sends Wheat Prices Higher.

Chicago, March 9.—Bullish views of the government report on farm reserves brought about a rush of buying today in the wheat market here and carried prices sharply higher. According to one authority, the Washington figures on reserves showed that the present rate of export shipments from the United States would have to be reduced more than half for the period from now till July 1. There were no early signs today, however, of any lessening of foreign demand. The opening which ranged from ⅝c to 2⅜c higher, was followed by a decided further advance and then a moderate reaction.

Later the downturn became a good deal more emphatic owing to Eastern selling here, but the market rallied quickly when shorts attempting to cover found the market bare of offers. The close was firm at ½@⅝c advance.

Corn developed some firmness owing to the strength of wheat. Price changes, however, were narrow, and trade almost entirely local. After opening a shade to ¼@⅜c up, the market receded but only to a slight extent.

Slowness of seaboard call led afterward to rather pronounced weakness for a while. The close was unsettled, ⅛c to ¼@⅜c under last night.

Oats responded to reports of intended big shipments from New York. Besides country offerings were small.

Provisions eased off with hogs. Selling, though, was scattered.

FARM LAND IN DEMAND

Dealers Believe Sales Will Exceed Those of Former Years.

Operators specializing in farm lands are looking forward to an active season in Duluth district, and expectations now are that sales will greatly exceed the record of any previous year.

Northern Minnesota is conceded to have come in for some effective advertising through the results attained by settlers during the last three years in mixed farming and dairying as shown by inquiries being received from over a wide area. The probability that high prices will prevail for all farm products this year, is also said to be giving an impetus to agriculture.

D. M. Cole, sales manager of the Duluth & Iron Range railroad's land department, said today that the outlook for the promotion of land settlement never appeared brighter than at the present. Inquiry is coming from the Southern sections of the state, North Dakota, South Dakota and Iowa, and numbers of landseekers are expected to come up here this spring to look over the tracts being offered by the railroad. Dairying is commanding increasing attention, and appears likely to be the feature of the season's operations, he averred. That is shown in the number of new arrivals promised in that branch from the older states.

Yesterday, for example, a settler from North Dakota arrived at Meadowlands with thirty head of dairy cattle, and sales of 400 acres of land in the Floodwood district were made last week, the bulk of it for dairying.

"We are setting in to settle up our remaining available lands in the Kelsey, Meadowlands, Cook and Floodwood districts," said Mr. Cole. "We hope to sell off the whole of the sections now laid out with access to roads and drainage privileges. We have sufficient of it ready to keep us busy. The present call for improved farms is gratifying, and our people are pleased with the showings being made by settlers who have come in during the last two or three years. They have practically all made good, and are proving boosters for us among their friends outside."

Evacuating Mexico City.

Washington, March 9.—American Consul Silliman telegraphed from Vera Cruz today that he had been reliably informed that the evacuation of Mexico City by the forces of Gen. Obregon began at 9 o'clock last night.

STOCKS ARE IRREGULAR

Mexican Situation Acts as Restraining Influence on Trading.

Leading Stocks Under Selling Pressure and Closing Is Heavy.

New York, March 9.—The usual mixed price changes were registered in today's early stock market, leading issues showing an irregular trend. Union Pacific, United States Steel and a few other prominent shares rose fractionally, these being offset, however, by corresponding declines in other shares. Specialties like the motor stocks and Woolworth were appreciably higher, while International Harvester and American Tobacco preferred yielded a point each. Americans were lower in London, Reading declining a point.

The latest phase of the Mexican situation was received with misgivings in the financial district today, despite Washington's reported assurance of non-intervention. Quoted values soon fell under their best, Southern Pacific losing about a point by reason of the company's extensive interests in Mexico. Canadian Pacific and Lehigh Valley displayed marked heaviness and Chesapeake & Ohio was lower on rumors of new financing. The only notable exception to the general tendency was Missouri Pacific, which rose a point, while the stockholders, holding their annual meeting at St. Louis, were shaping the road's future. Other Gould issues also were higher.

Bonds were irregular.

Trading in specialties dominated the market in the afternoon to the neglect of representative issues. Gains of 1 to 6 points were shown by Bethlehem Steel, Corn Products preferred, Sears-Roebuck, Western Maryland and Maxwell Motors.

Stocks moved irregularly today, the Mexican situation acting as a restraining influence.

Diversion of speculative interest to the special class caused renewed selling of leading stocks, particularly Reading, Steel and Amalgamated. The closing was heavy.

SHARP REDUCTION IN EXPENDITURES OF IRON RANGE TOWNS PROPOSED

Minneapolis Man Introduces Bill for Per Capita Limitation.

Resolution Calling for Investigation of the State University.

County Division Bill Likely to Be Reported Back Soon.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—A per capita limitation of expenditures in villages and cities of the third and fourth classes, large enough not to effect any other communities but small enough to bring about sharp reductions in the expenditures of several communities in the iron range country, is proposed in a bill introduced in the house this morning by Representative John M. Harrison of Minneapolis. The bill was referred to the committee on cities. The annual tax levy is limited to $25 per capita, an amount said to be considerably larger than the actual expenses in any community of the state outside the iron range country. It is provided, however, that where such communities are in debt, they may levy in addition enough to discharge such indebtedness.

Representative Harrison stated this morning that he introduced the bill at the request of Minneapolis owners of property in the range towns and that he was preparing figures which he said would amply justify the passage of such a bill.

University Investigation.

There will be a legislative investigation of the state university, in all probability. A resolution calling for such an investigation by a committee of five to be appointed by the speaker was introduced in the house this morning by Representative Malmberg, Greene and Lydiard. It contained sweeping charges against the management of the university, but it almost immediately was withdrawn, and it was stated that it would be reintroduced tomorrow with these charges eliminated, and simply providing for an investigation.

ALLIED FLEET AGAIN ACTIVE

Bombardment of Dardanelles, Stopped By Bad Weather, Resumed.

Paris, March 10.—Operations of the allied fleet in the Dardanelles, stopped yesterday (Tuesday) morning by unfavorable weather conditions, were resumed vigorously in the afternoon, says an Athens dispatch to the Matin. The warships are reported to have made additional progress in the narrows, silencing Turkish batteries on the heights of Renkui, the fire from which had proved troublesome to the fleet in its maneuvers.

Statement By Turks.

Berlin, March 10, via wireless to Sayville.—Turkish advices published in the various Berlin newspapers unite in declaring that the results of the bombardment on the Turkish forts in the Dardanelles have been negligible. At the same time, it is pointed out that several ships of the allied fleet have been damaged. The battleship Queen Elizabeth, particularly, is said to have been damaged, and a French armored cruiser also is reported to have been forced to retire. Two mine sweepers, advices from Constantinople say, have been sunk.

Turkish troops are reported to have occupied several strategic points near the Russian frontier in the Caucasus.

A dispatch from Rome to the Frankfurter Zeitung says that a steamer arriving at an Italian port reports having met twenty-two French transports near the island of Malta, heading toward the Dardanelles.

The eastern and western war theaters appear to offer no news today worthy of comment.

The battles between the Russians and Austrians in the Carpathians continue stubbornly. The Russians despite their reported continued defeats, seem still able to constantly bring able reinforcements and thus maintain the offensive.

The political situation in Greece and Italy continues to be a topic much discussed in the Berlin newspapers and by the public.

ALLIES CONSIDER THE PRESENT SITUATION OF WAR MOST FAVORABLE

Expressions of Utmost Confidence Are Heard in London.

Satisfaction Is Expressed With Both Land and Sea Operations.

Germans Fail to Reduce Russian Fortress at Ossowetz.

London, March 10.—As England sees it, not since the war began has the situation both on land and sea been more favorable to the allies than it is today. Confident opinions of this nature are finding constant expression in London.

Slowly but surely, it is argued, the allied fleet is creeping toward Constantinople and thus opening another road to Berlin; the retirement of Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army from North Poland is said to be imminent by many British observers of affairs; in the west the allies claim the ascendancy all along the line, although no decisive engagements are being fought, while in the Balkans and in Italy, according to British interpretation of the political news from these countries, the majority is clamoring for intervention on the side of Great Britain, France and Russia. This is said to be notably true in Greece and Roumania, in spite of the fact that the governments of these countries still cling outwardly to the policy of neutrality.

The crisis in Greece seems temporarily to have been bridged with the formation of a new cabinet, but whether the new premier can control the chamber of deputies is causing much speculation here.

Crisis in Bulgaria.

Though officially denied, reports insist that a ministerial crisis has arisen in Bulgaria where the premier, favoring intervention, was opposed by King Ferdinand. It is said that the Bulgarian prime minister stepped from office at the same time that Greece's leading statesman retired.

Paris officially confirmed today what London heard unofficially last night, namely, that the superdreadnaught Queen Elizabeth slipped into the Dardanelles proper on Monday and bombarded the Turkish forts, another one of which, on the European side, has been partly demolished.

Correspondents at Petrograd, of English newspapers, say the German failure to reduce the Russian fortress of CARDINAL LEARNS OF MEXICAN CONDITIONS.

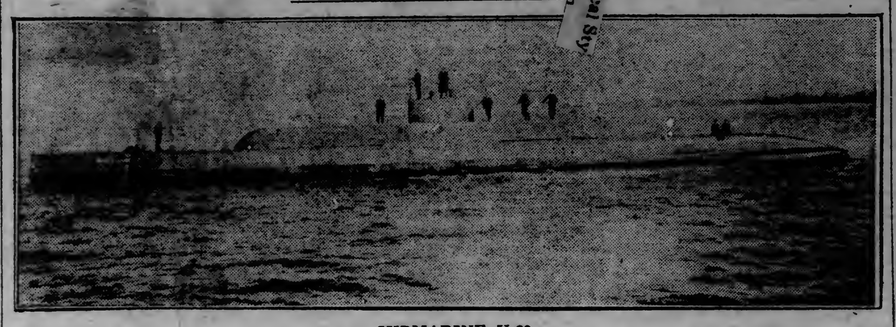
New Orleans, March 10.—Cardinal Gibbons was given a personal report on conditions in Mexico as regards the Catholic church, it became known today when late yesterday he received in conference here Archbishop Moray del Rio, head of the church in the southern republic, who recently came to New Orleans from Vera Cruz. The cardinal did not discuss the conference other than to say the archbishop reported all his clergy had been imprisoned and that the situation was deplorable.

Cardinal Gibbons said today he was in correspondence with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan over the situation.

GERMAN AUXILIARY CRUISER, WITH OVER 300 PRISONERS OF WAR, COMES INTO U. S. HARBOR

GERMAN SUBMARINE U-20 SUNK BY BRITISH BOAT

Minnesota Historical Society ST. PAUL, Minn.



SUBMARINE U-20.

London, March 10.—The German submarine U-20 has been sent to the bottom, according to a statement issued today by the British admiralty.

The submarine, according to the official announcement, was rammed today by the British torpedo boat destroyer Ariel. It went to the bottom. The members of the submarine's crew surrendered and were saved.

The location of the sinking of the submarine is not disclosed in the admiralty announcement.

The captured crew will be deprived of all special privileges, as was done in the case of the men on board the U-8, and they will be held for trial in connection with the sinking of merchant vessels.

The U-20 probably is the submarine which yesterday sunk the British steamer Blackwood.

The submarine U-20 was built in 1913. She had a displacement of 840 tons and a speed of 17 knots on the surface and 12 knots submerged. She was equipped with four torpedo tubes, two in the bow and two in the stern. Comparatively she was one of the larger of the German submarines, the U-8 and the U-9 having a tonnage of only 300 and a submerged speed of not more than eight knots. The maximum radius of boats of the U-20 type has been given in marine authorities at 2,000 miles.

The loss of the U-20 makes the seventh German submarine to be destroyed since the beginning of the war, according to statements given out officially in London. These boats the U-15, sunk by the British cruiser Birmingham in August; U-18, rammed and sunk by a British patrol boat Nov. 23, and three unidentified submersibles officially declared lost on Oct. 26, Oct. 30 and Feb. 28. The sixth submarine to be destroyed was the U-8, which was sunk off Dover March 5.

SLIPS INTO PORT EARLY IN THE MORNING

Prinz Eitel Friedrich Eludes British and French Ships on Coast.

Warship in Need of Repairs, Coal and Provisions for Crew.

Has Been Preying on Commerce on High Seas for Months.

Newport News, Va., March 10.—The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, sea rover and commerce destroyer, presumably eluding British and French cruisers along the coast, slipped into port here early today with more than 300 prisoners, taken from prizes, aboard. She is in need of repairs, coal and provisions for her crew.

Last night, after dark, the German ship appeared off Cape Henry, but did not enter until after daylight, when she passed quarantine and dropped her anchor at this port. All her officers preserved the strictest silence and her captain at once dispatched a message telling of his arrival and the condition of his ship to the German embassy at Washington.

No sooner had the Prinz Eitel anchored than the United States coast guard ship Onondaga went alongside to take up her watch to preserve the neutrality of the United States, until officials at Washington decide what shall be done with the visitor.

White on One Side, Black on Other.

Scarred by the red rust and salt of her months at sea, the German auxiliary was painted white on one side and black on the other. It was reported in marine circles, but not confirmed, that she had been chased to the three-mile limit by a British cruiser.

Within an hour after the Prinz Eitel had arrived in Hampton Roads, a request was made to the Newport News Ship Building & Drydock company for information whether the concern could at once begin work on repairs. The ship building company immediately communicated the request to the navy department at Washington and asked whether the United States would have any objection.

Rear Admiral Beatty, commanding the Norfolk navy yard, after reporting the arrival of the German cruiser received instructions from Secretary

FILES PROTEST ON SEIZURE OF DACIA

Breitung Employs Eminent French Lawyer to Defend Claims.

Paris, March 10.—E. N. Breitung of New York, owner of the steamer Dacia, has entered a protest against the seizure of his vessel by the French maritime authorities. He has engaged Paul Govare, president of the French association of maritime law, to defend his interests.

The Dacia belonged formerly to the Hamburg-American line. She changed her registry and became an American ship after the outbreak of hostilities. Laden with cotton and destined to Germany, she was on her way from the United States to Bremen when picked up at sea by a French cruiser and taken into Brest. Her case is to come before the French prize court.

INCREASED PRICE OF BREAD CAUSES RIOT.

Lisbon, March 10.—The increased price of bread was responsible yesterday for violent clashes between the police and workmen in the naval arsenal. The police used their weapons freely and many persons were injured before the disturbance was ended.

THREE BRITISH STEAMSHIPS ARE SUNK WITHOUT WARNING

RUSSIANS FORCING TURKS TO RETREAT

Are Slowly Driven Southward From Northwestern Persia.

Tiflis, Transcaucasia, Tuesday, March 9, via Petrograd, March 10, 10 a. m., and London, 11:25 a. m.—The Turkish forces and the Kurds, who have been concentrated in the district of Khoi, in Northwestern Persia, are slowly being forced by the Russians to retreat to the southward.

Russian forces already have come into possession of several villages in which Turkish troops had been quartered. Information reaching here from the south is that a large number of Armenians, who remain in Urumiah (a city in Persian Armenia, sixty miles from Tabriz), were placed under the protection of the American consular officials. There is a consulate at Tabriz.

Two thousand Armenians were locked in a church at Urumiah for safety. They were ill supplied with food and many died from starvation and disease.

German Submarines Appear in Widely Separated Localities.

Thirty-Seven Men of Crew of the Tangistan Are Missing.

London, March 10.—During the early hours of Tuesday morning, German submarines made their presence known at three widely separated points on the British coast, and, it is stated officially, without giving warning to their crews, sank three British merchant steamers.

In the case of the Tangistan, which was torpedoed off Scarborough in the North sea, 37 men of her crew of 38 are missing. Only one man from the vessel was picked up by a passing ship. The attack which sent the Tangistan to the bottom was made half an hour after midnight. At 6 o'clock in the morning, another submarine sank the steamer Blackwood off Hastings in the English channel, while a third submarine sank the steamer Princess Victoria off Liverpool at 9:15 o'clock.

The news of the latest exploits of the German submarines came just as the British public was congratulating themselves that the threatened German sea blockade had been a failure.

An official announcement just issued shows that German submarines yesterday (Tuesday) sank three steamships.

The statement follows:

"The steamer Tangistan was sunk by a German submarine off Scarborough at 12:30 o'clock the morning of March 9. Only one man of her crew of 38 men was saved.

"The steamer Blackwood was sunk

ATTEMPTS TO SAVE COINS; LOSES LIFE.

Carmel, N. Y., March 10.—An effort to save his valuable coin collection from his burning home at Tompkins Corners, near here, cost Thomas Milburn Upp, naturalist, author and collector of antique coins, his life yesterday. He got safely out of the house, but rushed back to the room where his collection was kept and did not reappear.

Mr. Upp was founder of the National Order of Backwoodsmen of America.

FRENCH ADMIRAL HAS A CLOSE CALL

Fragment of Shell Drops on Deck of Battleship Suffren.

Paris, March 10.—A fragment of a Turkish shell fell yesterday (Tuesday) at the feet of Rear Admiral Guepratte, commander of the French division operating with the allied fleet in the Dardanelles, as he was directing the operations of the battleship Suffren, which had executed a daring maneuver by penetrating the extreme limit of the mine fields, says a Tenedos dispatch to the Petit Parisien. Several shells are reported to have struck the warship, but the correspondent makes no mention of her having been damaged.

After yesterday's operations the Tenedos dispatch says the crew of the battleship Gaulois was warmly praised by Vice Admiral Carden, the British commander, for the assistance lent in the reduction of the Dardanus redoubt. Powerful Turkish batteries were silenced by the Gaulois, which was herself struck by two six-inch shells, although the damage done is declared to have been insignificant.

Operations of the French warships have been delayed for a few hours by the necessity of taking aboard coal and ammunition.

MAY HAVE SUNK AMERICAN SHIP

Captain of William P. Frye Said to Be on Eitel Friedrich.

Newport News, Va., March 10.—The captain of the American sailing ship William P. Frye and his wife are said also to be on board the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. The Frye, commanded by Capt. Kleine, sailed from Seattle Nov. 6 for Queenstown and has not been reported since she passed Tatoosh, Wash., the following day.

While details are lacking, it is said the Frye, which carries grain, was one of the ships sent to the bottom by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich. With Capt. Kleine and his wife are other members of the crew.

WASHINGTON AWAITS REPLY FROM MEXICAN COMMANDER

Draft Said to Have Been Completed Ready to Forward.

In Meantime Warships Are Ready for Instant Service.

Washington, March 10.—General Venustiano Carranza's reply to the American note demanding an improvement in the "intolerable" conditions for foreigners in the territory under his control was being awaited momentarily by President Wilson and his advisers. They had been advised unofficially that the draft of the reply had been completed and was ready to be forwarded to Washington. It was expected to be favorable.

In the meantime, precautionary steps had been taken by the Washington authorities looking to the safeguarding of American interests in Mexico. United States warships were hovering close to the shores of Mexico to enforce, if necessary, compliance with the demands and American citizens in Mexico City had been warned to leave because of the critical situation there.

Obregon Still in Control.

A dispatch from Vera Cruz, dated yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, indicated that Gen. Obregon was still in control of affairs at Mexico City.

Other advices from Vera Cruz indicated that negotiations were in progress which probably will make possible the export of sisal fiber from Progreso, the Yucatan port blockaded by Carranza's order.

Secretary Daniels today issued a

Greece Has New Cabinet Satisfactory to King Constantine.

Formed By M. Gounaris Who Is Premier and Minister of War.

London, March 10.—A dispatch to Reuter's agency from Athens says M. Gounaris submitted the list of his new cabinet to King Constantine Tuesday night. The king confirmed the appointments. The cabinet follows:

Premier and minister of war, M. Gounaris; foreign minister, Christakis Zographos; minister of communications, M. Baltadjis; minister of instruction, M. Vosikis; minister of finance, M. Protopapadakis; minister of the interior, M. Triantafillakos; minister of national economy, M. Eutaxias; minister of justice, M. Isaldaris, and minister of marine, M. Stratas.

M. Gounaris consented to form a new cabinet on receiving the king's sanction to dissolve the chamber for an adjournment for a month. According to

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

Another of the German submarines which have been seeking to enforce Germany's naval war zone decree has gone to the bottom. The British admiralty announced today that the U-20, built in 1913, had been destroyed.

The German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which had succeeded in evading for months British warships, reached Newport News, Va., and may be interned there.

Bombardment of the Dardanelles, which was again interrupted by unfavorable weather conditions, is reported unofficially to have been resumed, with the allied fleet claiming further progress and Berlin and Constantinople denying that any but slight damage to the weaker fortifications at the entrance to the straits has been done.

A dispatch from Geneva gives a Vienna report that Italian warships have put to sea and probably are on their way to the Dardanelles. This report lacks substantiation.

To further conserve food supplies, the German bundesrath has ordered the expropriation, with certain exceptions of all stocks of barley exceeding a metric ton.

It is asserted at Petrograd that the German forces which invaded Northern Poland following the defeat of the Russians in East Prussia, have now retreated close to the border, except in a few sections of the front. The German attack on the fortress of Ossowetz is being continued, the Germans endeavoring to break through the Russians' fortified line at this point.

Minor Russian victories over the Turkish forces, which recently have become active in Northwestern Persia are described in a message from Tiflis.

A battle of unusual violence, although probably not engaging large numbers of troops, is in progress in the Argonne.

BOYS PLAY "HOOKEY" TO ROLLER SKATE ON THE LAKE; HAVE NOT BEEN SEEN SINCE

Rather than go to school yesterday afternoon Robert Meagher, age 7, and Henry Folz, Jr., age 10, the "boy across the street," played "hookey" and started for the lake with their roller skates. They have not been seen or heard from since.

Each boy's mother believed her son was spending the night across the street with his little friend, and as the families had different telephones, they didn't investigate until this morning.

When Robert failed to appear to "get cleaned" up before going to school this morning Mr. Meagher became alarmed and ran across to the Folz home at 1932 Jefferson street. Then it was discovered that both boys were lost, and frantic parents hurried to police headquarters with their plea for assistance. The Meaghers live at 2017 Jefferson street.

Police are afraid that the two children skated into a hole in the lake, as the ice has been cut up in several places by ice companies and the breweries, which are preparing for their summer business.

Capt. A. G. Piskett placed the entire force at work on the case this morning, and with every officer in the city looking for the two missing lads, it is expected that they will be found soon, unless the drowning theory proves correct.

Played "Hookey."

"Henry had been having a little trouble at school," said Mrs. Folz this morning. "Just as every boy has, I suppose, and it had been weighing on his mind a little. His marks weren't as good as he wanted them to be this last time and I don't think he wanted to face the teacher yesterday afternoon, so he got Robert and they played 'hookey.'"

Robert Meagher appeared at home about 4 o'clock, according to his mother, and after getting his roller skates, he went out again, saying that he was going down to skate. Mrs. Meagher presumed that he had just returned from school, but discovered this morning that both boys were absent.

The boys had been in the habit of skating on the ice with their roller skates, and both of them were adept. Henry Folz, father of one of the missing boys, appealed to Mayor Prince about 9 o'clock this morning, the city's executive going with him to the office of the chief of police.

Robert is short and rather stocky, with light hair. He wore a gray cap and suit and did not have an overcoat when he started for the lake. His little companion wore a gray mackinaw.

Two Children Poisoned.

Reedsburg, Wis., March 10.—The 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonie Bliven ate some heart tablets containing strychnine that an older brother had thrown from a shelf and death resulted yesterday.

Maintain Savings Bank Accounts Despite Business Conditions.

Despite the unsettled conditions in business, the children of the various schools are keeping up their bank accounts in what is considered excellent shape. There is very little difference between the savings deposits of the children now and a year ago, although a falling off was looked for.

The deposits are made in the First National bank, that institution suggesting the plan and operating it. Two young women are employed to go to the various schools on certain days of the week, and on those days the pupils have with them their bank books and the amounts which they wish to lay up against a rainy day. The deposits at the end of February of this year, compared with the corresponding period last year, follow:

LIFE SAVERS ARE COAST GUARDS NOW

No longer will Capt. M. A. McLennan and his men be known as "the life-saving crew." No longer do such crews exist for they have been given a "more hifalutin' name." Now they are "coast guards," the life-saving service and the revenue cutter service having been amalgamated. They are under military jurisdiction, and instead of making yearly contracts, will enlist for life. With this goes retirement pay.

A board has just been at work in Washington making a new set of rules and regulations in place of the two formerly used by the life-saving service and the revenue cutter service.

One of the first things done was the creation of four more positions of district superintendent. In the near future an examination will be held for these positions. There are vacancies to be filled in the first, fourth, eighth and eleventh coast guard districts. The salaries attached to these jobs run upwards of $2,200, the increase being based on period of service of the man appointed.

RATHS TO BE GIVEN RECESS APPOINTMENT.

Washington, March 10.—Postmaster General Burleson today announced that he would appoint Otto N. Raths as postmaster at St. Paul. His name will be submitted to the senate again next December.

DEED VOID; MONEY BACK

Mrs. Frances Owens Recovers Price of Texas Fruit Farm.

Jurors Return Verdict at Midnight—Courthouse Beds in Use.

When Mrs. A. E. Gilmour and her former husband, W. A. Hall, sold John L. Owens a 10-acre fruit farm in Texas seven years ago for $2,500, Mrs. Gilmour failed to make a proper acknowledgement on the deed which she and her husband executed to Owens. A district court jury today found that Mrs. Gilmour was actual owner of the tract and that under the Texas law, which governs the transaction, the deed was invalid. Mrs. Frances Owens, wife of John L. Owens, who sued on an assigned cause of action recovered a verdict in the amount of $2,828.33 from Mrs. Gilmour and Hall, the jury returning a sealed award which was opened and read when Judge Fesler's division of the court convened this morning.

The case presented a number of complications, owing to various interpretations of the Texas law governing the transfer of property by husband and wife. Evidence was introduced during the trial of the case to support the claim of the plaintiff that Mrs. Gilmour, who was then Mrs. Hall, owned the land in question as her own estate and that it was not common property between husband and wife.

The Texas law, as interpreted by Judge Fesler in his charge to the jury, requires that when a transfer of property owned by a wife in her own right is made, husband and wife must both sign the deed and make separate acknowledgements in accordance with a certain prescribed form. In the event that the property conveyed is community or common property, the wife's separate acknowledgement in accordance with the prescribed form is not required.

Deed Was Void.

In the case at bar, the jury found that the property was actually owned by Mrs. Gilmour and that although she and her former husband had signed a deed conveying it to Owens, she had not complied with the Texas statute in making the required acknowledgment, and that, therefore, the instrument of conveyance was void. Such being the case, it followed that Owens was entitled to receive his money back with interest. Owens and his wife paid $2,500 to the Halls on a contract for a deed. The verdict returned also included interest on the money paid by the Owens.

It was also claimed by Mrs. Owens that the defendants in their contract agreed to plant the tract with orange and fig trees and turn over an orchard when the money had been paid over in accordance with the terms of the contract. During the year 1910, frost visited the orchard and killed the trees. Mrs. Owens claimed that this also invalidated the contract and she was entitled to receive her money back.

The suit as originally started was brought by John L. Owens against Mrs. A. E. Hall and her husband, W. A. Hall. Later, Owens assigned his action to Victoria Stewart, who reassigned it to Mrs. Owens. Mrs. Hall secured a divorce from her husband and remarried. When the case came to trial she appeared as Mrs. Gilmour. She is a physician and was spoken of during the trial of the case as Dr. Gilmour. All of the litigants reside at Virginia.

Hall was represented in court by Attorney N. B. Arnold; Mrs. Gilmour by Attorneys E. L. Boyle and M. H. McMahon of Virginia, and the plaintiff, Mrs. Owens, by Henry F. Greene.

The jury took the case at 4:45 o'clock last evening and reached an agreement shortly before midnight. Had the jury disagreed, they would have been obliged to stay up all night, as another panel engaged at the trial of a personal injury suit in Judge Ensign's division of the court occupied the only set of beds for jurors in the building.

WILL BEGIN ON SUBWAY

Council Will Vacate Streets and Approve Highland Plan.

At a special meeting of the city council to be held this afternoon the commissioners will receive the petitions for the vacation of streets and alleys near Highland street and the agreement between the municipality and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad for the construction of a tunnel will be formally approved. This meeting will be the third held by the commission during the last three days.

Some time ago the officials of the road agreed to construct a subway underneath the tracks at Highland street, providing the city would vacate a number of streets and alleys crossing the tracks in the vicinity of the proposed tunnel.

Many of the property owners at first protested against the closing of the streets, but after considerable persuasion enough signers were secured and there are now enough petitions to make the vacation by the council legal. These petitions will be turned over to the city attorney at the meeting this afternoon.

At the same time the agreemtnt with the company will be approved and instructions given Commissioner Murchison to advertise for bids on the construction of the approaches to the subway. The company has agreed to allow the city to advertise for the bids, while the work will be paid for by the road.

According to estimates, the subway will cost about $30,000 and the approaches $14,000.

It is expected that work will begin at once, according to Mayor Prince, who said this morning that the officials of the road have promised to begin immediately after the petitions were accepted and the agreement approved by the city council.

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD MONDAY

Services for W. H. Cole Will Be Held in Duluth.

Funeral services for William H. Cole, prominent Minnesota mining man, who died at Pasadena, Cal., Monday night after a short illness, will be held in Duluth Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Masonic order of which Mr. Cole was a member will be in charge of funeral arrangements, services to be held from the Masonic temple.

Mrs. Cole, Miss Alice Cole, a daughter, and George H. Cole, a brother, with Mr. Cole at the time of his death, will arrive in Duluth Saturday with the body, according to a message received by Frank H. Fregeau of Duluth, a son-in-law.

William H. Cole had made his home in Duluth for years, although since 1904, when he retired from active business life, he had made a practice of spending the spring and winter in Florida or California. He was 58 years of age.

REGISTRATION VERY HEAVY

More Than 7,000 Voters Qualify on the First Day.

Saturday's Additions May Set New Record for the City.

There were 7,057 voters who registered yesterday for the spring election on Tuesday, April 6.

This total exceeds the estimate of 6,000 made by City Clerk Palmer yesterday morning and is 2,020 more than the registration on March 11, 1913, prior to the first municipal election the Duluth voters held under the present commission form of government. It was at that election on April 6 that the present commission was selected.

Officials at the city hall are of the opinion that at the second registration next Saturday, 6,000 voters will file their names for the election, bringing the total registration past the 13,000 mark, and establishing a high-water mark for Duluth.

On March 11, 1913, the registration was 5,037, while on the second day 5,078 registered. Together with 808, who filed on the regular election day by means of affidavits, the total was 10,923. The total vote cast at that election was 10,286, according to figures in the office of City Clerk Palmer.

Voters have one more day, next Saturday, in which to register and those failing to do so, will be compelled to obtain affidavits on election day, April 6, before they will be given a vote. Voters planning to be out of town can file certificates of identification between now and Saturday.

The registration yesterday by districts follows:

"TWILIGHT SLUMBER"

Treatment Used in Two Cases of Child Birth in Duluth.

Heavy Expense Will Prevent It Being Very Widely Used.

The "twilight slumber," or scapolamine amnesia method in the treatment of birth cases, has been introduced in Duluth. Two cases have been handled in this way and the physician in charge reports satisfactory results in both cases.

Although this method has been in vogue in Germany for more than two years and 7,000 to 8,000 cases have been treated, it was some time before the method was introduced in America. It is now being used quite extensively in New York and some of the largest Eastern cities.

The Duluth physician who had charge of the two cases mentioned predicts very good results from the treatment, especially in handling cases where the patient is nervous, weak, or suffering from heart trouble. The treatment is in the form of a hypodermic injection, and the patient loses her memory during the period of child birth. Even after the patient recovers from the injection, she is unable to recall any of the pains she has undergone. "Painless" child birth, as it is some times called, is a misnomer, the physician says. There is pain and labor in bearing the child, but the pain is forgotten.

Its Drawbacks.

"I do not expect to see the method become very widely adopted," said the physician. "It requires too much of a doctor's time and the conditions must be ideal to secure the best results. In many cases the doctor must be a constant attendant at the bedside of the patient for at least twenty-four hours. This makes such treatment difficult for the physician with a general practice and entails an expense which cannot be met by families of small means. For society women, who may have a weak nervous constitution and plenty of means, the treatment is very desirable. With strong, healthy women, it is unnecessary.

"Another handicap to the treatment is that it cannot be given satisfactorily by a physician who has not made a special study of it. Simply reading magazine articles or gathering information in an indirect way is not sufficient. The physician should first go to the hospitals and see cases treated and become perfectly familiar with every detail before attempting to administer it. Even then the physician must exercise great care. Each case must be individualized; no two patients are alike.

"To get the best results the patient should be in a hospital with a nurse in attendance, and the room should be darkened somewhat. There should be as little noise as possible, although noise will not wholly spoil the effect of the injection.

Treatment Perfected.

"Physicians have been chary of using this method in the past because the drugs used contained morphine in a marked degree. The treatment has been perfected now, and there is but an infinitesimally small amount of morphine used. Morphine used to any great extent is harmful to the babies. With the method perfected and the physician skilled in giving the treatment there should be no harmful results, and the patient will be strengthened and refreshed.

"There has been a great deal of discussion of this treatment in magazines and other periodicals. Some of the articles have been well written and scientific while others have been written by authors who know little of the subject. The subject is now being handled by scientific men, and the information given is much more reliable than formerly."

PEEVISH, CONSTIPATED CHILDREN LOVE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Harmless "Fruit Laxative" Cleanses Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has stomach ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in just a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless fruit laxative; they love its delicious taste and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

RECIPE FOR BALD HEADS

Well Known Politician Nearly Bald Now Has New Growth of Hair.

Tells How He Did It.

A western politician, well known on account of his baldness and his ready wit surprised his friends by appearing with a new growth of hair. Many of his friends did not know him, and others thought he had a wig. On being asked how he did it, he made the following statement: "I attribute the growth of my hair to the following simple recipe which any lady or gentleman can mix at home. To a half pint of water add 1 oz. of Bay Rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and ¼ oz. of Glycerine. Apply to the scalp two or three times a week with the finger tips. It not only promotes the growth of the hair, but removes dandruff, scalp humors and prevents the hair from falling out. It darkens streaked, faded, gray hair and makes the hair soft and glossy. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost and mixed at home."

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

BURMEISTER IN THE CITY

President of the Northern League Stops Over.

John Burmeister, president of the Northern league, was in Duluth for a brief stop early today. The league executive was en route for Virginia, where Ed Sommer of Superior, Dickinson of the Fargo club, and Finch of the Virginia club are due to plot out the schedule of the league.

"We believe we are going to have a great little league this season," said Burmeister at the Spalding. "We believe all of the towns on the league will support the game well. The salary agreement should result in making a close race of it and also give the magnates of the smaller towns an opportunity to compete with the larger cities. The league should provide the same article of fast baseball that was played last season. Despite the war conditions in Europe, there is reason to believe that the Canadian cities of the circuit will be completed at an early date and that it will provide for a home opening for the White Sox.

CENTRAL GIRLS BEAT DENFELD QUINTET

The girls' basket ball team of the Duluth Central high school, last night defeated the girls of the Denfeld high. In fact, both invading teams—the first and second—defeated like teams at the Denfeld, the games being played on the West Duluth school's floor. The score of the first team was: Central, 28, and Denfeld, 4. That of the second was: Central, 40, and Denfeld, 1.

Capt. Kugler of Central's first team starred, making 22 of the 28 points. In the game of the second teams, for Central Miss Roberta Ritchie and Miss Nina Murray were the stars. Despite the scores, both teams were exciting and fast.

Charged With Embezzling.

Chicago, March 10.—An indictment charging embezzlement of $117,000 was returned here today against Sidney Osgoki, formerly general claim agent of the Chicago Railways company. The charge was based on alleged false death and accident claims made against the company.

AN EASY WAY TO END CATARRH FOREVER

Simple Home Treatment Destroys Germs of This Dangerous Disease.

The reason why so many people who suffer from catarrh never seem able to get cured is that they are continually seeking the momentary relief of sprays, douching, greasy creams, ointments, etc. Such things do open up the swollen nostrils and clear the head temporarily, besides stopping for a while the disgusting blowing, hawking, spitting and choking, but they never cure. To drive out catarrh for good you have got to get down to its real cause. Catarrh is a germ disease. The air is always full of catarrh germs thrown off by one person and absorbed by another and when the system does fail to throw off such germs they find permanent lodgement in the nose, throat and head and multiply rapidly.

The germs of catarrh can be best destroyed by inhaling the pure medicated air of Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me). This splendid and powerful combination of oil of eucalyptus with other healing agents has a wonderful germicidal action. You breathe its air into your nose, throat and lungs by means of a small hard rubber inhaler which Boyce drug store and other leading druggists here in Duluth, Minn., and vicinity supply with every treatment. This medicated air is certain death to the germs of Catarrh and drives them completely out of your system and when the germs are destroyed will stop. Even two or three minutes use will give refreshing relief, while, if you will use it two or three times a day for a few weeks it will completely banish catarrh and every symptom of catarrh. As Hyomei is pleasant to breathe and is always sold by druggists everywhere with a positive guarantee of successful results or money back, surely no Catarrhal sufferer should go long before trying this simple home remedy.

BIG CREW AT WORK CLEANING STREETS

Flushers Will Be Brought Out If Warm Weather Lasts.

There are 180 men at work today cleaning the Duluth streets of the winter's accumulation of dirt and snow.

Commissioner Murchison, head of the public works division, is making every effort to clear the streets while the present warm weather lasts. It is his plan to keep the men at work for another day or two, so that all the streets in the downtown business district, the West end and West Duluth will present a favorable appearance.

Within a few days the commissioner expects to put the flushers on the streets, which will be washed of the winter's accumulation of dirt.

WILL DETERMINE POOL CHAMPION

Traction Employes Begin Contest; Winners to Play Office Men.

A contest for determining the pool championship among the street car employes of the Duluth Street Railway company has commenced at the car barns and will be played during the next two weeks. A similar contest has just closed among the employes of the office of the company, and the winners in both will be pitted against each other at the close of the carmen's contest.

The schedule of play includes the names of nine entries of carmen. They are: E. L. Anderson, G. E. Barker, K. C. Eubank, O. L. Grinder, J. O. Peterson, E. J. Reilly, R. G. Richman, J. Vitali and W. P. Wallin. Games will be played during the afternoons and evenings.

William Johnson, manager of sports for the employes, is the winner of the office men's tournament. He has played seven games out of the nine and won all of them. The standing of the contestants as well as their high score follows:

SOCIAL STUNTS FOR TRACTION MEN

Employes Will Hold Their First Banquet and Dance.

Employes of the Duluth Street Railway company and their wives and women guests will enjoy their first annual banquet and dancing party tomorrow evening. The banquet will be held at the Rex hotel and the dance will take place right after the supper at the Woodman hall.

It is expected that at least seventy-five employes and as many women will attend the banquet. A short program has been arranged to be given at the hotel. The dinner will be served at 8:30 o'clock.

Many more couples are expected to attend the dancing party than the dinner, because many employes who are unable to finish their day's work in time to attend the banquet will be on hand at the dance.

DEBATE DECLARED DRAW BY JUDGES

Judges on a debate held by the Scandinavian W. C. T. U. last night at the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church on the question of "Which is the Greater Menace to a Country, The Slave Traffic or the Liquor Traffic?" were unable to render a decision and declared the contest a draw. Two women on each side presented able arguments.

The women declaring that slavery is the greatest menace were Mr. K. A. Lundin and Mrs. Otto Carlson, and those presenting the liquor arguments were Mrs. L. K. Heiam and Mrs. E. Gustafson. The judges were Rev. H. A. Ofstie, A. Fristad and Mrs. Louis Peterson.

GERMAN AUXILIARY CRUISER COMES INTO U. S. HARBOR

Daniels to make an investigation and send him a full report.

Arrived at Night.

The Prinz Eitel Friedrich arrived off the Virginia capes last night, but did not enter Hampton roads until this morning when she steamed up to Old Point and after complying with quarantine regulations, proceeded to this city, where she dropped anchor shortly before 10 o'clock. Much secrecy covered her movements and further than that she was in urgent need of coal and provisions and also repairs, nothing could be learned as to the cause of her stopping here.

The Prinz Eitel Friedrich has three 8-inch guns and ten 5-inch guns. She carries a crew of 350 men and thirteen officers. Where the 326 Russian and French prisoners were taken aboard was not known here.

Immediately after the Prinz Eitel Friedrich dropped anchor the coast guard cutter Onondaga went alongside. The captain of the cutter prepared to make a full report to Collector of Customs Hamilton.

Started from Tsing-Tau.

The auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich started out on her career as a warship from Tsing-Tau. She formerly was a regular liner of the North German Lloyd. She reached Tsing-Tau shortly after the outbreak of hostilities and the German marine authorities at that port equipped her with naval guns and turned her into an auxiliary cruiser.

She sailed from Tsing-Tau before the Japanese attacked that port and early in November she was reported off the western coast of South America, where for several months she has been active in the pursuit of British and French shipping. One of her exploits was the sinking early in December of the British steamer Charcas off Chile. Japanese cruisers have been described as searching for this German vessel persistently, but they never could find her.

The records do not show when she entered the South Atlantic. Had she come through the straits of Magellan, the prevailing censorship might have prevented news of her movements becoming known. Desiring to avoid the straits, she could have come around Cape Horn.

With this German cruiser definitely located in an American port, there remain at large on the high seas outside of German waters only three ships of war flying the imperial flag. These are the Kronprinz Wilhelm, an auxiliary cruiser last reported off the coast of Brazil; the protected cruiser Dresden, last reported after the battle of the Falkland islands in Chilean waters, and the cruiser Karlsruhe, last reported as operating in the West Indies. One report said that the Karlsruhe had succeeded in reaching home waters.

May Be Allowed to Repair.

Washington, March 10.—According to the doctrine laid down by the American government in other cases similar to the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, the collector of customs at Norfolk must give the commander of the German ship twenty-four hours from the time of his arrival to take coal and provisions.

If the ship needs repairing, however, she has a longer respite. In that case, the naval constructor at the port will make an examination and report what would be a reasonable time to make the necessary repairs, and the German ship would be given twenty-four hours in addition to that time. Meanwhile the American government would keep the time of her departure a secret, so no unfair advantage might accrue to hostile ships which might gather in wait for the German auxiliary. Similar cases arose in connection with the German gunboat Geier, which was interned at Honolulu after repairs to her machinery, and the steamer Farn at San Juan, Porto Rico.

May Decide to Interne.

Officials here were of the opinion that the presence of British and French cruisers close on the Atlantic coast might influence the German commander to decide to interne his ship. How the Eitel Friedrich had managed to get through the lines of hostile warships which have been patrolling the Atlantic was the subject of much speculation in naval circles.

The disposition of any prisoners of war the German ship may have aboard will raise another question. It is possible that they may be paroled.

American officials were awaiting official information before announcing any action.

Word of the arrival of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich was communicated to the German embassy here by her captain.

Gave No Details.

The captain did not give any details or ask for instructions. His dispatch, however, was promptly forwarded to Count von Bernstorff, the ambassador, who is in New York, and to the German naval attache, Capt. Boy-Ed, also there.

Naval officers made no concealment of their admiration of the remarkable cruise of the German ship, which they said was absolutely without precedent in the history of privateering, even exceeding in duration the remarkable exploits of the German cruiser Emden.

THREE BRITISH STEAMSHIPS ARE SUNK WITHOUT WARNING

by a submarine without warning off Hastings at 6 o'clock the morning of March 9. Her crew of 17 was saved.

"The steamer Princess Victoria of Glasgow, was sunk without warning by a German submarine at 9:15 o'clock the morning of March 9 off Liverpool. Her crew of 34 was saved."

The official report announcing the torpedoing of British steamers Tangistan, Blackwood and Princess Victoria, the two former cargo boats and the latter one a coastwise passenger ship—indicates that German submarines again are raiding at widely separated points around the British isles. As each of the boats was torpedoed in a period of less than nine hours, it would seem probable that all three were sunk by different under-water boats.

Scarborough, off which the Tangistan was sunk is in the North sea in Yorkshire; Hastings is on the English channel in Sussex, and Liverpool is on the Irish sea. The Tangistan, the largest of the vessels, was of 2,393 tons displacement. She was built in 1906 and owned by the Strick line of Swansea.

The Blackwood was built in 1907 and belonged to the Tyneside line of North Shields, and was a 721-ton vessel.

The Princess Victoria was owned by Langlands & Son, of Glasgow. She was a steamer of 559 tons displacement, and was built in 1912.

Crew Reaches Liverpool.

Liverpool, via London, March 10.—The crew of the steamer Princess Victoria, in two small boats were towed in here late yesterday afternoon. The men were suffering from exposure.

Telling of the sinking of his vessel by a German submarine the captain said:

"The submarine discharged a torpedo at us without even showing her periscope, as the weather conditions were excellent and a number of special lookouts who were posted to keep watch saw no submarine.

"I ordered two boats overboard and the crew scrambled into them. Our ship disappeared in about fifteen minutes. We rowed in the direction of Liverpool. Five hours in the open boats nearly did us up."

Thirty-seven Drowned.

West Hartlepool, via London, March 10.—The crew of thirty-eight men of the British steamer Tangistan were drowned, except one man, according to the statement made by the sole survivor of the vessel, who has been landed here by the steamer Woodville.

"The Tangistan," said the man, "was torpedoed off Scarborough. She was struck amidships and went down almost immediately. All the members of the crew were in the life boats but they were unable to disconnect the lowering tackle before the ship sank and dragged down the boats with her. I caught hold of a piece of wreckage and clung to it for nearly three hours until I was rescued."

The survivor of the Tangistan is James O'Toole, an Englishman. Sixteen men of the crew were English and the remainder Arabs. The boats had already been swung out in view of a possible submarine attack, and most of the men on board wore lifebelts when the vessel was torpedoed.

O'Toole said later that four other men caught pieces of wreckage and remained afloat for some time.

"Two boats," he continued, "passed close by within an hour or two. We all shouted to them, but they did not hear or see us. One of the men yelled over to me that this was his second experience with a German submarine, as he had been saved some months ago from a vessel that had been blown up in the North sea.

"When the Woodville came up, her boats came about, trying to find my companions, but there was no trace of them."

Crew of Blackwood Lands.

New Haven, Eng., via London, March 10.—The captain and crew of the steamer Blackwood, which was sunk off Hastings at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, were landed here Tuesday night. They say that their vessel, laden with coal and bound for Blyth, was torpedoed without warning during a snow storm early in the morning, eighty miles south of Dungeness.

Chased By Submarine.

Liverpool, via London, March 10.—The Clan line steamer Clan Macrae was chased by a German submarine off the Mersey bar in the Irish sea yesterday (Tuesday) morning for twenty-five minutes. The steamer escaped by zig-zagging at full speed. The Clan Macrae left Port Natal Jan. 21 for Liverpool.

IN FAVOR OF NEUTRALITY

the constitution, a general election must be held within forty-five days after parliament is dissolved.

M. Gounaris' policy will be one of neutrality marked by a favorable disposition toward Serbia."

Important Events to Happen.

London, March 10.—The Times, in an editorial today on the Greek crisis, says:

"Many events, more important to Greece and the other Balkan states than changes of ministers are likely to happen within the month which will elapse before the Creek chamber dissolves. The ministerial crisis in Greece is still, in some respects, obscure, but its main cause is well known.

"It is remarkable that the chief of the Greek general staff, Gen. Dousmanis, who was suspended in January for an attack upon Premier Venizelos, was restored to his functions on the very day that the committee of former premiers was summoned by the king to consider the cabinet crisis. He attended this committee meeting last Friday.

"The whole story of what took place at the meeting remains to be disclosed but all Athens knows that on Saturday morning M. Venizelos visited the British legation where the French and Russian ministers were present. That night the cabinet resigned.

Policy Disapproved.

"The obvious inference is that King Constantine disapproved the policy for which the cabinet had secured the assent of the council. Had Venizelos not carried the council with him, he would hardly have wished to meet the representatives of the entente powers after the council meeting had risen.

"M. Venizelos is too sagacious and well informed to entertain or encourage aspirations on the part of Greece for the possession of Constantinople, but he is permeated with a deep consciousness of the ties binding the Greeks to Byzantium, and could hardly consent to stand idly by while strangers forced the Dardanelles and strange troops drove the Turks from the walls which defended Greek nationality, Greek faith and Greek learning for more than 1,000 years."

The article proceeds to argue that the king of Greece may not be unwilling, for personal reasons connected with his obligations to the German emperor, to see his own policy overborne by the natural demand for return to power of Venizelos and says it is not likely that he will lightly risk the loss of national favor by permanently discarding the greatest statesman of modern Greece for adopting and adhering to a thorough national policy.

"At the same time," the editorial concludes, "while the advantages of the stop-gap ministry are clear from a family and personal standpoint, its disadvantages from the loss of Greece's opportunity are equally clear."

"SINCE YOU ASK ME—"

John Stone Pardee Prepares Printed Answer to Numerous Queries About Efficiency Bill.

"If you ask" John Stone Pardee about the bill prepared by the efficiency commission, of which he was secretary, he will likely hand you a printed slip in which the matter is answered fully.

Mr. Pardee is eternally humorous and always Pardee. He has been asked about the bill so much that he has taken a strictly Pardeesque method of settling the matter and has printed answers to practically every likely question.

Many of these he has deposited at the rooms of the Commercial club, where all who wish to may obtain them; and he also carries a supply for personal use when accosted. The slip, which is signed "Pardee, Past Sec. Eff. Com.," reads as follows:

"Since you ask me—

"The efficiency commission's bill is now on the dissecting table. I'm just waiting to hear how it comes out.

"The gentlemen who are operating on it can tell you better than I can what they will do with it.

"All I know is some of them want to pull it through.

"And some of them hope it never wakes up.

"If you ask me, I would say it depends a good deal on the folks back home.

"If they seem to want it the legislature won't be mean enough to deny them.

"If they don't seem to care, the legislature should worry.

"Furthermore, if the folks back home don't call for it any louder than they have so far, the operation will probably be a complete success as shown by the post mortem:

"As as I said before, you get more action out of a lighted match than you do from a barrel of warm water.

"It's awfully kind of you to ask."

ONE INJURY CLAIM A DAY

Icy Sidewalks Pile Up Litigation for the City.

An injury claim a day has been filed at the city hall since Monday.

Each of the claimants asks for damages alleged to have resulted from falls on icy sidewalks or pavements in various parts of the city.

On Monday, Mrs. Victoria Golcz filed a claim for $500 damages as the result of an alleged fall on a sidewalk at Fourth avenue west and First street on Feb. 5. Yesterday morning Mrs. Tessie Davis, through her attorney, T. J. McKeon, filed a claim for $500. She alleges that she was injured in a fall on the sidewalk at Third avenue east and Second street on the morning of Washington's birthday.

The third claim for damages this week was filed this morning by Kazimierz Harabardo, who declares that he fell and injured himself on Feb. 12 while walking on the sidewalk at Sixty-sixth avenue west and Main street.

The claimants all declare that icy walks were the cause of the accidents and they ask the city for relief. The claims will be referred to City Attorney Clapp for investigation, after which the council will take action on his recommendations.

RECRUITS FOR CHURCH ARMY

"Go to Church Sunday" Expected to Set New Record.

Pastors and Laymen Are Pleased With Last Year's Results.

Next Sunday will be "Go to Church Sunday," and a strong effort is being made by those in charge of the movement in Duluth to surpass the record made in church attendance on a similar occasion last year.

That "Go to Church Sunday" of 1914 was an undoubted success is evidenced by the testimonial letters of the pastors of the city. Virtually all of them report excellent results in the way of increased attendance and in membership. Business men of the city are taking a keen interest in the movement this year and are doing what they can to stimulate the attendance. Some of them are urging their employes to attend services next Sunday and to continue to take part thereafter.

It is expected that the record of last year will be at least equaled and W. B. Patton, chairman of the publicity committee, declares that everything points to a much greater attendance. As to the testimony of some of the preachers, one, Rev. Milton Fish, pastor of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, declares that "Last year's observance of this day broke our Sunday morning attendance record and was followed for several months by higher averages of attendance." He adds:

"Within the local church preparation for the day tends to place even delinquent members in the position of hosts, responsible, in a measure, for the welcome of strangers."

Rev. John W. Hoffman, pastor of the First Methodist church, says of last year's "Go to Church Sunday" that it "stimulated general interest in church work. Several families requested a call. It brings the church prominently before the whole city as essential to life."

As to the attitude of business men, the letter written to Mr. Patton by Z. D. Scott, one of the leading business men of the city, reflects how they regard the movement. Mr. Scott says:

"I shall be glad to do anything that I can in awakening interest in the matter of church attendance. I have always attended church, myself, and can truthfully say that for fifty years I have appreciated church services, and can truly say that I do not think that I ever attended church during that time and regretted that I spent the time in doing so. I believe that our people, generally, should be educated on the point of church attendance and should give due weight to the influences which such an observance is always sure to exercise. A man or woman is better fitted for the duties of the week by church attendance on Sunday.

"In regard to the benefits following the last year's observance, I can say that I was impressed that there was an added zeal and interest in church services at that time, and, even if it is small, I am sure that it paid for the effort made to get more to attend church services."

MEXICAN RED CROSS APPEALS FOR FOOD

Asks American Society for Relief for Starving of Republic.

Washington, March 10.—The Mexican Red Cross today appealed to the American Red Cross through Secretary Bryan for food for the starving populace in Mexico City. The appeal said the famine in the Mexican capital was rapidly growing worse. Secretary Bryan said the state department would co-operate with the Red Cross as far as possible.

Miss Mable T. Boardman of the American National Red Cross consulted with Secretary Bryan and Counsellor Lansing of the state department today in regard to Mexican relief. There are many practical difficulties and it was decided to await further information from Mexico City before taking final steps.

The advisability of inviting some other American countries, especially Argentina, Brazil and Chile to join the United States in the Mexican relief work was suggested.

Trespasser Is Shot.

Fond du Lac, Wis., March 10.—Failing to heed a warning to stop when crossing the farm of Albert Carter, near Red Granite, around which trespass notices were posted, may cost Josh Lasko, 35 years old, a quarryman, his life. Lasko has a bullet in his groin. The wound is said to have been inflicted by Carter, who was arrested.

Aitkin Man Weds.

Aitkin, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—John R. Wedlock of Aitkin and Miss Emma McCollum, daughter of John McCollum, Pine Knoll, were married Saturday evening at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. A. L. Richardson officiating. Mr. Wedlock is proprietor of the Primrose cafe, and he and his wife will make their home here.

Railroads Move for Fair Play

Some of the great Eastern railroads feel that they have been injured by unwise legislation.

Accordingly they have gotten together for a newspaper advertising campaign to create public sentiment.

They are taking the public into their confidence and pointing out exactly how they have been hurt.

Already the campaign has aroused much comment and has undoubtedly put the companies in a better light.

It is an evidence of the trend of the times and a further evidence of the fact that the way to reach thinking men and women is through open, frank, fair newspaper advertising.

PERRY PEACE MONUMENT

Gen. Keifer of Ohio Advocates Appropriation By Minnesota.

Action on Grant for State Art Society Is Deferred.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—"World peace will follow the termination of the European war, which is a dark cloud passing with the break of dawn," declared Gen. J. Warren Keifer of Springfield, Ohio, while advocating Minnesota's participation in the proposed Perry peace monument before the house appropriations committee yesterday afternoon.

A number of bills carrying appropriations were discussed at length, but action on all of them was deferred.

Nine states have appropriated money for the proposed memorial, and the committee was considering a bill carrying $25,000 as this state's contribution.

Present War an Object Lesson.

Gen. Keifer, who is a member of the International Peace society, pointed to the great European war as an object lesson which will go far in preventing all future wars.

"The date is near at hand when the great international peace body of the world will hold its next meeting," he said. "That meeting probably will stand out sharply in future histories of the world.

"We tried to hold a meeting last year. I journeyed to Berlin in July. The following day the world's greatest war burst forth with all its horrors. We waited in Berlin, amazed, disappointed. It was only a short time until the first of the dead began to arrive from the scenes of conflict.

"My mission of peace brought only the ghastliness and horrors of a sickening war, in which human lives were snuffed out with abandon. Men were driven to their graves like leaves before an autumn wind.

Need of World Peace.

"Such a conflict drives home more forcibly the need of world peace.

"I have journeyed here to plead with you to participate in this worthy cause."

Gen. Keifer, who is former speaker of the national house of representatives, declared that this country is and always will be opposed to war.

"We are not afraid of war," he added. "But we abhor it. Were we driven to it, Minnesota would be among the first to respond.

"But let us stand together in only one war, and let that be the war for peace.

"I have come before you, in my eightieth year, to ask this legislature to join in raising a monument marking the 100th year of peace between Great Britain and the United States; and let us labor to make that peace eternal."

Other Speakers.

MacKenzie R. Todd, financial secretary of the commission appointed by the national and state governments for the erection of the memorial, and John M. Whitehead, president of the Wisconsin Peace society, also advocated passage of the bill.

Friends of the State Art society appeared before the committee in support of the $27,000 appropriation to carry on the work of the society for the next year. The bill provides a like appropriation for the following year.

The committee did not feel disposed to act finally on this, or the bill appropriating $50,000 for the construction of a State Horticultural society building at the state farm school, and decided to lay them over until a later meeting.

statement on the condition of the Atlantic fleet and its auxiliaries now maneuvering in Mexican gulf and Caribbean waters. It was considered significant by some observers of the Mexican situation and follows:

Fleet Powerful.

"Never before in the history of our navy has such a powerful fleet been assembled for active service, maneuvers and target practice, with guns and torpedoes as that based on Guantanamo, Cuba, for the last two months under the command of Rear Admiral Fletcher, commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet. This force now consists of nineteen battleships and twenty destroyers with a flagship and tender.

"Based also on Guantanamo bay is the cruiser squadron, consisting of two armored cruisers and seven light cruisers and gunboats, the various units of which have been operating in the vicinity of Haiti, Santo Domingo and the east coast of Mexico.

Ready for Service.

"The vessels comprising this fleet are ready for any service and are accompanied by repair ships, supply ships and fuel ships, carrying coal, oil and supplies for an extended period.

"At Key West the reserve torpedo flotilla, consisting of ten destroyers and a tender, have been engaged in extended operations.

"At Pensacola six submarines with four tenders have been operating jointly with air craft and with the San Francisco, a mine-laying vessel.

"Results of the extended operations in which the above-mentioned vessels to the number of eighty-three are engaged cannot fail to be of great benefit to the navy."

ALLIES CONSIDER THE PRESENT SITUATION OF WAR MOST FAVORABLE

Ossowetz, together with the reported German defeat at Grodno and Przasnysz, means the definite abandonment of the German offensive in North Poland, thus making, in the opinion of these correspondents, Field Marshal von Hindenburg's rush over the frontier another costly failure.

Germans Holding Line.

The Germans, though unable to advance in Russia, are reported to be holding a line some thirty miles behind the extreme limit of their forward dash of a month ago.

In Central Poland both the Russians and the Germans are attacking alternately with no appreciable change in the situation being made.

The same is true in the Carpathian mountains and generally along the western front in France and Belgium.

French Statement.

Paris, March 10, via London, 3:55 p. m.—The report from the war office this afternoon says:

"North of Arras, in the region of Notre Dame De Lorette, the night was quiet and the situation is unchanged.

"The importance of our progress yesterday in Champagne is confirmed. A violent German counter-attack made on ridge 196 was vigorously repulsed and we gained a little ground along the road from Perthes to Tahure. On the hill northest of Mensil, our infantry, after having carried the German works mentioned in the last communication, reached a hill beyond.

"In the Argonne, at Fontaine Madame, we demolished a blockhouse and pushed our trenches eighty meters forward. Between Four de Paris and Bollante, the enemy attacking at 4 p. m., took from us trenches we had captured in the morning. However, a fresh attack gave us possession of them once more. The enemy then attacked again, and according to the latest information the fighting continues."

Attacks Fail.

Petrograd, March 10, via London, 1:55 p. m.—To remedy the strategical weakness of their position at Ossowetz, which was left open to a Russian outflanking movement by the retirement of the right wing of their northern army towards the Augustowo forest, the Germans have attempted an advance in force along the road from Kolno to Lomza. The Russian general staff reports that the attacks failed completely.

Notwithstanding their exposed position at Ossowetz, the Germans continue to concentrate their heaviest attacks at this point. Meanwhile, they are conducting desultory operations along the whole front from Augustowo to Drobin, which is twenty miles northeast of Plonsk, in order to distract attention from the Ossowetz battle and cover the retreat of the forces which encountered a reverse at Przasnysz. This force already has retreated close to the border, in the district between Janow and Mlawa.

With the exception of the German forces at Simno and Ossowetz, and those advancing south from Drobin, with the evident intent of reaching Wyszogrod, the German armies operating in the north of Poland have executed a general retreat to within a few miles of the Prussian boundary. The occasional evidences of offensive activity by the Germans along this front are viewed by the Russian authorities as defensive maneuvers designed to allow their forces to retreat in good order and to prevent an invasion of their own territory by the Russians.

few weeks ago by the St. Louis county delegation and objected to by a number of the members because they thought it looked too much like persecution of Sheriff Meining.

* * *

Changes in assessments of property for taxation, designed to lessen the burden on improvements, are proposed in bills introduced in the house this morning by Representative Spooner of Morrison. One provides that all buildings shall be assessed at a quarter of their actual value, another that all homesteads shall be assessed at the same rate, and another that all platted real estate except homesteads shall be assessed at half its actual value.

Woman's Reformatory.

Shortly before noon the house took up as a special order the three pending bills relating to the creation of a woman's reformatory. One provides for the sale of the old abandoned prison at Stillwater, the proceeds of the sale to go into a woman's reformatory fund; another provides an appropriation of $10,000 for the purchase of a site; a third appropriates $30,000 for that purpose.

The bill providing for the sale of the old state prison, amended so as to leave to the discretion of the board of control whether the proceeds should be devoted to a woman's reformatory fund, was passed. Other bills regarding a woman's reformatory will be combined and introduced as a new bill immediately.

The house unanimously passed a resolution by Representatives H. H. Harrison and John B. Sanborn paying a tribute to the public services of the late Mrs. C. G. Higbie, who died suddenly while appearing before a house committee in behalf of the creation of a woman's reformatory.

Forestry Appropriation.

The house appropriations committee last night voted to put before the house without recommendation the bill appropriating $150,000 a year for the forestry service. Representative Fred Bessette of St. Louis county will be one of the leaders of the fight for this measure. On motion of Chairman Spooner of the house appropriations committee the house made a special order March 16 for this and other pending appropriation bills in which the committee wants the house to declare a policy.

County Division Bill.

The house committee on towns and counties will meet this afternoon to take action on the St. Louis county division bill. After the advocates of the bill make such amendments as they wish, it is likely that the bill will be reported out without recommendation, which will have the effect of placing it on general orders so that it can be given consideration by the house.

* * *

The house under suspension of the rules this morning passed a bill by Representative Hynes correcting minor errors in the semi-monthly pay bill, now a law. The twice a month pay system will be effective July 1.

* * *

World Stop Smoking.

Representative Holmes, in a new bill, would require railroads to have at least one room where smoking is strictly forbidden at every station.

* * *

The Minneapolis public schools are authorized to give part time instruction to pupils learning trades by a bill introduced by Representative Lydiard.

* * *

The house passed the following bills:

The proposed constitutional amendment abolishing the state census.

The Frye bill prohibiting the killing or sale of frogs.

A bill extending state fire insurance to county property.

Representatives Bessette and Scott in a new bill propose to make rewards for convictions of game and fish law violations available for those furnishing evidence strong enough to convict.

* * *

Under a new bill by Representative Scott of Hibbing, all municipalities are authorized to join the League of Minnesota Municipalities and pay its dues.

* * *

Another Blue Sky Law.

Representative John B. Sanborn of St. Paul introduced a new blue sky bill.

Representative Nimocks introduced a bill fixing the state license fee for insurance brokers at $25 for first-class cities, $10 for second-class cities, and $2 elsewhere.

* * *

Gen. J. Warren Keifer of Springfield, O., former speaker of the national house of representatives, addressed the house this morning on peace. Senator John H. Whitehead of Wisconsin also made a short address.

The senate will meet at 8 o'clock tonight.

STOCKHOLDERS VS. STRAPHOLDERS

Traction Company Cuts Dividend to Maintain Present Service.

When it came to choosing between disappointing some stockholders and creating an army of angry strapholders, the Duluth Street Railway company chose the former alternative, according to an announcement made today.

It was learned today that the local traction company dividend was cut from 4 per cent to 2 per cent per annum at a recent directors' meeting. Local officers confirm this report and give as the reason the falling off in receipts. They state that while the receipts for the year 1914 showed a slight increase over those for 1913 the increase all came in the early part of 1914 and that for seven months past they have fallen under the corresponding months in the preceding year. Company officials claim they have found it impossible to reduce operating expenses owing to the ever-increasing demands for improvements in the service, and as an alternative it was decided to reduce the dividend.

"By this course we expect to maintain the present excellent service on all lines and at the same time strengthen the company's financial condition," said one of the officers today.

COUNTY HOSPITAL PLAN POSTPONED

Commercial Club Committees Regard Time for Expenditure Inopportune.

Among the reports to be read on Friday night at the monthly meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, will be one jointly submitted by the sub-committees on legislative matter and public health, in which it will be recommended that the movement involving the authorization of a bill for a county hospital at Duluth be dropped for the present.

The two sub-committees met yesterday afternoon, with Henry Nolte presiding, and after a thorough discussion of the situation, adopted a resolution to that effect. The members declared that they favor the establishment of a county hospital, but believe that the time is inopportune for such an expenditure because of the unsettled business conditions and because such an institution cannot be said, at this time, to be indispensible.

The agitation for a county hospital was started some time ago by the women's clubs of the city and was warmly approved by the medical fraternity. The matter was turned over to the Commercial club for action, and for a time it was expected that a bill would be drafted and sent to the St. Louis delegation for presentation. It is likely that the public affairs committee will approve the resolution of the joint sub-committee.

WILL LECTURE ON MINNESOTA

University Professor Will Give Free Illustrated Talk.

Prof. E. M. Lehnerts of the University of Minnesota extension division will give his lecture, "Minnesota, the Heart of the Continent," at the Sacred Heart Cathedral Auditorium, Friday evening at 8:30. No admission will be charged, as the lecture isone of a Knights of Columbus lecture series and is to be given under the auspices of Duluth council of that order. It will be open to the public.

The lecture will be illustrated with views of the natural resources, industries, cities and villages of Minnesota.

Dr. Lehnerts is well known in Duluth through his lectures here with the University Extension department. He was for several years a member of the faculty of the geological department of the university, and because of his ability as a lecturer was transferred to the extension department.

Dr. Lehnerts is the originator and director of the "Seeing Minnesota," and "University of Minnesota Western Summer" tours. Because of his geographic publications he has an international reputation as a geographer.

The lecture Friday evening will describe and illustrate the natural resources of Minnesota and the development of its industries.

SCHOOLBOYS FIND STAR-NOSED MOLE

Two schoolboys living near Arnold captured an odd little stranger yesterday. They discovered a star-nosed mole running along on top of the snow, and caught the little animal because of its inability to burrow under the thick crust.

The star-nosed mole is rarely seen this far north, and it is far from being as common as the American mole, even in other parts of the country. It generally frequents rather swampy ground, and seldom gets above the surface.

The animal is about as big as a small rat. It has a tail like a beaver, and a star on the end of its nose. The star, formed of flesh colored tissue, is probably used by the animal for feeling its way, as it is totally blind when in any strong light, and is believed to see but little even below the surface of the ground. Its eyes are mere pin points.

The boys took the animal to their home and turned him loose in the cellar which has only a dirt floor. He lost no time in digging his way out of sight, with the powerful claws on his forelegs.

COMMERCIAL CLUB "SMOKER" MAKES HIT.

The "smoker" at the Commercial club last night proved to be one of the most enjoyable entertainments held by the club in its history, and more than 300 attended. The affair was wholly informal and most thoroughly enjoyed. The program, which was in charge of H. A. Earnshaw, was excellent and was followed by refreshments.

F. I. Halton, a professional prestidigitator, who is visiting friends in the city, amazed and puzzled his audience with his skill at legerdemain, and created a great deal of amusement by his marvelous placing of cards in a mysterious way about the persons of some of the spectators.

Miss Messermuth of the Holland cabaret, and Gene Mack of the St. Louis cabaret, gave vocal numbers and were obliged to respond to frequent and hearty encores.

Woman's Realm

As usual spring hats are small, but it is predicted that wide brims will be fashionable for summer wear. Women who keep up with the style will look like Maude Mullers with their hat brims turning down in the front and back in shepherdess effect. Trimmings will be of wreaths or ribbon, and ribbon streamers will play important parts. Some of the new shepherdess hats are made of chiffon either bound with silk or edged with scalloped lace.

Hat and ruff sets are popular for afternoon wear, the trimming of the hat being of the same material used for the ruff.

One of the most remarkable novelties is a veil and sleeves all in one. Thrown over a small hat like a veil are several yards of net. The ends instead of flying free are shirred into cuffs, the soft net making a graceful drapery for the arms.

WOMEN AND WAR.

Mme. Schwimmer Urges American Women to Profit By War.

One of the principal speakers at the Mississippi Valley Suffrage conference, that opened in Indianapolis Monday, was Mme. Rosika Schwimmer, the noted Hungarian suffragist and peace advocate. In her appeal to the women of America to help save the women of Europe, she said:

"We know today that war doesn't mean that a man protects his home, but that he goes out to destroy the home of some other man. The women of Europe realize today that part of the responsibility for this war rests on their shoulders. They realize now that their greatest mistake was in permitting the men to push them aside when they sought equal rights in government.

How Women Suffer.

"When the war came, the very men who did not have the time to consider the question of giving women suffrage and who told us to go home where we belong were the first to cry out that now was the time for every true woman to come out of her home and take up the work left by the men who went to war. And on the shoulders of the women has fallen the work of 25,000,000 able-bodied men who have gone out to kill each other in the belief that they are protecting their country and their homes.

"Get suffrage, even for those women who don't know what it means—get it. We agonized women of Europe are looking forward to you as our hope.

"I don't believe in a woman-ruled world any more than in a man-ruled world. One will have just as many faults as the other. The thing that we need in civilization is the use of hearts and brains in humanizing the world.

"Don't forget your mission. Whenever your efforts begin to relax for one moment, let the lesson of Europe urge you onward. And the time will soon come when these conferences are not necessary unless you should use them to teach the women of Europe what you have learned."

WEATHER DEVICES.

Home Made Barometers Amuse Children and Convalescents.

Springfield Republican: A long period of convalescence means many days of patient searching for new occupations. Something to do the invalid must have and something to make is best of all. A writer in the Brooklyn Eagle suggests making weather tellers; there are several kinds that are easy to make and a source of interest even after they are done. One of the prettiest is the weather flower. This is very easy to make, and yet it is an excellent weather forcaster.

First of all we must construct a paper blossom. This may be made in any desired size or shape, but it should be mounted on a wire stalk after the usual manner. The paper used should be of a rather thick description, and white blotting paper is about the best for the purpose. For a few cents any druggist would make up a solution of chloride of cobalt, chloride of sodium and gum arabic. The petals of the flower should be well painted with this solution. The weather flower will be seen to give interesting indications of weather changes. If the atmosphere is very dry and fine weather is likely, the petals of the blooms will be bright blue; at the approach of a change the flower will assume a purple tint, while when rain and storm are coming, the blossom will be pink. To get the best effects it is well to keep the weather flower away from the fire, as the artificial dryness of the air in such a situation would affect the coloring to some extent.

The chameleon barometer is formed on similar lines. In this case the animal is drawn with strong pencil lines on to white blotting paper. It is then mounted on a card. Round the border of the card are sections in which the words "wet," "variable" and "dry" are printed. The first is colored pink, the second purple and the last blue. This enables the observer to judge the meaning of the variations in the color of the chameleon. Finally the animal is well painted with the solution, when it will alter its hue according to the state of the atmosphere in the same way as was observed in the case of the weather flower.

A most ingenious picture that will tell the weather may be devised by using three solutions which are affected by the state of the atmosphere. Any kind of picture may be worked out, such as a general view, a seascape, etc. It should be drawn in bold pencil lines on white blotting paper. Do not trouble about a great deal of detail. When choosing the subject it is well to bear in mind that the colors which will be available will be blue, yellow and green. On this account a landscape with a farm and corn fields would be suitable. Here the sky will be blue, the corn fields and houses yellow and the trees green. In the case of a seascape, the water could be green, the sky blue and the ships yellow. When the picture is complete it should be cut out in the different sections so that it can be fitted together after the manner of a puzzle. It is well to do this, as it prevents the colors from running from one part of the picture to another when the solutions are applied. The different parts of the picture are mounted with strong gum on cardboard. The solutions needful for the picture are made up of the following materials. These are numbered 1, 2 and 3:

These solutions are inexpensive, and with quite a small quantity of each a number of weather pictures may be prepared. In applying the mixtures a brush may be used, and one must bear in mind that No. 1 is blue in dry conditions, No. 2 is yellow and No. 3 is green. Thus, in dealing with a landscape, for instance, the sky is treated with No. 1, the grass, fields and trees with No. 3, and the corn fields, buildings and ricks with No. 2. In wet or unsettled weather the picture presents a very muddled appearance, and it only comes out in its true colors when the conditions are fine and dry.

MEN LACK BEAUTY.

Seniors at U. of M. Lose Out on Sorority Dance.

All the Duluth men who are seniors at the University of Minnesota fall short of the standard of beauty, intellect and charm set by the university sorority girls.

Yesterday the young women announced their choice of the twenty handsomest and most fascinating seniors, but Duluth was not represented in the beauty gallery. The charmers, who are said to be objects of envy and derision from their classmates, will be the guests of Sigma Tau, a senior honorary sorority, for a dancing party Saturday evening at the Alpha Phi house. Announcement has not been made of the number of members in Sigma Tau, but doubtless the membership does not exceed twenty.

The Apollos are: Burns Allen, Earle Balch, Fred Bruchholz, Everett Geer, Alfred Gausewitz, Carl Hall, Lee Harker, Russell Gaylord, Carl Holsinger, Alfred Joyce, Philip Johnson, Paul Kingsley, Charles Kerr, Earl McKay, Carl Painter, Albert Robertson and Selden Smith.

NO SCARCITY OF FLOWERS

Easter Blooms Are Cheap; Old Fashioned Varieties Popular—Potted Plants Lead List; Baskets and Boxes Decorated.

There will be an abundance of flowers and no advances in prices at Easter. Lilies, roses, hyacinths, hydrangeas, tulips, primroses, daffodils, violets, carnations and many other flowers will be at their very best Easter, and Duluthians will probably be better patrons of the florists this year than ever before.

Colors White and Purple.

"White and purple will be the Easter colors this year all over the land," said J. J. Le Borius, one of Duluth's leading florists, today. "All of the popular flowers for Easter are maturing rapidly and the hothouses will burst into bloom before Easter Sunday arrives. Palm Sunday is our visitors' day and at this time our greenhouses will be open for the inspection of the public. There were never so many flowers or lower prices than at this time."

One of the most important features of Easter this year will be the popularity of plants, which are likely to take precedence over cut flowers. People are beginning to see the advantage of buying flowering plants, which will remain in bloom indefinitely, to the old custom of buying cut flowers, which perish in a short time. To meet this demand for plants, Mr. Le Borius is making unusual preparations.

Flowering Plants Popular.

Flowering plants of almost every description are now being displayed in pots and baskets of unique design. Every pot or basket that goes out of the florist shop is decorated. One of the most popular forms of decoration is a wrapping of crepe, bound with a chiffon ribbon tied in a bow. These are in various colors, all bright and cleverly arranged, and selected to harmonize with the colors of the flowers. Some of the decorations of the larger plants are very elaborate. One of the latest wrinkles in flower arrangement is the placing of six to twelve hyacinths in one pot. These are of all different colors and varieties. The hydrangea will be usually popular as a potted flower. The new French varieties are pink and blue. The French flower is decidedly different from anything seen heretofore in Duluth. The blossom is smaller and finer and the colors are far more pronounced. The old variety will be used this year for church decorations largely, while the French varieties will be more popular for the home.

Another feature of Easter flowers this year will be the return to the old-fashioned blooms. Roses and carnations are always popular for certain purposes, but the old-fashioned flowers such as daffodils, tulips, hyacinths and others will be more common this year than ever before. Even the shy little violet will receive greater attention than in former years, and the fact that these flowers are now being raised in Duluth and retain their fragrance.

Orchids and "Beauties."

The orchid, which is much in vogue in warmer climes, especially among the wealthy, will receive some attention in Duluth, but not very much. This flower is too expensive to be popular and there is little demand for them.

American Beauty roses also will be among the rare flowers. As these are all shipped in, the prices are high, although the Easter price has not yet been fixed. The price range will probably be from $6 to $15 a dozen.

The prices of all flowers grown in Duluth, which includes all of the most popular varieties, will be low—just the same as at any other season of the year. Roses will be from $1 to $2.50 a dozen, violets about 75 cents a bunch, Easter lilies, $3 a dozen. All potted plants will sell from 25 cents up, and will include almost every variety that is popular at this season.

GENERAL A. C. A. MEETING

TONIGHT'S ATTRACTIONS.

LYCEUM—The Baldwin Players in "The Third Degree."
NEW GRAND—Vaudeville and motion pictures.
REX—"The Warrens of Irginia" in photoplay.

"The Third Degree."

"The Third Degree," the drama being presented this week at the Lyceum by the Baldwin Players, became so well known in America that it coined a new phrase. "Giving him the third degree" became a common expression to signify a severe mental test.

In the play a rather weak young son of a wealthy man is suspected of murder. He visits a friend in the latter's rooms and becomes intoxicated. While he is sleeping off his intoxication the friend commits suicide and the youth awakens to find himself confronted by the police. For seven hours they ply him with questions, insisting that he has killed his friend. In his mentally befuddled state the young man finally succumbs to the reiterated accusations and signs a confession that he killed his friend, not knowing what he might have done during the time he was drunk.

The grilling cross-examination is called the third degree, and it was known to the metropolitan police officers before the play was written. The advertising given it by the play, however, aroused a storm of criticism of such methods. The New York police defended themselves, claiming that confessions were not extorted from criminals and police investigation resulted.

The play is being given an excellent presentation this week and is proving very popular with Baldwin patrons.

War Drama at Rex.

The screen has seen the great American war drama acted over and over again, but never, it is claimed, has such a production as "The Warrens of Virginia" been attempted. Two scenes are especially worthy of note, such for example as the ambushing of the Confederate supply train and the destruction of the powder wagons. Put to the severe test of having its pictures of the Civil war battles compared on the same screen with photographs of real battles in the great war, "The Warrens of Virginia" came off victorious at the Strand theater, New York city.

Blanch Sweet plays the Southern girl in love with the Northern officer, but turned against him for the moment by the stress and bitterness of war. She is charmingly natural in the softer scenes and fiercely natural when she turns on her fiance.

Two hundred veterans of the Union army attended the matinee at the Strand on Tuesday, Feb. 16, and declared emphatically that it was the most realistic war drama ever staged. It will be shown Wednesday and Thursday at the Rex.

At the New Grand.

At the New Grand today will be the last opportunity to hear the Seven Castelluccis and other acts on the excellent bill current at that popular playhouse.

The Seven Castelluccis include six men and a charming and attractive young woman, who play all kinds of musical instruments. Poe and Uno, introducing the only "good night" dog in the world; J. Louis Mintz and his dainty partner, Miss Jeanne Palmer, in a singing diversion, "Never Tell a Lie," and the Jeunets in a European novelty offering are other acts on the bill.

The photoplay feature in three reels, "Mother's Roses," tells a beautiful story of a mother's love and devotion and the good such a pure love can accomplish. Two comedies and a scenic film complete the program. Commencing tomorrow, the bill will change entirely and will be headlined by Jennings, Jewell and Barlow in a comedy creation, "The Dope, the Dutchman and the Girl." The Three Weber Sisters, dainty and petite, in an acrobatic novelty; Gene and Fay, with an all-new singing and talking conglomeration, and Ricca, the famous accordionist, are other vaudeville offerings.

The Hearst Selig News of events; one of Helen Holmes stories, "The Engineer's Peril;" a two-reel subject, "The Still Small Voice," and a comedy complete the bill.

Spectacular Suicide.

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 10.—J. C. Jahn, Jr., a linotype operator of Pasadena, Cal., killed himself in a spectacular manner here yesterday afternoon. He went to the outskirts of the city and shot himself when running rapidly. He ran two blocks shooting at himself before he fell with four bullets in his head. He died soon afterward.

PENNY LUNCHES POPULAR

From Thirty to Thirty-Five Children Served Daily at Irving School—Some Sample Menus.

From thirty to thirty-five children of the Irving school are taking advantage of the penny lunch served under the auspices of the West Duluth W. C. T. U. and the Woman's Council every noon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Doe, 11 North Fifty-sixth avenue west. While the serving of luncheons to school children is still in the experimental stage, those back of the movement believe that it will be of great benefit to the children.

The penny paid by the children for the lunch does very little towards paying for the food served. During the few days that the lunches have been served an average of five loaves of bread, two pounds of butter and a gallon and a half of milk has been consumed at each of the meals.

During last week, which was the first that the meals were served, many children attended more from curiosity than otherwise. The women in charge of the luncheon now have been supplied with lists of children, prepared by the school physician, who in future will be given the food.

The following menu is being served this week: Monday, baked beans, tomato sauce, cocoa, bread and butter and graham crackers; Tuesday, Spanish sauce, bread and butter, peach sauce and milk; Wednesday, baked potatoes, milk gravy, apples and milk; Thursday, creamettes, tomato sauce, graham crackers and milk.

The luncheons are prepared by Mrs. Doe and she is being assisted in serving by Mesdames Bates, Williams, Vaughan and Watson.

OBSERVATIONS

—By PEGGY PEABODY—

Address Your Mail Properly.

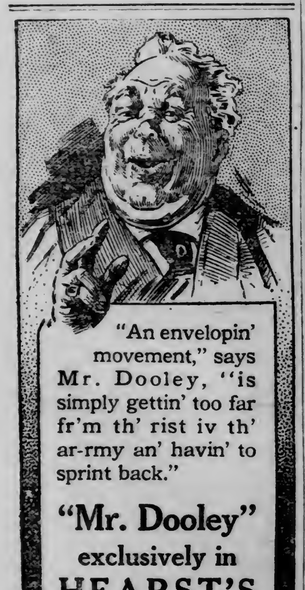
Do you feel quite certain that the letter that you wrote to a friend in New York was correctly addressed, or did you write the address "392 Fifth avenue, Chicago," or did you neglect to put on the street address, or did you fail to affix a stamp? If carelessness caused a mistake of this kind, the letter will make trouble for the postoffice employes and expense for the department and may eventually go to the dead letter office.

The officials are convinced that they have more to contend with in the carelessness of the people than in ignorance and illiteracy. It is their aim to bring the facts to the attention of the public and thereby institute a reform which will reduce the expense and at the same time facilitate the business of the postoffice. Lack of a street address is a common mistake and the officials have to resort to directories and quite often, in large cities, there are several who bear the same name, causing no end of trouble for the authorities.

Recently a postmaster in Littleton, Mass., forwarded a list of uncalled for letters which had been sent to his office, to the postmaster at Littleton, N. H., asking if any of the persons addressed could be found at that office. Of twenty-four names sent, seventeen belonged to persons living in the New Hampshire town, yet every one of the letters was plainly directed to a town in another state. Have you ever made a similar mistake?

More care should be given to the matter of affixing stamps. Put on the correct amount and in the proper place in the right hand upper corner of the envelope, not over half an inch from the edge. Stamps are canceled rapidly by a machine and whenever they are beyond a certain distance from their proper corner it is necessary to handle the envelope separately, which causes delay and annoyance to the postal clerks.

Uncle Sam renders us a great service for small consideration. For a nominal sum he delivers our letters to the most remote parts of his own country and forwards them to far-off foreign countries. In view of these things we can at least afford to spend a few seconds in the exercise of proper care when we write an address. When doing so, fix your undivided attention on the matter for that moment and there will be small likilhood of a mistake being made.



"An envelopin' movement," says Mr. Dooley, "is simply gettin' too far fr'm th' rist iv th' ar-rmy an' havin' to sprint back."

"Mr. Dooley" exclusively in HEARST'S

Every line is a laugh. To the millions who have been reading the "reports from the front," "Mr. Dooley" delivers a first hand opinion of chiefs of staff in general and war correspondents in particular.

NOW FOR THE OTHER 5,000.

Some indication of the interest in the coming city election is given in the registration on the first day of some six thousand voters. According to the city clerk's estimates, that leaves only about five thousand not yet assured of the chance to vote.

This registration is unusually heavy for a first day, but it won't do even now to take it for granted that everybody who can vote will do so. It is up to every qualified voter in the city to take part in the selection of officials, and that means that not only these six thousand men, but almost as many more are to be got to the polls on April 6. To do that you, Mr. Voter, will have to make sure of going there yourself, and do what you can to get your neighbors to go along.

But first there are these other five thousand to register. If you are one of them, watch for the next registration day—it isn't very far off, only next Saturday—and be sure to register then. And whether you are registered or not, stir up the men of your acquaintance who have not registered and send them to the polls to do it.

A man who is registered may not vote, but a man who isn't registered is almost sure not to. Get out that other five thousand.

Some times it's hard to decide whether a given case is to be classified as an individual triumph or a horrible example. For instance, that Kentucky man who carried a revolver, dagger, deck of cards, pair of dice, bottle of whisky and a Bible.

A PEACE VICTORY.

If you know anybody who uses gasoline you know somebody who is vitally and personally interested in the latest victory of the United States government. After many years of effort, Dr. Walter F. Rittman of the Federal bureau of mines has developed a process to multiply the supply of gasoline.

This isn't just an ordinary discovery, either, but one that is likely to make a huge difference in the expense of many and many a corporation and individual throughout the country. The Standard Oil company has had such a process for a long time, but it was carefully guarded, and the result has been that gasoline marketed in competition with their product has been produced at high expense and under conditions that prohibited actual keen competition.

Now this discovery has been made, and since it is the work of a United States government employe, its benefits are not to be grabbed off by any private interest, but are to be given to the country at large.

Gasoline production in this country in 1914 amounted to close to two hundred million gallons. If this discovery by Dr. Rittman is the means of doubling that production and at the same time bringing about a reduction of only a few cents a gallon to the consumer, it will take only a short time to make up all that has been spent by the Federal bureau in its investigations, and meantime the advantages of greater and cheaper production will go on.

There hasn't been any "tumult and shouting" over the affair, but it is none the less true that this accomplishment is one of the biggest victories of recent years.

Contrasting the lack of interest in the present Thaw trial with that in his first one, the inevitable conclusion is that it's a case where the wife must get credit for the success.

WILL GREECE STICK?

Will Greece stand pat on her position of neutrality? If she does, good for Greece! We think we are doing pretty well, sometimes, to stay out of the mess even at our distance. Think what a strain those countries right on the outskirts of it are under.

King Constantine has held out firmly for peace, even at the cost of the services of a premier who has been a valuable public official. The new premier is said to be quite as firm on this subject as the king, but parliament has yet to act. Greece has recently been through a bloody war, and it is easily possible that her people and parliament may join with the king in not wanting another if it can possibly be avoided. Here's hoping Greece does avoid it, and that the country once famous for warlike expeditions may also become prominent in history for remaining at peace, even under severe strain.

MINNESOTA APPLES.

"The agricultural extension division of the University of Minnesota is planning to push the apple-growing industry in Minnesota," says an announcement in the state press.

Good, so far as it goes. But there is something more to be done than just to push the apple-growing industry in this state.

A couple of years ago The Herald gave publicity to some statements that got pretty thorough substantiation, to the effect that although apples were being held in the stores in different parts of the state at from three dollars a barrel up as high as the traffic would bear, the fruit was being allowed to rot on the ground in certain sections of this state and of Wisconsin, because the commission men refused to pay the farmer more than 35 to 50 cents a barrel for it; and the farmers refused to sell for that price, maintaining that it wouldn't pay for the labor of gathering and shipping the apples.

Now any such situation as that is a dead sure sign that there is something radically wrong somewhere. It may not be due to the commission men, or it may be due to them. But whatever the cause, there is something that needs to be done other than merely to "push the apple-growing industry."

It looks very much as if the apples are grown, but somebody or something is interfering in the distribution of the product. Cannot the university do something to help the farmers and other growers get their fruit before the people? Folks will eat apples if they can get them, but they are not going to pay fancy prices for them.

Government reports say that last year there were 86,300,000 barrels of apples raised in this country,—nearly one barrel apiece for every man, woman and child. With such production as that there surely ought to be some way to get apples before the people at reasonable prices, and at least to get Minnesota apples before the people of Minnesota.

Paris and London say Berlin is talking about peace. If the report is true, London and Paris could show uncommon good sense by following suit.

MAKE IT UNANIMOUS.

The Soo line, according to an announcement, is to join with the Minnesota Farm Land association in a campaign to boost Minnesota's lands among the people of other states. Good enough!

Movements like this aren't entirely philanthropic on the part of the railroads, of course. Nobody with reason would expect they were. What the railroads want to do is to get some people scattered around here and there so as to make transportation business, and the railroads realize that any reasonable amount spent in getting the people on the scene is well expended. That the sum, in fact, is only an investment, the returns from which, though perhaps a trifle remote, are none the less certain. Other railroads have carried on campaigns of this kind in Minnesota, and succeeded. The Soo is not by any means making its first effort of the sort.

But the thing we would emphasize is this: That now, when these other agencies are doing this boost business, is a mighty good time for the rest of the organizations in the state to do the same—yes, and the individuals, too. You may not be able to do a whole lot, personally, but this is a work where everything helps, however little it is.

So now is the time for everybody to work along the same line with everybody else, and make this boosting business unanimous. Go to it!

The Congressional Record will continue to be published until March 15, though congress adjourned March 4. Which seems pretty much like making Uncle Sam pay for a dead horse.

Blease

W. K. Tate in The Survey.

On Jan. 14, 1915, five days before the close of his term of office, Governor Cole L. Blease of South Carolina terminated his official career with the following laconic message to the general assembly: "I hereby resign as governor of South Carolina."

The message was written in red ink. This childish anti-climax to a lurid political career was no doubt prompted by an unwillingness to participate in the inauguration of his successor and the beginning of a new and better day for South Carolina.

During the past summer, Blease was a candidate for the United States senate, and was overwhelmingly defeated. His candidate for governor met even a worse defeat. These events are strong confirmation of a firm belief that South Carolina is essentially sound at heart, Bleaselism is merely a disagreeable and unsightly boil on the body politic which has been caused by years of neglect, by poor political food, bad sanitation and other forms of unhygienic civic housekeeping. It does not necessarily indicate serious organic defects or incurable moral weakness in the state. The very emphatic way in which the civic conscience has reasserted itself, restores one's faith in the ultimate triumph of the right in the democracy.

The word "Bleaselism" is really a misnomer. When Catiline himself is driven out his army disbands. Blease represented no consistent body of principles, and Bleaselism was an incoherent protest rather than a definite program. In this it differed from its predecessor of twenty-five years ago, still called "Tillmanism."

The limit of this paper will not permit the writer to describe in detail the steps which brought about the elevation of Blease to the hitherto dignified office of governor of South Carolina. According to his own story, to be the governor of the state was an ambition which he had cherished from early boyhood. One searches his writing and his addresses in vain to find in them a hint that this ambition was ever inspired by any high or patriotic purpose to serve his state or his people. His shrewd political campaign, beginning many years ago indicates that he understood, in a way, the social and economic evils of the state, and deliberately utilized these as stepping stones to power.

Governor Blease is a man who possesses many attractive personal qualities. In personal intercourse with his friends he is genial and affable and possesses to a remarkable degree the ability to adapt his conversation and his addresses to the point of view of his audience. He is, by profession, a criminal lawyer and has been remarkably successful in securing the acquittal of his clients before the jury.

Many facts of his political career are explicable only by assuming that he has adopted as his personal code of ethics the practice of a class of criminal lawyers who regard as right and true, anything which the jury may be persuaded to believe. It is a short step from this feeling to a conviction that what is right and what is true depends on your jury.

Blease's political life has been characterized by a bitter hostility to newspapers. This is probably attributable to the fact that a newspaper persists in telling one jury of readers what has been said by the politicians to another. This in Blease's opinion is highly unethical and unsportsmanlike.

The writer has never listened to a speaker who could more quickly catch the superficial feeling of an audience than can Governor Blease. In fact, this ability sometimes seems to place him really at the mercy of his audience. Without any other fixed principle than expediency, and under the mutual hypnotism of the mass, he expresses sentiments which he denies and repudiates when they confront him in cold type.

His oratory is that of Billy Sunday, headed in the opposite direction. He has mastered the art of appealing to the shallow prejudices and vicious impulses of his audience and of leading his hearers to a lower plane of thought and action. A receptive listener will leave the hall after his address with more intense hatreds, less faith in his fellowmen, decreased respect for law, a diminished veneration for the church and for moral ideals, and a greater ignorance of the real causes of conditions at which he might justly complain. If his abilities had been consecrated to a great and worthy purpose he might have been a power for good.

The beginning of his political influence was the capture of the cotton mill vote of the state through his activity in districts which flourish in the mill villages. It happened in 1910 that this mill vote held the balance of power between the Prohibitionists and anti-Prohibitionists who were waging a very bitter campaign for supremacy. Blease was elected by a small majority. Many of those who opposed him had assumed that his campaign had been actuated by a political maxim attributed to the late Tom Reed: "The first requisite to statesmanship is to get elected," and they expected him, after his victory, to propose constructive measures for the good of the state.

In this all were bitterly disappointed. His first inaugural address and all his succeeding messages to the legislature were mere repetitions of his campaign speeches, and were filled with bitterness, confusion and egotism. His last message to the general assembly contained a history of his own family. Even the good measures which he proposed were so hopelessly entangled with personalities and so completely filled with threats and venom that they were universally regarded as campaign appeals rather than genuine expressions of his wishes.

One of his first official acts was to revoke the commissions of 6,000 notaries public in the state on the pretext that there were some negroes among them. Then followed in rapid succession his quarrels with the supreme court, with the mayor of Columbia, with the general assembly, with the other state house officers, with the United States government and with everyone else with whom he came in contact. The wildest czar of Russia has never exceeded him in a determination to usurp the judicial and legislative as well as all the executive powers of government. He even attempted to pardon his own chauffeur who was fined in the city court for speeding with him through the principal street of Columbia.

During his term of office he liberated from the penitentiary and the county chain gangs nearly 2,000 prisoners who had been duly convicted by the courts of the state. When he resigned, the penitentiary had in it fewer than 150 convicts, and most of these had their terms materially reduced. The final act of his administration was to convert 1,000 paroles into unconditional pardons.

His administration was characterized by the executive veto of many measures which are universally included in programs of social reform and betterment. Among these was a compulsory school attendance measure and a bill providing for the medical inspection of school children. His four years in office have been marked by an increase of crime and lawlessness. Race track gambling has flourished openly in Charleston for the last three years, although specifically prohibited by law. It is significant that this year the race meet was set for the fall rather than for the spring and was timed to close with the term of the governor.

It is, however, impossible to "fool all the people all the time." Even ignorant people will sooner or later detect a sham. The very excesses of irresponsible power bring a reaction, and at the last election, Blease and his followers were overwhelmingly defeated.

Switzerland in Wartime

Toledo Blade: The great war has dealt a hard blow to little Switzerland. It has shut the doors of her industries with a bang. It has blockaded the roads over which food came to her. She has been forced to spread her army out along her frontiers to watch, like bulldogs, against those who under temptation would violate her territorial neutrality.

Nevertheless, Switzerland is discovering some good in her situation. A letter from Geneva says that the discipline and outdoor life are having an excellent effect upon the men under arms. "They are learning patience. * * * They are building up a fine physique."

The city man, slave to office routine, learns the joys of the country, gains a wider vision when he comes in tired from digging at the fortifications, washes at the primitive village pump and falls to sleep on the straw of some barn.

These are reactions upon individuals. But the nation also is gaining something by its ordeal. According to our authority, the "mobilization is doing a great service to Switzerland spiritually —it is creating the much needed solidarity. The German and French Swiss are of different temperaments, and very suspicious of each other. I have heard that in one village of German Switzerland when the French-speaking Genevan battalion marched in it was with difficulty that the villagers could be persuaded that the French had not come. They treated the troops with the hostility shown to an invading army, but when each day they had watched them salute the same Swiss flag they grew friendly and the terms French Swiss and German Swiss are giving way to the national Swiss."

Men are learning their country. Women are acquiring familiarity with duties hitherto performed by fathers, brothers and husbands.

There are not many pleasant things to be got out of war. But such as there are, Switzerland is bound to have them. Her spirit rises high above the thought of hurts done her, profits lost to her forever.

Politics and the Man.

Springfield Republican: The failure of the senate to confirm the nomination of George Rublee as a member of the new Federal trade commission must be ascribed mainly to petty personal spite against him emanating from Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire. The confirmation of the four other names sent to the senate by the president insures the early organization of the board; even Mr. Rublee will receive a recess appointment which will enable him to share in the work in its early stages. The nomination of Mr. Rublee, as a matter of fact, was one of the best the president has made. A distinguished scholar at Harvard in his undergraduate days, then an instructor in the Harvard law school, Mr. Rublee afterward gained a valuable experience in corporation affairs in the legal department of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, and later in the law office of Former Senator Spooner in New York. As a progressive resident of New Hampshire, he aided greatly in the drafting of the law creating the public service commission, and in aiding the Democrats in congress to frame the law creating the Federal trade commission, he drew again on his special knowledge and experience in regard to government control of public utilities and monopolistic enterprises. The senate cannot well refuse to confirm this excellent nomination when it again convenes.

Thrifty People Are Happiest.

San Francisco Chronicle: Dennis Tierney was a ranch hand all his life. When he recently died he left $20,000. William Wayne Belvin inherited $600,000 and has just been sentenced to one day in jail as a vagrant. The one saved his money, the other squandered it.

They are typical. There is a continuous procession of the thrifty upward into the ranks of the well-to-do or rich alongside of a similar procession downward into the poorhouses and jails.

There is a cult which despises thrift, holds that vagrancy and crime are a necessary result of our civilization, that a man is a fool to save, because since society is responsible for his condition society owes him a living.

The same cult, and it is larger than many suppose, says that charity is a despicable humbug, since it yields up for the benefit of the unfortunate but a trifle of the possessions which in fact all belong to the miserable who need it.

And yet it is self-evident to those who think, and ought to be self-evident to all, that if society is responsible for the condition of Belvin, who is in jail, it was equally responsible for that of Tierney, who died and left $20,000. The two were under the same social influences, and one cannot in reason say that the same social influences can produce opposite results.

A Pretty Sick Man.

Kansas City Star: Private Tommy Sims had had pneumonia and had been for some time in the hospital, where they treated him so well that he was much averse to the prospect of being discharged as "cured." One day the doctor was taking his temperature and while Tommy had the thermometer in his mouth the docter moved on and happened to turn his back. Tommy saw his chance. He pulled the thermometer out of his mouth and popped it into a cup of hot tea, replacing it at the first sign of the medico's turning. When that worthy examined the thermometer he looked first at Tommy and then back at the thermometer and gasped:

"Well, my man, you're not dead, but you ought to be."

Before—and Then!

He used to prove, beyond the last frail doubt,
That when life's feeble candle had burnt out,
Taking with it the spirit we had known,
That which remained was but a clod, a stone,
Or any other soulless thing we know—
Faultless his logic, so we deemed it true.

Years came to him, with love and all it brings—
Wife and some children. One, on angel wings,
Fled ere a year he'd nestled in the heart
Of our wise friend—Today I saw him start,
Upon a little, day-long business trip—
He hid a baby's "scuffed" shoe in his grip.

—Strickland Gillilan in the Ladies' Home Journal.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Secretary Franklin K. Lane of the department of the interior, keeps a full outfit of evening clothes in his office. The reason is that he is one of our most popular diners-out, but has never been able to apply banking hours to his job. He rarely leaves his office until 6:30 or 7 in the evening. When he does leave, the chances are that he will have on his half-after-six garb, for he dines out oftener than he does at home. Awhile ago somebody about the office kept track, and Lane was a dinner guest in Washington twenty-six times within a month.

One reason why Lane is constantly besieged by friends to come and eat their food is the fact that he is forever in good humor, and has never been known to run out of good stories. A few nights ago Lane told a story that made a big hit. In condensed form this is it:

A Southern lawyer was never good at remembering names and so when he made a speech he always jotted down any names he might want to use on a small calling card and held it concealed in his palm. He had to make a speech one day at the funeral of a prominent member of the local bar.

"I feel certain," he said in the course of his remarks, "that if our friend had been granted the same opportunities he would have been recognized as one of the great orators of the nation, and would have occupied a place second not even to that pleader"—consulting his memorandum —"Daniel Webster.

"And not only that, but in his qualities of real statesmanship he had few equals and no superiors. He had many rare traits in common with that beloved and martyred president"—again looking at his little card "Abraham Lincoln"

"But our friend stands now at the final court, where his good deeds will be weighed by that final judge of us all. I refer, of course, to—er"—once more looking at his notes—"Almighty God."

Senator Martine of New Jersey speaks with a deep-down voice like an echo from a hollow. Senator John Sharp Williams, on the other hand, has a strange drawl that borders almost upon a whine. One afternoon these two senators began to twit one another about their voices.

Said Martine to Williams: "John, when you speak it seems like a child crying in the wilderness—a good deal, I imagine, like Moses when he was found by Pharoah's daughter."

Whereupon Williams retorted:

"Anyhow, I haven't got one of those sepulchral voices like a well-digger. When you talk it always makes me think of a voice from the grave."

* * *

Within an hour after that Senator Williams overheard Senator Lewis telling somebody that he had half a notion to cut off his famous whiskers.

"I suppose," suggested John Sharp, "that you'll get a taxidermist to mount them for you."

* * *

By employing a guide at trifling cost one may learn a great many entirely unexpected facts concerning the national capitol building. For instance, the other day we heard a guide standing beneath the great dome describing the paintings around the wall.

"These pictures," said he, "were done by a man named Trumbull. He was a contemporary of most of the people in the pictures, and knew them nearly all personally."

And the painter must have had a wide acquaintance, for the pictures ran all the way from such people as Christopher Columbus and Pocahontas on down to George Washington.

Mending State Government

Chicago News: Minnesota, like some other progressive states, is undertaking to make a scientific study of expenditures of public funds and to devise ways of promoting efficiency in government. An efficiency and economy commission, appointed some months ago by the governor, has recently made public its preliminary report. Its findings are much like those in the reports of the Illinois committee on efficiency and economy. There are in Minnesota, as in Illinois and many other states, many separate state departments or bureaus, with overlapping functions, but no central responsibility. This results in duplication of effort, waste and inefficiency. In some cases there is actual conflict, with no effective agency to compel two different branches of the state government to work together.

The Minnesota commission suggests that the various state departments and bureaus be reorganized into six departments, with bureaus under each of the six. It is expected, the report says, that the directors of the several departments will be laymen, not experts. Named by the governor, they will be men in whom he has peculiar confidence. They may be removed when a new governor comes in, new department heads being named in their places. The bureau chiefs under them, on the other hand, should be trained experts, who should constitute a permanent staff and should be chosen by means of merit rules. The commission also recommends that appropriations for state purposes be made under a well devised budget system.

It is encouraging to find that many states are taking up for serious study the subject of state government reorganization in the interest of efficiency and economy.

The British Aristocrats.

James H. Hare in Leslie's Weekly: Voluntarily enlistment has produced a greater number from the aristocracy than was thought likely at the beginning of the war. We in the United States are apt to look upon the average English aristocrat who visits us as a kind of harmless, easy going, self-satisfied, complacent individual who, while he is very fond of outdoor sports, does not take the trouble to excel in any; who, in fact, only indulges in the sport for the love of it and not to gain supremacy. He likes his ease and comforts; yet the response to the call to the colors was instantaneous from this class, and the heavy toll exacted, as is shown in the roll of honor published every few weeks, has acted as an incentive and stimulated them to further augment the numbers joining the army. I am convinced that the aristocrat has endeared himself to his fellow countrymen more by his acts during the last few months than by anything else he has done in this century, and I, for one, am surprised and delighted.

How It Seemed.

Washington Star: "I am a servant of the people," said the man who is more politic than patriotic.

"I don't like to hear you call yourself a servant," commented Farmer Corntossel. "As I think of the taxes I pay toward your salary, it makes me feel as if I were up against the tipping evil."

The County Option Law

What the State Press Thinks of Recent Legislative Action.

Induces Law Observance.

Virginia Virginian: One effect of the county option law should be to make the saloons of all parts of the state live up to the closing laws, as upon their conduct will largely depend their existence. A saloon conducted on a law-abiding basis will have an opportunity to exist, where saloons which violate the laws will be prosecuted and bring the liquor traffic into disfavor.

To Be Expected.

Red Wing Republican: The governor kept his word. Everybody who knows him knew he would.

Piling On Torture.

Anoka Herald: The brewers, in chorus, "There's trouble brewing!"

It's Getting Worse.

Cambridge North Star: When the county optionists clean out the brewers they may properly be called the champion dry cleaners.

Had No Doubt of It.

Fergus Falls Wheelock's Weekly: All persons who know Governor Hammond knew he would sign the county option bill, because he told the people last fall that he would do so. So it becomes a law.

Due to Spite Work?

Hastings Gazette: The passage of the county option bill in the house is largely due to spite work on the part of W. E. Lee and friends for his self-earned defeat last fall upon that issue. They obtained control of the party machinery at the packed elimination convention in Minneapolis, and, like the original Bull Mooser, their slogan is rule or ruin.

Take Your Choice.

Albert Lea Standard: Well, the legislature has the county option bill off its chest, anyhow, and we can all sigh regretfully or breathe easier, as the case may be. County option carried, but it was by a squeak.

Readiness of the Roosevelts.

Louisville Courier-Journal: All of us know Col. Roosevelt in America and nobody takes him very seriously. But to the European unacquainted with American conditions, he appears a leading American, if not the leading American, and there are many Europeans who are not versed in American affairs.

"I and my four sons," shouts Col. Roosevelt, full of the idea that he resembles the kaiser not merely because of his imperial bearing and his German extraction, but also because he is ready to sacrifice a numerous progeny on the red altar of Mars. "I and my four sons will gladly join. * * * I very earnestly hope and pray that there will be no war; but the best way to avoid war is to be prepared," and so forth, is simply bombastic self-advertisement.

The people of the United States are not "hoping and praying," but confidently and calmly assuming that there will be no war. They have not asked Col. Roosevelt for his service. They don't want his four brave and stalwart sons, his megaphone and his vocabulary, or whatever influence he may have in heaven, to avert a war which he seems to regard as imminent, though possibly avoidable if the five Roosevelts can awaken the country to the awfulness of its peril and beat up a following large enough to throw a scare into the enemy. They would, in a very large majority, be much obliged to all of the Roosevelts if they would regard the country as being at peace and in no great danger of war and pursue their various private activities in silence.

Verses With the Rhyme in Front.

"In another column," says the Emporia Gazette, "we print some verses. They are from our own futurist poet. We long have thought that forward looking poets should quit writing verses that rhyme at the end of the line, and begin writing forward rhyming verses. So we have put our own blacksmith on the job. He uses the De Laval method of separating his ideas from his verse and we think he has a fairly successful product. We shall offer it to the allies, in the hope that it will end the war." Here is one, entitled, "Love's Pleading:"

O come, my love, the jitney
Waits; the nickel's in
My purse. My sparker snaps at all the Fates, for better or
For worse. Let's jit in joy while life
Is June; five coppers pays
The bill. So come and jitney neath
The moon, along the low grade
Hill. While all the world is smooth
As glass, while all our tires are
Spry, there's bliss in every quart
Of gas; let's hit life on
The high. So come and be my jitney
Queen; a nick is all my Hoard. Who cares for grief or Gasoline? Come mount
My trusty Ford.

His Finish.

Says a Bat Is Worth $200.

Houston Chronicle: San Antonio has passed an ordinance protecting bats. Anyone who kills one can be fined. Houston is preparing for a wholesale slaughter of bats. Already death-dealing fumes have begun their work.

San Antonio has made malaria-ridden sections healthful by protecting bats by the million. Bats eat mosquitoes, that is the reason. Mosquitoes carry malaria. People die of malaria. The ordinance passed in San Antonio was at the request of the Bexar County Medical society.

Experiments with bats have been going on under the direction of Dr. Charles A. R. Campbell of San Antonio for four years. The Italian government is also experimenting in colonizing bats to drive out malaria. Ernest Seton Thompson, naturalist, has experimented similarly.

Dr. Campbell says every bat is worth $200 to a community. He has testimony under affidavit that uninhabitable sections have been made habitable by colonizing bats and that lives have been saved. "Man has no greater friend" is his verdict.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

BIG ARMIES.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I congratulate you on your editorial about "Who Supports Big Armies?" We notice that they are generally used for the aggrandizement of the very few, at the cost of the many, and we do not believe in such a principle in this country.
If a hostile fleet should enter New York, J. P. Morgan or C. M. Schwab could take a torpedo some dark night and sink them. READER.

COMPULSORY SERVICE AND RUNESTONES

To the Editor of The Herald:
About a week ago you stated in the Open Court, in answering a question, that there is no compulsory military service in this country. I have always believed that the Dick military law, passed 1903 and amended during the hard times, 1907 and 1908, means compulsory military service for ablebodied men between the ages of 18 and 45, and if I remember, Governor Ammons threatened to make use of it in Colorado last year.
Mr. Jerrard from Bemidji, who asked for information in regard to a runestone can probably get what he wants by writing to the Minnesota Historical society, St. Paul, which has published a book on the subject, "The Kensington Runestone." DUBB HENRY.
Duluth, March 7.

QUESTION OF LAW.

To the Editor of the Herald:
Will you kindly answer the following through the Open Court:
A entered a certain business college, paying upon entering $15 on his tuition. After attending school for a few days he was called home on business, and did not return. Can he compel the business college to return the money paid? A is a minor. Yours truly,
A SUBSCRIBER.
McHenry, N. D., March 7.

This involves a legal question and cannot be answered in the Open Court. —The Editor.

DITCH TAXES.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Will you kindly inform me through the Open Court why it is that ditch taxes are published as delinquent taxes as the first notice given to those who have to pay them.
A PAYER.
Palisade, Minn., March 6.

Ditch liens are collected with, and in the same manner as real estate taxes. The law provides that the first payment shall become collectible five years after the courts have assessed the same. Persons applying to the county treasurer for statements of taxes also receive notice of ditch liens assessed against the property, if any there are, with their other taxes and assessments. The law does not require that taxpayers be notified when their taxes become due, but the county treasurer furnishes statements to any taxpayer who requests that it be done. If the ditch liens are not paid, they become delinquent and are advertised as such in the same manner as other taxes.—The Editor.

HOCKEY SCORES.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Would you please state in your Open Court column who won the two hockey games that Winnipeg and Duluth played, and what the scores were. Thanking you in advance,
A SUBSCRIBER.
Minneapolis, March 8.

Winnipeg won the first game 5 to 3, and Duluth won the second game, 6 to 3.—The Editor.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems: "The Flying Cloud," from S. H. Dickinson of Bottineau, N. D.
"My Heart's Tonight in Texas," from Mrs. Joseph Cuskey of Spooner.
Requests have been received for the following:
"Fire, Fire, Lost in the Fire," from "Happy" of Warren, Minn.
"Tell Mother I'll Be There," and "When the Sunset Turns the Ocean's Blue to Gold," from Betty Astman of McGregor, Minn.

My Heart's Tonight in Texas.

In the distant state of Texas,
By the silvery Rio Grande,
A couple strolled one evening—
Two sweethearts, hand in hand.
'Twas the ranchman's pretty daughter
And the lad she loved so dear.
On the morrow they must part
For many a long year.

To Europe she was going,
To become a lady grand,
Where her father hoped some earl
Or count she'd wed.
And she went away next morning
And her heart was true to Jack;
It was only yesterday she wrote and said:

Chorus.
My heart's tonight in Texas,
Though I'm far across the sea;
For the band is playing "Dixie"
And 'tis where I long to be.
Dad says some earl I'll marry
But I've promised you my hand,
For my heart's tonight in Texas
By the silvery Rio Grande.

"Cure Your Rupture Like I Cured Mine"

Old Sea Captain Cured His Own Rupture After Doctors Said "Operate or Death."

His Remedy and Book Sent Free.

Captain Collings sailed the seas for many years; then he sustained a bad double rupture that soon forced him to not only remain ashore, but kept him bedridden for years. He tried doctor after doctor and truss after truss. No results! Finally, he was assured that he must either submit to a dangerous and abhorrent operation or die. He did neither! He cured himself instead.

"Fellow Men and Women, You Don't Have To Be Cut Up, and You Don't Have To Be Tortured By Trusses."

Captain Collings made a study of himself, of his condition—and at last he was rewarded by the finding of the method that so quickly made him a well, strong, vigorous and happy man.
Anyone can use the same method: it's simple, easy, safe and inexpensive. Every ruptured person in the world should have the Captain Collings book, telling all about how he cured himself, and how anyone may follow the same treatment in their own home without any trouble. The book and medicine are FREE. They will be sent prepaid to any rupture sufferer who will fill out the below coupon. But send it right away—now—before you put down this paper.

"DRYS" WIN BY 2-TO-1 VOTE

Great Demonstration Follows Victory in Village of Proctor.

"Drys" Win Test Election in Midway By Vote of 76 to 1.

The two saloons at Proctor were voted out of the village by a majority of more than two to one at the local option election held in the village yesterday. The vote was 251 to 119.
A test vote taken in the village of Midway, which the liquor element claimed would go "wet" if Proctor went "dry," went with the exception of one lone vote in favor of prohibition. The vote in Midway was 76 to 1 in favor of a "dry" town.
The announcement of the "dry" victory last night was the cause of a great demonstration in the village last evening. The announcement was issued at 6:50 p. m., and for five minutes whistles blew and the din of the noise could be heard for many miles. Women and men paraded the streets cheering for more than an hour.
This is the first time that the question has been voted on in the village and the campaign put up by the "drys" was strenuous from the start to the finish. Meetings were held from two to three times a week, and as a windup to the campaign several bands of women were on the streets all day yesterday passing out literature urging their cause.
In the only contested position for office by the taxpayers their candidate, W. J. Greene, won out. The vote on village officers was as follows: President, C. M. Remfrey, 360; trustees, C. A. Clement, 334; Noble Downey, 308; W. J. Greene, 188; M. M. Lewis, 181; recorder, R. G. Wombacher, 357; John Carruthers, treasurer, 349; justice of the peace, H. M. Rivers, 344; constable, A. Le May, 361; assessor, two years, H. L. Schell, 206; J. C. Preston (independent), 148.

Go to Church Sunday.

COMPLETE PLANS TO FORM LODGE

Scandinavians Decide to Have Local Branch of Brotherhood.

Scandinavian residents of Duluth last evening completed tentative plans for the organization of a local lodge of the Scandinavian Brotherhood of America. A temporary committee will meet today to arrange for an entertainment to be held during this month when a permanent lodge will be formed.
About forty Norwegian, Swedish and Norwegian residents of Duluth gathered at the Axa building last night and after discussing the various features of the national body, decided to form a permanent organization in Duluth. The Scandinavian Brotherhood of America now has lodges throughout the East and West and is fast becoming one of the largest bodies in America.
N. P. Turnbladh was named chairman of the temporary committee to arrange for the entertainment to be given for all the Scandinavian men of Duluth. At that time the permanent body will be organized, officers elected and activities started. The other members of the committee are: J. C. Wesenberg, secretary; N. C. Wegner, Helmer Johnson, Seth Edmar and J. W. Carlson.
At the meeting last night short talks were made by H. Borgen, J. C. Wesenberg, N. P. Turnbladh, Dr. K. E. Bergquist, Helmer Johnson and Peter Munkeby.

OLSON WINS OUT BY ONLY TWO VOTES

Five-Mill Township Fire Fund Voted Down By Hermantown.

W. W. Johnson, trustee of Hermantown for several years, was defeated by Carl Olson in the annual election held in the township yesterday, by a majority of two votes. Olson received 56 and Johnson 54 votes. The only other position contested was that of assessor, William Janzig, the incumbent, being defeated by Olaf Anderson by a vote of 56 to 51.
The vote cast for the other officers, none of whose positions were contested, was as follows: James P. Grady, town clerk, 110; H. Halvorson, town treasurer, 110; justice of the peace, Otto Witte, 108; constable, two years, G. Gulbrandson, 110; constable, one year, Gustaf Lueck, 107.
The town voted almost unanimously against a five-mill township fire fund. The vote was 96 against and 1 for the proposition. The tax was to provide a township fund for fighting forest fires, and the residents opposed this on the ground that they had no interest in providing protection to large lumber interests, which held title to the greater share of the standing timber in the township.

Moratorium Again Extended.
Paris, March 10, 3:45 p. m.—There has been prepared by the government a new decree which extends the moratorium in France for another period of three months from April 1 to June 30.

PRIVILEGES FOR MASSES

Playgrounds Expert Explains General Plan at the Y. M. C. A.

Would Give Recreation Accommodations to All Citizens.

"Privileges enjoyed by members of Duluth Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., or any of the clubs, will be available for every man, woman and child in your city when the recreation system now being outlined is installed," declared T. S. Settle of New York, in an address on "Playgrounds" at the Y. M. C. A. last night.
Mr. Settle, who is field secretary of the National Playground and Recreation association, is drafting a plan for an all-year recrational system for Duluth.
Included in his plans, soon to be presented to the city council, are provisions for fourteen playgrounds, municipal golf links and bathing beach, and social centers in the public schools.
Members of the Y. M. C. A., last night, heard the playground expert tell of results obtained in other cities of the United States through similar methods, and were shown stereopticon views of playground work in many large cities, including New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and others.

T. S. SETTLE.

The slides were arranged to form a complete picture of a model system, each city donating one feature of its work to the pictures, which were specially prepared by the playground association.
"One of the strongest points in favor of this plan," declared Mr. Settle, "is the cost. We merely will utilize the public schools and public lands already being used, a fraction of the time. The city has property and land of this kind worth several millions and it should be used to the best advantage.
"We want to arrange it so that every citizen, rich or poor, whether he is a member of an exclusive club or not, can enjoy outdoor games and have swimming pools, and gymnasium apparatus at his disposal."
Mr. Settle said that the commissioners probably would receive a draft of his plan within a few days.

FAVOR LAWMAKERS HEARING RAILROADS

Milwaukee, Wis., March 10.—Following addresses by representatives of the Milwaukee, Northwestern and Soo railroads before a meeting of members of the Merchants & Manufacturers' association, a resolution was unanimously adopted requesting the legislature to give the railroads a full hearing on the question of increasing passenger fares from 2 to 2½ cents per mile.

MONEY HANDLER GONE.

Moorhead Cashier for Great Northern Road Disappears.

Moorhead, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Joe Benson, who for ten days had been employed as cashier at the Great Northern office in this city, is missing. He was last seen at the office on Friday night, March 5. Since Benson left the local officials of the Great Northern have checked over the cash and have found a shortage of about $40.
For two or three days previous to his departure, Benson was seen in company with a strange man who was supposed to be from South Dakota. This man's name could not be learned but it is thought that the pair left Friday night for the West.
Benson was formerly from Northwood, N. D., and until about five months ago had been in the employ of the Great Northern in that city.

To be the First to Wear the New Fashions Confers a Social Distinction

IN every community there are women of taste and refinement who are leaders of style, upon whom other women rely for the fixing of fashions. In catering to the requirements of these women who enjoy possessing the new garments at the earliest moment possible, we have planned this advance spring showing of smartly tailored presenting a wonderfully attractive collection of distinctly new garments; correct in style, refined in character, beautifully made of the most fashionable materials of the new season.

Cost No. 1311

Wooltex Coats and Suits

Now is the Best Time to Wear and Enjoy Them

The jackets of the new suits vary in length, some being even all around, some short in front, longer at the sides and still longer in the back. Some are form-fitting, some have straight lines to the waist with the graceful rippling flare below. The military motif is one of the influences of the new season.

Many of the coats are braided and trimmed with buttons in distinctly original effects. In every coat and suit the collar plays a most important part, supplying one of the main features of the style of the garment. The rolling military effect is most widely seen. Practically all of the coats have detachable over-collars of pique or silk.

The picture shows one of the charming new Wooltex coats. While the back is plain, the front shows a partial yoke effect. The rolling collar may be worn opened or closed. On some coats in this style, collar is piped with striped cloth. The godet under the arm, below the waist-line, produces a wonderfully smart wing-like flare which seems to spring out on each side of the coat. The coat is 40 inches long and is full-lined with peau de cygne. Price $18.50.

It is a particularly handsome model for large women. There are many other equally attractive models at the same popular price, $18.50.

Other Wooltex coats at $16.50 and $20.

Wooltex suits at $25, $30 and $35.

If you have not yet seen the new collection, we cordially invite you to come and view the garments at your earliest convenience.

"CLEAN-UP AND PAINT WEEK"

Merchants Will Launch Movement at Meeting Friday Night.

City Will Clean Up and Dress Up for Tourist Season.

A "clean-up and paint week" is proposed for Duluth.
Many Duluth merchants are heartily in favor of such a movement and those behind the campaign have arranged for a general meeting to be held at the Commercial club next Friday evening, when "cleanup and paint week" will be launched.
Invitations have been sent out to practically every civic organization in Duluth, asking the president and secretary of each to attend the meeting next Friday evening. At that time the movement will be explained and an effort made to launch a city-wide campaign.
During "cleanup and paint week" Duluth factories, stores and homes will be cleaned and painted. Everyone in Duluth will be asked to help in the general spring cleaning of Duluth and aid in the effort to beautify the city.
"Duluth of all cities," said a prominent merchant this morning, "should clean and paint herself in great style before the summer season. It is during these summer months that thousands of people visit this city, and if we can ever win the admiration of these visitors, it is by showing them a clean, freshly painted city.
"We hope to set one week aside during this spring, when all merchants and residents will be asked to clean their yards, alleys and homes and to paint their buildings, wherever necessary. By working together and making this movement city-wide, Duluth will soon establish itself throughout the country as a clean and well-painted city."

ENGLAND TAKES CONTROL OF WORKS

Manufacture of All War Material to Be Under Supervision of Government.

London, March 10.—The house of commons yesterday gave the government authority to take control of the entire engineering trade of the country and to place it under a combined management for the purpose of increasing the output of munitions of war.
The defense of the realm act, passed at the outbreak of the war, gave the government power to take and exercise control over works where war materials were being actually made. David Lloyd George, the chancellor of the exchequer, on behalf of the government yesterday asked that the control of manufactories be extended to works which were capable of being used for that purpose.
This power was unanimously granted, although Andrew Bonar Law, the leader of the opposition, described the measure as "probably the most drastic ever laid before parliament."
This step on the part of the government came as a complete surprise, although Lloyd George, in a speech at Dangor last week, emphasized the importance of increasing the output of war munitions, which labor disputes at that time threatened to demolish. Now the workers in the engineering trade will be in the position of public servants, and the government hopes that this fact will impress them with the importance of keeping up the supplies for which the armies and navies of the allied countries largely depend upon this country.
With the war extending and the size of the army and navy constantly increasing, the government found that something must be done to keep the fighting branches supplied with arms and ammunition. The fleet engaged in bombarding the forts of the Dardanelles alone is using an immense quantity of ammunition. Also, the ships engaged probably will have to be fitted with new guns and the old ones will need to be overhauled.

Woman's Health Requires Care

Women are so constituted as to be peculiarly susceptible to constipation, and their general health depends in large measure on careful regulation and correction of this tendency. Their delicate organisms rebel at the violence of cathartic and purgative remedies, which, while they may afford temporary relief, shock the system and seriously disturb the functional organs. A mild laxative is far preferable and, if properly compounded, much more effective.
The combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is ideal for women's use. A free trial bottle can be obtained by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

GROUT TALKS DAIRY KINE

Increased Attendance and Interest Shown in Short Agricultural Course.

Prof. Jager Advocates Bee Culture for Northern Minnesota.

That interest in the work of the Northeastern Minnesota experimental station and the university extension agricultural short course week is steadily growing, was evidenced last night by the attendance at a lecture delivered by Prof. George P. Grout, manager of the Jean du Luth farm, at the state experimental farm. Mr. Grout talked on "The History of Dairy Breeds." His address closed the program for the second day of the annual short course, which began March 8 and will continue daily until March 20. About 100 persons were in attendance.
The enrollment of short course members increased yesterday from thirty to forty and all who are taking part manifested an active interest in the work. Yesterday morning Prof. Francis Jager gave an instructive address on bee culture. He declared that the profits from a single hive for a season range from $5 to $20 and that bees give quick returns for the farmer who is starting out. Cut-over lands of Northern Minnesota, he declared, are especially suited for bee culture. The speaker advocated the establishment of a department of bee culture at the local experimental station.
Yesterday afternoon, J. S. Montgomery gave an interesting talk on horses. Among other things, he declared that more than 600,000 horses had been taken out of the country for service in the European war and that the loss of this great number badly depleted the supply.

Day's Program.

This morning Dr. M. H. Reynolds of the state board of veterinarians, gave a talk on "The Diseases of Live Stock." The lecture was accompanied by a series of demonstrations.
This afternoon, the class will visit the Jean du Luth farm to study the Guernsey type of cattle. Prof. Grout has charge of the Guernseys on the Jean du Luth. Members of the class will engage in a judging and scoring competition. Prizes, offered by the American Guernsey Cattle club, will be awarded to those who show the best discrimination in judging and scoring various Guernsey subjects.
At the evening session tonight, the class will have a round-table conference at which various matters will be taken up for informal discussion. Methods of keeping accurate accounts and a set of books on the farm will be given special attention.
Tomorrow will be sheep and cattle day. The program has been arranged as follows:
9:30 a. m.—"Sheep Feeding and Management," Thomas Paterson; "Factors in Beef Production," W. A. McKerrow.
1:30 p. m.—"Judging and Scoring of Sheep," Thomas Paterson; "Judging and Scoring of Beef Cattle," W. A. McKerrow.
7:30 p. m.—"Evolution of a Northeastern Minnesota Farm" (illustrated), M. J. Thompson.

Sure Way to Regain Robust Bloom of Youth

A smooth, velvety-soft skin, with a delicate peach-like bloom, is one of the Creator's most exquisite works. When the first blush of youth is over, this beautiful tint and satiny luster are rarely seen. How to preserve them—that's the question. Famous beauty experts abroad long have known that ordinary mercolized wax works wonders in this direction. It actually gives a new surface to the skin, restoring that marvelous girlish color and softness in a remarkable manner. An ounce of this wax, procurable at any drug store, will convert a faded, freckled, wornout or discolored complexion into one of captivating loveliness in less than two weeks. No special skill is necessary in applying the wax, it being smeared on at night like cold cream and washed off in the morning.
To remove wrinkles, or delay their formation, a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel will be found wonderfully efficacious. This tones up relaxed skin, causing it to remain firm and smooth. —Advertisement.

This is the time of the year to "spruce up" a little—to lay aside your old clothes and get into some new ones.

PAVING CASE TO BE TRIED

City Officials and Street Railway Will Rush Test Case.

City Claims Right to Assess for Paving Between Tracks.

Agreeing to have the matter settled at an early date, officials of the city and the Duluth Street Railway company will immediately bring to trial the East Fourth street paving case to test the municipality's right in assessing the company for paving between the street car tracks.

City Attorney Clapp has the city's argument all prepared, while attorneys for the company expect to be ready within a few days. Mayor Prince announced this morning that the suit will be begun at once and the question settled at least for the remaining sixteen years, until 1931, when the company's franchise expires.

This suit, which grew out of the city's desire to obtain immediate payment from property owners along East Fourth street for the pavements laid there in 1912, will be a test case to learn if the city can assess the street car company for pavement between the tracks.

Following the completion of the East Fourth street pavement, many property owners insisted that the street car company pay for the paving between the tracks. The company was willing to pay only the additional cost caused by the presence of the tracks. The owners of property decided to bring suit against the corporation. Fearing that the money would be tied up during the process of the suit, the city commissioners agreed to charge the property owners but two-thirds of the cost of the pavement and to take the responsibility of securing the other one-third from the company.

At the same time suit was begun against the street railway company to test the validity of its franchise and the paving case was dropped for the time being. However, as soon as the supreme court announced that the franchise is valid and will hold for sixteen more years, city officials began to make plans for the paving suit.

IT RUINS HAIR TO WASH IT WITH SOAP

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), is cheaper and better than soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

WILL PAY TAX OF $50,000

Agreement Said to Be Reached in Sellwood Inheritance Case.

Heirs Will Pay on Ante Mortem Gifts of $1,000,000.

That the state will collect in the neighborhood of $50,000 in inheritance taxes from the heirs of the late Capt. Joseph Sellwood, millionaire banker and mining magnate, who died in Duluth, Feb. 21, 1914, as a result of negotiations which have been in progress between representatives of the estate and the attorney general's office, is now believed to be probable.

The taxes on the Sellwood inheritance will be determined probably late this afternoon by Judge Gilpin of the probate court in accordance with the court's own view and, subject to certain stipulations which have been entered into between the heirs and the attorney general's office, C. O. Baldwin, attorney for R. M. Sellwood, one of the principal legatees, returned yesterday from St. Paul where he was in conference with William J. Stevenson with reference to the matter.

If intimations which have come from reliable sources are correct, the Sellwood heirs will pay a tax not only on what the executors designated as the estate proper, but also on securities, worth upwards of $1,000,000, which were given by Capt. Sellwood to his children prior to his death. These will be taxed on the theory that they were ante-mortem gifts, conveyed by the donor in anticipation of death.

The principal heirs under the Sellwood will are Richard M. Sellwood and his sister, Mrs. La Rue S. Mershon.

AT ONCE! STOPS STOMACH MISERY AND INDIGESTION

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy Stomachs feel fine.

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Dyspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress [illegible] vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine.

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

LAKE ROUTE WILL BE VERY POPULAR

Cleland Predicts Heavy Travel to Coast Through Duluth.

Via the Great Lakes and Duluth to the Panama-Pacific exposition will be a popular route this year, according to A. M. Cleland, general passenger agent of the Northern Pacific railway, who is at the Head of the Lakes today. He predicts a very heavy passenger business as a result of the exposition.

Mr. Cleland arrived here from St. Paul in his private car this morning, and will inspect the terminals at Ashland, as well as those at Duluth and Superior. He expressed himself as being very well satisfied with the business outlook.

"Minnesota is going to enjoy a good business this season," he declared, "and the Northwest looks like one of the best parts of the country today.

"Many persons are going to make the trip up the lakes and then go West from here."

WELL-KNOWN LOGGER DIES AT STILLWATER.

The funeral of Augustine Sexton, for years one of the best known loggers in this state, took place this morning in Stillwater from St. Michael's church. Mr. Sexton, who was 68 years of age, died last Sunday of tuberculosis, after returning from California, where he spent some time in the hope of benefiting his health. His wife died two weeks before him. They are survived by four daughters and one son.

Mr. Sexton settled in Stillwater in 1869, retaining that city as his headquarters ever since. He was a leading logger in St. Louis and Pine counties and along the St. Croix river for years, but has not logged in St. Louis county since the St. Croix Lumber company withdrew from this part of the state. Mr. Sexton logged for that concern near Ely up to about five years ago. He is well remembered by many of the lumbermen of this county and was quite popular among them.

NOT RESPONSIBLE FOR BOY'S DEATH

Responsibility for the death of 5-year-old Bernard Nasey, who was killed by being run over by a horse attached to a bakery delivery wagon Aug. 10, 1914, at the intersection of Twenty-third avenue west and Superior street, does not attach to the proprietors of the bakery concern. A jury in district court this morning, after being out for twenty-three hours, returned a verdict in favor of the defendants in a case brought by Barney Nasey, the child's father, against August Merikanto and Gust Heino, proprietors of the Independent bakery at the West end.

The boy was riding on a tricycle on Superior street. Just as he was crossing Twenty-third avenue west he was run over by the delivery wagon, which was driving north along the avenue. The youngster died immediately. The plaintiff charged negligence, but the defendants denied any liability. A. E. Parker appeared in the case as attorney for the plaintiff and O. J. Larson and Neil E. Beaton represented the defendants.

Two New Companies.

Henry G. Gearhart, Solomon H. Eckman and A. S. Campbell are incorporators of the Oliver Investment company, which today filed articles of incorporation with Charles Calligan, register of deeds. The capital stock of the company is $50,000, divided into 5,000 shares at $10 each.

The Northern Creamery company, capitalized at $50,000, with shares at $100 each, also filed incorporation articles this morning. The incorporators are A. H. Markkanen, H. S. Haugsrud and Steinar Haugsrud. H. S. Haugsrud resides in Superior. The two other incorporators are Duluthians.

Heiress Is Missing.

Heir to a legacy comprising a comfortable fortune, left her by her grandfather, Mrs. Edna Carpenter, formerly a resident of Muskegon, Mich., cannot be found.

Chief of Police C. H. Troyer received a communication today from an attorney at Muskegon, stating that a Mrs. Carpenter had left Muskegon two years ago and was believed to be in Duluth. He asked the chief to search for the missing heiress here, so that the legacy may be claimed.

Mrs. Carpenter has been married several years, according to the letter, her maiden name being Edna Hant. Her husband is said to be a meat packer.

ONCE MORE IN THE COURTS

Old Dispute Between C. J. Petruschke and J. J. Frey Revived.

Carl J. Petruschke has again appeared in a district court lawsuit.

During the last three or four years, Mr. Petruschke has been almost uninterruptedly engaged in some kind of litigation and the end apparently is not yet.

A rehash of the trouble which has been hanging fire between Mr. Petruschke and J. J. Frey, both of West Duluth, furnishes a subject for the latest lawsuit. Mr. Frey and his sister, Mrs. Kameter, are defendants in an action brought by Mr. Petruschke and his wife, Mary C. Petruschke to recover $13,050 for alleged malicious prosecution of several civil actions against the Petruschkes at the time they were tenants of the Grand hotel property which is owned by Mrs. Kamerer and managed by Mr. Frey.

While the Petruschkes were tenants of the Grand hotel building at Fifty-third avenue west and Ramsey street last summer, Mr. Frey brought a number of suits against them and it is on these actions that the plaintiffs predicate their claim for damages. One of the suits was to recover rent for the hotel, another to recover rent for the saloon, two others were unlawful detainer actions and the fifth was a replevin suit brought to recover the possession of certain furniture and fixtures. The rent suits resulted in the Petruschkes getting a verdict on a counterclaim for certain improvements made. Mr. Frey was successful in ejecting the Petruschkes in the unlawful detainer actions. The replevin action was dismissed.

The Petruschkes claim their business was damaged by reason of the lawsuits which they were forced to defend and asked for damages.

Two years ago, Mr. Petruschke sued J. T. Cromwell, J. Allyn Scott and J. J. Le Tourneau for $142,000, claiming that they had been induced to go into an enterprise into which he had lost all of his property. He charged conspiracy. The case dragged in court for six days and was finally dismissed by Judge Cant without going to the jury.

WILL PASS ON BATHING SUITS

Six Representative Duluth Women Will Choose Proper Garment.

Six women will be selected by Park Manager Cleveland as the committee to decide on the most proper and most comfortable bathing suit to be worn by women at the new Fairmont park beach this coming summer.

Mr. Cleveland said this morning that there will be a representative woman from Lakeside, East end, the central section, the West end, West Duluth and New Duluth on this committee.

"Whatever these women decide," said Park Manager Cleveland this morning, "will be the law regarding feminine bathing suits at the new beach. I want them to consider all phases of the question before deciding and the suit selected should be the most comfortable, the neatest and most modest that can be worn by young girls and women at a public beach."

Mr. Cleveland is receiving many suggestions and drawings every day and these he will submit to the committee

Ten Years' Misery Ended.

IS RECOVERING FROM FROSTBITE

But Carlson Will Lose Hand and Parts of Both Feet.

Carl Carlson, the farm hand, who froze both feet and left hand on the night of Feb. 8 is slowly recovering at the Duluth hospital. He will lose parts of both feet from a distance of about an inch back of the toes, and the first two fingers of his hand as a result.

Physicians say the man will save a large part of his feet as well as his hand. It will be six months before he will be able to get on his feet and then only with the aid of crutches.

Carlson is said to be one of the most patient inmates of the hospital. In spite of intense suffering he is said to seldom complain. His feet and hand were frozen from exposure on returning from West Duluth to Midway. He is said to have fallen out of the sleigh and his dropping out was not noticed by his companion. He had crawled to a farm house near his home, getting there at 4:30 in the morning. The authorities were notified and he was taken to the hospital.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BASEBALL LEAGUE.

A Sunday school baseball league will be organized in West Duluth this spring. A movement to that effect was taken last night by members of the "We Brothers" class of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street.

It is expected that the West Duluth Baptist, Asbury Methodist, Merritt Memorial and other Sunday schools of this end of the city will have a team entered in the league. Games will be played throughout the summer on Saturday afternoons, and during the school vacation, at least, twice each week.

The We Brothers basketball team defeated the West Duluth Baptist team by a score of 43 to 13 last night. Wilson and Manzie played star games for the Presbyterians and John McKaig starred for the Baptists.

With the Curlers.

Donald won out in the finals of the Grand Avenue Pharmacy event, by defeating Evered by a score of 18 to 11, at the Western Curling club last night. This evening games are scheduled between Zauft and Everett, Mallory and Judson, and the finals in the Hendrickson event between Donald nd Kriedler.

Overcoat Stolen.

An overcoat valued at $40 was stolen last night from the waiting room of the Canadian Northern depot, according to complaint made to the police last night by Leon Gravell, owner of the coat. Gravell, who is elevator operator at the station, told the police that he had gone to the top floor of the station to fix a gate that was not working well, and while away, a man waiting in the room and the coat disappeared.

FACTIONS UNITE ON HICKEN'S SON

Elected Mayor of Warba; Meets With Little Opposition.

To follow in his son's footsteps is what Commissioner Hicken, head of the public safety division, hopes to do.

At the spring election held yesterday by the voters of Warba, a small town near Floodwood, William P. Hicken, son of the commissioner, was elected mayor by a large vote. He had been selected by both factions at the recent caucuses, and there was hardly any opposition to his candidacy.

Word of his election to office was received late last night by Commissioner Hicken, just before the latter left for St. Paul, where he is attending the annual gathering of the grand council of Modern Samaritans.

If Commissioner Hicken can follow in his son's footsteps, he will also come out victor in the coming spring election on April 6, when Duluth voters will select two commissioners to succeed Mr. Hicken and Roderick Murchison. The father is not seeking the mayor's chair, but he acts as mayor in Mayor Prince's absence.

"Mayor" Hicken of Warba is cashier at the State bank there and is very popular in the village. He moved there but recently, having made his home for many years at Floodwood.

Siegel Loses Case.

A Federal jury decided for the defendant in the libel suit brought by Aaron Siegel against Alphonso Daulaise this morning. The suit was the outcome of the drowning of several members of the Siegel family caused by the capsizing of a boat owned by the defendant in the St. Louis bay nearly two years ago. Siegel demanded $10,000 damages.

To Try Ballot Case.

The district court is busy this morning choosing a jury to try Joseph Naughton on a charge of making fradulent returns of election last fall. The trial is the result of investigations conducted by the district attorney. It is expected that the jury will not be completed before late this afternoon. The trial will take several days, say attorneys in the case.

Held for Larceny.

Eloise Bushy of Allouez was arrested yesterday on a charge of having stolen $16.50 from the pockets of John Loski's clothes and to have cut the pockets with a penknife in order to get the money. In police court Bushy pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for March 13. Bail was placed at $300.

Last Day for Filing.

Yesterday was the final day for filing papers for positions on the city ticket at the election this spring in Superior. There are twenty candidates for the positions of supervisors of the various wards, and in the Seventh ward there are four candidates seeking the position. Five of the candidates are Socialists.

Sixteen Indians Indicted.

Sixteen indictments were returned by the Federal grand jury yesterday against Indians of the Coutere, Odanah and Red Cliff reservations for introducing liquor on the reservations. All but one pleaded guilty and were sentenced by Judge Sanborn. Seven were given suspended sentences, five were fined $100 and sentenced to two months in jail and three were sentenced to three months in addition to the fine of $100.

RICE LAKE ELECTION.

Thomas Wright Is Chosen Supervisor of the Township.

At the annual election for the Rice Lake township held yesterday the following officers were elected: Supervisor Thomas Wright; town clerk, A. E. Miller; treasurer, C. A. Gilbert; justices of the peace, J. A. Miller, and P. W. Lindeau; assessor, Carl Larson; constables, John Wallin and E. B. Lock.

The town also voted not to allow cattle to run at large during the year.

JURY'S AWARD WILL NOT BE DISTURBED.

Refusing to disturb an award of $750 which a district court jury made in favor of James Jeanette and against the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company on Dec. 9 last, Judge Ensign today filed an order denying the defendant company's motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict. It is probable that the case will be appealed to the supreme court.

Jeanette, as administrator of the estate of his 9-year-old son, sued the railway company for $3,000 on a cause of action for alleged wrongful death. Pasquale Jeanette, while playing in the vicinity of the Soo railway tracks near Twelfth avenue west on Sept. 23, 1913, was struck and killed by one of the company's trains. Jeanette charged the company with negligence in failing to fence their right-of-way.

The case was tried before Judge Ensign and a jury last December and a verdict returned in favor of the boy's father. John Jenswold, Jr., appeared as his attorney and George H. Spear of Fryberger, Fulton & Spear, represented the railway company.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

TWO MORE CONVICTED.

Court Collects More Fines From Women Caught in Raids.

TWO more women were convicted in municipal court this morning, on charges of running or frequenting a house of ill-fame, when the three arrested in the second of a series of five raids made by police the night of March 5, were tried before Judge F. H. Cutting.

Mrs. Mary Wiberg, after a consultation with her attorneys, John Norton and Walter Gonska, changed her plea from not guilty to guilty and paid a $200 fine, $100 being assessed on a charge of keeping a disorderly house and $100 for selling liquor without a license.

Mrs. May Hubbard, age 32, pleaded guilty to a charge of residing in the house, while the case against Bertha Thore, arrested with the other two, was dismissed for lack of evidence. The Hubbard woman will be sentenced this afternoon.

Five women were arrested in the Wiberg place, 30 North First avenue west, three of them, Ida Usher, Lelia Dixon and the Thore woman, having been released.

Mrs. Stella Mickolajczak, age 34, arrested at the Columbia hotel, 113 West First street, in the third raid, will be given a hearing tomorrow. Hearings of the fourth and fifth cases will be heard later in the week. Attorney T. J. McKeon will appear for the defendant in the third case.

FED BABY WHISKY.

Neighbors Object and Have Harry Hill Arrested.

When Harry Hill, age 34, attempted to feed his infant daughter whisky, it was going a bit too far, according to Hill's neighbors, and when he was arraigned in municipal court this morning on a charge of beating his wife, they were there to tell the court of his misdemeanors.

He was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or serve sixty days in default of payment. He was arrested by Lieut. Holmstrom of the West end police force last night.

"My wife wouldn't give me any meals," declared Hill to the judge. "I got along yesterday without my breakfast and didn't say much, because I don't each much breakfast anyway, but when I came back at 5:30, hungry and tired, and there was no supper ready, it was too much."

"Much too much," evidently was Judge Cutting's opinion of the defendant's conduct, for his sentence was as much as ever given for third degree assault.

SHORT CAREER AS "BANDIT."

Clayton Hubbs, 14, Arrested on Charge of Robbing Pawn Shop.

Preparing to be a bold, bad bandit without further notice, Clayton Hubbs, age 14, is said to have broken into the pawnshop of Abe Weinner, 709 West Superior street, and stolen his paraphernalia Monday night. This list included:

One revolver (of course).
One watch.
Five pocketbooks (to put the "loot" in).
Three pipes (Jesse James always had a pipe)
And three packages of tobacco.

Clayton's reign of terror was a short one, however, for he was brought to headquarters by Detectives H. W. Toewe and J. L. Bradley yesterday afternoon. The stolen goods were recovered, and Clayton will be taken to juvenile court today.

He is the son of Arthur B. Hubbs, 3415 Lake avenue south.

FRIENDSHIP CEASES.

Every Time John Makes a Friend He Loses Money.

"Here's where all friendship ceases," said John Maki, and he swore a mighty oath.

John told police this morning that he awoke in his room at the Bethel lodging house, Eighth avenue west and Meaaba avenue, to find his roommate, Albert Hill, missing with $20 of the Maki family's patrimony.

Hereafter John is not going to make friends with any one, for every time he does, he loses money, he told the police. Some time ago he complained of being "touched" for several dollars, but the officers were unable to locate the alleged thief.

"No man is your friend when it comes to money," said John, "and so I'm going to make 'em stay away from me." With which philosophical remark he started out to look for Hill.

ONCE MORE IN THE COURTS

Old Dispute Between C. J. Petruschke and J. J. Frey Revived.

Carl J. Petruschke has again appeared in a district court lawsuit.

During the last three or four years, Mr. Petruschke has been almost uninterruptedly engaged in some kind of litigation and the end apparently is not yet.

A rehash of the trouble which has been hanging fire between Mr. Petruschke and J. J. Frey, both of West Duluth, furnishes a subject for the latest lawsuit. Mr. Frey and his sister, Mrs. Kamerer, are defendants in an action brought by Mr. Petruschke and his wife, Mary C. Petruschke to recover $12,950 for alleged malicious prosecution of several civil actions against the Petruschkes at the time they were tenants of the Grand hotel property which is owned by Mrs. Kamerer and managed by Mr. Frey.

While the Petruschkes were tenants of the Grand hotel building at Fifty-third avenue west and Ramsey street last summer, Mr. Frey brought a number of suits against them and it is on these actions that the plaintiffs predicate their claim for damages. One of the suits was to recover rent for the hotel, another to recover rent for the saloon, two others were unlawful detainer actions and the fifth was a replevin suit brought to recover the possession of certain furniture and fixtures. The rent suits resulted in the Petruschke's getting a verdict on a counterclaim for certain improvements made. Mr. Frey was successful in ejecting the Petruschkes in the unlawful detainer actions. The replevin action was dismissed.

The Petruschkes claim their business was damaged by reason of the lawsuits which they were forced to defend and asked for damages.

Two years ago, Mr. Petruschke sued J. T. Cromwell, J. Allyn Scott and J. J. Le Tourneau for $142,000, claiming that they had been induced to go into an enterprise into which he had lost all of his property. He charged conspiracy. The case dragged in court for six days and was finally dismissed by Judge Cant without going to the jury.

WILL PASS ON BATHING SUITS

Six Representative Duluth Women Will Choose Proper Garment.

Six women will be selected by Park Manager Cleveland as the committee to decide on the most proper and most comfortable bathing suit to be worn by women at the new Fairmont park beach this coming summer.

Mr Cleveland said this morning that there will be a representative woman from Lakeside, East end, the central section, the West end, West Duluth and New Duluth on this committee.

"Whatever these women decide," said Park Manager Cleveland this morning, "will be the law regarding feminine bathing suits at the new beach. I want them to consider all phases of the question before deciding and the suit selected should be the most comfortable, the neatest and most modest that can be worn by young girls and women at a public beach."

Mr. Cleveland is receiving many suggestions and drawings every day and these he will submit to the committee

Ten Years' Misery Ended.

J. T. Chamber, merchant, Jonesboro, Ark., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills cured me of a ten-year standing case of rheumatism. I suffered miserably. A friend told me of being cured, so I used them, and they cured me too." Most middle-aged men and women are glad to learn that Foley Kidney Pills afford a way to escape sleep-disturbing bladder weakness, backache, rheumatism, puffiness under eyes, stiff and swollen joints and other ills attributed to kidney troubles. Sold everywhere.

IS RECOVERING FROM FROSTBITE

But Carlson Will Lose Hand and Parts of Both Feet.

Carl Carlson, the farm hand, who froze both feet and left hand on the night of Feb. 8 is slowly recovering at the Duluth hospital. He will lose parts of both feet from a distance of about an inch back of the toes, and the first two fingers of his hand as a result.

Physicians say the man will save a large part of his feet as well as his hand. It will be six months before he will be able to get on his feet and then only with the aid of crutches.

Carlson is said to be one of the most patient inmates of the hospital. In spite of intense suffering he is said to seldom complain. His feet and hand were frozen from exposure on returning from West Duluth to Midway. He is said to have fallen out of the sleigh and his dropping out was not noticed by his companion. He had crawled to a farm house near his home, getting there at 4:30 in the morning. The authorities were notified and he was taken to the hospital.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BASEBALL LEAGUE.

A Sunday school baseball league will be organized in West Duluth this spring. A movement to that effect was taken last night by members of the "We Brothers" class of the Westminster Presbyterian church, Fifty-eighth avenue west and Ramsey street.

It is expected that the West Duluth Baptist, Asbury Methodist, Merritt Memorial and other Sunday schools of this end of the city will have a team entered in the league. Games will be played throughout the summer on Saturday afternoons, and during the school vacation, at least, twice each week.

The We Brothers basketball team defeated the West Duluth Baptist team by a score of 43 to 13 last night. Wilson and Manzie played star games for the Presbyterians, and John McKaig starred for the Baptists.

With the Curlers.

Donald won out in the finals of the Grand Avenue Pharmacy event, by defeating Evered by a score of 13 to 11, at the Western Curling club last night. This evening games are scheduled between Zmuft and Everett, Mallory and Judson, and the finals in the Hendricksen event between Donald nd Kriedler.

Overcoat Stolen.

An overcoat valued at $40 was stolen last night from the waiting room of the Canadian Northern depot, according to complaint made to the police last night by Leon Gravell, owner of the coat. Gravell, who is elevator operator at the station, told the police that he had gone to the top floor of the station to fix a gate that was not working well, and while away, a man waiting in the room and the coat disappeared.

FACTIONS UNITE ON HICKEN'S SON

Elected Mayor of Warba; Meets With Little Opposition.

To follow in his son's footsteps is what Commissioner Hicken, head of the public safety division, hopes to do.

At the spring election held yesterday by the voters of Warba, a small town near Floodwood, William P. Hicken, son of the commissioner, was elected mayor by a large vote. He had been selected by both factions at the recent caucuses, and there was hardly any opposition to his candidacy.

Word of his election to office was received late last night by Commissioner Hicken, just before the latter left for St. Paul, where he is attending the annual gathering of the grand council of Modern Samaritans.

If Commissioner Hicken can follow in his son's footsteps, he will also come out victor in the coming spring election on April 6, when Duluth voters will select two commissioners to succeed Mr. Hicken and Roderick Murchison. The father is not seeking the mayor's chair, but he acts as mayor in Mayor Prince's absence.

"Mayor" Hicken of Warba is cashier at the State bank there and is very popular in the village. He moved there but recently, having made his home for many years at Floodwood.

Siegel Loses Case.

A Federal jury decided for the defendant in the libel suit brought by Aaron Siegel against Alphonse Daulaise this morning. The suit was the outcome of the drowning of several members of the Siegel family caused by the capsizing of a boat owned by the defendant in the St. Louis bay nearly two years ago. Siegel demanded $10,000 damages.

To Try Ballot Case.

The district court is busy this morning choosing a jury to try Joseph Naughton on a charge of making fraudulent returns of election last fall. The trial is the result of investigations conducted by the district attorney. It is expected that the jury will not be completed before late this afternoon. The trial will take several days, say attorneys in the case.

Held for Larceny.

Eloise Bushy of Allouez was arrested yesterday on a charge of having stolen $16.50 from the pockets of John Loski's clothes and to have cut the pockets with a penknife in order to get the money. In police court Bushy pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for March 13. Bail was placed at $300.

Last Day for Filing.

Yesterday was the final day for filing papers for positions on the city ticket at the election this spring in Superior. There are twenty candidates for the positions of supervisors of the various wards, and in the Seventh ward there are four candidates seeking the position. Five of the candidates are Socialists.

Sixteen Indians Indicted.

Sixteen indictments were returned by the Federal grand jury yesterday against Indians of the Couteru, Odanah and Red Cliff reservations for introducing liquor on the reservations. All but one pleaded guilty and were sentenced by Judge Sanborn. Seven were given suspended sentences, five were fined $100 and sentenced to two months in jail and three were sentenced to three months in addition to the fine of $100.

RICE LAKE ELECTION.

Thomas Wright Is Chosen Supervisor of the Township.

At the annual election for the Rice Lake township held yesterday the following officers were elected: Supervisor, Thomas Wright; town clerk, A. E. Miller; treasurer, C. A. Gilbert; justices of the peace, J. A. Miller, and P. W. Lindeau; assessor, Carl Larson; constables, John Wallin and E. B. Lock.

The town also voted not to allow cattle to run at large during the year.

JURY'S AWARD WILL NOT BE DISTURBED.

Refusing to disturb an award of $750 which a district court jury made in favor of James Jeanette and against the Minneapolis, St. Paul & Sault Ste. Marie Railway company on Dec. 9 last, Judge Ensign today filed an order denying the defendant company's motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict. It is probable that the case will be appealed to the supreme court.

Jeanette, as administrator of the estate of his 9-year-old son, sued the railway company for $2,000 on a cause of action for alleged wrongful death. Pasquale Jeanette, while playing in the vicinity of the Soo railway tracks near Twelfth avenue west on Sept. 23, 1913, was struck and killed by one of the company's trains. Jeanette charged the company with negligence in failing to fence their right-of-way.

The case was tried before Judge Ensign and a jury last December and a verdict returned in favor of the boy's father. John Jenswold, Jr., appeared as his attorney and George H. Spear of Fryberger, Fulton & Spear, represented the railway company.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

TWO MORE CONVICTED.

Court Collects More Fines From Women Caught in Raids.

TWO more women were convicted in municipal court this morning, on charges of running or frequenting a house of ill-fame, when the three arrested in the second of a series of five raids made by police the night of March 5, were tried before Judge F. H. Cutting.

Mrs. Mary Wiberg, after a consultation with her attorneys, John Norton and Walter Gonska, changed her plea from not guilty to guilty and paid a $200 fine, $100 being assessed on a charge of keeping a disorderly house and $100 for selling liquor without a license.

Mrs. May Hubbard, age 32, pleaded guilty to a charge of residing in the house, while the case against Bertha Thore, arrested with the other two, was dismissed for lack of evidence. The Hubbard woman will be sentenced this afternoon.

Five women were arrested in the Wiberg place, 30 North First avenue west, three of them, Ida Usher, Lelia Dixon and the Thore woman, having been released.

Mrs. Stella Mickolajczak, age 34, arrested at the Columbin hotel, 113 West First street, in the third raid, will be given a hearing tomorrow. Hearings of the fourth and fifth cases will be heard later in the week. Attorney T. J. McKeon will appear for the defendant in the third case.

FED BABY WHISKY.

Neighbors Object and Have Harry Hill Arrested.

When Harry Hill, age 34, attempted to feed his infant daughter whisky, it was going a bit too far, according to Hill's neighbors, and when he was arraigned in municipal court this morning on a charge of beating his wife, they were there to tell the court of his misdemeanors.

He was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or serve sixty days in default of payment. He was arrested by Lieut. Holmstrom of the West end police force last night.

"My wife wouldn't give me any meals," declared Hill to the judge. "I got along yesterday without my breakfast and didn't say much, because I don't each much breakfast anyway, but when I came back at 6:30, hungry and tired, and there was no supper ready, it was too much."

"Much too much," evidently was Judge Cutting's opinion of the defendant's conduct, for his sentence was as much as ever given for third degree assault.

SHORT CAREER AS "BANDIT."

Clayton Hubbs, 14, Arrested on Charge of Robbing Pawn Shop.

Preparing to be a bold, bad bandit without further notice, Clayton Hubbs, age 14, is said to have broken into the pawnshop of Abe Weinner, 709 West Superior street, and stolen his paraphernalia Monday night. This list included:

One revolver (of course),
One watch,
Five pocketbooks (to put the "loot" in),
Three pipes (Jesse James always had a pipe)
And three packages of tobacco.

Clayton's reign of terror was a short one, however, for he was brought to headquarters by Detectives H. W. Toewe and J. L. Bradley yesterday afternoon. The stolen goods were recovered, and Clayton will be taken to juvenile court today.

He is the son of Arthur B. Hubbs, 3415 Lake avenue south.

FRIENDSHIP CEASES.

Every Time John Makes a Friend He Loses Money.

"Here's where all friendship ceases," said John Maki, and he swore a mighty oath.

John told police this morning that he awoke in his room at the Bethel lodging house, Eighth avenue west and Mesaba avenue, to find his roommate, Albert Hill, missing with $20 of the Maki family's patrimony.

Hereafter John is not going to make friends with any one, for every time he does, he loses money, he told the police. Some time ago he complained of being "touched" for several dollars, but the officers were unable to locate the alleged thief.

"No man is your friend when it comes to money," said John, "and so I'm going to make 'em stay away from me." With which philosophical remark he started out to look for Hill.

WILL KILL MANY APPROPRIATIONS

Madison, Wis., March 10.—The assembly today passed on bills for the repeal of $400,000 of appropriations made by the last legislature.

By a vote of 69 to 24 the assembly sent to engrossment the bill to repeal the appropriation of $350,000 for a men's dormitory and union at the University of Wisconsin.

By a vote of 39 to 54 it refused to kill the bill which would repeal a $45,000 appropriation for a physical educational building at La Crosse normal school.

By a vote of 36 to 57 it killed the Frederick bill to appropriate $8,000 for humane society organization work in the state.

THE DAILY ROLL CALL; A COLUMN OF SPORTS

BY BRUCE.

HARLEY DAVIDSON sojourned yesterday in our municipal midst. During the festivities of last evening at the Auditorium Harley held a heart to heart, face to face talk with Mike Collins, the rising young impresario who conducts the boxing shows at Hudson. It is whispered that the man who now spends most of his time devising ways and means of advancing P. Lawrence Brown to the pugilistic front, was eagerly angling for a bout before the Hudson club. No definite results sprouted from the conversational soiree of last evening.

Davidson is already contemplating a change in the training program to be pursued by the range battler in the future.

"This fellow has done all the road work and all the necessary exercise to build himself up," said Harley yesterday. "What he wants now is boxing with some fast boys and a lot of it. These long runs on the road are not what they are cracked up to be. You leave segments of your being strewn along the thoroughfare. Not for mine. I am going to endeavor to secure some fast men and set Pal loose with a pair of boxing gloves. Boxing is one of the greatest modes of training for boxing that I know of. Strange, isn't it?"

Along this well swept avenue of connection it might be well to mention the fact that Davidson is going to try to have Pal work with Mike Gibbons some time in the future. At the time we are speaking of the illustrious Mike and the reflected glory Brother Tom are down in dear old Kansas City, getting some of the money of a burlesque show as well as exchanging nods with some of the young lady members.

Harley would like mighty well to secure the service of Ray Temple, but hasn't been able to figure any method as yet. Ray and Pal may meet one of these days, at that, and as possible rivals of the future it might prove rather awkward to have them installed in the same camp.

Gibbons and Gunboat.

MIKE COLLINS last evening unleashed the information that he was cantering along by easy negotiation stages toward a contest between Mike Gibbons and Gunboat Smith.

"This contest would prove a great drawing card," said Michael. "Lots of persons are of the impression that the Gunboat man would whip Gibbons and this belief would draw a lot of followers of the game to the ringside. Whether the famous heavyweight could beat Mike is another question.

"Gibbons is one of the greatest boxers in the world. I don't think he was hurt at all in the bout with McGoorty. Mike has a marvelous way of slipping his head, and if he is hit the blow seldom lands flush. Gibbons possesses a remarkable eye for distance and instantaneous action. He is quick to discover when to hit and equally quick to see a blow coming. A bout between Mike and Gunboat Smith would prove one more of the combats between a boxer with all the science in the world and a fighter pure and simple. If Smith landed, the battle would probably terminate suddenly. The question is, can Gunboat Smith hit so elusive a mitt artist as Mike Gibbons?"

The Curling Season.

WITH the ides of March, concerning which one well known poet has chanted in eloquent and touching refrain, approaching, there will be a general retreat of the army of curlers from the trenches that have been thrown up at the curling club this winter.

The activities with the roarin' stanes are nearing the end. She has been some season—quite some season. All of the games in all of the events have been run off with a smoothness never before attained. Out of the large number of games played there have been surprisingly few forfeitures and even fewer delays. A large list of trophy contests has been finished up in good season. Besides this the irresponsible John Oldham has found time and opportunity to run off another event, the justly celebrated "Blaze o' Glory."

There is little doubt but that another trophy event will be added to the list next season. It was the idea to have one more this season, but something intervened at the last moment. It has been shown that there is room for the handling of one more event.

Interest in the game has never been as great as during the present season. Some of the veterans are being crowded to the rear by the rise of a new brigade of curlers. In fact the season that is drawing to a close has proven one notable in bringing out a large number of clever curlers.

One of the features of the curling year that is nearing an end, speaking now for the city as a whole, has been the strong showing of West Duluth curlers. The players from the western portion of the city won the state title and made a strong showing in the Northwestern and Head of the Lakes spiel.

Viewing it from all angles, there is no doubt but that the curling season coming to an end has been the most successful ever staged in the history of the club.

WALSH SAYS BOUT IS ON

Manager of Mandot Declares Joe Will Meet Brown.

Late yesterday word was received from Tommy Walsh, manager of Joe Mandot, stating that he was trying to get in touch with the New Orleans French market boxer, in order to have the contract for the Brown bout signed.

Walsh assured the promoters on the other side of the bay that everything was all right and that Mandot would be on hand. However, the matchmaker of the club is waiting for the signed articles to arrive.

Johnny Dundee is being held in readiness and will be substituted in place of Mandot, should any hitch come up at the last moment.

Chicago, March 10.—August Kleckhefer of Milwaukee defeated George Moore of New York 50 to 44 in the first of last night's games in the world's three-cushion billiard championship tournament. Kleckhefer went out in fifty-eight innings with a high run of four. Moore ran five. It took Alfred De Oro seventy-one innings to win his 50 points while Fred Eames of Denver was making 47 in seventy innings. Each ran four.

Charles Morin of Chicago defeated Jess Lean, also of this city, in the first afternoon game, 50 to 38 in sixty-seven innings. Morin's high run was five, Lean's four.

Charles Ellis of Cleveland defeated Joseph Capron of St. Paul 50 to 32 in sixty-eight innings. Ellis' high run was four, Capron's three.

Philadelphia, March 10.—Charles Heddon of Dowagiac, Mich., and E. W. Gardner, New York, won their matches yesterday in the class A amateur billiard tournament, national championship. Heddon last night defeated R. M. Lord, Chicago, 400 to 181, while Gardner took the afternoon game from Corwin Huston, Detroit, 400 to 216.

Heddon, showing wonderful improvemen, had a high run of 66 and averaged 14 22-27. Lord's best effort was 33 and his average 6 25-26.

Cleveland Hockey Team Refuses to Play in Calumet.

Calumet, Mich., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Arrangements for the Cleveland-Sault championship games to have been played here Thursday and Friday nights, have been declared off on the refusal of the Cleveland Athletic club to send its team to Calumet. Cleveland claims that one player is injured and a second is not permitted by his mother to come to Calumet, leaving the club with only six men.

League officials will declare the Sault team champions and award them the McNaughton cup trophy now held by Cleveland.

The rink was sold out for both games.

The local management ascribed Cleveland's refusal to fear the Sault would badly defeat the Ohio team.

Toronto Buys Graham.

Toronto, Ont., March 10.—The Toronto International League Baseball club has announced the purchase of First Baseman Donaldson Graham of the Cincinnati National League club. Graham was drafted from Roanoke of the Virginia State league last season, but a prior draft by Cincinnati secured him for that club. Graham will report to the Toronto club at Warhington on April 3.

HEARING IS NEAR CLOSE

Kansas City Federal Franchise Squabble Well Aired in Court.

Gilmore Says Power to Transfer Was Given Committee.

Chicago, March 10.—Hearing of the suit filed by the Kansas City club of the Federal league to restrain the league from transferring the Kansas City franchise to Newark, N. J., was expected to be completed today.

Counsel for both sides, after a conference with Judge Baldwin of the circuit court, indicated that the proceedings would be finished and adjournment taken before night.

It was brought out at the hearing yesterday that Harry Sinclair, who, with Patrick Powers, took the Kansas City franchise for Newark, paid the league $25,000 for the privilege.

Power to dispose of the Kansas City franchise, was especially delegated an executive committee by the league at a meeting in New York, Oct. 23, 1914, James A. Gilmore, president of the league testified yesterday in the injunction proceedings brought by the Kansas City club to restrain the league from selling its franchise to Newark.

The committee was composed of Presidents Ward and Robertson of the Brooklyn and the Buffalo clubs, and it made earnest efforts to continue the franchise in Kansas City, according to Gilmore.

"On Nov. 18, 1914, Mr. Ward and I, for the league, and Charles C. Madison, for Kansas City, signed an agreement to the effect that the franchise would remain in Kansas City on condition that $100,000 could be raised," Gilmore testified. "I telephoned Mr. Madison almost daily after that, but never could learn that a dollar had been raised.

"On Feb. 4, 1915, I conferred with Patrick Powers of New York, purchaser of the franise, regarding the disposal of the Kansas City club. I had previously had a letter from D. J. Haff, who was attempting to raise money in Kansas City, and it was so discouraging that I was convinced that it was useless to hope for any results there. On Feb. 9, Mr. Madison was told the Kansas City franchise had been sold, but I told him the Indianapolis club was so weak financially that this might react in favor of Kansas City. On Feb. 13, I told Irwin R. Kirkwood, one of the stockholders of the Kansas City club, the same thing and that was the last I heard from Kansas City until Feb. 27, when Haff and others called and wanted a settlement of the case.

"They asked for an accounting," said Mr. Gilmore, "and after receiving it, said the account was padded. Then the injunction suit was filed."

LEADERS GET A TRIMMING

Fenton-Dubys Victors Over Northerns in Basket Ball League.

Losers Tied With Kelleys for Top; Will Play Next Week.

Standing of Commercial League Teams.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Northerns	5	2	.715
Kelleys	5	2	.715
Fenton Dubys	4	3	.572
Lakes	3	5	.375
Big Duluths	1	6	.143

In the closest and most exciting game played in the Commercial Basket Ball league this season, the Fenton-Duby team, at the Y. M. C. A. last evening, defeated the crack Northern Hardware aggregation, erstwhile league leaders, by the uncomfortably close score of 23 to 22 and thus brought about a tie for first place in the league race. The Lakes defeated the Big Duluths in the battle for the cellar championship by the score of 21 to 13.

The defeat of the Northerns brings them down to a tie with Harvey Smith's fast-going Kelley Hardware aggregation. Incidentally the schedule provides for these two teams meeting next Tuesday evening when the league race will close. On that date also the Fenton-Dubys and Big Duluths will clash.

Sensational Playing.

The main affair of last evening was by far the most sensational contest that has been played in the league this year. The Fenton-Dubys were determined to pull down the proud Northerns. The former team was lacking two of its regular men and Grant and Berkleman were used. Grant played a great game, caging three brilliant baskets. Burnett of the Fenton-Duby quintet was the bright and shining performer of the evening. He played a speedy, yet hard and consistent game, at all times. He contributed 17 points to his team's total of 23. The remainder of the Fenton-Duby team was also in grand form.

The Northerns, though subjected to a heartbreaking defeat, were ahead at many stages of the game. It appeared, in fact, as if the hardware men were going to cinch the pennant, when, only a few seconds before the call of time Burnett "looped in" a beauty and pushed his team ahead by one point. The first half concluded, 11 to 9 with the Fenton-Dubys on the long end.

In the second period they made twelve points while the Northerns registered thirteen, rolling the final count up to 23 to 22 with the Fenton-Dubys feeling happiest.

The second contest, while not quite as close as the first one, was a good game. By their defeat the Big Duluths now cinch the cellar championship, even if they win their closing game next Tuesday. The Lakes celebrated their closing of the season by snatching a healthy victory after having submitted to five consecutive defeats. They won their first two games and then lost five hard-luck contests in a row. The entire Lake team contributed to the scoring, and all helped materially in the winning of the game. Miller, the husky center of the "orphans" was the star of the game, getting eleven points and playing a hard game at all times. His foul shooting was one of the features of the contest. Out of seven chances he made a perfect average, getting seven points. Bartholdi, Olson, Karsberg and Hallenbeck all played almost equally as well. Cole, as usual, put up a good exhibition for the losers. The Big Duluths were leading when the initial period concluded, 7 to 6, but the Lakes came back strong in the second half and scored fifteen points to the clothiers' six, making the final count at 21 to 13 with Bartholdi's rejuvenated orphans on the long end.

A great game is expected next week when the Northerns and Kelleys battle for the championship.

DULUTH WANTS TO PLAY ALLAN VICTORS

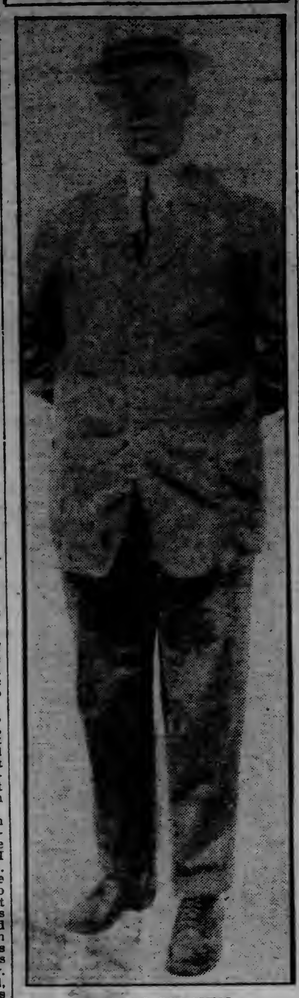
Curling Club Hockey Team After the Canadian Title Holders.

No definite games are in sight for the Duluth Curling club hockey team. It looks as if the Toronto Vics will not come here. Three telegrams were sent in an endeavor to get some answer from the management of the team, and no reply was received.

It is understood here that the Allan cup finals are going to be contested between the Melville, Sask., team and the Monarchs of Winnipeg. It was stated here today that an effort would be made, if the weather held out, to arrange a game here between the Allan cup winner and the curling club team.

The Duke of Wellington has returned home. If a big series of games is arranged, it is probable that Wellington will be brought back here.

THE DOOK TRAINING FOR SECOND BASE



DARBY O'BRIEN.

DOOK READY FOR SEASON

Darby O'Brien Training for the Second Base Job.

Northern League Adopts Several Measures of Economy.

"Say, I was never in shape at the start of the season," quoth Darby O'Brien yesterday. "This year I'm going to be right when the bell rings."

From this running start on an introduction as to his second basing the coming season, the Dook proceeded.

"I'm running over the hills and taking long walks. I will be in shape and am going to show the fans some real baseball around second base."

"The old players on my team have not been cut. I figure that there are a lot of ball players looking for work this season, and that it will be easy for all of the clubs to pick up some good baseball players. I have a lot of youngsters and expect to get some real ball players out of the lot.

"We have a string of pitchers a mile long. The rules of the league provide for home training this season. We will have a lot of box men working out here."

Northern to Economize.

Several measures of rigid economy have been adopted by the Northern this season. The monthly salary limit of $1,400 was not the only effort made to save dollars here and there. All players trying for Northern league teams this season will have to pay their own transportation to the place of training. Duluth has some youths who are coming from a distance as great as Florida. If said youths fail to make good, said youths had best have return fare in their said kicks.

All of the teams of the league will train at home. There will be no spring training trips. Exhibition games seldom pay for the expenses encountered in touring the leaguers. Thus the stay at home spring policy will result in some financial retrenchment.

That President Burmeister is determined to compel all of the managers of the league to observe literally the salary limit ruling, is indicated by the provision of a fine of $100 for any violation of the salary limit rule.

It is believed that there will be a raft of young players in the league, and it is also believed that with all of the teams faithfully observing the salary limit ruling, that there will be no advantage to the teams of the larger cities.

No manager has been chosen as yet on the other side of the bay. Cy Bennett has numerous friends plugging his cause and entertains some hope of landing the position.

HOUGHTON WINS; CALUMET PROTESTS

Hockey Game Rough and Spectators Interfere; Score, 2 to 1.

Calumet, Mich., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—In the last scheduled hockey game of the season, Portage Lake defeated Calumet here last night 2 to 1. The game was protested by Calumet after the second Portage Lake goal, the claim being made that the puck struck outside of the net, from where it bounded to the side of the rink. League officials were asked to order the game replayed.

The game was very rough, the audience climbing on to the ice at times during clashes between players.

SAULT WINS AGAIN.

Defeats London Seven in Clean Hockey Games---Ice Slow.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., March 10.—The American Sault hockey team defeated the London Western university seven again last night by a score of 4 to 2. Monday's game resulted in a 1-to-1 tie, which was won by the Sault in overtime, 2 to 1.

The ice was heavy for fast work. Both games were clean and fine exhibitions of hockey. The Sault used its regular lineup. Ross, Ritchie and Edwards played brilliant games for London, and Chapman displayed marvelous ability in the net for the visitors.

Fight to Draw.

St. Louis, Mo., March 10.—"Kid" Sullivan and Johnny Solsberg, bantamweights, both of Brooklyn fought eight rounds to a draw here last night.

Boxing in Skeeter State.

Trenton, N. J., March 10.—A bill designed to permit ten-round boxing contests in New Jersey passed the lower house of the legislature today. The measure, which now goes to the senate, provides for the appointment of an athletic commissioner who would have jurisdiction over clubs staging the matches.

AMATEUR LEAGUE TO PLAY HOCKEY IN CURLING CLUB

Directors of Club Agree to Allow Title to Be Fought Out on Ice of the Big Rink.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the curling club last evening, it was practically decided to permit the hockey teams of the Duluth Amateur league to complete their exciting race on the club rink.

There will be just about four more games played. The Centrals and Bagleys will play for the cellar championship. The Northerns and Two Harbors will play and the Big Duluths and Universals. If the Northerns defeat the Two Harbors aggregation, then the hardware men will meet the winner of the Big Duluth-Universal contest for the title.

It has not been decided when the first game will be played. Probably the first cold evening will start the teams on the exciting last lap of a race that is a darb.

Three teams have an almost equal chance for the pennant. The Big Duluths, Northerns and Universals are virtually tied. All of the teams have been playing a great brand of hockey during the closing weeks. There are hosts of followers of each team that will be glad to know that the final games are to be played at the club. It is expected that all of the remaining games will be witnessed by a large crowd.

KETONEN WINS IN STRAIGHT FALLS FROM MIKE YOKEL

Rocky Mountain Lion Heavy and Out of Condition; Completely Outwrestled By the Little Finn; Chris Person Fails to Throw Karensaari.

BY BRUCE.

A fat and flabby champion, Mike Yokel last evening went down to defeat in two straight falls before Waino Ketonen, the sensational little Finn, losing the first fall in a fraction over thirty-seven minutes and the second and deciding fall in jig time, the Finn executing one of those wizardy holds of his on the slow-moving Mike.

Ketonen should be given due credit for his victory, which was unlooked for generally and unexpected; but the fact remains that Yokel and his mentor, Klank, must have held the little Finn cheaply, for the Rocky Mountain Lion looked like anything but a champion in the two bouts.

Mike showed occasional flashes of the remarkable strength that in the past has made him a tartar for all the middleweights; but the ex-postmaster of the Jackson Hole country never got started and never exhibited the earmarks of a champion.

Ketonen was behind Yokel for the major portion of the first bout. He rode the Mormon and fastened on a succession of punishing body scissors. Once he turned Mike over and had his shoulders nearly dusting the mat. The Mormon fought out of the hold and in escaping from this predicament displayed one of the few real flashes of wrestling form that he unloosened.

Yokel was away overweight, and judging from the way he looked the excess weight proved a severe handicap to the man who two years ago displayed all of the marks of a real champion.

Ketonen Is Right.

Opposed to the lack of form exhibited by Yokel stood glaringly forth the superb condition of the little Finn. Ketonen was faster by several moves than Yokel and displayed a versatility of attack that kept the Rocky Mountain Lion guessing. Mike never got started in the first bout and was caught by surprise in the second and defeated before he could rally to save himself. Ketonen fastened a body scissors on and then switched into a hammerlock and slowly turned Yokel. The second fall came as the result of an arm leverage, secured after Ketonen had hurled the ambling Mike to the mat with a prodigious heave.

Two months ago in Salt Lake City, Yokel was defeated by "Pet" Brown of Taylor, Texas. Brown came in at overweight, just as Yokel did last evening, and Yokel stoutly maintained that he did not forfeit his crown. The former terror of the Jackson Hole country has thus lost two straight contests for the first time in the span of a remarkable mat career.

Yokel Will Lose Coin.

As the result of the defeat of last evening Yokel may drop a large amount of money. Plans were practically completed for a return contest with Brown. Yokel may go through with these plans, and he may not. Emil Klank stated that he would insist upon Yokel taking a long rest before engaging in any more tough struggles.

While Yokel was a crestfallen athlete last evening, he did not fail to give full credit to the man who beat him.

"He is one of the greatest of all the middleweights," said Yokel. "I under-estimated him and lost. I have no excuses to offer. I could not get started and that is about all there is to it."

Ketonen proved conclusively that he is one of the greatest of all the assortment of middleweights. The little Finn found a golden opportunity and carried the goods to take full advantage of the opportunity when it came trooping to his door.

Ketonen weighed in before the start of the contest and failed to move the beam at the 158-pound mark. Yokel stoutly refused to climb on the scales. The Rocky Mountain Lion looked fat and moved slowly. Mike seemed to tire early.

Several times Yokel started what looked like rallies, but these aggressive moves were nipped in the bud by Ketonen escaping with agility and eel-like slipperyness. Mike appeared slow on both the offense and defense.

Ketonen lived up to all that has been said of him. The little Finn showed head work and speed and blocked every move of the Western man. Outweighed by Yokel, little

Spring Time---Remember Is Blood Cleaning Time

Entire System Is Clogged—Great Hordes of Germs Congest the Blood to Cause Pimples, Boils, Carbuncles, Eczema and Other Skin Diseases.

S. S. S. Gives You Backbone, Nerve Strength With Pure, Invigorated Blood.

If you feel thick-headed, legs a-weary, tire easily and feel utterly used up your blood needs a bath.

It is astonishing how quickly you brace up after using S. S. S. After the long nights of winter have slowed you down, made your blood sluggish, and filled your system with the cramps, aches and acids of thick, stagnant blood you actually require the influence of S. S. S.

Eczema, rash, pimples, tetter, boils, and all impurities in the blood are quickly washed out by the remarkable action of S. S. S. It is in the nature of a bath for your blood. It is not a "dope," not a "physic," there is not a drop of harmful mineral drugs. It is a far better friend to your nerves than any "nervine" you can use because it is just as pure as the gruel you would feed to an invalid. The blood takes kindly to S. S. S., it doesn't bother your stomach but it does give you strength.

Rheumatism, catarrh, malaria, bronchitis, typhoid and all such painful or dangerous maladies cannot remain in a system washed and cleansed by the remarkable action of S. S. S.

There is scarcely a drug store or general store anywhere but what keeps S. S. S. in stock. It is prepared in one of the world's best and largest laboratories and has maintained the health of a host of people who use it every spring and fall because it gives them a feeling of renewed strength, puts the look of health in the eye and prints the flesh with the ruddy glow of health.

The human body, like the habitation of man, is closed all winter and becomes clogged with stagnant impurities. In the spring nature attempts to ties. In the spring nature attempts to overhaul the blood and thus we see pimples, boils, carbuncles and various skin afflictions breaking out to relieve the congestion within.

The remarkable manner in which S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, clears the system is a most interesting study.

It sweeps its way into the blood stream; flushes every artery, vein and capillary; awakens functional activity and causes a wonderful animation throughout.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which serves the active purpose of stimulating the myriad of cells to the healthy and judicious selection of their own essential nutriment.

And if, from the presence of some disturbing poison a condition of eruptive disease is set up, S. S. S. so directs the action of the local cells that the poison is rejected and eliminated from their presence.

Thus, when the cells break down to cause the formation of carbuncles, S. S. S. so stimulates cellulaar activity that new and healthy materials are rapidly supplied and eruptions cease. The same is true of mucous inflammations, of acid accretions and all those influences which cause rheumatism, catarrh, eczema, lupus, psoriasis, tetter, etc. The action of S. S. S. in effect is like giving the entire blood supply a good bath.

The medicinal properties of S. S. S. are relatively just as vital and essential to well balanced health as the food components of the grains, meats, fats and sugars.

And of one thing you may be certain there is not an atom of mercury, calomel, blue mass, iodide of potash or arsenic; nor does S. S. S. contain any other mineral. It is a pure vegetable medicine and wonderfully acceptable to even a very weak stomach.

Get a bottle of S. S. S. from any druggist and note how quickly it puts your blood in fine condition. It is just what you need, a fine, bracing, purifying medicine that is sure to do you a world of good. And if you are troubled with some stubborn form of blood disease, write to the medical department of The Swift Specific Co., 186 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga., for free private advice.

Waino wrestled the best contest of his career here and justified the long list of wins he has hung up during the past year.

Chris Person There, Too.

Chris Person came in from his Lester River farm and battled a rousing half hour with Karensaari. Chris started like a whirlwind and it looked during the first ten minutes as if the stocky Finn was going to have his shoulders pressed to the canvas. Once Chris had "Bear Island," the English translation of his name, in a bridge, but the Finn escaped and came back fighting his larger opponent around the mat.

After several escapes the Finn wore a smile that he carried during the rest of the bout. Chris made a whirlwind finish in the last five minutes and came near to pinning his opponent, but the strength and agility of Karensaari saved him.

In the curtain raiser "Fat" Jentilla and Mickey McGraw went a two-fall bout, each of the boys gaining a fall. Jentilla was strong and hefty, while the other boy possessed the speed and agility.

Challenges were read from a number of wrestlers. Walter Miller climbed through the ropes and was introduced, the little Pole receiving a nice hand.

Harry McCollom refereed the contests.

BIG NIGHT FOR CURLERS

Scotch and the "Heathen" Will Meet on Saturday.

McLeod and Dinham Will Play for Manley Title.

It will be the Scotch against the "heathen;" in other words and perhaps more explicit words, the regulars against the rookies.

What's all this about? Why, on Saturday evening at the curling club there is going to be a curling playdown in which all Scotsmen will be aligned against all presumptuous curlers who have dared to try a Scotch game.

Following the game there will be a supper, where the Scotch will be served. That's good, isn't it?

If there is enough Scotch to go around—meaning men—the playdown will start in the afternoon; and if there are not sufficient Scotch to fill out, the contest will be played down during the evening hours.

At the present time Johnny Oldham is lining up the Scotch and "heathen," sort of separating the sheep and the goats.

John claims that when it comes to curling lots of men unblushingly corrupt their lineage to stretch a point. But at that John expects to rouse a lot of Scotsmen, of course.

There is also talk of the married men and bachelors of the board of trade engaging in a game before the weather man puts the ice on the fritz.

Play Nearing End.

In the Universal event the play has reached the bonspiel form, the nine squad winners being out. Walter Harris, Ron McLeod and Charley Brewer are out. McLeod put Fred Hoene out of the running, while Harris defeated Deadon, McLeod beat Jones and Brewer came through with a win over Dinham.

Ron McLeod and Will Dinham will play off the finals this week for the finals in the Manley-McLennan. Dinham defeated Hall and McLeod defeated Goetz last evening, thereby progressing into the finals of the event.

The bonspiel playdown in the Universal and the results of the games of last evening are given below:

HEALTH TALKS

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Humidity and Health

WATER in a gaseous state is always present in the air. Water vapor weighs only about three-fifths as much as air, hence dry air is heavier than damp air. That hoary old tradition that catarrh is very common in places situated in a valley would be upset by this fact were it not already known that catarrh prevails in even ratio all over these United States and Canada where people are at odds with the weather. Troubles of the nose, throat and chest vary inversely in frequency with the relative amount of time the people spend out of doors. Catarrhal diseases are characteristically house diseases.

The warmer the air the damper it will be. Night air, if cool, is drier than day air, having precipitated much of its moisture while cooling, in the shape of dew. In a general way, the colder the weather the drier the air.

Cold Air Is Not Damp.

Moist air is depressing and enervating. Dry air is tonic and stimulating. The humidity of the air under ordinary conditions of life has much more to do with our physical comfort than has the temperature. Thus, a cold moist atmosphere is very trying, the cold is penetrating, and a temperature of freezing seems much more severe than a temperature considerably lower seems when the air is dry.

The ill effect of a vitiated atmosphere, as in a crowded room, is mainly due to heat and moisture.

Excessively dry air, as in an artificially heated room, is apt to feel chilly, owing to excessive evaporation from the skin. Potted plants in unglazed vessels, and water in jars like flowerpots, will tend to keep the air from becoming excessively dry, and will also make the room more comfortable. An average temperature of 65 degrees will be more comfortable in the long run than a higher temperature, and unquestionably more hygienic.

Questions and Answers.

Dried Sweet Flag Root: I am a woman 55 years young. Why do I have a constant ache in my right arm and shoulder, especially at night? Is dried sweet flag root good for a weak stomach?

REPLY.

1. Neuritis, heart disease, arthritis of the shoulder are possible factors. 2. This is a mild carminative, tends to relieve flatulence, and will at least do no harm.

* * *

Physical Culture: Miss S. asks: What do you think of physical culture?—but she spells it with a capital P and C. 2. Is there a cure for bronchitis?

REPLY.

Our whole family takes physical culture each day. We think it is great fun and it saves medicine, too. 2. Surely.

* * *

Daughter, Dandruff: My daughter, 16, has fine health, except that when she combs her hair large scales come off—dandruff, we suppose. The scalp gets red and sore. Please prescribe something.

REPLY.

We do not prescribe, but a letter of advice will be sent on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope.

* * *

How Skin Cancer Begins: I have two or three small dry scabs on my face near my eye. They have been there about six years, and they continually return after I remove them.

REPLY.

You do not state your age. If past middle age we should guess epithelioma (skin cancer)—and of course we have to guess when we cannot examine you. Better go immediately to a good doctor and find out.

* * *

Son, Pimples: My son, 16 years old, has pimples on his face, and his nose is red all the time. If you could advise us we would be very grateful.

REPLY.

Certainly. Send stamped addressed envelope for letter of advice.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnoses. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald.

HEXATHLON TO BE HELD AT THE "Y"

National Athletic Competition Events Scheduled for This Evening.

Three events of the national hexathlon contest will be held tonight at the Y. M. C. A. gym at 7:30. Much interest is manifested in this contest.

To get a rating of class B the association must have eight men in each event. The contest is sanctioned by the A. L. & N. A., with headquarters at New York city. All contests must take place this week and next week. The association of this state receiving the highest average will receive a handsome trophy donated by the state committee of the Y. M. C. A.

The entries for tonight's meet are:

60-yard potato race—Louis Eacobacci, Martin, Wade, Corning, Friedman, Bailey, Capin, Berkelman, Foryziak, Blegal, Frost.

Standing broad jump—Berkelman, Paine, Martin, Hillman, Becker, Shannon, Cameron, Clark, Patten.

12-pound shot put—McArthur, N. Eacobacci, Hillman, Cameron, Spoer, Flynn, Ardouin, Clark, Martin, Wahl, Patton, Peterson, Brown, Spindler.

Next week the following events will be held: 220-yard potato race; fence vault and running high jump.

Yale Likely Champion.

New Haven, Conn., March 10.—Yale defeated Princeton 29 to 17 in an intercollegiate basket ball game here last night. It is believed that the victory virtually clinches the championship for the Blue. Yale and Princeton were tied for first place. Each team has one more game to play.

Go to Church Sunday.

Remember the date, March 14.

Sealers Out of Ice.

St. John's, Nfld., March 10.—Four vessels of the sealing fleet, the steamers Terra Nova, Swing, Erik and Diana, were threatened with damage by ice pack off this port yesterday, but a change of wind last night enabled them to run the ice blockade. They slipped through lanes between the floes without injury and are again on their way to the sealing grounds in the Gulf of St. Lawrence.

"DOPE" FIENDS SCARCE HERE

No Serious Effects Seen From Law Regulating "Drug" Sales.

Victims of Habit in Many Cities Become Desperate Without Stimulant.

Duluth is one of the few cities in the United States where the police have not been troubled by users of opium, morphine, heroin and other drugs since March 1, when the new Federal "dope" law went into effect.

Physicians, before the bill became a law, predicted a crime wave for the country if victims were deprived of all means of obtaining the drug. It was argued that victims of the drug habit, confronted with an absolute lack of their poison, would be driven to crime and excesses of various kinds which would demand extraordinary efforts on the part of the police to check.

"'Dope' cases are so rare in Duluth," said Chief of Police Troyer this morning, "that I don't think we will be troubled at all by desperate persons unable to get their favorite drug.

"We haven't had any trouble since the law went into effect, and I believe Duluth is one of the cleanest, if not the cleanest, city in the United States in this respect. Drug users are common in large cities, of course, and particularly in the southern states."

Statistics show that 6 per cent of the prisoners in the large jails throughout the country are addicted to the opium habit in some form or other, and of the general criminal population very nearly 50 per cent are addicted to some form of the drug habit. Nearly 21 per cent of fallen women and their hangers-on are said to be drug users and about two trained nurses in every hundred have formed the habit.

According to The Hague treaty of 1912, the United States is bound to control the opium traffic in this country. It has been shown that during the last twenty-five years large quantities of opium and morphine have been imported into the United States and marketed in nearly all the large cities.

RAPID THAWING FLOODS CELLARS

Works Head Receives Complaints From All Parts of City.

Cellars and basements are being flooded as a result of the rapid thawing of the snow and ice during the last few days.

Complaint after complaint was received yesterday and this morning in the office of Commissioner Murchison, head of the division of public works, from people in all parts of the city. They report that their cellars are being flooded and that sheds in many instances are almost inaccessible. In each case the commissioner is asked to send relief.

Since Sunday Duluthians have enjoyed ideal spring weather, but, as a result, the snow and ice have been melting rapidly and so completely filling the drains that the water is filling basements in many homes, especially those on the lower side of the streets.

However, the commission has a large crew of men out in all parts of the city keeping drains and sewers as clear as possible, so that the water can run off in the regular channels.

In addition the thawing has caused the formation of small lakes and pools along many of the streets, so that pedestrians have found walking almost impossible. This is especially true on Park Point, where many of the residents are complaining about the pools between Eighth and Tenth streets.

"Take it from me—I know!"

You swing on some real tobacco!

If you're a red-blooded citizen, you beat it across the fields to a tidy red tin of Prince Albert and get some smoke joy jammed into that system of yours.

Because P. A. was produced to put a new high top record on pipe and cigarette liberty. You can smoke it until the cows come home, it can't bite your tongue, can't parch your throat. And that's a fact!

PRINCE ALBERT

made by a patented process that cuts out the bite and the parch and just puts in the joy wallop—flavor, fragrance. Me-o-my, but what fun there's coming to the man who's game enough to match a dime against a tidy red tin of Prince Albert—tobacco that cost three years and a fortune to perfect!

Just kind o' let it sink in that you nor any other man anywhere ever did pack a pipe or roll a cigarette with such tobacco. P. A. is a revelation—a tobacco revolution that sure certain will smash joy right into your smoke department.

And today's fine for a go-to-it try-out!

Prince Albert is sold everywhere in toppy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; also in handsome pound and half-pound humidors.

SHOULD AID BUSINESS

Underwood Says Government Should Assist Leaders of Industry.

Wise and Just Regulation of the Railroads Is Advocated.

New York, March 10.—In a speech on the railroad situation before the Sphinx club here last night, Oscar W. Underwood, house majority leader in the last congress and now elected a senator from Alabama, declared that "if governmental regulation is unable to cope with the vexed problem that confronts us, the people will accept government ownership as the next step ahead."

Discussing the present system of regulating business, Mr. Underwood said the time had come when the government should aid and assist the leaders of industry and finance.

"It is not enough for the government to permit business men to rise from the prostration which has overtaken them and their affairs," he continued. "We have reached the point on our way to social betterment where sound progressivism must recognize that the proper regulation of business requires that it must sometimes be helped and not always hindered; must be sometimes assisted, and not forever stricken; that we must occasionally say 'you may' and not always 'you shall not.'"

The Railroad Problem.

Adequate provision for capital to maintain and extend the transportation system of the country is a problem confronting the government in its regulation of railroads, Mr. Underwood asserted. He added that "our present system of regulation is breaking down, insofar as it has supervised the finances of the railroads with a view to allowing them properly to protect their securities that their credit may be maintained to aid in present and future development."

The regulation of railroads, Mr. Underwood said, should take into consideration the interests not only of the railroads themselves, and those directly interested in shippers, but of the entire country whose commercial prosperity is dependent upon adequate shipping facilities.

Regulation Must Be Just.

"We have undertaken the problem of government regulation of railroads," he continued, "and the government will not turn back. Regulation of practices and rates is here, and here to stay. But let us stand for wise and just regulation. We must regulate so as to insure all necessary railroad facilities both for the present and for the future. As the public in the end must pay the bill, it is primarily interested in the railroads securing the money needed for their maintenance and development at reasonable rates and equally interested in seeing that it is wisely expended.

"Revolutions never move backward. If governmental regulation is unable to cope with the vexed problem that confronts us, the people will accept government ownership as the next step ahead. It is therefore a matter of great importance that we earnestly should endeavor to reach a fair and reasonable solution of the problem of regulation at as early a day as possible."

Greater Problem Unsolved.

After discussing the difficulties of dealing with the railroads through the varying jurisdictions of the state and Federal governments, Mr. Underwood said:

"It cannot be denied that public control has reduced the rates charged for transportation and abolished unjust discrimination given to favored shippers. But the greater problem remains unsolved. Can the money be provided to expand and develop these great public works in a manner commensurate with the expanding needs of our commerce under the present system of public control?

"If railway investments cannot be made attractive to capital, is not the nation threatened with an invariable breakdown of its transportation system?"

COAL STOCKS BIG IN DULUTH

Stocks of coal being carried on the docks at the Head of the Lakes are estimated to be the heaviest for this season in years, so that fuel cargoes are expected by vessel men to be comparatively limited for the first few weeks after the opening of navigation.

Coal shipments from Duluth to tributary points show a falling off of several thousand cars, and the present month will make a still worse comparative showing, according to railroad officials. Coal operators at interior points have been holding their coal orders down to a minimum, and do not appear to have been tempted to take advantage of the average low wholesale prices now prevailing.

Referring to the situation, the Black Diamond says that some steamers at Buffalo are still taking on coal to be moved up the lakes when navigation opens. Some of the coal companies, it notes, are beginnig to figure out their requirements as the contract season is about to open. They are not prepared, however, to accept on a yearly basis the present prices on standard grades of coal.

EXTENSION WORK TO BE DISCUSSED

At First Meeting of National University Extension Conference at Madison.

Madison, Wis., March 10.—Presidents Charles R. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin and George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota will appear jointly tonight at the opening session of the first national university extension conference.

The conference has been designed to enable the delegates who are here from a score of universities from all parts of the country to exchange ideas on non-resident instructional work.

The visitors today were received informally at the University club and later inspected the Extension division's offices and met the faculty members.

Two Presidents' Subjects.

President Van Hise will speak on "The University Extension Function in the Modern University." President Vincent will talk on "The University Extension Movement and Its Present Opportunities and Possibilities."

The remaining three days of the conference will be occupied chiefly by Dean Louis E. Reber of the University of Wisconsin extension division; C. H. Tuck, Cornell; H. D. Mallory, University of Chicago; G. L. Sprague, head of the apprentice schools of the American Locomotive works and the Allis-Chalmers company, and I. W. Howerth, University of California.

Prof. R. G. Moulton of the English department of the University of Chicago, is expected to deliver an address Friday afternoon on "The Humanities in University Extension." There will be a dinner for those in attendance Friday evening.

ELKS TO HAVE A "BIG" NIGHT

Membership Passes 1,000; Lodge Arranges Special Program.

Duluth Elks have a big night of fun ahead of them for this evening when they will celebrate the passing of the 1,000 mark on the membership roll of Duluth lodge, No. 133, B. P. O. E. The jubilee will follow the regular business meeting of the lodge and will take on the form of a banquet and an informal after-dinner program of speeches and music.

The committee in charge of the program promises a number of surprises and refuse to divulge just what the program will consist of. Those in charge are William Burgess, A. J. McCulloch and H. B. Knudsen.

Duluth Elkdom has issued an invitation to lodges at Superior, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Hibbing, Virginia and Eveleth to attend the affair. A good-sized delegation is expected from Superior and from the range towns.

It will be a "big night" among Elks.

AMOUNT OF WHEAT ON HAND IN CANADA

Ottawa, Ont., March 10.—A government inquiry, the results of which became public yesterday, shows that the amount of wheat and of wheat flour in Canada Feb. 8, last, was 79,130,593 bushels, or with allowance for a small proportion of non-replies, an aggregate in round figures of 80,000,000 bushels.

The result of the inquiry, it is stated, shows that the quantity of wheat in Canada should be amply sufficient to meeet all requirements between now and the next harvest for seeding this spring and for food during the next six months. It is estimated that 44,250,000 bushels will be required, leaving a balance of 35,750,000 bushels for export and reserve.

MARBLES SURE SIGN OF SPRING

Ahead of the first robin and right abreast with spring styles, bock beer, winter-worn lumberjacks and other signs of warm weather, has come the inevitable small boy with his marbles.

When A. C. Beuglet, local agent for the North Western Fuel company, saw a crowd of boys playing with "mibs" near his home yesterday, he said: "We'll start getting ready for the summer now. Here is one sign of spring that doesn't fail and the winter coal business is just about finished."

Old Sol has driven the snow away enough during the last few days so that the ground is bare in spots, and that is enough for the boys who want to play "chase," while friends look on to see that there is no "fudging."

Police Sergeant Albert Weber received several complaints during the afternoon from property owners who were being annoyed by small boys playing marbles on the sidewalk.

KILLS WIFE AND SELF; WOUNDS POLICEMAN

Richmond, Ind., March 10.—Nathan Hilling, 46, shot and killed his wife here last night, wounded a policeman who attempted to capture him, and after a revolver battle with twenty officers, killed himself. Hilling fled to a barn after killing his wife. Patrolman John Cully and two boys, Russell Highley, 19, and Horace Burns, 14, followed the murderer and were met by a hail of bullets, two of which wounded Cully. The boys dragged the officer out of range and called for help.

Twenty patrolmen responded. Jealousy is said to have been the motive for the murder. Cully will recover, physicians say.

All Lines Reduce Rates.

London, March 10.—All British trans-Atlantic steamship companies have followed the lead of the Cunard line and reduced the rate for second class passage to New York to $50.

VICTOR POWER EASY WINNER

Hibbing's Mayor Carries Off Honors of Contest With A. E. Templeton.

So-Called "Mining" Ticket Elects Its President in Village of Chisholm.

Hibbing, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—This is the day after in Hibbing and "that tired feeling" is quite prevalent as a result of last night's celebration over the outcome of the election.

Victor Power, village president or as he is called, "mayor," won easily over A. E. Templeton, a young attorney, who had the temerity to run against Power in the face of what his friends told him was sure defeat, but Mr. Templeton "seen his duty and done it," and today is congratulated, even though he lost out by 1,222 votes.

B. J. Burrows and John Curran were re-elected trustees. Rupert Swinnerton, following a lively campaign, was third highest in the trustee vote, and will succeed Robert L. Geiselman, who was elected treasurer, succeeding D. D. McEachin, who lost out in the race for trustee.

Recorder D. D. Haley had no difficulty in getting his position back, receiving 1,113 votes against 438 held by Edward Tatro, his nearest competitor.

More than 1,704 votes in all were cast, a record vote for the village.

Riot of Celebration.

Following the announcement of the outcome, there was a celebration the like of which has not been seen in this section if it ever had its counterpart on the range. The saloon doors were thrown wide open and all kinds of noise-making devices, from the village band and whistles to cowbells, were brought into service. The homes of the successful candidates were visited and many made speeches. Mayor Power sidestepped the speaking and hid himself until the "shouting and the tumult" were over. Even the fire department was called out to rattle along the village's famous, brightly lighted streets, and add to the pandemonium. The celebration continued until the wee sma' hours of the morning.

The Complete Vote.

The detailed vote follows:

Mayor—V. L. Power, 1,463; A. E. Templeton, 241.

Trustees, three elected—E. J. Burrows, 1,123; John Curran, 932; Rupert Swinnerton, 786; H. Zant, 423; E. D. Cassidy, 354; D. D. McEachin, 330; Frank Di Marco, 276; E. S. Woofan, 142; Don Rogers, 136; Arthur Haglund, 120; Jacob Keranen, 86; John Povsha, 61; M. E. Osherman, 45.

Result at Biwabik.

Biwabik, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—With only one ticket in the field, called the administration, yesterday's election was not over-exciting. There were 227 votes cast. F. S. Colvin got 215 for president. I. R. Silpatrick was elected clerk. There were five candidates for trustee, the winners and their vote being: O. E. Everett, 131; D. W. Owens, 165; Peter O'Donnell, 134. Tonich for trustees, J. M. Kangas for recorder, William Hammond for treasurer and Erick Erickson for constable are the defeated candidates.

Fugere Chisholm's President.

Chisholm, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—After an exciting election Henry Fugere was chosen president over Dr. E. E. Webber by forty votes. Mr. Fugere, the reputed mining candidate came into town from the locations with a lead of 133 votes. This was reduced in town to forty votes. Recorder Culver was elected over Monty Tamantin by a majority of 296 votes and Alvin B. Dugar, running independently by 406 votes.

The three trusteeships went to B. H. Graham with 494 votes, William Ulrich with 429 votes and Antone Mahane with 420 votes. C. E. French was re-elected treasurer over J. J. Stukel by 191 majority. For the municipal judgeship, William A. Masters was re-elected by an overwhelming majority, his vote being 684. A. D. Higbee was second in the eight candidate race and Samuel Cooke third. For constable Mark Lunch won over his two competitors. Seven faced the barrier in the assessor's race, George Rice winning over Jake Petrich, his nearest competitor, by 61 votes. The mining companies ran a candidate for every office and succeeded in landing the presidency, the recordership, one trustee, and the treasurership, or four out of the ten places sought.

Balkan Township.

Balkan township election resulted as follows: Supervisor, three years, John Pozar, 46; for clerk, A. J. Sullivan, 46; B. E. Johnson, treasurer, 46; assessor, F. O. Justice—John Koivumaa, 272.

Constable—Anton Anttila, 173; Tony Payk, 137.

There were 266 votes cast in the village and 377 in the township.

Gilbert Re-Elects Barrett.

Gilbert, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The election here Tuesday was very strenuously contested in the village, but the election in Missabe Mountain township was very quiet.

In the village, Dr. Fred Barrett was re-elected by a good majority over his opponent, T. S. Morrison, for president. A. E. MacInnis, the present clerk, was defeated by T. S. Sharp for clerk by ten votes. The members of the board of trustees elected were C. M. Campbell, Mike Kohler and William Markus. W. J. Luke was re-elected treasurer, C. O. Welch and Tim Burns were elected justices of the peace, and Alex Karvinen and Joseph Janisch were elected constables. The detailed ballot is as follows:

President—Dr. Fred Barrett, 243; T. S. Morrison, 88.

For treasurer—C. M. Campbell, 195; Mike Kohler, 172; William Markus, 134; Jacob Harl, 115; R. E. Brown, 86; A. K. Kapellar, 76; John Zollar, 62; John Connor, 44; R. Kellar, 26.

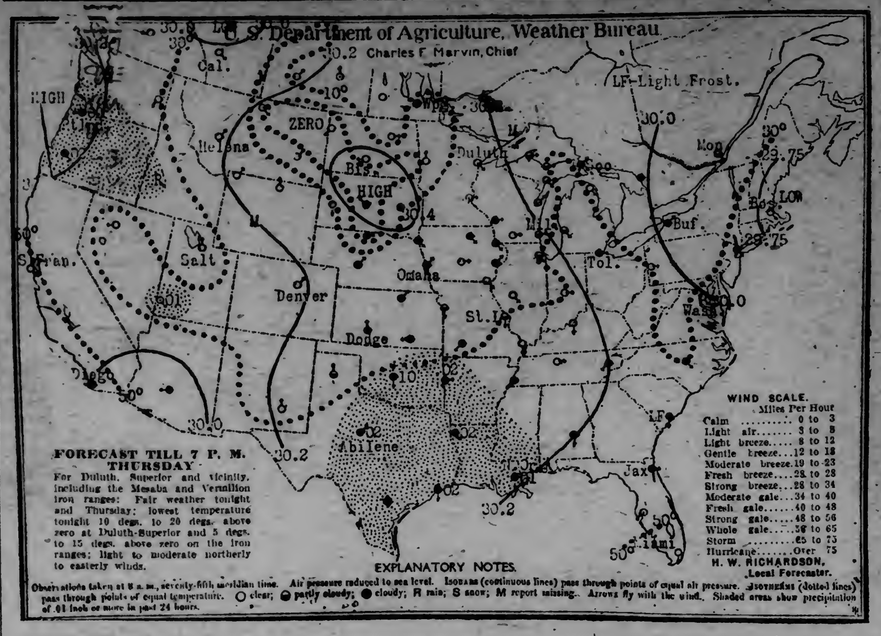
OFFICIAL MAP OF THE WEATHER

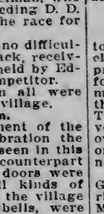


FORECAST TILL 7 P. M. THURSDAY

For Duluth, Superior and vicinity, including the Mesaba and Vermilion iron ranges: Fair weather tonight and Thursday; lowest temperature tonight 10 degs. to 20 degs. above zero at Duluth-Superior and 5 degs. to 15 degs. above zero on the iron ranges; light to moderate northerly to easterly winds.

EXPLANATORY NOTES.

Observations taken at 8 a. m., seventy-fifth meridian time. Air pressure reduced to sea level. Isobars (continuous lines) pass through points of equal air pressure. Isotherms (dotted lines) pass through points of equal temperature. ○ clear; ◑ partly cloudy; ● cloudy; R rain; S snow; M report missing. Arrows fly with the wind. Shaded areas show precipitation of .01 inch or more in past 24 hours.



Still no change in the weather and no change in sight. If there is no objection, this action of the weather man will stand approved. Do we hear any objection? None; the matter is approved.

There is small likelihood of appeal being taken from the decision of the chair. More perfect weather for March could not be asked for. Anybody wishing to qualify as a chronic kicker needs only to say something derogatory to the present serving of blue skies, bright sunlight and balmy air. Even the underfoot service is on a mildly meanor as Mr. Richardson might put it in the technical language of the weather partment, "meanly mean."

A year ago today was beautiful. The sun rose this morning at 6:31 and will set this evening at 6:06, giving seven hours and thirty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Temperatures about zero or slightly below continued in portions of the Dakotas, Northern Nebraska, Western Minnesota and Northern Montana. In general the 24-hour temperature changes were unimportant but in the main the tendency was towards an increase in warmth. Light rain fell during Tuesday or last night over Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Oregon and Southwestern Washington. Light snow fell over Southern Utah. Light frost occurred again at Charleston, S. C."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 10.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Thursday:

Minnesota and Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

Iowa—Fair in east, partly cloudy in west portions tonight and Thursday; not much change in temperature.

North Dakota—Fair tonight and Thursday; warmer in west portion tonight.

South Dakota—Fair tonight and Thursday; slightly warmer tonight.

Montana—Fair tonight and Thursday; warmer in east portion tonight.

Upper and Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Thursday.

STILL PROBING INTO KILLING AT AURORA

Coroner's Inquest to Determine How Louis Brugge Met Death.

Aurora, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Deputy Sheriffs Witte and Moylan of Virginia spent yesterday here investigating the case of Louis Brugge, who was found shot to death in his boarding house. No evidence which could warrant any arrest was found, but the deputies were not willing to accept the suicide theory and decided that a coroner's inquest would be held some time today, probably in the afternoon.

The jury will be given all the available facts in the case and should the verdict be murder it is likely that there will be many arrests made in an effort to catch the guilty parties. So far nothing has developed that would warrant making any arrests although the circumstances in the case point to foul play.

The case hinges principally on the accounting for the two wounds on the body of Brugge when so far as can be learned only one shot was fired.

SECTION LABORER IS TRAIN VICTIM

Eavon Savo, Lying on Track Near Hibbing, Badly Mutilated.

Hibbing, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Eavon Savo, aged 33, a section laborer for the Great Northern, was killed about 6:30 o'clock last night by the passenger train leaving for Grand Rapids. Savo was lying on the track near the depot. Whether he was intoxicated or had been knocked unconscious is undetermined, as the body was so badly mutilated that no other injuries can be detected. The body was taken to W. J. Ryder's morgue. He lived here several years. He leaves a wife and daughter in Bulgaria.

TWO HARBORS HAS BIG REGISTRATION

Vote on License Presumed to Have Keyed Up Voters to High Pitch.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Yesterday was registration day here, and the registration was very heavy, indicating that a keen interest is being taken in the election which will be held next Tuesday, when the local option question will be voted upon.

The following registered in the respective wards: First ward, 232; Second ward, first precinct, 127; Second ward, second precinct, 148; Third ward, 248; Fourth ward, 266—making a total of 1,016.

Two Candidates Pull Out.

John J. Larson and T. M. Kirkby, two of the candidates at large for aldermen, who were nominated by the non-partisan voters, have declined to allow their names to appear on the ballot. Both state that they have no desire to become aldermen. George Alstatt and Emil Westholm have been chosen to run in the places of Mr. Kirkby and Mr. Larson.

TO INTERVIEW BOARD.

Gilbert Commercial Club to Send Delegation to Duluth.

Gilbert, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Commercial club is considering the question of sending a delegation to the meeting of the county commissioners next month in Duluth to ask for an increase in the apportionment of road money allotted to the Sixth district, and will act in conjunction with the clubs of Virginia, Eveleth, McKinley, Biwabik and Aurora.

It is expected that a good-sized delegation will be sent down to see what can be done to secure more money for this district, which has never had any too much money for road purposes, and the feeling seems to be prevalent that the commissioners should be urged to reconsider the matter so as to provide enough funds to complete the construction of some badly needed roads.

DULUTH WOMAN'S MOTHER BURIED

Funeral of Mrs. Thomas Trevena Is Held at Two Harbors.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Thomas Trevena, aged 59 years, died at her home on Third avenue yesterday after a lingering illness of Bright's disease. Mrs. Trevena was an old and respected resident of this city and leaves a host of friends.

EVELETH AGAINST SPEEDERS.

Motorists Warned That Law Against Fast Motoring Will Be Enforced.

Eveleth, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.—Chief of Police Robert Mitten this week notified auto owners that Eveleth is in no way exempt from the workings of the state law which fixes a maximum of ten miles an hour on downtown streets and a maximum of fifteen miles an hour in residence districts. Motorists must drive at a reasonable rate according to state law and faster than ten miles an hour on busy streets, fifteen miles in residence portions and six miles an hour in turning corners is sufficient evidence that the driver is not proceeding at a reasonable speed.

OARSMAN HACKETT FINED AT BAUDETTE.

Virginia, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Game Warden Wood, who returned today from the Rainy river country, says the game law violation in that section is scandalous. At Baudette he arrested J. T. Hackett, the famous oarsman, and had him fined $50 for killing moose out of season. John Penn got sixty days at International Falls for having several carcasses of moose, caribou and other game animals in his possession. The warden pursued one illegal hunter who had a sleighload of game meat, but the fugitive escaped across the international boundary.

At your druggist's, in 25c and 50c jars, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Be sure you get the genuine MUSTEROLE. Refuse imitations — get what you ask for. The Musterole Company, Cleveland, Ohio.

MUSTEROLE

Greatest of All Human Blessings

The most wonderful thing in the world is love expressed in the helpless infant.

And among those aids and comforts for expectant mothers is the well known "Mother's Friend."

This is an external application to enable the abdominal muscles to become more pliant, to expand naturally without undue pain from the strain upon cords and ligaments.

Applied as directed upon those muscles involved it soothes the fine network of nerves with which all the muscles are supplied. Thus a great share of the pains so much dreaded may be avoided and the period of expectancy passed in comfort.

There is no question but what such relief has a marked influence upon the general health of the mother.

In a little book sent by mail much useful information is given to inexperienced mothers. It tells how to use "Mother's Friend" and how to avoid caking breasts. It has been prepared in our laboratory for over forty years and is known favorably to most druggists everywhere. Get a bottle to-day and write for book to Bradfield Regulator Co., 309 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Be sure to ask for and see that you get "Mother's Friend."

STUDY AND EXERCISE

Study does not hurt a child unless the study time is taken from time that should be spent in out-of-door exercise.

Overstudy and lack of exercise make thin, bloodless children. It is a combination that provokes St. Vitus' dance.

If your child is thin and pale, listless, inattentive, has a fickle appetite and is unable to stand still or sit still, you must remember that health is even more important than education.

See to it at once that the patient does not overstudy, gets at least two hours out-of-door exercise every day, sleeps ten hours out of every twenty-four and take a non-alcoholic tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills until the color returns to cheeks and lips and the appetite becomes normal.

For growing children who become pale and thin Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are not only safe but in great majority of cases they are the very best tonic that can be taken. They build up the blood and strengthen the nerves and assist nature in keeping pace with rapid growth.

The Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., will send you two books on the blood and nerves if you mention this paper. If your child is very young ask for the booklet "The Care of the Baby." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"DRYS" MAKE MANY GAINS

Anti-Saloon Forces Successful in Over Thirty Gopher Towns Formerly "Wet."

Crosby and Aitkin Continue to Remain in Saloonless List of Towns.

St. Paul, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Almost complete returns from the municipal elections held yesterday in about 200 towns and cities of Minnesota show the anti-saloon forces were successful in more than thirty towns previously in the wet column. Four towns that had been without saloons went over to the wet side, leaving the division of towns that voted yesterday at 102 dry and 96 wet.

Rochester Still Wet.

Rochester, the largest town voting on the license issue, remained with the wets.

"Wet" towns known to have gone "dry" include: Emmons, Deerwood, Jenkins, Wadena, Merristown, Pine Island, Minneota, Morley, Morley township, Norcross, Jackson, Ormsby, Alpha, Foxholm, Morgan, Butterfield, Curry, Lamberton, Odessa, Onamia, Proctor, Brooks, Danube, Franklin.

"Dry" towns that went "wet" are: Randall, Eyota, Longlake, Adrian.

Brooks Goes Dry.

Crookston, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The town of Brooks, in Red Lake county, is the only village in Northwestern Minnesota being previously wet that went dry Tuesday, 43 to 73.

Villages which were wet before and remained wet are Middle River, 41 to 32; Oslo, 55 to 42; Plummer, 47 to 12.

Villages dry before and remaining dry are: Hallock, 67 to 118; McIntosh, 56 to 108; Fosston, 84 to 128; Mentor, 35 to 49; Roseau, 67 to 92; Greenbush, 26 to 31; Badger, 41 to 47; Karlstad, 19 to 35; Fisher, 17 to 47.

Aitkin Remains "Dry."

Aitkin, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Aitkin voted to remain in the dry column by a majority of 40, the vote being 156 to 116. Peter Larson was elected president of council; W. A. Tully, Alfred Zoerb and F. R. Heft, councilmen; T. R. Foley, Jr., recorder; Frank Erickson, treasurer; W. B. Gwathmey, assessor; J. C. Hessian and W. H. Harrison, justices; Luther Olts, constable.

Result at Floodwood.

Floodwood, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The entire caucus ticket, which composed the present village administration, won by a majority of 16 votes over the peoples' ticket at the annual village election yesterday. The winners are: Garfield Blackwood, mayor; Henry Johnson, John Tahja and Charles Williams, councilmen; E. B. Robinson, recorder; M. W. Hingley, treasurer; justices of peace, Charles Sanberg and T. H. Hall; constables, Frank J. Buntin and Walter Stevens, and James Girvan, assessor. The "wet" and "dry" issue was not voted on. The election went off very quietly although the opposition carried on an active campaign for several days. The total vote cast was 175.

The result of the election in Floodwood township follows: Supervisor for three years, John Stenback; supervisor for one year, Charles Nissl; clerk, C. B. Wilder; treasurer, Jacob Mayala; assessor, John H. Stenback; justices of peace, Frank Samuelson and A. H. Shumaker; constables, John Arrow and Charles Gates.

This is the first election held in Floodwood township since its separation from the village and the farmers turned out rather a heavy vote.

Drys Sweep Crosby.

Crosby, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Drys won the election here yesterday 113 to 159, the entire ticket of the anti-license forces being elected as follows: President, W. C. Deering; trustees, E. W. Hallett, J. P. Matthews, J. A. Johnson; clerk, Joseph Sally; treasurer, H. H. Garceau; justice of the peace, William Mageau; assessor, P. Frenette; constables, Miran Cole, Joseph Hammit.

The victors celebrated the election last night with band music and speeches.

Deerwood Town Becomes Dry.

The township of Deerwood by a vote of 42 to 15 became dry after a wet period. The town went wet before.

Deerwood officers elected were: Supervisor, Charles F. Peterson; town clerk, F. J. Windquist; treasurer, John Swanstrom; assessor, F. J. Windquist; justice of the peace, Walter Archibald; constable, Victor Anderson.

Deerwood Village Wet.

The village of Deerwood continues in the wet column, 81 to 60, the present officers being re-elected as follows: Mayor, C. C. Adams; trustees, John Humphrey, O. J. Carlson, Thomas Keating; clerk, Julius O. Hage; treasurer, G. A. Oberg; assessor, C. J. Rathvon; justices of the peace, William Maley, R. B. Coffin.

Ironton did not vote on license, remaining "wet." Two tickets were in the field. The ticket elected was: Mayor, Edward Krueger; trustees, A. H. Proctor, C. Mayo, V. Howard Otts; clerk, Ed Burns; treasurer, H. P. Armstrong; assessor, E. H. Lehrke; justice of the peace, Sawyer; constable, J. Thomas.

Cuyuna had but one ticket in the field. The old officers were re-elected. License was not voted on, the town remaining "wet." Officers elected were: Mayor, Patrick Keeley; trustees, Gust Sylow, Oscar Carlson, John J. Petroborg; clerk, Gust Anderson; treasurer, R. H. Harte; assessor, Frank Buchanan; justices of peace, G. M. Sewall, Bert Suklow.

Barnum Votes Dry.

Barnum, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 48 to 33 this village decided yesterday to remain dry.

Willow River went wet, 35 to 29, M. Westholm being chosen mayor.

Moose Lake Township Dry.

Moose Lake, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—This village voted 56 to 53 in favor of separating from the township. The township went against license, 172 to 72.

Barnesville Wet.

Barnesville, Minn., March 10.—By a majority of 61 the "wets" carried this place yesterday, Dr. C. H. Patton being elected mayor by 62 votes.

Hill City Votes Bonds.

Hill City, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 89 to 42 this village yesterday voted for issuing $10,000 in bonds. Thomas Brusegard running on the Conservative ticket was elected president. Others chosen were: Trustees, Hugh Warren, Arthur Herrick, T. H. Hughes; clerk, George A. Hankerson; treasurer, R. L. Abrahamson; justices of the peace, Frank McShane, C. W. Sargent; assessor, John J. Healy.

Pine County Votes.

Pine City, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The vote on license in Pine county was as follows: Pine City, dry, 117; wet, 183; Hinckley, dry, 90; wet, 60; Finlayson, dry, 11; wet, 47. Sandstone, dry by 25 votes. The dry forces in Pine City gained 40 votes over last year.

Walker Dry by Eight.

Walker, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the annual village election yesterday the drys won by a majority of 8, the vote being 75 for and 83 against saloon license. The ticket went through as follows: President, Charles Kinkle; trustees, Olson, McDougall and Lavigne; recorder, R. A. Oliver and the balance of the ticket nominated at the caucus, there being no opposition.

Sandstone Remains Dry.

Sandstone, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The "drys" again defeated the "wets" yesterday by the handsome majority of twenty-five votes.

The officers nominated at the caucus Saturday night were elected as follows: For president, H. P. Webb, 155; James Carolan, 120. Trustees—James Mulholland, 144, O. S. Fredrickson, 153, Charles Edstrom, 153, James Robertson, 126, Hugo Wickstrom, 119, John Saunder, 118. Recorder—Chris Rudisuhle, 147; H. L. Bailey, 129. Treasurer—Oscar Asklund, 154; D. R. Russell, 121. Justice of the peace, David Russell, 272. Constable—Gus Gjertson, 164; Claus Freeman, 14.

Spooner Village Election.

Spooner, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village ticket won out without opposition yesterday, these being elected, license not being the issue: President, Joseph Meloney; trustees, Nels P. Olson, C. B. Minnick, E. T. Elde; clerk, A. M. Robertson; treasurer, Gustaf Erickson; assessor, for term of two years, George E. Ericson; justice of the peace, for term of two years, John Kyler; for term of one year, V. E. Lindholm; constable, for term of two years, Axel Red; for term of one year, Gust Pearson.

Jenkins Dry All Right.

Brainerd, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The town of Jenkins has two saloons which were ordered closed by the Indian department, March 12, voted "dry."

Karlstad Votes Dry.

Karlstad, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Karlstad voted "dry" Tuesday, 35 to 19. Bonds to the amount of $4,000 were voted for the building of a fire hall. Anderson and Ueterson, justices; Willie Peterson and I. A. Peterson, constables, and N. P. Martinson, assessor.

MONTHLY MEETINGS OF AFFILIATED CLUBS

Proposed By C. G. Selvig at Farmers' Clubs Gathering at Crookston.

Crookston, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—There was an important gathering of farmers' clubs members at the home of Superintendent C. G. Selvig of the Crookston school of agriculture today when Mr. and Mrs. Selvig entertained the Crookston Parnell club of which Mr. and Mrs. Selvig are members, and the Fairfax-Andover Social circle, the pioneer farmers club of this section. Following refreshments an interesting program was carried out, which included an address by Supt. Selvig.

Supt. Selvig proposed an entirely new departure in the work of farmers clubs of this section. He outlined a plan for an affiliation of the two clubs in session together and two additional clubs, steps for the organization of which had been taken.

Monthly Meeting.

His plan is to have at least one month, meeting monthly of the affiliated clubs, at which one speaker of prominence should make an address and it is planned to have President Vincent of the University of Minnesota, Dean Woods, President McVey of the University of North Dakota, President Weld of the Moorhead Normal, Prof. A. D. Wilson, and men of that caliber address the affiliated clubs at intervals in connection with other gatherings they may have in this section. The plan was enthusiastically approved and details will be worked out in the near future.

A feature was a fine address by Dr. John M. Gillette, professor of rural sociality at the University of North Dakota, after which "The Merchant of Venice" was presented in motion pictures, the Agricultural School band providing the music. The affiliated farmers clubs will form a splendid nucleus through which to propigate progressive movements in this section and the plan will be followed in other sections of the Minnesota Red River valley, through the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association.

BOARD'S PLANS UPSET.

Initiative and Referendum Enactment Worries Fargo School Board.

Fargo, N. D., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—The new constitutional amendment providing for the application of the initiative and referendum and making a new system of attaching emergency clauses to state legislation upset the plans of the Fargo board of education in the construction of a new school building.

Early in the session a bill was rushed through both branches of the legislature permitting an increased bond issue in Fargo. The board let a contract for a new building and arrangements were being made to push the work, when the announcement was made that the measure would not be effective before July because the emergency clause had failed to be passed under the new provisions of the initiative and referendum. This ties up the school building so it can not possibly be completed in time for the opening of the fall term unless the contractor takes chances on getting his money on the personal guarantee of the members of the board.

There are other enactments applying to Fargo that are also held up in the same manner. The people of this city voted for the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution without realizing the changes under its provisions and the confusion likely to arise.

JURY DISAGREES IN ACTION FOR DAMAGES

Next Big Case at Bemidji Damage One Against Four Saloon Keepers.

Bemidji, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Failing to arrive at a verdict, the jury in the case of Margrethe Johnsrud vs. Martin Sandmerk, Martin Tiegland and Gedeon Olson, et al., in which the plaintiff asked for $2,000 damages, false arrest being charged, was discharged Tuesday morning after an all night session. Court was adjourned until April 13 by Judge B. F. Wright, and when court is resumed there will be fifteen calendar cases to be tried, besides the court cases.

Of the calendar cases to be tried, the Klyberg case is probably the most interesting. Mrs. Klyberg seeks to collect $20,000 from four Bemidji former saloon keepers and their bondsmen for damages resulting from the death of her husband, Lars Klyberg, who was killed by an automobile while in an alleged intoxicated condition. Judge Wright has ordered a special venire for eighteen jurors for the April adjournment of court.

BRAINERD BALL FANS PLANNING FOR SEASON.

Brainerd, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local ball fans will form an organization to handle the baseball team this season. The committee of five to draft a plan for the promotion of athletics includes O. H. Johnson, chairman, O. A. Peterson, J. W. O'Brien, Fred Cook and M. E. Ryan.

Brainerd Election April 6.

Brainerd, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—Brainerd, having a home rule charter, fixes its city election April 6, when it will vote on license, on a business manager charter, on two amendments to the old charter, and for city officers. If the new charter carries, then the newly elected officers under the old charter will be succeeded by the new plan and another election.

ST. PETER PAPER FIRE.

Journal With Which Former Governor Johnson Was Connected, Scorched.

St. Peter, Minn., March 10.—Fire which broke out in the office of the St. Peter Herald Monday night damaged the plant to the extent of $3,000, which is fully covered by insurance. The blaze originated in the basement and is supposed to have been caused by defective wiring. Before noon yesterday the plant was in operation and the paper will be issued from its own presses as usual. The late Governor John A. Johnson was editor of the Herald more than twenty years. Essler & Quane are the present publishers.

MILL CITY SUICIDE.

Descendant of Cotton Mather Leaps Off Lake Street Bridge.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 10.—In full view of passengers on a crowded Selby-Lake street car and of a bridge watchman, all of whom were powerless to save him, William A. Mather, widely known Minneapolis man and a direct descendant of Cotton Mather, leaped from the Lake street bridge Tuesday and was dashed to death on the rocks at the river's edge.

John King, the watchman, after calling the police, went down to the river and watched the body.

Mr. Mather ended his life after a nervous breakdown resulting from hard work, his intimate friends said.

Mather was 57 years old, was born in Hartford, Conn., and was a direct descendant of Cotton Mather, according to E. B. Nichols, a lifelong friend. He came to Minneapolis in 1878. He first conducted a restaurant at Third and Washington avenues south.

FINE AITKIN COUNTY FARM CHANGES HANDS

Aitkin, Minn., March 10.—(Special to The Herald.)—B. M. Hungerford has sold his farm of more than 200 acres, situated one and one-half miles west of Aitkin on Pickeral lake, to Jasper E. Stonebraker, a St. Paul capitalist. The sale includes the stock, which was of a high grade, farm implements, etc., and the consideration was $18,000. Arthur Safford, who has been in charge of the place, will continue as manager.

The farm is one of the finest in Aitkin county, and it is Mr. Stonebraker's intention to make further improvements and expects to break 100 acres this season. Mr. Stonebraker and family will spend their summers here.

Train Dispatcher Dies.

Bismarck, N. D., March 10.—Glen Jones, well known in railroad circles here the past three years as a train dispatcher for the Northern Pacific and two railroads, died Monday at a local hospital. He came to Bismarck from Duluth, Minn., three years ago. He has been a train dispatcher in many parts of the country for years. He was born and raised at Chilton, Wis., was unmarried, and survived by four brothers and one sister. George C. Carpenter of Buffalo, Minn., a brother-in-law of the deceased, was present at the bedside and stated that the funeral will be held there.

At the age of 19, she married and the family emigrated to America in 1863, coming to Hancock in the following year, residing here continuously. Mr. Ruppe died in 1899. Mrs. Ruppe is survived by three sons, Peter of Calumet, and Joseph and George of Hancock.

WOMEN CAN HARDLY BELIEVE

How Mrs. Hurley Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Eldon, Mo. — "I was troubled with displacement, inflammation and female weakness. For two years I could not stand on my feet long at a time and I could not walk two blocks without enduring cutting and drawing pains down my right side which increased every month. I have been at that time purple in the face and would walk the floor. I could not lie down or sit still sometimes for a day and a night at a time. I was nervous, and had very little appetite, no ambition, melancholy, and often felt as though I had not a friend in the world. After I had tried most every female remedy without success, my mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and gained in strength every day. I have now no trouble in any way and highly praise your medicine. It advertises itself."—Mrs. S. T. HURLEY, Eldon, Missouri.

Remember, the remedy which did this was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For sale everywhere.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it? Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

WHEAT AGAIN SELLS DOWN

Market Turns Weak on Foreign News—Export Inquiry Slackens.

Flaxseed Advances Moderately, With Steady Buying By Crushers' Interests.

Duluth, Minn., March 10.—The market was listless at the close and quotations eased off on light support.

May wheat closed 2⅝ off, and July 2¾c off. May durum closed 1½c off, and July ½c off.

Oats closed ⅝c off at 53¾c for on the track; rye 1c off at $1.08@1.09, and barley unchanged at from 65c to 76c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ⅝c off at 63¾c bid, and July ⅝c off at 66¼c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.37¾, and calls at $1.46¾.

Weakness was brought about through lower Liverpool cables, and apprehensions that some of the Baltic states would shortly enter the war on the side of the allies. A decline was also reported in Argentine freight rates, and expectations are that the movement of grain to Europe will be more liberal from now on. Some headway was reported in the export inquiry, although the fair trade was said to have been worked at the seaboard. Export buying in Duluth yesterday was not upon a larger scale than at first credited. Another elevator concern advised sales of 400,000 bu of spring wheat and 420,000 bu of oats on top of that previously reported. Buying to cover a portion of those orders helped to steady the market here today after its initial break. Cash wheat was strong, the premium over May remaining at 3c. Durum sold at the May price to 1c over. Duluth operators are of the opinion that Eastern millers will require to do some scrambling for supplies later on. Practically all the wheat now afloat at Boffalo is said to have been disposed of, and the trade is now looking this way, leading to the supposition that the call will assume good proportions in the near future. The extent of the demand from millers at Minneapolis was attested in the sale of a fair tonnage there today at 5c over the May price for shipment from elevators.

That a larger proportion of wheat is being attracted this way is shown in the steady receipts at Duluth for the season. Inspections today came to 195 cars against 65 last year, while Minneapolis had 109 cars against 252 a year ago.

May wheat opened 1⅜c off at $1.48, sold off to $1.46¼, and rallied to $1.47½ at the noon hour. July opened ⅛c off at $1.44, broke to $1.41½, and rallied to $1.42¼. May durum opened unchanged at $1.52, and declined 1½c. July opened 1c off at $1.48½ and firmed up 1c.

Flaxseed Strongly Held.

Fair crushers' inquiry for flaxseed appeared and with limited offerings the market was firm through the session. May flax opened unchange at $1.86¾, and closed ¾c up at $1.87½ asked. July closed ¾c up at $1.89 nominal. September opened unchanged at $1.87 and closed 1c up at $1.88.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed ⅞c up at $1.87⅝@1.67⅞ bid and July ⅝c up at $1.69⅝ bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

As attesting the nature of the Eastern and export inquiry on this market yesterday, it is mentioned that sales of 400,000 bu spring wheat and 420,000 bu oats were put through by an elevator. Bidding for supplies to cover those transactions helped to steady up the market here today.

Price Current says: "The general conditions continue extremely favorable for the wintering of the winter wheat plant in all of the surplus states except Ohio, which reports some damage by freezing and fall drought. The prospects, considering the increase in acreage of about 11 per cent, would seem to give promise of the largest winter wheat crop ever produced, if we should have normal conditions from now on."

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "At the immediate opening there was pronounced firmness as a result of dearer offers, but later prices eased. American winters and Plate were both held at 9d advance, but there were small takings, and later Plates were offered lower and now is selling unchanged from yesterday. Spot market was unchanged, but holders were very firm, and it is believed that the advance has been too great, and this checks business. Snow's report as cabled was viewed with interest, and reports from the Dardanelles are quieter. Indian news is bearish and Indian offers larger.

Foreign crop summary:

India—Weather continues generally favorable for harvesting in the early districts, but in the late districts many complaints of dryness are coming to hand.

United Kingdom—Weather continues wet and seeding is further delayed; stocks are decreasing and arrivals are smaller.

Argentina—Weather is more favorable, being warm and mostly clear. Much wheat is arriving damp. Freights are 67s 6d, or a decline of 5s from Friday.

South Africa—The outlook for corn is excellent, and there will undoubtedly be an exportable surplus this season.

Greece—Stocks are light, and the government is distributing wheat as arriving.

C. E. Lewis wired from Minneapolis: "Selling today has been on further peace talk. The daily papers state the Italian fleet has sailed for the Dardanelles, but in view of the fact that there is no offical confirmation of this we do not think too much stress can be laid upon this. Should it develop that negotiations are under way which might result in peace, sentiment would undoubtedly break the market considerably, but on the other hand should there prove to be no foundation for this report in the next twenty-four hours the market could have another rally. It is simply a question of the notes received over night."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Tumble on Rumors That Germany Would Announce Terms of Peace.

Chicago, March 10.—Wheat prices tumbled today as a result of London rumors that the German imperial chancellor would announce terms on which Germany was willing to make peace. The market was also affected by assertions that shipping facilities for exporters were getting worse daily and that charters were difficult to obtain at any price. Scantiness of country offerings, however, helped to cause nervous rallies. After opening 1¼ to 1½c lower, the market suffered a slight further break and then recovered to a moderate extent.

Renewed selling pressure afterward pulled down the market lower than before with numerous stop-loss transactions 5½c under last night's level. Bearish crop reports had some influence in discouraging speculative holders. The close was unsettled at 2½ to 3½c net decline.

Weakness of wheat had a bearish effect on corn. Purchasing on the part of some of the smaller cash houses checked the decline. The opening, which ranged from ½ to 1@1¼c lower, was followed by a little additional setback.

The large stocks here and at other terminals preventing any important rebound. Closing prices were easy at 1c to 1@1½c under last night.

Commission concerns unloaded oats freely. Seaboard demand was not much in evidence.

Big receipts of hogs and the weakness of grain carried down provisions. Trading, though, was not of large volume.

The Carnegie Lead and Zinc company has been incorporated with a capital of $5,000, in shares of $5 each, to operate the property of the Calumet & Sonora Mining & Milling company, title to which was acquired through recent foreclosure proceedings by the bondholders. The assets were sold to R. P. Burgan at $82,000.

The following statement has been issued to shareholders of the Calumet & Sonora Mining & Milling company: "Mr. Burgan has organized a new company, a new charter has been obtained, and the new company will be known as the Carnegie Lead & Zinc company, with a capital of $500,000, which is represented by 100,000 shares of stock at $5 par value. An opportunity is now extended to all shareholders of the Calumet & Sonora Mining & Milling company to participate in the new organization, by subscribing for from 10 to 15 per cent of their holdings in the Calumet & Sonora Mining & Milling company for stock in the new company at $5 per share, to be paid as follows: $2 per share at the time of subscription, $1 per share in two months, $1 per share in six months, and in addition to your subscription you will be entitled to as many additional shares as you subscribe and pay for; for instance, if you subscribe for 100 shares and pay $5 per share, an additional 100 shares will be given you free. Should you desire to pay your subscription in full at the time of subscribing, interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum will be allowed.

"The company has a large quantity of ore mined which can be taken out at a very small cost, and owing to the very high price of zinc, lead and copper it is important that we should hear from you as early as possible. Your option to participate in the Carnegie Lead & Zinc company expires April 10, 1915, and your subscription must be here on or before that date."

EASTERN MEN MORE OPTIMISTIC

Predict Improvement in Commercial and Industrial Lines.

Eastern financial men are steadily taking more hopeful views regarding the business outlook, and they are predicting a broadening in operations in most commercial and industrial lines during the next two months.

Summing up conditions, Hayden, Stone & Co. of Boston say in their weekly market letter:

"There has been no particular change in the situation from last week, but the tendency toward improvement seems to have strengthened and intensified. The tension over the foreign situation has perceptibly diminished; no American ship has been blown up and the probability increases daily that none will be. The fact seems to be that each of the contesting parties is anxious to secure and retain the friendship of the neutral nations. In their anxiety to maintain a good moral position before the world, each of the belligerents is, apparently, going to be careful not to offend public opinion if it is possible to avoid doing so.

"We note that, day after day, American stocks are quoted in London below our prices. This can mean probably only one thing—that we have been absorbing these steadily. Really a process is going on without attracting scarcely any attention but which is of tremendous advantage to the country. We are selling, at almost fabulous prices, our produce and manufactures and Europe is paying for them in the only way it now can do so—by selling back to us our securities at low prices. The operation may have a restraining influence on the price of stocks for the time being, but Europe's supply of these is not inexhaustible and offerings, one would think, will grow less rather than more.

"The news during the last week from abroad has been such as to favor security prices. This cannot always be so. There will be times again, as there have been in the recent past, when the foreign news will cause apprehension and selling. But of the improvement in this country, and particularly of its growth in international importance, from an economic standpoint, day after day, there can no longer be any question. This fact, combined with a subsidence of domestic political disturbance must, it seems to us, rather outweigh the occasional shocks that the market will have to stand because of disquieting foreign developments."

TENDENCY DOWNWARD

Stocks Move Sluggishly During Greater Part of the Session.

Renewed Selling in Final Hour and Prices Yield Generally.

New York, March 10.—Standard stocks were inclined to greater heaviness in today's initial trading. Reading, Southern Pacific and United States Steel making fractional declines. Specialties moved irregularly, gains in Motors, American Linseed and Pittsburg Coal preferred being offset by proportionate declines in American Tobacco, Great Northern Ore certificates, Consolidated Gas and American Express. Traders seemed disposed to await the result of the New York State bond sale and the steel tonnage figures for February before taking a definite stand. Of the entire international list, Canadian Pacific alone showed strength in the London market.

Speculative favorites made full recovery by noon today, Canadian Pacific gaining a point. Trading was exceedingly dull, however, with no initiative from either side. Developments bearing upon financial conditions were mixed, but the further rise in the price of the New York state bonds on the curb augured well for the success of that offering. Missouri Pacific yielded more of yesterday's rise, in anticipation of a drastic reorganization by the interests now in control. American Tobacco's decline was followed by an adverse annual report.

Bonds were heavy, with severe declines in Missouri Pacific, Western Maryland and Iowa Central lines.

Prices rose spiritedly in the afternoon, Steel rising ⅝ above its early low quotation, although the tonnage figures were not up to expectations. American Sugar was unusually active and strong, and other specialties extended their gains of the morning.

Stocks moved sluggishly and with a downward tendency for the greater part of today's session.

Cessation of the buying movement in the final hour provoked renewed selling and prices yielded generally. The closing was irregular.

INCREASE SHOWN.

Unfilled Tonnage of Steel Corporation on Feb. 28 Was 4,345,371 Tons.

New York, March 10.—The unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel corporation on Feb. 28 totaled 4,345,371 tons, an increase of 96,800 tons over January.

RECOVERY IS NOW DEFINITE

Steel Trade Improvement at Stage Where Confidence Is Warranted.

Recovery in the steel trade has now lasted long enough to develop definite data as to the character of the demand, and there is much better reason for confidence than a month ago, in the opinion of the Pittsburg correspondent of the New York Evening Post.

He points out that the demand for staple articles of every-day consumption is now not far from normal. Wire mills are running about full, averaging more than 85 per cent of capacity, and the tin plate mills are doing even better than that. The call for standard steel pipe is said to be above 75 per cent of the best average. Plate and merchant mills are estimated to be running at not much less than 60 per cent of capacity.

Decrease Not Looked For.

"Particularly as spring is about to open, there is no reason to expect any decrease in the demand that the steel trade has experienced in the past two months, and there may indeed be some increase," he says. "There cannot be full activity in the steel trade, however, unless the railroads take their proportion of the output, and unless there is a fair measure of structural activity, in the erection of bridges and new buildings of various descriptions. Further development in the recovery in the steel trade thus rests very clearly upon the question of capital seeking permanent investment.

"In this analysis, satisfactory railroad buying is taken as between 15 and 20 per cent of the tonnage the steel industry can produce: The 500,000 tons of rail orders placed in the past two months represent a trifle less than 2 per cent of a year's capacity, while the 7,500 freight cars ordered since Jan. 1 represent about .4 of 1 per cent. Apart from rails and cars, the railroads have done practically no buying."

HIGH WHEAT PRICES INCREASE SALES

Bankers and Merchants Force Farmers to Meet Obligations.

Officials of the Northern Pacific railroad claim that there is an increase in the amount of grain held by farmers along their lines as compared with the same period last year, but there is said to be not as much in store as had been hoped for last fall because farmers were forced by merchants and bankers to sell in order to meet their obligations.

Commenting on the situation as it applies to the Northern Pacific, a Western correspondent of the Wall Street Journal says:

"There is some decrease in the amount of grain held in the elevators as compared with last year, which is due to the attractive premiums for good milling wheat and the high carrying cost. The following table shows the amount of grain shipped by Northern Pacific since Aug. 1, the beginning of the grain year, to Feb. 1, compared with last year, and the amount held in elevators and by farmers as of Feb. 1. The figures include the lines of Northern Pacific as far west as the western boundary of Montana:

Carloads.	1915.	1914.
Shipped	30,694	31,900
In elevators	3,614	5,185
Among farmers	5,340	4,034

"Shipments are smaller, but it is anticipated that for the whole grain year ending Aug. 1, the total will exceed that of 1914.

"Along Northern Pacific lines in Washington, Idaho and Oregon, from Aug. 1, 1914, to Dec. 31, 1914, 14,206,748 bushels of wheat, barley and oats had been shipped, compared with 11,772,874 bushels the year before. As of the first of the year, in that country on Northern Pacific lines, there were over 2,000,000 bushels more stored than at the same time the previous year. These figures are apart from those in the above table.

"As an indication of what the farmer has been receiving for his wheat, it may be mentioned that in North Dakota the average price paid at the elevators in January was $1.01 per bushel, compared with 73 cents last year and 69 cents the year before. Dollar wheat must spell, if not affluence, at least security, for crop raising expenses could not have materially increased over the past year or so.

"Every indication points to a big increase in wheat acreage this spring in Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana. Farmers are holding more wheat for seed than usual. An extraordinarily large proportion of plowing was done last fall. In some parts of Minnesota, the farmer completed as much as 75 and 90 per cent of the plowing last fall. Everywhere there are signs that farmers this year will use every available acre to sow wheat. The farmer is not considering the 'ifs' in the world crop situation, but is going ahead with plans to raise as large a crop as possible. The newly awakened interest in live stock, however, is not forgotten in the eagerness to plant grain, for Northern Pacific estimates show that more cattle and hogs than ever are being raised in Montana, North Dakota and Minnesota."

EXPECTS TRIAL TO LAST SIX WEEKS

Thaw's Attorney Believes That Much Time Will Be Consumed.

New York, March 12.—Although the prosecution had announced that they expected to complete today their case against Harry K. Thaw on trial for conspiracy in escaping from the Matteawan asylum, John B. Stanchfield, chief of Thaw's counsel, said that he expected the present trial and the habeas corpus proceedings which might follow it will occupy fully six weeks.

Thaw came into court with a gray sweater on. He had a stiff neck and a bad cold.

Last night his attorneys sought to have him taken to Bellevune hospital from the Tombs. Justice Page decided Thaw could secure needed medical attention in the Tombs.

The first witness was Howard Barnum, gate keeper at Matteawan. Barnum's story of Thaw's escape through the gate which Barnum opened to admit a milk wagon was identified with the one he told the police on the day Thaw fled.

On cross-examination the witness said he had talked with Thaw hundreds of times. He never saw Thaw exhibit a bad temper.

James Hickey, driver of the milk wagon which was entering the gate at Mattewan when Thaw escaped, and Patrick Buckley, keeper of the store room in Matteawan, where Thaw worked principally at typewriting reports, gave testimony corroborating Barnum's.

On cross-examination Buckley said he had talked with Thaw on many subjects and at many times. He had seen Thaw reading books on insanity, history, theology and considered him well informed on all subjects.

IMPORTANT VICTORY IS SCORED BY FRIENDS OF ELWELL ROAD LAW

Secure Postponement of Special Order in the House.

Governor Hammond Urges Passage of Efficiency and Economy Bill.

Lobeck Prohibition Bill Is Under Discussion in the Senate.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The friends of the Elwell road law scored an important victory in the house this morning when they succeeded in postponing for a week the special order on the bill to repeal the law, in order that they may offer amendments to the Elwell measure that will clear away the objections that have been urged against it. The vote on the motion to postpone was 69 to 56. The enemies of the Elwell law fought the postponement bitterly, declaring that it was simply a scheme to delay action and to gain time for lobbying against the repeal bill.

W. I. Norton of Minneapolis, who made the motion to postpone, said there was no legislative juggling in the motion, and that it was simply to give the friends of the Elwell law a chance to offer amendments to meet objections. He stated that a number of those who have been pushing the repeal bill have declared that if the Elwell law can be amended, they will withdraw their support from the Vermilyea-Anderson repeal bill.

Message From Governor.

Governor Winfield Scott Hammond this morning sent a vigorous message to the legislature, urging the passage of the efficiency and economy bill on the ground that it will make for a more orderly and systematic administrative structure, that it will curtail administrative costs and foster administrative efficiency. The message, which dealt with the measure at greater length than in the inauguration address, was well received in both branches. It was accompanied by letters from various state officers, sent in reply to queries by the governor and generally approving the bill.

WHY MINNESOTANS MAKE BEST BUTTER

Good Raw Materials and Sanitary Creameries Principal Reasons.

Mason City, Iowa, March 11.—John Sorensen of Albert Lea, Minn., explained to the delegates to the National Creamery Buttermakers' association the reason for Minnesota's success in winning banners at each consecutive convention for the last ten years at the closing session here today. Emil G. Oman of Delano, Minn., was declared to be the champion buttermaker of the country by the committee on awards yesterday afternoon.

The convention, described as one of the most successful ever held by the association, adjourned shortly after noon. The morning session, aside from Sorensen's address, was devoted to unfinished business and the awarding of premiums.

Mr. Sorensen in summing up the points made in his address, declared that the main causes that led to banner winning were good raw material, modernly equipped and sanitary creameries and "last but not least, skilled butter makers."

"I believe," he said, "that the state which has the most co-operative creameries as well as the most whole milk creameries will stand the best chance of bringing home the greater number of national banners in all future scoring contests."

Officers were re-elected as follows: President, J. J. Farrell, Carver, Minn.; vice president, J. C. Joslin, Hartley, Iowa; secretary-treasurer, Martin Meyer, Madison, Wis.

The convention passed a resolution favoring branding all butter made from neutralized cream and putting a tax on the same, also requesting congress to place neutralized butter in the same class as renovated and process butter.

Washington, March 11.—Secretary McAdoo went to a hospital today to be operated on for appendicitis tonight or tomorrow. The secretary was at his office early today and it was said no complications had appeared.

SCHOONER ASHORE OFF NEW JERSEY.

New York, March 11.—A three-masted schooner was reported to be ashore and in distress today off the New Jersey coast opposite Little Egg harbor coast guard station about fifty miles south of Sandy Hook. Life savers at the station put out for the scene. The identity of the schooner could not be ascertained from the shore.

WRIST WATCHES FOR THE BRITISH SOLDIERS.

Geneva, March 11.—Statistics on Swiss trade show improvement in the past few weeks. This condition is due largely to orders from England for quantities of wrist watches for the British soldiers, for condensed milk, and for various other articles destined for the British army, which are not classed as contraband of war.

OFFERS AMENDMENTS TO COUNTY DIVISION BILL

SAMUEL C. SCOTT, Representative From Hibbing.

DECISION IS POSTPONED

Amendments to County Division Bill Presented to Committee.

Bill for Track Scales at Elevators Reported to House.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Because the amendments proposed to the county division bill yesterday afternoon by Representative S. C. Scott of Hibbing were so complicated that they amounted virtually to an entirely new bill, the committee put the disposal of the measure over to an adjourned meeting tomorrow afternoon.

The proposed amendments were received by the range members Tuesday from the county division organization, of which Mayor Victor L. Power of Hibbing and M. H. McMahon of Virginia are the leading spirits, and were put in shape for presentation to the committee yesterday morning.

The chief amendment is that division shall be by an election—in the proposed new county only, though—instead of by petition.

The new bill provides that a petition addressed to the governor shall be signed by one-fourth of the voters in the proposed new county, in order to secure an election on the question of division. The petition is to give the name of the proposed new county, and to designate the territory to be included therein. The signatures do not have to be verified, but the person soliciting the signatures is required to take oath that they are genuine.

Form of Procedure.

This petition is to be filed with the secretary of state, who after satisfying himself that it is in proper form is to notify the governor. The governor must then issue a proclamation calling a special election in the proposed new county. Within ten days after the county auditor of the original county has received a certified copy of the governor's proclamation, he is to cause proper notices of the election to be posted. The election is to be held

KENNEDY WINNER IN CASS COUNTY FIGHT

Judge Wright Finds He Is Elected to Office of Sheriff.

Walker, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Mohler-Kennedy election contest involving the office of sheriff of Cass county has been decided by Judge B. F. Wright in favor of Kennedy, the judge holding that Kennedy has a majority of twenty-five votes, the final count standing, 1,217 to 1,192.

At the fall election Kennedy was returned a winner over Mohler by a majority of five, or, 1,228 to 1,223. Mohler immediately demanded a recount and that result left Kennedy with only one vote to spare.

The case was then taken up at a special term of court by Judge Wright. It has been stated heretofore that the case would be carried to the supreme court regardless of who might be winner in the end, as each is confident that he is in the right.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY.

Mrs. Ida Walters Arraigned for Murder of Her Two Babies.

New York, March 11.—Mrs. Ida Sniffen Walters, arraigned in the supreme court, pleaded not guilty today to indictments charging her with the murder of her babies, Loretta and John, by poison. Lorlys Elton Rogers, father of the children, pleaded not guilty to an indictment charging him with compelling Mrs. Walters to live with him.

Rogers' bail of $7,500 was continued. Mrs. Walters was led back to her cell.

BRITISH TROOPS, UNDER COVER OF FRENCH GUNS, TAKE NEUVE CHAPPELLE

Most Important Advance in North of France for Months.

Makes German Hold on La Bassee Nearby Somewhat Insecure.

Movement of King George's Army Comes as a Surprise.

London, March 11.—Under cover of the fire of heavy French artillery, British troops have captured Neuve Chappelle, 3½ miles north of La Bassee.

This success, including the taking of 1,000 prisoners and several machine guns, makes it the most considerable advance reported from the north of France for several months past. If made in force, it is strategically of great importance, as the position commands the road between La Bassee and Lille. Furthermore it makes the German hold on La Bassee insecure, and gives a base for operations for the straightening of the allied lines in front of Lille.

The movement was unexpected as lately the principal activity reported from the British front has been in the direction of the other end of the line near Ypres. The British now are within two miles of the furthermost point gained by Gen. Sir Horace L. Smith-Dorrien last October when, with one army corps, in an effort to gain Fournes, on the road betwen La Bassee and Lille, he forced his way as far as Abuers, two miles to the northeast of Neuve Chappelle, but after desperate fighting against tremendous odds was forced to retire.

MINNESOTAN AGAIN HEADS NATIONAL BUTTERMAKERS

J. J. FARRELL Of Carver, Minn., Re-elected President of Buttermakers.

GOVERNMENT HAS REPLY OF CARRANZA

Note to President, Sent in Code, Is Being Deciphered.

Washington, March 11.—Gen. Carranza's formal reply to urgent representations of the American government relative to conditions in Mexico City, the text of which had been made public in Vera Cruz was being deciphered today at the state department. The reply which was directed to President Wilson personally and cabled in code was received at the department late last night.

In his reply as given out at Vera Cruz, Gen. Carranza promised that foreigners in Mexico City would be afforded protection. His assurances to that effect, officials here confidently believed, would make it unnecessary for the American government to take any steps beyond those already taken.

Prinz Eitel Friedrich in the Harbor of Newport News.

Notice of United States to Move Is Mere Formality.

Ship in Sore Need of Repairs and May Get Them.

Newport News, Va., March 11.—Chased to the haven of an American port by British cruisers, the Prinz Eitel Friedrich lay at anchor, and her commander had received from the port authorities the usual notice to leave within twenty-four hours. That, however, was a mere formality required by law, for after seven months of sea roving, during which she sent eleven prizes to the bottom, the German auxiliary needs repairs which will take two weeks.

The neutrality board at Washington, it was understood here, had recommended that the repairs be allowed under supervision of an American naval officer. Whether the commander of the Prinz Eitel will choose to make them and then risk a dash through the British cruisers gathering off the Virginia capes is a development for the future.

The Prinz Eitel's band played German national airs today in celebration of Commander Thierichsen's birthday. Her 300 prisoners of several nationalities were gathered at the rails, and her German crew was cleaning ship, while the American port officials made hurried visits from the customs house to the liner for conferences with Com-

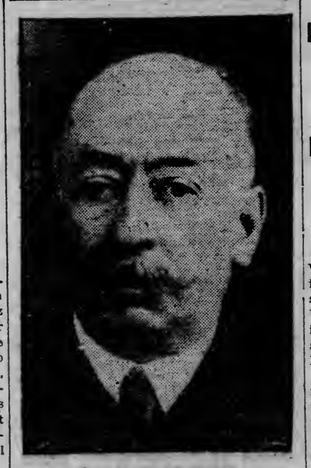
FRENCH WARSHIPS CONTINUE ATTACK

Vigorous Bombardment of Forts on the Dardanelles Is Proceeding.

Paris, March 11.—A vigorous bombardment of the fortifications in the Dardanelles, principally by French warships, was continued yesterday (Wednesday), according to a Tenedos dispatch to the Matin. A heavy fog prevented aviators from learning the results of the fire from the fleet but the replies from some of the Turkish batteries slackened perceptibly.

VILLA'S NEW MINISTER OF FOREIGN AFFAIRS



DIAZ LOMBARDO, New Minister of Foreign Affairs Appointed By Gen. Villa—If the Villistas Win the Control of Mexico He Will Be the Leading Member of the Mexican Cabinet.

NEW ATTACKS ON PRZASNYSZ

German Forces in Northern Poland Regrouped for Attack.

Petrograd, March 11, via London.—A regrouping of the German forces in Northern Poland and the commencement of a new attempt upon Przasnysz has been noted by the general staff of the Russian army.

This movement is being made in considerably greater strength than was the recent operation in the direction of Przasnysz which terminated in not only local defeat for the Germans, but in the general retirement of all the German forces in the direction of their own frontier.

The discontinuance of operations along the Niemen river makes it possible for the Germans to send a large number of troops from this district to reinforce the men advancing from Korjile in the general direction of Mlawa and Przasnysz. The forces in this neighborhood also have been augmented by drafts of the new 1915 recruits. Having accomplished a regrouping of the forces and leaving only enough men in the Augustowo district to protect the left flank of the German army besieging Ossowetz, an important battle already is under way on a long front paralleling the Narew river.

One of the German motives of this new alignment of forces undoubtedly is to strengthen their position before Ossowetz. It is not probable that in the near future the battle field in the vicinity of Przasnysz again will become the scene of new conflicts.

In the meanwhile along the Pilica river there have been occurring daily engagements of secondary importance in which the Russians would appear to have been successful.

Fighting near Gorlitza and Oujok, in the Carpathians indicates that the Austrians, after their defeat in the Stanislau district on their right flank, decided to transfer the center of operations to the left flank, where they have been successful in pushing forward slightly.

WILL ALSO MAKE DEMAND FOR DAMAGES

Searching Inquiry Is Being Made Into Destruction of Frye.

Formal Action Will Be Based on Result of Investigation.

Plea of Contraband Has Never Been Recognized as an Excuse.

Washington, March 11.—President Wilson announced today that "a searching inquiry will be made" into the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich. This statement was issued at the White House:

"A most searching inquiry will be made, and whatever action is taken will be based upon the result of that inquiry."

Discussion of the affair in official quarters was taken to foreshadow a strong protest to Germany against the sinking of the American vessel.

The contention of the German commander that the American ship had contraband of war, and therefore destruction was justified, has been set up as a plea in other cases but never has been recognized by the United States as the only justification for such action on the part of a belligerent.

The fact that the Prinz Eitel Friedrich was commanded by a German naval officer under commission from the German government, and the fact that no lives were lost when the Frye was sunk, transferred the case from the realm of criminal proceedings under the Federal statutes, under a possible charge of piracy, and makes it a subject of diplomatic negotiations, with the object of gaining reparation for the owners and a disclaimer of unfriendliness.

Damages and Explanation.

That the United States would ask

GERMAN FINANCES IN GOOD CONDITION

Fatherland's Credit Has Stood the Test of War Well.

Berlin, March 11, via London.—The Berlin papers today give considerable space to the speech with which the secretary of the imperial treasury, Dr. Karl Helfferich, yesterday submitted the budget in the reichstag, and it is evident that his presentation of the financial situation is attracting favorable attention.

"Germany's credit has stood the test of war better than has that of Great Britain or France," Dr. Helfferich declared. "Germany alone has avoided a general moratorium. French rentes have fallen from 12 to 15 and English consols about 7 points, while German 3 per cents have fallen only 5½ points since the war began.

"The Reichsbank," the secretary of the treasury continued, "has made a far better showing than has the Bank of England or the Bank of France. The Reichsbank has a gold reserve of 35 2-10 per cent of its circulation and deposits. Similar figures for the Bank of France show 31 3-10, while for the Bank of England they are below 30 per cent."

The unfavorable condition of foreign exchange for Germany has nothing to do with the intrinsic monetary situation, Dr. Helfferich declared, but resulted entirely from technical factors, such as the interruption of foreign trade and the fact that German balances abroad could not be collected.

According to the secretary of the treasury, Germany and her allies have a considerably lower war cost to meet than have their enemies, whose total daily expenditure amounts to almost 120,000,000 marks ($30,000,000).

TO JUMP OR NOT TO JUMP; THAT'S THE QUESTION.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

An important battle, of which only the barest details are given in the official communications of today, was fought in Flanders yesterday as the result of a British attack on German positions along an extended front. The French war office announces that about 1½ miles of German trenches were captured by the British.

No extended reference is made in the official report from Berlin to the new German advance towards Przasnysz, in Northern Poland, which Petrograd says has led to a great battle. The report says, however, that the German forces made progress north and northwest of Przasnysz.

The British plan for attempting, in co-operation with France, to stop trade to and from Germany, has been embodied in an order in council which King George signed.

Field Marshal von Hindenburg has made another of the swift and unexpected strokes which have marked his campaign against the Russians. Gathering a large force along the Prussian border, in Northern Poland, he has begun a new movement southward, apparently intending to strike again at Przasnysz, where the Germans recently met the defeat which preceded their general retirement in the north. An important battle has developed as a result of this movement, the result of which, it is said in Petrograd, has not yet been indicated.

With the diminution of activity in Champagne, the western battle front has grown quieter. The German military authorities assert that the allies have suffered a complete defeat in Champagne after undertaking an offensive movement believed in Berlin to have been designed to relieve pressure on the Russians. Desultory fighting continues in Belgium, but along the eastern end of the line, where there have been active and almost continuous battles, weather conditions have forced a temporary lull.

Paris reports tell of the resumption of the Dardanelles bombardment yesterday. It is said that the fire of some of the Turkish batteries under attack slackened perceptibly during the engagement.

Dispatches from both Newport News and Washington indicate that the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which took refuge yesterday in Hampton Roads, will be interned.

MANY WOULD BE AVIATORS

Applications to Join Flying Corps Are Already Coming in.

Only Two Officers and Six Men Needed at Start.

Duluth has several young men who would learn to be aviators, and they have shown so much interest in the art of flying, that the Head of the Lakes will probably have an aviation corps, as a part of the naval militia, in the near future.

Commander Guy A. Eaton of the Minnesota naval militia recently received a letter from Commander F. B. Bassett of the militia division, department of naval affairs, urging the establishment of such a corps, and Capt. Eaton believes that it will be possible to have two heavier-than-air machines for the use of a Duluth corps soon.

"I have had five or six applications for a position in an aviation corps," said Capt. Eaton this morning, "as well as two or three from Minneapolis. At the start we would be able to accommodate only two officers and six men, so it looks as though we have enough 'recruits' to start with.

"It is planned to send as many men as will go, to the naval training school at Pensacola, where they will be fully instructed in the use of the aeroplane. After a course they will be returned to Duluth and given the appointment as officers, should they qualify. As soon as we can show that we are able to handle the aeroplanes, the navy department will furnish us with a dirigible, and then we can add more men to the corps."

Officers of the navy, stationed at Washington, have started a campaign materially to increase the number of aeroplanes used by the U. S. navy. The European war has taught them a lesson, say experts, and they realize that there should be several hundred 'planes for use with the navy, instead of the twelve now enrolled as aids to the battleships.

SCHOOL OF METHODS IS WELL ATTENDED.

The school of methods being conducted this week at the First Presbyterian church is being well attended at each of its sessions, and examinations will take place Saturday, the attendance standing as credits to those taking up the work. Graduation exercises will take place Sunday evening at the church and certificates will be issued.

The course is being conducted by Rev. Gerritt Verkuyl, Ph.D., of Appleton, Wis., and Prof. George C. Fracker of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and the sessions, which began last Tuesday afternoon, are held each afternoon from 3 to 4:45 and in the evening from 7:30 to 9:15. Today Prof. Fracker will speak on "The Aim, Content and Method of Religious Education" and on "The Leaning and Place of Religious Education in America." Dr. Verkuyl will speak on "The Sunday School at Home."

WORLD'S KNOWLEDGE MAKES RAPID STRIDES

President Van Hise Tells University Conference of Its Rapidity.

Madison, Wis., March 11.—Accumulation of the world's knowledge in the last fifty years has far outrun the assimilation of the people in that time, due to the fact that the advancement in knowledge in the last half of the century has been greater than in the previous 5,000 years Charles R. Van Hise, president of the University of Wisconsin told his audience last night in the first national university extension conference at the university.

"To illustrate," President Van Hise added, "we know enough so that if that knowledge were applied, the agricultural product of the nation could be easily doubled. We know enough about soils to get that result and still have the soil improve in fertility instead of deteriorating.

"We know enough about scientific medicine so that if the knowledge were applied, infectious and contagious diseases could be eliminated within twenty years. We know enough about breeding animals so that if the knowledge were applied to man, the feeble-minded would disappear in a generation, and the insane and criminal class would be reduced to a small fraction of its present size. Even in politics we know enough so that if the scientific knowledge were fully used, there would be a vast improvement in the government of the country."

The university extension course was the instrument suggested by President Van Hise to prepare to apply the full accumulation of knowledge.

Vincent Also Speaks.

George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota, also spoke on "The University Extension Movement and Its Present Opportunities and Possibilities."

Speeches by Dean Louis E. Reber of the University of Wisconsin extension division; C. H. Tuck, Cornell; H. D. Mallory, University of Chicago; G. L. Sprague, head of the apprentice school of the American locomotive works, and the Allis-Chalmers company; I. W. Howerth, University of California, and R. G. Moulton, University of Chicago, will occupy the remainder of the conference.

DENY U. S. CHARGES.

Construction Company Answers Complaint in Immigration Case.

Attorneys for George B. Partridge and Fred A. Harmon doing business under the firm name of the Northwestern Construction company, International Falls, filed an answer denying all charges made by the United States government in an action recently brought attacking the company for the illegal importation of aliens to the United States as employes. The complaint brings fifteen causes for action, each charging the company with illegal activity in the immigration of an alien. Every allegation in the complaint is denied in the answer. Fryberger, Fulton & Spear and F. J. McPartlin are attorneys for the defendants.

IF YOU NEED A MEDICINE YOU SHOULD HAVE THE BEST

Although there are hundreds of preparations advertised, there is only one that really stands out pre-eminent as a remedy for diseases of the kidneys, liver and bladder.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root stands the highest, for the reason that so many people say it has proved to be just the remedy needed in thousands upon thousands of even the most distressing cases.

Swamp-Root makes friends quickly because its mild and immediate effect is soon realized in most cases. It is a gentle, healing vegetable compound.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is a physician's prescription for special diseases, which is not recommended for everything.

For sale at all drug stores, in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

Sample Size Bottle of Swamp-Root.

In order to prove what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy will do for you, every reader of the Duluth Daily Herald who has not already tried it, may receive a sample size bottle by Parcels Post. Enclose ten cents and send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Write to-day.

RETURN FROM THEIR JUNKET

Passenger Agents Say Appeal to People Was Effective.

Representatives of Four Roads Asked for Higher Rates.

Like theatrical men, circus people and those with large tracts of land lying idle, the railroad men are going into the publicity game.

James Maney, general passenger agent of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic, is back from his publicity junket with other general passenger agents. W. R. Calloway of the Soo, George H. McRae of the Omaha, and A. M. Cleland of the Northern Pacific were in the party and public meetings were held in which the railroad men came right off the pedestal of aloofness that has been popularly supposed to envelope the railroad men of the past, and talked face to face, heart to heart with the citizens of Ashland, Superior, Rice Lake, and several other places of Wisconsin.

On Mr. Maney's desk are samples of the press committees work in the campaign the railroads are making to convince the people of several of the Western states that they cannot make even a living, let alone a profit, with passenger rates at their present figure.

In the case of both Michigan and Wisconsin, the railroad men are working for favorable legislation directly through the people. The railroad men claim that they can convince fair minded citizens that they actually are in need of increased passenger tariffs, and that once the people are convinced, they will demand of their legislative representatives that the railroads be accorded fair and just treatment. For instance, at Ashland and Superior, Mr. Maney stated today that many of the prominent citizens were at the meetings and listened to the talks of the railroad men.

"Nothing to It."

In the language of Mr. Maney, "There was nothing to it," meaning thereby that the citizens seemed in favor of giving the railroads what they believed is a fair deal.

"The rate in Wisconsin was decreased from three cents to two and one-half cents in 1907," said Mr. Maney today. "The two and one-half-cent passenger tariff was in effect five months. Then the legislature took the matter in its own hands and reduced the fare to two cents, where it has remained ever since. The railroads at the present time are making an effort to have the tariff restored to a two and one-half-cent basis.

"There is no longer an air of mystery surrounding the operations of the railroads. In the present movement for increased passenger fares, the railroads are taking their case directly to the people, much the same as a man stands on his record in running for an elective office.

"The railroads have nothing to conceal; we believe we can convince the legislators, and are asking the people to compel them to grant us a fair hearing. The figures are open for investigation and analysation."

Not only in Michigan and Wisconsin, but also in Illinois, Indiana and one or two other Western states is the rather unique and thoroughly modern campaign of railroad publicity being carried on.

DULUTH HEN LAYS SIX-OUNCE EGG

The custom of selling eggs by the dozen does not meet the approval of Frank La Casse, 34 Brook street, Duluth. He prefers measure by weight—that is if all of his eggs are like the one he is now showing his friends. This is "some" egg. It weighs six ounces, is 8¼ inches around the long way and 7¼ inches around the short way. He doesn't think there was ever a bigger egg in Duluth, and if there is, he says he is "from Missouri."

LINDSTROM WANTS NAVAL COMPANY

Ninety Men Petition Governor to Be Mustered In.

Ninety men living at or near Lindstrom, Minn., thirty-five miles north of St. Paul, have organized and petitioned Governor Hammond to be mustered in as the Fourth division of the state naval militia.

Commander Guy A. Eaton and Lieut. Commander Clyde W. Kelley, both of Duluth, will make the trip to Lindstrom within the next few days to inspect the troop, preparatory to making a recommendation to the head of the state militia.

"Lindstrom, Minn., is near several lakes, including Chisago lake," said Commander Eaton this morning, "and it is very possible that a Fourth division of the naval militia will be established there."

The state naval militia now has three divisions, two at Duluth and one at Pine City, Minn. The Duluth divisions were organized Dec. 15, 1903 under order of Governor John A. Johnson, while the Pine City organization was started during February, 1913.

BAGDAD MINISTER TALKS OF TURKEY

Visitor From Orient Tells Cloquet Pupils of Conditions.

Cloquet, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The students of the Lincoln high school yesterday had the pleasure of hearing Rev. Mr. Paris of Bagdad, Chaldaea province, Asiatic Turkey, deliver a short address during chapel.

Rev. Paris is a native of remote Chaldaea province, being forced to leave his country because of war. He expects to return as soon as the war is ended.

In his native country, Rev. Paris had charge of a school of 700 boys and girls. His account of the customs of his people were very interesting. He said that the average wage would amount to 10 cents a day in American money, and that a person who could jingle some loose coins in his pocket was considered a millionaire.

Rev. Mr. Paris speaks seven different languages and although having only been here ten months he speaks English remarkably well. While here he was a guest of Supt. Peter Oleson.

BOTH WILL BE IN THE RACE

Evens Will Return to Make Run; Bernard Will Accept.

Friends of Two Candidates Will Conduct Fight in Their Absence.

Chris E. Evens, former alderman, will return next Thursday from California to enter the campaign for commissioner, while friends of William L. Bernard, former alderman and at present a member of the state legislature from the Fifty-ninth district, will work in his behalf until his return from St. Paul about two weeks before the election, when he will take charge of the fight himself.

These are the two latest developments in Duluth's municipal election campaign, which is now in full swing.

It was not known until yesterday that Mr. Evens would enter the campaign, although his nomination was filed last week by a number of his friends. He has been in California the last two months and only yesterday was information received as to his candidacy. In a letter to his son, Mr. Evens states that he will send his acceptance by mail before the time limit next Wednesday and that he will probably return the following day.

Although Mr. Bernard announced last Monday morning that he was too busy in the state legislature to accept the nomination tendered him by his friends and that he would be unable to conduct a campaign for the commission, it was announced this morning that he will file his acceptance within a day or two and formally enter the fight. His friends, including a large number of West end business men, plan to conduct his campaign until he can return from St. Paul about two weeks before the election. Mr. Bernard ran for short term commissioner at the election two years ago.

Up to this noon but four candidates had filed certificates of acceptance. They are J. A. Farrell and Commissioner Hicken, candidates for the commission, and John H. Norton and M. E. Louisell, candidates for municipal judge.

Fred C. Elston, campaign manager for Bernard Silberstein, has opened headquarters in the Phoenix block, while M. J. Murray, manager for J. A. Farrell, announced this morning that there will be a public mass meeting tonight at the Polish hall. The meeting will be in charge of the Central Hillside Farrell club.

Commissioners Murchison and Hicken expect to announce their campaign committees within a day or two.

CLUB'S ACTIVITIES WILL BE REVIEWED

Public Affairs Committee Will Hold Last Meeting Before Election.

Tommorrow evening the public affairs committee of the Commercial club will hold its monthly meeting. In view of the fact that this will be the last meeting of the committee before the annual meeting of the club, many important matters are due to come up for discussion and final disposition, and on the results of this meeting the annual reports will be founded. It is urged that there be a large attendance.

The meeting will be preceded by dinner, as usual, which will begin at 6:15 after which the business meeting will be held.

The last year has not been quite as brisk as former ones, but the lack of business dates only from the time the great war began, Aug. 1, and prior to that many things had been accomplished by the committee and its subcommittees, and many other matters of importance were under way. These will be reported on at the meeting tomorrow night and decisions will be arrived at as to what will be done in the matter of continuation of present and interrupted policies. The starting of the war by no means checked the club's activities, but had its effect there as well as in other things.

WOULD PERFECT TITLES TO LAND.

To perfect title to land purchased from the heirs of Susan Burger, who died twenty-seven years ago, Frank Carlson today petitioned the probate court for an order determining the descent of property to the heirs from the estate of the decedent. Mrs. Burger died May 1, 1888, and among other property left a forty-acre farm near Rice Lake, Minn. Carlson purchased the tract from the heirs. The land is located in section 7, 51-14.

The North & South Side Land company petitioned the court today for a similar order with respect to the estate of Robert Cobean, who is the record owner of three lots in Virginia, which the land company has purchased from the Cobean heirs. Cobean died in 1901.

LAST DAY FOR THE PROCTOR SALOONS

Council Will Canvass Option Vote and Close Town's Two Bars.

At a special meeting of the village council of Proctor, to be held this evening, a canvass of the vote on local option polled in the village Tuesday will be made a special order of business. As soon as the vote is officially canvassed, which will be at about 8:30 or 9 o'clock, the two saloons will close their doors.

The saloons have been operated by M. J. Sweeney and Henry Riley. One of the men has only a small stock of liquor while the other is said to have considerable on hand. Just what will be done with this stock unless the wholesale houses take it back, is not known.

The meeting tonight will be the last held by the old council, although there will be only one change when it meets for reorganization next Monday evening. The change is that of the president, E. C. Erickson, the incumbent, who refused to run for re-election. His place will be filled by C. M. Remfry, one of the present trustees. The new member on the board will be W. J. Greene, elected by a small majority over M. M. Lewis. The other members of the board are Noble Downey and C. A. Clement.

MAY CURL AT DAWN.

Western Club May Hurry Season's Schedule to Finish.

Curling in the early hours of the morning may be resorted to by members of the Western Curling club in order to complete their trophy games for the season. Only a few games remain to be played and unless there is a change in the weather they will have to be abandoned, according to F. H. Wade, president of the club.

"There are many of the members who can get out in the morning and play the game," said Mr. Wade. "For instance, this morning the ice was in excellent condition and remained so until about noon. We will try to arrange some of the games for the forenoon, starting about 7 o'clock. Doing that will give many of the fellows a fine opportunity of working up a good appetite for breakfast."

The ice at the rink was too soft to attempt any games last night. Games scheduled for last evening will be played tonight if the ice is in condition.

BUSINESS MEN'S COMMITTEE.

WEST DULUTH A "PARADISE."

Chicago Suffers in Comparison, Says Business Man.

West Duluth is a paradise to live and do business in, compared with Chicago or other large business center, according to M. R. Mann, manager of the Boston store, who returned yesterday afternoon from a two weeks' business trip to Chicago and Detroit. Industrial conditions are deplorable in Chicago, he said. "Hundreds of hungry men wait in line in the rear of hotels in hopes of getting small portions of food to eat.

"Until Feb. 1 business was said to have been normal in Chicago, but since that time it has been bad. Idle men crowd the streets, appearing not to have an aim in life. I probably noticed this more because it is something we do not see in Duluth. This community is certainly a paradise compared with Chicago."

Boys' Minstrel Show.

The Denfeld High School Boys' club will present its first annual minstrel show at the school auditorium tomorrow evening. Preparations have been made for the last two months and it promises to be one of the best ever produced by amateur talent in this end of the city.

There will be sixty in the cast. The position of interlocuter will be taken by Prof. Leon High, and the end men will be Leo Deutsch and Richard Duffy. A number of new jokes localized will be sprung, say those who are taking part.

The musical part of the program will include chorus selections as well as orchestra music by the high school orchestra of twenty pieces, under the direction of Prof. Hiestand.

West Duluth Briefs.

The Buds of Promise Society of the West Duluth Swedish Mission church will be entertained Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. Strandberg, 1116 North Central avenue.

Miss Mabel Ellstrom of North Sixtieth avenue entertained last evening for a number of her friends. Games and music featured the evening's entertainment.

The Mothers' Club of the Fairmount school held its monthly meeting in the school this afternoon.

Mrs. Otto Haller of North Fifty-eighth avenue west entertained this afternoon for the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's German Lutheran church.

A "Dutch lunch" will feature a "spread" to be enjoyed by members of the Mesaba tribe, No. 25, I. O. R. M., this evening at the Great Eastern hall, 210 North Central avenue. The feast will come following the initiation of a class of "palefaces" into the order.

Plans for a dancing party, to be held some time after the first week in April, were made last night by members of Non-Excelled homestead, B. A. Y., last night. A committee headed by Robert Burton will make the arrangements. The lodge also planned a social session for its next meeting to be held on March 24.

SUES RAILROAD FOR $20,125

West Duluth Boy Lost His Foot While "Flipping" Cars.

Damages in the sum of $20,125 are sought by Charles French on behalf of his 9-year-old son in a suit filed today in district court against the Northern Pacific Railway company.

On Oct. 3, 1914, John French, with other children of his age, were "flipping" trains in the vicinity of Sixty-first avenue west. John missed his footing and fell under moving cars. His left foot was amputated.

French alleges that the injury to his son was due to the negligence of the company in failing to keep children away from the cars. He asserts that it had been a custom of the children of the neighborhood to play around the cars without any interference from the railway company employes.

Robert Gilmour, engineer in charge of the locomotive that was attached to the train which ran over the youngster, is made a joint defendant with the company in the suit.

VOTERS WILL HAVE SAFE GUIDE APRIL 6

City Clerk Prepares the Ballots With Great Care.

There will be no mistakes about the ballots for the election on April 6.

Guided by the election of two years ago and the subsequent contests that followed, City Clerk Palmer is taking every possible precaution in the preparation of the ballots for the coming spring election.

On the red ballot for candidates the city clerk has placed the following special rules, so that voters will not make any mistakes and to avoid any possible misunderstanding:

"Vote two first choices or ballot will be void as to commissioners."

"Don't vote more than one choice for any one candidate."

In regard to municipal judge voters are warned not to vote for more than one candidate on first choice and for one only on second choice.

Ballots on the charter amendments will be of lavender color.

City Clerk Palmer is now receiving bids from the various printers on the printing of these ballots.

DRUNKENNESS AND CRUELTY.

Wife Says Husband Flaunted His Dissipations Before Her.

Habitual drunkenness and cruelty are charged against Axel F. Wall, 34, Hibbing, in a divorce action started by his wife, Nathalia Wall, 33, in district court this morning. She asks for a decree of separation and the custody of their minor child, a boy, aged 9.

Mrs. Wall alleges that on numerous occasions her husband has come home in a drunken condition and that at such times he has been abusive in his conduct towards her. Several times, she says, he has threatened to kill her.

She also alleges that Wall made a practice of visiting houses of ill-repute and then boasting of his expeditions to her. She also claims that he has brought drunken male companions into their home.

The complaint also cites that she is in constant dread that her husband will do her bodily harm. Wall has been cited to appear in court Saturday and show cause why he should not be obliged to pay her temporary allimony and suit money and why he should not be restrained from molesting her or visiting her during pendency of the divorce action.

They were married in Sweden on June 6, 1905.

PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST —AGAINST COUNCIL'S ACTION.

Property owners in several districts of the city are protesting against the action of the city council last Monday in refusing to order an 80-per-cent advance assessment for the improvement of Sixth street, between Twenty-first and Twenty-fifth avenues west. They claim the council is discriminating in this instance and have asked that the Voss resolution rejected last Monday be considered again next week.

At the meeting of the council last Monday, Commissioner Voss introduced a resolution authorizing an 80-per-cent advance assessment for the improvement of West Sixth street. Commissioner Murchison objected and insisted that the council retain the resolution adopted last fall providing for the improvement, without an advance assessment.

Commissioner Murchison claimed that the work might not begin for some time and that it would be unfair to the property owners to assess them at this time. The head of the finance division, however, declared that the refusal of the council to make an advance assessment will mean an additional issue of improvement certificates next fall. In addition, he declared that the refusal of the council to order an advance assessment will mean the establishing of a dangerous precedent.

The other members of the council refused to support Commissioner Voss and his resolution was tabled.

Many of the property owners have come to the city hall during the last few days, protesting against the action of the council. They claim that the owners on Sixth street, who petitioned for the improvement, should be assessed in advance, so that it will not be necessary to issue certificates after the work is finished.

MAKES LONG TRIP IN STRANGE LAND

Wife of Ely, Minn., Miner Comes From Italy Alone.

Unable to speak or understand a word of English, Maria Miraggia Signorini, with her 4-year-old daughter, came all the way from Italy to Duluth and will go to Ely, Minn., with her husband today.

A letter she carried had the address "Ely" on it but authorities at St. Paul, who saw the woman at the depot, misread it, and sent her to Elgin, Minn., in the extreme southern part of the state. Finally her difficulties were adjusted by Attilio Castigliano, Italian consul for this district, who was informed of the woman's plight, and wired authorities at Elgin to send her to Duluth.

Luigi Signorini of Ely, the husband of the woman, came to Duluth last night and will accompany his wife on the last stage of her long journey today.

After the recent earthquake Signorini wrote his wife and told her to come to America. Not realizing the difficulties of such a trip, the woman started out with her daughter and traveled for days without being able to converse with anyone, or tell them where she wanted to go.

Wets Carry Grasston.

Grasston, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—In a close contest the "wets" won here, Tuesday, the vote being 31 to 24. There was but one village ticket, the interest centering entirely on the license issue. This county is the first in the state to circulate a petition calling for a special election under the new county option law, and the indications are it will go dry.

BANKER HEADS CLUB.

R. H. Schumaker Chosen President of Bemidji Commercial Club.

Bemidji, Minn., March 11.—R. H. Schumaker, cashier of the First National bank, was elected president of the Bemidji Commercial club at the annual meeting Tuesday evening. E. H. Denu was named first vice president and George T. Baker second vice president.

Harry H. Mayer who, during the last year has been the club's secretary, was re-elected, as was James L. George, treasurer, both being retained in office by unanimous ballot. Secretary Mayer reported the club's membership now totals 160 resident members and thirty non-resident members, fifty-eight having been dropped from the rolls during the past year because of back dues, leaving the city, etc. Secretary Mayer has taken much interest in the work and has made an efficient official.

Nine directors were elected, eight being for two-year terms, as follows: James K. Given, Charles Cominsky, R. H. Schumaker, E. H. Denu, Montreville J. Brown, Dave Gill, Dr. C. R. Sanborn and George T. Baker. A. P. White was named for the one-year term.

The directors who hold over for another year are A. A. Warfield, F. S. Lycan, Graham M. Torrance, B. W. Lakin, James L. George and E. A. Barker.

Tame Baudette Election.

Baudette, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The village election on Tuesday was quiet. There was only one ticket and but 94 votes cast. Those elected were: Mayor, J. U. Williams; clerk, T. J. Clausen; councilmen, Dodds, F. E. Johnson and Paul Sanderson; treasurer, R. M. Skinner; assessor, J. W. Collins; judge of probate, Andrew Broyold; constables, J. L. Donahue and R. W. Ball.

SIGNS OF SPRING EVERYWHERE

Only Robin Lacking—Grass is "Getting Green;" House-Cleaning and Gardening in Sight—Window Shopping a "Disease"—La Grippe Becomes an Epidemic.

Nearly everybody these days is noting the "signs of spring." This in itself is probably one of the best evidences that spring is here. As nearly as can be learned there is now but one sign lacking—the robin. Perhaps the robins have arrived but they have not made enough melody yet to be heard around The Herald office.

The weather is too springlike to allow one to get into a mathematical frame of mind and to figure out just how many signs of spring have been noted, but many of these are so conspicuous that they cannot miss being observed.

For instance when a pedestrian going to breakfast at 7:30 a. m., finds small boys shooting marbles on the sidewalk, it indicates that the youngster has scented the spring zephrs. If the pedestrian is thirsty he can get a glass of bock beer—a spring drink. If by chance he should go to Superior street, he might see the pawn brokers dickering for winter overcoats—now a little passe. Window shopping, too, is beginning to become a passion with most of the women and girls, and it can readily be seen that the shop windows display nothing but spring styles. An epidemic of la grippe has seized Duluth from one end to the other, and few have escaped the aches and pains and "stuffed up" feeling that is spring's best barometer. The shoe dealers are putting their rubber goods where pedestrians can see them.

Grass "Getting Green."

The grass hasn't become green yet, but some allege that it is "getting green" in the sunniest spots. A few fresh strawberries have been seen by the wealthy, and a few of the homecrofters are taking down their spades and rakes and have consulted their congressman about garden seeds. The housewife is beginning to dread housecleaning, and her husband is beginning to dread it more. The wanderlust is beginning to seize young and old, and travel is becoming more popular. The hand sled and skates are getting irksome to the school boy, and marbles and mumblety peg are the sports of the hour.

Earl Kitchener's famous declaration that "the war will begin in May" was made when "K. of K." was unable to know that there was to be an early spring. Perhaps if the war was near the Head of the Lakes, he would say, "the war is on," because everybody is feeling the impelling force of spring.

SUPERIOR

CLASSES IN MILLINERY.

High School Girls Learn to Make Hats.

Classes in millinery have been opened at the Superior high school. Last evening at the first meeting of the class there were thirty-two applicants for membership. The work of the first evening was curtailed because of the large attendance, and now Superintendent Clements is looking for assistants who will volunteer to give instructions. It is expected to divide the class into two or three groups.

TO APPROVE NORMAL FUND.

Wisconsin Lawmakers Will Give School $81,500.

The state legislature will vote favorably on an appropriation of $81,500 for the purpose of completing the Superior Normal school, according to Clough Gates, president of the state board of regents, who returned from Madison last evening. This sum of money he said will complete the buildings now under construction.

NEW PLUMBING CODE.

Master Plumbers Approve New Legislation for Superior.

A new plumbing code for the city of Superior was given its first reading at the meeting of the city council last night. The code has the approval of the master plumbers of the city and has been prepared under the direction of City Plumbing Inspector S. P. Davis.

ATTORNEYS IN WORDY BATTLES.

The trial of J. O. Noughton on a charge of falsifying election returns is in progress in the district court in Superior. Several wordy tilts have occurred since the jury was chosen late yesterday afternoon. During the hearing yesterday, Attorney Crawford for the defendant forced Clarence Hartley, special prosecutor for the state, to show his official appointment from Governor Francis McGovern to conduct a vote investigation in Superior. The questioning of Mr. Hartley brought out that the state prosecutor was paid $35 per day when in court and $15 per day when not in court. Several objections were raised by attorneys for the defendant against the use of tally sheets and other records of the fall election as exhibits in the case. Special emphasis was laid on testimony that errors were found in every precinct of the city as well as in the second precinct of the Fourth ward. It is expected that the trial will continue to the end of the week.

Duluthians Released.

Cases against Emil J. Anderson and Carl Lindquist, employes of Duluth bakeries, who were arrested in Superior on a charge of peddling without a license, were dropped in police court yesterday. The men obtained the licenses necessary. The arrests had been made at the instigation of Superior bakers.

THE FLUFF OF CREPE DE CHINE

Nothing—not the soft silks of China, Japan and India; nor the fine linens of Ireland; nor the dainty cottons of England; nor the heavy, lustrous satins of France; nothing more alluring in the way of silk has ever been manufactured than clingy, yielding, sheer and lovely crepe de chine.

Crepe de chine is now being used almost exclusively for underwear—probably because of its durability, for, if care is taken in the washing, its attraction is as great after it is laundered as before.

And, because of its charm, it has come to take the place, with many, of the fine French lingerie, which was at one time thought to be superior to anything else of its kind.

In the columns of The Herald are to be found the daily advertisements of merchants who carry a complete stock of crepe de chine underclothing in all sorts of designs, and in all the soft shades of color. Read these advertisements for information interesting to every woman.

FORMER GOVERNOR'S SISTER ON STAND

Mrs. Clara Smith Aids Defense in Action for $50,000.

Mrs. Clara A. H. Smith, a sister of the late Governor Frank W. Higgins of New York, and an officer of the Higgins Land company which owns an interest in the fee of the Norman mine at Virginia and other valuable properties on the Mesaba range, took the stand in district court today as a witness for the defense in the $50,000 suit brought against the company by William J. Wallace. Mr. Wallace is suing the company for services performed as an explorer of mineral lands and confidential advisor.

Mrs. Smith and her husband, Frank Sullivan Smith, a prominent member of the New York bar and one of the officers and directors of the company, both testified that Mr. Wallace was employed by the company only in the capacity of a timber cruiser and that he was paid what his services were worth. They denied that he had assisted the company in any way in the matter of bringing about a settlement of the Higgins-Olcott lease cancelation suit.

The plaintiff rested his case yesterday afternoon. It is expected that the case will be concluded tomorrow. It is being tried before Judge Cant and a jury.

GOVERNMENT WILL OPEN BIDS FOR A DREDGE.

Engineers in charge of lake work in the upper district, under command of Maj. E. D. Peek, will open proposals for the construction of a four and one-half-yard dredge dipper dredge on March 26.

This dredge will have a steel hull and will be a modern dredge in every respect. It will be christened the "Col. D. D. Gaillard," and will be used in the upper lake district improvement work, according to Maj. Peek.

The bids will include the construction and delivery of the dredge complete.

PAVING WILL BE DEFERRED

Protest Will Delay East Superior Street Work Three Years.

More Than 80 Per Cent of Property Owners Sign Petition.

East Superior street will not be paved for at least three years.

City Assessor Scott announced this morning that 80 per cent of the property owners between Sixteenth and Twenty-third avenues east had signed the petitions protesting against the paving of that thoroughfare for at least three years. As but 25 per cent of the owners is required to cancel an improvement, the proposed paving of East Superior street will have to be abandoned until, at least, 1918.

About a month ago the council passed a resolution ordering the paving of East Superior street during this coming summer, but shortly after this action, the property owners began circulating a petition protesting against the improvement. They declared that because of uncertain business conditions, such a move would be unwise at the present time. The argument was also raised that the assessment on each lot was too high.

Commissioner Murchison endeavored to meet with the owners and explain the program, but they insisted on postponing the improvement.

During the last two weeks the petitions were being checked over by the city assessor and this morning the work was completed, showing that 80 per cent of the owners along the thoroughfare are opposed to the improvement.

About 130 were present. In the court-martial, N. F. Orchard was prosecuting attorney, Frank L. Bradley was for the defense, and F. W. Gunn was judge. The affair was very much enjoyed.

Munger Club Meets.
The Munger Improvement club will meet tomorrow night at 8 p. m. at the Munger school at 8 p. m. for further discussion of the proposed Chester Creek bridge and the paving of Ninth street. A committee will report on the bridge matter and property owners will give their opinions regarding the material they prefer for the paving. A Kenwood Park delegation will urge the erection of the bridge.

An interesting program has been prepared. Stereoptican slides will be used. No admission is charged.

Test for Land Law Clerk.
A Federal civil service examination was given today at the Duluth postoffice to fill the position of land law clerk. Only one applicant appeared according to C. E. Barker, who conducted the examination.

Discuss Improvements.
Commissioner Murchison, head of the public works division, met with about thirty Piloga street property owners at the old Lakeside fire hall last night to discuss an improvement program that the latter have outlined. The owners would like to have the street paved from Forty-third to Fifty-fourth avenues east and the commissioner explained the necessary procedure in securing petitions and the various pavements that would be the best for that thoroughfare.

Petition Is Sufficient.
City Assessor Scott announced this morning that a sufficient number of residents from Morningside park have petitioned for the condemnation of a right-of-way and the matter has been referred to the department of public works. The petitions presented about a week ago were being checked at the city assessor's office during the last few days.

Will Hear Protests.
On Monday afternoon, April 12, the city commission will hold a public hearing on the proposed vacation of several streets and alleys in the vicinity of Highland street, where the D., M. & N. railroad plans to construct a subway underneath its tracks. Yesterday afternoon the commissioners received a sufficient number of petitions from property owners favoring the closing of the streets and the hearing in April will be held to give anyone an opportunity to protest against the contemplated action.

BUYING OLD SHOE STOCKS

Strangers Cleaning Local Dealers Out of "Bargain" Offerings.

May Be Going to Europe or Be Made Over in America.

Virtually every dealer in Duluth who handles shoes had an opportunity this week to dispose of his old stock in a wholesale way, and as a result, many such dealers have absolutely nothing but new stock on their shelves.

Two men, said to represent a large exporting firm of New York, were in the city on the first two days of this week, and, it is claimed, purchased all available old stock from local shoe dealers. They paid cash for the shoes, boxed them up and sent them to New York. They would say nothing of what the plan is for the disposal of the old stock, but rumor has it that the shoes are to be sent abroad to countries now involved in war, and whose manufacturers have been unable to turn out the usual product.

The men who visited Duluth gave out enough to leave the understanding that they represent large New York interests, and that they and associates have been scouring the country for just such shoes as they found here. These men came from the Pacific coast and have been stopping off at different trade centers buying up old stocks of shoes and shipping them on to New York. Other representatives of the same concern have been in other parts of the country on similar missions.

Dearth of Bargains Now.
The term "old shoes" is a mere technicality, for in reality the shoes have never been worn. Only they happened to be out of the style prescribed for the season which has just passed and are, therefore, to the elite, passe.

Recently such shoes have been offered at bargain prices by the various dealers, and a good many of them have been purchased. In almost every instance, since the strangers were here, however, these bargains have disappeared. The latter got them at a lower figure than the "bargain prices" advertised, for the reason that the dealers were glad to have the whole lot taken off their hands without having to undergo additional expense of merchandising them.

The methods of the visitors were brief and to the point. In one leading store, which had one of the bargain sales on, they walked into the shoe department, looked over a tableful of bargain shoes and asked if the firm had many of these left. Being told that there were 103 pairs the strangers asked what they could get the whole residue for. They were told, but demurred, and offered a slightly lower price.

"You've bought something," tersely declared the dealer, and the bargain was struck.

These men wasted no time, but concluded their business quickly and left for other parts after shipping the shoes.

May Be Made Over.
Some dealers venture the opinion that the leather in the shoes will be used for newer styles—and add that to a man with half an eye it will be apparent that there will be but little leather in the new shoes.

"People think they have got the style of cloth tops," said he. "Well, they haven't. The manufacturers have started that style and induced the public to take it up because leather is in strong demand and cloth is cheaper to put into the shoes for tops."

However, the general belief is that the shoes are intended for European marketing, for those that survive must have footwear and little or none is being manufactured abroad.

WARREN INSTITUTE IS VERY POPULAR

Many Attending Gathering Being Held By Marshall County Farmers.

Warren, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Farmers' institute which opened here Tuesday is steadily growing in attendance and with increated interest and enthusiasm manifested. Not only farmers, but their wives, daughters and sons are present, and the ten farmers' clubs in Marshall county are well represented.

The institute leader is Charles Nelson of Litchfield Guernsey fame, who gives daily stock demonstrations, and is being assisted by C. E. Brown, who gives corn and potato talks each day. Typical animals are used to illustrate the stock talks which are given in a large garage, while corn, potato and grain exhibits on an elaborate scale are used by Prof. Brown in his talks in the city hall.

Special programs have been arranged for the ladies with Miss Bull in charge, the sessions being held in the courthouse, and these are all well attended.

Hold Joint Sessions.
Each afternoon at 1:30 joint sessions are held in the courthouse, the court room being packed yesterday when A. D. Wilson gave a splendid talk on farm problems and modern conveniences in the farm home. Following this representatives from all the farmers' clubs in Marshall county formed a federation of farmers' clubs for Marshall county by the election of Mr. Warner and Mr. Hillihoe as temporary president and secretary, and the appointment of a committee on constitution and by-laws to report at a great meeting to be held next June.

Last evening Henry J. Beardmore gave an interesting address on the progress made in the Minnesota Red River valley the past few years and what five bushels extra per acre raised by members of the Pure Seed association members meant, and the greater possibilities when all farmers joined the pure seed procession. This afternoon the joint meeting was addressed by Secretary N. S. Davies of the Minnesota Red River Valley Development association, who talked on the value of the farmers' club as the effective unit for the basis of practical development work.

BANKERS NOT WORRIED.

New System of Clearing Checks Will Affect City Banks But Little.

The circular issued by the Federal reserve board at Washington concerning the clearing of checks by the Federal Reserve bank at Minneapolis for banks in this, the Ninth district, have not yet been received, but it is not believed that there will be a serious mix-up when the interpretation of the law is learned.

Local bankers' views to the effect that if there is any derogatory effect it will be on the country bankers, seem to be confirmed, for that is the view now taken by the Twin City bankers, and something that the country banks would welcome. No bank is compelled to go in; the agreement whereby the Federal Reserve bank is to clear checks at par, which is the bone of contention, is entirely mutual and member banks do not need to take advantage of it if they do not want to.

Even at that, national banks alone are affected. State banks will not be allowed to clear through the reserve bank.

DYSPEPSIA OVERCOME

Tone Up the Stomach With Hood's Sarsaparilla.

When you have dyspepsia your life is miserable. You have a bad taste in your mouth, a tenderness at the pit of your stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn, and sometimes nausea.

Dyspepsia is difficult digestion—that is what the word means—and the only way to get rid of it is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system. Hood's Sarsaparilla, sold by all druggists, is the one medicine which acts on the stomach through the blood and also directly. Its beneficial effects are felt at once. Improvement begins immediately.

Hood's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, makes the rich red blood that is needed for perfect digestion, and builds up the whole system. No other medicine can take its place.

BOMBARDMENT NOT SUCCESS, SAY TURKS

Washington, March 11.—A wireless dispatch to the German embassy here today from Berlin says:

"Constantinople reports yesterday's bombardment of the Dardanelles was again unsuccessful and the disposition at Constantinople is still hopeful. Landing attempts from the enemy's fleets on the outer Dardanelles failed."

PROPOSED INCREASE IN RATES SUSPENDED.

Washington, March 11.—Proposed increased rates on livestock, dressed beef and packing house products in carloads from Chicago to the Mississippi river crossings and other points in the Middle West to eastern seaboard and interior points, including Buffalo, Erie and Pittsburg, were suspended today by the interstate commerce commission pending investigation of their reasonableness.

ADDITIONAL SPORTS

TWO CITIES AFTER OLYMPIC GAMES

Chicago and Cleveland Want Them If Transferred From Berlin.

Cleveland, Ohio, March 11.—The question of bidding for the Olympic games of 1916 will come up in council meeting here Monday. Cleveland's projected bid was knocked in the head by the award of the franchise to Berlin, but this franchise has been cancelled in favor of America. Councilman C. C. Townes is leader in the movement.

Chicago, March 11.—Alderman Ellis Geiger announced today that he would introduce a resolution in the city council asking that the mayor appoint a committee to try to bring the 1916 Olympic games to Chicago from Berlin, if they are transferred.

Will Play Indoor Game.
Employes from the city halls in both Duluth and Superior have been invited to attend the indoor baseball game between the members of the Merritt Utilities association and the Duluth city hall at the Armory next Saturday evening. The game will be followed by a dance.

Last week C. R. Pattinson of the water and light department challenged the city hall employes to an indoor baseball game and the offer was immediately accepted by J. Harris Trux, secretary to the mayor.

The lineup of the two teams will be as follows:

City Hall—		W. & L.—
Anderson	p	Gallagher
Burnett	c	Brian
McGhie	1b	Murphy
Schulte	2b	Bowers
Ash	3b	Olson
Brownell	ss	Beck

WOULD GAIN AN HOUR.

Ishpeming Men Favor Setting Clocks Ahead One Hour.

Ishpeming, Mich., March 11.—The Ishpeming Advancement association adopted resolutions favoring the plan of setting Ishpeming clocks ahead an hour. They were presented by a special committee composed of A. J. Youngbluth, George A. Newett and Charles H. Moss.

Upon suggestion of the committee the association will ask the council to take further action in the matter. One of the members said he had heard some objection to the plan, and he thought it would be a good idea to have the council submit the proposal to the voters at the municipal election on Monday, April 5. Other members present did not think this necessary, and it was finally decided to let the council handle the matter as it deems advisable. The resolutions will be presented at its next regular meeting.

BEDE LIKES MONTANA.

Former Congressman Acquires Some Land and Will Cultivate It.

St. Paul, Minn., March 11.—"What's the use of a man lecturing all his life when he can raise hogs the way they do in Montana?"

This was the question put by J. Adam Bede, former congressman, just back from Montana, as he unfolded a prospectus of irrigated land in the Yellowstone valley, where he has bought a quarter section in Rosebud county. He will farm the tract.

GRAIN DEALERS ARE MEETING AT MINOT.

Minot, N. D., March 11.—With 300 grain men in attendance, the fourth annual convention of North Dakota Grain Dealers' association is holding a three days' session here. The officers are: P. A. Lee of Pekin, N. D., president; A. A. Lane of Sherwood, vice president; S. W. Ukenholtz of Mandan, secretary, and E. G. Quamme of Finley, N. D., treasurer.

MAY HAVE PERISHED IN THIEF RIVER FIRE.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 11.—The residence occupied by the Copoleti family was destroyed by fire. The occupants had been away for a week and the origin of the fire is not known. An unidentified man, intoxicated at the time, was seen about the house and there are those who believe he accidentally started the fire and was burned to death. A search has so far failed to reveal his remains. A more thorough search will be made as soon as the basement is cleaned out.

TWIN TOWNS CLOSE RESTRICTED DISTRICTS.

Baudette, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The red light district which has been here for some time was closed this week by the local authorities. The action is final and should the parties open up again they will be dealt with severely. This applies to the two in Baudette and the one in old Spooner.

FORMER FINANCIER OF IDAHO IS BANKRUPT.

Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, March 11.—Bernard F. O'Neil, a former banker of Wallace, Idaho, and at one time candidate for the Republican nomination as governor of Idaho, filed a petition in bankruptcy here. He gave his liabilities as $508,145 and assets as $500. O'Neil recently was pardoned from the state penitentiary, where he served part of a term for reporting falsely the condition of his bank.

BILL RESURRECTED AND AGAIN KILLED

Wisconsin Senate Reconsiders Kent 8-Hour Measure.

Madison, Wis., March 11.—The assembly voted today to reconsider the vote by which last week it killed the Kent bill for an eight-hour day on all state printing work and after two hours' debate killed it again by voting 50 to 41. The Socialist contingent led the fight for the bill and it was opposed by Assemblymen Johnson, Pieper and others.

Assemblyman Budlong introduced a joint resolution to amend the constitution so that the supreme court can only declare unconstitutional by an unanimous court. It also provides that the court must approve constitutional amendments approved by a majority of its members.

Smith's bill to permit cities, towns and villages to provide free lunches for school children was engrossed.

Assemblyman Axel Johnson offered a bill today to permit counties in the state to decide the question of woman suffrage.

The senate amended the Brain bill appropriating $3,100 for an educational exhibit at San Francisco by providing that this amount be taken from the balance of the original $75,000 appropriation for San Francisco, which now is $15,762, and the bill was concurred in.

A bill appropriating $81,500 for the rebuilding of the Superior normal school passed.

Remer Village Election.
Remer, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following village ticket was elected here Tuesday: President, J. M. Gean; trustees, M. B. Patten, James McMahone, Herman Sjobloua; recorder, C. B. OFFERED PRIZES FOR HOMES FOR BIRDS

Bemidji School Children to Compete in Novel Contest.

Bemidji, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prizes amounting to $15 will be given to the members of the manuel training classes of the Bemidji high school and of the seventh and eighth grades of the school for the most unique and useful bird house they build. The contest begins at once, according to W. P. Dyer, superintendent of schools, and all the members of the manual training classes will be eligible. The purpose of this movement is to create a sentiment among the boys in favor of protecting the useful birds, and when the houses are completed they will be put in the trees in the parks, thes courthouse yard and school grounds. The lumber to be used in making the houses will be donated by the Smith Robinson Lumber company and the Crookston Lumber company, and the money to pay the prizes will be donated by Dr. C. M. Palmer, Charles Comisky, E. A. Barker, C. W. Brandbork and W. L. Brooks. The boys who furnish lumber for their own houses will have the right to sell the houses or do whatever they please with them.

Offer Six Prizes.

Six prizes will be given to the grade students as follows: First, $3; second, $2; third, $1.50; fourth, $1; sixth, two prizes of 75 cents each.

For the colony houses three prizes will be given. The first will be $3, the second, $2, and the third, $1. The work will be done under the supervision of A. D. Bailey, instructor of manual training in the high school.

Eleven Submarines Lost.

SELLWOOD TAX FIXED

Inheritance Levy Is Second Largest in St. Louis County.

Legacies of $1,000 Exempt; Ante-Mortem Gifts Taxable.

Heirs of the estate of Joseph Sellwood, Duluth banker and mining magnate, who died Feb. 24, 1914, will pay inheritance taxes to the state amounting to $56,178.50. Pursuant to stipulations entered into between the representatives of the estate and the attorney-general's office, Judge Gilpin, in probate court yesterday, made an order determining this amount.

The Sellwood tax is the second largest determined in St. Louis county since the law went into effect in 1905. The largest was $120,722.70, paid by the heirs of Mrs. Marie M. Owsley, who left an estate which inventoried at $2,632,584.98. The Sellwood estate, on which a tax was levied inventoried at $2,008,657.96.

The heirs, their inheritances and the tax each will pay follows:

Richard M. Sellwood, son, $984,158.83; tax, $28,449.76.

Mrs. Ophelia S. Leithhead, daughter, $74,354.15; tax, $1,283.85.

Mrs. Martha E. Sellwood, widow, $70,873.70; tax, $1,196.84.

Joseph Sellwood, Jr., nephew, $6,500; tax, $320.

No tax was imposed on $1,000 legacies which the late Capt. Sellwood left to his grandchildren. In determining the tax, the court held that certain ante mortem gifts were taxable. R. M. Sellwood and his two sisters paid their inheritance taxes today.

CAPTAIN OF CRUISER IS GIVEN FORMAL NOTICE TO LEAVE; UNDECIDED

mander Thierichsen and his officers, and held telephone communications with Washington about the neutrality questions involved, the diplomatic aspects of the sinking of the Frye, and the disposition of the prisoners on the Prinz Eitel.

Captains Complain.

The captains of the eight of the Eitel's prizes were permitted to go ashore, and they complained that they were not permitted to take their crews with them. Commander Thierichsen would not consent to their departure, and neither would he give up the ship's papers of the prizes he had taken. He contended that they should go to the prize courts in Germany.

Officials pointed out, however, that if the Eitel decided to interne, the problem of the release of her prisoners would solve itself, and only the German crew of the Eitel would be interned by the United States.

After Full Details.

Chief on the program of today's activities by customs men in connection with the raider's arrival here was an attempt to learn full details of the sinking of the American sailing ship William P. Frye, whose officers and crew were brought here aboard the German cruiser.

Birthday Celebrated.

Early today the band of the Eitel Friedrich was playing German national airs in celebration of the birthday of Commander Thierichsen, her captain.

All but port officials were still barred from her decks.

Collector Hamilton prepared to get a detailed statement on the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye. Capt. H. H. Kiehne of the Frye came ashore to make a further statement. He said the crew of the Frye would be brought ashore later to be questioned.

At 9 a. m. the Eitel Friedrich had been in Hampton Roads thirty-six hours and no signs of any intention to move were apparent. British cruisers were indefinitely reported lurking off the Virginia capes and a boatman who delivered papers to officers of the German cruiser declared members of her crew had told him the Eitel actually had been chased into American waters by British cruisers. Most of the survivors of the British, French and Russian sunken merchantmen, except some of the first class passengers of the French steamship Floride, still remained aboard the Eitel and a few on shore are in charge of immigration officials.

Officers Say Little.

"When I returned to the Eitel Friedrich last night," said Capt. Kiehne, "the German officers all seemed assured that the ship would be interned, but talked little. They were most concerned last night in celebrating a birthday of one of the officers and anticipating the captain's birthday today."

Collector Hamilton received written instructions from Washington to govern his course with the Eitel Friedrich and he at once gave Commander Thierichsen formal notice to leave within twenty-four hours unless reason for longer stay in a neutral port could be advanced.

"The German commander told me," said Collector Hamilton, "that he had come in for repairs to his ship. That reason was sufficient to prevent any summary orders from this government. Today I shall ask the commander for a sworn statement as to his reasons for sinking the American ship Frye. When this has been received I will take up with him the nature of repairs necessary to make his ship seaworthy. Upon that will determine how long this government will permit the Eitel Friedrich to remain in American waters without internment.

Asks for Frye's Papers.

"I have asked the German commander for the Frye's papers. He thus far has maintained that the papers must go to a prize court but has agreed to submit to me later today a copy of them. When the captain of the Frye asked for his papers, Commander Thierichsen told him, as he afterward informed me, that he had not conceded to the American master the right to the papers. He stated his contention that they should be sent to Germany. But he cheerfully agreed to have copies made."

As soon as Commander Thierichsen submits the nature of the repairs necessary to the Eitel Friedrich a report will be forwarded to Washington. Upon that will be determined the question of internment. The ship's papers of all the Eitel Friedrich's prizes also have been likewise confiscated by the German commander.

Stolidly Silent.

Officers of the Eitel Friedrich remain stolidly silent as to the operations of the ship in Pacific waters except to deny that she took part in any naval engagements. It is reported, however, that she also sunk the British steamer Schargost in the Pacific, and that she took coal from the French ship Jean, sunk off Valparaiso, Chile.

That at least three British warships were in pursuit of the Eitel Friedrich when she reached American waters early yesterday morning has been established. To the officer of one of the sunken British ships on board the commander of the Eitel stated that judging from wireless interchanges of the British ships, one was within ten miles, the other within thirty or forty and the third within fifty miles of his ship when he reached the three-mile limit of the Virginia capes.

No Aliens to Land.

Captains of the sunken ships and passengers from the French liner Floride, who were landed here last night, were assembled by immigration officials here, and a report was current that no aliens would have been permitted to land.

Capt. W. J. King of the British sailing ship Invercoe, sunk Feb. 12, declared:

"They are making a fuss because we were permitted to land. We are trying to get members of our crews ashore, but so far we have been unable to get advices on this point. I understand that word is being awaited from Washington."

Capt. Ericksson of the Russian sailing ship Isabella Brown, also anxiously besieged the custom officers for permission to remove the crew of his ship.

In the group of shipmasters gathered at the custom house were A. E. Dobbing of the British steamer Willerby and V. Leroux of the French sailing ship Jacobsen. Other masters remained within call of immigration authorities. The passengers of the French steamship Floride also gathered at the custom house.

Another request forwarded to Washington related to the disposition of 150 sacks of South American mail taken from the Floride, which still remains aboard the Eitel Friedrich.

Remarkable Cruise.

The cruise of the Eitel Friedrich, which is unequaled both as regards daring and success in the privateering record of previous conflicts, culminated in the sinking in the South Atlantic on Jan. 28, last, of the American sailing vessel Frye. The cruiser brought to this port the rescued crews and passengers of American, British, French and Russian ships, and lies at anchor, proud of her trophies of war, but in a state of mechanical exhaustion from the strain of her long voyage.

The cruiser began her scouting for the ships of enemies of the fatherland at Tsing Tau, China, last November, under Commander Thierichens, who admitted the sinking of eight merchant ships, three British, three French, one Russian and one American. The sinking of the American ship, the William P. Frye, a sailing vessel bound from Seattle to Queenstown with 5,200 tons of wheat most concerned American port officials here.

Ships Sunk.

The list of ships sunk by the German ship is as follows:

British sailing ship Invercoe, W. J. King, master; crew 23. Owner, Inver line of Aberdeen, Scotland. Sunk Feb. 12.

British steamship Mary Ada Short, A. E. Dobbing, master; crew 28. Owner, James Westoll of Sunderland, England. Sunk Feb. 18.

French steamship Floride, Monnsion, master; crew 78; passengers 86. Owners, Compagnie Generale Transatlantique. Sunk Feb. 19.

British steamship Willerby, J. Wedgewood, master; crew 27. Owners, Ropner & Co., of West Hartlepool. Sunk Feb. 20.

Russian sailing ship Isadro, Ismidar Erickson, master; crew 13. Sunk Jan. 27.

French sailing ship Pierre Loti, Transmichant master, crew twenty-four. Society Nouvelle Darmoment of Nantes, France, owners. Sunk July 27.

An American sailing ship, William P. Frye, H. H. Kiehne master, crew thirty-one. Owner Arthur Sewall & Co. of Bath, Maine, sunk Jan. 28. Cargo of wheat from Seattle to Queenstown, England for orders, declared to be contraband by German cruiser.

French sailing ship Jacobsen; V. Leroux master, crew twenty-three. Society Les Voilers Dunqueques, France. Sunk Jan. 28.

Tells Dramatic Story.

H. H. Kiehne of Baltimore, master of the Frye, after leaving the Eitel Friedrich with customs Collector Hamilton today, told a dramatic story of his experience. With him were his wife and two children.

"Despite my protestations that I was the American master of an American ship, the German cruiser Eitel Friedrich sank the Frye Jan. 28, blowing a gaping hole through her side with a charge of dynamite," said Capt. Kiehne.

"I was almost becalmed when the German ship appeared about 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Jan. 27. My ship was barely moving and I paid no attention to the first order from the Dutchman to lay to. However, she bore down on me, and I brought my craft to a standstill. After learning that I carried a cargo of wheat, the German captain told me that it was contraband and he intended to destroy it. I protested, but no attention was paid to my statements.

"A German officer and squad of men were sent aboard the bark and I and my crew were set to work throwing the grain overboard. The German commander sighted another vessel, also becalmed, and made for her. He returned about 10 o'clock at night, having sent the other ship to the bottom, as I afterward ascertained.

Sent to Bottom.

"Evidently the grain was not being thrown overboard fast enough to suit the German skipper, for he sent a half hundred of his men aboard soon afterward and the work went on for hours without interruption. However, it was slow at best, and I was informed about 2 o'clock next morning that my ship would be sent to the bottom, which was done in the manner described.

"It was originally the intention of the German captain to leave enough of the cargo in the hold of the ship for ballast. That part of the grain was to be rendered useless by salt water. As soon as I was informed that my ship was to be sent to the bottom, I, my wife and two boys, and the crew made for the German cruiser in our boats. We were taken aboard and shown every courtesy throughout the remainder of the voyage.

"For two weeks before making this port, the German ship molested no ships of any kind and avoided them, not wishing to give the English cruisers any wind of her intentions. She proceeded slowly up the coast, all lights that were not out being carefully shielded.

Tuesday night, while nearing the capes the wireless apparatus on board the Eitel informed us that there were four English warships in our immediate vicinity, two of which seemed very close. However, we eluded them."

English Ships About.

An officer of the German cruiser stated that a black hulk was seen in the darkness about the time the wireless gave notice of the proximity of the Englishmen. Many were of the opinion that it was one of the English ships.

Captain Kiehne, asked about other matters, said:

"The Eitel captured three ships on the kaiser's birthday, the day on which the American bark was overhauled."

The William P. Frye of Bath, Maine, was owned by the Arthur Sewall company. When overhauled by the German cruiser, she was bound from Seattle to Queenstown, with a cargo of wheat for orders. The skipper's wife said today she and the children were frightened when overtaken by the German cruiser, but that her fears were allayed when she went aboard the cruiser, the officers and men making every effort to give them all possible comforts.

As soon as the Eitel Friedrich had anchored here, Collector Hamilton and aides visited the ship, and first class passengers from the French passenger steamer Floride together with the captains of the Eitel destroyed vessels were brought to Newport News. With them were several officers of the German vessel, among them the chief paymaster, August Lousseau.

Over 500 on Board.

When she reached this port the cruiser had on board more than 500 persons, 342 of the crews and passengers of destroyed vessels and her own crew of about 200.

Asked why the Eitel Friedrich left the Pacific ocean Paymaster Lousseau said:

"Because we found so little to do. We were after merchantmen and for days we cruised about and saw nothing. When we reached the South Atlantic we had better luck. We were surprised not to find British warships in the Atlantic. It is true we heard British wireless talking and we were glad of that because, until fourteen days ago, we had no news. We got considerable from British wireless, but the trouble was it was all from the English side.

Capt. Thierichens reported no deaths had occurred on board since the voyage began.

Capt. Kiehne of the Frye in a supplemental statement, after his talk with Collector Hamilton, said his ship was valued with its supplies at about $260,000 and that the cargo of wheat was worth $600,000.

lines at Augustowo, while the battle of Ostrolenko continues. According to this information, which is from official sources, the fighting to the northwest and west of Przasnysz is developing favorably for the Germans.

The British admiralty continues silent concerning the operations in the Dardanelles, but reports given out in France set forth that armored ships have penetrated the narrows of the straits. It is not considered likely, however, that the attack will be pressed until land forces occupy both sides of the straits. That such land forces are almost ready for this task is indicated by the report that a great French transport fleet has been sighted off Malta.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 11, by wireless to Sayville.—The German war office today gave out a report on the progress of the war dated March 11, which reads as follows:

"An English aviator has thrown bombs on the town of Menin, in West Flanders. Only one of his missiles exploded and this killed seven and wounded ten Belgians.

"The British yesterday attacked the German positions near Neuve Chappelle. At some points they entered the village. The fighting here still continues. The British advance near Givenchy has been repulsed.

"In the Champagne district the French have delivered two attacks against the positions in the forest east of Souain which they lost to us the day before yesterday. Both these attacks were repulsed and the losses of the enemy were heavy.

"In the Vosges the conflict for the possession of the Reich Ackenkopf was resumed yesterday.

"To the west of Serje (to the northwest of Augustowo) we took 600 Russian prisoners and captured three guns and two machine guns.

"A fresh Russian attempt to break through the German lines to the south of Augustowo resulted in the annihilation of the Russian forces used in this endeavor.

"In an engagement to the northwest of Ostrolenka the Germans were victorious; six Russian officers and 900 soldiers were taken prisoners, while eight machine guns were captured.

"The German attacks to the north and to the northwest of Przasnysz have made further progress.

"In the fighting to the northwest of Novomiasto, 1,680 more Russian prisoners have been made by us."

French Statement.

Paris, March 1, via London, 3:45 p. m. —The capture of a long stretch of German positions in Flanders is announced in the official report given out this afternoon at the war office. The report follows:

"A British attack yesterday resulted in the capture of 2,500 meters (nearly one and one-half miles) of trenches before Neuve Chapelle (Flanders) and of the village itself. It progressed in the direction of Aubers as far as Pietre Mill, and in a southwesterly direction as far as the northern border of Bois du Dublez; that is to say, a distance of about two kilometers beyond Neuve Chapelle. The German artillery fired only a few shots.

"As regards the rest of the front, there is nothing to add to yesterday evening's communication."

SANDSTONE DEFEATS SEPARATION SCHEME.

Sandstone, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the town election Tuesday, the proposition of separating the town from the village of Sandstone lost by 59 votes. The vote on license also lost in the town of Sandstone, so both town and village now in the "dry" column. The total vote cast was 281.

Has Strange Delusion.

Yankton, S. D., March 11.—Captain Richard Smith, who came here from Norfolk, Neb., and has been in Salvation Army rescue and Sunday school work here for a year, has become suddenly insane. He believes himself Christ, and will wear no clothes nor eat. Mrs. Smith is also believed to be mentally affected. Both were popular and have done great good here.

DULUTH MASONS VISIT SUPERIOR

About 200 Cross Bay: Musical Program Is Rendered.

Nearly 200 Duluth Masons accompanied the Temple band on its pilgrimage to the Superior lodge last evening.

The entertainment was in charge of the blue lodges in Superior and the members of the band were the honor guests of the evening. Under the direction of Charles Helmer, the local musicians played a program of music up to 9:30 o'clock, after which refreshments were served in the large dining hall to the visitors.

During the supper Mr. Helmer rendered two cornet solos and the Superior Masonic quartet, consisting of Dr. F. W. Spicer, Thomas G. Lee, S. T. Johnson and H. A. Lyons, sang several numbers.

This is the first time that the Temple band has visited any lodge outside of Duluth and so successful was the pilgrimage last night that similar visits to range cities and nearby towns are now being contemplated by the local musicians.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle.

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective.

They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

WILL CO-OPERATE IN BUYING GOODS

Hermantown Farmers Will Test Plan During Next Season.

Co-operative buying of farm implements, feed and flour will be the experimental stage of co-operation between farmers of Hermantown this year and ultimately is to extend to large operations among the farmers of the district, according to one of the leading farmers. The move will ultimately result in the erection of the co-operative creamery to be located near Five Corners.

At a meeting of farmers held recently at the home of W. W. Johnson, an agreement was reached that for at least a year all implements purchased for the farm would be secured through this organization, and that in addition to the implements, feed and flour would be purchased in this manner.

Upon the success of this organization depends the success of organizing the co-operative creamery company. Later both will be handled by the same organization, and afterwards it is probable that it will extend further and include groceries, household necessities and general merchandise.

Farmers of the district have promised liberal support to the plan, many of them having subscribed for stock in the co-operative association. It is not probable that the creamery will be decided on until late this spring.

TRACTION MEN TO HAVE "NIGHT OFF"

Employes Will Attend First Annual Banquet and Dance.

Street railway conductors and motormen and other employes of the Duluth Street Railway company will take a "night off" this evening. As many as can lay off without crippling the service will attend their first annual banquet at the Rex hotel and the dancing party to follow at the Woodmen hall.

Fully half of the employes are planning to attend the "blowout" according to a statement made by members of the committee. The affair is the first of its kind held in the annals of the company, and those back of it say that hereafter similar affairs will be held yearly.

The banquet will be served promptly at 8:30 o'clock at the hotel. An orchestra will supply music during the meal, and little time is to be taken after the banquet for speech-making. It is intimated that a short address will be made by one or possibly two of the officials, but that the men will not be detained long from the affair at the Woodmen hall.

CLUB WILL BOOST FOR SILBERSTEIN

"The Business Basis" club organized two weeks ago for the purpose of furthering the candidacy of Bernard Silberstein for commissioner has called a meeting this evening to formulate plans to carry on the campaign. The meeting will be held at the Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and first street.

It is probable that the club will also indorse Bert Farrell for commissioner, and will work for the election of both, this spring.

A similar meeting will be held in West Duluth at the Moose hall, where a Farrell-Silberstein club will be organized by those opposed to the present commissioners.

CONTRADICTS PASTOR RUSSELL.

Rev. J. M. Nervig Says No Date Can Be Set for Millennium.

"It will not help the people one iota to know what will become of the soul after death, but the thing is to get right with God now," said Rev. J. M. Nervig, pastor of the Zion Norwegian Lutheran church last night in a lecture dealing with a sermon given recently by Pastor Russell in this city. Rev. Mr. Nervig spoke on various phases of the sermon and contradicted many of its points by referring to the scriptures.

The speaker said that it is impossible to set any date for the millenium, which, he said, had been attempted by Pastor Russell. The Bible, said Rev. Mr. Nervig, shows in no place where any date or period might be construed as meaning the end of the world.

The pastor spoke before one of the largest audiences that has attended mid-week services in the church. The subject was of special interest to many who had attended the sermon preached by Pastor Russell.

TRACTION CO. IS UNDECIDED

New Duluth Extension Depends on Conditions, Says Warren.

Council Orders Double-Track Line; Will Prepare Roadway.

Construction of the double-track street car line to New Duluth by Dec. 1 next, as ordered yesterday afternoon by the city council, will depend on the condition of the roadway, the money market, the resumption of work at the steel plant and other important matters, which the officials of the Duluth Street Railway company must consider, according to Herbert Warren, vice president of the company.

No Definite Answer Yet.

"We cannot give a definite answer at this time," declared Mr. Warren this morning. "The people of Duluth realize that such an undertaking must depend on conditions, and although we were ready two years ago to go ahead with the construction of the extension, things have changed since. At that time the roadway was in no shape for the laying of tracks, and as I understand the situation at present, it will take until late in the summer to get the highway ready for the tracks.

"The Northern Pacific road has not yet started on its subway, and, of course, that will delay the work of opening the highway to traffic, to say nothing of preparing it for tracks. In addition, we must consider business conditions and the fact that the construction work on the steel plant is halted.

"The council passed a similar order two years ago, and if it had not been for the franchise suit, Duluth would probably have had the street car extension in operation at the present time. We certainly cannot build this summer, unless conditions are favorable.

"The company will not give a definite answer one way or the other, nor will it take any action on the council's resolution at the present time."

Considered for Some Time.

The resolution ordering the completion and operation of the street car extension to the steel plant by Dec. 1 was introduced by Mayor Prince at the special meeting of the council yesterday afternoon. This action has been under consideration by the commissioners for some time, although it had been planned not to take any official steps until work was started on the New Duluth highway early this spring.

The necessity of the street car line is explained in the resolution, which states that it has been demanded by the public for many years. The route to be followed by the car line is outlined in the resolution in this manner: "Commencing at the present terminals of the tracks of the Duluth Street Railway company on Grand avenue, near Seventy-first avenue west, thence on Grand avenue to the intersection with Commonwealth avenue, thence along Commonwealth avenue to its intersection with Zimmerly avenue, thence along Zimmerly avenue to the intersection with Commonwealth avenue, thence along Commonwealth avenue to McCuen street.

"There is no reason why the extension should not be built now," declared Mayor Prince. "Labor is cheap and plentiful. Money also is very cheap. The company has had rails for the extension piled along the route for a number of years. I see no reason why there should be further delay in getting the needed improvement under way."

Prepare Road for Tracks.

Mayor Prince announced after the meeting that the city would start at once on the improvement of the highway and preparing it for the laying of tracks. He said this morning that the work will be finished early this summer and that the street car company will have ample time in which to lay the tracks and have them in operation by Dec. 1.

Two years ago the commission took similar action, but at that time officials of the company refused to construct the extension, because of the franchise suit pending in the state courts. However, this suit was recently settled and validity of the franchise established.

TRAVELING MAN DIES.

A. A. McDonald, Twenty Years a Resident of Duluth, Passes Away.

A. A. McDonald, for twenty years a citizen of Duluth, died yesterday at his home, 4136 Minnesota avenue, after an illness of three days of pneumonia. He was 55 years of age.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, pending the arrival from Santa Clara, Cal., of Mrs. McDonald. She is expected to reach Duluth Saturday morning. Services will be held from Sacred Heart cathedral, with interment at Calvary cemetery.

Mr. McDonald was a well known traveling man on the range for fifteen years. For five years he has been with a St. Paul wholesale grocery house.

He is survived by two brothers, Roderick of St. Charles, Iowa, and Donald of Flagstaff, Ariz.; a sister, Mrs. W. M Reynolds of Seattle, Wash., and a cousin, John M. McDonald of Duluth.

Practical Prescription Against Stomach Acidity

Nine-tenths of all cases of stomach trouble nowadays are caused by too much acid. In the beginning the stomach itself is not diseased but if this acid condition is allowed to continue, the acid is very likely to eat into the stomach walls and produce stomach ulcers which may render a radical surgical operation necessary even to prolong life. Therefore, an "acid stomach" is really a dangerous condition and should be treated seriously. It is utterly useless to take pepsin and ordinary stomach tablets. The excess acid or stomach hyperacidity must be neutralized by the administration of an efficient antacid. For this purpose the best remedy is bisurated magnesia taken in teaspoonful doses in a fourth of a glass of water after each meal. Larger quantities may be used if necessary as it is absolutely harmless. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bisurated magnesia as other forms of magnesia make effective mouth washes but they lare not the same action on the stomach as the bisurated.

PLANNING TO PROVIDE JOBS

Interchurch Council Suggests Putting Unemployed at Work Clearing Land.

Supt. Ward of Work Farm Interested and Will Make Suggestions.

A plan to furnish temporary employment to idle men by putting them to work at clearing land in the vicinity of Duluth may be tried in this city this year. The Interchurch council has such a project under consideration, having hit upon it as a solution of the unemployment problem.

Yesterday afternoon, the executive committee of the Interchurch council visited Fred Ward, superintendent of the county and city work farm, to study the plan which is in operation there with reference to furnishing temporary employment for discharged prisoners.

"A number of business men are interested in the plan and believe that it might be made self-supporting," declared B. C. Wade of the executive committee yesterday. "As to the details, it is too early at this time to discuss them, but the general idea is to acquire a tract of unimproved land and give men who are out of work employment in clearing it."

In discussing the proposed plan, Mr. Ward said:

"We need land clearing and the men need work. It is possible that the increased value of the land would pay expenses and the project would tide over a number of men temporarily out of work, at the same time doing away with the kind of charity which feeds men without providing a chance for them to pay for the aid received."

Mr. Ward will appear before the Interchurch council at its next meeting and outline a plan which he has in mind.

OLD RAILROAD MAN DIES AT BRAINERD.

Brainerd, Minn., March 11.—At 9 o'clock Friday morning services will be held at St. Francis church for the repose of the soul of John J. McGivern, one-time Northern Pacific roadmaster and for thirty-eight years a resident of Brainerd, who died at his home here of cancer of the throat, age 71. A native of County Down, Ireland, he came to this country when young and soon drifted into the Northwest, where he was long identified with railroad work. Not only was he roadmaster for the Northern Pacific, but he held a similar position with the Minnesota & International railway. As an employe of the Northern Pacific he participated in the exercise at Gold Creek, Mont., in 1883, when the famous golden spike signalling the completion of that transcontinental route was driven by Gen. Grant, William M. Everts and many other notables.

For six years he was local chief of police. He is survived by a widow and three children, Mrs. Eugene Merrill and Mrs. H. L. Packer of St. Paul, and Fred J. McGivern of Brainerd; three brothers, Barney McGivern of Staples, and Peter and James McGivern of Brainerd; six sisters, Mrs. William Thompson, Mrs. Thomas Caulfield, Mrs. Bridget Sheridan of Brainerd, Mrs. James McCarville of Deerwood, Mrs. Mary Casey of Carlton and Mrs. Anne Feron, County Down, Ireland.

PLAIN QUESTIONS TO DULUTH PEOPLE

Every Duluth Reader Will Admit the Soundness of the Logic.

Would Duluth people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as they do if the medicine were not reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years have elapsed if their experiences did not show the remedy to be deserving of it? Statements like the following must carry conviction to the mind of every reader:

Harry Vaughn, 2530 West Second street, Duluth, says: "While suffering from rheumatic pains in my back, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and was relieved of the attack. Doan's Kidney Pills took away the swelling in my feet, strengthened my kidneys and regulated their action. I use Doan's Kidney Pills now when I have to, and a few doses always fixes me up in good shape. The indorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills when they first helped me so much, holds good."

Woman's Realm

Tiny pots of shamrock, shamrocks of silk and paper, harps and many kinds of paper table decorations are being shown for the St. Patrick's day parties.

"Everybody knows where the shamrock grows," but perhaps all do not know that it is inalienably associated with Ireland because it was used by St. Patrick, the apostle of Erin, to explain the doctrine of the Trinity. The harp used for St. Patrick's day decorations is the harp of the flag of Ireland, the only country that has a musical instrument on its national banner. In the days of minstrelsy the harp was used for accompaniments for the recital of deeds ow valor of the legendary and historical heroes of Ireland. When Europe was torn by wars Ireland, because of her geographical position, enjoyed peace and was free to devote her energies to learning, and music and poetry held important places in her schools. The outlines of stories of battles, raids, deaths, shipwrecks, love stories and other subjects were learned by the minstrels who also devoted much time to the study of metrical forms. Then each minstrel filled in the stories with details according to his taste, and recited them in metrical form in the halls of the great castles where minstrels were treated with great respect. The first satire written in Ireland was called forth but a lack of courtesy to one of these wandering harpists and singers.

Church societies, clubs and lodges are planning St. Patrick's day parties, and no doubt there will be many small parties on that day.

"CONSTRUCTIVE CHARITY"

Miss Meeker Speaks Before Mission Circle.

Miss Edna Meeker spoke on "Constructive Charity" at the monthly meeting of the Mission circle of Glen Avon Presbyterian church held last evening at the home of Miss Bertha Hanford, 2021 Woodland avenue. She told of the value of making those who are obliged to receive aid feel they are not disgraced, but that as they have helped others they should regard the help given them as the canceling of a debt. "In dealing with those who seem spineless, or dependent and discouraged," she said, "get them to give their own ideas of a solution and put them in a way of utilizing their own resources."

STATE A FLOWER GARDEN

Suffragists Will Make Pennsylvania Gay With Blossoms.

Woman's Journal: A huge yellow flower garden is what suffragists want to make of Pennsylvania this summer. "From Lake Erie to the Delaware river the whole state will blossom with the suffrage colors," says an announcement from Harrisburg headquarters.

It is safe to say that the idea will not stop with Pennsylvania, and it may well prove that yellow will bloom throughout the country this year, and especially in the campaign states.

Behind this picturesque plan is the story of a little woman who wanted to make a big contribution to the cause, and who made it, although she never realized how big it really was.

"I can't do much," she said, when she made her offer to the Pennsylvania association last December, a few weeks before she died. "I haven't got the money. But I'm going to plant my whole garden with yellow flowers this spring, and I'm going to get my neighbors to do the same, so that every one in our little town will see the suffrage colors and know that our campaign is on in earnest."

The Pennsylvania association has arranged to have boxes of seeds prepared with six different varieties of yellow flowers. These flowers have been selected with a view to having the period of bloom extended from July through November, the intensive part of the campaign. Their symbolic value has also been taken into consideration.

Beginning with "golden dawn" (eschscholtzia), a yellow poppy-like flower that blooms from July until frost, the flowers chosen symbolize "advance" (coelliopsis), "persistence" (calendula), "conquest" (antirrhinum), "victory" (zinnia), and "jubilee (chrysanthemum).

Many of the leagues have already arranged prize contests for the most beautiful suffrage gardens, and requests for a state-wide floral festival in midsummer have been made.

One of the wealthy suffragists in Pittsburg, whose residence is set in the center of a plot of ground that covers one entire square, has agreed to cover her grounds with yellow flowers. Another is working out the idea of planting a flower bed in the form of "the

ELY PAPER PRAISES DULUTH WOMEN

The Ely Miner said of the program given by members of the Matinee Musicale of Duluth under the auspices of the Ely Mothers' club last week:

"The concert last evening was pronounced the best of the series given by the Mothers' club and those taking part can rest assured of a warm welcome any time they decide to favor Ely with a visit. Those taking part were Ellen Miller, violinist; Donna Riblette Flaaten, soprano; Lillian Reifsteck, reader, and Isabel Pearson Fuller, accompanist.

"Mrs. Flaaten has a repertoire embracing all nationalities and a range to carry it out. Her selections were given clearly and distinctly and the encores following the rendition of the difficult numbers was spontaneous and prolonged.

"Mrs. Fuller, who accompanied the voice and the violin, on the piano, is by long odds one of the best in the Northwest. Her playing is natural and her accompaniments are accompaniments and do not have a tendency to usurp the functions of those being accompanied.

"Of Mrs. Reifsteck, the reader, we can only say she is about as good as they make and her every appearance was a signal for a demonstration. She gave an excellent program of readings and liberally responded to encores.

"Mrs. Miller proved the crowning event of the entertainment with her violin selections. It is safe to say that seldom do people in cities the size of this have a chance to listen to an artist of the ability of Mrs. Miller. The large audience was spellbound."

This concert was a part of the extension work of the Matinee Musicale that has for its object the carrying of good music to the range towns. This work has been done four years by the educational committee, of which Mrs. E. W. Matter is the chairman.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Are There Many Women Smokers?

Do women really smoke cigarettes, or is this talk about the vice having made rapid strides among the fair sex a lot of foolish, idle chatter not worth serious thought? I have never known women who made a practice of smoking cigarettes, with two exceptions.

One is an actress on the sunny side of 40, who is a slave to the habit. She must smoke every so often and her ways of accomplishing this are numerous. She can smoke to her heart's content in her own apartment or dressing room, but in public places she would be annoyed, were it not that in most cities throughout the country she knows of many quiet places where coffee and cakes are served privately to women patrons—and here she smokes what she declares has become a necessity—a cigarette. She often utilizes her cab for a few quiet whiffs on her up or downtown rides.

The other woman is the wife of a prominent New York artist. She is past middle age. One night after dinner at her house she quite scandalized me by offering me a cigarette from a beautiful gold case. My refusal and look of surprise did not in the least disturb her, for she calmly lighted her cigarette in company with the men and puffed away.

Both of these women claim that they acquired the habit abroad, in Paris, to be exact. They are both estimable women in every way, though I must confess that the sight of a cigarette in the mouth detracts from their womanly charms. Observed without them, they are two beautiful, well preserved woman, even brilliant in their different ways.

Cigarette smoking is not a habit that would ingratiate itself among really dainty women, to my mind. The pleasure that a woman could obtain from it would be swamped and wholly lost sight of in its less agreeable qualities. There is the tell-tale smell clinging to the breath and to one's clothing, the discoloration of the fingers and last, but not least, the fact that smoking is essentially a masculine habit and a mighty poor one for them to indulge in from the health and other standpoints always confronting women.

Still, though one may have their doubts about the increase of smoking among women, ask tobacco dealers if they sell many cigarettes to women. They will immediately show you several brands for women, and also mouth pieces so that the dainty lips will not come into contact with the tobacco. The fact that these things are sold in quantity bespeaks a demand, and the quantity and quality shown in certain shops would indicate a very considerable demand.

Young Pianist's Recital.

Last evening the Howard-Farwell Music company opened their handsome rooms for the recital and presentation of Miss Edna Z. Harris' young piano student, Rosalia Haddad. There were a large number of invitations sent out and the prettily decorated rooms were early filled with a large and appreciative audience. The program was carried through without change and was marked by skilled and musicianly work.

Little Miss Haddad gave evidence of a splendid technical equipment and abundant temperament for so young a pupil, and these qualities were made manifest in the very first number, "The Butterfly," by Lavalle, a French composition. Purling scales, round trills and discrete pedaling and a beautiful daintiness were present from start to finish. Her Grieg number, "Ase's Death," was given with splendid quality of tone and the dignity and sadness this number demands, while her closing number, Moskowski's "Concert Waltz Brilliant," called forth a storm of applause. The little girl is clearly a performer of serious purpose and seems, if one must judge by her playing at this recital, to look upon music from an artistic, rather than from an effective standpoint.

Miss Haddad was ably assisted by Miss Elizabeth Halden and Miss Agnes Herstad, two other students of Miss Harris, and A. R. Burquist, vocalist.

Miss Halden's number, "Impromptu," by Reinhold, was a delight to everyone. She plays with much musical understanding, good interpretation, clearness and an elegance of feeling, which charms her listeners. Miss Halden is 14 years of age and has to her credit the honor of having been on the "A" honor roll every month since she entered high school in September, 1914, and at the same time she is making rapid strides in her music every day.

Mr. Burquist was in excellent voice in both his selections, "The Little Gray Home in the West," by Lohr, and "I Love You," by Cadman, receiving many sincere compliments from his friends.

The beautiful selection, "Il Trovatore," by Verdi, arranged for four hands and played by Miss Agnes Herstad and Miss Harris, closed a most enjoyable evening. For perfect rythm and expression this number was unsurpassed on the program. Adv.

Determined to Do It.

"Can nothing move you?" asked C. A. Marshall.

"Nothing," said Walter G. Baldwin, Sr.

"Not even if Mr. Marshall takes you for a ride in his new car?" asked J. L. Morrissey.

"Not even that," responded Mr. Baldwin.

"You have finally decided on it?" asked Mr. Marshall.

"I have," said Mr. Baldwin, "I am going to present 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' during the Easter vacation week while the school children will have a chance to see it, and I am going to give Duluth the greatest 'Uncle Tom' show it ever saw."

"All right," said Mr. Marshall, "your blood be on your own head. You know more about running a stock company than I do."

"I know there are hundreds of people in Duluth who have never seen 'Uncle Tom,' and I know it has been the most popular drama ever presented on the stage. I predict we break a record during 'Uncle Tom' week."

"I'll bet you a hat we don't," said Mr. Marshall.

"You're on," said Mr. Baldwin, "and I will get a new Easter hat for nothing this year."

The foregoing conversation took place yesterday afternoon in the Lyceum office. This week the Baldwin company is giving an excellent production of "The Third Degree" and next week will appear in "Life's Shop Window."

War Pictures at Orpheum.

What is declared to be photography's greatest achievement, the Chicago Herald and New York Sun's motion pictures of the great European war will be shown for the first time in Duluth at the Orpheum this afternoon. The films will be shown for the remainder of the week and Sunday under the direction of The Herald.

These pictures were taken on the firing line and on the field of operations, and are said to be the most thrilling and realistic of any shown so far. The camera men took their lives in their hands when they began their hazardous enterprise. Every phase of warfare imaginable and every association that features this world-war is shown as it actually is by the faithful impression of the camera. The great Zeppelins, the huge siege guns, the landing of the British expeditionary force, King Albert leading his Belgian army, the troops of the kaiser, the surrender of the gallant Belgians, the British dreadnaughts shelling Slype, the charge of the Belgian lancers, and many of the pathetic scenes common to warfare are all shown with intense realism.

There will be four shows dally at 2:30, 4, 7:30 and 9 p. m. The admission for children will be 15 cents and for adults 25 cents.

Miss Russell at Zelda.

"Wildfire" is the title of the beautiful production in which Lillian Russell is featured, now playing at the Zelda theater. She is assisted by Lionel Barrymore. The management of the Zelda has not changed the admission price, although it cost more to present this big attraction. It is in five acts, and is gripping from the beginning to end. Six complete performances will be given daily, and seats may be reserved in advance. The music for this feature was especially arranged by Mr. Dixon, the Zelda organist, as well as the song, which is rendered by Miss Jones. It will be shown only tonight, tomorrow and Saturday. A new show will follow on Sunday and another new show on Monday, with the five-act production, "Hearts and Flowers."

New Show at Grand.

An entertainment of exceptional merit is promised in the new bill opening at the Grand this afternoon for the remainder of this week.

The well known and versatile trio, Jennings, Jewell and Barlowe, headline the bill with their screaming comedy, "The Dope the Dutchman and the Girl." This, their latest skit, is said to be a vaudeville gem and to give this popular trio ample scope to display their attainments.

The Three Weber Sisters, dainty, petite and shapely, will offer an exposition in acrobatics that is exceptional for grace and skill.

Gene and Fay offer a singing and talking conglomeration full of wit and new and nifty nonsense. Both have excellent voices and a repertoire of songs that makes their offering a pleasing and entertaining diversion.

The famous Ricca, accordionist, is a clever performer on his chosen instrument. An up-to-date repertoire rendered in artistic style is sure to meet with popular approval. The Hearst-Selig News this week contains many interesting scenes from the war zone of Europe and views from the recent disastrous earthquake in Italy. One of the Helen Holmes series of railroad stories, "The Engineer's Peril;" a beautiful two-reel subject, "The Still, Small Voice," and a comedy, "Tim, the Terror," complete the bill.

Noted Star at Rex.

One of the special features of "The Warrens of Virginia," is the convincing atmosphere of Virginia in war times, and it reflects great credit on its director, Cecil B. De Mille. The pictures of camp and battle and march, especially as they show the Confederate armies of Lee as they were in '65, are a triumph of management. This is said to be the ifrst of the big war films to attain realism in this respect. The pictures of an ambuscade of a Confederate supply train with its explosions of mines planted under the road and of ammunition wagons are so fine that they challenge the actual war scenes.

Blanche Sweet, favorite screen star, was rather as surprise to her Duluth friends as Agatha Warren. It was little suspected that the placid Miss Sweet was capable of such high emotions, calling for tremendous dash and spirit. Thursday is the last opportunity to see this picture at the Rex.

Not just a flavor—but a wholesome nourishing addition to fowl, game, meat and fish.

Lea & Perrins SAUCE

CHICKEN TERRAPIN

Cut 2 pints cold cooked chicken into small pieces, add 2 chopped chicken livers and 3 chopped hard cooked eggs and sprinkle with salt, pepper and grated nutmeg to taste. Melt 3 tablespoons butter, stir in 2 tablespoons flour, add 1 cup chicken stock and stir 3 minutes; now add 1 tablespoon LEA & PERRINS' SAUCE, and ¾ cup cream; stir 1 minute, add chicken mixture and simmer 10 minutes. Beat 2 egg yolks with ¼ cup cream, then add these and stir 1 minute. Take from fire, add 4 tablespoons sherry wine and 1 teaspoon lemon juice and serve immediately.

JUST WHAT WE WANT.

According to men in that line of business, there is going to be active buying of Northern Minnesota farm lands this year. Good enough! That's just what we want. If we can get experienced men from other states to come here and take farms and stock them, Northern Minnesota will be greatly benefited. But if we can't get men of means enough to do that, then we'll be glad to get just honest men who mean business when they take hold of a piece of land.

If there's any demand for farm land anywhere, it ought to be in Minnesota. And by the way, if you know of anybody anywhere else in the country who might be interested in such a thing, just get hold of some of the numerous pieces of literature that tell about Minnesota land, and send them along. You may be the means of getting one or two families of settlers into the state, and settlers are just what we want.

Republican old-timers insist that the issue in 1916 will be the tariff. What does Mexico think of that?

BUSINESS.

Reports from here and there throughout the country tell of marked improvements in business conditions over what they were a few weeks ago. From Pittsburg especially comes a statement regarding the steel trade—"the barometer of business"—to the effect that it has so far recovered that there seems no more room to doubt that it is going to go on advancing.

In view of the intensity of the wails that not so long ago were smiting the public ear, it might surprise an outsider to find such a marked change in conditions within so short a time. Only last fall we were assured that the whole difficulty was due to the Democratic tariff law; that there could be no recovery as long as that law was in force, and that the country was destined to see things go from bad to worse until the administration was changed again.

But now the recovery is in full swing, the very men who were howling "Calamity" the loudest are among the hopeful ones, and all without the repeal of the Underwood bill or a change in the administration or any marked one in congress itself.

All of which goes to prove that one of the chief factors in bringing about the depressed condition was a state of mind. Last fall there seemed to be a possibility of discrediting the Wilson administration, if the Republicans could only get enough of a calamity chorus together and get it to working. Well, they tried it—and found that instead of being discredited, the Wilson administration was the first in years to stand in the face of a tariff revision.

That was in November. And if you remember, it was in November that the calamity chorus began to die down. Why? Because it was so much a political expression. President Wilson saw and understood that, and that was what he meant when he talked about a "psychological" condition. There was a good deal of criticism of him for saying that—Republican criticism—but the event has borne him out. It was a psychological condition that brought about the "hard times," and it was a psychological condition that brought them to an end.

Business is better—why? Because the men in business made up their minds to have it better. A man with a sore toe can concentrate his mind on that sore toe until he persuades himself that he has hip disease. And the man with a political or business grouch can even more easily persuade himself that business is on the bum.

And all the time it isn't really business that is on the bum, but the man himself. And if he is a mind to, he can often persuade his neighbors to take the same view, and then they neglect business to talk about the bumness, and finally forget all but the thing they are talking about, and the business suffers.

Business is a big thing, but there is this to remember: That it is one of those things peculiarly subject to control by human mentality, and that a live mentality is necessary to keep business up to any given standard. That's why the live ones get along in business.

Chicago men are asking for a law in Illinois to permit corporations to acquire, improve and own real estate. Why don't they start private banks? Then they could do anything and everybody.

THE STREET CAR EXTENSION ORDER.

The city council has ordered the Duluth Street Railway company to build an extension of its lines from West Duluth to New Duluth. Manager Warren of the company says the company sees no reason for doing anything of the kind.

The council's action is based on the provisions of the company's franchise and on the state laws enacted to cover just such cases. The company's attitude, or at least that of Mr. Warren, is the same that it has been whenever anything in the line of extensions has been proposed.

What the council says amounts to a declaration of the need of such an extension and is an order, from a properly constituted authority, for the performance of a definite action. What the company, or at least Mr. Warren, says is an expression of the same old idea of defiance of the city and all the city may ask for.

For the last three or four years, whenever anything has been asked of the street railway company, the answer has been, "we can't do a thing until the franchise suit is settled." Now that suit has been settled, the company has won everything except its perpetual franchise claim, and with the first move made by the city to secure a reasonable addition to the service, comes a new answer with the same old meaning—that the company is to be the judge and that the city's orders may not even get respectful attention.

The year of our Lord 1931 is still a decade and a half away, but that length of time will not serve to wipe out entirely the memory of Duluth people. In that year the Duluth Street Railway company will be looking for a renewal of its franchise, and under the present charter the people themselves will have the right to say whether that franchise shall be granted.

What Mr. Warren evidently needs, and needs badly, is a little tip to the effect that the old "public-be-damned" days have passed.

Maybe this fair is going to return to California some of the gold that was taken out of there in the flush mining times.

PUBLICITY WINS AGAIN.

Bread in New York city has gone back to the old price of five cents a loaf, and the loaf is the same old size, according to the New York World. Further, the World asserts on the authority of Deputy Attorney General Alfred L. Becker, who conducted a state inquiry into the cause for the increase in price, and Joseph J. Hartigan, commissioner of weights and measures, that publicity was the cause of the drop in price.

Publicity regarding bread prices started when a number of the big dealers announced on the same day that they would raise the price to six cents a loaf. The "little fellows" didn't take that action, and the discrepancy aroused curiosity. The World took the matter up, and the state and city governments also got active.

Throughout the hearings that followed, the newspapers kept the public informed of every important bit of evidence offered on either side of the question. Meanwhile the little fellows who hadn't raised the price began to get more business, and one of the big manufacturers even claimed that he lost twenty-five per cent of his business, and that the returns of stale bread, owing to the increase in price, were boosted to thirty per cent.

One of the most interesting bits of evidence brought out was that the big bakers, at the time they raised the price, had not begun to use flour bought at the price set by the higher wheat prices. General knowledge of this and other facts helped, it is asserted, to bring about the beginning of the reduction to the old figure.

What it all amounts to is that publicity has won again. Lincoln's saying about not being able to fool the people is truer today than it was in his time by just so much as publicity facilities have increased since then.

Have all those "set-the-clock-ahead" enthusiasts gone to Europe?

No Hay.

From Answers, London: As is usual on Monday mornings, a stream of offenders against the lesser laws passed in and out of the police court dock. Nothing happened to lighten the gloom of the proceedings until a rather battered woman took her place behind the rail.

"Name?" queried an official.

"Meddow, sir."

"How do you spell it?" said the magistrate.

"Hem-He-D-D-Ho-W, sir!"

"Ah, I see. There is no 'hay' in your meadow!"

That Amalgamation

By Satorard.

Washington, March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—It looks as though there is a screw loose somewhere in the boasted amalgamated Republican layout. We have been told that the Progressive party is extinct, that it is again incorporated as a part of the G. O. P., that Progressives like Cummins and Bristow are same as standpatters like Penrose and Gallinger, or a little samer, and that party lines so far as they served in 1912 to separate one school of Republicans from another had ceased to exist, that they were obliterated, and that on the Republican side of the hedge the only song was that beautiful and delightful love couched in Ps. cxxx.

And so the president accepted the political situation when he selected the Federal trade board, choosing for that body one Progressive Republican, a Mr. Parry, like Senator Cummins, and another Republican Progressive, like Theodore Roosevelt, a Mr. Rublee. No sooner was the nomination made than we had a great outcry of dissent. Unselfish patriots, standpattter and Progressive alike, charged that the president had virtually disobeyed the law in not naming two "Republicans" as minority members of the board.

What sort of a kittle of fish is that to set before Victor Murdock? What does it mean? Is Murdock to be told that his vote is very acceptable, but that he must tarry in Jericho, fetching and carrying for Charley Curtis till he bring forth fruits meet for repentance? Is that what it means? And, then, one of the gentlemen is a Republican of the same brand of Cummins, and has a better party record than Clapp—he is denounced and the seat of the elect is denied him because he is "not a Republican."

Now, the Republican party is going to need all the strength it can muster in 1916. It will need all the votes it can poll, and even if it shall absorb all the Progressives like Murdock and all the near-Progressives like Cummins and La Follette, it has yet a big fight on its hands. I am convinced that it will lose the fight in any event, for revolutions go not backwards, and this country has triumphantly revolted against Aldrichism, which is all that is left of the party of Lincoln and Grant. Besides, Wilsonism is all that stands between our government and Socialism, and when Wall Street gets that fact into its noggin, it will let out the money, industries will hum, prosperity will come a-running and Socialism will be scotched for a generation.

Wall Street is a fool, and a hog. One of these days it will wake up to find that both its leading characteristics are liabilities—not assets.

It appears that the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt is making desperate charges in his assault to regain lodgment in the ranks of the G. O. P. Why don't they let him in? He is harmless, and ever was. He never thundered except in the index. As a carpet knight, in American politics he never had his match. When president of the United States he was allowed to say what he pleased, so long as he obeyed his guardian, Elihu Root, who made him do as he pleased. While he was in the White House, Root and Roosevelt were in perfect accord and there was not the slightest jar between the politics of Elihu Root and Nelson W. Aldrich.

Roosevelt made one grand mistake. It showed that he is wanting in that political instinct without which no man can be a great statesman. He "threw his hat in the ring" in February, 1912. He did not expect to be a candidate then and would not have been if he had not mistaken Democratic public sentiment and argued that Champ Clark had the nomination of his party nailed down, as then appeared to be the case to the superficial observer.

Had Roosevelt believed that Wilson would be nominated at Baltimore there would have been no Progressive party in 1912. He would have called off his dogs, Taft would have been renominated without serious opposition, Wilson would have been elected and today Theodore Roosevelt would be the completest, the absolutest master of the Republican party any party ever had in the United States.

But he was too eager. The pear was not ripe. When he threw his hat in the ring in February, 1912, he could not recall it. He was committed and had to fight the battle on that line even after Wilson beat Clark at Baltimore. He did the best he could, and there is no denying that he made a magnificent race of it. But Teddy has shot his bolt. He talks too much. Today he is a piper to whose music the people will no longer dance.

"Let not Caesar's servile minions
Mock the lion thus laid low.
'Twas no foeman's hand that slew him,
'Twas his own that dealt the blow."

And if Roosevelt had not lost his head and staked all on 1914 he yet could have grasped the leadership of the Republican party. But he backed and filled, played the demagogue, and his own party found him out. Today his influence on politics is negligible. He chose Perkins rather than Pinchot and that was the straw that laid him low. Harriman had stood him in good stead ten years earlier. By 1914 boodle was out of fashion, except in Pennsylvania and in Uncle Cannon's district in Illinois.

What is to become of the real Progressives, such men as Pinchot and Murdock? Tell me where they will bob up in the boiling of the pot, and my prediction will be worth something.

Paris Bans German Names.

Indianapolis News: There is in Paris a mania, a delirium, for the renaming of streets, that recalls Germany or Austria. It is stoutly demanded with full French fervor that these offending streets shall be debaptized at once and the Paris newspapers are flooded with letters on the subject. Le Cri de Paris says it is in vain to attempt to explain that the "Rue de Berlin" commemorates the entrance of the French in Berlin in the glorious days of Napoleon I, and was not imposed by the defeat and humiliation of 1870. It is no less useless, says Le Cri, to try to make it understood that the "Avenue de Saxe," was thus named in remembrance of Marshal Saxe, the glorious victor at Fontenoy and not for the German kingdom of Saxony.

One of the big Paris newspapers demanded the debaptizing of the "Rue Wagner," a miserable passageway at Passy, and surely Wagner deserved an avenue or nothing at all. And it is demanded that Meyerbeer street be deprived of its name. An indignant banker living in Rue Christian Dewet, the said Dewet having revolted against "our friends the English," demands another name for the street. Time makes changes; here is a street named Dewet because he fought the English and now it is to be taken away for the same reason.

Nettled.

Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph: Politician—Congratulate me, my dear. I've won the nomination.

Wife (in surprise)—Honestly?

Politician—Now what in thunder did you want to bring up that point for?

How to Kill Off Any Foreign Trade Chance

By U. S. Consul Jose de Olivares, Madras, India.

If American business houses seeking to establish trade connections in foreign markets realized the injury which results both to their own prospects and to general American trade extension by the seemingly small but frequently disastrous oversight of sending abroad short-stamped trade letters, they would adopt adequate measures to insure the immediate discontinuance of this all too prevalent practice.

All American consular officers are aware of the annoyance occasioned to foreign merchants, and the resultant injury to otherwise effective trade methods, by the short-paid postage habit, and repeated cautions on this subject have been given through the medium of Daily Consular and Trade Reports. Hence, I feel that no views I might put forth in this connection could emphasize more forcibly the necessity of avoiding this wholly unnecessary fault than the following text of a letter recived at this consulate from the managing director of the largest firm in Madras importing general lines of merchandise from the United States:

We have to place before you the following information. By each week's mail we receive letters from America short stamped. This is not the case with letters received from any other country. Dispatching of letters, especially from America to India, containing advertising matter or even general letters, is not given the attention that it calls for. In many cases where envelopes are sealed we are compelled to receive them and pay the extra charge, but you can quite understand they are received with a great deal of annoyance. If your country is looking for trade in India, we think this matter should receive immediate attention.

A few days after the receipt of the foregoing letter, the same firm again wrote to the consulate as follows:

In support of our letter of the 11th inst., we beg to hand you a communication received from Messrs. ——— New York, on which we paid 1 annas (6 cents) for short postage, and to make things worse, they inclose an envelope with a United States stamp of 2 cents for return postage.

The utter uselessness of inclosing United States stamps for return postage from India or any other foreign country is obvious, and in this case the amount of postage both prepaid and inclosed, was insufficient.

If this were an isolated case it would not be made the subject of a special report, but as previously intimated, the short postage practice is altogether too prevalent for the welfare of American foreign trade interests.

It is the policy of this consulate to endeavor to conciliate merchants who make complaints of this nature by assuring them that the short stamping of letters is not intentional, but the result of intrusting the mailing of correspondence to employes who are familiar only with American domestic postage rates and not with rates to foreign countries. While such an entirely plausible explanation is usually accepted, it should be borne in mind that many merchants are similarly annoyed by receiving short-stamped letters, who do not trouble themselves to complain of the fact, and thus afford an opportunity for excuse.

It should be carefuly noted that the minimum sealed letter postage rate from the United States to India is 5 cents, and if it is desired to inclose return postage the equivalent should be sent in the form of an international reply coupon, procurable at practically all postoffices throughout the world.

As We Scurry Through Life

Atlantic Monthly: Has any question been more absorbing during the last decades than the question how much space could be covered, on earth or in air, in a minute of time?

Back of our hurry lies something deeper than the mere desire to excel in this or that sport, this or that means of rapid transit, this or that business enterprise or philanthropy. It is an unconfessed manifestation of our immense sense of loss; a morbid outpouring of that energy which might work healthily and to great ends if the old hope were there of endless destiny. We have but a few minutes in which to rob the house of life; let us seize all the articles in sight; death, the householder, is even now waiting to take us into custody.

We want as much as we can get; we want all, and we foolishly think that hurrying feet and twitching muscles can win it. We will crowd all into the swift, flitting minutes, though life should break in the process.

Today we are so comfortable, so enlightened and, with our widening philanthropy, so estimable, that we surely ought to be happy! Yet we see few satisfied faces, such as we can remember from long ago, full of inner content, faces "on which the dove of peace sat brooding," and we pause to ask what our boasted progress has to offer in compensation for the great loss that has come through the seeming gain of these later years?

It is an era of the flesh and its needs, its possibilities—of unawareness, for the most part, of any aspects deeper than the physical. Many of us can remember the day when we were taught that we had immortal souls, to whose safeguarding thought and care and profound endeavor must go. The chief question was, "Is it right or wrong?" The chief question today is, "Is it sterilized?"

Life, which used to be a brave fight between heaven and hell, has come to be a long and anxious tip-toeing between the microbe and the antiseptic. It is not that I object to antseptics, but that I object to the amount of good brain space they have come to occupy to the exclusion of more important matters.

In our great outer prosperity and inner poverty, our immense acquisition of external knowledge, and incalculable loss of deeper realities, our morality shifting its great concern from the welfare of the soul to that of the body, we find no symbol so fitting as the old fable of the dog and his shadow in the brook. Dropping his bone to grasp the shadow of the bone, he went hungry away.

The Heart Cry.

His little hands that snuggled in me breast,
His gropin' hands that sthole me heart away,
His dimpled, dirthy hands that wud not resht,
Do they be sad this day?

His big blue eyes thot gave me shmile for shmile,
Thot run wid tears whin, vexed wid him, I'd schold,
His baby eyes thot folla me bewhile,
Phwat do they now behold?

His feet, his dear fat sthumblin' blundherin' feet;
Me heart feels stheps a-thuddin' on the sod;
Me heart's a dhrum, he's marchin' to its beat;
Oh, kape him for me, God!

—Olin L. Lyman, in New York Sun.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Billy Kent, member of congress from California, is one of the leading shepherds of his district. Understand, he does not go out into the hills and meadows with a shepherd's crook like Bo-Peep and actually attend the sheep, but he knows a great many thousand of our little woolly friends. If you were to walk up to Kent and ask him, "Have you any wool?" and he were to reply, "Yes, three bags full," like the pleasant little sheep in the nursery rhyme, he would be underestimating his possessions, for even at this moment he doubtless has many more bags of wool than that. Yet with all his wool he voted to reduce the woollen tariff, to enable those of us who have no sheep to buy woollen underclothing and consequently to wonder if we aren't catching a mild case of hives.

However, we are drifting clear away from our brief tale. Another sheep owner out in California wrote Kent a letter the other day, evidently with the idea that Kent, being in the sheep business himself, would catch his point of view.

"The grass is all dried up," he said, "and the sheep won't eat it. Kindly arrange with the agricultural experiment station to provide me with a few thousand green goggles for my sheep, so that I can fool them into thinking the grass is a nice spring green."

Johnson N. Camden, who spent a few months in Washington as senator from Kentucky until March 4, is a great horseman, and owned one of the finest stables in the United States. In order to have somebody to talk to about horses back home, Camden brought with him to Washington an old negro servant who was the valet of Camden's father, once senator from West Virginia.

One day this negro was called to the senate to perform a chore for Camden and the senator noticed the old man was suffering from a severe cold. It happened that Senators Gallinger of New Hampshire and Harry Lane of Oregon, both former pill doctors, were standing near by and Camden asked them to take a look at the old man.

"What seems to be the matter with you?" asked Gallinger. And when Lane came up, he asked: "Just how do you feel?"

Then each told him something to take. Not being regular physicians any more, they did not write him out a mysterious prescription, but told him the name of the stuff he was to use in plain United States.

The next day Camden asked his servant if he were taking the remedies the senatorial doctors had suggested.

"No, sah, I thought it'd just wait 'til I gets home," he replied, "and then I'll go to some good vet'inary doctah. These doctahs that has to ask you what's the mattah with you ain't no good doctahs. A hoss doctah has to know what's the mattah with you 'cause a hoss can't talk, now kin he? That's why a hoss doctah is the best doctah they is."

The Mystery at Mons

Gelett Burgess in Collier's Weekly: "It must have been exciting, that retreat from Mons," I ventured.

"Yes," he said, reflectively, "it was."

"And you know who was responsible for it?"

I mentioned a name—a mysterious name that the French papers even yet are very loath to mention. Tommy puffed at his pipe and scowled. "D'you know what became of him?"

That, too, is a subject the Paris papers refuse to discuss. Some say the general is inspecting artillery, some that he is at Bordeaux—and some assert that he is in the military prison of Cherche-Midi.

"Shot," said Tommy. "Shot and buried up there in the northeast. That's what Kitchener came over for. We were in advance of the French line, you know, and we had only 50,000 men to hold off 200,000 Germans—and the beggar never came forward from Lille to support us. Yes, it was in the orders of the day that he had been court-martialed and shot. A good job, too.

"Why, d'you know how near we came to being surrounded? Just two miles, I give you my word. Near Bertry, it was, with our two army corps retreating on one road, so mixed up you couldn't tell cavalry from infantry.

"I'll never forget that night—Lord, what a mess! It took hours to straighten us out, with four lanterns on one side of the road for the Fourth division to assemble, three on the other for the Third, and so on, all stumbling into the fields, trying to find their regiments and brigades in the dark, with the devil to pay and every man jack as mad as a hatter for having to retreat."

He took his pipe out of his mouth and laughed suddenly.

"I say, you should have seen one Scotchman there, lying down in the middle of the road, by jove, blocking the traffic for 50,000 men! He swore he was too dog-tired to move, and he'd killed enough Germs to have a rest. They couldn't budge him. And the enemy only two miles away! Gen. Smith-Dorrien himself came up and ordered him under arrest, and even then he wouldn't go, and they had to fair lift him up and carry him off!"

An Improved Lifebelt.

Popular Mechanics: The ordinary lifebelt is a cumbersome thing to wear, and in order to provide protection for airmen or others who are likely to be thrown into the water, a lifebelt has been invented that lies flat under the chest under ordinary conditions and becomes inflated when brought in contact with the water. This belt consists of a flexible tubular girdle, at one end of which are two receptacles, one containing water and the other a carbide which becomes a gas and inflates the tube when mixed with water. A valve permits the wearer to let the water into the carbide receptacle, which a wick that passes from the outside of the belt into this receptacle causes the water to enter and inflate the tube automatically in case the wearer is unconscious after being thrown into the water. Provision is made for preventing the entrance of water after inflation has taken place and for preventing overinflation of the tube.

First Non-Partisan State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

Hopeful—Vainly or Otherwise.

Faribault Pilot: Now that the county option matter is out of the way we expect to see the legislative mill grinding out laws daily.

May Get Its Wind Soon.

Greenbush Tribune: The present legislature has been slow in passing bills, but it is likely to get its wind soon and then there will be something doing.

One Tax-Boost Reason.

Warroad Pioneer: The salary increase bills are as numerous as ever in the state legislature and, doubtless, many of them will pass. In the last ten years salaries of public officials have been increased at least 50 per cent. And the biggest increases have been given to those already well paid. And that is one of the reasons for the increasing tax rates.

A Lucid Interval.

Luverne Journal: Every now and then the legislature gets lapses of sanity. The house committee the other day killed the bill for extending the terms of its members from two to four years. Ugh, wouldn't that have been awful!

Apply Ordinary Rules.

Albert Lea Tribune: Yes, the state needs many things badly which require money. But the people are obliged to get along without a good many things they really need and there's no reason why the state can't adopt the same economical policy for a few years.

Good in Several Ways.

Stillwater Gazette: If the Minnesota legislature passes the measure pending before it providing for convict labor on state highways, it will be merely adopting a plan that has already proven a success in states like Colorado, Iowa and Illinois, says the Virginia Enterprise. Good roads are necessary for state development. An out-of-door life for men unfortunate enough to be committed to penal institutions will be a considerable aid to the reform that prison sentences are designed to accomplish. The usual objections to convict labor cannot be held to apply in the case of state highways. The cheaper they can be built, the more of them will be undertaken and completed. The plan to work convicts on road construction is an excellent one, both from the economic and the humanitarian standpoints.

Made a Good Start.

Sandstone Courier: The state legislature can now get down to business and pass more real progressive measures. They have certainly made a good beginning.

Some Ways of Making the World Happier.

By being a real Christian. A missionary in China, after many efforts, induced a thoughtful Chinaman to read the New Testament. After he had read it, the missionary asked him what he thought of it. The Chinaman expressed high appreciation for the character of the book, but he said, "You do not believe it." In answer to the surprise of the missionary, the Chinaman went on to explain that the New Testament taught that those who believe in God should be free from care and worry, because they are kept by their God, who is a loving Father. The missionary, as seen by the Chinaman, was apparently overwhelmed with anxiety; his face was careworn, and he did not appear to be happy.

The rebuke was well received by the missionary, who had brought to his attention the great truth that even with all the burdens of a missionary in a heathen land there is no reason for the Christian to be overwhelmed with anxiety. "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

By service. (Gal. vi, 1, 2, 10.) If one should be overtaken in a fault, do not harshly condemn him and spread the news abroad, but in kindness seek to restore the offender, remembering how easy it is for you to make a mistake. We can add so much to the happiness of the world by bearing the burdens of others, and by doing good to them.

By love. (Read Eph. iv, 31, 32; v, 1, 2.) This world will be much happier when we put out of our lives "all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and railing," and when we become "kind one to another, tenderhearted and forgiving, even as God also in Christ forgave you." So much of the world's trouble comes from hate. The war in Europe reveals to us how deep race hatred is among the nations of Europe.

By optimism. True optimism is founded on wisdom. Congressman Fess says that you can tell an optimist by the way he asks for the cream at the table. The pessimist asks, "Is there any milk in that pitcher?" The optimist says, "Please pass the cream." True, he may not always get cream, but it is worth while to have the spirit that expects cream and that does not complain when it proves to be milk.—W. W.

Getting at the Facts.

Collier's Weekly: The loss of 500,000 men in war can be made good in less than ten years through complete abstinence from alcohol by all the inhabitants of Russia. This is not the statement of some professional temperance booster; it is the estimate of Arthur Hunter, actuary with the New York Life Insurance company. To the Association of Life Insurance Presidents he recently read a paper based on the study of the deaths of 2,000,000 policy holders during twenty-five years. This was his statement: "Total abstainers have a mortality during the working years of life of about one-half of that among those who use alcohol to the extent of at least two glasses of whisky a day." Do facts mean anything to you? How much of your life and its energies are you gashing in for whisky?

What a Comma Will Do.

National Monthly: "Bill," the poet gasped, staggering into the friend's room.

"Why, what's wrong?" the friend inquired, starting as he grasped hold of the tottering man.

"Wrong!" the poet muttered. "Ye gods! I wrote a poem about my little boy. I began the first verse with these lines:

"My son! My pigmy counterpart."

"Yes, yes?"

The poet drew a long breath as he took a newspaper from his pocket.

"Read!" he blazed suddenly. "See what the criminal compositor did to my opening line."

The friend read aloud:

"My son, my pig, my counterpart!"

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

Deputy United States Marshal T. J. Sheehan was in the city this morning serving papers in the suit lately commenced by the United States against the North American Telegraph company, which is charged with violating the contract labor law by bringing Miss Phelan from Port Arthur to work for the company here.

The board of public works today opened five bids for the maintenance of a steam ferry across the ship canal. The Duluth Ferry company, N. F. Hugo manager, is the lowest bidder at $23.95 a day for a three years' contract and $25.65 a day for a two years' contract.

H. J. Payne, chief engineer of the South Shore railroad, arrived from Marquette today, accompanied by Mrs. Payne and the Misses Watson and Miss Wilkinson. The latter are guests of Mrs. T. H. Larke while in the city.

The new city council will meet tonight and elect the city attorney, health officer and city clerk. Page Morris appears to have no opposition for re-election as city attorney. The contest for the city clerkship is between C. E. Richardson, the incumbent, and E. A. Mooer. Doctors Goffe, Boyer, Maxwell and Routh are in the race for health officer.

Harry T. Hayward, convicted of the murder of Catherine Ging, was sentenced today by Judge Seagrave Smith to be hanged.

Gustaf Nelson and family have arrived from the East to become residents of West Duluth.

Frederick Webber of Washington, secretary-general of the Southern jurisdiction of Ancient and Accepted Scottish Masons, will spend about a week in Duluth. He is the last of the "old guard" and is the first officer of the supreme council to visit Duluth. He is now in Fargo on a tour of the Northwest.

At a meeting of the school board, contracts were awarded as follows: For six-room addition to the Adams school, Fredin & Wilson, $21,922; Jackson school foundation, Nicholas Miller, $1,850; Jackson school superstructure, Evens & Grandy, $20,340.

Don McLennan won both the cues in the billiard and pool tournament at the Duluth club, defeating Maxfield in the pool final and George McKenzie in the billiard final.

Postmaster Helinski has sent to the postoffice department a request for the establishment of a railway postal office at Duluth.

J. T. Tilson left today for his claim, which is about three miles from Rainy lake. This season he will put in ten acres of garden truck with the idea of supplying the whole region.

JUST WHAT WE WANT.

According to men in that line of business, there is going to be active buying of Northern Minnesota farm lands this year. Good enough! That's just what we want. If we can get experienced men from other states to come here and take farms and stock them, Northern Minnesota will be greatly benefited. But if we can't get men of means enough to do that, then we'll be glad to get just honest men who mean business when they take hold of a piece of land.

If there's any demand for farm land anywhere, it ought to be in Minnesota. And by the way, if you know of anybody anywhere else in the country who might be interested in such a thing, just get hold of some of the numerous pieces of literature that tell about Minnesota land, and send them along. You may be the means of getting one or two families of settlers into the state, and settlers are just what we want.

Republican old-timers insist that the issue in 1916 will be the tariff. What does Mexico think of that?

BUSINESS.

Reports from here and there throughout the country tell of marked improvements in business conditions over what they were a few weeks ago. From Pittsburg especially comes a statement regarding the steel trade—"the barometer of business"—to the effect that it has so far recovered that there seems no more room to doubt that it is going to go on advancing.

In view of the intensity of the wails that not so long ago were smiting the public ear, it might surprise an outsider to find such a marked change in conditions within so short a time. Only last fall we were assured that the whole difficulty was due to the Democratic tariff law; that there could be no recovery as long as that law was in force, and that the country was destined to see things go from bad to worse until the administration was changed again.

But now the recovery is in full swing, the very men who were howling "Calamity" the loudest are among the hopeful ones, and all without the repeal of the Underwood bill or a change in the administration or any marked one in congress itself.

All of which goes to prove that one of the chief factors in bringing about the depressed condition was a state of mind. Last fall there seemed to be a possibility of discrediting the Wilson administration, if the Republicans could only get enough of a calamity chorus together and get it to working. Well, they tried it—and found that instead of being discredited, the Wilson administration was the first in years to stand in the face of a tariff revision.

That was in November. And if you remember, it was in November that the calamity chorus began to die down. Why? Because it was so much a political expression. President Wilson saw and understood that, and that was what he meant when he talked about a "psychological" condition. There was a good deal of criticism of him for saying that—Republican criticism—but the event has borne him out. It was a psychological condition that brought about the "hard times," and it was a psychological condition that brought them to an end.

Business is better—why? Because the men in business made up their minds to have it better. A man with a sore toe can concentrate his mind on that sore toe until he persuades himself that he has hip disease. And the man with a political or business grouch can even more easily persuade himself that business is on the bum.

And all the time it isn't really business that is on the bum, but the man himself. And if he is a mind to, he can often persuade his neighbors to take the same view, and then they neglect business to talk about the bumness, and finally forget all but the thing they are talking about, and the business suffers.

Business is a big thing, but there is this to remember: That it is one of those things peculiarly subject to control by human mentality, and that a live mentality is necessary to keep business up to any given standard. That's why the live ones get along in business.

Chicago men are asking for a law in Illinois to permit corporations to acquire, improve and own real estate. Why don't they start private banks? Then they could do anything and everybody.

THE STREET CAR EXTENSION ORDER.

The city council has ordered the Duluth Street Railway company to build an extension of its lines from West Duluth to New Duluth. Manager Warren of the company says the company sees no reason for doing anything of the kind.

The council's action is based on the provisions of the company's franchise and on the state laws enacted to cover just such cases. The company's attitude, or at least that of Mr. Warren, is the same that it has been whenever anything in the line of extensions has been proposed.

What the council says amounts to a declaration of the need of such an extension and is an order, from a properly constituted authority, for the performance of a definite action. What the company, or at least Mr. Warren, says is an expression of the same old idea of defiance of the city and all the city may ask for.

For the last three or four years, whenever anything has been asked of the street railway company, the answer has been, "we can't do a thing until the franchise suit is settled." Now that suit has been settled, the company has won everything except its perpetual franchise claim, and with the first move made by the city to secure a reasonable addition to the service, comes a new answer with the same old meaning—that the company is to be the judge—and that the city's orders may not even get respectful attention.

The year of our Lord 1931 is still a decade and a half away, but that length of time will not serve to wipe out entirely the memory of Duluth people. In that year the Duluth Street Railway company will be looking for a renewal of its franchise, and under the present charter the people themselves will have the right to say whether that franchise shall be granted.

What Mr. Warren evidently needs, and needs badly, is a little tip to the effect that the old "public-be-damned" days have passed.

Maybe this fair is going to return to California some of the gold that was taken out of there in the Rush mining times.

PUBLICITY WINS AGAIN.

Bread in New York city has gone back to the old price of five cents a loaf, and the loaf is the same old size, according to the New York World. Further, the World asserts on the authority of Deputy Attorney General Alfred L. Becker, who conducted a state inquiry into the cause for the increase in price, and Joseph J. Hartigan, commissioner of weights and measures, that publicity was the cause of the drop in price.

Publicity regarding bread prices started when a number of the big dealers announced on the same day that they would raise the price to six cents a loaf. The "little fellows" didn't take that action, and the discrepancy aroused curiosity. The World took the matter up, and the state and city governments also got active.

Throughout the hearings that followed, the newspapers kept the public informed of every important bit of evidence offered on either side of the question. Meanwhile the little fellows who hadn't raised the price began to get more business, and one of the big manufacturers even claimed that he lost twenty-five per cent of his business, and that the returns of stale bread, owing to the increase in price, were boosted to thirty per cent.

One of the most interesting bits of evidence brought out was that the big bakers, at the time they raised the price, had not begun to use flour bought at the price set by the higher wheat prices. General knowledge of this and other facts helped, it is asserted, to bring about the beginning of the reduction to the old figure.

What it all amounts to is that publicity has won again. Lincoln's saying about not being able to fool the people is truer today than it was in his time by just so much as publicity facilities have increased since then.

Have all those "set-the-clock-ahead" enthusiasts gone to Europe?

No Hay.

From Answers, London: As is usual on Monday mornings, a stream of offenders against the lesser laws passed in and out of the police court dock. Nothing happened to lighten the gloom of the proceedings until a rather battered woman took her place behind the rail.

"Name?" queried an official.

"Meddew, sir."

"How do you spell it?" said the magistrate.

"Hem-He-D-D-Ho-W, sir!"

"Ah, I see. There is no 'hay' in your meadow!"

That Amalgamation

By Saroyard.

Washington, March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—It looks as though there is a screw loose somewhere in the boasted amalgamated Republican layout. We have been told that the Progressive party is extinct, that it is again incorporated as a part of the G. O. P., that Progressives like Cummins and Bristow are same as standpatters like Penrose and Gallinger, or a little samer, and that party lines so far as they served in 1912 to separate one school of Republicans from another had ceased to exist, that they were obliterated, and that on the Republican side of the hedge the only song was that beautiful and delightful love couched in Ps. cxxx.

And so the president accepted the political situation when he selected the Federal trade board, choosing for that body one Progressive Republican, a Mr. Parry, like Senator Cummins, and another Republican Progressive, like Theodore Roosevelt, a Mr. Rublee. No sooner was the nomination made than we had a great outcry of dissent. Unselfish patriots, standpattter and Progressive alike, charged that the president had virtually disobeyed the law in not naming two "Republicans" as minority members of the board.

What sort of a kittle of fish is that to set before Victor Murdock? What does it mean? Is Murdock to be told that his vote is very acceptable, but that he must tarry in Jericho, fetching and carrying for Charley Curtis till he bring forth fruits meet for repentance? Is that what it means? And, then, one of the gentlemen is a Republican of the same brand of Cummins, and has a better party record than Clapp—he is denounced and the seat of the elect is denied him because he is "not a Republican."

Now, the Republican party is going to need all the strength it can muster in 1916. It will need all the votes it can poll, and even if it shall absorb all the Progressives like Murdock and all the near-Progressives like Cummins and La Follette, it has yet a big fight on its hands. I am convinced that it will lose the fight in any event, for revolutions go not backwards, and this country has triumphantly revolted against Aldrichism, which is all that is left of the party of Lincoln and Grant. Besides, Wilsonism is all that stands between our government and Socialism, and when Wall Street gets that fact into its noggin, it will let out the money, industries will hum, prosperity will come a-running and Socialism will be scotched for a generation.

Wall Street is a fool, and a hog. One of these days it will wake up to find that both its leading characteristics are liabilities—not assets.

It appears that the Hon. Theodore Roosevelt is making desperate charges in his assault to regain lodgment in the ranks of the G. O. P. Why don't they let him in? He is harmless, and ever was. He never thundered except in the index. As a carpet knight, in American politics he never had his match. When president of the United States he was allowed to say what he pleased, so long as he obeyed his guardian, Elihu Root, who made him do as he pleased. While he was in the White House, Root and Roosevelt were in perfect accord and there was not the slightest jar between the politics of Elihu Root and Nelson W. Aldrich.

Roosevelt made one grand mistake. It showed that he is wanting in that political instinct without which no man can be a great statesman. He "threw his hat in the ring" in February, 1912. He did not expect to be a candidate then and would not have been if he had not mistaken Democratic public sentiment and argued that Champ Clark had the nomination of his party nailed down, as then appeared to be the case to the superficial observer.

Had Roosevelt believed that Wilson would be nominated at Baltimore there would have been no Progressive party in 1912. He would have called off his dogs, Taft would have been renominated without serious opposition, Wilson would have been elected and today Theodore Roosevelt would be the completest, the absolutest master of the Republican party any party ever had in the United States.

But he was too eager. The pear was not ripe. When he threw his hat in the ring in February, 1912, he could not recall it. He was committed and had to fight the battle on that line even after Wilson beat Clark at Baltimore. He did the best he could, and there is no denying that he made a magnificent race of it. But Teddy has shot his bolt. He talks too much. Today he is a piper to whose music the people will no longer dance.

"Let not Caesar's servile minions
Mock the lion thus laid low.
'Twas no foeman's hand that slew him,
'Twas his own that dealt the blow."

And if Roosevelt had not lost his head and staked all on 1914 he yet could have grasped the leadership of the Republican party. But he backed and filled, played the demagogue, and his own party found him out. Today his influence on politics is negligible. He chose Perkins rather than Pinchot and that was the straw that laid him low. Harriman had stood him in good stead ten years earlier. By 1914 boodle was out of fashion, except in Pennsylvania and in Uncle Cannon's district in Illinois.

What is to become of the real Progressives, such men as Pinchot and Murdock? Tell me where they will bob up in the boiling of the pot, and my prediction will be worth something.

Paris Bans German Names.

Indianapolis News: There is in Paris a mania, a delirium, for the renaming of streets, that recalls Germany or Austria. It is stoutly demanded with full French fervor that these offending streets shall be debaptized at once and the Paris newspapers are flooded with letters on the subject. Le Cri de Paris says it is in vain to attempt to explain that the "Rue de Berlin" commemorates the entrance of the French in Berlin in the glorious days of Napoleon I, and was not imposed by the defeat and humiliation of 1870. It is no less useless, says Le Cri, to try to make it understood that the "Avenue de Saxe," was thus named in remembrance of Marshal Saxe, the glorious victor at Fontenoy and not for the German kingdom of Saxony.

One of the big Paris newspapers demanded the debaptizing of the "Rue Wagner," a miserable passageway at Passy, and surely Wagner deserved an avenue or nothing at all. And it is demanded that Meyerbeer street be deprived of its name. An indignant banker living in Rue Christian Dewet, the said Dewet having revolted against "our friends the English," demands another name for the street. Time makes changes; here is a street named Dewet because he fought the English and now it is to be taken away for the same reason.

Nettled.

Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph: Politician—Congratulate me, my dear. I've won the nomination.

How to Kill Off Any Foreign Trade Chance

By U. S. Consul Jose de Olivares, Madras, India.

If American business houses seeking to establish trade connections in foreign markets realized the injury which results both to their own prospects and to general American trade extension by the seemingly small but frequently disastrous oversight of sending abroad short-stamped trade letters, they would adopt adequate measures to insure the immediate discontinuance of this all too prevalent practice.

All American consular officers are aware of the annoyance occasioned to foreign merchants, and the resultant injury to otherwise effective trade methods, by the short-paid postage habit, and repeated cautions on this subject have been given through the medium of Daily Consular and Trade Reports. Hence, I feel that no views I might put forth in this connection could emphasize more forcibly the necessity of avoiding this wholly unnecessary fault than the following text of a letter recived at this consulate from the managing director of the largest firm in Madras importing general lines of merchandise from the United States:

We have to place before you the following information. By each week's mail we receive letters from America short stamped. This is not the case with letters received from any other country. Dispatching of letters, especially from America to India, containing advertising matter or even general letters, is not given the attention that it calls for. In many cases where envelopes are sealed we are compelled to receive them and pay the extra charge, but you can quite understand they are received with a great deal of annoyance. If your country is looking for trade in India, we think this matter should receive immediate attention.

A few days after the receipt of the foregoing letter, the same firm again wrote to the consulate as follows:

In support of our letter of the 11th inst., we beg to hand you a communication received from Messrs. ——, New York, on which we paid 3 annas (6 cents) for short postage, and to make things worse, they inclose an envelope with a United States stamp of 2 cents for return postage.

The utter uselessness of inclosing United States stamps for return postage from India or any other foreign country is obvious, and in this case the amount of postage, both prepaid and inclosed, was insufficient.

If this were an isolated case it would not be made the subject of a special report, but as previously intimated, the short postage practice is altogether too prevalent for the welfare of American foreign trade interests.

It is the policy of this consulate to endeavor to conciliate merchants who make complaints of this nature by assuring them that the short stamping of letters is not intentional, but the result of intrusting the mailing of correspondence to employes who are familiar only with American domestic postage rates and not with rates to foreign countries. While such an entirely plausible explanation is usually accepted, it should be borne in mind that many merchants are similarly annoyed by receiving short-stamped letters, who do not trouble themselves to complain of the fact, and thus afford an opportunity for excuse.

It should be carefuly noted that the minimum sealed letter postage rate from the United States to India is 5 cents, and if it is desired to inclose return postage the equivalent should be sent in the form of an international reply coupon, procurable at practically all postoffices throughout the world.

As We Scurry Through Life

Atlantic Monthly: Has any question been more absorbing during the last decades than the question how much space could be covered, on earth or in air, in a minute of time?

Back of our hurry lies something deeper than the mere desire to excel in this or that sport, this or that means of rapid transit, this or that business enterprise or philanthropy. It is an unconfessed manifestation of our immense sense of loss; a morbid outpouring of that energy which might work healthily and to great ends if the old hope were there of endless destiny. We have but a few minutes in which to rob the house of life; let us seize all the articles in sight; death, the householder, is even now waiting to take us into custody.

We want as much as we can get; we want all, and we foolishly think that hurrying feet and twitching muscles can win it. We will crowd all into the swift, flitting minutes, though life should break in the process.

Today we are so comfortable, so enlightened and, with our widening philanthropy, so estimable, that we surely ought to be happy! Yet we see few satisfied faces, such as we can remember from long ago, full of inner content, faces "on which the dove of peace sat brooding," and we pause to ask what our boasted progress has to offer in compensation for the great loss that has come through the seeming gain of these later years?

It is an era of the flesh and its needs, its possibilities—of unawareness, for the most part, of any aspects deeper than the physical. Many of us can remember the day when we were taught that we had immortal souls, to whose safeguarding thought and care and profound endeavor must go. The chief question was, "Is it right or wrong?" The chief question today is, "Is it sterilized?"

Life, which used to be a brave fight between heaven and hell, has come to be a long and anxious tip-toeing between the microbe and the antiseptic. It is not that I object to antseptics, but that I object to the amount of good brain space they have come to occupy to the exclusion of more important matters.

In our great outer prosperity and inner poverty, our immense acquisition of external knowledge, and incalculable loss of deeper realities, our morality shifting its great concern from the welfare of the soul to that of the body, we find no symbol so fitting as the old fable of the dog and his shadow in the brook. Dropping his bone to grasp the shadow of the bone, he went hungry away.

The Heart Cry.

His little hands that snuggled in me breast,
His gropin' hands that sthole me hehrt away,
His dimpled, dirthy hands that wud not resht,
Do they be red this day?

His big blue eyes thot gave me shmile for shmile,
Thot run wid tears whin, vexed wid him, I'd schold,
His baby eyes thot folla me bewhile,
Phwat do they now behold?

His feet, his dear fat sthumblin' blundherin' feet;
Me heart feels stheps a-thuddin' on the sod;
Me heart's a dhrum, he's marchin' to its beat;
Oh, kape him for me, God!

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Billy Kent, member of congress from California, is one of the leading shepherds of his district. Understand, he does not go out into the hills and meadows with a shepherd's crook like Bo-Peep and actually attend the sheep, but he knows a great many thousand of our little woolly friends. If you were to walk up to Kent and ask him, "Have you any wool?" and he were to reply, "Yes, three bags full," like the pleasant little sheep in the nursery rhyme, he would be underestimating his possessions, for even at this moment he doubtless has many more bags of wool than that. Yet with all his wool he voted to reduce the woollen tariff, to enable those of us who have no sheep to buy woollen underclothing and consequently to wonder if we aren't catching a mild case of hives.

However, we are drifting clear away from our brief tale. Another sheep owner out in California wrote Kent a letter the other day, evidently with the idea that Kent, being in the sheep business himself, would catch his point of view.

"The grass is all dried up," he said, "and the sheep won't eat it. Kindly arrange with the agricultural experiment station to provide me with a few thousand green goggles for my sheep, so that I can fool them into thinking the grass is a nice spring green."

Johnson N. Camden, who spent a few months in Washington as senator from Kentucky until March 4, is a great horseman, and owned one of the finest stables in the United States. In order to have somebody to talk to about horses back home, Camden brought with him to Washington an old negro servant who was the valet of Camden's father, once senator from West Virginia.

One day this negro was called to the senate to perform a chore for Camden and the senator noticed the old man was suffering from a severe cold. It happened that Senators Gallinger of New Hampshire and Harry Lane of Oregon, both former pill doctors, were standing near by and Camden asked them to take a look at the old man.

"What seems to be the matter with you?" asked Gallinger. And when Lane came up, he asked: "Just how do you feel?"

Then each told him something to take. Not being regular physicians any more, they did not write him out a mysterious prescription, but told him the name of the stuff he was to use in plain United States.

The next day Camden asked his servant if he were taking the remedies the senatorial doctors had suggested.

"No, sah, I thought it'd just wait 'til I gets home," he replied, "and then I'll go to some good vet'inary doctah. These doctahs that has to ask you what's the mattah with you ain't no good doctahs. A hoss doctah has to know what's the mattah without never askin'—cause a hoss can't talk, now kin he? That's why a hoss doctah is the best doctah they is."

The Mystery at Mons

Gelett Burgess in Collier's Weekly: "It must have been exciting, that retreat from Mons," I ventured.

"Yes," he said, reflectively, "it was."

"And you know who was responsible for it?"

I mentioned a name—a mysterious name that the French papers even yet are very loath to mention. Tommy puffed at his pipe and scowled. "D'you know what became of him?"

That, too, is a subject the Paris papers refuse to discuss. Some say the general is inspecting artillery, some that he is at Bordeaux—and some assert that he is in the military prison of Cherche-Midi.

"Shot," said Tommy. "Shot and buried up there in the northeast. That's what Kitchener came over for. We were in advance of the French line, you know, and we had only 50,000 men to hold off 200,000 Germans—and the beggar never came forward from Lille to support us. Yes, it was in the orders of the day that he had been court-martialed and shot. A good job, too.

"Why, d'you know how near we came to being surrounded? Just two miles, I give you my word. Near Bertry, it was, with our two army corps retreating on one road, so mixed up you couldn't tell cavalry from infantry.

"I'll never forget that night—Lord, what a mess! It took hours to straighten us out, with four lanterns on one side of the road for the Fourth division to assemble, three on the other for the Third, and so on, all stumbling into the fields, trying to find their regiments and brigades in the dark, with the devil to pay and every man jack as mad as a hatter for having to retreat."

He took his pipe out of his mouth and laughed suddenly.

"I say, you should have seen one Scotchman there, lying down in the middle of the road, by jove, blocking the traffic for 50,000 men! He swore he was too dog-tired to move, and he'd killed enough Germs to have a rest. They couldn't budge him. And the enemy only two miles away! Gen. Smith-Dorrien himself came up and ordered him under arrest, and even then he wouldn't go, and they had to fair lift him up and carry him off!"

An Improved Lifebelt.

Popular Mechanics: The ordinary lifebelt is a cumbersome thing to wear, and in order to provide protection for airmen or others who are likely to be thrown into the water, a lifebelt has been invented that lies flat under the chest under ordinary conditions and becomes inflated when brought in contact with the water. This belt consists of a flexible tubular girdle, at one end of which are two receptacles, one containing water and the other a carbide which becomes a gas and inflates the tube when mixed with water. A valve permits the wearer to let the water into the carbide receptacle, which a wick that passes from the outside of the belt into this receptacle causes the water to enter and inflate the tube automatically in case the wearer is unconscious after being thrown into the water. Provision is made for preventing the entrance of water after inflation has taken place and for preventing overinflation of the tube.

First Non-Partisan State Legislature

Suggestions and Comments From the State Press.

Hopeful—Vainly or Otherwise.

Faribault Pilot: Now that the county option matter is out of the way we expect to see the legislative mill grinding out laws daily.

May Get Its Wind Soon.

Greenbush Tribune: The present legislature has been slow in passing bills, but it is likely to get its wind soon and then there will be something doing.

One Tax-Boost Reason.

Warroad Pioneer: The salary increase bills are as numerous as ever in the state legislature and, doubtless, many of them will pass. In the last ten years salaries of public officials have been increased at least 50 per cent. And the biggest increases have been given to those already well paid. And that is one of the reasons for the increasing tax rates.

A Lucid Interval.

Luverne Journal: Every now and then the legislature gets lapses of sanity. The house committee the other day killed the bill for extending the terms of its members from two to four years. Ugh, wouldn't that have been awful!

Apply Ordinary Rules.

Albert Lea Tribune: Yes, the state needs many things badly which require money. But the people are obliged to get along without a good many things they really need and there's no reason why the state can't adopt the same economical policy for a few years.

Good in Several Ways.

Stillwater Gazette: If the Minnesota legislature passes the measure pending before it providing for convict labor on state highways, it will be merely adopting a plan that has already proven a success in states like Colorado, Iowa and Illinois, says the Virginia Enterprise. Good roads are necessary for state development. An out-of-door life for men unfortunate enough to be committed to penal institutions will be a considerable aid to the reform that prison sentences are designed to accomplish. The usual objections to convict labor cannot be held to apply in the case of state highways. The cheaper they can be built, the more of them will be undertaken and completed. The plan to work convicts on road construction is an excellent one, both from the economic and the humanitarian standpoints.

Made a Good Start.

Sandstone Courier: The state legislature can now get down to business and pass more real progressive measures. They have certainly made a good beginning.

Some Ways of Making the World Happier.

By being a real Christian. A missionary in China, after many efforts, induced a thoughtful Chinaman to read the New Testament. After he had read it, the missionary asked him what he thought of it. The Chinaman expressed high appreciation for the character of the book, but he said, "You do not believe it." In answer to the surprise of the missionary, the Chinaman went on to explain that the New Testament taught that those who believe in God should be free from care and worry, because they are kept by their God, who is a loving Father. The missionary, as seen by the Chinaman, was apparently overwhelmed with anxiety; his face was careworn, and he did not appear to be happy.

The rebuke was well received by the missionary, who had brought to his attention the great truth that even with all the burdens of a missionary in a heathen land there is no reason for the Christian to be overwhelmed with anxiety. "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

By service. (Gal. vi, 1, 2, 10.) If one should be overtaken in a fault, do not harshly condemn him and spread the news abroad, but in kindness seek to restore the offender, remembering how easy it is for you to make a mistake. We can add so much to the happiness of the world by bearing the burdens of others, and by doing good to them.

By love. (Read Eph. iv, 31, 32; v, 1, 2.) This world will be much happier when we put out of our lives "all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamor, and railing," and when we become "kind one to another, tender-hearted and forgiving, even as God also in Christ forgave you." So much of the world's trouble comes from hate. The war in Europe reveals to us how deep race hatred is among the nations of Europe.

By optimism. True optimism is founded on wisdom. Congressman Fess says that you can tell an optimist by the way he asks for the cream at the table. The pessimist asks, "Is there any milk in that pitcher?" The optimist says, "Please pass the cream." True, he may not always get cream, but it is worth while to have the spirit that expects cream and that does not complain when it proves to be milk.—W. W.

Getting at the Facts.

Collier's Weekly: The loss of 500,000 men in war can be made good in less than ten years through complete abstinence from alcohol by all the inhabitants of Russia. This is not the statement of some professional temperance booster; it is the estimate of Arthur Hunter, actuary with the New York Life Insurance company. To the Association of Life Insurance Presidents he recently read a paper based on the study of the deaths of 2,000,000 policy holders during twenty-five years. This was his statement: "Total abstainers have a mortality during the working years of life of about one-half of that among those who use alcohol to the extent of at least two glasses of whisky a day." Do facts mean anything to you? How much of your life and its energies are you cashing in for whisky?

What a Comma Will Do.

National Monthly: "Bill," the poet gasped, staggering into the friend's room.

"Why, what's wrong?" the friend inquired, starting as he grasped hold of the tottering man.

"Wrong!" the poet muttered. "Ye gods! I wrote a poem about my little boy. I began the first verse with these lines:

"My son! My pigmy counterpart."

"Yes, yes?"

The poet drew a long breath as he took a newspaper from his pocket.

"Read!" he blazed suddenly. "See what the criminal compositor did to my opening line."

The friend read aloud:

"My son, my pig, my counterpart!"

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

TWO QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

To the Editor of The Herald:

If not too lengthy, please answer in the Open Court column these two questions:

Why is the word company of any concern, which is in news items or otherwise, always spelled with a small "c"?

What about the boulevard sign that was to be erected? You gave a prize contest for words or motto for this, and what words won the prize? Thanking you, INTERESTED.

Duluth, March 10.

Every newspaper has what is called a style book to insure uniformity of style in capitalization and spelling. Most of these style books call for the word to be spelled with a small "c" because there is no reason for using a capital letter. If the whole corporate name is used, as for examples the Universal Steel Company of Minnesota, the "c" would be capitalized, as "company" would be part of the title. It is more or less an arbitrary rule adopted by most newspapers. Some of them make it a rule to use the capital.

It was found that the name Rogers Boulevard had been given to the boulevard many years ago, but fallen into disuse. This name was revived in honor of the man who was chiefly responsible for constructing it.—The Editor.

FRESH AIR IN SCHOOLS.

To the Editor of The Herald:

May I beg a few lines in which to pat your well-balanced Dr. Brady on the back for his interest in what I take to be the Lester Park school's ventilating system. We naturally can't expect our school board to tear up the school and put in new apparatus, but we do plead with them to disregard the antediluvian system and allow the teachers to keep the windows wide open—not for three minutes, but for a greater part of all the fine sunny days we will soon be having.

I, myself, have been down in the intake chamber, and it is true the air is pumped from outdoors and it smells just like any basement; clean, undoubtedly, but not like the glorious sunshine we all crave these spring days. The teachers and principal are all up-to-date women and for fresh air, but the janitor says the open window upsets the ventilating system, so with the exception of a very few minutes each day, the windows must remain closed.

Duluth boasts of one of the finest pediatrists in the country, who advocates, even for normal children, a morning in school and the afternoon out-of-doors. Why can't we bring out-of-doors in to the wan-faced little ones who can't be free? A MOTHER.

BEST BUTTERMAKER IN THE UNITED STATES.

Mason City, Iowa, March 11.—Emil G. Oman of Delano, Minn., was awarded the title of champion butter-maker of the United States at yesterday's session of the National Creamery Buttermakers' association convention. Minnesota buttermakers took their tenth national convention banner with the ten highest scores averaging 95.55. Oman's score was 96 points. Buttermakers of Iowa and Wisconsin were awarded second and third places, respectively.

Prof. G. H. Benkendorf of the Wisconsin college of agriculture was the principal speaker at last night's session of the convention. He discussed the progress of dairy education during the last quarter of a century, with special ephasis on what he termed the bright future of that industry. He declared that the agitation for better raw material at the butter factories was "bound to result in much good."

Minneapolis was voted the 1916 convention.

WOMEN APPEAR AS OLD AS THEIR HAIR

It is astonishing to see how much good-looking hair does toward producing a youthful appearance. It is astonishing also to realize how much the attractiveness of the hair is affected by the care we give it, especially in the matter of cleansing. In washing the hair it is not advisable to use a makeshift, but always use a preparation made for shampooing only. You can enjoy the best that is known for about three cents a shampoo by getting a package of canthrox from your druggist; dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.—Advertisement.

Dressing His Majesty in Style

TOO MANY babies are dressed to kill. Clothing should keep the baby comfortable and not sweltering. With proper nourishment he has a very good heat producing equipment of his own and it is not only unnecessary but distinctly harmful to coddle him with more clothing than he can comfortably stand.

One bad article of clothing to keep on the baby is the abdominal band. His stomach is strong enough. You don't have to support it with a bandage or binder just because the baby's grandmother imagined she had to support her baby's tummy that way. In cold weather the abdominal binder tends to weaken the baby's muscles. In warm weather it is simply so much counter-irritation to the skin of the abdomen. There is no doubt that the abdominal binder predisposes the baby to intestinal irritation and summer complaint. In warm weather the baby, more than any one else, needs to be kept cool, for summer heat is hard on babies.

Don't Raise a Hothouse Plant.

So don't start your baby on his life journey with a coddled abdomen. Leave off the abdominal band just as early as the doctor will permit, without consulting any grannies or nurses about it.

For all the year round, wool is the material for baby's shirt and stockings. In cool weather that should be the foundation of his dress; in hot weather that should be practically all of his dress, and in very hot weather the less of that the better.

Wool shirt and stockings, flannel petticoat, cotton dress, no shoes until he creeps. That is the right style for his majesty's dress.

For night dress he should have a flannel garment in cool weather, one which completely includes his feet, and, if he sleeps in a cool room, as he should if he expects to keep free of nose, throat and chest troubles, the sleeping garment should cover his hands, too, so that they will not get cold if he kicks off his blankets in the night.

Nutritive Value of Canned Food: Please state which furnishes more nutritive material, dried beef or canned salmon; bacon or salt pork; corn meal or rice or wheat; beans or potatoes.

REPLY.

Here are the exact food values given in Prof. Atwater's Principles of Nutrition and Nutritive Value of Food, issued by the United States department of agriculture, as Farmers' Bulletin 142.

Drief beef	790	Corn meal	1640
Canned salmon	915	Rice	1625
Bacon	2720	Wheat flour	1635
Salt pork	3555	Beans (dried)	1520
		Potatoes	295

The figures represent the number of calories or food-value units in each pound of digestible material. You will notice that pork-fed and corn-fed philosophers are well nourished.

Troublesome Tonsil Tag: A year ago my tonsils were removed by a surgeon. A small piece of tonsil remaining in the right side of throat becomes inflamed and discolored often. Should I have it removed?

REPLY.

Ask the advice of the surgeon who operated. If it is tonsil tissue, it probably should be removed.

Avoiding Pneumonia: How can one engaged in outdoor work avoid pneumonia?

REPLY.

By avoiding crowded places, alcohol, coddling, and contact with persons who have "a cold" or sore throat or cough. By keeping the mouth and teeth clean.

GEN. CARRANZA MAKES REPLY

Mexican Leader Answers Note of Protest By United States.

Defends Acts of Himself and the Constitutionalist Party.

Vera Cruz, March 11.— Gen. Venustiano Carranza, in answer to the protest addressed to him by Secretary of State Bryan through United States Consul Silliman, regarding conditions in the city of Mexico, last night addressed a reply to President Wilson personally. He denies the responsibility of the Constitutionalists for a situation which is considered alarming for foreigners, but expresses the hope that Americans and citizens of other countries will lose no time in departing from Mexico City until tranquility shall be restored. The Constitutionalist chief pledges himself to provide every facility for the exodus. He suggests that if foreign residents do not desire to leave the country they should seek safer places in the republic.

Gen. Carranza declares that he always has tried to safeguard the interests of Americans and other foreigners and intends to continue this course.

The charges that Gen. Carranza has deliberately fostered disturbances in Mexico City are denied by Carranza, who declares every possible effort has been made to distribute food supplies. He contends that the present situation has been aggravated by the conduct of merchants who have protested against the imposition of a humanitarian relief tax.

The following is the text of Gen. Carranza's reply to the note of Secretary Bryan delivered by United States Consul Silliman:

Text of Reply.

"Although the terms in which this note is worded would afford me cause for not answering, it is my wish, notwithstanding, that my silence be not misconstrued as a justification of charges contained in the same. I have tried to put aside for the moment references which are made to my personal responsibility, and looking only for the good of my country and for the benefit of the cause which the Mexican people have entrusted to me, I thought it my duty to answer at once.

"On the other hand, in view of the importance of the subject discussed in the aforesaid note, I have thought myself authorized not to follow this time customary channels, but to address you (President Wilson) personally concerning a matter which may involve the success of the Mexican revolution. In the note I am answering, it is taken for granted that the imputations made against Gen. Obregon by an international committee of foreign residents in the City of Mexico the substance of which also has been communicated to me by Mr. Silliman in his note of the first instant, the true and this assumption has been indulged in when the answer to those imputations was being prepared.

May Answer More Fully.

"Reserving the privilege of answering more fully and in detail through the customary diplomatic channels, the note referred to lately, I take this opportunity to state in an earnest and emphatic way that Gen. Obregon never has intended to incite the hungry populace of the City of Mexico to commit outrages of any character. He has not prevented in any way the entrance of food supplies into Mexico City, but on the contrary, has facilitated such importations. He has not created willfully the distressing conditions which prevail at the present in Mexico City, but has done everything in his power to alleviate them.

"Such a situation is the consequence of a painful, but unavoidable state of war in which we are and which, for the first time really has reached Mexico City. It has been aggravated by the conduct of merchants who were openly defiant and, with concert of action, closed their commercial establishments in moments of greatest public distress as a protest against the humanitarian relief laws which Gen. Obregon imposed.

"In face of the charges expressed by the international committee in their complaint to the state department, I point to the fact that Gen. Obregon has been in the possession of the city of Mexico since Jan. 26 until today without mobs, assassinations, lootings or any other of the outrages which are apt to occur and which frequently do occur in times of war.

Supplies Distributed.

"During all this time, large amounts of food supplies have been taken into Mexico City and large quantities of supplies have been distributed among the distressed people. Other important measures also have been taken, looking to further relief, which I will mention in detail at the proper time.

"While it is proper to state to your excellency that the right to occupy or to evacuate Mexico City or any other place in the republic must at all times be reserved, and is to be exercised when deemed by the responsible military authorities to be in furtherance of the cause of the revolution, the obligation on the Constitutionalist army to safeguard the lives of foreigners, is nevertheless fully understood and realized. You will, therefore, permit me to assure you that at the time of the evacuation of Mexico City every facility within my power will be offered to all foreign residents in that city to leave the country or go to other and safer places in the republic.

"I always have tried to give and have given the largest protection possible to the lives and interests of Americans and other foreigners, even during the most difficult period of our struggle. I have purpose of continuing the same line of conduct, and have decided to take all measures possible to avoid all damage to foreign residents. With this purpose solely in view, I addressed a note to the diplomatic corps in Mexico City, which I have repeated twice, inviting them, in case of evacuation to come either to this port or to any of the cities for instance Puebla, Jalapa or Orizaba, which are under the control of the Constitutionalist forces, where they can be assured perfect protection.

Americans Should Leave.

"It was only three days ago that the state department at Washington directed the attention of American residents in Mexico City to your former advice that they should retire from the country until conditions should be settled. It is my most earnest wish that the other foreign residents follow a line of conduct similar to the one suggested by you to the American residents, for the adoption of such a course would be the wisest measure that can be taken to avoid consequences so much to be feared.

"I wish I could adequately convey to your excellency the political and economic conditions in the city of Mexico and their causes as they are understood and known here to be, concerning which representations by an international committee have been made to the state department. Perhaps a last effort is now being made by reactionaries to bring about complications which may cause the failure of the Mexican revolution. After having encountered and disposed of other and much more difficult and embarrassing situations in the past when there were a large number of foreign residents scattered all over the territory of Mexico, it will prove to be most unfortunate if now, when Mexico City alone is involved, a situation shall arise which will destroy the hopes and purposes of the Mexican people.

"Because of this consideration, permit me to repeat the hope elsewhere expressed that foreign residents may be induced to save your government and the republic of Mexico from embarrassments by temporarily leaving the city of Mexico. Allow me to avail myself of this opportunity to reiterate to you the assurance of my highest consideration and personal regards."

Further Statement.

Gen. Carranza gave to newspaper representatives a signed statement reiterating most of the points he made in his reply to Secretary Bryan's note. He added:

"During the occupancy of Mexico City by Constitutionalist forces, there has not been a single case of assassination, not a single case of an attack upon a woman, not a case of a wealthy man being held for ransom, acts which frequently are carried out by the reactionaries."

He declared that "since the day after Gen. Obregon took Mexico City, he has used all measures possible to alleviate the difficult situation, which was left by the reactionists upon their evacuation. For this purpose, he placed at the disposal of the chamber of commerce 300 empty cars for bringing in provisions. There was distributed by him by order of the first chief 500,000 pesos among the indigent. He distributed to the same classes the necessaries of life. The sufferings of Mexico City have been the same which have afflicted other towns of the republic because of the state of war existing."

Gen. Carranza said the evacuation of Mexico City was not intended as a punishment for the city but was solely part of a military plan. He asserted that since it had been known by most residents from the beginning that the place would be evacuated sooner or later, foreigners had had ample time to seek safety in other places.

An Old, Family Cough Remedy, Home-Made

Easily Prepared—Costs Very Little, but is Prompt, Sure and Effective

By making this pint of old-time cough syrup at home you not only save about $2, as compared with the ready-made kind, but you will also have a much more prompt and positive remedy in every way. It overcomes the usual coughs, throat and chest colds in 24 hours—relieves even whooping cough quickly—and is excellent, too, for bronchitis, bronchial asthma, hoarseness and spasmodic croup.

Get from any drug store 2½ ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth), pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Full directions with Pinex. Keeps perfectly and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. It quickly loosens the dry, hoarse or painful cough and heals the inflamed membranes. It also has a remarkable effect in overcoming the persistent loose cough by stopping the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes.

The effect of Pine on the membranes is known by almost every one. Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract combined with guaiacol and other natural healing pine elements.

There are many worthless imitations of this famous mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and do not accept anything else.

Not Sold By Weight

When you buy Shredded Wheat you are paying something for the patented process by which the whole wheat is made digestible in the human stomach. We are not selling raw wheat. It is what you digest, not what you eat, that builds muscle, bone and brain.

Shredded Wheat

is the whole wheat made digestible by steam-cooking, shredding and baking. The filmy, porous shreds are quickly permeated by the digestive juices, enabling the body to take up every particle of nutriment stored in the whole wheat grain. Don't be misled by net weight regulations or comparisons of raw, indigestible foods with Shredded Wheat.

Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits, heated in the oven to restore crispness, served with hot milk or cream, make a complete, nourishing, satisfying meal at a total cost of five or six cents. Also delicious with fruits. TRISCUIT is the Shredded Wheat Wafer, eaten as a toast with butter or soft cheese, or as a substitute for white flour bread or crackers.

This Week's Sunday School Lesson

Written for The Herald By Rev. J. S. Kirtley, D. D.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON: MARCH 14.

I, Samuel xi: Saul Gains His Kingdom.

CONNECTION.

From that anointing by Samuel to the throne was a long, long journey for Saul. Here are the steps: God chose him; Samuel anointed and instructed him; the people sent their representatives to an assembly at Mizpah at the call of Samuel and elected him. But he is not crowned yet. He is not ready and the people are not ready for that, not yet. Two difficulties are in the way, his own inexperience and immaturity, the opposition of a vicious and stubborn minority. He must have time to think. When Samuel anointed him it was all a surprise. Samuel gave him four signs to assure him. One was that he should meet two men at the tomb of Rachel on his way home who would tell him the asses were found; another, that at the oak of Tabor men should present him with part of the offering they were going to present to God; the third, that he should meet a band of prophets on his way home and he would prophecy with them; fourth, that after his coronation, Samuel would meet him at Gilgal. Three of those signs were now fulfilled; further, Saul was chosen and we remember the occasion and how the people admired the handsome young man, but the worse elements disliked and threatened him.

Now, he is at home, no crown on his head yet. He is thinking and waiting. His heart has been touched by the Spirit of God; prepared men have consecrated themselves to his support. The lesson today tells the event that brought him out, completed his preparation for the tasks of rulership and won the support of that insolent minority.

THE LESSON.

I.

Hears a Cry For Help. 1-5.

"Then Nahash the Ammonite came up, and encamped against Jabesh-gilead: and all the men of Jabesh said unto Nahash, Make a covenant with us, and we will serve thee. And Nahash the Ammonite said unto them, On this condition will I make it with you, that all your right eyes be put out; and I will lay it for a reproach upon all Israel. And the elders of Jabesh said unto him, Give us seven days' respite, that we may send messengers unto all the borders of Israel; and then, if there be none to save us, we will come out to thee. Then came the messengers to Gibeah of Saul, and spake these words in the ears of the people; and all the people lifted up their voice, and wept. And, behold, Saul came following the oxen out of the field; and Saul said, What aileth the people that they weep? And they told him the words of the men of Jabesh."

1. PERIL.—His brethren of the tribe of Gad were surrounded by an ancient enemy in their town of Jabesh. Reuben, Gad and the half tribe of Manassah were allowed to settle on the east side of the Jordan, Reuben east of the Dead Sea, Gad north, Manassah farther north. Ammonites, related to Israel, descendants of Lot, had always been hostile, but had been silenced for a hundred years by the defeats they suffered from Jephthah. Now they are surrounding Jabesh. The inhabitants are ready to give and they ask for the best terms. The conditions are to have their eyes put out and have it published far and wide as an insult to the whole nation, who were too effeminate to protect one of their tribes. It would bring all the more honor to the Ammonites to say the western tribes were afraid to come over east to deliver Gad.

2. RESPITE.—Seven days are given by the Ammonites to see if they can drum up a leader who will deliver them. The enemy gave this respite in perfect confidence that the city would fall and with quiet enjoyment of the suspense and agony felt in the city. God was at work. Why did those people go straight to the Gibeah, or hill, named for Saul? They had heard of his choice as king by the elders and must have had hope of effective help from him. But the case was desperate, urgent, peremptory, a matter of life or death.

3. APPEAL.—Other messengers probably went to other places. These mightily stirred the town and the young. The people wept aloud as the messengers hurried through telling the story, wept because those over east were kindred, because they remembered the story of how those tribes had first helped settle the western tribes and because they feared that the capture of Jabesh would be the first step in the invasion of the rest of Israel.

II.

Works a Great Deliverance, 6-11.

"And the Spirit of God came mightily upon Saul when he heard those words, and his anger was kindled greatly. And he took a yoke of oxen, and cut them in pieces, and sent them throughout all the borders of Israel by the hand of messengers, saying, Whosoever cometh not forth after Saul and after Samuel, so shall it be done unto his oxen. And the dread of Jehovah fell on the people, and they came out as one man. And he numbered them in Bezek; and the children of Israel were three hundred thousand, and the men of Judah thirty thousand. And they said unto the messengers that came, Thus shall ye say unto the men of Jabeshgilead, tomorrow, by the time the sun is hot, ye shall have deliverance. And the messengers came and told the men of Jabesh; and they were glad. Therefore the men of Jabesh said, Tomorrow we will come out unto you, and ye shall do with us all that seemeth good unto you. And it was so on the morrow, that Saul put the people in three companies; and they came into the midst of the camp in the morning watch, and smote the Ammonites until the heat of the day; and it came to pass, that they that remained were scattered, so that not two of them were left together."

1. ASSURANCE.—Saul felt the insult from the Spirit of God, a sort of new access of indignation and patriotism and responsibility, had a paroxysm. He had no doubt of his duty or success or of the source of his help. Three things gave confidence to the messengers—his anger; the bloody symbol, the twelve pieces of the ox sent to arouse the tribes as had often been done before and as the Scotch used to send the bloody cross to arouse the clans to action; his assurance that help was coming by the next day. They knew God was at work and went back with courage.

2. UPRISING.—It was a big army, but there was a call for every man and it was do or die. The "morrow" began at sundown and the sun was hot at noon following. By that time he would be on the grounds, and he was, though they marched all night to get there. Swift messengers could make time. The runners with the pieces of the ox could reach all parts before night and the common meeting place was to be at Bezek near the Jordan. Orientals kindle quickly. It was like a match set to tinder.

3. VICTORY.—The enthusiasm, the coolness of Jabesh in sending word they would let their enemy do as they pleased with them next day, knowing they would please to run, the sudden attack, all combined to get a victory. But the real explanation was God.

III.

At Last Crowned King. 12-15.

"And the people said unto Samuel, Who is he that said, Shall Saul reign over us? bring the men, that we may put them to death. And Saul said, There shall not a man be put to death this day; for today Jehovah hath wrought deliverance in Israel."

1. MAGNANIMOUS.—The people were wild with admiration for him and when they wanted to put to death those who opposed him he displayed exactly the right spirit of forgiveness. It was ideal, the way he did.

2. CROWNED. — Samuel knew the time had come. Saul had shown himself ready. The coronation ceremonies were prompt, unanimous and joyful. What next?

WHAT THE MASTERS SAY.

Nothing can make a man so strong in spirit as a confidence, born of faith, that God is with him because the things he attempts are such as God will approve. It is not bravery which induces a man to fight against God; that is sheer recklessness. True courage, therefore, must be always linked with what is right, and will be needed more in the moral realm than ever it is in the physical.—Hall.

Strong characters are always merciful. The weakling, the man wholly incapable of maintaining his own ground in a physical, mental or moral conflict, is less apt to be merciful to an enemy in that enemy's hour of ignominy than is the strong soldier who looks to God for mercy for himself. Washington once said that in some instances lenity will operate with greater force than will rigor, and he expressed a wish that his own conduct might be distinguished by this quality.—Preston.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

1. Who has a claim on our assistance?
2. What kind of anger is right?
3. When is it right to ignore enmity and the enemy?
4. How does confidence in God lessen anxiety?

WHY FAMOUS PASTRY COOKS USE KC BAKING POWDER

The patrons of our first class hotels and restaurants are exacting—they demand the best. Women go where the pastry and cakes are noted for their excellence. Men are attracted by hot bread and biscuits—when fresh and moist and light.

The pastry cook with a reputation uses K C Baking Powder because he knows that results are certain; every time everything is as good as his best.

Then, too, with K C Baking Powder he can mix the various kinds of batter before the rush of the meal begins and bake as needed so that every order goes to the table fresh and hot, yet the last he bakes are just as good as the first.

The reasons behind these reasons is that K C is really a blend of two baking powders. One commences to give off leavening gas as soon as moistened. The other requires both moisture and heat to make it active. Dough or batter will remain in a partially leavened condition for hours, and when put in the oven, will come up as light as if mixed a moment before.

For cookies, pancakes, doughnuts and the like, which cannot all be baked at once, K C is indispensable. For all baking the double raise makes doubly certain.

Follow the example of the professional cook and your baking will be equal to his.

JOBBERS LOOK FOR GOOD YEAR

Merchants of Northwest Now Have But Small Stocks.

Steady Movement in All Lines of Staple Goods.

Spring trade is reported to be developing along healthy lines by Duluth jobbers and manufacturers. Merchants at all points over this territory are said to entertain optimistic views regarding the general business trend during the next few months.

It is estimated that stocks being carried by dealers in every line are the smallest in years, and without consumption maintained on anything like a normal basis, it is thought safe to figure that buying by retailers is likely to reach greater proportions as the spring and summer seasons advance.

Grocery Prices Firm.

Business in groceries continues in good proportions, according to the Barthe-Martin company of this city and the Twohy-Elmon Mercantile company of Superior. Quotations through the list of staples are generally firm, but no marked advances have come about.

Sugars are steady, with refiners holding their figure at $5.75 to New York jobbers. The firmness in that market is attributed to strength in raws. Demand is said to be quiet, dealers not showing any disposition to increase their stocks.

Coffees are also steady at going prices. There is said to be practically no change in the Brazilian situation, stocks from there being handled by the large interests without difficulty.

Quotations through the dried fruit list are being strongly held, due in a measure to the good export inquiry being met with. Trade in canned fruits and vegetables is reported quiet, but the market is holding its own. Corn, however, is firm, as stocks in that product are comparatively light.

Markets in all cereals show an advancing tendency with a good demand reported. Jap rice is now quoted in first hands at 4.52 cents, the highest figure in several years. That is accounted for by the unfavorable weather in Japan, heavy rains having interfered with planting. Head rice is quoted at 5.52 cents a pound, f. o. b. the mills.

Sales of all imported goods are said to have fallen off materially on account of the high prices prevailing. Many articles are on a basis at which jobbers do not feel safe in handling them, and that is leading to increased consumption in domestic goods. Norwegian canned fish, including sardines, on the other hand, has not been advanced to any extent, and their quotations are regarded as comparatively low.

More Hardware Advances.

Marked improvement in sales of hardware staples and specialties was reported by the Kelley-How-Thompson company and the Marshall-Wells Hardware company. The filling of future orders for March and April shipment is now proceeding, and a gratifying feature noted in that connection is that merchants are showing anxiety to have their goods forwarded. The markets are strong in all iron and steel products. An advance of $2 a ton has been made in galvanized barb wire on account of the prevailing high market in zinc. An advance of five cents per 100 square feet has come in black wire cloth, and wire fencing has gone up a point.

Building Materials Selling.

A surprising call for roofing and building papers was noted by the Duluth Paper company. Price advances in some lines of roofing papers is expected to materialize at any time, and dealers are endeavoring to cover their requirements as far ahead as possible on that account.

Trade in general stationery is also being found good by the house, and is reported to be running substantially ahead of last year in the aggregate.

Shoe Trade Promising.

Operations of the Northern Shoe company's factory were advised to be on a fully normal basis, sufficient orders being in hand to warrant confidence regarding the outlook on the part of the management.

Mail orders are bulking up nicely, and are taken to afford an indication that stocks being carried by retailers have been worked down to a comfortable basis. A good business is being worked up in the factory's special "Farmpruf" shoe. The leather in this shoe is so treated that it resists the effect of ammonia met with in barnyards, and stables. The company's salesmen are now coming in for their fall shoe samples.

Furniture Sales Growing.

A substantial increase in furniture being booked from Montana and North Dakota, was noted by the De Witt-Seitz company. As a result of better copper mining conditions, liberal mail orders are coming to hand from over Northern Michigan, and the Northern Wisconsin ground is giving a good account of itself. The company expects to issue its new catalogue by May 1.

No Change in Drygoods.

There has been no special change of late in the drygoods situation in the experience of F. A. Patrick & Co. Orders from merchants for immediate delivery are satisfactory, but business in futures is still being somewhat curtailed. Salesmen's reports regarding the outlook are, however, almost universally favorable.

CREATED ADMIRALS OF UNITED STATES NAVY

ADMIRAL FLETCHER.

ADMIRAL COWLES.

ADMIRAL HOWARD.

Washington, March 11.—Under the new law creating the grade of admiral in the United States navy, President Wilson yesterday designated as admirals Rear Admirals Fletcher, Howard and Cowles, commanders-in-chief, respectively, of the Atlantic, Pacific and Asiatic fleets.

Secretary Daniels at once cabled Admiral Fletcher, now with the Atlantic fleet at Guantanamo, to hoist his flag and thus become senior in rank. Admiral Howard was ordered to hoist his flag today, while Admiral Cowles, in Asiatic waters, will assume his new rank Friday.

"With the exception of Admiral Dewey, who enjoys a rank unique in the navies of the world, that of admiral of the navy," said Secretary Daniels tonight, "the only other American naval officers previously to hold the rank of admiral were Farragut from 1866 to 1870 and D. D. Porter from 1870 to 1891."

Blue Flag With Four Stars.

Mr. Daniels said the selection of the three vice admirals and the chief of operations, provided for in the new law, has not yet been considered. The news admirals will fly blue flags with four stars. They hold their advanced rank only so long as they continue as fleet commanders. If detached for other business they will return to their former grades and salaries. Their promotion is expected to do away with embarrassing situations which have arisen heretofore when American rear admirals with superior naval strength have not been able to take supreme command of a situation in foreign waters because of the presence of an admiral or vice admiral in some other navy.

Admiral Fletcher was promoted to rear admiral in October, 1911, and has been commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet since September, 1914. He was for many months senior naval officer on the Mexican east coast and directed the occupation of Vera Cruz.

Admiral Howard was promoted to rear admiral in 1910 and in February, 1914, was assigned as commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet. Since that date he has been almost continuously in west coast Mexican waters.

Admiral Cowles was promoted rear admiral January, 1911, and was transferred last year to the Asiatic fleet as commander-in-chief.

WAS SUBMARINE U-12 SUNK INSTEAD OF U-20?

London, March 11.—The British admiralty announced last night that the German submarine which was rammed and sunk yesterday by the British torpedo destroyer Ariel was the U-12 instead of the U-20, as previously stated.

The submarine U-12 was an older and smaller vessel than the U-20. She was of the class built in 1910-11. Her displacement was 250 tons and she had a maximum cruising radius of 1,200 miles. Her complement consisted of twelve men. She was armed with three 18-inch torpedo tubes and two 1-pounder high angle guns. She had a speed of thirteen knots above water and eight knots submerged.

The U-12 has taken an active part in the German operations against British shipping. On Feb. 21 she sank the small Irish coasting steamer Downshire in the Irish sea after giving the crew five minutes in which to leave their ship.

SHORT COURSE CLASS GROWS

More Than Fifty Enrolled; Lake County Farmers Interested.

Special Program Arranged for Each Day of the Term.

Fifteen more members yesterday joined the class which is taking the annual short course work at the state experimental farm. The present enrollment is now over fifty, and it is expected that the class will take on additional members today and tomorrow. The short course work will continue through March 20.

Sheep and Cattle Day.

Today is sheep and cattle day on the program which has been arranged. A good-sized delegation of Lake county farmers and business men, who are interested in the proposition of grazing cattle on cutover lands, have notified those in charge of the course work that they will be in attendance at the meetings today.

This morning Thomas Patterson discussed "Sheep Feeding and Management," and W. A. McKerrow spoke on "Factors in Beef Production." At the Jean Duluth stock farm this afternoon demonstrations will be made in the judging and scoring of both sheep and beef cattle. Tonight M. J. Thompson will give an illustrated lecture on "The Evolution of a Northeastern Minnesota Farm."

Members of the class visited the stock farm yesterday for the purpose of studying the Guernsey type of cattle. The judging and scoring competition was held under the supervision of Prof. George Grout, manager of the Jean Duluth farm. Out of a possible 300 points, scores were made as follows: E. Homerud, Arnold, 250; J. W. Peterson, East Grand Forks, 233; M. Hinkey, Jr., Wolf, 212; A. Gidding, Two Harbors, 205; F. R. Franzen, Two Harbors, 196; J. Owen, Crookston, 193.

Round Table Discussion.

The classes held an informal round table discussion last evening. The daily rations of Guernsey cattle was a subject which was taken up for consideration. Each member of the class has taken a cow to study individually, with reference to rations, milk production and the value of annual production.

Friday is Holstein cattle day. The program is as follows:

9:30 a. m.—"Feeding and Management of Swine," W. A. McKerrow; "Twenty Years of Work With Holsteins," F. G. Larson.

1:30 p. m.—Judging and scoring of sheep, Thomas Patterson; judging and scoring of beef cattle, W. A. McKerrow.

7:30 p. m.—Debate work.

RAILWAY TRAFFIC MUCH IMPROVED

Forest Products Are Big Factor; February Report Favorable.

Railroads operating in the Northwest report that a decided improvement in traffic has come about during the last month. The movement of forest products has become a factor and a heavier tonnage of general freight is being handled, according to Duluth officials.

A rush of heavy goods in hardware lines from the Head of the Lakes for delivery at points over the West is expected at the opening of navigation, arrangements having been made to route a large tonnage of these products on the first steamers to leave Lake Erie ports on their up trips. Shipments of other staples will also reach a substantial aggregate, it is said. Current railroad earnings are advised to be making a better showing than in several months back.

For January net earnings of the Soo line were reported at $276,876, a decrease of $40,168 from the same month last year. For the seven months ended Jan. 31, however, a gain of $40,163 was shown, the figures standing at $4,084,078 against $3,886,603 for the same period in 1914.

After showing heavy monthly decreases since early last summer the operating department of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road has been making a better record of late and strong hopes are now entertained that a decrease in net earnings of $1,729,045 recorded up to Jan. 31 will be wiped out by the end of June.

Either Way— Drugs Are Harmful!

If a coffee drinker, have you stopped to think that, with every cup of coffee, you are taking from two to three grains of caffeine, a slow, but powerful, drug?

According to medical authorities, caffeine is a cause of nervousness, heart trouble, indigestion, constipation and other ailments. It's a cumulative drug, and what's more a habit-forming drug.

Sometime, when the coffee-drug gets in its licks, you'll realize the harm it does; but wouldn't it be better to avoid trouble—stop coffee now and use Postum.

It is a pure food-drink, made from selected wheat and a little wholesome molasses, carefully roasted, ground and skillfully blended. This gives it a snappy taste much like that rich, old Java, but Postum is absolutely free from caffeine, or any other harmful ingredient.

Instant Postum—a soluble form—no boiling required—made instantly in the cup with hot water—30c and 50c tins.

The difference is only in the form. Both kinds are equally wholesome and delicious and the cost per cup is about the same. Be sure to ask for the kind you want.

ICE IS HEAVY IN SUPERIOR

West End of Lake Extensively Frozen—Light Covering Elsewhere.

Late Opening of Navigation Expected Because of Business Conditions.

Ice conditions in Lake Superior lead to the speculation as to whether or not history will repeat itself. According to government ice reports there is much heavier ice and more of it at this end of Lake Superior this year than there was at the same period last year. There is less over central and eastern portions, and less in other lakes.

Two years ago the ice in Superior was extraordinarily heavy, and while the east end of the lake had just as much as any place else, the opening of navigation was chiefly delayed by reason of the fact that the heavy ice from the central and western parts of the lake dislodged itself up this way and was driven down, congregating in Whitefish bay so that the big ice crusher from Port Arthur, now at Archangel, Russia, had to be used in breaking through and releasing the large fleet of ships that were waiting to go through from both directions.

Late Opening Expected.

With the matter of ice, if history does repeat itself, there the similarity will end, for there will not be, in all likelihood, any ice crusher or any particular anxiety of the vessels to get through. Everything points to a late opening of navigation this year—from a purely business point of view, the ice conditions not being taken into account. Very little coal is expected to come up from the eastern end of the Great Lakes, and nobody in the vessel business is feverishly anxious to send boats down the lakes, for there is nothing to carry. Grain is at a halt, and ore lacks demand, so there will be a dearth of cargoes unless a change comes in a very short time.

Ice Conditions.

As to the ice conditions in the lakes, the weather bureau gives the following summaries:

"Reports from the regular and display stations of the weather bureau and the meteorological service of Canada indicate that the fields over the extreme western portion of Superior are heavy and extensive, extending along the north shore to beyond Grand Portage; from Keweenaw point eastward to Whitefish point the fields are small and not extensive; there being less ice reported over the eastern portion than last year. The ice in St. Mary's river averages sixteen inches and is solid. Heavy ice is reported over the northern portion of Green bay. Some ice fields are reported over Lake Michigan along the west shore as far south as Two Rivers, but none over the southern and eastern portions. From Harbor Springs north to the straits the ice appears solid but not heavy, the field extending into Lake Huron. Over the northern portion of Lake Huron southward, to Thunder Bay island the fields are extensive, south of there much open water is reported; the south end of the lake is covered with ice fields. The ice has been running steadily out of Lake St. Clair for the past ten days and Detroit river is open. The fields in Erie are small and much broken, moving with the winds. In Ontario, there are but few fields reported and these light. There is less ice reported in most of the harbors at this period than last season except over Western Superior.

"In comparison with the same period last year there is more ice over western Superior and less over the central and eastern portion, and less in all of the other lakes."

Conditions in Lake Superior harbors are given as follows:

Harbors in Superior.

Duluth—Harbor ice 35 inches in thickness; the field in the lake averages 17 inches and extends beyond vision.

Two Harbors—Harbor ice 15 inches in thickness; the field ice extends beyond vision and at Grand Marais, Minn., the field extends southward out of sight.

Ashland—Harbor ice 27 inches in thickness and is solid.

Portage, L. S. S.—Ice in the canal 6 inches in thickness; no floating ice fields in sight outside; there has been very little ice during the winter.

Houghton—Harbor ice 11 inches in thickness; it was softened some by the warm weather in February.

Marquette—Harbor ice 3 inches in thickness; ice moved out on Feb. 24 and new ice formed March 3 and 4; small floating fields of ice in the lake.

Whitefish Point—The ice in the bay ranges from 10 to 20 inches in thickness and is lighter than for past ten years; the fields in the lake extend out about thirty-five miles; a strong south wind would move out the ice as far as Parisian Island.

Sault Ste. Marie—Harbor ice 28 inches in thickness and very little snow on it. Reports from Hay Lake at Six-Mile Point indicate 16 inches of ice in the channel; the winter has been mild."

2 Drops of "GETS-IT," Out Comes the Corn!

It's the World's Wonder; Never Fails.

You'll make goo-goo eyes at your feet, after you use "GETS-IT," and you'll find the places where those blankety corns used to be, just as smooth as your cheek.

"How Wide Is a 'GETS-IT' Smile? Well, a Good Deal Over 2 Feet!"

There's no corn or callus among the millions of feet in the world that "GETS-IT" will not remove—there's no escape. "GETS-IT" is the new way, the simple, common-sense, sure way. It does away with greasy ointments, salves, pads, cotton rings, harnesses, knives, scissors, razors, files, and the limping and the painful pigeon-toe walk of so many corn-pestered people. All you do is put 2 drops of "GETS-IT" on—the corn shrivels up—and good-bye. Nothing else in the world like "GETS-IT." Millions are using it. There's no pain, no trouble, no changing shoes because of corns.

"GETS-IT" is sold by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent direct by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

"DOPE" LAW COMMENDED

Evil Effects of Patent Medicines Removed, Says Federal Official.

One of the greatest benefits that will come from the enforcement of the Federal law regulating the sale and handling of "dope" will be the curtailment in the use of patent medicines with opium, morphine and other narcotics in them, according to Harry Johnson of St. Paul, deputy collector of internal revenue, who has been in this city on business in connection with the department. Mr. Johnson left last night for the range where he will visit all of the chief cities for Uncle Sam.

"Patent medicines with narcotics brought the worst effects of any connected with the use of 'dope,'" said Mr. Johnson. "The worst phase of the patent medicine evil was that a person might become addicted to the use of 'dope' without knowing it. In this manner women and men of the best moral character would become wrecks without knowing that the medicine was responsible. Recently a remarkable case of this kind was brought to my attention in the Twin Cities.

"I have talked with many druggists regarding the new law, and I find most of them are in sympathy with it. Some say it should have been enacted more than twenty years ago, and that hundreds of victims might have been saved by prompter action along this line. There are a few druggists, however, who object to the law, but the opposition is not serious."

Mr. Johnson said the new law had not got to working smoothly yet at all places, but that druggists and all officials connected with the service were becoming familiar with its details. He said he thought Duluth was exceptionally free from the use of "dope" when compared with many other cities.

BALLOT FOR "GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY"

Pastor of Pilgrim Congregational Church Endeavors to Record Attendance.

Rev. Charles N. Thorp, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church, has devised a unique "Go to Church Sunday Ballot," which is being mailed this week to every address in the church directory, each family being supplied with sufficient ballots so that every person in any way connected with Pilgrim church is asked to show his or her degree of interest in "Go to Church Sunday," by recording on the ballot the services they attended that day. The ballot is to be marked and signed and the offering at the morning service or vespers is the ballot box.

Mr. Thorp suggested in his pulpit last Sunday that Pilgrim people attend church to the limit next Sunday, going to morning service, attending or visiting Sunday school, attending organ recital at 4:15, and the vespers service that follows, and that all who used to be Christian Endeavorers visit the meeting of the young people at 5:30. Invalids are asked to sign their ballot and send it to church or mail it to the minister. The ballot is as follows, with a place opposite each item where a cross may be marked in regulation voting style:

"I attended morning service.
"I personally invited others to church.
"I attended Sunday school.
"I was present at the organ recital at 4:15.
"I attended the vespers service.
"I attended the Young People's society as a member.
"As a former Endeavorer I visited the Young People's society.
"I was unable to attend today owing to illness.
"I wish to become a member of Pilgrim church.
"I wish to become a regular contributor to the church."

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

25 Cent Bottle of "Danderine" Keeps Hair Thick, Strong, Beautiful.

Girls! Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair in Few Moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

IMPORTANT STEPS TAKEN

City Will Vacate Streets in Return for Subway.

Disorderly Houses to Come Under Hicken Ordinance After April 15.

Initial steps for the vacation of streets and alleys near Highland street and the construction of the subway under the D. M. & N. tracks were taken by the city council at a special meeting yesterday afternoon. In addition the Hicken ordinance regulating disorderly houses was passed and will become effective on April 15.

Mayor Prince presented twenty-two petitions from property owners agreeing to the vacation of several streets and alleys, as was requested last year by officials of the railroad in return for its expenditure of about $45,000 for the construction of a subway underneath the tracks at Highland street.

According to the charter, City Clerk Palmer will first publish notices of hearings on the proposed vacation of these streets and after this formal action is taken, the commission will then order the streets vacated and work on the subway will begin at once. At the meeting yesterday the commissioners formally approved of the agreement between the city and the officials of the road, to the effect that the city will advertise for bids on the construction of approaches to be paid for by the company. Estimates in the city engineer's office show that the subway will cost $30,000 and the approaches about $14,000.

Copied after the state law affecting disorderly houses, the Hicken ordinance will in the future place those in charge or owners of disorderly houses liable to a fine of $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding eighty-five days.

UNITED STATES WILL ASK GERMANY TO EXPLAIN SINKING OF AMERICAN SHIP

for damages and an explanation from the German government was regarded as certain. Some officials thought the German government would find itself compelled to repudiate the act of the German captain or abandon the position taken by Germany in recent correspondence with the United States on the subject of conditional contraband and foodstuffs. Precedents in international law reveal that the circumstances under which neutral governments have acquiesced in the destruction of their vessels in time of war are very few.

The general rule that has been applied is that a belligerent warship must take its prize into port unless there are controlling reasons, such as unseaworthiness, lack of a prize crew, danger of recapture and the presence on board of a cargo of contraband which would make certain its condemnation by a prize court. The commander of the belligerent vessel must preserve the neutral ship's papers and bring them to a prize court for the entering of a decree.

Protest in Russo-Jap War.

In the Russo-Japanese war the United States protested to the Russian government against the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander with an American cargo, in Far Eastern waters. The crew testified that the vessel had been sunk for want of coal to proceed to Vladivostok and the United States considered that the sinking of the vessel was not justified by the base facts that there was contraband of war aboard.

The fact that wheat is conditional contraband, that a ship would be liable to condemnation only if it were proved that its cargo was destined to the belligerent forces of an enemy and that no opportunity was afforded for the furnishing of evidence, make officials believe that the case of the United States against Germany is a strong one.

During the Russo-Japanese war, Great Britain maintained a long and vigorous correspondence with Russia on the right of a captor of a neutral ship to sink it if it was difficult or impossible to take it into port. Great Britain declared such measures "would occasion a complete paralysis of all neutral trade" and characterized them as "contrary to acknowledged principles of international law," and "intolerable to all neutrals."

Renewed by Moore.

John Bassett Moore, former counsellor of the state department, in reviewing those discussions, said the correspondence "served to emphasize the potentially important relation of the question of contraband to the question of destruction."

"When publicists have spoken of the presence of contraband," he wrote, "as justifying or excusing the destruction of a neutral ship that could not be brought in, they have no doubt had in mind cargoes composed of things specially adapted to use in war and confessedly contraband, such as arms and ammunition and cannot be assumed to have contemplated the subjection of neutral commerce to general depredation under an extension of the categories of contraband."

It was believed this would be the position assumed by the United States in its correspondence with Germany.

was predicted this morning that the bill would fail of passage by at least eight votes, which would make the vote 26 for and 41 against.

Higher Passenger Rates.

An increase in passenger rates in this state from 2 to 2½ cents is proposed in a bill introduced in the senate this morning by Senator E. J. Westlake, Minneapolis, on the ground that legislation has increased railroad expenses while reducing railroad earnings; that the interstate commerce commission has authorized a 2½-cent rate; that in thickly settled Massachusetts the public utility commission has approved such a rate and that the 2-cent rate is unfairly low.

• • •

Adequate buildings and equipment for the state mine inspection force at Hibbing are provided in a bill introduced in the senate this morning by Chairman A. J. Rocine of the finance committee. It provides that $38,225 shall be set aside out of royalties from state iron mines for the purchase of needed buildings at Hibbing and the equipment of a chemical laboratory.

• • •

To Increase Naval Militia.

Representative Ribenack of Duluth introduced a bill increasing the naval militia from four divisions to eight, and authorizing changes in organization to conform to the United States navy.

• • •

The proposed amendments to the Duluth police pension law were introduced this morning by Representatives Bernard, Borgen, Ribenack, Nelson and North.

• • •

The house drainage committee has recommended for passage the Bessette bill providing that when drained land is sold, the drainage assessments shall be turned into a reclamation revolving fund to be used to carry on drainage projects.

• • •

The shooting of game from automobiles is prohibited by a bill introduced by Representatives Bessette and Sanborn.

• • •

The house committee on corporations recommended for passage the Wilson bill giving municipalities power to regulate public utility rates—the "Nolan bill" of two years ago.

• • •

Perry Memorial Bill Killed.

The house appropriations committee killed the bill appropriating $25,000 for Minnesota's participation in the Perry Victory and International Peace Memorial.

• • •

After striking out the provision applying to inmates of the penitentiary, the house roads and bridge committee recommended the Baldwin bill providing for the employment of prisoners on state roads. As it stands, it applies only to inmates of the reformatory.

• • •

Tailors are given a lien on the clothes they build, by a bill introduced in the senate by Senator Callahan and in the house Representative Lydiard.

• • •

Representative Bessette introduced a bill allowing villages, by vote, to become part of the same election and assessment district with the townships in which they are situated.

• • •

Mortgages By Corporations.

Corporations are allowed to give mortgages on their property and franchises, by a bill introduced by Representative North.

Representative Bjornson introduced a resolution in the house providing that a committee of eleven shall pick out one local or unopposed bill for each house member to be made a special order for night sessions March 31 and April 3.

Representative Teigen gave notice this morning that he will move to withdraw from the grain and warehouse committee his bill prohibiting trades in grain futures. He complained because the committee yesterday postponed action on the bill for a week.

Senate Refuses to Kill Itself.

The senate this morning killed W. A. Campbell's bill abolishing the state senate. It was recommended for indefinite postponement by the elections committee, and Senator Campbell brought in a minority report, seeking to save his bill. The senate refused to commit suicide, however, by a vote of 55 to 8.

Majority and minority reports on the Borgen house bill changing the primary election date from June to September came into the senate, the committee having recommended its defeat 4 to 3. Both reports were laid on the table to be taken up later.

• • •

The senate passed, 41 to 11, the Reis bill prohibiting the refilling of trademarked bottles.

• • •

Senator F. H. Peterson introduced a bill prohibiting trains more than half a mile in length.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

between 9 o'clock in the morning and 9 o'clock at night, and the county auditor must certify the returns to the secretary of state within five days after the returns have been canvassed. If 60 per cent of thise voting at the election shall be in favor of a division, the governor is to declare the new county organized, and must within twenty days thereafter designate a temporary county seat and appoint five county commissioners for the new county. Range commissioners of the old county whose districts are entirely in the proposed new county would serve out their terms as commissioners of the new county. The new county board is to appoint all county officers except a probate judge, who is to be appointed by the governor, and a clerk of the district court, who is to be appointed by the "judge of the district court."

The permanent county seat is to be established by vote at the first general election. Any "town, city or village" may become a candidate for county seat by the filing of a petition signed by 200 voters of such community. The town getting the most votes is to be the permanent county seat.

Asks Time to Consider.

When Representative Scott had presented these amendments, Representative E. R. Ribenack of Duluth said that it amounted practically to a new bill, and he thought the members of the committee ought to have time to consider it.

"I have no desire to delay consideration of the bill, though," he added, "and I am perfectly willing to leave it to the members of the committee. If they can make head or tail of the changes on this short notice, and wish to act upon it now, it will be agreeable to me."

Representative H. W. Haislet of Butterfield said that he had prepared an amendment intended to let Ottertail county in under the bill, but his amendment was designed to apply to the old bill, and he could not see just how he could make it fit into the new one.

Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston said that an amendment was also being prepared to let Polk county come under the bill.

"I don't see why," said Representative Haislet, "if the system of county division is to be changed, it should not be made so that any other county that wants to can get in under it. I agree with Mr. Ribenack that we ought to have more time to consider these amendments."

Representatives Scott and Bessette consented, then, to lay the bill over to Friday, and this was done.

What had bothered those who proposed to broaden the scope of the bill was that the Scott amendments included one making the bill apply only to counties of 100,000 people and providing that the new county, if created, must have 60,000 inhabitants.

The proposals to amend so as to bring in other counties are serving at least one useful purpose—they are showing members of the legislature that if this plan of county division by the vote only of that part of a county which wishes to secede goes into effect, even if at the start it applies only to St. Louis county, it would be but a short time before other counties where a minority section wishes to cut off by itself will be clamoring to have the bill made applicable to them.

There are many members who, while they might possibly be willing to let one county have such a system, would not wish to see it applied to their own counties.

Track Scales at Elevators.

H. A. Starkey of the Consolidated Elevator company of Duluth made the strongest argument before the house committee on grain and warehouse yesterday afternoon against the bill by Magnus Johnson requiring terminal elevators to put in track scales instead of hopper scales.

Mr. Starkey showed that installation of track scales at Duluth would be virtually impossible, and furthermore that track scales, being open to rain, snow and sleet, were much more likely to become inaccurate than the sheltered hopper scales, tucked away in the top of an elevator.

The bill, after a sharp fight in the committee, was reported out to the house without recommendation.

Up to the time that the committee closed its public hearing and went into executive session, advocates and opponents of the measure, which has been the subject of greater discussion than any similar measure before the legislature, waged a determined fight. Former Congressman James Manahan speaking in favor of the bill and J. G. McHugh, secretary of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, leading the opposition.

Charges by advocates of the measure that farmers of the Northwest are losing thousands of dollars annually as a result of use of the hopper scales in elevators, were vigorously denounced by Mr. McHugh.

"There has been no evidence," he declared, "that would indicate the necessity of this law. Suspicions have formed the principal arguments of the friends of the bill. It is unjust, unfair and I must enter violent and vigorous protest on behalf of the elevator men of Minneapolis against its enactment."

Manahan Talks of "Swindling."

"Mr. McHugh's violent and vigorous protest is one of the most significant reasons why this bill should be passed," declared Mr. Manahan.

"For years farmers of the Northwest have been swindled, unmercifully, by the elevators. Figures show that elevators shipped out more grain in two years than they took in."

Stepping forward and pointing his finger at Mr. McHugh, he shouted:

"I challenge the elevator interests to present their books to this committee. They dare not do it. They refused to show them to trusted employes of the department of justice.

"The hopper scales in the top of elevators with their suction fans touch a dividend for the buyer."

"Why are you before us today?" put in Representative Oscar Swenson, a member of the committee.

"Because I learned years ago that grain buyers in Minneapolis and Chicago were becoming millionaires on the profits that should justly go to the farmer of the Northwest," flared back Mr. Manahan. "I then began the fight which I have since continued."

He declared further that Mr. McHugh's statement that the railroad and warehouse commission, which supervises the weighing of grain, had reached a degree of perfection, was "a reflection upon the commission."

"When the most powerful interests in the Northwest (and I refer to the grain buyers) become so devotedly attached to a commission under which it is operating, gentlemen, that is a significant matter, deserving of careful consideration.

Distance Tariff Law.

The bill by Representative John G. Gerlich of Mankato, amending the Cashman distance tariff law to take care of switching and other controversies that have arisen under the law, was recommended to pass yesterday afternoon by the house committe on transportation.

The bill, which was introduced at the request of the railroad and warehouse commission, authorizes that body to make these concessions: First, that switching charges need not be on a mileage basis, as the railroads have insisted that must be under the Cashman law; second, that special cattle feeding rates may be made; and third, that Minneapolis and St. Paul shall constitute one terminal point in the meaning of the law.

Charles E. Elmquist of the railroad and warehouse commission and former Senator Thomas S. Cashman of Owatonna, the author of the distance tariff law, appeared before the committee in behalf of the bill. Most of the principal railroads of the state were represented in opposition to the measure.

The committee also gave a favorable recommendation to the Lydiard-Dwyer bill, requiring railroads to have "first aid" supplies on passenger trains, after it had been amended so as to require such supplies on every train instead of on every car. In this form it was acceptable to the railroads, several of which already make such provisions.

Personal Injury Cases.

There will be a public hearing next Tuesday on the bills proposed by the Minnesota State Bar association, intended to shut out the many imported personal injury cases that are being brought in Minnesota and to curb various legal evils connected with the "ambulance-chasing" industry. The bill is before the judiciary committee of the the house.

• • •

Notwithstanding the pending resolution for an investigation of the university, the house committee on public accounts and expenditures, Charles L. Sawyer of Minneapolis, chairman, yesterday afternoon began an investigation of the business affairs of the university.

• • •

Imprisonment, without the alternative of a fine, is imposed for all convictions after the first for violations of the automobile laws, by a bill by Representative Devold, which the house committee on roads and bridges yesterday afternoon recommended for passage.

• • •

Stunts Bill Favored.

The Healy bill allowing the town board of the township of Stuntz to make the annual tax levy, instead of holding a town meeting, was recommended for passage yesterday by the house committee on towns and counties, which also gave a favorable report on Representative Scott's bill to authorize St. Louis county to reimburse the Hibbing County Fair association for $3,000 spent in acquiring the site.

The hearing before the senate finance committee on the Ylbert bill creating the Jay Cooke state park in the dalles of the St. Louis, which was to have been held yesterday afternoon, was postponed to next week at the request of the Duluth parties interested. It will be held as early in the week as the advocates of the bill can arrange it.

The senate, owing to a light attendance, held a perfunctory meeting last night, adjourning to this morning without transacting important business.

How Thin People Can Get Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

A Physician's Advice

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of malnutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal, amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by Boyce drug store and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution: While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

MARINE

SHIPS TAKEN FROM LAKES

Twenty-Six Canadian Vessels Will Be Used for Ocean Freight.

Will Ply Next Summer Between Canada and Southern Ports.

Twenty-six Canadian freight steamers will be missing from the upper lakes trade during the coming season of navigation.

These steamers, all of the ocean-going type, have been chartered by the Nova Scotia Steel & Iron company for service between Canada and the West Indies and South America.

Under the terms of the agreement, it is understood that all the steamers are to be returned to their respective companies in time to engage in next fall's grain movement.

It is thought in shipping circles that the shifting of these steamers from the lakes to ocean service will also aid in developing American business with the South American countries, as they will be available to take on cargoes of flaxseed from Argentina and to carry various products from this country down that way. It is conceded that much will be accomplished in relieving the scarcity of ocean tonnage on the South American and West Indies that has been complained of since the war started. A portion of the fleet to be allotted to the coal trade will likely receive their cargoes at Philadelphia.

Aid to Small Freighters.

All the steamers chartered are at present distributed at various points on the lakes, and will, with the opening of navigation in the St. Lawrence, proceed to salt water ports. While these vessels will make an extensive gap in Canadian tonnage during the ordinary season, the feeling prevails among the officials of the various lines that should the war be of long duration the transferring of this fleet temporarily to participate in ocean and coastwise traffic will be somewhat of a stimulus to a number of freighters which otherwise might be idle on account of the war.

Names of Boats Chartered.

The following is the list of the boats under charter, according to the Toronto Globe:

Montreal Transportation company—Fairmount, Glenmount, Rosemount, Kinmount, Stormount and Westmount.

Canada Steamship line—Turret Court, Turret Chief, Turret Cape, Donnacona, Dundee, Dunelm, Glenellah, Winona, Neepawah, Strathcona, Wahcondah, Midland Queen, Mount Stephen and Empress of Midland.

The F. E. Hall & Co., Montreal—Carlton and Sinbad.

The Forwarders, Limited, Kingston—Dwyer, Port Colborne and Port Dalhousie.

The Farrar Transportation company, Collingwood—Meaford.

Talks to Ships' Officers.

Maj. J. H. Darling, formerly assistant United States engineer in the Duluth district, yesterday afternoon addressed the masters and engineers of the Tomlinson fleet on astronomy. He gave a most interesting talk. This was one of the series of weekly lectures on interesting and practical subjects which the Tomlinson fleet officers enjoy during the winter.

Well-Known Captain Dies.

Capt. John Massey, father of Capt. Chester A. Massey of Superior, owner and master of the steamer Britton, died Sunday in Milwaukee of pneumonia. The captain was a vessel master on the Great Lakes for many years and was in command of the steamer John Mitchell, which was sunk by the steamer William H. Mack three years ago just this side of Whitefish point, Lake Superior. Besides his son, Capt. Massey of Superior, he leaves another son, also a vessel master, Capt. Floyd Massey of Cleveland, and a brother, Capt. S. B. Massey of Cleveland.

Northwood, N. D., Man Is Sentenced and Has Sentence Suspended.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 11.—Andrew Dahl of Northwood was arraigned before Judge C. M. Cooley of the district court, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to do bodily harm.

He entered a plea of guilty, and was given a suspended sentence of two years in the state's prison at Bismarck. He is to be released under parole, and has again obtained work on a farm near Northwood.

Dahl got gloriously drunk some ten days ago, and while in that condition attacked Mrs. Marion Gallock, a widow living in the vicinity, with a knife.

He was arrested and brought to Grand Forks and since that time had been lodged in the county jail awaiting trial.

BIG NIGHT IN ELKDOM

Celebrate Passing of the Thousand Mark in Membership.

Vaudeville Program and Wrestling Match Are Staged.

It was a "big night" in Elkdom.

Such was the unanimous verdict of every Elk who took part in the jubilee at the Elks' club last evening, where Duluth lodge, No. 133, in fitting style, celebrated the passing of the thousand mark on its membership rolls.

The celebration was attended by Elks only, but there were between 800 and 1,000 of the antlered brothers on hand for the merrymaking which had been arranged for by a committee consisting of William Burgess, A. J. McCulloch and H. B. Knudsen.

The festivities began at the close of a short business meeting. A. G. Flournoy of Virginia distinguished himself as toastmaster at a banquet which was one of the features of the evening.

Capt. W. H. Smallwood spoke on "Hell," taking the European war as his topic. He also referred to the Civil war and other great conflicts in which humankind paid a terrible price. John Dwan of Two Harbors talked along similar lines, and John T. Armstead gave the 11 o'clock toast to the absent brothers, which was particularly eloquent.

Mack & Maddox, entertainers from the St. Louis hotel cabaret show, Miss Day and Mr. Mackelhern from the Manhattan Opera company, Richard Kipling of Superior, and Sam Smith, also of Superior, furnished a well selected vaudeville program. A wrestling match was also staged.

La Brosse's orchestra furnished the musical program for the evening.

Neil B. Morrison, exalted ruler of Duluth lodge, declared that the entertainment by far surpassed anything that Duluth lodge had ever attempted and that it would be long remembered by every Elk who attended.

Duluth lodge passed the 1,000 mark on its membership rolls during Mr. Morrison's term of office and the affair last evening was the closing affair under his administration. At the first meeting in March he will turn the gavel over to John E. Samuelson, exalted ruler-elect.

A large delegation of Elks from Superior and the range towns attended last evening's jubilee.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Susan Clum, Who Saw Fort Ridgley Horror, Is Called.

St. Paul, Minn., March 11.—Mrs. Susan J. Clum, 82 years old, a survivor of the Indian massacre of '62, died Monday at her home here. Mrs. Clum was the widow of Martin K. Clum, a pioneer newspaper man of St. Paul, and a member of the defending force at Fort Ridgley at the time of the Indian outbreak. Mrs. Clum was at the fort when news of the massacre was brought, and with two others she escaped to St. Paul. One son, O. J. Clum, St. Paul, and three daughters, Maud and Kitt Clum, St. Paul, and Mrs. Charles K. Johnson, Seattle, survive her.

Body of Mrs. McClellan Arrives.

IMPORTANT STEPS TAKEN

City Will Vacate Streets in Return for Subway.

Disorderly Houses to Come Under Hicken Ordinance After April 15.

Initial steps for the vacation of streets and alleys near Highland street and the construction of the subway under the D. M. & N. tracks were taken by the city council at a special meeting yesterday afternoon. In addition the Hicken ordinance regulating disorderly houses was passed and will become effective on April 15.

Mayor Prince presented twenty-two petitions from property owners agreeing to the vacation of several streets and alleys, as was requested last year by officials of the railroad in return for the expenditure of about $45,000 for the construction of a subway under the tracks at Highland street. According to the charter, City Clerk Prince will first publish notices of hearings on the proposed vacation of these streets and after this formal action has been taken the commission will decide if the streets vacated and work on the subway will begin at once. At the meeting yesterday the councilmen formally approved of the contract between the city and officials of the road, to the effect that the city will advertise for bids on the construction of approaches to be paid for by the company. Estimates in the city engineer's office show that the subway will cost $30,000 and the approaches about $14,000.

Under the state law affecting disorderly houses, the Hicken ordinance will be the future plan those in charge or owners of disorderly houses liable to a fine of $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for a period not exceeding ninety-five days.

UNITED STATES WILL ASK GERMANY TO EXPLAIN SINKING OF AMERICAN SHIP

for damages and an explanation from the German government was regarded as certain. Some officials thought the German government would find itself compelled to repudiate the act of the German captain or abandon the position taken by Germany in recent correspondence with the United States on the subject of conditional contraband and foodstuffs. Precedents in international law reveal that the circumstances under which neutral governments have acquiesced in the destruction of their vessels in time of war are very few.

The general rule that has been applied is that a belligerent warship must take its prize into port unless there are controlling reasons, such as unseaworthiness, lack of a prize crew, danger of recapture and the presence on board of a cargo of contraband which would make certain its condemnation by a prize court. The commander of the belligerent vessel must preserve the neutral ship's papers and bring them to a prize court for the entering of a decree.

Protest in Russo-Jap War.

In the Russo-Japanese war the United States protested to the Russian government against the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander with an American cargo, in Far Eastern waters. The crew testified that the vessel had been sunk for want of coal to proceed to Vladivostok and the United States considered that the sinking of the vessel was not justified by the base facts that there was contraband of war aboard.

The fact that wheat is conditional contraband, that a ship would be liable to condemnation only if it were proved that its cargo was destined to the belligerent forces of an enemy and that no opportunity was afforded for the furnishing of evidence, make officials believe that the case of the United States against Germany is a strong one.

During the Russo-Japanese war, Great Britain maintained a long and vigorous correspondence with Russia on the right of a captor of a neutral ship to sink it if it was difficult or impossible to take it into port. Great Britain declared such measures "would occasion a complete paralysis of all neutral trade" and characterized them as "contrary to acknowledged principles of international law," and "intolerable to all neutrals."

Renewed by Moore.

John Bassett Moore, former counsellor of the state department, in reviewing those discussions, said the correspondence "served to emphasize the potentially important relation of the question of contraband to the question of destruction."

"When publicists have spoken of the presence of contraband," he wrote, "as justifying or excusing the destruction of a neutral ship that could not be brought in, they have no doubt had in mind cargoes composed of things specially adapted to use in war and confessedly contraband, such as arms and ammunition and cannot be assumed to have contemplated the subjection of neutral commerce to general depredation under an extension of the categories of contraband."

It was believed this would be the position assumed by the United States in its correspondence with Germany.

was predicted this morning that the bill would fail of passage by at least eight votes, which would make the vote 26 for and 41 against.

Higher Passenger Rates.

An increase in passenger rates in this state from 2 to 2½ cents is proposed in a bill introduced in the senate this morning by Senator E. J. Westlake, Minneapolis, on the ground that legislation has increased railroad expenses while reducing railroad earnings; that the interstate commerce commission has authorized a 2½-cent rate; that in thickly settled Massachusetts the public utility commission has approved such a rate, and that the 2-cent rate is unfairly low.

Adequate buildings and equipment for the state mine inspection force at Hibbing are provided in a bill introduced in the senate this morning by Chairman A. J. Rockne of the finance committees. It provides that $38,225 shall be set aside out of royalties from state iron mines for the purchase of needed buildings at Hibbing and the equipment of a chemical laboratory.

To Increase Naval Militia.

Representative Ribenack of Duluth introduced a bill increasing the naval militia from four divisions to eight, and authorizing changes in organization to conform to the United States navy.

The proposed amendments to the Duluth police pension law were introduced this morning by Representatives Bernard, Borgen, Ribenack, Nelson and North.

The house drainage committee has recommended for passage the Bessette bill providing that when drained land is sold, the drainage assessments shall be turned into a reclamation revolving fund to be used to carry on drainage projects.

The shooting of game from automobiles is prohibited by a bill introduced by Representatives Bessette and Sanborn.

The house committee on corporations recommended for passage the Wilson bill giving municipalities power to regulate public utility rates—the "Nolan bill" of two years ago.

Perry Memorial Bill Killed.

The house appropriations committee killed the bill appropriating $25,000 for Minnesota's participation in the Perry Victory and International Peace Memorial.

After striking out the provision applying to inmates of the penitentiary, the house roads and bridge committee recommended the Baldwin bill providing for the employment of prisoners on state roads. As it stands, it applies only to inmates of the reformatory.

Tailors are given a lien on the clothes they build, by a bill introduced in the senate by Senator Callahan and in the house Representative Lydiard.

Representative Bessette introduced a bill allowing villages, by vote, to become part of the same election and assessment district with the townships in which they are situated.

Mortgages By Corporations.

Corporations are allowed to give mortgages on their property and franchises, by a bill introduced by Representative North.

Representative Bjornson introduced a resolution in the house providing that a committee of eleven shall pick out one local or unopposed bill for each house member to be made a special order for night sessions March 31 and April 3.

Representative Teigen gave notice this morning that he will move to withdraw from the grain and warehouse committee his bill prohibiting trades in grain futures. He complained because the committee yesterday postponed action on the bill for a week.

Senate Refuses to Kill Itself.

The senate this morning killed W. A. Campbell's bill abolishing the state senate. It was recommended for indefinite postponement by the elections committee, and Senator Campbell brought in a minority report, seeking to save his bill. The senate refused to commit suicide, however, by a vote of 55 to 8.

Majority and minority reports on the Borgen house bill changing the primary election date from June to September came into the senate, the committee having recommended its defeat 4 to 3. Both reports were laid on the table to be taken up later.

The senate passed, 41 to 11, the Reis bill prohibiting the refilling of trade-marked bottles.

Senator F. H. Peterson introduced a bill prohibiting trains more than half a mile in length.

between 9 o'clock in the morning and 9 o'clock at night, and the county auditor must certify the returns to the secretary of state within five days after the returns have been canvassed. If 60 per cent of thise voting at the election shall be in favor of a division, the governor is to declare the new county organized, and must within twenty days thereafter designate a temporary county seat and appoint five county commissioners for the new county. Range commissioners of the old county whose districts are entirely in the proposed new county would serve out their terms as commissioners of the new county. The new county board is to appoint all county officers except a probate judge, who is to be appointed by the governor, and a clerk of the district court, who is to be appointed by the "judge of the district court."

The permanent county seat is to be established by vote at the first general election. Any "town, city or village" may become a candidate for county seat by the filing of a petition signed by 200 voters of such community. The town getting the most votes is to be the permanent county seat.

Asks Time to Consider.

When Representative Scott had presented these amendments, Representative E. R. Ribenack of Duluth said that it amounted practically to a new bill, and he thought the members of the committee ought to have time to consider it.

"I have no desire to delay consideration of the bill, though," he added, "and I am perfectly willing to leave it to the members of the committee. If they can make head or tail of the changes on this short notice, and wish to act upon it now, it will be agreeable to me."

Representative H. W. Haislet of Butterfield said that he had prepared an amendment intended to let Ottertail county in under the bill, but his amendment was designed to apply to the old bill, and he could not see just how he could make it fit into the new one.

Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston said that an amendment was also being prepared to let Polk county come under the bill.

"I don't see why," said Representative Haislet, "if the system of county division is to be changed, it should not be made so that any other county that wants to can get in under it. I agree with Mr. Ribenack that we ought to have more time to consider these amendments."

Representatives Scott and Bessette consented, then, to lay the bill over to Friday, and this was done.

What had bothered those who proposed to broaden the scope of the bill was that the Scott amendments included one making the bill apply only to counties of 100,000 people and providing that the new county, if created, must have 60,000 inhabitants.

The proposals to amend so as to bring in other counties are serving at least one useful purpose—they are showing members of the legislature that if this plan of county division by the vote only of that part of a county which wishes to secede goes into effect, even if at the start it applies only to St. Louis county, it would be but a short time before other counties where a minority section wishes to cut off by itself will be clamoring to have the bill made applicable to them.

There are many members who, while they might possibly be willing to let one county have such a system, would not wish to see it applied to their own counties.

Track Scales at Elevators.

H. A. Starkey of the Consolidated Elevator company of Duluth made the strongest argument before the house committee on grain and warehouse yesterday afternoon against the bill by Magnus Johnson requiring terminal elevators to put in track scales instead of hopper scales.

Mr. Starkey showed that installation of track scales at Duluth would be virtually impossible, and furthermore that track scales, being open to rain, snow and sleet, were much more likely to become inaccurate than the sheltered hopper scales, tucked away in the top of an elevator.

The bill, after a sharp fight in the committee, was reported out to the house without recommendation.

Up to the time that the committee closed its public hearing and went into executive session, advocates and opponents of the measure, which has been the subject of greater discussion than any similar measure before the legislature, waged a determined fight. Former Congressman James Manahan speaking in favor of the bill and J. G. McHugh, secretary of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce, leading the opposition.

Charges by advocates of the measure that farmers of the Northwest are losing thousands of dollars annually as a result of use of the hopper scales in elevators, were vigorously denounced by Mr. McHugh.

"There has been no evidence," he declared, "that would indicate the necessity of this law. Suspicions have formed the principal arguments of the friends of the bill. It is unjust, unfair and I must enter violent and vigorous protest on behalf of the elevator men of Minneapolis against its enactment."

Manahan Talks of "Swindling."

"Mr. McHugh's 'violent and vigorous' protest is one of the most significant reasons why this bill should be passed," declared Mr. Manahan.

"For years farmers of the Northwest have been swindled, unmercifully, by the elevators. Figures show that elevators shipped out more grain in two years than they took in."

Stepping forward and pointing his finger at Mr. McHugh, he shouted:

"I challenge the elevator interests to present their books to this committee. They dare not do it. They refused to show them to trusted employes of the department of justice.

"The hopper scales in the top of elevators with their suction fans touch a dividend for the buyer."

"Why are you before us today?" put in Representative Oscar Swenson, a member of the committee.

"Because I learned years ago that grain buyers in Minneapolis and Chicago were becoming millionaires on the profits that should justly go to the farmer of the Northwest," flared back Mr. Manahan. "I then began the fight which I have since continued."

He declared further that Mr. McHugh's statement that the railroad and warehouse commission, which supervises the weighing of grain, had reached a degree of perfection, was "a reflection upon the commission."

"When the most powerful interests in the Northwest (and I refer to the grain buyers) become so devotedly attached to a commission under which it is operating, gentlemen, that is a significant matter, deserving of careful consideration.

Distance Tariff Law.

The bill by Representative John G. Gerlich of Mankato, amending the Cushman distance tariff law to take care of switching and other controversies that have arisen under the law, was recommended to pass yesterday afternoon by the house committe on transportation.

The bill, which was introduced at the request of the railroad and warehouse commission, authorizes that body to make these concessions: First, that switching charges need not be on a mileage basis, as the railroads have insisted that must be under the Cushman law; second, that special cattle feeding rates may be made; and third, that Minneapolis and St. Paul shall constitute one terminal point in the meaning of the law.

Charles E. Elmquist of the railroad and warehouse commission and former Senator Thomas E. Cashman of Owatonna, the author of the distance tariff law, appeared before the committee in behalf of the bill. Most of the principal railroads of the state were represented in opposition to the measure.

The committee also gave a favorable recommendation to the Lydiard-Dwyer bill, requiring railroads to have "first aid" supplies on passenger trains, after it had been amended so as to require such supplies on every train instead of on every car. In this form it was acceptable to the railroads, several of which already make such provisions.

Personal Injury Cases.

There will be a public hearing next Tuesday on the bills proposed by the Minnesota State Bar association, intended to shut out the many imported personal injury cases that are being brought in Minnesota, and to curb various legal evils connected with the "ambulance-chasing" industry. The bill is before the judiciary committee of the the house.

Notwithstanding the pending resolution for an investigation of the university, the house committee on public accounts and expenditures, Charles L. Sawyer of Minneapolis, chairman, yesterday afternoon began an investigation of the business affairs of the university.

Imprisonment, without the alternative of a fine, is imposed for all convictions after the first for violations of the automobile laws, by a bill by Representative Devold, which the house committee on roads and bridges yesterday afternoon recommended for passage.

Stuntz Bill Favored.

The Healy bill allowing the town board of the township of Stuntz to make the annual tax levy, instead of holding a town meeting, was recommended for passage yesterday by the house committee on towns and counties, which also gave a favorable report on Representative Scott's bill to authorize St. Louis county to reimburse the Hibbing County Fair association for $3,000 spent in acquiring the site.

The hearing before the senate finance committee on the Vibert bill creating the Jay Cooke state park in the dalles of the St. Louis, which was to have been held yesterday afternoon, was postponed to next week at the request of the Duluth parties interested. It will be held as early in the week as the advocates of the bill can arrange it.

SHIPS TAKEN FROM LAKES

Twenty-Six Canadian Vessels Will Be Used for Ocean Freight.

Will Ply Next Summer Between Canada and Southern Ports.

Twenty-six Canadian freight steamers will be missing from the upper lakes trade during the coming season of navigation.

These steamers, all of the ocean-going type, have been chartered by the Nova Scotia Steel & Iron company for service between Canada and the West Indies and South America.

Under the terms of the agreement, it is understood that all the steamers are to be returned to their respective companies in time to engage in next fall's grain movement.

It is thought in shipping circles that the shifting of these steamers from the lakes to ocean service will also aid in developing American business with the South American countries, as they will be available to take on cargoes of flaxseed from Argentina and to carry various products from this country down that way. It is conceded that much will be accomplished in relieving the scarcity of ocean tonnage on the South American and West Indies that has been complained of since the war started. A portion of the fleet to be allotted to the coal trade will likely receive their cargoes at Philadelphia.

Aid to Small Freighters.

All the steamers chartered are at present distributed at various points on the lakes, and will, with the opening of navigation in the St. Lawrence, proceed to salt water ports. While these vessels will make an extensive gap in Canadian tonnage during the ordinary season, the feeling prevails among the officials of the various lines that should the war be of long duration the transferring of this fleet temporarily to participate in ocean and coastwise traffic will be somewhat of a stimulus to a number of freighters which otherwise might be idle on account of the war.

Names of Boats Chartered.

The following is the list of the boats under charter, according to the Toronto Globe:

Montreal Transportation company—Fairmount, Glenmount, Rosemount, Kinmount, Stormount and Westmount.

The F. E. Hall & Co., Montreal—Carlton and Sinbad.

The Forwarders, Limited, Kingston—Dwyer, Port Colborne and Port Dalhousie.

The Farrar Transportation company, Collingwood—Meaford.

Talks to Ships' Officers.

Maj. J. H. Darling, formerly assistant United States engineer in the Duluth district, yesterday afternoon addressed the masters and engineers of the Tomlinson fleet on astronomy. He gave a most interesting talk. This was one of the series of weekly lectures on interesting and practical subjects which the Tomlinson fleet officers enjoy during the winter.

Well-Known Captain Dies.

Capt. John Massey, father of Capt. Chester A. Massey of Superior, owner and master of the steamer Britton, died Sunday in Milwaukee of pneumonia. The captain was a vessel master on the Great Lakes for many years and was in command of the steamer John Mitchell, which was sunk by the steamer William H. Mack three years ago just this side of Whitefish point, Lake Superior. Besides his son, Capt. Massey of Superior, he leaves another son, also a vessel master, Capt. Floyd Massey of Cleveland, and a brother, Capt. S. B. Massey of Cleveland.

How Thin People Can Get Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

A Physician's Advice

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of malnutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy normal, amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by Boyce drug store and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution: While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

FOR THREATENING WOMAN.

Northwood, N. D., Man Is Sentenced and Has Sentence Suspended.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 11.—Andrew Dahl of Northwood was arraigned before Judge C. M. Cooley of the district court, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon with intent to do bodily harm.

He entered a plea of guilty, and was given a suspended sentence of two years in the state's prison at Bismarck. He is to be released under parole, and has again obtained work on a farm near Northwood.

Dahl got gloriously drunk some ten days ago, and while in that condition attacked Mrs. Maelon Gallock, a widow living in the vicinity, with a knife.

He was arrested and brought to Grand Forks and since that time had been lodged in the county jail awaiting trial.

IF BILIOUS, SICK OR CONSTIPATED TAKE CASCARETS

No Headache, Bad Cold, Sour Stomach or Costive Bowels By Morning.

Get a 10-cent box now.

You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; your lips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

BIG NIGHT IN ELKDOM

Celebrate Passing of the Thousand Mark in Membership.

Vaudeville Program and Wrestling Match Are Staged.

It was a "big night" in Elkdom.

Such was the unanimous verdict of every Elk who took part in the jubilee at the Elks' club last evening, where Duluth lodge, No. 133, in fitting style, celebrated the passing of the thousand mark on its membership rolls.

The celebration was attended by Elks only, but there were between 800 and 1,000 of the antlered brothers on hand for the merrymaking which had been arranged for by a committee consisting of William Burgess, A. J. McCulloch and H. B. Knudsen.

The festivities began at the close of a short business meeting. A. G. Flournoy of Virginia distinguished himself as toastmaster at a banquet which was one of the features of the evening.

Capt. W. H. Smallwood spoke on "Hell," taking the European war as his topic. He also referred to the Civil war and other great conflicts in which humankind paid a terrible price. John Dwan of Two Harbors talked along similar lines, and John T. Armstead gave the 11 o'clock toast to the absent brothers, which was particularly eloquent.

Mack & Maddox, entertainers from the St. Louis hotel cabaret show, Miss Day and Mr. Mackelhern from the Manhattan Opera company, Richard Kipling of Superior, and Sam Smith, also of Superior, furnished a well selected vaudeville program. A wrestling match was also staged.

La Brosse's orchestra furnished the musical program for the evening.

Nell B. Morrison, exalted ruler of Duluth lodge, declared that the entertainment by far surpassed anything that Duluth lodge had ever attempted and that it would be long remembered by every Elk who attended.

Duluth lodge passed the 1,000 mark on its membership rolls during Mr. Morrison's term of office and the affair last evening was the closing affair under his administration. At the first meeting in March he will turn the gavel over to John E. Samuelson, exalted ruler-elect.

A large delegation of Elks from Superior and the range towns attended last evening's jubilee.

PIONEER WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Susan Clum, Who Saw Fort Ridgley Horror, Is Called.

St. Paul, Minn., March 11.—Mrs. Susan J. Clum, 82 years old, a survivor of the Indian massacre of '62, died Monday at her home here. Mrs. Clum was the widow of Martin K. Clum, a pioneer newspaper man of St. Paul, and a member of the defending force at Fort Ridgley at the time of the Indian outbreak. Mrs. Clum was at the fort when news of the massacre was brought, and with two others she escaped to St. Paul. One son, O. J. Clum, St. Paul, and three daughters, Maud and Kitt Clum, St. Paul, and Mrs. Charles K. Johnson, Seattle, survive her.

THE DAILY ROLL CALL; A COLUMN OF SPORTS

BY BRUCE.

IT is difficult to advance any sane or lucid line of argument on the outcome of that cantana that is scheduled for foreign and domestic settlement between large Jack Johnson and larger Jess Willard.

One might come boldly out in the open and declare that Willard would win. If the product of Kansas should cop the prognosticator would be hailed as a wise guy. One might also snipe-fire from ambuscade and hint thinly at Willard's winning, thus furnishing the runway for an "I told you so" sally.

Willard really can hit. Even the enemies of the big cowboy will admit this. They do say that when Jess gets stung he grows desperate and turns from a mild and phlegmatic person to an infuriated fighting force.

In the heyday of Johnson's career he would have hewed the big cowboy down to a subdued mass of humility with those merciless jabs and wicked uppercuts of his; whether the somewhat deteriorated Johnson of today can beat that tenacious toll taker, nature, and Jess Willard also, is a matter for contemplation.

Therefore, as we say, the coming canter is one hazy to judge as to its result. Willard might win and be hailed as another of the great pugilists, of which the heavyweight ranks have been exceedingly unproductive of late; but, Bill, smoke on it for a while—Jess and Jack, when both were at their best, were as wide apart pugilistically as the poles.

Yokel Should Train.

IF Mike Yokel elects to remain in the wrestling game, the gallant lad who once earned the name of the Rocky Mountain Lion, should train.

Untrained athletes do sport no good. The other evening the fat and puffy wrestler looked far from the man who had visited Duluth upon three other well remembered occasions. It is a truism of all branches of athletics that champions slip suddenly and the public fails to lamp the decline. Mike Yokel is either all through as a champion, or he is woefully and pitifully out of shape.

Klank says he wants the Rocky Mountain Lion to take a long rest. A grand chap personally, Mike should get in shape if he intends to remain in the wrestling game.

West Duluth Curlers.

ONE of the curlers of the Duluth Curling club remarked yesterday that the Duluth curlers of the future were coming from the West Duluth Curling club.

"Out there," said he, "the kids curl after school, in the evening and whenever they have the opportunity. The Donald kid rink is the best example of how the youngsters out there can play. When you can get the boys to playing the game, as they have out there, you are sure to have some real curlers developed."

Some Curler, Dinham.

AMONG the curlers of the Duluth Curling club it is the general opinion that Billy Dinham is the best curler in the club. This season William has sure played a consistent game.

Like all curlers, he has had some bad games, but the general average of his games has been very good. Dinham has developed remarkably during the last two seasons. At the top of his game Bill is some curler.

On Our Own Courts.

HANDBALL players of the young and old men's Christian association are longing for the opportunity to wipe out the handball stain generously accumulated at St. Paul. Upon a certain occasion several of our stars journeyed down to the Saintly City and failed to win a single game out of a mlutitude that were played.

Since that time it has been the reverberating plaint of the home boys that had the games been played "to hum" that the result would have been vastly different.

The memory of those piled high defeats have rankled with piquant and piercing pain; and the worst part of the whole defense program is that the home players can persuade no one to believe their story. At that it is hard to believe a man who has been beaten some seven or eight times in the short course of two or three days.

Bill Wendlandt is the local piece de resistance when it comes to handball. Bill is so good that he is a trust in restraint of competition. He dropped out of the tourney that is in progress at the present time, because he had won so many medals that when he wears them all, his broad chest resembles one of those spangled pillows that used to be proudly exhibited by mother back in the days of real sport.

John Kay is the champion down in St. Paul. They do say that John can place the ball at any spot on the wall, or can hit a fly spec with alarming regularity. Now the boys up here who follow the court game would like to get John and Bill hitched. It would be a great game. But St. Paul exhibits a degree of hesitancy. Some day all of us hope that the handball players of this town, especially Bill Dreves, will be able to mold that alibi into a material thing of striking beauty.

DULUTH TO PLAY SUPERIOR FRIDAY

Central High School Basket Ball Teams of Two Cities Meet.

Tomorrow night the Central high school basket ball team, after two weeks of rest, will journey over to Superior to meet the Superior Central high team on the latter club's own floor. The Duluth team already claims one victory over its rival, the Superior team having been defeated Feb. 12 on the local floor by a score of 32 to 7.

Playing on its home floor, the Superior team is exceptionally hard to beat. It has made a marked improvement since the first Duluth game and is confident of turning the tables tomorrow night. The Superior team will represent Northern Wisconsin at the state tournament to decide the Badger state championship, and the Purple and White warriors stand an excellent show of bringing the laurels back to their home town. Their latest victory is a healthy win over the Superior normal school team. In the game of tomorrow evening, therefore, they will appear with the fond expectation of "cleaning up" Coach Glyer's local quintet.

Although the Duluth Centrals have not been active in a big game since the Cathedral contest two weeks ago, they have not been idle. Practice has been going on as usual and the men have been put through a stiff grind. Coach Glyer appreciates the fact that Superior will have a decided advantage in playing on its own floor, and he is taking no chances. Some of the men have been training with the boat club oarsmen and these players should be in good trim. The team is not exactly confident, but will, without a doubt, put up a wonderful fight. The lineups for the two teams will be as follows:

Duluth—		Superior—
Scrivens, Shaw	f	(Capt.) Bradley
Karon	f	Holstrom
Moore	c	Nelson
Taylor	g	Moore
Solheim (Capt.)	g	Fowler

TRY COMPROMISE IN FEDERAL SUIT

New Team Owner Asked to Operate in Kansas City This Year.

Chicago, March 11.—At the conclusion of the examination of witnesses yesterday Judge Jesse A. Baldwin in the circuit court continued further hearing of the suit for injunction brought by the Kansas City baseball club to restrain the Federal league from transferring the Kansas City club franchise to Newark, N. J., until next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The continuance was granted to give Attorney E. E. Gates, representing the Federal league, an opportunity to confer with Harry Sinclair to whom the franchise was transferred, in an attempt to induce him to consent to operate in Kansas City this year. The effort to compromise the dispute came as a result of a conference held by representatives of both sides Monday night at the suggestion of Judge Baldwin.

Attorney Gates said he was not prepared to say what the outcome of his proposed interview with Mr. Sinclair would be. If no agreement is reached, closing arguments of counsel will be made next Monday and the case taken under advisement by Judge Baldwin.

Bowling Congress at Peoria Monopolized So Far By Peoria Teams.

Peoria, Ill., March 11.—Twenty-four two-men teams and thirty-eight men in the individuals, all of Peoria, will compete for honors this afternoon at the opening of the second day's session of the American Bowling congress. At night thirteen five-men teams of Peoria and one five-men team, Connor's Kids, of Springfield, Ill., are scheduled to take their turn on the alleys.

Peoria and Springfield bowlers will continue to monopolize the program on Friday. On Saturday eleven five-men teams from Chicago and two five-men teams from St. Louis together with five-men teams from Streator, Ill., Rockford, Ill., Aurora, Ill., and South Bend, Ind., will make their first appearance at the tournament here.

FORMER CHAMPION WILL TRY TO REGAIN CROWN

WILLIE RITCHIE.

SOMMER MAY SELL RED SOX

Deal Nearly Completed Whereby Club Will Change Hands.

A. L. Steece Is Prospective Buyer; Schedule Committee Working.

A. L. Steece, state agent of the Prudential Life Insurance company of Minneapolis, has practically closed a deal whereby he is to purchase the baseball holdings of W. J. Sommer of the Superior Baseball association.

It is stated that for some time Mr. Steece has devoutly hankered to break into the baseball business. The opportunity came when it was intimated on the part of "Bill" Sommer that lucre, and lots of it, speaking in the comparative sense, might tempt him to let loose from his baseball belongings.

For his holdings it is stated that Sommer is to receive $4,000, the sum to include merely the franchise and such players that are under contract to the club at the present time. Should Mr. Steece put through the deal, it is declared today that he plans to move from Minneapolis and make his future home in Superior. This determination upon the part of Mr. Steece is ample evidence of just how badly he wants to break into baseball.

Old Pal of Lefty Davis.

The dreams of Cy Bennett and Fred Belmont Curtis, the capable house painter, may fade into the dank darkness of disillusion, if plans cherished by the prospective owner of the Superior Red Sox are put into execution.

Mr. Steece and Davis are old friends, it is said. It is also bruited about that Davis will be the affable gent holding the reins of playing management when the bell rings the season in.

It is expected that the deal will be put through some time within the next few days. It is also said that Burmeister, a close friend of Steece, has been largely instrumental in bringing the negotiations to their present head. Mr. Burmeister was the moving figure in getting Horace C. Webb installed at Winnipeg, and now large John, who hustles to a definite objective point, has about completed arrangements whereby another friend will come into the Northern league family.

Working on the Schedule.

Today Messrs. Sommer, Finch and Dickinson are coatlessly laboring on the complications and contradictions of the Northern league schedule. It is expected that the rough draft of the 1915 playing season will be out within the space of a few days.

It is expected that the season will be ushered in on May 6 and will close, as was the case a year ago, on Labor day.

Duluth is to have all of the big holiday dates at home, according to the unofficial announcement of today. This was agreed upon last year, it is stated. The interests of the league are pooled on all holiday dates, and, therefore, the granting of all of the big days to the local park will meet with no objection upon the part of other magnates.

Duluth After a Receiver.

It was announced today from the baseball headquarters of the local club that there was a hitch in the negotiations for a catcher to fill the extremely capable shoes of Jerry Edmunds.

Negotiations have been carried on for some time with a man rated as a star. Today Owner Blume is authority for the statement that the man in question is demurring about coming north, vastly preferring to trek to the sunshiny Southland.

Rumors of the organization of an independent team of former Northern league ball players, while unimportant in itself, is deeply significant, perhaps, of the feeling upon the part of some of the older players of the league. Salaries have been ruthlessly reduced in many cases. While there are many youngsters willing to play for the low ebb of financial tide, there are apparently some of the veterans who are not. But at that, no players have ever garnered largely around these parts off independent baseball.

HEXATHLON IS UNDER WAY

First Contests in National Competition Held at Y. M. C. A.

Events in the national hexathlon contest were run off last evening at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The competition is national in its scope, similar events being held in various parts of the United States. The best marks established in the various events will determine the national champions. There will also be various sectional winners.

There were three events contested, Cameron, McArthur and Bailey being returned the winners. The competition was close and all of the events interesting. There were eight entrants in each of the events.

The summary:

Broad standing jump—Cameron, 9 feet, 4.5 inches; Shannon, 9 feet, 4 inches; McArthur, 9 feet, 3 inches; Payne, 9 feet, 1.5 inches; Berkelman, 9 feet, ¼ inch; Martin, 9 feet, ½ inch; Becker, 8 feet, 10.5 inches, and Hillman, 8 feet, 10 inches.

12-pound shot put—McArthur, 38 feet, 7.5 inches; Patton, 37 feet, 1.5 inches; Brown, 35 feet, 3.5 inches; Clark, 34 feet, 7 inches; Peterson, 33 feet, 10 inches; Cameron, 33 feet, 5 inches; Hillman, 33 feet, 3.5 inches; Martin, 29 feet.

60-yard potato race — Bailey, 14.4 seconds; Wade, 15; Martin, 15.1; Frost, 15; Conning, 15.4; Capon, 15.4; Friedman and Shields, 16.

CLUB HOUSE BURNS.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 11.—The Laughlery clubhouse, made famous by frequent meetings of the national baseball commission and by numbers of elaborate banquets given in honor of prominent men, was burned to the ground yesterday, according to information reaching here from Lawrenceburg, Ind.

August Herrmann, chairman of the national baseball commission, has been president of the Laughlery club since it was organized three years ago. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

BIG ARMY OF BOWLERS WILL START NORTHERN TOURNAMENT PLAY SATURDAY

Entry List Shows 300 Outside Pin Men Will Be Here.

Mayor Prince Will Inaugurate Play By Rolling First Ball.

BY BRUCE.

The first annual bowling tournament of the Northern Bowling association will open Saturday evening at 8 o'clock on the Grand alleys. It is estimated that there will be more than 300 bowlers in attendance. In addition to the pin spillers from outside Duluth, there will be a strong representation from the Zenith city, the cream of the local teams being entered in the various events.

Not only will the tournament of the Northern Bowling association be the largest in the history of the sport in this part of the state, but it will also prove to be one of the largest purely sectional tournaments that has ever been held in the West.

In the matter of class the tourney will compare favorably with the I. B. A. that was recently held in Minneapolis. Many of the event winners of that meet will be here to roll, as practically all of the star teams of the Twin Cities will be on hand.

Arrayed against the invading talent from the Twin Cities will be all of the crack teams that have been making bowling history on the local alleys this season. The Major league five-men teams will be sent against the stars from abroad and followers of the game here are rooting vigorously for a strong showing on the part of the Duluth bowlers.

Stars Will Roll.

Some of the classiest five-men teams in the state will start the tournament play on Saturday evening. The well-known Centrals of Minneapolis, the crack Americans of St. Paul, the famous Lumberjacks of Ashland, and others of the outside contingent. In the initial game of the tournament there will be arrayed some of the very pick of the five-men teams.

Mayor W. I. Prince and the officers of the Northern Bowling association will properly inaugurate the opening of festivities by rolling the first ball. Having pitched the first ball at several of the league season's openings, Mayor Prince feels perfectly qualified to impressively open the tournament by the registering of a strike.

Tourney Idea Has Grown.

While the Northern Bowling association is a brand new institution, three other tournaments have been held in Duluth. Under the name of the Head of the Lakes Bowling association outside teams came here and competed. This season a prodigous amount of labor has been performed by the officers of the association in the effort to outdo all former tourneys, and the meet that is to open Saturday evening will prove by far the largest that has ever been held in the state, outside of one of the national tourneys.

Business men of the city have shown a commendable effort in the attempt to make the tournament a thorough success, and in a measure some credit is due the merchants who have willingly collaborated with the officers of the association to give Duluth a big tournament and make the Zenith City one of the bowling spots of the Northwest.

For several years Duluth has been forging to the front as a bowling center. With 300 outside bowlers coming to roll, the arrival of the old town at the coveted goal it has been striving for is quite certain.

Starting on Saturday evening, the tournament will run through until the evening of March 21. A banquet to visiting and Duluth bowlers will be tendered on the closing evening.

Following is the complete schedule of Saturday evening and Sunday, with a complete list of all the teams entered:

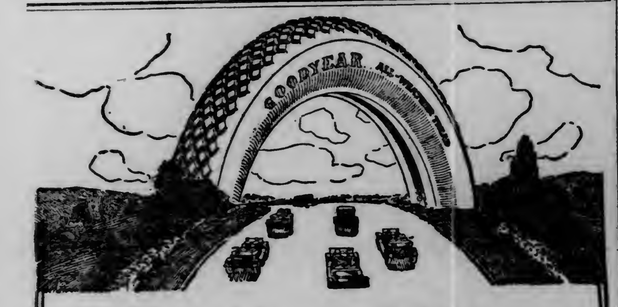
LARGE FIELD ENTERS BIG KENTUCKY DERBY.

Louisville, Ky., March 11.—With sixty-eight horses entered for the 1916 Kentucky derby, probably the largest field in the history of this event will face the barrier at Churchill Downs May 8. The entries were announced yesterday at the office of the new Louisville Jockey club, and include the champion 2-year-olds of the East last year, horses that showed promising performances on the Kentucky and Western circuits as well as a number that have run good races as 3-year-olds this year at Juarez, New Orleans and Havana.

With $10,000 added money, the race, it is said, probably will be the richest run on the American turf this year. It is for 3-year-olds at a mile and a quarter.



The Broad Way
Leads to Goodyear Tires

Try it a little while. It has carried some 400,000 motorists to the haven of content. It is traveled by more users than has any other tire. That has been so for years.

We can't win you to Fortified Tires by asking you to try them. The tires themselves must win you.

But our plea is that you should try the tires that countless men found best. There must be a reason as you know, why Goodyears dominate like this. Last year men bought about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Men Like You

This Goodyear army is composed of men like you. They want quality, safety, endurance. They want trouble-saving and low cost per mile.

Goodyears best met these wants. They met them because they are Fortified Tires.

In five costly ways, employed by no other maker, they offer unique protection. They combat five troubles—rim-cuts, blowouts, loose treads, punctures and skidding—as is done in no other tire.

Price Reduction

On February 1st we made another big price reduction. That makes three reductions in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

Today Goodyears, more than ever before, offer you most for the money. They offer you the utmost possible in tires, measured by cost per mile. Doesn't their top place prove that?

TENNIS MEN MAKE PLANS

At Annual Banquet Boat Club Players Discuss 1915 Season.

The annual dinner of the tennis enthusiasts of Duluth was held last evening at the St. Louis hotel. From the enthusiasm displayed and the plans that are to be laid for future execution, it looks as if the coming season will be a banner year in the history of the racquet sport at the Duluth Boat club.

Officers of the boat club will be requested to consent to an arrangement whereby the courts at Oatka can be turned about, running crosswise, rather than parallel with the car line, as at the present time. Such an arrangement would give the tennis players an additional amount of room and would permit of the construction of two new courts.

Walker Jamar, Lauren Kennedy and P. J. Chinnick made short addresses. Lauren Kennedy, Mac Washburn, A. B. Rosenkranz, Oscar Kinkaid and J. F. Thompson were appointed members of a committee to attempt to secure a ruling ranking local players in the national standings.

W. Derby, Charles Grogan, Frank Falk and P. J. Chinnick were appointed members of a committee that will wait upon the officials of the boat club in an effort to secure consent to an arrangement of the tennis courts.

About thirty players were present at the dinner. Many informal plans were discussed and the coming season campaign discussed in general.

MANLEY IS NEAR THE END

Forsyth and MacLeod Will Play Off Semi-Finals.

The large event on tonight's curling program is the game between E. A. Forsyth and R. J. MacLeod in the semi-finals of the Manley-McLennan event. Forsyth defeated Richardson in the eights of that event last evening, 9 to 7, and MacLeod won from Walter Harris by the score of 14 to 7. The finals in the Manley-McLennan are scheduled for Saturday evening, weather permitting.

Whether the Scotch vs. the "heathen" players event will be pulled off on Saturday is undecided. The warm weather has rendered curling a difficult proposition. Most of the Scotch players have been drawn, but further plans are being held up by the warm weather.

Following is the play of last evening and the draw for this evening:

Art Hoene, 15; E. E. Burns, 3.
H. Ketchum, 9; M. Kelly, 4.
P. Harbison, 11; D. C. Duncan, 8.
James Myron, 11; Charles West, 6.

TONIGHT'S DRAW.

The draw for tonight follows:

Manley-McLennan Event.

Will Dinham vs. R. J. MacLeod.

"Blaze o' Glory" Event.

F. Falk vs. P. Harbison.
Bob Dunlop vs. Dr. Gillespie.
Ron Smith vs. W. E. McLeod.
P. Heimick vs. James Elder.
C. D. Brewer vs. S. L. Reichert.
Dr. M. A. McKenan vs. F. P. Hallock.
Ed Furni vs. T. F. McGilvray.
Jack Foreman vs. F. Hoene.
C. Gravatt vs. D. Duncan.
H. Matzke vs. C. Dreisbach.
M. Buchanan vs. A. J. Law.

CATHEDRALS TO PLAY NORTHLAND

Strong Basket Ball Teams to Meet at Cathedral Gym.

The Northland college basket ball team of Ashland will play the Cathedral high school quint at the cathedral gymnasium tomorrow evening. The game is expected to prove very fast, as both teams have made records during the present season that show them to be very evenly matched.

The Northlands have defeated the Cathedrals this season on the Ashland floor. The Catholic crew expects to gain sweet revenge for the beating in the impending contest. Both teams should be at their best, and the result of the contest should go far to determine the basket ball supremacy in this section of the country.

SACRIFICE POUNDS TO PLAY SUPERIOR

Undefeated Gym Quintet to Meet Heavy Superior Y. M. E. A. Team.

After defeating the Proctor Y. M. C. A. quintet last Friday evening, the Central high school "gym" class basket ball team laid vigorous claims to the Northwestern intermediate basket ball championship. Answers were expected and the first of these came early this week from the manager of the crack Y. M. E. A. team of Superior. The "gym" men were a little backward about accepting the challenge, as the Superior team is out of the local team's class, being considerably heavier, but the gymnasium team has not balked at any reasonable offer yet this year and they took up the challenge of the village backers. A game was agreed upon for tomorrow evening at the local Central high gymnasium, the school team playing at the Superior high.

What will undoubtedly be looked forward to with as much interest as the main affair will be the game that has been arranged for between halves. The Central high school girls' team, undefeated yet this season, believes that it is the peer of all girls' teams north of the Twin Cities, and they have arranged for a contest with the girls' team of Two Harbors. The Central girls defeated the Denfeld feminine team by an overwhelming score Tuesday evening. Added to this they have many other victories to their credit, with no defeats. The Two Harbors aggregation also claims considerable prowess on the basket ball floor, and they will probably prove to be about the only team that has yet been able to give the Duluth girls a hard game.

"The "gym" team will be going up against a heavier and more experienced quint in the Y. M. E. A. bunch tomorrow night, but it is believed that the locals' speed and team work will off-set the disadvantage and that the game will be a "corker." Pedrizetti and little "Babe" Mason at the forward positions are a wonderful pair. They are hard workers, fast on their feet and good shots. Going at center, has proved a revelation and a most valuable man on the team. Shaw and Rosenberg at the guard stations have worked their playing down to a system. They are at the right place at the right time. Both are "dead" shots. Christeferson, used in the Proctor game, showed up wonderfully.

WELSH AND RITCHIE READY FOR BATTLE

Champion and "Ex" Meet in Ten-Round Go in New York.

New York, March 11.—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of the world and Willie Ritchie, former champion who meet here today in a ten-round match, have finished their training and are said to be in excellent condition. Each will make 135 pounds, the lightweight limit at 2 o'clock this afternoon, their trainers declared.

Ritchie lost the title to Welsh in a twenty-round bout in London last July. Friends of the American say that the English rules with which Ritchie was unfamiliar, were a handicap to him and that he stands a better chance in this country.

ASSOCIATION GIVES OUT SCHEDULE

Baseball Season Opens April 22 and Closes Sept. 22.

Chicago, March 11.—M. E. Cantillon of Minneapolis and A. F. Timme of Milwaukee, two of the three members of the schedule committee who were in Chicago yesterday, gave out the following signed statemnt in regard to the American association schedule:

"The schedule that the American association instructed its committee to prepare and adopt at its annual meeting has been handed to the president with a reqneest that a copy of it be sent to the club owners as the official schedule of the American association. According to this schedule, the season opens April 22 and closes Sept. 22 and calls for 154 games. The openings are:

"Minneapolis at Kansas City, St. Paul at Milwaukee, Cleveland at Columbus, and Indianapolis at Louisville."

Charlottesville, Va., March 11.—The Washington Americans lined up in their first game of the season here yesterday and defeated the University of Virginia, 7 to 4.

Tampa, Fla., March 11.—The Chicago Nationals again defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 7 to 3 here yesterday in the second game of the exhibition series.

TINY RED PIMPLES ON DAY OLD CHILD

Got Larger. Hair All Came Out. Cried Terribly. Could Not Sleep. Had to Walk Floor to Quiet Him. Used Cuticura and Now Well.

La Crosse, Kansas.—"When my son was one day old he began breaking out on his face in tiny red pimples that seemed to itch, as he was uneasy and couldn't sleep. The pimples got larger and changed to water blisters. They would break and run and cause new ones to break out until he was covered all over with a thick crust. His head was so bad we were afraid to wash it almost. All his hair came out. We kept him on a pillow for fear of breaking the blisters. Every time they broke they seemed to smart and burn, as he would cry terribly. The eruption disfigured the baby. We had to walk the floor with him to quiet him.

"When he was four weeks old I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and box of Ointment. The first time I used them he slept better than he had for a long time. He is now, at the age of nine months, well." (Signed) Mrs. John W. Sutcliffe, June 30, 1914.

Havana, Cuba, March 11.—Announcement was made last night by Jack Curley, promoter of the fight that the heavyweight championship fight between Jack Johnson and Jess Willard will take place April 4 at 11 a. m.

HOMECROFTER COMING HERE

George H. Maxwell, Originator of Movement, to Speak for Two Weeks.

Writes to Several Duluth Men Regarding Effect of His Work.

Homecrofting in Duluth will receive another boost this spring such as it has not had since its beginning. George H. Maxwell of Washington, D. C., the original homecrofter, who started off the work here three years ago, will again visit Duluth some time in May or June and work for two weeks in behalf of the movement.

Information to that effect has just been received by Postmaster William E. McEwen, C. P. Craig, C. E. Roe, and other homecroft advocates in the city. In a letter to Mr. McEwen Mr. Maxwell congratulates the city on its work in behalf of laying out a system of parks and playgrounds, and recalls the fact that he suggested the work to Mr. McEwen at Fond du Lac three years ago. Mr. McEwen at the same time suggested a state-wide system of parks.

Mr. Maxwell, who is an enthusiastic homecrofter, in a letter to Mr. Roe declares that it is generally understood that the homecroft idea in Duluth is in the "sere and yellow leaf," and that it needs a revival. Mr. Roe differs with Mr. Maxwell regarding the "decline" in homecrofting. The work has developed wonderfully since Maxwell's visit here, he says.

In support of his statement he said: "The school children of Duluth last year planted more than 10,000 packages of garden seeds, and there are many families now living on one-acre tracts of land. The schools of the West end have been active in garden contests and the West End Commercial club has been a hearty supporter of the work. Other schools, too, have been active, and the fine exhibits shown at the exposition at the curling club last fall are a fine testimonial of the results attained by homecrofters. A short time ago I visited a community near the Exeter farm and learned that there were more than forty families living on one-acre tracts. The movement has developed rapidly and has worked out to good advantage wherever it has been tried."

It is predicted that Mr. Maxwell will find ready support in his work here this spring.

TRUANT BOYS BACK HOME

Found at Lakeside After Absence of Day and a Half.

A day and half of sightseeing was enough for Robert Meagher, aged 7, and his companion, Henry Folz, aged 10, two knights errant, who played "hookey" Tuesday afternoon and then, fearing punishment, decided not to go home for a while. Henry Folz, Sr., father of one of the lads, found them at Lakeside last night.

The Meagher boy is the son of Peter Meagher, 2017 Jefferson street, and Henry Folz, Jr., is the "boy across the street," at 1932 Jefferson street.

When the frantic parents notified the police of their disappearance yesterday morning it was thought they were drowned, as they were starting for the lake with their roller skates when last seen.

"We skated during the afternoon and then, when it got late," said Robert, "we were scared to go home, so we slept in the hay loft of the barn near our house. We got up awfully early and went down to the lake again and skated out a long ways. We got pretty hungry, you bet."

TWO GET WORK FARM SENTENCES

Koski and Wardak Permitted to Plead to Minor Larceny Charges.

Although indicted by the March grand jury on charges of second-degree grand larceny, John Koski and William Wardak were each permitted to plead guilty to petit larceny when brought before District Judge Cant yesterday. Koski was given thirty days at the work farm and Wardak was sent to the same institution for four months.

Wardak was indicted for the theft of $26 from the proprietor of the Park hotel Feb. 16, last. When he received his sentence he requested that he be allowed to go to the work farm at once, as he did not wish to remain in the county jail any longer.

Koski admitted that he had stolen a watch and chain worth $35 from John Hardy on March 2 last. He stated, however, that he was drunk at the time and did not realize what he was doing.

COYLE REAPPOINTED.

Naval Recruiting Officer to Remain at Duluth.

Peter Coyle, who has been in charge of the United States naval recruiting office at Duluth since last September, has just been reappointed and will continue his work here for the next nine months. Mr. Coyle's appointment was made through the Minneapolis office, where he has been since last Saturday.

The Duluth officer will be inspected by Lieut. Willie of the Minneapolis office the latter part of this week. Mr. Coyle has made a good record here in securing recruits and has broken several records for numbers of enlisted men accepted.

Go to Church Sunday.

Escanaba's Mayor Wins Out.

Escanaba, Mich., March 11.—Mayor O. P. Chatfield won the nomination for mayor over Edward Smith by nine votes with the completion of a recount here.

The Doctor's Advice
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Elmwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Miss "Constance" asks: "I am very thin and bloodless and want to increase my weight about 30 pounds. Please tell me what method to pursue."

Answer: A regular and persistent use of three-grain hypo-nuclans tablets will usually produce an increase of weight by aiding nutrition and building up the flesh tissues. Scores of patients have reported increases of from 10 to 40 pounds from the use of these tablets. Full directions come with each sealed package.

Mrs. X. asks: "My scalp itches terribly, is feverish and a great amount of oily dandruff is present. What is good for this?"

Answer: First shampoo the hair and then apply plain yellow minyol about once a week as per directions. This relieves the itching, overcomes the dandruff and makes the hair beautifully glossy and vigorous. Obtain in 4 oz. jars of druggists.

Mabel R. writes: "Both my husband and I suffer all the time from stomach trouble. Nothing we eat seems to digest properly. Neither of us can ever get any enjoyment from our meals and we are drowsy and then again at bedtime we are sleepless. Please prescribe for us."

Answer: Dyspepsia, indigestion, sluggish liver and costive bowels with symptoms like yours are best conquered by a good aid and tonic for the functional organs. I advise the new treatment known as "double-four stomach and bowel medicine," as the best for such conditions. Almost immediate relief and permanent benefits follow its use. Sold by druggists in sealed packets with directions complete.

Mrs. "Annie R." writes: "My husband is surely afflicted with some kidney disease. He has become weak and suffers with headache and pains in his back and groins. Pains are like rheumatism. His ankles swell and his feet seem to be tired all the time. Some days he has chills and no appetite. Please prescribe."

Answer: The symptoms indicate derangement of kidneys and should not be neglected. I would advise balmwort tablets, a compound well suited to such cases. Obtain in sealed tubes with directions for home use.

"Old Soldier" writes: "I would like to know what to do for rheumatism, as I am so crippled that I cannot walk. Please answer at once."

Answer: Here is the best remedy for rheumatism that is known, and if taken according to directions you will soon be out again and be strong and well. Get 2 drams of iodide of potassium; 4 drams sodium salicylate, ½ oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort and 5 ozs. of syrup sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed.

C. O. C. asks: "I am constipated, tongue coated, have headache, dizzy spells and indigestion sometimes. Please advise?"

Answer: I advise that you begin using three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur.) These tablets are laxative, act on the liver, kidneys and bowels, and tend to keep the blood pure, by arousing the eliminative functions. Relief should follow quickly.

"Secretary" writes: "I have pains in my spine and frightful headache in back of head, fainting spells, twitching and trembling, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and strength, and in fact am a 'has been,' when it comes to performing accustomed work and duties. Please advise."

Answer: In all such cases the assimilative functions have not kept pace with waste functions and a powerful, harmless tonic treatment is needed. I find three-grain cadomene tablets unexcelled and astonishingly beneficial in such cases and advise them for you.

Mrs. C. W. B. asks: "I suffer greatly owing to too much fat. Can you advise me of a good reduction remedy?"

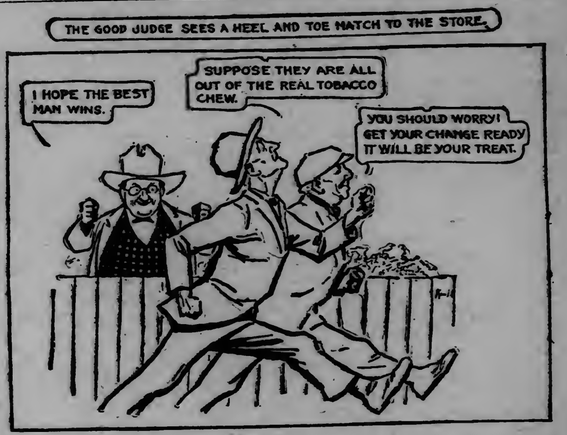
Answer: Any well stocked pharmacy can supply you with 3-grain arbolone tablets, packed in sealed tubes with full directions for use. These tablets have proven wonderfully effective in reducing abnormal fat.

"Fern" writes: "I have suffered with a bad cough for some time and I am also weak and tired most of the time, which I think is due to the severe coughing. Can you give me a remedy?"

Answer: Yes, your weakness is due to the coughing, but you should be well relieved by using the following: Get a 2½-oz. package of essence mentho-laxene and make according to directions on the bottle, then take a teaspoonful every hour or two until the cough is cured. This makes a full pint of the very best and safest cough syrup. If your druggist does not have mentho-laxene, have him order it for you of the wholesale firm.

Mrs. D. E. B. ask: "Will you please give me a prescription for Pelvic catarrh and catarrh of the head?"

Answer: The very best local treatment for the relief and correction of catarrh is antiseptic Vilane Powder. Obtain either a two or eight ounce package and with it you will find complete directions for treating catarrh of the head and pelvic catarrh (leucorrhea). It is an antiseptic of the very highest quality.—Advertisement.



THE GOOD JUDGE SEES A HEEL AND TOE MATCH TO THE STORE.
I HOPE THE BEST MAN WINS.
SUPPOSE THEY ARE ALL OUT OF THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW.
YOU SHOULD WORRY! GET YOUR CHANGE READY IT WILL BE YOUR TREAT.

GOING SOME!—the way the news is spreading about "Right-Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew.

Seems like every man who uses it is telling his friends about the small chew that really satisfies.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tusk it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and flavors. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

LARGE FIELD ENTERS BIG KENTUCKY DERBY.

Louisville, Ky. March 11.—With sixty-eight horses entered for the 1915 Kentucky derby, probably the largest field in the history of this event will face the barrier at Churchill Downs May 8. The entries were announced yesterday at the office of the new Louisville Jockey club, and include the champion 2-year-olds of the East last year, horses that showed promising performances on the Kentucky and Western circuits as well as a number that have run good races as 3-year-olds this year at Juarez, New Orleans and Havana.

With $10,000 added money, the race, it is said, probably will be the richest run on the American turf this year. It is for 3-year-olds at a mile and a quarter.

TENNIS MEN MAKE PLANS

At Annual Banquet Boat Club Players Discuss 1915 Season.

The annual dinner of the tennis enthusiasts of Duluth was held last evening at the St. Louis hotel. From the enthusiasm displayed and the plans that are to be laid for future execution, it looks as if the coming season will be a banner year in the history of the racquet sport at the Duluth Boat club.

Officers of the boat club will be requested to consent to an arrangement whereby the courts at Oatka can be turned about, running crosswise, rather than parallel with the car line, as at the present time. Such an arrangement would give the tennis players an additional amount of room and would permit of the construction of two new courts.

Walker Jamar, Lauren Kennedy and P. J. Chinnick made short addresses. Lauren Kennedy, Mac Washburn, A. B. Rosenkranz, Oscar Kinkaid and J. F. Thompson were appointed members of a committee to attempt to secure a ruling ranking local players in the national standings.

W. Deeby, Charles Grogan, Frank Falk and P. J. Chinnick were appointed members of a committee that will wait upon the officials of the boat club in an effort to secure consent to an arrangement of the tennis courts.

About thirty players were present at the dinner. Many informal plans were discussed and the coming season campaign discussed in general.

MANLEY IS NEAR THE END

Forsyth and MacLeod Will Play Off Semi-Finals.

The large event on tonight's curling program is the game between E. A. Forsyth and R. J. MacLeod in the semi-finals of the Manley-McLennan event. Forsyth defeated Richardson in the eights of that event last evening, 9 to 7, and MacLeod won from Walter Harris by the score of 14 to 7. The finals in the Manley-McLennan are scheduled for Saturday evening, weather permitting.

Whether the Scotch vs. the "heathen" players event will be pulled off on Saturday is undecided. The warm weather has rendered curling a difficult proposition. Most of the Scotch players have been drawn, but further plans are being held up by the warm weather.

Following is the play of last evening and the draw for this evening:

Art Hoene, 15; E. E. Burns, 3.
H. Ketchum, 9; M. Kelly, 4.
P. Harbison, 11; D. C. Duncan, 8.
James Myron, 11; Charles West, 6.

TONIGHT'S DRAW.

The draw for tonight follows:

Manley-McLennan Event.

Will Dinham vs. R. J. MacLeod.

"Blaze o' Glory" Event.

F. Falk vs. P. Harbison.
Bob Dunlop vs. Dr. Gillespie.
Ron Smith vs. W. E. McLeod.
P. Heimick vs. James Elder.
C. D. Brewer vs. S. L. Reichert.
Dr. M. A. McLennan vs. F. P. Hallock.
Ed Furni vs. T. F. McGilvray.
Jack Foreman vs. P. Hoene.
C. Gravatt vs. D. Duncan.
H. Matzke vs. C. Dreisbach.
M. Buchanan vs. A. J. Law.

CATHEDRALS TO PLAY NORTHLAND

Strong Basket Ball Teams to Meet at Cathedral Gym.

The Northland college basket ball team of Ashland will play the Cathedral high school quint at the cathedral gymnasium tomorrow evening. The game is expected to prove very fast, as both teams have made records during the present season that show them to be very evenly matched.

The Northlands have defeated the Cathedrals this season on the Ashland floor. The Catholic crew expects to gain sweet revenge for the beating in the impending contest. Both teams should be at their best, and the result of the contest should go far to determine the basket ball supremacy in this section of the country.

SACRIFICE POUNDS TO PLAY SUPERIOR

Undefeated Gym Quintet to Meet Heavy Superior Y. M. E. A. Team.

After defeating the Proctor Y. M. C. A. quintet last Friday evening, the Central high school "gym" class basket ball team laid vigorous claims to the Northwestern intermediate basket ball championship. Answers were expected and the first of these came early this week from the manager of the crack Y. M. E. A. team of Superior. The "gym" men were a little backward about accepting the challenge, as the Superior team is out of the local team's class, being considerably heavier, but the gymnasium team has not balked at any reasonable offer yet this year and they took up the challenge of the village backers. A game was agreed upon for tomorrow evening at the local Central high gymnasium, the school team playing at the Superior high.

What will undoubtedly be looked forward to with as much interest as the main affair will be the game that has been arranged for between halves. The Central high school girls' team, undefeated yet this season, believes that it is the peer of all girls' teams north of the Twin Cities, and they have arranged for a contest with the girls' team of Two Harbors. The Central girls defeated the Denfeld feminine team by an overwhelming score Tuesday evening. Added to this they have many other victories to their credit, with no defeats. The Two Harbors aggregation also claims considerable prowess on the basket ball floor, and they will probably prove to be about the only team that has yet been able to give the Duluth girls a hard game.

"The "gym" team will be going up against a heavier and more experienced quint in the Y. M. E. A. bunch tomorrow night, but it is believed that the locals' speed and team work will off-set the disadvantage and that the game will be a "corker." Pedrizetti and little "Babe" Mason at the forward positions are a wonderful pair. They are hard workers, fast on their feet and good shots. Gogins at center, has proved a revelation, and a most valuable man on the team. Shaw and Rosenberg at the guard stations have worked their playing down to a system. They are always at the right place at the right time. Both are "dead" shots. Christoferson, used in the Proctor game, showed up wonderfully.

WELSH AND RITCHIE READY FOR BATTLE

Champion and "Ex" Meet in Ten-Round Go in New York.

New York, March 11.—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of the world and Willie Ritchie, former champion who meet here today in a ten-round match, have finished their training and are said to be in excellent condition. Each will make 135 pounds, the lightweight limit at 2 o'clock this afternoon, their trainers declared.

Ritchie lost the title to Welsh in a twenty-round bout in London last July. Friends of the American say that the English rules with which Ritchie was unfamiliar, were a handicap to him and that he stands a better chance in this country.

Koski and Wardak Permitted to Plead to Minor Larceny Charges.

Although indicted by the March grand jury on charges of second-degree grand larceny, John Koski and William Wardak were each permitted to plead guilty to petit larceny when brought before District Judge Cant yesterday. Koski was given thirty days at the work farm and Wardak was sent to the same institution for four months.

Wardak was indicted for the theft of $26 from the proprietor of the Park hotel Feb. 18, last. When he received his sentence he requested that he be allowed to go to the work farm at once, as he did not wish to remain in the county jail any longer.

Koski admitted that he had stolen a watch and chain worth $35 from John Hardy on March 2 last. He stated, however, that he was drunk at the time and did not realize what he was doing.

COYLE REAPPOINTED.

Naval Recruiting Officer to Remain at Duluth.

Peter Coyle, who has been in charge of the United States naval recruiting office at Duluth since last September, has just been reappointed and will continue his work here for the next nine months. Mr. Coyle's appointment was made through the Minneapolis office, where he has been since last Saturday. The Duluth officer will be inspected by Lieut. Willie of the Minneapolis office the latter part of this week. Mr. Coyle has made a good record here in securing recruits and has broken several records for numbers of enlisted men accepted.

Go to Church Sunday.

Escanaba's Mayor Wins Out.

Escanaba, Mich., March 11.—Mayor O. P. Chatfield won the nomination for mayor over Edward Smith by nine votes with the completion of a recount here.

The DOCTOR'S ADVICE
by Dr. Lewis Baker

The questions answered below are general in character, the symptoms or diseases are given and the answers will apply in any case of similar nature.

Those wishing further advice, free, may address Dr. Lewis Baker, College Bldg., College-Elmwood Sts., Dayton, O., enclosing self-addressed, stamped envelope for reply. Full name and address must be given, but only initials or fictitious name will be used in my answers. The prescriptions can be filled at any well-stocked drug store. Any druggist can order of wholesaler.

Miss "Constance" asks: "I am very thin and bloodless and want to increase my weight about 30 pounds. Please tell me what method to pursue."

Answer: A regular and persistent use of three-grain hypo-nuclane tablets will usually produce an increase of weight by aiding nutrition and building up the flesh tissues. Scores of patients have reported increases of from 10 to 40 pounds from the use of these tablets. Full directions come with each sealed package.

Mrs. X. asks: "My scalp itches terribly, is feverish and a great amount of oily dandruff is present. What is good for this?"

Answer: First shampoo the hair and then apply plain yellow minyol about once a week as per directions. This relieves the itching, overcomes the dandruff and makes the hair beautifully glossy and vigorous. Obtain in 4 oz. jars of druggists.

Mabel R. writes: "Both my husband and I suffer all the time from stomach trouble. Nothing we eat seems to digest properly. Neither of us can ever get any enjoyment from our meals and we are drowsy and then again at bedtime we are sleepless. Please prescribe for us."

Answer: Dyspepsia, indigestion, sluggish liver and costive bowels with symptoms like yours are best conquered by a good aid and tonic for the functional organs. I advise the new treatment known as "double-four stomach and bowel medicine," as the best for such conditions. Almost immediate relief and permanent benefits follow its use. Sold by druggists in sealed packets with directions complete.

Mrs. "Annie R." writes: "My husband is surely afflicted with some kidney disease. He has become weak and suffers with headache and pains in his back and groins. Pains are like rheumatism. His ankles swell and his feet seem to be tired all the time. Some days he has chills and no appetite. Please prescribe."

Answer: The symptoms indicate derangement of kidneys and should not be neglected. I would advise buhmwort tablets, a compound well suited to such cases. Obtain in sealed tubes with directions for home use.

"Old Soldier" writes: "I would like to know what to do for rheumatism, as I am so crippled that I cannot walk. Please answer at once."

Answer: Here is the best remedy for rheumatism that is known, and if taken according to directions you will soon be out again and be strong and well. Get 2 drams of iodide of potassium; 4 drams sodium salicylate, ½ oz. wine of colchicum, 1 oz. comp. essence cardiol, 1 oz. comp. fluid balmwort and 5 ozs. of syrup sarsaparilla comp. Mix and take a teaspoonful at meal time and again before going to bed.

C. O. C. asks: "I am constipated, tongue coated, have headache, dizzy spells and indigestion sometimes. Please advise?"

Answer: I advise that you begin using three-grain sulpherb tablets (not sulphur.) These tablets are laxative, act on the liver, kidneys and bowels and tend to keep the blood pure, by arousing the eliminative functions. Relief should follow quickly.

"Secretary" writes: "I have pains in my spine and frightful headache in back of head, fainting spells, twitching and trembling, nervousness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and strength, and in fact am a 'has been,' when it comes to performing accustomed work and duties. Please advise."

Answer: In all such cases the assimilative functions have not kept pace with waste functions and a powerful, harmless tonic treatment is needed. I find three-grain cadomene tablets unexcelled and astonishingly beneficial in such cases and advise them for you.

Mrs. C. W. B. asks: "I suffer greatly owing to too much fat. Can you advise me of a good reduction remedy?"

Answer: Any well stocked pharmacy can supply you with 5-grain arbolone tablets, packed in sealed tubes with full directions for use. These tablets have proven wonderfully effective in reducing abnormal fat.

"Fern" writes: "I have suffered with a bad cough for some time and I am also weak and tired most of the time, which I think is due to the severe coughing. Can you give me a remedy?"

Answer: Yes, your weakness is due to the coughing, but you should be well relieved by using the following: Get a 2½-oz. package of essence mentho-laxene and make according to directions on the bottle, then take a teaspoonful every hour or two until the cough is cured. This makes a full pint of the very best and safest cough syrup. If your druggist does not have mentho-laxene, have him order it for you of the wholesale firm.

Mrs. D. E. B. ask: "Will you please give me a prescription for Pelvic catarrh and catarrh of the head?"

Answer: The very best local treatment for the relief and correction of catarrh is antiseptic Vilane Powder. Obtain either a two or eight ounce package and with it you will find complete directions for treating catarrh of the head and pelvic catarrh (leucorrhea). It is an antiseptic of the very highest quality.—Advertisement.

The Broad Way
Leads to Goodyear Tires

Try it a little while. It has carried some 400,000 motorists to the haven of content. It is traveled by more users than has any other tire. That has been so for years.

We can't win you to Fortified Tires by asking you to try them. The tires themselves must win you.

But our plea is that you should try the tires that countless men found best. There must be a reason as you know, why Goodyears dominate like this. Last year men bought about one Goodyear for every car in use.

Men Like You

This Goodyear army is composed of men like you. They want quality, safety, endurance. They want trouble-saving and low cost per mile.

Goodyears best met these wants. They met them because they are Fortified Tires.

In five costly ways, employed by no other maker, they offer unique protection. They combat five troubles—rim-cuts, blowouts, loose treads, punctures and skidding—as is done in no other tire.

Price Reduction

On February 1st we made another big price reduction. That makes three reductions in two years, totaling 45 per cent.

Today Goodyears, more than ever before, offer you most for the money. They offer you the utmost possible in tires, measured by cost per mile. Doesn't their top place prove that? The following Goodyear Service Stations will supply you:

SUPPOSE THEY ARE ALL OUT OF THE REAL TOBACCO CHEW.
YOU SHOULD WORRY! GET YOUR CHANGE READY IT WILL BE YOUR TREAT.

GOING SOME!—the way the news is spreading about "Right-Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew.

Seems like every man who uses it is telling his friends about the small chew that really satisfies.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

LICENSE IS CHIEF ISSUE

Question of Two Harbors Continuing Wet or Going Dry Live One.

Wets Will Import Clarence Darrow From Chicago to Help Case.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The license issue in the present city campaign overshadows all others. Next Tuesday the voters are to decide whether to allow the sixteen saloons now running here and paying the city $16,000 in annual revenue to continue or to close them up under the local option law. Both the advocates of license and the opponents are bending every effort to gain votes and the election promises to be a warm one.

Dodgers and circulars are a common thing and the sidewalks are being used as black boards by both sides. The "drys" have brought to the attention of the public the returns from cities and communities where the saloons were voted out, and the "wets" have done likewise where towns have voted wet. Both sides have held several meetings for the purpose of planning their campaign and nothing is being left undone by either side.

Darrow Comes Monday.

The wets will strike the keynote of their campaign next Monday night when they will present Clarence Darrow, the famous Chicago lawyer, who will lecture at the Star on "The Licensed Saloon." Mr. Darrow's fame as a speaker is recognized by the citizens and consequently a large crowd is expected to hear him.

The preachers in the various churches are using their influence against the "wets." Nearly all of them have spoken from the pulpit several times on the subject.

This is the second time that local option has been voted upon in this city. The last time, about eight years ago, the "wets" won out by eight majority.

Little interest is discernable relative to the outcome of the election of the city officers although both the Socialists and the Non-partisans have a ticket in the field. All interest appears to be centered on the saloon question.

ITASCA COUNTY'S DISTRICT COURT

It Will Open at Grand Rapids Next Tuesday With Large Calendar.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The March term of court will meet on Tuesday next. There are seventy-two civil and nine criminal cases on the calendar, aside from the cases which will be created by the returning of indictments by the grand jury. There are quite a number of matters to be investigated by the grand jury, but none are of as much importance as the nine other criminal cases on the calendar. New officials, who will appear in court for the county are: Ralph A. Stone, as county attorney, and Charles Gunderson, as sheriff, succeeding R. A. McOuat and T. T. Riley, respectively. HIBBING NINE TO START PRACTICING Aggregation of Crack Ball Players to Prepare for Sport.

Hibbing, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—As soon as the weather permits, the Hibbing baseball nine, comprising some of the best material of the Northern league last year, will begin practice, according to Manager Judge Brady.

Joe Faustch, who played last year for Winona and held the high fielding and batting average for any short stop in the Northern league, Jim Withers, who twirled for Duluth, Jerry Edmunds, premier back stop of the Duluth team last season, Cy Reiger and William Wilson, both Northern league players, have all agreed to play with Hibbing. All of them are here now. As an inducement to stay here, they were offered attractive positions here with salary attachments the year around.

Faustch, it was reported last fall, had attracted the attention of major league scouts. He is considered one of the fastest short stops and surest hitters in the state.

137 VOTES CAST.

Citizens Ticket Won Out in Mountain Iron Election.

Mountain Iron, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—When the Citizen's ticket won over the Village ticket in Tuesday's election there were 137 votes cast in all, the respective candidates getting the following votes:

Village ticket—President, Charles Walker, 63; clerk, Evor Mattson, 60; trustees, D. E. Burley, 60; D. C. McGregor, 63; G. J. Orcutt, 63; treasurer, Angelo Derito, 72; assessor, John Beck, 64; constable, Arthur Kangus, 63; justice of the peace, J. L. McMahon, 59; J. F. Muench, 62.

Total for Muench, who ran on two tickets, 136. When the result was known the Mountain Iron band came out; the successful candidates were loaded in a wagon, and propelled by man power, followed by the band all over the village.

ARE HOPING FOR COLD.

Members of Eveleth Curling Club Desire to Complete Events.

Eveleth, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Eveleth Curling club is badly in need of a few days more of real winter weather, as there are still several important events unfinished.

Loye and Lyons have reached the finals in the Home Electric company event and are waiting for a cold day to decide the ownership of four electric shaving mugs.

Van Slyke won the Miners National bank trophy in an exciting game with Lyons. The score was 10 to 9 and the last rock was required to decide the event.

In the First National bank event there are four games to play. Hatch and H. Murray are to meet and the winner with Campbell, Van Slyke and Greening will be in the semi-finals.

Hatch and H. Murray are to meet in the final in the Britton event.

In the "Smokery" event, Hatch, Greening, and Campbell have reached the semi-finals with W. Murray and Morill still to play in the second round.

In the McDonald cup event, Lyons, Van Slyke, Greening, Hotel, Robb and Campbell have been successful in the first round. Barret and McCormick have not met.

One event remains to be played with the Virginia club unless passed up for this season. This is the Honor event, supposed to be an annual event between the clubs.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PLAY.

Foresters of Marble to Present "The Irish Agent."

Marble, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—"The Irish Agent" will be presented at the Olcott auditorium Wednesday evening, March 17, by members of the Foresters lodge. The cast follows: Con O'Neil, Irish farmer, Fred Hodgman; Tighe Murphy, his best friend, Lyle Kutz; Father Tom, a priest, A. A. Avery; Shaun Brady, the agent, Julius Johnson; Darby Rairden, his accomplice, Clifford Brown; Frank Sheldon, a young Englishman, Francis Smith; Barney Burke, a tramp fiddler, Alyne Arenault; Kate Henessy, maid of all works, Blanche Blanchard; Mary O'Neil, Con's daughter, Mrs. C. Brown; Norah O'Neil, Con's daughter, Margaret Tresider. A small admission will be charged.

WANT SECRETARY FOR HIBBING CLUB.

Hibbing, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the first things the council will be called upon to do since the election Tuesday, will be to select a secretary for the Hibbing Commercial club. A committee from the club will meet the council members to make the selection, it is expected, at the next meeting. The position was left vacant by the resignation of J. L. Lewis, who has accepted a job in the office of the state insurance inspector.

According to Mayor Power, Robert Stratton, president of the Commercial club, and others, the suggestion of John Redfern urging that a business man be selected to fill the office, will be considered carefully before any action is taken.

Tocinite Election Result.

Taconite, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Officers elected Tuesday at the village election were: President, W. H. Plummer; trustees, W. B. McComber, T. J. O'Brien, Phil Bennett; recorder, M. R. Cundy; treasurer, Dan McKinnon; justice, two years, Robert Ingersoll; justice one year, Harry Jencon; costable, two years, Gust Huhn.

Hibbing Church Affair.

Hibbing, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—A "Measure social," admittance to which charges are made according to the height of those seeking to enter, will be held at the Methodist church Friday night. Several features are planned while a novel program will be given.

WANTED TO REMOVE BONE IN LEG

After suffering for years with a running sore on the leg a lady in Hartford, Connecticut, was informed that the only cure was to remove eight inches of bone. She refused and used Allen's Ulcerine Salve instead and it cured the sore completely. (Name and address on application).

Allen's Ulcerine Salve is one of the oldest remedies in America and since 1869 has been known as the only salve powerful enough to reach chronic ulcers and old sores of long standing. Because it is so powerful it often heals burns and scalds without a scar in a remarkably short time.

Allen's Ulcerine Salve heals from the bottom up and draws out the poisons. If applied on new cuts and sores it heals in one-third the time that common salves and liniments take. Sold by The Spencer Pharmacy Co., and other leading druggists.

AUTO REPAIRS ARE BASIS OF LAWSUIT

Range Motor Service Company Suing W. E. Lyman at Hibbing.

Hibbing, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—A jury was selected in district court yesterday afternoon to try the case of the Range Motor Service company of Hibbing vs. W. E. Lyman of Hibbing for $497.30 for auto supplies, repairs and garage rent. Some evidence was offered and the case resumed this morning. W. E. Lyman was the first witness today. The case may be concluded today.

Personal Injury Case Next.

The next case to be tried will be that of Mike Radovich, who demands $1,875 from the Inland Steel company for injuries sustained at a mine near here. He alleges that the injuries were directly the result of incompetency and inexperience of a foreman who was directing the laying of dynamite charges.

VIRGINIA HAS MONEY.

Reports Show $300,000 Available to Run City Till Jan. 1, 1916.

Virginia, Minn., March 11.—The city of Virginia has about $300,000 with which to pay the expenses of government from March 1 to Jan. 1, 1916, according to City Clerk Bickford, who Tuesday night made his regular monthly report of the financial condition of the city. Besides what is shown in the financial statement, nearly $45,000 will be paid in for licenses.

A condensed statement of conditions follows:

Assets.

1914 tax levy	$386,907.40
Former levies	5,918.49
Cash on hand	37,949.97
Other assets	96,671.81
	$527,447.67

Liabilities.

Overdraft, all funds	$242,569.65
Other debts	7,038.33
	$249,607.98
Balance over liabilities	$277,839.69

GERMANS SANGUINE.

Virginian Gets Letter From Hamburg Telling of Conditions.

Virginia, Minn., March 11.—Carl Hendricks of this city has received a letter from his sister at Hamburg, on the Elbe, Germany, which is one of the first received for some time in this city from Germany. It states that foodstuffs are increasing in price, but that the German people are as confident as ever of the ultimate success of their arms in the great European war. Mr. Hendricks' brother-in-law, who was called out with the first reserves and was in charge of supply trains running from the French front to the interior of Germany and who participated in the battle of Mons and in the fighting along the Aisne, is still at his home and does not anticipate that he will again be called to service.

BRUGGE CASE UNSOLVED.

Sheriff and County Attorney Investigating Aurora Tragedy.

Aurora, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—There are no new developments here today in the Louis Brugge case. The matter is being handled by the sheriff's and the county attorney's offices, and it is understood here that the inquest will be held at Eveleth, where the body has been taken, either today or tomorrow.

TO PLAY ROTARIANS.

Two Harbors Quint Again to Meet Duluth Basket Shooters.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local basket ball fans will have a chance to witness a real basket ball game this evening when the fast Rotary basket ball team of Duluth will come here for a game with the city team. The game will commence promptly at 7:45 at the Y. M. C. A. gym.

The Duluth boys beat the locals once before this year, but by a very small margin, and tonight the locals figure on taking revenge. The locals will line up as follows: John Woodward, center; Sullivan, forward; Harry Freeman, forward; Bob McCurdy, guard; Elliatrault, guard; H. Johnson, sub guard and forward.

VERDICT IS DIRECTED

In District Court Case When Plaintiff Proves He Was Minor.

Hibbing, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—As soon as Robert Miskulin, in district court yesterday afternoon, could prove that he was a minor when he paid $320 to the M. E. Wilson Real Estate company on a contract for land, still in possession of the company, Judge Hughes directed a verdict in favor of Miskulin for the money. When he became of age, Miskulin disaffirmed the contract and demanded his money back.

MOUNTAIN IRON NOTES.

Mountain Iron, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—D. E. Burley received word a few days ago from Mrs. Burley that her mother had died. Mrs. Burley has been at the bedside of her mother at Hendricks, Minn., for the last two months and will soon return.

S. Di Bacco, director of the Mountain Iron band and the high school orchestra, has composed a new march named "The Mountain Iron Girls' Symphonic March."

Mike Boylan, mayor of Virginia, was in town Monday campaigning for the village ticket. Mr. Boylan is a plumber and has several contracts here.

Miss Nelson, senior class advisor, together with the senior class, were guests of Supt. Muench last Saturday evening on a trip to Gilbert to attend a declamatory contest there.

Mr. Scott, Dr. Parsons, W. A. Pearce and D. A. Mitchell attended the Masonic smoker in Virginia Saturday evening.

Mrs. Parsons is expecting her mother shortly for a visit of several weeks.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

FAIR

Present and voting: Mr. Fair Weather. Not only is the distinguished visitor here today, extending his sojourn of several days now, but there is, as yet, no indication of his leaving. Announcement is made that he will be in the city at least tomorrow and nothing in the way of departures is given out so far. The keys of the city are extended to the welcome guest and he can make permanent residence here if he wishes.

A year ago today was cold but pleasant. The sun rose this morning at 6:29 and will set this evening at 6:07, giving eleven hours and thirty-eight minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Zero temperatures occurred last night in Northern Montana, Northwestern North Dakota and Central and Eastern South Dakota. In other districts the 24-hour temperature changes were generally slight. Light rain or snow fell during Wednesday or last night over Pennsylvania, New Mexico, Arizona, Idaho and Eastern Washington."

General Forecasts.

RANGE WOLVES FEROCIOUS.

Evelethian Has Dogs Killed By Wild Animals.

Eveleth, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Wolves seem to be more numerous and bold than any time in several years in this vicinity. Joe Tekalec, a local barber, lost a valuable hound while hunting near Three Mile lake, west of this city. The dog was attacked by one wolf, which he successfully combatting, when a second appeared and disposed of the dog, before the owner could get near enough to lend assistance.

EVELETH PUPILS ARE SAVING THEIR PENNIES.

Eveleth, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The savings bank system of the public schools is increasing steadily in the number of depositors and amount of deposits since it was started a few weeks ago. The Lincoln school now has 236 accounts with a total of $150.96 on deposit. O. H. Schmidt, principal of the Lincoln school and annex, has charge of the banking system and is well pleased with results.

CHISHOLM PUPILS WHO WON HONORS.

Chisholm, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The report cards issued to the high school students for February show that Mayme Bay carried off the honors with the only V. G. plus average. The V. G. average was earned by the following eleven: John Lipovetz, Helen Rahja, Anna Schweiger, Edward Lahay, Hilma Luoto, Warren Lott, Julia Basalek, John Jussila, Doris Papin, Mary Printy, Jennie Wall. The senior class took first place with slightly over half of its number on the V. G. or G. plus list, while the sophomore and freshman classes tied for second place, with over a fourth and less than a third of their number on the list.

CHISHOLM LATIN CLUB ENTERTAINS.

Chisholm, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Latin club of the high school, Monday evening, presented the following program: "Explanation of Caesar's Camp," Peter Grosso; A study of ten or twelve English words, Esther Hakkainen; Latin song, "Prelude to Virgil's Aeneid," Peter Grosso, John Fick, Clement Martin, Victor Wilburg, with piano accompaniment by Miss Grace Gandsey; reading, taken from "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," called "The Cunning Speech of Drumtochty," Kathleen Harrington, ward study by all present. After the program lunch was served.

Penmanship Contests.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Much interest is manifested by the pupils of the schools of district No. 1 in the penmanship work being done in the schools. The Palmer company, whose method of teaching penmanship is being used, furnishes a pennant, and in the local schools this is used as an emblem of superiority in penmanship. The pennant was for four weeks in the fifth grade, Central school, and at the present time is in the fifth grade, Forest Lake school. The system is also being used in the rural schools, and some of the rural school pupils are commencing to get Palmer buttons. Among the rural children receiving buttons are three in the Cunningham school taught by Miss Phillis Mooers, Muriel Fish, Phyllis Fish and Ruth Anderson.

ELECTION CELEBRATOR LANDED IN JAIL.

Hibbing, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Election was too much for Edward Ward, he told Judge Brady in municipal court, when he was arraigned on a charge of being drunk. "Voted for my party and he gotes elected," he said. "Then I was happy. The proper thing to do when happy is to get drunk, is what I thought then. Now, however, I have a clearer view on the matter and don't think I should have gotten drunk."

Judge Brady gave him a suspended sentence.

THREE ESCAPE FROM ITASCA COUNTY JAIL.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The sheriff and deputies are trying to locate the three jail inmates who escaped from the local county jail Monday night, but so far as known without success. H. P. Murphy, recently bound over for forgery, was one and the other two were Finns brought here from Deer River for breaking into a beerhouse.

It is thought that the combination which guards the key by which the door is unlocked was learned and operated. Escape was ultimately made by forcing another door and final exit effected by forcing the hinged bars on one of the east windows.

Virginia Boy Buried.

Virginia, Minn., March 11.—The funeral of Steven Ranka, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ranka, 724 Second street, North side, was held from the Polish Catholic church yesterday morning, Rev. Father Singer officiating. Interment was in Calvary cemetery.

Steven Bukovich, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bukovich, 606 Eighth street, who died Tuesday afternoon, was buried in Calvary cemetery yesterday afternoon. Funeral services were held from the Polish Catholic church, Rev. Father Senger officiating.

ELY ENTERTAINMENT.

Two Plays Are Presented By M. E. Church Epworth League.

Ely, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The entertainment given by the members of the Epworth league of the M. E. church last night was a decided success, both as to the entertainers and from a financial standpoint. The opera house was packed to the doors.

Two plays were presented, "Not a Man in the House," and "Which Is Which," the cast of which were printed in The Herald.

AFTER JUDGESHIP.

Contest for That Position to Be Lively in Ely Election.

Ely, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two more candidates for municipal judge have filed and there are now three running. The judgeship will probably cause a warm fight in the coming city election on April 6. So far two candidates are out for mayor, I. G. Cox and H. Kornfield. No filings for aldermen have yet been made.

CONFIDENCE RETURNING.

A. B. Coates Locks for Mining to Pick Up Before End of Year.

Virginia, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—A. B. Coates, the well known mining man, just back from New York and other Eastern points, says that business confidence is slowly returning. He met steel men and learned that while the ore shipping season would open quietly and on a moderate scale it was expected before the season closed shipments would increase materially.

Bovey Election Result.

Bovey, Minn., March 11.—The caucus candidate for president, Charles Chalberg, Tuesday received 56 votes, while George Andrews, running independent, got 49 and was elected. The vote on trustees was as follows: P. J. Barlow, 153; Erick Johnson, 143; Rhody Hawley, 106; August Mattson, 56. Mr. Mattson was an independent candidate and was defeated. For recorder, C. J. Franti, and for treasurer, E. Enstrom, were both elected unanimously. Justices of the peace, C. W. Kent and Henry Volke, each received 155 votes. For constable, Erick Franzen received 82 votes and William Owens 73. Franzen was elected.

Lopovich Acquitted.

Virginia, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Carey today dismissed the charge of assault preferred by E. J. Thomas, clerk at Saari Bros. lumber camp, against Mike Lopovich, who was alleged to have attacked the clerk with an axe. The evidence disclosed that bad blood existed between the two; that Thomas was in the habit of "toting a gun" and that the accused saw the clerk make a motion towards his hip pocket during an argument and reached for his axe but did not raise it.

Keewatin Elects Stone.

Keewatin, Minn., March 11.—Phillip A. Stone defeated President Matackoich for village president Tuesday in a hot election, 76 to 66. As the village has a debt of about $72,000 and the two factions had rival financial ideas, the feeling ran high. The trustees elected were O. J. Reppe, Robert McDonald and Will Cusciotto. W. B. Steensrup was elected treasurer; Charles Extrum, clerk; Joseph Graham, constable; A. V. Philips, justice of the peace.

Deer River Election.

Deer River, Minn., March 11.—In the village election here Tuesday H. G. Seaman was elected president, R. R. Beal, recorder, and S. J. Moran, treasurer; P. H. Daley, O. H. Sweun and J. C. McCallum were chosen as trustees. W. E. Herreid was elected over George Morrissette for the position of justice of the peace. This was the only contest and all other old officers were elected.

Bury Chisholm Man.

Chisholm, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The funeral of Joseph Pochovnik, aged 42, who died Sunday of tuberculosis, was held yesterday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Joseph's church, the Rev. Father Schiffrer officiating. Interment was made in the local cemetery. He is survived by his wife and four children, as well as two brothers, all residents of Chisholm.

To Send for Families.

Virginia, Minn., March 11.—Having established their home in this city, Archie Samari, employed at the Alpena mine, and Enrico Cimarell, miner at the Minorca, both living in the Fairview addition, will send passage money to their wives and families in Italy. Their families both live in the province of Pesaro.

WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH

Former Resident of Grafton and Orr, N. D., Perishes in Winnipeg.

Orr, N. D., March 11.—Mrs. O. W. Sundahl, daughter-in-law of C. J. Sundahl of Orr, was burned to death in an explosion of gasoline which occurred late Tuesday in the Winnipeg apartment, in which she resided with her husband, according to word received here today.

A tin of gasoline, with which she was cleaning a dress, became ignited, it appears, setting fire to the furniture of the room. In endeavoring to extinguish the blaze, Mrs. Sundahl was horribly burned on the face and arms.

She was taken to a hospital for treatment and died there early this morning.

Mrs. Sundahl was formerly Miss Abbie Johnson of Grafton. She was married to O. W. Sundahl of Orr some eighteen months ago, later moving to Winnipeg, where Mr. Sundahl is connected with the Imperial Elevator company.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Sundahl is survived by a child, 4 months old.

TO EXHUME CORPSE.

Further Evidence Being Sought in Alleged Rice Lake Murder.

Janesville, Wis., March 11.—District Attorney C. A. Taylor of Barron county is expected here this week to exhume the body of Mrs. Ella Norton, who was buried a week ago at Orfordville. Barron county officials are investigating the charges that Edward Norton, husband of the woman, choked her to death at their home at Rice Lake, Wis. Norton has been arrested and is being held for trial.

This Frees Your Skin From Hair or Fuzz

(Toilet Tips)

The method here suggested for the removal of superfluous hair is quick and certain and unless the growth is extremely stubborn, a single application does the work. Make a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water; apply this to the hairy surface and after about 2 minutes rub it off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. To avoid disappointment, be sure your druggist sells you delatone.—Advertisement.

DANGEROUS BEAUTY

Debility may result from a number of causes—worry, after-effects of acute illness, lack of nourishment due to disordered digestion, or anything that makes the blood thin, thereby preventing it from carrying health and nourishment to the tissues of the body.

The symptoms of debility vary but weakness is always present, often a tendency to fatigue easily, ringing in the ears, black spots passing before the eyes, weak back, dizziness, wakefulness caused by inability to stop thinking, and unrefreshing sleep.

Debility is dangerous because it weakens the body's defense against disease. For instance, debilitated people take cold easily and winter is always a trying time for them. When one cold follows another the system surely needs building up.

The treatment of such run-down conditions with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is based on sound medical principles and common sense. These pills build up the blood so that it nourishes every part of the body, nerves as well as muscles and brings vigor, strength and health.

Mention this paper and we will mail you the booklet "Building Up the Blood." Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

NEXT MEETING IN VIRGINIA

Minnesota Jurisdiction of Woodmen Going to Range City in 1917.

Gathering of Order and Women's Auxiliary Just Held at Staples.

Staples, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The biennial convention of the Minnesota jurisdiction Woodmen of the World embracing this state and the two Dakotas, ended here yesterday. The women's auxiliary, the Woodmen Circle, also met here, the two organizations electing officers and transacting other business including the selection of the next meeting place which will be Virginia. The conventions will be held in the range city the first Tuesday in April, 1917.

The two meetings just held here were voted a success in every way and Staples was roundly praised for the manner in which it cared for its visitors. The visitors gathered at Batchers opera house, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. T. C. Fernald of Staples opened the meeting by telling something about the work of the Woodmen and Mayor F. H. Allen welcomed the visitors. State Representative M. D. W., E. K. Campbell of Michigan told the audience that because of ten other jurisdiction meetings being held now the supreme sovereign was unable to attend.

Speaks For Circle.

Mrs. Edith Skeate of Staples spoke for the Circle while Mrs. Fernald also of Staples also spoke. Mrs. Tyndal and Mr. Corpening, both of Staples, gave a duet, and State Manager John W. Geiger of Iowa joined in telling of the order's work. Mrs. Emma Campbell of Michigan, supreme advisor, also spoke and Mrs. Mary La Rocca of St. Paul, chairman of the board of state managers, stirred the audience in telling of the campaign for new members.

Head consul, Louis H. Peter of St. Paul, voiced the sentiment of all concerning the hospitality shown them here.

Grand guardian, Mrs. Tewes of St. Paul, said she was honored to have the support of the supreme officers with her. Mr. Key and Mr. Hyde of North Dakota said they hoped to have a jurisdiction of their own soon.

Duluth Woman Elected.

At 2 p. m. on Tuesday the Woodmen circle elected the following officers: Mrs. Skeate of Staples, supreme representative; Mrs. White of Minneapolis, grand guard; Mrs. Labey of Mandota, grand adviser; Mrs. Nelson of St. Paul, grand clerk; Mrs. Arenson of Minneapolis, banker; Mrs. Heslie of Anoka, attendant; Mrs. Pierce of St. Paul; chaplain; Mrs. Dund of Minneapolis. Mrs. Cavenaugh of Cloquet, Mrs. Larkin of Duluth, managers; Mrs. Kell of Elysian, inner sentinel; Mrs. Cael of St. Paul, outer sentinel. At 8 p. m. the circle initiated twenty new members.

A banquet was given for all that evening at the Masonic hall.

At 2 p. m. Wednesday the Woodmen met at the opera house and elected the following officers: Head consul, G. I. Roos of Minneapolis; head adviser, J. F. Kraus of St. Paul; head banker, C. M. Akre of Minneapolis; head clerk, E. J. P. Dwelly of St. Paul; head escort, Nels Pierson of St. Paul; watchman, J. E. McCardy of St. Paul; sentry, J. W. Downy of St. Paul; managers, J. E. Polsson of Minneapolis, J. E. Quennell of St. Paul, C. E. Small of Mandota, W. S. Barker of Rugby, N. D., Oscar Nelson of Lead, S. D. Delegates for the July convention, Charles Key of North Dakota, E. H. Hyde of South Dakota.

Joint Installation.

At 7:30 last night a joint installation of officers took place in the opera house after which a reception and dance was given for all. During the convention the St. Charles hotel was the headquarters for the men and the National hotel for the women, the K. of P. hall serving as headquarters meanwhile for both.

MAYOR F. H. ALLEN
Of Staples, Who Welcomed Woodmen and Circle.

"HOG TIGHT" FENCE LAW QUITE WELCOME

North Dakota Railroads Believe It Will Benefit Livestock Industry.

Fargo, N. D., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The railroad company representatives are not displeased over a new law that considerably increases their expenses in this state. It provides for the construction by the railways of "hog-tight" fences along the right-of-ways whenever the property owners build the other three sides of an inclosure.

Means More Stock.

Despite the added expense to the roads the law will be cheerfully complied with because the increased livestock industry in this state will mean more livestock shipments and increased revenue for the railroads. The fences along the right-of-ways will be a further guarantee of safety for passenger trains and minimizes the trespasses along the lines of livestock, which, if killed, must be paid for by the roads.

INTEREST SHOWN IN FARGO DEBATE

Friday's Discussion Between Californians and Dakotans Attacts.

Fargo, N. D., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—California and North Dakota will debate here tomorrow night on the initiative and referendum, the California debaters coming from the University of Southern California at Los Angeles. Last year the aggies sent a team to that institution and won. This year they hope to repeat. The debate is attracting a great deal of attention, not only in all student circles, but among the educated residents of the city and the indications are that the college armory will be crowded when the contest starts tomorrow evening.

MANY FARGO HOMES WILL BE ERECTED.

Fargo, N. D., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—That this will be the greatest home building year Fargo has ever experienced is the statement by local architects and contractors. It is asserted more residences are already contracted for now than were ever constructed in any one year in the city's history.

The homes will be more modern and better constructed than formerly, according to builders. There will also be a large amount of constructive work in other lines, a number of new business blocks being slated for erection this season, in addition to another large school building by the city. The spring is opening up rapidly and work will commence earlier than last year.

CORN GROWING CONTEST

Fourth Annual North Dakota Competition Conditions Announced.

Fargo, N. D., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The fourth annual acre yield corn contest conditions under the auspices of the better farming section of the North Dakota experiment station have been announced.

This year there are offered $700 in cash prizes. The state is divided into two sections, north and south, with $325 in cash prizes for each, and a special $50 cash prize for the high winner for the entire state.

The boys who have won the high prizes in the past have found the contest highly remunerative in that there was such a demand for the seed from the crop with which they had won.

FARGO BANKS NOW BULGE WITH MONEY.

Fargo, N. D., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The deposits in the Fargo banks show between $500 and $600 for every man, woman and child of the city, according to the 1910 Federal census. The per capita circulation of the United States is but $37.15.

The recent bank statements show the deposits of the different banks aggregate practically $8,000,000, a gain of more than $1,500,000 during the past two months and the total is more than $1,250,000 in excess of the largest deposits ever before shown by the statements of the local financial institutions.

MAY CANCEL INSURANCE.

Possibility of Moorhead Being Dry Town Said to Hurt Risks.

Moorhead, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cancellations of fire insurance on local property used for saloon purposes promises to grow into an epidemic and property owners are alarmed. Some cancellations were made in anticipation of a large number of fires because Moorhead is expected to go "dry" within a few months. While the cancellations are not yet universal, it is predicted they will become practically so.

A majority of the buildings used for saloons are not owned by the saloon men.

An attempt may be made to organize a mutual fire insurance company, or to purchase a controlling interest in one already organized in order to get protection. The saloon men resent the imputation that there will be fires of incendiary origin with the threatened closing of the saloons and the situation here is, to say the least, a rather peculiar one from the insurance risk standpoint.

the evening of March 25, a banquet will be given in these quarters for the delegates.

The officers of the association are: President, L. D. Richardson, Fargo; vice president, H. W. Wilson, New Rockford; executive committee, Frank Bracelyn, Fargo; C. H. Coar, Minot; F. L. Shuman, Bismarck; J. P. Smith, Beach; M. F. Hegge, Hatton.

SUPPOSED PAUPER GIVES LARGE CHECK.

Beloit, Wis., March 11.—In municipal court Joe Refil, an Italian shopman, who has been receiving charity from the city, wrote his check for $2,000 as a bond for his appearance for trial on a charge of stabbing Jack Berletti in a row last Saturday.

SANDSTONE IS TO HAVE SHORT COURSE

Instructors to Devote Five Days to Agriculture and Home Economics.

Sandstone, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—An extension short course in agriculture and home economics will be held here for five days, March 16 to 20. The instructors to come here carry a car of livestock which they will use for demonstration purposes. They also carry other demonstration material, which will be used in the home economics and agricultural demonstrations. All sessions of corn and grain work and farm management will be held in the village hall. The judging and discussions of livestock will be conducted in the old McLain building, and the home economics lectures and demonstrations will be held in the high school assembly room.

The instructors are as follows: Charles Nelson, livestock and dairying; A. B. Lathrop, farm management; W. Smith, potatoes and farm crops; S. A. Collver, corn and grain; Miss J. L. Shepperd, home economics; Mrs. Hazel C. Cavanor, home nursing; Miss Catherine Ober, home economics.

HAULS HOUSES BY TEAM.

Fort Frances Man Pulls Structures Part of Way Over Lake.

Fort Frances, Ont., March 11.—L. J. Marsh moved two buildings to town by team, one from Bates-Rogers, five miles up the lake, and the other from Johnson & Carey's, seven miles away. The buildings were hauled over the lake as far as the Indian school and then by road to town. One is to be used for Mr. Gilmore's machine shop near the ferry and the other for his own accommodation.

RED RIVER VALLEY SHEEP SELL WELL.

Crookston, Minn., March 11.—C. A. Hitchcock broke sale records on sheep by auction Monday, when at Benoit he sold thirty head at $9.25 per head. This is the highest price at which sheep have ever been sold by auction in the Red River valley.

DULUTH WOMAN SEEKING BROTHER.

Marquette, Mich., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. W. F. Marshall of Duluth, Minn., has written to Mayor Begole asking him to aid her in finding her brother, W. J. Mullen, who she thinks is living in Marquette or in this vicinity. The missing man has not been heard from by his family in six years, when he was living in Au Sable, Mich. The mayor is trying to locate the man.

Mill City Doctor on Trial.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 11.—Dr. Charles H. Hunter is on trial before Judge Jelley in district court, charged with manslaughter in connection with an alleged criminal operation performed upon Lena Kommers.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland—The funeral of Anton Fresacher, aged 75, who died on Friday evening of heart failure, was held March 9 at 9 o'clock from the St. Agnes church. The deceased was well known in this section of the country and leaves a wife and seven children.

Sheboygan—William Stielow, 55, committed suicide March 9 by drinking muriatic acid. He had been in poor health for several months and became despondent. Just before drinking the acid he threw $50, some mortgages and other valuable papers in the fire.

Neenah—Frank Resch of the Winnebago county board of supervisors from Menasha has offered a resolution which, if passed, will prohibit the use of tobacco and playing cards in the Winnebago county jail.

Depere—John A. Kuypers, the new postmaster of Depere, took charge of the office on Monday evening. He is editor of the Brown County Democrat and succeeds P. B. Mallinc, editor of the Depere News.

Grand Rapids—A local camp of the Sons of Veterans will be organized in Grand Rapids on Friday evening, March 12.

Janesville—Iva Farber, formerly of Milton, has been missing from the state asylum for the insane at Mendota since Feb. 22. It is feared that she has drowned herself.

Kenosha—Fifty-one years a charge of Kenosha county, Peter McNulty is dead. It is claimed that the cost of caring for this man to the taxpayers of Kenosha county has been more than $30,000.

Antigo—The city schools were ordered closed on Monday for two weeks because of a threatened epidemic of scarlet fever.

Grand Rapids—A Royal Arch chapter of the Masonic order was recently organized in this city with thirty charter members.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Marquette—John Lahnala, the youth convicted in the Houghton county circuit court of first degree murder for killing his father, was brought to Marquette prison Monday night to begin a life sentence. He was brought here by Deputy Sheriffs William Heikkila and G. W. Taylor of Houghton county.

Gwinn—Miss Carrie Jory, 24, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Jory of Gwinn, died March 9, at the residence in the Gwinn hotel, of which her father is proprietor. Besides her parents three sisters, Mrs. E. J. Goodnen, and Mrs. Oscar Nyquist of Gwinn, and Mrs. Joseph Buzzo of Negaunee, and two brothers William Madifford, and a younger brother, John Jory, both of Gwinn, survive her. The remains were taken to Negaunee for burial.

Negaunee—The street and highway department of Negaunee expended $17,538.46 for repairs, maintenance and improvement during 1914, according to the annual report.

Hancock—John O'Brien, who was seriously injured in the Quincy mine last week, died at St. Joseph's hospital March 9. He was about 62 years of age and was a native of Ireland. He is survived by wife and nine children. The funeral arrangements have not been made.

Houghton—Weather Observer H. B. Cowdrick stated that the ice along the edges of the lake is only six inches in many places, while further out there is about eleven inches. The ice is becoming greatly honeycombed and open water is showing in spots, particularly alongside the lows used as a bridge during the winter.

Calumet—Village Clerk John J. Ellis, Jr., of Red Jacket, was an easy winner over Ed Harter, candidate of the People's ticket for his position at the annual election in the village Monday. F. H. Schumaker was elected president, Jacob D. Kaiser, treasurer and J. Wilmers, assessor.

Hancock—George S. Watson, a former Hancock young man, is the head of a new brokerage concern that was organized in Salt Lake City last week.

Houghton—H. M. Draper, a former superintendent of the Good Will farm, recently became entangled in the meshes of the law in California. Mr. Draper, writing to Houghton friends, defends his enterprise and styles it an educational venture.

Marquette—Martin Dunnebacke and Thomas P. Carey will represent Marquette council, Knights of Columbus, at the state convention of the order in Menominee in June. Joseph H. Primeau, Jr., and Joseph Siegel are alternates.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Wagner, S. D.—M. D. Helms, John Anthony, V. Vawrinek and John Blaine of this place and Frank Chihak of Dante were arrested here by a deputy marshal for selling intoxicants to Indians. They were taken to Yankton, where all waived examination and furnished bonds for their appearance at a later date.

Williston, N. D.—The Methodists of Williston are having plans drawn for a modern church which they expect to erect the coming summer. Under the direction of Rev. H. Styles Harris, who came here from Cando, N. D., several months ago, the denomination has had a steady growth.

Ardmore, S. D.—Frank Risch, age 39, whose body was found on his ranch with a huge hole torn in his left breast, ended his life by placing the muzzle of a shotgun against his body and pulling the trigger with a short stick. Cause for the act is not known.

Yankton, S. D.—The board of education has sold its bond issue for $100,000 to a Chicago firm at a premium of $1,350. This insures a modern school building for Yankton this year.

Bismarck, N. D.—Commissioner Hinkley introduced a resolution at the meeting of the city commissioners which provides that in the future the city commission shall not order in any improvement work where the cost is to be paid by special assessment except upon a petition signed by 51 per cent of the bona-fide owners of property affected.

Mandan, N. D.—In answer to a call of the comptroller of the currency, the First National Bank of Mandan announced deposits of $1,504,000. This is the record for banks in Western North Dakota. Mandan has 6,000 population.

Niagara, N. D.—A two days' short course on better farming subjects will be held here March 23 and 24 by the Niagara-Shawnee Agricultural club. The speakers will be J. G. Haney, agricultural expert of the International Harvester company; E. J. Olsen, field agent of the Grand Forks County Farming association; Miss Beatrice Johnstone, county superintendent of schools, and F. C. Crane, agricultural extension agent of the Great Northern railway.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The statements of local banks show deposits of $3,821,227.

Fargo, N. D.—United States Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton arrived in the city Tuesday afternoon and was taken at once to the Agricultural college, where he gave an address to the students. He was entertained at 6 o'clock dinner at the Gardner hotel.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Judge C. M. Cooley has granted Henry A. Underwood, who has been residing at the Christiania hotel, a divorce from Emma Underwood, who lives in Canada. Desertion was alleged in the complaint. The defendant did not appear.

Bismarck, N. D.—Frank Ployhar of Valley City has been granted a gas franchise, which was unanimously adopted. Ployhar, who now has a plant at Valley City, has ten days to accept the offer in.

Fargo, N. D.—Mrs. Cornelia Rogers died here March 8, aged 71. Her husband and son survive.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

St. Cloud—St. Cloud banks show an increase in deposits of $243,912 over a year ago.

Sauk Rapids—Mrs. Edward Letford died here March 9, aged 50. She is survived by her husband, Edward Letford; three children, Louis Robert, Kasota and Roland; four sisters and two brothers.

Bemidji — Miss Martha Anderson of Park Rapids, and Morris Jenson of Little Falls were married here March 8, at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. C. W. Gilman officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Jenson will make their home in Owatonna.

Brainerd—There has been paid the state in inheritance taxes on the Bulah Ferris estate $166.71. The estate consisted of $12,500 personality, being First National bank stock, and $10,987.40 in realty.

Crookston — The Swedish Lutheran church of Crookston is in quest of a new pastor, Rev. Carl G. Zaar having resigned some time ago. The present pastor received a call nearly three months ago from the First Swedish Lutheran church of Vancouver, B. C. Rev. Mr. Zaar accepted the offer, at the same time tendering his resignation to the Swedish Lutheran church here.

Fergus Falls—The Farmers' Shipping association of Deer Creek elected these officers: Vice president, Swan Johnson; secretary, J. A. Simpson; treasurer, E. O. Carew; directors, A. G. Noreen, A. H. Knoble, Milton Smith. The volume of business done during the year was over $92,000. Seventeen cars of flour and feed were shipped in during the year.

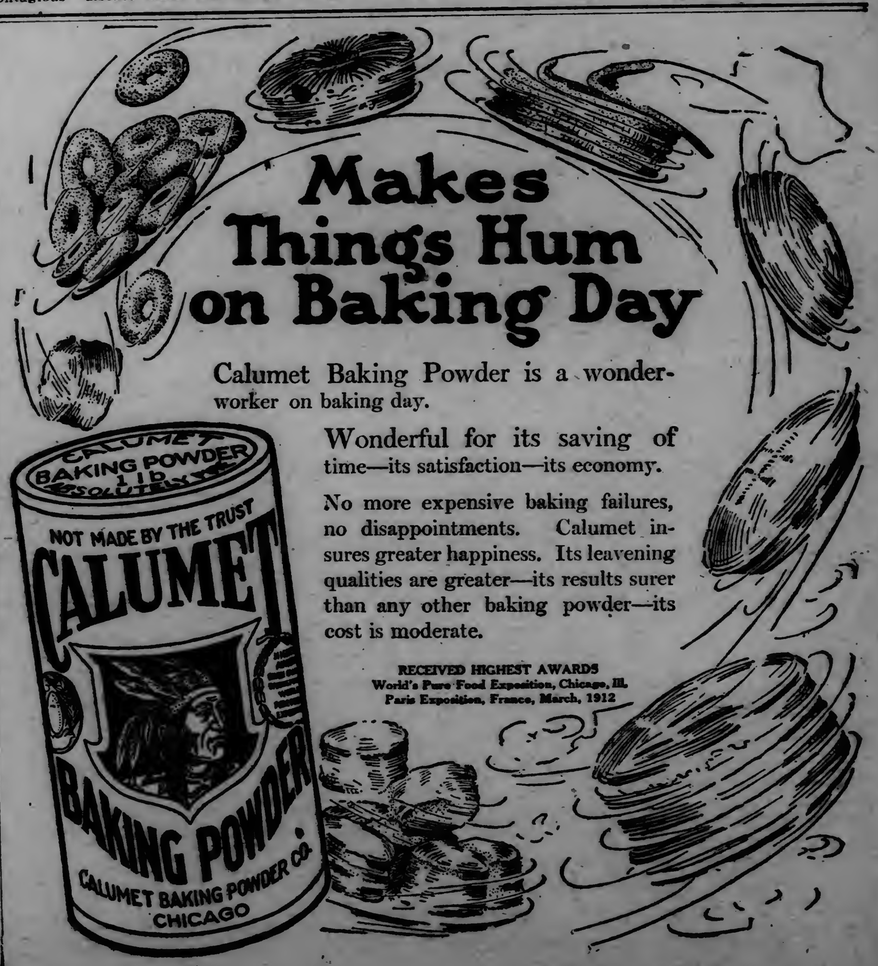
International Falls — Mail Carrier Kennedy, operating between here and Loman, has made his trips for the season by team, as on Wednesday he reestablished boat service between the two ends of his route.

Stillwater—Judge Stolberg granted Edgar L. Blinn a permanent separation from Mazie Blinn. He is 34 and she 29 years old and they have no children. They were married Nov. 24, 1910, at Middlebury, Vt., and she is alleged to have deserted him at that place, April 6, 1912.

Moorhead—The Woman's General Benevolent society elected officers as follows: President, Mrs. Fred Staley; vice president, Mrs. D. W. Meeker; secretary, Mrs. V. E. Verne; treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Souers.

Little Falls—While asleep at the Broadway hotel Monday night Charles Tholen was robbed of $10, his savings from an entire winter's work, according to the story he told the police. Tholen said the $10 he lost was his savings from a winter's work on the farm of Anton Knutson, Darling. He was paid $2 per week, he said. He had intended to go to North Dakota, but went to Brainerd to try and locate the man who robbed him.

Minneapolis—Plans for the erection of a three-story brick and stone Bible college by the Scandinavian Christian Union at Fifteenth and University avenues southeast, were approved by James G. Houghton, city building inspector. Work on the proposed structure, for which the foundation already has been laid, will be started at once. The building will cost about $75,000.



Makes Things Hum on Baking Day
Calumet Baking Powder is a wonder-worker on baking day.
Wonderful for its saving of time—its satisfaction—its economy.
No more expensive baking failures, no disappointments. Calumet insures greater happiness. Its leavening qualities are greater—its results surer than any other baking powder—its cost is moderate.

LIGHT AND SHADOW OF POLICE COURT

STEALS EASTER OUTFIT.

Long, Lean Burglar Breaks Into Big Duluth Store.

EVIDENTLY nervous over the near approach of Easter, a long, lone, burglar broke into the Big Duluth Clothing store, 125-27 West Superior street, last night, and stole a complete outfit of clothes. Police had found no trace of the stolen goods this afternoon.

Two padlocks, fastening the rear door of the store were pried apart by the visitor, who wears a 14½-sized collar, but an extremely long pair of trousers.

When the police find a 1915 reincarnation of Beau Brummel and Ichabod Crane combined, they will have the man, according to Lieut. N. U. G. Terry. He took a suit, two sweaters, two shirts, three pairs of shoes and a cowhide suitcase.

SECURE THIRD CONVICTION.

Another Rooming House Keeper Pays Heavy Fine.

Police continued their clean sweep in the cases against proprietors of alleged disorderly rooming houses in municipal court this morning when Mrs. Stella Mickolajczak, age 34, changed her plea from not guilty to guilty and was fined $150 and costs, on two separate counts.

The Mickolajczak woman was arrested Friday, March 5, in the third of a series of five raids staged by Chief of Police Troyer that night. A charge of being a common prostitute was submitted for the original charge of keeping a house of ill-fame, and in addition to this she was required to answer to a charge of conducting an unlicensed drinking place.

She is the proprietress of the Columbia hotel, 113 West First street. Convictions have been secured in each of the disorderly house cases brought into court recently.

CARELESS WITH MONEY.

Husband Tells Court Wife Is a Spendthrift.

"She was always asking me for money," said Morris Levine, 722 East Third street, who answered to a charge of non-support in municipal court yesterday afternoon.

"Yes, because you never gave me any," retorted his spouse.

Morris was so impressed with the belief that his wife was careless in money matters that he gave a woman acquaintance $20 and asked her to buy some clothes for his better half. The better half objected to this proceeding.

After a lengthy argument before Judge F. H. Cutting, the defendant was dismissed. Attorney Norton represented Levine.

DULUTH MAN IN CREW OF SHIP FRYE

Adolph Miller Landed at Newport News From Eitel Friedrich.

Newport News, Va., March 11.—Among the sailors in the crew of the American ship William P. Frye, which was sunk by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, and who were landed today, were Adolph Miller of Duluth and E. Matson of Elmore, Minn.

STATE CLOSES IN HARRY THAW CASE

All Attempts to Introduce Evidence Bearing on Sanity Fails.

New York, March 11.—Harry K. Thaw's attempt to get evidence concerning his sanity into the record of his trial for conspiracy to escape from Matteawan failed today.

Justice Page ruled out all testimony of this character except just enough to show that Thaw had the mental capacity to enter into a conspiracy with his five co-defendants to escape. Justice Page asserted that the present case was purely to try an indictment charging the existence of an illegal conspiracy to effect the escape of Thaw.

The state brought its case to a close this forenoon and the defense immediately made the usual motions to dismiss the indictment on the ground that the state had failed to prove its contentions. The motions were all denied.

Later a motion was made by the defense in behalf of Michael O'Keefe on the ground that no evidence had been adduced to connect him with the alleged crime. Justice Page granted the motion and discharged O'Keefe.

DOES NOT INTEND TO INTERN SHIP

So Captain of German Cruiser Notifies Collector of Port.

Newport News, Va., March 11.—Capt. Thierichsen of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich late today formally informed Collector of Customs Hamilton that it was not his intention to intern his vessel and that if the United States refused to grant him the necessary time for repairs the auxiliary cruiser will attempt to continue its voyage of adventure.

Commander Thierichsen was presented with a formal communication in the form of a letter by Collector Hamilton stating he would be expected to leave United States jurisdiction within twenty-four hours unless a further period is proved necessary to put aboard fuel or stores or make repairs. He also is directed to land "any Americans among the officers, seamen or passengers from captured ships" and certain rules are laid down governing his stay in port. A signed statement of the circumstances of the Pyke's destruction, to be delivered today, also is requested.

MEXICAN OUTLOOK MORE ENCOURAGING

Administration Officials See Brighter Side to Situation.

Washington, March 11.—Gen. Carranza's reply to the American note was laid before President Wilson today and afterwards it was indicated in administration circles that the situation looked more encouraging.

Secretary Bryen said he was working at Mexico City and Vera Cruz for speedy admission of supplies to the Mexican capital. Assurances were received from Gen. Carranza that foreigners would be allowed to use the railroad as soon as the evacuation was completed.

Up to Tuesday night it did not appear that the capital had been evacuated.

The Carranza agency here issued a statement giving the substance of a dispatch from Gen. Carranza saying he had placed 300 railroad cars at the disposal of the chamber of commerce and the municipal council for use in transporting supplies and that Gen. Obregon had also given 600,000 pesos to the poor at his order.

SIGNED BY KING.

Great Britain's Reprisal Plan Receives Official Sanction.

London, March 11.—Great Britain's plan to give effect to the naval reprisal measures against Germany, as embodied in an order in council, was signed today by King George.

TWO GERMANS OF FRYE CREW JOIN THE COLORS

Newport News, Va., March 11.—The crew of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk by the German cruiser Eitel Friedrich, were released from the Eitel Friedrich late today and brought ashore. Twenty-two arrived, but two of German nationality remained behind and responded to the colors of the fatherland by enlistment.

Scanlon Woman Hostess.

Scanlon, Minn., March 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Jane Parson entertained at luncheon a number of women friends Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Joseph Erickson, who was visiting her sister, Mrs. Emil Johnson, anad left Tuesday for Duluth en route to Virginia.

Judge Booth to Preside.

Bismarck, N. D., March 11.—United States District Judge Walter Booth of Minneapolis will preside at the coming term of Federal court which opens in Bismarck, March 16. He will take the place of Judge Amidon, because of the disqualification of the latter.

IN THE RIGHT PLACE.

Philadelphia Telegraph: The conversation at a recent social session turned to bravery when Congressman Henry D. Flood of Virginia was reminded of an incident about a party named Green.

Green was in the midst of a beautiful bunsh of slumber one night when he was gently jabbed in the ribs by his good wife, who cautiously whispered that she heard burglars down in the dining room. Instantly Green sprang from the bed and disappeared through the door. Ten minutes went by. Then another ten. Unable to longer stand the suspense Mrs. Green went to the stairway.

"John Henry!" she called in a voice scarcely louder than a whisper. "John Henry!"

"What do you want, Mary?" came the answering voice of father, not from below, but from above.

"Why, John Henry!" exclaimed the surprised wifey. "What in the world are you doing up in that attic?"

"What am I doing in the attic?" repeated John Henry. "What do you suppose I am doing up here? Didn't you say there were burglars down in the dining room?"

Forest botanists recognize only one cypress in the United States. Its range extends from Delaware southward around the coast into Texas and up the Mississippi valley to Illinois and Indiana.

WHEAT PRICES RECOVER ON EXPORTS' DEMAND

After Early Weakness Market Bulges With Buying By Foreigners.

Flaxseed Sells Up to the Highest Point in Weeks; Demand Urgent.

Duluth, March 11.—Wheat was weak at the close, with quieter bidding in the pit, and some realizing. May wheat closed ⅝c up and July ½c up. May durum closed 1c up and July ½c up.

Oats closed ⅝c up at 54⅝c; rye unchanged at from 65@76c.

At Winnipeg, May onts closed ¼c up at 63⅝c, and July ¼c up at 63⅝c asked.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.39½ asked, and calls at $1.47 bid.

The wheat market was a nervous affair today under a number of diverse influences. Market weakness was shown around the opening as a result of a sharp decline in cash wheat at Liverpool, and more encouraging advices from Argentina as to the probability of better shipments from there in the near future. Forwardings from that country for the present week are estimated at 3,600,000 bu.

Later decidedly more optimistic views were entertained by the big handlers, brought about through good export inquiry for wheat from the Italian government, reported at New York, and intimations that two sailing vessels with loads of wheat had been sunk on the Pacific coast. The latter development introduced a factor in the situation that had been overlooked.

French inquiry for flour on an extensive scale was advised at Minneapolis. Winnipeg showed special strength on buying by exporters in which a Duluth house was the leader. Advices from up there were to the effect that choice grades of wheat are getting very scarce, and that premiums upon it are being advanced. A similar situation exists in Duluth, and in consequence it is expected that the market in No. 2 northern will be relatively advanced. As an operator said this morning, foreigners and millers are likely to show increasing easiness to snap up anything in the shape of wheat that will make merchantable flour as time goes on.

That view was largely supported by Broomhall in his review today. He points out that the amount of Russian grain that will become available after the opening of the Dardanelles is an unknown quantity, and attention is drawn to the certainty that the acreage harvested in Europe this season must show an enormous decrease in view of the millions of men engaged in warfare.

May wheat opened 1⅝c off at $1.41½, and its quotation was gradually advanced till it stood at $1.46½ around the noon hour. July opened 1c off at $1.41, and advanced 2½c.

May durum opened unchanged at $1.50½, sold off 1c, and then moved up 2.

Big Bulge in Flax.

Flaxseed showed marked strength under the influence of a sharp inquiry from crushers and increasingly scarce offerings. That condition was said to be most marked at Winnipeg, due to small stocks being carried and expectations that the acreage sown to the seed will be only a fraction of what it usually is. A Minneapolis operator in out with a prediction that flaxseed on this market will sell up to $2.50 a bu. Its quotation today was advanced to the highest point in several weeks.

May flax opened ½c up at $1.87¾, and closed 4c up at $1.91½ bid; July opened 1c up at $1.90, and closed 4¼c up at $1.93¾ asked; September opened ⅛c up at $1.88¼, and closed 4c up at $1.92 asked.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 4½@4⅝c up at $1.71⅞ bid, and July 5⅛c up at $1.74¾.

MARKET GOSSIP.

The cash grain market was strong at Duluth today. Everything offered on the tables was quickly picked up. Cash No. 1 northern sold at 3c over May, durum at May price to 1c over for choice stuff and cash flaxseed at 1c under May.

Minneapolis—Cash market was firm on the top grades as there is not much choice wheat here. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5@5½c over May, and velvet chaff at 2@2½ over May. Flour sales were moderate with some export inquiry here for French account. No sales have been confirmed yet. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.46@1.49½, and No. 2 northern at from $1.42@1.47.

Argentina shipments for week are estimated at 3,600,000 bu, corn, 2,550,000 bu.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "The market was dull but its undertone was steady in the face of American weakness. Millers are absorbing and consumption is liberal. Winters were offered at 6d decline and Platos at 9d lower early, but later prices steadied and new winters sold at 1½d under yesterday. Plates are still being rather pressed for sale. Spot market was comparatively steady. Indian offers are firm, and rumors are current that exporting countries are bidding more freely and notice is being taken of the liberal American export takings notwithstanding the Dardanelles.

"Corn was dull but declined lower with favorable weather in Argentina, and spring-like weather here. Plate shipments this week are thought to be liberal."

A Baltimore wire to C. E. Lewis & Co., said: "These coarse grains have got me guessing. I firmly believe in 70c oats and 90c corn, but will take thirty days to convince bears situation warrants these prices."

* * *

The Minneapolis flour output for the week ending March 6 was 279,685 bbls against 326,880 last year. Millers report very indifferent demand, the export call is spasmodic.

Broomhall's International Review says: "The predominating influence in the market during the week has been the Dardanelles question and the rapidity with which world's prices declined. Upon more serious reflection this as a factor is waning as it is realized that shipments from Russia would be attended with much difficulty and then again it is being realized that the actual surplus available from Russia and Roumania is smaller than formerly believed.

"India is offering the new crop sparingly and much uncertainty exists owing to the fact that shippers are uncertain about export regulations. I think that the latest United States statistics indicate an exportable surplus of 50,000,000 bus with 28,000,000 from Canada. The questions arising from the war as related to production are receiving much attention, and the concensus of opinion is to the effect that the withdrawal of millions of workers must result naturally in reduced outturns while unusually heavy consumption to supply the army is an important consideration."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Weaken in Sympathy With Decline in Liverpool.

Chicago, March 11.—Wheat prices weakened today in sympathy with a decline at Liverpool. The outlook for larger shipments from Argentina counted against the bulls, and so also did the outlook for progress in opening the Dardanelles. There was disappointment for holders, too, in the falling off in the number of vessels chartered for grain at New York. Opening prices here varied from ⅝c to 2⅜c off, and were followed by only a moderate reaction.

Subsequently advices that the actual surplus available in Russia and Roumania is smaller than has generally been thought led to a decided upturn. Notice was also taken of a late advance at Liverpool ascribed in part to the sinking of two Pacific grain-laden ships. The close, however, was weak at ½c down to ⅝c up compared with last night.

Corn rallied after an early sag due to the downturn in the wheat market. Country offerings to arrive were unusually small. After opening ⅜@⅝c lower, the market ascended to above last night's level.

Improvement in the domestic demand for cash corn, notably Southwest, tended further to strengthen the market. The close was unsettled at a sharo to ⅛c above last night.

Comparative strength was shown by oats. Signs of a substantial shipping demand were in evidence.

Larger receipts of hogs throughout the West had a depressing effect on provisions. Packers were free sellers, especially of lard.

Chicago Livestock.

Chicago, March 11.—More plentiful receipts than on the corresponding day a week ago tended today to weaken the hog market. The quality of cattle offerings proved unattractive. Sellers of sheep and lambs were handicapped by a large supply left over last night.

Hogs—Receipts, 38,000; slow, 5c to 10c under yesterday's average; bulk, $6.60@6.70; light, $6.45@6.75; mixed, $6.50@6.75; heavy, $6.20@6.70; rough, $6.20@6.35; pigs, $5.50@6.50.

Cattle—Receipts, 6,000; weak; native steeps, $5.70@8.75; western, $5.00@7.35; cows and heifers, $3.30@7.60; calves, $8.25@9.75.

Sheep — Receipts, 10,000; slow; sheep, $7.00@8.10; yearlings, $7.75@8.90; lambs, $7.65@10.00.

New York Money.

New York, March 11.—Mercantile paper, 3¼@3½c; sterling exchange, steady; sixty days, $4.7875; for cables, $4.8075; for demand, $4.8025. Bar silver, $1½c; Mexican dollars, 38¼c. Government bonds, easy; railroad bonds, irregular. Time loans, steady; sixty days, 2¼@2¾ per cent; ninety days, 2¾@3 per cent; six months, 3¼ per cent. Call money, steady; high, 2 per cent; low, 1¾ per cent; ruling, 2 per cent; last loan, 2 per cent; closing bid, 1¾ per cent; offered at 2 per cent.

South St. Paul Livestock.

South St. Paul, Minn., March 11.—Hogs—Receipts, 5,000; 5@10c lower; range, $6.40@6.55; bulk, $6.50@6.55.

OFFICE OF SUPERIOR AND PITTSBURG COPPER COMPANY—

To the Shareholders:

You are hereby notified that the Annual Meeting of the stockholders of SUPERIOR AND PITTSBURG COPPER COMPANY will be held at the office of the Company, Calumet, Michigan, Monday, April 12th, 1915, at 12 o'clock noon for the purpose of considering the advisability of amending the Articles of Incorporation to permit of the sale of all the property and of authorizing a sale; of electing Directors for the ensuing year and for such other business as may come before the meeting.

The transfer books of the Company will be closed March 5th, 1915, and will remain closed until March 22nd, 1915.

By order of the Board of Directors.

GORDON R. CAMPBELL, Secretary.

Dated at Calumet, Michigan, March 1st, 1915.

D. H., Feb. 27 to April 12, 1915.

STEADINESS IN STOCKS

Increased Activity and Higher Prices in the Specialties.

Profit-Taking in Steel and Other Favorites—Closing Firm.

New York, March 11.—Irregularity was again the feature of the stock market in today's early trading with nominal price changes. Leading shares were either lower or at a standstill, while the speculative specialties and the inactive group denoted further pool manipulations. American Smelting was the only prominent stock to show a gain of more than a slight fraction, advancing ¾ of a point. Prices manifested a hardening tendency later. London's range for Americans was generally under yesterday's close.

Prices continued to improve after the initial period of uncertainty today, traders taking courage from the successful outcome of the state bond sale, decreasing tension in the Mexican situation and announcement of more gold imports from the Orient, which now amount to a substantial sum. Shares of Eastern trunk lines were in moderate demand, Erie issues rising concurrently with the offering of the new $10,000,000 5 per cent extended notes. The new high record for exports also was a helpful factor. Motor shares continued to lead the special group with further material gains.

Bonds were steady.

Increasing strength was noted in the early afternoon, Steel leading the movement on large offerings. Union Pacific, and other active railway issues were higher. Heaviness of New York Central debentures 6s was the feature of the bond list.

Stocks displayed general steadiness today, with increased activity and higher prices in the specialties.

Automobile shares and low-priced railroad stocks were bought in the late dealings. Profit-taking occurred in Steel and other favorites. The closing was firm.

COUNTY DIVISION FIGHT TAKES ON A NEW FORM; TWO BILLS IN THE HOUSE

Otter Tail and Polk Counties, "Wet" Districts, Seek Division.

Scott Would Permit Hibbing District to Form Third County.

Village Officers of Hibbing Lobbying to Secure Higher Salaries.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The county division fight took on a new form this morning when a bill was introduced providing for Otter Tail and Polk counties a method of "county division made easy," similar to that proposed for the range county, and when Representative S. C. Scott of Hibbing introduced a new St. Louis county division bill incorporating the amendments proposed by him Wednesday, but eliminating the amendment that would have prevented the Hibbing district forming itself into a third county if county division went through. The members from the Eastern Mesaba and Vermilion range will oppose this move.

The bill broadening the field of county division was introduced by Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston by request, and is so limited as to apply only to Otter Tail and Polk counties, where there are wet districts that would like to escape county option by forming new counties. It was referred to the committee on towns and counties, along with Representative Scott's new bill, and both will be considered this afternoon by the committee.

Otter Tail and Polk county people favoring division have been seeking to get it by amending the range bill, but last night they decided to introduce a new bill, hoping by a combination with the range people to put both bills through. As the movement now is distinctly a "wet" proceeding, it will complicate matters, the range members having made some combinations with "dry" members during the speakership fight.

Want Higher Salaries.

All of the newly elected officers of the village of Hibbing, except Mayor Power, are here in behalf of the Healy bill to extend their terms from one year to three years and to increase their salaries from $10 yearly to $2,000 for the president and $1,200 for the trustees. The bill is intended to apply to officers elected recently.

WOULD ABOLISH THE COMMON LAW MARRIAGE

CLAUDE E. SOUTHWICK, Representative From Wells, Who Has Introduced Bill for Drastic Regulation of Marriages.

ELWELL LAW MAY BE SAFE

Chief Objections Are Covered in the Proposed Amendments.

Drastic Regulation of Marriages Proposed By House Bill.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The friends of the Elwell road law believe that they have saved it from repeal.

Yesterday's vote postponing the special order on the repeal bill was a test vote, to a considerable extent, for the advocates of repeal fought and voted against the postponement.

It is believed that the amendments to the Elwell law that have been prepared will satisfy enough of those who would otherwise have voted for the repeal bill to effect its defeat, and so save the Elwell law for further usefulness to the state.

Three main points, reaching to the chief objections that have been raised against the Elwell law, are covered in the proposed amendments:

In answer to the criticism that too few people can set the Elwell law in operation, there is an amendment requiring the petition to be signed by 51 per cent of the resident land owners along the proposed road.

In answer to the criticism that county boards have too much power under the law, there is an amendment requiring a four-fifths vote of the county board to establish an Elwell law, instead of a majority vote.

In answer to the criticism that Elwell roads may absorb too much of the state aid, and commit the state to too great obligations, there is an amendment limiting the proportion of state aid in any county that can be devoted to Elwell road installments to 70 per cent.

While there is a considerable number of house members who will vote for the repeal of the Elwell law, no matter what is done to it, the friends of the law are confident that these amendments, which will be put in the form of a bill and brought speedily to a vote in the house, will win enough votes over from the opposition to defeat the repeal bill.

The repeal bill will come up in the house again next Wednesday.

To Regulate Marriages.

Drastic regulation of marriages, on the theory that the chief cause of divorce is in lax marriage laws, fostering hasty and ill-judged matches, is proposed in a bill introduced in the

THAW TRIAL NEARS END

Defense Rests After Calling Several Character Witnesses.

Examination of Thaw Concluded and Arguments Are Made.

New York, March 12.—The defense in the trial of Harry Kendall Thaw for conspiracy in escaping from the Matteawan asylum rested this morning after calling several character witnesses for Roger Thompson.

Thaw resumed the stand for cross-examination when the trial opened today. He said he did not remember who first advised him he could leave Matteawan because he was sane. As to who advised him that he would be breaking no law he believed Justice Morschauser of Westchester county had so advised his counsel.

"Where did you pay Butler for his services?"

"In Manchester, N. H.," replied Thaw, who added that the $6,000 was paid in cash.

"You told your counsel you believed you were sane. Do you believe you ever were sane?"

"That's a matter the district attorney

AMERICAN KILLED IN MEXICO CITY IN HIS HOUSE OVER WHICH U. S. FLAG FLOATED

MANY SHOTS INEFFECTIVE

British Fire on Turk Forts Well Directed But Harmless.

Shells From Forts Come Unpleasantly Close to Ships.

Constantinople, Monday, March 8, via Berlin, March 11 and via London, March 12, 12:10 p. m.—The fire of British warships on Turkish positions in the Dardanelles has been well directed on the whole but at times inefficacious. The Turks, on their side, have shown a fair degree of accuracy in their marksmanship and have compelled British vessels to exercise great caution in approaching their batteries.

A correspondent of the Associated Press witnessed the bombardment of March 5, directed against the positions at Kilid Bahr, on the European side of the straits. He could see the fire of either side and note how all the shots fell. The vessels engaged were British ships of the Agamemnon type. The firing started at 11:50 a. m. and lasted until 4:25 p. m., when the British withdrew. Their fire had been rather scattered. Some of it was directed against Dardanus and other points on the European side of the straits and the material damage inflicted was only slight.

Fire Well Directed.

At Kilid Bahr the British fire was well directed on the whole, but it was not very effective. Of about thirty heavy shells ten fell close to the Turkish batteries, while the others mostly fell short. Many of them struck at the water's edge. A certain British vessel which ventured in range of the Kilid Bahr batteries was subjected to well-aimed fire from them. She retreated hastily. The vicinity of these particular batteries was then avoided the rest of the day. In the afternoon two other British vessels came within range of a hidden Turkish battery and had narrow escapes from the shore fire. During all the afternoon the British vessels inside the straits were obliged to maneuver actively, because as soon as any one of them stopped it invariably drew a fairly accurate Turkish fire. It was evident that the British were exercising the greatest caution.

At about a quarter before 4 in the afternoon several hydro-aeroplanes of the allies appeared and made a reconnaissance. To the observers it was apparent that they dropped bombs on a village on the European side of the straits. The airships retired when fired upon.

STOPPED BY CRUISER OFF THE HIGHLANDS.

New York, March 12.—The British steamer King, bound from this port to Newport News, Va., was stopped by a four-funneled British cruiser seven miles southeast of the Highlands today. The cruiser sent a boarding party to the steamer, which remained on board only a few minutes and then returned to the cruiser. The steamer then proceeded on her way.

ALLIED ARMIES BELIEVED TO HAVE BEGUN NEW MOVEMENT

OPERATIONS OF BRITISH

Likely to Be Followed By General Offensive in West.

Believed German Troops Will Promptly Seek to Retaliate.

Battles in Northern Poland Have Not Reached Their Maximum.

London, March 12.—The sweeping advance of British and Indian troops around Neuve Chappelle, in the direction of the strong German position at La Bassee is regarded by some English troops today as the commencement of active operations on the left wing of the allied front in the western theater of war and is likely to be followed by another important offensive thrust preliminary to a general advance in the spring.

It is believed, moreover, that the Germans will promptly seek to retaliate. If they do this it will compel them to keep their western forces intact, if not to reinforce them to meet the fresh forces which Great Britain is putting into the field. This is just what the allies profess to desire. Their stroke is timed to aid the Russians, for if the allies had not kept the Germans busy along the western front, it is believed the German commanders would again have shifted forces to the eastern line to strengthen Field Marshal von Hindenburg, whose armies are now fighting hard to regain the ascendancy between the Vistula and the Niemen rivers.

Not Reached Maximum.

These battles in Northern Poland are not thought in London to have reached their maximum intensity, but Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, with heavy reinforcements, is said to be attempting another flanking movement against Przasnysz, with the idea of resuming his original plan of advancing along the Niemen should the operations against Przasnysz be successful. The battle line which is the crux of these operations extends roughly for a distance of eighty miles between the river Orzyc and the river Vistula.

No recent news has been received in London concerning the operations of the allied fleets in the Dardanelles. Delayed dispatches direct from Constantinople says the damage inflicted on the Turkish forts has not been serious and that life in Constantinople is entirely normal. This contradicts the re-

MRS. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IS DEAD; HUSBAND AND SON AWAY

MRS. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER.

New York, March 12.—Mrs. John D. Rockefeller died at her home in Tarrytown, N. Y., early today.

Mrs. Rockefeller died at 10:20 o'clock this forenoon at the Rockefeller country home at Pocantico hills, just outside of Tarrytown, where she has been ill for some time.

While Mrs. Rockefeller has been an invalid for many months, it is understood that her death came rather unexpectedly. Her husband, John D. Rockefeller, and her son were at Ormund, Fla., and were advised early today that Mrs. Rockefeller had taken a critical turn for the worse.

Mr. Rockefeller and his son immediately engaged a special train, which it was learned, is due here some time tomorrow. Mrs. E. Parmalee Prentice, Mrs. Rockefeller's daughter, was the only immediate relative present when she died.

Born in Ohio.

Laura Celestia Spelman Rockefeller was born in Wadsworth, Ohio, of well-to-do New England parents, on Sept. 9, 1839. She was her husband's junior by two months. As a child she lived in Wadsworth, in Burlington, Iowa, in Akron, Ohio, where her father, Harvey B. Spelman, achieved a competence in the dry goods business and later in Cleveland. In the grammar school at Cleveland she met John Rockefeller when they were 15 years old.

Rockefeller was a country boy. She was the daughter of one of Cleveland's leading citizens. His home was a little farmohuse; hers, one of Cleveland's handsomest residences. His associates, outside of school, were mostly farm hands and country boys; hers were talented folk of affairs drawn to her father's handsome home, for her father then was a member of the Ohio legislature, a public-spirited citizen interested in philanthropies and a man of many activities. Notwithtstanding other differences, the awkward youth and the city girl had in common a

J. B. M'MANUS, FORMERLY OF CHICAGO, ILL.

Murder Committed By Zapata Troopers on Entering the City.

Danger Feared and House Sealed By Brazilian Minister.

Outrage Causes Deep Concern When Reported to Washington.

Washington, March 12.—John B. McManus, a prominent American in Mexico City, originally from Chicago, was shot and killed in his home yesterday by Zapata troopers as they were occupying the Mexican capital after the evacuation of Gen. Obregon and the Carranza forces.

Official dispatches today from the Brazilian minister in Mexico City reporting the affair to the state department say the American flag was floating over McManus' house and that his doors had been closed and sealed by the Brazilian consul. The Brazilian minister's dispatch intimated that the killing may have been one of revenge, for it was charged that when the Zapata troops recently occupied the capital McManus had killed three of their number.

Steps for Protection.

The fact that the American flag had been hoisted over the house and the doors had been sealed by the consul of a neutral power was taken by officials here to indicate that either McManus felt he was in danger or that all foreigners were fearful of their safety with the entry of the Zapatista troops and took steps for protection. The killing of the American is described in the official dispatches as having caused the greatest excitement and emotion in the foreign colony.

The Brazilian minister reported that Gen. Salazar, the Zapata commander, had promised to find the guilty troopers and punish them. The official dispatch telling of the killing did not contain that detail but indicated that there was a dispute over whether McManus or the Zapata soldiers began the shooting. It was added, however, that the American's hat was shot full of holes with evidences that the firing was done at close range.

Causes Deep Concern.

In Washington, the news of the killing was received in official quarters with evidences of deep concern. The Brazilian minister's dispatches arrived just as the cabinet was assembling and Secretary Bryan said that as a searching investigation was under way no steps were likely to be taken until all the facts were before the American government.

A search of state department records seemed to establish that Gen. Salazar, commanding the Zapata troops, was not Gen. Ynez Salazar, a notorious bandit chief, charged with the murder of several Americans, among them Thomas Fountain, an American, captured as a prisoner of war while serving as a machine gun operator in the Madero army. Salazar was taken a prisoner after the defeat of Huerta's army by Villa at Ojinaga and was for months interned with the other Mexican troops in a prison in New Mexico. He escaped to Mexico last December.

Good Order Prevailed.

Supplementary dispatches from the Brazilian minister said good order prevailed in the capital from the time Obregon and his Carranza troops left until the Zapata forces entered.

It was pointed out here that President Wilson's note to Gen. Carranza, calling him in strong terms to alter his attitude toward foreigners in Mexico

WILL TAKE THREE WEEKS TO REPAIR GERMAN CRUISER

Estimate Made By Captain After Preliminary Examination.

Crew of Ship Frye Paid Off But Held in City.

Newport News, Va., March 12.—Capt. Thierichens of the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich has estimated in his communication to the Washington government that it will require about three weeks to repair his ship. The estimate was made after shipyard officials here had a preliminary examination. The Prinz Eitel went into drydock here yesterday.

It was understood that Commander Thierichens had asked the advice of the German embassy on whether to turn over the original papers of the William P. Frye to Collector Hamilton.

The crew of the Frye were paid off today by Capt. Kiehne, but they will

CHICAGOAN KILLED BY FRIGHTFUL FALL

F. C. White Either Murdered or Fell From Sixteenth-Story Window.

Chicago, March 12.—F. C. White either was thrown from or committed suicide last night by leaping from the sixteenth floor of the Railway Exchange building on Jackson Boulevard here. His mouth, gagged with a handkerchief, and his pockets empty and turned out, his body plunged down into an alley between the office building and the Wellington hotel, striking within a few feet of the boulevard crowded with theater-goers and automobiles.

White's identity was established from a notebook found fifteen feet from the body. He also wore a signet with the initials "F. C. W."

He was employed by the Quaker Oats company with offices on the sixteenth floor. None of the windows of these offices were open when the police investigated, but a window was open in a record room used by the company located half a floor above their general offices, where White's coat, hat and overcoat were found.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

The German drive at Przasnysz, in Northern Poland, has carried the advancing army within two and one-half miles of the city, the Berlin war office announced today. Russian reports of recent victories are denied and various German successes are recounted. It is said that in two battles 7,200 Russians were captured.

The German statement admits the capture by the British of Neuve Chapelle, as announced in London yesterday.

Advices from Constantinople, by way of Berlin, are to the effect that the bombardment of the Dardanelles is being hindered by storms and fog and that the attacking fleet has accomplished nothing more.

A semi-official statement from Petrograd reports a new movement of German forces in Poland. Following the heavy concentration of German troops for the renewed attack on Przasnysz near the Prussian border, reinforcements have been brought up in the Pilica river region, southwest of Poland. Petrograd believes, however, that these reinforcements are intended merely to hold the present positions rather than institute another attempt to break through the Russian line toward the Polish capital.

The British attack in Belgium has brought on two vigorous counter movements by the Germans, but it is said in London that the ground gained has been held. In Champagne further progress for the French is claimed.

M. Gounaris, Greece's newspaper, has given specific assurance to France that the policy of his cabinet will not be inimical to the interests of the allies, although the Gounaris ministry was created as a result of King Constantine's opposition to the former premier's policy of intervening in the war on their side. A London dispatch states that Bulgaria, whose attitude has been a source of concern to Greece, is sending heavy artillery to a point close to the Greek frontier.

Constantinople is reported to be in a state of panic as a result of the attack on the Dardanelles.

WHEN "THE BOYS PUT ONE OVER ON THE COLONEL"

Well, "the boys" put one over on "The Colonel" last night.

"The Colonel" gets mail addressed to William F. Henry, business manager of The Herald. Where the title came from is an office mystery. Even "Hank" doesn't know, but he is "The Colonel" to every acquaintance, from the theater managers' colony on Broadway, where the business end of the theater is handled, to the Superior street merchants.

It was The Colonel's birthday—which one is not known—and "the boys" decided it was time they let him know what they thought of him. For twenty-five years The Colonel has been radiating the gospel of good cheer. During that time, so office history runs, he has been heard to speak harshly of but one man. That one man canceled a seven-column ad, which he had been working a week to get, half an hour before going to press. The Colonel thought he was "a trifle hasty."

A banquet was prepared at the Spalding, and Mine Host Reynolds gave it his personal attention. Henry Flaaten brought some of his musicians, and at 6:15 everything was in readiness. The Colonel had been invited by his wife and sister to "a quiet little birthday party" at the hotel. They pushed him into the room and closed the door behind him, and the reunion was on, as soon as McKenzie, The Herald photographer, tested out his new "Mack-o-ite" process.

Laid Out First Form.

"Hank," otherwise Henry Dworschak, remembered the time he laid out the first form for The Herald, nearly thirty-two years ago, in the old Bunnell block where the Metropole hotel now stands. "Hank" spent two weeks planning the makeup of the new paper, and he has supervised the mechanical work on every page of it since then, except when the fish were biting on the Gooseberry. "Speed up a little, boys; it's a 32-pager tonight," said Hank, and the feed was on.

Oliver (Oliver Quick), head pressman, is only a youth in the service of The Herald, having but twenty-five years to his credit. He spent the evening trying to find out from the waiters where they got the white paper for the menu cards, and what price they had to pay for it, with some occasional comment on bird dogs.

William T. Thompson, the managing editor, was unable to be present, to tell of his mere twenty-five years with The Herald, and Stillman H. Bingham was busy reporting the county division fight in the legislature and could not attend to talk about his twenty-two years as reporter and editor.

Most Popular Man.

Frank Allen, cashier and the most popular man in The Herald office, on Saturday mornings at least, told of sixteen years with The Herald.

R. S. Porgy, otherwise "Sud," started as a newsboy with The Herald, and had twenty-five years to his credit.

Some of the mere youths in point of service were: Frank Hamm, 10 years; R. B. Liggett, 7 years; J. E. Rockwell, 13 years; J. A. Stuart, 12 years (he refuses to count three years he was away from The Herald, repenting the time wasted); Robert Berini, 15 years; Paul Robinson, 6 years; F. M. Webb, 7 years; John Harrington, 7 years; James L. Dorsey, 10 years; William Cummings, 12 years; Helmer Greener, 8 years; Edward Armstrong, 8 years, and Charles MacDonell, the silver-tongued orator of The Herald staff, 2 years.

The feature of the evening was Hank's singing of "It's a Long Way to Tipperary," showing evidence of The Herald's teachings of neutrality, and the telegram and box of oranges received from the publisher, A. C. Weiss, in Florida. The telegram offered congratulations to "the leading citizen of Penn Yan." Penn Yan is said to be a town in New York state where The Colonel's birth record is on file.

READY TO CONVEY TROOPS TO EUROPE.

New York, March 12.—Passengers and crew of the American steamer Almirante, in from South American ports, by way of the West Indies, told today of the presence of a fleet of nine British transports at Kingston, Jamaica, apparently lying in readiness to convey troops to Europe.

The transports, it was said, were anchored just off the port. Four British men-of-war lay alongside. One of the warships was recognized by the Almirante's passengers as the cruiser Sydney, which sank the German sea raider Emden off Cocos island Nov. 10, 1914. The Sydney's presence in Atlantic waters had not been recorded before. None of the other warships was recognized.

NO QUESTION AS TO NEUTRALITY

Premier of Greece Makes Statement Concerning New Ministry.

Paris, March 12.—"The statement of neutrality issued by my ministry seems to me sufficiently clear to leave no room for anxiety in France as to the policy the cabinet will follow," declared Premier Gounaris of Greece in a statement to the correspondent of the Havas agency at Athens who informed him that the change in ministry had created a strong impression in France.

"In any case," continued M. Gounaris, "I can add that the policy of neutrality spoken of in the ministerial declaration will be understood and carried out exactly in the same way as by the preceding cabinet without a feeling of hostility for anybody. We Greeks love France from motives of gratitude and also above all from the impulse of our hearts.

"France will have no occasion to complain of Greece who on her side hopes and counts always and under all circumstances on the kindly assurances of the former. Faithful to our alliance with Serbia we shall continue in perfect understanding with Roumania to pursue a watchful policy, always mindful of the integrity of our territory and the maintenance of our national aspirations."

The ministerial delegation referred to by M. Gounaris was issued at Athens on March 10 after he had completed the formation of the new cabinet. It expressed the belief that the observance of neutrality was imperative on Greece if she wished to protect her national interests.

AMERICAN WOMAN ATTACKED IN PARIS.

Paris, March 12.—An American woman whose name was given by the police as Mrs. Fennell and whose husband was described as a wealthy merchant, was attacked in the Avenue Kleber last night by a man believed to have been Robert Jansens, a Belgian chauffeur formerly employed by Mr. Fennell. She was cut about the head and arms with a razor wielded by her assailant.

When police and persons passing ran to the woman's assistance, Jansens attempted to cut his own throat. Both were taken to a hospital. Although their injuries are serious they are expected to recover.

MANY CARMEN AT BANQUET

First Spread and Dance of Traction Employes a Big Success.

Mayor Prince Tells Men They Give Unequaled Service.

The banquet, dance and general get-together affair, given last night by the employes of the Duluth Street Railway company, was one of the most enjoyable gatherings held in the West end this year. There were nearly 100 at the banquet at the Rex hotel and fully three times that number at the dancing party following, given at the Woodman hall auditorium.

After a turkey supper, a short address of welcome and general congratulation of the men for getting up the affair were given by D. C. Moore, superintendent of the company. He introduced Mayor W. I. Prince as the principal speaker. The mayor gave the only other talk of the evening.

The mayor congratulated the men on taking such an active interest in an affair of that kind, which he said, brought the men in closer touch with each other and created better relationship among them.

"Your work is different from that of others," said the mayor. "You are servants the same as I for the public. Every man has his special work to do in this world and in some manner or other must serve his fellow man, each contributing his share toward the public welfare."

Service Unexcelled.

The mayor touched upon the service given by the company and its men, stating that the service rendered was not excelled in any city of the country and that today it was better than ever before. He said the present employes were an efficient body of men, carefully living up to the regulations, not only of the city, but also of the company and giving courteous treatment to the public.

"It is easier to serve almost any other servant than the public," said Mayor Prince. "It is impossible to please all of the public, but with polite treatment, combined with the observance of regulations, the greater number of the public will be best served.

"Every man should feel that his work is important. The interests of the company are your interests. One cannot prosper without the prosperity of the other. If you have difficulties to settle, it should be done through arbitration. Employes should be given fair treatment, and the company should demand fair treatment in return. Adjust your differences amiably. And remember at all times that in addition to being carmen, you are citizens of the greatest country on earth."

The music at the auditorium was furnished by Blewitt's orchestra. A committee of the men headed by D. H. Wright, were kept busy passing quarter-pound boxes of candy to the women and cigars to the men. There was also a large quantity of pop to quench the thirst.

LIBRARY DEMAND MORE THAN DOUBLE

Great Increase in Patronage Shown Since Year Ago.

The circulation of books at the West end branch of the public library, 20 North Twentieth avenue west, more than doubled in the last year. The circulation for February, 1914, was 1,811, while last month 3,823 books were issued and the circulation for last month showed a gain of nearly 600 over that of January.

The greatest gain in the circulation was among adults. In February, 1914, adults borrowed 647 books, while during last month they took out 1,524 books. The juvenile circulation also more than doubled, being 1,035 a year ago and 2,281 last month.

The daily average shows that last month the librarian issued 159 books per day, while last year the average was only 62. During the last month there were a large number of applications for cards, the librarian having issued 117 new ones. The cards in circulation now number 3,744, while a year ago there were 2,911 in circulation.

SILBERSTEIN-FARRELL CLUBS JOIN FORCES.

Bernard Silberstein and J. A. Farrell were indorsed at a meeting of the Business Basis club held at Woodman hall, Twenty-first avenue west and First street, last night. The club, which was organized some time ago to further Mr. Silberstein's campaign, decided to combine with the Farrell club of the West end in the interest of both candidates for commissioners of the city.

Committees were appointed to work in each of the precincts in this end of the city. These committees will endeavor to get out all of the voters to the polls to register tomorrow and also will distribute literature favorable to these candidates.

Optimistic expressions on the possibility of electing both of these candidates were voiced. Short talks were given by B. Silberstein and E. A. Silberstein, as well as by several members of the organization. The meeting was attended by about 100 voters.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Micklaw of Houghton, Mich., are spending a few days visiting relatives in this end of the city.

Arthur Moinette of Virginia left for his home last evening after spending a few days visiting West end relatives.

The Berean class of the Central Baptist church will entertain this evening at a social following a short business meeting. A feature of the program will be an illustrated lecture on "Mexico," given by D. A. Willard of this city.

The Chicago Herald and New York Sun pictures of the European war will be given tonight, tomorrow and Sunday at the Orpheum theater. School children will be admitted to the Saturday matinee at 2:30 or 4 o'clock for 10 cents. See coupon in large ad.

DR. MAGIE GIVES ADDRESS.

Speaks to Medical Association on "Surgery of the Stomach."

Dr. W. H. Magie delivered an address on "Surgery of the Stomach" at the regular monthly meeting of the St. Louis County Medical association held last evening at the Commercial club.

The address was of a technical nature and contained accounts of difficult operations successfully performed within the last few years.

About thirty members of the association were present at the meeting. Doctors Farmer of McKinley and Weirick of Hibbing were the only physicians in attendance from out of town.

BOYS SAVE GIRL; DODGE THE GLORY

Pull Her Out of Hole in Lake Ice and Disappear.

Two boys rescued a girl from a watery grave in Lake Superior yesterday afternoon, and then disappeared before their identity was learned. The girl, little the worse for her icy ducking, hurried to her home nearby. The only witness to the affair was Harry E. Carpenter, 724 East First street, manager of the Kitchi Gammi club.

Attracted by the noise of a motor in the air, the girl ran out onto the ice to get a good view of Harry Webster, aviator, and while gazing upwards backed into a hole a short distance from the shore at Ninth avenue east.

Manager Carpenter saw her fall, from where he stood on the bank, and shouted to the two boys, who were but a short distance away. They ran to the girl and pulled her out without difficulty.

Why Duffy's Pure Malt

is a Medicinal Whiskey

Authorities generally agree that good, pure whiskey possesses positive medicinal value. Both as a stimulant and tonic its use by profession and laity is widespread.

Because of this fact the U. S. Pharmacopoeia (the Government authority on medicines and their proper preparation) has established a standard of purity for medicinal whiskey.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey meets the Government Standard and is even higher—obtained only by a costly process. First of all it is made of grain entirely malted, although the Government Standard does not require that all the grain be malted. As only clean and sound grain can be malted, inferior or defective grain never enters Duffy's, but only the most selected grains including barley, are used. This careful selection gives Duffy's a medicinal value far superior to the average whiskey used for beverage purposes.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

then is a refined distillate, properly aged to acquire smoothness and flavor, without noxious substances to disturb or irritate the stomach or nervous forces.

These are reasons why Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey does not even taste like other whiskies; why Duffy's is recognized generally as the one medicinal whiskey; and why, when you need a real tonic and stimulant, you should remember to "Get Duffy's and Keep Well."

For the aged, for those who are "run down," for persons suffering from stomach disorders, nervousness or similar ailments who need a real builder-up of the whole system, Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has brought quick and positive results. It's "a medicine for all mankind."

Sold in SEALED BOTTLES ONLY. Beware of imitations.

NOTE Get Duffy's from your local druggist, grocer or dealer, $1.00 per bottle. If he cannot supply you, write us, we will tell you where to get it. Medical booklet free.

"THE CENTER OF GAYETY IN DULUTH"

FIVE YEARS TO FIX BLAME

Supreme Court Ends Case of Lounsberry and Armstead.

Latter Awarded $68.51; Squabble Began When Autos Scraped Together.

It took five years for George H. Lounsberry, contractor, and John T. Armstead, laundry proprietor, to settle a dispute as to which was to blame when their automobiles scraped together on London road back in March, 1910.

The state supreme court today wrote the final chapter in the history of the squabble when it affirmed a verdict, returned in district court, fixing the responsibility of the accident on Mr. Lounsberry and determining Mr. Armstead's damages at $68.51. With costs and interest which have piled up since June, 1911, the amount which Mr. Armstead will collect will be more than $100. Mr. Armstead sued Mr. Lounsberry for damages.

The two automobiles were traveling in the same direction on London road. Mr. Armstead was ahead. He suddenly stopped his machine and started to turn around. Practically the whole width of the street was required to make the turn. The contractor claimed that he could not stop his car in time to prevent a collision.

The supreme court, which reviewed the evidence adduced in the case, found that Mr. Lounsberry could have stopped his car and avoided the collision, but instead of doing so, he increased his speed and attempted to pass ahead of Mr. Armstead's car before it reached the curb on the opposite side of the street.

The supreme court also held that the evidence at the trial sustained a finding that the plaintiff was not negligent in making the turn. The court also held that the fact that Mr. Armstead's car was not registered at the time as required by law, did not prevent a recovery. This point was urged by the defendant on his appeal to the supreme court from the judgment entered against him in the lower court.

Both litigants might have been money ahead if they had compromised the case out of court or even settled it after it had been tried. They never agreed, however, as to who was to blame for the accident. Each blamed the other and vowed that he would fight the case through the court of last resort, regardless of costs and attorney fees.

Abbott, McPherran, Lewis & Gilbert appeared as attorneys for Mr. Lounsberry and John Jenswold, Jr., represented the plaintiff, Mr. Armstead.

APPEALS FOR ECONOMY BILL

Governor Hammond Urges Legislature to Pass the Measure.

Declares Proposed Law Will Install Business-like Methods.

St. Paul, Minn., March 12.—In his first special message to the legislature Governor Hammond yesterday urged the house and senate to pass the efficiency and economy bill reorganizing the present system of state administration. The message touched on the various phases of state government and pointed to the increased efficiency and greater economy that will be inevitable under the proposed system.

The text of the message follows:

For Business Methods.

"To the Senate and House of Representatives:

"Gentlemen—I strongly favor the enactment into law of 'A bill for an act to establish a civil administration code.' It is the final report of the economy and efficiency commission.

"The purpose of the proposed legislation is to substitute business efficiency and system for unbusinesslike practices.

"The bill is not perfect. It may need amendment. If put in operation it will without doubt be found necessary to change many details of it; but as it is written, it is so immeasurably better than present conditions that I feel sure the legislature will fail to advance the best interests of the state if it is not made into law.

No Personal Criticism.

"Let me quote from the report of a legislative committee of a sister state:

"'It should be understood at the outset that in recommending changes in the business affairs of the state, criticism of men responsible for the conditions sought to be altered, is not intended. Progress invites abandonment of many things most efficient in the days when man's limit of advancement was spelled by the thing abandoned. We forsake the less efficient for the thing of greatest efficiency and thus and thus only may advancement be made.'

"This statement accords with my own attitude toward the proposed legislation.

Changes Not Radical.

"The changes proposed are not radical, nor are they unreasonable. All the activities of the state will be carried on, all its functions performed. But the state affairs will be administered upon the general principles tried and approved by the government of the United States, by many of our cities, and by most of the great business corporations of this country. Independent boards and commissions, of which we have a number, will be brought under effective supervision and into co-ordination with other branches of the state government and under one management.

"Referring to the board system, the commission says:

"'Students in political science are all agreed that executive work should be done by individuals and not by boards. The average citizen has come to the same conclusion. The board system tends to delay and inefficiency. It dispates responsibility. No one knows exactly who is to blame if work is badly done. Boards are necessary for legislative and judicial work; they are useful to give advice; they are not suited to administrative tasks. Moreover, under the board system the governor has little control over the administration. The board members usually have overlapping terms. Each board is a government by itself.'

Only Four New Officers.

"This legislation makes for economy through efficiency. Efficiency is economy. It is a mistake to suppose that the bill creates numerous additional salaried positions.

"In the case of all, except four of the paid officers provided for, one or more present salaried officers are replaced. These four are the directors of public domain, labor and commerce, agriculture and the commissioner of civil service. No new salaried boards are created. Every non-salaried board provided for by the bill takes the place of at least one and in most cases several existing boards.

"The most obvious places at which reductions will be possible are as follows:

Lists Proposed Economies.

"First—In the office force of the public examiner as the result of combining his office with that of the auditor to whom the bill makes him subordinate.

"Second—In the number of cruisers and appraisers required for valuing state land and timber by reason of the employment of men in the bureau of forestry for that purpose.

"Third—In the expense for salaries of forest rangers and game and fish wardens. In a good many cases the same person can perform both functions and the bringing of the two bureaus concerned into a single department will permit such an arrangement.

"Fourth—In the office expenses (generally small) and travel expenses of the several boards now connected with the various services relating to public domain (timber commissioners, drainage board, highway board, reclamation board, game and fish commission and forestry board). This does not refer to actual operating expenses for the service proper, but expenses incidental to the boards as boards. The substitution of one board of public domain for these six boards should permit an appreciable reduction in overhead expenses.

"Fifth—The substitution of the one board of public welfare for the board of visitors of state institutions, the board of women visitors, the board of health and the board of state public schools should permit some saving in expenses similar to that mentioned in the preceding paragraph.

"Sixth—Substitution of one board of education for the normal school board, the high school board, the state library commission and the board of the schools for the deaf and blind should similarly permit some reduction in overhead expenses.

Fewer Boiler Inspectors.

"Seventh—The placing of the function of boiler inspection under the commissioner of labor should mean a material reduction in net state expenditures. It is true that the boiler inspectors are now paid by fees. Under the proposed plan appropriations will have to cover the cost of the work in the first instance, but the fees will come to the state. At the present state of fees the amount collected should exceed the reduced cost resulting from the employment of the same men, who perform other functions for the bureau or labor, to inspect boilers. Moreover the placing of a head over the function of boiler inspection should permit more economical adjustment of routes and districts than is possible where each inspector works separately without direction.

"Eighth—The placing of the fire marshal under the commissioner of insurance should permit a reduction in office force. Apparently the position of fire marshal becomes unnecessary as well as some others.

"Ninth—Combination of the functions of inspecting foods, weights and measures and oils under the commissioner of standards should make immediately possible a smaller number of inspectors than now required. In many cases the same man can act in all three capacities, saving time and travel expense. This is probably the largest immediate item of saving to be made.

"Tenth—The cost of preparing exhibits to be used by the commissioner of immigration in advertising the state and the cost of publicity regarding the state fair, should both be reduced as the result of placing the state fair and the bureau of immigration in the same department under the director of agriculture.

Commission Is Praised.

"The plan comes from a commission of thirty men, including the president of the State Federation of Labor, six bankers, two capitalists, eight lawyers, one political writer, two editors, one clerk of the district court, one member of the state board of health, the private secretary to the governor, one member of the educational commission, two university professors, one the president of the American Economic association, and a number of experienced business men. The consulting statistician is a university professor and formerly director of the United States census. Eight of the members have had experience in the state legislature. All sections of the state and all phases of political affiliation were represented. The members served without pay, bore their own traveling expenses and raised money by private subscription to employ a secretary who is a well known newspaper writer.

"The legislature cannot be indifferent to the conclusion of such men and must give them all the greater weight because they are not influenced by personal considerations.

Combats "Machine" Argument.

"There is little danger of the building up of a political machine. At present the governor appoints a few heads of departments, a large number of boiler and oil inspectors and a great many members of the board. All or nearl all of the board members serve without pay. Under the reorganization plan the governor would not appoint so many officials and board members. But an efficient civil service law is an insurmountable obstacle to the establishing of a political machine, and such civil service law is a part of the reorganization plan.

"In a former message to this legislature I spoke briefly of the general purpose of the reorganization, of the inauguration of a merit system in the selection of state employes and the civil service law and in the plan proposed by the commission and incorporated in the bill now under consideration.

"I trust the multiplicity of bills presented to the legislature and the many duties demanding the attention of its members will not prevent them from giving to this legislation the study and consideration it deserves. I think there is little doubt but that with such study and consideration it will have the approval of the legislature.

"I beg to submit herewith for your consideration four letters which have been received by me, two from elective officers of the state and two from appointive officers.

"Very respectfully,
W. S. HAMMOND,
"Governor."

CANADIANS ARE LOYAL.

Government Official Says Many Are Enlisting for Great War.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 12.—L. L. Kramer, Canadian inspector of immigration for Regina, while here Wednesday, stated that conditions in Canada are righting themselves, slowly but surely.

Kramer claims that volunteers in Canada at the present time are joining the army faster than ever before. "We have more volunteers than we need," was Kramer's answer to a question directed at him by a reporter if volunteers were coming in fast.

Kramer was in the city on official business connected with his office.

Bismarck Pioneer Dies.

Bismarck, N. D., March 12.—Judge M. J. McKenzie died suddenly March 10. Judge McKenzie is survived by a wife and two daughters, Ethel and Mrs. Burkhardt of Minneapolis. He was a former county judge of Bismarck. He came to Bismarck about thirty-five years ago.

BIRDMAN IN TWO FLIGHTS

Webster Soars 1,800 Feet Over City, Surprising Duluthians.

Splendid Exhibition Given; More Flights Are Promised.

Exhaust from a powerful motor startled thousands of Duluthians into looking skyward yesterday between 5 and 6 o'clock, when the city was treated to an exhibition flight by Harry Webster, lacol birdman. Using his exhibition type Curtiss biplane, the aviator made two flights, the first of fifteen and the second of twenty-five minutes' duration. He first circled around the center of the city at an altitude of about 1,500 feet and then went out along the lake shore until he reached Lester Park and Lakeside, this time at an altitude of about 1,800 feet.

Aided by the lack of air currents and excellent weather conditions, Webster was able to give an unusual exhibition of his skill, winding it up with a wonderful sweep over the harbor and down onto the ice near the curling club, where his hanger is located.

No announcement of his flight was made by Aviator Webster, who was scheduled for a flight during the recent auto races, but failed to enter because of trouble with the engine, and yesterday's trial trip was to test out the new equipment.

"I will make a flight this afternoon," said Mr. Webster today, unless there is a sudden change in weather conditions. In fact, I intend to do considerable practice work during the next few weeks, and will attempt some "stunts" later on when the engine is whipped into shape."

HARRY WEBSTER.

Duluthians who work out-of-doors were given a treat this morning by the birdman, who took a short flight from his aero-shed at Fourteenth avenue east and the lake shore.

"This sheet of ice makes an ideal landing place," declared the birdman as his craft came to a stop within a few feet of his destination. "I wish we could have it all the year round, because it is the best place I ever saw to land on with a machine like this one.

"I won't take passengers on any of these trips—at least not at the start," said the aviator, in response to requests from budding birdmen. "This is an exhibition machine, and I have fitted it up with a single seat so that I would have more room. There really isn't room for another man, unless I put in the other seat."

Webster's machine is equipped with the regulation 80-horse power "V" type motor. It was built at the Curtiss factory at Hammondsport, N. Y., and is used during the summer and fall at fairs and carnivals for exhibition work.

GOLDSTEIN IN LIMELIGHT

Alleged to Have Passed Bad Checks at Bemidji and Littlefork.

International Falls, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Considerable trouble has been experienced near here recently with A. Goldstein about whom considerable was heard a short time ago, he having reported that he had been arrested by Canadian government officials at Fort Frances and while in custody there had been grossly mistreated.

Goldstein showed up in Bemidji last week and, it is said, presented worthless checks to the amount of $125, which were cashed, and then came here, where he was arrested and taken back to Bemidji Thursday. It is said that Goldstein was wanted at Littlefork on a similar charge and that he had "jumped" a bond of $1,000 at Fort Frances.

"Y" BOY COMMITTEES PLAN WORK FOR COMING MONTH

The monthly meeting of all the committees of the boys' department of the Y. M. C. A. was held at the boys' building last evening with fifty members present. Dinner was served at 6:15, after which short talks were given by President Ed. Scriven, Willard Thorp, Irving Grover, J. R. Batchelor and N. D. McLeod. Only seven more weeks remain to finish up the program of activities that was planned at the beginning of the season. The committees last night laid plans for aggressive work and the closing days in the present quarters will be marked as red-letter days.

The extension committee will conduct a theater meeting for boys in the West end the latter part of the month. The committee is working on the details. One hundred and three boys have subscribed nearly $100 to the missionary fund. All the Sunday schools will be entertained and the schools will be divided into districts. The first one will be given next week for the schools of the West end and West Duluth.

The Bible study committee will continue the High School club and all the other clubs until April 20. The committee is working out plans for a closing banquet.

The membership committee is laying plans for a closing membership hustle before going into the new building, May 1. They want to take a charter membership of 500 into the new quarters.

The entertainment committee made final plans for the big minstrel show to be given Thursday and Friday of next week. All the proceeds of the show are going to purchase war canoes for Camp Miller. The boy who sells the most tickets is going to get a trip to Camp Miller free.

The Sunday club committee announced only seven more meetings. Strong speakers have been secured and good musical programs arranged for. For the remainder of the season the committee will serve luncheon at the close of the meeting. Commissioner W. A. Hicken is the speaker for Sunday.

The athletic committee has planned for an indoor baseball league to open Saturday night. Every member who would like to be on a team is invited to attend the rally Saturday night at 7:30. The annual grade school interscholastic field meet will be held Saturday, May 22. Every school is invited to enter teams. A meeting of school representatives will be called shortly and the plans outlined. A basket ball tournament, to be held during the Easter vacation, was also planned. Any team in the city is eligible to enter. There will be three divisions—teams whose members are under 14 years, under 17 years and under 19 years. Teams interested should hand their names in at the boys' department at once.

The Knights of Sir Galahad have planned for an initiation and supper for Saturday, March 20. They also decided to give every member who brings one new boy to the club a picture of Sir Galahad. Dr. Fracker has been secured as the speaker for Sunday at 3 o'clock.

The camp and outing committee has planned Saturday trips for every week. This week the trip will be a cabin party and hike. Each boy is to bring a lunch. The committee will conduct observation trips each day during the Easter vacation. Special programs for each day of the vacation have been planned by every committee. A camp reunion will be held the early part of April. All old campers are invited and notices will be sent.

Go to Church Sunday.

Remember the date, March 14.

SALVATION ARMY MEN TO THE FRONT

Ten Thousand Are Now in British Army or Training.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 26.—The British Salvation Army has given ten thousand of its men to the British army. These men are either at the front or in training. In addition, the Salvationists' social institutes have trained a thousand men who on presenting themselves were unfit physically and morally for military life, but are now up to standard.

One Salvationist officer has four sons with the colors and a daughter on Red Cross duty at the front. This daughter is herself a Salvationist captain. She is only one of the many Salvationists working with the hospital corps at the front. A dozen motor ambulances are manned entirely from drivers to attendants, with members. The first five of these ambulances were purchased out of a fund of $12,500 raised by Salvationists in addition to the sum of nearly $20,000 for the Prince of Lances that one of the men was entrusted to the command of a complete ambulances that one of the men entrusted to the command of a complete ambulance section of twenty-one cars belonging to the regular corps.

STATE SUPREME COURT DECISIONS

St. Paul, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following decisions were rendered today by the Minnesota supreme court:

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.
Split Decision.

State of Minnesota, ex rel., Oliver Iron Mining company, respondent, vs. City of Ely, et al., appellants—

1. The state, by virtue of its sovereignty, has an inherent power to tax limited only by the restrictions imposed by the Constitution; but municipal corporations have no such inherent power, and can tax only in the manner and to the extent authorized by law.

2. Special assessments for local improvements are based upon the theory that the property assessed is specially benefited; and, if in excess of such benefits, constitute a taking of property without compensation.

3. The rule requiring statutes to be so construed as not to infringe constitutional inhibitions, if reasonably susceptible of such construction, applies to so-called home-rule city charters, and the provisions of such charters are not to be held void if they can reasonably be construed so as not to transgress such inhibitions.

4. The only limitations upon the power to levy special assessments are, that they be uniform upon the same class of property, be confined to property specially benefited, and do not exceed such special benefits; and a charter provision requiring that the cost of constructing sewers and street improvements be assessed upon the abutting property according to the frontage rule, does not infringe such limitations. The legislative judgment that such property is benefited to the extent of the assessment and in proportion to frontage is presumed to be correct until the contract appears.

5. A provision which, in effect, permits the council to apportion the cost of an improvement, extending along a corner lot lengthwise, upon such lot and the inside lots lying between such lot and the center line of the block, does not violate the uniformity rule.

6. Levying special assessments according to the frontage rule does not violate the fourteenth amendment to the Federal Constitution.

7. The city of Ely entered into contracts for the construction of sewers and street improvement whereby it assumed a general and unlimited obligation to pay for doing such work. Held that the city charter authorizes the making of such contracts; that it gave the council power to provide the funds to pay the liabilities so assumed; that it did not require such payments to be made from the proceeds of special assessments nor from any particular fund; but that it did require the council to levy and enforce special assessments against the property benefited to reimburse the city for such expenditures. Held further: That a general taxpayer may, by mandamus, compel the city council to levy and enforce such special assessments; but that he cannot enjoin the city from paying for the construction of such improvements at the time and in the manner stipulated in its contracts.

In the mandamus proceeding, order affirmed; in the injunction proceeding, judgment reversed.

TAYLOR, C.

ST. LOUIS COUNTY.
Defendant Negligent.

John T. Armstead, respondent, vs. George H. Lounsberry, et al, appellants.

1. Defendant was driving an automobile on a public street. He saw plaintiff's automobile, in front of him and headed in the same direction, commence to turn in the street. Practically the whole width of the street was required to make the turn. Defendant could have stopped his car and avoided a collision. Instead of doing so, he increased his speed and attempted to pass ahead of plaintiff's car before it should reach the left curb. The result was a collision. Held, the evidence was sufficient to charge defendant with negligence.

2. The evidence sustains a finding that plaintiff was not negligent in making the turn. The law of the road has no application to such a case. Violation of a city ordinance requiring a driver to look to the rear before turning is negligence per se, but if one riding with him looks and then directs him to go ahead, the ordinance is complied with.

3. The fact that plaintiff's automobile is not registered as required by law does not prevent his recovery. Violation of law on the part of plaintiff which will preclude a recovery for an injury sustained by him must bear to the injury the relation of cause to effect.

Judgment affirmed.

HALLAM, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
New Trial Ordered.

J. O. Lenning, appellant, vs. Retail Merchants' Mutual Fire Insurance company, respondent—

Seaman-Martin company, a corporation, received from a fire insurance policy upon its stock of merchandise from defendant insurer and paid the premium. At the expiration of a year a renewal slip was sent to be attached to the policy. In both the policy and the renewal slip the insured was designated as Seaman & Martin. When the policy issued and the renewal slip was sent no individual, firm or corporation was in existence under the name of Seaman & Martin, but for some years previously to the issuance of the policy Seaman & Martin had carried insurance with defendant on merchandise. Six months before the policy here in question issued Seaman & Martin transferred to the corporation its merchandise and assets, and dissolved. A loss occurred during the life of the policy, as renewed. Plaintiff claims by assignment from the corporation after loss. It is held from an examination of the evidence that it was error to dismiss the case on defendant's motion when plaintiff rested.

The order denying a new trial is reversed.

HOLT, J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
New Trial Granted.

Erick Swanson, respondent, vs. E. C. Campbell et al, appellants—

1. The authority of the governor of the state to execute a forfeited tax sale deed, under the provisions of section 2127, General Statutes 1913, is dependent wholly upon the question whether the time of redemption from the sale has expired.

2. The deed when executed is not conclusive that the time of redemption had expired, and the owner of the land may show that no notice of expiration of redemption had in fact been given, and therefore that the time to redeem had not expired.

3. Where the owner of the land, being the person in whose name it was assessed for taxation and to whom the notice of expiration of redemption was directed, is in fact a resident of the county the service of the notice by publication is a nullity.

4. The return of the sheriff upon such notice that the person to whom the notice was so directed could not be found in the county, is not conclusive, but may be rebutted and overcome by clear and satisfactory evidence.

Judgment reversed and new trial granted.

BROWN, C. J.

HENNEPIN COUNTY.
Evidence Sufficient.

Israel Diehel, administrator, respondent, vs. Wolpert, Davis & Co., appellant—

1. Evidence held sufficient to justify the jury in finding that one of the automatic gates used in connection with an elevator shaft in defendant's place of business was and had been for some time out of order, and that by reason of its failure automatically to close with the movements of the elevator, plaintiff's intestate, an employe of defendant, fell into the shaft and received injuries resulting in his death.

Order affirmed.

BROWN, C. J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Negligence Found.

Edward Fitzgerald, administrator, respondent, vs. Armour & Co., et al, appellants—

1. Deceased was operating an uncaged freight elevator. The elevator was ascending and after it passed the second floor the body of deceased was seen falling down the shaft. When found in the basement life was extinct. On the wall of the shaft just below the second floor and near the station of the operator was a six-inch projection into the shaft. The cap of deceased and hair like his were found caught upon this projection. Held, the facts warranted the inference that the projection in the shaft was the cause of the death of deceased.

2. The evidence is sufficient to sustain a finding that it was negligence to permit this projection in the elevator shaft.

3. The evidence is not conclusive that deceased assumed the risk of this condition. He was a boy of 17. He had frequently used the elevator during six weeks, but it does not appear how often he had gone up as far as the second floor. The elevator shaft was inclosed on two sides and partly on the third. There is no evidence as to light conditions. There is no evidence that deceased had knowledge of the projection and the proof is not conclusive that it was so obvious to him that he must be deemed to have known of it.

Contributory negligence was not conclusively proven.

Order affirmed.

HALLAM, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

Mary B. Manning, as adm'x, respondent, vs. St. Paul Gas Light company, appellant—

Defendant manufactures and distributes illuminating gas. Such gas when allowed to escape in any considerable quantity becomes a highly dangerous substance, and the defendant must exercise a commensurate degree of care to prevent the gas from escaping up to the time it is measured and delivered, through its meter, to the consumer.

The rule of res ipsa loquitur may be applied to a situation which discloses that gas escaped in destructive quantities from a break in the service pipe installed by the gas company upon the consumer's premises, at his cost, and when the evidence further shows that there had been no work or change upon such premises which could have affected the pipe, and no interference therewith. Under this rule defendant was not entitled to a directed verdict.

The complaint, without the permitted amendment, held sufficiently broad to admit of proof showing improper installation of the service pipe.

No error is found in refusing to give requested instructions, nor is there prejudicial error in the charge as given.

The verdict finds support under the evidence and the law.

Order affirmed.

HOLT, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Sustained by Evidence.

William Cady, respondent, vs. Twin City Taxicab company, appellant—

In this action to recover for personal injuries it is held that the questions of negligence, contributory negligence and assumption of risk were for the jury, that the verdict is sustained by the evidence, that the damages are not excessive, and that there was no prejudicial error in the charge.

Order affirmed.

BUNN, J.

RAMSEY COUNTY.
Order Affirmed.

Watson P. Davidson, appellant, vs. Franklin Avenue Investment company, respondent—

G. S. 1913, section 1980, providing that if any real property is omitted in the assessment of any year or years and the property thereby escape taxation, the county auditor shall re-assess the property, does not authorize a reassessment where the real estate is assessed and has paid taxes for the years in question, but where the property is under-valued in those years because the assessing officers took no note of an improvement thereon.

Order affirmed.

BUNN, J.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.
Sustained by Evidence.

Henry A. Curran, respondent, vs. City of Albert Lea, et al, appellants—

1. The controversy in this action involved in part the ownership of a strip of land about six feet wide which defendant city claimed was a part of the street, and under such claim attempted to improve it for public travel and uses in connection with the street as theretofore improved and used. Defendant contended that the disputed strip of land never formed a part of the street but was a part of his lot which fronted on the street.

It is held that, whether the street as platted included this strip or not, the conclusion of the trial court that plaintiff had acquired title thereto by adverse possession is sustained by the evidence. Sawbridge vs. Fergus Falls, 101 Minn. 378, followed and applied.

2. G. S. 1913 Sec. 7998, abolishing the right to direct verdicts at the conclusion of the trial where either party makes seasonable objection, held not to apply to equitable actions in which the trial court has ordered the submission of specific issues to a jury. The statute was intended to apply to actions at law only.

3. The court may, in an equitable action, notwithstanding the order so submitting issues to the jury, withdraw the same at the conclusion of the trial or direct a verdict thereon as the evidence in the opinion of the court may require.

4. Held, for reasons stated in the opinion, that there was no reversible error in the instructions of the court upon the question of plaintiff's damages.

5. Under our amended constitution by which it is declared that private property shall not be taken "or damaged" for public use without compensation first paid or secured, it is held, that the owner of property fronting upon a public street, which street is by the municipality improved for public use, is entitled to recover for all such substantial changes in or alterations of the street as cause injury and damage to his abutting property.

6. This includes damages arising from excavations which take away the lateral support of premises abutting upon the street, lowering the grade of the street, or injury to driveways to and from the premises.

7. The record presents no reversible error.

Order affirmed.

BROWN, C. J.

Judgment Reversed.

State of Minnesota, ex rel; James Kennedy, et al., relators, vs. District Court of Clay County, et al, respondents—

In a hearing under the workmen's compensation act to ascertain the compensation to be awarded to an injured employe, where there are permanent injuries to the hand and arm below the elbow, the court should determine the percentage of total disability of the hand and fix the compensation accordingly. Where the same accident results also in permanent partial disability to the arm above the elbow, the court should determine the percentage of total disability of the arm as a whole, including the forearm and hand, and fix the compensation accordingly. It is improper in such a case to divide the injuries into two units, those to the hand, and those to the arm.

Judgment reversed.

BIG DROP IN EGG PRICES

Product Selling at Lowest Figure in Years for Season.

Butter Is Also Dropping—Fruits and Vegetables Are Cheap.

Almost everything in the produce line, including fruits, vegetables and butter and eggs, is selling on the cheapest basis for the season in years. Such is the information to be gleaned in a visit around the trade today.

Perhaps the outstanding feature is another decline of 3@4c a dozen in eggs, bringing them down to 20@22c a dozen for the fresh article. This compares with 29@30c, the figures ruling at this time a year ago. It is pointed out that at this basis, eggs are relatively cheaper than anything in the list as a food product, a dozen of eggs containing more nutriment than the great bulk of edibles that can be bought at anywhere near the same price.

"The break in the egg market has been brought about through the great increase in receipts during the past two weeks," said B. M. Ruse, sales manager of the Bridgeman-Russell company, today. "Hens appear to have been laying freely over the Northwest as a result of the steady warm weather, and as the same conditions have prevailed over wide areas of country, they could only be moved at the expense of prices. Southern eggs from over Missouri, Texas and Kansas have been going forward to the East in a large bulk lately, so that the situation is very weak down that way."

Butter Cheaper Too.

Butter is also a cent cheaper, the creamery product being quoted today at 28@30c a pound. Production of butter has also been materially heavier of late, but the easing up in its market has not been pronounced, largely for the reason that warehouse stocks, estimated to aggregate 10,000,000 pounds, are much lighter than usual at this period. A fair export demand for the cheaper grades of butter is also reported.

Fruit Supplies Good.

Stocks and varieties of fruits and greenstuffs available are liberal and the quality averages up exceptionally well, according to the Bridgeman-Russell company and the Stacy-Merrill company.

Apples and oranges are still the big noise in fruits. Apple prices are firm, but present indications are for an advance in the near future as stocks are being rapidly reduced. A slight decline has come about in oranges and the movement in them is good. Quotations in bananas have been advanced on account of lighter importations and better demand. The first car of Louisiana oranges is expected to reach this market about April 10 or 15.

Potato Prices Firm.

The price list is practically unchanged in green vegetables, with the exception that head lettuce is cheaper on account of good receipts from Texas, Louisiana, California and Florida. The first lot of Calif gornia celery for the season is expected to reach here early next week. It is said that it will be well bleached and fancy.

Cabbage is up slightly and a further bulge is looked for. New Texas cabbage is not expected here before two weeks.

Potatoes are still selling at from 47 to 52 cents a bushel, with fancy stock bringing a premium. Dealers aver that large supplies of inferior grade tubers are being pressed for sale.

Meat Market Higher.

In poultry, springs and hens are each a cent higher at 18 cents a pound. Receipts of live poultry have picked up during the last few days, but they are still light. It is pointed out that the modern farmer will not sell off his hens at this period, just when they are beginning to lay, and that fanciers generally marketed their surplus cocks and old hens during the Christmas season.

The meat market has turned strong, advances of ½@1c a pound being the rule in beef, mutton, lamb and pork.

"Y" MINSTRELS TO PLAY NEXT WEEK

Sketch and Many Special Features Are on the Program.

The boys' department Y. M. C. A. annual minstrel show, which is their big entertainment of the year, will be held Thursday and Friday, March 18 and 19. The proceeds will go to buy two war canoes for Camp Miller, the boys' department summer camp at Sturgeon lake. The show will be the last one given in the present building, and the committee this year has made every effort to make it a record breaker in every particular.

The jokes are new, and the end men know how to deliver them in a way that will bring laughter to the most sober-minded person in the audience. The songs are catchy and right up to the minute. Laurence Duby, Lincoln Brown, Townsend Hoopes and Russell Duncan will be the end men and Norman D. McLeod will be the serious man in the middle. The soloists will be George Ward, George Macaskill, Charles Deirs, Laurence Duby, Edward Skinner, J. R. Batchelor, John Shields, Russell Duncan, Edward Scriven, Edwin Pearson, Lincoln Brown, Townsend Hoopes. The chorus of seventy-five voices, well trained, will complete the minstrels that will entertain for eighty minutes. A sketch by Laurence Duby and Lincoln Brown, moving pictures and music by the boys' department orchestra will conclude the entertainment.

NEWFOUNDLAND QUOTA HAS BEEN COMPLETED.

St. Johns, Nfld., March 12.—With the arrival in England Wednesday of 180 naval reservists from this colony, the full strength of 1,000 men which the Newfoundland government undertook to raise, has now been reached.

Thus far 48 Newfoundlanders are reported to have lost their lives in naval disasters, 25 going down with the auxiliary cruiser Viknor, Jan. 25, and 23 with the auxiliary cruiser Clan McNaughton, Feb. 3.

STATE OF MINNESOTA.
Sustained by Evidence.

Henry A. Morgan, respondent, vs. City of Albert Lea, et al, appellants—

1. The controversy in this action involved in part the ownership of a strip of land about six feet wide which defendant city claimed was a part of the street, and under such claim attempted to improve it for public travel and uses in connection with the street as theretofore improved and used. Defendant contended that the disputed strip of land never formed a part of the street but was a part of his lot which fronted on the street.

It is held that, whether the street as platted included this strip or not, the conclusion of the trial court that plaintiff had acquired title thereto by adverse possession is sustained by the evidence. Sawbridge vs. Fergus Falls, 101 Minn. 378, followed and applied.

2. G. S. 1913 Sec. 7998, abolishing the right to direct verdicts at the conclusion of the trial where either party makes seasonable objection, held not to apply to equitable actions in which the trial court has ordered the submission of specific issues to a jury. The statute was intended to apply to actions at law only.

3. The court may, in an equitable action, notwithstanding the order so submitting issues to the jury, withdraw the same at the conclusion of the trial or direct a verdict thereon as the evidence in the opinion of the court may require.

4. Held, for reasons stated in the opinion, that there was no reversible error in the instructions of the court upon the question of plaintiff's damages.

5. Under our amended constitution by which it is declared that private property shall not be taken "or damaged" for public use without compensation first paid or secured, it is held, that the owner of property fronting upon a public street, which street is by the municipality improved for public use, is entitled to recover for all such substantial changes in or alterations of the street as cause injury and damage to his abutting property.

6. This includes damages arising from excavations which take away the lateral support of premises abutting upon the street, lowering the grade of the street, or injury to driveways to and from the premises.

7. The record presents no reversible error.

Order affirmed.

BROWN, C. J.

Judgment Reversed.

State of Minnesota, ex rel; James Kennedy, et al., relators, vs. District Court of Clay County, et al, respondents—

In a hearing under the workmen's compensation act to ascertain the compensation to be awarded to an injured employe, where there are permanent injuries to the hand and arm below the elbow, the court should determine the percentage of total disability of the hand and fix the compensation accordingly. Where the same accident results also in permanent partial disability to the arm above the elbow, the court should determine the percentage of total disability of the arm as a whole, including the forearm and hand, and fix the compensation accordingly. It is improper in such a case to divide the injuries into two units, those to the hand, and those to the arm.

Judgment reversed.

BIG DROP IN EGG PRICES

Product Selling at Lowest Figure in Years for Season.

Butter Is Also Dropping—Fruits and Vegetables Are Cheap.

Almost everything in the produce line, including fruits, vegetables and butter and eggs, is selling on the cheapest basis for the season in years. Such is the information to be gleaned in a visit around the trade today.

Perhaps the outstanding feature is another decline of 3@4c a dozen in eggs, bringing them down to 20@22c a dozen for the fresh article. This compares with 29@30c, the figures ruling at this time a year ago. It is pointed out that at this basis, eggs are relatively cheaper than anything in the list as a food product, a dozen of eggs containing more nutriment than the great bulk of edibles that can be bought at anywhere near the same price.

"The break in the egg market has been brought about through the great increase in receipts during the past two weeks," said B. M. Ruse, sales manager of the Bridgeman-Russell company, today. "Hens appear to have been laying freely over the Northwest as a result of the steady warm weather, and as the same conditions have prevailed over wide areas of country, they could only be moved at the expense of prices. Southern eggs from over Missouri, Texas and Kansas have been going forward to the East in a large bulk lately, so that the situation is very weak down that way."

Butter Cheaper Too.

Butter is also a cent cheaper, the creamery product being quoted today at 28@30c a pound. Production of butter has also been materially heavier of late, but the easing up in its market has not been pronounced, largely for the reason that warehouse stocks, estimated to aggregate 10,000,000 pounds, are much lighter than usual at this period. A fair export demand for the cheaper grades of butter is also reported.

Fruit Supplies Good.

Stocks and varieties of fruits and greenstuffs available are liberal and the quality averages up exceptionally well, according to the Bridgeman-Russell company and the Stacy-Merrill company.

Apples and oranges are still the big noise in fruits. Apple prices are firm, but present indications are for an advance in the near future as stocks are being rapidly reduced. A slight decline has come about in oranges and the movement in them is good. Quotations in bananas have been advanced on account of lighter importations and better demand. The first car of Louisiana oranges is expected to reach this market about April 10 or 15.

Potato Prices Firm.

The price list is practically unchanged in green vegetables, with the exception that head lettuce is cheaper on account of good receipts from Texas, Louisiana, California and Florida. The first lot of Califgornia celery for the season is expected to reach here early next week. It is said that it will be well bleached and fancy.

Cabbage is up slightly and a further bulge is looked for. New Texas cabbage is not expected here before two weeks.

Potatoes are still selling at from 47 to 52 cents a bushel, with fancy stock bringing a premium. Dealers aver that large supplies of inferior grade tubers are being pressed for sale.

Meat Market Higher.

In poultry, springs and hens are each a cent higher at 18 cents a pound. Receipts of live poultry have picked up during the last few days, but they are still light. It is pointed out that the modern farmer will not sell off his hens at this period, just when they are beginning to lay, and that fanciers generally marketed their surplus cocks and old hens during the Christmas season.

The meat market has turned strong, advances of ½@1c a pound being the rule in beef, mutton, lamb and pork.

"Y" MINSTRELS TO PLAY NEXT WEEK

Sketch and Many Special Features Are on the Program.

The boys' department Y. M. C. A. annual minstrel show, which is their big entertainment of the year, will be held Thursday and Friday, March 18 and 19. The proceeds will go to buy two war canoes for Camp Miller, the boys' department summer camp at Sturgeon lake. The show will be the last one given in the present building, and the committee this year has made every effort to make it a record breaker in every particular.

The jokes are new, and the end men know how to deliver them in a way that will bring laughter to the most sober-minded person in the audience. The songs are catchy and right up to the minute. Laurence Duby, Lincoln Brown, Townsend Hoopes and Russell Duncan will be the end men and Norman D. McLeod will be the serious man in the middle. The soloists will be George Ward, George Macaskill, Charles Deirs, Laurence Duby, Edward Skinner, J. R. Batchelor, John Shields, Russell Duncan, Edward Seriven, Edwin Pearson, Lincoln Brown, Townsend Hoopes. The chorus of seventy-five voices, well trained, will complete the minstrels that will entertain for eighty minutes. A sketch by Laurence Duby and Lincoln Brown, moving pictures and music by the boys' department orchestra will conclude the entertainment.

NEWFOUNDLAND QUOTA HAS BEEN COMPLETED.

St. Johns, Nfld., March 12.—With the arrival in England Wednesday of 180 naval reservists from this colony, the full strength of 1,000 men which the Newfoundland government undertook to raise, has now been reached.

Thus far 48 Newfoundlanders are reported to have lost their lives in naval disasters, 25 going down with the auxiliary cruiser Viknor, Jan. 25, and 23 with the auxiliary cruiser Clan McNaughton, Feb. 3.

HERE'S WHERE TAILORS LAUGH

Young Bloods Must Cash Up With Clothes Carpenter or Lose Apparel; That Is If Bill Passes Legislature —Barrels in Demand When Liens Are Foreclosed.

Tailors have sent out the S. O. S. call.

Young America wants to be in the height of fashion, but in many cases young America doesn't want to pay for it—at least not right away, say the molders of the public form.

Designed to relieve tailors, a bill has been introduced in the state legislature giving the workman a lien on every suit he builds. Senator Callahan says the bill ought to pass the senate and Representative Lydiard says it ought to pass the house.

When you pick out your Easter creation and spring the usual hard luck story:

"Now, I'll tell you, old man, I've had to meet some life insurance and things have been going a little tough—but we'll arrange it this way, etc," your tailor will smile sweetly and say: "Oh, that's all right."

You'll forget all about the bill until several weeks later, when you're walking down Superior street, condescending to smile now and then upon young ladies who just can't help being attracted by your stunning appearance.

Go Home in Barrel.

Your awakening will be rude.

though, for about this time your old friend, the enemy, will step up and tap you on the shoulder.

"Beg pardon, old man," will say your tailor, "but will you step into the shop a moment? I want that suit you're wearing—you've been unable to come across and so I've had to foreclose my lien—war times, you know."

And unless you can pay cash, don't buy a dress suit, because he may take a notion to get his suit while you're dancing a fox trot with your best girl—and you may go home in a barrel.

These military styles are playing havoc with one's pocketbook—or rather—with one's bank account, but when the tailor's lien is born and reaches the age of discretion—life will have nothing to offer to the man who doesn't want to wear $10 hand-me-downs and who can't afford tailor-made suits, providing he pays the tailor.

It is literally a case of sartor resartus.

MORE FURNACES BEGIN OPERATION

Further improvement is manifest in iron and steel operations at the leading industrial centers this week. Actual working schedules are not only better, but the outlook for the future is regarded as brighter.

The Carnegie Steel company is operating its open-hearth department at Farrell, Pa., at full capacity for the first time in a year. Another blast furnace is to be blown in within a few days, and the skelp mill is billed to start up next Sunday. That company's No. 1 furnace at Youngstown, Pa., was blown in last Tuesday, and the Bessemer department there is now running at capacity.

For the first time in a year, the Republic Iron & Steel company is operating its 20-inch mill. Only two departments of the company's plant are now idle. The Brier Hill Steel company's open-hearth plant is operating at about 70 per cent capacity, and the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company is going at 80 per cent of normal capacity. The two blooming mills, some of the finishing mills and the bessemer and open-hearth departments are on double turn.

Announcement has been made that the Youngstown Sheet & Tube company will spend $5,000,000 to enlarge its Youngstown plant. That has had a cheering influence in Eastern steel trade circles, being taken to indicate that the directors of the company have faith in the future.

COLE, OLD-TIME CIRCUS MAN, PASSES AWAY.

New York, March 12.—The death of William Washington Cole, old-time circus man, in this city on Wednesday night, became known today. Mr. Cole was in his sixty-ninth year.

W. W. Cole's circus was one of the first big one-ring railroad shows out on the road. He was a rival of P. T. Barnum, Adam Forepaugh and the Sells brothers. His circus was absorbed by the Barnum & Bailey organization, in which he retained an interest until it was taken over by the Ringling brothers.

WOULD CONSERVE MUSSEL SUPPLY

Wisconsin Senate Passes Bill Protecting Mississippi River Bivalve.

Madison, Wis., March 12.—The senate and assembly passed the Cunningham bill for $75,000 for foot and mouth compensation. The senate passed the Glenn bill for conservation of mussels in the Mississippi river and advanced the bill repealing the appropriation of $50,000 made two years ago for a state building in Milwaukee.

The assembly passed a resolution for a legislative investigation of land purchases by the university and refused to reconsider the vote by which it engrossed the Stemper bill legalizing saloon licenses not valid under the Baker law. It killed bills for closing saloons at midnight, requiring payment of liquor license money in installments and increasing the state's share of income tax revenue from 10 to 20 per cent.

The assembly committee on state affairs recommended for passage a bill legalizing Sunday baseball, moving picture shows and other amusements of a like character.

The senate state affairs committee reported for indefinite postponement the bill increasing the national guard from 40 to 48 companies of infantry.

Bills were reported for passage as follows:

Prohibiting tipping; empowering the governor to fix and alter the maximum number of enlisted men in the national guard, which shall not exceed that for the regular army; for a camp for defense instruction in rifle practice for officers; making the sale of cigarets to minors a misdemeanor and providing a penalty.

Indefinite postponement was reported for the Whitman bill repealing the law requiring the normal regents to select a site for a normal school in Northwestern Wisconsin.

ROBERT McCORMICK MARRIES IN LONDON.

Chicago, March 12.—Robert H. McCormick, editor of the Chicago Tribune, and Mrs. Amie Adams, artist, formerly the wife of Edward S. Adams of Chicago, were married in St. George's church, Hanover square, London, Wednesday. A cablegram to friends of the couple here told of the wedding. Mr. McCormick is 35 years old and was a bachelor. Two weeks ago friends in Chicago commented on the fact that Mr. McCormick and Mrs. Adams both sailed on the Adriatic for Europe. Mr. McCormick is on his way to the front to serve as a war correspondent for his paper.

You Will Be Fascinated by the "Witching" New Spring Hats. Ready for Tomorrow

You want your hat to express your individuality.

You want a hat that is unlike the common factory hats turned out by the hundreds of each style. We know what you want and for that reason we maintain a millinery workroom with a large force of able milliners who are close students of style and artists in its expression.

The result is apparent in the hats you see here.

You find hats of charming simplicity, and because of their simplicity, prices are most moderate—notwithstanding the quality of materials and trimmings.

The hats shown on our Third Floor during the Silk Show have evoked great admiration from all.

Study the styles when you visit the Silk Show tomorrow—then go down to the Millinery Department on the Second Floor—try them on, see how becoming they are.

You will not be asked to buy.

We know if you see the present showing—you'll know where to find what you want!

You Will be Pleased to Know of the Opening of Our New Queen Quality Shoe Section

You know about Queen Quality shoes—everybody does! For years Queen Quality Shoes have been standards of their class, and recently they have been greatly improved. For sometime we have been selling Queen Quality Shoes without the Queen Quality brand as we wished to test out their merits before taking on the line.

We not only weighed the evidence of a million wearers of Queen Quality throughout the country, but we made an extensive test from the point of worth, style, comfort and appearance.

Queen Quality SHOES

We became convinced that the demand for these shoes resulted from a general appreciation of their superior excellence of workmanship, their shape keeping, ease and great variety of style.

Therefore we now offer you Queen Quality Shoes with the assurance that they represent in every way this store's demands of satisfaction for its customers.

The Silk Show Is a Society Event

Yesterday and today have been days of triumph for Gray's Silks.

The annual Silk Show is now in progress on the Third Floor.

There you will see the silks you have read about—the fabrics the fashionable will wear the coming season.

Exclusive patterns, things you will see nowhere else in this section, and things that may be seen in very few stores in the land.

They are here as never before—in this store or in this city.

You are urged to see, but you will not be asked to buy!

Come and enjoy the Silk Show.

There Are Special Bon Ton Corsets For the Dance!

The dances of today inspire a spirit of loveliness in Milady's attire, and dancing gowns are the crucial test of corseting. There are new Bon Ton models ideally adapted to every requirement of the dancer. There are special models to suit each varying type of figure. Graceful lines and correct poise are assured in the new models which develop the fashionable "nip" at the waist, the flattened shoulder and likewise, flattened abdomen. The corset skirts are a trifle shorter and a bit more flexible. The bust line is slightly higher.

Special Bon Ton Corsets for Stout Figures.

These features are demanded by the styles for spring—and it is most important to you that your corsets impart these new style lines in a faultless manner.

Let our corset experts show you the new models; there will be no charge for fitting. Tomorrow we call special attention to the new models in corsets for growing girls.

BURY WARROAD MAN.

Warroad, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hjalmar Hugo Lundbohm, a prominent business man, died March 3. Mr. Lundbohm was born in 1859, in Sweden, and was a graduate of the University of Gothenberg. He at one time took a trip around the world and while so doing stopped in America and in 1881 came to Brandon, Minn., and located there. In 1882 he was married to Miss Lizzie Lately of Pennsylvania. He was engaged in the drug business at Brandon and Argyle until 1902, when he came to Warroad. He is survived by Mrs. Lundbohm, three children, and a sister, Mrs. Collins of Kansas City. The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church, March 5, under the auspices of the Masons. He also belonged to the Mystic Order of the Shine, and the Ancient Order of Scottish Rite Masons. The pall bearers were Knights Templar.

FORM SILBERSTEIN AND FARRELL CLUB

Voters Gather at Moose Hall and Organize for Campaign.

A club with its object that of working in the interest of the election of Bert Farrell and Bernard Silberstein as commissioners was formed at a meeting of about 150 voters at the Moose hall last night. The organization elected M. J. Filiatrault president, James M. Webber, secretary, and Thomas Foubister, treasurer.

Plans were made to hold meetings every Thursday evening at the hall. At these meetings speakers advocating the candidacy of these two men will address the gatherings. Short talks were made last night by Mr. Filiatrault and others.

A committee of voters residing in the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth and other western precincts, was appointed to get out all unregistered voters to the polls tomorrow and also work in the interest of Mr. Farrell and Mr. Silberstein.

"The club has been organized without solicitation by either of the candidates," said Mr. Filiatrault this morning. "Business men on Central avenue have contributed liberally toward paying all expenses of the club as well as toward carrying out the campaign in this end of the city. The club will relieve the candidates of a lot of work that usually falls on them during a campaign."

PROCTOR IS "DRY."

Two Saloons in the Village Close Their Doors.

By the action of the village council of Proctor certifying to the returns of the election held in the village on Tuesday the two saloons at Proctor were notified to close their doors last night. Today for the first time in its history the entire village is "dry."

Notification was also sent to a number of the grocery stores and meat markets which had been operating under a wholesaler's license and delivering beer in case lots to various homes, that such practice must cease. This trade was said to have been a valued item in the business of some of the merchants.

The official business of the old council of the village will be completed for the year at the meeting on Monday evening. Reorganization of the new council will follow afterwards.

Will Move to West.

H. J. Bell of Two Harbors and his brother, T. G. Bell of Eau Claire, Wis., yesterday completed the purchase of the undertaking business of W. H. Richter, 425 North Central avenue. The new comers took charge of the place this morning.

Mr. Richter has been located in West Duluth for the last eight years. He expects to leave Duluth early this spring for Colorado where he will make his home in the future. Mr. Richter said he was selling out because of his health.

Moose Hold Election.

Roy L. Baker was elected dictator of West Duluth lodge, No. 1478, Loyal Order of the Moose, at the annual election held at the Moose hall. The other officers chosen are A. L. Brewer, past dictator; P. G. Phillips, vice dictator; D. Hartwick, prelate; H. White, secretary; L. A. Barnes, treasurer; John Fox, inner guard; Mathew Hoffman, outer guard; and Frank Urie, trustee.

Arrangements were completed for a dancing party to be given on Wednesday evening, St. Patrick's day, by the degree team of the lodge. The committee in charge of the party are Henry Heibler, Joseph Hoffman, William Treado and Leonard Gagnon.

With the Curlers.

A fast game was played between Doland and Griedler in the finals of the Henrickson event at the Western Curling rink last night, the former winning by a score of 15 to 14. The players waited until 9:30 o'clock before playing the game, at which time the ice was in good shape.

Games will be played this evening between Zauft and F. H. Wade, and between Judson and Mallory, if the ice is in fair condition. No decision has yet been reached in regard to playing during the morning hours.

Temperance Social.

The Swedish Finnish Temperance society of West Duluth will entertain at a social at the Commercial club rooms Sunday evening. A feature will be an address given by Commissioner W. A. Hicken.

The program will also include an address given by John A. Forsman, piano solo by Miss Florence Melin, a violin solo by Robert Olander and vocal solo by Miss May Norland.

West Duluth Briefs.

The initiation of nine candidates for the Haymakers' featured the meeting last night of Mesaba tribe, No. 25, I. O. R. M. Following the work a "Dutch lunch" was served.

The Chicago Herald and New York Sun pictures of the European war will be given tonight, tomorrow and Sunday at the Orpheum theater. School children will be admitted to the Saturday matinee at 2:30 or 4 o'clock for 10 cents. See coupon in large ad.

L. L. A. Barnes returned last evening from St. Paul, where he attended the meeting of the grand council of the Modern Samaritans.

For Rent—Three rooms, upstairs; water, light and bath. 226 Twentieth avenue west.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Riley of Proctor are the parents of a daughter born yesterday.

The Citizens' State bank is open for all banking business from 6 to 8 p. m. Saturday evening.

The boys' club of the Denfeld high school will entertain this evening at a minstrel show in the auditorium of the school. A chorus of sixty voices will feature the program.

Watch repairing. Hurst, West Duluth.

School children's matinee at the Orpheum tomorrow at 2:30 and 4 o'clock. Admission, with coupon, 10 cents.

SAYS INVESTIGATION WAS NOT INSPIRED.

That the investigation of the state school for the deaf was not inspired by a nation-wide plot to oppose "progressive methods of teaching deaf mutes" and that it was the parents of children who had been improperly taught who started the fight against the superintendent of the institution, Dr. J. N. Tate, is the statement of Jay Cooke Howard of Duluth, president of the National Society for the Deaf. Mr. Howard denies the veracity of the statement purported to have been made by Dr. Tate.

Mr. Howard's statement follows:

"Dr. J. N. Tate, superintendent of the Minnesota School for the Deaf at Faribault, whose school has undergone a legislative investigation, has given out an important interview in which he says that the investigation of his school was started as part of a nation-wide fight against 'progressive methods of teaching the deaf.'

"This statement is without foundation of fact. The investigation was started by relatives of children who had not received proper care and instruction at the school and when one such complaint was 'uncorked,' a deluge followed. The Twin City newspapers report that Dr. Tate is slated for dismissal."

COCOANUT OIL MAKES A SPLENDID SHAMPOO

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, the less soap you use the better.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.

MUNICIPAL BALLOT NEARS COMPLETION

CANDIDATES WHO HAVE FILED ACCEPTANCES.

Commissioners.
W. A. Hicken.
Roderick Murchison.
J. A. Farrell.
R. E. McFarlane.
J. L. Norman.

Municipal Judge.
Judge W. L. Windom.
Capt. W. H. Smallwood.
John H. Norton.
M. E. Louisell.

Commissioner Roderick Murchison, head of the public works division, and Municipal Judge William L. Windom this morning filed certificates accepting the nomination for re-election.

Yesterday afternoon R. E. McFarlane and James L. Norman, candidates for the commission, formally filed their certificates of acceptance, so that up to noon today only three candidates for commissioner had not filed. They are Bernard Silberstein, William L. Bernard and Chris E. Evens. Candidates have until next Wednesday in which to file.

Capt. W. H. Smallwood, candidate for judge, also filed yesterday afternoon. His filing completes the slate for municipal judge as it will appear on the election ballot April 6, as the four candidates are now officially in the campaign. They are Judge Windom, John H. Norton, M. E. Louisell and Capt. Smallwood.

Commissioner Hicken, who returned from St. Paul this morning, said that he will announce his campaign manager within a few days, while Commissioner Murchison is planning similar action.

To Address College Class.

Houghton, Mich., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. James Freeman Kemp, E.M., professor of geology at Columbia university and noted throughout the world as a geologist, will be the principal speaker at the Michigan College of Mines class day exercises, April 15. Dr. Kemp is a former president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a member of a number of scientific bodies.

Terms of Clerk, Auditor, Attorney and Assessor Will Expire.

When the new city commission meets on April 19, two weeks after the election, a clerk, auditor, attorney and assessor will be named for the next two years.

According to the city charter, the council must, after each general election, appoint the above four officials. It may also at its discretion appoint a purchasing agent, but this action is not expected, in view of the fact that an ordinance creating a purchasing department was passed last May and has proven successful during its operation the last ten months. City Clerk Palmer is the purchasing agent, provision for his additional duties having been made in the ordinance.

The present officers, City Clerk Palmer, Auditor Campbell, Attorney Clapp and Assessor Scott, were named by the council at its first meeting two years ago. Whether they will continue depends largely on the personnel of the commission after the election on April 6.

Commissioner Voss, head of the finance division, said this morning that a purchasing agent will not be appointed, as it would require additional expense and is in reality not needed by Duluth. The present arrangement, he said, is proving satisfactory and will undoubtedly be continued.

Whoever is named commissioner of public safety by the new council will probably have the two biggest appointments to make, that of chief of police and chief of the fire department. It is expected, however, that the two incumbents, Police Chief Troyer and Fire Chief Randall, will be renamed.

To Cure Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal remedy that in many instances has effected a complete cure after all else has failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrh, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home, and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (double strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by catarrh, therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. —Advertisement.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PLAY AT BRAINERD, MINN.

Brainerd, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—"The Four Leaf Shamrock" will be presented at the Brainerd opera house on Wednesday evening, March 17, for the benefit of St. Francis Catholic church. The cast includes Jack Mooney, Walter Emerson, Miss Agnes Cullen, Werner Hemstead, Miss Adelia Koop, Miss Alma Kaupp, Miss Katherine Canan. A solo will be sung between acts by A. J. Mraz. An oration will be delivered by M. J. Daly of Perham, on "Irish Character." Music will be furnished by Graham's orchestra, violin solos by Edwin Harris Bergh and John Goedderz.

BURY WARROAD MAN.

Warroad, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Hjalmar Hugo Lundholm, a prominent business man, died March 3. Mr. Lundholm was born in 1859, in Sweden, and was a graduate of the University of Gothenberg. He at one time took a trip around the world and while so doing stopped in America and in 1881 came to Brandon, Minn., and located there. In 1882 he was married to Miss Lizzie Lately of Pennsylvania. He was engaged in the drug business at Brandon and Argyle until 1902, when he came to Warroad. He is survived by Mrs. Lundholm, three children, and a sister, Mrs. Colbus of Kansas City. The funeral was held at the Presbyterian church, March 5, under the auspices of the Masons. He also belonged to the Myss Ek Order of the Shine, and the Ancient order of Scottish Rite Masons. The pall bearers were Knights Templar.

FORM SILBERSTEIN AND FARRELL CLUB

A club with its object that of working in the interest of the election of Bert Farrell and Bernard Silberstein as commissioners was formed at a meeting of about 150 voters at the Moose hall last night. The organization elected M. J. Filiatrault president, James M. Webber, secretary, and Thomas Pohlster, treasurer.

Plans were made to hold meetings every Thursday evening at the hall. At these meetings speakers advocating the candidacy of these two men will address the gatherings. Short talks were made last night by Mr. Filiatrault and others.

A committee of voters residing in the Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth and other western parts of the city was appointed to get out all unregistered voters to the polls tomorrow and also work in the interest of Mr. Farrell and Mr. Silberstein.

"The club has been organized without solicitation by either of the candidates," said Mr. Filiatrault this morning. "Business men on Central avenue have contributed liberally toward paying all expenses of the club as well as toward carrying out the campaign in this end of the city. The club will believe the candidates of a lot of work that usually falls on them during a campaign."

According to the city charter, the council must, after each general election, appoint the above four officials. It may also at its discretion appoint a purchasing agent, but this action is not expected, in view of the fact that an ordinance creating a purchasing department was passed last May and has proven successful during its operation the last ten months. City Clerk Palmer is the purchasing agent, provision for his additional duties having been made in the ordinance.

The present officers, City Clerk Palmer, Auditor Campbell, Attorney Clapp and Assessor Scott, were named by the council at its first meeting two years ago. Whether they will continue depends largely on the personnel of the commission after the election on April 6.

Commissioner Voss, head of the finance division, said this morning that a purchasing agent will not be appointed, as it would require additional expense and is in reality not needed by Duluth. The present arrangement, he said, is proving satisfactory and will undoubtedly be continued.

Whoever is named commissioner of public safety by the new council will probably have the two biggest appointments to make, that of chief of police and chief of the fire department. It is expected, however, that the two incumbents, Police Chief Troyer and Fire Chief Randall, will be renamed.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY PLAY AT BRAINERD, MINN.

Brainerd, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—"The Four Leaf Shamrock" will be presented at the Brainerd opera house on Wednesday evening, March 17, for the benefit of St. Francis Catholic church. The cast includes Jack Mooney, Walter Emerson, Miss Agnes Cullen, Werner Hemstead, Miss Adelia Koop, Miss Alma Kaupp, Miss Katherine Canan. A solo will be sung between acts by A. J. Mraz. An oration will be delivered by M. J. Daly of Perham, on "Irish Character." Music will be furnished by Graham's orchestra, violin solos by Edwin Harris Bergh and John Goederz.

School children's matinee at the Orpheum tomorrow at 2:30 and 4 o'clock. Admission, with coupon, 10 cents.

To Cure Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal remedy that in many instances has effected a complete cure after all else has failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with head noises or catarrh, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them, and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home, and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (double strength), about 75c worth. Take this home and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose should begin to relieve the distressing head noises, headache, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat, are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are often entirely overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent of all ear troubles are said to be directly caused by catarrh, therefore, there must be many people whose hearing can be restored by this simple home treatment.

Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness or catarrh in any form, should give this prescription a trial. —Advertisement.

STOMACH UPSET? END INDIGESTION, GAS, SOURNESS---PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

In Five Minutes! No Stomach Misery, Heartburn, Gases or Dyspepsia.

You can eat anything your stomach craves this minute free of Indigestion or Dyspepsia, or that your food will ferment in your stomach, if you will take Pape's Diapepsin occasionally.

Anything you eat will be digested; nothing can ferment or turn into acid, poison or stomach gas, which causes belching, Heartburn, a Feeling of Fullness, Dizziness, Nausea, Indigestion (like a lump of lead in stomach), Biliousness, Heartburn, Water Brash, Pain in Stomach and Intestines. Headaches from stomach are absolutely unknown where Pape's Diapepsin is used. It really does all the work of a healthy stomach. It digests your meals when your stomach can't. It leaves nothing to ferment, sour and upset the stomach.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from your druggist, then eat anything you want without the slightest discomfort or misery, besides, every particle of impurity and gas that is in your stomach and intestines will vanish.

Should you be suffering now from Indigestion or any stomach disorder, you can get relief in five minutes.

MODERN SUBJECTS BEING DISCUSSED

National University Extension Conference Told How Badgers Keep Posted.

Madison, Wis., March 12.—Members of women's and newspaper editors have not been the only persons who have been discussing during the last few weeks cheap parcels and ship ownership, the literacy test for immigrants, international peace and the increase in the army and navy. In Wisconsin school houses and clubs there has been carried study of these subjects under the direction of the department of debating and public discussion of the University of Wisconsin extension division.

Miss Alberta L. Scott, head of the department, today told of some of its activities before the first national university extension conference here. On Feb. 15, she said, there were sixty-seven package libraries in use in Wisconsin on various phases of the matter problem.

All Classes Thinking.

"And the leaders alone in the state, in the nation, she said, "are thinking, talking and doing what is worth while. Neighbors in the social centers, men in the civic unions, women in their organizations, teachers in their associations, farmers in their clubs, and numerous other organizations, students in colleges, seminaries, state and normals, normals, high schools, state graded and rural schools are preparing to cope with modern tendencies in the social, ethical, educational and political movements that are preparing for better citizenship."

The demand for information, she pointed out, was being supplied as far as possible by the package libraries.

A general discussion of extension service in social welfare was followed by a discussion of rational leadership in social welfare led by C. W. Votaw of Illinois.

Prof. E. C. Moulton, Chicago, planned to speak on "The Humanities in University Extension" this afternoon, to be followed by a round table discussion of extension service in lectures and entertainment programs.

A dinner this evening has been arranged for conference guests.

Lauds Public Discussion.

The effort of university extension departments to revive the spirit of the old-time debating societies, and to substitute intellectual effort for the present-day "tired business man's" style of entertainment, was described by Prof. R. L. Lyman, of the University of Chicago last night.

Prof. Lyman pointed out that public oral discussions of public problems existed before the Christian era and maintained itself through the middle ages.

"Your cross-roads debating society, which our departments attempt to assist, roughly, imperfectly, can teach and does teach men and women to think, seriously, enthusiastically, happily and to a certain extent, effectively. This is, I doubt, the supreme desideratum of any and all truly educative processes," said Prof. Lyman.

"In literature and discussion, much has been said of the idle schoolhouse, the town meetings of long ago, and the town problems of today," said Dr. Raymond Y. Phelan of the University of Minnesota in his address on social center promotion, organization and administration. "These things need to be said again," he continued, "but the big community idea is that the community center schoolhouse is one of our greatest agencies for making not the public opinion that has been called private ideal ace, but the twentieth century public opinion, alert, thinking, feeling, acting, fraternal."

REBEKAH PROGRAM ATTRACTS CROWD

About 300 Odd Fellows Enjoy an Excellent Program.

About 300 men and women attended the entertainment given by Duluth encampment, No. 36, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at Axa hall last evening.

The program was arranged by the Majestic Rebekah lodge, No. 60, auxiliary of the encampment, and it included several vocal and instrumental numbers and an exhibition drill by the team under the direction of Capt. J. A. McGillivray.

Vocal solos were rendered by Mrs. T. St. Germain and the Misses Merna Newell, Laura McFarlane and Grace and Pearl McDonald. Arthur McDonnell played a violin solo, and Miss Elizabeth Donovan gave a reading.

The members of the Rebekah lodge who had charge of the program were Mesdames A. C. Grover, H. Utley, B. Hartley S. Carlson, T. Kynell and the Misses Ruth Ermatinger, Hildur Beeks, Alice Torgenson, Anna Kent, Emma Kynell, Irene Galbraith and Myrtle Chick.

SHORT COURSE IS POPULAR

More Than 100 Expected to Attend Holstein Cattle Meeting.

Farm and Dairy Topics Being Discussed By Able Speakers.

Interest in the short course work at the Northeastern Minnesota experimental station is growing daily if increases in the number enrolled are to be taken as an indication. Between fifty and sixty agriculturists are now enlisted in the work and appear to be taking considerable interest in the lectures and demonstrations, which are being furnished for their benefit.

More than 100 farmers and short course students are expected to attend the Holstein cattle meeting, which will be held at the Woodland dairy this afternoon. The judging and scoring of the Holstein type will be conducted by the class under the direction of H. G. Larson, county agricultural agent, and W. A. McKerrow. This morning, Mr. McKerrow gave a talk on the feeding and management of swine and County Agent Larson spoke on "Twenty Years of Work With Holsteins." The evening session will be given over to round table work.

Supt. M. J. Thompson of the experimental farm gave an illustrated lecture last evening in the Exeter town hall on "The Evolution of a Northeastern Minnesota Farm." The meeting had a large attendance. The lecture dealt on the subject of land clearing and other problems which confront the Northern Minnesota farmer.

Tomorrow is Jersey-Ayrshire day. The morning session will be devoted largely to the scoring of the two types under the direction of Prof. McKerrow and County Agent Larson. During the forenoon, E. P. Gibson will speak on "The Home Creamery." During the afternoon, Prof. McKerrow will supervise the scoring and judging of swine. The evening session will be given over to farmers' club meetings.

GOVERNMENT ROAD FULLY COMPLETED

National Transcontinental Railroad Runs From Moncton, N. B., to Winnipeg.

Ottawa, Ont., March 12.—It was announced yesterday by the government that the National Transcontinental railroad had been completed for the full distance of 1,400 miles from Moncton, N. B., to Winnipeg, Man., running through the wilderess to the north of existing railways and of settlements. It was stated that the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway company had been called upon to operate the line under the terms of the agreement made with the Canadian government when construction was undertaken ten years ago and that the company had made "omnibus objections" to taking over the road.

The government announced that to prevent the destruction by flood, frost and other forces of nature of property which had cost the Canadian people $200,000,000, the government itself was arranging to establish some sort of a prevention system upon the line before spring floods began this year.

COMPROMISE AMONG JURORS ALLEGED

Julius Paul Wants New Trial on Defrauding Charge.

Julius Paul, recently convicted by a district court jury on a charge of having defrauded A. N. Friedman out of $50 on a fake business deal, is seeking a new trial. His attorney, John H. Norton, has served notice on County Attorney Greene that a motion for a new trial will be made before Judge Fesler a week from tomorrow.

The motion is based on the contention that the verdict of guilty is inconsistent with the evidence which was adduced at the trial. It is also claimed that the jury's finding was "clearly the result of a compromise by the jurors."

Paul was jointly indicted with Edward Fitzpatrick. The jury found Fitzpatrick innocent but convicted Paul. Recently one of Paul's bondsmen asked to be relieved as a surety, and in order to keep himself out of jail he was obliged to furnish a new bond.

DEER RIVER MAN IS HELD TO GRAND JURY.

Bemidji, Minn., March 12.—Frank Inscho of Deer River, brought here by Federal officers on the charge of introducing liquors into a dry territory, was held to the United States grand jury by United States Commissioner H. A. Simons after a hearing. The government introduced its testimony after which the defendant asked for a dismissal, which was refused by Judge Simons. The defendant then rested and on being unable to secure a bond of $1,500 was ordered to be taken to the St. Louis county jail, where he will await the next term of the Federal court.

"We often see fights in the air between Pegoud and the German aviators," he says. "... on his fast machine, he manages to keep it flying while he fires his gun. This is no small feat, considering that he must let go of his lever while firing. "He brought down three of the enemy's aeroplanes that day. MUST ASSESS FOR PAVING

Supreme Court Affirms Mandamus Against City of Ely.

Property Owners Must Pay for Improvement of Streets.

As a result of a decision handed down in the Minnesota supreme court today, Ely city will be compelled by mandamus to levy and enforce special assessments for certain street improvements in accordance with the provisions of its charter, which were repudiated when the officials of the municipality attempted to pay paving and sidewalk costs from a general tax fund two years ago.

The city officials were enjoined by Judge Fesler of the district court from paying more than one-third of the cost from the general improvement fund. The court also granted a mandamus requiring the city to levy and enforce an assessment against the benefited property owners in accordance with the charter provisions.

The supreme court today affirmed the lower court in the mandamus proceeding, but reversed the order in the injunctional matter, holding that a taxpayer who might have the right to mandamus the city to levy such assessments instead of paying for the improvements out of the general tax fund, could not enjoin the city from paying for the construction of such improvements at the time and in the manner stipulated in its contracts.

The application for the mandamus and the injunction were filed with the court nearly two years ago by the Oliver Iron Mining company, which pays about 80 per cent of the taxes that go into the Ely city treasury. The mining company sued to protect the fund from withdrawals to cover the cost of improvements, which it claimed, should have been paid for by special assessments, as is provided for in the city charter. It objected to having more than one-third of the cost paid for out of the general fund and claimed that the Ely officials had already paid for one job out of the general fund in direct violation of the charter, and that they threatened to do likewise in certain contracts which were pending.

Contracts for $50,000.

The two contracts involved in the case which was passed upon today by the supreme court involved work costing about $50,000. Kirk S. Johnson in 1913 had a contract with the city of Ely to build sewers and D. M. Clough & Co. had a contract with the municipality to construct cement sidewalks. When the injunctional and mandamus suits were begun, both contractors had performed a large amount of work under their respective contracts. The trial court granted a temporary injunction and the money was tied up. Later the contractors abandoned their jobs.

The mining company, as a taxpayer, claimed that the city did not intend to assess the cost of the improvements against the benefited property and asked for an injunction and a writ of mandamus compelling the city to assess the cost, or two-thids of it against the benefited property. The city admitted that the contracts for the improvements would have been paid for out of the general fund, instead of by special assessment, if the temporary injunction had not been issued against them, but contended that it had a right to make the contracts and that, having made them, the contractors were entitled to receive their money for the work performed and that therefore the injunction should not be made permanent.

The real fight in the case seemed to center around the interpretation of the charter provision defraying the cost of improvements. The city officials contended that the provisions of the charter which stipulated that two-thirds of the cost of street improvements should be assessed against benefited property owners is unconstitutional for various technical reasons. Judge Fesler held that the provisions of the charter were constitutional in that respect, and was upheld in his views by the higher tribunal.

After the paving suits had been submitted to the courts and the trial court had granted the application for mandamus and injunction, a movement was started at Ely to have the charter redrafted. The charter commission met and submitted a charter which provided that the cost of street improvements should not be assessed against benefited property, but should be paid for out of the general tax fund. Three weeks ago at a special election the proposed changes in the old charter were voted down.

Washburn, Bailey & Mitchell appeared in the case as attorneys for the mining company. The city of Ely was represented by A. J. Thomas, city attorney, and W. G. Bonham of this city.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER

Polls Will Be Open Saturday From 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Tomorrow is the last chance for Duluth voters to register for the regular spring election on Tuesday, April 6.

Polling places will open at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and will close at 9 o'clock in the evening. It is expected that from 5,000 to 6,000 voters will register tomorrow. The latter figure would bring the total above 13,000, the high water mark for Duluth. Last Tuesday 7,057 voters registered.

Voters failing to register tomorrow have but one way of getting a ballot on Tuesday, April 6, and that is by means of affidavits sworn to by two property holders of Duluth. These can be secured only on the day of election at the polling place of the voter.

Following are the polling places, where voters can register all day tomorrow:

First election district—Old fire hall, Fifty-first avenue east and Dodge street.
Second—Lakeside town hall.
Third—1627 London road.

Witnesses Tell How Election Judge Marked Ballots.

Witnesses in the case of the state of Wisconsin against Joseph Noughton, who is on trial on a charge of alleged falsifying of election returns, testified in court this morning and yesterday afternoon. Isaac Kronstad testified that he had stood back of Noughton while the ballots were being counted and had seen him marking ballots with a short pencil tied to his finger. This morning additional testimony was given by Fred Abelson of Duluth, who stated that he had come to the Wisconsin hotel, owned by Noughton, and that while there had overheard a conversation between Noughton and his wife in which the former was explaining how he had used the pencil in marking the ballots. Several other witnesses will be called before the trial ends.

INDICTS EIGHTY-THREE.

Federal Grand Jury Handles Large Number of Liquor Cases.

The recent session of the Federal grand jury returned eighty-three indictments. The greater number of these dealt with the liquor traffic on Indian reservations. The Federal court term closed its session yesterday afternoon. Only one man convicted was sent to state's prison, all other offenders found guilty or pleading guilty having received jail sentences. The prison sentence of one year and a day was passed on John Schultz, who was charged with sending obscene literature through the mails.

Collides With Car.

A. T. Lyons narrowly escaped injury last night in an automobile collision with a street car at the corner of Seventh street and Tower avenue. Lyons arrived at the corner at about the same time as the car and realizing that he would be unable to beat the car across the street attempted to stop the machine. The machine struck the front end of the car, smashing its fender and axle. The fender of the street car was also damaged.

Held Up and Robbed.

Robert Schultz, a bartender at 291 West Fifth street, was held up and robbed of $11 in cash at 11:30 o'clock last night while walking towards his home on Thompson avenue, according to a report given at police headquarters. Schultz said the two men who committed the robbery were well dressed and wore white collars. Both also wore long overcoats and slouch hats. The police have no other clews to the robbers.

Sued Wrong Parties.

John Cadeaux started suit against the wrong parties, according to a jury in the Federal court, which brought in a verdict for the defendant in a damage action for $5,000 brought against A. J. Boland, W. C. Cornelius and the Philadelphia & Reading Coal company for injuries sustained when he fell on a boat belonging to the Boland-Cornelius Transportation company. Judge Sanborn announced that the decision of the jury did not necessarily bar Cadeaux from continuing the case.

SETS FIRE TO HOUSE WHILE BAKING

Returns From Upstairs to Find Kitchen in Flames.

Deeply absorbed in her Friday's baking, Mrs. Harry Popkin, 214 Third avenue east, was called upstairs this morning and returned a minute later to find the downstairs a mass of flames.

From her kitchen stove, red hot, as usual on baking days, the fire evidently had caught on a curtain or fixture. Damage amounted to about $500 and the Popkin family will have to eat store bread and rolls tomorrow. The loss was fully covered by insurance. Apparatus from Engine Company No. 3, with Assistant Chief Wilson, responded to the alarm, which was turned in at 10:05 a. m.

WILL PLAN TO MEET PROSPERITY HALF WAY.

It is expected that the attendance at the meeting or the public affairs committee of the Commercial club this evening will be large, chiefly for the reason that much is likely to develop concerning plans for the ensuing fiscal year.

It is generally believed that this spring will see the beginning of a new era of prosperity for Duluth and the country at large and the members—the active members of the Commercial club—are disposed to take time by the forelock, map out a campaign for business development and meet prosperity on the way. That such matters will be discussed this evening at the meeting is forecasted in talk about the lobby of the club today and some plans for the coming year are already in embryo.

Tonight's meeting will be the last one of the committee prior to the annual meeting of the club. It will begin with a dinner, served at 6:15, which will be immediately followed by the business meeting.

DULUTH MAN ON SHIP SUNK BY CRUISER.

Adolph Miller, a member of the crew of the schooner William P. Frye, sunk by the German cruiser, Prinz Eitel Friedrich, and who was among those rescued, was from Duluth, according to the news dispatches from Newport New, Va.

Nothing can be learned about him in Duluth, and the shipping offices here show no such name among the list of sailors who have sailed the Great Lakes. No particulars regarding the man can be obtained.

Another man rescued from the Frye is said to be E. Mattson of Elmore, Minn.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY NIGHT

WHERE? SEVENTH DAY ADVENTIST—Cor. of 6th St. and 10th Ave. E.
WHY? YOU WILL HEAR STRAIGHT BIBLE TRUTH.
WHO? PASTOR STEMPLE WHITE who conducted the BIBLE CHAUTAUQUA TENT SERIES will preach.

SUBJECT—"The Ten Commandments in the New Testament"

Pastor White will read from the "Articles of Faith" of Protestant churches, in which it is plainly admitted that the LAW of GOD is binding on all TODAY.

Then why not "go to church" every SABBATH day, in harmony with the PRACTICE of ALL HOLY MEN of ALL BIBLE TIMES?

IT WAS JESUS' CUSTOM—Luke 4:16, 31
IT WAS PAUL'S MANNER—Acts 18:1-4.

The SABBATH day is just BEFORE Sunday—Mark 16:1, 2.

How can a PROTESTANT approve of THIS and still be true to God's ETERNAL WORD, and His UNCHANGING LAW?

Go to the Adventist Church and Hear Things Worth While!

STEREOPTICAN SLIDES——WELCOME——SPECIAL MUSIC

Woman's Realm

A practical demonstration in cooking was given by the eighth-grade girls at the meeting of the Mothers' club held at the E. R. Cobb school this afternoon.

The mothers of the pupils were taken to the domestic science room, where the making of baking powder biscuits was demonstrated by the girls, with Margaret Wood, a member of the class, taking the part of instructor.

While the biscuits were baking the women were entertained in the assembly room by the first-grade pupils with folk songs and dances and a dramatization of "The Sleeping Princess."

After this entertainment they returned to the domestic science room, where biscuits, honey, tea and coffee were served. Nina Asbjornsen and Christine Hanson, who were seated at the table, poured and the other members of the class served. The cost of each item of the refreshments was explained to the guests.

Miss Susan House, principal of the school, plans to have at each monthly meeting of the Mothers' club a practical demonstration in cooking given by pupils of one of the upper grades and the amusement part of the program furnished by lower grade pupils. At the next meeting the seventh-grade girls will prepare the refreshments.

OUTLOOK CLUB.

J. A. Merrill Describes Importance of the Duluth Harbor.

J. A. Merrill of the Superior normal school spoke on "The Architecture of a Great Harbor" before the members of the Outlook this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. H. Hearding, 2305 East Third street.

Mr. Merrill described the geological formation of the Duluth harbor, how the building of the breakwater was brought about and took up the building of it from the mechanical side. He spoke of the scenic beauty of the harbor and of the lure it has for visitors, of its practical value as a commercial asset, and pointed out its influence in the development of the Northwest industrially and commercially.

Mr. Merrill compared the route from New York to Portland and Seattle by way of Duluth with the Panama route, and showed the advantages possessed by the Duluth route for all points west of Buffalo and Pittsburg.

Kitchi Gammi Club Will Have Dinner-Dance.

Instead of the usual Thursday evening dancing party a St. Patrick's day dinner-dance will be given at the Kitchi Gammi club next Wednesday. There will be appropriate decorations and special music.

Several dinner parties preceded the dancing last evening. Miller's orchestra played.

SATURDAY CLUB.

Lecture on Dante Will Be Read.

At the meeting of the executive board of the Saturday club that will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the library clubroom, the program for next year will be discussed.

The regular meeting of the club will be held at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. J. A. Keyes will read a lecture on Dante written by Prof. W. E. Giese of Madison, Wis., and given at the University of Wisconsin and before women's clubs of Madison, Milwaukee and other cities. Miss Evelyn Colby will be the leader of current events that will include individual topics.

The program on science that was to have been given tomorrow afternoon has been postponed on account of the illness of several of those who were to take part.

Fairmont Mothers' Club.

"Heredity and Environment" was the subject of a talk given at the meeting of the Mothers' club of Fairmont school yesterday by G. M. Paulus, principal of Merritt school, who considered environment the more important factor in the development of a child's character. E. R. Donald, principal of Fairmont school, spoke of the proposed playground. Miss Mae Spencer, a teacher at the Bryant school, gave two readings and Miss Tower of New Duluth gave several vocal numbers.

At a later meeting the date will be decided upon for the entertainment that will be given to raise money to buy apparatus for the playground.

Easter Teas.

Miss Margaret Anneke of 1801 East Second street will be the hostess for a series of Easter teas the latter part of next week.

Farewell Party.

In honor of Mrs. George C. Kettner, who will leave next week to make her home in St. Paul, Mrs. H. J. Amon of 712 East Fifth street entertained informally yesterday afternoon. The decorations were of daffodils. The guests were:

Misses—
William Nislus, C. Rathbun,
J. C. Nelpp, F. O. Ekrem.
P. O'Brien,
A. E. Rickard,
Miss Jackson.

Five Hundred Club.

Mrs. E. A. Kemp was the hostess for the meeting of the U. S. W. V. Five Hundred club that was held yesterday afternoon in Memorial hall.

Alpha Omega Club.

The Alpha Omega club entertained at their clubrooms last evening in honor of one of the members, Theodore Broman, who will leave next Thursday for Detroit, Mich., to engage in business. The club orchestra and quartet furnished the music and games were played.

The club will entertain at a dancing party next Wednesday at Columbia hall.

Membership Supper.

A supper will be served this evening at the Y. W. C. A. for all who joined the association the latter part of January and during February and for all who renewed their memberships during that time. Roller skating will be enjoyed in the evening.

Relief Corps Meets.

Reports on relief work and visits to the sick were reported on at the meeting of J. B. Culver corps, No. 69, W. R. C., held yesterday afternoon in Memorial hall, courthouse. W. S. Clark of J. B. Culver post spoke on the monument fund.

It has been decided to serve luncheon next Thursday in Memorial hall from 11:30 to 1:30 o'clock. Donations have been sent to the G. A. R. fund, the army nurses' fund and the high school flag fund.

Mrs. Ella F. Gearhart, Mrs. J. A. Scott and Mrs. John Harrison will be the hostesses for the monthly supper for the post that will be held March 27 in Memorial hall.

Mrs. Robert Gillon was the hostess for the social half-hour that followed yesterday's business meeting.

MISS HARRISON WILL SOON MAKE HER DEBUT

ELIZABETH HARRISON.

Elizabeth Harrison, the daughter of the late Benjamin Harrison, is almost a woman, and next season she will make her debut. This winter she is a pupil at the Westover school, and her mother has taken an apartment in New York so as to be near her. Miss Harrison's mother was the second wife of the late president, the first Mrs. Harrison having died in the White House.

330 EAST FOURTH ST.

OPEN EVENINGS.

Twentieth Century Board.

At the board meeting of the Twentieth Century club held yesterday, it was voted to give $10 to the Woman's council toward the salary of a visiting housewife. The club showed its interest in the dental clinic, another activity of the Woman's council, by donating $10, which will be used as a fund after the clinic is started to buy tooth brushes and paste for those children who are unable to buy them.

The fund for equipping the dental clinic is to be raised entirely by the sale of a dentifrice manufactured by the National Mouth Hygiene association and recommended by Dr. Harvey W. Wiley.

Hamline Alumni Banquet.

Between fifteen and twenty members of the Lake Superior branch of the Hamline University Alumni from Duluth, Superior, Cloquet and Two Harbors will attend the banquet that will be given this evening at the Spalding hotel in honor of Dr. S. S. Kerfoot, president of the university. An address by Dr. Kerfoot will be the special feature of the meeting.

Church Meetings.

The women of St. Michael's Catholic church of Lakeside will hold a baking sale all day tomorrow at the Duluth street.

Fashion Notes.

Bell rose, softer than the Nell rose and more becoming to the majority of women, is one of the popular spring colors. Black and white is still a popular combination but there are smart combinations such as battleship gray with cherry, coral, Dutch blue or light dull green; dull terra cotta with Belgian blue or old green and American beauty pink with light grayish blue.

Among the new buttons are bone ones in the shape of acorns, flat steel ones with four large eyes for the thread, and rhinestone buttons for dress occasions, with the stones grouped in the larger buttons and mounted singly in the small ones.

Personal Mention.

Mrs. George E. Robson of 1217 East Second street has just received a cable announcing the death of her mother in England.

Mrs. J. D. Morrison of 2131 East Superior street has gone to Pasadena, Cal., to be the guest of relatives. She will return in May.

Mrs. A. W. Ryan of 1523 East First street will leave Monday for Minneapolis, where Miss Margaret Ryan is visiting for a week. Tuesday Mrs. Ryan and Miss Ryan will leave from Minneapolis for California, where they will attend the expositions.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Paine and Miss Mary Paine, 1007 London road, returned Wednesday from an Eastern trip.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Killorin and family, 2710 Greysolon road, have gone to California for two months.

Mrs. Edwin J. Collins of 2501 East Fifth street will leave Sunday night for Thomasville, Ga., and St. Augustine, Fla.

Mrs. N. P. Thayer, 14 West Second street left the next of the week for a several weeks' tour through the West.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Nacey of Chicago are visiting relatives in the city.

Mrs. Lee Johnson of 329 North Twenty-third avenue west, who has been visiting in the southern part of the state several months, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ulvick of Moose Lake.

MINNEAPOLIS ASKS FOR SUFFRAGE CONFERENCE

Delegates from Minneapolis to the Mississippi Valley woman's suffrage conference in session at Indianapolis have extended an invitation from Governor W. S. Hammond and from the mayor of Minneapolis asking that the conference meet in Minneapolis next year. The Convention and Publicity Association of Columbus, Ohio, has invited the conference to meet in that city and has sent out pins bearings the words "Columbus next year."

Among those attending the conference is Miss Alice Stone Blackwell, who for years has been editor of the Woman's Journal, the suffrage organ that was established by her mother. Miss Blackwell's mother, Lucy Stone, was one of the first women to finish a course at Oberlin college. She was told she should write an essay for graduation but a man would read it for her as it was not proper for a woman to speaka in public. She said no man should read her paper; that she would write and read it too. The result was that she was not graduated. Years later Oberlin conferred a degree on her.

SHOES SHOULD BE CHANGED OFTEN

"While individual comfort must be the determining factor in purchasing shoes, yet there are a few general rules of some aid in securing that comfort," thinks Miss Annabell Turner, instructor in home economics, University of Wisconsin extension division.

"The natural lines of the foot are graceful and beautiful, and this natural shape should not be lost sight of in selecting shoes. The large toe is usually longer than the other, and, instead of running straight ahead, as in the so-called 'anatomical' shoes, slopes slightly. The shoe, therefore, should be somewhat pointed, slanting from both sides toward the center, with the inner slant slight.

"Time spent in the shop securing a perfect fit in shoes is time well spent, for discomfort always means lowered efficiency and a degree of nervous strain. Laced shoes can be more readily adjusted and so are often preferred to the buttoned style. If the buttons are properly placed when the shoe is purchased, however, or after it has been worn a few days, buttoned shoes may be satisfactory for the normal individual.

"The close-fitting, extremely pointed-toed shoes with the absurd French heels cannot be too strongly condemned. High heels are especially harmful to the young, as they throw the body out of correct position and hinder its proper development. The matter of wearing low shoes in cold weather should be noted, too. It is important that the feet be kept warm and dry, as chilled feet are frequently responsible for numerous ills.

"Experience with a large variety of materials has shown leather to be the best for all-around use. It is tough, flexible, porous, reasonably waterproof and permits a moderate degree of ventilation. It is not ideal, because it retains heat and perspiration to an undesirable degree, has an unpleasant odor and cannot be kept clean, to say nothing of sterile. The same pair of shoes should not be worn constantly, since they do not become thoroughly aired and dried out during the night. It is more economical to have two pairs of shoes for ordinary wear and change frequently."

PLEASING SHOW AT GRAND.

Laughter and Music Supreme When New Bill Opens.

It is seldom that a Grand show has inspired more laughter and applause than the new bill, which opened at that popular playhouse yesterday. The vaudeville acts are evenly balanced, and for the most part have original features that deserve a kindly reception. In several particulars the bill is much more entertaining than any seen at the Grand in some time.

The laughing hit of the show is scored by Jennings, Jewell and Barlow in a comedy skit entitled "The Dope, The Dutchman and The Girl." This clever trio of singers and fun makers are a rare combination, and produce about as much mirth in fifteen minutes as would be good for one's sides. Robert Jewell in portraying the "dope fiend" did an old thing in a new way. Mr. Jennings is a clever "Dutch" comedian and Miss Barlowe is an attractive miss with a good voice and a gift for nonsense.

Gene and Fay do an excellent bit of light comedy and are clever whether singing or dancing. Miss Fay has more than the average amount of charm, and her chatter and mirth are effervescent and sparkling.

The Three Webber Sisters, dainty and well dressed, offer an acrobatic novelty that is a pleasing surprise. While their stunts are not more difficult than those of the average acrobatic act, they at least get out of the dead-level of mediocrity that is so common with acrobats. They were accorded a hearty welcome.

Ricca opened the bill with a number of accordeon selections that put the audience in good humor for the coming numbers.

The Hearst-Selig New Pictorial shows many new scenes from the European war zone and also from the earthquake zone of Italy. Helen Holmes is again at the Grand in another of her railway episodes, "The Engineer's Peril." There are a number of good comedy films.

WAR PICTURES AT ORPHEUM.

European Conflict Is Shown in All Its Horror.

The greatest war in all history in all its terribleness and picturesqueness was shown in grim detail yesterday at the Orpheum theater in the motion pictures taken by the camera artists of the New York Sun and the Chicago Herald and presented by The Duluth Herald. Good audiences attended both afternoon and evening shows, and the general praise accorded by the audiences is the best recommendation possible for the films. Large crowds are expected tonight, tomorrow and Sunday when Duluth will have its last chance to see these films.

There have been war pictures galore for weeks—some of which were bona fide and some taken far from the scenes of carnage—but the pictures being seen at the Orpheum were taken by the dare-devil camera men of these two great newspapers on the fields of battle, and they momentarily risked their lives in their thrilling performance of duty. Nothing like these pictures has been seen in Duluth. There is no exaggeration for the dramatic effect, no toning down; the truth is revealed with all its horror.

A person may read of a siege gun throwing a 2,000-pound shell, a dread-nought pouring broadsides into a fort, of the armored trains, the Zeppelins dropping bombs; but no writer can picture the scenes shown in the pictures. Only the roar of battle is needed to reveal the actual conflict.

The armies of the Allies and the Kaiser were shown to excellent advantage, and many of the battle scenes of Belgium—now historic—were depicted in the films. Battles on land and in air were equally well shown, and modern warfare was seen in all its up-to-dateness and shorn of all glamour.

Many of the rulers and noted personages prominent in the war were shown, and the string of events were of inestimable value to the student and casual observer. Added to their instructive value are many entertaining features that delight all who see the pictures.

Because of the interest of these pictures to students, The Herald has arranged for a reduction in price to 10 cents for school children at the Saturday matinee at 2:30 to 4 o'clock.

"The Third Degree."

Only three more performances of "The Third Degree" will be given by the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum—tonight, tomorrow afternoon and tomorrow night.

The Klein drama of police methods has been a popular offering and the Baldwin Players have been enjoying excellent patronage all week despite the Lenten season and the near approach of Easter.

Walter G. Baldwin, Sr., is appearing with the company this week for the first time in several months. He takes the part of the police captain who extorts a confession from the young husband of the heroine of the play. His son plays the part of the young husband, and it is probably the most important role he has attempted since the company has been in Duluth.

Next week "Life's Shop Window" will be the vehicle of the Baldwin company. It tells the story of a young wife transplanted from England to a western ranch. She wearies of the monotony of life on the ranch, and believes that she is missing many opportunities for enjoyment that her youth and beauty would offer her in a wider sphere. How she is saved from running away with a worthless young English aristocrat is told in a way that is said to be highly dramatic.

The play has never been seen in Duluth. It will be the offering all next week, opening with the Sunday matinee.

"The Country Boy."

The Lasky-Paramount offering at Rex Beautiful today is a love story from almost the first scene, and in spite of what the cynics say the world still loves a lover. Marshall Nellan in the title role is an ideal lover. Although not featured in the heralds, Florence Dagmar as Jane Belnap, the country girl, gives a charming and effective portrayal of the part. Dorothy Green as the chorus girl is equally attractive, although her role is one which is by its nature less attractive. "The Country Boy" bids fair to be even more of a success in pictures than it was as a stage play.

"WATER CURE" TO DISCIPLIN GIRLS

Charges Made Against Superintendent of New York School.

Albany, N. Y., March 12.—The "water cure" and other disciplinary measures alleged to be in use at the state training school for girls at Hudson, were described in a report received by the legislature last night from the department of efficiency and economy. The report recommends the removal of Dr. Hortense V. Bruce, superintendent of the institution. It says:

"When profane or immoral words are spoken, the mouth is washed out with four tablespoonsful of compound of assfoetida, gentian and nux vomica.

"In more serious cases strips of court plaster are placed over the mouth for twenty-four hours. The plaster is lifted at meals.

"Where a girl has been impudent, has refused to obey an officer or is unruly, she is punished by what might popularly be termed as the 'water cure.' The girl is taken to her room by the assistant superintendent, accompanied by the trained nurse of the hospital, and one of the matrons of the college. The bedding is removed from her bed, a blanket rolled in place on the wire springs. The girl's clothes are loosened and her hands are handcuffed behind her back and leg irons are put on her feet. In this condition she is laid across the roll of blankets on the bed. The assistant superintendent sits on the knees of the girl, while the hospital nurse dips a towel in water and holds it, sopping wet, over the girl's mouth for ten minutes. The girl, being frightened, strangles, and in the endeavor to breathe through the wet towel draws in the water. This treatment either strangles or suffocates her and is kept up until the girl gives in."

Bowles a Little Better.

Springfield, Mass., March 12.—Slight improvement in the condition of Samuel Bowles, publisher of the Springfield Republican, who was stricken with a cerebral shock Wednesday morning, was reported by his physician today. He continues in a semi-coma state, but hope is still held out for his recovery. Among the messages of sympathy received by the family is one from President Wilson.

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

The Loss of a Mother Is Great.

Only a week ago I stood apart and watched four young women bid their mother good-by at a railroad station. She was to visit a son for a month. She was going less than fifty miles from her home, but a disinterested onlooker, judging from the caresses and attentions heaped upon her, and by her returned in full measure, would have had good reason to believe that she was going across the continent, anyway, and perhaps to the end of the world.

And these young women, pleased beyond words at the prospect of their mother enjoying a holiday, what instinct made them hold their mother closer and closer, imprint kiss after kiss upon her lips, with tears welling to their happy eyes? Was it the undefinable, unspeakable fear of what might happen within fifty miles of home and within one short month? I found my own eyes filling that day and the only thing that could account for it in my mind was the similarity between all partings, even the briefest, which are to have an ending, none of us knows how or when or where.

The same week I stood by the side of two childhood friends of mine, now women grown, while they said farewell to their dearly loved and as dearly loving mother. It lacked all the brightness of that farewell at the railroad station. Instead, there was despair and gloom, that everlasting blackness that seems to settle down upon us when the light and soul and body of a household departs on the long journey from which there is no return.

There is nothing more heartbreaking than the sound of voices calling out for one word from lips of a mother that have never before been mute, no grief that one is less able to assuage or to offer any crumb of comfort, than that which consumes one when God increases His angel host by another mother who has performed her duty and won her reward.

I heard there, as I often heard as a little girl, the sentiment expressed, "It is all for the best." With my poignant grief lessened, and years lived in which to more nearly approach an understanding of divine will and justice, I have been able to say, "Thy will be done." It is all for the best.

The loss of a mother is the most calamitous thing on God's footstool. I have learned to believe whatsoever befalls us is for the best if we will but look for the good and the lesson or lessons in it. Our direst misfortunes, our sins and sorrows, all have their reason for being visited upon us, and we must accept them in the spirit that there is One who knows what is best for each of us.

Aunt Sally's Advice to Beauty-Seekers

W. C. D. says: "My face is freckled the year round; nothing I try seems to help much. Is there anything that will really take off these horrid spots?" Have you tried the treatment recommended to Minnie L.? I've known this to remove very obstinate freckles.

Ellen B. asks: "What should I do for deep lines under my eyes and across my forehead?" Such lines, and all wrinkles, are best obliterated by bathing affected portions in a good astringent and tonic lotion, which strengthens and draws in the relaxed tissue. Here's a reliable formula: 1 oz. powdered saxolite, ½ pt. witch hazel; mix and use daily until entirely relieved.

Minnie L.: The undue redness as well as the pimples, may easily be removed by using ordinary mercolized wax. Apply nightly like cold cream and erase mornings with warm water. Soon you'll have a beautifully white, clear, soft and velvety complexion. Mercolized wax, sold by all druggists, is better than cosmetics for any complexion trouble. One ounce suffices for most conditions.—Woman's Realm.

We Have Never Shown
More Charming Wooltex Tailored Garments
Than these Advance Spring Models now displayed

THE picture shows just one of the many smart new suits presenting the correct style features, many of which are inspired by models brought from Paris where Paquin, Doucet and Bernard have produced splendid styles notwithstanding the war's handicap. Many of these effects are reproduced in the new Wooltex suits and coats now on exhibition.

Suit No. 1709

SMART looking suit adapted from Paquin model. The pocket flaps, set diagonally, are outlined by closely set buttons. Rolling collar forms tabs that button down onto the jacket. New circular skirt, yoke trimmed to correspond with pockets on jacket.

WE are particularly gratified in showing and selling Wooltex garments because they possess the double virtue so unusual in women's ready-to-wear garments of combining fashionable styles and colorings with quality and workmanship of the highest superiority.

We always know that the customer who purchases a Wooltex coat or suit will be permanently satisfied with the garment bought, and we are anxious that you should come and look through this Wooltex collection while they are fresh and new and while possession is so much more enjoyable than it will be later, when the new fashions become more common.

Wooltex garments are absolutely correct in style but never extreme. They delight the purchaser when first worn because of their elegance of materials, their refinement, their superb lines and the splendid tailoring which not only makes them good-fitting, but insures permanence to the shapeliness of the garments.

The new Wooltex suits are shown in many beautiful models at $25, $30 and $35.

Wooltex coats, $16.50, $20 and $25.

AND DON'T FORGET IT.

What's become of the international safety at sea conference?.

A CONTINUOUS PERFORMANCE.

This war puzzle business is getting to be very, very much of a continuous performance. A few days ago it seemed as if one of the most serious problems that could have arisen was involved in the case of that dynamiter who blew up an international bridge between this country and Canada. But that affair is being very well taken care of under the action of the courts, and it promises to make no serious trouble.

Then it seemed as if the limit had about been reached by the threats to sink ships approaching England, but that is not yet acute. This was followed by the reply of the allies to the German threat, but even this is still to come to an actual head.

Then came the rather startling news that a German war vessel had managed to slip past the British and French vessels that are said to be on patrol duty in the Atlantic, and had reached an American port. And this proved to be only preliminary to the announcement that this same German ship had sunk an American merchantmant whose cargo, to say the least, entitled her to a hearing in a prize court.

And so it goes. Neutrality, quite as much as life itself, seems to be just one blessed thing after another. Nobody can guess what will be the next act on the bill. It might be asking too much to hope for a little comedy of one kind or another, just for a change, but at any rate we can do our best to judge fairly the turns that do come on, and by our ability to render fair and calm judgment on each of these as it appears will rest a very important part of our own national future.

Every little spring day has a fever all its own.

EFFICIENCY AND ECONOMY.

The governor is right in his position on the efficiency and economy bill. He tells the legislature plainly that "the purpose of the proposed legislation is to substitute business efficiency and system for unbusiness-like practices," and his message, brief and pointed, emphasizes in every line the extent to which this purpose is made superior to all others in the terms of the bill.

There are just two classes of opponents of this bill. One is made up of those who, for one reason or another, prefer the old system of reckless expenditure, multiplicity of public jobs and irresponsibility of public officials. That class is small, fortunately.

The other class is made up of those who, for one reason or another, are honestly unconvinced of the advantages of the efficiency and economy plan. Of these men the proponents of the new system need have no fear, for to gain their support is only a question of bringing them to see and understand the difference between present conditions and what is offered.

It will help materially to clarify the situation for these people if they will read Governor Hammond's message carefully. He answers categorically and conclusively the objections that have been made to the new plan. He shows plainly the means of saving expense, which is but another way of holding down taxation, and he makes clear the points at which the changes proposed would bring greater efficiency in state government.

Other states are interested in this same problem and are seeking means to solve the difficulties presented by the present system of state management. In each of these states Minnesota's plan is attracting attention, for in none of the others has there been presented any proposal framed, as this one was, by a body of experienced and practical men, not office holders, and serving without compensation.

One of the most earnest supporters of the bill is Farm, Stock and Home, which interprets its effect thus, in terms that should be understood by every reader:

> This measure concerns you. It aims at giving you a better managed state. That means more for your tax money—possibly less taxes. It means that if this bill becomes law, the men on the payrolls will work for you, not to hold their jobs.

As Governor Hammond says, the proposed changes are not radical, but are practical. They are such changes as a progressive business man would make in his business if that business had the extent and variety of interests that are included in the state's affairs. As the governor says, there may be found some points at which modifications will have to be made in the actual operation, but the proposal as it stands is far superior to what the state or any other state already has, and it will be to the interest of Minnesota to have the new plan adopted.

And then there are the kind of people who spoil every day of nice weather by gloomy forbodings about what's to come later on.

ON SUNDAY.

Are you the kind of person who has to be driven to do something you ought to be glad to do without driving? No? Then go to church next Sunday without any appearance of being made to do so.

It won't hurt you, you know. If you are in the habit of going, it will do you that much more good to see so many more people out than usual. And if you only go occasionally, then this will be an uncommonly good occasion to go, because you won't feel as lonely and conspicuous as usual. And if you hardly ever or never go, then for heaven's sake do it this one day in the year, so that you can at least have something to look back to.

Even if you never hear a word of the sermon or sing a note in the hymns or even close your eyes during the prayer, but just sit there and think how good you are, it will be worth while to go. Because if you think real hard on that subject, maybe you'll realize that just being in church on Sunday makes you feel virtuous. And since every human being likes to feel virtuous, you will see that by going every Sunday you can feel virtuous every Sunday, and so you'll get the habit.

Go to church, Sunday—we almost said "Be a sport and go." You surely can do that much to show that you appreciate what the church is doing for other people, even if you are unwilling to concede that it is doing anything for yourself. Others are going to make a special effort to attend next Sunday's services. Surely it isn't asking too much of you to ask that you do the same.

A lot of people may have taken Harry Webster's aeroplane for the first robin.

LAKE-AND-RAIL RATES.

Once more the lake-and-rail rates are before the interstate commerce commission as the result of a plea by the boat companies for permission to increase the charges for carrying goods on the Great Lakes. It has been the habit of these lines to boost rates every once in a while, even when there was no corresponding increase in rates on the competing railroads—or the railroads that would compete if there had been any real competition. If you fail to see why these raises have been made, just remember that the boat lines are owned by the railroads, and see if that doesn't clarify the situation.

Now comes this plea for higher lake rates, just at a time when, as the Chicago News points out, the railroads have been given permission to cut their transcontinental rates to meet Panama canal competition. Rather an odd situation, this is. On the long routes the railroads want to reduce charges to meet water competition; on the lake routes the railroads (through the steamship lines) want to raise rates to kill water competition. It looks a whole lot like a case of trying to bring about a standoff in the financial departments.

Here is the way the Chicago News puts the situation:

> If the boat lines were independently owned and were in competition with the railroads for traffic, the railroads might be forced to reduce rates to meet water competition betwen the Atlantic seaboard and the Central West, just as they are forced to reduce rates on coast-to-coast traffic. Chicago and other ports on the Great Lakes are entitled to the advantages which naturally belong to them by virtue of their access to the great inland water route. Instead of trying to deprive these ports of their legitimate advantage, the railroads owning boat lines should accept the situation and adjust themselves to it.

Which is precisely the position Duluth has taken for many years, and precisely the position taken by the interstate commerce commission in its decision in the Duluth lake-and-rail case. Duluth commercial interests are being forced to fight at least part of the battle over again by this effort to raise lake rates. More power to them, and may they win another victory, this time for the other lake ports as well as for Duluth.

Could Business Men Investigate Congress?

From the Philadelphia Ledger.

What a lot of quacks would have filled an early grave had everyone been obliged to take his own medicine!

How quickly the street fakers would vanish were each compelled to buy his own greengoods at the price he marks for others!

If every promoter of worthless stocks had to spend his own money for his own buncombe securities, what millions of losses would be spared the gullible public!

Let the poisoner of foods be made to eat his own doped products, and adulterated table supplies will become as scarce as polar bears in Broad street.

With these preliminaries I come to my point: What a lot of fun there will be if business starts to investigate politics, as politics has put the harpoon into business. Organized politics in legislative halls says to business: Open your books. You are crooked, your methods are obsolete and I'm the righteous judge to punish you.

My bank president friend, Charles S. Calwell, urges business to get together and begin to investigate the slipshod methods of their lawmakers. Whew! What a furore in the jungle when the tiger turns about and begins to hunt the hunter!

Pick out ten business men of the show-me brand and let them begin on congress.

Question No. 1: Why do you throw away a million dollars every working day of the year?

Question No. 2: Why do you add 500 names to the public payroll every week?

Question No. 3: Why do you permit the postoffice department to spend a million dollars a week more than a concern like Standard Oil would spend to do the work much better?

Why is the clerical output of government employes very much smaller on the average than the output of clerical forces employed by private business.

Why do you spend money like a drunken sailor, when every individual and corporation must skimp and save?

Why do you build a $60,000 postoffice in a town of 1,500 people?

Oh, yes, indeed, if American business men, as Mr. Calwell suggests, begin to dose our political rulers with their own medicine a lot of them are sure to strangle on the first gulp.

Life Without Bitterness

A. C. Benson in the North American Review: In an active life like mine one is brought face to face with stiff, dogmatic, censorious, unreasonable people. It is easy to say rough and sharp things about them and to them; and one is tempted to resist them, to demolish their certainties, to show their lack of reason.

But one wins no victories that way, because the only victories are when one persuades and attracts and encourages. Then you can, perhaps, make people see what is beautiful and good and find more things to love. But when you argue and controvert, the only thing you win is a little admiration for your skill, a little terror of your tongue.

So I thought that I would henceforth only try to praise and bless what I thought worthy of love, and that if I were met by controversy I would argue, if I argued at all, with good humor and amusement, not with bitterness, not to wound. Because bitterness really betrays a little touch of fear. It only means that you cannot trust the beautiful things to win by their own beauty and sweetness, and you try to maul your foe because you are afraid that he may damage you if you do not anticipate him.

Life is so short and yet there is so much to admire and love and to be interested in that these ugly tempers are just a waste of time and strength. By yielding to them you only increase your power of being wounded. It is not as if you decreased stupidity or roughness by striking at it; you only put yourself on a baser level.

I do not mean to practice mildness and meekness; that is another sort of feebleness; but I would wish to be generous and chivalrous and to be amused rather than angry. Life is full of pleasant absurdities, and the certainties of perverse and stupid people are among them. But impatience and rudeness and contempt are only the signs of timidity.

An American in Europe.

'Tis fine to see the Old World, and travel up and down,
Among the famous palaces and cities of renown,
To admire the crumbly castles, and the statues of the kings—
But now I think I've had enough of antiquated things.

So it's home again, and home again, America for me!
My heart is turning home again, and there I long to be,
In the land of youth and freedom beyond the ocean bars,
Where the air is full of sunlight, and the flag is full of stars.

Oh, London is a man's town, there's power in the air;
And Paris is a woman's town, with flowers in her hair;
And it's sweet to dream in Venice, and it's great to study Rome,
But when it comes to living, there's no place like home.

I like the German fir woods, in green battalions drilled;
I like the gardens of Versailles, with flashing fountains filled;
But, oh, to take your hand, my dear, and ramble for a day,
In the friendly western woodland, where nature has her way!

I know that Europe's wonderful, yet something seems to lack;
The past is too much with her, and the people looking back.
But the glory of the present is to make the future free—
We love our land for what she is and what she is to be.

Oh, it's home again, and home again, America for me!
I want a ship that's westward bound to plow the rolling sea,
To the blessed land of room enough beyond the ocean bars,
Where the air is full of sunlight, and the flag is full of stars.

—Henry van Dyke.

Influence.

From "Hempfield" by David Grayson in the American Magazine: One cannot know much about any great human being, think what he would do under this or that circumstance, or what he would say if he were here, without coming to be something like him. We are strangely influenced in this world by those whom we admire most. Harriet and I know a little old maid, I have written about her elsewhere, who has thought so much about the Carpenter of Nazareth that she has come to be wonderfully like him.

Big Calamity Cry Is Looked Into

Editorial in the New York Post.

Montgomery county, Pa., is something of a manufacturing district; but, since its entire population, according to the last census, is only 169,590, and its leading industries, such as that of the manufacture of hosiery, are of an unexciting character, it does not usually loom large in the nation's thought. One day last December, however, it suddenly put itself on the map; and it has been heard from, at intervals, ever since. On Dec. 24, the Manufacturers' association of Montgomery county addressed to the president of the United States a letter in which they appealed to him for "relief for the victims of circumstances created by the change in legislative policy at Washington," declaring that "we are now face to face with a condition nothing less than frightening," and drawing a harrowing picture of the desolation wrought by the new tariff. Since that date, the association has returned to the charge more than once and with unabated vigor, so that Montgomery county has been presenting itself to the country in the role of "horrible example" of the havoc of free trade, much as the wretched victim of drink does for the ravages of alcohol.

In the meanwhile, however, the administration at Washington has been quietly looking into the facts, and the result is presented in the form of a very simple and lucid report made by the investigator to Secretary Redfield. The inquiry covers thirty industrial plants in Montgomery county, including the entire list of twenty-five furnished to the investigator by the Manufacturers' association, and five others. The results brought out are quite discordant with the shrill note of injury and agony that had been emitted by the association. For not only do the facts fail to bear out the tale of fearful distress that the association had presented, but the report brings out essential points in the situation which seem conclusively to show that such depression as does exist in Montgomery county industries cannot possibly be ascribed to foreign competition caused by the lowering of tariff rates.

As nearly as could be ascertained by the investigator, the number of persons employed in the establishments considered had fallen, in a year, from 5,390 to 4,629. Of this reduction of 761, nearly the whole—namely, 718—had taken place in eight concerns; and a further examination shows that only three of these eight belong to lines of production directly affected by the tariff. These three are manufactories of low-priced cotton hosiery, and the falling off in the number of their employes amounted to 481, which is nearly two-thirds of the whole reduction in the number of employes at work in the factories investigated. Accordingly, our interest centers on the question of the connection between tariff reduction and the depression in the manufacture of cotton hosiery in Montgomery county.

Upon this question a great deal of most interesting light is thrown by the report. In the first place, there has been little or no increase in the importation of cheap cotton hosiery since the enactment of the new tariff. The total importation of cotton hosiery in the fiscal years 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913 was $5,800,000, $3,600,000, $2,800,000, $2,700,000, respectively; in the fiscal year 1914 it was $3,100,000, but of of this amount more than $1,900,000 was hosiery of expensive grades. In the second half of the calendar year 1914 the importation of hosiery amounted to only $800,000. On the other hand, the total production of hosiery in the United States amounts to nearly $70,000,000. Comparing these figures, we see how shadowy a basis there is for the notion that Montgomery county's hosiery industry has been smothered by a rush of imports from abroad.

So much for the defensive argument—the denial of any apparent reason for ascribing the woes of the Montgomery hosiery men to tariff reduction. But worse remains behind. Not content with dismissing the phantom of foreign competition, the investigator points to the solid and substantial body of home competition as a sufficient explanation of the Montgomery hosiery men's trouble. A table is given of new hosiery mills which went into operation in 1914, classified by states. The total is ninety-four, and no less than forty-two of these have been started in Pennsylvania itself. And in addition to all this, details are given, concerning both the methods of doing business and the peculiarities of changing demand, which on their face seem amply adequate to account for the depression that has been experienced in this particular industry, as carried on in this particular locality. At all events, the burden of proof has been placed upon the Montgomery association's shoulders with an effectiveness seldom to be found in this kind of controversy.

Business of Being a Wife

Collier's Weekly: A woman has just told us of what she did the night her young husband found himself bankrupt. His factory was closed, he had lost all he owned—plus a good deal more—and, as he looked at it, life was about at an end. He reflected that he had taken his wife from a happy and charming home, and that he had brought disgrace and poverty on her. It occurred to him that a well-placed bullet might be the best all-round solution of his difficulties. His wife, at home, made a poignant surmise as to what he was thinking. Suddenly it occurred to her that here was a chance for team work—an opportunity to show what being a wife really meant. She prepared a delicious little dinner, she made her home as inviting as she could, and she arrayed herself in her most becoming dress. Her husband returned, not to a disheveled and sobbing woman, to a neglected house and a drama of disaster, but to a home where everything spoke of revolution, of continuity, of expectation. The fire on his hearth, his simple, well-cooked dinner, the courageous eyes of his attractive wife, restored him to a true sense of values. He was able, amid all his confusion of purpose and torment of realization, to see his failure as only a retrievable episode in his life. He is now a successful manufacturer, his debts are paid, and he has a happy home with a son and daughter in it. He was saved from being a suicide by the fact that a woman was sportsmanlike at the right moment. Not a bad thing to think about in these days when unaccustomed poverty is bringing dismay to thousands.

Society Note From Arkansas City.

Arkansas City Traveler: When a man appears in evening dress and has left all his keys, his knife and other heavyweight stuff in his everyday trousers, sets on his high stiff collar and goes out for the evening, he always imagines because of the lightness from his waist line down that he has forgotten to dress himself fully, and the dad-burned collar holds his head up so he can't look down and see if he has the right hunch.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Benjamin G. Humphreys, Mississippi congressman, was born while his father, Brig.-Gen. Benjamin G. Humphreys, was Confederate governor of Mississippi. At the close of the war Humphreys senior refused to resign as governor, and was forcibly ejected from the executive mansion by Federal soldiers. The future congressman was then three years of age, and was carried from the executive mansion in the arms of a nurse. Naturally, as he grew older, he heard many times the story of his exit from the governor's home in front of a company of Yankee soldiers.

Humphreys did not have occasion to enter that executive mansion again until 1898. And when he did so he himself wore a Yankee uniform, for he had just organized and become first lieutenant of a company going to the Spanish-American war.

* * *

At a dinner in honor of the Spanish ambassador at the British embassy a little while ago Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois had the honor of sitting next to Mme. Riano, wife of the Spanish ambassador. Now Mme. Riano is an American, but it so happens that she looks like a perfect example of Spanish beauty. On this occasion she was gowned, as usual, with exquisite taste and wonderful splendor. Senator Lewis, it will be remembered, is the most completely vogue statesman we have. Being the expert he is at personal adornment, he could not resist complimenting the charming woman on her gown.

"Well, I got it from Paris," she replied. "Notwithstanding the war and all its troubles I was able to get the latest creation of the French."

"Yes, and do you know," earnestly declared Lewis, "I like the women just as the women prefer their salad—with French dressing."

* * *

That recalls a much less commendable remark recently uttered by Senator Lewis. It was in a cloakroom of the senate. Mr. Root of New York had just presented to a number of colleagues his successor in the senate, Jimmy Wadsworth. Somebody commented on the likeness of the new senator to his father, former Congressman James W. Wadsworth. That brought on a discussion of the likeness of son to father in a number of instances where both have occupied positions in public life. Senator Root referred to an eminent man from New York who had red hair, but who, nevertheless, rose to a high place. The man's son, who also had red hair, moved to one of the Middle Western states and from there was sent to congress. In due course a grandson of the first statesman rose likewise to an eminent position and—

"Well," interrupted Senator Lewis with a shriek of laughter, "that was surely a case of hair-red-ity."

"Mr. Lewis," observed Root in a tone of righteous indignation, after all the other senators had got through laughing, "men have been killed for less than that."

* * *

The recent coming and going of Washington's birthday recalls this:

Down at Mount Vernon, where George Washington is buried, the aged colored man who guards the tomb and nearly all the older attendants refer to the Father of His Country simply as "The General."

The old colored guard speaks of "the gen'l" having done this and "the gen'l" having done that, with an easy though respectful familiarity, quite as if the two had been great cronies.

But here is a thing the guards have noted:

Nine out of ten of the visitors at Mount Vernon speak of George Washington just as George.

They'll say: "Which room did George occupy?"

Thus are we an informal people toward our heroes.

An Ocean Waif

From "The Yellow Cat," by Wilbur Daniel Steele in Harper's Magazine: At least once in my life I have had the good fortune to board a deserted vessel at sea. I say "good fortune" because it has left me the memory of a singular impression. I have felt a ghost of the same thing two or three times since then, when peeping through the doorway of an abandoned house.

Now that vessel was not dead. She was a good vessel, a sound vessel, even a handsome vessel, in her blunt-browed, coastwise way. She sailed under four lowers across as blue and glittering a sea as I have ever known, and there was not a point in her sailing that one could lay a finger upon as wrong. And yet, passing that schooner at two miles, one knew, somehow, that no hand was on her wheel. Sometimes I can imagine a vessel, stricken like that, moving over the empty spaces of the sea, carrying it off quite well were it not for that indefinable suggestion of a stagger; and I can think of all those ocean gods, in whom no landsman will ever believe, looking at one another and tapping their foreheads with just the shadow of a smile.

I wonder if they all scream—these ships that have lost their souls? Mine screamed. We heard her voice, like nothing I have ever heard before, when we rowed under her counter to read her name—the Marionnette, it was, of Halifax.

I remember now it made me shiver, there in the full blaze of the sun, to hear her going on so, railing and screaming in that stark fashion. And I remember, too, how our footsteps, pattering through the vacant internals in search of that haggard utterance, made me think of the footsteps of hurrying warders roused in the night.

And we found a parrot in a cage; that was all. It wanted water. We gave it water and went away to look things over, keeping pretty close together, all of us. In the quarters the table was set for four. Two men had begun to eat, by the evidence of the plates. Nowhere in the vessel was there any sign of disorder, except one sea chest broken out, evidently in haste. Her papers were gone and the stern davits were empty.

That is how the case stood that day, and that is how it has stood to this. I saw this same Marionnette a week later, tied up to a Hoboken dock, where she awaited news from her owners; but even there, in the midst of all the water front bustle, I could not get rid of the feeling that she was still very far away—in a sort of shippish other world.

The thing happens now and then. Sometimes half a dozen years will go by without a solitary wanderer of this sort crossing the ocean paths, and then in a single season perhaps several of them will turn up; vacant waifs, impassive and mysterious—a quarter column of tidings tucked away on the second page of the evening paper.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Press Comments on Current Events.

Quite Logical.

Park Rapids Enterprise: The Brainerd Tribune remarks that the Republican party is no better now than it was two years ago when Senator Clapp and Congressman Lindbergh were criticizing the party. Possibly this statement is true, but the punishment administered by the voters at the polls was expected to have a purifying effect and to remove some of the barnacles which invariably attach themselves to anything that is good politically. If the Republican party is so far past redemption that it cannot improve with a severe defeat, the country had better stay Democratic.

Futile.

Madison Independent Press: No amount of loud talk will succeed in carrying President Wilson off his feet. That was tried by the war party long since in our relations with Mexico. It failed then and will fail in the present crisis.

In President's Favor.

Waseca Herald: One of the strongest arguments in President Wilson's favor in the next campaign will be the proof that he incurred the everlasting enmity of the powerful shipping trust.

Good Advice.

Wadena Pioneer Journal: Our advice to Minnesota farmers is, "never mind the war, but hurry along with your planting."

Thoroughly Indifferent.

Tower News: If each of us were to assimilate that back-to-the-farm slogan of a verity and raise a few thousands of bushels of wheat this season, it is a safe bet that we could sell every bushel of it, and the chaff from the threshing machine for breakfast food. But we won't take the advice. We will just hitch our feet a trifle higher and easier on the rolltop desk and let the country go to the dogs. You know me, Al.

Has Faith in the President.

Jordan Independent: Perhaps sooner than many passionate partisans will now admit, the Wilson administration will be credited with splendid diplomacy in guiding the ship of state through the highly dangerous days of early 1915. The state department's notes to Britain and to Germany were of a very high order, courteous, yet firm, and, withal, patient. We have at this time a president who thinks of America first and who can be trusted to deal with the decidedly touchy European war situation with wisdom and justice, having equal regard for all, favor toward none, unprejudiced by clamor and determined to preserve strict neutrality as he has preserved it ever since the war began.

Hardly.

Mahnomen Pioneer: Governor Hammond did as he said he would do. Already some of the newspapers of the state are predicting that it means his political death. Is this such a new experience in Minnesota that a man must be condemned for such things?

Washington's Rules.

When Washington was but 13 years of age he had gathered in a manuscript book the most important rules of etiquette which govern in good society. These he wrote out with care and adopted as the rules which should govern his life, only a few of which can be given here:

"Use no reproachful language against any one."

"Speak not of doleful things in time of mirth or at the table."

"Show yourself not glad at the misfortune of another, though he were your enemy."

"Labor to keep alive in your breast that little spark of celestial fire called conscience."

"Strive not with your superiors, in argument, but always submit your judgment to others with modesty."

"Read no letter, books, or papers in company. But when there is a necessity for it you must ask leave."

"Associate yourself with men of good quality, if you esteem your own reputation; for it is better to be alone than in bad company." —W. W.

Death's Joke on a Warrior.

Paris Letter to the London Telegraph: There is something bitter and ironical in the manner of the death of a heroic officer, Lieut. Albert Baron, which is announced from the peaceable provincial city of Saintes. The young lieutenant had fought heroically in the army of Lorraine, and had been mentioned several times in dispatches for his brilliant conduct under fire. He had fallen at the head of his men in an irresistible charge, pierced through the breast by a German bullet.

As he lay on the field of battle a shell exploded within a few feet of him, almost burying him under a mass of earth. Picked up for dead twelve hours later, he made a miraculous recovery, and a few weeks ago was sent on convalescent leave to Saintes.

His ardent wish was to be gratified. He was to leave again for his regiment at the front. Then, a few days ago, as he was riding down the main street of the quiet provincial town, his horse took fright at a coming tram car, shied and threw him. He fell on the track and his head was crushed by the wheel of the car.

A Stove in Every Pew.

National Geographic Magazine: Do you know what a "stoofje" is? It is a little perforated wooden box containing briquets of peat to keep one's toes from being frostbitten on the cold stone pavements in the churches of Holland, guiltless of heating apparatus in a land of ice, frost and lengthy sermons. A good sexton is he and a farseeing man who can accurately measure the probable length of the coming discourse in these coals of fire.

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of this date, 1895.

•••The election of health officer was a regular surprise party at the council meeting last evening. It was supposed that Dr. Goffe would succeed himself, but the balloting showed he was not in the race. The first ballot gave Goffe 1 vote, Maxwell 5, Routh 8 and Boyer 2. On the third ballot, Dr. Walter Routh received ten votes and was declared the choice of the council. Dr. Routh belongs to the homeopathic school of medicine, and accordingly all the "old school" physicians are highly indignant. Dr. Goffe claims that a year ago he was elected for three years and may contest Routh's election. C. E. Richardson was re-elected city clerk on the second ballot. Page Morris was unanimously re-elected city attorney.

•••J. E. Stocking of Eau Claire ended his own life by taking an immense dose of morphine at the St. Louis hotel last evening. He was about 23 years of age and his father is H. M. Stocking, formerly of the West Superior Lumber company, who lives at Eau Claire, but spends much of his time at the Head of the Lakes.

•••Louis Goldnamer and Charles Goodrich returned yesterday from a New York purchasing trip for M. S. Burrows & Co.

•••Dr. S. C. McCormick, who has been ill with typhoid fever, has recovered and resumed his practice.

•••John Green and W. H. Grey, who have been engaged in the logging business under the firm name of Green & Grey, have dissolved partnership.

•••Rinks skipped by R. J. MacLeod and Harry Hurdon played at Glen Avon rink last night to see which should meet Dan McMillan's St. Paul rink for the Merriam medal this afternoon. Hurdon won by a score of 14 to 10. The St. Paul rink is composed of W. Owen, Dr. Arnold, Dr. Carson and D. McMillan.

•••A marriage license has been issued to W. R. McKeag and Maggie Calder.

•••The session of the state farmers' institute opened at the city hall today and standing room was at a premium. Among the prominent agriculturists were M. O. Hall, Alderman Patterson, Capt. Farrell, Henry Haskins, Fred Lewis, C. C. Clayton, J. H. Baker, Eddie Oswald, W. A. Pryor, Col. Yolton, A. M. Stearns, Richard Sloan, Gilbert Boyd and Judge Edson.

•••L. L. Aune, formerly of West Duluth and now of Minneapolis, is here for a few days on business.

•••Judge-elect Hoyt has not yet obtained possession of the West Duluth municipal court, as Judge Himebaugh contends that his term has not expired. In consequence, there is talk of a bill being introduced in the legislature to abolish the court.

THE OPEN COURT

(Readers of The Herald are invited to make free use of this column to express their ideas about the topics of general interest, but discussions of sectarian religious differences are barred. Letters must not exceed 300 words—the shorter the better. They must be written on one side of the paper only, and they must be accompanied in every case by the name and address of the writer though these need not be published. A signed letter is always more effective, however.)

IRON ORE ROYALTY.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Could you please inform me, through your Open Court column, if there are any iron ore mines near Ely, Minn., that are paying a royalty per ton to private individuals who are non-residents of the state? If so, what is the highest royalty per ton paid? Thanking you in advance, I remain a constant Herald reader.
PATRICK BARTLEY.
Superior, Wis., March 8.

Yes. The amount of royalty paid is not always disclosed, but it is believed to vary from 25 cents to 60 cents a ton for the mines in this district.—The Editor.

C. & H. EMPLOYES.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Will you please inform me, through the columns of the Open Court, the average number of men that worked in the original Calumet-Hecla mines when working at full capacity? This figure not to include the men working at the mills or smelters. Yours truly,
A SUBSCRIBER.
Eveleth, Minn., Feb. 10.

The above question was referred by The Herald to James McNaughton, the general manager of the company. He kindly furnished the answer as about 4,500.—The Editor.

FOR JEWISH RIGHTS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Permit me to address you, and through you your readers, upon a matter engrossing the attention of the peoples of the world.
Nearly half a million Jews are fighting in the ranks of the armies of the belligerent nations, battling on behalf of countries where they have suffered and are still suffering terrible injustice through the deprivation of the rights accorded to all other citizens. While the husbands and sons are on the firing line, the wives and daughters, the mothers and sisters are at the mercy of anti-Semites, who, notwithstanding Jewish heroism and the patriotic sacrifice of Jewish blood, are inciting the populace against them. This is notably the case in Poland. It is a pitiful state of affairs, one calling for the intervention of all justice and liberty-loving men and women.
We, Jews, look to America, to the overpowering sense of righteousness of the American people, to espouse the cause of the six million innocent men, women and children driven and hunted for no other reason than that they cling to the faith of their fathers.
The question naturally arises: "What can be done?"
The Jewish Daily News has suggested a plan for the calling of an American Jewish conference for the purpose of bringing to the attention of the nations the deplorable plight of the Jews of Europe. This proposal has received the hearty indorsement of Secretary of War Garrison, Governor Walsh of Massachusetts, Oscar S. Straus, Prof. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard; Prof. J. G. Schurman, president of Cornell university; Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent; Miss Jane Addams of the Hull House, Chicago; George Kennan and other noted Americans.
We appeal to you to aid us in this humanitarian work. America, the country that has always opposed tyranny and succored the oppressed, can play no nobler part in this terrible world's drama than raise its mighty voice and demand in the name of all that is sacred that the carnage of unoffending human beings cease.
We ask you to help us, and the free, unhampered press of the United States can best do so, to secure full equal rights for Jews all the world over, "for have we not all one Father, has not One God created us?" Very sincerely yours,
EDITOR, JEWISH DAILY NEWS.

TUMULTY OVERLOOKED.

To the Editor of The Herald:
The inclosed editorial on "Two Years of Wilson" from The Herald, I have read carefully and I want to call your attention to the fact that the writer of the editorial overlooked Tumultus Tumulty, the president's private secretary, who seems to be the whole thing. I think to ignore him is a shame. Please correct. Yours truly,
ANTON JENSEN.
McIntosh, Minn., March 10.

CABINET MEMBERS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
I wish you would kindly let me know through the Open Court of your paper the names of the persons at the head of the different departments of the president's cabinet. I remain yours truly,
FRED TRUDEAU.
Greenland, Mich., March 9.

The members of the cabinet are:
Secretary of state, William Jennings Bryan.
Secretary of the treasury, William Gibbs McAdoo.
Secretary of war, Lindley M. Garrison.
Attorney general, Thomas Watt Gregory.
Postmaster general, Albert Sidney Burleson.
Secretary of the navy, Josephus Daniels.
Secretary of interior, Franklin Knight Lane.
Secretary of agriculture, David Franklin Houston.
Secretary of commerce, William C. Redfield.
Secretary of labor, William Bauchop Wilson.—The Editor.

SECURITY.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Can a person who has borrowed money from a bank giving mining stock as security, order the banker to sell it when the market price will pay back the loan and interest, and can the borrower collect what is over? Thanking you for an answer. Yours truly,
JACK.
Bovey, Minn., March 10.

The Herald does not answer legal questions in the Open Court, but it will attempt to say what any reputable banker would do in such a case as this. If you have a buyer for your stock, go to the bank with him and have him tender the amount of the note with interest. It is possible the bank may not want to discount the note, but if the interest is paid in full to the maturity of the note the banker would certainly not object to returning it and the security. Then of course you can collect the difference between the selling price of the stock and the amount paid the bank. The bank, however, cannot be expected to assume the responsibility of finding a buyer for your stock until you have defaulted on your note.—The Editor.

CRIBBAGE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Would be pleased to have the following questions re cribbage answered in the Open Court.
1. In playing the hand, must a sequence of cards be in one suit to count as a "run?" For instance, would the three of hearts and the four and five of spades count as a "run," scoring three points?
2. In counting the hand or crib can a double run be scored without any sequence being entirely in one suit? That is, would the three and four of clubs and the four and five of spades count as a double run of three?
I. WANTANO.
Very truly,
Bruno, Minn., March 11.

The run counts whether the cards are in one suit or not. Yes, is the answer to your second question.—The Editor.

ONLY ONE ROUTE.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Will you or some of your kind Open Court readers please answer this question, and oblige?
What is a good remedy to reduce a person's weight when they are naturally fat? Yours truly, A FAT MAN.
Duluth, March 9.

There is no royal road to slimness. Only persistence in dieting and exercising will do it.—The Editor.

HOMESTEAD LANDS.

To the Editor of The Herald:
Can you advise me through your "Open Court" as to where I can procure information concerning homestead lands in Minnesota?
Thanking you for any assistance you may be able to give me, I am,
SUBSCRIBER.

POEMS ASKED FOR.

The Herald acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following poems:
"When You and I were Young, Maggie," from Miss Ethel M. Boyd of Chippewa Falls, Wis.
Requests have been received for the following poems:
"Good-by, Christine Swanson," from Ole Olson of Eveleth, Minn.
"Just a Song at Twilight" and "Way Down Upon the Suwanee River," from Emil Olson of Duluth.
"Bill's in the Legislature," from Miss Ethel M. Boyd of Chippewa Falls, Wis.

When You and I Were Young, Maggie.
Words by George U. Johnson, music by J. A. Butterfield.

I wandered today to the hill, Maggie,
To watch the scenes below,
The creek and the creaking old mill, Maggie,
As we used to long ago.
The green grove is gone from the hill, Maggie,
Where first the daisies sprung,
The creaking old mill is still, Maggie,
Since you and I were young.
Chorus.
And now we are aged and gray, Maggie,
And the trials of life nearly done,
Let us sing of the days that are gone, Maggie,
When you and I were young.

I sat today in the church, Maggie,
Where we knelt side by side,
Have each found a place of rest,
Is built where the birds used to play, Maggie,
And join in the songs that were sung.
For we sang as gay as they, Maggie,
When you and I were young.

They say I am feeble with age, Maggie,
My steps are less sprightly than then,
My face is a well written page, Maggie,
But time alone was the pen.
They say we are aged and gray, Maggie,
As spray by the white breakers flung,
But to me you're as fair as you were, Maggie,
When you and I were young.
Chorus.
And now we are aged and gray, Maggie,
And the trials of life nearly done,
Let us sing of the days that are gone, Maggie,
When you and I were young.

HEALTH TALKS
BY WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Blood Tonics, Real and Imitation

IT IS conceivable, though improbable, that one might suffer from a lack of iron in the food, as has been occasionally observed on shipboard during long voyages or in enforced confinement in prison. But in the average bill of fare, whether it is largely vegetable or animal food, there is ample iron to meet the needs of the body. Hence the use of iron as medicine is not to supply a deficiency in that respect, but rather to stimulate digestion and to stimulate the blood-making glands. It is known that most of the iron taken in medicine is immediately eliminated from the body by way of the bowel. Perhaps three-quarters of a grain of iron represents the maximum amount the blood can utilize in a day, no matter how many grains you take in each dose.

Mineral Iron Best After All.

Until recently it was imagined that organic iron was more readily assimilated than inorganic or mineral iron, but it is now known that this is not true. The idea was largely fostered by medicine manufacturers who profited handsomely on the sale of pleasant tasting but inefficacious preparations of organic iron. The facts have been carefully worked out by the most competent laboratory and clinical investigators, and it is established beyond question that the good old inorganic or mineral iron preparations are quite as effective as any of the modern, expensive organic combinations on the market.

No matter what kind of iron is taken it is never directly utilized by the blood to produce hemoglobin (iron coloring matter in the red blood corpuscles). On the contrary the iron assimilated goes first to the liver, bone-marrow, the spleen, where it is kept on reserve, to be supplied to the blood only in minute quantities as needed. Hence any "blood tonic" which produces immediate effects probably does so only through the temporary stimulation attributable to the strychnine or other nerve castigator which is added to the formula for just that misleading purpose.

Questions and Answers.

• • •

Bread and Milk Club: Please explain the object of the Bread and Milk club.

REPLY.

Members agree to live on bread and milk, or crackers and milk, one day each week, consuming about two quarts of high-grade milk during the twenty-four hours, meals every two or three hours. No sure enough invalids are eligible; only near-invalids, healthy invalids who eat too much, may join.

• • •

Varicose Veins: Am advised to "keep leg up" for relief of trouble from varicose veins. How can I do that?

REPLY.

Lie with legs elevated against wall or upon pillow over foot of bed for a time each night and morning. Lie on back on floor and raise legs alternately and slowly to vertical, then lower slowly again, without lifting head. Do this a few minutes every day in the year.

• • •

Swelling of the Gums: How much iron oxide and sugar should one take for anemia? What is good for swollen gums? My teeth are in excellent condition.

REPLY.

1. Eizenzucker is a mixture of iron oxide and sugar, which you might take in tablets in two-grain doses after meals. 2. Anemia, gingivitis, scurvy and certain specific infections of the mouth are sometimes accompanied by swelling of the gums.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. WORK FOR FARRELL AND SILBERSTEIN

Central Hillside Club Members Pledge Active Support.

Criticizing the various departments of the city administration, members of the Central Hillside Farrell club at a meeting held at the Polish hall last evening, pledged themselves to make a city-wide campaign in behalf of J. A. Farrell and Bernard Silberstein, candidates for commissioner.

About 100 members of the club were present at the meeting and at the close of the session, each one agreed to start out at once and work in behalf of Mr. Farrell's candidacy. They will also make an effort to get the voters out for registration tomorrow.

Frank Heideman presided at the meeting and short talks were delivered by Mr. Farrell, Bert Kribsback, L. A. Ball and J. L. Roos.

In his address, Mr. Farrell directed sharp criticism against the council and Commissioner Murchison, because men on winter sewer work were paid 15 cents an hour on one of the jobs.

"If I am elected there will be no men work on Duluth streets at 15 cents an hour," declared Mr. Farrell. "How many commissioners could live on 15 cents an hour? I do not believe any of them have ever tried it. Commissioner Murchison is a gentleman, but not close to the working man. I am a friend of labor. I have worked at day labor. I have here an endorsement from a labor organization.

"It is wrong to make ths laboring man stand reduction in payrolls. The reduction should be made to affect the men who can best bear it."

At the close of his address Mr. Farrell explained the ballots to be voted on at the election on April 6 and by means of a blackboard showed those present how to mark them properly, so that they will not be void.

The Central Hillside Farrell club will meet again within the next two weeks.

School children's matinee at the Orpheum tomorrow at 2:30 and 4 o'clock. Admission, with coupon, 10 cents.

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL AND CASTOR OIL

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little "insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

YOUNG GERMAN POSES AS HERO

Jealous Girl Investigates and He Is Sent to Prison.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Feb. 15.—While from day to day there are reported the awards of the coveted Iron Cross for bravery on the field, word comes occasionally of incidents of an opposite character.

In this category falls the case of a private in one of the regiments sent to the eastern battle front. Just as his company was about to go into action the embryo soldier was taken ill and was given a month's furlough.

He promptly appeared in Berlin with a tale of having had his horse shot from under him, of having been wounded and having been saved from dying by his watch, which he said had been shattered by the bullet. In testimony he showed a hole in his uniform.

His tale was so realistic and was told with such becoming modesty that he infatuated an elderly woman, who showered gifts on him. This result in turn so went to his head that he presently appeared with sergeant's stripes—promoted by this time—and the insignia of the Iron Cross—and cut a wide swath in feminine society. Incidentally he overstayed his leave.

The inevitable has just happened. Prompted by jealousy, one of his newly acquired girl friends investigated and then promptly haled him before the police. A magistrate has decided that five months in prison will do the young man good.

DISCIPLINE OF RUSSIAN ARMY

Soldier Hanged for Plundering and Others Are Whipped.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Feb. 15.—A more favorable view of the discipline in the Russian army in Galicia than prevailed during the autumn invasion of East Prussia is given by Leonhard Adelt, the war correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt, who recently visited Neu-Sandec on the Dunajec river a short time after it had been evacuated by the Russian army.

At the corner of one street he saw a hook fastened to the wall, from which, as he was informed by the citizens, the Russians had hanged one of their soldiers for plundering. There was still visible on the adjacent wall the following inscription in Russian: "The czar sent out soldiers, not pillagers, to fight for him." Adelt goes on to say that the Russians maintained strict discipline in the city. As further examples of their stringency he mentions that one soldier who stole a ham was given fifty strokes with the knout; while another, who strayed into the quarters of other soldiers and made undue noise there, got thirty strokes.

In the Bokovina the Russians demonstrated the sincerity of their newly acquired temperance principles by emptying all strong liquors into the gutters.

"THE GLOOMY DEAN" IS CALLED DOWN

Said People Opposed to Inoculation Should Be Hanged.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

London, Feb. 26.—Dean Inge of St. Paul's cathedral, who declared a few weeks ago that the people agitating against inoculation for typhoid ought to be hanged for their country's good, has been invited by Viscount Haberton to submit to inoculation and then drink unfiltered water for seven days afterward. The dean has not yet replied.

Viscount Haberton and other members of the Dumb Friends' league, as the British society for the prevention of cruelty to animals is called, have been waging a fight against inoculation. A large proportion of army recruits have in consequence refused to submit to the serum. Scientific men and the army doctors then got their tre up, but none went so far as Dean Inge, who prescribed hanging for the members of the league. This brought the retort from the league's secretary that the dean was an "apostle of cowpox."

Dean Inge is ordinarily not a friend of science, since only a year ago he prophesied the coming extinction of Darwinism and atheism, which he held to be allied. On account of his pessimistic views of society, he is commonly referred to in the London press as "the gloomy dean."

PROHIBITION BILL BEATEN

Senator Lobeck Makes Gallant Fight for His Measure.

Jones Offers Amendment for Referendum But Withdraws It.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The official state-wide prohibition bill, providing for prohibition by statutory enactment, went down to defeat in the senate yesterday afternoon by a vote of 17 to 50, getting nearly ten votes less than had been conceded to it by its liberal opponents.

Senator E. E. Lobeck of Alexandria, Prohibition candidate for governor in 1912, made a gallant fight for his bill, and spoke a good speech for it, too; but he had to contend not only with the opposition of the liberal element, but a pretty widespread feeling among the county option element that county option is about as far as the state should go for the present. Beyond these, he had to contend with the opposition of those who will vote for submitting a constitutional amendment on which the people can vote, but who would not vote for a prohibitory enactment without a vote of the people.

Senator Richard Jones of Duluth furnished about the only excitement of the debate yesterday afternoon. He proposed an amendment providing for a referendum on the bill, so that it would not be effective unless the people ratified it, and for a time he had both sides guessing. The author of the bill was ready to accept it, but other temperance senators feared it wouldn't be constitutional; and the liberal element recognized that its adoption would make the bill more dangerous.

How They Voted.

After a recess to discuss the question of constitutionality, Senator Jones withdrew his amendment at the request of Senator Lobeck, and the bill went to a vote. The vote upon it was as follows:

For—Andrews, Blomgren, Gandrud, Gillam, Gjerset, Hanson, Hegnes, Lende, Lobeck, Palmer, E. P. Peterson, F. H. Peterson, Putnam, Rystrom, Sageng, Turnham, Vermilya—17.

Against—Adams, Alley, Baldwin, Benson, Bonniwell, Buckler, Callahan, A. S. Campbell, W. A. Campbell, Carley, Collester, Denegre, R. C. Dunn, W. W. Dunn, Duxbury, Dwinnell, Gardner, Glotzbach, Griggs, Grosé, Handlan, Healy, Hilbert, Holmberg, Jackson, Johnston, Jones, Knopp, McGarry, Millett, Nelson, Nord, O'Neill, Orr, Pauly, G M. Peterson, Potter, Ries, Rockne, Rustad, Steffen, G. H. Sullivan, J. D. Sullivan, Swenson, Van Hoven, Vibert, Wallace, Ward, Wels, Westlake—50.

In his speech in favor of his bill, Senator Lobeck said that it was copied from the Kansas law, and that it was backed by the allied temperance forces of the state. Petitions signed by 21,000 people had come to the senate urging its passage.

"There are 7,000 saloons in Minnesota," he said. "Do you wonder that the jails are full? The opponents of this bill talk of 'personal liberty,' but this is not a government of personal liberty but of civil liberty. Public welfare is higher than any such personal liberty as this. They talk of compensating the saloon keepers put out of business. If they will repay the state the damage they have caused it in the loss to manhood and womanhood their goods have wrought, I shall be able to pay the difference out of my own pocket. The laws against drunkenness, profanity and horse-stealing might be called infringements of personal liberty. They say prohibition will not prohibit; but I have letters from the governors of many prohibition states saying that it does prohibit, and that it works for the happiness and well-being of the people. Some of you say that you will vote for prohibition by constitutional amendment. So will I, but that is a hard and stony road to travel. Statutory prohibition is a straight and easy road. Let's take it now."

Jones Offers Amendment.

There seemed to be no other speakers, and the secretary was about to call the roll on the final passage of the bill, when Senator Jones proposed his amendment, under which the bill would not become a law unless it were submitted to the people at the general election in 1916, and were approved by a majority of those voting upon it. In that case it would have been effective May 1, 1917, instead of Jan. 1, 1916.

Senator P. A. Gandrud, author of a proposed constitutional amendment for state-wide prohibition, opposed the amendment. "This bill," he said, "should be voted up or down on its merits. If it is voted down, then we can vote on the constitutional amendment, which has to be approved by the people."

Senator Lobeck said that if the referendum could be legally arranged for, he would be willing to accept it. It would be a much easier way than by constitutional amendment, because a constitutional amendment would have to have a majority of all the votes cast at the election, while under the Jones plan the bill would require only a majority of those voting on the proposition.

Senator Edward Rustad of Wheaton declared himself against the bill unless it could be amended legally.

"We have voted for county option," he said, "which puts the question up to the people. Now it is proposed to enact similar legislation without giving the people anything to say about it. The people should vote upon it, and if a majority of them want it, then it should come. Until a substantial majority of the people want prohibition, it should not come, because it would not be effective."

Regarded It Dangerous.

Senator F. E. Putnam of Blue Earth City said he was in doubt about the amendment, and at his suggestion the senate took a recess of fifteen minutes while the "dry" lawyers looked into it. When they came back, Senator Putnam reported for them that they considered it a dangerous proposal, and that it was doubtful whether the bill would have any effect at all with the amendment incorporated into it. One point raised was that the Constitution provides that the governor shall have an opportunity to exercise a veto, and he would have no such chance under a plan by which a law would not be effective until after the people had ratified it.

Senator Oluf Gjerset of Montevideo thought the amendment unconstitutional.

Senator W. S. Dwinnell of Minneapolis said he had been thinking during the discussion. "If this can be done," he inquired, "why all the talk of the last four years about amending the Constitution to make the referendum possible? I think it reasonably clear that the amendment is unconstitutional."

Senator N. J. Holmberg declared that the amendment ought to be withdrawn, and the Lobeck bill voted up or down.

Senator F. A. Duxbury of Caledonia said that there is no constitutional provision for a referendum, and that in his opinion the amendment would make a nullity of the whole measure.

"I have no desire to evade going on record on this or any other measure before this body," said Senator Jones. "I stated when I offered the amendment that I was against this bill as it stands, and I shall vote against it. My amendment was acceptable to Senator Lobeck and other advocates of prohibition, and I offered it in good faith because I believed that such a step should not be taken without a vote of the people. But at the request of Senator Lobeck, I will withdraw the amendment."

So that ended that, and after a brief further discussion, participated in by Senators Alley, Benson, Andrews and Campbell, the bill went to a vote and to defeat.

There will be a vote in both houses, later on, upon the question of submitting a constitutional amendment providing for state-wide prohibition.

of this county and alienists have answered."

"Do you believe you were sane when you killed Stanford White?"

Objection Sustained.

Thaw's attorneys objected and were sustained. Similar ruling applied to a question as to just when Thaw believed he had recovered his reason.

On redirect examination Thaw said Roger Thompson first knew who he was after the flight in the automobiles had started.

After reaching Rochester, N. H., Thaw said he requested Thompson to accompany him to Canada. Thompson was arrested. Thaw paid his counsel fees and expenses, he said.

At this point Thaw was excused and the defense announced that it rested its case.

A number of character witnesses were called to testify in behalf of the co-defendants. Mr. Stanchfield then moved to dismiss the indictment against Thaw and his co-defendants.

Mr. Stanchfield's motions were denied and he then began his closing address to the jury.

WILL TAKE THREE WEEKS TO REPAIR GERMAN CRUISER

be held together for the present at the request of Washington authorities, who want to get their formal statements.

Passengers Still on Ship.

A. B. Bailey, French consul at Norfolk, has taken charge of the interests of the eighty-three first-class passengers from the French liner Floride, who have been refused admission to the United States by the immigration authorities. Until some other disposition is made them, they will remain on board the Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

The statement on the sinking of the William P. Frye, which the commander of the Prinz Eitel has made to Collector Hamilton, is understood to be a very brief document, giving little more than a statement that the Frye was sunk, the latitude and longitude in which the German raider came upon her and a very brief recital of the taking off of the Frye's crew. It is understood that the commander of the Eitel has reserved a more detailed statement of his reasons for sinking the Frye for the German embassy authorities, with whom he is in communication.

May Be Forced to Interne.

Washington, March 12.—Confidential reports to officials here on the condition of the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, in drydock at Newport News, Va., seem to make it certain that the German raider will be forced to interne there.

Assistant Secretary Peters of the treasury department told President Wilson today he expected the German commander would not venture to sea again.

Mr. Peters told the president that his reports from Newport News show the Prinz Eitel is in very bad condition and utterly unfit to put to sea.

To Get Sworn Statements.

After his conference with the president, Mr. Peters talked with Capt. Klehne of the American ship William P. Frye, sunk by the Prinz Eitel, over the telephone, and directed him to get sworn statements from as many of the crew of the Frye as possible. The president directed Mr. Peters to make a very thorough investigation of all the facts in the case.

Capt. Klehne is expected in Washington tomorrow and as soon as he arrives he will be interviewed by Mr. Peters and Counsellor Lansing of the state department and a sworn statement taken of all the incidents connected with the sinking of the Frye.

After Mr. Peters' conference with the president, it became known that administration officials take the view that the German government cannot refuse to make full reparation for the loss of the hull and cargo of the Frye. Out of the sum expected to be paid by the German government the American government will be reimbursed for the amount of the policy on the hull written by the war risk insurance bureau.

Three Questions Raised.

Three questions raised by the destruction of the American sailing vessel William P. Frye by the German coverted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich and the entry of the latter vessel into an American port for repairs still were to be determined today by the United States government. They are what action shall be taken on account of the sinking of the Frye, the length of time to be allowed the Prinz Eitel to make repairs at Newport News and the disposition of her prisoners.

One thing has been settled and that is that unless the German government offers to make reparation for the sinking of the American ship, and expresses regret for the occurrence, strong protest will be made by the American government and a claim presented for damages.

ALLIED ARMIES BELIEVED TO HAVE BEGUN NEW MOVEMENT

ports published today that Turkish capital is in a state of panic.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 12, via wireless to Sayville, N. Y.—The general staff of the German army today gave out a report on the progress of the war reading as follows:

"In the western arena:

"Two battleships of the enemy accompanied by two torpedo boats, fired on Westende on the Belgian coast to the north of Nieuport, yesterday. Seventy shots were fired without doing any damage. When our batteries became active the warships of the enemy retreated.

"The British, who have occupied Neuve Chappelle advanced several times last night to the eastward but were repulsed. Also to the north of Neuve Chappelle minor British attacks yesterday were repulsed. The fighting in this district still continues.

"It was quiet in the Champagne district yesterday. In the Vosges a heavy snow storm prevailed and only minor operations took place.

"In the eastern arena: To the north of the forest of Augustowo we vanquished a force of Russians which avoided complete defeat by retreating hastily in the direction of Grodno. We took more than 4,000 prisoners, including two commanders of regiments and we captured three cannon and ten machine guns. Furthermore from the Augustowo district the Russians began a retreat in the direction of Grodno.

"At a point northwest of Ostrolenko during an attack we captured three Russian officers and 220 men. To the north and northwest of Przasnysz the German attacks have made progress. In this district we took over 3,200 prisoners yesterday.

"A recent Russian official bulletin announced two great Russian victories, one at Grodno and the other at Przasnysz. In each of these engagements the Russians claim to have vanquished or annihilated two German army corps. If the chief in command of the Russian army really believed this, the events of the past few days will have corrected his opinion concerning the fighting power of the German army. The offensive movement of the Russians before Grodno, through the Augustowo forest, resulted in failure. Near Przasnysz German troops, after giving way for a time, are again four kilometers (2½ miles) north of that town. Since relinquishing Przasnysz, the Germans have taken prisoners a total of 11,460 Russians on battlefields between the Vistula and the Orzyc rivers."

French Statement.

Paris, March 12, via London, 3:30 p. m.—The official statement issued this afternoon by the French war department says:

"In Belgium two divisions of the Belgian army advanced between 400 and 500 meters notably in the direction of Schoorbakke, to the southeast of Nieuport.

"On the remainder of the front nothing has taken place to add to yesterday's official statement."

British Statement.

London, March 12.—The following report concerning British operations on the west battle front was given out today by the official information bureau:

"During the night of the eleventh-twelfth and in the early morning several counter-attacks were easily repulsed by the Fourth corps and the Indian corps, with heavy losses to the enemy. Sixty prisoners were captured in a night attack and also the village Le Pinete was captured by the Third corps with slight loss.

"Mist and fog now prevail and hinder operations."

AMERICAN KILLED IN MEXICO CITY

City, specifically pointed out that the American government intended to hold Carranza and Obregon personally responsible for any injury to life or property of foreigners if they failed to provide adequate protection in the event of their evacuation of the capital.

Punishment Promised.

Gen. Salazas, the post commander, promised the Brazilian minister he would punish those responsible for the murder, which is said to have been one of revenge because it was charged that McManus killed three Zapatistas when they were in the city previously.

Official dispatches received in diplomatic quarters from other legations in Mexico City said one British house was looted and 100 persons were injured in the disorder which prevailed between the evacuation of Obregon and the entry of the Zapata troops.

Gen. Salazar also told the Brazilian minister, the state department advices said, that he would see to making arrangements for transportation of food supplies into the city.

Accounts as to the killing of McManus vary. Some persons said he fired the first shot at the Zapatistas as they were trying to force an entrance to his house. Others said the Zapatistas had begun the shooting.

The American's hat was full of bullet-holes. This is said to indicate that the attack on him had been made from a short distance. After he had been killed the house was looted. The matter was immediately reported to Gen. Barona and Gen. Guerra, who promised to make an investigation.

Laid Before President.

Secretary Bryan took the dispatches on the killing of McManus to the cabinet meeting and they were laid before President Wilson. Mr. Bryan said further reports on the punishment of those responsible were being awaited.

Secretary Bryan said that no representations would be made pending receipt of further details from the Brazilian minister. He said that a very full investigation would be made. The incident was regarded very seriously at the White House.

Note to Carranza.

Washington, March 12.—Both Generals Carranza and Obregon have been informed that the prestige of the cause for which they are fighting will be seriously affected in the view of the United States government should they fail to take prompt measures to prevent famine in Mexico City and to permit the free exodus of foreigners to Vera Cruz.

This was the principal argument, it was learned today, in the note sent by the United States government in reply to Carranza's communication denying that Obregon had interfered with the shipment of food supplies to Mexico City or had made the utterances which the American government believed might cause anti-foreign riots.

Without Protection.

"The government of the United States is informed that the City of Mexico may soon be evacuated by the Constitutionalist forces," said President Wilson's note, "leaving the population without protection against whatever faction may choose to occupy it, thus shirking the responsibility which may happen as a result of the instigation of lawlessness before and after the evacuation of the city.

"The government of the United States therefore desires Gen. Obregon and Gen. Carranza to know that it has, after mature consideration, determined that if, as a result of the situation for which they are responsible, Americans will suffer by reason of the conduct of the Constitutionalist forces in the City of Mexico, or because they fail to provide means of protection to life and property, will hold Gen. Obregon and Gen. Carranza personally responsible. Therefore, having reached this determination with the greatest consideration the government of the United States will take such measures as are expedient to bring to account those who are personally responsible for what may occur."

otconjunichhtiwcid ectsdp teacclubi

Yesterday the Spanish ambassador here, Senor Riano, laid before the state department dispatches telling of the killing of four Spaniards in Mexico City with looting and destruction of property. The death of a subject of Sweden was reported the day before.

City Evacuated.

The following official statement of the evacuation by Obregon was issued at the department:

"Gen. Obregon and his troops evacuated Mexico City on the night of March 10. It is reported that some looting occurred in Popotla, one of the suburbs, but that there was no general looting or disorder. At present the city is under the authority of the municipal authorities and there is good order."

After a conference between President Wilson and the cabinet, a formal demand was sent to Gen. Salazar, insisting that the Zapatistas guilty of the murder of McManus be punished and that adequate reparation be made to the family of the victim.

COUNTY DIVISION FIGHT TAKES ON A NEW FORM

der the Gordon resolution to propose reforms in the structure of the state government to be adopted if the efficiency bill passes, reported seven bills to the house this morning all of which were made a special order for next Friday morning.

One bill proposes a general system of state inspectors, one for each senatorial district, to take over the work of oil inspectors, game wardens, forest rangers, factory inspectors, food inspectors, dairy inspectors, hotel inspectors, deputy fire marshals and weight and measure inspectors, all of whom are abolished. If districts have more than 2,000 square miles there is to be an extra inspector and two extra inspectors in districts with more than 4,000 square miles. The inspectors are to get $1,500 a year and to be appointed by the governor and removable at his pleasure.

Other bills were as follows: Putting the custody of the state capitol under the board of control; providing for a biennial budget, to be presented to the governor before legislative sessions by all officials, and reported by him to the legislature before Feb. 1; abolishing the state fire marshal and putting his work under the insurance commissioner; abolishing the game and fish commission and creating a game and fish commissioner; putting oil inspection under the dairy and food department and abolishing the oil inspection bureau; abolishing the hotel inspection bureau and putting its work under the dairy and food commission.

The Christianson bill to abolish the whole oil inspection system was added to the special order.

Flurry Over Contest Bills.

There was a little flurry in the house between Representatives Rodenberg and Adams over the resolutions paying the contest expenses of half a dozn members, including Mr. Rodenberg.

The committee on legislative expense recommended the resolutions to pass. Representative Guilford opposed them, and demanded a roll call. Representative Adams said they should be considered separately, because while some were just, others were "graft." Representative Rodenberg took exception to this and demanded that Mr. Adams furnish proof or apologize. Mr. Adams said that when the resolutions were considered by the house he would discuss them, and if necessary he would then submit to being brought before the bar of the house, "or any other." The resolutions were made a special order for Tuesday on motion of Representative Warner.

Representative Christianson saved from an adverse committee report his bill prohibiting discrimination between localities in the sale of lumber and building materials, and had it placed on general orders.

• • •

New Insane Hospital.

Senator W. W. Dunn offered a resolution providing for an investigation into the question whether the state needs a new insane hospital.

• • •

Senators Westlake and Wallace of Minneapolis introduced in the senate the bill limiting the annual expenses of villages and cities of the third and fourth classes to $25 per capita.

• • •

Representative Murphy, Bessette and Gill introduced in the house the bill increasing the salaries of St. Louis county commissioners. By compromise the new figure will be fixed at $1,800 instead of $2,400, as proposed in the bill.

• • •

Other bills: Representative Warner, graduated earnings on telephone companies of 3 to 5 per cent, with an additional tax of 30 cents on each instrument used; Representative Lydiard, putting warehousemen, other than grain and cold storage warehousemen, under the railroad and warehouse commission, with power to regulate rates, service and business conduct; Representative Carmichael, allowing suburban trolley lines to use the lines of local car companies, by consent of municipalities and at rates to be fixed by the railroad and warehouse commission, the object, as stated by the author, being to encourage the spread of rural trolley lines; Representative Mueller, making those whose neglect causes fires financially liable to cities for the expense of putting them out; Representatives Brown and Bjorklund, providing pension funds for school janitors, engineers and firemen in first-class cities; Representative McGrath, empowering the state highway commission to compel counties to complete state highways between cities of the first, second and third classes, or to do it itself; Senators George M. Peterson and Adams and Representatives Ribenack and Warner, extending for five years the time within which Duluth may build a public dock on the old state elevator site at Duluth; Senator Rustad, providing imprisonment, without the alternative of a fine, for blind pigging.

ELWELL LAW MAY BE SAFE

house by Representative Claude E. Southwick of Wells.

This bill is a duplicate of the measure introduced by Mr. Southwick two years ago, which passed the house but reached the senate too late to be acted upon there.

Following are the chief effects of the bill:

To abolish the common law marriage.

To require five days' notice to be given of prospective marriages, and in some cases to be served on the parents, before licenses are issued.

To require both parties to make affidavit to their physical and mental fitness to enter the marriage relation.

To require all blanks to be furnished from the state capitol, and a complete register of all marriages in the various counties to be filed annually with the secretary of state.

The abolition of the common law marriage explains itself. The bill provides for a subsequent marriage where parties are now living in common law matrimonial relations.

The purpose of the five days' notice is to prevent runaway marriages. This notice makes it possible for objections to be entered against the granting of the licenses, and provision is made for trying out such objections before the probate court. If such objecion is not sustained, penalties are imposed upon the objector, thus preventing abuses of the privilege.

The provision requiring affidavits of physical and mental fitness would prevent persons from marrying who are imbeciles, insane, habitual drunkards, afflicted with veneral diseases, addicted to the use of drugs, nearer of kin than second cousins, or who have been divorced within six months.

While there is considerable agitation—for more stringent provisions, such as requiring doctors' certificates, the author is lenient in this respect, and his requirements are in line with the suggestions of the American Bar association. The entire bill, in fact, carries out the uniform legislation idea which is being urged by the association.

A copy of the bill probably will be introduced in the senate within a few days, so that it can be considered in both houses at the same time.

Interest on Contract Loans.

After a lively debate, the house yesterday afternoon in committee of the whole advanced to the calendar the bill by Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston reducing from 10 per cent to 8 per cent the legal maximum rate of interest in this state on contract loans.

Representative Theodore Christianson of Dawson, who led the fight against the bill, declared that it would work a hardship on the small farmer and others who borrow on chattel mortgages, because often the only money they can get is 10 per cent money or funds from "loan sharks."

Another fight is expected when the bill comes up for a vote on the calendar.

The house indefinitely postponed Mr. Boyd's bill repealing the mortgage registry tax.

Representative J. J. Sliter's bill to put county officers back on a two-year basis was also killed by the house.

The senate yesterday afternoon passed the proposed constitutional amendment by Senator R. C. Dunn intended to protect the state's right to the minerals underlying the beds of the meandered lakes and streams. The amendment authorizes the legislature to provide by law for the protection of this right and for mining such ores.

• • •

Powers of Police Courts.

Two bills intended to enlarge the powers of police courts in placing minor offenders on probation were introduced in the senate yesterday afternoon by Senator George M. Peterson of Duluth.

One affects the punishment for drunkenness, which is $40 or forty days for the first offense, $60 or sixty days for the second and three months or $100 for other offenses; and provides that sentence can be suspended for either first or second offenses, but that if the offender falls again within six months he can be brought back into court and punished.

The other bill allows courts to suspend sentence and put the offenders on probation where the punishment called for does not exceed three months' imprisonment.

Senators George M. Peterson and Charles E. Adams yesterday afternoon introduced the bill reorganizing the naval militia, which Representative Ribenack introduced in the house yesterday morning.

COAL MINE BURNS IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Bismarck, N. D., March 12.—Flames shooting 100 feet into the air from the mouth of an abandoned lignite coal mine are defying the efforts of settlers to extinguish them. The fire is in a mine four miles southeast of Haynes in Adams county and was reported to the state land department, as the mine is on state land. At present a ditch is being dug around the mine as close to the fire as the workers dare to approach, and this will be flooded with water from a nearby creek.

Experienced Women Advise Mother's Friend

Because it is so perfectly safe to use and has been of such great help to a host of expectant mothers, these women, experienced in this most happy period, advise the use of "Mother's Friend."

Applied externally to the abdominal muscles its purpose is to relievo the undue tension upon the cords and ligaments resulting from muscular expansion. Beneath the surface is a network of fine nerve threads and the gentle, soothing embrocation, "Mother's Friend," is designed to so lubricate the muscular fibres as to avoid the unnecessary and continuous nagging upon this myriad of nerves. Applied to the breasts it affords the proper massage to prevent caking.

There is scarcely a well-stocked drug store anywhere but what you can easily obtain a bottle of "Mother's Friend" and in nearly every town and village is a grandma who herself used it in earlier years. Expectant mothers are urged to try this splendid assistant.

Mother's Friend has been prepared by Bradfield Regulator Co., 310 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for nearly half a century. Send for valuable little book to expectant mothers.

TO CONTROL AID GIVING

Thief River Falls Business Men United to Protect Themselves.

All Requests for Donations to Be Referred to Club Committee.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Local business men have taken a stand in the matter of donations of every description and hereafter any person or organization seeking aid from the business men will be referred to a committee of the Commercial club. This committee will be appointed by the president of the club and the merits of all requests for donations will be thoroughly investigated. This problem was taken up at the last meeting of the Commercial club and a motion was carried to amend the by-laws so as to provide for the appointment of such a committee.

Demands Count Up.

The demand on the various business men for donations of all kinds amounts to a large sum of money every year and in order to protect themselves it was absolutely necessary to take this step. Some causes are worthy ones, while others are nothing more or less than frauds. With a committee to investigate all requests the worthy ones will be taken care of as they should be and the others will be exposed.

The dues of the members of the club will be increased sufficiently to provide a standing fund for this purpose and all matters of this nature will be left entirely in the hands of the committee. The merchants will be duty bound to refer anyone seeking donations from them to the committee and thus will be relieved of all responsibility.

WILL APPEAL TO COURTS.

International Falls Man Alleges Incinerator Patent Infringes on His.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—G. A. Oveson of International Falls was here this week taking care of a carload of material he had shipped here on the prospect of securing the contract for building the city incinerator. As the contract was let to the Northern Construction company, a local concern, Mr. Oveson shipped his material elsewhere. While here, Mr. Oveson stated that the incinerator that is being constructed for this city is an infringement upon the one designed by him and for which a patent is now pending. He stated that he intended to protect his rights and will bring suit against the city.

THREE FINED FOR SELLING LIQUOR

Charged With Disposing of Drink in Pennington County Dance Hall.

Thief River Falls, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lawrence Wojnarowski, Ben Lindahl and Louis Vettleson were brought here Wednesday by Sheriff La Bree from the town of Hickory, on a warrant charging the illegal sale of liquor in a public dance hall, on complaint of John N. Huddleson. They pleaded guilty before Judge N. W. Tarrant. Wojnarowski was fined $25 and costs, while Rindahl and Vettleson were fined $10 and costs each.

Mr. Wojnarowski is the owner of a dance hall in Hickory, and it is alleged that he has been in the habit of selling liquor in the place for some time past. The particular offense for which he was arrested and fined was committed on Feb. 27, and at that time Rindahl and Vettleson assisted him in disposing of the liquor.

As it was the first appearance of the men in court, they were given light fines upon promising to see that liquor is never handled in the place again.

NORTHMEN ARE TO GATHER AT MILTON

Annual Reunion in North Dakota Town on Midsummer Day.

Milton, N. D., March 12.—The annual Northmen reunion here will be held on Midsummer day, June 24 and the biggest entertainment in the history of the county is being planned. The program will in all probability contain a monster cantata and musicale, taken part in by forty or fifty people.

The Northmen reunion, which is the only organization of the kind in the state, is an annual event, and the citizens of Milton and vicinity act as hosts for the occasion.

TO MAKE OWN CLOTHING.

Bemidji High School Girls Getting Pointers on Dressmaking.

Bemidji, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Girl students of the freshmen class of the high school will wear clothing made by their own hands this spring, as everything in the line of wearing apparel from house dresses to spring suits will be made by them under the supervision of Miss Agnes Halland, instructor of sewing in the public schools. The school dresses are almost completed and the work on the house dresses and spring suits will begin soon. The dresses are made from neat and modest patterns and those that have been completed show expert workmanship. The sewing room is adorned on all sides by specimens of dresses made by the freshmen girls and also by specimens of sewing by the other girl students of the high school. The entire class of freshmen girls, twenty-six in number will participate.

COLOR SAVES MURDERER

Butte Jury Fears Criticism If Votes to Hang Negro.

Butte, Mont., March 12.—Dee Stewart, colored, was found guilty of the murder of Edward Miller, also colored, on May 16, 1914, and was given life imprisonment. Only the fact that he was a negro saved him from the hangman's rope. According to one of the jurors, those who favored capital punishment were influenced to vote for life imprisonment by a belief that because Stewart was a negro it might be thought the jury was prejudiced and determined to hang him. Stewart killed Miller while the street was crowded. Both were bootblacks and quarreled over 45 cents.

Pioneer Dies in West.

Great Falls, Mont., March 12.—Mrs. Phillip Beaupre, widow of Phillip Beaupre, one of the pioneers of Sauk Rapids, Minn., died here, aged 80 years. She is survived by thirteen children, including Mrs. L. B. Honan of St. Cloud, Minn., and C. F. Beaupre of Minneapolis. Her remains will be taken to Sauk Rapids for burial, Dr. Henry Beaupre of Choteau, a son, accompanying. Burial will be beside her husband.

Badger Murderer Sentenced.

Rhinelander, Wis., March 12.—Judge A. H. Reid yesterday added another "lifer" to his list when he sent Joseph Sosnowski to Waupun for life. Sosnowski was found guilty of murder in the first degree last Friday and a new trial was denied him today. He murdered Frank Morrell, a lumberman, and shipped to Chicago. When found he had more than $1,000 in money taken from Morrell, in addition to checks and deposit certificates on a Merrill bank.

BIG IMMIGRATION TO NORTH DAKOTA

Conditions Believed to Favor Large Number of Settlers Coming.

Fargo, N. D., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—"This is the right moment for immigration for North Dakota. The stream of prospective land buyers and homeseekers that was checked by the adverse conditions arising from the European war last year, threatens to flood this section of the Northwest in 1915. Unless we become involved in unexpected difficulties with some of the European powers or with Mexico, I don't believe anything can head off the immigration this year," declared a realty man today, and it is typical of the sentimenta freely expressed by the land sellers of the state.

"We are not urging men to make investments up here. What we want," continued the realty man, "are actual homeseekers men who will live here and farm the lands they purchase and help develop the state and reduce the size of the large farms. They are coming as sure as the seasons and the prospects look good.

Advertising Results.

"We should begin to reap the harvest for our advertising and personal campaigns with the residents of other states. There have been many cooperative immigration movements. All have done some good and it looks now like they would bring people this spring.

"The biggest factor is the recent legislation creating an immigration bureau and appropriating $60,000 for the next biennial period. If this money is properly handled and the right kind of men selected, much good can be accomplished, and I am sure it will. North Dakota has been weak in organized immigration work. In past years people who could have been located in North Dakota have been permitted to go to the Canadian Northwest and to the states to the west of us. There is a reaction now in favor of North Dakota and it looks to me like the state should come into its own in 1915."

Settlers Reach Walsh County.

Grafton, N. D., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The advance guard of settlers for Walsh county has arrived. Four families from Fairfield, Iowa, including a total of twenty-nine persons and bringing seven carloads of immigrant moveables, have arrived. All have purchased farms. They bring their own livestock and machinery and are ready to commence farming operations as soon as the conditions will permit. Another Iowa colony for this county will arrive soon. It includes seven families, the heads of five of which have already purchased farms and the other two will rent land the first year until certain they wish to reside in North Dakota permanently.

The six remaining vacancies will be filled at the next meeting.

W. A. Tully and S. J. Waren were re-elected janitors.

RANIER'S HOT ELECTION.

Governor Hammond Appealed To Prevent Election Frauds.

Ranier, Minn., March 12.—The village election here was no tame affair and interest was keen right up to the closing of the polls, five arrests being made on charges of perjury in casting challenged votes. Governor Hammond was appealed to see there were no frauds and Sheriff Belcher came here from International Falls to watch the polls.

There were two factions, one ticket being headed by M. R. Johnson and the other by Ell Le Sarge. The latter was elected president by a majority of eleven. The successful ticket was as follows: President, Ell Le Sarge; trustees, Ed Hitchcock, Anton Pilstrom and Victor Davis; recorder, Ed Weber; treasurer, C. M. Grimstad; justices of peace, Peter Gibbons and Jake Strait; constable, Charles White.

IS GERMAN PRISONER.

Former International Falls Resident Is Prisoner of War.

International Falls, Minn., March 12.—Friends of Evutch Coltun, a Russian, formerly employed in the yards of the power house here, received a letter yesterday from him. Mr. Coltun left here some time ago and joined the guards, a crack regiment of the czar's. He has been taken prisoner of war by the Germans and is being detained at Cassel, Germany. The letter requested his friends to send him some American-made clothing, including shoes, socks and overalls. A package containing these articles and a generous gift in money was prepared by S. N. Rubin and other friends of Coltun and sent to him.

OWATONNANS WORRY.

Safety of Claude Chadwick, Who Left for Argentina, Is Cause.

Owatonna, Minn., March 12.—Much fear is expressed in this city as to the well-being of Claude Chadwick of Buenos Aires, Argentina, who left early in January for his home after a visit with his parents, Judge and Mrs. M. B. Chadwick, in this city.

Chadwick left New York city on Jan. 23 on board the steamship Voltaire for his trip home to South America and on Feb. 12 the boat touched at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, its last stop before landing at Buenos Aires. After it left the Brazilian city, however, it was not again heard from, and Mr. Chadwick's parents and friends here are anxious lest his ship should have been lost in a South Atlantic storm or taken by a warring power.

MOOSE JAW FARMERS START SPRING WORK.

Moose Jaw, Sask., March 12.—Farmers in the vicinity of this city commenced work in the fields Wednesday with drag harrows. James Slater of the Grand Valley market gardens here also commenced harrowing, and states that the frost is out of the soil to a depth of about three and a half inches.

DROUTH AFTER RAIDS.

Pisek, N. D., Has Tight Lid Following Some Arrests.

Pisek, N. D., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is a drouth here following the arrests of three local men on the charge of selling liquor in violation of the state prohibition law. One was a poolroom proprietor, another ran a small store and the third a soft drink establishment. When they were arrested by the sheriff other suspects suddenly decided to abandon the sales and the thirst here is as pronounced as in the recently-closed Indian sections of Minnesota.

Carlton Election.

Carlton, Minn., March 12.—The election here resulted in the following being chosen: President, J. E. Green; trustees, Swan Malmquist, James McFarland, Edwin Watt; recorder, A. H. Lee; treasurer, P. A. Hultman; assessor, William Sheils; justice of the peace, Fred A. Haish; constable, Harry Sheils. Fifty-eight votes were cast.

Stallion Fetches $1,500.

Oconomowoc, Wis., March 12.—The sale of registered Percherons and graded hackneys at the farm of Fred Pabst on Wednesday brought $20,400. The highest price paid was $1,500 for Pixan, a stallion bought by E. F. Norton, Racine, manager of the J. I. Case works.

Fergus Falls Mill Burns.

Fergus Falls, Minn., March 12.—The Red River Milling company's flour mill and one elevator were destroyed by fire late Wednesday. The mill was a frame structure of 200 barrels capacity and was owned by Elmer E. Adams, C. W. Kaddatz and F. G. Barrows. Loss on buildings and machinery was about $40,000; insurance, $2,300. The loss on grain, $30,000, was fully covered by insurance. About 20,000 bushels of wheat and some coarse grain were destroyed. It is expected the owners will at once rebuild.

WISCONSIN BRIEFS

Ashland—The Commercial club has elected officers for the year as follows: President, Allan C. Pray, first vice president, L. C. Locklin; second vice president, Clark M. Knight; treasurer, R. B. Prince; secretary, Lew Anderson.

Green Bay—The Green Bay Merchants' association has elected Louis Oldenberg president, Herman Ansorge, vice president; Tom Segen, secretary, and Frank Blonicle, treasurer.

Baraboo—Mrs. Victoria Hawley is seriously ill in this city and it is feared that she will not recover. Mrs. Hawley was the first white child born in Madison and the first white settler in Baraboo. She was born in 1837.

Marinette—Charles Hawn, the ninth member of the Sizer G. A. R. post this year, and the third within a week, is dead. Death occurred at Rochester, Minn., where he went for an operation.

Green Bay—Specialists have pronounced as hopeless efforts to save the life of the Rev. Father Leo A. Ricklin, Catholic cleric. He is suffering from hemorrhage of the brain.

PENINSULA BRIEFS

Calumet—Marquette Division No. 4, Ancient Order of Hibernians, and the ladies' auxiliary of the order, have made preparations for the observance of St. Patrick's day. Judge Patrick H. O'Brien of Houghton will be the principal speaker at the program in the evening, to be given in the Baraga school auditorium.

Houghton—At the annual meeting of the Houghton County Potato Growers' association the old officers were again elected as follows: President, J. G. Bertrand, Sr.; vice president, E. V. Bennison; secretary-treasurer, John G. Stone.

Negaunee—The employes of the Cambria and Hartford mines of the Republic Iron & Steel company will be paid Saturday.

Ishpeming—If Zenith lodge, Knights of Pythias, can raise a sufficient fund, a new building will be erected on the site recently purchased on Division street, instead of remodeling the present building.

Calumet—Because of the present crowded condition of the Calumet high school and the limited accommodations, the Calumet board has requested Osceola township to make some other provision for its high school pupils.

Houghton—The Copper Country Commercial club has started an inquiry into telephone rates in Marquette and Houghton counties. The fees charged in both counties will be compared, and it is the hope of members of the club lower rates will be the outcome.

Menominee—John L. Silvernale has been reappointed superintendent of the Menominee schools, with an increase of $200 in his salary.

Hancock—Mrs. Leo Ebertoski, aged 37, died March 10 of complications developing an operation at St. Joseph's hospital several weeks ago. Mrs. Ebertoski is survived by her mother, two brothers and two sisters, besides the husband and three children. The body was shipped to Escanaba and the funeral held there.

Houghton—Ceasare Luchessi, treasurer of Adams township, has made his annual return to County Treasurer Bram. Of a total roll of $144,088.18, his delinquent list amounted to $624.03. Treasurer Charles J. Beck, Jr., of Duncan township, returned $9,868.49 delinquent out of a total roll of $34,547.30.

DAKOTA BRIEFS

Minot, N. D.—Verne, the 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Johnson, while racing with one of his young companions on a tricycle, fell off, plunging head first into the curbing and cutting an ugly gash across his lip.

Devils Lake, N. D.—Architect J. A. Shannon has returned from Rolette, where he was called to inspect the ruins of the high school building destroyed by fire. The school board has fully decided to build as soon as possible and has employed Mr. Shannon to prepare plans and specifications for the work. The board plans on a $16,000, eight-room building of pressed brick.

Grand Forks, N. D.—Ole K. Kvaseger, a prominent farmer of Walle township, died March 9 as a result of kidney trouble. Mr. Kvaseger was 53 years of age. He was born in Minnesota in Fillmore county. Mr. Kvaseger is survived by a wife and four boys, Knute, Halvor, Ole and Bert. All the boys are now at home.

Bismarck, N. D.—According to the crop report for North Dakota and the United States prepared by the department of agriculture in co-operation with the weather bureau, the state had an estimate of 15,500,000 bushels of wheat on its farms on March 1, 1915.

Grand Forks, N. D.—The work of removing the damaged iron work of the center span of the De Mers avenue bridge is nearly completed and the Grand Forks Concrete company, which has the contract for the new span, hopes to have the old supports entirely cleared away by the time the piles for the new arch reach this city.

Fargo, N. D.—The funeral of Tom L. Sykes was held from the home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Dean G. De Witt Dowling of Gethsemane cathedral officiated. Interment was made in the receiving vaults at Riverside cemetery. The Fargo foundry, of which Mr. Sykes was vice president and general manager, closed all day Thursday as a mark of respect.

New Leipzig, N. D.—The schoolhouse here was totally destroyed by fire, at a loss of $6,000, with an insurance of $4,000. The cause of the fire was probably from a defective flue.

Grafton, N. D.—Postmaster Foley has taken full charge of the office, succeeding Bert Grover, who has been postmaster of Grafton for four years. Mr. Foley was President Wilson's choice for the position.

MINNESOTA BRIEFS

Crookston—F. R. Crane, the special agricultural man for the Great Northern, who owns a farm west of the city on the south side of the river, which he has operated personally, has consolidated his farm with that of Walter F. Banks, and the two farms in future will be operated under the direction of Mr. Banks.

Hinckley—The general store owned by Noble & Lyon was sold to Mr. Seigel of Merriam Park, St. Paul, who will take charge the fifth of April.

Ericsburg—At this place election day, the chief interest centered in the wet and dry vote, the result being 37 to 11 in favor of the drys, which will put out of business their one saloon, which is operated by Gus Franson.

Crookston—Graham and Will Munch are the new proprietors of the Lyric theater. The negotiations between them and Simmons & Snyder, which have been in progress for several years, resulted in the purchase of the Lyric outright by the Munch brothers.

Little Falls—Motley village and town both changed from the "wet" column to the "dry" at Tuesday's election, Randall remaining "wet." Motley village voted against the saloons by a count of 55 to 45, Motley town by 65 to 50, while Randall remains "wet" by 43 to 23.

Sauk Rapids—Mayor James Misho was re-elected Tuesday at an election at which there were more tickets in evidence than offices to be filled.

Hawley—At Tuesday's election, 171 votes were cast, the largest number in several years. William Ritteman was elected mayor, defeating H. F. Mensing by a majority of eight votes. The following officers were chosen: Mayor, William Ritteman; trustees, Carl Thysell, William Turkington, W. E. Mack; recorder, J. E. Johnson; treasurer, E. O. Slordal; assessor, Thomas Awrey.

Halstad—The Halstad Co-Operative Creamery company has been organized under the name of Halstad Creamery company. The old debts have been paid off. The following officers have been elected: President, John Herren; secretary-treasurer, James Larsen; directors, Joseph A. Houske, George Henderson and Swen Forseth.

Grand Marais—Examinations for state fire patrolmen will be held in Grand Marais Saturday, March 13. Hans Kasper will have charge of the examinations.

Fertile—At a special election held here the proposition to issue bonds and build a $30,000 school house was carried by a vote of 183 to 21.

Moorhead—Mrs. E. B. Kelling has resigned as postmistress at Borup, which position she has held for several years, and expects to move West. Under the civil service rules, the vacancy will be filled as the result of an examination which will be held in Moorhead, March 27.

Minneapolis—Jojnch Wyngizoen, a laborer, dropped dead March 10 as he left his home, 1508 Third street South, to go to work. He was 45 years of age and had no family nor any relatives in Minneapolis.

New York Mills—The Northern Pacific pump house caught fire early March 10 from a defective chimney. There was 400 gallons of gasoline in the building. The loss was small.

St. Cloud—The statement of the five St. Cloud banks, as called for by the state and national government at the close of business on March 4, are most encouraging. They have on deposit over $3,500,000.

5 Women Avoid Operations

For years we have been stating in the newspapers of the country that a great many women have escaped serious operations by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it is true.

We are permitted to publish in this announcement extracts from the letters of five women. All have been recently received unsolicited. Could any evidence be more convincing?

1. Hodgdon, Me.—"I had pains in both sides and such a soreness I could scarcely straighten up at times. My back ached and I was so nervous I could not sleep, and I thought I never would be any better until I submitted to an operation, but I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and soon felt like a new woman."—Mrs. Hayward Sowers, Hodgdon, Me.

2. Shelbyville, Ky.—"I suffered from a severe female trouble. My right side hurt me badly—it was finally decided that I must be operated upon. When my husband learned this he got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for me, and after taking it a few days I got better and continued to improve until I am now well."—Mrs. Mollie Smith, R.F.D., Shelbyville, Ky.

3. Hanover, Pa.—"The doctor advised a severe operation, but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it."—Mrs. Ada Wilt, 303 Walnut St., Hanover, Pa.

4. Decatur, Ill.—"I was sick in bed and three of the best physicians said I would have to be taken to the hospital for an operation as I had something growing in my left side. I refused to submit to the operation and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and it worked a miracle in my case, and I tell other women what it has done for me."—Mrs. Laura A. Griswold, 2437 East William Street, Decatur, Ill.

5. Cleveland, Ohio.—"I was very irregular and for several years my side pained me so that I expected to have to undergo an operation. Doctors said they knew of nothing that would help me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I became regular and free from pain. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."—Mrs. C. H. Wrestling Boxing

BY BRUCE.

CHICAGO is laboring and perspiring in the effort to muster sentiment to the front for the passage of the ten-round boxing bill.

The Sportsmen's club of Chicago is one of the largest athletic organizations extant. Its members are working with Trojan-like activity to have the boxing bill receive sweet and courteous treatment at the timid and hesitating hands of the solons sojourning at Springfield.

Today Chicago is the greatest sporting city in the world. This statement may sound highly humorous and tinted with half lights of fiction—but nevertheless it stands and shouts defiance forth.

New York plumes itself as the center of all that is great and good and progressive. The fans of Gotham have often believed that boxing received patronage nowhere else in the country as in the various boxing arenas of the metropolis. Such is not the case.

San Francisco has drawn greater houses on the average and Milwaukee has nearly topped the greatest house New York has turned out in recent years. Chicago supplies the larger number of fans to the Milwaukee bouts; a fairly large number of bugs from Chi run down to New York to some of the large bouts, and all of the Wisconsin towns within a reasonable radius of the Windy City depend upon the specials from the big town to fill their clubs.

If a ten-round fight bill were passed in Illinois, Chicago, that sickened of the fight game after the notorious fake between Gans and McGovern, would be the greatest center in the universe of the mitt game.

It might be mentioned that fifty-two clubs of Chicago, combining with the Sportsmen's club, are endeavoring to have the bill up in the Illinois legislature amended to permit of a decision being given.

It is claimed by the followers of the game that no-decision contests lead to stalling upon the part of the boxers, for the simple reason that in the record books no clear indication can be gleaned as to which man had the better of the going. In other words those working for the passage of a boxing bill in Illinois hold that there is no great incentive to win in the decisionless contest.

Looking over the present-day records of many so-called prominent boxers, surely bears this contention out. The records of some of the boys are crammed with no-decision results. The boxer can go to a town and claim he won by a mile; the other guy can travel to some other city and build bright young claims to the same flowery end.

New Jersey has a bill that has been passed up to the governor. Louisiana has passed a boxing law. In Wisconsin and New York the proper sort of supervision of the game has resulted in satisfactory bouts. Should the followers of the sport in Illinois succeed in passing a boxing law—and should the law be one that permitted decisions—the glove game as a sport will speedily reach the greatest heights of its popularity in the United States.

Watson and Ray Temple.

MIKE COLLINS has Red Watson and Ray Temple on the program of his club for the evening of March 23. The meeting will be one of the ancient entanglements—that of a boxer and a fighter.

It is peculiar the way the dope often runs. Watson beat Bud Anderson and Bud Anderson stopped Joe Mandot cold. Temple beat Mandot when the Southern boxer was in the height of his prime, and yet, precisely speaking, neither Watson nor Temple is at the present time considered as lightweight champion contenders.

Back in the days when he was mounting the lightweight ladder and cutting a wide shining swath with the gloves, Temple was accounted, and quite justly so, as perhaps the greatest contender for the crown. He steamed into Memphis one bright evening and proceeded to hand out a neat lacing to the French Market boy of New Orleans. It was then that glowing predictions appeared in the leading papers of the land concerning the pugilistic future of the then Milwaukee battler.

But on the heels of golden success, that whimsical creature, came the fall of Temple. Pugilistically speaking, he sank to the low levels of black oblivion. They do say boxers never come back. Temple is sure making one heroic attempt to grasp the top rung of the ladder with hands, possibly somewhat worn with the strife of the battle, and pull himself to the narrow shelf of supremacy.

If this clever, ring-brainy lad comes through with a decisive win over Watson, his comeback will be both complete and emphatic.

If Watson hits Ray—well, what's the use of speculating upon a holocaust?

Watson stopped the ox-like Bud Anderson with one of those vicious rights of his—and Anderson, accounted as the coming champion, the boy who stopped Mandot, was considered quite impregnable to punishment.

Watson and Temple have accomplished some ring feats of record—and yet the critics of the game refuse to turn the spotlight on them.

CENTRAL GAME IS POSTPONED

Duluth Quint Will Cross Bay for Desperate Clash Saturday.

The basket ball game to have been played this evening between the Central high school teams of Duluth and Superior has been postponed until tomorrow night. Announcement to this effect was made yesterday. The Superior management was unable to secure the gymnasium because arrangements for its being used this evening for another purpose were made some time ago. Consequently the game had to be put off. The two rival teams will not be kept apart very long, however, for they will clash in the Superior gymnasium tomorrow night.

Eager For the Fray.

This game has been looked forward to with much enthusiasm by both institutions. Keen rivalry exists between the two schools, and the students among the crowds at the games are never backward about expressing it. Large crowds from each school feature contests and it is expected that tomorrow night's game will be no exception. A large crowd from Duluth will attend, to say nothing of what Superior will turn out. Efforts are being made to secure a special car, to carry over in a body some of the Duluth rooters. Enthusiasm is at a height among pupils of both schools. The chapel exercises at Central this morning were marked by songs and yells to cheer on the team.

Coach Schneider's superior aggregation has improved wonderfully since they sustained a defeat at the hands of Duluth Central on the local floor, Feb. 12, by the score of 32 to 7. They will have the added advantage of playing on their own floor, where they have proved almost invincible this season. The Superior team is to represent Northern Wisconsin at the Badger state championship tournament.

Superior Has Advantage.

The Duluth men appreciate their rivals' advantages. The Red and White warriors, therefore, are taking no chances, and they have been put through strenuous practice all week under careful supervision of Coach Glyer, in preparation for the pending contest. This game marks the close of the Duluth team's schedule. The members of the team as well as the students intend to make the concluding contest a gala afair and a whirlwind victory.

Line-up of Two Teams.

The line-ups of the two teams will be as follows:

Duluth—		Superior—
Scrivens	f.	(Capt.) Bradley
Karon	f.	Holstrom
Moore	c.	Nelson
Taylor	g.	Moore
Solheim (Capt.)	g.	Fowler

CRACK QUINTS READY FOR CLASH

Central "Gym" and Superior Y. M. E. A. Teams Will Stage Game.

Now that the Duluth-Superior high school game is off until tomorrow night, the attention of the basket ball enthusiasts of Central high school has turned for this evening to the contest between the local "gym" class team and the crack aggregation of stars who make up the fast Y. M. E. A. quint of Superior. This contest has been arranged as a result of the "gym" team claiming the Northwestern Intermediate basket ball championship. The local team will be somewhat outweighed, but they expect to make up for this by their speed and teamwork. The Y. M. E. A. team is about the pick of its class from across the bay. The "gym" team has long since demonstrated the fact that they are by far the best in their class on this side of the pond. The game, therefore, should be a "corker" and one which will bring out some fast and sensational playing. A large crowd of Superior supporters will come over to help their team along and the local crowd will certainly not be a small one.

What will undoubtedly prove to be as interesting and exciting as the main affair is the game that has been arranged for between halves. The Central high school girls team is to play the best collection of feminine basket ball players that Two Harbors can muster together. The Duluth team has not been defeated yet this year, and believes that they will be able to keep up their record tonight. The Two Harbors girls claim to have a good team also, and they will probably prove to be about the only team that has been able to give the Duluth girls a hard game this year.

The games will be played in the Central high gymnasium on Lake avenue and the first one will commence at 8 o'clock.

DEFEATS HIS CONQUEROR

Freddie Welsh Out-Fought and Out-Pointed By Willie Ritchie.

Former Lightweight Champion Makes Title Holder Look Like Novice.

New York, March 12.—Willie Ritchie of San Francisco, former world's champion lightweight, outfought and outpointed Freddie Welsh of England in every round of a fast 10-round bout here last night.

All through the fight Ritchie did the forcing, while Welsh spoiled some of his good work by holding in several rounds. The champion's showing was very disappointing to his many followers, who, confident of his ability to repeat his two previous victories over Ritchie, bet freely at odds of 7 to 5 on the Englishman.

Ritchie at no time during the bout gave his backers room for any doubts of his being able to more than hold his own. He rushed Welsh all over the ring, sending lefts and rights to the head and body, the body punishment being the more severe.

In the opening round the blows that Ritchie landed did not seem to have much sting to them. In the second round Ritchie stepped into a hard right upper cut. After that he forced the pace, but the Englishman failed to open up.

Carries the Fight.

In the third Ritchie did nearly all the work, landing a right drive over Welsh's heart and a right cross to the jaw. Welsh kept ducking away, but Ritchie landed a straight left to the face, followed by two short right uppercuts.

Welsh's clever foot work enabled him to avoid a good deal of punishment in the fifth, and in the sixth the Britisher showed to better advantage, as he landed on the body and head several times. He failed, however, to take the lead away from the Californian.

Ritchie drove rights and lefts to the body in the seventh and Welsh kept dancing away. The spectators hooted the champion. In the eighth Ritchie forced Welsh into a corner and hooked a hard left to the jaw, then crossed his right to the head and drove the same glove to the body. Both were playing for the body with fair effect.

Ritchie kept up the same rushing work in the ninth and tenth rounds, carrying the fight to the champion all the way. Neither man showed any marks at the bell.

At 2 o'clock yesterday both fighters weighed under 135 pounds, according to agreement, and the ringside weights showed that neither had gained more than a pound since that time.

BASEBALL

Macon, Ga., March 12.—William Martin, infielder of the Boston Nationals, broke his right ankle while practicing here yesterday. Manager Stallings said Martin would be sent to his home at Washington.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 12.—The Chicago Americans defeated the Los Angeles Coast leaguers in the first game of the second exhibition series yesterday, 7 to 2. Eddie Collins duplicated his recent feat of getting four hits in four times up.

Tampa, Fla., March 12.—The Chicago Nationals made it three straight from the Philadelphia Americans here yesterday by taking the final game of the exhibition series, 5 to 4.

BILLIARDS

Philadelphia, March 12.—Joseph Mayer of Philadelphia and J. F. Poggenburg of New York won their matches yesterday in the class A amateur billiard tournament and will meet each other today for the national championship. Mayer last night defeated E. W. Gardner of New York, the title holder, 400 to 380, while Poggenburg took the afternoon game from R. N. Lord, Chicago, 400 to 390.

Chicago, March 12.—John Daly of New York met his first defeat in the world's championship three-cushion billiard tournament last night when he lost his game to George Moore, also of New York, 50 to 45, in eighty-two innings. Moore's high run was 5, Daly's 7. Last night's victory gives Moore three winnings and one defeat.

Joe Capron of St. Paul defeated the champion, Alfred De Oro of New York city, 50 to 47, in sixty-four innings. Capron had a high run of 6 and De Oro of 5.

Chicago, March 12.—Charles Ellis, leader in the interstate three-cushion league contest, defeated John Hahman of Minneapolis in the world's championship billiard match yesterday, 50 to 40, in sixty-nine innings. The high run of each was 4.

August Kleckhefer of Milwaukee defeated Jess Lean, 50 to 48, in seventy-seven innings. His high run was 6, Lean's 4.

SUPERIOR CLUB MAY BE TRANSFERRED TODAY.

W. J. Sommer, president of the Superior baseball team, is in Minneapolis today, where it is expected all details of the transaction whereby the club will be turned over to Mr. Steece of that city, will be completed.

According to advance predications, all of the details will be completed some time today.

ROTARY QUINT IS A WINNER

Lawrence Duby's Rotary basket ball team last night defeated the Two Harbors quint by the score of 43 to 30. The Duluth boys put up an excellent game from start to finish and had it on their opponents all the way through. Several star plays were made by the Rotarians, Harris being one of the stars.

Negotiations looking to a game with Virginia are being carried on.

CHAMPION BEATEN BY WILLIE RITCHIE

FREDDY WELSH.

DULUTH LIKES MEYERS, BUT---

Joe Killian Said to Want Something Like $1,200 for Catcher.

The Duluth Baseball club needs a catcher. Unless some solution of the tangle that has resulted in the negotiations with the "mystery" is reached, it was announced today that the management would go upon the public marts and hunt for a receiver.

Meyers of Winona is wanted here. But in connection with Meyers, generally considered the sweetest baby in the Northern last year, there hangs one of those tale things.

It has leaked out that during most of the time he was managing the Winona club, Joe Killian never received a centime of salary. Why and how such a condition could exist, runs with an identification tag mark. But Laird of the Winona club is said to be sponsor for the statement.

In lieu of the golden sheckles, Joe agreed to take Catcher Meyers from the club that was chucked out of the Burmeister circuit. It is stated on semi-official terms that Winona owed Joseph $1,200. Club owners contemplating longingly on securing the services of Meyers, stop, look and listen, when it is considered that Killian might wish to do a stroke of business and ask even more than $1,200 for Meyers.

American Association—Yes?

Naturally, Joe Killian, lacking those finer shades of sentiment, might care not where he found a market for the services of the star minor league receiver; but there is rumor going around in a convalescent state, which reporteth that Joe is dickering with the owners of several American association teams in the effort to collect some real dough for his back salary investment.

Meyers would look sweet here—but there is the money obstacle. Think of $1,200 to pay for a Northern league player for a Northern league team. Ouch! Give us another film.

BEMIDJI TEAM BEATS LITTLE FALLS

Eliminates Latter From Basket Ball Championship Contest—Close Score.

Little Falls, Minn., March 12.—The fast Bemidji high school team cleaned up Little Falls here last night in one of the most interesting games of basket ball ever witnessed in this city. The score was 29 to 25.

This victory eliminates Little Falls from the interscholastic tournament which will be held on the Carleton college floor in Northfield next week, and places the victorious quint from the Indian country in line for the state championship.

Bemidji high has a clean record, having won every game it has played this season.

At the end of the first half last night the score stood 19 to 17. Little Falls made a red-hot spurt to overcome this lead, but Bemidji gradually walked away from the home team.

JOE MANDOT AND MURPHY MATCHED.

Chicago, March 12.—Joe Mandot of New Orleans and Harlem Tommy Murphy of New York were matched yesterday in New Orleans to fight twenty rounds in that city March 29, according to an announcement here. Both men are lightweights.

Go to Church Sunday.

Remember the date, March 14.

WEATHER IS THE RULER

No More Hockey Games Unless the Thermometer Drops.

At Winnipeg last night the Melville, Sask., hockey team defeated the Monarchs of Winnipeg in the first of the Allan cup series by the score of 4 to 3. The deciding games for the cup are played in a series and the total score counts.

Whether the winners of the Allen cup will be brought here for a series of games with the curling club team depends largely on weather conditions. As the matter now stands, the weather man is the chief arbiter.

A wire has been sent to the American Soo team manager, informing him that nothing definite can be offered until there is a drop in the thermometer. Nothing definite has been received from the management of the Toronto Vics.

Right now it looks little like hockey. There may be a cold spell, however, which will mean at least two more games. All of the members of the team are keeping in good condition. Wellington is said to be doing his training at Port Arthur. If some strong team comes here for the final game, the Duke will probably come down to lend a husky hockey hand.

BOXERS OFFER TO PLEAD FOR A LAW.

Chicago, March 12.—Local fighters, managers and others interested in the passage of a bill to legalize boxing in Illinois yesterday sanctioned the plan of the Sportsmen's Club of America, which has called a meeting for Sunday to select a committee to go to Springfield to show the senators and representatives that boxing can be conducted as successfully in this state as in Wisconsin and New York.

Fight managers identified with the game for years will attend the meeting to offer suggestions. Jimmy Clabby, Eddie McGoorty and Charley White have volunteered to go to Springfield to box in a tournament which is being arranged by Representative Eddie Santry, former lightweight boxer.

Santry is said to be planning to put on a show at the capital for the benefit of the lawmakers. He believes that those opposed to boxing might change their views after seeing a series of bouts between clever fighters.

COLUMBIAS WIN.

Phoenix Basket Ball Team Defeated By Score of 49 to 13.

The Columbias defeated the strong Phoenix basket ball team last night at the boys' department, Y. M. C. A., gym floor. The final score was 49 to 13. The was very fast, but rough at times. The feature of the game was the all-around playing of the winners. The Columbias would like to arrange a game with the Woodlands for next week. A game can be arranged by calling Frank Hillman, care of the Columbia store. The lineup:

Phoenix—		Columbias—
Killeen	f.	J. Oswald
Gallagher	f.	Grohman
McIsaac		Kasimer
Ryan	g.	L. Oswald, Hillman
McDonald	g.	Fishman

Racing Bill Killed.

Salt Lake City, Utah, March 12.—A bill, the purpose of which was to reestablish racing in Utah, was killed in the lower house of the general assembly last night by a vote of 23 to 18. The bill provided for a state racing commission and would have permitted the pari-mutuel betting system.

Willard Off to Havana.

El Paso, Tex., March 12.—Jess Willard and his manager left yesterday for Havana, where Jack Johnson is waiting to meet Willard. This was taken as indicating that the financial arrangements for the battle had been arranged satisfactorily.

Is a Powerful Influence in Blood

Works With a Definite Purpose and Is a Known Antidote.

There are some things in medicine that are certain and definite. They do the work. S. S. S. is one of these reliables and is a known antidote for all blood troubles. More than that, it is harmless, for it does not hurt the stomach, does not affect the bones and joints, nor does it alter the integrity of the nerves and spine. But it does sweep through the blood, a powerful, searching, cleansing influence, remarkable for results and a tremendous relief to those who suffer the humiliation of skin eruptions.

Nearly all sickness is due to sluggish blood. And if you let S. S. S. bathe your system with its wonderful influence your nervous troubles, your wan, weary, faded, listless, lifeless body will revive and become so renewed with the sense of enjoyable health you will scarcely know yourself. Try S. S. S. today. Get a bottle at any drug store. It will put you on your feet; keep you going all day and enable you to sleep sound and restful. S. S. S. is not a "dope," not a physic, but a fine, bracing, purifying medicine that is sure to do you a world of good.

It is just what you need. S. S. S. is prepared by The Swift Specific Co., 60 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., and if you are troubled with any stubborn blood disease their medical department will guide you safely to health. Write them.

NEW COACHING LAUNCH FOR DULUTH BOAT CLUB

Julius H. Barnes Orders Construction of Speedy Craft of Latest Design.

Applications for National Regatta Will Be Passed on March 20.

This looks like a great year for the Duluth Boat club crews in more ways than one. Final arrangements were completed yesterday whereby the rowing department is to be given a new coaching launch of the latest type; one that can travel faster than any launch in the harbor, and one that kicks up little wash and will thus enable Jimmy Ten Eyck to get in close touch (mild joke) with his men.

Arrangements have been completed with Dingle, the Minneapolis builder, for the construction of the new boat. It will be equipped with a Sterling engine and will be patterned after the coaching launches used by the big rowing coaches of the East—only that it will be more up-to-date, will have some original designs, and will be one of the fastest crafts in this section of the country.

"Mr. Barnes is of the opinion that we are going to have some fast crews this season," said Ten Eyck today, "and for that reason he determined to order a fast launch to keep up with the boys. The new launch will prove a great help and will fill a long felt need."

New Eight Ordered.

In addition to the new coaching launch, which is to cost several thousands of dollars, there will be a new eight. The new eight is in addition to the new boats now under construction, an eight, four and quadruple four. This will give the boat club, in addition to the new launch, two new eights, a new four and a new quadruple four. Only one new four has been ordered.

The liberality of Julius H. Barnes to the Duluth Boat club in the past has been lavish, but this season he is outdoing all past performances. In all, Mr. Barnes has donated to the club four new shells of the very latest make and a coaching launch. Before the donations upon the part of "Duluth's leading citizen," the Duluth Boat club was considered the best equipped rowing club in the entire country. With four new racing shells of the very latest design and combining some unique ideas in boat building, the Duluth Boat club today stands unrivaled in the quality of its oarsmen and in the size and quality of its boats.

Regarding the National.

Applications of various rowing clubs for the privilege of securing the big national regatta will be passed upon in New York city on March 20. No word has as yet been received from the Winnipeg Rowing club as to its intentions for the coming season. Kenora and St. Paul have written that they will cooperate with Duluth to make the big national rowing contest a success, if the local club secures it, but the Winnipeg rowing officials are extremely reticent regarding their plans for the coming season.

Ray Higgins has written to Mr. Barnes, outlining the details of the situation. Later developments may determine whether the Duluth Boat club will make an effort to bring the national here.

CHICAGO MAKES BID FOR THE 1916 OLYMPIC GAMES

Chicago, March 12.—Chicago is in the field for the Olympic games of 1916. With the possibility of staging the world's athletic championships in Berlin becoming more remote every day, the Sportsmen's Club of America took steps yesterday to push the candidacy of this city for the famous classic.

The plan proposed is this: Draft an appeal to the international Olympic committee setting forth the admirable geographic location of Chicago and ideal local conditions for staging a meet of the magnitude of the Olympic games. Attach to this a monster petition signed by the members of the allied athletic clubs. Then send the application and petition to Frederick W. Rubien of New York, American delegate to the international committee.

After Other Meets.

Should the Olympic be awarded to this city it is also proposed to secure the Harmsworth trophy races, the world's power boat classic and the international rowing regatta. Mayor Harrison will be asked to lend weight to the petition by placing his signature at the top of the list.

Paris, March 12.—According to the Auto, the Olympic games committee has reached no decision regarding where the games shall be held for the reason that it has no authority to do so under the rules which govern its operations. A report from Stockholm yesterday quoted the president of the committee as authority for the statement that Germany is preparing to hold the games in Berlin in 1916, for representatives of her allies and of neutral countries.

Count Clary, president of the French committee, expressed the belief yesterday that no games would be held in Germany in 1916 and he believed the next meeting would be postponed until 1920.

Not Wanted in United States.

New York, March 12.—Frederick W. Rubien, secretary-treasurer of the Amateur Athletic union, said last night:

"If the Olympic games for 1916, originally planned for decision in Berlin, are to be held in the United States next year, we know nothing about the matter and do not want them."

CURLING

Bad ice caused the postponement of the games scheduled in the Manley-McLennan curling event last evening. Until there is some improvement in the sheets it is not likely that games in this event will be played off. All of the games of last evening were in the "Blaze o' Glory." All of the games in tonight's draw are also in that event.

The results and tonight's draw follow:

Dr. Catterson, 10; F. G. German, 6.
Dr. Gillespie, 12; Bob Dunlop, 8.
Ron Smith, 7; W. E. McLeod, 4.
H. C. Matzke, 11; C. Dreisbach, 6.
P. Heimick, 12; James Elder, 11.

TONIGHT'S DRAW.

"Blaze o' Glory" Event.

F. Falk vs. P. Harbison.
Dr. Gillespie vs. F. Fregeau.
F. Hargreaves vs. H. Ketchum.
C. D. Brewer vs. S. L. Reichert.
A. J. Butchard vs. A. Hoene.
Laird Goodman vs. G. P. Stillman.
E. E. Burns vs. Ray Coson.
M. Kelly vs. Don McLennan.
D. Duncan vs. Bert Gravatt.
Ed Furni vs. T. F. McGilvray.

STILL HOLD ALLEYS.

Peoria and Springfield Men Only Ones in Bowling Congress So Far.

Peoria, Ill., March 12.—Sixty-four men in the individuals, twenty-eight two-men teams and twenty-eight five-men teams will hold the alleys when the third day's session of the American Bowling congress opens here this afternoon. All of the bowlers who will compete for honors today are from Springfield, Ill., and Peoria.

The Leisy, Jr., team No. 4 of Peoria is leading in the five-men event with a score of 2,496. J. Minton and R. McClure, Peoria, are leading in the doubles with 1,069, and F. Dunne, Peoria, heads the singles with a score of 588.

Saturday, teams from Chicago, St. Louis and cities in Illinois and Indiana will appear for the first time at the tournament.

The Sunday session is scheduled to start early in the morning, and teams from Detroit and Indianapolis will take their first whirl on the alleys.

CLEVELAND MAY YET PLAY SOO SEVEN.

Calumet, Mich., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Cleveland Athletic club has reopened negotiations for playing championship hockey games here with the Soo team, which Cleveland refused early this week to play. March 15 and 16 are set for playing the games.

NORTHLAND TEAM HERE.

Ashland Basket Ball Players Ready for Cathedral Game.

The strong Northland college quint arrived today to take the measure of the fast Cathedral team. The Ashland boys are in the pink of perfection for the game and their optimistic views of success have them keyed up to a high pitch of jubilation.

The Fourth street boys, although not so joyful, are filled with grim determination to pull down the elated spirits of the Wisconsinites and thus be conceded the honors of being the first team to defeat the college boys.

The game without doubt will be a thriller from beginning to end and some class in the art of basket ball may be expected by the loyal supporters of the home team.

OLYMPIC GAMES NOT COMING TO U. S.

Paris, March 12.—"In well-informed sporting circles," says the Havas agency, "it is said that the Olympic games will not be held in the United States, despite the report to the contrary. The neutral nations, in accord with President Podobiensky of the German Olympic committee, have decided that the games will be held in Berlin as agreed upon before the war, despite the protestations of Baron De Coubertin and Count Clary of the French Olympic committee.

"It is unnecessary to add if the Olympic games are held in Berlin that England, Russia and France will not take part in them. Inquiry at Lyons fails to confirm the report of a meeting having been held there by the Olympic games committee at which it was decided to hold the games in the United States."

SUFFERING AND EXILE

Fifty Thousand People Are Destitute and Homeless in Persia.

Driven Out of Country in Fear of Being Massacred.

New York, March 12.—The horrors of the great war have now brought suffering and exile to more than 50,000 offenseless Christian people in Northwestern Persia, according to a statement given out by a newly organized Persian war relief committee. The invasion of Persia and the capture by Turks and Kurds of the cities of Urumia, Tabriz and other cities which had been held by Russian troops drove the Assyrian and Armenian people, in fear of massacre, either out of the country into Russia or into the American missionary compounds in Urumia and Tabriz. The flight from Urumia began at midnight on Jan. 2, the people having only a few moments' notice of the approach of the Kurds and the need of flight. Rev. J. D. Barnard, a missionary of the Archbishop of Canterbury's mission of the Church of England, who left Urumia with the refugees in view of the approach of the Turkish troops, writes: "Practically the entire Christian population of the Urumia plain and neighboring districts were in flight as we left. As far as the eye could reach in both directions was a constant stream of refugees, sometimes so dense that the road was blocked. It was a dreadful sight, and one I never want to see again. Many old people and children died on the way."

Journey in Depth of Winter.

Most of the refugees who fled to Russia made their way to the city of Tiflis. The long journey of the thousands of fleeing people was made from Urumia in the depth of winter with no provision for the journey, afoot through snow and rain and cold. One of the refugees, John Mooshie, a naturalized American citizen and superintendent of the day schools in the Urumia plain, writes from Tiflis: "During the ten days' journey we have witnessed a long chain of men, women and children from Urumia to Djoulfa, most of them walking in cold and mud, without food or shelter. We have seen many women and children dead on the way, as they could not endure cold and fatigue. The Christian inhabitants of Tabriz and Salmas have left, except those in Tabriz who are protected by the American consul."

From Tabriz, Rev. Frederick N. Jessup writes: "Everyone is seeking shelter with us, French, Belgian, Swede, Austrian, German, Turkish, Armenian and even Moslems. The Armenians are in great terror and everyone dreads the Kurds and their coming. We have been advised by our consul to withdraw from our other properties and to concentrate here in the school compound. We have permission to receive Europeans and our own people among the natives. For two days refugees have been coming in. All our school buildings are given over to them. All benches have been taken out and people are coming all day long bringing rugs, provisions and bedding. Some refugees from Maragha have absolutely nothing. Some have walked the 50 or 60 miles in the winter cold and blizzard leaving everything, leading or carrying children."

Aid Much Needed.

The American consul in Tabriz, Gordon Paddock, cables:

"Appeal to Red Cross and friends. Telegraph money to aid many thousand destitute refugees."

The American consul at Tiflis cables: "Fifteen thousand Persian Christian refugees in the Caucasus. Local authorities doing their best, but funds are needed to return them home. Fourteen thousand refugees on the mission premises at Urumia destitute. Fifty thousand dollars urgently needed. Telegraph funds to Tabriz."

For over seventy-five years American Christians have carried on missionary work among these people in Northwestern Persia, and for the last generation Anglican missionaries from England and Roman Catholic missionaries from France have worked among them. The disaster which has now fallen upon the people falls upon them all indiscriminately and includes many Moslems that have been subjected to the same hardships and loss as their Christian neighbors. Relief funds will be distributed wherever there is greatest need without regard to sect or nationality.

The American missionaries of Northwestern Persia are all at their posts and have filled their compounds and buildings with refugees. A relief committee has been organized in Tabriz under the American consul and W. S. Vanneman, M. D.; Rev. Robert M. Labaree of Tabriz has gone to Tiflis to work with a local committee of leading native Christians. Relief in Tiflis will be supervised by this committee, Mr. Labaree and the American consul.

Homeless and Destitute.

Of all those throughout the world who are suffering on account of the war, none have suffered more or in greater innocence than those thousands of poor people, who have been driven from their homes in the depth of winter and left homeless and destitute. They must be cared for in the cities to which they have fled, and now that the Turks and Kurds appear to be withdrawing from Persia must be returned to their destroyed homes and enabled to re-establish themselves. The need is urgent and appalling, but the amount needed is not unlimited; a hundred thousand dollars will meet the pressing immediate need.

An American committee with Robert E. Speer, chairman, will be responsible for the prompt forwarding and distribution of the funds. Six thousand dollars have already been forwarded from the Red Cross and from the missionary societies, and Dr. Vanneman has cabled acknowledging the receipt of this amount and stating that $10,000 had already been expended and that relief would be required for several months. Any foreign mission board will forward to the committee any funds designated for "Persian war relief."

ONE OF LARGEST OF CLASS IN WORLD

Ship William P. Frye Pride of American Sailing Fleet.

Washington, March 12.—Destruction of the ship William P. Frye by the German commerce destroyer Prinz Eitel Friedrich struck from marine lists the pride of the American sailing fleet in point of size and equipment, and one of the largest square-rigged craft in the world. Her loss falls not upon an emotionless corporation, but upon individual members or connections of the Sewall family, famous among New England shipbuilders and owners since the days when American clipper ships carried commerce of the world in all the seven seas and fought the losing battle against steam craft that ended American maritime prestige.

The Frye was built in Bath, Me., and granted registry in 1901, with thirty-eight individuals, six of whom are women, appearing as joint owners. That ownership has never changed and those who hold allotments of the 128 shares into which the venture was divided are scattered from the Atlantic to the Pacific coasts. The ship was named after the late Senator Frye of Maine and to the day of his death was a source of pride to the senator. It is recorded that he declared himself more honored in having his name upon the stern of an American-built, owned and operated sailing vessel than if the fleetest of Atlantic steam liners had borne it.

The Frye was a sister ship to the Star of Lapland, also built at Bath and, because of a minor difference in the size of a deckhouse of the latter, was seven tons smaller in measurements, the Lapland leading American sailing ships with 3,381 gross tons against 3,374 recorded for the Frye. Of the 128 ownership shares in the Frye, only half a dozen persons hold more than one or two shares apiece.

ECONOMY TALKED TO BERLIN WOMEN

Ways and Means Are Discussed By Leading Physicians.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Feb. 15.—Berlin is the scene at this time of numerous meetings, largely attended by women of every class, at which ways and means of more economical living are discussed by prominent physicians.

The women are being urged to cut down the consumption of meat by at least 15 per cent, and to resort more to the use of milk. The women are asked to think of the men in the field and the hardships they have to endure, if economy in eating seems to be too difficult.

One physician, speaking the other night, likened the situation to that of the tourist, who perforce must at times make a meal from chocolate and bread until more favorable circumstances arrive. He told his audience that they were mere slaves to appetite if they were not able to elect easily to eat less of the scarcer foods.

Soup in place of coffee for the early morning breakfast is being urged by some physicians, especially for adults, and then the omission of the German "second breakfast," to the consequent saving of thousands of pounds of foodstuffs.

TURKEY REFORMING ITS SCHOOL SYSTEM.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Feb. 15.—In the midst of war Turkey finds time to begin the reform of its school system, and has turned to Germany for a leader in the movement. The man selected for this purpose is Prof. Franz Schmidt, who has hitherto had charge of a bureau of education in the German foreign office. He formerly conducted a German high school in Bucharest, and he has been a close student of foreign educational affairs. He is now to be attached to the Turkish ministry of education. Apparently he will play a role in the general educational life of Turkey similar to that played by the German military instructors in the Turkish army.

DESERVES PRIZE FOR HIS BREVITY

Laconic Letters of German Soldier Who Received Iron Cross.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Feb. 15.—All prizes for brevity, and a few more besides for modesty, go to a Baden peasant who for some time has been with the forces in Flanders. His wife has just made public the following laconic letters from him. The first reads:

"Dear Wife.—I am still alive, and have received your bundle. If the boy is bad, spank him. Greetings. Adolph."

Shortly after came a second:

"Dear Bertha.—I am still alive, which surprises me very much. If the boy still is naughty, spank him again. Greetings. Adolph."

The third communication was in the form of a photograph of Adolph's troop, showing him decorated with the Iron Cross. No mention, however, was made of the medal, and the picture merely bore on the reverse side this brief note:

"Dear Bertha.—I was wounded but am well again, and tomorrow I go at it again. If the boy is naughy, box his ears. Greetings. Adolph."

Perplexed, the wife wrote her husband, demanding to know how he had received the Iron Cross, and received the following illuminating reply:

"It was very simple about the Iron Cross. The major ordered me to stand still, and the sergeant-major pinned it on. Greetings. Adolph."

GERMAN SOLDIERS' NARROW ESCAPE

Run Into Trenches of Russians But Get Away Safely.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Berlin, Feb. 15.—A soldier's letter from the eastern front describes an effort of a patrolling party to discover whether there were any Russians in a forest in front of the German position. With fixed bayonets a handful of men crept at night through the woodland, thrusting the steel into every thick bush, or throwing a flare of light into them from their pocket lamps.

They found no "game" and were emerging from the forest at the point where they had entered it, when they suddenly saw a Russian sentinel before them in heavy fur-coat and cap. He was half asleep. Taking up the narrative here, the letter reads:

"I seized the Russian by the lapel of his coat and swore at him in Polish, Russian and German. 'Hands up,' we demanded, and he did it. One of us watched over him while others made an examination of the surroundings. We found a cave, such as we build for our sentries. We jabbed our bayonets into the straw around the entrance. A 'non-com.' after removing the rifles which the unsuspecting Russians had stacked near the entrance threw a light into the cave and swore frightfully. Out of the dark came creeping a dozen members of the One Hundred Sixty-second Russian landwehr, Tartars, Mohammedans, and men from Kasan. At the point of our bayonets they dropped to their knees.

"But suddenly we discovered we were being fired upon, by another group of Russians nearby, whose presence we had not suspected. Driving our prisoners before us, we started out of the woods to cross an open meadow back to our lines. There was a whizzing of bullets about our ears. There could be no thought of trying to defend ourselves. Only six of our prisoners could we keep with us. When we finally reached our lines, we discovered from the men we had taken that the place we had tackled was not a sentry post, as we had thought, but a protected position with trenches and loopholes; and there were thirty Russians against us five with two other Russian trenches close by. It was a lucky escape for us to have discharged our task and get away with our prisoners. We did not fire one shot. Our captain gave us 25. I send my one herewith to our little 'war daughter,' because it was earned without bloodshed."

FRENCH "75" IS SUCCESSFUL GUN

Called Best All-Round Piece of Artillery in Use.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

Boulogne, Feb. 25.—A French artillery officer, who has been at the front from the beginning of the war, has sent to the newspapers an account of the French "75" gun, which he regards as the most successful all-round piece of artillery in use by any army.

"The feature in which the gun has most conspicuously established its superiority," he writes, "is in the rapidity of its fire. This to some extent depends upon the division of labor among the gunners, but even more upon the the mechanical properties of the gun. The designer has so arranged it that no matter how the weapon is pointed, the force of recoil passes through the exact center of the beche or anchor. In the German gun, the force is directed not at the point of the beche, but at a point to right or left of it, with the result that the gun tends to be slewed around and has to be continually aimed afresh.

Resists Deterioration.

"A great virtue of the French '75' is the extent to which it resists deterioration. If you examine a French shell that has been fired at the end of the past six months of hard fighting, you will find evidence that the gun's rifling is almost as good and efficient as at the beginning of the war. This comes as a surprise to many people who have heard of the rapidity with which naval guns deteriorate, but the conditions are, of course, different, as the velocities needed in naval work make an enormously greater demand upon the naval gun.

"A great deal has been written about the deadliness of the French shell fire and the relative inefficiency of that of the Germans. Assuming that the shells of both guns explode, the French shell will have the advantage for the following reason. The German shell hits the ground and digs a hole. By the nature of things—as the fragments of shell must fly, roughly, straight—nothing will be hit that is below a line extended out in diagonal direction from the sides of the hole dug by the shell. In other words, it is possible to be lying on the ground quite close to the spot where a shell has burst and to be untouched. A horse has to be a yard or so farther away, but even he soon gets out of the zone of fire.

Explodes in the Air.

"With the French shell it is different. The French shell is constructed to ricochet; it strikes the ground and bounces, only exploding when it is in the air as the result of the bounce. The explosion occurs when the shell is off the ground, and there is no hole surface to protect a possible victim.

"Our experience in the present war seems to show also that the French shrapnel bullet is more efficient than the German. The bullets of the 75 shrapnel shell weigh 11 grams (slightly less than half an ounce,) whereas the similar German bullet weighs only nine grams. Experience seems to show that a bullet of at least eleven grams is necessary to stop a man advancing. The effect of the bullet is of course enormously increased by the high velocity of the French shell. Bullets of our 75 shrapnel strike at a velocity of 90 meters a second, whereas those of the corresponding German gun travel at 60 meters. The energy of the two bullets is in fact mathematically about 3 to 1 in favor of the French.

"From the general point of view, the German artillery has long stood condemned in our eyes. In Germany there has been for years a divorce between the artillerymen and the men who make the guns. Every improvement with the Germans has had to originate from Krupps, and there has thus been a disastrous hiatus between theory and practice. With us it is different. Our artillery has made its own gun. We have accepted improvements from every quarter, and have paid our men not in cash reward but by promotion or recognition."

Self-Government Leads to Temperance.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS TELLS WHY PERSONAL LIBERTY ALONE ENFORCES TEMPERANCE.

"Forget not, I pray you, the right of personal liberty; self government is the foundation of all our political and social institutions, and it is by self-government alone that the law of temperance can be enforced. Seek not to enforce upon your brother by legislative enactment, that virtue which he can possess only by the dictates of his own conscience and the energy of his own free will."

THE KIESELGUHR FILTER AN INNOVATION IN BREWING

The Kieselguhr filtration of Fitger Natural Beer is the only known way for "keeping" bottled beer and preserving its taste. For proof: Taste the similarity between Fitger Natural Beer (bottled) and any of the finest imported or domestic draught beers.

Pasteurization, the old method commonly in use for keeping bottled beer, spoils the taste of beer. But filtration, by way of a Kieselguhr Filter, does not spoil it. In fact, it preserves it. For proof: Taste the difference in other brand of beer between its draught beer (unpasteurized) and its bottled beer (pasteurized).

The Kieselguhr Filter (first of its kind in America) makes Fitger Natural Beer the clearest, most brilliant beer in America. For proof: Compare any other bottled beer with Fitger Natural Beer.

ASK INVESTIGATION BEFORE ANY ACTION

Police Chief of Chisholm Makes Request in Case of Officer Phelps.

Chisholm, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—At the village council meeting Wednesday night a communication was read from Chief of Police Donahue, requesting in the case of Officer Phelps that the matter be fully investigated before action is taken. The recorder was instructed to make an investigation and report. The monthly report of Treasurer C. E. French was received. Liquor licenses were issued to R. Maturi and Sol Rubloff.

The official bond of Al Bergeron, as a member of the water and light board, was received and filed after being approved by the village attorney.

Fix Judge's Salary.

The salary of the judge of the municipal court, was fixed at $2,400 per year for the coming term. President Austin thought that the salary ought to be $3,000, making it equal to that of Virginia and Hibbing. It was decided to let the matter of a raise go over to the new council for consideration.

The votes cast at the village election on Tuesday were canvassed and the winners declared duly elected. The regular monthly bills and claims were allowed.

It was voted to divide Precinct No. 1 into two parts and hereafter all the territory now in the first precinct and east of Second avenue will be known as the Sixth precinct and the territory west of Second avenue as the First precinct.

NEW WATER TOWER AT BUHL FILLING

Water Flowing Into Big Container Does Not Affect Supply Much.

Buhl, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The tearing down of the old tower here was begun yesterday by a large force of men. The new tower, constructed near the new well east of the village, is being filled with water and will be in service this week. The old tower will be raised at Kinney for its new water system.

Dan Klusman, superintendent of the power plant, says a pump has been going steadily for three days pumping water at the rate of 389 gallons of water a minute and although the pipes are only sunk 400 feet in the 700-foot well, there has been no diminishing in the flow of water.

OVERCHARGE ALLEGED

In Auto Supply Case Being Tried in Hibbing District Court.

Hibbing, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—An attempt on the part of the defendant in the case of the Range Motor Service Co. vs. W. E. Lyman for auto supplies and repairs in district court here today, to show overcharge was made. The foreman of the range motor shop was put on the stand this morning and indications are that the case will go to the jury this afternoon.

COOK FARMERS PROSPER

Virginian Examines Titles and Finds No Mortgaged Farms.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Alex MacDonald has returned from a trip to the country about Cook, where he has been on business and incidentally had an opportunity to examine the title of more than fifty farms in the vicinity of the village of Cook.

"If there is a farm mortgaged in the country about Cook, I did not find it in the 50 or 60 titles I had occasion to examine in looking after some insurance business," Mr. MacDonald says. "I consider this a remarkable record for a new country. I have never seen more thrifty or prosperous settlers than those of the Little Fork valley seem to be. They are not of the extravagant type. They live within their means. What they can't pay for they don't buy. The progress they are making is surprising."

CHISHOLM WOMEN ARE GIVEN SURPRISE.

Chisholm, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—About sixty members of the ladies' auxiliary of the M. E. church attended an informal gathering at the library assembly rooms Wednesday afternoon, in honor of the officers of the society, Mrs. R. S. O'Neil, president; Mrs. C. C. Estabrooks, secretary, and Mrs. G. L. Train, treasurer. The affair was a surprise to the honor guests. They enjoyed a clever presentation of the "Workhouse Ward," given in the auditorium by four high school girls, under the direction of Miss Sweet. Later a lunch was served.

Mrs. O'Neil, Mrs. Estabrooks and Mrs. Train were each presented with a pretty buffet scarf. The presentation was made by Rev. E. F. Stidd and the three responded with appreciative talks.

CATARRH CAUSED BY A GERM

Must Be Destroyed Before Catarrh Itself Can Be Cured, Says Specialist. Wonderful Results From Breathing Medicated Air.

Medicine taken into the stomach will never cure catarrh. And neither will the sprays, douches, lotions, creams and other temporary reliefs that so many catarrh victims make a habit of using. To cure catarrh so it won't come back you must first drive from your body the millions of germs that are flourishing in the inner recesses of your nose and throat and are causing the disease.

There is a preparation which does this called Hyomel (pronounced High-o-me). Hyomel is a germ killing vaporized air formed from the purest oil of eucalyptus combined with other healing and antiseptic ingredients. You breathe Hyomel through the mouth and nose by means of a little hard rubber inhaler which druggists furnish with it. This medicated germicidal air penetrates into every fold and crevice of the mucous membrane of your nose and throat, kills the catarrh germs that lodge there, soothes, reduces and heals the swollen inflamed membranes, stops the discharge and opens up the clogged nose and air passages in a truly wonderful way. It gives blessed relief in five minutes from catarrhal distress of every kind and if you make a practice of breathing Hyomel for a few minutes each day for just a few weeks not only will all the symptoms of catarrh vanish but the disease itself will be a thing of the past. No one need try or buy Hyomel on pure faith. Boyce Drug store and many other leading druggists in Duluth, Minn., and vicinity sell it with the positive guarantee that it must cure catarrh or that the money paid for it will be refunded. Hyomel is very inexpensive and with this protecting guarantee behind your purchase there is absolutely no reason why any sufferer from Catarrh should not give it a fair trial.

ELY'S MAYOR HAS FILED AGAIN FOR THAT OFFICE

MAYOR JOHN A. HAARI.

Ely, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The present mayor, John A. Harri, today filed as a candidate for re-election. This makes a three-cornered fight for that office, and prospects are there may be more.

VIRGINIA CLUB GOES ON RECORD

Commercial Club Wants County Board to Meet There March 27.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Protesting against the apportionment of road funds made for this section by the St. Louis county board, the Commercial club went on record last night as decidedly opposed to the action and requested that a special meeting of the board be called for Virginia for March 27 so that farmers in this section who are vitally interested in road matters can be heard without having to go to Duluth.

Commissioner Pentilla of Eveleth, who was present at last night's meeting, stated that he had opposed the apportionment, but was in the minority. He said he told the members of the board at the time the apportionment was unfair to his district and would create dissatisfaction.

LUMBERJACK PASSES FORGED TIME CHECK

Comes to Virginia From Cussons and Stings Merchant for $40.40.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—With the breaking up of the lumber camps the lumberjacks are coming to town with their pay checks and getting them cashed.

local merchant notified the police today that he had been stung to the tune of $40.40 by a woodsman from Cussons, who palmed off a stolen time check on him belonging to Tony Schultz, who had been working at Cussons and calling for the sum named, which the firm paid over to the man. The firm does not know his name.

If the fellow is arrested he will be prosecuted for forgery as well as theft, as he indorsed the paper with Shultz's name.

BEAUTIFYING HIBBING.

Many Shrubs and Plants to Be Set Out This Year.

Hibbing, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Easter lilies in full bloom and in the bud are seen at the village greenhouse. Supt. Conrad Wolf has arranged an attractive display of lilies and other flowers.

Today Supt. of Parks Conrad Wolf is arranging for extensive planting of trees in the Hibbing cemetery.

O. B. Warren, secretary of the park board, has issued a call for bids for 1,205 deciduous trees, 2,800 deciduous shrubs and other nursery stock, to be planted this spring. The park board plans to plant a large number of trees and shrubs this spring in order to bring the village parks up to an unusual high standard.

GIVEN CONTRACT FOR RESERVOIR AT KINNEY.

Buhl, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Butler & Coons Contracting company of Hibbing was awarded the contract for the construction of the 100,000-gallon reservoir at Kinney for $4,500 in opposition to eight bidders from Duluth and other range cities.

The reservoir will be constructed of concrete and will be similar to the one constructed by the same contractors at Buhl. The reservoir is constructed in conjunction with the complete new water system at Kinney. A well is now being drilled. The old Buhl water tower will be removed to Kinney.

DR. FAHEY SPEAKS AT VIRGINIA K. C. AFFAIR.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The local council, Knights of Columbus, held a big meeting and smoker here last night at which Dr. Fahey of Duluth was the guest of honor, and delivered a speech on the mission and working of the order. The Knights of Columbus are planning on going to Eveleth the first week in April and attending a big gathering to be held there.

EXPECT BIG AUDIENCE AT VIRGINIA LECTURE.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the largest audiences which has ever listened to a Christian lecture on the Mesaba range is expected to attend the lecture given under the auspices of the Christian Science Society of Virginia this evening at the Socialist opera house by William D. McCracken, C. S. B., member of the board of lectureship of the Mother church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston.

ROTARIANS BEAT TWO HARBORS FIVE

Duluth Aggregation Captures Game By Score of 43 to 30.

Two Harbors, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Rotary club basket ball team of Duluth defeated the local City team at the Y. M. C. A. last night by the score of 43 to 30. With the exception of a few minutes in the second half, the locals were outplayed. The locals appeared to lack the snap and ginger which has made them a hard team to beat all season. The visitors took advantage of the situation and during the first period piled up a big score. At the end of the first half the score stood 26 to 12 in favor of the Rotary boys. In the beginning of the second half the locals swung into their stride and scored basket after basket in quick succession. This did not last long, however, and the Duluth boys came back strong.

Woodward and Freeman for the locals were the more aggressive players for the home time, and Harris, Johnson and Solheim were the bright and shining stars of the visiting team.

This will possibly be the last game to be played here this season. The local team has won by far the greater number of the games played, losing only to the Oswegos, Rotary club and Virginia.

The following was the lineup:

Two Harbors—		Rotary—
Freeman	f	Harris
Sullivan	f	Johnson
Woodward	c	Zeman
Fillatrault,
H. Johnson	g	Solheim
McCurdy	g	Burnett

Referee, Conliff. Baskets were made as follows: Two Harbors—Freeman, 5 and 3 free throws; Sullivan, 2; Woodward, 5 and 1 free throw; Johnson, 1. Rotary—Harris, 5 and 1 free throw; Johnson, 7; Zeeman, 4; Solheim, 4, and Burnett, 1.

NORTHERN LEAGUE SCHEDULES FIXED

Opening Games Will Be Played By Clubs on May 6.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The schedule committee of the Northern league baseball clubs met here last night and fixed the opening dates and the general schedule for this season's games.

The games will open on May 6 with the teams playing as follows:

Duluth at Winnipeg.
Virginia at Fargo.
Fort William at Grand Forks.
Superior at St. Boniface.

TO MEET IN VIRGINIA.

Committee of State League of Municipalities to Gather There.

International Falls, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Dr. G. F. Swinnerton of this place was recently appointed on the committee on sanitation and public health of the Minnesota League of Municipalities. The meeting of that organization will occur at Virginia next summer. Acting on the committee with Dr. Swinnerton will be Dr. F. W. Hill of Minneapolis, chairman, and Dr. E. F. Bailey of Lake City.

VIRGINIA CURLERS ARE MAD AT WEATHER MAN.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—Virginia curlers have a grievance with the weather man. With the Honor brand trophy still to be contested for and with a consolation event left to play the ice at the local rink is in such condition that play is impossible and one sheet is being taken out. The stone shooters, however, believe there will be a change in present conditions soon and that there will be sufficient cold weather before the spring break-up to admit of the events unfinished being played off.

LOGGERS BREAKING CAMP.

Warm Weather Has About Stopped Operations North of Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—Special to The Herald.)—Many of the smaller operators on forest products in the woods to the north of Virginia are breaking camp. Soft weather of the past few days in some sections has completely destroyed the logging roads. The Canadian Northern is again taking crews out of service, after six weeks of winter business in volume unparalleled in the history of the line. Teams using iced roads are still working. Most of them do not plan to suspend until the latter part of this month.

VIRGINIA DAIRY HERDS NOW BEING TESTED.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—City Veterinarian Dr. Guidinger is making his annual test of the dairy herds and cows contributing to Virginia's milk supply. The tests so far conducted have been on the south side of the city, of single cows kept by the families of laborers. One cow failed to stand the tuberculin test and was ordered killed. The inspection of the large dairy herds adjacent to the city will be undertaken as soon as the city inspection is completed. Besides the various dairy herds nearby there will be inspected herds at towns on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern and on the Canadian Northern at towns shipping large quantities of milk to Virginia daily.

Ailments of Men Happily Overcome

SUCCESSFULLY TRIED BY MANY.

Undoubtedly the following suggestion will work wonders for that great class of men who, through dissipation of their natural strength, find themselves in their "second childhood" long before the three score and ten allotted to life's pleasures and enjoyments are reached.

It is presumed to be infallible, and highly efficient in quickly restoring in "nervous exhaustion," weak vitality, melancholia and the functions.

By taking it at home no man need be the wiser as to another's short-comings, and expensive fees are avoided.

Lack of poise and equilibrium in men is a constant source of embarrassment even when the public least suspects it. For the benefit of those who want a restoration to full, bounding health, and all the happiness accompanying it, let it be stated that the prescription calls only for three-grain Cadomene tablets, in sealed tubes with full directions for self-administration. The tablets contain no opiates or habit-forming drugs, so a physician's prescription is not necessary. Well stocked pharmacies supply these tablets which possess the most wonderful tonic—invigorating powers imaginable. The effect of their use is soon apparent in new strength and nerve force.—Advertisement.

SCHOOL OFFICIALS VISIT AT HIBBING.

Hibbing, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The following superintendents of schools from all parts of the range visited here yesterday preparatory to their annual informal gathering at Chisholm last night:

White of Ely, Atkins of Aurora, Lunn of Biwabik, Newberry of Gilbert, Grening of Eveleth, Colgrave of Virginia, Ban Dyke of Coleraine, Gilbaugh of Nashwauk, Zanghn of Chisholm and Lynch of Mountain Iron.

It is customary for the range superintendents to hold an informal meeting once a year. Luncheon is served by the domestic science students at the place where the meeting is held. Yesterday the superintendents met at Chisholm.

Ely Infants Buried.

Ely, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Judd Canning, who died on Thursday afternoon, was buried today. Services were held from the M. E. church, Rev. Williams officiating. Interment was in the Ely cemetery.

The 3-weeks-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shansek died Wednesday night. The funeral was held from the Catholic church, Rev. Father Buh officiating. Interment was in the Ely cemetery.

Big Virginia Payday.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special The Herald.)—The Oliver Iron Mining company and the Virginia & Rainy Lake Lumber company have just paid off their men for last month and it is estimated the two concerns paid out about $80,000 that is practically all received in this district. Local merchants report a good trade for this season of the year and await the coming of spring with hopes for a good year in this city.

Inspect Work at Kinney.

Kinney, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—R. J. Morehouse, who is engineering the $400,000 contract for the new water system at Hibbing, and O. J. Ohxgran, who is superintending the work, motored here Thursday afternoon to observe progress on the new water system. Mrs. Morehouse and Mrs. Ohxgran accompanied their husbands.

Hospital Patient Grateful.

Hibbing, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Mrs. Herman Kohrt has received a letter from her husband, who is ill at St. Mary's hospital in Duluth, asking her to extend his heartfelt thanks to members of the Elks' lodge, here for weekly contributions of flowers to him. He is reported as much improved.

Virginia Commencement.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—The high school commencement will be held Friday night, June 11, when a class of thirty-five will be given diplomas. "What Happened to Jones," the class play, is now being rehearsed under C. W. Pfeiffer. There are thirteen characters in the play. The February reports in the high school show the following with grades of 90 per cent or over in all subjects for the month: Freshmen, Sara Bloomquist, Belle Grierson, Dorothy McGhee, Hilda Soderwick, Phoebe Young; sophomores, John Kochaver, Clara Larson; juniors, Marion Pfeiffer, Jeannette Baer; seniors, Adena Johnson, Claire Lippman.

Bovey Creamery Jobs.

Bovey, Minn., March 12.—The board of directors of the Bovey Co-operative Creamery association let contracts for the machinery for the creamery which is rapidly nearing completion. The Creamery Package Manufacturing company of Minneapolis got the award, and the amount called for is $1,291. The installation will be model in arrangement and in the mechanical devices to be used.

Farmers at Virginia.

Virginia, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Farmers of this locality will gather here tomorrow as guests of the commercial club to discuss matters of interest to soil-tillers and townspeople, and especially with reference to needed roads.

Missoula Man Drops Dead.

Missoula, Mont., March 12.—Thomas Gilbert Hatheway, pioneer and retired business man of Missoula, dropped dead on the street Wednesday from a stroke of apoplexy. Thomas G. Hatheway was born at St. John, N. B., 70 years ago. He came to Missoula in 1879 to enter the employ of A. B. Hammond with the Missoula Mercantile company. He remained with the company until he retired from business a few years ago. He is survived by one son and five daughters.

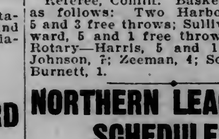
CLOUDY



My, what a shock! When Duluth awoke this morning and looked out of her window, the first ejaculation was: "Good-by, fair weather." A dense fog screened everything, and it remained until close to 9 o'clock, but when the sun really got in his work there was nothing to it, and the blue skies and bright light returned. Fog is said to be an indication of settled weather, so it is hoped that it has settled down to days like this for some time, even though the weather man predicts partly cloudy weather for tomorrow.

A week from "Go to Church Sunday" will be the first official day of spring, the vernal equinox starting in at 11 a. m. that day.

A year ago today was fair. The sun rose this morning at 6:27 and will set this evening at 6:09, giving eleven hours and forty-two minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"The temperature has risen over the Dakotas, Northern and Eastern Montana, Northern Wyoming, Idaho and Oregon, and has fallen over Eastern Canada, Michigan and North Atlantic states. Light frost occurred last night at Charleston, S. C., and Jacksonville, Fla. During the last twenty-four hours light rain fell over Pacific coast districts, Southern Louisiana and Oklahoma, and light snow over Southeastern Montana and Western Pennsylvania.

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 12.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Saturday:

Minnesota—Fair tonight and Saturday; warmer in southeast portion tonight.

Iowa—Fair tonight and Saturday; slightly warmer tonight.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Saturday; warmer in southwest portion tonight.

North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; warmer in west portion tonight.

South Dakota—Fair tonight and Saturday; warmer in central portion tonight.

Montana—Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; not much change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Saturday; slightly warmer Saturday in north portion.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Saturday; slightly warmer in east portion.

MRS. JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER IS DEAD

love of study and simple tastes, and they became fast friends.

Quiet, Studious Girl.

Laura Spelman's schoolmates knew her as a quiet, studious girl who would rather read a good book than go the theater; as a devout churchgoer and as a girl who was always well dressed in good taste, avoiding extremes and seeking simplicity. She was intensely practical and home-loving. At high school she caused some surprise by taking not only the prescribed course but bookkeeping and other commercial studies little pursued by young women in those days.

There seems to have been little sentimentality in the friendship between Miss Spelman and young Rockefeller, but for ten years each was the other's best friend. During the days of Rockefeller's early manhood, when he saw his hopes of a college education fade away, and soon thereafter when he tramped the streets of Cleveland for weeks in a seemingly hopeless search for work, she encouraged and cheered him. Soon after he had established himself in his first place—as bookkeeper at $500 a year—she left Cleveland to complete her education at Worcester, Mass. She returned when she was 20 years old and taught in Cleveland's public schools. Her first class was the "A" grammar grade in the Brownell Street school, now known as the East Fourteenth Street school. And she renewed her friendship with young Rockefeller.

Worked Together.

In 1862 Miss Spelman, described by her superiors as a splendid disciplinarian and a perfect teacher, became assistant principal of the school. Rockefeller, absorbed in business, took the books of his firm to her of an evening and together they would go over his affairs. Both of them were interested together in church work, too; she as a Congregationalist, he as a Baptist; and neither ever attended a dance or the theater.

Young Rockefeller prospered beyond his fairest hopes. As soon as he felt that he could ask her to become his wife he did so. They were married on Sept. 8, 1864, the eve of her 25th birthday, and started to keep house in a little two-story brick residence on one of Cleveland's side streets. Upon her marriage she became a Baptist and to her religion and her home she devoted her entire time.

"To be a good wife and mother is the highest and hardest privilege of a woman," was one of the sayings accredited to her by the little circle of friends she knew at this time. The borders of her world were her home. Her whole life was wrapped up in her husband and children. She avoided all social functions and joined no clubs.

Went to New Home.

When Mr. Rockefeller's wealth was mentioned in seven figures they left their first home for a residence remarkable only for its unpretentiousness on Euclid avenue, Cleveland's "mile of millions." Here Mrs. Rockefeller reared her four children; a fifth died in infancy.

The training given the Rockefeller children by their mother is declared to have been almost Spartan. Although the Rockefeller wealth increased in leaps and bounds there was only one carriage and a horse cared for by a man who acted as both coachman and hostler. These were used mostly Sundays on the trip to church. Mrs. Rockefeller employed two maids but still insisted on doing much of the work herself. She also supervised every detail of the care and training of her children, particularly seeking to instill in their minds the lesson of thrift. It is related that on one occasion she averaged up the gas bills for a year and promised as spending money to her eldest daughter any sum she might save each month by watching that no lights were left burning needlessly.

Guards Doubled.

A relative told of her suffering under a particularly bitter newspaper attack in Cleveland against her husband. At her insistance, the guards around the Forest Hill estate were doubled. Although Mr. Rockefeller received scores of letters threatening his life and personal friends and relatives pleaded with him not to expose himself, he insisted on making his usual Sunday trip by automobile to the Euclid Avenue Baptist church.

When Mrs. Rockefeller heard of his determination she insisted on accompanying him, although poor health had kept her confined to the house for some time.

"If anything happens to you," she is quoted as saying, "I want it to happen to me, too."

Of her children, three are living. She was the mother of four daughters and one son, the last named, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., being the youngest. Her eldest daughter Bessie, who married Prof. Charles A. Strong, died in France in 1906 at the age of 40. The second daughter, Alice, died in infancy.

The surviving children are: Alta, wife of E. Parmalee Prentice; Edith, who married Harold Fowler McCormick, and John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

Daughter in Switzerland.

Chicago, March 12.—Neither Mrs. Harold F. McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, nor her husband is in Chicago. Mrs. McCormick is in Switzerland recuperating from an illness, and her husband left here Wednesday to join her. At his offices it was not known whether McCormick had sailed or if he had been reached in time to delay his trip because of the death of his mother-in-law.

Dying of Tuberculosis.

Calumet, Mich., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Huhta, who is serving a term in the state penitentiary at Marquette for complicity in the murder of three non-union miners at Painesville, Houghton county, during the copper strike of 1913, is dying of tuberculosis and cannot live the year out, it is believed.

MUSTEROLE

YOUR HEAD AND STOMACH

Headache caused by a disturbed digestion is nearly always accompanied by pain in the stomach, belching of gas, vomiting and often by constipation. This sort of headache is generally located in the forehead and is not constant but comes and goes.

It does not come on immediately after eating but after the food has had time to ferment which it does because the digestive fluids that should take care of it are insufficient, because the glands that secrete these fluids are weak, because the blood is failing to nourish these glands properly.

Rich, red blood is the first essential to proper digestion and the digestive process cannot go on without it. When lack of nourishing blood causes fermentation and poisons are absorbed from the digestive tract, the pain in your head advises you of the fact. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give the blood just the elements they need to correct this condition and, with a laxative, when required, form a perfect treatment for the headaches of indigestion.

Mention this paper and we will send you two little books on the diet and the proper use of a laxative. Address: Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

WORKS DIVISION CALLS FOR BIDS

Will Improve Highland Street and Construct Approaches.

The public works division today advertised for bids on the improvement of Highland street, from Fifty-ninth to Sixty-sixth avenues west, and the construction of the approaches to the new D., M. & N. subway to be erected this spring under Highland street.

According to an agreement made the other day between the commissioners and officials of the road, the city will advertise for the bids on the construction of the approaches, while the railroad will pay for the improvement. These approaches will cost about $14,000, it is estimated.

Last year the property owners along Highland street petitioned for the grading and surfacing of that thoroughfare and Commissioner Murchison now plans to start on the improvement early this spring.

The bids will be opened on the morning of March 26.

DULUTH'S WATER SUPPLY PURE

Report of State Expert Shows Water Almost Free of Germs.

Duluth's water supply is absolutely pure and free from any contamination whatever.

This, in substance, is the February report of Dr. T. R. Martin, bacteriologist for the state board of health, received this morning by Health Director Webster.

The water is tested and examined every day both at the Lakeside pumping station and in the state laboratory in the New Jersey building, and according to the report, there were two days when no bacilli were found at all, while the maximum was twelve for one cubic centimeter of water. The state board allows 500,000 bacilli for one cubic centimeter of milk.

Similar tests to see if the water is contaminated by sewers show that the water is absolutely pure in this respect.

IF YOU ARE A DRINKING MAN

REFUSES TO PAY INSURANCE POLICY

Fraternal Order Claims Conditions Render It Void.

When Robert Whidden died Oct. 15, last, he left an insurance policy for $1,000 made out in favor of Mrs. Jessie Isadore Anderson, his stepdaughter. The Royal League which issued the policy refused to pay it, however, because the policy represented that the beneficiary was dependent upon Whidden for support.

In district court today, a jury was drawn in Judge Ensign's division to try a cause of action which Mrs. Anderson has against the order to collect the money.

Mrs. Anderson testified that her mother had married Whidden when she was a girl of 6 and that she had lived with them until she was 18 when she married. Seven years ago, Mrs. Whidden died and Whidden came to live with her and her husband, Mrs. Anderson declared. She also claimed that he assisted her husband in supporting her.

School children's matinee at the Orpheum tomorrow at 2:30 and 4 o'clock. Admission, with coupon, 10 cents.

BIDS FOR ROAD OIL.

Council Expected to Take Action Next Monday.

Bids on furnishing the city with road oil for use this coming summer on park drives and bouevards were opened this morning by Commissioner Murchison, head of the public works division.

It is expected that the council will take action on the bids at the regular meeting next Monday.

The bids submitted on furnishing the city 200,000 gallons or more follow: Cornplanter Oil company, $ .0296 a gallon; Standard Oil company, $ .035; Pierce Oil company, $ .0355; Pure Oil company, $ .0289; Barber Asphalt company, $ .075; Climax Western Oil company, $ .0325, and Burnett Manufacturing company, $ .0650.

WINS MALPRACTICE CASE

Andrew Nelson Conducts Action Against Carlton Doctor.

Andrew Nelson, attorney, returned last evening from Carlton, where he has been in attendance in district court at the trial of a suit brought by Gust Wiita against Dr. James Fleming for alleged malpractice. The case was decided yesterday afternoon when the jury returned a verdict for $2,000 in favor of the plaintiff. Judge Dancer presided at the trial. Abbott, McPherran, Lewis & Gilbert represented the physician.

ENTHUSIASM FOR STYLE SHOW WEEK.

The "Style Show" committee held a meeting this afternoon at the Commercial club and found that the reports of the sub-committee abound in enthusiasm. It is declared that during the style show, March 22, 23 and 24, there will be larger and better displays and much more artistic windows shown than ever before in the history of the city. American-made goods will be featured everywhere. Prizes are offered for the window displays and, according to the report of the committee on window and interior decorations there will be the keenest kind of competition. It is declared that for the style show period, the merchants of the city have united better than ever before.

An explosion of bombs at fourteen corners on Superior street, from Second avenue east to Twenty-third avenue west will be the signal at 5 o'clock on the afternoon of March 22, for the closing of the stores and the uncurtaining of the windows. The stores will be open that evening for display purposes only from 7 to 9:30.

MARINE

LAW MAKES RATES HIGHER

Seamen's Bill Will Increase Vessel Owners' Operating Expense.

Must Reduce Wages or Raise Rates—Effective in November.

That higher freight rates are most likely to be the result of the passage of the new seamen's bill by congress, is becoming the consensus of vessel men's opinion. The act does not become operative until Nov. 4 and therefore the coming season will not be affected in the way of rate increase but that of 1916 will probably see considerable advance. The provisions of the bill do not become wholly effective for five years, but as requirement is added to requirement during that time, the vessel owners say, they will be finding themselves under more and more expense.

To offset the increased expense, which vessel owners say is sure to follow the application of the law, wages must be reduced or freights raised. The shipowners have not thought of reducing wages. This leaves higher freight rates as the only choice and the only way in which property that is necessary to the commerce can be preserved and the money invested protected. Though the increase in rates may not be very large, still it will be added to the ultimate price of products made from the cargoes that are carried on the Great Lakes.

First, the new law will require all ships to carry three crews of firemen, water tenders and oilers. This will add one oiler to the crew of larger ships and will materially increase the number of men in the engine room of the smaller boats.

Specific Jobs.

Another provision will require men hired for deck service to be employed on deck only and those hired for work in the firehold to be used there only. It has been the custom on the Great Lakes to employ deck hands as coal passers on ships after they leave the Sault downbound. Heretofore this has been considered part of the work of the deck hands and has gone unquestioned. Whether it will be possible to employ sailors with the understanding that they shall be employed on deck on the upbound trip and in the coal bunkers on the way down will require a ruling to determine.

Should it be found necessary to employ men for each purpose, two courses are thought to be open. One is the hiring of extra men for the down trip for coal passing or to discharge the deck hands at the end of the route and hire them as coal passers for the down trip or to hire others to take the place of these men in the coal bunkers.

Five years hence 65 per cent of the deck crew, exclusive of licensed officers, will have to be able seamen, described in the law as men 19 years of age or upward who have had eighteen months service on deck on the Great Lakes or three years at sea. This provision requires 40 per cent to be able seamen the first year. The first year the law will not affect the lake vessels, but as the percentage of able seamen is increased the difficulty and expense of maintaining a large reserve of able seamen will be a burden.

Burden on Owners.

Eighteen months' service on the lakes means two full seasons and half of a third, virtually three years. Were it possible to depend upon just enough men to man the ships this provision would not be such a load, but it has been found by experience that a surplus on shore of about 25 per cent more men than are actually needed to man the boats is necessary to steady and successful operation.

The history of the Great Lakes is a series of busy years alternating with one or two lean years. These lean years reduce the number of available men for a season and under the strict ruling that 65 per cent must have had two and a half seasons of deck service traffic is very likely to be interfered following the lean years, and vessel owners will be put to considerable expense recruiting, or possible importing from the coasts, enough able seamen to complete the crews.

If the latter course were forced upon the lake vessel owners the morale of the lakes will be in danger of deterioration. Never in the history of the lakes has there been a better class of men in the service. Anything that would tend to lower the standard, which it has taken years to build up, will tend to destroy the efficiency, and the lower the degree of efficiency the smaller the production.

TO CONFER ON PAVING.

Murchison Will Meet Men Interested in Woodland Work.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning Woodland avenue property owners, members of the Glen-Hunt-Wood club, and officers of the Duluth Humane society will meet at the city hall to discuss with Commissioner Murchison the proposed pavement for Woodland avenue to Kent road.

Recently members of the Glen-Hunt-Wood club raised a protest against the laying of any slippery pavement on Woodland avenue, while the property owners have expressed a preference for asphalt or one of the other smooth roadways.

Last week Commissioner Murchison declared he would hold a conference with the members of the club, the property owners and officials of the humane society to settle finally the matter. The meeting will be held in the council chamber and is to be open to the public.

Best Laxative For Children

When your baby is cross and fretful instead of the happy, laughing little dear you are accustomed to, in all probability the digestion has become deranged and the bowels need attention. Give it a mild laxative, dispel the irritability and bring back the happy content of babyhood.

The very best laxative for children is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, because it contains no opiate or narcotic drug, is pleasant tasting and acts gently, but surely, without griping or other distress. Druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle. For a free trial bottle write to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 452 Washington St. Monticello, Ills.

PROCTOR KNOTT'S FAMOUS SPEECH GOES INTO ITS SECOND EDITION

So strong continues the demand for copies of the famous satirical speech of Proctor Knott on Duluth, delivered in congress in 1871, which sarcastic prophecies concerning the future of this part of the nation have since come true to the letter and beyond, that the public affairs committee of the Commercial club has been compelled to issue a new edition.

The booklet in which it is contained is a handsome piece of printing, is effectively illustrated and contains a lot of information concerning Duluth and the surrounding country. Where the late Mr. Knott in his speech made a prophecy, a footnote is given on the margin of the page, showing how he unconsciously hit the mark.

In the center of the book is an excellent map showing the richness of the country tributary to Duluth, and at the back of the publication are chapters devoted to "Agricultural Development," "Facts and Figures About Duluth," "Duluth, a Summer City" and "Duluth as a Commercial Center."

Years after delivering his famous speech, Proctor Knott realized how unwittingly he had predicted the future greatness of the city. He was a guest of the city in August, 1890, and at a banquet tendered him at that time he said:

"Possibly the mention of the name 'Duluth' may bring my own to the recollection of millions long after I shall have moldered into dust and everything else pertaining to my existence faded from the memory of man."

Mr. Knott died June 18, 1911.

Falls and Breaks Leg.

As she hurried out of the house this morning on her way to work, Miss Nancy Dingwall, age 21, living at 211 South Seventeenth avenue east, slipped on an icy doorstep and fell, sustaining a severe fracture of the left leg. She was taken to St. Luke's hospital.

Will Discuss Employment Agents.

Matt Daly will speak before the Federated Trades assembly tonight on the abuses of the employment agents as he has seen them in the logging camps of Northern Minnesota. Mr. Daly believes that the lumberjack is and has been a victim of the employment agent and will tell of his personal experience in connection with the matter.

Wife Gets Divorce.

Judge Cant in district court this afternoon granted Lillian Johnson, 32, a divorce from Marinus Johnson, 36, on the grounds of habitual drunkenness and desertion. The Johnsons were married Nov. 30, 1908, at Minneapolis and lived together until Oct. 1, 1909, when he abandoned her, she testified.

Three Months on Farm.

Three months at the county and city work farm was the sentence which was meted out this afternoon in district court to Henry Malone, who appeared before Judge Cant and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him with the crime of grand larceny in the second degree.

Malone's offense was the theft of several articles of jewelry from Hattie Douglas, 911 East Third street, on Jan. 27 last.

Malone pleaded not guilty when arraigned before the court last week, but recently decided to change his plea and confess his guilt.

OUCH! BACKACHE! RUB LUMBAGO OR STIFFNESS AWAY

Rub pain from back with small trial bottle of old, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a small trial bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right on your aching back, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the pain right out and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica, backache or rheumatism so promptly. It never disappoints!

INVESTIGATION OF STATE UNIVERSITY

New Resolution Introduced in House Calling for Probe.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—A substitute resolution, calling upon the speaker of the house to appoint a committee of seven members to investigate the affairs of the state university and report to the house, was presented in the house today by Representative C. J. Malmberg of Forest Lake, L. A. Lydiard of Minneapolis and Thomas J. Greene of St. Paul.

The resolution carries none of the drastic charges embodied in the original resolution which was introduced and then withdrawn Wednesday.

STILLMAN H. BINGHAM.

RUMORED EXTENSION OF C. N. RAILROAD.

Spooner, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sir William McKenzie, president of the Canadian Northern Railway company, accompanied by Superintendent Nelson of Port Arthur passed through here on a special Monday noon, bound for Winnipeg. It is understood that a meeting of the leading officials of the road will be held at that city, at which time the matter of the extension of the road from Baudette to Pelican Lake will be considered, also the proposed extension from this village to Bemidji and other points to the south.

McADOO SUBMITS TO AN OPERATION.

Washington, March 12.—Secretary McAdoo was operated on for appendicitis at a hospital here today. The physician issued a bulletin saying the operation had been successful in every way and the patient was in a very favorable condition. Mrs. McAdoo, President Wilson's youngest daughter, waited in the anteroom until the operation was over.

Sunday Evening Suppers
YOU need never fear the unexpected Sunday supper guest when you have a package of Creamettes in the house.
Creamettes is the new, more tender, macaroni product made from the creamy parts of Durum wheat and has a rich new flavor of its own.
As you know, ordinary macaroni takes from 30 to 35 minutes to cook. Creamettes cooks to a delicious tenderness in from 5 to 8 minutes—less than one-third the time. Try it with cheese, with ham, with bacon, with tomatoes, with chicken or with nuts.

FIREMEN IN THE "MOVIES"

Hicken Arranges to Show Department in the Films.

Thrilling Melodrama Will Be Produced; Pool Tables for Fire Halls.

Motion pictures of Duluth's motorized fire department taking part in a thrilling melodrama, royalties for which will be used in equipping the various fire halls with billiard and pool tables, will be shown here sometime this spring.

Commissioner Hicken, head of the public safety division who returned this morning from St. Paul, announced that Postmaster Otto M. Rath of St. Paul, head of a large motion picture company, has agreed to bear the entire expense of taking the pictures of the Duluth fire department in action and booking the films throughout the country. A 50-per-cent royalty will be paid the Duluth Firemen's Relief association, the money going to defray the expense of buying billiard and pool tables and other equipment for all the fire halls in Duluth, the commissioner said.

"Mr. Rath is enthusiastic about our fire department," said Commissioner Hicken this morning, "and officials of his company are anxious to take pictures of the entire motor equipment in action. They especially want to get the aerial truck working, they say, as it is the only one of its kind in this part of the country.

"It is planned to take the pictures, so that they can be embodied in a thrilling melodrama, featuring especially a completely motorized fire equipment of a large city. The machines will be shown coming out of the fire halls, dashing down West First street and down Lake avenue to the aerial bridge, across the bridge and then down Minnesota avenue. The action of the melodrama will take place somewhere on Park Point, as I understand it. The motion picture machine will be stationed in the canal and pictures will be taken of the equipment going across the bridge.

UNCLE SAM THE MIDDLE MAN

Brings Producer and Consumer Together Through the Parcel Post.

Uncle Sam, through the parcel post, is proving to the consumers of Duluth in a practical manner, the benefits of co-operation of producer and consumer in reducing the high cost of living. Duluthians are now getting eggs, butter and other produce right off the farm for daily table use.

This system was instituted through the Duluth postoffice some time ago by Postmaster William E. McEwen, and after nearly a month of actual experience the most favorable results predicted for the system have been realized, it is claimed. The farms and dairies of St. Louis county are now marketing their produce daily at little cost and virtually no loss that might result from long-delayed shipments and subsequent handling by the middleman.

Postmaster McEwen is starting the experiment in a humble way. At first he secured the names of producers and dealers willing to furnish produce direct to the consumer through the parcel post. These names were left with the stamp clerks at the local office—Henry Grueson, L. R. Boudrye and Nels Thompson. Now if a housewife wants fresh eggs for daily use, a chicken for a Sunday dinner, fresh lettuce or other dainty relishes, she leaves word with one of Uncle Sam's men, and she is immediately put in touch with the man who can deliver the goods.

Mr. Grueson said today that he and the other clerks in charge have found the plan to be working out with great success and to be growing rapidly.

BOGUS MONEY MAKERS IN MEXICO ARE SHOT.

Mexico City, March 12.—In an effort to check the widespread activities of counterfeiters, the Mexican authorities are making a special round-up of these criminals who, when caught in the act of making the bogus money, are to be shot without trial. Coinage has long since disappeared, even the despised copper centavos having been hidden away for safe-keeping, so that paper cents, dimes and 20-cent pieces, together with dollar and half-dollar bills are the exchange units of every-day transactions. As this money is made on the ordinary printing press, the temptation to make bogus money has been too great for many to withstand. It is estimated that millions of dollars in counterfeit paper are now floating about the republic.

Lights and Shadows of Police Court

LOSES HIS "ROLL."

Arhart Burke, Age 62, Is Left Penniless.

ARHART BURKE, age 62, lost, found and lost $80, all he had in the world, this morning, and now he is destitute.

Burke came to Duluth from Barnum, Minn., a day or so ago, and has been staying at a rooming house at 613 West Superior street.

Last night he put his $80 in an envelope and placed it "under the straw tick," as he said. He arose early and started out to do some shopping, and found when he reached the store that he didn't have his $80.

Frantic for fear that it had been stolen, he rushed back to the room, and breathed a sigh of relief to find it still under his pillow. He placed it in his pocket, as he thought, and started out again, only to find it gone in earnest a few minutes later.

The envelope with his fortune had slipped through a tear in his coat and dropped on the sidewalk as he walked along. He is being cared for by the police.

IN THE SPRING—WOODSMEN.

Police Blotter Shows Names of Twenty-Eight Celebrators.

"In the spring a young man's fancy," say the poets, and they sigh rapturously.

"In the spring—lumberjacks," is a paraphrase adopted by Duluth's guardians of the peace—and they also sigh, wearily.

"The open season for lumberjacks is on," said Municipal Court Clerk Walter Richeson this morning. "Just look at that blotter."

On the "blotter," which is the police court record of arrests, there were twenty-eight names—and all of them belonging to men who arrived in Duluth for a party, after a winter in the woods.

When court convened, the benches before the judge were filled with lumberjacks, and the place resembled an employment bureau just after the first snow fall.

From now on until navigation season opens the woodsmen will be driven to the city by the warm rays of the sun, seeking other employment. Some of them land in the city bastile before they go very far, as there are too many saloons in Duluth, when a man hasn't seen one for several months.

So when the sun came out again this morning, policemen pulled up their belts, resolving that spring was on the way, and prepared for the 1915 lumberjack harvest.

PROVED IT WAS SPRING.

Joseph Coffin Successfully Defends Duluth Climate With His Fists.

"Spring!" sniffed Harry Hallock, age 35, last night "spring! Why this is just a teaser. We won't have spring until about June. This Duluth climate gets my goat."

"Bes' lil' ol' climate in the world," said his friend, Joseph Coffin, age 30, and just to prove that he was a friend of the Zenith City and its "million-dollar" climate he "swatted" Harry.

Patrolman Seglem found them in an alley between Lake avenue and First avenue east, trying to decide, with their fists, whether it was spring or not.

Judging from appearances in municipal court this morning it was almost summer, because Hallock was much the worse for championing the cause of other climates than Duluth's. Both men were fined for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

WENT TO SLEEP ON GROUND.

Ambrose Hanson Rescued By Police Suffering From Pneumonia.

Outdoor sleeping may prove fatal to Ambrose Hanson, age 32.

Hanson thought it was warmer than it was last night and went to sleep on the ground. He was brought to headquarters this morning by Officer Boland, suffering from a high fever.

After an examination, Dr. L. J. Murphy, police surgeon, diagnosed the case as pneumonia and had the man taken to St. Luke's hospital.

Forfeits Her Bail.

Charged with frequenting a house of ill-fame, May Scott, age 39, failed to appear in municipal court this morning and bail amounting to $50 was forfeited. She was arrested by Police Sergeant John Roberg March 5, in the fourth of a series of five raids on disorderly rooming houses made that night.

CALUMET SALOONMEN ARE GOING TO CHURCH

Accept Invitation of Baptist Minister to Attend Next Sunday's Services.

Calumet, Mich., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in the history of the Upper Peninsula a minister of the gospel has invited all the saloonkeepers, liquor dealers and bartenders in his neighborhood to attend a church service. Rev. George W. Broome, pastor of the First Baptist church of Calumet has invited all the saloonmen of Calumet and Laurium and neighboring towns to attend special services at his church next Sunon their business or that will injure their sensibilities. They are invited on thmeir business or that will injure their sensibilities. They are inxited to go to church and take their families and bartenders. Rev. Broome will preach on the subject, "The Publican's Possibilities."

Saloonmen Accept.

The saloonmen are planning, too, to attend the service and there is likely to be such a crowd of liquor men and their employes, and members of their families, that the church will hardly hold them. The saloonkeepers have decided that inasmuch as Rev. Mr. Broome has honored them with such keen attention and a desire to attend to their spiritual welfare without lamming white ribbon talk at them, they will hear what he has to say.

There are, in Calumet, some fifty or more saloonkeepers, a score of brewery directors, 100 bartenders and 100 other saloon employes, while Laurium and Red Jacket will furnish another thirty saloonmen and another hundred employes.

INJURED NEAR KARLSTAD.

John Carlson, Helping Move Building, Thrown Twenty-Five Feet.

Karlstad, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Carlson is here in a hospital near to death of injuries sustained yesterday while helping his brother-in-law, Erick Youngcrans, at the latter's farm near here move a house.

They had the building on the sleighs and were "jacking" it up when the horses gave a jerk and Carlson, who was holding down the pry, was thrown about twenty-five feet up into the air. He fell head first on the heavy pry and his nose was broken, his front teeth knocked out, his upper jaw caved in and the rest of his face badly mangled. Besides he suffered a broken arm. He was picked up unconscious and brought here.

SON OF FORMER SULTAN OF TURKEY STRANGLED

BURHAN-EDDIN EFFENDI.

Paris, March 12.—The Balkan agency has received the following dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria:

"Advices from Constantinople say that Burhan-Eddin Effendi, favorite son of the former sultan, Abdul Hamid, was found strangled in his bedroom.

"Despite the reserve of the Turkish police, it has been confirmed that the prince was killed by political enemies."

GRAIN RATES ARE NOT SUFFICIENT

Freight Manager of Missouri Pacific Presents Figures to Show It.

Chicago, March 12.—Figures purporting to show that the interstate freight rates on grain and grain products in the Southwest territory were not sufficient to yield profit to the railroads were given by C. E. Perkins, freight traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain systems, who resumed his testimony today in the interstate commerce commission's hearing of the Western railroads' petition for higher freight rates.

The witness said the lack of profit in hauling of grain had to be made up from the hauling of other commodities, so the general average of income on all commodities was reduced. The forty-one Western roads are seeking an advance of 1 cent a hundred pounds on grain transportation between certain points. Much of Mr. Perkins' testimony was an amplification of what he had given previously.

Attorneys for Chicago packers and various packing associations and livestock organizations in the West, including the American Meat Packers' association, recorded their appearance before Commissioner Daniels today. The railroads proposed increase on rates for livestock, fresh meat, packing house products and fertilizer materials is to be taken up tomorrow. Four days are to be devoted to this subject.

FOR SPRING DRIVES.

International Lumber Company Plans to Move Much Timber.

Spooner, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lou McIntosh, who has charge of the logging operations for the International Lumber company in this section, has just completed the work of moving the wannigans from Clementson to the upper waters of the Rapid river, so as to be in readiness for the spring drives. The company has a large amount of timber on the main river and its various branches, which it is planned to drive down with the spring floods. The company expects to use a large number of men during the coming driving season, and this means more money and plenty for this district.

DULUTH FIRM ENGAGED.

Will Prepare Plans for Cloquet's Proposed $12,000 Firehall.

Cloquet, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 300 to 84 the citizens at the special election approved the council's plan for issuing $12,000 bonds for the erection of a new fire hall at the corner of Seventh street and Cloquet avenue on the site owned by the city.

At the city council meeting Tuesday evening the first step was taken when the committee on city property and buildings was instructed to procure plans and specifications for the new structure from Kelley & Williams of Duluth. As soon as the plans are received bids will be called for the construction.

COL. THORP'S FARM MOVEMENT POPULAR.

Brainerd, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many prominent men are interested in the National New Farming association launched by Col. Freeman Thorp of Crow Wing county. County officials, officers of the chamber of commerce, the First National bank and many other institutions in the county and the Northwest have taken memberships in the association. The new Farmers' Magazine will be published and will be devoted to an exposition of Col. Thorp's method of conserving rainfall and quadrupling crops on lands so treated. At Hubert corn went 100 bushels to the acre on his lands.

Belgian Horses Sell Well.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 12.—Approximately $14,000 changed hands at the sale here of the E. Toussaint & Co., Belgian horses. Seventeen thoroughbreds were disposed of by the east side breeders, nine stallions and eight mares, most of the latter going to Powers Lake and Kenmare. The mares brought on the average of $608, while the average price of the stallions was $1,505. The highest priced animal sold was last year's champion, which brought $1,360.

Warroad Bakery Burns.

Warroad, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire broke out in the bakery about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, and in less than half an hour the building and contents were burned to the ground. The building was owned by Jonas P. Landbeck, and was insured for $600, the bakery stock and fixtures, owned by Busse & Bender, was insured for $250. The fire department did excellent work with their new equipment, and succeeded in saving the two buildings adjoining.

FRECKLES

February and March Worst Months For This Trouble—How to Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in February and March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from Boyce drug store or any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles for if not removed now they may stay all Summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if othine fails.

FIREMEN IN THE "MOVIES"

Hicken Arranges to Show Department in the Films.

Thrilling Melodrama Will Be Produced; Pool Tables for Fire Halls.

Motion pictures of Duluth's motorized fire department taking part in a thrilling melodrama, royalties for which will be used in equipping the various fire halls with billiard and pool tables, will be shown here sometime this spring.

Commissioner Hicken, head of the public safety division who returned this morning from St. Paul, announced that Postmaster Otto M. Raths of St. Paul, head of a large motion picture company, has agreed to bear the entire expense of taking the pictures of the Duluth fire department in action and booking the films throughout the country. A 50-per-cent royalty will be paid the Duluth Firemen's Relief association, the money going to defray the expense of buying billiard and pool tables and other equipment for all the fire halls in Duluth, the commissioner said.

"Mr. Rath is enthusiastic about our fire department," said Commissioner Hicken this morning, "and officials of his company are anxious to take pictures of the entire motor equipment in action. They especially want to get the aerial truck working, they say, as it is the only one of its kind in this part of the country.

"It is planned to take the pictures, so that they can be embodied in a thrilling melodrama, featuring especially a completely motorized fire equipment of a large city. The machines will be shown coming out of the fire halls, dashing down West First street and down Lake avenue to the aerial bridge, across the bridge and then down Minnesota avenue. The action of the melodrama will take place somewhere on Park Point, as I understand it. The motion picture machine will be stationed in the canal and pictures will be taken of the equipment going across the bridge.

"In addition, the aerial truck will be shown operating at one of the large buildings, while the boys will be pictured working with the life nets and pulmotor. This entire affair will not cost the city or relief association a single penny, while 50 per cent of the royalties will be paid to the local relief fund."

Commissioner Hicken plans to take the matter up with Fire Chief Randall and the relief association within a few days and some time this month arrangements will be made for the taking of the pictures.

CALUMET SALOONMEN ARE GOING TO CHURCH

Accept Invitation of Baptist Minister to Attend Next Sunday's Services.

Calumet, Mich., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—For the first time in the history of the Upper Peninsula a minister of the gospel has invited all the saloonkeepers, liquor dealers and bartenders in his neighborhood to attend a church service. Rev. George W. Broome, pastor of the First Baptist church of Calumet has invited all the saloonmen of Calumet and Laurium and neighboring towns to attend special services at his church next Sunday on their business or that will injure their sensibilities. They are invited on thmeir business or that will injure their sensibilities. They are inxited to go to church and take their families and bartenders. Rev. Broome will preach on the subject, "The Publican's Possibilities."

Saloonmen Accept.

The saloonmen are planning, too, to attend the service and there is likely to be such a crowd of liquor men and their employes, and members of their families, that the church will hardly hold them. The saloonkeepers have decided that inasmuch as Rev. Mr. Broome has honored them with such keen attention and a desire to attend to their spiritual welfare without laming white ribbon talk at them, they will hear what he has to say.

There are, in Calumet, some fifty or more saloonkeepers, a score of brewery directors, 100 bartenders and 100 other saloon employes, while Laurium and environs will furnish another thirty saloonmen and another hundred employes.

INJURED NEAR KARLSTAD.

John Carlson, Helping Move Building, Thrown Twenty-Five Feet.

Karlstad, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—John Carlson is here in a hospital near to death of injuries sustained yesterday while helping his brother-in-law, Erick Youngerans, at the latter's farm near here move a house.

They had the building on the sleighs and were "jacking" it up when the horses gave a jerk and Carlson, who was holding down the pry, was thrown about twenty-five feet up into the air. He fell head first on the heavy pry and his nose was broken, his front teeth knocked out, his upper jaw caved in and the rest of his face badly mangled. Besides he suffered a broken arm. He was picked up unconscious and brought here.

SON OF FORMER SULTAN OF TURKEY STRANGLED

BURHAN-EDDIN EFFENDI.

Paris, March 12.—The Balkan agency has received the following dispatch from Sofia, Bulgaria:

"Advices from Constantinople say that Burhan-Eddin Effendi, favorite son of the former sultan, Abdul Hamid, was found strangled in his bedroom.

"Despite the reserve of the Turkish police, it has been confirmed that the prince was killed by political enemies."

GRAIN RATES ARE NOT SUFFICIENT

Freight Manager of Missouri Pacific Presents Figures to Show It.

Chicago, March 12.—Figures purporting to show that the interstate freight rates on grain and grain products in the Southwest territory were not sufficient to yield profit to the railroads were given by C. E. Perkins, freight traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain systems, who resumed his testimony today in the interstate commerce commission's hearing of the Western railroads' petition for higher freight rates.

The witness said the lack of profit in hauling of grain had to be made up from the hauling of other commodities, so the general average of income on all commodities was reduced. The forty-one Western roads are seeking an advance of 1 cent a hundred pounds on grain transportation between certain points. Much of Mr. Perkins' testimony was an amplification of what he had given previously.

Attorneys for Chicago packers and various packing associations and livestock organizations in the West, including the American Meat Packers' association, recorded their appearance before Commissioner Daniels today. The railroads proposed increase on rates for livestock, fresh meat, packing house products and fertilizer materials is to be taken up tomorrow. Four days are to be devoted to this subject.

FOR SPRING DRIVES.

International Lumber Company Plans to Move Much Timber.

Spooner, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Lou McIntosh, who has charge of the logging operations for the International Lumber company in this section, has just completed the work of moving the wanniganns from Clementson to the upper waters of the Rapid river, so as to be in readiness for the spring drives. The company has a large amount of timber on the main river and its various branches, which it is planned to drive down with the spring floods. The company expects to use a large number of men during the coming driving season, and this means more money and plenty for this district.

DULUTH FIRM ENGAGED.

Will Prepare Plans for Cloquet's Proposed $12,000 Firehall.

Cloquet, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—By a vote of 300 to 84 the citizens at the special election approved the council's plan for issuing $12,000 bonds for the erection of a new fire hall at the corner of Seventh street and Cloquet avenue on the site owned by the city.

At the city council meeting Tuesday evening the first step was taken when the committee on city property and buildings was instructed to procure plans and specifications for the new structure from Kelley & Williams of Duluth. As soon as the plans are received bids will be called for the construction.

COL. THORP'S FARM MOVEMENT POPULAR.

Brainerd, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Many prominent men are interested in the National New Farming association launched by Col. Freeman Thorp of Crow Wing county. County officials, officers of the chamber of commerce, the First National bank and many other institutions in the county and the Northwest have taken memberships in the association. The new Farmers' Magazine will be published and will be devoted to an exposition of Col. Thorp's method of conserving rainfall and quadrupling crops on lands so treated. At Hubert corn went 100 bushels to the acre on his lands.

Belgian Horses Sell Well.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 12.—Approximately $14,000 changed hands at the sale here of the E. Toussaint & Co., Belgian horses. Seventeen thoroughbreds were disposed of by the east side breeders, nine stallions and eight mares, most of the latter going to Powers Lake and Kenmare. The mares brought on the average of $608, while the average price of the stallions was $1,505. The highest priced animal sold was last year's champion, which brought $1,360.

DR. POWELL WILL LECTURE AT BRAINERD

Brainerd, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Rev. John W. Powell of Minneapolis, formerly of Duluth, will speak on "The Theater as a Social Force" at the next meeting of the Brainerd Musical club held Friday evening, March 19, at Elks' hall.

Warroad Bakery Burns.

Warroad, Minn., March 12.—(Special to The Herald.)—Fire broke out in the bakery about 3 o'clock Tuesday morning, and in less than half an hour the building and contents were burned to the ground. The building was owned by Jonas P. Landbeck, and was insured for $500, the bakery stock and fixtures, owned by Busse & Bender, was insured for $250. The fire department did excellent work with their new equipment, and succeeded in saving the two buildings adjoining.

FRECKLES

February and March Worst Months For This Trouble—How to Remove Easily.

There's a reason why nearly everybody freckles in February and March, but happily there is also a remedy for these ugly blemishes, and no one need stay freckled.

Simply get an ounce of othine, double strength, from Boyce drug store or any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning, and in a few days you should see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the light ones have vanished entirely. Now is the time to rid yourself of freckles for if not removed now they may stay all Summer, and spoil an otherwise beautiful complexion. Your money back if othine fails.

MARKET HAS GOOD BULGE

Wheat Strong on Further Export Inquiry and Bullish News.

Flaxseed Scores Sharp Advance, With Crushers' and Speculative Operations.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 12.—The market was strong at the close on a continuance of good bidding.

May wheat closed 1⅞c up and July 2c up. May durum closed 1c up and July ½c up.

Oats closed 2c up at 56⅞c for on the track; rye unchanged at $1.08@1.09, and barley 2c up at from 67@78c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed ½c up at 64½c bid, and July ½c up at 64½c bid.

Puts on Minneapolis May wheat closed at $1.42⅝, and calls at $1.50⅛.

Bulls in the wheat market were on top again today, with the news generally favorable to that side.

Liverpool cables were higher, and seaboard exporters were in the market freely at all points. Duluth operators reported the highest premiums for one northern offered on the crop, but they were obliged to turn them all down as everything in the elevators here is said to be sold up. The lower grades, on the other hand, proved slow of sale, and considerable stuff offered on the tables went at heavy discounts. The trade is confident that exporters will be after No. 2 northern heavily later on, but in the meantime, since the burst of business reported in it a few days ago, there has been nothing doing. Millers have been light buyers of late on account of the falling away in flour inquiry.

The government report and Snow's estimate of stocks in mills and elevators were exceedingly bullish, showing decreases in supplies or several millions bu under last year. Information coming to hand regarding the appearance of the winter wheat plant is generally reassuring. Practically no damage has been reported from any section of the country.

Many grain men are of the opinion that the export business has been so heavy during the last few weeks that all the tonnage that should be sold for shipment abroad has been already disposed of. Predictions are made that figures issued during the next few weeks will prove surprising on that score.

Clearance became liberal again today reaching over the 1,000,000 bu mark after showing a smaller aggregate during the past week.

May wheat opened ½c up at $1.47⅜, and it stood at $1.49⅝ at the noon hour, after having sold ½c higher. July opened 1⅝c up at $1.43⅞, and advanced to $1.45.

May durum opened unchanged at $1.51½, and gained 1¼c. July sold up ½c to $1.50.

Flax Strong Again.

Crushers and speculative operations in flaxseed, led to a further boost to its quotations. The bullish situation in the seed is attributed to the small stocks being carried, and the light supplies remaining in the country, in connection with the delayed movement this way of stocks bought months ago in Argentina. At Buenos Aires, flax closed 2¼c up today. The London close was unchanged.

May flax opened ¼c off at $1.91¼, and closed 4c up at $1.95½. July opened unchanged at $1.93¼, and closed 3¼c up at $1.97 nominal. September opened unchanged at $1.92 and closed 3⅝c up at $1.95⅝ bid.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 3¼c up at $1.75⅛, and July 3⅛c up at $1.77⅞ bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

Modern Miller says: "Winter wheat crop conditions continue to show excellent prospects. There are few reports of thawing and freezing, and the soil is well supplied with moisture to promote growth with milder weather in the northwest part of the winter wheat belt. There is still some snow covering."

* * *

Bids for No. 1 northern wheat at the highest premiums on the crop for export, were reported by Duluth operators. It is intimated that none of the offers could be accepted on account of stocks here being practically sold out. The premium on cash one northern wheat was unchanged at 3c over May. Durum sold at the May price to 1c over for choice stuff. Cash flaxseed remained at 1c under May. There was a slow market for the lower grades of wheat. No. 2 northern brought from 3c to 7c under May, and No. 3 northern was practically unsalable.

* * *

B. W. Snow's report, in part, says: "From no matter what angle the situation be approached, it is evident that we have already exported all the wheat we can spare except by reducing our carry-over supplies very greatly, or reducing our domestic consumption."

* * *

C. E. Lewis & Co. wired from Minneapolis: "The government has issued a report showing the wheat held by country mills and elevators on March 1, there was: Wheat in farmers' hands, 151,800,000 bu; visible supply, 51,000,000 bu, and wheat in second hands, 94,000,000. Total on hand a year ago was 302,800,000 bu, and total on hand this year 239,000,000 bu, makes 63,800,000 bu less wheat in sight to last us the balance of this season, compared with the same period last year. The same figures this year show we have 99,366,000 bu less wheat than for the same period in 1913."

* * *

The government report on wheat held by country mills and elevators shows 4,298,000 bu for Minnesota; North Dakota, 6,527,000 bu, and South Dakota, 4,104,000 bu. No comparison with former years is made.

Minneapolis cash market was firm with No. 1 northern blue stem at 5½c over May, extra choice, 6c over and velvet chaff at 2 to 2½c over May. Flour sales were still reported moderate. Cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.43 to $1.51½ and No. 2 northern at from $1.44½ to $1.49.

Broomhall cabled from Liverpool: "Market was dull, but steady, with offers lighter and fewer bulla offers. Winter offers were unchanged, while Plates were 3d to 1½d higher and spot market was firm, with a good millers' demand. The Argentine visible offset the effect of the unfavorable weather as a factor, but Plate offers are more firmly held. There is more inquiry from outsiders and arrivals here are lighter.

"Corn was easy, with liberal Plate offers, quiet spot demand and parcels 3d lower."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Rapidly Diminishing Supplies of Wheat Has Bullish Effect on Prices.

Chicago, March 12.—Rapidly diminishing supplies in mills and elevators had a bullish effect today on the price of wheat. There was lively buying as a result of the government report showing the total stock to be about 20,000,000 bu less than at the corresponding time a year ago. Additional strength was derived from an advance in quotations at Liverpool, where demand was said to be on the increase. After opening ⅝@1⅛c higher, the market here made a decided further upturn before beginning to react.

Urgent demand for both cash and May by export houses tended to rally the market on every down turn. The close was strong at 1⅛ to 2⅜c above last night.

Free purchasing by commission houses lifted corn. Rural offerings were light. The opening which varied from the same as last night to ⅛@¼c higher, was followed by a moderate gain all around.

Owing to wheat strength, speculators were chary of pressing the bear side of the corn market. The close was firm at ⅝@⅞ to ⅞@⅞c net advance.

Continued export call gave strength to oats. Estimates of the Argentina surplus were said to have been greatly reduced.

Provisions rose with hogs. Stock yards interests, however, seemed willing to unload on the bulge.

DECLINES IN STOCKS

Motor Shares Continue to Absorb Bulk of Light Trading.

Southern Preferred Drops Five Points on Passing of Dividend.

New York, March 12.—Automobile shares were again conspicuous at the outset of today's trading with further material gains while speculative favorites were relatively neglected. The advance in the motor issues and affiliated stocks ranged from 1½ to 4½ points and was due in large part to professional manipulation, outside interest being trifling. Among the leaders United States Steel and Amalgamated Copper gained half a point each, with strength in Lehigh Valley and "Soo." Of the more dormant specialties, American woolen preferred was prominent for its rise of 2½.

Motor shares continued to absorb the bulk of the light trading today, dealings in those issues comprising about 20 per cent of the early session's entire output. Steel, Union Pacific, Reading and some others of the active group were in steady demand, this being reflected in their higher price levels. Gains were lost before mid-day, however, some standard stocks selling under yesterday's close on profit-taking. Among the more severe declines were losses of 2@4½ points in United Railways of San Francisco common and preferred.

Bonds were irregular and narrow.

Early afternoon trading was mainly in stocks which normally have little following, including Missouri Pacific, Tennessee Copper, Beet Sugar and the Motor shares. Prices were variable, but the trend in general was downward.

Recent manipulation in specialties, chiefly motor shares, culminated today in general declines, leaders yielding a point or more.

Southern Railway preferred fell 5 points to 45 in the final dealings on passing of the dividend. Representative stocks were at the lowest levels of the day. The closing was heavy.

SUMMER RESORTS.

PLAN THAT VACATION
TRIP NOW.

And spend it on your own camp site at Ne-na-mik-ka-ta, Lake Vermilion. Ne-na-mik-ka-ta (Chippewa for easy portage) is on Pine island. It is located in one of the most desirable spots at Lake Vermilion.

Several people from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities have already purchased camp sites, and will build this spring. These camp sites offer a good investment, as lots on our Daisy island tract have increased 50 per cent in value in less than a year.

Duluth people should take advantage of this proposition. They should know about the park, the docks, the beaches, and the people who have purchased. Write or call for full particulars. Names of Duluth purchasers given upon request. Call us up, either phone 516, for appointment with our salesman.

COUNTY DIVISION BILL MADE A SPECIAL ORDER FOR TUESDAY, MARCH 23

Had Been Hope to Settle Fight During Coming Week.

Two-Thirds Vote Necessary to Make Special Order Hereafter.

Double-Platoon System for City Fire Departments Proposed.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The St. Louis county division bill was made a special order for Tuesday, March 23, by the house this morning on motion of Representative Scott, seconded by Representative Ribenack. It had been hoped to fix the special order for next week, but it was found that every day was full.

* * *

After a prolonged debate, the house this afternoon adopted an amendment to the rules, proposed by the rules committee, providing that hereafter no bill may be made a special order except by a two-thirds vote, instead of by a majority vote as now. The vote was 57 to 54.

The opposition to the new rule contended it would enable a minority of the house to block action on disputed bills, and that the house is so congested that it is only by making them special orders that many bills can be acted upon between now and the end of the session.

The supporters of the bill declared that the special order privilege is being abused, that special orders have become so numerous as virtually to crowd out consideration of the many bills on general orders, and that even under the two-thirds rule any measure of large importance can be made a special order.

While the arguments of the proposal on its merits attracted many votes to both sides, in general the division was between the "wets" for the rule and the "drys" against it, the advocates of state-wide prohibition being especially active against it. The rule, which was supported by the committee this morning, was adopted without much attention being paid to it, but later Representative Anderson, Prohibitionist, moved to reconsider this action, precipitating a debate that lasted long past the noon hour.

Fire Department Bill.

Cities of the first class are required to maintain the double-platoon system of their fire departments by a bill introduced in the senate this morning by Senator Richard Jones of Duluth. Under it, instead of being on duty twenty-four hours for six days a week, firemen could be kept on call only twelve hours and would be free the other half day. The proposal is made under the police power of Scott Withdraws Provision for Hibbing Creating Third County.

Bill Repealing County Development Law Defeated in Committee.

By a Staff Correspondent.

St. Paul, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—It was a county division field day before the house committee on towns and counties yesterday afternoon.

The Scott bill to divide St. Louis county by the vote of the people living in the proposed new county was put out without recommendation, further than that it be made a special order.

The Boyd bill, applying the Power-McMahen system of county division by "accession," as it has been termed, to Otter Tail and Polk counties, introduced in the house yesterday morning, came up before the towns and counties committee yesterday afternoon also, and its friends were in favor of putting it out.

However, Representative Gunnar B. Bjornson of Minneota thought that the representatives from the counties affected, all of whom except Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston are against the bill, ought to have a chance to be heard, and it was decided to take the measure up for hearing Monday afternoon.

Amendment By Scott.

When the Scott bill was taken up, Representative Scott offered an amendment cutting out the provision that would have permitted the Hibbing district to cut itself off immediately into a third county if the bill should pass; and this amendment was adopted. It was insisted upon by Senator Griggs of Virginia and Representative Murphy of Aurora.

Then Mr. Scott moved that the bill be put out without any further recommendation than that it be made a special order.

Representative E. R. Ribenack of Duluth moved as a substitute that the bill be reported out simply without recommendation, declaring that he was against making it a special order.

The Ribenack substitute was lost by a vote of 5 to 7, as follows: For—Representatives Bjornson, Borgen, Girling, Malmberg and Ribenack; against—Representatives Bessette, Boyd, Haislett, Miner, Neitzel, Scott and Greene.

The Scott motion was then adopted, and the original county division bill was recommended for indefinite postponement.

Otter Tail and Polk.

Representative Boyd explained the bill to make county division easy in Otter Tail and Polk counties, and

SHEBOYGAN MOURNS FOR DEAD JURIST

Funeral of Late Judge Seaman Largest in History of City.

Sheboygan, Wis., March 13.—The funeral of the late Judge William Henry Seaman of the United States circuit court of appeals, Chicago, who died in California on Monday last, was held today from the First Congregational church, of which he was a member, the services being conducted by Rev. David Thomas, pastor of the church. Interment was made in the family lot in Wildwood cemetery.

All Sheboygan was in mourning. Flags in all parts of the city were at half mast and business was practically suspended.

The remains arrived here from California last evening accompanied by the widow's daughters and were taken directly to the Seaman home.

Many View Body.

The body lay in state in the church three hours preceding the funeral ceremonies, a large throng of friends of the deceased passing in review.

Floral tributes from Chicago, Milwaukee and home friends of the dead jurist were numerous and beautiful.

Special trains from Milwaukee and Chicago brought more than a hundred persons, including Federal judges, other court officials and members of the bar who went directly to the church and after the services followed the remains to their last resting place.

The funeral services were simple. The pallbearers were intimate friends of the Seaman family. They were Francis Williams, former law partner of Judge Seaman; Walter J. Kohler, Dr. O. B. Bock, Judge Paul T. Krez, Alderman Fred S. Morris and E. E. Pantzer.

The funeral was the largest in the history of Sheboygan.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR SAYS SINKING OF SHIP FRYE WAS JUSTIFIED

Count Bernstorff Has Informal Talk With Washington Officials.

Claims Captain of Cruiser Acted Under Declaration of London.

Says Case Will Be Settled According to International Law.

Washington, March 13.—Count Bernstorff, German ambassador, in discussing with state department officials today the sinking of the American ship William P. Frye, defended the action of Capt. Thierichens of the German auxiliary cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, contending that he acted under the Declaration of London, which was the only guide he had as to disposition of prizes.

The ambassador, before going to the state department, conferred with Capt. Boy-Ed, naval attache of the embassy, who returned yesterday from Newport News, where he went to hear the story of the sinking of the American vessel from the commander of the Prinz Eitel.

Count Bernstorff did not present any note to the state department and said he had received no instructions from his government. He said he called to discuss the question informally and to learn what was the view of the United States.

Defends Action.

In defending the action of Commander Thierichens, the ambassador contended that when the officer left Tsing-Tau at the outbreak of the war last August, he had nothing to follow but the Declaration of London in deciding what to do with vessels he might secure. For that reason, the ambassador argued, he had a right to sink the Frye, as its cargo of wheat was consigned "to order" and destined to a fortified port of the enemy. So long as there was no port into which he could take his prize he had a right, the ambassa-

ITALY CONSIDERING OFFER BY GERMANY

Territorial Concessions to Be Granted in Exchange for Neutrality.

London, March 13.—Authoritative reports reaching The Hague from Berlin seem to indicate that Germany, with a view to securing Italy's neutrality, has induced Austria, despite vigorous opposition by Emperor Francis Joseph, to agree to make territorial concessions to Italy in the event that Germany and Austria are victorious in the war.

It is understood, however, that although Italy has taken this tentative offer under consideration, no agreement has been reached. Italy's decision is awaited with anxious concern in all circles here.

The German imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann Holweg, according to Berlin reports, is visiting the German general headquarters at Mezieres, and it is unlikely, therefore, that he will make a speech before the reichstag committee.

EMPLOYED AT WHITE HOUSE FIFTY YEARS

COL. W. H. CROOK.

Washington, March 13.—Col. W. H. Crook, disbursing officer of the White House, who was President Lincoln's body guard, and who has been intimately acquainted with every president since 1860, died today at his home here. He has been sick with pneumonia more than a week.

Fifty years of service as a White House employe, through the administrations of twelve presidents, made Col. Crook one of the most familiar figures in the national capital, and in his old age left him rich in personal reminiscences of the intimate side of White House life. The assassinations of Lincoln and Garfield, various weddings at the White House, and the impeachment of President Johnson were among numerous events which Col. Crook recalled in memoirs of his half-century of White House service.

QUIET REPORTED IN MEXICO CITY

Washington, March 13.—Mexico City was reported quiet today and officials here expected all conditions to improve with the occupation of the Zapata forces. Secretary Bryan said:

"I think we are in pretty good shape. Carranza has promised to permit people leaving the capital, to travel over the portion of the railroad he controls while the Zapata general in command there has undertaken to admit food supplies."

The whereabouts of Gen. Obregon, commanding the Carranza force which evacuated the city, is not known here.

No further reports were received today on the killing of John B. McManus by Zapata troopers.

LOWER COURT IS REVERSED

National Cash Register Case Sent Back for New Trial.

President Patterson and Others Found Guilty Three Years Ago.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 13.—The United States circuit court of appeals today reversed the lower court in the case of the government against John H. Patterson, president, and twenty-six other officials or former officials of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, Ohio, and remanded it back to the district court for a new trial. Mr. Patterson and his associates were found guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust law and sentenced to serve prison terms and fined.

Thirty In All.

The defendants in the National Cash Register case who were indicted by a Federal grand jury at Cincinnati three years ago numbered thirty men, including the president, John H. Patterson, and twenty-nine other officials or former officials and departmental heads of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, Ohio. Twenty-nine were convicted by a jury in the United States district court, and twenty-seven, including President Patterson, were sentenced each to serve approximately a years time in Ohio jails. The verdict was one of the most sweeping ever given under the criminal section of the Sherman law.

The indictment was reported to United States District Judge Howard Hollister on Feb. 22, 1912, naming all thirty men as joint defendants in an alleged conspiracy to crush competition by a warfare on competitors, in violation of the Federal law. All of the defendants came to Cincinnati immediately and gave bond for their appearances in court. The trial was begun on Nov. 19, 1913. It continued for almost three months, the verdict of guilty being returned by the jury on Feb. 13, 1914. Sentences were passed by Judge Hollister on Feb. 17. President Patterson was sentenced to pay a $5,000 fine and serve one year in the Miami county jail.

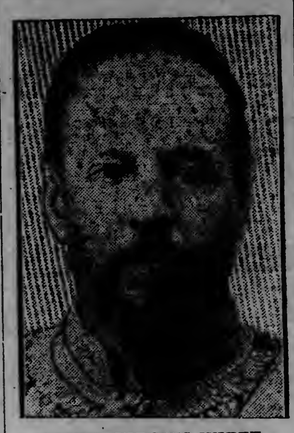
PROMINENT RUSSIAN STATESMAN IS DEAD



COUNT SERGIUS WITTE.

London, March 13.—Count Sergius Julovich Witte, Russia's first prime minister, died last night, says a Petrograd dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company.

Count Witte, who was born June 23, 1849 at Tiflis, was one of the Russian plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, in the negotiations for peace with Japan in 1905. He afterwards was made a count and appointed president of the new ministry but retired in 1906 and held no important post after that time.

Zapata Soldiers Hated McManus for Recent Successful Resistance.

Shot Two Mexicans Who Attempted to Raid Dairy Ranch.

Chicago, March 13.—Revenge was the motive which prompted Zapata soldiers to murder John B. McManus, according to a statement made here yesterday by a sister of the dead man, Miss Elizabeth McManus, a teacher in the Chicago public schools.

The successful resistance made by McManus last January when khaki-clad followers of Zapata tried to invade his home earned the hatred of the band of Mexicans who finally killed her brother, Miss McManus said.

ASSISTANTS ALSO FREED BY THE JURY

Motion Made to Have Thaw Committed to Asylum.

Combatted By Attorneys on Ground Prisoner Is Sane.

Judge Page Will Hear Arguments on Motion Monday.

New York, March 13.—Harry KeKendall Thaw today was acquitted of conspiracy in escaping from the Matteawan asylum, Aug. 17, 1913, the charge upon which he was brought back to New York from New Hampshire. Roger Thompson, Richard J. Butler, Eugene Duffy and Thomas Flood, the four men who assisted him in his spectacular flight by automobile from Matteawan to Canada, likewise were acquitted.

The jury which acquitted Thaw had labored all night and until 12:20 o'clock this afternoon in an effort to reach a verdict.

As soon as the verdict was announced, Thaw was given into the custody of Sheriff Grigenhagen of New York county. The four defendants were discharged.

Motion to Commit.

A motion to have Thaw committed to Matteawan asylum as an insane person was made by Deputy Attorney General Cook immediately after the jury had rendered its verdict. This motion was combatted by Thaw's counsel, who announced that inasmuch as Thaw was brought here on the conspiracy charge and found not guilty, he should be returned to the state of New Hampshire as a sane man.

Formal motion that he be so returned was then made by Thaw's lawyers.

Justice Page announced that he would hear arguments on this motion Monday afternoon, March 15. In the meantime Thaw was remanded to the Tombs.

The court room was thrown into an uproar by a passage between Sheriff Grifenhagen and John Lanyon, a detective employed by the attorney general's office. Lanyon struck Grifenhagen in the face and was placed under arrest for contempt of court by Justice Page's order.

Y. M. C. A. TO WORK AMONG PRISONERS.

Berlin, via London, March 13.—A. C. Harte, representing the international Y. M. C. A., has obtained permission from the foreign office to establish branches of the Y. M. C. A. for religious work among war prisoners in Germany. Authority has been granted to open branches at the Goettingen and Altensburg camps, where the prisoners are mainly Russian and French. Germany is the first country to authorize such an undertaking, but Mr. Harte will ask other belligerent nations to follow her example.

GERMANS PREPARING FOR A NEW ATTACK ON PRASNYSZ

CLEARING THE MINE FIELDS

Seventy Small Sweepers at Work in the Dardanelles.

Paris, March 13.—The bombardment of the Dardanelles was resumed yesterday (Friday) morning by French and British battleships, says a dispatch to the Matin from Athens. Seventy small mine sweepers are reported to be continuing their efforts to clear the mine fields under the direction of officers representing the British and French navies.

"The allied fleets," says the Matin, "still have eight or ten forts and a certain number of coast batteries to reduce, but it is the general opinion they will enter the sea of Marmora within a fortnight if the land forces co-operating with them also can continue their advance."

The warships, the dispatch says, did not enter the straits and their object seemed to be prevent the Turkish by long distance fire, from repairing certain forts which have been damaged.

Vice Admiral Garden, commanding the British fleet operating against the Dardanelles, has expressed the opinion that the allies will be able to hammer their way through the straits before Easter, according to an Athens dispatch to the Journal.

Feeling Out Russian Positions By Artillery Engagement.

New Troops Being Placed Under Cover of the Fire.

Petrograd, March 13, via London.—The Germans appear to be setting the stage with much deliberation for the new attempt on Prasnysz, the city of Northern Poland against which the new and formidable attack is directed. An artillery engagement now in progress evidently is intended to feel out the Russians' positions and clear the arena for the advance of the German infantry. Under cover of the artillery fire, the Germans are placing newly arrived troops.

The Russian general staff is alive to these preparations and expresses confidence as to the outcome of this new phase of the campaign.

Big Battles Expected.

London, March 13.—In the east the battle of Przasnysz, now in its opening stages, and in the west the operations around La Bassee, where the Germans are massing troops in an endeavor to regain the ground recently taken by British and Indian contingents, are expected to develop into events of military importance during the coming week.

The allied fleet meantime is continuing its efforts to force the straits of

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

An announcement from the French ministry of marine states that the bombardment of the Dardanelles was continued yesterday, but leaves in doubt the amount of damage inflicted on the Turkish fortifications. The statement refers to an attack on batteries commanding the bay of Morto, at the entrance to the Dardanelles and to mine-sweeping operations in the first mine field. Previous official reports gave the impression that the forts at the entrance of the straits had been badly damaged, if not destroyed, that the defense works at the narrowest part of the passage were under attack and that one-third of the straits had been cleared of mines.

The German movement in Northern Poland is developing rapidly, straining the resources of the Russians to prevent a further advance and the penetration of their fortified line. The Russian war office reports that the German advance on Przasnysz, said by Berlin yesterday to have been pushed with 2½ miles of the city, had been checked. The Germans are bringing in new forces and attempting flanking movements.

The Turkish armies in Turkish Armenia along the Black sea and in Northwestern Persia have sustained further defeats. In Armenia the Russians captured the entire Turkish battery and in Persia the Turks were again compelled to fall back.

It is reported in Rome that Austria has refused to discuss the cession of Triest to Italy and is willing to cede only a small part of the province of Trent. Italy, it is said, has completed military preparations "for any eventuality."

LOWER COURT IS REVERSED

National Cash Register Case Sent Back for New Trial.

President Patterson and Others Found Guilty Three Years Ago.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 13.—The United States circuit court of appeals today reversed the lower court in the case of the government against John H. Patterson, president, and twenty-six other officials or former officials of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, Ohio, and remanded it back to the district court for a new trial. Mr. Patterson and his associates were found guilty of violating the Sherman anti-trust law and sentenced to serve prison terms and fined.

Thirty in All.

The defendants in the National Cash Register case who were indicted by a Federal grand jury at Cincinnati three years ago numbered thirty men, including the president, John H. Patterson, and twenty-nine other officials or former officials and departmental heads of the National Cash Register company of Dayton, Ohio. Twenty-nine were convicted by a jury in the United States district court, and twenty-seven, including President Patterson, were sentenced each to serve approximately a year's time in Ohio jails. The verdict was one of the most sweeping ever given under the criminal section of the Sherman law.

The indictment was reported to United States District Judge Howard Hollister on Feb. 22, 1912, naming all thirty men as joint defendants in an alleged conspiracy to crush competition by a warfare on competitors, in violation of the Federal law. All of the defendants came to Cincinnati immediately and gave bond for their appearances in court. The trial was begun on Nov. 19, 1913. It continued for almost three months, the verdict of guilty being returned by the jury on Feb. 13, 1914. Sentences were passed by Judge Hollister on Feb. 17. President Patterson was sentenced to pay a $5,000 fine and serve one year in the Miami county jail.

PROMINENT RUSSIAN STATESMAN IS DEAD

COUNT SERGIUS WITTE.

London, March 13.—Count Sergius Julovich Witte, Russia's first prime minister, died last night, says a Petrograd dispatch to Reuter's Telegram company.

Count Witte, who was born June 29, 1849 at Tiflis, was one of the Russian plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth, New Hampshire, in the negotiations for peace with Japan in 1905. He afterwards was made a count and appointed president of the new ministry but retired in 1906 and held no important post after that time.

REVENGE SAID TO BE MOTIVE

Zapata Soldiers Hated McManus for Recent Successful Resistance.

Shot Two Mexicans Who Attempted to Raid Dairy Ranch.

Chicago, March 13.—Revenge was the motive which prompted Zapata soldiers to murder John B. McManus, according to a statement made here yesterday by a sister of the dead man, Miss Elizabeth McManus, a teacher in the Chicago public schools.

The successful resistance made by McManus last January when khaki-clad followers of Zapata tried to invade his home earned the hatred of the band of Mexicans who finally killed her brother, Miss McManus said.

ASSISTANTS ALSO FREED BY THE JURY

Motion Made to Have Thaw Committed to Asylum.

Combatted By Attorneys on Ground Prisoner Is Sane.

Judge Page Will Hear Arguments on Motion Monday.

New York, March 13.—Harry Kendall Thaw today was acquitted of conspiracy in escaping from the Matteawan asylum, Aug. 17, 1913, the charge upon which he was brought back to New York from New Hampshire. Roger Thompson, Richard J. Butler, Eugene Duffy and Thomas Flood, the four men who assisted him in his spectacular flight by automobile from Matteawan to Canada, likewise were acquitted.

The jury which acquitted Thaw had labored all night and until 12:20 o'clock this afternoon in an effort to reach a verdict.

As soon as the verdict was announced, Thaw was given into the custody of Sheriff Grigenhagen of New York county. The four defendants were discharged.

Motion to Commit.

A motion to have Thaw committed to Matteawan asylum as an insane person was made by Deputy Attorney General Cook immediately after the jury had rendered its verdict. This motion was combatted by Thaw's counsel, who announced that inasmuch as Thaw was brought here on the conspiracy charge and found not guilty, he should be returned to the state of New Hampshire as a sane man.

Formal motion that he be so returned was then made by Thaw's lawyers.

Justice Page announced that he would hear arguments on this motion Monday afternoon, March 15. In the meantime Thaw was remanded to the Tombs.

The court room was thrown into an uproar by a passage between Sheriff Grifenhagen and John Lanyon, a detective employed by the attorney general's office. Lanyon struck Grifenhagen in the face and was placed under arrest for contempt of court by Justice Page's order.

Y. M. C. A. TO WORK AMONG PRISONERS.

Berlin, via London, March 13.—A. C. Harte, representing the International Y. M. C. A., has obtained permission from the foreign office to establish branches of the Y. M. C. A. for religious work among war prisoners in Germany. Authority has been granted to open branches at the Goettingen and Altensburg camps, where the prisoners are mainly Russian and French. Germany is the first country to authorize such an undertaking, but Mr. Harte will ask other belligerent nations to follow her example.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR NEWS

An announcement from the French ministry of marine states that the bombardment of the Dardanelles was continued yesterday, but leaves in doubt the amount of damage inflicted on the Turkish fortifications. The statement refers to an attack on batteries commanding the bay of Morto, at the entrance to the Dardanelles and to mine-sweeping operations in the first mine field. Previous official reports gave the impression that the forts at the entrance of the straits had been badly damaged. If not destroyed, that the defense works at the narrowest part of the passage were under attack and that one-third of the straits had been cleared of mines.

The German movement in Northern Poland is developing rapidly, straining the resources of the Russians to prevent a further advance and the penetration of their fortified line. The Russian war office reports that the German advance on Prasnysz, said by Berlin yesterday to have been pushed with 2½ miles of the city, had been checked. The Germans are bringing in new forces and attempting flanking movements.

The Turkish armies in Turkish Armenia along the Black sea and in Northwestern Persia have sustained further defeats. In Armenia the Russians captured the entire Turkish battery and in Persia the Turks were again compelled to fall back.

It is reported in Rome that Austria has refused to discuss the cession of Triest to Italy and is willing to cede only a small part of the province of Trent. Italy, it is said, has completed military preparations "for any eventuality."

GERMANS PREPARING FOR A NEW ATTACK ON PRASNYSZ

CLEARING THE MINE FIELDS

Seventy Small Sweepers at Work in the Dardanelles.

Paris, March 13.—The bombardment of the Dardanelles was resumed yesterday (Friday) morning by French and British battleships, says a dispatch to the Matin from Athens. Seventy small mine sweepers are reported to be continuing their efforts to clear the mine fields under the direction of officers representing the British and French navies.

"The allied fleets," says the Matin, "still have eight or ten forts and a certain number of coast batteries to reduce, but it is the general opinion they will enter the sea of Marmora within a fortnight if the land forces co-operating with them also can continue their advance."

The warships, the dispatch says, did not enter the straits and their object seemed to be prevent the Turkish by long distance fire, from repairing certain forts which have been damaged.

Vice Admiral Garden, commanding the British fleet operating against the Dardanelles, has expressed the opinion that the allies will be able to hammer their way through the straits before Easter, according to an Athens dispatch to the Journal.

Feeling Out Russian Positions By Artillery Engagement.

New Troops Being Placed Under Cover of the Fire.

Petrograd, March 13, via London.—The Germans appear to be setting the stage with much deliberation for the new attempt on Prasnysz, the city of Northern Poland against which the new and formidable attack is directed. An artillery engagement now in progress evidently is intended to feel out the Russians' positions and clear the arena for the advance of the German infantry. Under cover of the artillery fire, the Germans are placing newly arrived troops.

The Russian general staff is alive to these preparations and expresses confidence as to the outcome of this new phase of the campaign.

Big Battles Expected.

London, March 13.—In the east the battle of Przasnysz, now in its opening stages, and in the west the operations around La Bassee, where the Germans are massing troops in an endeavor to regain the ground recently taken by British and Indian contingents, are expected to develop into events of military importance during the coming week.

The allied fleet meantime is continuing its efforts to force the straits of

DROP ACTION FOR HOSPITAL

Commercial Club Considers Time Inopportune to Push Enabling Act.

Dr. Tuohy Expresses Regret Over Finding Postponement Necessary.

So far as the public affairs committee of the Commercial club is concerned, the matter of presenting to the St. Louis county legislative delegation a bill providing for a county hospital in Duluth was disposed of for the present at the meeting of the committee, held last night. It was with very evident regret that the committees making the reports which indefinitely postpone such action had decided that this is an inopportune time to push such a measure. This regret was voiced in two reports made, one by Henry Nolte, chairman of the legislative committee, and the other by Dr. E. L. Tuohy, chairman of the public health committee.

This has been Dr. Tuohy's pet measure for many months and he has kept it to the fore at every meeting of the public affairs committee for a year or more, but he declared last night, that with business conditions as they are and with the matter of county division up, it would be, in his opinion, ill-advised to try to put such a bill through, for the legislators from St. Louis county would find themselves divided on the matter.

Mr. Nolte announced that the women's clubs, which had taken the initiative in arousing sentiment in favor of the measure had been invited to have representatives present at last night's meeting of the public affairs committee to present their side of the case, in view of the fact that some of them have felt themselves not fairly treated in the matter. However, none appeared and the county hospital matter was dealt with wholly from a club point of view. Mr. Nolte's report was part of his general report on legislative affairs and was simply a preliminary to Dr. Tuohy's report for the public health committee, the two having considered the proposed bill jointly.

Dr. Tuohy's Report.

Dr. Tuohy's report, which was "adopted as the expression and sense of this meeting," was as follows:

"We have had two conferences with representatives of the Woman's Council, dealing particularly with the question of a public hospital. A conference has been planned on three different occasions with the city authorities in the board of health, but it was unsuccessful in bringing these men together. On the other hand, there have been a number of informal conferences with the director of public health and his assistants.

"A meeting three days ago was held conjointly with the legislative committee of the Commercial club to discuss an enabling act for a county hospital to be located in Duluth. Some criticism has been directed against the action taken by these committees in joint session, because of their report, which was already in your hands. It was voted and carried at that meeting to the effect that this is not an opportune time to force the issue before the legislature to grant an enabling act for a hospital. About a year ago the Commercial club, as a body, went on record as favoring a public hospital. At that time no definite plan was in mind; the location of the hospital, the cost, the manner of conducting the institution and the mechanism for control were all left to be evolved after the problem had been given sufficient study.

"A hospital committee of the Woman's Council has given a great deal of attention to this proposition and has made it one of the chief lines of endeavor during the last year. At their annual meeting the hospital idea was given a good deal of discussion and was actively supported by men prominent in this club. Very shortly after the hospital idea was launched strong but quiet opposition developed among many people. These objections might be placed in four classes:

Objections Raised.

"First—Those who could not see the necessity at the present time for further hospitalization than the institutions already on hand. In this group were many people actively supporting the present semi-public institutions.

"Second—Those who would rather see a further development of the present hospitals with some better arrangement for the care of the poor under the present mechanism of the poor board, possibly with a larger per capita payment on the part of the county for the care of these people.

"Third—Those individuals who, while realizing the need of a public hospital, preferably to be located in Duluth, foresaw the approaching county division struggle and realized that any movement which sought to establish a Duluth hospital would find little favor with a legislative group, already greatly divided, in the county.

"It is not the purpose of this report to enter into any controversial argument. Duluth should have a public hospital or its equivalent. Those who have labored hard for an immediate institution have realized that Duluth at the present time is in no condition to provide the funds. Therefore, it was early suggested that since the county had plenty of backing the county should do it. The warmest adherents of the county idea have been willing to admit that the range would object to a county institution built in Duluth. Therefore it was urged that a hospital also be erected on the range. An effort was made, at the suggestion of Mr. McGonagle, to get an expression from the people on the range as to whether they wanted a hospital or not—either there or here. This was unsuccessful. A private effort made by your chairman, with personal correspondence and talks with physicians on the range, led him to feel that the physicians had no desire to have a central hospital to serve the entire range, at any one point. Rather they were anxious to build up the hospitals in each individual city.

Should Have More Detail.

"In the meantime a bill was hurriedly gotten together with the well-intentioned endeavor to get it before the legislature before too many bills had gotten ahead of it. This bill many of you have seen and while on the whole the intentions are satisfactory, a proper bill should have a great deal more detailed attention given to it and its provisions more carefully scrutinized. It is therefore the opinion of your committee that while it seems unfortunate to have to put off the matter of enabling legislation for another session, this seems to be the only businesslike alternative. Practically all other arguments can be easily brushed aside but this big principle must not be lost sight of. We are in the presence of a world's war, with a great uncertainty as to what is going to happen in our own land. In every business, conservatism in all expenditures is obtaining as never before. Coming nearer home, the future of St. Louis county, and in a measure Duluth, hangs in the balance. County division must not be allowed and while this may seem a trifling and secondary proposition, your chairman feels that this alone is sufficient at this time to cause us to make our hospital proposition to wait.

Advises Systematic Survey.

"During the coming year we can well afford to make a systematic survey of our county with the special object in mind of determining its actual needs to care for the needy and sick. It would seem the proper work for this club to solicit the earnest cooperation of the present hospital executives here and in all the range cities, the poor board and its physicians, and all the other organizations of the city already working so effectively to work out a plan whereby the best use may be made of our present opportunities and facilities.

"To say that we might at this time go, ahead and get an enabling act even though it would not be used for a period of two years until our period of depression had gone by, would seem a useless hazard. If we have our ideas well enough in hand by the time of the opening of the next legislature, if we get a unanimous public back of the movement, there would seem to be little difficulty whatever in getting our delegation to put through a bill which would be purely of local interest to our own county. Without this unanimity, an enabling act is absolutely useless. Your committee would pledge itself as willing and anxious during the coming year to set itself to this work."

BACK FROM COLORADO.

B. A. Shuman Will Give Address at "Y" Sunday.

B. A. Shuman, representative of the Duluth Young Men's Christian association at Buenos Atres, has just returned from a trip to Colorado and other Western states and will pass a few days in Duluth before he goes south to address various groups of men and other associations on foreign work. Mr. Shuman is always cordially received in his home city, because of his work here as association secretary and probably more so because of his activities in association work in Buenos Aires.

Tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock Mr. Shuman will give an address at the "Y" to men and women on "Opportunities in South America."

Lunch will be served after the afternoon service for those who care to stay. Only a small fee will be charged for this lunch. Mr. Shuman will continue his address at this supper.

COMMITTEE.

REPORTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Commercial Club Members Hear of Work Done and Planned.

At the regular monthly meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, held last evening following a dinner served at 6:15, numerous interesting reports from sub-committees were received, all of which carried an optimistic tone.

One of the most important reports was that of the municipal committee, made by Frank Crassweller, acting chairman, the feature of which was unqualified indorsement of the two proposed amendments to the city charter to be voted on at the city election on April 6. The report was unanimously approved.

City Beautifying.

F. W. Sullivan, chairman of the city planning committee, submitted a report on the status of the proposed Lake Shore park, railroad terminal development and the proposed Jay Cooke park. Mr. Sullivan declared, in his report, that if the legislature appropriates the money to establish a scenic highway in the Jay Cooke park, Duluth will have the most wonderful system of highways in America.

H. J. Mullin, chairman of the road committee, reported on the work of the committee, what has been accomplished and what is expected for the coming season in the way of road improvement. He also recommended that a good road should be built from the work farm to the experiment station.

G. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the club, made a report on the work done in obtaining favorable railroad rates and of the efforts now being made in various cases under consideration by the interstate commerce commission and the state railroad and warehouse commission. The members of the public affairs committee, on motion, enthusiastically approved the work of the traffic committee.

Henry Nolte, during the evening made a motion to have a committee of the club confer with the committee in charge of the erection of the new Armory at Thirteenth avenue east and London road, with a view to having the exterior beautified in order that it may add to, rather than detract from, the beauty of its location. This was as a result of the city planning committee's suggestion.

Other Reports.

F. B. Spelman, chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, reported on matter failing to the consideration of his committee. The report urged that the city commissioners should give great consideration to a plan to tunnel the Duluth entry that a system of docks may be established on Minnesota point, and freight cars be able to reach them. The report also mentioned the recent congressional appropriation for a survey of this harbor with a view to determining the need of a breakwater, and gave praise to Capt. Alex McDougall and Congressman Miller, who have worked hard for it. The report also urged that when the engineers come here to make the survey, strong pressure should be brought to bear on them and everything done to give them proper information.

Other reports made were by H. R. Armstrong, committee on building trades; Henry Nolte, legislation; Bentley P. Neff, neighborhood clubs; W. S. Telford, publicity and statistics; J. H. Hearding, state and county, and Frank X. Gravel, trade extension.

INJUSTICE TO THE WOODSMEN

In an address before members of the Federated Trades assembly at the Eagles' hall last night, Matt Daly, the lumberjack "sky pilot," attacked the employment agency ticket and urged the passage of legislation that will compel lumber companies to bear the burden of the fees now paid by the woodsmen.

"Men are not taken in the camps unless they have employment tickets," said Mr. Daly. "Even though the camp is short of men, I have seen 'jacks' with their hands and feet so badly frozen that they required amputation, through tramping from camp to camp looking for work. Without a ticket they are turned down. The requirement of a $1 employment ticket and the $1 hospital fee both are rank injustices which should be done away with.

"I have no quarrel with camp management. From my personal viewpoint I have been welcomed and kindly treated at every camp in Northern Minnesota, but I want to see the unjust burden of the employment ticket lifted from the scanty wages of the 45,000 lumberjacks in our camps. If there must be an employment fee, the employer should pay it."

At the close of his address, the members present adopted a resolution indorsing the proposed legislation fixing the burden on lumber companies, instead of making the woodsman pay the fee, as is the rule at present. Representatives of the various unions in attendance, were asked to present the matter before their bodies so that a general expression could be obtained.

"BLUECOATS" WILL WATCH CANDIDATES

Patrolmen have been instructed to see that candidates in the municipal campaign do not post signs in public places nor scatter handbills about the city. The city charter makes this practice unlawful and the candidate violating the rule makes himself liable to a fine of $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for eighty-five days.

Here is the ordinance that candidates must follow to avoid fines or imprisonment in the county jail:

"It shall be unlawful within the limits of the city of Duluth to tack, nail, paste, paint or otherwise put up or fasten any bill, poster or advertisement of any description upon any bridge, fence, sidewalk, building, monument, telegraph, telephone or electric light pole or lamp post, or to throw or scatter any bill or poster or cause to be scattered bills or posters on any streets, avenue, park or building within the city."

Very shortly after the hospital idea was launched strong but quiet opposition developed among many people. These objections might be placed in four classes:

Objections Raised.

"First—Those who could not see the necessity at the present time for further hospitalization than the institutions already on hand. In this group were many people actively supporting the present semi-public institutions.

"Second—Those who would rather see a further development of the present hospitals with some better arrangement for the care of the poor under the present mechanism of the poor board, possibly with a larger per capita payment on the part of the county for the care of these people.

"Third—Those individuals who, while realizing the need of a public hospital, preferably to be located in Duluth, foresaw the approaching county division struggle and realized that any movement which sought to establish a Duluth hospital would find little favor with a legislative group, already greatly divided, in the county.

"It is not the purpose of this report to enter into any controversial argument. Duluth should have a public hospital or its equivalent. Those who have labored hard for an immediate institution have realized that Duluth at the present time is in no condition to provide the funds. Therefore, it was early suggested that since the county had plenty of backing the county should do it. The warmest adherents of the county idea have been willing to admit that the range would object to a county institution built in Duluth. Therefore it was urged that a hospital also be erected on the range. An effort was made, at the suggestion of Mr. McGonagle, to get an expression from the people on the range as to whether they wanted a hospital or not—either there or here. This was unsuccessful. A private effort made by your chairman, with personal correspondence and talks with physicians on the range, led him to feel that the physicians had no desire to have a central hospital to serve the entire range, at any one point. Rather they were anxious to build up the hospitals in each individual city.

Should Have More Detail.

"In the meantime a bill was hurriedly gotten together with the well-intentioned endeavor to get it before the legislature before too many bills had gotten ahead of it. This bill many of you have seen and while on the whole the intentions are satisfactory, a proper bill should have a great deal more detailed attention given to it and its provisions more carefully scrutinized. It is therefore the opinion of your committee that while it seems unfortunate to have to put off the matter of enabling legislation for another session, this seems to be the only business-like alternative. Practically all other arguments can be easily brushed aside but this big principle must not be lost sight of. We are in the presence of a world's war, with a great uncertainty as to what is going to happen in our own land. In every business, conservatism in all expenditures is obtaining as never before. Coming nearer home, the future of St. Louis county, and in a measure Duluth, hangs in the balance. County division must not be allowed and while this may seem a trifling and secondary proposition, your chairman feels that this alone is sufficient at this time to cause us to make our hospital proposition to wait.

Advises Systematic Survey.

"During the coming year we can well afford to make a systematic survey of our county with the special object in mind of determining its actual needs to care for the needy and sick. It would seem the proper work for this club to solicit the earnest cooperation of the present hospital executives here and in all the range cities, the poor board and its physicians, and all the other organizations of the city already working so effectively to work out a plan whereby the best use may be made of our present opportunities and facilities.

"To say that we might at this time go, ahead and get an enabling act even though it would not be used for a period of two years until our period of depression had gone by, would seem a useless hazard. If we have our ideas well enough in hand by the time of the opening of the next legislature, if we get a unanimous public back of the movement, there would seem to be little difficulty whatever in getting our delegation to put through a bill which would be purely of local interest to our own county. Without this unanimity, an enabling act is absolutely useless. Your committee would pledge itself as willing and anxious during the coming year to set itself to this work."

BACK FROM COLORADO.

B. A. Shuman Will Give Address at "Y" Sunday.

B. A. Shuman, representative of the Duluth Young Men's Christian association at Buenos Aires, has just returned from a trip to Colorado and other Western states and will pass a few days in Duluth before he goes south to address various groups of men and other associations on foreign work. Mr. Shuman is always cordially received in his home city, because of his work here as association secretary and probably more so because of his activities in association work in Buenos Aires.

Tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock Mr. Shuman will give an address at the "Y" to men and women on "Opportunities in South America."

Lunch will be served after the afternoon service for those who care to stay. Only a small fee will be charged for this lunch. Mr. Shuman will continue his address at this supper.

COMMITTEE.

REPORTS ARE OPTIMISTIC

Commercial Club Members Hear of Work Done and Planned.

At the regular monthly meeting of the public affairs committee of the Commercial club, held last evening following a dinner served at 6:15, numerous interesting reports from sub-committees were received, all of which carried an optimistic tone.

One of the most important reports was that of the municipal committee, made by Frank Crassweller, acting chairman, the feature of which was unqualified indorsement of the two proposed amendments to the city charter to be voted on at the city election on April 6. The report was unanimously approved.

City Beautifying.

F. W. Sullivan, chairman of the city planning committee, submitted a report on the status of the proposed Lake Shore park, railroad terminal development and the proposed Jay Cooke park. Mr. Sullivan declared, in his report, that if the legislature appropriates the money to establish a scenic highway in the Jay Cooke park, Duluth will have the most wonderful system of highways in America.

H. J. Mullin, chairman of the road committee, reported on the work of the committee, what has been accomplished and what is expected for the coming season in the way of road improvement. He also recommended that a good road should be built from the work farm to the experiment station.

C. Roy Hall, traffic commissioner of the club, made a report on the work done in obtaining favorable railroad rates and of the efforts now being made in various cases under consideration by the interstate commerce commission and the state railroad and warehouse commission. The members of the public affairs committee, on motion, enthusiastically approved the work of the traffic committee.

Henry Nolte, during the evening made a motion to have a committee of the club confer with the committee in charge of the erection of the new Armory at Thirteenth avenue east and London road, with a view to having the exterior beautified in order that it may add to, rather than detract from, the beauty of its location. This was as a result of the city planning committee's suggestion.

Other Reports.

F. B. Spelman, chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors, reported on matter falling to the consideration of his committee. The report urged that the city commissioners should give great consideration to a plan to tunnel the Duluth entry that a system of docks may be established on Minnesota point, and freight cars be able to reach them. The report also mentioned the recent congressional appropriation for a survey of this harbor with a view to determining the need of a breakwater, and gave praise to Capt. Alex McDougall and Congressman Miller, who have worked hard for it. The report also urged that when the engineers come here to make the survey, strong pressure should be brought to bear on them and everything done to give them proper information.

Other reports made were by H. R. Armstrong, committee on building trades; Henry Nolte, legislation; Bentley P. Neff, neighborhood clubs; W. S. Telford, publicity and statistics; J. H. Hearding, state and county, and Frank X. Gravel, trade extension.

INJUSTICE TO THE WOODSMEN

In an address before members of the Federated Trades assembly at the Eagles' hall last night, Matt Daly, the lumberjack "sky pilot," attacked the employment agency ticket and urged the passage of legislation that will compel lumber companies to bear the burden of the fees now paid by the woodsmen.

"Men are not taken in the camps unless they have employment tickets," said Mr. Daly. "Even though the camp is short of men, I have seen 'jacks' with their hands and feet so badly frozen that they required amputation, through tramping from camp to camp looking for work. Without a ticket they are turned down. The requirement of a $1 employment ticket and the $1 hospital fee both are rank injustices which should be done away with.

"I have no quarrel with camp management. From my personal viewpoint I have been welcomed and kindly treated at every camp in Northern Minnesota, but I want to see the unjust burden of the employment ticket lifted from the scanty wages of the 45,000 lumberjacks in our camps. If there must be an employment fee, the employer should pay it."

At the close of his address, the members present adopted a resolution indorsing the proposed legislation fixing the burden on lumber companies, instead of making the woodsman pay the fee, as is the rule at present. Representatives of the various unions in attendance, were asked to present the matter before their bodies so that a general expression could be obtained.

"BLUECOATS" WILL WATCH CANDIDATES

Patrolmen have been instructed to see that candidates in the municipal campaign do not post signs in public places nor scatter handbills about the city. The city charter makes this practice unlawful and the candidate violating the rule makes himself liable to a fine of $100 or imprisonment in the county jail for eighty-five days.

Here is the ordinance that candidates must follow to avoid fines or imprisonment in the county jail:

"It shall be unlawful within the limits of the city of Duluth to tack, nail, paste, paint or otherwise put up or fasten any bill, poster or advertisement of any description upon any bridge, fence, sidewalk, building, monument, telegraph, telephone or electric light pole or lamp post, or to throw or scatter any bill or poster or cause to be scattered bills or posters on any streets, avenue, park or building within the city."

The Come-Backs

An advertiser usually looks to his profits from the "come-backs."

In other words, he must so satsify his patrons that they will want more of his merchandise.

In this fact lies the great safety of dealing with men who advertise.

They must give satisfaction and a little more; they must back up the goods they invite you to buy.

The customer gained by advertising is only one introduced. Future success depends on satisfying the customer.

The advertising columns of The Herald are the invitations of men who seek an introduction.

WOMAN PRISONER TURNS ON WITNESS

Prosecution under the Mann white slave act for Charles Redd, aged 45, may be the result of disclosures in municipal court by Eliza White, aged 32.

The White woman, arrested with Redd and his wife last night at 905 West Michigan street, was being tried on a charge of prostitution, and Redd, although no charge had been placed against him, was in court on her behalf.

Suddenly angered by some remark of Redd's, the witness launched into a story of their relations, and stated that Redd, with his wife, had brought her here from Detroit, Mich., stopping for a day or so in each of a dozen or more towns en route, while she provided money for the meals, and fare to the next place.

Although the White woman had pleaded not guilty to the charge of being a common prostitute, she later admitted it, in order to tell the court of Redd's practices.

These two cases were the first to be tried under the new city ordinance, No. 542, covering disorderly houses and offenses related to establishments of that kind. The ordinance was passed by the council Jan. 2 and became a law Feb. 2.

Judge Cutting imposed the maximum penalty in the case against Redd, sentencing him to eighty-five days in jail. The White woman was sentenced to a fine of $46.12, or thirty days' imprisonment. She will be given an opportunity to return to her home in Detroit. Redd's wife was released. All three of the prisoners are colored.

TWO FULL MOONS DURING MARCH

For the second time this year Dulnthians will have the opportunity of seeing two full moons in one month.

During January, according to Weather Forecaster Richardson, there were two full moons visible, while two more will be visible again this month. On March 1 there was a full moon, while a second is scheduled to appear on March 30. There was no full moon in February, he said.

According to Mr. Richardson, two full moons will be visible again in October.

HAIR COMING OUT?

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After a few applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff.

REVENGE SAID TO BE MOTIVE

ed a message from Mrs. McManus, dated Thursday, and transmitted by the Brazilian minister. It said:

"Johnnie killed this morning. Attack on house. Rest of us all well. Were not there at time. (Signed) "RUTH."

Mrs. McManus was Miss Ruth Wood of Denver. She married McManus twenty-five years ago.

Wood said his brother-in-law had been a resident of Mexico City since shortly after his marriage and that he was the father of four children.

"Before he went to Mexico he was widely known among Denver mining men," he said. "He owned a large dairy and other large interests in Mexico City. Not long ago there was a raid on his dairy and the Mexicans stole several of his cows. He shot two of the Mexicans in the raid and when they came again yesterday they came for the purpose of killing him, in my opinion."

A recent letter to Wood from Mrs. McManus said:

"The raids are so frequent that we cannot leave the children at our ranch. I have been uneasy about John, for he shot two Mexicans not long ago and there is a bunch after him. The Mexicans were members of a big gang of robbers who were here to loot the place. I think some of the accommodating friends of these two slain robbers are waiting to stick a knife into John."

Ashland Man's Injury Fatal.

Ashland, Wis., March 13.—Edward Mitchell, who was injured by being caught in the shafting at the Ashland Paper company's mill, March 2, is dead. Duluth Scandinavians will meet Monday night and form a permanent lodge of the Brotherhood of America. An entertainment will be given, also, at Axa hall.

The formation of a lodge has been discussed by Duluth Scandinavians for some time, and plans were formulated by about forty men at a recent meeting. N. P. Turnblad was named chairman of the committee to arrange for the entertainment. A full set of officers will probably be elected Monday night.

"MILLIONAIRE HOBO" GETS BIG ESTATE.

St. Louis, March 13.—James Eads How, known as the "millionaire hobo," yesterday became possessor of property worth $125,000 and of the income of a trust fund of an equal sum by the will of his mother, Mrs. Eliza A. How, filed yesterday. The estate, valued at more than half a million dollars, after setting aside $7,000 for different charities, is divided equally between Mrs. How's sons, James and Louis. Mrs. How was the daughter of Capt. James B. Eads, builder of Eads bridge across the Mississippi river here.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER

Polls Opened at 6 a. m., and Will Close at 9 p. m.

Persons Who Voted Last Fall Must Register Again.

Today is the last chance Duluth voters have of registering for the regular spring election on April 6.

The polls opened at 6 o'clock this morning and during the early hours a number of voters registered. It is expected that there will be another big registration before the polls close at 9 o'clock tonight. Estimates place the total registration for today at between 5,000 and 6,000.

Voters failing to register today cannot vote at the election in April, unless they bring with them to the polls two freeholders, who will swear as to their identity, residence in the state and legal right to cast a ballot.

Many voters are of the opinion that they do not have to register, as they voted last fall, but this idea is erroneous. No one will be entitled to a ballot unless he registered last Tuesday or today.

At the election on April 6, Duluth voters will select two commissioners to succeed W. A. Hicken and Roderick Murchison, both of whom are out to succeed themselves, and a municipal judge to succeed Judge W. L. Windom, who is also a candidate for re-election. In addition ballots will be cast on the two charter amendments proposed by the old charter commission. These provide for an increase in the non-advertised purchase limit from $100 to $500 and the reducing of the minimum to be allowed in the payment of assessments and also the paying of sidewalk assessments in installments.

dor contended, to destroy not only the cargo, but the vessel itself.

Not Heard of Decision.

Furthermore, the ambassador argued that the commander of the Eitel, when he sank the Frye, did not know that a German prize court on Aug. 3 had held that the mere fact that a merchant ship was bound for an enemy port was not sufficient proof that her cargo was destined for the enemy.

The case of the Frye, however, the ambassador said, would have to be settled in accordance with international law, because of the present status of the Declaration of London.

"We do not intend," he said, "to disregard any of the judicial niceties in the case."

Hear Story of Captain.

Washington, March 13.—The full story of how the American sailing ship, William P. Frye, was sunk in the South Atlantic with her cargo of wheat by the German commerce raider, Prinz Eitel Friedrich, was officially laid before the American government today by the Frye's commander, Capt. K. H. Kiehne.

Upon Capt. Kiehne's formal statement, made before state department officials, the United States will decide upon its course, which probably will be a demand for an expression of regret from Germany and payment for the loss of the ship and cargo.

Capt. Kiehne with Assistant Secretary Peters of the treasury department, went to the state department, where he was received by Secretary Bryan and then went into a conference with Counsellor Lansing, at which the members of the advisory neutrality board, and representatives of the owners of the Frye were present. The captain's detailed statement was taken for record.

The next step in the case cannot be taken until the question of the destination of the Frye's cargo is determined and the state department will await action on that point by her owners, who must present certain proofs on which the government will predicate its action.

Consider Case of Two.

Washington officials have been asked by the customs authorities here to consider the case of two of the crew of the Frye, who remain on the Prinz Eitel. It has developed that the two men who at first were said to have enlisted in the German navy, have been detained by order of Commander Thierichens on the ground that they were German citizens and still subject to service under German arms. Collector Hamilton said the matter had been reported and that he was awaiting instructions. The men detained are Charles Frank and Robert Rogge.

No Protest From Men.

Capt. Kiehne of the Frye told officials here he did not believe they were naturalized American citizens and that they had not protested to him when detained. Notwithstanding that it was said representations had been made in their behalf by American citizens.

Further word that British cruisers are lurking off the Virginia capes was brought here today by the crew of the British steamer Anglo Patagonian from England, which has arrived here for horses. They declared that five warships had been spoken within various distances of the coast as they approached.

A representative of the Compagnie Generale Trans-Atlantique, owners of the sunken French liner Floride, from which passengers were taken by the Eitel, arrived here today to look after the situation. The French company, it is declared, will transport the ineligible aliens to New York and later convey them to South American ports to which they were destined.

COUNTY DIVISION BILL MADE A SPECIAL ORDER FOR TUESDAY, MARCH 23

the state and is designed for the health and well being of the firemen.

Senator Buckler of Crookston introduced in the senate this morning the new county division bill which would make it easy to divide Otter Tail and Polk counties.

Fish Hatchery at Tower.

The house game and fish committee this morning recommended for passage the Murphy-Gill bill providing for a fish hatchery at Tower. It has to go through the appropriations committee still.

The bill by Senator Jones of Duluth authorizing all county boards to take over the boarding of prisoners instead of leaving it to the sheriffs was unanimously recommended for passage this morning by the senate committee on towns and counties.

Shooting of game from automobiles is prohibited by a bill by Representatives Bessette and Sanborn, which the house game and fish committee recommended by passage this morning.

The Hyne-Devold joint resolution asking congress to put an embargo on the sale of war munitions to belligerent nations was killed by a committee report in the house.

Blasting in Cities

Representative North, by request, introduced a bill this morning regulating blasting in first-class cities, requiring permits to be secured from the mayor, and prohibiting charges heavier than twenty-five pounds.

A three-year term for town clerks in towns having more than $5,000,000 valuation is provided in a bill by Representative Bessette of Orr.

Representative Knudson in a new bill proposes a tax of 1 cent per $100 on grain trades and 2 cents per $100 on stock deals on exchanges.

Representatives Ribenack, Weld and Parker introduced a bill allowing banks to act as trustees and administrators under Federal reserve board rules.

The house state fair committee introduced a bill appropriating $100,000 to aid county fairs.

The senate made the Minette telephone bill, as amended, a special order for next Friday afternoon, instead of Wednesday, as proposed by the committee.

AMENDED IN COMMITTEE

moved that it be recommended to pass.

"Why, if you want division, do you not operate under the existing county division law?" asked Representative Bjornson.

"I don't know exactly," replied Mr. Boyd, "except that that law requires that the county seat be located by the same vote."

Alex Nelson of Perham, speaking in behalf of the Otter Tail county people seeking an easy method of division, showed that it is difficult to get from Perham to the county seat at Fergus Falls, a roundabout trip being necessary. Besides, he said, it was impossible for the Perham district to get legislative representation, the Fergus Falls district having too many votes.

In brief, the arguments for the Otter Tail-Polk bill were about the same as the arguments for the range division bill, except that the Perham people are able to show much greater hardships in getting to the county seat.

Representative Bjornson thought there should be a hearing, as there had been on the St. Louis county bill, so the committee decided to take it up Monday afternoon.

County Development Work.

The Christianson bill repealing the law allowing counties to appropriate limited sums in aid of development work was recommended for indefinite postponement by the house committee on towns and counties yesterday afternoon by a vote of 6 to 4.

The defeat of the bill before the committee was due to the arguments by Representatives H. J. Miner of International Falls and Fred Bessette of Orr. Representative John H. Boyd of Crookston also supported the law Mr. Christianson would repeal.

Theodore Christianson of Dawson, author of the bill, said that he proposed the repeal of this law because he did not believe public money should be appropriated for private use and private benefit.

The Northern Minnesota men, however, were able to convince the committee that the Northern Minnesota Development association, which is supported by these appropriations, serves a distinctly public purpose, not only for the counties that contribute to its support but for the entire state.

After defeating the proposal to reduce the minimum of state road aid in any county from 1 per cent to eight-tenths of 1 per cent, the house yesterday afternoon passed the R. C. Dunn amendments to the Dunn road law, the principal feature of which is that full control of county and township road work is left with the local authorities instead of with the state highway commission. A proposal to allow the working out of road taxes was defeated.

Paying for Care of Insane.

The senate yesterday afternoon advanced to the calendar the bill by Senator Henry N. Benson of St. Peter requiring that where they are able the families or estates of patients in the insane hospitals must pay $10 per month for their support.

It is figured that the passage of this measure will relieve the state of a heavy burden of expense, without unfairly taxing anybody.

Senator W. A. Campbell of Minneapolis yesterday afternoon introduced in the senate a bill putting the work of the hotel inspector under the dairy and food commission.

"Traveling men are complaining," said Senator Campbell, "that under the present law the protection intended by it is utterly inadequate. There is virtually only one inspector for the whole state, while if this bill is made law there will be twenty-one, without additional expense."

Minette Telephone Bill.

Three amendments were put on the Minette telephone bill, which passed the house unanimously, Feb. 26, by the senate committee on public service corporations yesterday afternoon.

The first amendment adopted by the committee, offered by Senator James Carley, cut out the referendum feature of the bill allowing 65 per cent of the voters of a city to determine whether a second telephone exchange might operate within their city. His amendment to cut out the toll extension clause section of the bill failed.

Senator G. H. Sullivan added two amendments to the bill. One merely changed the wording of the valuation section and the other gave the railroad and warehouse commission right to pass upon a complaint asking that physical connection be established and to determine the justice of the complaint before attempting to enforce such a connection. The committee recommended the bill for passage with the amendments adopted, and will ask that the bill be set for a special order for vote next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Opposed to County Agents.

Officers of the University of Minnesota and the agricultural college learned in no uncertain terms what some of the county members of the legislature think of the county agents at a hearing upon the house committee on public accounts and expenditures yesterday afternoon. The hearing, which was for the purpose of inquiring into university finances, involved into a questionnaire by the country members on a variety of topics.

"The county agents are one of the biggest nuisances in Douglas county," said Representative C. A. Wold.

"I am against the county agents," said Representative Magnus Johnson. "Why don't they teach us better marketing so we can dispose of our crops."

These questions are typical of the attitude assumed by the country members.

That Prof. L. H. D. Weld of the agricultural school will probably be subjected to a grilling by country members at a future hearing of the committee was shown yesterday.

Mr. Johnson asked Dean A. F. Woods if Prof. Weld had been allowed to see the books of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce during a recent inquiry, co-operated in by the agricultural college and the Federal department of agriculture. Dean Woods answered that he had been allowed access to the books.

"Secretary John McHugh of the chamber of commerce let him see the books because he knew Prof. Weld would be favorable to the chamber," said Mr. Johnson. "Prof. Weld told us at a hearing of the grain and wareus at a hearing of the grain and warehouse committee that it was all right to do business as they do it. The officials of the Federal government were not allowed to see those books."

Chairman C. L. Sawyer said that Prof. Weld would be asked to appear before the committee at a later hearing.

Answering a question by Mr. Johnson, President George E. Vincent of the university said he had never received a penny for speaking engagements he filled within the state. He said that he sometimes got paid for speaking outside the state.

Representative Ole A. Pikop asked if the university would be seriously crippled if the extension work were to be abandoned. President Vincent answered that it would, as the new university idea is to go to the people.

Asked by Representative A. F. Teigen if the teaching of handling "options" by extension teachers was countenanced by the board of regents, Fred B. Snyder, president, answered that the board would not countenance such teachings.

Union of the Twins.

Senator E. J. Westlake's bill providing for a commission to study the feasibility of uniting St. Paul and Minneapolis as one city was recommended for passage yesterday afternoon by the senate committee on cities of the first-class.

The bill by Senators Westlake and Wallace giving municipalities the right to control the operation of "jitney buses" was referred to a subcommittee for action.

The house committee on labor yesterday afternoon decided to introduce as a committee bill the measure making state-wide the present law, which limits the working day of women to nine hours a day.

Eight hours of night work would be the extent to which any employer could engage an employe except telephone companies in villages and in cities of the fourth-class.

Representatives of telephone companies appeared at several hearings on the bill to protest against including operators in the law in cities.

A public hearing will be held Monday night on the bill prohibiting boys or girls of a tender age to sell newspapers and do other street work. A hearing will be held Tuesday on the bill relating to the bonding of railway employes and on the measure proposing the creation of a state board for the examination of cooks, it was announced by Chairman Thomas McGrath of St. Paul last night.

Body Guards to be Provided.

A gentle hint that murderers are on the trail of the authors of the county option bill, which recently was passed by the legislature, is contained in a letter signed by "John W. R." of West Seventh street, and received by Chief Clerk Oscar Arneson of the house of representatives yesterday afternoon. The letter follows:

"I stepped off of a West Seventh street car last Thursday night about 10 p. m. There were seven or eight men holding a conversation in the rear of the saloon, talking in their native tongue. As I understand the Bohemian language, I could not help but listen—they were plotting to kill those men that introduced the bill for state-wide prohibition, and a man who had introduced the county option bill, also some others that are strong in favor of it. I was a stranger to them, did not let them know I understood them. They looked like desperate characters. I think they would do it. This was out West Seventh street. I will not give the number of the locality or saloon as I don't want to be mixed up in the affair. I hope my letter will save the lives of these honest men."

Mr. Arneson is arranging for a personal body guard and, he stated last night, would take up with others the matter of body guards for county optionists and prohibitionists.

Motor Speedway Bills.

Representative Frank E. Nimocks' motor speedway bills were considered at a meeting of the house state fair committee, which last night decided to hold a joint meeting next Thursday with the state fair board to obtain their views upon the two measures. One bill would authorize the construction of a speedway of two miles by the state, and carried an appropriation of $200,000 to cover expenses. The other bill would authorize the State Agricultural society to lease ground for a speedway to private interests.

That the committee favors passage of one of the bills was indicated at yesterday's meeting despite objection raised by Representative Knud Wefald, who protested that the state fair was supposed to be an educational institution rather than an amusement park.

"The state fair is in a position where a change is essential to keep the crowds," answered Mr. Nimocks.

"These two bills were drawn by the attorney general. This committee and the legislature are opposed to bills carrying appropriations for the State Agricultural society and the money obtained in rentals from such a speedway would aid in making the society self-sustaining."

Representative Robert Carmichael, chairman of the committee, took a similar stand in the matter and declared that if present conditions continue to prevail and the falling off in attendance increases, the state fair will become a "white elephant" on the hands of the state.

The committee recommended to pass the bill carrying $100,000 appropriation to aid county and district agricultural societies. It will now go to the appropriations committee as a state fair committee bill. The measure carries a like appropriation for the following year.

LAST RITES FOR W. H. COLE MONDAY

Body Will Arrive Here Sunday; Funeral From Masonic Temple.

Mining and railroad men who have made industrial history in Northern Minnesota will pay their last tribute to William H. Cole, prominent mining expert, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mr. Cole died at Pasadena, Cal., Monday night after a short illness, and the body is being brought to Duluth for burial. Services will be held from the Masonic temple.

Several of Mr. Cole's friends and business associates have been named as pallbearers, the list including: William A. McGonagle, R. B. Whiteside, J. W. Lyder, J. H. Hearding, William P. Mars and Edward H. Windom.

Mrs. Cole, Miss Alice Cole, a daughter, and George H. Cole, a brother, with Mr. Cole at the time of his death, will arrive at the Head of the Lakes from California Sunday evening with the body.

WILL PROBABLY BE BURIED SUNDAY

Tarrytown, N. Y., March 13.—Plans for the funeral of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, who died at her home here yesterday morning, were held in abeyance today to await the arrival of Mr. Rockefeller and his son, who were speeding north in a special train from Ormonde, Fla. They were due to reach Pocantico Hills late this afternoon or this evening.

In the absence of definite plans, however, it was regarded as probable that funeral services would be held here tomorrow afternoon, and that Mrs. Rockefeller would be buried at Cleveland, Ohio, where she grew to womanhood and where she spent much of her time in recent years.

Only one member of the Rockefeller family, it was thought, would be unable to attend the funeral. This is Mrs. Harold Fowler McCormick of Chicago, Mrs. Rockefeller's daughter, who is now in Switzerland recovering from an illness. Mrs. E. Parmalee Prentice, the other daughter and Miss Lucy H. Speiman, Mrs. Rockefeller's sister, were both at the Rockefeller home here today. The arrival of Mr. Rockefeller and his son will complete the family circle, with this single exception. Mr. McCormick, who was to have sailed today to join his wife in Switzerland, is also at Pocantico Hills.

TO CONSIDER NEW FORM OF CAPITAL

Dallas, Tex., March 13.—Constructive programs looking toward the formation of a national policy in connection with the new form of capitalism, corporation farming, will be called for at the hearing of the Federal industrial relations commission, which opens here March 16.

This statement was made today by G. W. Holman, special agent in charge of the governmental investigation into the American land question, in accounting the list of witnesses to be called. Governor James E. Ferguson of Texas is among those asked to testify. The commissioners, headed by Frank P. Walsh, chairman, are due to arrive here Monday. The hearing is scheduled to last five days.

"Perhaps the most significant phase of the hearing," said Mr. Holman today, "will be that for the first time in America the tenant farmer will be considered to have to his landlord a relation identical with that of the wage worker to his employer. The rise of the new form of capitalism, corporation farming, the trend toward concentrating, the movement of farm labor and methods of distributing it to better advantages will be considered and constructive programs looking toward the formation of a national policy will be called for by the commissioners."

Ranchers, university professors, officials of farmers' organizations, most of them from Texas, comprise those who have been called as witnesses.

CRUISERS KEEPING WATCH OFF COAST.

Norfolk, Va., March 13.—The Cape Henry marine observers reported today that a three-stack cruiser, nationality unknown, had lain about twelve miles off shore from yesterday afternoon until 6:30 this morning, when she departed.

Residents of Virginia Beach say two cruisers, supposed to be British, were off that resort last night using their searchlights.

ed a message from Mrs. McManus, dated Thursday, and transmitted by the Brazilian minister. It said:

"Johnnie killed this morning. Attack on house. Rest of us all well. Were not there at time. (Signed) "RUTH."

Mrs. McManus was Miss Ruth Wood of Denver. She married McManus twenty-five years ago.

Wood said his brother-in-law had been a resident of Mexico City since shortly after his marriage and that he was the father of four children.

"Before he went to Mexico he was widely known among Denver mining men," he said. "He owned a large dairy and other large interests in Mexico City. Not long ago there was a raid on his dairy and the Mexicans stole several of his cows. He shot two of the Mexicans in the raid and when they came again yesterday they came for the purpose of killing him, in my opinion."

A recent letter to Wood from Mrs. McManus said:

"The raids are so frequent that we cannot leave the children at our ranch. I have been uneasy about John, for he shot two Mexicans not long ago and there is a bunch after him. The Mexicans were members of a big gang of robbers who were here to loot the place. I think some of the accommodating friends of these two slain robbers are waiting to stick a knife into John."

Duluth Scandinavians will meet Monday night and form a permanent lodge of the Brotherhood of America. An entertainment will be given, also, at Axa hall.

The formation of a lodge has been discussed by Duluth Scandinavians for some time, and plans were formulated by about forty men at a recent meeting. N. P. Turnblad was named chairman of the committee to arrange for the entertainment. A full set of officers will probably be elected Monday night.

"MILLIONAIRE HOBO" GETS BIG ESTATE.

St. Louis, March 13.—James Eads How, known as the "millionaire hobo," yesterday became possessor of property worth $125,000 and of the income of a trust fund of an equal sum by the will of his mother, Mrs. Eliza A. How, filed yesterday. The estate, valued at more than half a million dollars, after setting aside $7,000 for different charities, is divided equally between Mrs. How's sons, James and Louis. Mrs. How was the daughter of Capt. James B. Eads, builder of Eads bridge across the Mississippi river here.

LAST CHANCE TO REGISTER

Polls Opened at 6 a. m., and Will Close at 9 p. m.

Persons Who Voted Last Fall Must Register Again.

Today is the last chance Duluth voters have of registering for the regular spring election on April 6.

The polls opened at 6 o'clock this morning and during the early hours a number of voters registered. It is expected that there will be another big registration before the polls close at 9 o'clock tonight. Estimates place the total registration for today at between 5,000 and 6,000.

Voters failing to register today cannot vote at the election in April, unless they bring with them to the polls two freeholders, who will swear as to their identity, residence in the state and legal right to cast a ballot.

Many voters are of the opinion that they do not have to register, as they voted last fall, but this idea is erroneous. No one will be entitled to a ballot unless he registered last Tuesday or today.

At the election on April 6, Duluth voters will select two commissioners to succeed W. A. Hicken and Roderick Murchison, both of whom are out to succeed themselves, and a municipal judge to succeed Judge W. L. Windom, who is also a candidate for re-election. In addition ballots will be cast on the two charter amendments proposed by the old charter commission. These provide for an increase in the non-advertised purchase limit from $100 to $500 and the reducing of the minimum to be allowed in the payment of assessments and also the paying of sidewalk assessments in installments.

GERMAN AMBASSADOR SAYS SINKING OF SHIP FRYE WAS JUSTIFIED

dor contended, to destroy not only the cargo, but the vessel itself.

Upon Capt. Kiehne's formal statement, made before state department officials, the United States will decide upon its course, which probably will be a demand for an expression of regret from Germany and payment for the loss of the ship and cargo.

Consider Case of Two.

Washington officials have been asked by the customs authorities here to consider the case of two of the crew of the Frye, who remain on the Prinz Eitel. The Northern Minnesota men, however, were able to convince the committee that the Northern Minnesota Development association, which is supported by these appropriations, serves a distinctly public purpose, not only for the counties that contribute to its support but for the entire state.

* * *

After defeating the proposal to reduce the minimum of state road aid in any county from 1 per cent to eighttenths of 1 per cent, the house yesterday afternoon passed the R. C. Dunn amendments to the Dunn road law, the principal feature of which is that full control of county and township road work is left with the local authorities instead of with the state highway commission. A proposal to allow the working out of road taxes was defeated.

Paying for Care of Insane.

The senate yesterday afternoon advanced to the calendar the bill by Senator Henry N. Benson of St. Peter requiring that where they are able the families or estates of patients in the insane hospitals must pay $10 per month for their support.

It is figured that the passage of this measure will relieve the state of a heavy burden of expense, without unfairly taxing anybody.

Senator W. A. Campbell of Minneapolis yesterday afternoon introduced in the senate a bill putting the work of the hotel inspector under the dairy and food commission.

"Traveling men are complaining," said Senator Campbell, "that under the present law the protection intended by it is utterly inadequate. There is virtually only one inspector for the whole state, while if this bill is made law there will be twenty-one, without additional expense."

Minette Telephone Bill.

Three amendments were put on the Minette telephone bill, which passed the house unanimously, Feb. 26, by the senate committee on public service corporations yesterday afternoon.

The first amendment adopted by the committee, offered by Senator James Carley, cut out the referendum feature of the bill allowing 65 per cent of the voters of a city to determine whether a second telephone exchange might operate within their city. His amendment to cut out the toll extension clause section of the bill failed.

Senator G. H. Sullivan added two amendments to the bill. One merely changed the wording of the valuation section and the other gave the railroad and warehouse commission right to pass upon a complaint asking that physical connection be established and to determine the justice of the complaint before attempting to enforce such a connection. The committee recommended the bill for passage with the amendments adopted, and will ask that the bill be set for a special order for vote next Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Opposed to County Agents.

Officers of the University of Minnesota and the agricultural college learned in no uncertain terms what some of the county members of the legislature think of the county agents at a hearing upon the house committee on public accounts and expenditures yesterday afternoon. The hearings, which was for the purpose of inquiring into university finances, involved into a questionnaire by the country members on a variety of topics.

"The county agents are one of the biggest nuisances in Douglas county," said Representative C. A. Wold.

"I am against the county agents," said Representative Magnus Johnson. "Why don't they teach us better marketing so we can dispose of our crops."

These questions are typical of the attitude assumed by the country members.

That Prof. L. H. D. Weld of the agricultural school will probably be subjected to a grilling by country members at a future hearing of the committee was shown yesterday.

Mr. Johnson asked Dean A. F. Woods if Prof. Weld had been allowed to see the books of the Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce during a recent inquiry, co-operated in by the agricultural college and the Federal department of agriculture. Dean Woods answered that he had been allowed access to the books.

"Secretary John McHugh of the chamber of commerce let him see the books because he knew Prof. Weld would be favorable to the chamber," said Mr. Johnson. "Prof. Weld told us at a hearing of the grain and warehouse committee that it was all right to do business as they do it. The officials of the Federal government were not allowed to see those books."

Chairman C. L. Sawyer said that Prof. Weld would be asked to appear before the committee at a later hearing.

Answering a question by Mr. Johnson, President George E. Vincent of the university said he had never received a penny for speaking engagements he filled within the state. He said that he sometimes got paid for speaking outside the state.

Representative Ole A. Pikop asked if the university would be seriously crippled if the extension work were to be abandoned. President Vincent answered that it would, as the new university idea is to go to the people.

Asked by Representative A. F. Teigen if the teaching of handling "options" by extension teachers was countenanced by the board of regents, Fred B. Snyder, president, answered that the board would not countenance such teachings.

Union of the Twins.

Senator E. J. Westlake's bill providing for a commission to study the feasibility of uniting St. Paul and Minneapolis as one city was recommended for passage yesterday afternoon by the senate committee on cities of the first-class.

The bill by Senators Westlake and Wallace giving municipalities the right to control the operation of "jitney buses" was referred to a subcommittee for action.

The house committee on labor yesterday afternoon decided to introduce as a committee bill the measure making state-wide the present law, which limits the working day of women to nine hours a day.

Eight hours of night work would be the extent to which any employer could engage an employe except telephone companies in villages and in cities of the fourth-class.

Representatives of telephone companies appeared at several hearings on the bill to protest against including operators in the law in cities.

A public hearing will be held Monday night on the bill prohibiting boys or girls of a tender age to sell newspapers and do other street work. A hearing will be held Tuesday on the bill relating to the bonding of railway employes and on the measure proposing the creation of a state board for the examination of cooks, it was announced by Chairman Thomas McGrath of St. Paul last night.

Body Guards to be Provided.

A gentle hint that murderers are on the trail of the authors of the county option bill, which recently was passed by the legislature, is contained in a letter signed by "John W. R." of West Seventh street, and received by Chief Clerk Oscar Arneson of the house of representatives yesterday afternoon. The letter follows:

"I stepped off of a West Seventh street car last Thursday night about 10 p. m. There were seven or eight men holding a conversation in the rear of the saloon, talking in their native tongue. As I understand the Bohemian language, I could not help but listen—they were plotting to kill those men that introduced the bill for state-wide prohibition, and a man who had introduced the county option bill, also some others that are strong in favor of it. I was a stranger to them, did not let them know I understood them. They looked like desperate characters. I think they would do it. This was out West Seventh street. I will not give the number of the locality or saloon as I don't want to be mixed up in the affair. I hope my letter will save the lives of these honest men."

Mr. Arneson is arranging for a personal body guard and he stated last night, would take up with others the matter of body guards for county optionists and prohibitionists.

Motor Speedway Bills.

Representative Frank E. Nimocks' motor speedway bills were considered at a meeting of the house state fair committee, which last night decided to hold a joint meeting next Thursday with the state fair board to obtain their views upon the two measures. One bill would authorize the construction of a speedway of two miles by the state, and carried an appropriation of $200,000 to cover expenses. The other bill would authorize the State Agricultural society to lease ground for a speedway to private interests.

That the committee favors passage of one of the bills was indicated at yesterday's meeting despite objection raised by Representative Knud Wefald, who protested that the state fair was supposed to be an educational institution rather than an amusement park.

"The state fair is in a position where a change is essential to keep the crowds," answered Mr. Nimocks.

"These two bills were drawn by the attorney general. This committee and the legislature are opposed to bills carrying appropriations for the State Agricultural society and the money obtained in rentals from such a speedway would aid in making the society self-sustaining."

Representative Robert Carmichael, chairman of the committee, took a similar stand in the matter and declared that if present conditions continue to prevail and the falling off in attendance increases, the state fair will become a "white elephant" on the hands of the state.

The committee recommended to pass the bill carrying $100,000 appropriation to aid county and district agricultural societies. It will now go to the appropriations committee as a state fair committee bill. The measure carries a like appropriation for the following year.

LAST RITES FOR W. H. COLE MONDAY

Body Will Arrive Here Sunday; Funeral From Masonic Temple.

Mining and railroad men who have made industrial history in Northern Minnesota will pay their last tribute to William H. Cole, prominent mining expert, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mr. Cole died at Pasadena, Cal., Monday night after a short illness, and the body is being brought to Duluth for burial. Services will be held from the Masonic temple.

Several of Mr. Cole's friends and business associates have been named as pallbearers, the list including: William A. McDonagle, E. B. Whiteside, J. W. Lyder, J. H. Hoarding, William P. Mars and Edward H. Windom.

Mrs. Cole, Miss Alice Cole, a daughter, and George H. Cole, a brother, with Mr. Cole at the time of his death, will arrive at the Head of the Lakes from California Sunday evening with the body.

WILL PROBABLY BE BURIED SUNDAY

Tarrytown, N. Y., March 13.—Plans for the funeral of Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, who died at her home here yesterday morning, were held in abeyance today to await the arrival of Mr. Rockefeller and his son, who were speeding north in a special train from Ormonde, Fla. They were due to reach Pocantico Hills late this afternoon or this evening.

In the absence of definite plans, however, it was regarded as probable that funeral services would be held here tomorrow afternoon and that Mrs. Rockefeller would be buried at Cleveland, Ohio, where she grew to womanhood and where she spent much of her time in recent years.

Only one member of the Rockefeller family, it was thought, would be unable to attend the funeral. This is Mrs. Harold Fowler McCormick of Chicago, Mrs. Rockefeller's daughter, who is now in Switzerland recovering from an illness. Mrs. E. Parmalee Prentice, the other daughter and Miss Lucy H. Spelman, Mrs. Rockefeller's sister, were both at the Rockefeller home here today. The arrival of Mr. Rockefeller and his son will complete the family circle, with this single exception. Mr. McCormick, who was to have sailed today to join his wife in Switzerland, is also at Pocantico Hills.

TO CONSIDER NEW FORM OF CAPITAL

Dallas, Tex., March 13.—Constructive programs looking toward the formation of a national policy in connection with the new form of capitalism, corporation farming, will be called for at the hearing of the Federal industrial relations commission, which opens here March 16.

This statement was made today by G. W. Holman, special agent in charge of the governmental investigation into the American land question, in accounting the list of witnesses to be called. Governor James E. Ferguson of Texas is among those asked to testify. The commissioners, headed by Frank P. Walsh, chairman, are due to arrive here Monday. The hearing is scheduled to last five days.

"Perhaps the most significant phase of the hearing," said Mr. Holman today, "will be that for the first time in America the tenant farmer will be considered to have to his landlord a relation identical with that of the wage worker to his employer. The rise of the new form of capitalism, corporation farming, the trend toward concentrating, the movement of farm labor and methods of distributing it to better advantages will be considered and constructive programs looking toward the formation of a national policy will be called for by the commissioners."

Ranchers, university professors, officials of farmers' organizations, most of them from Texas, comprise those who have been called as witnesses.

CRUISERS KEEPING WATCH OFF COAST.

Norfolk, Va., March 13.—The Cape Henry marine observers reported today that a three-stack cruiser, nationality unknown, had lain about twelve miles off shore from yesterday afternoon until 6:30 this morning, when she departed.

TWO WIVES WOULD SEVER NUPTIAL TIES

Hazel Langille, 21, alleging desertion and cruelty, started suit for divorce yesterday afternoon in district court against Ellman Langille, 24. She claims that before he abandoned her, he was constantly nagging and scolding and making false accusations against her. On Jan. 21, 1914, she says, he left. She asks for her maiden name, that of Hazel Heritage. The Langilles were married on March 23, 1912, at Virginia.

Desertion is charged against Rudolph Barich, 25, in a suit filed yesterday by his wife, Katy Barich, also 25. They were married at Virginia on Feb. 23, 1911, and lived together until he abandoned her, she says. She asks the court for the custody of their 4-year-old child and the right to resume her maiden name, that of Katy Majeale.

OFFICERS OF SENIOR CLASS AT CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Harold Coe, Editor of Zenith.

Robert Zuger, President.

Ralph McCarthy, Treasurer.

Esther Hoar, Vice President.

Mildred Turner, Member of Zenith Board.

May Wielde, Secretary of the Zenith Board.

SENIORS HAVE FINE RECORD

Many Stars and Uniform Ability Shown By Class Review.

Girls Wear "Pig-Tails"—Wallace Cup Contest—Class Play.

Within three months the seniors of Central high school—the class of 1915—will conclude one of the most successful four-year courses that any class has ever experienced in the many years of the school's history. The month of June will mark the graduation of more than 200 enthusiastic members of the blue and gold class. As freshmen, they set a school record for first year enrollment, and a surprising percentage have remained throughout the four years. There are only a few who entered with the class that will not obtain the required sixteen credits for graduation.

As is common to all school classes, the present seniors have met with a few defeats and setbacks; some on the athletic fields and some in other branches. On the whole, however, the 1915 members have enjoyed a remarkably successful four years of high school life. On the athletic field they have been represented by winning teams—if not first in scores, always assuming the initiative in reflecting the greatest amount of credit on the class. The football team has maintained a clean record for the four years—something which no class had heretofore been able to boast of. The basket ball team has culminated a four-year climb by winning the school championship this season. The hockey representatives have made a wonderful record, concluding in the annexing of the school honors in their final year. Track material was wanting, but those who did enter always brought honors back to the class. In other athletic branches the 1915 men always were prominent contestants. Many contributions from the class were made to the representative school athletic teams.

In literary and similar fields the class has never failed to maintain its high standard. The spirit exhibited by the members of the class has been one of marked features.

One of the greatest factors in the success of the class is the capability of the officers. In the freshman year Floyd Lawson was elected to the presidency, Margaret Smith was chosen vice president, Jean Rice treasurer, Martha Wall secretary, and Warren Moore was selected for the position of freshman editor of the Zenith. These students served in the same capacity during the second year, with the exception that Harold Coe was chosen for the position of Zenith editor, a position he has kept during the last three years, and one which he has filled with exceptional ability. Last year, as juniors, the class made a change in its four chief officers. Robert Zuger was selected to preside over the class, a duty which he has carried out for the last two years. Esther Hoar was chosen vice president, Mary McGonagle secretary, and Ralph McCarthy class treasurer. Last fall these students were re-elected to their respective offices. Mainly through the diligent and untiring efforts of Ralph McCarthy, the treasury of the senior class has been kept well over the $100 mark, a feat which few classes heretofore have been able to accomplish, and a mark which future classes will have to strive hard to equal. With the on-rush of expenses in the latter part of the senior year, the treasury, of course, will begin to rapidly diminish. The class, as a whole, has seldom failed to come up to "Bill's" demand for dues.

Senior girls' class day was celebrated yesterday with the observance of the usual —though in many cases unusual—custom of wearing their flowing locks of hair done up—or rather down—as in days of "yore." The spectacle of erstwhile dignified young women with their hair tied in "glad" ribbons and a "pigtail" straggling down their backs was a sight to convulse the entire student body in laughter, including even the diminutive freshman "lassies," who were hard to distinguish from their elder schoolmates.

This custom is observed annually by the senior girls and is always the cause of much merriment. The boys, not to be outdone, have set aside a day each year, for some seasons past, on which they, too, may show how ridiculous they can appear. This day is not far advanced, but the senior boys are keeping it a secret to surprise the "under-grades." A limit is set, of course, and costumes that appear too prominent are not tolerated by Principal Young. The senior boys say, however, that there will be "something doing" when they "spruce up."

Considerable interest is being manifested among the students for the Wallace cup oratorical and declamatory contest, which takes place May 7. Many promising candidates are included in the large list of those who have announced their intention of entering the tryouts. As a rule, the readings and orations given are not original, and the decision is rendered entirely on the merit of delivery, though there is no rule prohibiting the use of original pieces.

The contest this year will be held in the Central assembly hall with Superior Central, Nelson, Dewey, Denfeld high and Duluth Central as contestants. Superior Central won the cup last year making three victories for the local Central representatives. By the terms on which the contest is held, the school wining it the greatest number of times in ten consecutive years is to be given permanent possession of the cup. The sixth number of the contest will be held this year. The cup was presented by Dr. C. J. Wallace now of Duluth.

The first year of the contest Central was represented by Stanley Lamb and Roger Lerch; second year by Roger Lerch and Julius Nolte; third year by Dorothy Patton and Andrew Johnson; fourth year by Dorothy Patton and Lawrence Dow, and fifth year by Dorothy Patton and Irving Grover. Irving Grover has not as yet announced his intention of entering the contest but it is hoped that he will in the near future.

The senior class passed action on several important matters at a meeting Monday afternoon. Townsend Hoopes was elected business manager of the class play, which is to be held early in April. The class also indorsed Mr. Rasey's appointment of Ben Wood as stage manager. This position will be a difficult one this year as the elaborate costumes and scenery will require much attention. The class hopes to raise $400 on the two performances, although this will necessitate a "full house" on both nights. The members of the class intend to do this and they have already started boosting the event.

Practice by the members of the cast is being held regularly several nights each week under the supervision of L. C. Rasey of the English department. Those included in the leading roles have almost familiarized themseves with their respective parts, and from now on the action will be instilled. A definite date for the play has not as yet been decided upon, but it will be held about the middle of April, if not earlier.

At the monthly meeting of the board of education, March 5, a petition from the Lambs' Dramatic club was received, asking that the stage in the school auditorium be remodeled by changing the rear wall from a curve to a right angle form and that the proscenium arch be moved out farther. The club has a fund of approximately $100, which it has voted to use in the purchase of scenery for the stage, if the board of education lives up to its end of the matter.

Some of the members of the board did not look upon the petition with much favor, arguing that the petition, coming from the students and not the faculty, should not be considered very seriously.

The club objects to that point in that the matter was thoroughly discussed with several members of the faculty before being taken up. Another member of the board came to the rescue of the petition, saying that it would be highly advisable in that additional stage room had to be constructed and then torn down each time there is a graduation or other special event, and that this was the cause of much waste in both time and money. The matter was referred to the committee on maintenance, buildings and grounds, for consultation with the architect that drew the plans for the building.

At the request of the vocational guidance committee, of which T. F. Phillips is chairman, Mr. Nolte, local real estate man, addressed the boys of the school Monday morning.

"An educated man without a definite purpose is a vocational hobo," said Mr. Nolte. "A man should always have a definite purpose in life," he continued, "and although he may be a professional or financial success, he is still a failure if he is not in the work that he is best fitted to do."

The boys appreciated Mr. Nolte's talk and a unanimous vote of thanks was accorded him when he had concluded.

The cadet corps held its weekly drill following the close of school Wednesday. The feature of the drill was the dividing of the boys into two groups, to be known as Company A and Company B. Each company consisted of about forty boys Wednesday. This number is expected to grow, as new recruits are being added regularly. The young officers took command for the first time and performed very creditably. Kakhi uniforms are under consideration and may be obtained in the near future.

With the approach of spring, work in agriculture is becoming more and more prominent. Courses at several dairies and farms are holding the major interest of the students in extension work. All during the week groups of boys made trips to the demonstration farm, Jean Du Luth farm and Woodland dairy. Courses in the judging of horses, beef cattle and Holstein cows were held. This "short course" is to consist of two weeks of such work and it is believed that the students will benefit greatly by it.

Class work for the "aggies" for the last two weeks has consisted for the most part of study in barn construction. The students are being taught the qualities of a practical barn, how it should be economical, sanitary, warm, well lighted and conveniently laid out.

As usual the progress in the creamery and greenhouse has been very rapid. A mark of 2,550 pounds of butter has been reached and more is being produced every day. The tomato vines are loaded with ripe, luscious fruit in the greenhouse. Prof. Gibson picked some of the ripest of the fruit and collected fourteen pounds. Very much more than that is still on the vines. The tomatoes are sold and considerable money is made thereby.

During the Wednesday morning chapel period the Zenith board was officially presented with $100 by the Lambs' club as its share of the proceeds of the benefit night at the Lyceum, which the club held some time ago. Jacob Garon made the presentation speech and Floyd Lawson, on behalf of the Zenith board, accepted the check and expressed the sincere thanks of the board.

Yesterday afternoon the members of the club had a group picture taken at the Dworshak studio. This is to be used for the Zenith.

Arrangements are being made whereby the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra may be induced to come to Duluth and give a concert for the benefit of the grade and high school pupils. If the grade and high school pupils intend as many as 3,000 signify their intention of going, the orchestra will be brought here. It is planned to charge the minimum admission of 25 cents. It is thought that a great many pupils will take advantage of the event.

A large crowd of rooters are preparing to leave this evening for Superior to accompany the basket ball team, where it plays tonight. The game has been shifted to start at 7:30, and the Duluth rooters will take the car that leaves Third avenue west at 6:45. The contest will be played in the Superior Central high gymnasium.

On Friday, March 26, the Easter vacation will begin. On that date the reports for the month of March will be given out and the report cards distributed. The Easter vacation lasts one week and the students will come back on Monday, April 5.

ENRICH THE BLOOD
Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Strong Tonic-Medicine, Is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with bilious turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years,—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-the-year-round blood-purifier and health giver. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else is like it. There is no real substitute; so be sure to get Hood's. Ask your druggist for it today, and begin taking it at once.

CLEAN-UP WEEK COMING IN MAY

School children, churches, civic organizations, and the Duluth Street Railway company will be enlisted in a campaign to clean up the city early in May, according to plans formulated at a Commercial club meeting last night.

Dr. H. E. Webster, director of public health, and H. Beckwith of the Kelley-How-Thomson company, gave talks on various phases of the week's campaign to thirty citizens. Another meeting will be held in about two weeks, when committees to have charge of the work will be appointed.

Active work will begin about May 9, according to the present plan, which calls for a week of "house cleaning." Co-operation of all civic organizations will be sought before that time.

Prizes will be given school children for the best-kept yards, according to Dr. Webster, and street cars will have placards exploiting the "clean up" plans.

Confesses to Murder.

Wilmington, Del., March 13.—Bernard Montvid yesterday confessed to the murder of Rev. Joseph Zebris, priest of the Lithuanian church at New Britain, Conn., and his housekeeper on Feb. 8, according to Chief of Police Black and New Britain detectives. The prisoner is in the workhouse here for the murder of a policeman last Saturday.

GOING into bankruptcy apparently is fashionable with American stars and producers. Marie Cahill is the latest to admit that she cannot pay her debts. She owes $31,402 and has assets of only $320. She has some claims against her husband, Daniel V. Arthur amounting to $23,327, but they are evidently not considered as assets.

Mr. Arthur was the producer of the well-starred but ill-fated "90 in the Shade" company, with Marie Cahill and Richard Carle as joint stars. It melted away one night on Broadway.

Marie Cahill's experience, and that of Mrs. Fiske, whose chief assets were claims against her husband, Harrison Grey Fiske, the producer, and the failure of the Lieblers all tend to prove that the path of the producer is strewn with many rocks and pitfalls. The bankruptcy of both actresses may be directly traced to their assistance to their husbands and producing managers.

HERE is the way the New York Times comments on the passing of Wallack's theater:

How are the mighty fallen—and shall fall! Daly's historic boards overrun with burlesque beauties and the audience dismissed by the police; the Bijou being rapidly returned to dust under the hammers and bars of the wreckers, and now Wallack's, the last playhouse of a line that has kept the famous name on Broadway for nearly a century, doomed to be dismantled at the end of next month.

At least there is poetic justice in the passing of Wallack's, for no dancing damsels of burlesque have profaned its stage. Instead its swan-song will be a performance by Granville Barker's company in its exposition of the new art of the theater. At the recent dinner of the theater managers Mr. Barker said in his graceful speech that he had hastened to America at this time in order that he might be included in Charles Burnham's annals of the playhouse with which he has been so long associated. Shortly after his arrival, after having inspected many theaters with the view of selecting one for his engagement, Mr. Barker is quoted as saying that Wallack's, in spite of its years, was much more of a playhouse than many of its more modern and luxurious rivals. So the least Mr. Burnham can do when he does record his memories of Wallack's, is to give the English producer a page.

The names of many players of international as well as local fame are on the playbills in the archives of Mr. Burnham. His office walls and the walls of the spacious foyers are dotted with interesting photographs of the stars who have shone in the historic pile. Coquelin, Hading, Wyndham, Salvini, Mansfield, Jefferson, Florence, Willard, Maxine Elliott, Mr. and Mrs. Kendal, John Drew, Rose Coghlan, Mrs. Langtry, Olga Nethersole, Julia Marlowe and Robert Taber, Georgia Cayvan, Maude Adams, Viola Allen, Henry Miller, Blanche Walsh, William Faversham, Bruce McRae, Wilton Lackaye, Julia Arthur, Maurice Barrymore, De Wolf Hopper, Henry Dixey, Digby Bell—these are some of the names that will conjure up almost forgotten memories of golden evenings.

THE lenten quiet seems to hang over the New York theatrical world. Only one production of importance opened during the week that is just closing. That was "Fads and Fancies," a Klaw & Erlanger musical medley.

JOE JACKSON, an eccentric bicyclist and pantomime artist, who will be remembered by the former patrons of the Orpheum here, is scoring one of the big hits with the Winter Garden production of "Maid in America." Jackson is one of the few really funny silent comedians of the stage.

* * *

RUMORS still persist that the Orpheum is to be reopened with the full Orpheum shows and the old Orpheum prices, but there is no confirmation of them yet. The local manager merely has instructions to "sit tight." Next week's local amusement offerings consist of "Life's Shop Window" by the Baldwin Players; vaudeville at the Grand and photoplay at the Rex and Zelda. About the only road attraction booked for Duluth during the spring is "Potash and Perlmutter" which will be at the Lyceum this month.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

The sketch, "War Brides," which Nazimova is using in her vaudeville ventures, will in all likelihood be stretched into a play of the regular size by the authoress, Marion Craig Wentworth. According to present plans, Nazimova is to appear in the lengthened version when it is completed.

William Hodge, the star of "The Man From Home," is busy assisting Booth Tarkington in a new comedy which is being written for Daniel Vorhees Pike, who, it is expected, will therein again make his bow before the public.

* * *

It is stated that the end of April will witness the production of a new revue in New York, which will be known as "Ned Wayburn's Revue," being named after its producer. Offers are said to have been made by Harry Pilser and Teddie Gerard, now in London, to appear in the revue.

* * *

A rumor has it that Raymond Hitchcock is to be the central figure in a revue next season. Cohan and Harris are to stand sponsor for the affair.

* * *

G. M. Anderson (Broncho Billy) is said to have sunk over $100,000 in a stock venture at the Morosco theater, Los Angeles. It will be remembered that Billy's Gayety venture in San Francisco, which opened its doors with the all-star combination playing "The Candy Shop" last season, was also a losing venture for the "movie" actor. His loss at that time is said to have been even greater than in his last attempt.

* * *

Valeska Suratt as Sapho is one of the promises held out to the theatrical public for the immediate future by some hopeful booking agency.

In spite of the fact that he threatened to leave vaudeville, and even went so far as to announce his retirement for the present and threatening to break his contract with the United Booking offices, Eddie Foy and his multitudinous offspring are continuing in the two-a-days as if nothing had happened. Eddie was reported as being considerably peeved on account of the constant harrassing he was subjected to on the part of the police departments of the different cities he visited in the performance of his professional duties. The guardians of the peace as a rule wanted to be satisfied as to the status of the Foy youngsters before the law before they would allow the performances to proceed.

* * *

Herbert Kelsey and Effie Shannon have made a joint vaudeville appearance in the sketch, "At Dawn." After a try-out they will go into New York.

* * *

After an absence of three weeks, Sophie Tucker has gone back to the Loew vaudeville circuit to continue her engagement which she broke up in a huff some weeks ago.

* * *

Oliver Morosco will revive "Pretty Mrs. Smith" immediately. Charlotte Greenwood, the loose-jointed young woman who made the hit of the piece when it was seen with Fritzi Scheff, featured, will be the star of the production which will sail under the new name of "Long-Legged Letty." This is the announcement which comes from Los Angeles.

* * *

A new farce by Frank Hatch, entitled "The Blue Envelope," with Virginia Pearson, Carrie Reynolds, W. J. Ferguson, George Howard and others in the cast, will receive its initial performance in the immediate future. The producer is Richard Lambert, erstwhile general press representative for John Cort.

* * *

"Class," a new one in four acts, by Allan Lowe, is one of the tentative productions of the next few months. It is stated that either Frank Keenan or Wilton Lackaye is to assume the star role.

* * *

"Jim's Woman" is the title of a Brady production, which will be put on within the present month. "Jim's Woman" plays in the Yukon region.

* * *

The name of Joseph Santley is being mentioned in connection with the expected revival of "A Modern Eve," Santley to head the company.

* * *

Blanche Ring is to be under the management of Klaw & Erlanger next season. Her first venture under these auspices will be in a new comedy written by Catherine Chesholm Cushing. At present she is appearing in vaudeville.

SCENE FROM "LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW,"
To Be Presented All Next Week By the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum.

WHAT PRESS AGENTS PROMISE FOR DULUTH THEATERS

WILL OFFER "LIFE'S SHOP WINDOW"

Baldwin Players Will Present Change of Bill Sunday Afternoon.

Tonight's performance will bring to a close a very successful week for the Baldwin Players at the Lyceum.

They have been giving an excellent production of "The Third Degree," the famous Klein drama of police methods.

Beginning with the matinee tomorrow afternoon the company will offer for a week the play "Life's Shop Window," described as a "drama of a woman's soul." It will continue all week with a matinee Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday.

The story of the play is briefly as follows:

Bernard Chetwin has just finished six months serving with John Anderson, an English farmer. He thinks he has learned enough of farming so he can operate successfully a ranch in Western America. The farmer's daughter, Bella, has fallen in love with Bernard, but he has secretly married Lydia Wilton, a gentle born and bred English orphan who is dependent on the Anderson family for a home.

Bernard starts for America, leaving Lydia behind, intending to send for her a year later. She pleads to go along with him, fearing to remain there alone as the drudge of the farmhouse, and later on explains their marriage and birth of a little son. But he insists that she stay.

Eustace Pelham, an English aristocrat, passing the farm a few weeks later stops to rest. Lydia brings him a drink, and he speaks of her youth and beauty, telling her that her charms are stronger than fate itself, and that life is before her to be made of what she will. Then he goes away.

A year passed and in that time Bernard has prospered enough so that he sends for Lydia and their baby to join him in America. But the seed of discontent, planted by Pelham nearly a year before, takes root, when not long after her arrival Lydia realizes that Bernard is always busy with the management of the ranch and can devote little of his time to her. He is blind to the fact that she craves his affection and that the monotony of their daily life, the never ending sameness of everything is gradually killing her great love for him.

About this time Pelham comes to America on a hunting trip and makes his camp near the Chetwin ranch. Pelham renews his acquaintance with Lydia, and in her loneliness she turns to him for comfort. He finally persuades her to desert her husband and little baby for him. But just as they are about to start, her faithful Indian servants Black Feather and his daughter, Starlight, appear, and try to save her from her folly. She refuses to turn back, believing she has chosen the right road to happiness. How Lydia is brought to realize that the toy she chose from "Life's Shop Window" was made of pure gold is the story told in the last act. Its pathos is said to be overwhelming and direct in its appeal.

Monday evening at the playhouse will be Royal League night. Indications are that a record-breaking crowd will turn out on that evening. The committee from Pocahontas and West Duluth lodges, which have charge of boosting that night, reports a large advance sale of tickets.

PLEASING FEATURES AT NEW GRAND

Maidie De Long Will Head Show for Next Week.

The present bill at the New Grand is as high class act as could be expected in a vaudeville photoplay entertainment at popular prices. Every act on the bill registers an individual hit and the film stories are good.

The bill is headed by those well known and popular players, Jennings, Jewell and Barlowe, who offer their novel skit, "The Dope, the Dutchman and the Girl." The act is replete with refined comedy and good singing. Mr. Jennings is a German comedian of exceptional worth. Mr. Jewell, as the "dope fiend," has exceptional dramatic ability set off with a humorous vein, while Miss Barlowe has an excellent voice, which she uses to advantage.

An acrobatic novelty is the offering of the three Webber sisters. They are a dainty, petite and graceful trio and accomplish many difficult feats with ease and grace.

Gene and Fay offer a singing and dancing diversion with plenty of witty chatter thrown in. Both are artists in their line and have made themselves favorites during their short stay here.

Ricca, the accordionist, has a cheerful repertoire, which he handles in a splendid style.

The Hearst-Selig News contains many interesting views among which are scenes from the recent earthquake disaster in Italy and the war zone of Europe.

"The Still Small Vice," a thrilling two-reel story; one of the Helen Holmes stories of railroad life, "The Engineer's Peril;" a Western story and a comedy, "Tim the Terror" complete the bill.

On Monday the bill will change entirely, and is headed by the sterling comedienne, Maidie de Long, "The Ball Bug." She will present original character studies including her pantomine imitation of a baseball pitcher.

Acher and Carr are polite entertainers of the better class, offering a series of new songs and dances.

Edna and Billy St. Allen, European tight-wire artists, and the famous four musical kings, instrumentalists and comedians, are other vaudeville offerings.

"In Spite of All," adapted from Mrs. Fisk's play of that title, will be the photoplay feature in three reels. "Father's New Maid," a comedy; "The Man Who Knew," a drama, and an educational film, "The Pitcher Plant," complete the bill.

STARS COMING TO REX.

Nance O'Neil, W. H. Crane and a Tolstoy Masterpiece Booked.

Coming to the Rex Beautiful Tuesday and Wednesday will be Tolstoy's masterpiece, "Kreutzer Sonata."

Director Brennon, who won his spurs as the producer of "Neptune's Daughter," declares that the players in "Kreutzer Sonato" comprises more people who have starred at the head of their own companies than any other big production he has ever made. Nance O'Neil, known the world over, plays the role of Miriam, the wronged wife, who in the end takes a terrible revenge for her injuries. Theda Bara, leading woman of the famous theater Antoine, Paris, adds another "Vampire Woman" as Celia Friedlander, the beautiful, heartless siren. William Shay, late leading man with Robert Mantell and Minnie Maddern Fisk, does a wonderful piece of acting as he plays his way into the heart of Celia with "Kreutzer Sonata."

In an appendix attached to "Kreutzer Sonata," Tolstoy says: "My views on the problems involved in the 'Kreutzer Sonata' may be stated as follows: 'Without entering into details, it will be generally admitted that many people condone in young men a course of conduct with regard to the other sex which is incompatible with strict morality, and this dissolute ness is pardoned generally. Both parents and government, in consequence of this view, may be said to wink at profligacy among young men.' ""Kreutzer Sonata" was a hard story to put over on account of the daring theme, but Herbert Brennon handled it with the same delicacy shown in producing "Neptune's Daughter" and while the story grips there is nothing to offend. It is bound to be one of the most talked of picturizations shown in Duluth.

William H. Crane, the idol of the speaking stage, will make his first appearance before a picture audience at the Rex Beautiful Wednesday and Thursday in his great character, "David Harum," the lovable old horse trader. This is a Frohman-Paramount, and that means the best in the land.

"The Love Route" will play, without fail, Friday and Saturday at the Rex Beautiful. The picture was built in California and well brings out the beauties of that wonderland. The situations calling for the united action of cowboys and railroad workmen, and the scenes in which these two forces meet in battle, display to the utmost the wonderful craft of the screen director. Truly, it is a romance of the ranch and railroad. Harold Lockwood is featured as the star in this famous Player-Paramount.

At the Zelda.

Lillian Russell in her great success, "Wildfire," closes her film engagement at the Zelda theater tonight. She has made a lot of new picture admirers and patrons for the Zelda, according to Manager Mistachkin, who says that 20 per cent of the people who came to see this production had never been in his theater before.

A complete change of program will be shown at the Zelda tomorrow, including the seventh episode of the "Exploits of Elaine," a big feature and an interesting comedy. Mr. Mistachkin has signed up with J. F. Cubberly, manager of the Zenith Feature Film company to present for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Alliance masterpiece, "Hearts and Flowers." It is a pathetic story, which embodies love, devotion and sacrifice. Seat reservations may be made for theater parties a full week in advance. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, Mr. Mistachkin will present the World's Feature Film company's "Money," with James Keane in the title role. Preparations are being made by the management of the Zelda for next week. Special musical selections will be given.

At the Sunbeam.

Always on the lookout for high-class film attractions, especially for the Sunday program, Manager Parker of the Sunbeam has secured an excellent three-part photoplay drama for tomorrow, entitled "Men and Women." This production is presented by Klaw and Erlanger, who are producing big moving picture offerings since they have joined the ranks of the motion picture forces. This play is intensely dramatic, with many interesting situations interspersed throughout. It deals with modern conditions and should please those of the motion-picture-going public, who desire high-class attractions. "Patsy's First Love" will complete the program for tomorrow.

On Monday and Tuesday the second installment of the "Girl Detective" series with Miss Ruth Roland in the leading role will be presented by the Kalem company. In this picture is shown the unraveling of a mysterious apartment house mystery. Pathe News, covering events of international interest also comes Monday and Tuesday.

The Columbia burlesque circuit has decided to have eighty houses and seventy shows the next season. The opening of the season will be Aug. 23.

Rose Coghlan is to be seen in vaudeville on the Loew time, appearing in a sketch called "Forget-Me-Not."

A new movement has been launched in New York by an association called The American-Irish Players company. Its purpose is to promulgate Irish music and literature in play form, to portray properly Irish character, wit and legends, and to present Irish drama and opera. It is also intended to correct some of the impressions left by the performances of such plays as "The Playboy of the Western World."

"Watch Your Step," is to be produced in London in May. Joseph Coyne has been selected to assume the role played by Vernon Castle in the American production.

HOUSEHOLD SANITATION

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON, Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

Undoubtedly some ancient sanitarian was responsible for the proverb that "cleanliness is next to godliness." While the majority of people accept this in theory, unfortunately when it comes to practice weakness develops. In ninety-nine out of every hundred homes there are corners in attic or cellar, under the kitchen sink and the bottom of the pantry cupboard that, somehow or other seem to regularly escape clean-up days.

Accumulation is a mania with some people. The way in which it manifests itself may vary but the result is the same. It is responsible for filling our houses with an enormous amount of wholly unnecessary truck which serves to make cleanliness difficult.

Dirt and even filth are not necessarily a direct cause of disease, but generally there is an association. Organic material which is left about becomes a breeding place for bacteria and flies. Careless habits of mind and body are cultivated and fostered by careless habits of living. It is certain that a child raised in a home where there is indifference to the household cleanliness, can hardly be expected to develop an appreciation of the virtue and advantage of cleanly habits.

These same influences within a house are equally true regarding its surroundings. A peep at the back yard will give you a far better insight into the character of the occupants of the dwelling than a study of the front door. Ashes, garbage and rubbish scattered in the rear of a dwelling are not conducive to good health or decency.

Cleanliness and wholesomeness go hand in hand, see that your household sanitation is all that it should be and make these twin sisters of good heatlh welcome in your home.

But just as they are about to start, her faithful Indian aunts, Black Feather and his daughter, Starlight, appear, and try to save her from her folly. She refuses to turn back, believing she has chosen the right road to happiness. How Lydia is brought to realize that the toy she chose from "Life's Shop Window" was made of pure gold is the story told in the last act. Its pathos is said to be overwhelming and direct in its appeal.

Monday evening at the playhouse will be Royal League night. Indications are that a record-breaking crowd will turn out on that evening. The committee from Pocohontas and West Duluth Lodges, which have charge of boosting that night, reports a large advance sale of tickets.

PLEASING FEATURES AT NEW GRAND

Maidie De Long Will Head Show for Next Week.

The present bill at the New Grand is as high class act as could be expected in a vaudeville photoplay entertainment at popular prices. Every act on the bill registers an individual hit and the film stories are good.

The bill is headed by these well known and popular players, Jennings, Jewell and Barlowe, who offer their novel skit, "The Dope, the Dutchman and the Girl." The act is replete with refined comedy and good singing. Mr. Jennings is a German comedian of exceptional worth. Mr. Jewell, as the "dope fiend," has exceptional dramatic ability set off with a humorous vein, while Miss Barlowe has an excellent voice, which she uses to advantage.

An acrobatic novelty is the offering of the three Webber sisters. They are a dainty, petite and graceful trio and accomplish many difficult feats with ease and grace.

Gene and Fay offer a singing and dancing diversion with plenty of witty chatter thrown in. Both are artists in their line and have made themselves favorites during their short stay here.

Ricca, the accordionist, has a cheerful repertoire, which he handles in a splendid style.

The Hearst-Selig News contains many interesting views among which are scenes from the recent earthquake disaster in Italy and the war zone of Europe.

"The Still Small Vice," a thrilling two-reel story; one of the Helen Holmes stories of railroad life, "The Engineer's Peril;" a Western story and a comedy, "Pim the Terror" complete the bill.

On Monday the bill will change entirely, and is headed by the sterling comedienne, Maidie de Long, "The Ball Bug." She will present original character studies including her pantomine imitation of a baseball pitcher.

Acher and Carr are polite entertainers of the better class, offering a series of new songs and dances.

Edna and Billy St. Allen, European tight-wire artists, and the famous four musical kings, instrumentalists and comedians, are other vaudeville offerings.

"In Spite of All," adapted from Mrs. Fisk's play of that title, will be the photoplay feature in three reels. "Father's New Maid," a comedy; "The Man Who Knew," a drama, and an educational film, "The Pitcher Plant," complete the bill.

STARS COMING TO REX.

Nance O'Neil, W. H. Crane and a Tolstoy Masterpiece Booked.

Coming to the Rex Beautiful Tuesday and Wednesday will be Tolstoy's masterpiece, "Kreutzer Sonata."

Director Brennon, who won his spurs as the producer of "Neptune's Daughter," declares that the players in "Kreutzer Sonata" comprises more people who have starred at the head of their own companies than any other big production he has ever made. Nance O'Neil, known the world over, plays the role of Miriam, the wronged wife, who in the end takes a terrible revenge for her injuries. Theda Bara, leading woman of the famous theater Antoine, Paris, adds another "Vampire Woman" as Celia Friedlander, the beautiful, heartless siren. William Shay, late leading man with Robert Mantell and Minnie Maddern Fisk, does a wonderful piece of acting as he plays his way into the heart of Celia with "Kreutzer Sonata."

In an appendix attached to "Kreutzer Sonata," Tolstoy says: "My views on the problems involved in the 'Kreutzer Sonata' may be stated as follows: 'Without entering into details, it will be generally admitted that many people condone in young men a course of conduct with regard to the other sex which is incompatible with strict morality, and this dissoluteness is pardoned generally. Both parents and government, in consequence of this view, may be said to wink at profligacy among young men.' 'Kreutzer Sonata' was a hard story to put over on account of the daring theme, but Herbert Brennon handled it with the same delicacy shown in producing "Neptune's Daughter" and while the story strips there is nothing to offend. It is bound to be one of the most talked of picturizations shown in Duluth.

William H. Crane, the idol of the speaking stage, will make his first appearance before a picture audience at the Rex Beautiful Wednesday and Thursday in his great character, "David Harum," the lovable old horse trader. This is a Frohman-Paramount, and that means the best in the land.

"The Love Route" will play, without fail, Friday and Saturday at the Rex Beautiful. The picture was built in California and well brings out the beauties of that wonderland. The situations calling for the united action of cowboys and railroad workmen, and the scenes in which these two forces meet in battle, display to the utmost the wonderful craft of the screen director. Truly, it is a romance of the ranch and railroad. Harold Lockwood is featured as the star in this famous Player-Paramount.

At the Zelda.

Lillian Russell in her great success, "Wildfire," closes her film engagement at the Zelda theater tonight. She has made a lot of new picture admirers and patrons for the Zelda, according to Manager Mistachkin, who says that 20 per cent of the people who came to see this production had never been in his theater before.

A complete change of program will be shown at the Zelda tomorrow, including the seventh episode of the "Exploits of Elaine," a big feature and an interesting comedy. Mr. Mistachkin has signed up with J. F. Cubberly, manager of the Zenith Feature Film company to present for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday the Alliance masterpiece, "Hearts and Flowers." It is a pathetic story, which embodies love, devotion and sacrifice. Seat reservations may be made for theater parties a full week in advance. For Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, Mr. Mistachkin will present the World's Feature Film company's "Money," with James Keane in the title role. Preparations are being made by the management of the Zelda for next week. Special musical selections will be given.

At the Sunbeam.

Always on the lookout for high-class film attractions, especially for the Sunday program, Manager Parker of the Sunbeam has secured an excellent three-part photoplay drama for tomorrow, entitled "Men and Women." This production is presented by Klaw and Erlanger, who are producing big moving picture offerings since they have joined the ranks of the motion picture forces. This play is intensely dramatic, with many interesting situations interspersed throughout. It deals with modern conditions and should please those of the motion-picture-going public, who desire high-class attractions. "Patsy's First Love" will complete the program for tomorrow.

On Monday and Tuesday the second installment of the "Girl Detective" series with Miss Ruth Roland in the leading role will be presented by the Kalem company. In this picture is shown the unraveling of a mysterious apartment house mystery. Pathe News, covering events of international interest also comes Monday and Tuesday.

The Columbia burlesque circuit has decided to have eighty houses and seventy shows the next season. The opening of the season will be Aug. 23.

Rose Coghlan is to be seen in vaudeville on the Loew time, appearing in a sketch called "Forget-Me-Not."

A new movement has been launched in New York by an association called The American-Irish Players company. Its purpose is to promulgate Irish music and literature in play form, to portray properly Irish character, wit and legends, and to present Irish drama and opera. It is also intended to correct some of the impressions left by the performances of such plays as "The Playboy of the Western World."

"Watch Your Step," is to be produced in London in May. Joseph Coyne has been selected to assume the role played by Vernon Castle in the American production.

HOUSEHOLD SANITATION

By DR. SAMUEL G. DIXON,
Commissioner of Health for Pennsylvania.

Undoubtedly some ancient sanitarian was responsible for the proverb that "cleanliness is next to godliness." While the majority of people accept this in theory, unfortunately when it comes to practice weakness develops. In ninety-nine out of every hundred homes there are corners in attic or cellar, under the kitchen sink and the bottom of the pantry cupboard that somehow or other seem to regularly escape clean-up days.

Accumulation is a mania with some people. The way in which it manifests itself may vary but the result is the same. It is responsible for filling our houses with an enormous amount of wholly unnecessary truck which serves to make cleanliness difficult.

Dirt and even filth are not necessarily a direct cause of disease, but generally there is an association. Organic material which is left about becomes a breeding place for bacteria and flies. Careless habits of mind and body are acultivated and fostered by careless habits of living. It is certain that a child raised in a home where there is indifference to the household cleanliness, can hardly be expected to develop an appreciation of the virtue and advantage of cleanly habits.

These same influences within a house are equally true regarding its surroundings. A peep at the back yard will give you a far better insight into the character of the occupants of the dwelling than a study of the front door. Ashes, garbage and rubbish scattered in the rear of a dwelling are not conducive to good health or decency.

Cleanliness and wholesomeness go hand in hand, see that your household sanitation is all that it should be and make these twin sisters of good health welcome in your home.

MODERN HOUSE FOR $4,700.00

The design presented to our readers this week is another one of the American type, which has grown popular during the last year in Duluth. Close study of the floor plans will convince you that every inch of space has been utilized. The plan is compact and the rooms open well into each other. A feature of the second floor is the large roomy bathroom and the corner windows with flower boxes beneath. The first floor is finished in Washington fir and the second floor in white pine enameled. The building could be erected in the city of Duluth, including plumbing and heating, for $4,700.

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

Minneapolis, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The first public concert of the University Symphony orchestra, was given in chapel on Thursday afternoon. After months of practice under Prof. Donal Ferguson, the most talented instrumentalists among the students and faculty gave a creditable rendition of Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony in B Minor" and McDowell's "Concerto." The Weber overture, "Preciosa," and Tiegai's well known march, "Pomp and Circumstance" were also played. Miss Gladys Jennes, a university graduate and accomplished musician, was the soloist. She played only the first movement of the concerto.

The annual junior ball will be held on April 2 at the Plaza. Final arrangements were made between the Junior Ball association and the management of the Plaza, and further plans are now being worked out by the members of the various committees.

In place of the three months of rushing of freshmen which sororities did last fall, the period next year will be three weeks. The Pan-Hellenic association so decided after listening to complaints that too much time was taken from studies by a long rushing season and that those rushed received more attention than they should have. Pledge day under the new regulations will fall about Oct. 5, the same system of sending bids being kept. Misses Grace Stellwagg, Sybil Bates and Althea Heltsmith were appointed a committee to frame bylaws.

Minnesota Alpha of Sigma Alpha Epsilon held its annual Founder day banquet Tuesday night at the University club. Over seventy-five were present, including alumni from all over the state, as well as practically all the members from the Twin City alumni associations. Features of the affair were phonographic reproductions of speeches dictated to the Minnesota banquet by Don R. Almy and William C. Levere, members of the supreme council in New York and Chicago. The entertainment and music was furnished by the active chapter.

HOT CRUDE OIL FOR FLORIDA ROADS

Promises to Revolutionize Construction in That State.

From Florida comes information that a new form of road has been devised that promises to revolutionize road building in that attractive state. It has been discovered that hot crude oil and a few other simple ingredients applied by an easy process produce a splendid road that has a surface excellently adapted to automobile travel. Experiments seem to show that nothing better has ever been devised for soil conditions like those that exist in Florida, that is a combination of natural sand and crude oil surfacing.

The surfacing is of even thickness and of a rubbery consistency that has a springy characteristic. It allows of depression under the weight of an automobile, but it immediately springs back to its normal condition. Tests have been made at the edge of such road by running heavy traffic over it, and although there was no particular pains taken in making the connection between the ordinary dirt road and the new form of surfacing, still the edge showed no breaks or abrasions. This information is extremely interesting to tourists because of the large number who probably will visit Florida during the coming spring and early summer. The European war has kept many tourists at home. At the Hudson booth at the automobile show there have been many inquiries relative to the roads of Florida, and to the facilities there enjoyed by automobilists. Hudson dealers are plentiful in that state and Hudson service can be had by tourists at practically all important points. So rapidly are good roads being constructed in Florida that the Hudson people report a tremendous demand from that section for their light weight, powerful six-forty, which seems particularly well adapted to Florida conditions.

WAR CASH HELPS CANADIAN TRADE

Auto Business Is One of First to Be Benefited.

Purchases amounting to millions of dollars, by agents of the British and French governments in Canada, have resulted in greatly relieving the financial situation in the dominion, according to E. P. Clarkson, Canadian district representative for Dodge Brothers. Mr. Clarkson is visiting the factory in Detroit after a tour through part of his territory.

"Canadian business men have more available ready cash right now than they have had for five years past," says Mr. Clarkson. "This is all due to the immense influx of foreign cash for purchasing war materials, including everything from food to clothing for the armies to the supplies of ammunition to keep the big guns at work.

"The automobile business has been one of the first to benefit by the changed conditions. Not only has there been a big increase in sales of cars to farmers, due to the high prices and big profits on grain, but a healthy impetus has been given the trade all along the line.

"One of our big implement makers recently received an order for 1,000,000 shovels from an agent of a European power and every factory is working overtime on orders of similar magnitude. Much of the ammunition, purchased from the big American makers, is sold to the British government through Canadian brokers, and here again, a vast sum of cash is involved.

"Although the Canadian buyer has been one of the best customers of the American automobile manufacturer, the trade between the two countries should be greatly increased during the coming year, due to the inability of British makers to furnish cars. I look for a record year in the sale of motor cars throughout the entire country."

DELIVERIES COST "LESS THAN NOTHING"

Detroit Man Makes Tidy Sum By Leasing Out Truck.

"Many KisselKar truck owners are making their deliveries for less than nothing," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the KisselKar.

"Sounds rather incredible, doesn't it? Well, here is an instance: H. P. Kantzler of Detroit owns a 1,500-pound KisselKar truck which is kept going in his plumbing business from 7:30 in the morning until 3:45 in the afternoon. Its superior speed and reliability gives it a ground-covering advantage over three ordinary horse-driven rigs. This is a record which in itself handsomely justifies the truck.

"But Kantzler has found that a good truck not only saves time and money, but can be turned into actual cash profits as well. Every morning from 4 to 6 he leases his truck to a newspaper for wholesale deliveries and in the afternoon from 4 to 6 to a packing company which requires extra haulage equipment during those hours. The amount received for this service more than pays the running expense of the vehicle."

TRUCK INCREASES SPEED

Driver Shows More "Pep" When on a Motor Vehicle.

"We have noticed that when the average wagon driver is placed in charge of a Federal motor truck, that same driver usually shows a very noticeable increase in 'pep,'" says J. F. Bowman, director of sales of the Federal Motor Truck company, Detroit, Mich.

"Since we have had our traffic engineer out making actual investigations as to how trucks compare with horse drawn equipment, our opinions along this line have been surely confirmed.

"The psychological effect of the speedy motor truck upon the driver, spurs him on to more speed in his end of the delivery work. The driver sees himself accomplishing many more times as much work as he did with the old slow team and wagon, and the speed germ gets into his system."

DAY'S SHIPMENTS MORE THAN $300,000

Willy's Overland Company Makes Remarkable New Record.

More than $3,000,000 worth of business in two weeks and shipments amounting to almost $300,000 in a single day. This the actual record of the Willys-Overland company, Toledo, Ohio.

The week ending Feb. 6 was the largest the Overland company had ever experienced up to that time, the volume of business amounting to almost $1,500,000. The following week was even larger, totaling practically $1,600,000. On Feb. 13 both the number of shipments made during the week and the unfilled orders on hand were greater than at the end of any previous week.

Monday, Feb. 15, was the biggest day in the history of the company. Three hundred cars, valued at $296,725, were shipped without any accumulation from the preceding day. This is 50 per cent larger than shipments on the corresponding date of last year. The cars went into twenty-six different states and sixty-five cities. Eighteen were shipped abroad to Overland foreign dealers. The entire shipment required ninety-one freight cars.

Not only did the Overland company succeed in reaching this high point, but once having reached it, almost as high an average has since been maintained, 270 cars having been shipped every day since. No other factory turning out medium or high-priced cars has ever averaged such large daily shipments.

In order to create room for the new factory additions made necessary by this rapidly increasing volume of business, reclamation work, which will cover several acres of land to the big Overland plant, has already been started. As soon as the ground has been filled in, drained and leveled, construction work will be started on two large buildings, one of which will rank with the largest factory structures in the world.

EVERY NEW METZ CAR GOES TO TESTER

Every Metz car, when it is pronounced finished and perfect by the factory departments, is turned over to a tester, who takes it out and "puts it through its paces." This test consists of a tour of several hour's duration, over all kinds of roads, and at speeds ranging all the way from slow to the limit; it formerly included the climbing of Prospect hill on the high speed; but this feature of the test has been abandoned, as the municipal authorities recently issued an order prohibiting automobiles from using the hill road.

Prospect hill is nearly one mile long, and its grade varies from 15 to 21 per cent. At the top of the hill, one encounters a flight of twenty-two steps chiseled or blasted out of the solid rock, and these steps lead up to the very pinnacle of the promontory.

FORD DISPLAY LEADS AT EXPO

Miniature Factory Turns Out Eighteen Cars Every Day.

San Francisco, March 13.—While the great number of automobile exhibits in the transportation building at the Panama-Pacific International exposition has created a world of comment among the throngs who have visited this portion of the great world's fair, the showing made by the Pacific coast agency for the Ford car has so far created the greatest mechanical impression. Sparing no expense in fitting up their big floor space the Ford people have erected a miniature factory where they are turning out eighteen cars daily between the hours of 2 o'clock and 5 in the afternoon. The exhibit is one of the most instructive and interesting to be seen in the big palace of transportation, and Frank Vivian, upon whose shoulders fell the task of "making good" with the exhibit has filled the bill wonderfully.

Wonderful as it may seem, the Ford workmen are turning out a complete car every ten minutes. This means six cars an hour and eighteen cars for the three hours that the plant is in operation. Vivian complains only of one thing, that he cannot do better. The hundreds of units which go to make up the Ford are delivered at the exposition grounds after 11 o'clock at night, ready for action next morning. There are twenty-eight men employed at the exhibit, each one having a certain part of the work to do. The frames are placed on a traveling rail, six at a time, and as they are pulled slowly along by a chain each mechanic fits his part to the frame until it reaches the end of the rails, a perfect Ford emerges, ready to be driven out of the building to the downtown salesroom of the Ford agency. Not a detail is neglected in fitting out the car, the gas being placed in the tire, water in the radiator and tires inflated before the machine rolls off onto the floor.

As fast as the cars are completed a mechanician takes the wheel and ten minutes after the first part of the work has been started, the car rolls out of the transportation building on its way to the salesroom. The whole exhibit is a wonderful achievement and the addition of an up-to-date salesroom adjacent to the factory makes the Ford exhibit one of the moct complete at the big exposition.

The Chalmers exhibit is another display which is holding its own with any on the floor of the transportation building. The Earl C. Anthony company, Inc., Northern California agents for the Chalmers car, have assembled their cars in a beautiful manner and the light colored bodies are attracting widespread attention. This Chalmers limousine seven-passenger, built on the special chassis is the center of attraction at this exhibit, while the master six chassis in nickel and enamel is he mechanical feature of the display. The Chalmers exhibit will be varied several times during the life of the big exposition, bringing in all inclosed cars and the future sample of the $1,400 six-cylinder model just being brought out. The exhibit as it now stands runs well over the $20,000 mark.

AUTO TO SUCCEED TRACTION SERVICE

Jitney Bus Is Forerunner of New Order, Says Franklin.

"Even as the horse street railway service gave way to the electric car service, so the electric railway will in a great measure give way to the automobile," says H. H. Franklin, president of the Franklin Automobile company.

Continuing, Mr. Franklin said: "As crude as may be the jitney automobile bus service which is taking the cities of the country by storm, it is the beginning of a great and radical change in transportation. Fight it as they may, the street railway interests cannot stop the growth of the pitney service.

"The service has come to stay and the rapid development of public automobile transportation during the next five years will be another wonder in the marvelous progress of the automobile.

"While, at the present time, the jitney bus is any old automobile, it will not be long before cars beautifully adapted to the service will appear.

"The service will not be confined to cities. It will eventually cover the country from city to village and village to city, as the interurban railways.

"The development of the jitney service cannot be stopped because it is going to be quicker, more convenient, and in the long run cheaper."

SULTAN OF SULU LIKES STUDEBAKER

Has His Picture Taken in Car for Each of His Three Wives.

"A man may forget one wife while on a vacation, but he can never forget when he has three."

The Sultan of Sulu smilingly gave voice to this sentiment while on a recent visit to Manila. As a souvenir of his absence he had his photograph taken while riding in a Studebaker six, and the next day a special messenger was dispatched to far-distant Sulu with a photograph for each one of his majesty's wives.

Americans who have not kept up with the mighty march of events since the occupation of the Philippines in 1898 may still regard the Sultan of Sulu as an unregenerate savage. But the dusky potentate of what many persons think of as only a group of comic opera islands is quite different from the monarch of their fancy. He is not only civilized in appearance, but so civilized deep down under his ebon skin that he enjoys the gifts that make our civilization worth while. Chief among these is the automobile.

While in Manila he decided to follow the example set by so many residents of that city when he found Studebaker automobiles so popular. He signified his royal will to his prime minister, Hadji Butu Abdul Bakey. The

Every Modern Advantage

High Tension Magneto

The Overland has high tension magneto ignition—the most dependable and most uniform system made. Many cars have only the cheaper and less efficient battery system. The battery system is furnished because it is cheaper. But the Overland uses the highest priced system of ignition — the high tension magneto — the same system found on high priced cars.

Don't buy a car that has battery ignition.

Simplest Driving Method

The Overland (80) has the control buttons located on the steering column. They are within natural reach. Many cars still have them on the dash or at some other unhandy place. But on the Overland, without stooping or bending forward, you can readily press the buttons that start, stop and light the car. That is why the Overland is so popular with the womenfolks. It is so easy to drive—so comfortable and so very convenient.

Underslung Rear Springs

The Overland has long underslung rear springs. Many cars are still made with those short overslung rear springs. Such springs make a car ride hard. They take all the fun out of touring. The underslung Overland springs are long; have wide openings and swivel seats. This makes them very flexible and smooth riding under all conditions.

Don't buy a car with overslung rear springs.

Smooth Working Clutch

The Overland clutch is so designed that it always "releases" freely. It does not grab hold or jerk you from your seat. It works smoothly and evenly without a particle of stress or strain. On many cars the clutch grabs hold with such force that the driver bounces from his seat; the car is seriously strained and the occupants in the tonneau are glad when the ride is over. Don't buy a car with a stiff working clutch.

Buy an Overland and get all the modern advantages.

prime minister passed on the word to Abdullah Bin Hawan, and Abdullah, faithful servant, sought out the Studebaker representative, F. R. Pendleton, and asked the favor of a ride in a Studebaker automobile for his majesty.

Mr. Pendleton, with the politeness of the Orient, through Abdullah Bin Hawan and Hadji Butu Abdul, sent back work that he would be honored to have the Sultan of Sulu as his guest. So it came to pass in due time that the sultan had his wish. Mr. Pendleton himself drove the car, not wishing to trust royalty to any of his assistants.

Having ridden in automobiles many times before, the sultan was well qualified to judge of the easy-riding qualities of the Studebaker six. Usually royalty and its advisers have to be circumspect in their remarks, but in this case the sultan let his prime minister go the limit and declare the Studebaker the grandest automobile he had ever used.

A photographer was hastily secured when the sultan expressed his wish to send home to his three wives a picture of himself to prove that he was having a circumspect time during his stay in Manila as a government guest. The car was halted for the picture in McKinley plaza with the cathedral of the Immaculate Conception as a background. Those who were in the car with the sultan were, F. R. Pendleton, Studebaker representative at Manila; Gulam El Rasoul, interpreter, secretary of Governor Carpenter; Abdullah Bin Hawan, private secretary to the sultan; Scheik Sellm, and Hadji Butu Abdul Bakey, the prime minister.

SPEED RECORDS MAY BE BROKEN

Grand Prix Races at Venice, Cal., Will Be on St. Patrick's Day.

Venice, Cal., March 13.—Experts on automobile racing are predicting that all road race records will be shattered when the first annual Venice Grand Prix is run on St. Patrick's day. This race will be held on a strictly road course, so there is no expectation of attaining the marvelous Corona mark, which was made on a course which many declare should be classed as a speedway. However, the Tetzlaff record of an average of 78.72 miles an hour, made on the Santa Monica course, is almost sure to go.

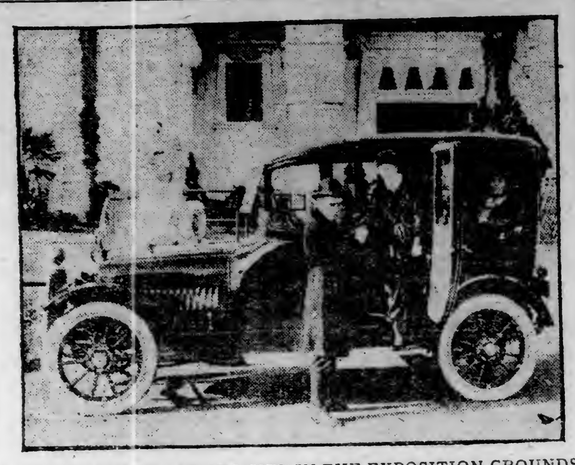
The cars entered for this first Venice Grand Prix are unquestionably the fastest in the country, and some of them hold world's records. The Delage of W. E. Wilson, which will be driven by C. R. Newhouse, is the car that won the international speedway race at Indianapolis last May, setting new marks for all distances. March 17 will be the first time this car has been on a course which will admit of all its speed since the Indianapolis race.

Earl Cooper's famous Stutz No. 8 will be driven by the road race champion of 1913. The Stutz in which Wilcox won second place in the recent international Grand Prix in San Francisco has been bought by Cooper and entered here. It will be driven by Dave Lewis.

Three Maxwell racers have been entered. Two of these cars hold nonstop records, the one to be driven by Barney Oldfield for average speed and that of William Carlson for distance. Ed Rickenbacher will pilot the third entry of this make. The Mercer team of three cars also will be contenders. Eddie Pullen, holder of the International Grand Prix record and of the Corona record, says he made his reputation in Southern California, and he hopes to sustain it here.

A Hercules, a special car equipped with an aeroplane motor, also is among the entries. A Chalmers, two Chevrolets of different motor types and a National are also nominated. An Italian Bugatti, two Case cars, the Disbrow Simplex valued at $15,000 and the Resta Grand Prix winning Peugeot also are counted upon to enter.

PRESENTS MOTHER WITH CHANDLER SEDAN



JOSEPH SANTLEY AND HIS GIFT IN THE EXPOSITION GROUNDS AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Probably the most expensive present ever indulged in by Joseph Santley, star of the successful musical comedy, "When Dreams Come True," was made in San Francisco recently. Mr. Santley's mother, who accompanies him on part of his road trips, has long wanted a closed car for shopping and social purposes. When her son glimpsed the 1915 Chandler Sedan model, in the salesrooms of the San Francisco dealer, he quickly decided that this was the car to maintain harmony in the family. The photograph taken on the exposition grounds in San Francisco, shows Mr. Santley assisting his dancing partner, Miss Ruth Randall from the car. Mrs. Santley, his mother, is seated in the car.

JITNEY WILL AID "USED CAR" TRADE.

"With the arrival of the jitney, the used car problem is considerably simplified," says J. T. Peacha, Jr., local agent for the KisselKar. "Not alone does it mean a new and practically limitless sales field, but a further stimulent of public interest in the automobile generally. Many of the hitherto uninitiated are, by means of the jitney, bound to become motor enthusiasts and swell the total of private owners. This effect is already being felt by KisselKar dealers on the Pacific coast, where the jitney got its start and is now somewhat of an old story."

Y. M. C. A. WILL ADD DAY AUTO COURSE.

More than forty pupils have taken the Y. M. C. A. automobile school course this season. This has been conducted at nights only, there being two classes, meeting on alternate nights so that Instructor W. H. Healy might give better instruction. But even at that the demand for a day school has become so insistent, that plans are now under way by A. L. Turner, educational secretary of the Duluth Y. M. C. A., for the organization of such a school.

Mr. Turner says that not only is there a local demand for a day school, but requests and inquiries are coming in from other parts of Minnesota, particularly the northern part, and from contiguous parts of other states, from men who desire to put in their whole time taking the course. The exact time of opening the day school has not yet been decided upon but it is expected that it will be soon.

During the month of February, 428 riders became affiliated with the Federation of American Motorcyclists. There were also 218 renewals, making the total number of cards issued during the month 646. This shows a gain over the corresponding month last year of 238.

MORE FLIGHTS BY BIRDMAN

Webster Takes C. S. Wilson in Biplane Trip Over Lake.

Race Between Aeroplane and Autos Is Being Planned.

Harry Webster, local birdman, made a series of short flights along the shore of Lake Superior near the curling club yesterday afternoon, while photographers secured pictures of his biplane racing with an automobile.

Sitting on one of the planes, C. S. Wilson, secretary of the Northland Country club, accompanied the aviator for several hundred yards as the biplane and auto passed before the camera in the second of the afternoon's several flights.

In the morning the aviator made a short trial flight over the residence section of the city near his hangar.

Ideal weather conditions have prevailed lately, so that he has been able to make three flights in two days.

Automobile men now are trying to arrange a real race for this afternoon or Sunday on the ice between the biplane and one or two automobiles.

"The ice is getting cut up rather badly around the edges," said the aviator today, "and I am going to move the 'plane in in a few days. It will be taken to a local garage and completely overhauled, to put it in readiness for the summer's work. The planes are to be re-covered."

Mr. Webster makes exhibition flights during the summer. His 'plane was built in the Curtiss factory and is equipped with an 80-horse power V-shaped motor.

Go to Church Sunday.

HOOPSKIRTS "JUST CAN'T COME BACK"

Folding Doors, Street Cars and Autos Don't Go With Balloon Effects.

Hoopskirts, the kind grandmother used to wear, will never be popular in Duluth.

So declared a popular young woman this morning on her return from the East, where she attempted to wear one of them—just to be in style.

"My grandmother used to tell me what a modest costume it was," said this young woman in relating her experiences, "and although I felt like a quaint colonial maid when I started out, every step was an annoyance and an embarrassment.

"Of course, every one looked at me, and I got so nervous that I decided to take a street car home. But alas, I couldn't get into the car, try as I would, and the conductor advised me to take a taxi.

"And the men—beasts that they are—just stood there and laughed. Then I decided to run into a nearby building and wait until I could hail some friend in an automobile. But alas, again, I couldn't get through the revolving door. They just blocked my passage, and try as I would, the skirt wouldn't lift or bend so that I could squeeze through.

"In despair, I went to the corner, and luckily a friend drove by in an automobile. I hailed her, but was able to climb into a seat only with difficulty. And when I reached home I couldn't get into the house, and succeeded in doing so only when I had broken the hoop. How I got out in the first place I don't know, but never again!

"Those skirts will never be popular in Duluth, I know."

Cruiser Brooklyn Will See That No German Ship Leaves Boston.

Boston, March 13.—The armored cruiser Brooklyn, one of the fleet that destroyed the Spanish squadron off Santiago in 1898, and later receiving ship for the Charlestown navy yard, will take up her position in President Roads to preserve neutrality in this harbor in accordance with orders from Washington. Six German steamers are interned here, including the passenger steamers Kronprinzessin Cecilie, Amerika, and Cincinnati. All are tied up at docks and so far as known none of them has made any preparations to leave the harbor.

"PETE" ESTEY HONORED.

Chicago Auto Row Closes in Publicity Man's Memory.

Duluth automobile men express deep regret over the death of E. L. Estey, probably one of the best known automobile publicity men in the country, in Detroit last Saturday.

Mr. Estey was 46 years old and had been in the publicity business since the automobile industry was in its infancy. His first newspaper writing was for the Chicago Journal, and his articles were signed with the pseudonym "Pipe-Line Pete," whence he derived the nickname "Pete" Estey, which stuck to him until his death.

Mr. Estey's death was due to pneumonia. He had for some time been automobile editor of the Chicago Examiner, and for an hour last Wednesday every salesroom, garage and shop along Automobile Row in Chicago was closed as a tribute to his memory.

BRITISH CRUISER SENT TO BOTTOM

Auxiliary Bayano Torpedoed While Doing Patrol Duty.

London, March 13.—The admiralty announces the loss of the auxiliary cruiser Bayano while the vessel was engaged in patrol duty.

In its announcement of the disaster, the admiralty says:

"On March 11 wreckage of the Bayano and bodies were discovered and circumstances point to her having been sunk by an enemy torpedo.

"Eight officers and eighteen men were rescued but it is feared that the remainder of the crew were lost.

"The captain of the Belfast steamer Castlereagh reports passing Thursday morning a quantity of wreckage and dead bodies floating in life belts. He attempted to search for possible survivors, but was prevented by the presence of an enemy submarine, which gave chase for twenty minutes."

The Belfast correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says the Bayano was torpedoed Thursday morning at 9 o'clock off Corsewall point, Wigtownshire, Scotland, and that nearly 200 lives were lost as the cruiser sank almost immediately. The vessel had a crew of about 216 men on board.

Wigtownshire is in the southwestern most county in Scotland. It lies on the North channel which lends into the Irish sea from the Atlantic.

French Steamer Sunk.

Buenos Aires, March 13.—The Diaro announces that the British steamer Churchill arrived at Pernambuco yesterday with the crew and 143 passengers of the French steamer Guadeloupe. The Guadeloupe was sunk near the Island of Fernando De Noronha, in the South Atlantic, 125 miles off the eastern extremity of Brazil, to which country it belongs, by the German auxiliary cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm. The Guadeloupe sailed from Buenos Aires Feb. 13 for Bordeaux.

LOSES LIFE TRYING TO CURE LEPROSY

Sir George Turner Dies After Contracting Dread Disease.

London, March 13.—The death at Colyton Devon of Sir George Turner is announced. Death was caused by leprosy, contracted during research work to discover a cure for the disease. He was born in Melbourne in 1851.

Dr. Turner's most important medical achievements were in South Africa, where he not only discovered a serum which stamped out the rinderpest and checked the ravages of an epidemic of typhoid fever which was sweeping the military hospitals and concentration camps during the Boer war, but gave up his life in the service of lepers.

He first became interested in a leper asylum at Pretoria while supervising the campaign against the second scourge of rinderpest in 1901. In the leper camp were nearly 100 Dutch and native patients. Dr. Turner devoted all his spare time to research into the nature of the disease. In addition to his regular work he saw these patients twice a day. The desire to find a remedy for the disease became his chief ambition, but it was found exceedingly difficult because none of the lower animals, on which it is possible to experiment, are capable of contracting the disease.

After several years' work, most of which was done after his retirement from the health service upon reaching age limit, he found that he had contracted leprosy. From that time until his death he lived at the leper camp and gave himself up exclusively to his researches.

VOSS STARTS ON TRIP TO FLORIDA

Commissioner Will Take First Vacation in Twenty-Eight Years.

Finance Commissioner Voss left this afternoon for his first vacation in twenty-eight years.

Ever since 1887 Commissioner Voss has been in the employ of the city, but never during that time has he taken a vacation of more than two or three days at a time. Recently he began making plans to take his first "real" vacation and he left this afternoon for Palm Beach, Fla., where he will spend the next two weeks. He will also visit with relatives in Chicago for several days on his way south.

During his absence the finance division will be in charge of City Treasurer McLean.

Quality-Compare Prices

The Goodrich Tire, like the trained athlete is all brawn and muscle—no fat

THE old Olympic Game promoters were great for what we call "form."

Symmetry, proportion, soundness and proper balance out-bid bulging muscles for favor—yes, and out-won, too, just as they will today.

Mere bulk never was synonymous with endurance—and the truth of this statement drives home with a bang, when you apply it to tires.

IF thick, heavy tires were the last word in tire construction, we could wipe out of existence a Goodrich Research and Test Department employing seventy people. We would take off the road a battalion of ten automobiles, that run twenty-four hours a day and every day in the year, grinding tires of all makes to pieces, just for the sake of information to us and eventual economy to the user of Goodrich Tires.

There is where we learn to cut out of a tire the material which gets the user nothing.

Of course, when we stripped tire price lists of their padding—fictitious values—we expected rivals to say we had stripped our tires.

IT was their only "come-back." They had to say that, in stripping down prices to the point where they were fair to dealer and consumer and left no room for injurious price-cutting tactics, we had stripped our tires of some quality, too.

THE Goodrich Tire, like the trained athlete, is all brawn and muscle—no fat. It represents an achievement—the ability to cut out the extra costs of manufacture, the extra costs of labor, of extra, needless material, and to give you the best, long-mileage, high-standard tire in the world.

There are padded tires as well as padded price lists.

Don't pay for padding.

Now don't forget this—we are talking in the main about Goodrich Safety Tread Tires, for they represent ninety per cent of our factory output for resale.

Furthermore, while we have put the padded prices on smooth tread tires on the run, the evil of padded prices on non-skid tires still is in evidence, as shown in table below:

THE B. F. GOODRICH CO., Akron, Ohio

Note the following table of comparative prices on non-skid tires. Columns headed "A," "B," "C" and "D" represent four highly-advertised tires:

Size	Goodrich Safety Tread	OTHER MAKES "A"	"B"	"C"	"D"
30x3	$ 9.45	$10.55	$10.95	$16.35	$18.10
30x3½	12.20	13.35	14.20	21.70	23.60
32x3½	14.00	15.40	16.30	22.85	25.30
34x4	20.35	22.30	23.80	31.15	33.55
36x4½	28.70	32.15	33.60	41.85	41.40
37x5	33.90	39.80	41.80	49.85	52.05

If you are charged less for any other make than Goodrich, they are taking it out of the tire; if you are charged more, they are taking it out of you.

Dinner Dance.

A St. Patrick's day dinner dance will be held at the Kitchi Gammi club on Wednesday evening; the choir of the Sacred Heart cathedral will give a program of Irish music in the Cathedral auditorium; "The Irish Agent" will be presented by the Young Men's Sodality of St. Clement's church; the young people of St. James' church will give "An Evening Out," and the Alpha Omega club will hold a dancing party. In the afternoon the Daughters of Liberty chapter, D. A. R., will hold its monthly meeting.

The Duluth Drama Study club will take up the study of Russian drama at the meeting Thursday morning. The reading of Aldreyev's "Anathema" will be begun.

The study of Dickens and Thackeray will be completed by the literature department of the Twentieth Century club Friday at the social afternoon.

A college tea will be given by the Association of Collegiate Alumnae Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, and "Egypt" will be the subject at the meeting of the Saturday club.

TWO ONE-ACT PLAYS ON NEXT BILL AT THE LITTLE THEATER

DANIEL G. DARLING.

EDWARD F. CHAPIN, JR.

"The Dear Departed" by Stanley Houghton and "How He Lied to Her Husband" by Bernard Shaw will be presented at the Little theater of the Drama league Tuesday evening under the direction of Mrs. John Archibald Sinclair.

The cast for "The Dear Departed" is:

Mrs. Slater .....Miss Lucile Bradley
Mrs. Jordan.....Mrs. Wilbur Joyce
Henry Slater....Edward F. Chapin, Jr.
Ben Jordan.....Daniel G. Darling
Victoria Slater ....Miss Patsy Watson
Abel Merryweather .....
..... John Archibald Sinclair

The action takes place on a Saturday afternoon in the sitting room of a small house in a lower middle-class district of a provincial town.

Those who will take part in "How He Lied to Her Husband" are Leo Schmied as "he," Mrs. Sinclair as "she" and Mr. Sinclair as "her husband."

Shaw says of this play: "Like many other works of mine this playlet is a piece d'occasion. It happened that Arnold Daly, who was playing the part of Napoleon in 'The Man of Destiny' in New York, found that while the play was too long to take a secondary place in the evening's performance it was too short to suffice by itself. I therefore took advantage of four days of continuous rain during a holiday in the north of Scotland to write 'How He Lied to Her Husband' for Mr. Daly.

"I print it as an example of what can be done with even the most hackneyed stage framework by filling it in with an observed touch of actual humanity instead of with doctrinaire romanticism. Nothing in the theater is staler than the situation of husband, wife and lover, or the fun of knocking about farce. I have taken both and got an original play out of them, as anybody else can do if he will only look about for his material instead of plagiarizing 'Othello' and the thousand plays that have proceeded on Othello's romantic assumptions and false point of honor."

The brilliant one-act play was used as a most successful curtain raiser to 'The Man of Destiny' in New York. Later Mr. Daly played it in vaudeville theaters. The farce was received with enthusiasm everywhere.

FINNISH COMPOSER FEATURED ON MATINEE MUSICALE PROGRAM

MRS. O. J. LARSON.

FAITH HELEN ROGERS.

THE Matinee Musicale program, arranged by Miss Clara Stocker, that will be given Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Pilgrim Congregational church includes three Sibelius numbers, selections from "Pelleas and Melisande" that will be played by Miss Faith Helen Rogers at the piano and Miss Madeline Miller at the organ, and two songs that will be given by Mrs. O. J. Larson. One of the Sibelius songs and a number by Mabetoja will be given by Mrs. Larson in Finnish.

Jean Sibelius, the Finnish composer, is recognized universally by music lovers the world over as one of the greatest of living composers. As evidence of his renown his works are now being played even in China. Even the German professional papers do not hesitate to place Sibelius on a level with the greatest composers of the time, although he is a foreigner to them.

A leading European critic has said of him: "In this world there may be some other composer of equal force, but I dare say that at the present time there is nobody anywhere with such a wonderful imagination as Sibelius. His compositions carry the listener to a world where he has never been before, not even in his dreams—to a world where he meets at every step something new and something great."

Monday Program.

The program for Monday afternoon will be:

(a) Entr'acte, from "Pelleas and Melisande" .....Sibelius
(b) "Melisande's Death" .....
(By request).
Miss Faith Helen Rogers at the piano. Miss Madeline Miller at the organ.
(a) "Kevatlaulu" .....Sibelius
(b) "War es ein Traum?" .....
"Geisha" .....Mabetoja
"Spring" .....MacFadyen
Mrs. O. J. Larson.
(a) "Tocata" .....Debussy
(b) "Serenade of the Doll," from "The Children's Corner" .....
Barcarolle .....Chopin
Miss Faith Helen Rogers.
"Call Me No More" .....
.....Charles Wakeman Cadman
"Across the Hills" ....Walter Rummel

OBSERVATIONS

By PEGGY PEABODY

Preserve Your Teeth.

Would you believe that there was a person who ever enjoyed going to the dentist's? I can hardly believe it myself, but nevertheless it is true that at the age of 11 it was a treat to me. I know that at that age, getting into the chair, having the rubber bands adjusted to my teeth and even the drill with its whirling wheel gave me no thrill of fear.

But what a change a few years brings about. When my teeth really needed attention my tone changed, and so I suspect that in my younger days I had next to nothing done to my teeth by my dentist. Things have changed in more than one respect since my youthful days. Then I never had to consider the size of a dentist's bill; now it is of very great importance.

The short-lived suffering and nervous strain incidental to having the teeth properly attended to has a restraining influence upon many people whose teeth are in serious need of attention. They put the necessary visit to the dentist's headquarters off just as long as they can bear the pain. When a tooth aches at any or all times, when one ulcerates or becomes unsightly in the mouth through decay, they turn to the dentist as a last resort.

It is one of the greatest mistakes a person can make, especially if the teeth are neglected so that one may buy more fashionable attire or invest in lotions to beautify the skin. While one's teeth remain uncared for, the skin and all other parts of the body will show the ill effect. In every instance a prompt visit to the dentist would save much suffering, both mental and physical.

The cost of keeping the teeth clean is almost nothing. Common table salt with cold or tepid water is an excellent wash for them. If they are given this treatment three times a day one may feel that he has done his duty by them at home. A prominent dentist told me recently that it was much better to buy an inexpensive tooth brush and throw it away after a brief usage than to buy an expensive one and use it until there was hardly a bristle left.

From the standpoint of health, of happiness, of appearance and economy it is well to have your teeth examined and cared for, if necessary, at regular intervals of a few months, and during the intervening time to give them the necessary attention which requires but a few seconds of your time each day.

MANY AID CHILDREN'S HOME

Monthly Report Shows Much Interest Among Duluthians; Food, Clothing and Other Things Help Welfare Workers and the Children.

Many Duluthians have interested themselves in the work of the Children's Home society during the last month, according to the report made yesterday at the monthly meeting of the directors. While there were a large number of contributors, the directors emphasize the fact that every gift, however small, is of much benefit to the children. Much of the clothing given was second-hand, but this proved to be of considerable service. The following gifts are acknowledged:

List of Contributors.

Trianon dairy, 600 quarts separated milk.
Mrs. M. L. Fay paid shoe repairing bill of $9.
White Sewing Machine company loaned two machines for one week, and during month some sewing was done by St. John's society of Lakeside, Ladies' Union of Pilgrim Congregational church, Sewing Class of Y. W. C. A., W. C. T. U. of West Duluth, ladies of Unitarian church, and Miss Sarah Hubbard made thirty outing flannel caps for the babies.

Co-Operation With Workers.

In the campaign for associate members, the Children's Home society has called attention to article I, section 7, of the by-laws, which provides: "The board of directors shall consist of twenty-one members, chosen from the association, and representing, so far as possible, the different religious denominations of the city." Co-operation with all people interested in child welfare work is earnestly sought. In addition to the list already published last month the following have paid the annual dues of $1 for the year ending October, 1915:

Those Who Paid Dues.

Mrs. Ward Ames, $5; Mrs. Henry Abraham, Mrs. Frank Brewer, $5; Mrs. L. C. Barnett, Mrs. Mark Baldwin, Mrs. Fred W. Buck, $5; Mrs. S. H. Boyer, Mrs. Albert Baldwin, Jane B. ALREADY PREPARING FOR STATE FEDERATION MEETING

Club Women of State Will Gather Here in September —Season Nearing Close— Pianist and Minneapolis Orchestra Coming — Growth of Duluth Orchestra.

THE week of Sept. 20 is six months away but Duluth club women are making preparations for the annual gathering of the members of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. J. L. Washburn, chairman of the committee, is still out of the city but from her winter home at Tryon, N. C., is appointing committees to carry on the various branches of work necessary to a successful convention. As yet few committees have been appointed and few plans made but with the return of the chairman in the late spring the details of the program will be worked out.

The Matinee Musicale and the Drama league will give entertainments for the visiting women of the state.

The week of Sept. 20 was chosen as being one of the most delightful times in Duluth, neither too early nor too late in the season. When summer tourists have returned home and Duluth lawns are still attractive. E. F.

Season Nears Close.

THE club season is beginning to draw to a close and several clubs have considered programs for next year's work, among them the Association of Collegiate Alumnae and the Lester Park Literary club.

Some of the most important club events are still to come. The last artist recital of the Matinee Musicale will be given by Ossip Gabrilowitsch, the Russian pianist, Monday evening, March 22. The annual affair of the student members of the Matinee Musicale will come later.

The Drama league will give "How He Lied to Her Husband" and the "Dear Departed" Tuesday evening at the Little Theater. These will be the last of the short plays presented by the Drama league that will give a much more pretentious production, referred to as the "big play," some time this spring. The series of one-act plays presented at the Little Theater have been leading up to the longer play that will be given in a large theater. The play and players' committee, of which Mrs. F. A. Patrick is the chairman, is in charge of this production.

The last number of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae lecture course will be given April 6, by Alfred Noyes, who will lecture and read from his poems.

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will give three or four concerts at the curling rink in June. This will be the first visit of the orchestra to Duluth in more than three years.

Flower Gardens.

Although it is months too early to lay out flower gardens, it is not too early to plan them. Following a suggestion given in the Woman's Journal of making Pennsylvania, and for that matter each state that is working for equal suffrage, a bed of yellow flowers, Mrs. W. W. Lawrence, president of the Duluth Woman's Suffrage association, asks that the members of this organization put the suggestion into practice and have yellow blooms in their gardens this summer. Perhaps few would care to go to the extent of a Pittsburg woman who has decided to have a part of her large lawn laid off in the form of the United States with the suffrage states planted with yellow flowers and the non-suffrage states with plants that do not bloom, but borders and window boxes offer splendid opportunities for suffrage flowers and it would give Duluth a dressed up and progressive air for the federation meeting.

Duluth Concert Orchestra.

The Duluth Concert orchestra, which has fulfilled an important mission in the musical life of the city since the inauguration of its concert series at the beginning of the year, will bring its season to a close Sunday, March 21, when a request program will be given, selections being made from the numbers that have been played at the preceding concerts.

While the present season has been in the nature of an experiment it has more than exceeded the expectations of those who promoted the movement and has proven that Duluth would appreciate a concert orchestra of its own if given the opportunity.

It was no small task to undertake and much credit is due to the few who were instrumental in bringing the musicians of the city together in one orchestral body. They were also most fortunate in their selection of Fred G. Bradbury as director, who, through virtue of his excellent musicianship and his qualifications as a leader, has formed the foundation of what promises to develop into an excellent organization.

Mr. Bradbury's programs have been well chosen, the numbers being selected with an idea of appealing to the masses, and it has been encouraging to note that the more pretentious compositions have been equally as popular as the lighter ones. One of the thoughtful features of Mr. Bradbury's programs were the notes giving a brief history of the more important compositions, their meaning and what certain passages by the various instrumental sections are intended to imply in order that the composition might be thoroughly understood.

The orchestra plays with excellent tone, precision and unanimity, important qualities in the performance of any orchestral body which reflects the careful training it has received under Mr. Bradbury's direction. The forty musicians comprising the orchestra deserve individual praise for their part in contributing to the success of the venture and their willingness to cooperate with the committee in a splendid public spirited movement is most commendatory.

As the orchestra is now on an established footing, plans are being outlined for next season, when it is intended to increase the orchestra to fifty players and possibly double the present number of concerts.

State Music Contest.

April 10 has been set as the date for the state musical contest that will be held for young musicians trying out for hearings on the federation program that will be given in Los Angeles. The contest will be held in St. Paul at the People's church, Pleasant avenue and Chestnut street.

The state jury will be made up of two prominent musicians from St. Paul, two from Minneapolis, and one from Duluth. The names of twelve contestants have been registered, the majority of them being residents of the Twin Cities.

March 15 was the original date set for the state examination, but as requests asking that the time for preparation be extended the contest was postponed until April 10.

Mrs. George S. Richards of 212 South Sixteenth avenue, Duluth, the state vice president of the National Federation of Musical clubs will furnish all the information to those who wish to enter the contest.

CLUB WOMEN OF TEXAS COMPILE HISTORY OF THEIR STATE

THE history committee of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs has completed its third year of work on securing, compiling and editing material for a book to be called "Texas: Historical, Traditional and Legendary." The state federation has indorsed the work and pledged its co-operation.

The members of the committee are not satisfied with the histories that have been written of their state but are exerting themselves to gather material that goes beyond cut and dried summaries of events with their accompanying dates. They want to be able to give Texans an intimate, personal history of their state—with legends, accounts of thework done by pioneer women and the lives of heroes, who although unknown to the pages of the ordinary histories nevertheless did great work to make their state what it is today.

In her report the chairman of the history committee said:

"The manner of legends—how they differ in their type, according to origin, aboriginal, Spanish or otherwise! Brave souls were developed in the early days of our state's history, not only in our men, but in the pioneer women who stood by their side, enduring similar hardships and privations, with an eye never single to their own security, but always turned watchfully toward their little ones whose lives were so often in danger.

"Many have been our contributors, and to them sincere appreciation is extended; especially to those pioneers who have so courteously and untiringly aided in this work. It is not their biographies with chronological facts that are chronicled, but their own story of their counties in the making. Then grateful acknowledgment must be made for the services of many other native or adopted Texans, both men and women, who have not counted lost the hours spent in behalf of this work.

"Among this latter the club women who have co-operated so generously and the faithful co-workers on this committee. Along the line of unusual assistance rendered must be mentioned the Shakespeare club of Waxahachie, which through the suggestion of a member, the history chairman of that district, gave a prize for the best paper on Ellis county prepared by any pupil in the schools. As a result three excellent papers were sent in from which has been compiled a most satisfactory history of that county. The Mutual Improvement club of Wharton and the Sesame club of Hillsboro have adopted this same plan locally and with success.

"When our next annual convention meets, I hope not to present you another written report, but to be able to hold before you a bound volume, bearing this title: 'Texas: Historical, Traditional, Legendary.'"

SODALITY WILL PRESENT PLAY

FRANK EVANS,
Who Will Play "Father Lorn," the Parish Priest.

The members of the Young Men's sodality of St. Clement's Catholic church will give their annual play Wednesday evening at their hall. "The Irish Agent," a four-act drama, tells the story of the attempts of Shaun Brady to keep the O'Neil family under his power by forcing the elder daughter to marry him, and how when she refuses him he threatens to turn the family out of their old home. He tries robbery, abducting the daughter and even attempts to kill her, but in the end is overcome by the friends of the O'Neills, and they are given back their home by Frank Sheldon, a young Englishman.

The members of the cast are Miss Mae Nolan, Miss Mae Monaghan, Alice Kennedy, Sylvester Hances, Charles Kremer, H. Kiley, James Wade, Russell Farley, Frank Evans and A. Nolan.

ORIGIN OF "CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP" WEEK

THE "Clean Up and Paint Up" movement that breaks out every spring originated with a St. Louis editor, who, after many unsuccessful attempts to get some person or some organization to "try it on the public," undertook the work himself.

The originator, Allen W. Clark, thought the yearning of women to have spring upheavals in their houses and the desire for cleanliness that often manifests itself in community clean-ups should be organized into constructive form for permanent results. "Clean Up Week" and "Clean Up Day" are regarded by Mr. Clark as in the class with "annual bath."

Mr. Clark outlined his plans to several national leaders in "organized altruism" and asked their counsel and identification with the movement. Typical of the replies was the one from Edward T. Hartman, secretary of the Massachusetts Civic league, who wrote:

"I am greatly interested in the idea suggested in your expression that this 'clean up and paint up' campaign is to be pushed by two arguments, viz., that 'It's good citizenship and good business,' for I believe that this states the only substantial basis upon which we may properly develop either citizenship or business. The business which aims to accomplish its purpose by ignoring and even destroying good citizenship is short lived, and is fatal not only to itself, but to the community in general. You are in a peculiarly advantageous position to aid in conservation and improvement, for paint is a direct means to the conservation of houses, also of the forests, and of many other things which we are going to have to conserve if we are not to permit ourselves to go to pieces as a nation. We can not continue the present wasteful processes much longer."

The national "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign bureau was established in St. Louis with Mr. Clark as chairman. "And that's about all of the story," he said, "for after that the rest was easy—just good, honest hard work in trying to satisfy the demands of business and civic and women's clubs and editors, yes, and preachers, for campaign plans and literature to help spread the gospel of cleanliness, thrift and civic pride, the 'three graces' of the paint gospel, I call them."

Here is the list of achievements to which the new movement is pledged:
Exterminate the mosquito!
Swat the fly!
Clean the streets!
Eliminate weeds!
Make yards beautiful!
Paint houses, garages, barns and fences!
Paint and paper inside!

Housewives' League.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Housewives league that will be held in the library club room Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Dr. Richard E. Nison will tell of the proper food for developing the teeth and bones. This will be an open meeting.

Saturday Club.

Mrs. O. A. Oredson, who will be the leader at the meeting of the Saturday club next week, will speak on "Sculpture and Painting of Ancient Egypt." A review of "Romance of a Mummy"

At each monthly meeting of the Mothers' club of the E. R. Cobb school, that was organized about six weeks ago, one of the women will demonstrate to the other members of the club the preparation of some dish in which she excells. The first of these demonstrations will be given in the domestic science room of the school at the April meeting. The members of the domestic science classes, who have their own instructor, will be allowed to attend these demonstrations.

Proof of the practical knowledge the girls of this school are getting was the preparation of biscuits, tea and coffee by the members of the eighth grade for the meeting of the Mothers' club that was held yesterday afternoon.

MANY AID CHILDREN'S HOME

Monthly Report Shows Much Interest Among Duluthians; Food, Clothing and Other Things Help Welfare Workers and the Children.

Many Duluthians have interested themselves in the work of the Children's Home society during the last month, according to the report made yesterday at the monthly meeting of the directors. While there were a large number of contributors, the directors emphasize the fact that every gift, however small, is of much benefit to the children. Much of the clothing given was second-hand, but this proved to be of considerable service. The following gifts are acknowledged:

Trianon dairy, 600 quarts separated milk.
Mrs. M. L. Fay paid shoe repairing bill of $9.
White Sewing Machine company loaned two machines for one week, and during month some sewing was done by St. John's society of Lakeside, Ladies' Union of Pilgrim Congregational church, Sewing Class of Y. W. C. A., W. C. T. U. of West Duluth, ladies of Unitarian church, and Miss Sarah Hubbard made thirty outing flannel caps for the babies.

Co-Operation With Workers.

In the campaign for associate members, the Children's Home society has called attention to article I, section 7, of the by-laws, which provides: "The board of directors shall consist of twenty-one members, chosen from the association, and representing, so far as possible, the different religious denominations of the city." Co-operation with all people interested in child welfare work is earnestly sought. In addition to the list already published last month the following have paid the annual dues of $1 for the year ending October, 1915:

Those Who Paid Dues.

Mrs. Ward Ames, $5; Mrs. Henry Abraham, Mrs. Frank Brewer, $5; Mrs. L. C. Barnett, Mrs. Mark Baldwin, Mrs. Fred W. Buck, $5; Mrs. S. H. Boyer, Mrs. Albert Baldwin, Jane B. CLUB WOMEN OF TEXAS COMPILE HISTORY OF THEIR STATE

THE history committee of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs has completed its third year of work on securing, compiling and editing material for a book to be called "Texas: Historical, Traditional and Legendary." The state federation has indorsed the work and pledged its co-operation.

The members of the committee are not satisfied with the histories that have been written of their state but are exerting themselves to gather material that goes beyond cut and dried summaries of events with their accompanying dates. They want to be able to give Texans an intimate, personal history of their state—with legends, accounts of thework done by pioneer women and the lives of heroes, who although unknown to the pages of the ordinary histories nevertheless did great work to make their state what it is today.

In her report the chairman of the history committee said:

"The manner of legends—how they differ in their type, according to origin, aboriginal, Spanish or otherwise! Brave souls were developed in the early days of our state's history, not only in our men, but in the pioneer women who stood by their side, enduring similar hardships and privations, with an eye never single to their own security, but always turned watchfully toward their little ones whose lives were so often in danger.

"Many have been our contributors, and to them sincere appreciation is extended; especially to those pioneers who have so courteously and untiringly aided in this work. It is not their biographies with chronological facts that are chronicled, but their own story of their counties in the making. Then grateful acknowledgment must be made for the services of many other native or adopted Texans, both men and women, who have not counted lost the hours spent in behalf of this work.

"Among this latter the club women who have co-operated so generously and the faithful co-workers on this committee. Along the line of unusual assistance rendered must be mentioned the Shakespeare club of Waxahachie, which through the suggestion of a member, the history chairman of that district, gave a prize for the best paper on Ellis county prepared by any pupil in the schools. As a result three excellent papers were sent in from which has been compiled a most satisfactory history of that county. The Mutual Improvement club of Wharton and the Sesame club of Hillsboro have adopted this same plan locally and with success.

"When our next annual convention meets, I hope not to present you another written report, but to be able to hold before you a bound volume, hearing this title: 'Texas: Historical, Traditional, Legendary.'"

ALREADY PREPARING FOR STATE FEDERATION MEETING

Club Women of State Will Gather Here in September —Season Nearing Close— Pianist and Minneapolis Orchestra Coming — Growth of Duluth Orchestra.

THE week of Sept. 20 is six months away but Duluth club women are making preparations for the annual gathering of the members of the Minnesota Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. J. L. Washburn, chairman of the committee, is still out of the city but from her winter home at Tryon, N. C., is appointing committees to carry on the various branches of work necessary to a successful convention. As yet few committees have been appointed and few plans made but with the return of the chairman in the late spring the details of the program will be worked out.

The Matinee Musicale and the Drama league will give entertainments for the visiting women of the state.

The week of Sept. 20 was chosen as being one of the most delightful times in Duluth, neither too early nor too late in the season, when summer tourists have returned home and Duluth lawns are still attractive. E. F.

Season Nears Close.

THE club season is beginning to draw to a close and several clubs have considered programs for next year's work, among them the Association of Collegiate Alumnae and the Lester Park Literary club.

Some of the most important club events are still to come. The last artist recital of the Matinee Musicale will be given by Ossip Gabrilowitsch, the Russian pianist, Monday evening, March 22. The annual affair of the student members of the Matinee Musicale will come later.

The Drama league will give "How He Lied to Her Husband" and the "Dear Departed" Tuesday evening at the Little Theater. These will be the last of the short plays presented by the Drama league that will give a much more pretentious production, referred to as the "big play," some time this spring. The series of one-act plays presented at the Little Theater have been leading up to the longer play that will be given in a large theater. The play and players committee, of which Mrs. F. A. Patrick is the chairman, is in charge of this production.

The last number of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae lecture course will be given April 6, by Alfred Noyes, who will lecture and read from his poems.

The Minneapolis Symphony orchestra will give three or four concerts at the curling rink in June. This will be the first visit of the orchestra to Duluth in more than three years.

Flower Gardens.

Although it is months too early to lay out flower gardens it is not too early to plan them. Following a suggestion given in the Woman's Journal of making Pennsylvania, and for that matter each state that is working for equal suffrage, a bed of yellow flowers, Mrs. W. W. Lawrence, president of the Duluth Woman's Suffrage association, asks that the members of this organization put the suggestion into practice and have yellow blooms in their gardens this summer. Perhaps few would care to go to the extent of a Pittsburg woman who has decided to have a part of her large lawn laid out in the form of the United States with the suffrage states planted with yellow flowers and the non-suffrage states with plants that do not bloom, but borders and window boxes offer splendid opportunities for suffrage flowers and it would give Duluth a dressed up and progressive air for the federation meeting.

Duluth Concert Orchestra.

The Duluth Concert orchestra, which has fulfilled an important mission in the musical life of the city since the inauguration of its concert series at the beginning of the year, will bring its season to a close Sunday, March 21, when a request program will be given, selections being made from the numbers that have been played at the preceding concerts.

While the present season has been in the nature of an experiment it has more than exceeded the expectations of those who promoted the movement and has proven that Duluth would appreciate a concert orchestra of its own if given the opportunity.

It was no small task to undertake and much credit is due to the few who were instrumental in bringing the musicians of the city together in one orchestral body. They were also most fortunate in their selection of Fred G. Bradbury as director, who, through virtue of his excellent musicianship and his qualifications as a leader, has formed the foundation of what promises to develop into an excellent organization.

Mr. Bradbury's programs have been well chosen, the numbers being selected with an idea of appealing to the masses, and it has been encouraging to note that the more pretentious compositions have been equally as popular as the lighter ones. One of the thoughtful features of Mr. Bradbury's programs were the notes giving a brief history of the more important compositions, their meaning and what certain passages by the various instrumental sections are intended to imply in order that the composition might be thoroughly understood.

The orchestra plays with excellent tone, precision and unanimity, important qualities in the performance of any orchestral body which reflects the careful training it has received under Mr. Bradbury's direction. The forty musicians comprising the orchestra deserve individual praise for their part in contributing to the success of the venture and their willingness to cooperate with the committee in a splendid public spirited movement is most commendatory.

As the orchestra is now on an established footing, plans are being outlined for next season, when it is intended to increase the orchestra to fifty players and possibly double the present number of concerts.

State Music Contest.

April 10 has been set as the date for the state musical contest that will be held for young musicians trying out for hearings on the federation program that will be given in Los Angeles. The contest will be held in St. Paul at the People's church, Pleasant avenue and Chestnut street.

The state jury will be made up of two prominent musicians from St. Paul, two from Minneapolis, and one from Duluth. The names of twelve contestants have been registered, the majority of them being residents of the Twin Cities.

March 15 was the original date set for the state examination, but as requests asking that the time for preparation be extended the contest was postponed until April 10.

Mrs. George S. Richards of 212 South Sixteenth avenue, Duluth, the state vice president of the National Federation of Musical clubs will furnish all the information to those who wish to enter the contest.

At each monthly meeting of the Mothers' club of the E. R. Cobb school, that was organized about six weeks ago, one of the women will demonstrate to the other members of the club the preparation of some dish in which she excells. The first of these demonstrations will be given in the domestic science room of the school at the April meeting. The members of the domestic science classes, who have their own instructor, will be allowed to attend these demonstrations.

Proof of the practical knowledge the girls of this school are getting was the preparation of biscuits, tea and coffee by the members of the eighth grade for the meeting of the Mothers' club that was held yesterday afternoon.

Housewives' League.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Housewives league that will be held in the library club room Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Dr. Richard E. Nixon will tell of the proper food for developing the teeth and bones. This will be an open meeting.

Saturday Club.

Mrs. O. A. Oredson, who will be the leader at the meeting of the Saturday club next week, will speak on "Sculpture and Painting of Ancient Egypt." A review of "Romance of a Mummy"

ORIGIN OF "CLEAN UP AND PAINT UP" WEEK

THE "Clean Up and Paint Up" movement that breaks out every spring originated with a St. Louis editor, who, after many unsuccessful attempts to get some person or some organization to "try it on the public," undertook the work himself.

The originator, Allen W. Clark, thought the yearning of women to have spring upheavals in their houses and the desire for cleanliness that often manifests itself in community clean-ups should be organized into constructive form for permanent results. "Clean Up Week" and "Clean Up Day" are regarded by Mr. Clark as in the class with "annual bath."

Mr. Clark outlined his plans to several national leaders in "organized altruism" and asked their counsel and identification with the movement. Typical of the replies was the one from Edward T. Hartman, secretary of the Massachusetts Civic league, who wrote:

"I am greatly interested in the idea suggested in your expression that this 'clean up and paint up' campaign is to be pushed by two arguments, viz., that 'It's good citizenship and good business,' for I believe that this states the only substantial basis upon which we may properly develop either citizenship or business. The business which aims to accomplish its purpose by ignoring and even destroying good citizenship is short lived, and is fatal not only to itself, but to the community in general. You are in a peculiarly advantageous position to aid in conservation and improvement, for paint is a direct means to the conservation of houses, also of the forests, and of many other things which we are going to have to conserve if we are not to permit ourselves to go to pieces as a nation. We can not continue the present wasteful processes much longer."

The national "Clean Up and Paint Up" campaign bureau was established in St. Louis with Mr. Clark as chairman. "And that's about all of the story," he said, "for after that the rest was easy—just good, honest hard work in trying to satisfy the demands of business and civic and women's clubs and editors, yes, and preachers, for campaign plans and literature to help spread the gospel of cleanliness, thrift and civic pride, the 'three graces' of the paint gospel, I call them."

Here is the list of achievements to which the new movement is pledged:

Exterminate the mosquito!
Swat the fly!
Clean the streets!
Eliminate weeds!
Make yards beautiful!
Paint houses, garages, barns and fences!
Paint and paper inside!

SODALITY WILL PRESENT PLAY

FRANK EVANS,
Who Will Play "Father Lorn," the Parish Priest.

The members of the Young Men's sodality of St. Clement's Catholic church will give their annual play Wednesday evening at their hall. "The Irish Agent," a four-act drama, tells the story of the attempts of Shaun Brady to keep the O'Neil family under his power by forcing the elder daughter to marry him, and how when she refuses him he threatens to turn the family out of their old home. He tries robbery, abducting the daughter and even attempts to kill her, but in the end is overcome by the friends of the O'Neils, and they are given back their home by Frank Sheldon, a young Englishman.

The members of the cast are Miss Mae Nolan, Miss Mae Monaghan, Alice Kennedy, Sylvester Hances, Charles Kremer, H. Kiley, James Wade, Russell Farley, Frank Evans and A. Nolan.

and "Nubia" will be the other subjects of the meeting.

A college tea will be given by the Association of Collegiate Alumnae next Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. A. McGonagle, 9 Oxford street. Mrs. W. C. Allen, Mrs. O. E. Amtsbuechler and Miss Frances Swift will be in charge.

LITERATURE DEPARTMENT.

At the business meeting of the Twentieth Century club held yesterday afternoon in the library clubroom Mrs. W. S. Donat was elected chairman of the literature department for next year to succeed Mrs. H. N. MacHarg. Mrs. A. H. Brocklehurst, the president, and other members paid hearty tributes to Mrs. MacHarg who arranged and carried out this season's excellent program of the department that has included the study of English and American drama, Thackery and Dickens and a series of dramatic afternoons at which readings were given from modern American, Irish, Scotch and English plays.

The business meeting was followed by a regular program of the literature department, in charge of Mrs. MacHarg. Mrs. F. J. O'Donnell, who spoke on "Present Day British Dramatists," compared the English stage with that of the continent, saying the English stage is slovenly by contrast and that art is sacrificed to money. She pointed out the attempt that has been made by England to raise the standard of its drama, and called the attention of the members of the club to the plays of Bernard Shaw, Granville Barker, John Galsworthy, Arthur Wing Pinero, James Matthew Barry, Arthur Sutro, Henry Arthur Jones, Charles Rann Kennedy, Cosmo Hamilton and Stephen Phillips.

Miss Mary Shesgreen read Lady Gregory's one-act play, "The Traveling man," portraying with feeling the three characters, the mother, the child and the Stranger, who typified Christ.

TWENTIETH CENTURY CLUB ACTIVITIES

HAMLINE ALUMNI BANQUET

The Lake Superior branch of Hamline University Alumni association held its annual banquet at the Spalding last evening. Dr. S. F. Kerfoot, president of Hamline university, was the honor guest of the evening.

Addresses were made by R. P. Kaighn of New York, Bert N. Wheeler of Duluth and Dr. W. I. Kern of Superior, who were followed by Dr. S. F. Kerfoot, who dwelt on Hamline's present and future outlook, which is very promising.

Following the speaking a short business meeting was held and the following officers elected for the coming year: President, R. J. Holmes of Duluth; vice president, T. H. Trelford of Duluth; secretary and treasurer, Glen S. Locker of Two Harbors.

The others at the banquet were Lucien Merritt, Mrs. B. N. Wheeler, Mrs. L. H. Merritt, Mrs. R. J. Holmes, Miss Helen Munro, P. R. Stowers and Miss May Whitney of Duluth, Miss Amanda Hanson and Miss Beatrice Billings of Cloquet, M. S. Kingston of Virginia and Miss Clara Olson and Walter Murphy of Two Harbors.

PIANO CONCERTS.

One of the most important things done in recent years by Ossip Gabrilowitsch, the Russian pianist, who will give a performance in Duluth Monday evening, March 22, under the auspices of the Matinee Musicale, was the giving of a series of concerts in Berlin and Munich, illustrating the development of the piano concerto from Bach to the present time. The German critics counted this historical series of very unusual interest, several of them going so far as to say that they were the most important achievements of any pianist in twenty-five years, that is, since the famous historical recitals of Rubinstein.

"It is certainly a marvelous fact," said the Bayerische Staats-Zeitung of Munich, "that this artist played not less than nineteen concertos beginning with Bach and ending with modern works. But still more marvelous is the masterly way in which his ideal art succeeded in bringing the composers to life. This was a task which only Gabrilowitsch, to my mind the most versatile of living pianists, would be able to fulfill, and fulfill in such a way that the performance of every single composition amounted to a great musical event. Whether Gabrilowitsch plays Bach or Beethoven, Chopin or Tschalkowsky, Brahms, Strauss or Rachmaninoff, the same deep interpretation illumines the work of each and all. He has a marvelous capacity for reaching to the depths of every work by every composer. The last evening of the series was accompanied by the most stormy ovation to which even the critics could only add unstinted applause. This was indeed a worthy close to the superb undertaking."

Freimuth. The readers will be Mrs. L. K. Daugherty, Mrs. M. S. Hirschfield, Mrs. F. Mondschine, Mrs. A. A. Fider and Mrs. S. Birdie.

Care of Pets.

St. Louis Republic: Suppose she has a dog. Of course, the dog is hers for her amusement, entertainment and diversion. But she should see to it that the dog is allowed only regular feedings. Perhaps it is pleasant to pamper him with bonbons whenever he begs for them, but he will have to suffer eventually for this indulgence, and he does not know it. Only the superior intelligence of his mistress can reason from the cause of sweets given injudiciously to the effect of painful rheumatism in his dog old age.

With a cat the obligation is the same. The cat must be given air and food of the right kind and amount. It must be guarded from ills to which it is a highly bred cat, against colds and pneumonia, for cats have notably weak lungs. And both cats and dogs must be given water enough. Some animal lovers think that water should always be accessible to both dogs and cats. Others say that water should be given at regular intervals and in prescribed amounts, as the constant drinking of water, always accessible, leads to fatness—a calamity to be guarded against, as it brings real suffering to the animal in its wake.

Even a canary must be cared for judiciously, if its life is to be happy. Regular exercise outside its cage is desirable, if its owner has time to look after this exercise. A scrupulously clean cage, fresh water and seed every day, greens of some sort—lettuce, celery, plantain—once or twice a week, and enforced abstinence from sugar, sweet biscuits and other odds and ends that are often fed to birds—these details insure health and happiness to the caged bird. Perhaps the fact that it is caged, that it has so few ways of making its wants known, should make its owner more careful of its health than she would be even of the health of a dog or cat.

Y. W. C. A. Vespers.

Miss Alma Ulsrud will sing and Bert N. Wheeler will speak on "Civic Righteousness" at the Y. W. C. A. vespers tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock. The hostesses will be Misses Elizabeth Anderson, Sophy Solheim, Romaine Anderson, Tilly Larson, Glennie Persgaard, Elsie Amundson, Esther Erickson, Agnes Ebbe, Lula Hanson, Ethel Buzzo, Jennie Simons, Celia Juusola and Mrs. L. G. Bunnell.

In the Churches

TOMORROW will be "Go to Church Sunday" and almost every church in the city has made preparation to handle congregations of capacity proportions. Last year all former records of attendance were broken on the day similarly designated, and it is expected, or at least, hoped, that tomorrow will surpass last year.

There has been excellent organization for getting crowds out to church tomorrow and the probability is that the old record will be broken. That last year's "Go to Church Sunday" resulted in permanent good effect is a settled matter for the clergymen of the city—almost without exception—declare that not only was attendance at church after that greater than before, and that membership increased, but that those who had previously been regular or occasional attendants, and even those who were members, have been greatly stimulated in their interest and zeal.

The "Go to Church Sunday" movement is not only aimed at getting people to the church services morning and evening, but to stimulate the attendance at the Sunday school sessions and at the meetings of the young people's society. Indirectly, it is hoped, attendance on midweek meetings will also be helped.

After telling of the excellent results of last year's "Go to Church Sunday," Rev. C. N. Thorp, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational church says, in a letter written concerning the matter:

"In the rush of our modern life anything that tends to jar men and women out of their indifference and to make them feel afresh the real value of church and that for which the church stands is a great benefit to all concerned. Men who habitually absent themselves from the church get distorted ideas of what the modern church is accomplishing. An hour or two spent in the church on "Go to Church Sunday" or any other Sunday will do much to correct these misapprehensions and renew the old hunger of the human spirit for the higher life."

Telling The Truth About It

By William Allison Gray

"I see by the papers," said the Big Fellow, "that wine is stronger than beer, and whiskey is stronger than either. Which may be all right, so far as it goes, but it doesn't go far enough, nor in the right direction."

"Meaning which?" inquired the Little Pal.

"Meaning that the chap who wrote that don't know what he's saying—if he's referring to the drinks of Today."

"I suppose," ventured the Little Pal, "that, according to your views, whiskey is the mildest of the three?"

"Most assuredly," declared the Big Fellow, as one speaking with authority.

"You wouldn't mind explaining, would you?" requested Little Pal, "and, at the same time, if not too much trouble, giving me your valuable views on why black is always so much whiter than white."

"That touch of sarcasm shows you belong to the large and mistaken class who think wines and beers are a lighter and more wholesome stimulant than whiskey, though there is a larger and constantly growing class who know to the contrary."

"I listen with interest," said Little Pal.

"In the first place," explained the Big Fellow, "when a man orders whiskey he modifies its strength to suit his taste; if he takes a highball, charged water reduced the strength of his whiskey to below the relative alcoholic strength of an average glass of beer.

"And, furthermore," continued the Big Fellow, "you realize that neither wine nor beer, does he modify to suit his taste, but consumes as served to him.

"One ounce of whiskey is the usual drink, three ounces of wine is the usual drink and 12 ounces of beer is the usual drink. Let's do a little 'sum' in arithmetic and see which is actually the strongest" and, taking a fountain pen, the Big Fellow sketched this diagram on the back of an envelope:

Reduced to a whole:

Whiskey:	45-100 Pct. to the ounce,	1x45	—45
Wine:	20-100 Pct. to the ounce,	3x20	—60
Beer:	5-100 Pct. to the ounce,	10x5	—50

"Thus, you see, the average drink of whiskey really is milder than the average drink of beer, which is not particularly important in itself, for it is not the minute differences in the strength of a beverage, but the greatest degree of wholesomeness that should influence the consumer."

"You have proved your first contention that a drink of whiskey is milder than a drink of the others, which I acknowledge is a surprise to me. But do you really think whiskey is the most wholesome also?"

"No," said the Big Fellow, "I don't think so—I know so!"

"I await your valued diagnosis," declared Little Pal, with what might be termed a shade of skepticism. "Will you favor me with a few illuminating remarks?"

"I will. Wine is a wholesome stimulant, yet wine is liable to sour on the stomach. Beer is also a wholesome stimulant, yet, according to the authority of brewery advertisements themselves, beer is constantly subject, even though carefully handled and hermetically sealed, to the deterioration that causes biliousness to many systems. Whiskey, on the other hand, is not only germless itself and germproof, but is the active aid in destroying germs. Whiskey can't turn sour, whiskey can't ferment, whiskey can't germinate. Wine and beer are the result of one or another form of fermentation, which is Nature's lesser method of providing one of her most valuable properties — alcohol; while whiskey is the result of distillation, which is Nature's highest and absolutely germproof method of doing the same thing. Thus while Nature is liable to play pranks with her fermented alcoholics, she is ever the stern guardian of the purity of her distilled product — Whiskey."

"I think I see the light," said Little Pal. "And propose, therefore, that we precede lunch with the pleasant, thirst-quenching appetite-stimulating, food-assimilating whiskey highball."

And they did.

The foregoing is in substance the actual conversation of two particularly bright men, and as it touches with remarkable truth a subject on which I feel myself peculiarly well qualified to speak I have considered it worth using as a predecessor to an article which I had already prepared on the same theme, and which I shall publish shortly.

SPIRITED DISCUSSION OF HOUSING CODE CHANGES

Eleven Changes Agreed on By Two Committees Now at Work.

Six Others Opposed—Health Above Dollars, Says Silberstein.

After a discussion that lasted for the greater part of the evening, the report of the municipal committee of the Commercial club on the housing ordinance changes was approved at a meeting of the public affairs committee of the club, held last night. The discussion of points of difference between the municipal committee of the club and what is known as the general committee, consisting of representatives of the builders' exchange, the real estate exchange, the building managers' association and the architects' society, was spirited and at times almost reached fever heat. Real estate men and builders ranged themselves on the side of the general committee and the discussion from that point of view and the floor leadership in general seemed to fall, by common consent to H. W. Cheadle. George W. Morgan, who made the report of the municipal committee led the discussion in defense of that report.

Proposed changes in the housing ordinance constituted the bone of contention. In brief, eleven changes are agreed on by the municipal and general committees and six proposed changes were not agreed on between the two. To clarify the atmosphere the eleven changes agreed on were accepted by the public affairs committee and the fight started on the other six, but in the end the municipal committee was sustained. The eleven items agreed on were as follows:

Changes Agreed on.

"Increasing the percentage of lot permitted to be occupied—Corner lot, street on three sides, from 80 to 85 per cent; corner lot, street on two sides, from 75 to 80 per cent; and interior lot, short lots up to 60 feet, from 60 to 70 per cent.

"Height of buildings—Permit building line restrictions and open spaces to be considered in determing height of buildings; limit of 100 feet.

"Minimum yards of tenements — Increase from 10 to 12 feet.

"Size of rooms—Reduction of minimum in large rooms from 150 square to 140 square feet; reduction in smallest rooms from 100 to 80 square feet, with other requirements that one or two rooms, as the case may be, must be at least 100 square feet; attic room required to be at least 8 feet in height in one-third of its area, instead of 8½ feet in two-thirds of its area.

"Minimum window area required—Reduced from one-eighth of floor area to one-tenth; windows in watercloset compartments and bathrooms from 6 to 4 square feet; bathroom windows permitted to open on 2-foot courts instead of 5-foot courts, in certain cases.

"Basement rooms—Allowed to be occupied when properly lighted and one side above ground.

"Height of floor from average grade reduced from 2 to 1 foot.

"Power of health department to require concreting of yards and courts eliminated, also securing of permits for occupancy in certain cases.

"Septic tank permitted in tenement houses.

"Rear stairway in tenement houses decreased from 3 feet, 6 inches to 3 feet.

"Minimum width of court in old buildings reduced from 8 feet to 6 feet, with no change in minimum area."

Where Differences Arose.

The following changes, proposed by the municipal committee, were opposed by the general committee:

"Instead of permitting 70 per cent of area of interior lot to be occupied without reference to depth, provide a scale allowing:

	Pct.
Interior lot, depth up to 60 feet....	70
Interior lot, depth 60 to 105 feet...	65
Interior lot, 105 to 155 feet.....	55
Interior lot, 155 to 205 feet.....	50
Interior lot over 205 feet.....	40

"The elimination of the last paragraph in section 78 (of the housing code) permitting rooms to be occupied in old tenements on permit of building department, even where the extremely small requirements as to lighting and ventilation are not complied with."

The general committee favored, and the municipal committee strongly opposed the following changes:

"Increasing the percentage of interior lot allowed to be occupied in all cases from 60 to 70 per cent.

"Decreasing minimum depth of yard for dwelling houses from 10 to 8 feet.

"Decreasing minimum size of courts for dwelling houses from five to four feet.

"Amendment to Section 4 permitting the city commissioners to waive the provisions of the code in case of alterations on old tenements."

It was on the last two groups of proposed changes that the wordy battle ensued.

In its report the sub-committee of the municipal committee, consisting of George Morgan, Floid M. Fuller and F. H. Fitzgerald, which prepared the report, says:

"We do not, in all cases, believe that the changes proposed are ideal, but in agreeing with them we have been moved by considerations of expediency to meet conditions which unfortunately exist.

Code Misunderstood.

"One of these conditions, for example, is the existence of 25-foot lots in Duluth. The alleged predicament of the owner of a 25-foot lot under the present housing code was, perhaps, the objection of which we heard most talk since the code was enacted, apart from a general opposition to any restrictions. Your committee believes that the dissatisfaction in this instance is largely based upon a misunderstanding of the code. We believe that as the law stands at present, it is entirely practicable to build a house with a good arrangement upon a 25-foot lot, and in this we have had the advice of architects of experience. However, we report favorably upon three proposed changes designed to modify the restrictions as to lots.

"There are a number of proposed amendments, but many of them are intended only to clear up ambiguities, or to make more specific some general provisions in order to avoid misunderstanding. A considerable number, however, substantially modify the present restrictive features of the code. There will always be objections to such legislation. It cannot be denied that it is restrictive. It does not permit builders to do just as they like. Its purpose is avowed to regulate and restrict. Unless it does so, it fails. The question to consider is whether the regulations are reasonable. There can be no question that in any restrictive legislation of this kind such considerations must be balanced against the general good accomplished, and it must be recognized that a provision which may be a hardship in an exceptional case, often is a beneficial one from the point of view of the community.

Should Include More.

"In the course of its work upon these proposed changes, your committee has become convinced that the Duluth code is, on the whole, one of the best pieces of legislation upon the subject of housing, but that it is not fuly effective because it applies only to tenements and dwelling houses, and does not apply to rooming houses and hotels of any kind. It is illogical not to cover such places, for some of the worst housing conditions in cities generally are found in rooming houses and hotels of the lowest type. We, therefore, recommend that your municipal committee, during the coming year, consider the advisability of an extension of the principles of housing legislation to a broader field."

After the reading of the report, H. W. Cheadle moved that the question be divided; that that portion in which the general and municipal committee agree, be approved, and that the rest of it be open for discussion. This was done, and, opening the discussion on the points of difference, Mr. Morgan explained the basis of difference between the two committees. He was followed by E. J. Zauft, president of the building exchange, who explained the difficulties which would confront the builders if the provisions proposed were enforced. Henry Nolte declared that the changes in the matter of short and long lots and their percentage of use for building as proposed by the municipal committee would be discriminatory. He talked several times on the matter but found on figuring that his figures and those of Mr. Morgan were identical; and sat down.

Discussion Becomes Spirited.

A motion made by Mr. Cheadle to refer the matter to the municipal committee with instructions to confer with the general committee and reach some compromise, was defeated.

N. J. Upham, speaking in opposition to the report, expressed the belief that the committee had given the matter of restrictions too much consideration. He also declared that he believes that in the matter of building and lot assignment the general committee, consisting as it does of builders, real estate men, building managers and architects, is better acquainted with the actual needs than the members of the municipal committee. He also asserted that in the matter of remodeling the old buildings, considerable leeway must be granted, for the city officials will not enforce the law as proposed.

Replying to Mr. Upham, E. A. Silberstein, a member of the municipal committee and also a member of the Associated Charities, declared that there is a higher consideration than commercialism involved, namely, the health of the people. He declared that the Associated Charities officials have found, even in wide-spread Duluth, housing conditions that were deplorable and that certainly require attention. He declared that the arguments used by Mr. Upham, concerning the restrictions hampering the poor man, are "old arguments and not well founded." Mr. Silberstein declared that the housing code does not hamper the poor man and at the same time assures healthful conditions.

"The sub-committee," said Mr. Silberstein, "has followed the reports and recommendations of the best experts of Chicago—such men as Mr. Ball, housing expert of Chicago—and has adopted a plan used by numerous cities in the country of the same size and larger than Duluth. We do not seek to hamper the poor man, and we are not promoting a radical measure; in fact, we demand less restrictions than most of the cities that have housing codes.

"The Commercial club, I believe, is in a better position to take an altruistic view of the matter than the members of the general committee, for organizations outside of the club are likely to be prompted by selfish interests."

Division on Question.

Whitney Wall, N. J. Upham and E. J. Zauft declared that such housing ordinances are meant for cities in warmer climates, where the air is close and not so healthful as that of Duluth.

When the vote was put on the question of sustaining the municipal committee's position on the matter of a scaled area for interior lots and the elimination of the last paragraph of Section 78, as given above, the viva voce vote was so close that a division was called for. The municipal committee was sustained by a vote of 21 to 18.

The second group of four items, enumerated above, was then taken up and was started off by a motion of H. W. Cheadle to lay on the table, which was emphatically turned down. The discussion on this group was not so general or long-drawn-out as that on the former group, probably because of the apparent sentiment of those present as revealed in the two votes taken.

Dr. E. L. Tuohy expressed himself as being rather in favor of having the two committees get together on the matter, and declared that while he did not wish to be judged guilty of a medical heresy, in his opinion there is too much ill-health blamed on deficient housing.

Housing Not Wholly to Blame.

"Such is not wholly true," declared the doctor. "You will find tubercular people in poor dwellings, it is true; but they have not always been made tubercular because of the dwelling, but have rather gravitated to poor dwellings after having become tubercular in better dwellings, and their lessened earning power has driven them to cheaper quarters. These committees, I believe, should come together on what are really minor health matters. The Duluth climate and conditions are different from most cities, and we do not have to get down to the fine points on account of health."

In the discussion there had been some comment and a few barbed remarks passed back and forth in regard to "quibbling over small things," such as a difference of two feet in a backyard, etc. In regard to this, Mr. Morgan said that while it may seem small, the committees have to deal with minimums, and the whole question rested on where to fix the final points. That is why, he declared, such strong differences had arisen over what seemed small things.

That ended the discussion, and the final vote taken sustained the municipal committee.

CONCRETE CHOSEN FOR WOODLAND PAVING

Woodland avenue, from Fourth street to Kent road, will be paved this coming summer with concrete.

At the close of a meeting of the property owners, members of the Glen-Hunt-Wood club and officers of the Duluth Humane society held this morning in the council chamber of the city hall, a majority of those present decided on the concrete.

A one-course concrete pavement, from Fourth street to Kent road, according to estimates in the office of Commissioner Murchison, will cost about $22,890.

Will Divide Estate.

Mrs. Margaret Wakelin, 323 West Second street, and Mrs. Juanita Murphy of Grand Marais, Minn., will divide between them the estate of Edward W. Wakelin, who died Feb. 22, last, at Grand Marais, if the terms of a will filed for probate this morning are carried out. Mrs. Murphy is a grand niece and Mrs. Wakelin is a niece by marriage.

Wakelin left an estate valued at about $2,650.

John Hanson, who died Feb. 23, last, aged 55, left an estate worth $1,000, consisting chiefly of real property. His widow, Lena Hanson, who is the sole heir, today petitioned the probate court for letters of administration.

TRENCH PHILOSOPHY.

If you are killed, why, you are killed, and what's the use in worrying about it? The more you worry, the better it pleases the Germans.

There is a bit of the philosophy of the trenches as expressed in the Associated Press reports from the front in the big war. Substitute the word "enemy" for "Germans" and no doubt the words would be equally expressive of the attitude of the men on the other side.

But the striking thing about it is that it is such a clear-cut statement of the essential. To these soldiers nothing matters. They have the day's work to do, and the day's work, so far as they know it, is to stay where they are until ordered somewhere else; and incidentally, if the enemy should try to supplant them, to do their utmost to keep from being supplanted. Meanwhile "if you are killed, why you are killed, and what's the use in worrying about it?"

No use at all, Tommy Atkins, or whatever other name you may be known by according to your nationality. You have hit on something that could profitably be taught to every man and women in your own and other countries. Your food supply may be short; the water may be ankle deep or knee deep or even waist deep in the trench; you may, for safety's sake, have to stay in an uncomfortable position for hours at a stretch; you may suffer in one way or another, and yet the elemental, the essential thing, always remains the same. So what's the use in worrying about it?

There is always the supreme event—call it disaster if you will, though there is nothing to show that that is the right name for it—there is always the supreme fact of life or death. If we die, that, at least, so far as we know at present, ends the particular struggle on which we are engaged, even though it bring us face to face with new and unexpected problems. And if we live we still retain the power, if we will to use it, to look fate and misfortune full in the face and demand of them the recognition due to the man who holds himself superior to "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune."

"The more you worry, the better it pleases the enemy," says the man in the trenches. The more you worry, the more power you give to unhappiness and cowardice and weakness of every kind.

Take this philosophy of the trenches and apply it to your own affairs, your own thoughts, your own life. The great thing with the man in the trenches is to obey orders—to do his best. And that is the great thing with you. "The enemy"—whatever form he takes to keep you from doing your best—is only the better pleased when you begin to worry. So don't do it.

EVEN CHINA IS WAKING UP.

Accounts have been published from time to time since the war began of the efforts made by commercial interests in various nations to take advantage of the trade openings made for them. According to the United States Commerce Reports, even China is waking up to the chances made for her by the war.

Everybody remembers the stir that was caused when China put the ban on opium and forbade poppy culture. There were many predictions that the law would never be obeyed, but they all proved false. The law was obeyed, and is being obeyed today. And the world owes to despised China its first example of absolute reform under legislation—though it must be borne in mind that the legislation in this case carried penalties that would never be tolerated in "more civilized" countries.

Now, say the reports, the Chinese people are being urged to grow indigo plants where the poppies formerly grew. It appears that China, for several years, has been importing German indigo to the extent of some six and a half million dollars a year. Now that supply is cut off by the war, and since China needs her dyeing industry, she proposes to have her own people raise the plants that produce one of the principal elements.

With the nations of the world learning to do things for themselves, it is getting more and more evident that the end of the war, no matter who may be victors and who vanquished, will find marked changes in the industrial and commercial relations between the present belligerents and the neutral countries. Even China is waking up to the opportunities presented, and other countries, with better facilities for such developments, will hardly be behind in their efforts.

One difference between a woman who paints and powders and a war correspondent is that the woman never tells what goes on under her own eyes.

NOW OR NEVER.

Register today, if you haven't already done so. It's your last chance before the city election on April 6. If you aren't registered you will have to swear in your vote on election day, or else not vote; and the man who doesn't vote might as well be in Guinea as in the U. S. A. so far as concerns his citizenship's being of any use to his country or state or county or city or neighbors.

Register today. It's now or never, so far as this election is concerned. The polls will be open for registration until 9 o'clock, but that's no reason for putting it off that late. If you aren't registered already, do it now. It's now or never.

The corner lot games have begun, so who cares whether the professionals settle their squabbles or not?

IF YOU WERE A BELGIAN.

If you were a Belgian—had seen your home and your place of business destroyed by one or another or both the contending forces—had seen some of your family and friends killed and others suffering from wounds or privations—had yourself felt the pinch of hunger and wondered where your next meal was to come from or whether you were to get another ——

If you had gone through all this and then had received substantial and sadly needed help in the form of food, clothing and perhaps a little money, and were informed that this help came from a country way across the ocean and called the United States of America ——

If all this had happened to you, what would be your opinion of the United States of America? Have you any idea? Would you think it a land worth living in and caring about? Would you think that a nation that could not only keep out of the war rage but that could at the same time give liberally and quickly to help others was deserving of support for its ideals and institutions?

Of course all this hasn't happened to you. You haven't had to endure the trials of other lands, and you haven't had occasion to appreciate what the United States has done and is doing for you, by contrasting it with the things not done for you elsewhere.

It might be a good thing for a lot of us if we could be Belgians for a little while; if we could be made to appreciate some of the things this country of ours offers us that cannot be had everywhere. It might make us a trifle more appreciative of what our country stands for and what we could do to help get a little nearer that ideal.

Some of us need the lesson rather badly, sometimes, it would seem. At least it might teach us the worthwhileness of taking more personal interest in public affairs and making greater personal efforts to better our communities and our political bodies generally.

If you were a Belgian you would see a lot of these things in a different light than you see them in now. If you doubt it, just imagine for half an hour that you are a Belgian, and see what kind of conception you get of the land you live in and the opportunities it gives to you.

It seems up to the philologists to dig up some relation between the words "Kurd" and "curdle."

LOUISIANA IS BUSY.

We don't hear much about it in this part of the country, but newspapers from that section bring evidence that Louisiana is one of the busiest states in the whole reclamation list. After many years of need and disease, she has brought modern ideas and modern methods to her aid and is doing things that are bound to have big results.

The other day, for example, she started a set of pumps to going. These pumps had been purchased and installed at a cost of two hundred and thirty-four thousand dollars, and were to run for three days. It sounds like a big proposition and a more or less foolish one, if you stop there, but wait: In those three days the water was pumped off forty-five thousand acres of land and the value rose in that time from a hundred to three hundred dollars an acre. And of course the usefulness of the pumps isn't ended, by any means.

Nor is that all. Taking her projects in their entirety, Louisiana proposes to reclaim by drainage not less than ten million acres, and put that land in shape for raising crops.

And even that isn't all, for the drainage of these big areas of swampy land means the destruction of the breeding places of the mosquitoes that in other years have spread the pestilence throughout New Orleans and other parts of the state.

Louisiana busy? Well, rather!

Chicago News: There are limits to the size of warships after all. Hardly another syllable can be added to "superdreadnaught."

How about making it "superdreadnaughtbutasubmarine?"

"QUALIFIED TO VOTE."

Wholesale "manufacture" of voters in Terre Haute, Ind., is being told of at the trial of Mayor Roberts and a couple of dozen other men. The process was simple. All the officials had to do was to think up fictitious names and write them down, with whatever ages and addresses seemed appropriate. Then these manufactured names were qualified to vote, and the election went along right merrily.

Although it probably won't come out at the trial, it would be interesting to know what these same men think about woman suffrage—whether they regard their own mothers and wives and sisters as being as intelligent as these "manufactured" voters, and whether they think their mothers, wives and sisters would be capable, mentally or morally, of perpetrating any such thing as these men have perpetrated.

It's a queer situation, surely, when an intelligent woman is considered as not qualified to vote, but when a name written on a piece of paper by a crooked politician carries with it all the qualifications and capabilities of an intelligent voter.

Can't you imagine Huerta and Diaz stretching hands across the sea to Carranza?

PITY THE JOKESMITHS.

There are some men who are so dead to the pleasures of their fellowmen that they even go out of their way to legislate against happiness. It doesn't seem possible, but that's the truth, nevertheless.

There are at least two such men in the Minnesota legislature—one in the house and one in the senate. It isn't necessary to call them by name. They can be identified by looking up the legislative reports.

Ever since Adam got dissatisfied with his first fig leaf and went to order another one, and told the man who furnished it that he'd settle with him as soon as the apples were ripe, and then forgot it until the next season, and didn't really get around to fix the matter up until he had to have still another outfit—ever since that time there have been jokes about men not paying tailors' bills. And some of those same jokes, the first ones, are floating around yet, making people happy and carefree and jovial—all except the tailors.

Now comes an onslaught to make it possible for a tailor to walk up to a man and demand the return of any fig leaf—that is, any suit of clothes, that isn't paid for yet. Can you beat that? Imagine every man in the state of Minnesota wearing nothing that wasn't paid for! Why, what would they do, some of them, for money for cigars and things? They'd simply be broke, that's what they would.

But the worst feature of it all would be the fate of the jokesmiths. They'd have to go through their files or barrels or safe deposit boxes or wherever they keep their supplies, and revise everything that had to do with tailors' bills. And they'd worry—think how they'd worry! It would be excruciating, not only to themselves, but to everybody they came in contact with.

It's hardly believable that such a bill as this could be introduced, to say nothing of its passage. But it just goes to show the extent to which some people forget their fellowmen. But in this case surely the legislators, even if no other thought can move them, will take pity on the jokesmiths.

What will New York lawyers do when the Thaw money is all gone?

THE HARRISON LAW.

Many predictions have been made as to the result of the enforcement of the Harrison law, putting strict regulation over the purchase and sale of habit-forming drugs. The predictions have ranged all the way from mere inconvenience to bloody revolution among the users of the poisons, the degree of disaster predicted evidently depending on the extent of the prophet's desire to create a sensation.

There can be no question that a good many people are going to be inconvenienced, to put it very mildly. It has been estimated that there are a couple of million or more people in the United States who are in the habit of depending on drugs to stimulate their nerves or minds or hearts. With the Harrison law in force and being enforced, such of these as have not already on hand a fair supply of their favorite master are bound to go through a greater or less amount of suffering, according to the grip the habit may have on them.

This, of course is to be deplored. It would be too bad that any human being should be made to suffer when that suffering could just as well be avoided. The point is that in this case the "just as well" phrase doesn't apply. It will be generally conceded that the only way to get rid of a habit is to stop it. The drug habit is peculiar in that it is next to impossible, apparently, for a victim to stop it if he can, by any hook or crook, get hold of the means of satisfying his appetite. The purpose of the Harrison law is to make it impossible for such persons to secure that means, and it is asserted that there is good reason to believe that many victims of the drug habit will be compelled to cure themselves by abstinence.

But whether this effect appears or not, the fact remains that the enforcement of this law is going to make it exceedingly difficult for others to form the habit, and that in itself is a gain of inestimable value both to individuals and to the country at large.

The drug fiend is not only a disgrace to himself, but a menace to society individually and collectively. To prevent the creation of drug fiends is a work worth millions to any country. The Harrison law promises to operate in just that way. If it succeeds it will be worth all it costs, and if it doesn't succeed it still may point the way to some means that will be even more effective.

It takes a bold man to look his son in the eye and declare that he never "played for keeps" when he was a kid.

A FREE SHOW FOR EVERYBODY.

Are you one of those sensitive people who like to look through the stores but are always oppressed with the idea that you ought to buy something to make up for the privilege? If you are, you have ahead of you one of the grandest times you ever had in your life—the privilege of roaming through one after another of the Duluth stores and seeing the best of everything in every line, and under the best possible conditions, and at the same time without being expected to buy a thing of any kind from anybody.

Yes, it's the style show beginning on Monday, March 22. The big event of the week will be formal removal of the screens from the windows in the shopping district at 5 o'clock that afternoon. The stores will close, and it will be Duluth's chance to begin a revel of "window shopping." Two hours later the stores will reopen, all decorated and ready for visitors, and will hold receptions for everybody.

It will be a feast for the eyes. Not only gowns and gaudiness, but things of more substance will be on exhibition. The latest and nobbiest articles in furniture will be shown, as well as the new and striking styles in dress and in all other sorts of seasonable goods.

When you come to think of it, what do you really know about the season's goods? Did you know there were some colors, or rather some shades and effects in colors, that are being brought out that never have been put forward before? You have heard or read something about the changes in costumes that have come since the war and more or less on account of it—have you any actual conception of what they are? Well, here is your chance to find out.

Everybody—everybody who is really alive, that is—likes to see "pretty things." Well, pretty things will be the feature of this style exhibit. The different individuals and firms in the shopping district have gone into the affair whole-heartedly and are working early and late to make it a success—and that means to make it attractive to you and your friends. All the fashion centers in other cities have contributed their part, and the exhibit is going to be nothing short of a huge, progressive revel for Duluth people.

It will begin in the late afternoon of Monday, March 22. If you can be on hand then, you will be among the first to glimpse the show windows, which before that time will be hidden behind mysterious drapings.

But whether you are on hand in the afternoon or not, dont' fail to enjoy the exhibition that evening and the rest of the week. See Duluth's stores at their best and Duluth's people in the midst of a regular festival time. It will be worth all the trouble you may have to take, and it won't cost you a cent. Once more we urge you, don't miss it.

Pity some way can't be found to interne the pesky mosquito in the summer time.

FORTS, GUNS AND SHIPS.

Men believed that the forts at Liege were impregnable, but the enemy brought up its forty-two centimeter guns and the forts fell.

Men believed that modern ordnance was infallible, but some pieces have blown up, others have got stuck in the mud and sand and had to be abandoned, and others have proved useless after a score or so of shots have been fired with them.

Men have regarded the great dreadnaughts and superdreadnaughts as the last word, or nearly the last word, in the control of the sea; but the submarines have shown that even these monsters are not impregnable.

Men have recently declared the submarine ruler of the sea, but it turns out that one has been sunk by so mean a vessel as an unarmed collier; the terrible Zeppelins are not storm-proof, and some of them have been wrecked by shots fired from below; the aeroplanes cannot withstand shell fire, and have shared in the fate of less spectacular engines of death.

What is there left of the mighty equipment which has been built up in the name of war, and at the expense of every peasant, every laborer, every man, woman and child, high and low, rich and poor, honest and corrupt, in the several nations that have taken part in the mad race for material power? Nothing—not one thing of the mass that has absorbed these squandered billions upon billions of public wealth, is left to boast of actually being capable of accomplishing all that was promised or hoped or expected of it.

Then what are we to do?

There is just one sensible thing to do, and that is to abandon the senseless and worse than senseless policies that have led to the wasting of these mammoth sums and the slaughter of multitudes of living, breathing, intelligent human beings.

Whether the nations, even after this terrific debauch is over, will have the sense and the honesty to do that, remains to be seen. There are those who say they won't. But whether they do or not, the fact remains that the wise thing, the humane thing, the honorable thing, would be for the several governments to abandon their ships and guns and forts and devote to the welfare of their people the energy and treasure that heretofore have been spent on these things.

Any hopes for your dandelion crop?

HORRIBLE, ISN'T IT?

Over in Persia there has been an attack on the Christians by the Kurds and thousands of the former have been killed or have died from exhaustion and exposure. There has been an outbreak of a "holy war," and the fury of the aroused fanatics has been such as to grant mercy to nobody. Men, women and children have fallen victims to the outbreak. Some escaped almost miraculously, and through them the details of the affair, which took place in December, are just becoming known.

It is enough to fill any Christian people with righteous wrath to see these unconverted barbarians make such onslaughts on the followers of the Christian faith. One could almost expect the whole civilized world to rise in unity and to declare a new crusade, with limitless expenditure of treasure and life, with the wildest enthusiasm in the ranks of the crusaders, and with all the modern resources of pursuit and destruction, and pour into the country of the offending races a mass of avengers who should do the work of death and destruction so completely that not one of the fanatical breeds should be left alive, and the very face of the earth would be turned into a barren waste.

That is, we could almost expect that if it weren't for the fact that the bulk of the Christian nations that might engage in that righteous work are so busy doing much the same thing to each other that they haven't time to pay attention to the heathen.

Of course there is a difference—all the difference in the world. These Christian nations and people are actuated by the highest and noblest of motives. One of them is demanding revenge for the death of a prince. Others are prompted by the beautiful spirit of loyalty to friendship or blood kin. Others are spurred on by a high resolve not to be compelled to take second place to anybody else. And others seem to be in it mainly because they were armed and ready and saw a chance to use their arms.

With these Kurds it is different. They have nothing to actuate them but the sordid motive of protecting the faith and land of their fathers against the incursions of a (to them) new faith and an alien race. And for this poor and simple motive they fly at the throats of the invaders and kill such as they can and drive the rest away.

Horrible, isn't it? They ought to study the thoughts and habits of the Christian nations. Then they would know better—wouldn't they?

No town has as yet reported a jitney airship.

Now don't forget to register. This is the last day.

Tomorrow, you know, is the Sunday you go to church.

You can't help wondering if the house and senate chambers at Washington aren't beginning to feel lonesome.

A brand new generation of boys and girls is asking if it is called "spring" because there is so much water.

Statesmen, Real and Near

By Fred C. Kelly.

Washington, March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Just by way of showing what strange things can happen, we cite here the unfortunate case of Bill Brigham, Washington correspondent for the Boston Transcript. Brigham invested one dollar a while ago in an alarm clock. By means of that clock he has estranged himself from a number of life-long friends.

Brigham bought the clock in consequence of an ambition to get up each morning at 7:30. The first thing he did after he got the clock home was to set the alarm for 7:20. In his eagerness to get the clock ready for action he overlooked the fact that 7:30 occurs in the evening as well as in the early morning. Promptly at 7:30 that evening the clock began to ring. Instead of being annoyed at the sound, Brigham was rather pleased, for the bell had a distinct, matter-of-fact tone that he was sure would get him out of bed at 7:30 in the morning. He went and rewound the alarm, and returned to his evening papers. But in a few minutes the alarm sounded again. Bill went and looked at the clock. It was still set for 7:30 and the hour was 7:45. It seemed altogether illogical that the clock should have rung. In five minutes the bell again sounded its merry lay. The thing was uncanny. Every time Brigham went near the clock it was quiet enough, but when he turned his back it was likely to ring.

This sort of thing went on for two or three evenings and the mystery grew. Even when the clock was not wound at all, something would make it ring.

One morning, while walking along wondering what made the clock act so funny, Brigham passed an old friend who nodded coldly.

"What's the matter?" asked Brigham. "Whatter you acting so sour about?"

"Oh, nothing," said the friend, with dignity. "I don't like to force myself on people. A few nights ago my wife and I went to your house to call and you were at home, because we could see you through the window. We also could hear the doorbell ding when we pressed the button. But you made no move to come and let us in. Instead, you hastened to another part of the house. Now, my wife and I resent that kind of hospitality."

In the course of the day Brigham met another friend who had suffered a similar indignity.

It seems that the alarm clock bell and the doorbell had precisely the same tone.

In the days when "By" Newton, assistant secretary of the treasury, was aviation editor of the New York Herald, he came to have a great veneration for the Wright brothers. He liked the Wrights personally and they were fond of him. It was Newton who got the Wrights to agree never to fly at the same time, so that if anything happened to their machine there would be one of the inventors left.

Newton was so enthusiastic over his friends, the Wrights, that he used to say to himself:

"I'd give almost anything I possess if I could just go to the Wrights' town of Dayton, Ohio, get a big assemblage of people together and stand up before them and tell them what I think of the Wright brothers."

The dream came true. A while ago, in the regular routine of his present job, Newton went to Dayton to make a speech dedicating the new postoffice building. A large assemblage of people were present, including Orville Wright and his sister, and Newton made a speech not about the new postoffice, but about the work of the Wright brothers.

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer.

Compiled by John G. Quintius, the Sunshine Man.

Why art thou cast down, O my soul? And why art thou disquieted within me? Hope thou in God.——Ps. xlii, 5.

"To be alive in such an age—
To live to it,
To give to it!
Rise, soul, from thy despairing knees,
What if thy lips have drunk the lees?
Fling forth thy sorrow to the wind
And link thy hope with human kind."

"Good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people."—Luke ii, 10.

I rejoice, O my Father, that Thou hast given me a treasure which I need not hide from my brother. I can tell my grief to the glad, but not my gladness to the grieving. Extinguish the joy that is proud of being unshared. Let down the lights that make a wall between myself and the weary. And over the darkness let there rise a star—Bethlehem's star, humanity's star, the star that shines for one because it shines for all. When I see the common star I shall rejoice with exceeding great joy.—Matheson.

Love does not mean one thing in man and another thing in God. Holiness, justice, pity, tenderness—these are in the Eternal the same in kind which they are in the finite being. The manhood of Christ conveys this deeply important truth—that the divine heart is human in its sympathies.—Frederick W. Robertson.

Health lies very near the foundation of happiness and prosperity and beauty.—The Great Secret.

Love, and God will pay you with the capacity of more love; for love is Heaven—love is God within you.

Winsted Has a New One.

New York Herald: Winsted, Conn.—In the soft deep seat of an armchair a squirrel, after gnawing its way into a summer cottage here, built his nest this winter. The fact did not become known until recently, when the cottage was opened and "Hi" Shomper seated himself in the chair and was so badly bitten that he won't be able to sit comfortably for several days. The squirrel escaped in the excitement.

Medder Lark.

Sometimes it's kind o' lonesome
In the sod shack on the claim,
Awaitin' fer the time ter pass,
An' all about ye plain.

Yer get ter thinkin' o' the past,
An' what ye might o' done;
For when a feller's gettin' old,
Homesteadin' ain't much fun.

But 'taint no use o' whinin'
The fault 's gener'ly yer own;
Still blues comes kind o' natur'l
When ye 'er livin' all alone.

But I ha' got one trustin' friend,
An' his heart 's never sore:
A little medder lark that comes
A singin' 'round my door.

An' I'm 'shamed ter be complainin'
When he sings from dawn till dark;
An' he 's a deal o' company
That little medder lark.

SATURDAY NIGHT TALK

Team Play.

Just before the battle of Trafalgar, when the preparations for the English attack were complete, Nelson asked his captain, Blackwood, whether he thought another signal to the fleet was needed. The captain replied that he thought everyone knew perfectly what was expected of him.

Musing a moment, Nelson said, "Suppose wo telegraph 'Nelson expects every man to do his duty.'" The officer to whom the remark was made asked if the signal might not better read, "England expects" rather than "Nelson expects." The admiral welcomed the change eagerly and at 11:30 the signal, which has gone down into history, flew from the Victory's masthead and was received with a shout throughout the fleet.

It was surely better to summon those sailors to serve their country than to serve any single commander. They were asked to sink personalities in a common cause. To do it for England was a bigger thing than to do it merely for Nelson. A belief in and loyalty to the whole campaign is better than mere admiration for some particular general.

The best ball player is one who will work for the good of the team. It is the success of nine men rather than of one that interests him. He submerges personal likes and dislikes in favor of the common good.

Speaking of a popular clergyman of strong personality, a parishioner said, "As long as he is here the church may count on my help." But the hero worshiper must remember that the work of that church must proceed whether a particular leader remains or moves on. The problems, the needs, the rewards of Christian service in this field remain constant. On the tomb of the Wesleys are inscribed the words, "God buries the worker but carries on the work." It is well for us to remember that.

Helpers beyond price in the church, the lodge, the movement in civic or social reform are those whose devotion to the cause is founded on something deeper than personal tastes or prejudices. These are the ones who are going to bring victory.

The rest are pretty certain, sooner or later, to get miffed and either quit the game or try to queer it.

When Gen. Grant took command of the Union armies he received a letter from Gen. Meade, then in command of the Army of the Potomac, asking, in view of many criticisms, that some other man might be appointed in his stead. Said Meade, "Nothing should be allowed to stand in the way of our common cause." Grant refused to displace his subordinate, and, afterward said, recognizing the magnanimity of the man: "That proposal was great, greater even than his victory at Gettysburg."

Any shot that malice can fire falls far below the head of a man like that. He is interested in something bigger than his own personal plans. It is such unselfishness and social loyalty that gives success to any cause.

War Insurance.

London Chronicle: War risks played a part in the earliest schemes of insurance. It was at the beginning of the fifteenth century that merchants began to insure their vessels and goods against the perils of the sea, and as those perils included Moors and Turkish enemies, the lives of the merchant, when he was on board, and the captain were included in the insurance. Marine insurance thus appears to have been the earliest known, but fire policies of a kind had already made their appearance before the great fire of London.

SOME OHIO CANDIDATES

By SAVOYARD

Washington, March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Ever since 1848 Ohio has been a more or less big factor in national political conventions called in our country by the party opposed to the Democracy. In 1856 it was an Ohio man who contended with John C. Fremont for the Republican nomination, but at that time that then infant party preferred a man who was a statesman without a dispatch, a lawyer without a brief, a soldier without a battle, an explorer without an adventure, a millionaire without a cent, and Fremont was preferred. It was well enough. Fremont was an impossible man, and had he been elected in 1856 secession would have then followed and been triumphant. It required the patience and the wisdom of Abraham Lincoln to save the Union.

The best an Ohio man ever did in a Democratic national convention was in 1868, when George H. Pendleton was the favorite in the balloting, but lost to Seymour of New York. It was in the timber to nominate Salmon P. Chase at that convention, and had the movement prevailed it is quite likely that Gen. Grant would never have been president. Allen G. Thurman became a senator in congress from Ohio in 1869 and for a score of years was a favorite son of the Ohio Democracy, but his ambition to be president was defeated because, as he said, John R. McLean was determined that no Ohio Democrat should ever get "knee-high in national politics."

Just now Ohio has numerous candidates for the Republican nomination for president in 1916—Burton, Willis, Harding, Herrick among them. Taft also is looming up, and had the wisdom of his public utterances since he left the presidency waited on his state policies when in that exalted station it is quite possible that he would now be serving his second term as chief magistrate of the republic. William H. Taft ought to have a heap of friends at the South, for he was the first and only president of his party who saw in that section a full equal in every particular in the sisterhood of confederated commonwealths we call the American Union. All of us Southerners ought to love that great big man as I, one of the least of 'em, certainly do. If the next president is to be a Republican—as God forbid—and I could name the man it would be William Howard Taft for his great big heart that can embrace and hold every section of our broad country in its simple love.

Burton I regard as the biggest mind Ohio has produced since Thurman and Garfield, leaving out of the account John A. McMahon of Dayton. But it is impossible to think of Burton as head of the nation. He is as cold as snow and as a manager of men he would be helpless and hopeless. He has some principles—such as they are—and as a debater in the legislature he is nearly, but not quite, in the class of Thurman. He was educated at Oberlin. He is a bachelor. He was beaten by Tom Johnson. And, men and brethren, the time is at hand when the consensus of opinion in Ohio will accord Tom Johnson first place in all Ohio citizenship, chiefest as an exemplar of civic virtue.

Why, look at Cleveland, the metropolis of the state, where the soul of Tom Johnson is marching on, though his body is mouldering in the grave. That town supplanted Baltimore as the sixth city because Tom Johnson was its ruler. It passed Cincinnati as the metropolis of the state because on the Ohio George Cox was boss, and on the lake Tom Johnson was boss. Burton stooped to oppose reform in Cleveland and that fact will make him a lame candidate for president. And that is not all—his party at home that refused him a renomination for senator will never allow him to be in line for the White House.

Willis is even more impossible than Burton. He is the man who changed his views on a paramount question in congress—canal tolls—when a veteran of the G. A. R. sang "Marching Through Georgia" at a popular meeting he was to address. If the American people want that sort of whimsical chap for president, Willis is about the very whimsical chap they should select. He has no opinions of his own and that may promote his fortunes, for Aldrichism prospers when such a man is head of the nation.

Harding is even more impossible than Willis. He beat Foraker for the nomination because the latter had got a letter from the Standard Oil company, though across the line over in Pennsylvania such letters to senators are valuable political assets at the polling booth as well as at the window of the paying teller of an opulent bank. Mr. Harding is reputed a great orator. I always suspect such men. The day of "oratory" is over in our country. And all reports are that the Hon. Harding is a sky-scraper and not at all in the class of Foraker as a debater, who, by the way, stood pretty high. The wonder is that the colored troops of Ohio deserted Foraker to take up with Harding—Foraker who had stretched the blanket of truth, and exhausted the patience of humanity, in his advocacy of the negro ruffians who had shot up Brownsville.

As for Herrick—all his stock in politics consists of his money, his partnership with Mark Hanna, and his conduct at Paris, admirable as the last was. But Brand Whitlock at Brussels beat him out of sight, if it comes to a measure of that sort of diplomacy.

William H. Taft is the most illustrious of all the living citizens of Ohio.

Something Different.

THE ROSE GARDEN HUSBAND. By Margaret Widdemer. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott company. $1.00 net.

Here is the story for those people who are looking for "something different." There is nothing gloomy or stereotyped about it. A tired and rather discouraged librarian, who sees nothing ahead of her but an endless routine of work with only the variations that may be expected by any old maid, suddenly finds it possible to marry in a most unusual way. So she changes the last part of her name, the whole of which is Phyllis Narcissa Braithwaite, for that of a husband whose health has made him regard marriage as impossible, but whose mother, a woman of means, is determined that he shall not be left to the uncertain ministrations of hired attendants.

There are inconveniences in such an arrangement, but there are also compensations, and the former "liberry teacher" goes about her tasks with a cheerfulness that the reader cannot help but catch before really knowing it. Good humor helps out the heroine and bubbles over into the mind of the spectator, and you rejoice with Phyllis as she finds opportunity to achieve one after another of various little ambitions that had seemed to be closed to her forever. The end of it all is better told by the author than it could be told here.

"The Rose Garden Husband" is as cheerful and enjoyable as it is unusual.

War and Romance.

THE RED FLEECE. By Will Levington Comfort, author of "Rutledge Rides Alone," "Midstream," "Down Among Men," etc. New York: George H. Doran company. $1.25 net.

Here is a tale of the Russian advance in the present European war. It deals with the adventures of two American correspondents connected with the staff of the Russian army. It is different from most war romances because of Comfort's passionate way of dealing with the waste and cruelty of war and the crime of forcing peasants to be killed and made into cannon fodder against their will. There is a strong love story throughout, and a bit of the modern revolutionist who is for the nobler work of enlightening the masses rather than the old style of nihilist who threw bombs. It is a romance of love's power in the zone of war, and is written with first hand experiences.

"We Have One Hate."

THE BRITISH BLACK BOOK. BY AN AMERICAN. By Rudolph Cronau. New York. Rudolph Cronau, publisher. $1.00 net.

At least Mr. Cronau does not sail under any false colors as to his personal sympathies in the great war. Here is the first paragraph from the preface to his book, which is published in magazine size and with paper covers:

> The present war of the nations, the most deplorable event in history, has from its outset disclosed the fact that the opponents of Germany, mainly England, fight not with fair, honest weapons, but take recourse to the most despicable means: slander and calumny.

Mr. Cronau—after reading his book one can hardly refrain from calling him Herr Cronau—follows this opening paragraph with a list of noted British writers who have assailed the German cause, and this in turn with the names of some champions of the German side. Of his own work he says:

> This book, based on irrefutable facts, intends to show the chief actor in the present war, England, in her true aspect, in order that henceforth all nations may take warning and proper care in their political and commercial dealings.

A glance at some of the chapter headings will tell all that is necessary about the rest of the book. These are: I. The Giant Octopus (Octopus Anglo-Saxonis); II. England, a Destroyer of Nations. (a) England, the Originator of Spain's Downfall; (b) England, the Destroyer of Holland's Greatness; (c) England, the Arch-Foe of France; (d) England Destroys Commerce and Fleet of Neutral Denmark; (e) England, the Scourge of Ireland; (f) England, the Vampire of India; (g) England as Poisoner of the Chinese Nation; (h) England, the Suppressor of the Free Boers; (i) England, the False Friend of the United States. III. Germany's Wonderful Rise and Success the Real Cause for England's Present War. IV. The Unholiest Conspiracy in History. VII. German Atrocities—"Made in England." X. Does America Need a Third War for Independence?

In spite of the author's protestations of Americanism, the book forcibly recalls the now famous "Song of Hate."

Homer Modernized.

HOMERIC SCENES. By John Jay Chapman. New York: Laurence J. Gomme. 60 cents net.

The scenes here given are Hector's farewell, and the wrath of Achilles. The translations are well done, and the dramatic construction follows closely the demands of the practical drama. If there is any chief fault in the work, it is in the writer's habit of using so many words in a sense no longer attached to them in ordinary usage. But since the plays are unlikely to be read by any who are not acquainted with these words as he uses them, it is probable that little will be lost through his habit.

How to Be Happy Though Married.

THE AWAKENING. By Henry Bordeaux; translated from the ninety-fifth French edition by Ruth Helen Davis. New York: E. P. Dutton & Co. $1.35 net.

"Why didn't somebody tell me?" the the heroine wants to know somewhere about the middle of the book. Her predicament raises the question how many young people enter into marriage with the idea that the words at the altar end the greatest part of their responsibility to each other.

The story starts with a suit for divorce filed by Elizabeth Derize against her husband, Albert Derize, a brilliant writer and talker on historical subjects. Elizabeth has found that her husband has been carrying on a partial "affair" with Anne de Sezery, and Elizabeth has determined not to bear it longer. She has met Anne, and the two have little in common. So Elizabeth seeks a divorce.

In the course of the preliminaries Elizabeth comes into possession of her husband's diary, and through this comes her awakening. She finds that she has left something to be desired in a good wife, even though she has carefully guarded her husband's honor, has been a faithful wife and a good mother to their two children. This diary shows how she failed to meet Albert even a little way in his greatest interests and his work; how she repulsed him time and time again when he strove to show her the workaday side of his character and the things with which he wrought; how she had really been only his material companion, not in any sense a helper or even an encourager in his work or his aspirations.

After reading the diary, Elizabeth reaches the critical moment of her life with this soliloquy:

> Why was I not warned? I was so young, so simple and ignorant. Would I not have molded myself? Young girls do not know. No one tells them that everyone has to make his own home and watch his fire. They collect stones by chance, and the first breath of wind disperses their ashes. It is wicked not to help them.

The story is unusually true to life in its details and characterization, and the development is such as to hold the reader's attention in every chapter. The translation is too literal to make the reading easy. One could wish that a story in itself so powerful and with such a message could have been given to Americans with a freer hand.

A Real American Woman.

THE DUSTY ROAD. By Therese Tyler. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott company. $1.25 net.

"Autobiography" is the word that comes to mind when reading "The Dusty Road," though the author disclaims having met in life any of the people she brings to the acquaintance of her readers. She tells of Elizabeth Anderson, a girl whose nature demands surroundings of wealth and comfort, but who is forced to carry on her existence in surroundings extremely distasteful to her. She meets dangers, disappointments and temptations, and finds opportunities to help others avoid the mental and other pitfalls that have threatened her own journey. Among other people she meets is one who is facing troubles in his spiritual life that threaten to sink his moral and spiritual ideas and ideals, and Elizabeth is a factor in bringing him to a higher and clearer view of his faith.

There is sympathy and skill in the way the book is written, and it brings with it a touch of humanity that cannot fail to reach the reader.

The Allies' Side.

THE PRUSSIAN HATH SAID IN HIS HEART. By Cecil Chesterton. New York: Laurence J. Gomme. $1.00.

George Bernard Shaw introduces Mr. Chesterton in a couple of pages that glow with praise, but which you forget long before you have fairly reached the real trend of the arguments presented by Mr. Chesterton. The author has had plenty of experience in consideration and discussion of public questions, and he brings all the skill and training and art he possesses to bear on this subject. To say that the result is "readable," is to put it altogether too mildly, though it might not prove even that to one who felt deeply on the other side of the question. A few sentences from an introductory letter from Mr. Chesterton to L. H. Wetmore, an American friend, will show both the purpose of the book and something of the style in which it is written.

> I am much mistaken if the American people will accept the Prussian doctrine that the rights of nationalities depend on size and not on justice.
> * * *
> If the German empire were to emerge victorious, with no rival left on land or sea, and hungry for new conquests, especially colonial conquests, what do you think would become of the Monroe doctrine? * * *
>
> Not a few Americans who see that we could not without disaster and dishonor have refrained from going to war, may yet feel that when once we have fairly beaten our enemies we ought to treat them with magnanimity, and so bring the war to a close at the earliest possible moment. * * * I have written this book in vain if I have not shown that the allies cannot safely sheathe the sword until the military power of Prussia and all that it stands for have been utterly obliterated. * * *
>
> Your people are of mixed blood and various racial types. The foundation of your unity is a creed: the creed set out in the Declaration of Independence. * * * Prussia also has a creed, which she holds and acts upon with equal certitude and consistency. It is the precise opposite of yours. What appears self-evident to the Prussian professor is that all men are not naturally equal, and that the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness belongs only to the strong or the "cultured," to Prussians or to Super-men. That is the creed, now revealed in all its naked infamy, against which we and our allies are fighting. If we fail, you will have to take up the fight.
> Unless, indeed, the Declaration of Independence is also a scrap of paper!

From this last sentence it will be seen that Mr. Chesterton takes a great deal for granted regarding the attitude of Americans toward the warring nations. But he is one of the cleverest of writers and arguers, yielding nothing, it appears, to his brother, G. K. Chesterton. His book will at least furnish its readers with a pretty clear idea of the conceptions back of England's entrance into the great war.

A Creed in Detail.

THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH, ITS FAITH AND ORDER. By George Hodges. New York: The Macmillan company. $1.25 net.

Dr. Hodges here presents ten lectures on the beliefs taught by the Episcopal church. He says in his preface that they "are offered to the younger clergy as a suggestion in their preparation of persons for confirmation." At the same time he disclaims any authoritativeness in his interpretations, advising the clergy who may use the book to consult with their superiors regarding details beyond those he here presents. The subjects of the several lectures are: The Bible, the Prayer Book, Baptism, Confirmation, Renunciation, Obedience, the Creed, the Church, Prayer and The Holy Communion.

Aside from the Episcopal clergy, those who may be interested in studying briefly the Episcopal teachings would find this little volume very useful.

Irvin Cobb Sees the War.

THE PATHS OF GLORY. By Irvin S. Cobb. New York: George H. Doran company. $1.50 net.

There were days when everybody was interested in the possible fate of the four American correspondents who, in the early weeks of the war, went through Belgium almost to the very front, and faced grave dangers at the hands of angry men. Since that time the growing and multiplying details of the conflict have all but wiped out that temporary interest, but there still remains the fascination of reading about the scenes of those days as they are described by one who was on the spot. These sketches by Irvin Cobb are not new matter. They are a compilation between covers of articles he contributed to the Saturday Evening Post since his return to this country. But they have the qualities that make Cobb's "stuff" most readable, and will help to bring home to all who read them the fact that war is one of the best things in the world to avoid.

For the Kiddies.

THE ADVENTURES OF DANNY MEADOW MOUSE. By Thornton W. Burgess. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. 50 cents net.

THE ADVENTURES OF GRANDFATHER FROG. By Thornton W. Burgess. Boston: Little, Brown & Co. 50 cents net.

Here are two more of the series of bed time stories that deal with the wild creatures. Any child from 6 to 12 years old will revel in them. Each story is complete in itself and can be read in less than a quarter of an hour, and the interest is sustained by the carrying of the same creature-characters from one story to the next.

Something of the "Peter Rabbit" style is maintained. The language is such that any fourth grade youngster can read the stories to himself or aloud to his companions. There are few if any series of stories generally obtainable that excel these when it comes to interesting and entertaining the little folks.

For Prospective Citizens.

MAKERS OF AMERICA—FRANKLIN, WASHINGTON, JEFFERSON, LINCOLN. By Emma Lillian Dana. New York: Immigrant Publication Society. 50 cents.

One of this year's publications of the society, which issues literature designed to instruct the immigrant in our language, our traditions, our customs and our laws. This volume deals with the lives of the men mentioned, and tells what they did and what their work has meant to this country, putting it in such form that it can readily be comprehended. Anecdotes regarding the different men are told, briefly, and an excellent selection of such matter is made.

Although intended primarily for the instruction of aliens who have enough command of our language to be able to read it a little, this book would make excellent reading for the young people who were born in this country, but as yet know little of some of our greatest men. The book should at least be in every public library in the country.

Among the Magazines.

An unusual novelette entitled "The Categorical Imperative" by Frank R. Adams leads the March number of the Smart Set. Other piquing and novel features are: "The Icicle" by Edward Fuller, an unusual story of an ubiquitous type of woman; "Advertising Pays," by Gerald Mygatt, the story of an advertising agent's advertising campaign to win the girl of his heart; a story by Zoe Akins whose "Papa," published last year, created wide interest; "His Best Friend" by James Huneker, the story of the effect upon an artist of his most violent critic.

* * *

In writing of the curious customs of the natives of Southern Nigeria, Mrs. Amaury Talbot in Harper's Magazine for March tells how the young women are fattened in their preparation for marriage. "How Napoleon Really Looked" is an interesting article by Camille Gronkowski, accompanied by reproductions of portraits and miniatures. Under the title, "The Companionable Crow," Walter Prichard Eaton writes of the bird's many amusing characteristics and of its intelligence, which is close to that of such an animal as the dog. In "What Is Pure English?" Brander Matthews shows how our language grows, how it is most often and most effectively created in the workshop and in the market place, where the imaginative energy of our race expresses itself spontaneously in swiftly creating the lacking term in response to the unexpected demand. The fiction in the March number is contributed by Alice Cowdery, Katharine Lee Bates, Wilbur Daniel Steele, Howard Brubaker, Arthur Johnson, Booth Tarkington, Helen R. Hull, Maude Radford Warren and Keene Abbott.

The Fat Man's Rations

PERHAPS we should say the fat woman's rations. Fat men, we regret to note, take more or less pride in their obesity, while stout women are always ready, so they extravagantly declare, to do anything to reduce. They don't mean exactly what they say, though. The plethoric obese woman will do anything to reduce so long as she gets all she wants to eat and is not forced to take any silly exercises.

Well, on the thin theory that there may be somewhere a plethoric fat person who would just as soon eat no more than is needed to maintain normal metabolism, we are setting down here a diet. Remember, this is not for anemic fat persons, nor for those who are overweight by reason of partial myxoedema, nor for those who have any organic disease.

BREAKFAST.

An orange, or two peaches, or half a grapefruit, or a baked apple. No sugar.

One slice of bread, with just a suspicion of butter. One soft boiled egg laid by a careful, painstaking fowl.

Small cup of coffee, sweetened with a saccharin tablet (½ grain) and discolored by two tablespoonfuls of milkman's milk—which has no more cream than the law allows.

Ten large chestfuls of cold fresh air.

LUNCHEON.

(So-called because it is just a pretense.)

Lamb chops (two), cold boiled ham (one slice), sweetbread or fowl or game in season, not over 4 ounces.

Salad, one good spoonful. Cheese, a bite or two. Rye bread, one slice. Fruit. Not more than a glass of water.

DINNER.

Three ounces of clear soup. Two ounces of fish.

Beef, lamb, veal or game, 4 ounces.

Spinach, string beans, celery, green peas, asparagus, sliced tomatoes or cold slaw, one helping.

Plain rice pudding, junket, custard or fruit.

Not more than one glass of water.

Very small cup of coffee, sweetened with saccharine.

Toothpicks.

Questions and Answers.

"Rheumatism," Which Ain't: I have rheumatic arthritis very bad, in nearly all my joints. Have had it 15 years. Could it be the tonsils? They get sore occasionally. I am much interested in what you say about the tonsils. Does uric acid cause it sometimes?

REPLY.

Uric acid has nothing whatever to do with such a disease. Some primary focus of infection, either in the tonsils or elsewhere in the body, poisoned your system and involved one joint after another. The thing to do in any long standing inflammation of the joints is, forget the word "rheumatism" and have the depot of poison searched out and eradicated.

* * *

Boracic Acid Eye Wash: Will you kindly repeat the boracic acid eye treatment you gave some time ago?

REPLY.

It was simply a mild, antiseptic solution for bathing the eyes. Dissolve as much powdered boracic (boric) acid in a half pint of boiling water as the water will take up. Some will settle after cooling. Use the clear upper part to drop in eyes or wash eyes as often as desired.

* * *

Red Nose and its Relief: In one talk you said thickened turbinate bodies in the nose often cause a red nose. Please inform me what treatment would help.

REPLY.

Only direct applications to the turbinates (inside the nose) by the doctor. Red noses are often caused by dilated capillary vessels in the skin. Electrolysis applied by the physician will improve the condition.

Dr. Brady will answer all questions pertaining to Health. If your question is of general interest it will be answered through these columns; if not it will be answered personally if stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. Dr. Brady will not prescribe for individual cases or make diagnosis. Address all letters to Dr. William Brady, care of The Herald.

WELCOME TO OUR CITY, BOWLERS; THE OLD BURG KINDLY GRINS

The Northern Tournament Starts the Big Week at the Grand Alleys This Evening—Young Ahearn—Great Hockey Season—More About Freddy Welsh.

BY BRUCE.

THE bowlers are coming to town, tra la, the bowlers are coming to town. Try this to lively music on your piano. Starting with this evening tide there will be a week of large time on the pin circuit. Some of the headliners of the Northwest are booked for an act at the Grand Bowling alleys. We have in our midst, gentlemen, some of the most famous of the surrounding country. Step right up.

Duluth has become addicted to the bowling sport this waning winter as never before. Interest has generously grown by blithesome leaps and majestic bounds. Some gentlemen, with their heart in the game, have labored along during the past three or four years with the ultimate hope playing the role of bell cow that the town would one of these days arrive at the enthusiastic point where it would compare in frenzied interest with St. Paul and Minneapolis to our immediate south. The good ship Hope has arrived and has been safely anchored.

Even the most optimistic minded of the supporters of the pin game did not in the most rosy pink moment anticipate that the Northern tournament that is to open tonight would cuddle success in such a fondling fashion as the case is proving. Bowlers are here today from various parts of the Northwest. The best teams are entered. Play should bring out some excellent bowling and should stimulate new interest. Duluth extends open arms to the pin men, bidding them welcome, and, tossing with prodigal air the municipal key to their keeping, tells them to have a joyous time while in her midst.

Speaking of Ahearn.

DAN M'KETRICK, formerly one of the sport writing colony of New York, and now the hustling manager of a lucrative string of boxers—boxers are always successful when they are lucrating—sends this column clippings from several of the Gotham papers, telling under four-column headlines of the wonderful ability of Young Ahearn, rated by some of the Eastern critics of boxing as a second Kid McCoy.

If this youth has accomplished all of the sweet things chronicled, he is indeed one of the marvels of the ring. Mike Gibbons has nearly run out of ring material; the ten-round game cannot provide opponents for Michael much longer—why then perhaps Ahearn is the next grand step that should be properly pressed up for the pair.

Ahearn is an ambitious cuss, apparently. It is said that he is willing to fight any heavyweight in the world. Dan Morgan, Eugene Corri, the famous London referee, and Horatio Botomley, a member of the English parliament, are also ardent admirers of the boy who boxed in New York some few years ago as a light weight.

It might be stated that Ahearn was at one time matched to fight Gunboat Smith in London. The outbreak of the war spilled the beans. How unthoughtful of the diplomats. At that this Young Ahearn person is garnering the publicity, and in this modern day and age, Bill, publicity of the right sort can be cashed in.

Good luck, Dan. When Marty Forkins was here he spoke in loving terms of you.

The Year in Hockey.

IT is refreshing to the directors of the Duluth Curling club that a healthy profit on this year's hockey should leer at the deficit incurred last season. Profits are pleasant personages, and deficits are hateful and spiteful persons.

Speaking of hockey in general in Duluth—and this purview most certainly includes the teams of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league—permit us to state that the season waning to an imminent finale has been by many margins the greatest in the history of the puck in its purely local habitat.

The curling club has made money. The teams of the amateur league have not made any here, as they are not as yet in a position to garner the coin; but measuring success by the standard of hockey played, by the closeness of the race and by the interest displayed, the success achieved has been of a golden nature of shining and sparkling quality.

There is no doubt in the world but that the curling club team is one of the greatest septets playing the game. Its record this season has been phenomenal. It should also be stated that the quality of game played in the amateur league has been far and away ahead of the quality of hockey ever previously played by city teams of this old town.

It has been a great season for all concerned. At the practical close of the present season let us push the hope into pulsating being that the approach of another season will find better accommodations for the teams of one of Duluth's greatest hockey assets—the Duluth Amateur Hockey league.

Speaking Now of Welsh.

IT is a habit of Freddy Welsh to simulate—yea, also stimulate, if you will. In other words, brother, Freddy, who once received a letter from his majesty the king of England, seems disposed to keep the public enveloped in doubt regarding his true ability as a boxer.

In the first Milwaukee trot with Freddy White Freddy made the going so that White was looked upon as the winner. It was believed in many quarters that White had the number of the first citizen of Pontypridd, Wales, and that in a return engagement the little Chicago boy might be able to left-hook the world's champion lightweight into the oblivion of slumberland.

Well, to ring "30" on this yarn, they met again. What Welsh showed to White in the shape of a boxing lesson will not be soon forgotten by that rather astute young gentleman.

The other evening in New York Willie Ritchie won the shade over the Welsh myth. Possibly they will meet again. You in the habit of wagering on athletic events, save out the grocery man's mite in staking along on Ritchie to win again. Freddy is peculiar about those things.

Leach Cross smiled wanly when we asked him concerning Welsh. The little New York Hebrew is a sort of mild form of philosopher. He is a man of the world, who finds boxing a game best suited to his financial requirements. Leach is also a dentist during dull seasons.

"Welsh," said the little boxer with the worldy-wise counterance, "is so clever that he makes a bum out of the rest of us. He is too clever for the good of the game (Cross is a first-class business man). You're boxing a shadow. Welsh makes the sport look like a burlesque."

And so and again so. This statement was shortly after Leach had boxed Welsh on the coast. Also, merely by way of atmospheric injection, allow us to state that when Welsh met Cross the boxing game was practically at an end in California.

Don't, kind friends, believe too ardently that Willie Ritchie can lick Freddy Welsh. Lots of lads have outpointed Freddy—but Freddy is a close friend of Fra Elbertus Hubbard, and the Roycrofter is classed as an expert on the art of advertising.

BOTH GAMES TO DULUTH

"Gym" Boys Beat Superior Y. M. E. A. By 27-to-22 Score.

High School Girls Administer Defeat to Two Harbors Team.

Although outweighed by several pounds to the man, the Duluth Central high school "gym" class basket ball team last evening administered a 27 to 22 beating to the crack Y. M. E. A. quintet of Superior in one of the fastest and most exciting indedendent contests that has been staged on a local floor this season. From start to finish the game was a "whirl-wind" and so uncomfortably close that the winner was not decided until a few seconds before the call of time. Between halves of the main affray, the Invincible Girls' basket ball team of Central high vanquished the Two Harbors girls' team by the score of 20 to 3.

The contest between the Gym team and Young Men's Educational society team was a sensational one from start to finish and from all standpoints. When the husky Superiorites trotted over the floor few conceded the local "kids" even a chance. The moment that the game began, however, it was clearly apparent that the contest was going to be a thriller. Both teams were in the fray at all times. Brilliant playing was perceptible on each side and the crowd was kept on their toes at all times. The little Gym men, slipping around among their bewildered opponents with dazzling speed and marvelous team work, soon established a commanding lead. The invaders soon found themselves, but not before the first half was concluded 11 to 6 in favor of the Duluth team. The Superiorites were surprised to find themselves on the short end of the score, and they came back for the second half with a determination to "do or die." The Gym men were not lacking in the same spirit, and as a result the playing in the final period was fast and some great basket ball was exhibited. The team work of the visitors was more in evidence in the second half and they put up a fine show. They were in the game at all times, fighting hard to come out on top. Their evident fault was a big desire to shoot from long distances instead of advancing the ball up to the basket and then shooting. The Gym men kept up their brilliant team work, speed and basket shooting accuracy. Both sides secured 10 points in the second half, which set the final count at 27 to 22 with the game little gymnasium artists on the long end. The Y. M. E. A. team showed a spirit for fighting, which almost landed them on top at many stages and they are to be complimented for their "pep." The game, being so close, was very rough and the players frequently gave vent to their feelings by engaging in an encounter with the first man that they happened to come in contact with. On the whole, however, the game was a "beauty" and one which was worth a lot to see.

The winning "gym" team played in its regular even fashion, and it would be hard to pick a star. Pedrizetti made six baskets up to the time he was taken out in the second half. The Y. M. E. A. team was also very evenly balanced and no man shone very bright above his fellow teammates.

The "gym" team still holds tightly to its claim of Northwestern Intermediate champions and believes that this claim has been well substantiated.

The girls' game was interesting, although the Duluth team won by a good score. The Two Harbors girls played well and hard, but they were hardly a match for the "invincible" locals. The Central team has not lost a game this season. Kugler and Morgrud starred for the victors, making ten and six points respectively. Whiteside scored four points, and the rest of the team also played especially well. For the visitors Miss Anderson did the scoring, but the whole team played well.

The line-ups and summaries of the two games follows:

Gym.		Y. M. E. A.
Pedrizetti	f	Anderson
Mason	f	H. Olson
Gogins	c	Brew
Shaw	g	J. Olson
Rosenberg	g	Burg
Christoferson	g

Summary: Goals—Anderson, 3; H. Olson, 2; Brew, 1; J. Olson, 2; Burg, 1; Pedrizetti, 6; Mason, 2; Gogins, 1; Shaw, 1; Rosenberg, 2. Free throws—Gogins, 2; Rosenberg, 1; Brew, 4.

Central Girls.		Two Harbors Girls.
Kugler (capt.)	f	(capt.) Sullivan
Morterud	f	Kernau
Morey	c	Anderson
Whiteside	g	Scott
Fisher, Henley	g	Daniels

Summary: Goals—Kugler, 3; Morterud, 3; Whiteside, 2. Free throws—Kugler, 4; Anderson, 3.

GREEN TEAM AT FORT WILLIAM

Many Semi-Professional Diamond Stars to Be Tried Out.

Denny Sullivan, last year an outfielder with Fargo, is to manage the Fort William team for next season. Reports from the head of the Canadian Lakes state that some of the experienced players will return, while a large number of young semi-professional candidates for the team will be tried out.

Because of the reduced salaries offered players of all of the teams of the Northern league, it is believed that there will be an unusual number of young players with little or no experience in organized baseball, trying for berths. Fort William, according to the information received from that city, has a raft of unknown players, from which Denny Sullivan hopes to develop some stars.

A promising prospect is Dwight Wertzl, who comes from Meadville, Pa., and who is reputed to be a very fast second baseman. He played last year with the Buffalo Federals. It is understood he is trying to get back into organized baseball.

William Weidell, a brother of Joe Weidell of last year's Fargo team, has also signed a contract to play. He has never played any league baseball, but has an enviable semi-pro record.

Claud Durham is a fast young catcher who hails from Eastern Missouri and comes highly recommended by several major league players.

Another good looking prospect is L. S. O'Donnell, an outfielder, who makes Kansas City, Mo., his home. He is highly recommended by Stengel, star outfielder for Brooklyn, and it was upon Stengel's recommendation that Sullivan signed him.

Jim Thomas of Pittsburg, Kan., is a young likely looking shortstop, and Sullivan secured him from Jack Holland of the St. Joseph team.

William Stevenson is reputed to be one of the fastest men in the outfield in the country. He was last year tried out with Connie Mack, but was not quite experienced enough for major league company. Stevenson started baseball with Carleton college, and was lead-off man in the batting list. He led off in seven consecutive games with a home run.

Another man who is expected to be a tower of strength to the Fort William team this season is Wines, who played with Racine in the Wisconsin-Illinois league in 1913. Through a mixup with the Racine management he refused to report to Racine and started out playing semi-pro. Wines has been a much coveted player by minor leagues all through the Middle West, and the local management feel fortunate in having secured him.

Besides the above mentioned list, there is a right hand pitcher named Griffin and Wells, a right hand pitcher, and Faris, a left hand pitcher, and four other pitchers whose contracts has been sent out and terms agreed upon.

It begins to look as if out of last year's squad, only Sutton, De Rose, Penfold and Hawkins will be retained, with a possibility of getting Lorenzen back. Chapman has been traded for Mike Sampson, last year's Grand Forks catcher, and it is possible that Thomas will be sold to a club in the Central league.

RISING RING STAR

JOHNNY GRIFFITHS.

Johnny Griffiths of Akron, Ohio, is touted by some of the followers of the boxing game as the most promising candidate for the lightweight crown. Griffiths recently made John Dundee appear foolish, and Dundee in turn but lately is accredited in some quarters with outpointing Joe Mandot. There the circle of comparative dope would strongly boost the young Ohio fighter. Griffiths is but a youngster, yet has exhibited all of the ring attributes of a real comer.

DULUTH HOCKEY LEAGUE PLANNING ANNUAL BANQUET

Season Will Be Brought to a Close By Social Session; Business Men May Be Made Directors of the League—New Rink Is Wanted.

Whether the weather will permit the playing out of the schedule of the Duluth Amateur Hockey league, is more or less a mooted matter for Brother Richardson to determine, but with the present season not over, the enthusiasts of the league are going right ahead with plans for next season.

There will be a banquet to wind up the season. At the present time three of the amateur league teams are practically tied for the leadership—the Big Duluths, Northerns and Universals. Should gummy ice and dripping heavens prevent the completion of the schedule, some plan will be devised for declaring the race a three-cornered tie.

It has been suggested that Messrs. Bagley, Williamson, Goodman and Annis, four prominent business men of the city, who have taken a deep and abiding interest in the affairs of the league, be made either officers or directors next season.

The success of the league has been so great this season that it is now practically assured that some determined move will be made before the rolling around of another year to provide an adequate rink for the playing of the league games.

Fast Hockey Played.

This season the schedule was delayed because of the refusal of the officers of the Western Curling club to go through with their part of an agreement entered into with the amateur league in regard to the construction of a hockey rink. Despite the fact that the home stars, the kids who have learned the game on the home rinks and are working zealously for the hockey future of Duluth, have been forced to play under rather discouraging conditions, the brand of hockey played this season in the league has been of the very best.

Winnipeg, London, Ont., a score of other Canadian cities, and a number of American cities are following the same plan as that fostered and buoyantly upheld by the hustling young men behind the Duluth Amateur Hockey league. New players are coming to the league each season; the league has passed the experimental stage and is now an assured success, a factor in the development of sports of Duluth. With increased prestige and the backing of a number of prominent business men, the time is not far distant when the amateur organization will be furnished with adequate facilities for even greater success than that achieved in the past.

NEW CHAMPION HAS FINE CUE RECORD

Mayer Unbeaten in National Amateur Billiard Tourney.

Philadelphia, March 13.—Joseph Mayer of Philadelphia last night won the amateur billiard championship of the United States, defeating J. F. Poggenburg, New York, in the final match of the fifteenth annual tournament of the National Association of Amateur Billiard Players. The score was 400 to 218.

Mayer had a run of 86 and averaged 16. Poggenburg's best effort was 37 and his average 8; 18-25. Mayor won all his matches, while the New Yorker takes second place in the standing with four victories to his credit and two defeats.

The local player also won the high run and high average prize, his run of 118, made in his match with Milburn, and average of 20 in his match with Heddon, being the best of the tournament.

A. E. Milburn of Memphis, defeated R. M. Lord, 400 to 230 in the afternoon game. Averages and high runs: Milburn, 7, 22-54, 29; Lord, 6, 2-53, 34.

By his victory Milburn tied Lord for fifth place in the final standing, each having won two and lost four games.

New York Three-Cushion Expert Gives Good Billiard Exhibition.

Chicago, March 13.—Fred Eames, Denver, defeated John Hahman, Minneapolis, 50 to 48, in ninety innings in the first game of yesterday's play in the world's three-cushion billiard championship. Eames had a high run of 5, Hahman, 7.

In defeating August Kleckhefer of Milwaukee, 50 to 46, last night, John Daly of New York city made a high run of 12, the record of the tournament.

Grand Forks Sustained.

Auburn, N. Y., March 13.—Secretary John J. Farrell of the National Association of Baseball Leagues, yesterday gave out the following decision of the board of arbitration involving players and clubs in minor baseball: Claims disallowed—L. Davis against Grand Forks.

BASKETBALL SEASON ENDS

Wrestling Now Holds Center of Sport Stage at University.

Track Prospects Slump; Baseball Practice; Miners Win Hockey Cup.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.) — The Big Nine basket ball schedule is ended. The two final games of the season were between Minnesota and Northwestern and Chicago and Illinois. This season while it has not been all the ardent Minnesotans might desire still has seen the building up and development of one of the best basket ball teams which has represented Minnesota in the past few years.

Dr. Cooke can not be given too much credit for his work in developing the team as well as he had this year. He has been hampered right along by various misfortunes which harass the life of coaches. At the beginning of the season he was forced to work with a squad composed of only about six or seven regulars. However, he has been on the job and has developed a team of which Minnesota is proud.

Last night was the last college basket ball game for five Minnesota players: Capt. George Pynn, Lawrence Lawrence Lawler, Ray Little, T. L. Croswell and J. L. Husby.

Call For Wrestlers.

A call for wrestlers for the all university wrestling meet which will be held in connection with the Northwestern gymnastic meet, March 20, was issued Wednesday by Coach Broshus. The competitors will be divided into five divisions: 125 lbs. and under, 135 lbs. and under, 145 lbs. and under, 158 lbs. and under, 175 lbs. and under. Among the men who have already entered are Madigan, Rosenthal, Mayer, Tanner, Haggdson, Anderson, Erickson, Burg and Colby. From the men who make the best showing in the meet will be chosen the team which will represent Minnesota in the Western Athletic association meet at Lincoln, Neb. April 10.

Tim Madigan, the best lightweight wrestler that the university has ever produced has a busy season before him. He has entered the all university wrestling tournament and is expected to win the championship with ease. The week following that on March 27, Madigan will go to Chicago on an invitation extended to him by the Central A. A. and will compete against the best lightweights of the middle West. If he wins first place in this division, the Minnesota mat wonder will be sent to San Francisco to wrestle during the exposition. There is little doubt that Madigan will make good at Chicago, for last year he not only won the Central A. A. but also the National A. A. championship, despite the fact that the men he met were heavier than he and of national fame in the wrestling world.

Track Prospects.

Minnesota track prospects received a slump Thursday when it became known that Herbert Griffin, track miler, was suffering from an acute attack of appendicitis. Griffin will not be able to compete in any athletic contest until next fall. Griffin is an "M" man, being a member of the cross country team, that won the Western conference title last fall. He has been training for the mile race ever since indoor track work began and he was regarded as one of the most reliable performers on the team. He has a record of 4:40. Griffin's absence will greatly lessen the chances of Minnesota sending the team to Philadelphia to compete in the Pennsylvania relay. Griffin was one of the men that Coach Frank relied on for the four-mile team. Two men, Edgen and Cross, will be groomed for Griffin's place.

In the second practice competition of the indoor track season Coach Leonard Frank's proteges won the booster meet at the National Guard Armory last Saturday night from a fast field of the amateur stars of state athletic associations, colleges and prep schools. Incidentally they garnered a fair share of medals and a record. Fred Watson, running from scratch in the two-mile race passed nine competitors who had handicaps ranging up to 100 yards within the first four laps of the race and set up a new record for the full twenty-four laps of 9:49 2-5. Skellet, a new freshman, finished second. The mile championship was contested between Carl Wallace and Lewish Hauser, the former winning on the last lap in 4:45 4-5. Bernie Bierman and Montgomery finished first and second in the one-fourth mile in the fast time of 56 seconds. The meet furnished plenty of competition for the varsity runners as well as for the freshmen and ineligibles, who were entered as unattached. While there is a great chance for development in the larger part of the material, there were a few instances of mid season form.

Baseball Practice.

With a prospect of outdoor practice before the spring holidays, and with the watchful eye of Coach Frosty Thomas ready to direct the play it seems probable that from now on baseball practice will be better attended than it has been during the past two weks. Lack of suitable facilities has been the main reason for the tardiness in starting, for with basket ball both varsity and intercollege, indoor football and gym, the floor is taken most of the time. As a consequence, only a few morning hours are available, and most candidates find it impossible to report at this time. Better arrangements will probably be made in the immediate future. Coach Thomas is working now at developing a good staff of pitchers, as he seems well satisfied with his prospects for the other positions. Besides the old men, Dipenbroch, Henry and Anderson, two new men give promise. Grawert, a righthanded twirler, who made quite a sensation on the freshman squad two years ago and Young, who has plenty of control and curves, seems to have a good chance of making the varsity.

Handsome jerseys in varsity colors have been awarded to the following men, the all-university handball champions for the past two years: Sam Aronson, miner, '16, winner of the 1912 singles; Aronson and Peterson, victorious in the doubles the same year; Aronson, winner of the singles again in 1914; M. L. Kahner, academic, '15, and A. C. Ott of Duluth, academic, '15, successful in the doubles last fall. Aronson is the only man who succeeded in gaining two jerseys in this sport.

Annual Track Meet.

The annual interscholastic track meet will be held on Northrop field on May 29. More comprehensive plans than ever are being made for the meet this year, and it will be even bigger than the one held last year. All the high schools and smaller colleges of this and the neighboring states are invited to enter the meet. This year they will be entered in two classes, so that those schools which have few facilities for athletic training will not have to compete against better equipped schools. Coach Frank has announced the following divisions: Class A, Twin City high schools, Shattuck military school, all schools of other states; Class B, all other Minnesota high schools. Class B schools may enter Class A if they so desire, but Class A schools can not change to Class B. Only men under 21 years of age and who have participated in athletic contests less than four years will be permitted to enter.

Engineers Best Swimmers.

The engineers were again overwhelmingly victors in the annual intercollegiate swimming meet, held Monday in the Armory pool. For the second year in succession they will have possession of the dean's cup, the intramural swimming trophy which was first presented last year. Nine events and a relay race were run off, and in seven of these the engineers won first place, besides six seconds and four thirds, registering in all 57 points. The aggies were next with 14 points; the academics and medics tied for third place with 6 points each, while the laws made 3 points. Curry of the engineers was the individual star of the meet, winning first place in three events and second in one. There were plenty of others that starred in the water, and the meet was the biggest in number of entries, events and records ever held between the colleges here.

Minnesota's first intramural hockey tournament closed Saturday afternoon and the Miners are now in possession of the campus trophy. The cup, which is a beautiful specimen of workmanship, is being engraved with the name of the miner puck artists and will be formally presented to Capt. Stickney and the team at an early date. The crucial game was played at the Hippodrome rink, the Miners defeating the Engineers by a score of 2 to 0. Capt. Stickney of the Miners, who is probably the best all-round college hockey star in the Northwest, played a wonderfully fast game of hockey at all stages, scoring both goals for his team.

The annual basket ball tournament of the Women's Athletic association will take place in the armory Saturday, March 27. The winning team will be awarded possession of the W. A. A. cup for one year. Besides the tournament games, there will be a parade of the teams and mascots, music by the university band, songs by the girls' glee club, a Russian dance, and the evening will be concluded by general dancing.

Minnesota rifle men suffered defeat at the hands of the West Virginia sharpshooters in the seventh intercollegiate match by a score of 972 to 942. The Gophers were severely crippled by the loss of Maj. E. Rollman, who has held state records for the last three years. The individual scores of the high five were as follows:

	Standing.	Prone.
Lieut. Countryman	95	98—193
Lieut. R. K. Smith	94	99—193
Capt. T. C. Carlson	92	94—186
Sergeant R. C. Lawrence	92	94—186
Maj. T. G. Methvyn	87	97—184
Total		942

The Gopher rifle team was victorious over California in the eighth weekly match, winning by a margin of 8 points, the score being 953 to 945. The individual scores were:

	Standing.	Prone.
Lieut. R. K. Smith	96	99—195
Col. H. T. Lambert	93	99—192
Capt. T. C. Carlson	95	95—190
Sergeant A. J. Carlson	91	98—189

Peoria Bowlers Have Alleys at Bowling Congress at Home Town.

Peoria, Ill., March 13.—Springfield and Peoria bowlers held the alleys at the American Bowling Congress tournament here last night. In the individuals, E. Dunne of Peoria was shifted from first to fourth place, when J. Dietz of Peoria rolled 595.

In the doubles Wyss and Dietz of Peoria went into first place with a score of 1,137, succeeding Minton and McClure of Peoria, who had held first up to last night with 1,069.

In the five-men event, Leisy, Jr., No. 2, of Peoria, still holds the lead with 2,496. The Woolners, Peoria, jumped into third place.

YOU SHOULD WORRY! GET YOUR CHANGE READY IT WILL BE YOUR TREAT.

GOING SOME!—the way the news is spreading about "Right-Cut," the Real Tobacco Chew.

Seems like every man who uses it is telling his friends about the small chew that really satisfies.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts out so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, cut fine and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary candied tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and licorice. Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

ALL SET FOR BIG TOURNEY

Crack Bowling Teams Will Start Rolling at Grand Alleys.

Firestone of the Columbias Hangs Up a Local Record.

The opening games of the Northern bowling tournament will be rolled this evening on the Grand alleys. The contests that are to inaugurate the big event will be in the five-man team events. The Centrals and Americans, two of the star teams of the Northwest, will roll in the games of this evening.

Firestone of the Columbia team may come near to setting an individual mark in the tournament. Last night this player rolled a total of 699 for three games as a member of a five-man team. His scores were 243, 268 and 189, an average of 233. Firestone had no errors, but had two splits, but picked them both up. This is the highest score ever rolled on the Grand alleys in a five-man event.

Star Pin Men Here.

Practically the very cream of the bowlers of the Northwest are here for the tournament. In the opening event teams that are classed with the best in the country will compete. There is but one local team entered, Grams' Colts. The Duluthians will encounter some hard going.

On Monday's card in both the five-man event and the two-man event there will be a large number of local teams rolling.

A large number of outside bowlers are in the city today. The opening of the tournament will be marked by some ceremony, if the scheduled program is followed out. Mayor Prince is down for a little welcome speech and is also supposed to roll the first ball.

Both Saturday and Sunday's schedule has been published in The Herald. For the convenience of outside pin men the schedule of tonight is given beelow also the schedule for Monday.

THE NEW MANAGER OF THE HIGHLANDERS

"WILD BILL" DONOVAN.

Clark Griffith, Hal Chase, Frank Chance and George Stallings tried to make a winner of the New York Americans. This season "Wild Bill" Donovan is going to essay the apparently insurmountable task. Where others have failed the former Detroit pitcher may succeed. With some new players and the combined efforts of several of the powers in the American league to the United States, it may transpire that Donovan will achieve unlooked for success.

EXPECT HARD CLASH.

Duluth and Superior High Schools in "Grudge" Contest.

All is in readiness on both sides of the bay for the big basket ball tilt between the Central high schools of Duluth and Superior. Being a grudge contest, it is looked forward to with much enthusiasm by the supporters of both institutions, and a record crowd is expected to fill the Superior gym, where the game will be played. The contest was postponed from last evening because the Superior gymnasium was used for another purpose.

Both teams are determined to win. The Superiorites have the advantage of playing on their own floor, and they have improved wonderfully since they were defeated at the local gym on Feb. 15 by a score of 32 to 7. Coaches Schneider of Superior and Glyer of Duluth express their confidence, and the contest should be a thriller.

The game, although originally scheduled for 8 o'clock, has been shifted to 7:30, and the Duluth rooters will leave Third avenue west at 6:45.

The lineup will be:

Duluth—		Superior—

Indianapolis		12,000
Buffalo	30,000
Pittsburg	38,000
Brooklyn	60,000
Baltimore		10,000
Totals	$218,000	$ 42,000
Deficit for league, $176,000.

Baseball wars are expensive. Figures obtained by a big Eastern daily prove that there has been a flattening of many a pocketbook since the magnates went into a clinch a year ago. The total losses of five leagues as compared with the season of 1913 amount to $1,256,000, and the net losses figure up $416,000. Eight clubs in the American and National leagues made money and three in the Federal. Three finished ahead in the American association and none in the International.

The net gain for the American league after the losses have been subtracted is $68,000, while the National league shows $210,000. The net loss for the Federal league was $176,000, while that of the American association was $90,000 and that of the International league close to $150,000. Three clubs alone in the International lost $106,000. The biggest loser in the American league was Cleveland, with $80,000, and the biggest winner was Boston, with $75,000. In the National league Pittsburg makes the worst exhibit, with a deficit of $30,000, while the Giants topped the heap with $120,000.

Brooklyn Heavy Loser.

Brooklyn was the financial tragedy in the Federal, with a loss of $60,000, while Chicago confesses to a gain of $20,000. In the International league Baltimore lost $43,000, and it is asserted that Indianapolis, in the American association, made an equally poor showing.

All Chicago teams made money. The White Sox made $70,000 and the Cubs $50,000, and, as recounted, the Federals showed a balance of $20,000. The Cubs paid a dividend of only 5 per cent, according to report, on its capital stock of $100,000, but the remainder was credited to the surplus account.

Conditions in Chicago were unusual. Up to June the White Sox were far ahead in attendance as compared to the season of 1913, which was the best the local club ever has had. Up to the same period the Cubs were far behind their former record. The Federals skimmed the cream off the attendance during the first six weeks of the season. The Chicago Federals had by all odds the best attendance in the league, but it had a fairly high salary list. The Brooklyn club topped them all in salaries and consequently in losses.

Robert Ward Hit Hard.

The loss credited to Brooklyn was only as it affected the ball team itself, and that was only a drop in the bucket. Robert B. Ward, president of the Brookfeds, was the financial backer of the league as a whole and is credited with having written his checks for $675,000 during the season. Of this amount $250,000 was charged to advertising for the firm of which Mr. Ward is the head. The rest of the money went into stands, including something like $250,000 for one of his own.

The expenditures of Mr. Ward set a high water mark in baseball, as it was paid out in one season. It helped to finance a number of clubs in the circuit, while it is claimed that Mr. Ward also bore the lion's share of legal expenses, which were comparatively low up to the present year, totaling less than $30,000.

It was the Boston Braves which saved the National league. Up to the time of the phenomenal spurt of Stallings' men the Boston club was in the hole $76,000, but from that time on it compared favorably with the well-known United States mint. New York and Chicago especially profited, and so did every other club.

Interest in Race Died.

In the American league it was the opposite. With the Athletics far in front, interest died out and the White Sox and Boston Red Sox were the only ones who held their own at all. Detroit did well with a profit of $30,000. The New York Yankees, with a cheap team, did not suffer as much as many believe, being only $20,000 to the bad at the finish.

The champion Athletics finished near the bottom of the financial ledger. They were credited with a loss of $22,000 for the season, but the $40,000 received in the world's series gave them a balance of $18,000. It did not even figure this much when the 25 per cent share of the American league is subtracted, but other items made up the amount. Washington and St. Louis had poor seasons and the renewal of contracts made it a loss instead of a profit, which otherwise would have been the case.

It was the "payroll" which did the damage with every team which showed a deficit and it materially cut down the profits of others. Thus, in this department, President Comiskey was liable for over $100,000 at the close of the season of 1914. This is likely to show an increase this season. The Cubs under contract last October stood the owners close to $95,000, and other clubs were in proportion. The New York Giants and the Boston teams were built up on the same high financial level, as practically every player was given a contract in the middle of the season.

CATHEDRAL TEAM IS THE WINNER

Cathedral defeated the Northland basket ball team of Ashland last evening on the Cathedral floor by the score of 16 to 12. In a preliminary game the Catholic Athletic club team won from the Cathedral second team by the score of 22 to 4.

The contest between the big teams was so close as to prove exciting and interesting every step of the journey. The score was tied at 8 points at the end of the first half. In the final three minutes of play the Cathedrals spurted and managed to gain a lead that was held until the final whistle brought the play to an end.

The lineup and summary of the two games:

C. A. C.—		Second Team—
Tobin	f.	Fitzpatrick
Currie	f.	Tiering
Paul	c.	McKinnon
F. Dougherty	g.	Donalds, Lee
W. Dougherty	g.	Tobin

Goals—McKinnon, 1; Lee, 1; Currie, 3; Paul, 5; F. Dougherty, 1; W. Dougherty, 2.

Northland—		Cathedral High—
Warfield	f.	Monoghan
Hanson	f.	McNamara
Gale	c.	Hart
Gimmie	g.	Cole
Moore	g.	Nicholson

Goals—Monoghan, 2; McNamara, 1; Hart, 1; Cole, 1; Nicholson, 2; Warfield, 2; Gimmie, 2. Free throws—Monoghan, 2; Warfield, 1.

STAR LOST TO DULUTH

Harry Blume has lost the star catcher he has been assiduously angling for during the last month. Word has been received that Leslie Hayes, star backstop of the Green Bay team, has refused to play in Duluth and has been finally disposed of to the Little Rock team.

This leaves the White Sox without a catcher at this particular season of the year. Edmunds has cast his commercial and baseball future with Hibbing, and it is understood that Bert Sweeley, the Paw Paw college alumnus, will not be here the coming season.

Boley, the Winnipeg pitcher, wants to come here, as well as several other of the players of the Maroon team of last season. Just why Horace C. Webb, the budding magnate of the Western Canadian metropolis, is not keenly pursuing these players, is not quite clear. It is claimed that the members of last year's Winnipeg team are free agents.

Darby O'Brien and Owner Blume will have to do some real hustling to dig up a backstop to fill the large place made vacant by the retirement of Jerry Edmunds to the iron range country.

FED TEAM WILL GO TO NEWARK.

New York, March 13.—After a meeting of the members of the Federal league here yesterday, President James A. Gilmore made an announcement which stated positively that Newark, N. J., will be in the circuit this season.

Mr. Gilmore also said that the magnates had discussed the advisability of taking reprisal measures against organized baseball for inducing seven players under contract to the Federal league to jump back. It was voted that no action be taken until Judge Landis' decision in the Federal league case against the organized leagues is handed down.

LOCAL CLUBS IN BIG SHOOT

Central and the Northwestern Marksmen in Gilbert Event.

Members of the Central Gun club are shooting today for the Fred Gilbert trophy. It was decided late yesterday that the competitors would be handicapped, the handicaps running from 16 to 21 yards, based upon the marks hung up last season.

The competition is being held on the grounds of the Northwestern Gun club. The competition is something on the order of the Tom Morris golf trophy, various clubs shooting and the highest marks determining the winner. The members of the Northwestern Gun club team will shoot tomorrow.

In Honor of Fred Gilbert.

The event is a sort of honor for Fred Gilbert, the great shot, just as the Morris play is in honor of the once great golfer.

A conservative estimate shows there are at least 500,000 trapshooters in the country and it is safe to say that the history and records of Fred Gilbert, the greatest trapshot who ever entered the game, are familiar to all. Twenty years ago, in October, 1895, to be exact, Fred Gilbert, a product of the prairies around Spirit Lake, Iowa, and entirely unknown and unheard of outside his own precinct, made his debut in the shooting game at Baltimore, Md., and in the contest for the world's championship he vanquished a field of the best shots ever gathered together, and instantly ascended the ladder leading to the topmost niche in the hall of trapshooting fame, from which, it is conceded by all, he has never been removed, as, in all the years that have passed, his equal has not been produced, and very likely never will be.

CURLING

On wet and sticky ice a few determined and enthusiastic curlers last evening played in the "Blaze o' Glory" events. John Oldham should have named that event "Lake of Flood" contest. It's a great life, but curlers you must be brave.

Scanning the following closely you will see the real advocates of the game. Some day a monument may be erected to their memory:

A. Hoene, 11; A. J. Butchart, 9.
Bert Magie, 13; Dr. Gillespie, 10.
E. E. Burns, 11; Ray Coson, 8.

THE HERALD'S PARCEL POST SERVICE

Directions for Ordering and Shipping by Parcel Post:

¶ Any article advertised here is mailable to any part of the United States, if not over 20 pounds in weight nor more than 72 inches in length and girth combined. Parcels of 50 pounds can be sent through local, first and second zones (second zone limit 150 miles). If the article you order is very valuable it may be insured or accorded special delivery service on payment of the usual fees.. Such valuable articles will be insured upon request against loss.

¶ When ordering shoes, rings, hats, dresses, waists, coat suits or anything that requires a perfect fit, be careful and give your correct size. Duluth firms will be very careful to give you just the size you order.

¶ When ordering dress goods, silks, colored goods or any article where a particular color is wanted be certain and specify the exact shade, and merchants will see that you get what you order.

¶ By conforming to these simple rules your orders will be sent out the same day received and in many cases will be delivered by the postman direct to your home the following day.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST

FARGO BOY'S FATAL ERROR

Takes Corrosive Sublimate Tablets By Mistake and Cannot Live.

Conscious of Fate, Youth Slowly Awaits End in Jamestown Hospital.

Fargo, N. D., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Slowly dying from having taken corrosive sublimate tablets by mistake, Chester Cline, a Fargo boy, is spending his last hours in a hospital at Jamestown, calmly and philosophically awaiting the end.

He was at Jamestown and, feeling slightly indisposed, thought he was taking some medicinal tablets when he unfortunately made the fatal error.

Like All Other Cases.

His experiences are like all others who have made a similar error. Physicians say that his liver has entirely dried up and his death is only a question of a brief period. He is entirely conscious and discusses his certain death with his relatives from Fargo, who have been with him for the last few days.

CUT GIANT PINE TREE SCALING 6,543 FEET.

Manistique, Mich., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—William Gardner, scaler for George Roberts, reports that they have cut a pine tree which scaled 6,543 feet. The butt log alone scaled 1,849 feet. Six logs were procured from the tree. According to lumbermen, this tree was the largest pine tree cut in that part of the country.

RED JACKET WOULD HAVE LESS SALOONS

If Proposed State Law Is Enacted Number Will Be Cut Materially.

Calumet, Mich., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—If the Jerome bill passes the Michigan legislature, putting into immediate effect the clause of the liquor bill which provides that there shall be but one saloon for each 500 people in a town or township, Red Jacket's number of saloons will be cut from 45 to 8 and taxes will be doubled.

Half the town's expenses at the present time, including money being raised to pay a bonded indebtedness of $200,000, is secured through liquor licenses. The town council has protested, by resolutions, to the state legislature against the passage of the bill.

With a population of 4,000 people, Red Jacket is the business center of the district known as Calumet, which has a population of more than 40,000. In the township saloons are not permitted on mining company property; so the residents of the township depend, for the most part, on the saloons in Red Jacket and Laurium villages.

UNDERBIDS OUTSIDERS.

North Dakotan Concern Successfully Competes With Eastern Houses.

Devils Lake, N. D., March 13.—E. W. Gilbertson of this city was awarded the contract for furnishing furniture and supplies for the Fort Totten Indian school. Bids were called for and a half dozen or more eastern houses submitted proposals.

The bid submitted by Mr. Gilbertson was $137 lower than the bid of Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Chicago, $159 lower than Beaton & Lazier of Omaha, $234.95 lower than Orchard & Wilhelm of Omaha, and considerably lower than Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago.

RAILROADS SCORED.

Speaker at North Dakota Grain Meeting Criticizes Cars Furnished.

Minot, N. D., March 13.—Demanding better cars for the grain trade in North Dakota, James A. Axtell of Hurdsfield, N. D., addressing the North Dakota Grain Dealers' association in convention here stated that the railroads in North Dakota were unfair to small grain dealers in refusing to cooper cars for the hauling of grain, that they discriminated in favor of the big terminals and that grain men and farmers of the state should unite to have proper legislation enacted at Bismarck.

CAUGHT BY MACHINERY.

Grand Forks Man Nearly Killed at Gilby, N. D.

Grand Forks, N. D., March 13.—E. W. Eaton of this city was nearly killed at Gilby, Wednesday, when his clothing caught in the flywheel of a well-drilling machine, and he was whirled about by the machine. He is at his home here in a dangerous condition.

WINS BY ONE VOTE.

Steele County, N. D., Sheriff Contest Favorable to Grimson.

Hope, N. D., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Sheriff Grimson of Steele county, was declared by the court to be entitled to election by one vote. At the time of the election, last fall, he was issued a certificate of election by a small majority, but T. M. Major, the opposing candidate, brought a contest. There were thirty disputed votes in nineteen precincts. After the recount in which the officials were observed by half a dozen attorneys and the court, it developed that Grimson had won by just one vote. It is not thought any appeal to the supreme court will be taken.

INDIAN LAWYER WINS BIG N. Y. LAWSUIT.

Depere, Wis., March 13.—Dennison Wheelock, noted Oneida Indian attorney of this city, has returned from Albany, N. Y., where he argued a claim of the Stockbridge Indians of Shawano county before a New York state claims court. After the argument the court allowed the claim, which amounted to nearly $40,000. It was for land owned by the Indians and sold by the state of New York. Mr. Wheelock also held that interest for sixty-six years should be allowed. This would amount to more than $125,000. The court has not ruled on this part of the claim.

BIG ROAD JOB IN KEEWENAW COUNTY.

Calumet, Mich., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Keweenaw county this spring will begin work on the construction of several miles of what is to be the northern terminal of the great highway which is projected to bisect the state, its full length, from north to south. SICK CHILDREN LOVE CASCARETS FOR THE BOWELS

Give "Candy Cathartic" for a Bad Cold, Sour Stomach, Constipation.

Get a 10-cent box now.

Most of the ills of childhood are caused by a sour, disordered stomach, sluggish liver and constipated bowels. They catch cold easily, become cross, listless, irritable, feverish, restless, tongue coated, don't eat or sleep well and need a gentle cleansing of the bowels—but don't try to force a nauseating dose of oil into the little one's already sick stomach—it is cruel, needless and old-fashioned.

Any child will gladly take Cascarets Candy Cathartic which act gently—never gripe or produce the slightest uneasiness—though cleanse the little one's system, sweeten the stomach and put the liver and bowels in a pure, healthy condition.

Full directions for children and grown-ups in each package.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this gentle, thorough laxative which costs only 10 cents a box at any drug store.

BULLS STILL IN CONTROL

Market Strong on Good Export Inquiry, But Eases at Close.

Flaxseed Has Big Bulge With Urgent Buying By Crushers.

Duluth Board of Trade, March 13.—Wheat showed strength in today's market as a result of firm Liverpool cables and export inquiry. After scoring gains of around 1c, prices eased off at the close on realizing sales, traders hesitating to stand upon their deals over the holiday in view of possible developments in the interval.

May wheat opened ⅛c up at $1.49½ and closed on that basis bid. July opened ½c up at $1.45 and closed unchanged from Friday at $1.49½ asked. September was quoted at the close at $1.11¼ bid.

There was a good demand for durum, and it held relatively stronger than spring wheat. May durum opened unchanged at $1.52½ and closed ½c up at $1.53 asked. July closed ½c up at $1.50½ nominally.

Coarse grains were also strong under the impetus of a good spurt in buying. Sales aggregating 1,000,000 bu of oats for export were reported on the Duluth market during the last two days, and there was inquiry for more that could not be supplied on account of light stocks in the houses here. They closed 1⅛c up at 57½c for on the track. Rye closed 4c up at $1.12@1.13, and barley unchanged at from 67c to 78c.

At Winnipeg, May oats closed 1@1⅛c up at 65⅛@65¼c bid, and July 1⅛c up at 65½c.

Big Flaxseed Upturn.

Flaxseed was the big noise in today's market. There was urgent buying of it from crushers at the start, and it was advanced in big jumps at stages. The impelling bullish factors were the light stocks in sight, predictions of an enormous reduced acreage of it under crop in the Northwest this season, and delayed shipments of supplies bought in Argentina by crushers. All the indications have been for a sharp advance in the market of late, and it came today. The seed today sold up 6½c well over the $2-mark and the highest figures in more than two years were recorded.

May flax opened ¾c up at $1.96¼, and closed 6½c up in the day at $2.02 bid. July opened 1c up at $1.98, and closed 6½c up at $2.03⅛ bid. September opened ⅞c up at $1.96, and closed 6¾c up at $2.02½.

At Winnipeg, May flax closed 6⅞c up at $1.82 asked, and July 6c up at $1.83⅛ bid.

MARKET GOSSIP.

A petition addressed to the chairman of the senate committee of the civil administration at St. Paul, asking that the present efficiency and economy bill be amended so as to leave the grain inspection department under the supervision of the railroad and warehouse committee, was largely signed by members of the Duluth Board of Trade this morning.

Trade in oats has been active on the Duluth Board of Trade of late. It is estimated that at least 1,000,000 bu has been quietly picked up during the last two days for export and inquiry for more is reported. Oats supplies are now cleaned up here.

Minneapolis cash market was firm with good demand. No. 1 northern blue stem sold at 5@6c over May, and velvet chaff at 3c over May for heavy wheat. Flour sales were moderate, cash No. 1 northern wheat sold there at from $1.49½ to $1.53 and No. 2 northern at from $1.46 to $1.50½.

Todd W. Lewis wired from Minneapolis: "The flour business is very dull, it is reported the mills have concluded to close down two full days in a week. Most of them are running half to a third of their capacity and largely on old orders. New business is small. In spite of this bearish feature, the wheat market continues remarkably strong largely on continued foreign purchases, and any revival of the domestic demand will be followed by a sharp upturn in prices. It is expected before the season is out, many spring wheat mills be forced to close down on account of the lack of supplies."

W. C. Mitchell, William Grettum, H. J. Atwood and Bernard V. Loosemore of the Duluth board of trade returned today from Minot, N. D., where they attended a convention of the North Dakota Grain Dealers' association. The three days was largely attended and the delegates were generally enthusiastic over the crop outlook in so far as soil conditions are concerned. It is regarded as assured that the acreage placed under crop this spring will exceed all previous records.

"In the district between Leeds and Minot we noticed on our way home that the farmers were disking and the dust was flying in the fields," said William Grettum. "Between Larimore and Devils Lake and over other sections of the country there was a good snow covering."

CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Prices Harden on Prospect of Liberal Decrease in Supply.

Chicago, March 13.—Wheat hardened in price today, helped by the prospect of a liberal decrease in the visible supply total on Monday. Higher quotations at Liverpool tended also to lift the market here. Selling orders, however, came into play on the bulges. After opening ⅛c off to ¾c up, prices steadied slightly above last night's level all around.

Afterward the market made a decided upturn as a result of Paris dispatches to the effect that reports of progress in opening the Dardanelles had been seriously over-estimated. The close, however, was weak at a range varying from ⅞c decline to ⅝c advance compared with last night.

Corn traders took their cue from the firmness of other grain. Pit speculators did most of the business. The opening, which ranged from a shade declined to ⅛c advance, was followed by a moderate general gain.

The market later continued to climb with wheat until just before the final bell. Closing prices were unsettled at ⅜@1c net advance.

Oats were in active demand, owing to big estimates of recent export sales. Country offerings were a little larger, but still light.

Higher prices for hogs steadied provisions. The bears were also made cautious by the outlook for bigger figures on exports Monday, especially lard.

ACTIVE TRADING IN MINING STOCKS

Good trading for a Saturday session appeared in mining stocks at Boston today. Prices were firmly held through the list. Butte & Superior was a feature in the day's operations. It closed 50 cents up at $46.25. Alaska Gold closed unchanged at $31.63; Calumet & Arizona unchanged at $53.50; Greene-Cananea unchanged at $26.50; Mohawk 63 cents up at $57.25; North Butte a shade off at $24.75, and Shattuck unchanged at $21.25.

At New York, Amalgamated Copper closed 50 cents up at $64.50, and Anaconda 25 cents off at $26.12.

In the Boston curb list, as reported to Paine, Webber & Co., Calumet & Corbin sold at 14 cents; United Verde Extension at $3.18@3.25; Jumbo Extension at $1; Calaveras at $1.25; Stewart at $1.87; Davis-Daly at $7@92 cents; New Baltic at $1.50, and Butte & London at 21 cents.

Mining operations have been resumed at the Butte-Ballaklava property, the repairs to the shaft having been completed, thus making regular production possible again. The outlook for the company's mine is thought promising, as indicated by the gratifying result of mineral development on the 1600, and various levels above that depth. The annual meeting of the Butte-Ballaklava Copper company will be held on March 29, and matters of importance as affecting future development will, it is expected, be taken up.

* * *

Referring to the situation in mining stocks, Skillings' Mining and Market Letter of today says: "The mining stock market has been featured by specialties during the past week, but perhaps the most noteworthy and important feature has been the marked underlying strength. This has been especially noticeable in the copper division, where issues have been dull but strong. A dull but strong tone often presages a genral advance, and success of the New York state bond sale may be accepted as another bull factor in the stock market, in a reflex way. A moderate betterment has of late characterized all dealings. The zinc stocks are at present the feature on account of the high price of spelter. The coppers present excellent investment and speculative possibilities at present levels. North Butte, Calumet & Arizona and Shattuck present fine investment opportunities."

DULLNESS IN STOCKS

Trading Narrow Throughout the Day's Brief Session.

Increasing Lack of Outside Interest Reported By Brokers.

New York, March 13.—Trading was exceedingly dull and narrow throughout the day's brief market session, the undertone reflecting an uncertain tendency. Attendance of brokers on the floor was far below the average and commission houses reported an increasing lack of outside interest. Initial prices were mostly lower, the automobile shares adding to yesterday's losses, with heaviness in other specialties. Speculative leaders were inclined to droop at the outset, but made full recovery later on covering by the short interest.

Bonds shaded, with free offerings of Baltimore & Ohio convertibles 4s and St. Paul convertibles 5s. The closing was irregular.

TRADE REVIEW

New York, March 13.—Bradstreet's says:

"Poor roads, unsettled weather or small lot buying in larger lines are probably responsible for the feeling of disappointment visible in many markets. These features contrast with increased operations in heavy manufacturing, diminished idleness, activity in shipbuilding, a slight improvement in spring retail trade at some centers, some expansion in mail-order business, excellent winter wheat crop conditions, heavy investment demand for bonds, a slightly more cheerful stock market tone and irregular betterment in collections. The tendency to buy often and in small lots indicates conservatism and it is likely that buying at and near industrial centers will be restricted until the effects of increased employment are reflected in a substantial improvement in demand. There are some evidences of betterment in demand for lumber; textile mills are taking raw cotton more freely. Silk factories in some centers are working full time; ammunition concerns are rushed; automobile manufacturers are doing better than anticipated.

"On the other hand, coal mining is retarded—short time in anthracite regions is the rule, and building, though showing signs of improvement, is quiet.

"Bank clearings for the week aggregate $2,869,772,000, a loss of 19 per cent from last week and 11.9 from the corresponding week last year.

"Business failures for the week number 386, compared with 274 in the like week last year."

TWO COURTS CAN'T AGREE

Disagreement of Minnesota and Illinois Courts Delays Settlement.

Whether Mrs. Edna Snyder of Minneapolis is entitled to possession of her foster's parents' property by virtue of a contract purported to have been entered into between her father, George W. Whiteside, and James F. and Mary Murphy, when she was a girl of 6, is a question on which the courts of Minnesota and Illinois disagree.

A. T. Rock and John Brown, attorneys for Frank Horgan, executor of the estate of James F. Murphy, today received word from Springfield, Ill., that a demurrer had been sustained to an action started in the state chancery court at Springfield to enforce specific performance of the alleged contract. The same court a few months ago sustained a demurrer, but gave Andrew Nelson of this city, attorney for Mrs. Snyder, an opportunity to file an amended complaint. To this the attorneys for the estate again demurred. This time the demurrer was sustained without leave to amend, which closes the incident so far as the Illinois trial court is concerned, and Mrs. Snyder gets nothing there. The action, however, is appealable.

James E. Murphy died in Duluth in September, 1913, leaving personal property here worth $3,500 and real estate at Springfield valued at $10,000. A will which was filed for probate here gave Mrs. Snyder only $100, which she refused to take. Proceedings were instituted in the probate court to set the will aside and to have the property turned over to Mrs. Snyder under the contract, which her father had entered into with the Murphys when she was a child. Judge Gilpin decided the case in Mrs. Snyder's favor.

An appeal from the action of the probate court was taken and the attorneys for the executor filed a motion for dismissal on the grounds that the court had no jurisdiction to pass upon the enforcement of contracts. Judge Fesler now has the motion under advisement.

The heirs in the case are Mrs. Descoteaux, a sister residing in Detroit, and Frank Murphy, a brother, residing at Ashland, Wis. It was not known that the latter was living until after the hearing, which was held in probate court last fall. Mrs. Descoteaux testified that she had not heard from her brother, Frank, for twenty-two years. Murphy, at Ashland, read an account of the court proceeding in The Herald and came to Duluth. He missed connections with his sister by a few hours. She returned to Detroit the same day that he arrived here.

LEISURE TIME.

T. S. Settle Will Present Report on Duluth's Recreations.

How do Duluthians spend their leisure hours?

This is a question that T. S. Settle, field secretary for the Playground and Recreation Association of America, who is here outlining an all-year recreation system for Duluth, will endeavor to answer in a special report he is preparing in addition to the playground program.

Mr. Settle said this morning that he is making a survey of Duluth and that his special report will show just how many hours Duluthians spend at church, what percent of their time goes to watching "movies" and how many hours a day they waste entirely.

A draft of the outline has been submitted by Mr. Settle to the members of the executive committee and it is expected that the all-year program, with the budget, will be announced sometime next week.

Last night Mr. Settle spoke to the members of the Park Point Improvement club and next Monday evening he will deliver an address on playgrounds and recreational work at the Memorial hall in the courthouse. This meeting is in charge of the social workers of Duluth and is to be open to the public.

WILL FIGHT FOR HOSPITAL

Action of Public Affairs Committee Not to Stop Campaign.

The action of the public affairs committee in postponing action on the plan for a city and county hospital does not mean that the proposition is lost. The women of Duluth are now more determined than ever that a hospital be built, but will wait until after the county division bill has been voted upon. A hospital will be secured even though it takes years of work and a house-to-house canvass in arousing public sentiment, they say.

Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge, chairman of the committee, and Mrs. Agnes L. Atwood, a member of the committee, both expressed the determination of the committee to continue to fight.

Mrs. Atwood said:

"The action of the public affairs committee is a disappointment, of course. However, our civic responsibility toward the indigent sick does not rest there.

"It would have been well if enough men of affairs had taken the matter up and pushed some sort of an enabling act through at this time, leaving the general plan and details to be thrashed out later; but as long as that has been thwarted, I presume the only thing for those interested to do is to keep working on public sentiment, if it takes a house-to-house canvass and years to do it.

"The need of a public hospital in any city of this size is so obvious, and the principles so fundamental, that every unselfish thinking person should lend a voice in the matter, and they will in time.

"Educating the public at large is a slow process but a sure one."

Mrs. W. S. Woodbridge said:

"We have not given up the idea of securing a county hospital, and we intend to continue our work even if we have to wait two years—when another legislature comes in. At present we cannot do anything definite because of the pending bill for county division. When this matter is disposed of, we shall know where we stand.

"I feel that the public affairs committee of the Commercial club did right in deciding that no action should be taken at present, but that does not mean that the matter should be dropped permanently. We were not asking, however, that money should be raised now, but simply for an enabling act."

POLICE RAIDS ARE CONTINUED

Police continued their campaign against disorderly rooming houses last night, raiding two places and arresting a man and five women. All but two were found guilty or entered pleas of guilty in municipal court this morning.

Sergeant John Roberg arrested Fanny Clayton, aged 41, a cook, and Grance Vance, age 24, domestic, early in the evening at 216 South First avenue east. The Clayton woman pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay $75 fine or serve sixty days. The Vance woman pleaded not guilty and will be given a hearing March 15.

Five minutes after the first arrest Detective Herman Toewe, with Sergeant Roberg, raided a house several doors away, at 232 First avenue east, and arrested Jack Karpl, age 27, a laborer, and Stacy Williams, age 37. The Williams woman was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 and costs or serve sixty days. Karpl was fined $15 and costs or fifteen days.

Lena Makl, age 31, married, later was arrested at 216 South First avenue east by Detective J. L. Bradley. She pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $75 or serve sixty days. Belle Woodard, colored, age 25, was arrested at the same place this morning by Capt. A. G. Fiskett, but was released after an examination.

Two Wives Given Freedom.

Judge Fesler, in district court today, granted a divorce decree to Jennie Boucher, 49, from Adolph Boucher, 55, on the ground of desertion. They were married June 13, 1886, and lived together until Aug. 29, 1913, when Boucher deserted, she claimed. The court permitted her to resume her maiden name, that of Jennie De Marse.

Divorce judgment was also entered today in favor of Minnie Kurth, 27, and against Rudolph Kurth, 37. The suit was brought by Mrs. Kurth on a charge of cruelty. They were married Aug. 29, 1906, at Iron River, Wis., and are parents of one child, George, aged 7, the custody of whom was awarded to the mother. Kurth, who is employed as a setter in a mill at Deer River, Minn., was ordered by the court to pay $5 a week for the support of the child.

Operetta at Cloquet.

Cloquet, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The children of the grades of the different schools, Friday gave the operetta, "The Golden Sickle" in the afternoon and in the evening. The theater was packed at both performances. The matinee being especially for children, about 600 attended. In the evening the house was packed with the older people.

HAS THE NORTH BUTTE TAKEN OPTION ON BUTTE-DULUTH?

High Grade Ore Discovered Since Anaconda Dropped Its Option.

Much Interest Taken in the Lease of the Emma Mine.

Butte, Mont., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—There is much speculation among mining men in Butte as to the reason for the forfeiture of the option on the Butte-Duluth Mining company, held by the Anaconda company, which expired March 1. There is also interest in the announcement that a new option for sixty days has been given to other interests, whose identity has not been disclosed. The Butte-Duluth, at a recent stockholders' meeting, elected to the board of directors John W. Neukom of Duluth, representing the Colton and Cole interests in the North Butte and allied concerns, which fact is taken by many people here as indicating that the Cole people may have taken the new option, although Mr. Neukom stated that his election had no such significance. The North Butte owns nearly 2,000 acres of mineral ground surrounding the property of the Butte-Duluth. Among the properties secured for the North Butte were supposed to be the Amazon-Butte and Ida-Montana companies, although they have not yet been turned in. The Ida-Montana owns a large and partly developed property directly east of the Butte-Duluth and adjoining the latter. The Ida-Montana is owned chiefly by Minnesota people, and the Amazon-Butte, the property of which adjoins that of the Butte-Duluth on the southwest, was owned principally in Butte. The agents of the North Butte have long been trying to get control of the small property of the Butte Mines Exploration company, situated within the east side holdings of the North Butte, but so far have not been able to induce the majority holders of Exploration stock to sell.

High Grade Ore Uncovered.

It is understood that the examinations made of the Butte-Duluth mine and plant by the Anaconda experts were satisfactory as to ore deposits found and mill results, but it is said that the price that the Butte-Duluth was to get was not satisfactory, and after negotiations for a reduction of the price had failed and had been turned down by Capt. Wolvin the option was forfeited. Since the Anaconda company dropped the deal, the Butte-Duluth has uncovered some of the highest grade ore ever found in the property, assaying 3 to 5 per cent copper, and was found in a wide trench dug in the bottom of the pit where the Anaconda diamond drill explorations found ore assaying less than 2 per cent. The experts had been told that diamond drilling would not give the ground a fair test, because of the broken condition of the ore deposit. The Butte-Duluth made a record-breaking run during February, the estimated production being about 180,000 pounds of copper. Of that 120,000 pounds were electrolytic and 30,000 copper cement. The total tonnage handled was 7,800 tons, an average of nearly 300 tons per day. The entire expense of operation, including overhead charges and a large amount of development work, averaged about $1.90 per ton, or slightly less than 10 cents per pound for the copper produced, leaving a net profit on the copper production for February of about 4 cents per pound.

During March, Supt. Sherwood expects to make a still better showing, and with a greatly increased output. The new steam shovel is now working and is already proved its value and usefulness. It has handled as high as eighty-four tons of ore per hour, and is expected to reach a capacity of 120 tons an hour, or two tons per minute. This will enable the company to mine close to 1,000 tons of ore per day, which will bring the new plant up to its capacity. At present the steam shovel is working on a new level, forty feet below the bottom of the old pit. The Butte-Duluth employs only fifty-five men, and the steam shovel does the work formerly done by fifteen men. The actual saving in costs is 18.96 cents per ton. A new Dorr thickener, a large circular tank twenty-eight feet in diameter and two feet deep, has been put in operation, and is a big improvement over the old one, having many points of advantage. The continuous decantation system of seven huge tanks for the purpose of washing the slimes is now in successful operation. In opening the new level for the steam shovel a face of forty feet of splendid ore has been opened, and in one place some very rich copper glance has been discovered. At the annual meeting of the company the time for the conversion of the bonds for stock was extended for two years.

American Zinc Company.

There seems to have been some misunderstanding in the minds of some as to the identity of the American Zinc company, which has taken a fifty-year lease and option on the Emma mine and stock control of the Butte Copper & Zinc company, some persons believing that it is the American Zinc, Lead & Smelting company, which is not true, of course. The American Zinc company is a new organization, capitalized by the same interests in New York which own the Butte Copper & Zinc company. Nothing has yet been done under the lease and option, but stockholders of the Butte Copper & Zinc company are anxiously and confidently awaiting developments. There is no doubt about the value of the Emma mine as a zinc property, for several examinations and reports have been made on it, one by the late George Robinson, for years mining expert for F. A. Heinze.

Barnes-King.

At the annual meeting of the Barnes-King Development company, C. W. Goodale, A. J. Davis, C. C. Swinborne, T. A. Marlow, F. L. Melcher, C. R. Leonard, I. A. Hellbronner, J. E. Corrette, J. E. Oppenheimer and R. C. Monahan of Butte were elected directors. They are all well known Montana mining men and bankers. The report for February, $42,000, was receleanup for February, $42,000, was reported to the meeting. The annual report, previously issued, makes a fine showing. During a period of two years and 10 months the company received a total of $825,265 from interest on miscellaneous sources. At the beginning of the same period there was $20,655 cash in the treasury of the company, and there was paid out $150,000 for the North Moccasin property, from which all the bullion profits have been derived, and $50,942 was expended on the North Moccasin mill, for improvements and additions. The cost of mining and milling at that property during the two years and five months was $459,463. This made the total expenditure there, including the purchase price of the property, $660,395.

At the Piegan-Gloster property in the Marysville district, the company has done a lot of work and has paid $114,824 for the property, $75,506 for improvements, including mill equipment, and $49,866 for development work in the mine, making the total amount expended at the Piegan-Gloster $240,206. There was paid out in litigation in the old Heinze fight, $43,450, for examinations of new properties $10,185, and other items sufficient to bring the total up to $960,882 as against $1,115,3330 in receipts, leaving a balance to the credit of the company of $164,448 on Dec. 31, 1914, of which $69,799 was in cash in banks, $39,834 in bullion in transit and $54,765 in New York city bonds.

In his report President Goodale says: "When the Piegan-Gloster is placed on a producing basis it is expected that the company can begin paying dividends, but the directors believe that a good, substantial amount should be kept in the treasury so that if other good properties are recommended by our engineers, funds will be available for their purchase and development."

During 1914 the receipts from bullion amounted to $42,962. The company started the new year with every bit of indebtedness paid, its properties clear and well developed and a good cash balance in the treasury. Supt. McGee says there were no discoveries of new ore bodies last year, but the old ones were developed and picked up at greater depth. "It is impossible to make a reasonable estimate of the amount of ore in sight, due to the great irregularity of the ore shoots and the consequent difficulty of showing four sides at once, but the general appearance of the mine and indications for a continuance of the ore bodies are quite as good, if not better, than a year ago."

The Barnes-King directors place great hope and expectations on the Piegan-Gloster, in which the ore deposits are within well defined veins, and it is therefore possible to make a fairly accurate estimate of what the property can produce. The company had an option on some property in Arizona but its engineers reported adversely on it, and now has an option on another Montana property which seems to promise well.

ORE LOADED FOR SHIPPING

Wilcox Mine Has Sixteen Cars of Ore on the Tracks.

Adams Mine in Position to Enter the Shipping Lists.

Brainerd, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—On Wednesday the Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore company had sixteen cars of ore on the Northern Pacific railway tracks ready to ship to Superior, Wis., ore docks, the first ore to be mined and shipped this season on the Cuyuna iron range. The ore averaged about 58 per cent. R. W. Seelye of the company is well pleased with the showing made. Work on shaft sinking started last year and every foot gained in the shaft was retained. The pumps at present are handling 1,200 gallons a minute. By May the mines will be hoisting 750 or more tons a day.

The Cuyuna-Duluth and Cuyuna-Mille Lacs mines are expected to open up shortly. Both are subsidiaries of the American Manganese Mining company. The Cuyuna-Mille Laos is said to be rich in manganiferous ores and the war in Europe having checked shipment of such ores, it is claimed the Cuyuna iron range will become one of the chief sources of supply for Ferromanganese is rapidly reaching record prices.

Adams Ready to Ship.

The Adams mine at Oreland, three miles southwest of Deerwood, is in a position to enter the shipping lists should the ore market offer satisfactory inducements. The mine is one of the best on the range, well equipped with modern machinery. Some ore was hoisted and stockpiled last year, but none, so far, has been shipped. The Adams interests have a drill operating near the mine.

Ben A. Mizen of Crosby, who has returned from a trip to Pittsburg and Cleveland, has drills working in section 3, township 46, range 29. In the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 3, township 46, range 29, the newly organized Great Northern Exploration company, in which many Duluth and Superior people are interested, is drilling and the first hole revealed ore at sixty-five feet depth. At present the drill is down about 280 feet in ore. G. H. Wyman of Minneapolis has two drills working northeast of Aitkin in the Rice River country. The Combination Iron company has an option to drill the poor farm of Aitkin county. F. A. Edson of Deerwood has charge of the work.

Brainerd-Cuyuna.

The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine in Brainerd has its shaft down 120 feet. The Croft mine at Crosby is engaged in shaft sinking. The Barrows Mining company is engaged in locating its shaft. The work of sinking will be superintended by C. B. Rowley of Brainerd, who has patented a method of sinking, using steel and concrete. The Iron Mountain mine is continuing its improvements and expects to ship largely this year. The Armour No. 2 of the Inland Steel company and the Kennedy mine of the Rogers, Brown Ore company are engaged in hoisting and stockpiling.

The pit mines are active working steam shovels and preparing for early shipments at the Rowe mine of the Pittsburg Steel Ore company and the Thompson mine of the Inland Steel company. The Rowe mine has started work on its concentrator. The Armour No. 1 stripping operations have started, the Pennington people working a steam shovel. At the Hill Crest pit mine property hydraulic work will be carried on with water from Black Hoof lake, and it is expected to remove overburden almost as cheaply as the Rowe mine did at Riverton. The Cuyuna-Sultana Iron company expects to have its stripping under way early in May. Nearby the Cuyuna Iron & Manganese Ore company's land under lease to Clement K. Quinn and associates of Virginia, Minn., may also soon be stripped.

Changes of Interest.

The Brainerd State bank has sold to William F. Hildebrandt for $2,800 by special warranty deed the north half of the southeast quarter of section 13, township 44, range 31. John C. Hall has sold to William T. McKeown lot 1, the northeast quarter of the southwest quarter and the south half of the south west quarter of section 26, township 138, range 25 for $2,700. Herbert Edwin Welchel has sold to Henry Spalding of Brainerd all of the east half except the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 22, township 135, range 29 for $3,400.

TONNAGE IS INCREASED

Output of the Isle Royale Is Now 2,100 Tons Daily.

Tonnage at Mass Will Soon Be Pushed Up to Capacity.

Houghton, Mich., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Isle Royale has increased its tonnage from 2,000 to 2,100 tons daily, which are record figures, but which when conditions warrant will themselves be left far back in the shade. One-half of this output is being shipped to the Centennial-Allouez and the other to the Tamarack No. 2, or big Tamarack mill. Two stamps are given up to it in each mill. The policy of the management in developing this mine by opening up of new levels and drifts, so as to ultimately produce to the capacity of the shafts, is being steadily carried out and the footage of this work for the year that at last Great Western can be considered one of the new banner properties in mineral richness in the district.

About two years ago the Duluth stockholders in Great Western, with the assistance of the Eastern stockholders, saw fit to elect W. W. Russell of Duluth as president, and after giving the development of the property a careful study, Mr. Russell started out on a theory of his own to locate pure galena, and as the result of the past two years' efforts has disclosed an extensive body of rich ore. An expenditure of $3,000 or $4,000 will open up this body, and it is expected that the mine will be a shipper in the near future. Lead and zinc are now selling at high prices, and a little jubilee meeting of the Duluth stockholders was held on March 5 in Rowley hall, when they congratulated themselves on the excellent outlook for the mine.

TO START WORK ON RAILROAD TO AJO

Water Supply and Process for Reducing Low-Grade Ores.

Tucson, Ariz., March 13.—That construction work on the railroad to the Ajo mines of the Calumet & Arizona company would begin within a short time but that at present he was not at liberty to state whether Tucson or Gila Bend would be the terminal of the new railroad, were statements of John C. Greenway, general manager of the Calumet & Arizona company, who was in the city, a few days ago.

"While I can say positively that work on the new railroad will commence immediately," Capt. Greenway said. "I am sorry to say that I cannot at this time state definitely whether the railroad will be built from Tucson or Gila Bend, but I think that the announcement of the route to be used will be made within two weeks.

"A year ago the citizens of Tucson were told that we would build the railroad to Ajo just as soon as we had definitely obtained a satisfactory water supply and settled upon a satisfactory process for reducing the low grade ores at the properties. Our exploration work which stopped during the year ago definitely settled the fact that we had large ore bodies in sight, sufficient to warrant us in building the road, but we had to be satisfied first about the water supply and the special process for the reduction of the ore.

"I am glad to say that we have been successful in securing a sufficient water supply and that we have fixed on a process for the reduction of the low grade copper ores at the property and we are now going to build the road just as we promised.

"The building of the railroad and the development of the property will mean much to Pima county. I can say that there will be approximately 800 men employed at the mine, and the presence of a large copper property in the county will be a source of increased revenue to the people."

Mr. Greenway stated that the water supply had been obtained by sinking a deep shaft to a depth of 700 feet where a sufficient supply of water had been obtained.

ZINC ORES OF PILOT-BUTTE

Negotiations Practically Completed for Marketing Them, Says Report.

Butte, Mont., March 13.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Pilot-Butte Mining company the suggestions made by Supt. Gow were given the heartiest indorsements and his suggestions for further development concurred in.

The fact that the Pilot has large quantities of zinc ore ready to be marketed as soon as mill facilities can be secured was talked over at length. At present the Timber Butte mill has its hands full handling the output of the Elm Orlu, but the belief prevailed that a part of the ore of the Pilot-Butte may be handled at that mill in the near future.

Supt. Gow stated that negotiations were in progress with Mr. Atwater, in charge of the mill at Basin, by which it is possible arrangements will be made with the owners of that plant to handle the zinc ores of the Pilot-Butte. These negotiations, however, have not progressed to the point where definite statements were possible.

The following directors were elected for the ensuing year:

Edward Hickey, N. J. Bielenberg, John J. McHatton, Charles R. Leonard, Pat Sheehan, J. W. Pratt, William P. Jahn, George A. Messer and C. E. Murray.

At a meetings of the directors held later in the day the following officers were chosen:

President, Edward Hickey; vice president, William P. Jahn of Milwaukee; treasurer, J. W. Pratt; secretary, J. J. Harrington.

Supt. Gow said in his report: "During the past year the Pilot mine has become a producer and the development of the lower levels has disclosed several very valuable ore bodies. While the copper market from August to December was demoralized to such an extent that ore could be mined at only a small profit, conditions have been steadily improving, and the present outlook is considered bright. Every effort is being made to find a market for our zinc ores while the present high price of spelter prevails, and it is confidently expected that arrangements will be made whereby this can be accomplished.

"Preparations have been made to sink the Pilot shaft to the 2,800-foot level during the present year, and further development of the veins under the Pilot vault on the 2,600 and 2,800-foot levels will be undertaken. It is very probable that during the present year the eastern portion of the Pilot claim, as yet undeveloped, will be explored both above and below the Pilot vault.

"There are three large veins known to exist in the eastern portion of the claim, and at the depth now reached by the Pilot shaft, ore in these veins should be found."

GOOD SHOWING AT GREAT WESTERN

Duluthians Interested in Promising Property in Coeur d'Alenes.

A few years ago a number of Duluthians were induced to invest in the purchase of stock in the Great Western Mining company, in the Coeur d' Alenes, Idaho. S. Chesworth of Lowell, Mass., a heavy stockholder in Great Western, has just received a report from a personal friend of his, who is an expert mining engineer, connected with one of the big producers in the Coeur d' Alenes, to the effect that at last Great Western can be considered one of the new banner properties in mineral richness in the district.

About two years ago the Duluth stockholders in Great Western, with the assistance of the Eastern stockholders, saw fit to elect W. W. Russell of Duluth as president, and after giving the development of the property a careful study, Mr. Russell started out on a theory of his own to locate pure galena, and as the result of the past two years' efforts has disclosed an extensive body of rich ore. An expenditure of $3,000 or $4,000 will open up this body, and it is expected that the mine will be a shipper in the near future. Lead and zinc are now selling at high prices, and a little jubilee meeting of the Duluth stockholders was held on March 5 in Rowley hall, when they congratulated themselves on the excellent outlook for the mine.

INCREASE IN ORE RESERVES

Gain of 30 Per Cent at Calumet & Arizona Within Year.

Bisbee, Ariz., March 13.—The Bisbee properties of the Calumet & Arizona company are showing greater reserves of ore than ever, there being a gain in ore reserves the first of the year as compared with a similar date in 1914 of more than 30 per cent. This result has been attained in the face of a very large output of ore for last year, when there were more than 600,000 tons produced. This gives a pretty fair idea of the ore volume from the company's shafts.

There has recently been completed a drill boring made from the 1,800-foot level at the Junction mine. This boring was made at a point southeast of the 1,800-foot station and it passed through 35 feet of sulphide ore of excellent grade. This is the first hole the company has drilled in the Junction shaft below the 1,500-foot leevl, and the finding of ore at this depth is of the greatest importance in that it proves copper of commercial grade holds to that distance below surface and sets to rout the opinions of many that copper ore would not be encountered at such a low level in this camp. It proves that Calumet & Arizona may expect rich copper ores below a depth of 1,800 feet and that it has a wonderful ore holding area in this portion of the camp where they have found rich ores at the 900-foot levels and in all levels below to and including the 15th. It was only a few months ago that the shaft was unwatered to the 18th, and this drill hole will undoubtedly be followed by others to test the formations about the shaft from the 1,800-foot station.

This diamond drill hole at the Junction and to the southeast of the shaft, is in the direction of the American Saginaw group of claims purchased by the Calumet & Arizona more than a year ago, and suggests that these claims will eventually be of great value.

WILL SINK DEEPER AT THE TUOLUMNE

Indication of More Extensive and Richer Bodies of Ore.

Butte, Mont., March 13.—The annual meeting of the Tuolumne Mining company last Monday was a much tamer affair than that of a year ago, but two dissatisfied stockholders managed to put enough ginger into it to make it interesting.

The following board of directors was re-elected: Ed Hickey, Charles R. Leonard, N. J. Bielenberg, J. W. Pratt, Dan Shields, Richard Farren and T. E. Murray.

In addition to these, Jerry Clifford, James E. Murray, John Stephens and Lyman Roscoe were nominated.

For the winners the vote ranged from 360,230 shares to 402,292.

Messrs. Clifford and T. E. Murray each received over 40,000 votes.

Arthur V. Corey was present as consulting engineer and answered questions in regard to the development work and prospects at the mine. He advised strongly that the sinking of the 2,800 level and the development of the 2,600 and 2,800-foot levels be carried on this year and declared that every indication was that richer more extensive bodies of ore would be shown on those levels.

He estimated that about 25,000 should be on hand in cash before attempting to carry this work through, although he said that this amount would probably not be needed, as the receipts from the ore taken out during development would materially lessen the cost.

As to the date for starting up the Tuolumne again no definite statement could be made. Mr. Leonard said that as one of the directors he favored resuming as soon as the money to do the work could be arranged for.

Some objection was raised to the expenses for the legal and office departments. The salary of the secretary is $3,000 and for the attorney $2,500 a year. The office rent has been reduced to $25 a month and the only other expense now is for the watchman at the mine.

No action was taken on the objection.

DIVIDENDS BY AMERICAN MINES

Have Disbursed So Far This Year Sum of $6,701,108.

Dividend disbursements totaling $6,701,108 have been made so far this year by American mines and works, according to reports made to Mining World. The two months of 1915 just ended this amount was paid to shareholders by forty-nine companies. In addition, three securities-holding corporations divided $2,127,204 among their shareholders.

It is worthy of note that the forty-nine companies paying dividends in nine companies paid dividends since their incorporation totaling $881,058,361, which added to the $136,439,686 declared by the three securities-holding corporations, makes total disbursements of $1,017,498,049.

But six copper companies paid dividends in the two months of 1915, these paying during that period $1,833,125. Since incorporation, however, their total disbursements amount to $147,-100,786.

Forty-one companies, whose product is classified as gold-silver-lead-zinc, paid dividends during the two months of $4,303,764 and to date $212,990,240. Of these forty-one companies thirty operate properties in the United States and have to their credit so far this year $3,032,462 and to date $167,907,068. Nine are Canadian properties and their disbursements total $1,075,387 for the year and $40,464,281 to date. But two Mexican companies report as having paid dividends, their disbursements totaling $195,915 for the year and $4,617,901. Two metallurgical companies made disbursements amounting to $564,219, but since incorporation have divided $20,963,375 with shareholders.

LARGEST AMOUNT OF MAIL FROM ENGLAND.

New York, March 13.—The White Star liner Arabic, flying the British flag, reached New York today from Liverpool with 537 passengers and 8,264 sacks of mail, said to be the largest consignment ever sent from England to America. Passengers said torpedo boat destroyers accompanied the vessel from the mouth of the Mersey far out to sea to protect them from attack by German submarines.

More than fifty steamers were tied up at the Liverpool docks, the Arabic's passengers said, because of the dock laborers strike. The departure of the Arabic was delayed by the strike.

LEGAL NOTICES.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly made, executed and delivered by Mary Barem and Guy A. Barem, husband and wife, Mortgagors, to Proctor State Bank, Mortgagee, bearing date the 12th day of June, 1911, and with a power of sale therein contained, which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on the 17th day of July, 1911 at 11:30 o'clock A. M., in Book 269 of Mortgages, on page 285 thereof. That said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was thereafter duly assigned by said Proctor State Bank to Nancy M. Roadman, Assignee, by an instrument of assignment dated February 27th, 1915, and duly recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on March 2nd, 1915, in Book 248 of Mortgages, on page 485 thereof. That said default consists in the non-payment of the principal sum secured by said mortgage, with interest, by which the power of sale has become operative; that the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage and that is actually due thereon, at the date of this notice, is the sum of Five Hundred Thirteen Dollars and Sixty Cents ($513.60), principal and interest, and that no action or proceeding has been instituted at law or otherwise to recover said debt or any part thereof.

Notice is further given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz.: All those tracts or pacels of land lying and being in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: Lots numbered (25 and 26) twenty-five and twenty-six, Block (27) twenty-seven, Townsite of Proctorknott, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of said St. Louis County; that said sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the Sheriff's office in the Court House in the City of Duluth, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 19th day of April, 1915, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Five Hundred Thirteen Dollars and Sixty Cents ($513.60), and interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum from the date of this notice, on the principal sum, and taxes and insurance premiums, if any, and Twenty-five ($25.00) Dollars Attorney's fees, in accordance with the stipulation in said mortgage, in case of foreclosure, as regulated by statute, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time in one year from date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated March 4th, 1915.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

Whereas default has been made in the payment of the sum of sixty-one hundred seventy-five and 81-100 ($6175.81) Dollars, for principal and interest which is claimed to be due and is due at this date, and which default has continued to the date of this notice upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by Anna Marie Laihinen, widow, mortgagor, to J. B. Sattler, mortgagee, bearing date the 21st day of August, 1911, with a Power of Sale therein contained, and duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 23rd day of August, 1911, at 4:45 o'clock P. M., in Book 290 of Mortgages, on page 213, and

Whereas said mortgage conveyed the following described property, to-wit:

Lot Fourteen (14), Block Seven (7), Virginia; lots Thirty-one (31) and Thirty-two (32), Block Eight (8), North Side Addition to Virginia, and lots Thitty-one (31) and Thirty-two (32), Block Ninety-two (92), Second Addition to Virginia, according to the respective plats thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of said county, and said J. B. Sattler, mortgagee, has released to said Anna Marie Laihinen from said mortgage, said lots Thirty-one (31) and Thirty-two (32), Block Eight (8), North Side Addition to Virginia, by partial release dated August 27th, 1913, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County, on the 5th day of September, 1913, at 8:30 o'clock A. M., in Book 159 of Mortgages, on page 25.

Now therefore, notice is hereby given, That by virtue of the Power of Sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statutes in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of all the premises described in and conveyed thereby, except said lots which have been released from said mortgage, to-wit: Lot Fourteen (14), Block Seven (7), Virginia, and lots Thirty-one (31) and Thirty-two (32), Block Ninety-two (92), Second Addition to Virginia, according to the respective plats thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said St. Louis County, Minnesota, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County, Minnesota, at his office, in the County Court House, in the City of Duluth, in said County and State, on the 24th day of April, 1915, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said mortgage debt and interest, and One hundred and no-100 ($100.00) Dollars attorney's fees, and disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from date of sale.

Dated March 13th, 1915.

ON THE IRON RANGES

LOGGERS WINDING UP FAIR WINTER

Itasca County Concerns Report Fairly Successful Season's Work.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Most of the local loggers report very successful winter's work. Most of them having closed down their logging the past week. The C. M. Erskine Timber company this week discontinued logging operations. They conducted five camps, employing 150 men, aside from having had a few jobbers getting out stuff for them. Their products aggregate 40,000 ties, 3,000 cords of pulpwood, 25,000 posts and about 2,000 poles.

John Cochran, who broke camp the first of the week, reports a very good winter. Though the prices for the products which he got out were not as good as in former years, the conditions were ideal, and most efficient work was done all winter.

Had Less Expense.

James Ross, living near Cohasset, logged again this winter, but on a smaller scale than usual, and he reports a very successful winter. The small amount of stuff put in was compensated, he says by the smaller expense and the greater care given to details with the result that he had almost as good a season as when he logged heavier.

Spang & Hoolihan closed a very successful winter's work on Big Rice lake south of Cohasset. They logged hardwood timber, and operated a sawmill, sawing the logs on the ground, and hauling the lumber a distance of five miles to Cohasset, from which place it will be shipped.

Forty men and ten teams were employed all winter, and 1,000,000 feet of lumber was landed in Cohasset.

BRUGGE SHOT SELF IS JURY'S FINDING

Evelcth, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The coroner's jury at the inquest held yesterday to inquire into the death of Louis Brugge, who was shot in an Aurora boarding house, returned a verdict of deliberate suicide.

The inquest was conducted by Dr. Darrow of Aurora. He testified that in his opinion Brugge could not have inflicted both of the wounds found in his body as either would have been instantly fatal.

Some Suspicious Circumstances.

Other testimony, however, pointed strongly to suicide, although there was evidence that the people in the boarding house had made an effort to conceal some of the evidence, thereby arousing the suspicion of the officers. One exploded shell was not found and other circumstances were suspicious.

The jury was about two hours in reaching a verdict after hearing the evidence.

NEW SETTLERS ARE COMING THIS WAY

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Two new settlers arrived Thursday to make their homes on farms in this county. G. W. Anderson, recently of Mason City, Iowa, bought some land south of Weller's Spur, west of Cohasset. Mr. Anderson had with him a car of household and farming goods and some stock. His car was unloaded at Cohasset.

Chris Howe of Elmore, Minn., also arrived with his car and unloaded it at Cohasset. He will go onto the old Freestone place in the Deer Lake country, which farm he purchased recently. He unloaded at Cohasset so as to save a couple of miles' haul on his goods.

Comes From Indiana.

H. C. Heaton, recently of Rosedale, Ind., who arrived with his family and household goods and stock to make his home here, has leased the D. C. Anderson farm on the Prairie river, east of Grand Rapids, and will live there for a year. Mr. Anderson, who has been trying to attend to his farm work and at the same time run a sawmill and grist mill, put up numerous buildings, etc., will devote his time to putting up such buildings as he will need in the future to farm comfortably.

REMOVE TO EVELETH.

Captain Kelly and Family Leave Hurley for Their New Home.

Hurley, Wis., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Michael B. Kelly, who has been captain at the Montreal mine for the past seven years has resigned, and he has been succeeded by Joseph Stevens of Ironwood, who formerly had charge of the Plummer property west of Pence. Mr. Stevens has recently been employed as shift boss at the Pabst mine. Mr. Kelly will locate at Eveleth, Minn., and left with his family today for Eveleth.

On Thursday noon the employes of the Montreal mine presented Mr. Kelly with a handsome gold watch valued at $110. The presentation was made at the mine dry house. The ladies of Montreal on Wednesday presented Mrs. Kelly with a handsome silver set and a beautiful silver bowl.

GRAND RAPIDS NOTES.

Grand Rapids, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—L. J. Scinto, John Benton, Frank Lemere and Otto Litchke returned from near Gemmell, where they had been doing some surveying on some drainage ditches near the Koochiching county town.

J. C. Hendricks, a Balsam township farmer, was a recent visitor in Grand Rapids.

Charles A. Fay recently sold his place north of Cohasset, and he has purchased a farm north of Crookston, to which place he expects to move next week. Mr. Fay has been president of the Cohasset Farmers' club since its organization, and he has lent much to the success of the club.

VIRGINIA MAN IS KICKED TO DEATH

Virginia, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—Isaac Maki, living at 109 Oak street, was kicked to death by a vicious horse in the barn in the rear of his home last night. His wife found the body this morning lying in the rear of the stall with the head crushed in by the force of the animal's hoofs.

Mr. Maki is a teamster and recently he bought a horse that had a bad reputation as a kicker and worked the animal with the other horse. The latter animal was sick last night and about 10 o'clock Mr. Maki told his wife he would get some whisky and give it to the horse. She objected to his going after the liquor and went herself. Carrying the bottle Maki went to the stable about 10 o'clock and that was the last seen of him alive. In passing behind the vicious horse he had been kicked squarely in the head his skull being crushed.

He was about 34 and leaves a wife and one child.

NEW VESSEL IS NAMED AFTER WILLIAM O'BRIEN

William O'Brien, the Stillwater lumber magnate who spends much of his time in Duluth, and who has extensive interests in this part of the state, recently launched one of the largest lumbering steamers afloat. The steamer is named the William O'Brien and will play between New York and Florida points. The big boat was constructed at the plant of the New York Shipbuilding company, and Miss Alice O'Brien, daughter of the lumber magnate, christened it. The boat is 362 feet in length with a beam of 51 feet and has a gross lumber tonnage of 5,535 tons. It is one of the largest vessels engaged exclusively in the lumber business. The boat is equipped with the very latest appliances for the loading and unloading of lumber.

MAKE RULES FOR DISPLAY ESSAYS

The Duluth Retail Merchants' association has completed arrangements for the essay contest, to be conducted in connected with the display extraordinary of "Style Week" for the three days beginning a week from next Monday.

The subject of the essays will be "The Beauty and Selling Power of the Best-Decorated Windows." Miss Frances E. Earhart, public librarian, is chairman of the prize window committee and the essays are to be mailed to her. The contestants are free to choose any window display of any line of merchandise in any part of the city on which to write, and the windows will be on display and ready for inspection on Monday evening after 5 o'clock. Contestants are admonished to—

Write on one side of paper only.

Have essays in not later than noon of Thursday, March 25.

NEW NAME FOR WOODLAND AVENUE

Residents along Woodland avenue want to change the name of that thoroughfare to East Lawn road and plans are now being made to have the matter brought before the city commissioners.

At a meeting of many of the owners held last evening at the home of G. M. Tallant, where the proposed Woodland avenue pavement was discussed, the opinion was unanimous that the name of the thoroughfare should be changed. It is planned to bring the matter before the Glen-Hunt-Wood club this month and to have a resolution passed urging the change.

It is claimed by many that the avenue should bear another name from Fourth street up to Kent road, at least. They say that people going to Woodland proper get off at the intersection of the road with the East Fourth street car line and as a result must walk from one to two miles to reach their destination. They would have the avenue known as East Lawn road from the East Fourth street car line for a distance of about eight to ten blocks.

The name of East Lawn road was selected, as it is the division in which that part of the city is located.

AMENDS COMPLAINT.

Suit Resulting From Removal of Cemetery Will Again Be Heard.

Mrs. Ellen Gaffney, through her attorney, Andrew Nelson, today filed an amended complaint in district court in the action which she has pending against the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, in which she demands $3,000 damages for the alleged removal of her mother's body and her father's leg from a grave in Catholic cemetery at Negaunee, Mich.

Recently Judge Cant sustained a demurrer to the complaint which had been interposed by H. J. Grannis, attorney for the mining company, on the ground that the complaint did not allege facts, which, if proven, would constitute a cause of action. The court gave the plaintiff's attorney leave to amend the pleadings, however.

Mrs. Gaffney claimed that her mother, Mrs. Annie Kilgallen, who died in 1875, was buried in the Negaunee cemetery. The same year her father lost his leg. It was interred in the same grave. Prior to Nov., 1910, the mining company bought the land on which the cemetery was located and moved a number of the bodies. She alleges that they removed the body of her mother and the leg of her father without her consent. She claims damages for the mental anguish she suffered after failure to learn where her parents' bones had been transferred.

WALSH SENDS "PAPERS" FOR THE MANDOT BOUT.

Signed articles for the appearance of Joe Mandot, the New Orleans lightweight, in Superior, April 9, were received across the bay yesterday. Mandot will meet Pal Brown in a ten-round bout and the articles make the bout a certainty. Before coming up here Mandot will take on poor old Harlem Tommy Murphy, the veteran Eastern lightweight.

CROWDS SEE WAR FILMS.

"Best Ever" Is Concensus of Opinion of Orpheum Patrons.

Interest in the war pictures being shown at the Orpheum theater under the direction of The Duluth Herald continues to grow, and capacity houses were on hand at both afternoon and evening shows yesterday. The consensus of opinion seems to be that the pictures are the best so far produced of the great war. Only six more shows will be given—two tonight and four on Sunday.

The five reels of motion pictures, taken on the battlefields of Europe, reveal graphically the transition which has taken place since the days when warfare was a hand-to-hand conflict between individual soldiers.

Though many of the scenes shown in the films obviously were taken at the risk of the operator's life, the effect of the exhibition as a whole is the realization that war today is a business rather than a romance, a grim conflict of machines whose operators seldom see the effects of their work.

The pictures favor neither the Teutons nor the allies, but portray the scenes just as they were unfolded before the eye of the camera. They represent history in the making—news conveyed optically instead of through the medium of printed words.

Practically every phase of the war as it comes to Americans through the descriptions in newspapers is shown in the pictures. There are battle scenes, many of them taken at close range. But the greater part of the pictures deal with war as it really is—not as it is pictured in the imaginings of the photo-playwrights who stage war dramas.

The transportation of troops, the forced marches on the battlefields, the systems of communication maintained between the advance guard and the main bodies of troops, a British battleship in action, the firing of mitrailleuse and the big guns of the Germans, the ruins of cities and homes in the wake of the marching armies—these are shown with a completeness that gives the spectator a fairly comprehensive idea of the real meaning of the word "war."

Many of the principal figures in the war, among them King Albert of Belgium, are shown. A striking incident of many of these is the timidity with which men who have faced the rapid-fire guns of the enemy stand before the harmless lens of the motion picture camera.

FLAUNTED STRAW HAT.

But Jakko Salomaki Had No Other Headgear to Wear.

AS LONG as the sun was shining Jakko Salomaki, age 26, a tall, broad shouldered Russian, was safe, but when he appeared this morning, wearing a straw hat of questionable vintage, he was called into consultation by Police Sergeant Englert.

For several days Salomaki has been flaunting his spring bonnet to all those who use West Superior street as their fifth avenue or Boardwalk. Yesterday it was warm and springlike, and Sergeant Englert was perhaps a little envious, but today there was no excuse for it, he said.

Investigation disclosed the fact that Emperor Nicholas' former servant had no other hat to wear, and that the straw hat, sun or no sun, was necessary. The kind-hearted sergeant has taken steps to do away with the headgear, which, he says, is as heinous a crime as ever escaped the statutes.

LIFE SENTENCE ON THE INSTALLMENT PLAN

"It's a life sentence on the installment plan I'm doin', Yer Honor," said Mike Mullin, age 58, in municipal court this morning, appealing to Judge F. H. Cutting for leniency.

Mullin is an old offender, and has been in jail out at the work farm, with the exception of a few days' interval between sentences, for several years. This time he was booked as having committed the ninth offense. For each offense above the third, he has served sixty days.

"God'll bless you if you let me go, judge," he said.

"I'm afraid, Mike," said the judge, "that he would reprove me."

He was given another sixty-day sentence.

Apples Too Tempting.

When an East End grocer arranged a window display of apples yesterday, he made the exhibit so tempting that it brought grief to John Larson, age 48, arrested on a charge of begging.

Larson is a lumberjack. He was taking a stroll through the East end district when he saw the store, and the apples. The fruit was so tempting that he entered the store and attempted to persuade the clerk to give him two or three.

When arraigned before Judge Cutting in municipal court he pleaded guilty. His case was referred to the probation officer.

JURY GIVES HIM ONLY WHAT DEFENDANT OFFERED.

After being out for more than ten hours in the case of S. Goldfine vs. Levine Bros., a jury in Judge W. L. Windom's division of the municipal court brought in a sealed verdict at 3:20 a. m. today, finding in favor of the defendants.

The plaintiff, a cattle dealer, alleged that $200 was due him for a month's wages, earned in the employ of the defendants, also in the cattle business. He was discharged after working part of a month. The verdict awarded Goldfine $133.32, which already had been tendered by the defendants.

The defendants were represented by Andrew Nelson and George Sjoselius, while Slonin and Flaherty appeared for the plaintiff.

Benefit Concert.

Williams' school of music gave a concert at 18 West Superior for the benefit of a music library Thursday. The hall was well filled with parents and friends of the pupils and they enjoyed a well selected program of orchestra numbers, recitations and piano selections. The pupils who participated were: George Bussa, Sam Singer, F. Curran, M. Finklestein, Bennie Garon, Herman Gordon, G. Parker, Alexander Cohen, Bennie Cheesen, Norman Nelson, Gilbert Mendelen, Maceola Williams, L. Makosky, Henry Hauck, Charles Quick, Lucella Williams, Mrs. Henry Williams, Frank Schanning, N. Michalasky, G. Nitsel, Lena Singer, Mary Gordon and Molly Singer.

ASHAMED OF HER BAD COMPLEXION

Many an otherwise attractive girl is a social failure because of a poor complexion. If your skin is not naturally fresh, smooth and glowing, or has suffered from an unwise use of cosmetics, Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment will almost surely clear it in a normal, healthy way. It is so easy, too.

Just bathe your face for several minutes with Resinol Soap and hot water, working the creamy lather into the skin gently with the finger-tips. Then wash off with more Resinol Soap and warm water, finishing with a dash of clear, cold water to close the pores.

Do this regularly once or twice a day, occasionally spreading on a little Resinol Ointment for ten or fifteen minutes before using Resinol Soap, and you will be astonished how quickly the healing, antiseptic Resinol medication soothes and cleanses the pores, removes pimples and blackheads, and leaves the complexion clear, fresh and velvety. Resinol Soap and Ointment are sold by all druggists. For trial free, write to Dept. 15-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

CLOUDY

The sun, after being on the job for most of the week, furnishing the most delightful days, is taking a vacation—a sort of week-end rest, as it were. Not only is today gloomy and lacking the inspiring warmth of yesterday, but Sunday will have a blanket of clouds over the sky, if the weather bureau has guessed rightly. However, not very cold weather is predicted, but shippers are warned to protect 66-hour shipments of perishable produce in the Dakotas, Wisconsin and this state.

A year ago today was cloudy but agreeable. The sun rose this morning at 6:25 and will set this evening at 6:10, giving eleven hours and forty-five minutes of sunlight.

Mr. Richardson makes the following comment on weather conditions:

"Generally cloudy weather prevails in Central and Western states. Light snow or rain fell during Friday or last night over Florida, Southern Louisiana, Southern Missouri, Eastern Montana, Western North Dakota, Manitoba, Southern Saskatchewan, Northern California, Utah, Idaho, Oregon and Washington. Light frost occurred last night at Charleston, S. C. The 24-hour temperature changes were generally slight."

General Forecasts.

Chicago, March 13.—Forecasts for the twenty-four hours ending at 7 p. m. Sunday:

Minnesota and North Dakota—Generally fair tonight and Sunday; moderate temperature.

Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Sunday; warmer in southwest portion tonight.

Iowa—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; warmer in northeast and central portions tonight.

South Dakota—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; warmer in central portion tonight.

Montana—Generally fair tonight and Sunday, except possibly light rain or show west of the Divide; not much change in temperature.

Lower Michigan—Fair tonight and Sunday; slightly warmer tonight in extreme northeast portion.

Upper Michigan—Fair tonight and Sunday; slightly warmer in east and south portions.

AKELEY GIRLS WINNERS.

Akeley, Minn., March 13.—By successfully upholding the negative of the proposition of the government ownership of telegraphs and telephones the Akeley debating team, composed entirely of girls, won the debate here last night over the Ada debating team, also girls, and won the honor of being selected to go to St. Paul and meet the successful team of the Humboldt school.

The Akeley team had won the championship of the Sixth district and Ada held similar honors in the Ninth district.

The winning team is composed of Misses Georgia Teeple, Rose Preston and Jennie Shere. The Akeley debaters are Misses Ruby Bell, Doris Boswold and Marie Stelning.

CLOQUET ENTERTAINMENT.

Minerva Society Debates Question of Extending Civil Service.

Cloquet, Minn., March 13.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Minerva Literary society of the Lincoln high school gave the following program yesterday afternoon to a good sized audience: Piano duet, Leah Canfield and Ardis Holm; "Current Events," Oscar Benson; recitation, Francis Beaupre; recitation, Ellen Boquist; recitation, Ellen Wendell; reading, Jeanette Huseby; recitation, Ruth Dutton; debate, "Resolved, That Civil Service Should Be Extended to All Branches of the Government," affirmative, William Horan and Carl Bruno; negative, John Skaegerberg and Clarence Johnson; piano duet, Ruth and Helen Brunell.

The judges of the debate decided in favor of the affirmative.

TO PRESENT SERVICE.

Governor Hanna to Deliver Silver to North Dakota Battleship.

Bismarck, N. D., March 13.—Governor L. B. Hanna will pay the U. S. S. North Dakota a visit next summer and deliver to that battleship the silver service that the dreadnaught has been waiting for for such a long time.

Governor Hanna, who was at the head of the movement to present the ship with a silver service, only has $1,000 to raise before the set can be paid for. The silver service has been laying in the vault of the company that made it for some years, and there was a lot of interest piled up on the set or that portion of the money which had not been paid. Governor Hanna has induced the silversmiths that made the set to throw off this interest, and the result is that only $1,000 still remains unpaid.

WIDOW LOSES INSURANCE.

Also Deprived of Dower Right in Gladstone Banker's Homestead.

Marquette, Mich., March 13.—Judge Sessions of the United States district court denied the application of Mrs. W. F. Hammel for her dower interest in the Hammel homestead at Gladstone and the insurance carried on the life of W. F. Hammel, the head of the defunct Gladstone banking concern.

"The real estate in which a homestead and dower are claimed was purchased with bank funds at a time when the claimant and his firm were hopelessly insolvent and known by him to be so," the court declared. "His insolvency continued until the adjudication in bankruptcy. His appropriation of the funds of the bank to his own uses and purposes, while insolvent, was a gross fraud upon his creditors and particularly upon the bank depositors. Under such conditions the property so purchased and improved not only continued to be partnership assets, but was impressed with a trust in favor of firm creditors. Therefore, neither a homestead or a dower interest could attach."

the Dardanelles, the bombardment having been renewed Wednesday and Thursday. The allies, however, do not claim that any more important forts have been reduced. Much depends on the weather, and the bombardments of this week have been hampered by unfavorable weather conditions. Plans are going forward, however, for extensive land operations when the time comes, and France is today concentrating forces in North Africa for this purpose. A part of this land expedition is on its way.

Not Much Damage Done.

Belated dispatches from Constantinople continue to get through to London. They all assert that the allied fleet had not, up to last Sunday, done any great damage to the Turkish forts. The fire of the ships was described as scattered and ineffective. The latest of these messages refer exclusively to the bombardment of last Sunday, March 7, the British and French official versions of which were published last Tuesday.

British military writers agree unanimously that the recent fighting near La Bassee was the most important in which the British forces have been engaged since Ypres.

There is considerable speculation in England as to what has happened to the Serbian army, concerning which nothing has been heard in weeks. The official announcements from Nish ceased some time ago and it is not known what, if any, operations the Serbian army is engaged in. Disease is rampant throughout Serbia, according to special news dispatches, one of which describes this sinister attack as far worse than the first Austrian invasion. The city of Nish, whither the Serbian capital was removed, when Belgrade was bombarded is said to be overcrowded with the sick and the dying. Everywhere hospital conditions are piteously inadequate and the country faces devastation worse than war.

German Statement.

Berlin, March 13, by wireless to Sayville.—The German official report today on the progress of the war reads as follows:

"To the south of Ypres isolated British attacks were easily repulsed. Our movement for the recapture of the village of Neuve Chappelle began successfully, but thereafter encountered a superior British force and for this reason it was not continued.

"The British in this locality have been showing great aerial activity. The day before yesterday, one, and yesterday two British aviators were brought down by German fire.

"In the Champagne district there has been a renewal of fighting at isolated places. All the attacks made by the French have been repulsed, the enemy losing heavily. Two hundred French soldiers were taken prisoners. Fog and snow have hampered the operations in the Vosges.

"The Russians have retreated from the Augustowo district, and the country to the northeast, until now they are beyond the river Bobr and under the guns of Grodno. At a point northeast of Przasnysz, near Orzyc river, a Russian attack has been repulsed."

French Statement.

Paris, March 13, via London, 3:56 p. m.—The official French war department report this afternoon says:

"In the bend of the Yser the Belgian army has consolidated and increased the results obtained by it on Thursday.

"The British troops continue to progress. They crossed the Brook of Layes, which runs parallel to the road from Neuve Chapelle to Fleuvaix, and also neared the suburbs of Aubers. To the southwest of Elters they carried several groups of houses. The total number of prisoners captured during the day was 1,000. The Germans lost several machine guns.

"To the left and to the right of the British army, French troops supported them with many heavy artillery and machine guns and infantry fire.

"In the Champagne our progress continues. At the end of the day on the northern slope of the ridge to the northeast of Meanil we captured 150 prisoners, including six officers.

"In the Vosges on Reich Ackerkopf, the enemy, after a violent bombardment, attempted an assault which was, however, brought to a halt by our fire."

ALLEGED PLOT UNCONFIRMED

No Evidence That Germans Intended to Fit Out Ships.

Washington, March 13.—Although officials here continue to deny that any evidence had been discovered to bear out stories of a plot to turn German steamers laid up at American ports into warships and rush them out to sea, developments of the past three days have demonstrated the government's determination to take extraordinary precautions against violations of neutrality.

Four warships and a coast guard cutter have now been detailed for patrol duty in Boston and New York harbors. Wednesday the naval yacht Dolphin was ordered from Washington to New York and yesterday the destroyers McDougal and Drayton, from Guantanamo, and the cutter Mohawk from her cruising grounds off Sandy Hook were ordered to join her.

Assistant Secretary Peters of the treasury was an early White House caller and had a long talk with President Wilson. He is in direct charge of customs matters and of the preservation of neutrality by foreign ships in American ports. A few hours after his talk with the president, Mr. Peters left for New York. He said his trip had nothing to do with neutrality, but it became known last night he was expected to confer in New York with officials of both the New York and Boston customs houses.

Some of Finest Ships.

In the harbors of these two cities are some of the finest of the merchant fleets that kept the German flag flying in the North Atlantic lanes before the warships of the allies made ocean travel unsafe for enemy ships. Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port of New York, talked with President Wilson yesterday, but did not see Mr. Peters.

Whether additional ships will be sent either to New York or Boston was not disclosed last night. There are few available coast guard cutters, but probably one could be spared for Boston if necessary. It is believed, however, that naval ships will be used where possible and that the Mohawk probably will be released when the two destroyers come up from Cuba.

Shortly after the outbreak of the war, Collector Malone formed a neutrality squad of customs officers which has kept close watch on all interned ships as well as all those outbound. Precautions of the same sort have been taken also at Boston.

MIDSUMMER DAY PLANS.

Details for Celebration Will Be Worked Out Monday Night.

Plans for the working out of details for the midsummer day celebration to be held under the auspices of the Swedish-American National league on June 24 will be made Monday evening at a meeting of the society at Bachelors' hall, Nineteenth avenue west and First street.

O. W. Olson, president of the organization, will appoint the committees to have charge of the affair. It is probable that the place for holding the celebration will be decided on. In past years these have been been, following a parade through the city, at Lincoln park. At the celebration last year fully 8,000 people attended during the day.

WILL ASK CARNEGIE AID.

West End Library Branch Needs New Building.

The rapid increase in the patronage of the West end library, 20 North Twentieth avenue west, will result in action being taken within a short time to have a new building erected for the institution in the opinion of residents of this end of the city. Patronage during the last year has more than doubled.

A committee from the West End Commercial club recently decided, at the request of Mayor W. I. Prince, on a desirable site. This is in the vicinity of Twenty-third avenue west and Second street. This property, say members of the committee, can be purchased for a reasonable price.

It is probable that before spring the city will take action to purchase the property. When this is done, it is proposed to ask for aid in erecting the building from Andrew Carnegie. A building costing about $25,000 will be asked for.

DR. VERKUYL WILL SPEAK

Sunday School Worker Will Address Men at the Star Theater.

Dr. Gerrit Verkuyl of Appleton, Wis., state secretary of the Sunday School Association of Wisconsin, will speak to men at the Star theater, 2107 West Superior street, tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. Verkuyl has had a wide experience in dealing with men and has traveled many miles through the Central West in the interests of religious work. Because of his broad experience and his thorough knowledge of the Bible, he has come to be an intensely interesting speaker and is in demand for his helpful presentation of Gospel addresses.

He is at the present time conducting a school of methods for Sunday school workers in this city and for that reason he has been obtainable for this service.

The meeting will begin promptly at 4:30 and there will be no charge of admission.

Next week E. W. Peck of Minneapolis, state secretary of the Young Men's Christian association, who recently made a trip around the world in the interests of the Y. M. C. A. work, will address men at the usual hour.

Mission Service.

Special services will be held this evening and tomorrow at the Pentecostal mission, 1320 West Michigan street. The services will be conducted by Evangelists Merrin and Draper of Chicago. Special music has been arranged for the meetings.

West End Briefs.

James W. Preston, 2509 West Second street, has returned from the southern part of the state, where he has been spending the last six weeks.

Miss Bernice Thompson, 2129 West Tenth street, returned today from Minneapolis, where she has been spending the last three months visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Kerr.

The Rebekah Guild of St. Peter's Episcopal church, Twenty-eighth avenue west and First street, entertained in the guild rooms of the church last evening. Mrs. Victor Juten and Mrs. Gust Hjerpe were hostesses.

The Chicago Herald and New York Sun pictures of the European war will be shown at the Orpheum for the last times twice tonight and four times tomorrow.

D. A. Willard gave an interesting illustrated lecture on "Mexico" before the Borean Class of the Central Baptist church, Twentieth avenue west and First street, last evening.

Central Plumbing & Heating company, 2004 W. Superior St. Lincoln 593.

A. Farrington, 2131 West First street, returned yesterday from St. Paul, where he attended the annual meeting of the grand council of the Modern Samaritans.

Go to Church Sunday.

FORT RICE, N. D., PAIR NOW UNDER ARREST.

Mandan, N. D., March 13.—On the charge of complicity in an embezzlement of $4,470, United States Marshal Cameron has arrested Mrs. L. B. Soules, postmistress at Fort Rice, as well as Fred W. Schmidt, who is directly charged with the disappearance of the funds. The latter has been under surveillance for a week, but the warrant was just served yesterday.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

RESIDENCE PROPERTIES HOLD CENTER OF STAGE

Dealers Report Steadily Broadening Inquiry for Building Sites.

Owners Unwilling to Make Concessions to Bargain Hunters.

Residence properties continue to largely monopolize the interest in the local realty field. Dealers aver that inquiry is steadily broadening, and that there is every promise of transactions mounting up into a large aggregate being consummated during the next few weeks.

Comments are still heard on the score of efforts on the part of bargain hunters to pick up central locations at concessions from the asking figures, and it is said that a number of trades could be put through provided owners would consent to shade their figures. Owners are, however, unwilling to make any sacrifices, all of them appearing to entertain the view that business is due for a swing that may lead to substantial upturns in Duluth property valuations all along the line.

The newer residence districts in the Eastern sections of the city and the West end are said to be coming in for perhaps the most attention at the present. The sale of a twenty-five foot frontage at No. 1905 West Superior street from Edward Kenner to a local investor at a consideration $7,500 was advised by W. M. Prindle & Co. That office also disposed of a flat building at No. 314 Ninth avenue east at $5,000. Other deals in West end business properties are said to be under negotiation.

More Water Front Inquiry.

Renewed inquiry for water frontages was reported by an operator, with every likelihood of a transaction for a dock site being closed up shortly. Coal men are optimistic regarding prospective increases in fuel distribution from here over the West.

* * *

A. W. Kuehnow, president of the Gary Land company, reported sales of four lots in Gary Central division. Two prospective investors from Chicago were in the city during the week looking the Gary proposition over.

* * *

The sale of a lot in Waverly Park was advised by the N. J. Upham company. Inquiry for building locations there and in other sections of the city was advised to be showing steady improvement, warranting expectations of activity in that line shortly. It is intimated that the erection of a number of homes is to be started in Waverly Park during the next few weeks. Work has been commenced on a home for S. Morterud there.

* * *

The Hoopes-Kohagen company sold a lot on Second street and Twenty-fourth avenue west. The purchaser proposes to build a house upon it this spring. A lot in the Park Drive division was also disposed of.

* * *

Charles P. Craig & Co. sold for the Lakeside Land company two lots on Dodge and Peabody streets for immediate improvement in the building of homes.

* * *

W. M. Prindle & Co. sold a lot in Crescent View Park for improvement. Comment was made by the office upon the increased interest being shown in high-class residence properties.

* * *

The Little & Nolte company sold for W. H. Sellers to Dr. D. E. Berquist, a house at No. 419 Twelfth avenue east for $4,000. The purchaser is arranging to improve the building by an addition to it.

NEW BUSINESS BLOCK FOR LAKE AVENUE PLANNED

New Garage Building Will Be Erected on Superior Street.

Many Small Residence Contracts on Architects' Tables.

Intimation of the decision just reached to erect a handsome building on the east side of Lake avenue south, was the outstanding feature in the building trade this week. The structure, it is reported, is to be built by G. G. Hartley on a site opposite the Metropole hotel, and it is expected to involve an expenditure of between $75,000 and $100,000. It has not yet been announced who the architect will be or when bids will be called for from contractors.

It is understood that a portion of the building will be occupied by the News Tribune, and that the remainder of the space will be fitted up for other purposes. This building was planned three years ago, but work was dropped on it.

New Superior Street Garage.

A modern two-story building to be occupied by John M. Ford is projected for the lower side of Superior street between Second and Third avenues east. The structure will be of fireproof construction, two stories, and will entail an investment of approximately $20,000. The plans are being prepared by W. T. Bray, architect, and it is expected they will be ready to put out for figures within two weeks. W. M. Prindle & Co., are the agents for the owners of the property.

* * *

In addition to that job, Mr. Bray has considerable work under way. The list includes a two-story office building of tile and concrete construction for the Home Heating & Electric company of Eveleth, Minn., to cost about $7,000; a brick engine house for the same company, estimated to cost $8,000; a sleeping porch for the home of E. Mendenhall on Superior street east, and a brick garage for J. S. Lutz on East Sixth street.

The same architect has completed plans for a brick two-story store building for A. P. Silliman at Hibbing, Minn., to cost about $10,000. Figures are now being taken by the owner.

That new construction and improvement work is becoming fairly active, is shown in the issuing of thirty-four permits for work estimated to cost $18,440, at the building inspector's office this week. As has been the rule for several months back, the great bulk of the building authorized was in connection with home buildings and improvements.

* * *

Permits were issued to the Standard Investment company for two houses on Ninth street, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth avenues east to cost $1,500 each.

* * *

Frank A. Johnson took out a permit for a frame dwelling on the north side of Fourth street, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth avenues east to cost $3,500.

* * *

Arthur Hanford, architect, is preparing plans for a five-room two-family flat building of frame and stucco construction for H. A. Gabbert, to be built at No. 519 Third avenue east at a cost of $5,000.

He has also plans in hand for Edward McCue for two houses to go up at Nos. 17 and 19 Fifth street at a cost of $3,000 each.

* * *

Anderson & Gow have been awarded the contract for remodeling the interior of the Happy Hour theater on Superior street west. The plans were prepared by W. T. Bray, architect.

* * *

Vernon J. Price & Co. are preparing plans for a two-room frame school for school district No. 75, Kelsey, to cost $4,000.

* * *

It is expected that plans for the proposed high school at Proctor, prepared at that office, will go out for figures in about a month. The cost of the structure is estimated at $50,000.

* * *

Revised figures are being taken by Holstead & Sullivan, architects, upon the proposed parochial school at Virginia, Minn. It is thought that the contract will be let next week.

* * *

Jacobson Bros., general contractors for the new unit to the Nopeming sanatorium, are rapidly bringing it to completion. Their contract involved about $84,000. Holstead & Sullivan were the architects.

* * *

Cloquet is to have a new brick firehall at an estimated cost of $12,000. The plans for it are being prepared by Kelley & Williams, architects, and they are expected to go out for figures early in April.

* * *

George H. Lounsberry, contractor for the armory, is considered to be setting a record in pushing the job ahead in view of the unfavorable physical conditions at the site. In consequence of the creek being thirty feet below the Jefferson street level, it was found necessary to build a culvert to control the water. In spite of that the contractor now has the foundation walls in up to the first floor.

* * *

J. J. Wangenstein, architect, is taking figures on the John Wahl Candy company's proposed factory building on Michigan street west, and it is expected the contract will be let next week.

* * *

The carrying through of considerable building is predicted in Kenilworth Park and Crescent View Park this year. During the last two seasons twenty-eight houses, costing from $5,000 to $10,000 each were erected in Kenilworth Park alone attesting the attention it has attracted as a high-class residential section. It is understood that the erection of four new homes there this spring is already under contemplation.

* * *

The Duluth Realty company sold a house and lot on the Greysolon road between Eighteenth and Nineteenth avenues east at a consideration of $4,000.

POULTRY DAY NEXT MONDAY

Chapman and Smith Will Be the Short Course Speakers.

Jersey and Ayrshire Cows Are Studied; Farm Dairy Visited.

Monday will be "poultry day" at northeastern Minnesota experimental farm where the university extension short course work is being conducted. Those who are in charge of the course of study declare that it will be one of the big days of the week. The work will be concluded a week from today, March 20.

A. C. Smith of Minneapolis, head of the poultry division of the University of Minnesota, will deliver a lecture on "General Poultry Management," and N. E. Chapman, head of the university extension work in the poultry line, will give an illustrated address on "The Great American Hen." The program for the day follows:

Poultry Day Program.

9:30 a. m., "Winter Egg Production," G. Martin; "General Poultry Management," A. C. Smith; "Grain Crops for Northern Cropping Systems," C. E. Brown.

1:30 p. m., "Scoring and Judging Poultry," G. Martin; "Poultry Practicums."

7:30 p. m., "The Great American Hen," (illustrated), N. E. Chapman.

Today is "Jersey-Ayrshire" day in the short course work. This afternoon the class visited the Mount Airy dairy farm, conducted by W. C. Sargent and spent some time in judging and scoring the Jersey type. From the Sargent farm, the class went to Colbyville where the Grogan farm was visited and an Ayrshire colony was graded and scored. County Agent Larson was in charge of the Jersey scoring and Prof. W. A. McKerrow supervised the grading of the Ayrshires.

Dairy Topics Discussed.

During the morning session today, the class listened to three lectures. Prof. McKerrow spoke on "Silos and Silage," County Agent Larson on "Roots," and E. P. Gibson, an instructor from the Duluth Central high school on "The Home Creamery." The evening session will be given over to farmers' club meetings.

Yesterday a 31-day test by "Beauty," a Red Poll of the Jean Duluth herd, was completed. The record was 93½ pounds, which was only eight pounds below the world's record which was made by the champion Guernsey, "Merne Cowin." In yesterday's Red Poll judging and scoring, the following scores were made out of a possible 100:

Grant Owen, Duluth, 94; Arthur Johnson, Two Harbors, 90; Victor Eva, Duluth, 89; J. W. Peterson, Forbes, 84.

Last night's session was devoted to an informal round table discussion of various phases of the short course work.

NOT MILK AND HONEY BUT BREAD AND BUTTER

"Northern Minnesota," the new magazine being published by Guy W. Small in the interests of the development of Northern Minnesota, has the following to say in its first issue:

"It is not a land of milk and honey—this Northern Minnesota of ours.

"It is a land of bread and butter.

"Not a dusty tropics with yellow fruit.

"It is a land of clear blue lakes, white snow, crisp, cold winters, long cool summers, green grass, bright sunshine.

"It is not nature in her sameness, but in her infinite variety.

"It is not the land for the sluggard. The shiftless and the indolent cannot dream away the days, trusting to nature's bounty to drop into their laps.

"But it is the land of independence. It is the land for the hardy, virile man who fears not the blister on his hand or perhaps an ache in his back. It is the land for the man who refuses to be another man's drudge; a slave to a factory whistle, living in fear of a blue envelope. It is the land for the man who can see farther ahead than his weekly pay envelope. It is the land for the man who has the courage to make a change."

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE—

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage duly made, executed and delivered by Fred Beron, and Tressie Beron, his wife, Mortgagors, to Proctor State Bank, Mortgagee, bearing date the 29th day of December, 1911, and with a power of sale therein contained, which mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, on the 2nd day of January, 1912, at 3:30 o'clock P. M., in Book 292 of Mortgages, on page 14 thereof. That said mortgage, together with the debt secured thereby, was thereafter duly assigned by said Proctor State Bank to Nancy M. Roadman, Assignee, by an instrument of assignment dated February 20th, 1915, and duly recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on February 20th, 1915, in Book 316 of Mortgages, on page 33 thereof. That said default consists in the non-payment of the principal sum secured by said mortgage, with interest, by reason of which the said power of sale has become operative; that the amount claimed to be due on said mortgage and that actually is due thereon, at the date of this notice, is the sum of Eight Hundred Seventy-five Dollars and Thirty-four Cents ($875.34), principal and interest, and that no action or proceeding has been instituted at law or otherwise to recover said debt or any part thereof.

Notice is further given, That by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz.: All that tract or parcel of land lying and being in the County of St. Louis and State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit: Lot numbered five (5), Block nine (9), Townsite of Proctorknott, according to the recorded plat thereof on file and of record in the office of the Register of Deeds of said St. Louis County; that said sale will be made by the Sheriff of said St. Louis County, at the Sheriff's office in the Court House in the City of Duluth, in St. Louis County, Minnesota, on the 19th day of April, 1915, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of Eight Hundred Seventy-five Dollars and Thirty-four Cents ($875.34), and interest, at the rate of eight per cent per annum from the date of this notice, on the principal sum, and taxes and insurance premiums, if any, and Fifty ($50.00) Dollars Attorney's fees, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated March 4th, 1915.

NANCY M. ROADMAN,
Assignee of Mortgagee.

H. B. HAROLDSON,
Attorney for Assignee of Mortgagee.
1105 Alworth Building,
Duluth, Minnesota.

SUMMER RESORTS.

PLAN THAT VACATION TRIP NOW.

And spend it on your own camp site at Ne-na-mik-ka-ta, Lake Vermilion. Ne-na-mik-ka-ta (Chippewa for easy portage) is on Pine Island. It is located in one of the most desirable spots at Lake Vermilion.

Several people from Minneapolis, St. Paul, Chicago, Philadelphia and other cities have already purchased camp sites, and will build this spring. These camp sites offer a good investment, as lots on our Daisy Island tract have increased 50 per cent in value in less than a year.

Duluth people should take advantage of this proposition. They should know about the park, the docks, the beaches, and the people who have purchased. Write or call for full particulars. Names of Duluth purchasers given upon request. Call us up, either phone 516, for appointment with our salesman.
